USED CAR SALES
running into many thousands of dollars will today attest the effectiveness of Used Car offers in this date's POST.

The Washington Post.

Weather—Partly cloudy today; tomorrow increasing cloudiness, probably followed by showers; not much change in temperature. Temperature yesterday—Highest, 87; lowest, 58.

NO. 18,224. ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER POSTOFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C. WASHINGTON: SUNDAY, MAY 9, 1926.—ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHT PAGES * COPYRIGHT, 1926, BY THE WASHINGTON POST CO. FIVE CENTS.

MAN KILLS HIMSELF AFTER FIRING SHOTS INTO YOUNG WOMAN

Jealousy Thought Motive for Tragedy in Wood Near Washington.

MISS GAIL E. NELSON IS DYING IN HOSPITAL

Note Found in E. J. Barron's Pocket Warning Victim of Another's Attentions.

Edward J. Barron, water department employe, living at 142 Q street northwest, shot and seriously wounded Miss Gail E. Nelson, a veterans' bureau clerk living at 14 T street northeast, in a lonely Virginia wood yesterday afternoon and then committed suicide.

Jealousy apparently was the motive of the shooting. A letter was found in Barron's pocket warning Miss Nelson about going with another man. Barron was married.

The tragedy was discovered by Lieut. Comdr. Holloway Frost, U. S. N., who was horseback riding nearby. He found the two motionless figures in a wood on the Carter farm in Arlington county, near the Mount Vernon boulevard, about 6 miles from Washington.

Miss Nelson, who is a graduate of George Washington university, was hovering between life and death at the Alexandria hospital last night. Her mother, Mrs. Christine Nelson, was at her side.

Miss Nelson is 26 years old. Barron was 35. They met in 1923.

Act Carefully Planned.

Barron evidently had carefully planned to kill Miss Nelson, and it is thought that he committed suicide in the belief that the woman was dead.

When he called for her shortly before noon yesterday he had a shot gun hidden in his coupe.

A desperate struggle between Barron and Miss Nelson preceded the shooting, judging from the appearance of the inside of the automobile and bruises on Miss Nelson's body.

After firing two loads of buckshot at her, Barron took the ramrod of the gun and plunged it into her shoulder. The point of the rod struck a lung. It was still there when she reached the hospital.

Gun Beside Body.

The shot with which Barron took his own life entered under the chin and plowed through the back of his head. The shotgun was lying alongside of his body.

When Lieut. Comdr. Frost reached the scene, Miss Nelson was lying across some tin cans about 15 feet from the body of Barron. She was then semiconscious. The coupe was nearby.

Commander Frost rode to the home of Capt. M. H. Parsons, head of the local park police, who lives about 500 yards from the scene of the shooting. He told the occupants of the house of his discovery and the latter called the Arlington county jail.

Deputy Sheriff Harry L. Woodyard, accompanied by Officer Stanley Gordon, drove to the Carter farm and, finding Miss Nelson still alive, drove her to the hospital in Alexandria.

Liquor Bottles Found.

Barron's body was taken to the undertaking establishment of C. J. Ives in Clarendon. An inquest will be held tomorrow by Coroner B. H. Swain.

Coroner Swain expressed the opinion last night that Barron was drunk when he did the shooting. Two partly filled bottles of liquor were found in the coupe.

Miss Della Nelson, sister of the wounded woman, denounced Barron in an interview last night. She said she was convinced that her sister did not know he was married. The two met, she said, during the Shrine convention, in the summer of 1923.

Mrs. Fannie B. Barron, wife of Barron, claimed the body at the Ives undertaking establishment last night. According to Charles E. Wenger, father of Mrs. Barron, his daughter had not been living with Barron for four years.

5 Instantly Killed As Train Hits Auto

Mt. Clemens, Mich., May 8 (By A. P.).—Five persons were killed instantly late today when their automobile was struck head-on by a limited interurban car, two miles north of here.

The dead: Mrs. Charles Rank, August Rank, two children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rank, and the mother of August Rank.

Index to Today's Issue.

MAIN SECTION.

Pages.
1—Shoots Woman, Then Kills Self
Fenning Fees May Be Returned
Byrd Starts Flight to Pole.
More British Join Strike.
2—Lay Corner Stone at Home.
D. C. Welfare Bill Pigeonholed.
3—Calls Heavy Sleep Fallacy.
4—Rail Labor Bill Is Assailed.
5—Dillman Weds Mrs. H. E. Dodge
6—Circus Arrives Here Today.
7—Clews Lead to Parole Mill.
8—Tear Gas Deluges Senators.
9—See Need of U. S. Radio Bureau
10—Farm Relief Debate Waxes Hot
12-13—News of British Strike.
14—Fundamentalism Stirs Church.
15—U. S. Chamber Spurns Dictator.
16—Virgin Islands Code Looms.
18—Horse Show Opens Friday.
19—At the Chess Table.
20—Foreign Girl Scouts Visit.
21 to 26—Sports.
27-28-29—Financial.
30—Civil Service Has Exhibit.
EDITORIAL AND SOCIETY.
1—Editorials.
2—Letters to the Editor.
3-4-6-7-8-9-10—Society.
5—Capital Women's Fashions.
10—Community Center Activities.
11—A Modern Marriage (serial).
12—Explorers to Fly Over Jungle.
13—Girls' Friendly Society.
14—Service and Veteran News.
15—Schools and Colleges.
AMUSEMENTS AND FEATURES.
1-2-5—Stage and Screen.
3—Books and Art.
4—Women's Clubs' Activities.
5—Music and Musicians.
6—News of U. S. Personnel.
8-9—Radio and Electricity.
AUTOMOBILE SECTION.
2—Fraternal Organizations.
3-4-5-6-7-8—Automotive News.
9—Boy Scouts and D. A. R.
MAGAZINE ROTOGRAVURE, COMICS, REAL ESTATE AND CLASSIFIED SECTIONS.

POLICE SEEK W. S. WARD AFTER AUTO IS FOUND

Fear Chain Bakery Man's Son Is Victim; Brother Denies Hs Is Missing.

CONCEALS HIS ADDRESS

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—Walter S. Ward, son of the president of a chain of bakeries, is safe in New York and his automobile found abandoned in Trenton, N. J., Thursday night, was stolen several days ago, his brother, Ralph D. Ward, said tonight. Ralph Ward refused to give the present address of his brother, but denied reports that he had mysteriously disappeared.

Since the finding of Ward's car with its windshield shattered and a large stone in the front seat, Trenton police made a thorough search of hospitals and hotels in Trenton and asked New York police to aid them in locating Ward.

Thomas A. Downey, secretary and treasurer of the Electruck Corporation, of New York, of which Walter S. Ward is president, went to Trenton and, according to police there said the last he had heard of young Ward was several days ago when the young man left Baltimore, presumably to drive to New York.

Ralph D. Ward said tonight he presumed the car had been aban-

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 29, COLUMN 7.)

DAUGHERTY ON WAY TO SEE ILL MOTHER

Patient in Serious Condition at Home in Washington Court House, Ohio.

Special to The Washington Post.

Columbus, Ohio, May 8.—Harry M. Daugherty, former Attorney General, hurriedly left here today to go to the home of his mother at Washington Court House, Ohio, who is dangerously ill.

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—Former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, under indictment on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in the American Metals Co. case, will go on trial some time in July, Federal Attorney Emory R. Buckner said today.

Mr. Buckner said it was the government's intention to expedite the case.

Max D. Steur, attorney for Mr. Daugherty, notified the district attorney's office today that he would arrange immediately for Mr. Daugherty to supply bail.

5 Masked Holdup Men Rob St. Louis Bank

St. Louis, Mo., May 8 (By A. P.). Five bandits heavily armed and wearing masks held up the Hodiamont Bank, in the western part of the city, tonight and escaped with an undetermined amount of loot.

ENFORCED RETURN OF FENNING'S FEES CONSIDERED LIKELY

Criminal Action With Ten Years in Prison Also Called Possible.

LEGALITY OF WORK HINGES ON HEARING

Guardianship Practice Since 1913 Questioned; Ward Blanton Aided Is Freed.

The legality of Commissioner Fenning's bond fees as far back as 1913 hinge upon a hearing conducted by Auditor Herbert L. Davis, of the District Supreme court, yesterday. Should the auditor's decision be unfavorable to the commissioner and sustained by the court, the way would be open to recovery of the fees by his wards, and it would be the basis for criminal action, which Representative Blanton, of Texas, declares could follow.

Conviction, it was pointed out, would subject Mr. Fenning to a maximum imprisonment of ten years in the penitentiary.

With Mr. Fenning downstairs in the courthouse defending the dual practice of wholesale guardian and bond agent, Chief Justice McCoy, upstairs in his chambers, signed an order removing the first of the commissioner's wards since the investigation began.

The order signed by the chief justice released Roley Lee to the custody of his mother, who lives in nearby Virginia. It was in the interest of this boy that Representative Blanton, of Texas, started his inquiry into Mr. Fenning's practice. The procedure incident to his transfer was simplified by Mr. Fenning finally agreeing to relinquish his guardianship.

Practice Continues 18 Years.

Theodore Cogswell, deputy register of wills, introduced records at the hearing before Auditor Davis to show that it has been Mr. Fenning's practice to act as agent for the company which issues him guardianship bonds since 1913. From 1913 to 1920 he was agent for the Chicago Bonding & Surety Co. It failed, and Mr. Fenning then established relations with the United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co.

The hearing shed new light on what has become to be a moot question of when Mr. Fenning "stands in the shoes of his ward," and when he does not.

Defending himself before the congressional committee against the statute limiting to $10 the fee that may be charged a veteran for prosecuting his claim against the veteran's bureau. Mr. Fenning contended it was not applicable to him, as he "stands in the shoes of his ward."

Before Auditor Davis he contended, and so did his attorney, W. W. Milan, that when he receives a 25 per cent commission on the bonds which are charged against the ward's estate, he is a bond agent, pure and simple.

To give the commissions to his ward would constitute a violation

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 18, COLUMN 2.)

BYRD FLYING AERO TO THE NORTH POLE FROM SPITZBERGEN

Decides on Direct Trip Without Placing Base in Peary Land.

PLANE FAILS TO RISE IN INITIAL ATTEMPT

Capt. Wilkins Hops Off in the Detroiter for Camp at Point Barrow.

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—Commander Richard E. Byrd hopped off from his base in Spitzbergen on his first flight toward the north pole this morning, it was announced tonight by the New York Times, and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The hop-off was successfully made on the second attempt of the day. The first attempt, made four hours earlier, was unsuccessful, the airplane failing to rise because of its heavy load. The load was then lightened.

At the last moment, the commander changed his flight plans. Instead of flying first to Peary Land and establishing a base of supplies there, he is flying direct toward the pole and returning over Peary Land.

He expects to return in less than 24 hours. The approximate distance from Spitzbergen to the pole is 720 miles.

His subsequent plans will depend on his experiences in this flight.

Wilkins Takes Wing.

Fairbanks, Alaska, May 8 (By A. P.).—Capt. George H. Wilkins, of the Detroit arctic expedition, accompanied by Maj. Thomas G. Lanphier, U. S. A., left here today in the airplane Detroiter piloted by Sergt. Charles M. Wisley for Point Barrow. From there they expect to fly over the Arctic ocean in the search of land.

After the flight is completed, they plan to return to Fairbanks by air.

Capt. Wilkins intends to make an eight-hour dash from Barrow out over the ocean, four hours northward and the same time southward. A day is scheduled for preparation at Barrow before the reconnoissance.

The expedition has 380 gallons of gasoline at Barrow that was carried there by the airplane Alaskan. This airplane was wrecked Thursday as it was taking off in a flight for Barrow.

The Detroiter, a three-engined machine, carried 500 gallons of gasoline. In traversing a range of hills, north of Fairbanks, she appeared to be at an altitude of 1,500 feet.

This was a better pick-up than made by the Alaskan, a one-motored plane, which thrice went to Barrow.

Norge May Use Mast.

Tacoma, Wash., May 8 (By A. P.). Belief that the Amundsen-Ellsworth dirigible Norge will tie up to the mooring mast at Camp Leads, Tacoma, should a flight from Spitz-

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 29, COLUMN 5.)

Favorable Retirement Bill Action Assured by Tilson

Republican Leader of House Says Revised Federal Employes' Pension Measure Will Be Passed This Session—Farm Legislation on Program.

Favorable action by the present session of Congress on the revised government employes' retirement bill was assured yesterday when Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, Republican leader of the House, announced the measure will be included in the program of legislation to be enacted before adjournment.

The announcement concerning the retirement measure was included in a general statement by the House leader outlining what Republican leaders of the House hoped and expected to accomplish in the few weeks remaining before adjournment.

"The program of the House for the balance of this session," Mr. Tilson said, "will probably include agricultural relief legislation, liberalization of the civil service retirement law along the lines of the Lehlbach bill, the judges' salary bill, the bill creating additional Federal judges, and minor amendments to the world war veterans' act on the basis of the bill sponsored by Representative Johnson, of South Dakota."

The farm legislation drafted by the House will be economically sound and at the same time give as much relief as can be given by legislative action, he said.

The whole legislative program must be made to conform to the government income under the new tax law, Representative Tilson said. "We have been working hard on the problem of fitting our expenditures to our pocketbook, and as we enter what I hope will be the final month of the session, I see the prospect of favorably considering, in modified form, most of the matters which have received popular attention," he continued.

"Every one will not be satisfied with the modifications made, but I believe the several bills will be as liberal as possible without committing the government to more

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 9, COLUMN 1.)

BRITISH LABOR RESERVES QUITTING; ARMORED CARS TO PROTECT FOOD; GOVERNMENT WILL NOT SURRENDER

Safety of Constitution Must Be Maintained, Premier Asserts.

COMMUNITY IS SEEN UNDER OPEN ATTACK

Body Not Elected by People Is Dislocating Life of Nation, He Holds.

LOW LIVING STANDARD NOT CABINET'S OBJECT

Recall of Strike Order Must Precede Negotiations, Is Official Stand.

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—"Before the government can reopen the negotiations the general strike must be called off," declared Premier Baldwin in a broadcast statement tonight. "The mining dispute could then be settled. It would be a thousand times better to accept this than continue the struggle, which would only increase misery and disaster."

The prime minister said he was a man of peace and was longing, working and praying for peace, but that he would not surrender the safety and security of the British constitution to threats of violence.

The government, he asserted, was not fighting to lower the standard of living for the miners or any other workers.

Has Done His Utmost.

The prime minister's full statement is as follows:

"I have done by utmost to secure an agreement upon the basis of the commission's report, and when the time comes, as I hope it will soon, to discuss the terms under which the mining industry can be carried on I shall continue my efforts to see that in any settlement justice is done both to the miners and coal owners.

"Could there be a more direct attack upon the community than that a body not elected by the voters of the country, without consulting the people, and without consulting even the trade unionists, and in order to impose conditions not yet defined, should dislocate the life of the country?

"Who is attacking the standard of living of the people? Is it the government, who have only sought to bring about a reasonable settlement of the mining industry, or the trades union council, which has decreed a strike, which, if it is continued, cannot fail to increase unemployment, to burden rates and taxes and ruin the whole standard of life of the people?

Not to Lower Standard.

"I wish to make it as clear as I can that the government are not fighting to lower the standard of living of the miners or any other section of the workers. That sug-

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 13, COLUMN 4.)

GREAT HAILSTONES INJURE 30 PERSONS

Damage at Dallas, Tex., Is Placed at $1,000,000; Oklahoma District Struck.

Dallas, Tex., May 8 (By A. P.).—Thirty persons were injured and nearly $1,000,000 property damage was done by a terrific hailstorm which bombarded Dallas early tonight with stones larger than baseballs and weighing more than a pound. Nearly half the downtown store windows on the windward sides of streets were smashed while street car and automobile tops were pierced. None of the injured is in a serious condition.

Several persons were hurt by hail at the baseball park where a miniature tornado halted the Houston-Dallas game, and carried part of the park fence several hundred yards.

Wewoka, Okla., May 8 (By A. P.).—Lightning ignited an oil tank on the Magnolia Petroleum Co. farm, 2 miles from here, late today during a heavy storm. The tank was still blazing early tonight, but danger to surrounding storage places was believed past.

Roofs of several houses here were damaged by hail and high winds.

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA
Calls you. Golf—Tennis—Horseback Riding, and all outdoor sports. Splendid hotels. Southern Railway offers through train service. Office 1510 H. —Adv.

Both Sides of the Strike

By IAN COLVIN,
Chief Editorial Writer, The Morning Post, London (Conservative).
(Special Cable Dispatch.)

London, May 8.—As I stated yesterday, the council of action has ordered interference with food transport, as a result of the government's refusal to accept the insulting offer of safe conduct passes for food trains and lorries. The consequences are seen in many attempts to stop and wreck wagons and even trains.

In one case a policeman was actually thrown in front of a locomotive but was rescued. In other cases, motor drivers headed straight through government pickets, resulting in several being taken to hospitals.

Today the authorities expected their battle of the Marne, at the London docks, where the word of Ernest Levin, commander in chief, strike G. H. Q., as he is proudly described by his admirers, rules supreme. The government had organized and sent to the docks a fleet of motor wagons escorted by

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 12, COLUMN 4.)

By HAMILTON FYFE.
Editor the Daily Herald, London (Labor.)
(Special Cable Dispatch.)

London, May 8.—Never have the office workers of London and other big cities so thankfully welcomed the prospect of Sunday as they are welcomining today, but every one who mixes with the clerks and typists agrees that they are showing a wonderful spirit of solidarity with the manual workers.

The teachers have long recognized that their interests were bound up with those of other wage-earners. An appeal issued by one of their societies says they must realize that if the miners were forced to accept reductions the teachers soon would be faced with the same attack. At the annual conference of their association only two votes were cast against their sending money and help. The majority in favor of this was 258.

As for the railway clerks, they almost all ceased to work as soon as the strike was ordered. Many who did not belong to the unions

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 12, COLUMN 5.)

U.S. COMMANDER FORBIDS FIGHTING IN BLUEFIELDS

El Bluff Also Made Neutral; U. S. Customs Collector Protests at Rebels.

MARINES SENT ASHORE

Managua, Nicaragua, May 8 (By A. P.).—The United States naval forces at Bluefields have declared Bluefields and El Bluff, at the entrance to the harbor neutral zones, and will permit no fighting within town limits.

The revolutionists are reported to have left both places and to be entrenching outside, awaiting the government forces, now on the way to attack them.

The revolutionist leader, Louis Bertran Sandoval, a follower of Gen. Louis Menna, who headed the 1912 revolution. Gen. Menna at present is in prison, having been arrested recently as a precautionary measure.

United States marines have been landed at Bluefields to protect American lives and property.

The American collector of customs has protested to the Secretary of State against unlawful interference by revolutionists in the collection of customs duties at El Bluff, which are security for foreign bonds of Nicaragua under arrangements intiated by the State Department.

Protest has also been made against interruption of commerce at El Bluff, nearly all of which is with the United States.

Little Theater Cup Is Awarded to Dallas

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—The Little theater, of Dallas, Tex., tonight won the Belasco cup in the Little theater tournament, which has been in progress this week under the auspices of the Drama League of America. The Dallas group thus obtains permanent possession of the cup, having emerged victorious in two former tournaments. They won this year with Margaret Larkin's "El Christo."

For the first time in four years the decision of the judges was not unanimous, Dallas receiving three of the five votes and the Little Theater players, of Shreveport, La., two.

Fascist Groups Fight At Turin; Many Hurt

Turin, Italy, May 8 (By A. P.).—A number of fascists were shot and wounded, one of them probably fatally, when a column of 300 young intransigeant fascists carried out two manifestations today against the order of Deputy Bruno Gemelli, a leader of the local fascist organization, disavowing the extremist elements.

Mrs. Capper Still In Grave Condition

Baltimore, Md., May 8 (By A. P.).—The condition of Mrs. Arthur Capper, wife of Senator Capper, of Kansas, remains about unchanged, an attendant at the Women's Hospital said today. She suffered a second relapse Thursday night and has been in a grave condition since. Mrs. Capper underwent a major operation several weeks ago.

BISHOP ATTACKS KLAN AS UNCHRISTIAN BODY

Tells Methodist Associates Its Activities Nullify Foreign Missions.

ASSAILS "PUSSYFOOTING"

The Methodist Episcopal Bishops, meeting here yesterday, heard one of their number attack the Ku Klux Klan as un-Christian.

Bishop F. J. McConnell, of Pittsburgh, commenting on reports of foreign missions declared that anti-racial movements in the United States nullify the efforts of missionaries abroad.

"The whole Ku Klux Klan movement is a flat denial of everything that the Christian Church has heretofore stood for," he said. "There has been too much pussyfooting in regard to the klan."

Bishop McConnell's address was delivered at an executive session of the Board of Bishops in Foundry Methodist church, Sixteenth and Church streets northwest.

"The greatest difficulty the foreign field has is the un-Christian spirit at home," Bishop McConnell said. "There is no use to preach equality when we violate the spirit of equality at home. The negro question is agitating more than ever before. We have to stand against the influences that are agitating it."

Bishop McConnell said he felt hopeful of the outlook for the future but that the reports of the foreign bishops showed that there must be a better spirit at home.

"Many of the Southern people themselves are taking the lead in trying to establish better racial relations," the bishop said. "And it is regretful that in the North there is a revival of antiracial feeling. The social implications of the Gospel have not been taken sufficiently into account."

In an effort to complete the many details of the meeting which

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 14, COLUMN 4.)

French Bomb Druses; 11 Tribesmen Killed

(Special Cable Dispatch.)

Paris, May 8. (Bulletin).—French planes bombarded a large area north of Alepoo, killing eleven bandits and quelling the activity against the peaceful tribes, Quai d'Orsay announced tonight. The French claim progress in the Druse country between Ezra and Suedia, with eleven villages surrendered.

(Copyright, 1926, by the Chicago Tribune.)

Compulsory Chapel At Yale Discontinued

New Haven, Conn., May 8 (By A. P.).—The discontinuance of compulsory chapel for Yale university undergraduates was approved by the Yale Corporation today, Secretary R. M. Hutchins announced tonight. The move was made after due "consideration of the recommendation of the faculties of Yale college and of the freshman year that the requirement of attendance at the chapel services be discontinued," the announcement states.

Miserable Week-End in Sight as Weekly Pay Is Missed.

ISLAND IS BECOMING LIKE AN ARMED CAMP

Hunger Expected to Contribute to Disorders; Troops at Strategic Points.

MINOR DISTURBANCES IN NUMEROUS SECTIONS

Mobs, Broken Up, Re-Form and Soon Appear in Some Other District.

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—Labor's "second line of defense" is beginning to be utilized in the great struggle between the trades unions and the government.

These workers were not included in the general strike, which began at midnight last Monday. The trades union congress has not yet issued a call to this second line, but there is grave apprehension that the leaders may officially call out the second and third lines of defense, thus increasing the number of strikers to possibly 6,000,000.

Labor headquarters announced tonight that the "second line" men were steadily ceasing work. These include the gas and electric workers.

The men are drifting from the various industries composing it their own accord. There have been no indications that the trades union congress is taking any steps to encourage or stop this unauthorized movement.

Gloom Like That of War Day

Gloom, such as Great Britain not known since the great ended, has settled over the British Isles as the first week of the general strike drew to a close. It just one week ago, May day, the miners laid down their tools and abandoned the mine fields, the "safety men." They numbered more than 1,000,000, and the other workers who joined them increased the number to about 3,000,000. Everywhere the question is being asked how long will the funds of the unions enable them to feed the strikers and their families.

The Trades Union congress through its executive council, however, today refused to receive 4,000,000 rubles (about $2,000,000) from the Russian red international federation, a check for which was received ostensibly for the purpose of aiding the general strike in Great Britain. In returning the check, the council expressed its inability to accept the money.

The labor leaders again emphasized that the present movement relates to industry alone and embraces no revolutionary ideas.

Peace Prospects Less.

Prospects for any speedy settlement have grown slighter from day to day. Premier Baldwin refuses to discuss the differences between the miners and mine owners unless the general strike is called off, and the Trades Union congress won't call the strike off. Neither will it negotiate until the mine owners withdraw their lockout against the workers.

Robert McNeill, financial secretary of the treasury, sets forth the situation from the government in a letter to the Canterbury Conservative association. He describes Great Britain as "nearer to actual civil war than it has been for centuries."

In his appeal to the public to realize the gravity of the issue, he declares:

"All the revolutionary elements in the country are doing their utmost to exploit the situation to their own advantage, and every day the conflict lasts must increase the danger of an outbreak of violence, which would have to be met by the employment of the armed forces

Premier Baldwin in a broadcast statement tonight, again declared:

"Before the government can reopen the negotiations the general strike must be called off. It would be better to accept this than continue the struggle, which would only increase misery and disaster."

Both sides are unyielding and the endurance test has set in. Many of the unions have considerable funds; others, among them the mine workers, have little. Two or

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 13, COLUMN 8.)

CORNER STONE LAID AT METHODIST HOME BY MASONIC LODGE

Church Dignitaries Present at Ceremony for Institution for Aged.

BISHOP WILSON SAYS HIGHER IDEALS PREVAIL

Washington Prelate Responds to Address of Visiting Churchman.

The corner stone of the new Methodist Home for the Aged, at Connecticut avenue and Ellicott street, was laid yesterday in the presence of a large group of church and Masonic dignitaries.

Harry Hoskinson, president of the board of trustees, presided at the exercises. The Rev. James Shera Montgomery, chaplain of the House of Representatives, opened the ceremonies with a prayer. The Rev. John Phelps Hand, District superintendent of Methodist churches, read a passage from the scripture.

Mrs. Fred S. Cawson, president of the board of managers, spoke optimistically of the prospects of freeing the building from debt in a short while. Mrs. Cawson traced the history of the Methodist home from its beginning, in 1890, until the present home, and gave the address of greeting.

Bishop McDowell Responds.

Bishop William F. McDowell, of Washington, who responded, said that a church that did not care for its people from infancy to the grave was failing in its duty and spoke in glowing terms of the activities of John Letts, who obtained the site for the new building and assisted in its financing, he said. Bishop McDowell drew laughter when he said that he expected to be a constant visitor at the Letts residence, which is near the home, when he became an inmate of the home and had reached the age when all he could do was play golf "or lie about the golf he had played when he was younger."

Bishop Luther B. Wilson, of New York, who delivered the dedication address at the opening of the two [illegible] that have preceded this one, [illegible]e the corner stone address. Bishop Wilson spoke of the growth [illegible] Washington since the time when [illegible] was bishop of Washington, and that he considered that the [illegible] and the nation had become [illegible]ter, because of the growth of [illegible]er ideals.

[illegible]e ceremonies of laying the cor[illegible]erstone were conducted by the [illegible]2d Lodge of Masons of the Dis[illegible] with the ceremonial forms of [illegible] lodge. Singing of the hymn [illegible]erica" by the gathering and [illegible]iction by Rev. Hand closed the [illegible]onies.

MASONS LAY CORNER STONE AT METHODIST HOME

Joe Jamieson, Post Staff Photographer.

Grand Master Sidney Jacobs, of the grand lodge of District Masons, laying the corner stone yesterday at the Methodist Home for the Aged. Visiting Methodist bishops assisted in the ceremonies.

Flo[illegible] Injured As Auto [illegible]its Truck and Pole

[illegible]mer Pleasant, 22 years old, 655 [illegible]ge street southeast, was slightly [illegible]ut and bruised on the face and [illegible]y yesterday when he was thrown [illegible]m the automobile in which he [illegible]as riding at the south approach of [illegible]nacostia bridge following a collision with another automobile and a telegraph pole.

Harry Shelton, 2102 Sixteenth street southeast, drove the car in which Pleasant rode. Police report he collided with a District water truck driven by Arthur Lawrence, jr., 437 Fifteenth street southeast, and then crashed into the pole. Detective E. Berry, of the Eleventh precinct, who was passing in his automobile, took the injured man to Providence hospital.

Man Fights Blaze Until Badly Burned

While his home on Mackey's Hill, Arlington county, Va., burned about him, John Swidners, 70 years old, stood in the burning house and futilely fought the rising flames until painfully burned. He was dragged out by Louis Schroff, a neighbor, who had seen the flames.

The fire began while Mr. Swidners, who lived alone, was preparing breakfast. "I know it," he replied calmly to Mr. Schroff's warning that his house was on fire, and continued throwing water on the flames until dragged out. Lack of water made futile the efforts of Cherrydale, Ballston and Clarendon fire departments to save the dwelling.

Son Receives Medal For His Dead Father

Lyman A. Cotton, jr., Salisbury, N. C., received for his father, the late Capt. Lyman A. Cotton, U. S. N., the decoration of the Commenda della Corona d'Italia from Ambassador di Martino at the Italian embassy yesterday.

The decoration was conferred by the King of Italy in recognition of the late Capt. Cotton's services in rescuing the Italian aviator, Locatelli, and his comrades, who made a forced landing off the southern cape of Greenland while accompanying the army round-the-world flyers from Iceland to Greenland. At this time, Capt. Cotton commanded the U. S. S. Richmond.

Glassmaking to Be Shown.

A demonstration of glass-working boilers will be given by R. E. Floresman, of Williamsport, Pa., before the George Washington university student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at 8:15 o'clock Wednesday night in Corcoran hall. The meeting is open to the public.

MT. PLEASANT CITIZENS ELECT NEW PRESIDENT

John De La Mater Will Head Their Association During Coming Year.

VOTE CHILDREN'S MEDAL

John De La Mater, 3330 Seventeenth street, was elected president of the Mount Pleasant Citizens association at the meeting of that body in the Mount Pleasant branch library last night.

Other officers elected for the ensuing year were: Maj. A. M. Holcombe, vice president; William F. Bancroft, secretary; H. A. Harding, treasurer; William Henry White and Dr. Charles B. Campbell, delegates to the Federation of Citizens Associations. All officers except the president and vice president were reelected. Charles F. Consaul, retiring president, was given a rising vote of thanks for his work as head of the association.

The association voted $25 for the purchase of good citizenship medals, given annually at the Powell school, and $50 for a new curtain for the school auditorium.

Need for a gymnasium for the Powell school since it has been converted into a junior high school was brought to the attention of the body by Maj. Holcombe, and he was authorized to urge the school authorities to build it out of the repair fund of the school appropriation.

The association is going to urge the District authorities to sprinkle Ingleside terrace and all streets approaching that thoroughfare that are being used by motor trucks. Complaint was made by several members last night against the dirt and dust caused by the trucks using those streets.

Action of the traffic director in making Park road between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets a two-way street with parking on the north side prohibited was indorsed by the citizens.

J. G. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Anna M. Francisco were admitted as new members of the association.

Approximately 50 members attended the meeting, and refreshments were served following adjournment.

Policeman Menaced By 100 for Arrests

Park Policeman L. W. Carlson, was threatened with violence at the hands of approximately 100 colored persons early last night when he placed under arrest three colored men at Twenty-fifth and K streets northwest for intoxication and disorderly conduct. The prisoners gave him a battle and two succeeded in escaping, but Carlson staved off the crowd and held the other prisoner until the arrival of help from police headquarters and the Third precinct.

The lone prisoner, James Busey, 20 years old, 2628 K street northwest, was held at the precinct under charges of intoxication, disorderly conduct, assault on a policeman and carrying a concealed weapon.

Guests in Harrington Hotel Report Thefts

Two guests of the Harrington hotel, occupying rooms on the second floor, were robbed of clothing, jewelry and money, totaling $162, early yesterday while they were asleep. The victims were Frank F. Aube, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Ralph W. Cornelison, of Minneapolis, Minn.

Two men, who left the hotel in the early morning hours so hastily that they forgot to settle their bills with the management, are sought by police in connection with the robbery. Duplicate keys were the means of gaining entrance. Detectives Robert Livingston and Curtis Trammel, of the central office, are investigating.

Flier Travels Far to Eat.

Lieut. F. H. Conant 3d, naval aviator, bureau of aeronautics, had breakfast in Washington, luncheon in Dayton, Ohio, and dinner here Friday, leaving Anacostia on a flight at 6:35 in the morning, arriving at McCook Field, Ohio, at 11:50 o'clock and returning to Bolling field at 7:15 o'clock in the evening.

Auto Fractures Skull Of Man at Crossing

Frank Marino, 65 years old, a produce dealer of Center market, living at 121 T street northwest, suffered a fracture of the skull when he was struck by an automobile at Seventh street and Riggs place northwest late last night.

James R. O'Neil, 21 years old, 3416 Garfield street northwest, driver of the automobile, took Marino to Emergency hospital, and later was placed under arrest by police of the Third precinct. He was charged with assault by collision.

CHECKER CHAMPION DIES IN OBSCURITY

Medal and Clippings Indicate Body Here Is Alfred Jordan.

The body of a man believed to be Alfred Jordan, 65 years old, at one time checker champion of England, lies unclaimed at Gallinger hospital, where he died from natural causes Friday night. He became ill at the Salvation Army hotel, 119 Pennsylvania avenue northwest Friday.

Physicians found a gold medal in his pocket which was awarded to Alfred Jordan in 1892 for winning the checker championship of England. Numerous newspaper clippings were also found among his effects which told of checker contests he had won in large cities all over the world. When he died he had $75 in his possession.

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—Alfred Jordan, whose body was identified today in a Washington morgue, based his claim to world honors as a checker player, partly on the result of a match played with Newell Banks, of Detroit, in Sandusky, Ohio, in 1911.

Although the two men were scheduled to meet in a 20-game match, only fourteen contests were staged, twelve being drawn and Jordan winning two. Prior to that time Jordan had won the English championship and was twice a holder of the Scottish title.

Jordan experienced defeat in two American tournaments of the last four years, losing unexpectedly to A. Long at Boston in 1922, and to Sam Gonotsky, a 22-year-old New York player, in the sixth American checker tournament two years ago.

Woman Hurt in Fire By Fall Down Stairs

Damage estimated at $1,000 was caused yesterday by a fire, which broke out in the establishment of Roy Carty, electric battery service, 1608 Seventeenth street northwest. A crowd of more than 700 persons watched the blaze, which was caused by an electric short circuit.

Mary Williams, colored, 60 years old, who occupied the second floor of the building with her family, fell down the stairs in making her escape from the building, and was slightly injured. She refused hospital treatment.

$45,000 WORTH OF FURS SKYLIGHT THIEVES' LOOT

Elaborate Protection of the Zirkin Store Proves to Be Unavailing.

TRUCK USED BY ROBBERS

Expensive fur coats and skins were stolen from the establishment of H. Zirkin & Son, furriers, 821 Fourteenth street northwest, it was discovered upon opening the store for business early yesterday. The loot was valued at more than $45,000.

Despite the vigilance of two policemen, patrolling the vicinity, a night watchman and burglar alarms the thieves made a successful getaway, leaving no clue for investigators to work on. Ropes and a motor truck are believed to have been utilized by the thieves.

Gaining entrance by climbing to the roof of the store, it is believed, from the rear of the building, the thieves pried open the skylight and entered the establishment. Ropes, it is believed, were employed to pull bulky fur coats and skins from the store through the skylight. A motor truck is believed to have been used in hauling away the expensive loot.

Detectives C. P. Cox, Dennis Murphy and Bagby King, of the central office, have been assigned to investigate the robbery. Samuel Zirkin, an official of the firm, discovered the robbery when he opened the store yesterday and notified the police. Mr. Zirkin was at a loss to tell the exact amount of coats and skins which were stolen. He said, however, that there were large quantities of ladies' coats and neck pieces, and a very large quantity of vari-colored skins. An inventory is being taken to determine the exact amount of furs stolen and the loss.

PROSPECT GLOOMY FOR BILLS TOUCHING DISTRICT WELFARE

Fast Approach of Congress Adjournment Seen as Dooming Scores.

PRECEDENT ACCORDED NATIONAL MEASURES

Chances of Action on New Traffic Act at Senate Night Session.

Prospects of final enactment of many measures of importance to the District were regarded as dim at the close yesterday of the first week of what is expected to be the last month of the present session of Congress.

Several scores of measures affecting the District, introduced in the House and Senate, undoubtedly will fail of action. Many of these are not regarded as of very great importance, but the estimate of their importance has been in comparison with other matters of national interest pressing for congressional attention and not based on District needs.

Action on several measures of keen interest to District residents probably will be taken before adjournment. With the pressure of national legislation endangering District day in the House tomorrow, District legislation probably will depend on the Senate, which meets in night session tomorrow night to take up calendar measures.

New Traffic Bill.

Perhaps the most important of these District measures which are well up on the calendar is the new traffic bill, which was passed by the House and reported to the Senate by Senator Capper, of Kansas, chairman of the Senate District committee, with amendments extending its scope, to provide for revocation of operating permits, issuance and control of automobile licenses, and authorizing the director of traffic to reduce speed limits below 22 miles an hour by special regulation.

The mothers' pension bill also has a strategic place on the calendar. An effort may be made to bring it up tomorrow night, by the proponents of the New York measure, which provides for a separate bureau to administer the law.

This is strongly opposed by residents of the District who want the mother's aid administered under the new board of public welfare, created to simplify public welfare administration in the District, through elimination of several existing public boards.

Senator Capper, regarded as champion of the District measure, probably will not be present at the session, as he spends most of each day at the bedside of his wife, who is seriously ill in a Baltimore hospital, and some objection may be made if Senator Wadsworth or Senator Copeland, both of New York, attempt to bring the New York measure up for consideration in Senator Capper's enforced absence.

Valuation of Utilities.

Among other measures on the calendar are bills providing that costs of making valuations of public utilities shall be paid by utilities companies and treated as a business cost in fixing rates; regulating the manufacture and sale of mattresses in the District; and an amendment to the law creating the White House police force so as to provide disciplinary machinery.

A total of 115 District bills have been introduced in the Senate this session and about one-third of this number has been reported out of committee. Among those pending in the District committee is the bill increasing the powers of Mrs. Mina C. Van Winkle, to make her independent of control as chief of the woman's bureau of the police department, and to largely increase the number of policewomen. The House District committee has not acted on this bill and no action will be taken by the Senate committee until the House has acted.

Amendment by the House of the Senate bill to authorize acquisition of the Virginia site of the District garbage reduction plant, has sent that measure back to the Senate committee, where it is likely to remain. No action is looked for by the committee on the proposal to regulate practice of osteopathy and chiropractic in the District.

Time Grows Short

One of the most important measures which has been held up in both House and Senate is the bill providing for reorganization of the public utilities commission of the District. There is little likelihood that this measure will be acted on this session.

Loss of tomorrow in the House will leave only one more District day, Monday, May 24, before the expected end of the session and the last-minute crush of legislation probably will eliminate that also. Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, Republican leader of the House, declared yesterday, however, that he will agree to consideration of various District measures on their merits at other times, and Representative Zihlman, of Maryland, chairman of the House District committee, said he expected to ask for and received additional time for consideration of District measures on the floor of the House.

Poison Dose May Kill Woman in Hospital

Mrs. Laura Agnes Maxwell, 40 years old, 3617 Benning road northeast, is in Casualty hospital suffering from poison alleged to have been self-administered yesterday. Her condition is reported critical.

Mrs. Maxwell, police say, quarreled with her husband, Edward Maxwell, late yesterday. He left home, it was reported, but ran back when he heard a scream and found his wife lying on the floor. She was rushed to the hospital in her husband's automobile.

LUTHERAN WOMEN'S COLLEGE WILL BE ESTABLISHED HERE

$500,000 Site to Be Chosen Within Three Months for Institution.

SEPTEMBER, 1927, SET AS THE OPENING DATE

Capital Selected Because It Draws Students From All Over Nation.

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—A new Lutheran women's college will open in Washington in September, 1927, the news bureau of the National Lutheran Council announced today.

The decision was reached at a conference in Philadelphia of a Lutheran board composed of representatives from ten district synods. A dozen places in Pennsylvania and New Jersey were considered before Washington was decided on.

The capital was chosen because it was desired to have the college in the city best suited to draw its student body from the country at large, most church colleges serving only students in a radius of fifty miles, the board said.

The site, to be chosen within the next three months, is expected to represent an investment of close to $500,000.

The Lutheran Women's college, which announced to open here late in 1927, is to be a standard institution established on the requirements of the Eastern and Central College association, according to the Rev. G. M. Diffenderfer, pastor of Luther Place Memorial church. Dr. Diffenderfer is chairman of a committee appointed to choose a site for the college.

Present plans for the building of the institution include construction of three units, one of which is to be erected at once. This building will be of stone. As the college expands, gradual additions are to be made until the entire project reaches a figure tentatively placed at $2,000,000, Dr. Diffenderfer stated.

When completed, the college will be supported by the entire Lutheran church of the United States. It will be endowed, and will be privileged to grant all degrees. While no definite site has as yet been selected, Dr. Diffenderfer said that three locations have been examined and an option will probably be taken on one within the next ten days.

Baby's Neck Broken In Fall From Chair

Two-year-old George E. Silva's neck was broken yesterday when he fell while climbing a chair in the dining room of his home at 629 Upshur street northwest, while his mother, Mrs. Ruth Silva, was busy in an adjoining room.

Hearing her baby fall and finding him unconscious Mrs. Silva rushed from her home, signaled a motorist and hurried the baby to the Episcopal Ear, Eye and Throat hospital, where he was pronounced dead. Coroner J. Ramsay Nevitt issued a certificate of accidental death after an investigation by Policeman H. W. Lineburg, of the Tenth precinct.

Legal Fraternity Closes Convention

The Sigma Nu Phi legal fraternity closed its two-day convention with a banquet last night in the Lee house. David D. Caldwell, of the Department of Justice, was reelected national president. Other officers elected were: John D. Knoll, Dubuque, Iowa, first vice president; Rawdon E. Bradley, Lake Wales, Fla., second vice president; C. S. Baer, Washington, national secretary; William J. Story, Washington, national recording secretary; H. H. Benjamin, Washington, national treasurer, and Morton C. Haight, Pittman, N. J., marshal.

Speakers last night were Joseph V. Morgan, Edward S. Brashears, Jarvis Butler and Godfrey L. Munter, all of Washington, and Julian G. McIntosh, of Detroit, Mich. Frank L. Peckham was toastmaster. The next convention will be held in Chicago.

PAINT

Stove Pipe Enamel	30c	½ pt.	50c pt.
Screen Enamel, Black		35c pt.	60c qt.
Screen Enamel, Green		45c pt.	70c qt.
Kalsomine (all colors)			60c pkg.

Certainteed Roof Paint, $1.50 Gal.

BRUSH SPECIAL

2-inch Special	$0.19 each
4-inch "	.89 each
6-inch "	1.10 each

Bristles Vulcanized in Rubber.

	Qt.	Gal.
Certainteed Outside White	$1.20	$4.25
Flat Wall White, No. 490	.85	2.85
Floor Varnish, No. 911	.90	3.00
Varnish Stains	.80	2.75

WEATHERSHIELD
A General Purpose Paint
25c ½ Pt. 40c Pt. 70c Qt. $2.25 Gal.

EXPERT PAINT ADVICE FREE

MUTH
Quality Since 1865
710 13th St. N.W.

3 Stores—CHAS. SCHWARTZ & SON—3 Stores

Just a limited number at this price!

18 Karat White Gold (Hand Made) Diamond Rings

$75

3 Diamonds in the center and 4 more on corner of mounting—7 Diamonds in all.

$1 delivers it!

$1 weekly pays for it!

We have earnestly reproduced the "ring" exactly as it is—every feature has been drawn to give you a perfect picture. SEE THEM FOR YOURSELF! They are the best value we have ever presented and we believe the best value to be had in town!

Look for the Schwartz Clock

Home of Perfect Diamonds

Chas. Schwartz & Son

709 14th St. Northwest

3123 M St. Georgetown

708 7th St. N. W.

Goldheim's

Fourteenth St. at New York Ave.

It's Straw Hat Time in Washington

GOLDHEIM'S INVITES YOUR INSPECTION OF THE 1926 STRAW HATS NOW READY. SHOWING THIS SEASON'S NEW STYLES WITH WIDER BRIMS, TRIMMED WITH COLORED BANDS, IN FLAT-FOOT AND IMPROVED SENNITS, SPLIT SENNITS, PANAMAS AND LEGHORNS. ALSO THE SELF-CONFORMING BLUM & KOCH STRAW THAT FITS THE HEAD COMFORTABLY WITHOUT A HEADACHE.

Blum & Koch ..... New York
Chase ..... New Haven
Goldheim Special ..... America

Ecuadorian Panamas and Leghorns

$3.00 to $12.00

SLEEPING LIKE LOG IS CALLED FALLACY BY A PSYCHOLOGIST

Rest Periods Are Only Eleven Minutes Long, Tests Are Said to Prove.

SEISMOGRAPH NEEDLE USED IN EXPERIMENTS

Study of 10,000 Cases Reported by Mellon Professor at Chicago Convention.

Special to The Washington Post.

Chicago, May 8.—"You may think liquor makes you rest better, but it doesn't," said Prof. H. M. Johnson, of the Mellon institute at Pittsburgh, addressing experimental psychologists at Northwestern university today. Other statements were:

"Seven and three-quarter hours' sleep is enough for any man or woman."

"You can't sleep 'like a log.' Experiments have proved that it just isn't done."

"Sedatives induce restlessness instead of rest."

Prof. Johnson said he had examined 10,000 persons at the Mellon institute, where a dormitory was fitted up to care for twelve persons a night. Swinging beds, with seismograph attachments were provided.

Only 3 Lie Still 2 Hours.

"I determined in my experiments that only three persons out of the 10,000 could lie absolutely still for two hours at a time.

"I found that 'sleeping like a log' is a fallacy. The seismograph needle proved it. For instance, the average rest period during sleep is 11½ minutes. By that I mean the period when repose is absolute. The remainder of the time there is either muscular or mental action.

"Liquor may lull a man to heavy sleep during the early part of the night, but it destroys his rest in the latter part after the first effects have worn off and the sleeper is the loser in the end. Sedatives are in the same class with liquor. They add toxicants to toxicants, which the system must fight."

The psychologists, who are from a dozen universities, discussed everything from the mystery of sleep to the mental qualifications that determine a good baseball catcher. They are getting away from historic conceptions, undertaking what President Walter Dill Scott refers to as the creation of a new epoch in America, the study of individual differences.

Machine Tests Intelligence.

There was Prof. Max Meyer, of the University of Missouri, psychologist, who has invented a machine for use in industrial intelligence tests, which he thinks solves the problem of selecting taxicab drivers, aviators or baseball players with equal certainty. It consists of a pump and a diving bell and the problem is to keep the bell from reaching bottom or surface,

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 10, COLUMN 2.)

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

J. WILLIAM LEE'S SONS, FUNERAL DIRECTORS. Auto service. Commodious chapel and crematorium. Moderate prices. 882 PA. AVE. N.W. Telephone Main 1385

THOS. S. SERGEON 1011 7th st. nw. Telephone Main 1090.

T. F. COSTELLO NOW LOCATED AT 1724 N. CAP. ST. NORTH 7978.

JAMES T. RYAN 817 Penna. Ave. S. E. Lincoln 142

Frank Geier's Sons Co. 1118 SEVENTH ST., N. W. Modern Chapel. Telephone. MAIN 2478.

Wm. H. Sardo & Co. 412 H ST. N. E. Modern Chapel Lincoln 524

NORVAL K. TABLER 1526 L St. N.W. Telephone Main 1544

Gawler Service Funeral Directors Since 1850 Main 5512 1732 Penna. Ave. N.W.

V. L. SPEARE CO. Neither the successors of nor connected with the original W. R. Speare establishment. Phone Frank. 6826. Formerly 940 F st. nw. 1009 H St.N.W.

CHAS. S. ZURHORST 301 EAST CAPITOL ST. Phone Lincoln 378.

FUNERAL DESIGNS

FUNERAL DESIGNS. Of every description. Moderately priced. GUDE 1212 F ST. NW. Phone Main 4276.

GEO. C. SHAFFER 900 14th ST. N.W. EXPRESSIVE FLORAL EMBLEMS. Phone M. At moderate prices. No branch stores. 2416-106

BLACKISTONE'S Floral "Blanket Sprays" And Other Beautiful Floral Designs at Moderate Prices. TWO STORES: 14th & H; tel. Main 8707. 1222 F st.; tel. Frank. 6357.

DIED

BLUM—On Friday, May 7, 1926, SIMON, beloved father of Maurice Blum and Mrs. Morris Stein, aged eighty years. Funeral from the chapel of Bernard Danzansky, 3501 Fourteenth street northwest, on Sunday, May 9, at 1 p. m. Please omit flowers.

COLLINS—On Saturday, May 8, 1926, at 12:15 p. m., at Providence hospital, JOSEPH A., beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Collins. He is survived by father and mother, six brothers and one sister. Funeral from Thomas R. Nally's funeral parlor, on Monday, May 6, at 9:30 a. m. Thence to St. Francis Xavier Church, where mass will be said at 10 o'clock. Interment at Mount Olivet. Relatives and friends invited.

DUTTON—On Saturday, May 8, 1926, at 3 p. m., at her residence, 2 D street southeast, EMMA VIRGINIA, widow of John Wesley Dutton, aged eighty-four years. Notice of funeral in Monday's Star.

EIRKSON—On Friday, May 7, 1926, at her residence, 1814 Lawrence street northeast, at 2 p. m., ENA K., mother of Alice, Betty and Albert Eirkson. Funeral services at the home on Monday, May 10, at 2 p. m. Interment at Rock Creek cemetery. (Chicago and Kison, Ind., papers please copy.)

GARNER—On Friday, May 7, 1926, at her residence, 907 Eleventh street southeast, SUSAN C., beloved wife of Luther B. Garner. Funeral services on Monday, May 10, at 2 o'clock. Interment at Cedar Hill cemetery. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

McCAULEY—On Saturday, May 8, 1926, at 2:15 p. m., at his residence, 802 North Washington street, Alexandria, PATRICK M., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McCauley, aged sixty-six years. Funeral from St. Mary's Catholic church, Alexandria, Va., on Tuesday, May 11, at 9:30 a. m. Interment St. Mary's cemetery, Alexandria.

McDANIEL—On Friday, May 7, 1926, at his residence, 817 Fourth street northeast, WILLIAM SHULER, beloved son of Mary A. McDaniel and the late James C. McDaniel. Funeral from his late residence on Monday, May 10, at 3 p. m. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Interment at Glenwood cemetery.

SULLIVAN—On Saturday, May 8, 1926, at Georgetown University hospital, JOHN SULLIVAN, of Hunter, Va., husband of the late Catherine Harkins Sullivan. Remains resting at Gawler's chapel, 1732 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, until time for mass, which will be celebrated at Holy Trinity church, Georgetown, on Tuesday, May 11, at 9:15 a. m. Interment Mount Olivet cemetery.

DIPLOMA MILL CHARGE MAKES COUPLE END LIFE

Unable to Fight "Unjust Charge" They Also Kill 6-Year-Old Son.

ACCUSED OF MAIL FRAUD

Oskaloosa, Iowa, May 8 (By A. P.).—Determined to escape legal difficulties on charges of operating a diploma mill, James W. MacLennan and his wife killed their 6-year-old son and themselves. The three were found dead in a gas-filled room today. MacLennan, who posed as president of Oskaloosa college, was arrested Thursday after an investigation by a Des Moines newspaper of his institution.

Relatives, and letters left by MacLennan and his wife, said they agreed to end the lives of the family as a means of escaping punishment, as he did not have sufficient funds to defend himself in court.

The letters, which were turned over to the district court by Mrs. MacLennan's mother, Mrs. Valley McIntosh, said the MacLennans did not have money to fight what they described as the "unjust" charges against MacLennan and that they were "ready to die."

Diplomas priced from $5 to $85 with the right to perform all study without visiting the college, were disposed of by MacLennan, authorities learned, and he was charged with using the mails to defraud.

W. M. Robinson, grocer-president of MacLennan's board of trustees, told investigators he signed diplomas for 25 cents in 1922, but for the last three years he had permitted the use of his signature on a rubber stamp for nothing. Aside from his wife, who also was listed in the college catalogue as having a long list of degrees, no member of the MacLennan's "faculty" named in college literature sent to all parts of the world, was found. MacLennan's father lived in Fingal, Ontario.

WET VETERANS DRAPE LIBERTY WITH CREPE

Sixty-Foot Funeral Banners on Statue a Protest at Volstead Law.

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—The Statue of Liberty in New York harbor was draped in crepe today as a protest against prohibition. Three men, reported to be members of the World War Veterans' Light Wine and Beer league, who sent funeral banners fluttering from the two windows in the head of the statue, fled before military guards or others could apprehend them. Soldiers on guard at the statue tried to capture the crepe hangers, but they jumped aboard a boat and got away.

A convention of the Veterans' Light Wine and Beer league opened tonight in Town hall. The draping was considered a publicity stunt. A boat load of newspaper photographers and reporters, advised in advance, hovered near the statue and cameras clicked as the 60-foot strips of crepe fluttered in the wind.

At the league session Miss Elizabeth Marbury, member of the Democratic national committee, championed modification of the Volstead act. Col. Alexander E. Anderson, chairman, said that the league has a membership of 60,000 seeking to make modification of the Volstead act an issue in every congressional district.

STONELEIGH GARAGE

Is Now Located at

1630 L Street N. W.

Day and Night Storage

Repairs Gasoline Accessories Washing

Oiling and Greasing

Under Same Management

E. W. ERICSON, Manager

The Clydesdale

2801 Adams Mill Road

Exclusive co-operative homes in a most attractive, four-story building overlooking the lovely valley of Rock Creek Park. A view that can never be duplicated in Washington. Every room in every apartment faces a street. Within two blocks of 18th St. and Columbia Rd. Fifty-one apartments, elevator, garage. Exceptionally large rooms and closets. Carefully chosen owners. Moderate prices. Easy terms.

Hundreds visited the building last Sunday and many grasped the opportunity to reserve home units for themselves.

Attendants on premises every day to escort you through.

WARDMAN

Telephone COLUMBIA 217

Represented by EDMOND J. FLYNN Authority on Co-operative Apartments

"OWN YOUR OWN APARTMENT HOME"

Personal Taste and Charm Combine to Make This Community

A NEW HOME IDEAL

The community of beautiful homes and an atmosphere of culture and refinement.

The community of thrift and future independence—for in owning a residence Burleith citizens are steadily investing their money in a medium of intrinsic value—a home.

Burleith, too, is ideal for the man whose business is down town, for the Burleith bus affords rapid and restfully cool transportation.

Each of these homes has a large living room with colonial mantel, a completely furnished dining alcove or a large dining room. The kitchens are equipped with the last word in modern efficiency appointments. On the second floor are three large bedrooms and a white tiled bath.

Situated on an eminence overlooking the Potomac, with Arlington in the distance, these homes are unusually appealing.

BURLEITH

—has furnished people in moderate circumstances with a cultured desirable atmosphere at a reasonable price—

$8,950

Take a Burleith bus today and come out to T Street, between 33th and 39th

Always Open for Your Inspection

SHANNON & LUCHS INC.

Members of the Operative Builders' Ass'n of the D. C.

NEW OFFERING OF WASHINGTON'S MOST DISTINCTIVE HOMES

Ninth at Lawrence Street N. E., Brookland

$9,450

$750 Cash, $75.00 a Month to Include All Principal and Interest.

These semi-detached Tudor type residences are built of the finest materials—stucco and half timber over interlocking hollow tile. Indiana limestone window sills, Crane instantaneous hot-water heater, oak floors, large lot to alley, built-in tub and refrigerator. Inspect now!

CAREFULLY PLANNED—ALL CONVENIENCES.

OPEN TODAY, 10 A. M. to 6 P. M.

Week Days—1:30 to 6 P. M.

Drive out Michigan Ave., past Catholic University, following car line on Monroe St. over bridge, then turn right at the first street and drive south one block to houses.

MOORE and HILL, Inc.

730 17th Street Main 1174

BUY WITH CONFIDENCE—BUY A DUNIGAN ALL-BRICK HOME

New Group of Dunigan Homes Overlooking Grant Circle

POSITIVELY THE CHOICEST LOCATION AND VIEW OF ANY RESIDENTIAL SECTION IN WASHINGTON

INSPECT THESE HOMES SUNDAY!

NEW HAMPSHIRE AVE. AND WEBSTER ST. N.W.

SIX LARGE ROOMS AND BATH
NINE LARGE ROOMS AND 2 BATHS
LARGE GARAGE AND DRIVEWAY

BEAUTIFUL LAWN AND SHRUBBERY—LARGE COVERED FRONT PORCH—SLEEPING PORCH AND BREAKFAST PORCH—HIGH CEILINGS—LATEST STYLE BATH AND SHOWER—CONCRETE STREET AND PAVED ALLEY

Remember the Location!

This is your last opportunity to buy on New Hampshire Ave. Overlooking Grant Circle.

Terms Conveniently Arranged

DUNIGAN BUILT HOMES

OPEN AND LIGHTED DAILY & SUNDAY UNTIL 9 P.M.

16th STREET BUSSES TO PROPERTY

ATTENTION, WORLD WAR VETERANS! Reinstate Your War Risk Insurance Before July 2nd, 1926

D. J. DUNIGAN, Inc.

1319 N. Y. Ave. N.W. Main 1267

FOR EXCHANGE

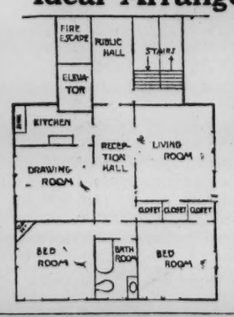

Homes for Building Sites

Arrangements with clients enable us to accept building sites anywhere in or near Washington as first payment on any one of several attractive city and suburban homes, ranging in price from $7,000 to $20,000. No cash required. Call Main 10134 and ask for Mr. Crutchfield.

Maddux, Marshall, Moss & Mallory, Inc.

923 Fifteenth Street. Main 10134.

Can You Conceive a More Ideal Arrangement of Space?

Here is a perfectly-planned 5-room apartment where you will be delighted to entertain your friends.

Due to exigencies of the Congressional and Military services, this and smaller apartments in the same building will soon be available.

The apartment is situated in one of Washington's best and most eagerly sought residential sections, and the RATES ARE SURPRISINGLY MODERATE.

1835 PHELPS PLACE

Attractive Modern Building Good Elevator Service

Representative on Premises 4:30 to 6:30 P. M. and Sunday Afternoons.

Maddux, Marshall, Moss & Mallory, Inc.

923 Fifteenth St. Main 10134.

Moving Day Convenience

The Washington Post

As of.....I am moving from

Address .....Apt.....

to

Address .....Apt.....

Begin Daily.....Sunday.....

Name .....

OPPORTUNITY

"About a year ago I had an opportunity to buy that site for a whole lot less than it is worth now," said a man who stood in front of the five big Co-operative Apartment Buildings that WARDMAN has built at First St., New York Avenue and M St. N.W.

Soon rental tenants will pass these buildings and remark: "I had an opportunity to buy one of those apartments when they were the most reasonably priced homes in Washingon."

Vision and the courage to act on your convictions will spell success; whereas timidity and procrastination will keep you in the ranks of those who "had an opportunity."

This huge development has already served materially to increase property values in this locality. Now the Sibley Hospital is doubling its size and the C. & P. Telephone Company is erecting a $725,000 building close by. More than TWO MILLION DOLLARS worth of major improvements concentrated in this neighborhood within the last six months. Further development is sure to follow.

LOOK AHEAD TO ENHANCING VALUES AND BUY NOW IN THESE BUILDINGS AT THE ORIGINAL PRICE.

You can buy a delightfully sunny, front, bungalow-apartment, with three exposures, consisting of large reception hall, living room, two bedrooms, kitchen and bath, for an initial payment of $1,460 and $58.40 a month. The operating cost of this apartment, including taxes, coal, janitor service, insurance, etc., is $15.45 a month, fully fifty percent less than the maintenance expense of a house of equal size.

WARDMAN

100% CO-OPERATIVE APARTMENTS

FIRST ST., NEW YORK AVE., AND M ST. NORTHWEST

Main 8516 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. Daily and Sunday

EDMUND J. FLYNN Authority on Co-operative Apartments Representing WARDMAN

SENATE OPENS FIRE ON RAIL LABOR BILL IN NEWEST ATTACK

Motion to Recommit Measure to Interstate Commerce Body Is Made.

CURTIS, KING AND REED START BITTER FIGHT

Kansan Challenges Watson's Statement That Coolidge Favors Legislation.

(By the Associated Press.)

A new line of attack against the railroad labor bill developed yesterday in the form of a motion to recommit the measure to the Senate interstate commerce committee.

The full force of the opposition will be thrown behind the motion this week and early adjournment of the Senate for the week-end was taken to permit leaders to line-up their forces.

Adjournment followed closely upon the statement during debate by Senator Watson (Republican), Indiana, sponsor of the bill, that President Coolidge favored it. This was challenged by Senator Curtis, the Republican leader, who is opposed to the bill unless it is amended.

"Has the senator any evidence to submit that the President sponsors this bill?" he inquired.

"Oh, the senator knows it well enough," replied Senator Watson.

"I do not know it," retorted Mr. Curtis.

Immediately after this colloquy whispered conferences were held with the result that an agreement was reached to defer further consideration of the bill until tomorrow.

The bill was the target of violent attack yesterday at the hands of Senators Curtis and King, Utah, and Reed, Missouri, Democrats.

Opposed by Small Lines.

Senator King declared the measure was indorsed by only the stronger and wealthier railroads and was opposed by the smaller and weaker lines.

"It will lead to bankruptcy of the smaller roads and the Senate should remember there is a third party to this agreement—the public," he added.

When Senator Reed said the bill was opposed by a majority of the "operating managers," and favored by the "financial managers," Senator Watson retorted that it was drawn up by the workers and the carriers.

The Indiana senator refused to be questioned by Senator King, declaring he had no intention of being put on the witness stand and cross-examined by another senator.

"If the senator wants to make a speech, let him make it, and I will answer if I want to," he said, heatedly.

Declaring the Senate interstate commerce committee had reported the bill without giving "independent" railroads an opportunity to be heard against it, C. N. Whitehead, president of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad, yesterday advised Congress to assess both sides of the case before making its decision.

"The opponents of this bill," he said in a statement, "include all farm organizations, practically all manufacturers' associations, representatives of 300,000 railroad employes, not members of the railroad brotherhoods, and executives of 30 per cent of the mileage of class 1 railroads."

The bill, supported by the Association of Railway Executives and the employes' brotherhoods, would abolish the railroad labor board and substitute a new method of settling disputes. Mr. Whitehead declared that under it the public would be deprived of a voice in railroad labor controversies, an excessive burden would be imposed on rate structures, the economic work now being done by the labor board would be discontinued, and there would be no provision against a suspension of service in case of a wage dispute.

"In view of what is happening in England," he said, "our country cannot afford to return railway labor disputes to the old mediation system which has so signally failed in the past."

Vitos Fails to Form Ministry.

Warsaw, Poland, May 8 (By A. P.).—Former Premier Vitos, who yesterday accepted the task of forming a new ministry to succeed that of Count Skrzynski, has failed in his efforts, President Wojciechowski has now requested Socialist Deputy Marek to endeavor to set up a ministry from the radical groups.

OPTION CLAUSE IN WOMEN JURORS BILL OPPOSED BY LEADING CITIZENS

Several Voice Disapproval of the Amendment as Adopted by House.

TERMS SHOULD BE SAME AS FOR MEN, IS BELIEF

Jury Service Called Duty of Citizenship; Gans for Present Measure.

Professional and civic leaders of the District yesterday voiced disapproval of the bill passed by the House, making women eligible for service on juries in the District of Columbia.

The disapproval was of the amendment proposed by Representative Wingo, of Arkansas, and adopted by the House, providing that women may excuse themselves from jury duty when they wish, and not of the idea that women will be on District juries.

Isaac Gans, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, however, differed with the others, and approved the measure as passed by the House.

The bill carries to the Senate the disapproval of many others, including women prominent in clubs and civic work. Those who expressed themselves to The Post, included Frank Hogan, lawyer; Jesse C. Suter, president of the Federation of Citizens Associations; Miss Maude Younger, of the Woman's Party; Mrs. Giles Scott Rafter, Mrs. Rebekah Greathouse, Mrs. Burnita Shelton Matthews, lawyer; Proctor L. Dougherty, of the citizens' advisory council; James G. Yaden, of the Public School association; Mrs. George A. Ricker, of the Voteless League of Women Voters; J. Harry Cunningham, president of the Board of Trade and Rotary club, and Lieut. Mina Van Winkle, in charge of the women's bureau of the police department and president of the Soroptomist club.

All for Compulsory Service.

All of them said jury service should be compulsory.

Their views follow:

Jesse C. Suter, president of the citizens' advisory council: "To put women on juries is a step in the right direction, and I am an unqualified believer in it.

"Personally I believe that women should be chosen in the same way that the men are. Of course, many must be excused from service because of household duties, but it should not be a mere matter of caprice as to whether or not they serve."

Miss Maude Younger, congressional representative of the National Women's Party: "I believe that women should serve on juries on the same terms as men. It is a better thing for the women, and will tend to greater justice.

"Courts in the District have always been lenient in excusing those impaneled for jury duty, and if a woman has a valid excuse she would have no trouble in being freed from service. It was not at all necessary that the amendment was added; in fact, the bill would have been better if it had passed as it was originally introduced."

Amendment Hurts Bill.

Mrs. Giles Scott Rafter, president of Parent-Teacher Association of the District of Columbia: "The bill will be of but little value unless all the women can be called on. The bill would be much better without any amendment giving women the option of serving."

Mrs. Rebekah Greathouse, assistant United States district attorney: "I am in favor of the bill without the amendment added. The amendment does not help the women who would have a valid excuse for not serving."

Mrs. Burnita Shelton Matthews, president of the Women's Bar association: "I am not in favor of the amendment. The women should be put on the same footing as the men.

"I do not think, however, that the amendment will give rise to a system of 'professional' women jurors, and even if it does, the example of other States which have drafted women for jury duty shows that the women would be no worse than the men. Testimony at the last congressional hearing, moreover, showed that women usually were higher minded, and realized their responsibilities more keenly than the men when placed on juries."

Should Not Be Optional.

Frank J. Hogan, attorney: "My view is that women should be placed on exactly the same basis as men. They should not be excluded from jury service, nor should it be made optional for them to serve on juries.

"The right of citizenship implies the duties of citizenship. They have demanded equal rights and liberties to which they are entitled. There is no reason why they should not bear the same burdens in this respect as do the men."

Isaac Gans, former president of the Chamber of Commerce: "The question should be strictly up to the women whether or not they should serve on juries. They are good at anything these days, and would make excellent jurors. I am in favor of the bill as it stands."

Proctor L. Dougherty, member of the Citizens Advisory council: "It was not wise to have added the amendment to the bill. I think it makes the bill inadequate for the purpose it should have. There should be no favoritism shown between the sexes as to jury duty, and to make such duty voluntary on the part of the women is to destroy the purpose of the bill's enactment."

Is Serious Consideration.

James G. Yaden, president of the District of Columbia Public School association: "I favor the passage of the bill, but I would have been more satisfied with it if it had left the problem of service up to the judge to decide, instead of making it optional on the part of the women. A serious thing, such as this, should not be left to a woman's whim."

Mrs. George A. Ricker, president of the Voteless League of Women Voters: "I am strongly in favor of women on juries, but think that there are many occasions when women would be unable to serve. I think that the amendment is too strong, however, and goes too far. Women should be willing to serve, and they should be liable to a call for jury service, which could be prevented only by urgent excuse."

J. Harry Cunningham, president of the Board of Trade and Rotary club: "Of course women should be made to serve on juries. I consider a woman's judgment just as good as a man's. I think women make good jurors and if they were allowed to serve on juries here I think it would raise the standard. They should, however, receive the same consideration as men in being excused for sickness and other good reasons.

"I served on a jury commission several years ago and at that time we had difficulty in impaneling a jury. I feel as I felt then that if we could have women serve on juries, our problem would not be nearly as difficult as it is under the present bar against women serving as jurors."

Considers Service Duty.

Lieut. Mina Van Winkle, in charge of the women's bureau of the police department, and president of the Soroptimist club: "I should like to see the bill amended so as to excuse women with children, but otherwise I think they should be made to serve on juries on the same basis but with the same disqualifications as men. When women obtained the ballot they accepted the responsibilities of citizenship on equality with men and they should be held responsible for jury duty the same as men. I consider jury service a duty.

"I think women jurors are more capable of rendering a fair decision than men, especially where women are involved. American men are too chivalrous toward women. American men have always spoiled women.

"It would be a great deal better for women to serve on juries than wasting their time playing cards and indulging in other unnecessary pleasures. Jury service would give them an insight into community affairs and conditions."

Upper, left to right—Frank Hogan (Harris & Ewing), Mrs. Burnita S. Matthews, Mrs. George Ricker, J. G. Yaden (Bachrach). Center—J. Harry Cunningham (Underwood & Underwood), Miss Maud Younger (Edmonston), Lieut. Mina Van Winkle (Hugh Miller), Proctor L. Dougherty (Harris & Ewing). Lower—Jesse Suter, Mrs. Giles Scott Rafter (Harris & Ewing), Mrs. Rebecca Greathouse (Hugh Miller) and Isaac Gans (Harris and Ewing).

DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Met at noon yesterday and adjourned at 3:05 p. m. until this morning at 11 o'clock for eulogies on the late Senator Ladd, of North Dakota.

Continued debate on administration railroad labor bill, Senator Watson, in charge, announcing that President Coolidge sponsored the measure, a statement challenged by Senator Curtis, of Kansas.

Nominations included a long list of postmasters and seventeen foreign service officers, unclassified, to be vice consuls of career.

Confirmed a number of postmasters and minor promotions in Navy Department.

Senator Edge, Republican, of New Jersey, introduced a bill designed to put the home brewer on a parity under the law with the farmer in making fruit juices and cider, nonintoxicating in fact, for home consumption.

Senator Goff, of West Virginia, introduced a bill designed to put teeth in the enforcement act.

The Senate insisted upon its amendments to $165,000,000 public building bill and appointed as conferees, Senators Fernald, Warren, Lenroot, Reed of Missouri and Swanson.

Interstate commerce committee reported the radio control bill creating an independent commission of five men to have complete jurisdiction over radio communication.

Commerce committee devoted day to inquiring into circumstances surrounding the awarding of the American-Oriental line ships to the Dollar Co. within one week after bids had been invited.

HOUSE.

Met at noon yesterday and adjourned at 4:15 p. m. until noon tomorrow.

Continued debate on pending measures for farm relief.

Chairman Madden, of appropriations committee, announced that if Haugen bill prevailed he would oppose to the extent of his influence the proposed appropriation of $375,000,000 to put it into effect.

Floor leader Tilson outlined House program for remainder of farm relief, rivers and harbors session and said it would include bill, coal, veterans, judiciary and civil service legislation.

Interstate commerce committee continued hearings on legislation looking to refunding of railway bonds.

House leaders agreed that the Lehlbach revised civil service retirement bill shall be taken up a week from tomorrow and predicted that it would pass.

Fairbanks to See Mussolini.

Rome, May 8 (By A. P.).—Premier Mussolini has agreed to receive Douglas Fairbanks, American film star, next Monday, and Mr. Fairbanks is returning to Italy purposely to meet the premier. Fairbanks and his wife, Mary Pickford, arrived at Genoa April 13. They were last reported in Berlin early this week.

FEDERAL ENGINEERS GIVE EYEWITNESS STORY OF ERUPTION

Believed to Be First Trained Observers to See Start of Lava Stream.

VALUABLE REPORTS ON MAUNA LOA FLOW

Lava, 25 Feet Deep, Traveled to Boiling Sea at 10 Feet a Second.

Two engineers of the geological survey were on the island of Hawaii when the volcano, Mauna Loa, went into eruption recently. They have sent in an eyewitness account of the event, vividly describing the 30-mile flow of molten lava from the crater to the sea. Two villages were wiped out by the eruption.

The engineers were E. G. Wingate and M. H. Carson. They are believed to have been the first trained observers ever to witness the beginning of a lava flow, and their data therefore will have great scientific value.

Engineer Wingate was camped near the summit of the mountain at the time of the eruption on April 10, in charge of a geological survey party that is mapping the mountain. He was able to reach the crater of Mokuweoweo, at the summit of Mauna Loa, at an altitude of 13,675 feet, shortly after the first signs of activity. At the date of the report to the geological survey, April 22, Engineer Wingate was still making observations of the flow.

Lava 25 Feet Deep.

Engineer Carson viewed the lava stream April 18 and estimated that the molten lava was then flowing in a channel about 80 feet wide and 25 to 30 feet deep at an average velocity of about 10 feet a second. These estimates are much lower than any others that he heard expressed, but Engineer Carson is a hydraulic engineer, accustomed to estimating the rate of stream flow, and it is probable that his figures are close to the facts. According to the report, the total width of the lava flow where it crossed the main highway around the island was about 2,000 feet, but the main mass along the sides was not in motion.

Blue flames and glowing red patches were scattered over the whole area, but it was possible to approach within about 450 feet of the flowing stream, although it is described as hot footwork. The length of the lava stream from the crater to the sea was about 30 miles and the sea water was reported as boiling for a distance of a mile from shore.

The island of Hawaii, which contains the two most lofty mountains of the Hawaiian group, Mauna Loa and Mauna Kea, meaning, respectively, long mountain and white mountain, is the largest and most southeasterly of the Hawaiian islands and is about 160 miles southeast of Oahu, on which is the city of Honolulu.

R. HARRIS & CO.

CHARGE ACCOUNTS INVITED SATISFACTORY TERMS ARRANGED

Why Diamonds for Engagement?

ASTROLOGICALLY, the diamond comes under the zodiacal sign Leo, and has reputed power, especially in Aries and Libra.

* * *

From time immemorial legend has reputed to the diamond qualities of influence peculiarly effective in strengthening the mutual ties of wedlock.

* * *

The diamond has come into popular appreciation and use as the one precious stone most appropriately the symbol of engagement and betrothal.

To speak of an engagement ring is matter of course to have a diamond in mind.

* * *

It is the acme of value in sentiment.

* * *

It is intrinsically of worth that can not depreciate.

* * *

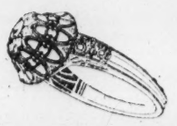

That the engagement ring must carry a diamond that is fine and perfect goes without saying.

* * *

High and long-lasting sentiment can not be appropriately symbolized by diamonds of inferior value and quality.

* * *

Nor can you who make this once-in-a-lifetime purchase afford to forget that your investment must be as safe as the gift is beautiful.

Our widespread good repute in the field of diamond merchandising is built upon our invariable offering of fine, perfect diamonds.

* * *

Diamonds of unquestionable quality.

* * *

Diamonds that invite safe and profitable investment.

* * *

We are neither novices nor tyros in the study of diamonds.

* * *

Our more than fifty years of experience—plus our acknowledged position as the largest dealers in diamonds in Washington—is your guarantee that the diamond engagement ring you buy on our recommendation will stand the best test of critical inspection perpetually.

* * *

And this holds true, no matter what the price you pay.

Exceptional Diamond Engagement Ring Values, $50, $75, $100, $150.

R. Harris & Co.
Seventh & D

Jewelers and Diamond Merchants for More Than Half a Century

R. HARRIS & CO.

CIRCUS TICKETS FREE

JOHN WALTER HECHINGER.
4 Years Old, in Egypt

To purchasers of merchandise to value of $55 on circus days, we will give two reserved seat circus tickets, value $3.00.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

The police prevent auto travel on Florida Avenue on circus days, so to maintain our business as usual we have built a new entrance into Camp Meigs at SIXTH STREET Northeast. Do not use Florida Avenue but drive down K Street, turn into Sixth Street to park in the circus grounds.

COMBINE BUSINESS WITH PLEASURE

Visit us in the morning, inspect our building materials, make your purchases, then go to the circus absolutely free.

PARKING SPACE 25c
(Free to Customers)
Sixth Street Northeast, Direct to Circus

FOUNDATION TO ROOF

Main Office
6th & C Sts.
Southwest

Hechinger Co.

Camp Meigs
5th & Fla. Ave.
Northeast

ROCK-BOTTOM PRICES

"Circus Time Is Building Time"

THE MORRIS PLAN

The terms of Morris Plan Loans are simple and practical and fair—it is not necessary to have had an account at this Bank to borrow.

For each $50 or fraction borrowed you agree to deposit $1 per week in an Account, the proceeds of which may be used to cancel the note when due. Deposits may be made on a weekly, semi-monthly or monthly basis as you prefer.

Easy to Pay

Loan	Weekly Deposit For 50 Weeks
$100	$2.00
$200	$4.00
$300	$6.00
$400	$8.00
$500	$10.00
$1,000	$20.00
$5,000	$100.00
$10,000	$200.00

Loans are passed within a day or two after filing application—with few exceptions.

MORRIS PLAN notes are usually made for 1 year, though they may be given for any period of from 3 to 12 months.

MORRIS PLAN BANK
Under Supervision U. S. Treasury
1408 H Street N. W.
"Character and Earning Power Are the Basis of Credit"

MRS. H. E. DODGE IS WED AMID BLOOMS TO HUGH DILLMAN

Guards Set Over Gates as Tailor's Son Marries Wealthy Widow.

FEW SEE CEREMONY AT DETROIT ESTATE

Bridegroom Divorced Husband of Marjorie Rambeau; Was Also Actor.

Detroit, May 8 (By A. P.).—The wedding of Mrs. Horace E. Dodge, widow of one of the founders of Dodge Brothers, Inc., to Hugh Dillman, son of a Columbus, Ohio, tailor and divorced husband of Marjorie Rambeau, actress, took place at 12:30 p. m. today. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Samuel Forrer, pastor of the Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian church, in a bower of blossoms sent by Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, widow of John F. Dodge, whose marriage to a Detroit lumberman took place last year.

Gates Are Guarded.

Guards stood at the great iron gates of the Horace E. Dodge, jr., estate, where the marriage took place, and only a few close friends and relatives were admitted. Among those who witnessed the ceremony were Miss Mary McGaughey, of Columbus, Ohio, sister of the bridegroom, and Horace E. Dodge, of Detroit, and Mrs. Delphine Dodge Cromwell, of Philadelphia, only children of Mrs. Dodge. Mr. Dodge and Mrs. Cromwell are the eventual heirs of the great Horace Dodge, sr., fortune. His will provided that the estate be held in trust for them, Mrs. Horace Dodge to receive the income from it during her lifetime.

There never has been made public an exact statement of the Horace Dodge wealth, but the two brothers shared alike in all their joint ventures and were sole owners of Dodge Bros., Inc., which was sold last year for $146,000,000 cash. In addition to his share in the motor car company, Horace E. Dodge had extensive realty and personal property, the value of which is estimated to have increased greatly since his death. Both Mrs. Dillman and Mrs. Wilson are regarded as shrewd and clever business women, and both have taken personal interest in the handling of the Dodge brothers' estates.

Bride Youthful-Looking.

Although Mrs. Dodge's age was given on the marriage license as 49, she appeared much younger in her wedding gown—an imported model of beige lace over a foundation of the same shade and with just a touch of coral trimming. Her youthfulness was accentuated by a picture hat of beige lace, faced with coral, and slippers and hose of beige. She carried a bouquet of white orchid sprays and catteleya. The only jewels she wore were those presented to her and designed by Mr. Dillman.

Mrs. McGaughey was Mrs. Dodge's only attendant. Joseph Ritter, of Pittsburgh, was Mr. Dillman's best man.

Mr. Dillman, who is 43 years old, is the son of James McCaughey, who, until his death five years ago, was proprietor of a Columbus tailor shop. Several years ago Mr. Dillman appeared in a Detroit stock company and later appeared in New York and on the road with theatrical companies. He gave his present occupation as art director. He is manager of the Society of Arts at Palm Beach, Fla., and recently managed a tour of Fiske Jubilee singers.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillman left immediately after the ceremony for a limousine tour eastward. They plan to go abroad, possibly to Venice, where they first met three years ago.

Bast Given Liberty On Filing an Appeal

Copenhagen, May 8 (By A. P.).—Rt. Rev. Anton Bast, Methodist Episcopal bishop of Scandinavia, recently convicted of misapplying charity funds, secured temporary freedom today by filing application for a new trial.

He was to have begun his three months' prison sentence today, but was given his liberty until the court decides whether to grant him a new trial. Such a trial would be by three new judges and a jury.

Man, Ordered to Move, Slain, Landlady Held

John Sherrill, colored, 40 years old, was shot and killed and Ella Holmes, colored, 28 years old, his landlady, was arrested last night, charged with killing him.

The shooting followed a quarrel, the woman said. She told police she feared her roomer, who had occupied a room for a week and had ordered him to pay his rent and leave. He refused to do so. They quarreled in front of her house, 2407 Shows court northwest, and the man was killed.

Death by Lethal Gas Is Escaped.

Reno, Nev., May 8 (By A. P.).—Guadalope Acosta, Elko county murderer, sentenced to die in the lethal gas chamber at the State penitentiary the week of May 16, has been found insane, and the death decree suspended. Warden William J. Maxwell said a new date would be set if Acosta regained his sanity.

Lake Chapeau Clubhouse Burns.

Lac Desert, Quebec, May 8 (By A. P.).—The clubhouse of the Lake Chapeau Fish and Game club here has been destroyed by fire. The membership of the club includes many of the best known fishermen in Canada and the United States.

PAST AND PRESENT STATE HEADS

Hugh Miller, Post Staff Photographer.

Past and present Secretaries of State meet. Charles Evans Hughes and Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg following the visit of Mr. Hughes to the Secretary. Mr. Hughes will appear before the President's oil conservation board on Thursday.

Prof. Babbitt Chosen By French Academy

Paris, May 8 (By A. P.).—Prof. Irving Babbitt, of the department of French literature at Harvard university, has been elected uninamously a corresponding member of the Academy of Moral and Political Sciences.

Prof. Irving Babbitt, who was born in Dayton, Ohio, has long been a student of French literature. He has written many books on French literature and criticism, and is the editor of several works by noted French authors.

300 Mexican Rebels Repulsed in Battle

Mexico City, May 8 (By A. P.). Radio reports say 300 rebels under the orders of the Vidales brothers attacked Acapulco, a Pacific port in the state of Guarrero. They were defeated and dispersed with casualties by a Federal force under Gen. Amarillas, the district military commander.

The activities of the Vidales, it is added, are believed to be due to local politics.

WALLED CITY RUINS FOUND IN PALESTINE BACKS BIBLE STORY

Evidences of Terrible Battle in Kirjath-Sepher; Book of Joshua Confirmed.

WONDERFUL PLUMBING SYSTEM IS UNCOVERED

Regarded as Among Greatest Discoveries in Years by Archeologists.

Philadelphia, May 8 (By A. P.). Bible students and archeologists here are greatly interested in the reports from Jerusalem that discoveries made in Southern Palestine confirm the book of Joshua in recording the conquest of Kirjath-Sepher.

On Friday, the Associated Press reported that excavations on the site of the buried city of Kirjath-Sepher had revealed one of the most complete and well preserved of Canaanite and Israelite walled cities.

Today the Sunday School Times, of Philadelphia, made public a cablegram from the Holy Land in which it was stated the Joshua version of the taking of the ancient city was confirmed and the city "fully identified."

Undisturbed 2,500 Years.

The cablegram came from the archeological editor of the Sunday School Times, Dr. Melvin Grove Kyle, who also is president of Xenia Theological Seminary of St. Louis.

The expedition which made the discoveries in cooperation with American School of Archeological Research at Jerusalem, set out to excavate Tell Mersim near Hebron, identified in 1924 as the site of Kirjath-Sepher by Director Albright of the American school at Jerusalem. Dr. Albright is director of field operations in the expedition.

Kirjath-Sepher has been undisturbed since Nebuchadnezzar destroyed it 2,500 years ago. But earlier than that, about 1700 B. C., it was a flourishing city, as Joshua led the children of Israel into Canaan and began the conquest of that land.

Hunt For Tablets.

The apparent corroboration of early Old Testament history is regarded as one of the greatest archeological discoveries in recent times, and it remains to be seen whether actual tablets of the Pentateuch, brought to Kirjath-Sepher (Booktown) by the Israelites may yet be found.

The cablegram received by the Sunday School Times is as follows: "Joshua 15:13-19 confirmed. Field and springs found. Kirjath-Sepher fully identified. Remarkable finds, far exceeding expectations. Walls originally 35 to 40 feet high. Great, complicated gateway, showing five periods of building, three Canaanites, two Israelite. Evidences of terrific fighting. Mysterious and unique system of shrines in rooms, probably a Canaanite temple. Remarkable plumbing system."

THUGS MAKE WOMAN OPEN BOUDOIR SAFE

Rob Wife of American Can Chairman; Bind Son in Clothes Closet.

Rye, N. Y., May 8 (By A. P.).—Four armed men early today broke into the home of F. S. Wheeler, wealthy New York business man, and forced Mrs. Wheeler to open a boudoir safe. Sweeping its contents into a bag, they escaped in an automobile.

Mr. Wheeler, who is chairman of the American Can Co. and officer in several other large corporations, told the police that two of the men stayed on the lower floor of the house while the other pair invaded the bedroom. Arthur, 28-year-old son of Mr. Wheeler, who was sleeping in an adjoining room, was bound with rope and placed in a clothes closet.

Police said Mr. Wheeler told them he and his wife were threatened with death if they did not obey. Mrs. Wheeler refused to make any estimate of her loss until an inventory are using the classified ad pages of The Post to highly profitable, business-getting results. There's room for more. Phone Main 4205 for details.

Painters and Paperhangers

QUALITY 20 MONTHS TO PAY
We Rebuild Remodel Repair
SUPERIOR GARAGES
PHONE MAIN 9427
STONEBRAKER BUILDER
820-11th ST., N.W.

Dresses for Women, Misses and Stylish Stouts
Hudson CLOAK & SUIT STORE
919 F St. N.W.
SEASON'S BIGGEST SALE
NEW SILK DRESSES
Printed Crepes Jacquards Flowered Silks
Flat Crepes Satins Novelty Silks
Silk Prints Faille Dotted Crepes
—and lest we forget—over 50 different styles — some one or few-of-a-kind and priced so low you can buy 2 or 3 and not feel extravagant.
New Spring Styles
All At $5
Women's Sizes 16 to 42 Extra sizes to 50
Take Warning
Come early—There is so much value in these dresses that most folks will buy them up eagerly, judging by the quick response from our last sale.
All at $5
New bolero effects; circular skirts; straight lines; colorful contrasting trimmings; 2-piece dresses; new pleat treatments.
Clearance Sale of Entire Stock of New Spring Coats

"The Young Men's Shop"
1319-1321 F Street
May 9 STORE NEWS Hours: 8 A. M. to 6 P. M.
Let the other fellow tell of our bargains
You'd think we were exaggerating, so just ask any man who has been here since this sale started.
Better still, come and see for yourself.
Actually, there has never been a time in the history of our business when we were pricing suits so far below their current value.
Costs have been disregarded because a cold spring has left us with a stock five times too large.
$45
Two-Pants Suits
—and our entire lines of beautiful spring woolens
$29
All regular sizes, with extra longs, shorts and stouts. All the models in both single and double breasted styles.
All the handsome light shades that feature these superb spring wools, and plenty of the ever-desirable blue serges and unfinished worsteds.
There's a new line of double-twist worsteds that are wonderful values. Never offered these at any such price as $29. But they must all go!

YOO HOO, SKINNAY! CIRCUS'S IN TOWN; COMES HERE TODAY

Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey Will Show at Camp Meigs.

IT WILL BE BOYS' DAY WHEN "BIG TOP" ARRIVES

Performances to Open Tomorrow and Last Through Tuesday; Much Promised.

If you are a Sunday school teacher and your boys seem listless or restless today, don't blame it on yourself or on the heat.

The circus comes to town today. And it is expected that the greater part of Washington's boy population will be out at Camp Meigs to greet it. The actual performances, of course, will not begin until tomorrow morning, but there will be a lot to see today.

Before nightfall a sizable city will have sprung up at Camp Meigs. The "big top," which is to house five rings and a labyrinth of trapeze equipment, is the largest piece of canvas ever made, measuring 700 feet in length. The main tent will hold seats for 15,000 persons.

Much Is Promised.

As to the circus itself, harken to Lester Thompson, the eloquent press agent of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus. He will be permitted to press agent to the extent of two paragraphs:

"Five companies of performing horses, 24 of them in a troupe, doing stunts at one time. Five herds of elephants, one herd for every ring, playing at 'London Bridge,' and all like that. 'Bout 200 other equines—that's a fancy name for horses—every one with a rider in eye-dazzling costume—galloping or prancing through regular Boy Scout drills around the hippodrome track and in and out of the rings. All in one slather, too!

"As for novelties, think of these: An entire congress of 'cloud-swing' artists, who drop through space and catch to trapeze bars by one heel; casting acts in which the flier plunges across the dome of the big top with head and shoulders encased in a sack; a driverless taxicab that answers to beck and call of 100 clowns."

Then Mr. Thompson goes on to tell about the animals—the boxing kangaroos, the peewee elephants, police dogs that scale walls 20 feet high, and trained llamas and zebras harnessed to bejeweled chariots.

More than 1,600 persons are traveling with the show, half of whom are performers. The train which brings the circus here consists of 100 double-length cars. Unloading will take place at Benning, and from there the gaily-colored wagons will be hauled to Camp Meigs at Fourth street and Florida avenue.

A matinee and evening performance will be given tomorrow and Tuesday.

Commission Changes Opposed by Employes

Three organizations of postal employes yesterday announced their opposition to any effort to "cripple the United States Employes' compensation commission by making it a subordinate bureau of the civil service commission or any other government agency." The opposing organizations were the National Federation of Post Office Clerks and Railway Mail association and the National Association of Letter Carriers.

"It is our view that this commission which deals with injury cases vitally important to the employes should remain, as at present, an independent agency and not to be subordinated as a minor bureau in some existing department of the government," a joint statement said.

Williamstown Girls Club Given Trophy

The Williamstown (Mass.) Girls' club last night was presented with the silver cup offered by Miss Marian Niles for the club having the largest attendance at the convention of the National League of Girls Clubs. The presentation was made by Mrs. Fannie M. Pollak, of New York, president of the league, at the annual banquet in the Raleigh hotel.

Miss Josephine Gregus and Walter S. Rogers made addresses. The league will hold a business meeting in the New National museum this morning.

COL. A. N. STARK DIES.

Retired Army Medical Officer Passes Away in California.

Notification of the death of Col. Alexander N. Stark, U. S. A., retired, yesterday, at Hollywood, Calif., has been received by the War Department.

Col. Stark was born in Virginia September 15, 1869, received his degree at the University of Virginia in 1892, entered the army medical corps May 12, 1893, and retired August 25, 1925. He received the distinguished service medal during the world war. His son, Capt. Alexander N. Stark, jr., is on duty with the reserve officers' training corps unit of the University of California, Los Angeles.

Missing Girl Sought.

Police last night were asked to institute a search for Gladys Adams, 16 years old, who left her home at 521 King street, Alexandria, Va., to come to this city yesterday, and had failed to return at a late hour last night. She is described as having blonde bobbed hair, tall, freckled face and of heavy stature.

Dental Clinic Appeals For New Equipment

Scores of boys and girls, including the children of several orphanages, are depending for needed dental work on the answer to the appeal made by the Christ Child society to the people of Washington for funds to secure a new dental chair and modern equipment at the free clinic of the society, 324 Indiana avenue northwest.

The chair now in the free dental clinic is ready to be junked, say the officers of the society, who are all volunteer workers. It was a second-hand chair when given to the clinic eight years ago and is now unfit for further use. New appliances are also needed for the proper treatment of little ones' teeth. It is estimated that about $550 is required to put the clinic on an efficient basis. Free dental treatment was given to 830 children during the year ended December 31, 1925.

MAN BELIEVED DEAD IN BLAZING FOREST; GOV. BYRD ASKS AID

New Winds Spread Fire Near Blacksburg; Troops Sent Back to Scene.

Richmond, Va., May 8 (By A. P.).—Hundreds of persons—national guardsmen, Federal and State forestry officials and volunteers—were attempting today to control three major forest fires in Virginia that have caused one death, destroyed thousands of acres of valuable timber lands and swept before them some dwellings, stables, tobacco houses and schools and killed many horses, cattle and hogs. Others are believed to be under control, but are requiring the attention of fire fighters to keep them from spreading.

Frank M. Hurst, of Alexandria, is believed to have lost his life in a fire on Craig's creek, 6 miles from Blacksburg. A battery of coast artillery fought this blaze all night, and soon after returning to their armory at Blacksburg this morning were recalled to the scene when a fresh breeze spread the flames over a 10-mile front. Frantic appeals for help from the fire zone said every available man was needed to curb the fire.

15,000 Acres Consumed.

In Nelson county more than 15,000 acres of virgin forest have been consumed by flames, which are still burning in the vicinity of Roseland, according to reports. These reports declared dwellings, stables and tobacco and school houses had been destroyed and horses, cattle and hogs killed. The fire has burned a triangle from Bryant to Lovingston, on one side, and from Bryant to Stagebridge on the other side.

Gov. Byrd was appealed to for help in fighting a fire on the southern tip of Shenandoah National park, just east of Harrisonburg. The fire, he was told, already had destroyed 10,000 acres of timber. One hundred men were ordered into this area, while the governor sought means to pay them for their efforts.

Rain has not fallen in the fire districts in almost a month and forestry officials have issued a warning to all hunters and fishermen to stay out of the woods so long as the present dry spell lasts.

Troops Get Few Hours Rest.

Blacksburg, Va., May 8 (By A. P.).—With fresh breezes spreading the forest fire raging near here, Battery G of the 246th coast artillery received word this morning to rush men back to the area. The troops came here for a few hours rest after fighting the fire all night.

Several saw mills and residences were reported in danger as the flames spread along Craigs creek. Capt. James O. Hoge, commanding the coast artillery battery, said today that while the calm last night made the fire easy to handle, the breeze today served to spread the fire area. Valuable timber tracts in Montgomery and Craig counties were said to be in danger.

North Carolina Blaze Checked.

Raleigh, N. C., May 8 (By A. P.). Forest fires in Western North Carolina are under control with few exceptions, according to word received here today from district foresters. The weather conditions, however, are still such that the situation continues dangerous, Assistant State Forester W. C. McCormick said.

Spreading in Western Maryland.

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., May 8.—Heavy forest fires are spreading on Knobley Mountain above Ridgeley and Haystack mountain, near Lavale, all within sight of the city, over which a heavy pall of smoke hangs. Big forces of men are fighting the fires, the firefighters being principally farmers whose fencing and buildings are menaced.

Fires on Wills mountain, Fort Hill, at Rawlings, and on mountains bounding the Georges Creek valley, are being fought by wardens.

In nearby West Virginia men are being conscripted to fight forest fires.

Blackmail Charged To Howard Student

A charge of blackmail yesterday was placed against Robert W. Lesueur, 26 years old, a student of Howard university, for his alleged effort to extort $100 from Walter Dyson, colored, professor in the university, who lives at 1767 T street northwest.

Police said Lesueur several months ago threatened to "expose" the teacher to a colored newspaper, but escaped from police as they stepped from hiding to arrest him after he had taken a package he supposed contained money from a hiding place he had designated. He was arrested Friday in Philadelphia.

11 BASEBALL TEAMS JOIN POST CONTEST FOR WORLD SERIES

Thrilling Race Is Promised as List of Entrants Is Lengthened.

46 WINNERS WILL SEE EACH GAME OF CLASSIC

Read How You Can Enter and Maybe Finish in the Front Rank.

A thrilling race, every bit as exciting as the one now on in the American league, is promised in the world series contest being conducted by The Washington Post.

The winners in this contest, 46 in all, will see every game of the next world series as the guests of The Washington Post. They will be taken to wherever the games are played, with all expenses paid.

Eleven baseball teams, composed of players under 16, entered the contest yesterday. These teams go under the colorful classifications of "midgets," "insects" and "peewees."

Two teams composed of players over 16 years also entered the lists yesterday. A total of 11 individuals have come in.

Rules of Contest.

Votes based on subscriptions will decide who will be among the fortunate 46. For example, a six-months subscription to the daily and Sunday issues of The Washington Post is worth 5,000 votes, while a daily and Sunday subscription for a year will count for 10,000 votes. All subscriptions must be paid for in advance.

The contest, which opened May 3, will run until midnight of September 10.

The 46 winners will be divided as follows: Twenty individuals, 14 of whom are residents of Washington, 4 of whom live within 25 miles of the Capital, and 2 residing anywhere in the United States; 2 amateur or semiprofessional baseball teams located in Washington or within a radius of 25 miles of the Capital, 1 of which will be composed of players 16 years or under and 1 of which will be composed of players over that age.

Everybody is eligible to enter the contest, there being no bars to sex or race.

Some good is almost certain to come to those who enter the contest. Even should they fail to win a trip to the world series, they very probably will end up with money. A commission of 5 per cent will be paid on all subscriptions totalling over $50.

Yesterday's Entrants.

Entrants in the contest yesterday were:

Class 3 (teams 16 years or under)—Iowa Playground Insects, Miss Frances Major, manager, Iowa Avenue playgrounds; St. Stephen Insects, Milt Warring, manager, 2512 K street northwest; Capitol Peewees, Joe Sullivan, manager, 430 First street southeast; Rex Insects, Ralph Harns, manager, 3229 Volta place northwest; Trinity Insects, Charles Nichols, manager, 3443 P street northwest; Moon's Insects, Angus Girten, 2406 Pennsylvania avenue northwest; Weightman Insects, Critz Hudge, manager, 1905 Pennsylvania avenue northwest; Aztec Midgets, Byrd Ferneyhough, manager, 2000 H street northwest; Night Hawks, Dan Rice, manager, 1602 Columbia road northwest; Stanley Midgets, D. W. Hessler, manager, 3004 Park place northwest; Olympic Insects, Ned Tabler, 7301 Georgia avenue northwest.

Class 2 (teams over 16)—Del Ray Juniors, Robert L. Martin, manager, Paten avenue, Del Ray, Va.; Southern Juniors, Thomas E. Taylor, 1117 Four-and-a-half street southwest.

Class 1 (individuals)—Leonard Lay, 149 Ninth street northwest.

Teachers Praised For Evolution Fight

Allan Davis, principal of Business High school, congratulated members of the Washington Teachers union at the clubhouse of the American Association of University Women, 1634 I street northwest, last night for their fight to have the law which restricted the teaching of evolution in the District schools repealed.

The Teachers union celebrated its tenth anniversary last night. Members of the union presented a satirical play, which showed Congress granting every petition the union placed before it. Speakers were Mrs. Edith Compton Paul, president of the union; Miss Maud Alton, Roberta Wallace, Miss Alice Wood, Mrs. Florence Rogers and Miss Arline Du Four. Miss Clara Stutz presided.

Postal Retirement Bill Address Topic

The Postmen's retirement bill was the topic of an address last night by Representative Frederick R. Lehlbach, of New Jersey, speaking at the annual banquet and installation of officers of local 140, post office clerks, in the Hotel Arlington. Other speakers included Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin.

Dan T. Johnson, president of the local body, and other officers, were installed following the banquet. Approximately 215 guests were present. W. T. Wilkinson, first vice president of the local, acted as chairman of the committee of entertainment, and Thomas F. Flaherty, secretary-treasurer of the National Federation of Post Office Employes, was toastmaster.

SOVIET TO PERMIT CATHOLIC MISSIONS, IS VATICAN RUMOR

Father d'Herbigny Declared to Have Succeeded in Moscow Parley.

RUSSIAN FACTION MAY RETURN TO THE POPE

Bolshevik Embassy in Rome Explains That Concord Is Not Unlikely.

(Special Cable Dispatch.)

Rome, May 8.—Negotiations which the Vatican hopes eventually will lead to the return of the Russian Christians to the Catholic Church have been carried on with marked success for the last two months by the French Jesuit priest, Father d'Herbigny, prefect of the Pontifical Oriental Institute of Rome.

The Rev. M. d'Herbigny returned last week from Moscow after extended conversations with the head of the synodal church of Russia and soviet authorities. His report to the Pope was held in the most profound secrecy, but persons in the closest touch with competent authorities say the priest brought back definite accords with the soviet government.

As far as the correspondent has been able to establish, these accords foresee free missionary activities within Russia for Catholics and creation of several new dioceses. The Gazette Del Popolo, of Turin, usually excellently informed on Vatican events, believes the accords go further and that Father Javorka, a Jesuit priest of Czechoslovakia, will be named archbishop of the united Russian churches.

The Gazette's report, while not yet officially denied by the Vatican, appears premature. For ten centuries, since the schism of Fozio, it has been the dream of the Popes to bring the eastern orthodox Christians into the fold. As long as the Russian czar was the actual head of the Russian church, these efforts proved impossible.

Russian Church Split.

After the revolution, Roman churchmen entered into negotitiations with the Russian patriarch, which at first were abortive. Then came the schism within the Russian church, and the creation of a synodal church, ruled by Vedensky, president of the synod. This church, which enjoys the protection of the soviet government, accuses the old patriarchal church of the schism. The Metropolitan Peter Kroutisky, head of the patriarchal church, who is imprisoned, accuses the new synodal church of treason to the ancient faith because, he charges, it permitted the priests to remarry, and admitted deaconesses into the church.

According to the Gazette Del Popolo, it is this church which has accepted the overtures of Father D'Herbigny and has agreed to return to and recognize the Pontifical authority of Rome.

Such recognition, however, was the maximum program of the D'Herbigny mission, involving a concordat with the Vatican. Another program involving free missionary activities is the creation of new dioceses with bishops appointed by the Pope, with only one restriction—that they must be some other nationality than Polish or Russian.

Another point on which agreement was obtained, it is understood, is the abrogation of the death sentence passed on the Pope by the bolshevist courts and the lifting of the ban on the Jesuits, which has existed in Russia for many years. The fact that the negotiations were carried on between a member of this forbidden order and officials of the soviet government would indicate how far the soviets have advanced toward a policy of tolerance to the Catholic Church.

Soviet Embassy Statement.

The soviet embassy in Rome made the following declaration:

"The soviet embassy has no knowledge either directly or indirectly or by dispatch from Moscow that any one has asked for a declaration from the government or taken any steps, which could be interpreted as an approach by the church to the soviet government, but we would not be surprised if the news were true.

"The soviet regime is officially atheistic and in this sense treats religious associations as it does all others, but it does not seek to stamp out or pervert the intimate feelings of the Russian people. If the Church of Rome can find a way while respecting the iron laws of the new soviet regime and soviet principles which regulate all associations, to reconstitute itself in Russia by means already existing, it is out of the question that the government at Moscow, artificially or in a spirit of persecution, would place obstacles in its way."

(Copyright, 1926, by the Chicago Tribune.)

Georgetown Estate May Party Setting

The garden of a picturesque Georgetown estate will be the scene of a two-day Mayfair party on May 25 and 26. Members of Christ church parish are in charge, but invitations are being extended to many Washingtonians.

Mrs. Horace G. Torbert is chairman of the committee on arrangements, with Mrs. Herman Hollerith as honorary chairman. Heads of other committees are as follows: Miss Emily Matthews, supper; Mrs. Rawlins Hume, fancy articles; Mrs. R. L. Maxwell, amusement features; Mrs. H. Kent Hewitt, afternoon tea; Mrs. Dorsey W. Hyde, jr., publicity; Mrs. Roger Stuart, cakes; Miss Margaret Comegys, candy; Mrs. Thomas Bradley, flowers, and Mrs. John Hanna, bridge tables.

Col. Williams' Case Soon Before Wilbur

(By the Associated Press.)

The case of Col. Alexander Williams, of the Marine Corps, found guilty by a naval court at San Diego on intoxication charges preferred by Brig. Gen. Smedley Butler, probably will reach Secretary Wilbur for final action this week. The papers still are pursuing their leisurely course through routine departmental channels, with no sign of any legal flaw found thus far in the court procedure.

A light sentence is forecast at the department, confined to loss of numbers on the promotion list. The officer's previous good record is being considered in handling the case.

FOOTBALL STAR KILLED IN DUEL; NOT A SUICIDE

Trooper's Bullet Fatal After Ackroyd Had Threatened His Second Wife.

FINDING MADE OFFICIAL

Easton, Pa., May 8 (By A. P.). Archie M. Ackroyd, former Lafayette football star, did not commit suicide, it was stated today by officials investigating his death. Instead, he was killed by the bullet from a policeman's revolver in a shooting affray yesterday at a farmhouse where Ackroyd had been living. The death certificate issued today by the coroner of Sussex county, N. J., held that Ackroyd died from a gunshot wound not self inflicted.

The coroner's findings were borne out by Corporal Kondruff, of the State police, who said that a shot from the revolver of State Trooper William Taylor caused the athlete's death.

In the fight Ackroyd used a .45 caliber automatic, firing three shots. Taylor used a .38 and fired once, the bullet entering Ackroyd's head. The bullets fired by Ackroyd have been accounted for, it was said.

The shooting occurred when Ackroyd's wife sought the protection of Trooper Taylor to go to the farmhouse for her clothes. She said that Ackroyd had threatened her life in a quarrel after she learned, she said, that Ackroyd had another wife living in Phillipsburg, N. J.

C. M. ADAMS ESTATE IS SOLD AT AUCTION

$55,050 Paid for Alexandria Homestead and Acreage by E. M. Adams.

The estate of the late Charles M. Adams, of Alexandria, Va. was sold at auction in Alexandria yesterday noon and all the properties, including the home known as "Eastern View," together with the surrounding acreage, brought $55,050. The proceeds will be divided between E. M. Adams, Mrs. Frances Ristine, Mrs. Florence E. Kincheloe, the First Baptist church and others.

The Adams residence with nearly seven acres of land was bid in by Ephraim M. Adams, after spirited bidding, for $37,500. Other properties sold were: House 219 South Lee street, to Arthur Herbert, treasurer, for the Alexandria hospital, for $2,000; house and lot 416 South Royal street, to Carrol Pierce for $950; house and lot 326 South Patrick street, to W. L. Norford, for $650; strip of ground on King street, adjoining Rosemont, to Judge Howard W. Smith, for $3,525; seven lots in Cottage Park, to Capt. T. M. Hamilton, for $1,500; farm of 450 acres in Fairfax county, to F. P. Gillingham, for $9,125.

The sale was made for William P. Woolls, Thomas H. Lion, Thomas R. Keith, and Judge Robinson Moncure, special commissioners. Thomas L. Carter was the auctioneer. Michael T. Dwyer bid in the property for Mr. Adams.

ALLEGED NARCOTIC PEDDLER IS JAILED

Woman Sentenced to Serve Ten Years; Youth Is Imprisoned.

Frances Washington, alias Frances Johnson, alias Marie DeVaughn, alleged narcotic peddler, was sentenced to serve ten years in prison by Justice Stafford in criminal court yesterday on a charge of violating the antinarcotic laws.

William M. Bowman, one of a group of three youths who were indicted on several charges of housebreaking after numerous alleged raids on homes and business establishments in this city, was sentenced to serve six years in prison. One of Bowman's companions was recently declared to be of unsound mind and the other has not yet been tried.

Robert Smith, alleged to have mistreated a young girl, was sentenced to serve five years in prison. Raymond Downs was sent to jail for one year on a charge of grand larceny. He is alleged to have stolen $90 on March 16, 1924, from Anna M. Alcorn, 533 Sixth street southeast.

Janitor Found Dead In Cellar by Woman

Willis Washington, 70 years old, colored janitor of the Sixth Presbyterian church, Sixteenth and Kennedy streets northwest, was found dead Friday night in the furnace room of the church by Mrs. J. B. Handy, of 758 Rock Creek Church road northwest, who wanted to give him some ice cream after a church supper.

Washington had been fulfilling his duties as a church janitor for more than 50 years. He had served the Sixth Presbyterian church for fifteen years. Prior to that he was janitor of the Fifth Baptist church. He lived at 216 L street northwest.

BOULEVARDING PLAN EXPECTED TO HELP CONDUIT ROAD AREA

Residents of Community See Aid in Realizing Park Development Plan.

DEMAND FOR PROPERTY STIMULATED, IS REPORT

Three Roads Will Be Widened; Park to Be Made on River Land.

The system of boulevarding in the vicinity of Conduit road placed in the highway plan of the District recently by the commissioners, is expected by residents of the community to accelerate greatly the growth of the section, and to aid in the realization of a park plan which is the chief objective in the local development program.

R. E. Adams, president of the Conduit Road Citizens association, declared yesterday that the decision to widen three roads in the community to a width of 120 feet has already had its influence on the prospects for development. The demand for property in the section has been greatly stimulated, he said.

Roads to Be Widened.

The boulevarding scheme is the widening of Foxall road to Ridge road, Ridge road to Nebraska avenue, Chain Bridge road, making it 90 feet wide. Nebraska avenue, it is said, is to be made 120 feet wide, according to original plans. Present plans, however, will terminate Nabraska avenue, at Chain Bridge road, and merge it with the road.

Chain Bridge road will enter Conduit road in a "Y" formation, creating a triangle in which will be situated St. David's Episcopal church. The road beds will be changed at various places to conform as far as possible with the contour of the land.

The scheme will harmonize with the widening of Conduit road provided for in a bill which has recently passed the Senate and is expected to pass the House. The bill calls for the transfer of the road from the War Department to the District government.

Besides making the river section more accessible to motorists, Mr. Adams said that the plan will greatly influence the development of the community in the manner desired by its citizens.

One of the chief objectives of residents is to make the entire Conduit road community a "park" which will not reject homes, but will blend the homes with the unsurpassed river scenery. With that view the entire section has recently been zoned "A" restricted, even at some sacrifice by property owners.

Related to this is a plan to create a park which will surpass Potomac park on reclaimed land along the river. This park, according to plans, will be connected with Potomac park by the canal.

The boulevarding plan, Mr. Adams declared, is one step further in the direction of this comprehensive program.

200 ATTEND PARTY.

Notre Dame Alumni Gives Card Benefit for Gymnasium.

More than 200 women attended the card party given yesterday at Rauscher's by the Washington branch of the Notre Dame college, Baltimore.

Mrs. Jerome A. Lee, the regent of the local chapter, was chairman of the committee on arrangements. Miss Mary Johnson had charge of publicity and Miss Adele V. Smith was chairman of the prize committee.

The Mayflower

A strictly handmade pump fashioned by the Stetson Shoe shop, emphasizing the graceful beauty of the high arch and instep. In all patent leather, or black satin with moire or patent and suede combined. The spike heel lends an aristocratic slimness of line.

$15.50

In imported pearl gray kid.....$16.50
In imported white kid..... 17.50

STETSON SHOE SHOP
1305 F Street
Under Raleigh Haberdasher Management

OUR BRIDGE WORK

Triple Patent Suction Guaranteed

$10.00 $15.00 $20.00 $10.00

Handmade Plates our specialty. Other plates in gold, aluminum, silver and all-porcelain.

—in supplying missing teeth is unexcelled and cannot be detected from the natural teeth. No unsightly protuberances to mar the facial contour to interfere with proper mastication of food.

By Dr. Freiot and Staff of Expert Careful Dentists

GOLD CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK, PER TOOTH, $8 and $8. GUARANTEED.

Twenty-five years of good honest dentistry is our record. Thousands of satisfied patients in Washington and surrounding cities and towns is positive proof of our reliability and for dentistry that is natural looking, lasting and is guaranteed.

Maids In Attendance

DR. FREIOT

Terms of Payment May Be Arranged

407--Seventh St N. W.--407

ENTRANCE NEXT TO KAY'S JEWELRY STORE

Four large reception rooms, eight operating, extracting and impression rooms. The entire second floor of two entire buildings given over to operative and mechanical dentistry. Everything pertaining to the comfort of our patients you will find here.

Cleanliness Is One of Our Many Striking Features

Very Special Attention to Nervous People

No Charge for Extracting When Other Work Is Being Done

Hours: 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. Sundays: 10 A. M. to 1 P. M.

Look for the Name DR. FREIOT and Address

Be Sure You Get Into the Right Office Phone Main 10

Large Milans $5

THE LARGE HAT TOPS THE MODE FOR SUMMER. IT IS DOUBLY SMART IN MILAN. MAYER BROS. & CO. ARE FIRST WITH A LARGE VARIETY OF LARGE MILANS AT A MOST MODERATE PRICE. IN THE SIMPLE STYLES THAT HAVE SET THE VOGUE. EXCEPTIONALLY FINE QUALITY MILAN IN BLACK, NAVY AND COLORS.

Mayer Bros. & Co.
937-939 F St. N.W.

Better Apparel at a Lower Price

Mayer Bros. & Co.

Shop of Quality 937-939 F St. N.W.

May Sale of Beautiful SUMMER FROCKS

Most Extraordinary Values. Choice.. $25

THE smartest advance Summer fashions for women and misses in graceful flares and new slenderizing straightline effects. Made of sheer georgettes, crisp taffetas, soft crepe de chines and georgette and taffeta combinations. All the new Summer shades in all sizes.

Another Special Purchase of New SUMMER FROCKS

—has been added to our wonderful

$14.50 Sale

All the new shades in sizes 14 to 20 and 36 to 50.

PAROLE MILL CLEW SEEN IN NOTES ON SLAIN JAIL DEPUTY

Investigators Get Letters and Paper Promising Convicts' Support.

ANOTHER GANG KILLING REVEALED NEAR CHICAGO

Scarface Caponi's Brother Is Taken—Pardon Board's Head to Be Heard.

Chicago, May 8 (By The Associated Press)—The investigation of crime conditions in Chicago, following the slaying of an assistant State's attorney and of conditions at the Statesville penitentiary near Joliet, where seven prisoners escaped this week, converged tonight on the "parole mill," through which, it has been charged, scores of prisoners obtained their freedom.

The separate investigations followed similar lines with the finding of letters discussing obtaining paroles for prisoners among the effects of Peter N. Klein, deputy warden of Stateville prison who was slain by the seven escaping convicts who also wounded another guard and two trusties and kidnaped a guard and trusty.

Earlier in the week Oscar Carlstrom, attorney general, directing the investigation of the special crime grand jury here, had charged that a wholesale "parole mill" to obtain the release of Chicago gangsters was in operation and he questioned Maj. M. A. Messlein, official of an engineering company and welfare worker among the paroled convicts, regarding its operation, of which Messlein denied knowledge.

Letters To Go To Jury.

The letters found among Klein's effects including a petition pledging the support of the convict body to Klein probably will be presented to the Will county grand jury investigating the prison next week, Hjalmar Rehn, State's attorney at Joliet indicated tonight. The letters dealing with the obtaining of paroles were signed by first names only but it was indicated that the writers are known.

The capture of Charles Schader, the fifth of the seven escaped convicts, was effected at Lasalle, Ill., today. He was found in the railroad yards. James Price and Charles Duschowski are still at large.

The grand jury investigating the prison break and the Cook county special crime grand jury and the coroner's jury investigating crime conditions following the slaying nearly two weeks ago of William McSwiggin, 26-year old "hanging prosecutor," and two companions, all were idle today. The Cook county grand jury has already returned more than a dozen indictments, mostly for liquor-law violations.

Among the letters found in Klein's effects was one referring to a man called "Meslien," who, the writer said, was in the business with "W. Colvin." There was no indication, however, that the writer referred to Maj. Messlein, despite the similarity in the names.

Harry Ash, assistant attorney general, working in connection with the Cook county grand jury investigation, said he had found Messlein had paid for many notices of applications for parole appearing in a bulletin devoted to legal matters, and that he had also found that stock in the Major Engineering corporation, Messlein's company, which was purchased by friends and relatives of paroled men, was stock owned by Messlein.

Among the notices for which Ash said Messlein paid was one for the parole of James "Fur" Sammons, who had been sought for questioning in the McSwiggin killing.

Another Gang Murder.

Another apparent gang-killing was added to the list of nearly 100 today with the finding of the body of Victor de Frank, 27, shot through the back and slumped over the wheel of his automobile in Steger, Ill. Authorities are hunting for his wife, from whom he had been estranged.

Among witnesses the Will county grand jury is expected to hear next week are Warden John L. Whiteman, Will Colvin, head of the State board of pardons and paroles, and Judge C. H. Jenkins, head of the State welfare department. The Cook county coroner's office today corrected a statement that there had been turned over to Attorney General Carlstrom a list of 30 gangs murder cases in which Robert E. Crowe, Cook county State's attorney, had failed to act. Mr. Crowe today sued one newspaper for $50,000 damages after it had published the correction that no such statement was made by the coronor and that the fact was that the State's attorney sent for the coroner's record, to be used before the special crime grand jury.

John Caponi, 22, a brother of "Scarface Al" Caponi, Cicero gangster chief, was arrested today by police who surrounded his home. Since the triple assassination of Assistant State's Attorney William McSwiggen and two others, the authorities have sought "Scarface Al." He vanished from Cicero about the time of the machine gun assassination.

Hilo Aviation Field Plan Investigated

Acting on the suggestion of Dr. Milton Rice, vice president of the Hilo, Hawaii, chamber of commerce, Maj. Gen. Harry Taylor, chief of engineers, has directed the district engineer office at Honolulu to investigate a plan proposed for construction of an airplane landing field at Hilo by deposit of fill from harbor dredging.

If the cost of disposing of the material in the site proposed for the field is greater than the appropriation for dredging, the chief of engineers has suggested that this might be overcome by local interests.

Pension Approval Pleases V. F. W. Post

Formal expression of appreciation of the National Capital Post 127, V. F. W., has been expressed to members of the House and Senate for the support given the Spanish-American war increased pension bill.

Detailed arrangements have been made for immediate care to war veterans taken suddenly ill and who

EXPOSITION TO OPEN ON SCHEDULE, MAY 31

Philadelphia, May 8 (By A. P.). With definite assurance that at least four of the larger buildings will be completed on that date, sesquicentennial officials will open the international exposition commemorating 150 years of American independence on May 31 with military reviews, addresses and dancing in the streets.

The site of the exposition flanks either side of Broad street for about 1½ miles south to the Philadelphia naval yard. Including the navy yard, the exposition will cover about 2,000 acres.

The great twin buildings, the Palace of Liberal Arts and Manufactures and the Palace of Agriculture and Food Products, covering jointly an expanse of about 16 acres, are almost completed. The other buildings which will be completed for the opening are the Auditorium, designed to accommodate 10,000 persons and where some 200 conventions will be held in the six months of the celebration, and the Forum of the Founders, with memorial shafts to each of the more than 50 signers of the Declaration of Independence.

PARENT-TEACHER BODY NAMES WORK LEADERS

Miss Florence Ward and Miss Grace Frysinger, of Capital, Get Posts.

CONVENTION ADJOURNED

Atlanta, Ga., May 8 (By A. P.). The next meeting of the National Parent-Teachers Association will be held in California, it was decided here today at the closing session of the 1926 convention. Whether the meeting place will be Sacramento, San Francisco or Oakland will be decided by the State association.

Appointments of committee heads were made today by the board of managers. They included Dr. Walter J. Bittner, of Indiana university, Bloomington, Ind., as head of the bureau of educational extension; Mrs. George B. Chandler, of Rocky Hill, Conn., chairman of the social standards committee; Dr. Charles J. Smith, Salem, Va., spiritual training; Mrs. Fred Wessels, Savannah, committee to assist the negro association.

A budget committee, composed of Mrs. H. M. Rowell, Berkeley, Calif.; Mrs. B. I. Elliott, Portland, Oreg., and Mrs. Hugh Bradford, Sacramento, Calif., was formed.

Miss Florence Ward, of Washington, D. C., was appointed head of the bureau of rural life, and Mrs. J. G. Riff, of Cleveland, Ohio, was placed in charge of the committee on congress publications.

Mrs. Rex Dodge, of Portland, Maine, was named to supervise parent-teacher associations in churches and Mrs. Curtis Bynum, of Asheville, N. C., was placed in charge of the committee on standards in literature.

Other appointments are: Judge Camille Kelly, Memphis, Tenn., chairman of the committee on juvenile protection; Mrs. E. W. Hale, White Haven, Tenn., illiteracy, and Miss Grace Frysinger, Washington, D. C., home economics.

The 1,000 delegates from all parts of the United States left tonight for their homes after the week's convention here.

How Do You Spell

the position you are looking for? "J-o-b" or "O-p-p-o-r-t-u-n-i-t-y" If it's opportunity, you will use The Post's Situations Wanted columns

New Service Formed In Veterans' Bureau

Establishment of a new service in the U. S. veterans' bureau to be known as the adjudication service is announced by Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, director of the bureau. The service has been formed by consolidating the claims and insurance service with the central board of appeals, committee recoveries, and the rehabilitation division formerly operating as separate units directly under the director's office. The new organization will be effective June 1, 1926. It is anticipated the consolidation will mean an ultimate reduction of personnel.

UNITED STATES STORAGE Co.
FIRE-PROOF WAREHOUSE
STORAGE-MOVING-CRATING
418-20 10th N. W. Main 4229 Frk. 2428

HODGES BOOK-BINDERY

Have your valuable books and favorite magazines bound by high-grade craftsmen.

We specialize in Binding rare books, Paper Ruling, Numbering and Perforating.

Special department for repairing and mounting maps.

Phone Main 5435 or 1898.

1011 E St. N.W.
Hodges Building.

D. J. Kaufman Inc.
1005 Pa. Ave. 1724 Pa. Ave.

Getting Busier Every Minute

May Starts Off Like a Whirlwind

1800
FINE SPRING

2-Pants Suits

Merchandise Priced From $35 to $60

in three great reduction lots

$27

$37

$47

Every Suit with 2 Pairs of Pants
No Alteration Charge—Deposit Accepted

Summer's just around the corner—to make room for our great stock of hot weather clothes—you get the pick of our stock of Fancy Spring 2-Pants Suits at July prices in May.

"Radio Joe"

Money's Worth or Money Back

D. J. Kaufman
INC.
1005 PA. AVE. 1724 PA. AVE.

Quality

that you can see and feel in this Unit-Built Studebaker Coach at a One-Profit Price

Studebaker Standard Six Coach

$1195 f. o. b. factory

Under Studebaker's fair and liberal Budget Payment Plan, this Coach may be purchased out of income at time-payment rates as low as any known to the motor world.

IN the quality Coach, illustrated, One-Profit savings enable Studebaker to offer you at $1195, important features in equipment and construction not excelled by cars costing double its price. In comparing Coach values, consider these Studebaker features:

Abundant power—no other car in the world of its size and weight can show horsepower rating equal to that of the Studebaker Standard Six Coach. Twenty-eight makes of 5-passenger enclosed models, costing from $100 to $1990 more than the Standard Six Coach, have less rated horsepower.

Notice the high quality upholstery, compare the depth of Studebaker cushions and seat backs with other cars costing much more. Inspect the interior workmanship. There are no cloth-head upholstery tacks, raw edges or cheap binding braid in Studebaker interiors.

Finer body construction —first grade northern white ash and hard maple are used in the body construction. Body joints are mortised, tenoned, glued or screwed. Door posts are completely metal covered. Doors fit flush and tight; they open and close easily with the click of precision.

Costly alloy steels —we pay a premium to secure steel of extra quality. A bar of Studebaker alloy steel the diameter of a dime will stand greater strain than a bar of ordinary steel the diameter of a dollar. This insures greater dependability with longer life and lower upkeep cost. In 1925, factory sales of repair parts for all Studebaker cars averaged only $10 per car in operation.

Completely machined crankshaft —a feature usually found only in the highest priced cars. It costs Studebaker $600,000 a year to perform the extra machining. But it reduces engine vibration to a minimum, and thereby produces notable smoothness of engine operation.

Compare Studebaker fenders —the weight of the steel used, the width and depth of the crown and skirt and the 14 bolt fastenings. The rigid strength of the mountings are unsurpassed.

The pressed-steel instrument board is backed by wood so it won't rattle or vibrate. Put your fingers behind the instrument board of most any car in the Studebaker price class and you will find that there is no wood—merely a sheet of pressed steel.

Plate glass of the highest grade is used in the windows. It is mounted in live rubber, preventing leaks, drafts, rattles and vibration.

Spark control is automatically regulated by the speed of the engine. The spark lever is thus made obsolete and is replaced by a safety lighting switch on the steering wheel.

There is a master lock which locks the ignition and steering control in one operation. The key locks the door and spare-tire carrier.

Water-proof ignition —the wiring to the engine is doubly insulated in fiber conduit—and rubber shields cover each spark plug, the distributor head and the coil.

The Studebaker engine is mounted in a subframe. This prevents twisting or torsional strain on rough and uneven roads and eliminates bearing strain. It protects the engine in case of sideswipe or collision.

The oil drain valve on a Studebaker is conveniently placed under the hood. Oil can be drained without getting under the car.

Complete equipment includes gasoline gauge on dash, automatic windshield cleaner, rear-view mirror, foot-operated cowl ventilator, combination stop-and-tail light and dome light.

To appreciate this fine car you must drive it. Experience the thrilling power in the Standard Six Engine. Compare its riding-steering-driving ease with any car. Any of the Studebaker dealers listed below will gladly supply you with a Standard Six Coach that you may drive yourself.

By One-Profit manufacture of all bodies, engines, etc., Studebaker is able to sell the Standard Six Coach for $1195—the lowest price ever placed on an enclosed car by Studebaker

STUDEBAKER builds all its own bodies, all engines, all clutches, gear sets, springs, differentials, steering gears, brakes, axles, gray-iron castings and drop forgings. Only Studebaker in the fine-car field enjoys such complete manufacturing facilities.

One-Profit value

These facilities enable Studebaker to manufacture quality cars on a One-Profit basis—eliminating outside profits. The savings thus effected are passed on to Studebaker owners in the form of higher quality and lower prices.

Unit-Built construction

Studebaker facilities result, too, in cars designed, engineered and built as units. The hundreds of parts in a Studebaker function as a smooth-working unit, resulting in scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation, greater riding comfort and higher resale value.

Always kept up-to-date

Direct manufacturing control enables Studebaker to keep cars constantly up-to-date. We add improvements regardless of the calendar—we do not save them up for spectacular annual announcements which make cars artificially obsolete.

For a complete illustrated story of One-Profit manufacture and for a beautiful colored catalog of Standard Six Studebakers drop a postal or a letter to The Studebaker Corporation of America, South Bend, Ind. Ask for Combination E-227.

JOSEPH McREYNOLDS, 14th Street at "R" N. W.
Telephone Potomac 1631

Studebaker's Great Dealer Organization — Authorized service at 3000 points throughout the United States

MARYLAND (West)
ANNAPOLIS—State Garage
BALTIMORE—The United Auto Sales Co.
CARDIFF—Cardiff Motor Sales Co.
CATONSVILLE—Caton Motor Corp.
CUMBERLAND—Fleigh Motor & Tire Co.
FREDERICK—Frederick City Garage
FROSTBURG—Central Garage
HAGERSTOWN—Fleigh Motor & Tire Co.
HANCOCK—Central Garage
HAVRE DE GRACE—Pitcock Bros.
OAKLAND—Independent Garage
PARKTON—J. M. Heshall & Son
PATAPSCO NECK—Thomas J. Casey
ROCKVILLE—F. H. Cashell
SMITHSBURG—The Auto Paint Co., Inc.
WESTMINSTER—Charles W. Klee

NORTH CAROLINA (Northeast)
ELIZABETH CITY—Lane Motor Co.

VIRGINIA (East)
ALEXANDRIA—Boyd-Carlin Motor Co.
BEDFORD—Auto Service & Elec. Corp.
BLACKSBURG—Argabrite Bros.
CHARLOTTESVILLE—Carpenter Mtr. Co.
COVINGTON—Neoli Motor Sales Co. Inc.
CREWE—Crewe Motor Co.
FREDERICKSBURG—Jones Motor Co.
FRONT ROYAL—Royal Sales Co.
HAMPTON—Newport News Mtr. Car Co.
HARRISONBURG—E. B. Bodes
KILMARNOCK—Frantt Motor Co.
LEXINGTON—W. S. McCown
LYNCHBURG—J. I. Alexander Mtr. Co., Inc.
MADISON—Carpenter Motor Co.
NEWPORT NEWS—Newport News Motor Car Co., Inc.
NORFOLK—Coburn Motor Car Co., Inc.
ONLEY—Onley Garage
PETERSBURG—Bryant Motor Corp.
PULASKI—Service Gar. & Motor Co., Inc.
PURCELLVILLE—Little Motor Sales Co.
QUANTICO—Faris Auto Service Co.
RICHMOND—Hazelhurst Motor Co., Inc.
ROANOKE—Jarrett-Chewning Co.
STAUNTON—Deffenbaugh Motor Co.
SUFFOLK—Nansemond Motor Corp.
WINCHESTER—Winchester Auto Sales
WYTHEVILLE—Crowgey Motor Co.

WEST VIRGINIA (West)
CHARLES TOWN—R. C. Smithson & Co.
MARTINSBURG—Valley Motor Co.
PETERSBURG—E. G. Kessel
ROMNEY—New Century Garage

TEAR GAS DELUGES SENATORS VISITING EDGEWOOD ARSENAL

Vapor Turned on Party as Demonstration of Its Effectiveness in War.

CHEMISTS AND MILITARY OFFICERS INSPECT PLANT

Troops Lay Smoke Screen With Airplane and Guns in Realistic Exhibitions.

Members of Congress, high military officers and chemists of national repute, were gassed at Edgewood, Md., recently. To show them the effectiveness and harmlessness of tear gas, soldiers of the chemical warfare service let them have a dose of this riot-quelling vapor while they were making an inspection of the corps station at Edgewood, on the occasion of a meeting of the advisory committee of the American Chemical society.

Without warning, the entire party found itself deluged with a concentration of gas which soon had the visitors in tears. This added to the interest of the "show" and demonstrated the value and humaneness of tear gas or "chlorocetophone" in subduing an enemy not prepared with masks.

Smoke Screen Demonstrated.

Many picturesque and pyrotechnic exhibitions were given. Visitors were shown how to conceal the advance of troops by means of smoke screens; the latest types of gas masks, the activities of the arsenal, school, the first gas regiment and the reserve depot as well as the peace time activities and industrial contact of chemical warfare service with civil enterprises.

The most interesting of many demonstrations was that with smoke, the controlled production of smoke being very important in warfare to screen operations by hampering observations by the enemy. Smoke was produced by means of grenades, candles, Stokes mortars, artillery and airplanes, the most spectacular feature being the dropping of a smoke curtain across the landscape from an airplane releasing smoke-producing liquid with the same velocity as its flight. The liquid fell from the plane in drops like rain and reacted to the moisture of the air, forming a curtain of smoke which descended to the ground. Curtains like those shown give effective screening for either terrestrial movement or air activity.

Gas Masks Shown.

New gas masks, including those through which the wearer can talk, were shown the delegation. The mask is one of the most important items entering chemical warfare. In fact, efficient masks will be essential to insure success, it was said.

The principle of the mask, visitors were told, is the filtration and absorption of poison from air being breathed. Gased air passes through canisters, is filtered by felt or other material to remove solid particles, while gases that remain are partly absorbed by charcoal and partly by chemical filling. The United States army gas mask provides protection against all war gases, but is not designed against a number of gases in industry, and for these special masks have been made.

The visit of the chemical advisory committee to Edgewood resulted from the cooperation of the American Chemical society with the War Department in connection with national defense and the committee was in session there several days, going over various technical matters. Advantage was taken of the occasion to demonstrate to its members as well as members of Congress, the progress made in this important element of defense.

Purpose of Service Explained.

The main party went to Edgewood by special train and was first taken to the chemical warfare service school building where was explained the mission of the service under the national defense act. It provides that its chief be charged with investigation, development, manufacture and procurement for the army of all smoke and incendiary material, toxic gases and gas-defense appliances; with research, design, and experimentation connected with chemical warfare and its material; chemical projectile filling plants and proving grounds, supervision of army training in chemical warfare, offensive and defensive, including schools of instruction; organization, training, equipment and operation of special gas troops and such other duties as the President may prescribe.

The party was then divided into groups and in the morning was taken through the technical museum, the experimental machine shop, protection apparatus building, gas-mask factory, chlorine plant and various small experimental plants. Luncheon was served at the Officers' club at 12:30, and at 1:30 groups were taken out in the field where practical demonstrations were given.

Troops Demonstrate Guns.

The First gas regiment showed the use of various weapons, including the firing of a battery of ten Livens projectors, used to hurl gas projectiles. It fired 4-inch Stokes mortars against a machine gun nest and performed gas-mask drill.

The inspection party was impressed with the arsenal. This is the research and manufacturing center of the service. During peace time, research and training are its principal activities. Its research department has three divisions—chemical, mechanical and medical. Their work is coordinated by a technical director under supervision of the commanding officer. Other divisions of arsenal work are planning, production, service, proof and inspection, safety, property and executive. Authority is decentralized as much as possible and each division head is held responsible for results.

The visitors saw the chemical warfare school, one of the busiest institutions of learning in the army, where line and staff courses are provided for army, marine and national guard officers and special six-week courses are held for navy officers. A two-week course is also provided for reserve officers.

Demonstrations were conducted by the First gas regiment, an outgrowth of the Thirtieth engineers, organized as a gas and flame section early in the world war. Headquarters, headquarters company and three lettered companies are at Edgewood; Company G is stationed in Hawaii, Company C in Panama and Company F at Fort Benning, Ga. The other units are inactive. The regiment provides necessary demonstrating troops, conducts field tests and furnishes trained personnel to carry on chemical warfare instruction throughout the army.

The reserve depot was also inspected and committeemen were told of the operation of the naval unit which cooperates with the army in chemical warfare service by keeping a marine officer as instructor, a naval medical officer and one line officer on duty at Edgewood.

Peace Time Work Explained.

Guests of the gas fighters were shown that the corps has other activities besides military ones. It was explained to them how the service is in contact with the national chemical industry and how it is performing research work having to do with the protection of marine piling, destruction of the cotton boll weevil and the use of the earliest battle gas, chlorine, for the treatment of colds.

They were told how prominent business men throughout the country have accepted appointment as procurement chiefs in various districts for utilization of potential chemical industrial power in time of emergency.

The tour was conducted by Maj. Gen. Amos A. Fries, chief of the service, who, with Col. C. W. Exton, commandant of Edgewood arsenal, had supervision of the demonstration.

Council Members Present.

Members of the Chemical society advisory committee who attended were Dr. H. E. Howe, chairman, editor of the Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry, of this city; Dr. W. D. Bancroft, department of chemistry, Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y.; Dr. W. K. Lewis, department of chemical engineering, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston; Dr. C. L. Reese, E. I. duPont de Nemours Co., Wilmington, Del.; Dr. L. C. Jones, New York, and Dr. Bradley Dewey, Dewey & Almy Chemical Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Also Dr. L. T. Sutherland, Zinnser & Co., Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y.; Dr. Julius Steiglitz, department of chemistry, Chicago university; Dr. A. S. Loevenhart, medical college, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.; Dr. Reid Hunt, department of pharmacology, Harvard medical school, Boston; Dr. E. P. Kohler, department of chemistry, Harvard university, Cambridge, Mass.; Dr. W. H. Walker, consulting chemical engineer, Bridgton, Maine; Dr. F. M. Dorsey, president Metal Protection Co., East Cleveland, Ohio; Dr. A. B. Lamb, department of chemistry, Harvard university, and Dr. G. A. Richter, Brown Co., Berlin, N. H.

Among those present were Secretary of War Dwight F. Davis; Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur; Assistant Secretary of the Navy T. Douglas Robinson, and these members of Congress: Senators Thomas F. Bayard, Woodbridge N. Ferris, Henry W. Keyes, G. W. Pepper, and Joseph E. Ransdell, Representatives Stewart Appleby, Carl G. Bachmann, Harry C. Canfield, William L. Carss, Albert E. Carter, Don B. Colton, Louis C. Cramton, P. H. Drewry, John M. Evans, E. Hart Fenn, William T. Fitzgerald, Roy G. Fitzgerald, James P. Glynn, Finis J. Garrett, Clyde Kelly, Clarence F. Lea, John C. Schafer, George J. Schneider, Addison T. Smith, John B. Sosnowski, J. Zach Spearing, Elliott W. Sproul, John Taber, H. W. Temple, C. J. Thompson, William N. Vaile, Henry W. Watson, T. Webber Wilson, Hilton Butler, secretary to Representative Wilson; Richard Yates, Walter H. Newton, Bolivar E. Kemp, Harry E. Rowbottom, B. G. Lowery, and T. A. Jenkins.

Army and Navy Officers Present.

The following army officers were present: Capt. Leven C. Allen, Maj. C. R. Alley, Lieut. A. M. Andrews, Maj. Henry W. Baird, Col. Frayne Baker, Lieut. Col. W. C. Baker, Capt. Morris K. Barroll, Maj. Donald M. Deere, Lieut. Col. C. E. Brigham, Maj. John J. Burleigh, Capt. H. W. Caygill; Capt. John K. Christmas, Maj. J. B. Coulter, Lieut. Col. Edward H. DeArmond.

Capt. J. G. Drinkwater, Maj. E. O. Eastwold, Maj. Arthur W. Ford, Maj. Gen. Amos A. Fries, Maj. F. R. Carcin, Maj. Charles L. Hall, Maj. Gen. Creed C. Hammond, Capt. William J. Henry, Col. I. C. Jenks, Capt. Thomas M. Jervey, Maj. W. A. Johnson, Lieut. Col. Frederick G. Kellond, Lieut. Col. Guy Kent, Col. Harry E. Knight.

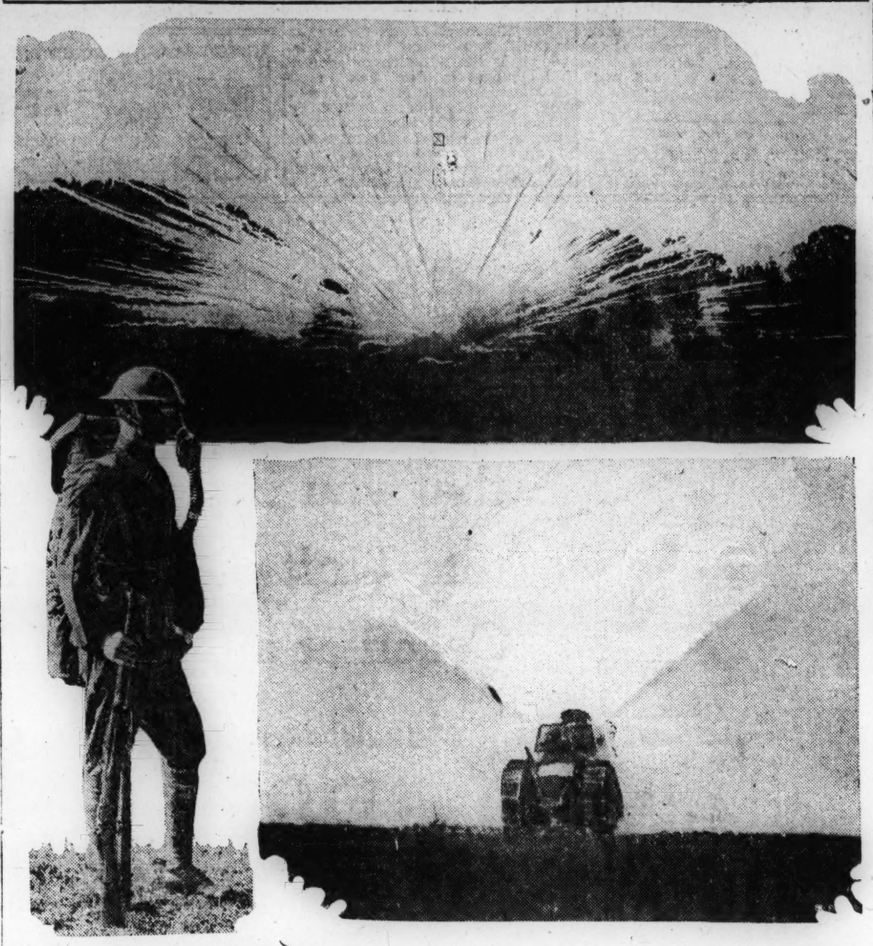

Maj. T. B. Larkin, Lieut. David Larr, Maj. Franc Lecocq, Lieut. Lawrence C. Leonard, Maj. James W. Lyon, Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Capt. Edward E. MacMorland, Lieut. Col. N. E. Margetts, Maj. Raymond Marsh, Lieut. J. M. McMillin, Lieut. Col. H. S. Miller, Lieut. Col. William H. Noble, Col. Brice Palmer, Maj. Richard Park, Capt. Paul E. Peabody.

Maj. Ralph McT. Pennell, Maj. William N. Porter, Capt. William V. Randall, Col. James H. Reeves, Maj. Charles T. Richardson, Capt. H. D. W. Riley, Capt. Gerald B. Robison, Maj. A. L. Rockwood, Lieut. Hugh W. Rowan, Capt. S. L. Scott, Capt. R. A. Sharrer, Maj. William J. Snow, Lieut. Col. Charles A. Thuis, Lieut. Col. George P. Tyner, Capt. George F. Unmacht.

Maj. E. C. Wallington, Maj. R. T. Ward, Brig. Gen. B. H. Wells, Lieut. Col. Charles M. Wesson, Maj. Gen. C. C. Williams, Maj. M. B. Willett, Maj. Erle M. Wilson, Maj. L. F. I. Zerbee, Capt. H. T. Herrick, Lieut. M. J. Goss, Lieut. Col. Leroy F. Smith, Col. J. K. Parsons, Lieut. Col. Tom C. Davis, Lieut. Col. A. F. Cosby, Maj. John Thomas Taylor, Capt. N. T. Cluverius, Capt. H. R. Stanford, Lieut. Col. Richard Wethgrill, Lieut. Col. William Overton.

The following navy officers were present: Admiral J. D. Beuret, Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, Capt. J. P. Lannon, Capt. V. A. Kimberly, Capt. W. S. DuBose, Capt. E. S. Land, Col. J. C. Beaumont, Lieut. Col. J. J. Meade, Lieut. Col. D. C. McDougal, Commander N. H. White, Commander E. M. Pace, Commander A. W. Atkins, Commander K. Whiting, Lieut. Comdr. O. M. Hustvedt, Lieut. Comdr. C. E. Reordan, Lieut. Comdr. L. Sheldon, jr., Lieut. Comdr. R. R. Pannack, Lieut. Comdr. A. C. Davis, Lieut. Comdr. D. Royce, Lieut. L. W. Curtin, Lieut. T. P. Jeter, Lieut. B. J. Connell, Lieut. M. F. Sheehan, Lieut. F. H. Conant, Prof. N. E. Woldman, of Naval Academy; Admiral John Halligan, jr., Lieut. Comdr. E. L. Woodside, Lieut. Talbot Smith, Lieut. J. A. Snackenberg.

GAS WARFARE AND SAFEGUARD DEMONSTRATED

Scenes at the chemical warfare service demonstration at Edgewood, Md. Above—The bursting of a white phosphorous bomb, a barrage of which will conceal an advance. Lower left—Soldier wearing new type of gas mask adjustable to face and helmet. Right—Advancing tank camouflaged by smoke screen.

NOTED JEWISH POET WILL CLOSE $50,000 HEBREW FUND DRIVE

Famous Visitor Will Be Received by Capital Societies on Arrival.

RABBI STEPHEN S. WISE TO ATTEND FINAL DINNER

Educational Film Showing Development in Palestine to Be Shown.

The closing days of the united Palestine appeal, tomorrow brings to Washington Chaim Nachman Bialik, the Hebrew national poet, and recognized as the outstanding literary figure of the Jewish renaissance.

Representatives of nearly every Jewish society and order in the Capital will aid in the reception of Israel's greatest poet. District Zionists, Hadassah, Mizrachi and other affiliated groups will be present at Union station in the morning to meet the guest.

At noon the poet will be taken to the White House to meet President Coolidge. The next few days will be taken up with a round of receptions in his honor.

Coming to this country in February, at the request of leaders in the national $5,000,000 united Palestine appeal, Bialik has spoken in many large cities during the last few months. His visit here is regarded as the highlight of his first trip to this country.

Bialek Week Held.

Everywhere throughout the country, Hebrew schools have celebrated Bialik week, and held special exercises in his honor. His visit, educators believe, will have a lasting effect on Jewish education in this country.

Dr. Stephen S. Wise, the other guest of the banquet Thursday night which will close the local campaign, will receive a medal tomorrow night in New York as the one who has done most for American Jewry during the last year. Dr. Wise is chairman of the national $5,000,000 Palestine appeal, of which more than $4,500,000 has been raised.

Leaders in the local campaign for $50,000 predict that the goal will be achieved by Thursday, though less that half of the sum has been raised. Tomorrow at a luncheon a report of drive teams, the first in five days, is expected to materially swell the total of $20,700 last reported.

Teams in Race.

The following teams are leading in the race for the largest amounts collected: Mizrachi, Poale Zion, John M. Safer, Mrs. Charles Pilzer, and Mrs. Edward Cooper and Mrs. J. L. Wolpe.

Tomorrow night at the Jewish center an educational film showing recent industrial, agricultural and educational growth inthe Holy Land will be on public view. First moving pictures of the Hebrew university on Mount Scopus are included.

Isidore Hershfield, chairman of the local campaign, Louis E. Spiegler, head of the men's division and the administrative committee of the campaign, are on a special committee which will receive the visitors.

Street Car Hits Auto.

Mrs. Frank Stormer, 57 years old, 2100 Good Hope road southeast, suffered a dislocated shoulder and cuts and bruises on the body yesterday when a one-man W., R. & E. Co. street car struck the automobile driven by Frank Stormer, of the same address, at Seventh and G streets southeast. Mrs. Stormer was treated at the home of Dr. J. D. Dull, 643 G street southeast. The street car was operated by Motorman Frank E. Marion.

DUMPING FACILITIES PROBLEM DISCUSSED

New Site for Disposal of Refuse Must Be Found, Officials Say.

Maj. W. E. R. Covell, assistant to the engineer commissioner, and Morris Hacker, supervisor of disposal of city refuse, conferred yesterday with a view to solving the District's problem of where to dump ashes and street sweepings.

Present dump facilities will be exhausted in 1928. There is a bill pending before Congress to provide for a dump at Occoquan, but District authorities desire to lessen the cost of transportation of refuse by finding a place nearer Washington.

At the maximum period Supervisor Hacker's department disposes of 1,500 cubic yards of ashes and street sweepings daily. About one-third of this quantity is used in street work, leaving 1,000 cubic yards a day to be otherwise disposed of. It is the present hope of Maj. Covell and Mr. Hacker that land for dumps may be acquired nearby in Maryland or Virginia.

Don't Forget

that The Post's Classified Ad Pages open to you the resources of a whole city and its environs for the filling of your wants.

ALCOHOL DIVERSION FIGURES CHALLENGED

15,000,000, Not 60,000,000 Gallons Went to Bootleg Trade, Is Assertion.

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—Estimates of the amount of industrial alcohol diverted into the bootleg trade last year presented to the congressional committee investigating prohibition were four times too large, according to J. M. Doran, head of the industrial alcohol and chemical division of the prohibition department.

Instead of 60,000,000 gallons of industrial alcohol being diverted as the committee was told, less than 15,000,000 gallons actually passed into illegal channels, Doran informed Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews in a report made public today by the American Chemical society.

Part of the alleged error of placing the diversion at 60,000,000 gallons, Doran asserted, was due to the fact that the consumption total of 1921 when 22,000,000 gallons were used, was deducted from the figure for 1925, when 87,000,000 gallons were used. The principal error, Doran said, was due to the assumption that 1921 was a normal year, although there was extreme depression in all industries.

War Secretary Aids Appeal of Mother

Secretary of War Davis has tried to make happy the mother of a soldier who has not heard from her soldier son for years.

Receiving a letter from the mother stating that she had read of the "Mother's day" order to the army and that she had a son in the service from whom she has not heard for years, Secretary Davis did not allow this letter to be acted on through military channels, but has written a personal letter to the soldier urging him to write his mother Mother's day.

$260,000 Bequeathed In Selfridge Will

Emma G. W. Selfridge, who died April 15, left an estate valued at more than $260,000 according to the petition for letters testamentary filed yesterday in probate court by Samuel W. Bates and Robert H. Gardiner, executors. The testatrix was survived by her sisters Katherine R. Wildes and Anna H. Bates and a brother Frank Wildes, all of Boston, Mass.

Faga Record Read.

Yesterday's session of the court-martial of Lieut. William H. Faga, marine, at the navy yard, was taken up with reading his military history into the records and with testimony of brother officers as to his good character.

Bishop Will Head School Association

Arthur Bishop has been elected president of the Home and School Association of Eastern High school, it was announced yesterday. Other officers are Mrs. M. V. Whitney, vice president; Miss M. J. Watts, vice president; Mrs. H. E. Wilson, secretary, and Fred S. Robinett, treasurer.

The annual field meet of the Junior High schools will take place in the Eastern High school stadium on May 22. The Rice medal match held on April 30 was won by Lewis Hayes, captain of the Eastern team.

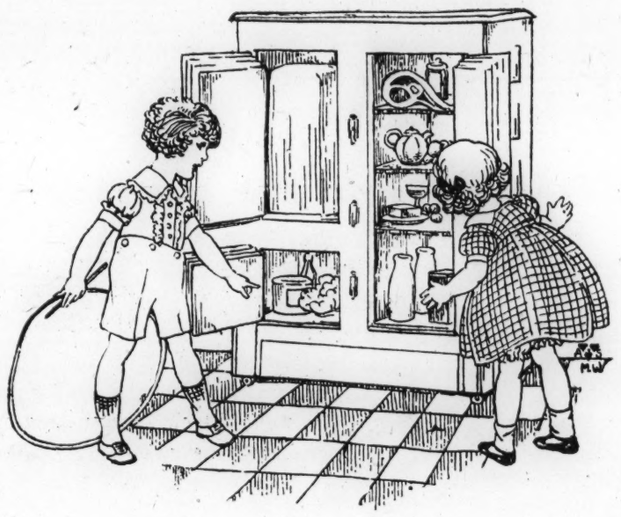

Dr. Landon to Lecture.

An illustrated lecture on "Symbolism of the Fellowcraft Degree" will be given by Dr. Worth Landon tomorrow night at the meeting of the Washington Centennial Masonic Study club. Past Master Ernest Tate, Dr. William Watson Ayers and Thomas C. Barr will also speak.

MT. VERNON STEAMER
Charles Macalester
Leaves 7th St. Wharf Daily,
10 A. M. and 2:30 P. M.
Round Trip, 85c
Admission, 25c
Cafe and Lunch Counter On Steamer.
Mt. Vernon not open on Sundays.

At Hyattsville Hills
The Ideal Place to Live
ONE LOOK MEANS A LOT
Lots $5 down $3 monthly
O. B. ZANTZINGER

LIFE TIME FURNITURE

Leonard Cleanable, equipped to accommodate electric ice-making machine, 75-lb. capacity, one-piece porcelain lined. $69.75

You Can Use The Leonard for Either Ice or Electricity

AN outstanding feature of all practical sizes of the 1926 Leonard Cleanable Refrigerators is that they are equipped to accommodate an electric ice-making machine.

One-piece porcelain lined Leonard Cleanable, 50 lbs. $58

Leonard Cleanable, equipped to accommodate electric ice-making machine ... $75

All white porcelain Leonard Cleanable, equipped for electric refrigeration ... $108

Leonard Polar King, 75-pound capacity, one-piece porcelain lined $39.75

Small apartment size Leonard top icer, white enamel lined $13.50

White enamel lined Leonard front icer, 40-lb. capacity $23.25

Electric Ice-Making Machine Can Be Installed Any Time

In all sizes, so equipped for electric refrigeration, the electric unit can be purchased and installed at once or at some later time.

The Leonard Cleanable Is Very Efficient With Ice

In these same Leonard Cleanables you can use ice just as has been done in previous years and get the same satisfactory service as heretofore.

All Styles of Leonard Refrigerators Are Now on Display Here Priced from $13.50 to $315

Lifetime Furniture Is More Than a Name

MAYER & CO.

Seventh Street Between D & E

LIFE TIME FURNITURE

GOVERNMENT RADIO BUREAU ESSENTIAL, SAYS SENATE BODY

Independent Commission Is Urged in Report Filed on Control Bill.

COMPLETE JURISDICTION WOULD BE DELEGATED

Senate Told High Order of Discretion Necessary in Administering Industry.

(By the Associated Press.)

Establishment of an independent government commission to have complete jurisdiction over radio communication is highly essential, says a report on the radio control bill filed with the Senate yesterday by Senator Dill (Democrat), Washington, in behalf of the interstate commerce committee.

Although President Coolidge has warned Congress against creating additional Federal commissions or bureaus, the report declares an independent agency in this case is necessary because there must be the exercise "of a high order of discretion and the most careful application of the principle of equitable treatment to all classes and interests affected."

The commission would have authority to issue licenses for interstate transmission of energy, communications, or signals by radio when public convenience, interest or necessity would be served thereby.

Other Powers Proposed.

It would be given complete authority to classify stations and operators, prescribe the nature of service to be rendered, assign wave lengths and frequencies and the time during which stations might operate, determine the locations of stations, regulate the purity and sharpness of emissions and the apparatus used, establish areas to be served by any station, make inspections of stations and apparatus used, make regulations consistent with law to prevent interference between stations, regulate radio stations on railroad trains, control chain broadcasting, and regulate radio stations where a charge is made to listeners.

"In times of war or national emergency," says the report, "the President is empowered to take control of all stations and the owners are to be compensated for the use of the same.

"Government stations engaged in government business are not subject to the control of the commission, but may do commercial business when not engaged in government business.

"No license shall be granted or transferred to aliens.

"Licenses are limited to two years.

"Licenses shall be required to keep a log of all radio communications for each day.

Concerning Paid Material.

"All matter broadcast for hire shall be announced as paid material and if any broadcasting station is used for hire or by political candidates or for discussing public questions, there shall be no discrimination and the licensee of each station shall be deemed a common carrier in interstate commerce and licensee shall not have the power to censor material broadcast.

"No person shall utter any false, fraudulent, libelous or slanderous communication by radio, and violation of this provision shall be punished by a fine of $1,000 or one year in jail or both.

"The bill exempts the Phillipine Islands and the Canal Zone from the control of the commission.

"The act is to take effect 90 days from the time of its approval."

Senators Breakfast At White House

(By the Associated Press.)

President Coolidge had another group of senators as his guests at breakfast yesterday, but it was said later that there was on general discussion of legislative matters.

Those present included Senator Borah, of Idaho; Fess, of Ohio; Hale, of Maine; Oddie, of Nevada; Gillett, of Massachusetts; Shortridge, of California; Dale, of Vermont; Moses, New Hampshire; Goff, West Virginia, and Williams, Mispuri, all Republicans.

RETIREMENT MEASURE ACTION IS FORESEEN

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.)

than it can afford under the new tax law. Some meritorious proposals can not be considered at all, even in modified form, and the supporters of such proposals will undoubtedly be disappointed.

"But I feel confident that the country as a whole will approve of the efforts of the House to keep expenditures within the limit of estimated income."

Based on Cost Figures.

Approval by the House leaders of the retirement bill was based on their acceptance of cost figures given by Representative Lehlbach in his favorable report on the measure. These show that the cost to the government will not be increased by the proposed amendment of the existing law. After a conference with Speaker Longworth, Mr. Tilson conferred with Senator Smoot, of Utah, on the cost figures and the likelihood of passage of the measure by the Senate.

Passage by the House by an overwhelming vote and without material opposition is predicted and supporters of the legislation in the Senate, led by Senator Stanfield, of Oregon, sponsor of an identical bill in the Senate, are confident of favorable action soon after the House measure is received.

The Lehlbach bill is to be brought up in the House a week from tomorrow under a suspension of the rules, as under present plans.

Mellon Asks Congress' Greek Loan Decision

(By the Associated Press.)

Secretary Mellon yesterday put up to Congress the question of whether the United States is to carry out its commitment to Greece for a total loan of $48,236,629, approximately $15,000,000 of which already has been advanced.

Appearing before the Senate finance committee, the Treasury Secretary explained the whole transaction, including Greece's request for the balance before beginning funding negotiations. The committee named Chairman Smoot and Senators Reed (Republican), Pennsylvania, and Jones (Democrat), New Mexico, a subcommittee to investigate and report.

AIRSHIPS DOUBLE SIZE OF LOS ANGELES ASKED

Research of Navy Technicians Said to Justify Move; Craft Called Safe.

TESTS ARE EXTENSIVE

Lakehurst, N. J., May 8 (By A. P.).—Research of five Navy Department technicians in recent flights of the dirigible Los Angeles justify the department in urging the construction of two new airships of a similar type, according to Prof. C. P. Burgess, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the bureau of aeronautics.

The proposed ships, which will have twice the volume of the Los Angeles, will be designed jointly by the bureau of aeronautics and the Goodyear Zepplin Corporation.

The tests conducted, Prof. Burgess said, showed a modern rigid airship has great strength and safety for rough weather. The experts decided that nothing short of a whirlwind or tornado could destroy such a ship.

Investigation of the stresses in the Los Angeles in the portion of the craft where the Shenandoah broke, showed that only circular motion of the air at high velocity could have caused the disaster. Such conditions, it was asserted, are very rare.

The technicians in making the tests used instruments specially developed and constructed by the national advisory committee for aeronautics and the bureau of standards at an approximate cost of $100,000.

PACIFIC COAST SCENE OF NEW LIQUOR DRIVE

Concentrated Assault on Smugglers Is Ordered by Gen. Andrews.

(By the Associated Press.)

Concentration of the prohibition, coast guard and customs services on the Pacific coast for a new war on rum smugglers was ordered yesterday by Assistant Secretary Andrews. Alf Oftedel, in charge of the intelligence unit of the internal revenue bureau at San Francisco, was placed in charge of coordination program.

A similar scheme has been in effect on the southeastern coast, and if the new plan proves feasible the prohibition chief plans to extend it to the north Atlantic and gulf coasts.

Oftedal, who was in conference here yesterday with Andrews, has been made a communication officer of the government with Canada and Mexico in matters dealing with the enforcement of the treaties between these nations. Members of his intelligence staff will carry commissions from both Secretary Andrews and Commissioner Blair, of the internal revenue bureau. He will maintain headquarters in San Francisco and branch offices in Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle.

Gen. Andrews advised Ned M. Green, prohibition administrator at San Francisco, that while there would be one centralized investigating force on the Pacific coast, the realignment would in no way relieve "present executives of their responsibility for law enforcement."

GREEK VETERANS ASK REJECTION OF PACT

Lausanne Treaty Would Place Turkey on Equal Basis, Commander Says.

A request that the United States reject the Lausanne treaty was sent yesterday to Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, by Andrew Nickas, representing 65,000 Americans of Hellenic descent, on behalf of the American Veterans of Hellenic Descent, of which organization he is national commander.

Reasons for rejection, he says, are that ratification will place Turkey on an equal basis with the other civilized nations of the world; that it will eliminate the extraterritorial rights of our citizens in Turkey and will expose them as well as the other Christian minorities to Turkish atrocities; and that the recent experiences in regard to the oil interests proved conclusively that it was a dangerous folly for Christian nations to trust the Turk.

Reminding Senator Boarah that each member of his organization was just as much an American citizen as the senator himself, Mr. Nickas advises him to read "Four Years Beneath the Crescent," by Rafael Nogales, in order to better understand the actions of the Turks.

Poindexter Confers on Tacna.

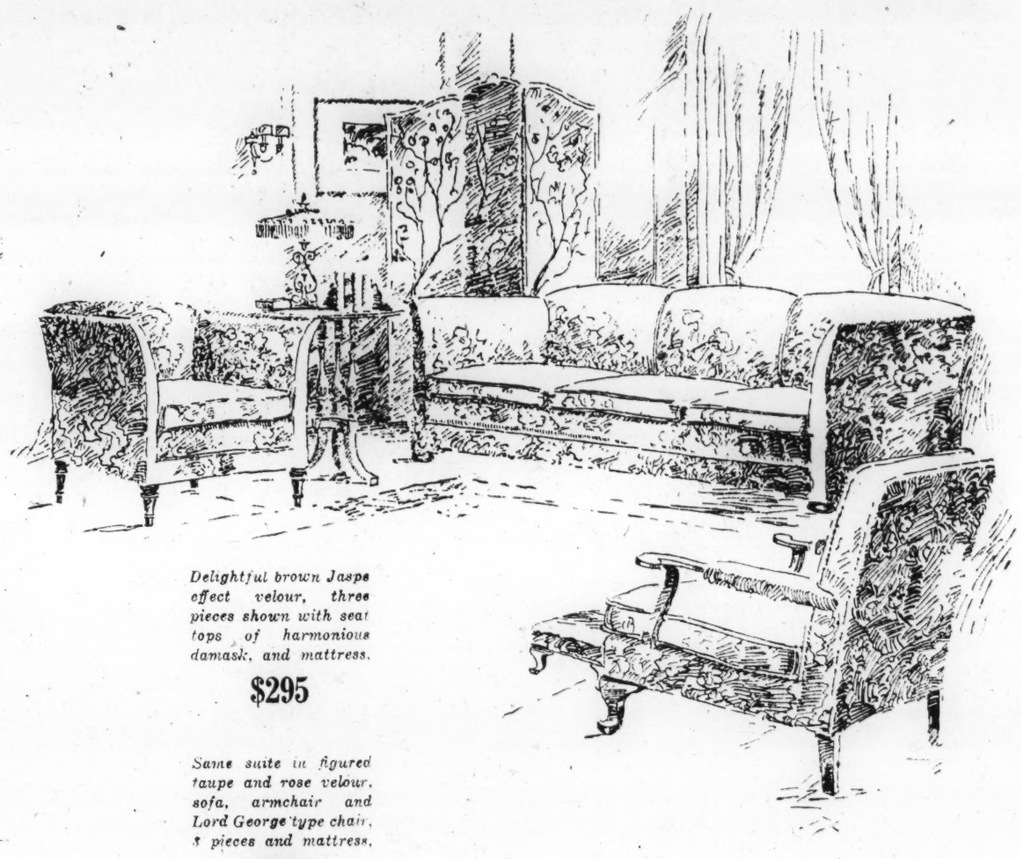

Lima, Peru, May 8 (By A. P.). The American Ambassador, Miles Poindexter, conferred with President Leguia last night and later the president received his secretary of state. Both conferences are understood to have dealt with important points connected with the diplomatic negotiations going on in Washington on the Tacna-Arica question.

LIFE TIME FURNITURE

Now Your Apartment Can Have

An Artistic Living Room That Transforms Into a Comfortable Bedroom at Night

You can now have a beautiful living room, luxurious and comfortable, that easily transforms into a bedroom at night. The modern davenport-bed really adds another room to your home.

Delightful brown Jaspe effect velour, three pieces shown with seat tops of harmonious damask, and mattress.

$295

Same suite in figured taupe and rose velour, sofa, armchair and Lord George type chair, 3 pieces and mattress.

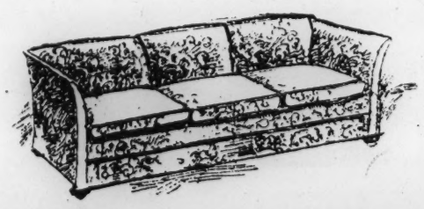

$275

The Karpen Davenport Bed Is a Graceful Furnishing

You'd never suspect the modern Karpen Davenport Bed contained such a comfortable bed. The bed feature is entirely hidden.

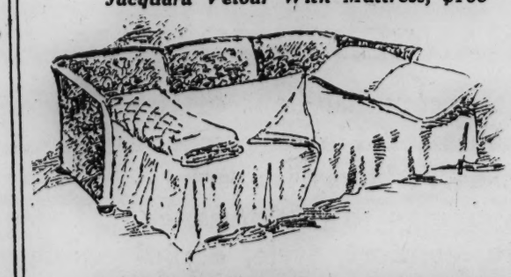

Unlike the old-fashioned, cumbersome bed davenport, the new Karpen Davenport Beds are graceful, beautifully designed furnishings.

The New Karpen Davenport Bed

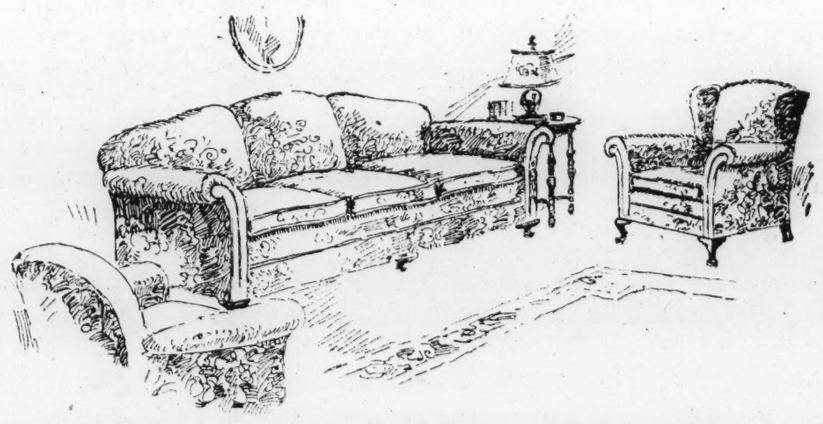

You sacrifice neither beauty nor comfort when you select a Karpen Davenport Bed. Soft spring edge, webbed construction, delightful upholsteries, separate loose cushions and upholstered all around.

Single Davenport Bed Shown in Jacquard Velour With Mattress, $165

The new Karpen Davenport Beds all have waysagless spring and good layer felt Stearns & Foster mattress, assuring the utmost comfort and service—and all completely hidden from your view.

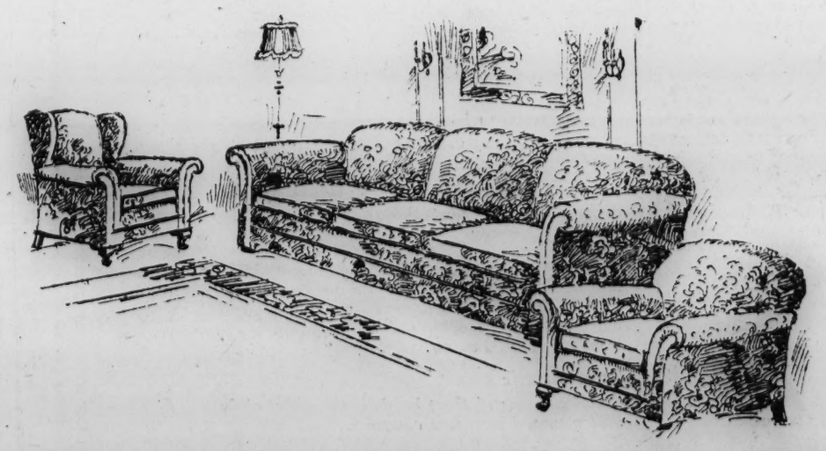

Three-Piece Karpen Davenport Bed Group—Your Choice of Upholsteries

Several tasteful upholsteries in this style. Sofa with mattress, armchair and wing chair. The group is attractively done in blue Jacquard velour at $250.

Same group handsomely upholstered in plain color taupe mohair, $395.

Also in several shades of taupe Jacquard velours, very good looking, $25.

Karpen Davenport Bed Group in Velour, $265

Three good-looking pieces in a beautiful shade of taupe Jacquard velour with delightful figure on reverse side of seat cushions. Mattress included.

MAYER & CO.

Seventh Street Between D & E

LIFE TIME FURNITURE

FARM RELIEF BILLS CAUSE HOT DEBATE BY G. O. P. LEADERS

Madden Says He Opposes Any Plan That Would Take Treasury Funds.

TINCHER CALLS MURPHY HAUGEN BILL AUTHOR

House Decides to Extend Discussion of Measures; Vote This Week.

(By Associated Press.)

Republican leaders clashed yesterday during debate in the House on farm relief legislation.

Chairman Madden, of the appropriations committee, and Haugen, of the agricultural committee, engaged in a heated controversy, while Representative Tincher (Republican), Kansas, author of the bill to carry out Secretary Jardine's recommendations, assailed certain advocates of the corn belt plan for "unfair propaganda."

When Mr. Madden announced his opposition to any bill that would "take a dollar out of the Treasury," Mr. Haugen asked if Congress had come to the stage where "no man could hold up its mandates." In reply Mr. Madden denied any intention of holding up the will of Congress, explaining that he had expressed a personal opinion as one of the 35 members of the appropriations committee.

Calls Murphy Author.

Representative Tincher directed his attack against Frank W. Murphy, of Wheaton, Minn., who, representing several farm organizations, has been a leading advocate of the Haughen price stabilization bill. He charges Murphy with practices which "were he a member of Congress would justify his impeachment," adding that "Murphy wrote the Haugen bill and now hovers over us day and night, and writes half the speeches for the House members supporting the measure."

Mr. Tincher also attacked the Prairie Farmer, an Illinois publication, for asserting that his bill "smells badly," and charged it had printed a "damnable lie" about him and Senator Capper (Republican), Kansas.

So general were the demands for time to speak that the House agreed to extend the debate through tomorrow, probably bringing it to a close at a night session. Termination of the discussion had been fixed for yesterday and the extention probably will delay until late this week a final vote on the three bills, the Haugen and Tincher measures and the Curtis-Aswell commodity marketing proposal.

Opposes Appropriation.

Referring to the appropriation in the Haugen bill, Mr. Madden told the House it was "unfortunate that gentlemen quarrel about public funds before they get them."

"Both as chairman of the appropriation committee and as a citizen," he added, "I am opposed to an appropriation of $375,000,000. I have always been opposed to using the public treasury for the benefit of a few."

Mr. Madden said private capital could organize a $1,000,000,000 corporation to aid agriculture and make a success of it, adding that agriculture must be placed on "a plane of commercial sanity."

While the debate proceeded in the House Representative Tilson, the Republican leader, issued a statement in which he expressed the hope that a bill "will be agreed upon which will be economically sound and at the same time give as much relief as can be given by legislative action."

Opposing all three bills, Representative Black, Democrat, New York, termed them "political legislation," with a prediction that none would pass. He said they would enable House members to return home and say to the farmers:

"Look what I tried to do for you."

Are Called Subsidies.

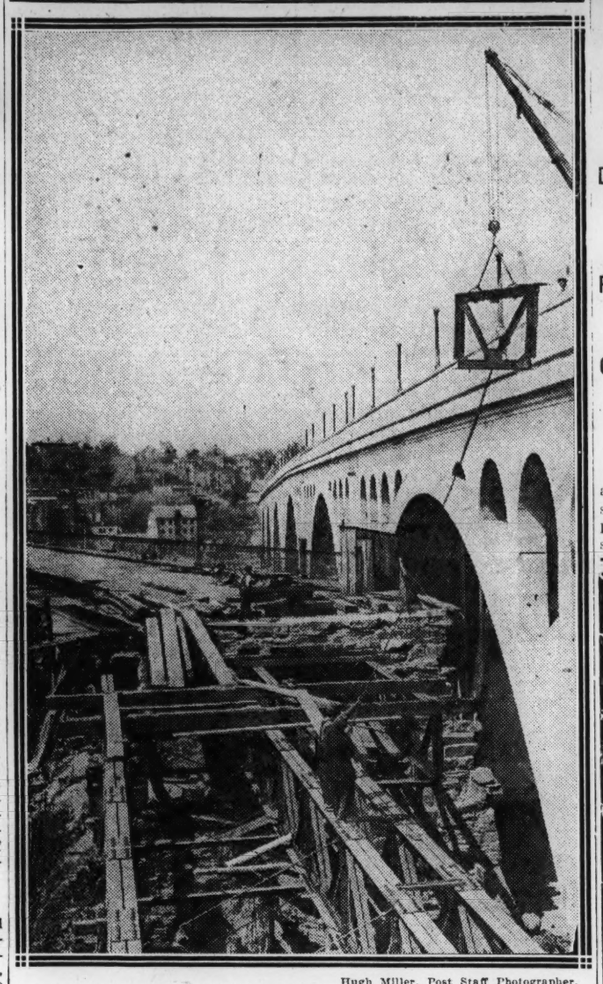

The bills, he added, are "subsidies, bolshevism and class legislation all rolled into one parliamentary hash."

Then Mr. Black also contended that the farmers had suffered because of prohibition which had removed many of their markets, Representative Hill, Democrat, Maryland, one of the wet leaders of the House, interjected that the Department of Agriculture had admitted that the farmers' prices were hurt by prohibition.

Representative Funk, Republican, Illinois, favoring the Haugen bill, said that in the farm relief problem Congress was confronted with "the most serious crisis since the war."

Representative Fish, Republican, New York, said the Haugen bill might benefit the Western farmer but would be of no value to the New York farmer. Declaring he was opposed to "price fixing" he announced he would vote for the Tincher bill.

DISMANTLING OF AQUEDUCT BRIDGE

Hugh Miller, Post Staff Photographer.

(Partial dismantling of the old Aqueduct bridge was started yesterday on the Virginia side by workmen of the department of public buildings and public parks of the District.

Jardine Hurries Back For Final Struggle

(By the Associated Press.)

On his arrival last night from the South, where he had been for ten days, Secretary Jardine said he had hurried back to Washington to be here during the final stages of the House consideration of farm relief legislation. He said he wanted particularly to be in close touch with the Capitol when amendments are offered.

In curtailing his stay in the South the Secretary of Agriculture canceled an engagement to deliver an address Monday at Charleston, S. C.

SLEEPING LIKE LOG IS CALLED FALLACY

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3.)

using both hands and obeying a signal.

This was matched by a miniature baseball field, with lights flashing the plays, which is used in tests in the University of Illinois laboratory, according to Prof. C. R. Griffth.

There are linguistic tests for students, tests for music talents which estimate talent in two hours and save many years of hopeless practicing; trick questions that are supposed to measure general intelligence or alertness, and many other ways in which the psychologists are getting at human behavior on the dark side.

Wan Trial Expected To Resume Tomorrow

The trial of Zlang Sun Wan, who is charged with killing Ben Sen Wu, one of the victims of the Chinese triple murder of 1919, will be resumed in criminal court tomorrow morning providing United States Attorney Peyton Gordon has regained his strength by then.

Maj. Gordon, who heads the prosecution, suffered a collapse in his apartment at the Wardman Park hotel while he was preparing to go to the courthouse Thursday morning. He also is suffering from a severe cold.

SKYSCRAPERS HELD SAFEST IN QUAKES

Danger to Apartment Houses in Vibrations Described by Seismologist.

Massive skyscrapers would likely be among the safest buildings in an earthquake, while apartment houses of the usual type would be among the most dangerous, Dr. Bailey Willis, president of the Seismological Society of America, said in a lecture on "Earthquakes and Their Results" at the University club last night.

According to Dr. Willis' explanation, the swaying motion of a 40-story skyscraper would be to some extent comparable to the slow swing of a pendulum of great length. Therefore the earthquake, which in its periods of vibration would be much faster, "would hardly succeed in setting the skyscraper swaying."

The apartment houses, on the other hand, are about the height which in their swing period would best accord with the earthquake's wave motion. Then the apartment houses, he said, usually have their floors set in the walls, and naturally the floors would drop when the walls parted.

Father Torndorf, S. J., of Georgetown university, spoke on the development of instruments for recording earthquakes, and the ultimate possibility of forecasting them.

MOTHERS' SERVICES TO BE HELD TODAY AT UNKNOWN TOMB

Dawes and Other Officials to Attend; Secretary James J. Davis to Speak.

PROGRAM ARRANGED BY U. S. WAR ORDER

Congressional Club Active. Hebrew Congregation to Hold Rites.

This is the day they have set aside for mother—the day when sons and daughters think of her love, her sacrifice, and, perhaps, her suffering. It is the day when some attempt is made to show gratitude for all these things.

The principal Mothers' day celebration, hereabouts, will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National cemetery. This celebration will be national in character, designed to honor, not only the mother of the unknown warrior buried there, but all the mothers in America.

Vice President Charles G. Dawes will head the list of officials who will gather at the tomb. The principal speaker will be Secretary of Labor James J. Davis. Representative Clifton A. Woodrum, of Virginia, will sing "Mother o' Mine." Another speaker will be Representative Lamar Jeffers, of Alabama.

War Mothers in Charge.

The celebration is being given under the auspices of the American War Mothers and the Congressional club. Mrs. H. H. McClure, national president of the War Mothers, will make an address of welcome. Mrs. Lindley H. Hadley, wife of Representative Hadley and president of the Congressional club, will also speak.

Mme. Corinne Ryder-Kelsey, the American soprano, will sing Dvorak's "Songs by Mother Taught Me" and "Home, Sweet Home." She will be accompanied by the Marine band, with Capt. Santelmann conducting.

The Army band, under Capt. Stannard, and the Navy band, under Lieut. Benter, also will play. The program will be broadcast by WCAP.

The Washington Hebrew congregation will celebrate Mothers' day at 11 o'clock this morning in its temple. Children in the Sunday school will have a celebration of their own. The Junior council will give a Mothers-Daughters dinner at the City club at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Song Written for Mothers.

A new song, written especially for Mothers' day by Iowa Carruthers Lozier, wife of Representative Lozier, of Missouri, will be sung in three local churches today. It also will be broadcast. The churches where it will be sung are the Columbia Heights Christian church, First Congregational church and New York Avenue Presbyterian church.

A specially arranged musical service will be given at the Church of the Covenant. Herman Fakler, barytone, will sing "Once More to Touch Her Fragile Hand," written by Mrs. Elizabeth Collison-Hill.

Students of the Technical High school placed a permanent marker on the white birch tree in the Capitol grounds yesterday. The tree was planted last year to honor the mothers of America. The Rev. Dr. J. J. Muir, chaplain of the Senate, offered prayers at the ceremony yesterday.

Reads Proclamation.

Senator Thomas Heflin, of Alabama, who sponsored the bill that created Mother's day, arose in the Senate yesterday and read the proclamation issued by President Wilson setting aside a Sunday in May, 1924, in honor of American mothers. He also joined with Senator Sheppard, of Texas, in reading poems dedicated to "My Mother."

An annual Mother's day was conceived by Miss Anna Jarvis more than 10 years ago. She was the founder of the Mother's Day International association. Her mother, also an Anna Jarvis, did welfare work in the civil war. Wherever she went, she carried the same message to the soldiers: "Write home to mother."

At Least 500 People

in Washington, every week, are looking for desirable rooms, either with or without board. A great many of them read The Post. You who have rooms to rent can catch their eye by inserting classified ads in The Post. Phone Main 4205.

FAULKNER MEMORIAL FUND IS COMPLETED

Aid for Boys and Girls Will Honor Political Writer of Cincinnati.

Columbus, Ohio, May 8 (By A. P.).—Announcement was made by A. E. McKee, associate editor of the Ohio State Journal, as chairman of the committee on ways and means of the Faulkner Memorial Fund association, that the fund of $10,000 is complete. The amount was raised to do honor to the memory of James W. Faulkner, veteran political editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, who died three years ago.

The Faulkner Memorial association will be incorporated, responsible men will be chosen as trustees. The money will be invested and the income will be used in making loans to boys and girls who need a little help in completing their education, preferably where they expect to engage in newspaper work.

As far as can be learned this is the first memorial ever established to a newspaper reporter.

"Where Security Is a Surety"

THE MORRIS PLAN

Mortgages Guaranteed by an Outstanding Surety Co.

6% 1st Mortgage Bonds

Denominations, $100—$500—$1,000

Insured:

The first mortgages underlying these 6% Bonds are insured against loss of either principal or interest by the United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. of Baltimore, with its $41,000,000 of assets; or by the Maryland Casualty Co. of Baltimore, with over $36,000,000 assets.

Guaranteed:

Each issue of these bonds is the direct obligation of some well managed mortgage company.

Protected:

These bonds are secured by first mortgages on real estate for not more than 60% of the appraised value of the property, and in most cases for not over 50% of the appraised value. Appraisement made by disinterested parties and an additional independent appraisement made by the Surety Company before they sign guarantee.

Title to all properties examined and guaranteed by responsible Title Guarantee Co.

If desired, these bonds may be purchased on the Morris Plan of Deferred Payments, and 5% interest will be allowed on installments as paid. For further information consult our Bond Department.

THE MORRIS PLAN BANK

Under Supervision of U. S. Treasury

1408 H St. N.W. Main 2486

CHRYSLER "70"

Sensational

New Low Prices

Reduced $50 to $200

Sensational new lower prices on the six-cylinder Chrysler "70," saving from $50 to $200, effective midnight, May 8

	Old Prices	New Prices	Saving
Coach	$1,445	$1,395	$ 50.00
Roadster	$1,625	$1,525	$100.00
Royal Coupe	$1,795	$1,695	$100.00
Brougham	$1,865	$1,745	$120.00
Sedan	$1,695	$1,545	$150.00
Royal Sedan	$1,995	$1,795	$200.00
Crown Sedan	$2,095	$1,895	$200.00

All Prices F. O. B. Detroit,
Subject to Current Federal Excise Tax

CHANGED IN NO WAY—EXCEPT IN PRICE

In the accomplishment of the new sensational lower prices of Chrysler "70" there is absolutely no change in performance, quality, comfort, style, equipment, design, materials or workmanship in the body or chassis which have won such widespread preference and admiration.

These sensational reductions today establish Chrysler "70" even more emphatically as the world's one outstanding motor car value in its class.

H. B. LEARY, JR., & BROS.

1612 You St. North 4296

Branch Salesrooms, Connecticut Ave. and Que St., 1321-23 14th St. N.W.

E. R. KEENAN, 10th and Eye Sts. N.W.

Kresge Department Stores
L. S. Plaut & Co., Newark
The Fair, Chicago

The Palais Royal Annual May Underprice Sale

Quality Merchandise
Courteous Service

Only One More Day to Take Advantage of These Great Savings!

Another Great Offering for Tomorrow!

New Spring and Summer DRESSES

Regularly $25, $29.50 and $35.00—May Sale

$17.50

Offering you a wide variety of the newest styles at an extraordinary May Sale Price! Whether you want a smart afternoon frock—a trim street or business dress or a trig sports costume you will be sure of finding it in this collection.

Fashioned of fine quality silks, in all the colors women wear so well! Mostly one-of-a-kind models.

Sizes for misses, 14 to 20.
For Women 36 to 40.
For larger women, 42½ to 52½.

Palais Royal—Third Floor.

Exceptional! This Sale of

Handsome Coats

Regularly $49.50 to $85

May Sale Price

$37.50

Each coat radically reduced for this sale. The superior quality of fabrics and careful hand tailoring are amazing at such a low price.

Rich furs, natural and dyed squirrel, Scotch mole and Pahmi, and colorful touches of embroidery give individual charm to each garment.

Materials are charmeen, covert twill, twill cord, marcheen, crepe satins and charmeuse. In the popular crayon shades and the fashion important navy.

Sizes for misses 14 to 20—for women 36 to 44.

Palais Royal—Third Floor.

Mothers' Day

Ethel M. Parks

Today is Mothers' Day! But why just today? Who is there in this broad land who will deny that every day should be Mothers' Day?

Who of all the world is so staunch, so loyal and true? Whose faith is so unswerving—whose love so unfailing—who indeed would lay down her life without flinching to save any one of her children but a Mother?

And what is there that can in the smallest measure repay for the pain and suffering, the heartaches, and the agony of fear that clutches at the heart of every mother for the life and wellbeing of her children?

Not a gift, surely, sent to her once a year, when children the world over are called upon to observe one special day as Mothers' Day, but love and thoughtfulness every day in the year—a cheerful letter if your lives are separated, telling her all the little intimate things about yourself, for mothers still picture grown-up sons and daughters as they were in baby days; when mother was the most important person in the whole world, and it helps her to forget that others now claim the greatest share of their time and attention.

No doubt your love for Mother is just as great, but do you tell her so? And often? And as the years go by, and other interests crowd one's life, perhaps the days and weeks slip by and the letters to her are fewer, little remembrances are sent only on specified days, and the ache in her heart increases, and the longing to see you and hear from you grows keener, but she never lets you know.

If Mothers' Day will make us all think of those things, and in the years to come we will be a little bit more thoughtful, will take a few minutes to write her often, if only to say "I love you," it will add immeasurable joy to her remaining years, and Mothers' Day will have served a great purpose and be well worth while.

Sensational Sale of 15,000 Yards

Plain and Fancy Silks

An event that will make the last day of the May Sale a great economy day for every Washington woman! Silks that were specially purchased and others that were taken from our own stocks will be offered at this exceptionally low price.

Every item is of fashion importance and they are shown in all the wanted colors and patterns.

40-inch Printed Crepe de Chine. In the newest styles and patterns on both light and dark grounds.

40-inch All-silk Flat Crepe, excellent quality in a complete color range.

40-inch Pure Dye Georgette, in over fifty shades.

40-inch Silk-and-wool Spiral Crepe, in 30 shades—both light and dark.

32-inch Washable Stripe Broadcloth, in a large variety of woven stripes on light grounds.

32-inch Plain Tub Broadcloth, in 15 pastel shades and black.

40-inch Printed Georgette, in an attractive assortment of patterns.

35-inch Foulards, in this season's latest patterns—including dots.

40-inch Crepe Bengaline, in 8 street colors.

40-inch Charmeuse, in a good color assortment with plenty of black.

33-inch Wash Satin, in lovely lingerie shades.

32-inch All-silk Kimono Prints, of oriental designs and gay colorings.

Featured for Tomorrow, Monday, at

$1.59

Regularly Sold for $1.98, $2.29 & $2.49

Great Reductions in Our Dress Gooods Section

54-in. All-wool Jersey
54-in. All-wool Tweed

$1.69 Yd.

For so many purposes right now—sports costumes, wraps and traveling clothes. The wool jersey is shown in 12 popular sports shades and the tweed comes in 10 new pastel mixtures.

54-in. All-wool Plain Flannel
54-in. All-wool Striped Flannel
54-in. All-wool Taffeta
De Lane

$2.69 Yd.

Regularly $2.98 and $3.98

Popular fabrics in a splendid color range of the plain sports shades, all-over stripe effects in gay colorings and the plain top with contrasting border.

39c Sateen Monday at 29c Yd.

A fabric that is practical for slips, linings, bloomers, etc. Shown in a complete color range, including white and black. 36 inches wide.

Palais Royal—Second Floor.

A Millinery Event!

BEAUTIFUL HATS

Made to Sell for $18.50, at $9.50

Just the models that appeal to well dressed women—and slip on so comfortably and becomingly over long locks!

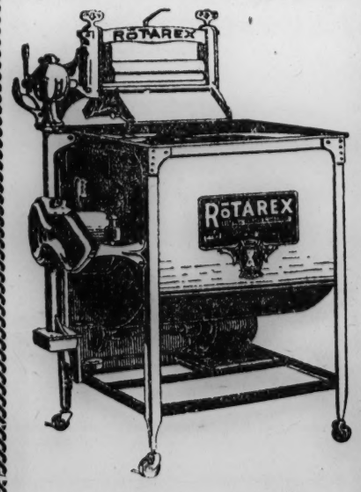

Hats of the new Punto body straw and hair—effectively trimmed in ways that are youthfully charming.

A shade for every type—black, white, sand, palmetto, rose, copen and combinations.

New Hats Have Been Added to These Interesting Groups

Gage Hats,	$4.45	Tailored and Sports Hats,	$2.39
Trimmed Hats,	$3.49	Trimmed Hats,	$7.85

Palais Royal—Second Floor.

$137.50 Rotarex Washing Machines

Special $99.00

We have only a limited number of these machines at this great saving. The Rotarex is used in over a million homes and is built to do 10,000 washings. A month's supply of Washing Powder with each purchase. Easy payment plan; $5 down and $5 per month.

Furniture Slip Covers $35.95 Set

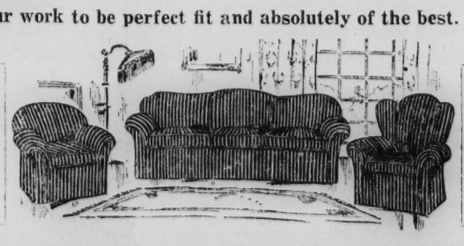

May Sale Price,

We will make a set of slip covers for any three-piece living room suite—plain or overstuffed with five separate cushions.

We guarantee all our work to be perfect fit and absolutely of the best.

Belgian Linen

Your choice of the new 50-inch Imported Belgian Linen, not requiring over 22 yards.

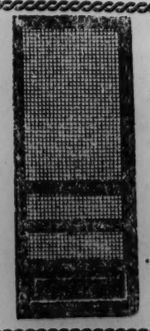

Special "A" Grade New Cretonnes!

Fine quality and good color combinations not requiring over 33 yards.

Our covers are finished with French seams, hemmed at the bottom, and fastened with rust proof patented glove style fasteners and made to conform to the shape of your furniture.

Palais Royal—Second Floor.

Screen Doors

Special $4.44

1¼-inch frame with wood base. Filled with heavy galvanized wire mesh cloth. Sizes 32x80, 34x84 and 36x84.

$59.50 Electric Fireless Cookers

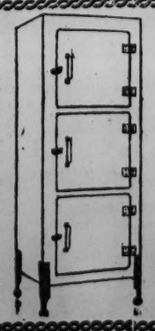

Special

$27.50

3-well all metal fireless cookers with aluminum wells and cooking utensils. Complete in every detail.

Palais Royal—Fourth Floor.

Camp and Cottage All-Metal Refrigerators

Special

$12.98

Metal lining, well insulated with an enameled case. Two compartments for food and one for ice.

Plain White Dinnerware 10c Each Piece

Ideal for summer camping and cottage use. Choice of Tea Cups, Saucers, Bread and Butter Plates, Dessert Plates, Breakfast Plates, Dinner Plates, Soup Plates, Fruit Dishes, etc.

Palais Royal—Fourth Floor.

SERIOUS LONDON DISORDERS IMMINENT

DISTRESS IS FOUND IN POORER FAMILIES BY WOMEN'S CORPS

"Gen." Flora Drummond Says Many Wives Resent the General Walkout.

FEMININE AID WORKERS INCREASING IN NUMBER

Planes and Many Autos Put at Disposal of Mary Allen, the Commandant.

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—The women of Great Britain, society dames and shop girls alike, are swinging into line vigorously in efforts to alleviate the suffering and discomfort caused by the general strike

There was no early Saturday closing today at the headquarters of the women's auxiliary service, headed by Commandant Mary Allen, who was decorated for her war services. So incessant was the stream of volunteer workers for first aid and Red Cross work, that recruiting was halted this afternoon until Monday to give the staff opportunity to catch up with all the applicants that have enrolled already.

Commandant Allen went by airplane to Birmingham today in response to an appeal to organize women there for public services along the same lines as is being done in London. It is probable that the auxiliary service will be extended to other English centers if the strike continues.

Airplanes For Her Use.

Two private airplanes have been placed at the disposal of Commandant Allen to facilitate her transportation to the industrial centers. One of the planes is piloted by the noted English woman flier Mrs. Elliot Lynn.

Offers of automobiles have come in such numbers that Commandant Allen has been obliged to organize a special transport department for which Viscountess Rhondda, Great Britain's foremost business woman, who is a director of coal mines in South Wales and of other enterprises, has turned over her premises on Victoria street.

A number of women doctors also have offered their services for Red Cross and first aid work.

Unionists' Wives Help.

Lady Plunkett and Lady Lettice Lygon, who is a noted society beauty, are the latest additions to the force of women who are helping the newspapers by selling the present slim issues by motorcycle.

"General" Flora Drummond, of the Women's Guild of the Empire, who is working in her home area in Glasgow, reported today that there was bitter feeling among the Clyde women against the strike, which they complained had been called without a general vote. She reported that the strike was beginning to cause great distress among many of the poorer families.

Many of the wives of trades unionists are helping out in the strike emergency by worknig in soup kitchens and rest rooms.

Discipline Is Accepted.

Chief Inspector Campbell of the women's section of the London police force, who has had twelve years' experience in that line of work, today praised the readiness with which the women of all classes are submitting to the somewhat severe discipline enforced in the auxiliary services.

Society women are cheerfully accepting menial tasks, she said. For instance, Lady Louis Mountbatten, formerly Edwina Ashley, one of the wealthiest girls in England, does not disdain to fry sausages for the hungry lorry drivers at the Hyde Park milk depot. Gertrude Lady Decies is another enthusiastic worker.

Southern Methodists Pray for Agreement

Memphis, Tenn., May 8 (By A. P.).—The general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, in session here today, paused amid a mass of business to pray that "peace and brotherhood be restored in England." Bishop W. N. Ainsworth led in the prayer.

The action came after a resolution was introduced asking that the conference take notice of "strife in England which may result in civil war."

Bishop Offers Home For Negotiations

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—The announcement was broadcast this morning that the bishop of London had offered the use of his residence, Fulham palace, for negotiations to end the present labor trouble The offer was made in the form of a letter to J. H. Thomas, member of parliament and general secretary of the National Union of Railway Men.

Norway's Transport Workers in Boycott

Oslo, Norway, May 8 (By A. P.). The Norwegian Transport Workers union has decided to boycott British vessels in Norwegian ports.

Drama League Reelects Heads.

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—President Daniel L. Quirk, of Ypsilanti, Mich., and all other officers of the Drama League of America, were reelected today. The mail ballot was tabulated at the morning session of the fourteenth annual convention of the league.

NOW AN EDITOR

Henry Miller Service.

WINSTON CHURCHILL, chancellor of the exchequer, who, in addition to his other duties, is the editor of the British Gazette, the organ published by the British government to supply the people with the official news on the general strike.

TWO BUILDING CRAFTS GO OUT IN KANSAS CITY

Carpenters and Hoisting Engine Men Quit When Refused Wage Increase.

EXTENSION IS POSSIBLE

Kansas City, May 8 (By A. P.). With two building crafts—carpenters and hoisting engineers—on strike since noon today, both sides in the building wage controversy here were marking time tonight. Leaders agreed that nothing could be done until Monday.

It was impossible to estimate the number of men that went out, since all work ordinarly stops at noon Saturdays.

If the carpenters and hoisting engineers remain out in sufficient numbers Monday, contractors said building operations probably would come to a standstill.

The two striking crafts, numbering 2,100 workers, have asked a 12½-cent an hour increase. They have been receiving $1.12½ an hour.

Whether the strike would become general depended, Frank J. Peterson, secretary of the building trades counci, said, upon whether the builders continued to operate on an open shop basis. The building council, representing all building unions, has demanded that all jobs be unionized.

In turning down the wage increase proposal the builders association also refused to order a closed shop.

One-Hour Walkout Ordered in Mexico

Mexico City, May 8 (By A. P.). The electrical unions in the federal district have ordered a one-hour strike of the electricians on Monday, from 11 a. m. until noon, in sympathy with the British strikers. The regional confederation of labor continues to collect money for the British strikers.

WORKERS ARE HELD PERSONALLY LIABLE FOR WALKOUT LOSS

Sir John Simon Holds Unions Have Committed Illegal Act in Quitting.

ANSWER IN STATEMENT FROM TRADES COUNCIL

Labor Leaders Say Attempt Is Made to Confuse the Issues at Stake.

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—Sir John Simon, former home secretary, has created a great sensation by his speech in parliament declaring that unions which joined the general strike in violation of their various trade agreements have committed an illegal act, and that this made every member of such unions personally responsible to his last pound for the damage done by the general strike.

In an official statement issued tonight, the council of the Trades Union congress says:

"We are bound to repudiate afresh the allegation that the Trades Unions congress is engaged in an attack on the community. It appears to us that strenuous attempts are being made to turn the public mind into a channel that we are engaged in a fight against the constitution and that this is purely a political struggle camouflaged in an industrial dispute.

Not Fighting the Public.

"We are not fighting the public, nor are we attempting to overthrow constitutional government. The trades unions have exercised a legal and long established right of withholding their labor. This is not only a legal but a moral right and has been done to protect a section, namely, the miners, against degredation of their standard of life.

"It is inevitable in a general stoppage that contracts should in certain instances be broken, but neither John Simons nor any one else can take the fact to signify that the movement as a whole is engaged in sinister conspiracy to wreck the community.

"We began the struggle and it is being carried on by the council as an industrial struggle. In our judgment the argument of Sir John Simon and the cabinet ministers that we are engaged in an attempt to overthrow the constitution is a wilful and deliberate attempt to confuse the issue."

Attempts to Confuse.

The statement then refers to "an attempt being made to confuse and prejudice the position of the trade union movement by the allegation that we have received money from Moscow," and reiterates that the money sent from Moscow was returned to the Russian organization.

The council, it is announced, has decided to instruct the unions that all men in work shall be called upon to pay 5 per cent of their wages as a levy for strike funds. The council is appealing to trade unions and sympathizers abroad for financial contributions.

There will be a meeting on May 11 of the labor and socialist international federation of trade unions at Amsterdam to discuss the dispute from an international viewpoint.

Britain Is Recruiting Special Constabulary

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—The government has decided to recruit a new body of special constabulary consisting exclusively of men with military training. The deputy civil commissioner invites enlistment to this force, which will be known as "civil constabulary reserve."

It will be a whole time force of sworn specials, organized in units and wearing plain clothes, but supplied with armlets, steel helmets and truncheons.

Those eligible comprise officers and other ranks of the territorial army and the senior contingent of officers' training corps, as well as former military men who can be vouched for at territorial army unit headquarters.

PASSENGER LISTS CUT ON SHIPS FOR ENGLAND

Celtic, California and Minnewaska Sail With Only Third of Accommodations Filled.

REPUBLIC AT PLYMOUTH

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—Heavy inroads in passenger lists caused by the British strike were noticed for the first time when three British vessels cleared today. With this exception, however, shipping moved in a routine manner, and no signs of discontent were evidenced by the British seamen.

The ships were the Minnewaska, of the Atlantic Transport line, the Celtic, of the White Star line, and the California, of the Anchor lines. Although each sailed with only a third of the accommodations occupied, shipping officials maintained that cancellations accounted for only some 20 vacancies on each ship.

Four hundred members of the workers (communist) party paraded in Union square with banners calling on transport workers to boycott British ships, and especially see that no fuel was sent to England, but there was no disorder.

The situation abroad was summed up in a brief cablegram from the Cunard line home office at Liverpool to the branch here. It follows:

"General position much same as yesterday. Mauretania left Southampton 3 p. m. with complete crew and passenger list. Discharged all foodstuffs at Southampton. Scythia and Ascania leaving Liverpool this evening all complete. Nine steamers at Liverpool completed discharge of 11,000 tons foodstuffs during last two days by volunteer help."

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—Although most steamers have been avoiding Plymouth since the strike began, the United States liner Republic has berthed there without difficulty and landed its 135 passengers from the United States. The passengers, who were landed last night, were housed in Plymouth hotels and came to London by special train today.

Southampton, England, May 8 (By A. P.).—The Cunard liner Mauretania sailed for New York this afternoon without difficulty. The White Star liner Homeric docked at 2:15 p. m. without trouble. The passengers went to London by automobile.

Bermuda, May 8 (By A. P.).—The effects of the general strike in Great Britain were felt here today when some of the passengers booked on the Orca, sailing for Cherbourg and Southampton, canceled their reservations. Lady Ramsay, who was the former Princess Patricia of Connaught, has sailed for Southampton after spending the winter here.

CABINET DETERMINED SUPPLIES SHALL MOVE

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.)

tanks and an armed force to convey food and merchandise. If the pickets accept the challenge there will be a battle; if not, the government will have scored a bloodless victory.

Despite all signs of an approaching armed conflict, a great majority of the strikers show traditional English respect for order. The real danger comes from the revolutionary strike leaders, whose plans are goading their dupes toward violence and also, at the other end of the scale, the eagerness of the criminal population to commit crimes against property. Low class aliens in the East End, affected with bolshevism, are acting as provocateurs.

As Lord Acton said, in his studies of the French revolution, the terrible thing about the whole business is the evidence of design. This evidence, however, is still ignored by large sections, which remain in pathetic innocence, and talk as if this was a mere dispute over wages and hours.

We have in this country a large number of what I believe you call in America "suckers"—harmless idealists who, out of mental vanity, patronize revolutionary doctrines without understanding their results.

To give one example, Lindsay, the master of Balliol, Oxford, recently wrote a book on Carl Marx, in which he argued that "A class struggle is not incompatible with idealism." The archbishop of Canterbury, in a recent speech, impartially deplored the wrongs of the workers and the fact of the general strike. At the same time the bishop of London offered his palace as a "neutral" meeting ground for negotiations.

This balancing between the forces of order and disorder is a symptom of the widespread propaganda of pink or "parlor" bolshevism. But apart from infected intelligence here and there, the general opinion is thoroughly sound on the necessity of defeating this revolutionary conspiracy at all costs.

(Copyright, 1926, N. Y. Herald Tribune, Inc.)

LABOR RANKS SPLIT BY TWO ELEMENTS AFTER SUPREMACY

Trades Union Chiefs and the Political Leaders Vie for Control.

BEVIN HEAD OF GROUP OPPOSING PARTY MEN

Discrediting of Radicals in Favor of Parliamentary Faction Foreseen.

(Special Cable Dispatch.)

London, May 8.—Whatever the result of the strike, politicians on all sides believe it will have the effect of strengthening the moderate political labor party in the country. The correspondent learns that the causes which led up to the strike were due to the jealousy of some of the old-line trades union leaders of the influence of the political leaders of the movement.

The politicians have been decrying the strike as a weapon to obtain better conditions for labor and promising all sorts of benefits to be gained through parliamentary action. The politicians, too, being more in touch with the actualities, realized that the miners would have to accept a lower wage to enable the industry to be carried on.

Ernest Bevin Is Chief.

This gave an opportunity to the trades union leaders, of whom the chief is Ernest Bevin, of the Transport workers, who has always minimized the importance of political movements as compared to trades union action and who now is commander-in-chief of the trades union forces in the strike. Mr. Bevin and his trades union associates insisted on the course of action which brought about the crisis, although they were not responsible for the final break leading to the general strike. They aimed to show the workers that more was to be gained by direct trades union action than by talking in parliament.

Whatever happens, and the best any one expects, even in the trades unions, by such a face-saving compromise, the trades unions will lose. Their funds are gone and thousands of members are disgusted by what they regard as a foolish and unjustified strike. This does not mean that they will desert the cause on the battle field, but after the battle is over they will again turn to polititical action, which even if it is slower, is getting results and does not involve suffering in the process.

Political Leaders Busy.

For the same reason, the political leaders are working night and day to secure a settlement for which they will be able to claim the credit, relegating the trades union leaders to what they regard as their proper place, dealing with questions of wages and favorable conditions. This state of facts reacts on the government policy.

Members of the government are unanimous in their desire not to smash the trades unions because they realize that by doing so they will strengthen the labor party. At the same time they are torn between this fear and the desire to make an example which will prevent another attempt to hold up the country by a general strike. This explains the nonprovocative attitude and the efforts being made to avoid the use of troops or do anything which would interfere with the normal life of the people.

The failure to close public houses is part of this policy to maintain normal conditions, but it is possible the policy regarding the sale of drink will be reversed next week if the strike still is unsettled. The labor party means to raise a question demanding the closing of the "pubs."

(Copyright, 1926, by the Chicago Tribune.)

BRITISH LABOR SEES SYMPATHY GROWING

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.)

are joining under the influence of the prevailing enthusiasm.

A striking illustration of the sympathy with the miners among the comfortable classes is the vote of the Oxford union, the famous student debating society, censuring the cabinet for breaking off the negotiations. The same view is taken even by the Conservative weekly, the Spectator. It considers that Premier Baldwin was not justified in seizing a private quarrel of the Daily Mail with its printers as the pretext for the ultimatum.

That the cabinet is uneasy about the state of public opinion is shown by their refusal to accept for broadcasting a strong appeal for renewal of the negotiations by the leaders of all the Christian churches. Both archbishops of the Church of England and the heads of every communion united in urging the parties to get together.

Archbishop Is Refused.

When the Archbishop of Canterbury sent the appeal to the British Broadcasting Co., now under government control, it was "officially and definitely" refused. This creates a bad impression. The reason for the refusal of the religious leaders' statement was their declaration that the dispute is purely industrial. The cabinet is still trying desperately hard to make the people believe it is political and revolutionary. The best answer to this is the fact that the general Trades Union Council declined the offer of money from the Russian trade unions. It thanked them courteously, but returned the check.

(Copyright, 1926, by the New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

Sidelights of the British Tie-up

(By the Associated Press.)

After clubbing a gang of rowdies who had created a strike disturbance, policemen at Plymouth donned their football clothing and played a match against a team composed of strikers. The game was attended by a delegation of 4,000 striking workers who marched to the grounds in an orderly procession headed by a brass band.

Chorus girls and women players of minor parts in theaters already are suffering the pinch of poverty, many of them having no prospects of paying their boarding house bills today. Little parties of these sufferers from the general strike daily gather around Leicester square in the hope of something turning up to tide them over the present difficulties. Benevolent agencies are doing their best to find them odd jobs of house worker, needle work or something else to help them meet expenses.

The authorities are taking stern steps against the issuance of false information calculated to add to the disturbed state of the public mind. Two men were arrested today who are alleged to have published a leaflet in Liverpool, stating that the police of that city had gone on strike.

A group of barmaids at the Great Western Railway station, in Plymouth, who went on strike to show their labor sympathies, applied to be taken back today. They were turned down.

The Horse Guards of Whitehall, and the sentries at Buckingham palace and other royal residences, who long have furnished one of the most picturesque sights of London, have changed from their colorful uniforms to war time service khaki as a result of the strike. The Horse Guards have been dismounted and armed with rifles and the Royal Sentries have discarded their brilliant red coats and busbys for the more serviceable uniforms. The change is part of army routine and is felt to demonstrate that the posting of sentries has not been merely a picturesque ceremonial for the benefit of visiting American tourists.

Oxford university students, both men and women, are having joy rides furnished by one motor car factory which is calling upon the students to deliver automobiles to customers in all parts of Great Britain. More than a thousand of the 3,000 students of the university have left for their homes where they are enlisting in volunteer service.

Thousands of Londoners today sought relaxation from the last few days' worry of starting early to work and getting home late by playing tennis and cricket. About 20,000 cricket fans, including many strikers, walked or motored to the Kensington oval to see the Australian team play a friendly match with Surrey county, whose team includes Jack Hobbs, the Babe Ruth of British cricket.

Artists, writers and actors are heavily represented along with the big business men among the volunteer services. Many of them are joining the constabulary.

Aubrey Hammond, one of the leading British illustrators, announced today that he was chucking his crayons for a police uniform. Many in his profession, he said, were volunteering and would let art look after itself for a while.

Incidentally, Hammond's outfitting will cause some difficulty, as he is about 6 feet 5 inches tall and has enough bulk for a couple of ordinary middleweight pugilists.

McKeldin Is Called Out for Strike Duty

James McKeldin, son of Mrs. Leigh C. Palmer, 1709 Massachusetts avenue northwest, has been called to strike duty at Bristol, England, according to a cable received by his mother last night.

Mr. McKeldin was taking a course in modern philosophy at Queens college, Oxford, when the strike broke out. He was graduated from the University of Virginia last year, being a Phi Beta Kappa man.

15 Days Free Trial of the New

Orthophonic Victrola

Right in Your Sitting Room

The Orthophonic Victrola

$160

The Granada Model

In tone quality and volume there is absolutely nothing else like it. You will be amazed at the clarity of any one of the several Orthophonic Victrola models.

To our knowledge, such a liberal offer has never before been made on the famous Victor Orthophonic machines.

There is no obligation to buy attached to this 15-day approval offer. If you wish to keep the Orthophonic, however, Budget Plan Payments may be arranged. This applies to any of the several Orthophonic models.

THE HECHT CO.~F STREET

Music Store, 618 F St.

Tomorrow Morning at 8:15

$100,000 Worth of Furniture for ~$57,500 at the

WASHINGTON AUDITORIUM

Tomorrow is the LAST DAY!

See today's Post and Star

Washington Auditorium Furniture Sale

To be held May 3rd to May 10 by

The Hecht Co. ~~ F Street

BRITISH STRIKERS REFUSE AID FROM MOSCOW

VIOLENT OUTBREAK NEARER EVERY DAY, M'NEILL'S WARNING

Revolutionary Elements Seen Doing Their Utmost to Exploit Situation.

APPEAL FOR CALMNESS IS BROADCAST TO NATION

Unions Trying to Coerce the Country, Official of the Treasury Declares.

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—Every day the general strike lasts increases the danger of an outbreak of violence which would require use of the nation's armed forces, according to Robert McNeill, financial secretary of the treasury.

Referring to the strike in a letter read at a meeting of the Canterbury Conservation association today, he said:

"This condition of affairs, as the prime minister truly stated in the house of commons, means that this country is nearer actual civil war than it has been for centuries. Under the circumstances, it is incumbent upon every loyal man and woman in the country, whatever their ordinary political opinions, to rally to the government's support to enable them to avert unspeakable disaster. If the public realize the gravity of the issue and submit to the privations and inconvenience with as much cheerfulness as they can command, the government which in this matter represents the whole nation, must prevail in the end.

To Coerce the Nation.

"The avowed end of the general strike is to coerce the nation as a whole and produce such general paralysis as to force the government to surrender at its discretion to a combination of committees without a vestige of constitutional authority. If the government were forced to make such surrender it would be the end of constitutional government in this country.

"All the revolutionary elements in the country are of course doing their utmost to exploit the situation to their own advantage, and every day the conflict lasts must increase the danger of an outbreak of violence which would have to be met by employment of the armed forces of the crown, the consequences of which it is utterly impossible to foresee.

"There is no use disguising the fact that this is a very real danger, and it is for this reason that it is so imperatively necessary that the public everywhere remain calm and place at the disposal of the government all the resources they can, to enable the administration to be carried on, and to give all the help in their power in whatever direction it may be most needed in their several localities."

Don't Throw It Away.

Advertise that used article that you are about to discard in the Miscellaneous For Sale column of The Post. Buyers of used furniture and the like—at fair prices, too—are more plentiful than you may think.

TITLED WOMEN AID GOVERNMENT IN ENGLISH STRIKE

Henry Miller Service.

Among the titled women of England aiding the government to "carry on" despite the general strike is the Viscountess Masereene and Ferard, noted society beauty (left). On the right is Commandant Mary Allen, chief of the women police of London, who has organized and is directing hundreds of women serving as motor drivers to preserve transportation service.

MINE REORGANIZATION CALLED KEY TO PEACE

Noah Ablett Hints Owners Seek Trouble That Will Lead to Civil War.

NO PATCHED-UP TERMS

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—The key to industrial peace in Great Britain lies in a complete overhauling of the coal mining industry, Noah Ablett, one of the chief executives of the British mine workers, said today.

Unless the mine owners are asking for such trouble as inevitably will lead to civil war, he declared, there must be some settlement of the situation in the mines.

The miners are prepared for peace, he said, and are anxious to meet the colliery owners and the government, but they are unwilling to discuss or accept any terms that involve a reduction in wages or an increase in working hours. The mine industry also must be handled on a national basis.

"These three points constitute the cardinal program of the miners' movement," said Mr. Ablett. "They have been accepted by the whole Trades Union congress as a fighting platform. We will meet the other side any time to consider reorganization of the industry, for after all, this question holds the key to peace. There can be no truce and no patched up settlement unless this problem is tackled seriously.

"The miners do not want to talk about victors and vanquished or to dictate terms, but at the same time they are keenly anxious to get the government to impose compulsory powers for reorganization purposes. It is apparent that very shortly, in view of the complete organization of the workers—unless the owners are asking for such trouble as will inevitably lead to civil war—there must be some settlement if only for temporary periods."

STRIKE RIOT IN CHICAGO CAUSES SHOOTING OF 2

Battle of Bullets and Stones Is Waged at Cicero; Slayer Freed.

DISTURBANCE IN CUBA

Chicago, May 8 (By A. P.).—A striking foundry worker was shot and killed and another man was wounded in a battle of bullets and bricks today between strikers and strikebreakers in Cicero.

Thomas Hallwood, 39, a striking molder, was slain. Charles Shimkus, also a striker, was shot in the leg.

Shimkus said he believed two other strikers were wounded. The affray occurred not far from the Greenlee foundry where Hallwood and Shimkus were employed before the strike.

L. B. Kerr, a salesman for the foundry, where 150 men were affected by the two months' strike, informed the police that he had done the shooting while acting as a guard for the strikebreakers. He was not arrested.

Havana, May 8 (By A. P.).—Seven employes of the Cuba Railroad, who had returned to work after going out on strike, were injured in a clash with men who refuse to return to their jobs. The disturbance occurred at Camaguey.

The railroad company has requested the government to furnish military protection for its workers, declaring the police force is not adequate to guarantee their safety. The road is maintaining partial freight and passenger service.

Uruguay Forbids Coal Exportations

Montevideo, Uruguay, May 8 (By A. P.).—In consequence of the British general strike, the government has forbidden the exportation of coal. It is desired to conserve imported stocks for home consumption. The order will affect foreign ships which bunker here.

Government Arsenal Work Is Paralyzed

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—The government arsenal at Woolwich is completely paralyzed by the strike, according to the British Worker, the official strike organ. Today's issue says:

"The silent strike holds sway in Woolwich. The great arsenal and dockyards are like an industrial mausoleum. No sound of the hammer breaks the stillness throughout the hundreds of shops and not a wheel is turning.

"The 8,000 to 10,000 workers who in normal times inhabit during working hours this vast hive of metal-working are either at home, attending to their picket duties, playing cards or billiards at one of the many labor clubs, or chatting in the streets."

U. S. LEATHER TRADE EXPECTED TO SUFFER

Britain Is Largest Customer; Factory Shut Down to Reduce the Sales.

Boston, May 8 (By A. P.).—Continuation of the British general strike would affect adversely the United States leather industry, it was indicated today in opinions expressed in leather trade circles here. Boston is the leather trade center of the world.

At the offices of the Weekly Bulletin, a leather trade paper, it was said that Great Britain is the largest customer of American leather exporters.

The closing of factories and transportation lines, it was said, would seriously affect leather sales. Not the least of the depressing effects of the strike, however, it was said, would be the reduced purchasing power of millions of workers now out of employment.

Another effect of the strike, it was said, would be a reduction of imports of certain types of partly tanned goat and sheepskins from India owing to the cancellation of the London hide auctions.

Little Coal in Ruhr Being Sold to British

Berlin, May 8 (By A. P.).—Inquiries for Ruhr coal increased slightly today, but there is apparently no great tendency to place orders for future delivery, as the market is generally convinced that the British miners' strike will not last long. Prices are unchanged.

A number of British vessels were refused bunker coal at Hamburg yesterday. The entire store of British bunker coal at that port is about 35,000 tons. The harbor traffic has decreased considerably, although the number of British vessels arriving is almost unchanged.

Moscow Sends Daily Advice to Workers

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—The leaders of the British mine workers are receiving almost daily cable messages from Moscow telling them how to conduct their strike.

Yesterday the general secretary, A. J. Cook, was handed a 200-word message from the Russian miners which first offered congratulations and then proceeded to outline rules and regulations which the British miners would follow. The miners' executive makes no comment upon these Moscow communications.

Swedish Food Prices Drop With Exports

Stockholm, Sweden, May 8 (By A. P.).—The general strike in England has caused a slump in Sweden of the prices of foodstuffs which are normally exported. Bacon, eggs, butter and pork particularly slumped. There is no steamer connection now between Gothenburg and England, and six tramp steamers are now being held up in Gothenburg, because of the strike.

The American destroyers Charles Auburn and Osborne have arrived at Stockholm, where they will remain a week.

Hunger Being Felt In Parts of Wales

Llanelly, Carmarthanshire, Wales, May 8 (By A. P.).—Hunger is beginning to stalk through the strikebound mining districts of Wales.

Hundreds of strikers and their families already have applied to the Poor Guardians for relief and the board of guardians here and in many other sections are facing a problem as their funds are already overdrawn. The relief officers here, however, have been instructed to give aid in destitute cases despite the shortage of funds. It is impossible to pay unemployment doles to the men on strike.

STRIKE IS SPREADING; BRITISH ARE GLOOMY

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.)

three weeks of the strike and the funds of the workers' organization will probably be exhausted. Hungry strikers, it is admitted, are not as tractable, as the crowds the government has had to deal with during the past week, and the great majority of the British people are seeing their island turned into an armed camp.

The police forces are being augmented and troops are being distributed at various points where trouble would be most likely to occur. British warships still are swinging at anchor in the various ports. The navy men are expected to lend all aid to the civil authorities.

Transportation conditions had improved greatly on the fifth day of the strike. Services on the trains, buses and street cars are beginning to revive through the help of volunteers, but business is virtually at a standstill and the possibility of the workers in the public utilities being called out lends to the apprehension.

Disturbances Continue.

With minor disorders continuing throughout the country and no solution of the strike in sight, Great Britain today looked for an anxious and miserable week-end.

The principal anxiety concerned the possibility of disturbances tonight when the men receive their slim strike benefits instead of the usual weekly envelopes.

The Edinburgh authorities closed the saloons this afternoon, but there were no reports of such action elsewhere. In London scores of truckloads of policemen were sent into those areas where trouble was likely. Armored cars were on the move from Aldershot, the army base.

Tomorrow will be the first Sunday in the country's history with a general strike in effect, and the clergy is not expected to neglect the occasion of uttering words of advice.

Nothing in the way of peace can be expected before next week at the earliest, high labor officials say.

Glasgow Riots Persistent.

The government continues to assert it has the situation well in hand.

Among the many small disturbances throughout the country, the most persistent are at Glasgow. Gangs of hooligans work methodically. Dispersed by mounted police, they soon reappear at other points and resume their rioting. Police today raided an office in Watson street, Glasgow, seized pamphlets and arrested seven men on charges of sedition.

At Chewe a crowd rushed the railway offices when the officials refused to pay wages. The attackers were dispersed.

A number of telegraph and railway signal lines were out between Newcastle and Hexham.

British Ships Held Up At Belgian Ports

Brussels, May 8 (By A. P.).—The Belgian syndicate committee at Ostend has decided to support the British strikers and has appealed to all the syndicates in the country to vote financial aid for the strikers.

Several British steamers are being held at Antwerp and Ghent because the crews are awaiting instructions from their unions before taking them out. At Ghent the local dockers have made a request for an increase in wages on the grounds of the increased costs of living.

Tie-up of transportation facilities for the export of Belgian produce has hit the market seriously.

GERMAN REPUBLICANS OPEN WAR ON LUTHER

Series of Mass Meetings to Oust Chancellor Are Planned Today.

Berlin, May 8 (By A. P.).—A campaign to drive the ministry headed by Chancellor Luther out of office has been started by the republicans.

Under the slogan "away with Luther, lets have a republican government," a series of meetings has been called throughout Germany for tomorrow by republicans, under whose auspices the candidacy of former Chancellor Marx for president was launched at the last election.

It is the republican's hope that by the demonstrations they will be able to bring pressure on the centrists and demand support of the socialists in returning a vote of no confidence against the Luther government in the reichstag next week.

SURRENDER REFUSED BY GOVERNMENT HEAD

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.)

gestion is being spread about. It is not true.

"I do not believe that any person can doubt that my sole desire is to maintain the standard of living of every worker, and I am ready to press the employers to make any sacrifice consistent with maintaining the industry itself in order to bring about that object.

"I want to repeat that the government is prepared now, as it has always been, to accept the commission's report, and the full report, if the other parties will do so. We are prepared as soon as circumstances permit, to consult with the owners and miners to see how effect can best be given to this policy, and the country may rest assured that when the time comes the government will be ready with proposals.

"The Trades Union council has only to cancel the general strike and withdraw the challenge it has issued, and we shall immediately begin with utmost care and patience the long and laborious tasks which have been pursued for so many weeks of endeavoring to rebuild the coal industry on an economic foundation.

No Alternative Position.

"That is our position, and while civilization remains what it is we have no alternative whatever but to go forward unflinchingly and do our duty.

"Meanwhile, notwithstanding the disclocation of transport and fuel supplies, I hope the employers will do all in their power to keep their works running in order to mitigate the hardships which must necessarily fall upon the people in an emergency such as this.

"I am a man of peace. I am living and working and praying for peace, but I will not surrender the safety and security of the British constitution.

"Can you not trust me to insure a square deal for each party and to secure even justice between man and man?"

British Heir Urges Walkout Settlement

(Special Cable Dispatch.)

London, May 8.—The Prince of Wales has been trying to bring about a settlement of the strike. The prince is on friendly terms with many of the labor leaders, especially J. H. Thomas, head of the railwaymen's union, and has been urging both Mr. Thomas and Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin to try their hardest to find a formula which will enable the strike to be settled without leaving bitterness on either side. So far, the correspondent understands, he has been unsuccessful.

House Member Sends $100 to Help Unions

(By the Associated Press.)

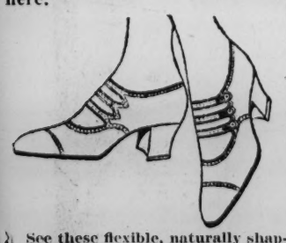

A contribution of $100 was cabled yesterday to the striking British labor unions by Representative Schneider (Republican), Wisconsin, who is a member of the executive board of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor. Mr. Schneider said a reduction in working and living standards for British labor would mean an ultimate corresponding reduction in this country.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 8 (By A. P.).—Action of Representative Schneider, of Wisconsin, in cabling money to striking British workers will be followed by similar action by Milwaukee and Wisconsin Central Labor bodies and by labor unions generally, James P. Scheeran, Milwaukee member of the executive board of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor, said today.

Shoes for Fine Spring Walks

Here are shoes that can change Spring from a season of yawns, tonics and foot discomfort to a season of renewed interest in living, playing and working.

They provide flexible support and give your feet a wonderful feeling of freedom, a chance for foot muscles to exercise naturally and build up springy strength. They are Cantilevers and one of the attractive new Spring models is illustrated here.

See these flexible, naturally shaped pumps and oxfords. They are wonderfully comfortable and splendid for walking.

Cantilever Shoe

We will be interested in fitting you. We will show you comfortable new Cantilever models for Spring and Summer.

Widths, AAAA to E. Oxfords, $8.50 $14.00; Pumps, $10.50 to $13.50; for children, $4.50 to $5.50

CANTILEVER SHOE SHOP

1319 F Street N.W.

2nd Floor—Over Young Mens Shop.

Conscientious Fitting

Saks

PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE AT SEVENTH

Largest Men's and Boys' Clothing Store in Washington

A Saks Sterling Value

Blue Serge 2-Pants Suits

$37.50

Blue Serge—Gold Standard of Clothing—the sort of suit no man can well be without. Their weight is right for this season—quality and tailoring show true Saks character and the price typical Saks value. There are models for every age, size and type of man.

A Companion Special

Flannel Trousers $7.50

A most varied and complete showing of the new flannels in plain colors and striped effects of Grays and Bisques. Sizes 29 to 36 waist.

Saks & Co., Third Floor.

Saks

PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE AT SEVENTH

Largest Men's and Boys' Clothing Store in Washington

How About It?

—It's Spring!

Spring is more than a season—it's a mental attitude. And a man's apparel—his furnishings—must be "in tune."

This is to remind you that Saks is ready. And the note that Saks strikes is the right note! Let us help you to add your voice to the universal "Spring Song!"

Men's College Belts, in college colors—the combinations in hues you're looking for. $1.50

Men's Imported English Broadcloth Shirts. White, Tan, Blue and Gray. Collar attached and neckband styles. $1.95

Rayon stripe Madras, Terry Cloth or Jap Crepe Beach Robes, with bag and sandals. $3.95

Men's Straws—foreign and domestic. Bands of smartest combination colors. $3.00

Men's Silk Gloves, in gray and tan. Sartorially correct. $1.50

Men's English Foulards. Four-in-hands displaying appropriately attractive figures on light grounds. $1.50

These are dress essentials of Spring attire that will lend themselves most pleasurably to your comfort the whole hot summer long.

Saks & Co. Street Floor.

Anybody Can Take Good Pictures WITH A BROWNIE

The Simplest Real Camera AS LOW AS $2

QUALITY Developing Printing Enlarging

Washington Home of the Kodak

HARRY C. GROVE, INC.
1210 G Street N.W.

WHERE TO SHOP AND WHERE TO STOP

In the CAPITAL CITY

Where to Dine

DANISH ROSE CAFE
721 17th Street Fr. 1785

Roast Turkey Dinner, $1.00

After your drive today enjoy one of our dinners prepared by an excellent chef, who cooked for a former President.

Wyoming Cafe
2022 Columbia Road
North 2941

The Anchorage Restaurant
1900 Que Street

LILAC TIME DINNER, $1.50
5:30 to 8

Cold Jellied Bouillion
Long Island Duckling
Apple Sauce
New Potatoes
Fresh Asparagus
Stuffed Tomato Salad
Mayonnaise
Strawberry Shortcake
Rolls Coffee
Potomac 338

Places of Interest

TREASURY—Penna. Ave. & 15th St. 9 a. m. to 2 p. m.

NATIONAL MUSEUM—New Building, Natural History, 10th & B Sts. nw. Old Building, Arts & Industries, The Mall at 9th St. n.w. Open 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., including Holidays. Sundays, 1:30 to 4:30 p. m.

Sightseeing

SIGHT SEEING THE GRAY LINE MOTOR TOURS

MT. VERNON $2
Visiting Home and Tomb of George Washington; also Christ Church and Masonic Lodge Rooms in Alexandria.
Lv. 1417 Pa. Ave. N.W. (Opp. Poli's Theater)
10, 11 A.M.; 1, 2 P.M.
Per Person Round Trip Including All Fees
PHONE M. 600

Phillips Memorial Gallery
1608 21ST ST. N.W.
Open Tuesdays, Saturdays & Sundays from 2 to 6 p. m. showing paintings of Old and Modern Masters

Hotel Directory

Gordon Hotel Apartment
16th and Eye Sts. N. W.
ROOMS, WITH OR WITHOUT BATHS NOW AVAILABLE.
DAILY OR WEEKLY RATES.
CAFE.
(Under Wardman Management)

THE MANCHESTER
1426 M STREET N. W.
Room and bath apartments. Elevator and phone service. Home cooking.

Enjoy the best without extravagance at
THE MARTINIQUE
A Residential Hotel of Refinement
SIXTEENTH ST. AT M.—Main 6424
Moderate Daily and Monthly Rates.
Excellent Cuisine—Table d'Hote Service.
Under the management of Maddux, Marshall, Moss & Mallory

Hotel Inn
604-610 9th St. N. W.
$1.00, $1.50 and $2.00
$7 rooms, $6 weekly; $10.50 rooms, $8; $14 with toilet, shower and lavatory, $10; 2 in room, 50% more. Rooms like Mother's.

RIGHT DOWN TOWN
One of the coziest and most attractive hotels you ever saw. You are cordially invited to inspect the
NEW BLACKSTONE HOTEL,
1016 17th st., Near K.
Two-room suites, beautifully furnished, with complete hotel service. Both residential and transients. One block from Army and Navy Club and Mayflower Hotel. Enjoys refined and aristocratic patronage.

METHODISTS HALT RESOLUTION AIMED AT MODERN PARTY

Fundamentalist Demand That They Be Ousted Is Sent Into Committee.

GENERAL CONFERENCE, SOUTH, IN AN UPROAR

Crisis in Church Is Denied by Some; Others Want Instant Action.

Memphis, Tenn., May 8 (By A. P.).—The Rev. Bascom Anthony, a presiding elder from the South Georgia conference, today touched off an explosion of argument over doctrinal matters which rocked the twentieth general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and threw that body into a heated battle involving fundamentalism and modernism.

Following up the statement in the bishop's address which read, "There are some men in our ministry who dissent from points most surely believed by us," the Rev. Mr. Anthony introduced a resolution declaring "complaints from our mission fields and statements in our church papers makes it imperative that this conference speak with authority and finality in these matters."

"Our church has a clear system of doctrine in her articles of religion," Dr. Anthony's resolution read in part: "No man is compelled to subscribe to it, but if he joins our church it is no longer a debatable point. He must stand by it or get out. Any man who does not believe in a resurrected Lord may be worthy and sincere, but he has no place in our ministry. If, out of kindness of his heart he wishes to serve his fellow man, then let him go join the Rotarians, for 'service' is their motto."

Attack is Begun.

Immediately after the Rev. Mr. Anthony finished reading, a delegate moved that the conference suspend the rules and adopt the resolution at once. A storm of protest came from all parts of the auditorium.

Dr. James A. Anderson, of Forest City, Ark., opened an attack on the resolution.

"I did not come to the conference to be lectured by any man. The proposal is to deplore something that does not exist," Dr. Anderson said.

"But it does exist," a delegate shouted.

"It does not," Dr. Anderson reiterated. "The members of the conference are not preachers on trial, and I speak for a large portion of them when I say that we resent this resolution."

"Sit down, sit down," delegates shouted at Dr. Anderson.

Dr. H. C. Morrison, Louisville, Ky., leader of fundamentalists, secured the floor and advanced to the platform amid a bedlam of applause.

"Our church is faced with a disturbing situation," Dr. Morrison began.

"It is not," a delegate interrupted.

"I say again that our church is faced with a disturbing situation and I defy any man to say that it isn't." Dr. Morrison continued.

Bishop Moore interrupted the speaker.

Resolution Is Lost.

"I must ask you, doctor, to stick to the question before the conference. It is whether we shall suspend the rules to pass this resolution at once or not," the bishop said.

"Very well, bishop," Dr. Morrison replied. "I am in favor of suspending the rules of this conference and passing this resolution at once. It embodies the beliefs of the Methodist Church, which recently have been attacked and viciously attacked by ministers within the church. In our schools, our pulpits and the mission fields a note of skepticism has crept in that is threatening our very foundations."

Bishop Moore ruled further discussion out of order and put the motion which was lost. The resolution was sent to the committee on the spiritual state of the church.

Pray Over Unification.

The committee handling the ticklish subject of unification of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, today adopted prayer and fasting as its program.

At the afternoon meeting of the church relations committee, which is handling the question of unification, a subcommittee was elected to take up all the different proposals concerning the subject. Following the organization of the subcommittee, the entire church relations committee adjourned into a prayer meeting at which all the members prayed for guidance in the unification problem.

Dog Sales by Mail Bring a Conviction

Guthrie, Okla., May 8 (By A. P.). W. H. Giles, of Greenwood, Miss., who was accused of high pressure advertising methods in his business of selling hounds by representing as rabbit chasers by day and coon hunters by night, and sold the dogs in wholesale numbers, was found guilty by a Federal court jury here today of using the mails to defraud.

Giles' trial resembled a convention of hound dog fanciers. Many testified that he represented the dogs to be considerably more versatile than they really were, and it was brought out that he had bought ordinary canines from farmers and in a twinkling made them into "thoroughbreds" which commanded high prices.

Allies Take Riffians' Positions in Battle

Madrid, May 8 (By A. P.). — The French and the Spanish forces in Morocco today began a movement to establish contact with each other in joint action against the Riffs, the war office has announced. The Spanish troops were able to occupy two positions by which they could establish optical communication with the French.

The Franco-Spanish columns started at sunrise and engaged the Riffians on both fronts, the Spanish troops occupying all their objectives.

DOG FIGHTS FREQUENT AT PARADE OF MUTTS

300 Mongrels With Million Strains of Ancestry Are Seen at New York.

OPENS CANINE CARNIVAL

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—About 300 mongrels with a million strains of ancestry crowded New York's first mutt parade, held today as a curtain raiser to the international dog carnival at the Polo grounds, May 15 and 16 by the American Women's association.

Small boys were the main exhibitors, and the entrants, whose only requirement was "no pedigree," ranged from little dogs trying to look like Chihuahuas, but suggesting a strain of cat, to big dogs imitating St. Bernards but actually suggesting a polar bear cross.

Led by a brass band, martialed by Boy Scouts, and dragged and held, beaten or coaxed by their small owners, the dogs traversed the distance from Thirty-eighth street and Park avenue to Madison square between crowds of curious spectators.

Fights were frequent, when policemen and reporters cleared the ring for urchin owners' methods of separating paws, jaws and hair.

"Costumed dogs," "trick dogs," "funny dogs" and others got themselves in trouble by losing their costumes or by forgetting their tricks. Also applauded was "the youngest" dog, "Fluke," carried in a basket, sucking a milk bottle.

The final judging of all classes of the mutts will take place at the carnival on Saturday.

Nellie Revell Keeps Old Date With Cohan

Chicago, May 8 (By A. P.).—Nellie Revell, the ranking optimist of the theatrical world, came to Chicago today to keep a date she made five years ago with George M. Cohan. In 1921, when Miss Revell's career as a vaudeville performer and a star press agent had been halted by a spinal injury which was believed likely to make her a cripple for life, Cohan told her that when she recovered he'd take her out."

She arrived today from New York to attend with Cohan the opening of his new theater here Monday night.

Dog, Guarding Baby, Perishes in Flames

Special to The Washington Post.

Quincy, Ill., May 8.—Faithful to his trust, the big collie dog of Mr. and Mrs. James Hill, 4 miles south of Palmyra, Mo., perished in flames this morning. He had been left to guard a sleeping baby while Mrs. Hill went to the nearby woods to get mushrooms. The barking of the dog attracted her attention and, turning, she saw the roof of the one-story house in flames.

Running at top speed, she observed the dog, faithful to his post beside the baby. She grasped the child and ran out of the building, the roof falling as she leaped through the door. The dog was a second too late and perished.

RIDA JOHNSON YOUNG, PLAYWRIGHT, IS DEAD

Former Baltimore Resident Wrote "Brown of Harvard" and Other Plays.

WAS ILL SEVERAL MONTHS

Stamford, Conn., May 8 (By A. P.).—Mrs. Rida Johnson Young, nationally known author and playwright, died at her home at Southfield point today. She had been ill for some time.

Rida Johnson Young, a native of Baltimore, is best known as the author of "Little Old New York," "May Time," and other Broadway successes.

Among her earlier plays were "Brown of Harvard," now appearing on the screen; "Glorious Betsey," "Naughty Mariette," "The Lottery Man" and "Her Soldier Boy."

She married and divorced James Young, jr., son of a former Maryland senator, James Young, who later remarried and was divorced by Clara Kimball Young, of motion picture fame.

Mrs. Young was taken ill during the latter part of last year. In December she was reported critically ill, but rallied.

Marines at Camp Meade.

Training and other facilities of Camp Meade, Md., will be available to the Tenth marine artillery after August 15, Secretary of War Davis has informed Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, and the marines will engage in target practice and field training there.

How Do You Spell the position you are looking for? "J-o-b" or "O-p-p-o-r-t-u-n-i-t-y?" If it's opportunity, you will use The Post's Situations Wanted columns to good advantage.

ELEGANCE

THE ATMOSPHERE OF ELEGANCE WITH WHICH A FAMILY OF CULTURE AND MEANS SURROUNDS ITSELF IN ITS OWN HOME IS NOT LOST UPON MOVING TO THE MAYFLOWER

Semi-housekeeping apartments now being reserved for next year.

The Mayflower

HENRY HEATH LTD.
OVER ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF HAT MAKING

By Special Appointment to H.R.H. the Prince of Wales

105-107-109 OXFORD ST. LONDON W
67A PICCADILLY W
88 CHEAPSIDE E C
47 CORNHILL E C
117 FENCHURCH ST E C

EXACTLY as the seal of H R H The Prince of Wales lends distinction to this page, so does his patronage distinguish the House of Henry Heath, and give an absolute assurance of the correctness in its hats. Styled in the best British manner, they are carefully executed in the finest materials and are sold only in the foremost shops.

We hailed King George IV and have been similarly honoured by each successive monarch and heir apparent.

$5

THE MODE
Eleventh at F

Exclusive Agents Henry Heath Straws—of London

Call us up. We would like to show you how you can have hotel hot water service at small expense. No obligation.

A Thousand Steps a Day

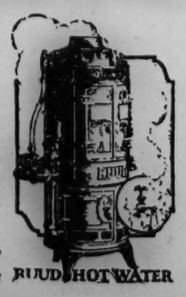

Up and down—down and up. All day long and never a chance to rest.

Why not let Ruud Automatic Gas Water Heater save some of the steps. Just turn the faucet. Let its "always-ready, always-hot" service lighten the housework burden. Consider our very special offer:

$5.00 Down
18 Months to Pay

This is the greatest offer we have ever made on any Automatic Water Heater. It is effective DURING MAY ONLY.

You need pay only $5 down and the balance in 18 equal monthly installments with your gas bill. In addition, you receive an allowance for your old water heater.

Don't miss this opportunity —Phone for a representative

RUUD HOT WATER

Washington Gas Light Co.

MAIN 8280 419 TENTH STREET N. W.

"gas chats"

Mother's Day

LET'S think of Mother's Day for a moment, not as Sunday, May 9th, but as the average day in Mother's life. Mother's day used to be made up of one hard task after another. She toiled over the hot cook-stove, heated water by the bucketful, tended the fires that warmed the house. She was middle-aged at thirty-five and hardly knew what it was to have even an afternoon off.

Now, Mother's day is systematically planned. She cooks on a clean gas range, the water is heated automatically by gas, and the gas furnace automatically warms the house. She has time and strength to enjoy life and is young at fifty years of age. Gas appliances have freed her from household drudgery. Mother knows that she "can do it better with Gas."

KLAN ASSAILED BY BISHOP AS NULLIFYING MISSIONS

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.)

has been ordered extended an extra day, the session yesterday morning dispensed with luncheon and continued until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The afternoon was spent in touring the various Methodist points of interest in the Capital, among which were the Asbury statue, Sibley hospital, the Methodist building, the grave of William Watters, the first Methodist itinerant, the American university and several national shrines. They laid wreaths on the statue of Asbury, the grave of Watters and the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

In the evening they returned to session until 10 o'clock last night. This is said to have been the first time a board of bishops has had to "work overtime." The bishops have been directed to cancel all engagements before Wednesday, as the session will continue an extra day.

Bitterness between the various churches is dying out, according to Bishop Ernest L. Waldorf, of Kansas City, Mo., who gave his report yesterday morning. Methodists have never been more generous in their contributions to benevolent and missionary works, he said, but there has been a decided decrease in the contributions to foreign missions, due in a large extent to the orgy of postwar building programs in the home churches.

"Service for others must be the dominating principle in church activities" Dr. R. J. Wade, of Chicago, executive secretary of the world service commission which has charge of the finances of the Methodist church and secretary of the general conference, told the board. "The Methodist Church made rapid progress numerically in 1925. For the first time in its history Methodism led the increase, taking the place usually held by the Roman Catholic churches. The receipts for the past three months for missionary and benevolent enterprises are considerably higher than those of last year. The gain in April for world service is $170,000. The main roll call throughout the church, which is now being made, has been enthusiastically received, and we believe 1926 will register a substantial increase," Dr. Wade said.

Action on the Bishop Bast case and the assignments of the bishops have not been announced as yet. It is believed that these important matters will be threshed out at the meeting tomorrow. The bishops will occupy pulpits in local and nearby churches today.

Methodist bishops attending the semiannual meeting of the board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church which closes tomorrow will occupy pulpits in Washington, Baltimore, Annapolis and Frederick churches today. Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, of Chicago, Ill., will preach at the morning service at the First Congregational church, the church usually attended by the President and Mrs. Coolidge.

The assignments follow:

William F. McDowell, of this city, morning, Chevy Chase; William Burt, Clifton Springs, N. Y., morning, Arlington; Luther B. Wilson, New York city, morning, Foundry M. E.; Theodore S. Henderson, Cincinnati, morning, Roland Park, Baltimore; William O. Shepard, Portland, Oregon, morning, Lincoln road; F. J. McConnell, Pittsburgh, morning, Mount Vernon M. E., Baltimore.

Frederic D. Leete, Indianapolis, morning, McKendree M. E.; Richard J. Cooke, Athens, Tenn., morning, Kensington; Wilbur P. Thirkield, Chattanoogo, Tenn., morning, Brookland; Thomas Nicholson, Detroit, morning and evening, Mount Vernon M. E. South; Ernest G. Richardson, Atlanta, morning, Brightwood; and Charles W. Burns, San Francisco, morning, Wesley.

Edgar Blake, Paris, France morning, Annapolis; Frederic T. Keeney, Omaha, Neb., morning, Frederick, Md.; H. Lester Smith, Helena, Mont., morning, Dumbarton; Robert E. Jones, New Orleans, morning, Asbury M. E.; Matthew W. Clair, Covington, Ky., morning, Ebenezer; Isaiah D. Scott, Nashville, Tenn., morning, Mount Zion; George A. Miller, Mexico City, Mexico, morning, St. Mark's, Baltimore; Adna W. Leonard, Buffalo, N. Y., morning, Douglas; William F. Oldham, Buenos Aires, morning, Hamline.

John W. Robinson, Delhi, India, morning, Union; Eben S. Johnson, Cape Town, Africa, morning, Waugh M. E.; Fred B. Fisher, Calcutta, India, morning, First church, Baltimore; evening, First Congregational, Washington; Ernest L. Waldorf, Kansas City, morning, Trinity M. E.; evening, Arlington; Charles E. Locke, St. Paul, Minn., morning, Metropolitan; Titus Lowe, Singapore, Straits Settlements, Malaysia, morning, Anacostia; evening, Calvary; George R. Grose, Peking, China, morning, Grace M. E., Baltimore; evening, Roland Park, Baltimore; Brenton T. Bradley, Bombay, India, morning, Eldersile, Baltimore; Wallace E. Brown, Foochow, China, morning, Petworth M. E.

Tomorrow Morning at 8:15
$100,000 Worth of Furniture for ~$57,500 at the
WASHINGTON AUDITORIUM

Tomorrow is the LAST DAY!

See today's Post and Star

Washington Auditorium Furniture Sale
To be held May 3rd to May 10 by
The Hecht Co. ~~ F Street

CHAMBER TO SEEK END OF GOVERNMENT DICTATING IN TRADE

Sessions of National Body, Which Open Tomorrow, to Discuss Problem.

GOV. ALBERT C. RITCHIE WILL MAKE ADDRESS

Nomination of Directors to Be First Work of the Annual Meeting.

With the question of regulation of business by itself as the best means of elimination of governmental regulation placed before it as the principal problem for solution the fourteenth annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States will convene here tomorrow.

Business must bend its energies toward elimination of government interference and regulation and must face the task of leaving as little cause as possible for government restriction of its freedom, leaders of the chamber feel. How this can best be done will be discussed by business leaders from all sections of the country in general and group meetings which will continue until Thursday night.

Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, potential Democratic candidate for the Presidency, will make his initial bow as a speaker before an annual meeting of the chamber. Addressing, as he will, representative business men from all over the nation, Gov. Ritchie's address is expected to prove of some importance to his political future.

Interference Protested.

"The business man knows what governmental interference with business means. And he does not like it," an official summary by the chamber of the major problems confronting American business declares.

"In certain lines of business, governmental regulation has become the established thing. Public interest—it must be protected! Business men recognize the public interest in certain vital services where special privileges—monopolies sometimes—are accorded by the legislatures.

"But what is public interest? How far does it extend? What are the responsibilities of the business man to his competitors, his suppliers, his customers, and the public?

"If the business man objects to governmental regulation, what can he do, individually and in chambers of commerce and trade associations, to improve business relationships and narrow down the field for official control?

"This is the ground that will be covered at this fourteenth annual meeting on self-regulation—in business."

Session to Open Tomorrow.

The convention will convene at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning with a meeting of the national councilors of the chamber, in the Chamber of Commerce building, Connecticut avenue and H street northwest.

Nomination of directors will occupy most of the opening meeting of the councilors, following which the councilors will be luncheon guests of President John W. O'Leary, of Chicago, and the board of directors.

The meeting will be resumed at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon for further consideration of nomination of directors and the award of prizes in the national fire waste contest. A dinner of the American section of the International Chamber of Commerce will be held at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night.

The first general session will be held in the Washington auditorium, Nineteenth and E streets northwest, 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning with Mr. O'Leary presiding. Adoption of rules, appointments of committees on resolutions and credentials, the report of the national council, board of directors, and the treasurer will be the order of business, to be followed by the annual address of the president of the chamber and the keynote address of the meeting, dealing with self-government in business.

Group meetings will occupy members in the afternoon and evening, and the day will end with a reception and dance. Two general sessions will be held Wednesday, morning and night, with the afternoon devoted to group meetings.

Industrial Display Will Be Continued

The industrial art exhibition which is now in progress at the Arts club of Washington will be continued until Saturday, according to an announcement yesterday. The bureau of commercial economics will present an "Evening in Finland" at the club tonight, in honor of Axel Leonard Astrom, Minister from Finland to the United States. Minister Astrom will speak on "The Land of Athletes, Forests, Lakes and Music." His talk will be illustrated.

Book reviews will constitute the program Tuesday evening, when Miss Isabel McDougall and Paul Kaufman will be hosts. The reviews will be in charge of Mrs. Milton E. Reed and Mrs. William Wolff Smith. Talks on industrial art in its relation to every day life will be given Thursday evening by Miss A. M. Wilson and others.

Dr. Zimmerman to Speak.

"The Radiant Christ as Mother Taught Him" will be the subject on which Dr. Albert H. Zimmermann will speak at the open air services to be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Great Falls, Va. Mrs. Chimmie McFadden will also speak. This service will be held on the tracks about 100 yards from the end of the car line.

NO INTEREST ON CHARGE ACCOUNTS — CHARGE ACCOUNTS INVITED — NO INTEREST ON CHARGE ACCOUNTS

59c Cold Cream With This Coupon and.. 35c — Professional Cold Cream, half-pound cans; high grade, pure cream; for toilet and massage use. (P)

2 Cakes Fels-Naptha Soap With This Coupon and.. 9c — Two full size cakes of Fels-Naptha Laundry Soap tomorrow for 9c, with this coupon only. (P)

2 Boxes Tooth Picks With This Coupon and.. 7c — Gold Medal Tooth Picks, double pointed, hardwood finish. Two boxes for 7c, with this coupon only. (Toilet Goods Dept.) (P)

IT PAYS TO DEAL AT Goldenberg's BOTH SIDES OF 7TH AT K ST "THE DEPENDABLE STORE"

$1 Pencil Sharpeners With This Coupon and 73c — Chicago pencil Sharpeners, for home or office use. Tomorrow at 73c, with this coupon only. (P)

25c Boxed Stationery With This Coupon and 17c — An assorted lot of Boxed Stationery, white and colors; some gilt-edge cards in the lot. (P)

2 Cans Pet Milk With This Coupon and 8c — Two small size cans of Pet Brand Evaporated Milk, tomorrow for 8c, with this coupon only. (P)

Towels and Toweling

At Interesting Savings

Turkish Towels, heavy double-thread grade, extra large size, with pink, blue or gold borders. Sold regularly at 75c each 49c

20x40 Double-thread Turkish Towels, heavy absorbent weave, with neat fast-color red borders. Regularly 40c each 29c

Turkish Wash Cloths, close woven, absorbent grade, with assorted color borders. 15c and 19c grades, at 10c

18x36 Hemmed Huck Towels, soft-finish, quick-drying kind, in all-white or with red borders. Former 20c grade, at 15c

12½c Hemmed Huck Towels, fast-color blue borders, absorbent grade for hand or side towels. Each 9c

All-Linen Check Glass Toweling, a grade that will not lint; red or blue checks. Sold regularly at 25c yard 19c

Goldenberg's—First Floor. Charge Accounts Invited.

Sale of $1

Stamped Goods, 79c

An opportunity to save 21c on every article tomorrow—choice of many of the season's most popular articles for home or personal use. All stamped on good quality materials, in neat attractive designs.

ALL-LINEN LUNCHEON SETS, 36-in. cloth and four napkins; two patterns.
CHILDREN'S READY-MADE DRESSES, plain color gingham with striped border. Sizes 6, 8 and 10 years.
STAMPED PILLOW TUBING, hemstitched for crochet and stamped for scalloping. Full size.

89c Stamped Gowns, 69c
Ready-made and Stamped Nightgowns, of white nainsook and crepe; simple easy-to-embroider designs.

59c Stamped Aprons, 49c
Stamped Aprons, good quality unbleached muslin and checked ginghams. Three patterns.

Goldenberg's—First Floor. Charge Accounts Invited.

Mercerized Table Damask

Slight Irregulars of 59c Value at 44c

58-inch Mercerized Table Damask, a good heavy grade, very desirable for home or cafe use. An assortment of neat patterns. Very slight imperfections, not interfering with wear or appearance.

Goldenberg's—First Floor. Charge Accounts Invited.

Purchase of $19.75, $22.50 and $25 Smart New Spring Coats

In a Remarkable Sale Monday at

Sizes 16 to 44 and Extra Large Sizes—45 to 51

$15

The Majority with Smart Fur Collars or Fur Bands

Now for the best Coat news of the Spring season! Owing to the prolonged cold weather, we took advantage of market conditions and bought from several makers various groups of Spring Coats at savings which we now pass along to you in tomorrow's sale. Think of being able to secure a smart Spring Coat for fifteen dollars! Every one of them represents some new captivating style that is shown in much higher priced garments.

Materials Are:

Satins
Twills
Silks
Poiretsheen

Braid and Embroidery Trimmed
Lined With Silk Crepe de Chine

Many of the coats have fur-trimmed collars, and others have fur bands. Plenty of the desirable plain tailored black satin coats in the lot. They are trimmed with braid, embroidery, or sometimes buttons and small flaps.

Colors of navy, gray, rosewood, tan, new blue, also black.
Sizes 16 to 44, and extra large sizes, 45 to 51.

Goldenberg's—Second Floor—Charge Accounts Invited.

Regular $2.49 Polka Dot

Georgette Crepe, $2.29

Polka Dots have come into their own once more—fashion decrees that smart scarfs, dresses, sleeves, etc., be made from polka dot crepe. We are showing both the large and small dots on grounds of French blue, champagne, navy, white and black. Beautiful heavy all-silk quality, 40 inches wide.

79c Bohemian and Duchesse Banding, insertions and edgings; cream and white; 3 and 4 inches wide 48c

$1.49 Spanish Laces, flouncings and all-overs, 36 inches wide; in black, white and wanted colors 87c

25c Filet and Venice Laces, insertions and edgings; one-inch wide; cream and white 15c

50c Tissue Ginghams

Fine Woven Qualities that Wash Perfectly 35c

36 Inches Wide In the Newest Styles and Colors.

Choose from a large array of new checks and broken plaids and every wanted color. This is a fine close woven wash fabric for cool, summery dresses. The colors are guaranteed absolutely fast and tubproof. One yard wide.

35c Shirting Madras, 25c
32-inch Printed Shirting Madras, white grounds, in printed checks, stripes and neat figures. A close woven, soft finish quality for men's and boy's shirts, also women's house dresses.

19c Dress Ginghams, 14c
32-inch Dress Ginghams, checks, plaids and stripes, in all wanted colors. For children's rompers and women's house dresses.

39c Zephyr Prints, 25c
32-inch Zephyr Prints, in neat chintz designs, also checks and stripes. A fast-color cotton fabric for Summer wear.

Goldenberg's—First Floor. Charge Accounts Invited.

10c, 12½c and 15c Handkerchiefs, 7c

Factory broken lots and odd dozens of Women's Hankerchiefs, including embroidered corner lawns and dimities, in plain colors with colored borders, white with colored borders and other popular styles.

Goldenberg's—First Floor. Charge Accounts Invited.

$2 Printed Crepe de Chine

40 inches wide—in a wonderful assortment of beautiful new designs and color combinations.

Fine all-silk qualities selling regularly everywhere at $2.00 a yard—Think of your savings! $1.59

Fashion more than ever favors these beautiful Printed Crepe de Chines for daytime frocks. We are offering a wonderful assortment of handsome styles and colorings in this special sale tomorrow—in designs which include scroll effects and the dotted arrangements which are now in vogue. All the gay and harmonious color combinations on light and dark grounds for stunning dresses. All are 40 inches wide.

$1.79 Crepe de Chine, $1.49
40-inch Crepe de Chine, a pure silk quality, in a complete assortment of street and evening shades. Brilliant luster and sheen for Summer frocks.

$2.50 Flat Crepe, $1.98
40-inch All-silk Flat Crepe, a very fine pure silk, rich, lustrous, close-woven quality. In black, white and wanted street and evening shades.

Regular $3 Satin Canton Crepes, $1.98
54-inch Satin Canton Crepes, exceptionally fine quality, firm woven and with beautiful finish. Colors include jade, fallow, tile, oak, buff, chantilly, bois de rose, Lucille, orchid, silver gray, rose, etc.

$2 Silk Foulards, $1.49
36-inch Silk Foulards, in one, two and three tone printings. Unusually beautiful designs and color combinations. Every yard strictly perfect quality.

Goldenberg's—First Floor—Charge Accounts Invited.

New Earrings 95c Pair

Special lot of Earrings, in pearl (manufactured), gold-plated, filigree and colored effects. Choice of hoop, pendant and button styles, in new and novel designs, reproductions of high-cost imported jewelry.

Goldenberg's—First Floor. Charge Accounts Invited.

$1.98 Beaded Handbags, $1.19

About 200 pieces in the assortment—beautiful Imported Belgian Beaded Bags, with metal frames, a variety of pretty, colorful, artistic designs. Oxidized silver frames in embossed designs.

Goldenberg's—First Floor. Charge Accounts Invited.

$3 All-Wool Poiret Twill $2.49

A good-looking material that adapts itself to the Spring mode, in suits, coats and dresses. 54 inches wide, strictly all-wool fine close twill grade, in gray, copen, tan, rust, beige, new blue, Lanvin green, navy and black.

Goldenberg's—First Floor. Charge Accounts Invited.

In Response to Popular Demand—Another Sale of

69c 'Silktone' Rayon Brilliantine

36 Inches Wide—In a Wealth of Beautiful Colors!

New styles—new patterns—new colors—arrive for another sale of these beautiful wash fabrics tomorrow! For Spring and Summer wear frocks made of this new "Silktone" Rayon Brilliantine are lovely and practical. A great variety of novel styles in the assortment—both plain colors, as well as stripes in light and dark grounds. Very durable quality—washes perfectly and comes from the laundry fresh as new. 36 inches wide. 49c

Regular $1 Printed Silksheen Crepes

36-inch Printed Silksheen Crepes, a superior, high-grade fabric with the richness and luster of fine grade, all-silk crepes. A varied range of new and beautiful designs and colorings of the sort which are usually shown only in the costliest crepe materials. 69c

39c Flock Voiles 25c
40-inch Flock Voiles, fine, sheer quality, with chiffon finish. Grounds of navy blue, copen, rose, orchid, tan, red and black, in new designs and small pin dots. Fast colors.

50c Pongee Silks 39c
35-inch Pongee Silks, a silk and cotton fabric, with rich, lustrous finish. In all wanted street and evening shades.

$1.50 and $2 Rayon Crepes 95c
54-inch Bordered Rayon Crepes and Crepe de Chines, in new printed designs; also Rayon Crepes, in self-color satin rayon designs. All the newest color combinations. Only requires 1½ or 1¾ yards for a dress.

59c Stripe Broadcloth, 39c
36-inch Stripe English Broadcloth, rich, lustrous yarn mercerized quality, white and colored grounds, with various color stripes. Strictly vat-dyed; colors guaranteed absolutely fast.

75c and 89c Printed Crepes 55c
36-inch Printed Crepe de Chine, a silk and cotton fabric; also Rayon Tussahs, the newest and most delightful fabrics designed for Spring and Summer wear. In new patterns and color combinations.

69c Moongleam Crepes 55c
36-inch Rayon Moongleam Crepes, rich, lustrous, silk-like rayon fabric, in a complete assortment of street and evening shades. 36 inches wide.

Goldenberg's—First Floor—Charge Accounts Invited.

$1.25 Bleached Sheets

81x90-inch Size for Double Beds

Profit by the special sale price on this new lot of 200 dozen seamless sheets and lay in an extra supply. Perfect quality sheets—made in one piece and nicely bleached; good, heavy grade of sheeting, hand torn and ironed. Full double-bed size—81x90 inches before hemming. 98c

$1.69 Bleached Sheets, $1.35
81x99 Seamless Bleached Sheets, extra length for double beds; heavy round-thread quality, free from starch or dressing.

$1 Bleached Sheets, 79c
54x90 Seamless Bleached Sheets, single-bed size; close-woven quality.

$2.50 Bedspreads, $1.98
81x90 White Dimity Bedspreads, double-bed size; standard quality.

39c Pillowcases, 29c
45x36 Bleached Pillowcases, hand torn and ironed; free from starch or dressing.

$2.50 Bedspreads, $1.79
Crochet Bedspreads, double-bed size; in heavy, raised marseille designs.

Goldenberg's—First Floor—Charge Accounts Invited.

Women's "Forest Mills"

Athletic Union Suits $1

"Forest Mills" Underwear is preferred by all women who are desirous of having their clothing fit snug and trim. These garments are cut full, yet not bulky, with just enough fullness to give comfort and ease to the wearer. Made bodice style with closed or open seat, of pink and white cross-barred muslin. Regular and extra sizes.

Women's Fine Ribbed Cotton Vests, band-top sleeveless style, others cut in bodice style; regular and extra sizes..... 25c

Goldenberg's—First Floor. Charge Accounts Invited.

The Second Week of the May Underwear Sale Brings a Remarkable Group of Beautiful Voile Undergarments

Regular $1.29 and $1.39 Values

New shipments of lovely Summer undergarments have been received for the second week of this annual event—a purchase which provides unusual savings on garments of the most desirable quality.

Thousands of dainty undergarments are gathered for this event Monday—of fine sheer voile, in a rainbow of lovely pastel shades and white. Come tomorrow and supply all your needs. 94c

VOILE GOWNS—In pastel shades of sweetpea, nile, peach, flesh and maize. Sleeveless models, with dainty Val laces and insets; square and round neck. At 94c.

VOILE TEDDIES AND CHEMISE—In a variety of adorable colors, trimmed with creamy Val. laces and insertions; others in tailored models and pleated front styles. At 94c.

VOILE STEP-INS—Showing the newest ideas in the Summer undergarments. All the wanted pastel colors. Some reinforced. Rows of Val. laces and insets. At 94c.

CREPE GOWNS—New Hand-embroidered Crepe Nightgowns, soft, fine grade, in orchid, flesh and honey. Round neck, Empire styles and with kimono sleeves. At 94c.

PORTO RICAN UNDERGARMENTS—Choice of Gowns and Teddies of beautiful lingerie cloth, in dainty designs of contrasting colors. Round and square necks. Large selection of styles. At 94c.

COSTUME SLIPS—Of white broadcloth and batiste, with double hip hems and hemstitched or lace yokes. Correct lengths. Just the garments to wear under Summery frocks. At 94c.

"Bell" Brand Blouses and Shirts

$1 and $1.25 Blouses 77c
Attached-collar Blouses, in white and fancy colored effects; also sport collar blouses, in striped effects and plain colors; sizes 6 to 16 years.

$1.50 to $2 Shirts 95c
Attached-collar and Neckband Shirts, in white, tan, blue and striped effects; good quality madras and broadcloth; sizes 12 to 14 neck measure.

Boys' Collegiate Sweaters, $1.39
(Slight Irregulars of $2.45 Grade)
800 Boys' Part-wool Collegiate Sweaters, V-shaped neck and cuff bottoms; heather mixtures in gray, tan, pink, powder blue and fancy patterns; collars with contrasting color trimming. Sizes 28 to 34.

Goldenberg's—Third Floor—Charge Accounts Invited.

Continuing Our Annual

May Sale of Umbrellas

A carefully planned event—representing several special purchases of odd lots and slight irregulars, secured from the country's best known umbrella manufacturers at great price concessions. Your best chance to buy a good umbrella at a saving.

$3.98 and $4.50 Silk Umbrellas $2.98
Women's Colored Silk Taffeta Umbrellas, superior quality, mostly with wide satin borders, in the popular ten-rib, club-end style. Navy, green, brown, purple, red, etc. Good assortment of attractive handles in enameled, fancy carved and amberite mounted styles. Finished with amber tips and club ends. Some in the 25-inch, eight-rib style, with silk cases to match.

$2.98 and $3.50 Umbrellas $1.98
Women's Umbrellas of colored and black silk-mixed gloria and piece-dyed taffeta, in the new ten-rib, club-end style. All with satin, Ottoman and taped borders. An assortment of popular colors. Well made and finished with attractive handles usually found in higher-priced umbrellas.

$1.50 and $2 Umbrellas $1.00
(Slight Irregulars)
Men's and Women's Umbrellas, an assorted lot consisting of men's American (cotton) taffetas and women's of colored fruit of the loom and black cotton gloria. Taped-edge styles, with paragon frames; good assortment of pleasing handles. Factory jobs and slight irregulars.

$6 to $10 Silk Umbrellas $4.98
Women's fine quality Colored Silk Umbrellas, popular sixteen-rib Kyoto frames, with fancy woven or Ottoman borders. All the most sought after colors. High-grade handles, including amber, enameled and carved wood effects, with amber tips and club ends.

Goldenberg's—First Floor. Charge Accounts Invited.

Spring Notion Sale

Replenish Your Needs in Standard Grades at Savings

We reserve the Right to Limit Quantities—Mail and Phone Orders Filled.

Wright's Bias Seam Tape Irregulars of 10c to 15c grades. 5c Piece

Babies' 10c Quilted Bibs 6c Each

Tintex Dyes and Tints In all colors. Two for 25c

10c Wash Cloths With fancy edge. 6c Each

Dr. Parker's Skeleton Waists Regularly 50c. 38c Each

Reddy Pins 360-count, regular 10c papers. 5c

10c Rickrack 3 and 4 yard pieces. Four for 25c

10c Tomato Pincushions 7c Each

$1.50 Full-Fashioned

Chiffon Silk Hose

Every pair full fashioned and exceptional values $1.15 Slight irregulars of silk hose always sold at $1.50 pair

These hose are made of evenly spun, lustrous thread silk, in qualities that are sold regularly at $1.50. Because of very slight irregularities they are here tomorrow at this saving price. All are full fashioned, with mercerized lisle garter tops. Good range of popular shades to select from.

Women's Cotton Hose, 19c
(Irregulars of 25c Value)
Women's Summer-weight Cotton Hose, with seamed back; all wanted shades.

Children's Short Socks, 17c
(Irregulars of 25c Grade)
Children's Short Cotton Socks, colored bodies with fancy turnover tops.

Children's Sport Socks, 39c
(Irregulars of 50c Value)
Three-quarter-length Rayon Ribbed Sport Socks, assorted shades with fancy turnover tops.

Goldenberg's—First Floor. Charge Accounts Invited.

Women's $1.75 16-Button Silk Gloves

$1.19 Pair

Gloves for wear with short-sleeve dresses—of exceptional quality Milanese silk, with double-tipped fingers and Paris point backs. Choice of black, gray, mode, pongee, beaver and white. Sizes 5½ to 8½.

Women's $1 Silk Gloves, 79c
Women's two-clasp Milanese Silk Gloves, with double-tipped fingers and Paris point backs. In gray, black, white, mode, pongee and oak. Sizes 6 to 8½.

89c Chamo-Suede Gloves, 48c
Women's Chamo-Suede Gloves, with embroidered backs and novelty cuffs in flare and turnback embroidered effects. Mode, beaver, gray, sand, brown and black. Sizes 5½ to 8.

Goldenberg's—First Floor. Charge Accounts Invited.

SMITH'S TRANSFER & STORAGE COMPANY'S MODERN FIRE-PROOF BUILDING
1313 You St. N.W. Phone North 3343

NEW CODE OF LAWS FOR VIRGIN ISLANDS IS EXPECTED SOON

Favorable Action on Senate and House Bills at This Session Seen.

By H. V. BERG,
Member of the St. Croix Colonial Council.

Legislation regarding the Virgin islands of the United States will in all probability be concluded by the adjournment of Congress unless a fanciful caprice of a few senators prevail in blocking this most needed and common sense legislation.

The chairmen of the House and Senate insular committees, after holding extensive hearings on the matter, are bending every effort to hasten legislation that would relieve the acute situation existing on the islands.

The insular committee of the Senate has concluded its hearings on a bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Frank B. Willis, of Ohio, while the bill introduced in the House by Representative Edgar R. Keiss, of Pennsylvania, is on the calendar awaiting final disposition.

Would Provide Native Council.

The pending legislation would accord the islands an insular government wherein the governor and his executive cabinet are appointed between the President and the bureau of insular affairs, the making of local laws being the province of two small elective councils of natives. A bill of rights is conveyed, the islands based largely on that of Porto Rico and the bureau of insular affairs would be their administrative department.

The proposed legislation has further merit in that it would result in considerable saving to the Federal government, which at present bears an excessive proportion of the governmental expense of these possessions.

Contrary to popular belief the Virgin islands are not executively handled by the Navy Department, although officers of the navy have been used as executives since our occupation.

A hastily passed act on entry into the war termed "temporary" is all the legislation that these possessions have received from Congress, although liberal appropriations have annually been made for governmental deficits.

Navy Fills Positions.

The present act allows the filling of executive positions by naval officers and keeps in force what may be termed the organic bill of the islands, an old Danish code of laws granted them by Denmark in the year 1863.

All powers, military, civil and judicial, are placed in the naval governor and while there are two local councils of legislative character, the old Danish law gives the governor here also complete domination. The anomally of the whole situation has resulted in a complete breakdown of the entire government and the chaotic condition there is manifest from the incidents that have taken place within the last few years.

Under the law the governor is entitled to appoint a third of the members of the councils, but while the original idea of such appointment was to represent the voteless faction of the populace, our governors have seized the opportunity to appoint their paid employes, merchants holding contracts with the government and candidates who, running for election, have been rejected at the polls.

As the natives look forward to their annual sugar crop for a source of revenue, so they look forward to the governor's crop of appointees as a source of amusement. But these appointments assumed a rather serious aspect last year when the then governor, Capt. Philip Williams, appointed officers of the custom service, officers of the local judiciary, aliens and anybody that could be found sufficiently pliable for the job. Under these circumstances the voters objected to being represented by men whom they had just rejected for the office. The Treasury Department called attention to the violation of Federal statute, and the elected faction of the council refused to sit with aliens, being a class forbidden office by congressional act.

Dissolved Assembly.

The governor, deeming these acts rank insubordination, dissolved the assembly, discharged every member from his duties and, although all participants were reelected by the voters because of their refusal to seat the illegal appointees, the island's council has not functioned for nearly a year. In the absence of an American bill of rights no lawmaker takes his oath to support the laws or Constitution of the United States and one may hold a title of nobility or be receiving an emolument from foreign state while governing the unlucky American who chances that part of his territory. Thus for many years after the United States owned the islands, the chairman of the St. Croix council was also the British consul of the island. Under these conditions is the annual appropriation given the islands by Congress expended by the American taxpayer, and perhaps there is some truth in the natives' cry that the intended benefit is in the abstract only.

As regards the judicial system there is no end of contortion and mystery, and at the present time the only resident judge on the largest island of the group, St. Croix, is held by legal authorities who owe allegiance to Denmark, having voluntarily preserved his Danish allegiance according to the treaty of sale. In fact, the same individual, who is a Danish lawyer, was sitting in the islands council when by an act of Congress he was, on account of his nationality, compelled to resign.

Appoints All Judges.

Of course, the governor appoints and discharges the judges of the courts on the island, not omitting the district court, and in this respect the following case is descriptive of the usage of power. The first judge of the district court, a Chicagoan, because he refused to shape a decision to the governor's liking, was peremptorily discharged by the governor. On his arrival at Washington the judge was mandamused by the appellate circuit court of Philadelphia to return to the islands, ascend his bench and resume his judicial duties. The naval governor, however, refused to honor the writ of the circuit court; deprived the judge of his attendants, and threatened him with incarceration in his own jail if he attempted to pursue his office.

In a recent appeal from the islands to the circuit court of Philadelphia during the argument, the presiding judge said: "I have been totally unable to find out what the law and what the situation is down there, and if nothing else can be done I am going to detail a judge of my own court down there to try to find out."

Some time ago the Treasury Department detailed an expert to investigate the banking system and economic condition of the islands, and this investigator was requested to appear before the committee of the Senate and elucidate. He exhibited coin and paper bills still the legal tender bearing the inscription and bust of the King of Denmark, the dollar in this section of America being 4 per cent less than that of a United States dollar.

Both Republicans and Democrats, however, striving to effect an organization of the government in the islands before the close of the session, there is good reason to believe that the islanders will realize a fulfillment of their hopes ere long.

Christ Church Fund Benefit to Be Held

A May Fair party will be held May 25 and 26 on one of Georgetown's oldest estates for the benefit of the Christ church building fund. Arrangements for the fair are being made by a special committee representing the rector's aid and parish house guild.

Mrs. Horace G. Torbert is chairman of the committee and Mrs. Herman Hollerith, honorary chairman. Others on the committee are Miss Emily Matthews, Mrs. Rawlins Hume, Mrs. R. L. Maxwell, Mrs. H. Kent Hewitt, Mrs. Roger Stuart, Miss Margaret Comegys, Mrs. Thomas Bradley, Mrs. John Henna and Mrs. Dorsey W. Hyde, jr.

DISTRICT NURSES ELECT.

Miss Gertrude H. Bowling Renamed President of Group.

Miss Gertrude H. Bowling was reelected president of the Graduate Nurses' association of the District at its annual meeting last week in the association club, 1337 K street northwest.

Other officers elected for the ensuing year were Miss I. Malinde Havey, vice president, Mrs. Frances M. Elzey, corresponding secretary, Miss Elizabeth Melby, recording secretary, and Miss Katherine Douglass, treasurer. Miss Elizabeth Fox and Miss Rachel Colby were elected to the board of councilors.

IT'S DESIGNED RIGHT—EVERY HART SCHAFFNER & MARX SUIT IS

Three buttons, wide shoulders and lapels, narrow hips, full tapering trousers

People look for good design in everything these days—even a vase, or a chair. You must have it in clothes. We put it there and tailor it so it stays there. The Hart Schaffner & Marx label is the sign of it

Copyright 1926 Hart Schaffner & Marx

If you haven't a charge account with us, why not apply for one?

Raleigh Haberdasher INC.
1310 F Street

A Mule for a Bride

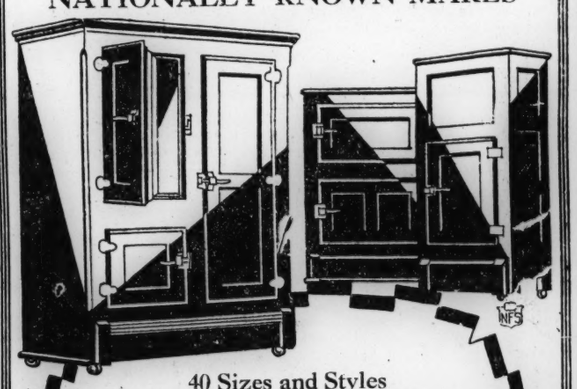

Selections from the Most Decorative to the Simplest
In all Colors
$7.00 to $14.00

A Mode by ARTCRAFT SHOES
1311 · F · STREET

Peerless Furniture Co. 829-7th St. N.W.

Tomorrow—the Day to Buy Your REFRIGERATOR AND GO-CART
SPECIAL REDUCTIONS ON STANDARD HIGH-GRADE NATIONALLY KNOWN MAKES

40 Sizes and Styles
REFRIGERATORS
For the Home and Apartment

Standard quality makes that we guarantee will cut your ice bill and preserve your food. We have the size and style that will fit in any space you desire. See our big assortment and get our low prices and terms before you buy.

Top Icers Reduced to $8.95
3-Door Side Icers Reduced to $17.50
Terms to Suit You

Baby Carriages
1926 Models for Comfort and Service

WE are famed for baby carriages—no matter what sort your baby needs—a go-cart or park stroller in all the new finishes—here is the place to get it—at less money—than any store in the city.

Doctors say to keep the babies out doors and you will keep them well.

STROLLERS
that you will be proud to wheel baby about in. Have attractive leatherette or fiber hoods and other features. Now selling as low as..... $11.95 and up

GO-CARTS
It will make you feel proud to wheel baby about in one of these go-carts, with adjustable hood, now priced as low as..... $17.50 and up

Terms Arranged For Your Convenience

Peerless FURNITURE COMPANY
Between H and Eye
829 7th St. N.W.

Make That Luncheon Appointment at
The Harrington
Special Luncheon, 75c
A la Carte If Preferred
Management FRANK MAYER

Desirable unfurnished and furnished apartments for rent in
THE DRESDEN
John W. Thompson & Co., Inc.
1636 Eye Street. Main 1477.

SECOND WEEK of Hahn's "GOLDEN JUBILEE"

Continuing the gala celebration of our Fiftieth Anniversary

3,000 prs. women's new high-grade Summer Shoes

$8.50

OVER a dozen charming new Summer fashions never before seen in Washington. Especially made for our "Golden Jubilee" by several manufacturers of our highest-grade shoes. On sale this week several dollars a pair below actual values.

Materials include Gray Rattlesnake Calf, Parchment Snake Calf, Sauterne and Parchment Kidskin, White Kidskin, Patent Leather and Black Satin. Also various combination effects. Really a most unusual opportunity on shoes of fine quality.

Hahn Women's Shop
Temporarily 1318 G St.

Also, at our 7th and K Sts. Store—our "Arcade Shop," 3212 14th Street—our "Down Town Shop," 414 9th Street—and our Baltimore Store.

Every Shoe on This Page Now Appears for the First Time

In a remarkable series of

SPECIAL EVENTS

Arranged for, months ahead, with the co-operation of our manufacturers—as their "bit" toward our 50th Anniversary

READ—and COME!

"Deauville" Sandals

Especially introduced for the "Golden Jubilee" at. $9.75

THESE dainty openwork sandals, made of interlaced strips of kidskin. Never before offered under $12.50. Special this week only at $9.75. In combinations of gray and black, red and white, blue and gray. All white kid.

Hahn Women's Shop
Temporarily 1318 G St.

"Patches"

Another exclusive novelty for our "Golden Jubilee" at. $5.95

PATCHES of Tan Lizard and Parchment Snake Calf on Parchment Kid. Parchment Snake or Gray Kid on Patent Leather. A dashing, daring novelty that you will love. And especially priced, $5.95 pair!

Hahn SHOES
At all Our Stores Except The "Woman's Shop"

A Big Event for MEN!

A Sale of 2,500 Prs. High-Grade Oxfords MADE IN ENGLAND

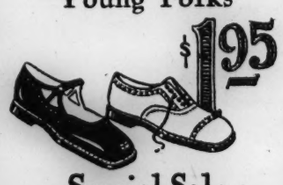

THESE Shoes were ordered last Fall for delivery in January. But the manufacturers, Simon Collier, Ltd., of Northampton, England, didn't get them here on time. Rather than have them sent back they authorized us to place these

Regular $8 and $9 Shoes in the "Golden Jubilee" Sales at $6.45

REAL British Shoes, which, as you know, lead the world for long wear and comfort. But you may not like the styles—for the Britishers' idea of "Pep" in shoes is quite different from ours. Wonderfully well made Oxfords, in Black and Tan Willow Calf, full leather lined—Tan Pebbled Grain, English Bluchers—and full wing tip Brogues.

Hahn SHOES
7th & K
414 9th St. 233 Pa. Ave. S.E.
3212 14th St. 1914-16 Pa. Ave.
"Man's Shop"—14th & G

"Jubilee" Events for Young Folks

$1.95

Special Sale

FIVE hundred pairs school and dress shoes, for girls and small boys. Regular $3 and $3.50 grades, made for this Sale, and offered at nearly Half Price!

Patent or tan oxfords.
Patent or white pumps.
Sizes 8½ to 2, $1.95

$1.19

"KEDS"

ANOTHER special purchase boys' and girls' brown or white "Keds" Tennis Bals. With black ankle patches. All sizes from child's 9 to young men's size 10 ..... $1.19

And many other special offerings in children's shoes, suitable for coming May events.

Hahn SHOES
At all our stores (except 1318 G St. and Cor. 14th and G)

Through the Co-operation of 4 other factories we place on Sale—in another Group

6,500 Prs. Women's Summer Shoes

Patent Leather Black Satin | Sauterne Kid Bois de Rose Trim | Parchment Kid Sauterne Trim | Patent Leather Spike Heel | Sauterne Kid Round Cut-outs

Patent Leather Parchment Trim Japanese Tassel | Gray Kid with Darker Gray Trim | Patent Leather Black Satin | Parchment Kid Spike Heel | Patent Leather Lattice Cut-outs

SALE!

$4.50

A BIG event from every angle! The styles, the values and the savings. Four of our largest manufacturers—anxious to help along our "50th Anniversary" in a substantial way—made it possible. Made up these Shoes for this Sale—at a deep price concession. 20 new styles. All brand-new. All sizes 2½ to 8, AA to C. All wonderful values! At only $4.50 pair!

Hahn SHOES
7th and K
3212 14th St. 233 Pa. Ave. S.E.
414 9th St. 1914-16 Pa. Ave.
Not at "Women's Shop"

Other Events for Women

SALE!

Women's Rayon Boudoir Slippers

PRETTILY trimmed, quilted "Rayon" satin, with soft, padded chrome soles. In Black, American Beauty, Old Rose and Copenhagen. Regularly at 95c and up to $1.25. Special for the "Golden Jubilee" this week at..... 69c

Sales Sports Hose

500 pairs "Onyx" women's novelty silk-and-lisle Sports Hose, in very attractive patterns. Generally priced $2.50. This week, for the "Golden Jubliee" at $1.45

WOMEN'S Smart Lisle Sports Hose, in check and ribbed designs, regularly $1. Special this week... 79c

And other special values at all our "Stocking Shops."

Hahn SHOES
At all our stores

NATIONAL CAPITAL HORSE SHOW OPENS FRIDAY FOR 4 DAYS

More Than 300 Exhibitors From 12 States Attracted by Classic.

WASHINGTON ENTRIES PROMISE GOOD SHOWING

Maj. Gen. Rockenbach to Be Host; Distinguished Guests to Attend.

Promised four days of sunshine by the weather man, the National Capital horse show opens Friday at Arlington Park, Va., for one of the most brilliant meets in the history of the 16-year-old association.

The tanbark classic has attracted more than 300 exhibitors from a dozen States. Entries are listed from as far west as Hollywood, Calif.

Challenged by the out-of-town equine blue bloods, local horsemen and horsewomen have responded to a man—and horse. The Washington entries are unusually interesting and promise the visitors a lively contest for the honors of the show.

Among the Maryland and Virginia exhibitors horse show fans will recognize the names of Mrs. Allen Potts, of Gordonsville, Va.; Louis Leith, Middleburg, Va.; Mrs. Augustus Riggs, Cooksville, Md.; C. Oliver Iselin, jr., Middleburg; Waugh Glascock, Upperville, and a host of others.

Among the newcomers on the local tanbark will be Louis S. Lambert, of Baltimore; O. H. Lehman, Chicago; Charles V. B. Cushman, Pomfret, Conn., and Howard Brady, Baltimore.

Distinguished Guests.

In the absence of Admiral Cary T. Grayson, president, Maj. Gen. Samuel Rockenback will act as host for the show. The President and Mrs. Coolidge have signified their entention of attending at least one afternoon's performance. Secretary of War Davis is a horse show fan and boxes have been taken by distinguished members of social, diplomatic and official circles.

Col. William Mitchell, always a favorite of the show fans, is making his first appearance in Washington as "Mr." Mitchell. He has a number of entries and all of them are horses new to his stables and the Washington tanbark.

Among the Washington exhibitors are Brig. Gen. Lutz, Brig. Gen. Wahl, Col. Robert M. Thompson, Admiral Cary T. Grayson, Assistant Attorney General William Donovan, Eugene Meyer, jr., Melvin Hazen, Mrs. E. B. McLean, Maj. C. L. Scott, Maj. Edward Roth, G. Bryan Pitts, Ira Floyd Letts, Miss Faith Adams, Herman Albek, Allendale Farms, Miss Lydia Archibold, Fred Buchholz, Capt. Jess G. Bayken, William Barr, C. H. Carrico, Robert B. Choate, Quinten L. Comer, Norman Clarke, Mrs. James F. Curtis, Master Frazer Curtis, Miss Laura Curtis, Lieut. H. F. Councill, Mrs. Oscar Coolican, Maj. C. R. Chaffee, Edmund Carpenter, Roland Dawson, Mrs. Deborah Dow, Miss Priscilla Dove, Richard Essex, Lieut. George G. Elnos, Lieut. L. W. Feagin, Sherman Flint, and J. Dallas Grady.

Capt. James B. Golden, Mrs. E. T. Goodman, Major C. P. George, Samuel J. Henry, William Ross Hubbard, Miss Elaine Hirschman, Miss Anna F. Hedrick, Miss Nancy P. Hanna, Miss Elizabeth Jackson, Capt. John H. Irving, Miss Harriet Kincheloe, J. C. Love, Dr. F. C. Montuori, Miss Georgia Mooser, Miss Persis C. Meyers, Raymond Norton, Lieut. Victor P. Noyers, Elliott Wade Phillips, E. M. Palmer, Mrs. Ambrose Preece, Miss Maude Preece, G. P. Plummer, Maj. Cortland Parker, Capt. V. L. Padgett, John W. Pitney, jr., Miss Margaret Rowland, Riding and Hunt club, G. W. Rust, Miss M. M. Steven, First Sergt. Jesse W. Snyder, Francis X. Sommer, jr., Lieut. Fred D. Sharpe, Capt. J. C. Underwood, Maj. J. Stephen, Miss Evelyn Walker, Wardman Park, Saddle club, Capt. Steele Wotkyns and Capt. Royden Williamson.

As the horse show association's lease of Arlington park has expired, it is improbable that any further shows will be held on the old grounds.

Chrysler Prices Cut From $50 to $200

Detroit, Mich., May 8.—Walter P. Chrysler, president of the Chrysler corporation, today announced the most remarkable price reductions in the history of his company effective at midnight tonight. These reductions are on the six-cylinder "70" model and range from $50 to $200. Mr. Chrysler adds to his announcement that in the accomplishment of these lower prices there is absolutely no change in engineering or manufacturing specifications or in equipment, but that the reductions have been made possible by a tremendous increase in the company's six-cylinder production. Retail deliveries of the Chrysler "70" for the first quarter have been 31 per cent greater than for the same period a year ago, with orders on hand assuring even greater increases in the coming quarters.

MOVEMENTS OF STEAMSHIPS

New York, May 8.

ARRIVED SATURDAY.

Volendam, from Rotterdam.

REPORTED BY RADIO.

Sierra Ventana, from Bremen, due at Sixth street, Hoboken, Sunday.

Adriatic, from Liverpool, due at pier 60, North river, Sunday.

Samaria, from Liverpool, due at pier 56, North river, Monday.

United States, from Copenhagen, due at Seventeenth street, Hoboken, Monday.

Ohio, from Southampton, due at pier 42, North river, Monday.

Estonia, from Danzig, due at pier 8, Brooklyn, Monday.

Tuscania, from Glasgow, due at pier 56, North river, Monday.

Majestic, from Southampton, due at pier 59, North river, Tuesday.

Colombo, from Genoa, due at pier North river, Tuesday.

FORCED RETURN OF FENNING FEES IS CONSIDERED LIKELY

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.)

of section 654 of the District code which makes it a misdeameanor for any insurance company or agent to give a rebate, it was contended. Commissions could only be given to licensed agents, it was contended, and inasmuch as his wards are not licensed agents, they cannot receive the commissions.

Court Decisions Cited.

As against this Maj. Davis G. Arnold, head of the guardianship service of the Veterans' Bureau, cited the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of McGruder vs. Drury, 235.

"It makes no difference," the decision said, "that the estate was not a loser, or that the amount charged was no more than is usually charged. It was the relation of the trustee for the estate that prevented him from making a profit for himself."

W. A. Edgar, vice president and agency director of the bond company, testified that the company would not have permitted Mr. Fenning to give the commissions to his wards. When Maj. Arnold pointed out that when Mr. Fenning writes a bond he writes it for himself, Mr. Edgar said:

"We would not license a man for the expressed purpose of having him write bonds for his own risk; there are a great many laws which would prevent it and there is a strong code of ethics against it. We do, however, take care of the incidental business in which our agents may be fiduciaries."

Mr. Fenning, before the House District subcommittee, testified that the bonding company had procured a license for him solely to take care of the business in his office. The committee was trying to develop what bearing the commissioner's insurance connections might have on his official duties.

System Changed.

For three months after he established relations with the bonding company, Mr. Fenning testified, and so did Lee B. Mosher, manager of the company's local office, it was the practice for Mr. Fenning to deduct his commission before forwarding the premium to the company. But a different system was adopted. Now after the court has approved a charge against the ward's estate for Mr. Fenning's bond, he forwards the full amount to the company, and subsequently his 25 per cent commission comes back.

It is necessary for the commissioner to intercept this commission on its return voyage, he contended, for to permit it to continue on to the ward would be in violation of the rebate interdiction.

Mr. Millan pointed out that the premise in the Magruder-Drury decision differed from Mr. Fenning's case and cited several State decisions to support his contention that Mr. Fenning's dual practice was not illegal. He discussed both the "moral" and "legal" aspects of the case.

The commissioner does not profit from the ward's estate, he contended, but receives his bond commission for services as an agent. The rate schedules of the different surety companies are uniform, he argued, and the court would prevent the guardian from bonding himself unnecessarily in order that he would receive remuneration from the sale of the bond.

Claims "Little Flexibility."

Mr. Edgar testified that there is but "little flexibility" in the competitive rate schedules.

Mr. Fenning, were he not an agent for the company, Mr. Millan argued, would have to take his bonds to some company and the agent of that company would receive the commission.

Attorney Joseph Gans, of New York, who appeared as attorney for Adolph Adler, one of Mr. Fenning's wards, around whom the hearing revolved, said the law is so plain on the subject that he did not care to answer Mr. Millan's argument. Maj. Arnold was granted until Wednesday to make answer, after which time the auditor will make his recommendation to the court.

Adler has been in New York for several years. Transfer of guardianship to the boy's father has now been arranged and Mr. Fenning is making his final accounting. Inasmuch as his account, the usual form and asking for the usual fee is pending, it was decided to make a test case of it.

The whole proceeding is a civil one, although it is possible for criminal action to grow out of it. Mr. Blanton claims the commissioner is criminally liable under section 841 of the District code. This phase would turn on a charge that Mr. Fenning reported to the court a certain amount for a bond, $40 for example, whereas the bond was costing him 25 per cent less.

Prison Term Possible.

Conviction under this statute would vitiate all the fees Mr. Fenning had received in the case and subject him to a maximum imprisonment of 10 years in the penitentiary.

Mr. Millan and Mr. Fenning contested any effort to go beyond the Adler case at the hearing. The auditor accordingly restricted the hearing to this case but did allow considerable latitude in this sphere. For instance, he permitted questions concerning previous accounts pertaining to Adler. Bearing on the restricted nature of the hearing, too, was the fact that all the stenographic and other service incident to it, is charged against Adler's estate.

If the auditor rules against the commissioner and is upheld by the court, however, Adler will stand to recover the bond commissions.

Both Maj. Arnold and Mr. Gans sought to get Mr. Fenning to itemize his services performed for Adler, but the commissioner stuck to the "composite picture" which he held out to his congressional critics.

Maj. Arnold tried to develop whether the commissioner should charge as much for Adler, in New York, as he would for a patient in St. Elizabeths Hospital.

"If he had bene at St. Elizabeths do you not consider he would have been of more trouble to you?" Maj. Arnold asked.

Calls Answer Impossible.

"No insane ward can be of any 'trouble' to the proper fiduciary," Mr. Fenning fenced, and then when they got together on the word "trouble," Mr. Fenning insisted he was being asked a question which it was impossible to answer.

"Nobody can say the amount of service he would have required to give had be been situated other than he is," the commissioner contended.

Maj. Arnold then sought to introduce a record, showing that while the commissioner may consider the service performed varies with each case, his charges were uniformly 10 per cent. Auditor Davis ruled that it was needless to encumber the record.

Maj. Arnold developed that since the last accounting in the Adler case, approximately 50 letters had been exchanged between Mr. Fenning and other persons regarding the ward. A great bulk of the letters were in the nature of routine and acknowledgments.

Maj. Arnold asked him if he did not think $101, which he is asking, was not excessive. Mr. Fenning insisted that it was not.

Traveling Expenses Included.

Mr. Gans, looking into previous accounts, found that Mr. Fenning had included a charge of $45 for his traveling expenses when he went to New York to visit his ward. Mr. Fenning explained that this was really but half the expenses of the trip. It was his custom to visit his wards when he had other business nearby, he said, and to assess the ward only half the expenses of the trip.

Mr. Blanton and Maj. Arnold both appeared in Chief Justice McCoy's chambers in connection with the order transferring Roley Lee. The boy's mother was also present. The chief justice, after assuring himself that the proper papers were in hand, signed the order willingly.

The veterans' bureau plans to send an attendant with the boy, it was said. There has been no questioning his mental illness, but it was Mr. Blanton's contention that if his mother wanted him home he should be permitted to go there.

COMMITTEE NAMED ON DECORATION DAY

Dr. A. P. Stokes Heads Body on Arrangements for Open Air Service.

Dr. Anson Phelps Stokes has been appointed chairman of a committee to handle the arrangements for the great open air patriotic and religious service to be held in the amphitheater at Washington Cathedral May 30 at 4 o'clock. Dr. Stokes will be assisted by the Rev. C. T. Warner, Maj. Gen. Grote Hutcheson, U. S. A., retired, and Leonard C. Roy.

The following subcommittee chairmen have been selected: The Rev. G. W. Atkinson, choir; the Rev. D. Wellington Curran, church cooperation, H. D. Amiss, lay cooperation; Maj. Gen. Hutcheson, marshal and grounds; Edgar Priest, music; the Rev. C. E. Buck, personal aid; Leonard C. Roy, publicity; G. R. Wales, reserved seats; M. O. Chance, transportation, and Dr. L. W. Glazebrook, ushers.

This will be the first amphitheater meeting since 1923 when more than 25,000 people heard the sermon of Bishop Freeman and Senator George Wharton Pepper, of Pennsylvania, on the occasion of the presentation of the National Service Flag to the cathedral by the brotherhood of St. Andrew of the Episcopal Church. The first meeting of the committee will be held Thursday afternoon.

WESTERN HIGH TO GET BOONE TRAIL MARKER

School Is Nearest Path of Pioneer on Trip From Pennsylvania.

The 360th Boone trail marker will be presented at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning to students of Western High school by the Boone Trail Highway association. The marker will be received in the name of the school children of Washington.

Western was selected for the gift because it is located nearest the trail followed by Boone on his way from Pennsylvania. Ezra Meeker, aged pioneer of the West, will take part in the presentation ceremonies. He is now 96 years old.

Presentation will be made by J. Hampton Rich, managing director of the association, and Representative and Mrs. Thatcher, of Kentucky, will take part in the presentation. The public will be admitted to the presentation ceremonies.

College Biological Club Holds Outing

The Georgetown University Biological club held its annual picnic yesterday on Observatory hill. A picnic lunch, prepared by the Rev. Francis Tondorf, and other faculty members, was preceded by a baseball game between sophomore and freshman members of the club.

The freshmen won 7 to 6, Mickler pitching and Alexander catching for the sophomores; and Dyer pitching and McManus catching for the freshmen.

Rockville Marriage Licenses.

Licenses have been issued in Rockville for the marriage of Clarence Manuel, 40 years old, of Washington, and Mrs. Frances Ella Holmes, 40, of Bethesda, Md., and Henry T. McQuaide, 24, of Pittsburgh, and Miss Mary Genevieve Houston, 23, of Washington.

LANSBURGH & BRO.

7th to 8th to E—FAMOUS FOR QUALITY SINCE 1860—Franklin 7400

Do You Know—

That Lansburgh & Bro. is the only downtown ticket office for Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus? 8th St. entrance, nearest E.

Values! May Sale of Silks

Cretonne Pillows

For the Summer Porch, the Swing or Canoe—Very Special! 79c

Brilliant colors on dark backgrounds—are so effective and so comfortable. You can buy many, for the price is absurdly low, and the designs are delightfully varied.

Round, oval, oblong or half-moon shapes with plain corners and puffed ends.

FOURTH FLOOR, ART DEPT.

Linen Specials

That you will be wise to buy for wedding gifts — unusual values!

64-in. Mercerized Damask, in a large variety of floral designs. Usually 90c a yard, but special, Monday 75c

23x23 in. Mercerized Dinner Napkins, hemmed ready for use. An exceptional opportunity of savings. Dozen $2.90

17-in. Damask Napkins, fully bleached, hemstitched. Doz. $4.00

17-in. Bleach Hemstitched Damask Napkins, several designs, excellent quality. Dozen $4.00

Silver Bleach Damask Sets, a good assortment of patterns. 54x70-in. cloth and 6 napkins $3.85

THIRD FLOOR, LANSBURGH & BRO.

Half Hour Frocks

Semi-made—you need but half an hour to finish them—very smart, indeed.

The Nanette Robe is a rayon and cotton mixture, in 10 lovely color combinations. Silky looking, attractive—and washable $2.95

Voile Frocks cool, crisp and dainty, white grounds with colored border effects. A number of shades $1.50

Diana Robes, fine mercerized tub suiting, guaranteed fast colors. With modern art prints $1.00

THIRD FLOOR, LANSBURGH & BRO.

Girls Summer Dresses

In White and a Gay Assortment of Dainty Colors

$5.00

Charming little frocks for the miss of 7 to 14—with their ruffles and frills of lace exquisite medallion inserts of lace. Of voile, silk and cotton crepe, pongee and tub silk.

A number of becoming styles and a full assortment of the delicate pastel shades that are so cool-looking for Summer.

FOURTH FLOOR, LANSBURGH & BRO.

"Deauville" Sandal

—Smart Looking! New! Different!

The style that all French resorts are making much of, for it is so distinctive and new, so utterly comfortable.

One style, in white leather with perforations on the top of the foot. Here, too, the sole is a single piece of leather; low Cuban heel $10

Another style of woven leather thongs, with a sole that is a single piece of soft leather, like the sole of a moccasin, flat heel; in tan calf $8.50

SECOND FLOOR, LANSBURGH & BRO.

Our Usual $2.25 Grade of

40-In. Pure Dye Washable FLAT CREPE

$1.98 Yd.

The above information, plus your knowledge of L. & B. silk quality should be sufficient to bring you down for a generous supply—for various garments in your summer wardrobe. These delightful shades:

Ivory	Marine	Champagne	Zinc	June Rose
White	Sand	Meerschaum	Brittany	Coral Sands
Flesh	Honeydew	Navy	Gobelin	Fern
Pink	Conch Shell	Old Rose	Midnight	Hollyberry
Maize	Orchid	Chantilly	Marie Antoinette	Garnet
Nile	Turquoise	Jade	Palmetto	Brown
Peach	Coral	Crystal	Sunni	Black

40-In. Printed Crepe de Chine

$1.79

Choose from over 75 beautiful patterns and colorings—for women's and children's frocks, slips to wear beneath georgette dresses, scarfs, etc.

32-In. Plain or Striped Silk Broadcloth

$1.88

Ideal for summer frocks that require frequent tubbings—for the pretty colors are absolutely fast. A beautiful quality.

54-Inch Bordered Silk Crepes

$2.65

A new selection of charming colors and designs at this very unusual price! These gorgeous prints make up most effectively and economically. Light, as well as dark colorings—a rich choice.

Usual $4.50 54-In. Black Satin Crepe

$2.98

A handsome, rich-looking quality, with satin face, and crepe back; may be used effectively on either side.

32-In. All-Silk Japanese Pongee

75c

All first quality, standard 12 momie weight, that launders and wears so well—and has so many uses. In the natural tan shade only

Usual $4.50 Printed Pussy Willow

$3.85

One of the loveliest weaves ever made—Shown in all the new color combinations — in brilliant or conservative designs.

SILK DEPT., THIRD FLOOR

Unusually Fine Sheets for Double and Twin Beds

Constitute Something of a Value for Monday Selling —Only 600 in the Lot, and the Price Is

$1.39

With the soft, fine texture that is delightful to the touch—the fine appearance that you will delight to use on guest beds—and the firm quality that will resist repeated washings!

We quote no comparative prices—for to the woman who knows values, the savings will be self evident! 81x90 and 72x99 in sizes.

81x90 In. Seamless Sheets, Special, 89c ea.

An excellent sheet for Summer use—light in weight but extremely durable. Good quality, smooth, flawless muslin.

36-in. Unbleached Sea Island Cotton, perfect quality, free from spots. Yard 12½c

42x36 and 45x36 In. Pillowcases, Sp'l, 25c

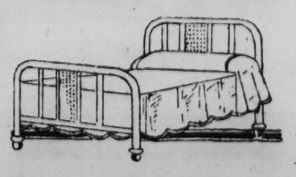

These excellent quality pillowcases are made straight with the selvedge, of muslin free from dressing, perfect quality.

36-in. Fine Longcloth, in mill lengths from 2 to 10 yards long. 25c value for 18c

THIRD FLOOR, LANSBURGH & BRO.

Simmons Cane Panel Bed

Complete with Simmons spring and good cotton mattress $21.95

How much more attractive a room looks with a bed that is really a decorative piece of furniture—how much more comfortable when the bed is a Simmons!

This particular style is a very exceptional value, rich brown finish. 3 ft. 3 in. and 4 ft. 6 in. sizes.

The bed without springs and mattress $10

Two Simmons Graceline Beds

One pictured—in American Walnut or Mahogany finish. Complete with springs and cotton mattress $26.90

Simple, all metal beds that are as durable as they are attractive. In two sizes—3 ft. 3 in. and 4 ft. 6 in.

Same beds without springs and mattresses $15.00

THIRD FLOOR, LANSBURGH & BRO.

Graduate McCormick Medical College Eyes Examined Glasses Fitted
DR. CLAUDE S. SEMONES
Eyesight Specialist
409-410 McLachlen Bldg.
10th and G Sts. N.W.

Sherwood Forest
On the Severn River
FURNISHED BUNGALOWS FOR RENT
Two Golf Courses
Excellent Bathing
Via Bladensburg and Defense Highway, 28 Miles
1206 18th St. N.W.
Main 7523
Or, when downtown, "Ask Mr. Foster"

Give Your Feet a Chance!
Your feet demand room to expand, just like your chest. Flexible arch Ground Grippers will make and keep your feet healthy.
Give your feet a chance
With Ground Gripper SHOES
The Most Comfortable Shoe In The World
For Men Women and Children

Foot Specialist Always in Attendance.
STACH'S
GROUND GRIPPER SHOE SHOPPE
1315 E St. N.W. Main 6882
Next to National Theater.

L. L. PERKINS
I BOND YOU
United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co.
Phone M. 913. Southern Bldg.

CAMPS CAMPS

Camp Highland Lake on the Crest of Blue Ridge, in "The Land of the Sky," about 2,300 feet elevation
Near Hendersonville, N. C.
Beautiful environment and splendid equipment

SALVAGES the waste of the long hot vacation and opens new windows in a boy's soul, gives the timid lad bigger powers, more heroic mold, quicker step, redder blood, larger lungs, firmer muscles, stouter legs, brighter mind, self-reliance. Adds leadership, poise, grace, scholarship to the brainy boy. Revitalizes the weak boy,

The safest, happiest summer for every lad

Summer session of Georgia Military Academy
July 5 to August 28
Catalog on request
Col. J. C. Woodward, Pres. College Park, Ga.

TRAVEL TRAVEL

DELIGHTFUL SUMMER TOURS

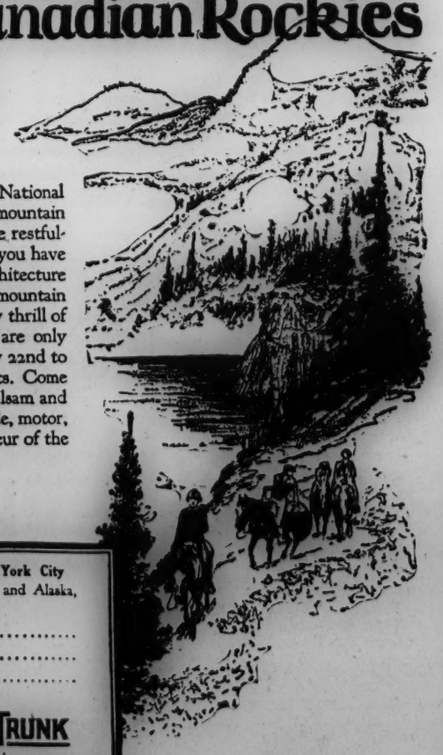

NATIONAL PARKS CANADIAN ROCKIES CALIFORNIA and the SCENIC WEST

Spend your Summer vacation visiting the magnificent Rockies, the Grand Canyon and the Wondrous West. Mighty National Parks, the Yellowstone, Yosemite, Glacier, Crater Lake and others have unfailing attraction for adventurous spirits. Escorted leisurely tours, under expert American Express guidance during July and August. Numerous itineraries; frequent departures.

Send for booklet now
AMERICAN EXPRESS
Travel Department
1331 G St. N.W., Main 1200, Ext. 106, Wash., D. C.
D. P. Aub is now Resident Manager of the Washington, D. C., area, and a 'phone call to him will receive immediate attention.
Always Carry American Express Travelers Cheques

TRAVEL TRAVEL TRAVEL

To Jasper National Park
The gem of the Canadian Rockies and return
$111.95

IN Jasper's 4400 square miles (largest National Park in the world)—there are many mountain peaks that none have scaled. If you like the restfulness and charm of a delightful resort-hotel, you have it in Jasper Park Lodge—a model of rustic architecture with outlook over lake, forest and towering mountain peaks. Every phase of summer sport—every thrill of Alpine life—and the rates at the Lodge are only $6.50 a day up, American plan. Open May 22nd to Sept. 30th. Accommodation for 400 guests. Come and fill your lungs with the scent of the balsam and feast your eyes upon mountain scenery. Ride, motor, swim, golf or hike—amid the purple grandeur of the Canadian Rockies.

Jasper Golf Week, Sept. 11th to 18th.

C. E. JENNEY, G. A. P. D., 505 Fifth Ave., New York City
Please send me your booklets on Jasper National Park and Alaska, also tourist map of Canada.
Name.....
Street.....
City.....State.....

CANADIAN NATIONAL-GRAND TRUNK
The Largest Railway System in America
100-180R1

EDUCATION COUNCIL TO TAKE INDUSTRIAL FIRMS AS MEMBERS

Cooperation Sought for Proper Placing of Young People in Employment.

BARNARD COLLEGE DEAN IS CHAIRMAN OF BODY

Budget of $214,000 for Next Year Is Approved at Session.

Industry and education will cooperate henceforth in the training and proper placing of young men and women as the result of a constitutional amendment adopted yesterday at the ninth annual meeting of the American Council on Education.

The council, which is composed of eighteen national educational organizations, amended its constitution so as to admit industrial firms to membership on the same footing with colleges and universities.

Dr. C. R. Mann, director of the council, in discussing the significance of the amendment, said: "A major problem today is the selection of the right man for the right job and fitting him for that job. We are having representatives of industry come into the council so that they may tell us just what the various workers are required to do. Possessed of these 'job specifications,' the teachers and professors can train their students accordingly. At the same time, the industrial men will learn from the teachers just what methods they use in determining the fitness of a student for a particular job.

Not to Train Students.

"This move does not mean that the representatives of industry are going to tell the schools how to train young men or young women. Nor does it mean that the schools will attempt to dictate to industry. What it does is to link the world's work with the schools for the mutual benefit of all—the schools, industry and the student."

Dean Virginia C. Gildersleeve, of Barnard college, was elected chairman of the council. Others elected were Dean H. V. Ames, University of Pennsylvania, vice president; R. N. Hughes, president of Miami university, Oxford, Ohio, secretary; Corcoran Thom, American Security & Trust Co., treasurer; executive committee, Canon Anson Phelps Stokes, Institute of International Education, and R. J. Condon, president of the department of superintendent of the National Education association.

A budget of $214,000 was approved for the next year.

Financing Cause Of Building Costs

Methods of financing construction of small "tailor-made homes" and apartment houses and misuse of lien laws are largely responsible for the high ultimate cost of building today, according to leaders in the conference which opens here tomorrow under the auspices of the Associated General Contractors of America.

The conference will devote its attention to practices felt to be responsible for excessive costs sustained by the building public and governmental agencies. The conference will also consider the use of standard contract forms, arbitration provisions, surety bonding practices, seasonal operations, the day labor system and accident prevention.

AT THE CHESS TABLE

By WILLARD H. MUTCHLER.

The club championship tournament at present in progress at the Capital City Chess club, American building, is virtually concluded. Pasch emerged the victor and the holder of the titular honors for the ensuing year by defeating Zatz with a pretty specimen of combinational play. The victory was well earned, such strong opponents as Cabot, Bettinger and Sournin being forced to the background as the winner went through the entire list without the loss of a single game, Sournin alone being able to draw with him.

Sournin, who was conceded the probable winner at the start of hostilities, lost to Bettinger and drew with both Cabot and Pasch. Cabot also played excellent chess and lost but one game, that with Pasch, and drew with Sournin, winning the remainder. Bettinger bowed to both Cabot and Pasch, but defeated all of his remaining opponents.

Sournin won from Hesse during the last week and the chess committee announced that Bell had automatically been withdrawn from the affair for failure to conform with his schedule. This leaves but two games to be completed, namely, Lane vs. Roberts, which now stands adjourned, and Cabot vs. Stevenin, which has an important bearing on the distribution of second and third prizes. The standing of the participants is appended.

Player.	Won	Lost	Player	Won	Lost
Pasch	8½	½	Bishop	3	6
Cabot	6½	1½	Hesse	3	6
Bettinger	7	2	Lane	2	6
Sournin	7	2	Roberts	2	6
Zatz	4	5	Stevenin	0	8

The change in the scores of Lane, Bishop and Stevenin is caused by the withdrawal of Bell's games which is made necessary, inasmuch as he failed to complete one-half of his schedule.

Announcement of Dobkin's forfeit to Jeffers and the scoring of the Jeffers-Lambert and C. W. Stark-Stevenin parties by the chess committee as drawn also brought the prize tournament to a close. Bell, as previously announced, carried off first honors. The outstanding features of the tournament was the excellent play of three of its youngest entrants, Bell and Hesse, and more particularly Martin Stark. This youngster's display of skill was a revelation to the great majority of chess followers, and present indications are that his future play will bear close following.

The final standing of the players is as follows:

Player.	Won.	Lost.
Bell	12	3
Hesse	11½	3½
Lambert	10½	4½
Burch	10	5
M. Stark	10	5
Zatz	10	5
Jeffers	9½	5½
Bishop	8½	6½
C. W. Stark	8	6
Rosedale	7½	7½
Fouts	6	8
Gleason	6	9
Bolgiano	3½	11½
Stevenin	3½	11½
Dobkin	3	12
Llera	½	14½

Officials of the Federal-American National Bank building request that their old building, located at 1317 F street northwest, be referred to hereafter simply as the American building, to avoid confusion between that and their new abode. The local chess club, as is known, is located in what is now known as the American building.

Penn U. Team to Visit.

The University of Pennsylvania's chess team has requested the local club to permit them to come to this city on Saturday, May 22, to meet local experts in a match of ten boards. Under the leadership of J. Channing Ellery, their president, they should afford strenuous opposition for the local "cracks." A favorable reply has been sent by the Capital City officials and the further details will be published as they are decided.

FRENCH DEFENSE.

A. Pasch White.	B. Zatz. Black.
1. P—K4	P—K3
2. P—KB4	P—Q4
3. Kt—QB3	Kt—KB3
4. P—K5	Kt—Q2
5. Kt—B3	P—QB4
6. B—Kt5	Kt—QB3
7. BxKt	PxB
8. Castles	B—R3
9. P—Q3	P—B5
10. P—Q4	P—QB4
11. B—K3	R—QKt
12. R—Kt	B—K2
13. Q—Q2	Castles
14. Q—B2	Q—B2
15. KR—Q	P—B3
16. Q—Kt3	R—Kt2
17. P—B6	PxKP
18. PxKP	Kt—B3
19. KtxKP	B—Q3
20. R—KB	R(Kt2)—Kt
21. RxKt	RxR
22. KtxQP	R—KKt3
23. KtxQ	RxQ
24. KtxB	RxB
25. KtxR	BxKt(Kt)
26. P—K7	RxKt
27. PxR	K—B2
28. R—K	KxP
29. P—K6	B—B5
30. P—KR3	B—Kt4
31. K—B2	B—R5,ch
32. P—Kt3	B—B3
33. P—B3	K—Q3
34. K—B3	P—QR4
35. P—QR4	B—Q
36. P—KKt4	K—K2
37. K—B4	B—B2,ch
38. K—B5	B—Kt6
39. R—K2	B—B2
40. P—Kt5	B—Kt6
41. P—Kt6	P—R3
42. R—K4	B—B2
43. RxP	P—Q3
44. R—R4	K—B
45. K—K4	B—K2
46. R—B4,ch	K—Kt
47. R—B7	B—B3
48. RxB	PxR
49. P—K7	Resigns

QUEEN'S GAMBIT DECLINED.

A. F. Lane White	B. Zatz Black
1. P—Q4	P—Q4
2. P—QB4	P—QB3
3. PxP	PxP
4. Kt—QB3	Kt—QB3
5. Kt—B3	Kt—B3
6. B—Kt5	P—K3
7. P—K3	B—K2
8. B—Q3	Castles
9. R—QB	Q—Kt3
10. P—QKt3	B—Q2
11. Castles	QR—B
12. Kt—K5	Q—Q
13. B—Kt	B—R6
14. KtxKt	BxKt
15. R—B2	R—K
16. P—B4	P—QKt3
17. Q—Q3	P—Kt3
18. Kt—Kt5	BxKt
19. QxB	B—K2
20. KR—B	RxR
21. RxR	Kt—Kt5
22. BxB	QxB
23. Q—K2	P—KR4
24. P—KR3	Kt—B3
25. R—B8	K—Kt2
26. Q—K	Q—Kt5
27. Q—QB	R—K2
28. P—R3	Q—Q8
29. R—B6	Q—Q2
30. B—Q3	Q—Kt2
31. B—Kt5	Kt—K
32. K—B2	P—B3
33. K—K2	RxR
34. QxR	QxQ
35. BxQ	Kt—Q3
36. K—B3	K—B3
37. P—KKt4	PxP ch
38. PxP	K—K2
39. K—K2	K—Q
40. P—R4	P—R3
41. P—Kt4	K—B2
42. P—QKt5	P—R4
43. K—B4	K—Q
44. K—K2	Kt—B
45. P—K4	Kt—K2
46. PxP	PxP
47. B—Kt7	K—B2
48. B—R6	Kt—Kt
49. K—B3	Kt—B3
50. P—Kt5	Kt—K5
51. K—Kt4	Kt—B6
52. P—B5	KtxRP
53. PxP	PxP
54. K—B4	Kt—B6
55. K—Q3	Kt—K5
56. Resigns

IRREGULAR OPENING.

C. W. Stark White.	M. K. Rosedale Black.
1. P—Q4	Kt—KB3
2. P—QB4	P—K3
3. B—Kt5	P—B4
4. Kt—QB3	PxP
5. QxB	Kt—B3
6. Q—Q2	B—Kt5
7. BxKt	QxB
8. P—K3	Castles
9. B—Q3	R—K
10. KKt—K2	Kt—K4
11. Castles	Q—R5
12. P—KR3	P—QKt3
13. Q—B2	P—B4
14. Kt—Kt5	Q—Q
15. P—B4	KtxB
16. QxKt	P—QR3
17. Kt(Kt5)—Q4	B—Kt2
18. QR—Q	R—KB
19. Kt—KB3	B—B3
20. Kt—K5	Q—B2
21. Kt—Q4	B—K5
22. Q—K2	B—Q3
23. Kt (K5)—B3	R—B3
24. Kt—KKt5	B—Kt2
25. P—QKt3	R—Kt3
26. R—B2	B—K2
27. Q—R5	BxKt
28. PxB	Q—Kt6
29. Kt—B3	R—Q
30. P—KR4	B—B3
31. Kt—Q4	B—K5
32. Kt—B3	Drawn

Solutions to Problem.

The key to No. 153 is Q-KRsq. Among those sending in solutions are J. W. Harris, F. B. Walker, Emil W. Spitzer, John Alden, jr., Dell Floyd, Daniel Breeskin, P. C. Leary, C. C. Bettinger, Emil Smith, E. J. Kassell and E. C. Abbott.

Problem No. 154.

By A. Corrias, Rome, Italy. Black—eight pieces.

K on K 3; R on K ; Kt on Q Kt; Bs on Q R 7 and K 8; Ps on Q B 6, K B 2 and K B 7.

K on K B; Q on Q R 5; R on Q B 7; Kts on Q 3 and K B 5; B on K R 7; P on Q B 5.

White—seven pieces.

White to play and mate in two moves.

HOWARD TO OPEN DRIVE FOR $149,000 TOMORROW

Necessary to Raise Amount to Obtain Education Board's $250,000.

BALLOCH ISSUES CALL

The "conclusion campaign" of the Howard university medical endowment fund will be formally opened at a university luncheon to the national campaign committee tomorrow at 1 o'clock in the dining hall on the university campus. To obtain a conditional gift of $250,000 from the general education board, $149,000 in cash must be collected before July 1.

Members of the national campaign committee will be present from Chicago, Cleveland, St. Louis, Cincinnati and from all points in the East. Dr. Daniel S. Lamb, for 50 years a professor in the Howard medical school, will be a special guest of honor. The specific appeal for support of the campaign will be made by Dr. J. Stanley Durkee, president of the university.

Issuing the call for this meeting, Dean E. A. Balloch said: "This is indeed an epochal event and the importance of the need of the medical school is seen in the fact that busy men will leave their practice and travel far in order to lend the force of their presence to such an occasion. Such individual sacrifice should stimulate an immediate and liberal response of pledgers. The medical school will lose its Class A standing unless the $500,000 endowment is raised. The committee is putting forth a determined effort to secure the school in its present rating."

Delta Phi Epsilon Holds 14th Banquet

Delta Phi Epsilon, professional foreign service fraternity of the Georgetown university school of foreign service, held its fourteenth initiatory banquet last week at the Hotel Lafayette. The new members are James Grant Powers, of Chicago; Gabriel A. Larsen, of Brooklyn; Emmet T. Sweeney, of Cortland, and Donald M. Laflin, of Providence.

Speakers of the evening were Dr. William F. Notz, dean of the school of foreign service; Charles L. Seya, Minister from Latvia; the Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, regent of the school of foreign service, and Robert W. Belcher, Assistant Secretary of Commerce of the United States.

MISSION HEAD TO SPEAK.

Dr. Farmer Will Give Address Today in Three Churches.

Under auspices of the Women's Interdenominational Missionary Federation of the District of Columbia and vicinity, the Rev. Dr. Harry Farmer, general secretary of the Mission to Lepers, 156 Fifth avenue, New York, will speak today in the following churches:

The Eckington Presbyterian Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.; Wallace Memorial United Presbyterian church at noon, and the Christian Endeavor society of Keller Memorial Lutheran church, 8 p. m.

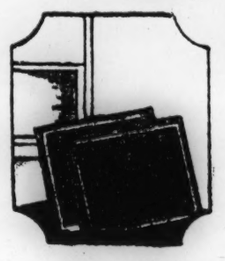

Anniversary Sale
Summer Dresses
$10.90
Regular and Extra Sizes
Second Floor

Satisfaction Since 1859
KING'S PALACE
810-818 Seventh Street

Anniversary Sale
Spring Coats
$10.90
Regular and Extra Sizes
Second Floor

67th Anniversary Sales

"Continental" Hardwood Ex. Window Screens

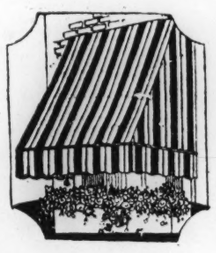

A sturdy extension screen made of firm, well-seasoned lumber and fine black wire cloth. Center brace adds strength and serviceability. Priced according to size.

18x33-inch .....49c 24x37-inch 65c
24x33-inch .....59c 28x37-inch 75c
30x45-inch size, 98c

"Continental" Screen Doors
30x78 to 36x84 inch sizes, $1.98 to $4.98
Frames are made of 3-inch walnut stained wood, substantially constructed with mortised corners and mitred mountings. Fine black wire cloth filling.

Ready to Hang Awnings
Fast Color, Tan Stripe

Canvas awnings, heavy weight tape bound; balance and flexible steel frame, complete with ropes, pulleys and fixtures. Note that all are 3 feet 9 inches drop.

30 inch by 3 feet, 9 inches Drop.....$1.69
36 inch by 3 feet, 9 inches Drop.....$1.89
42 inch by 3 feet, 9 inches Drop.....$1.98
48 inch by 3 feet, 9 inches Drop.....$2.19

Daytime Dresses
Reduced from $2—for Sale
$1.49

Broadcloth and crepe in stripes, printed patterns and novel effects. Smart for street or shopping as well as home and porch wear. Smartly fashioned with kick pleats in skirt, belts, sashes, dainty collar and cuffs. Fast colors and pretty shades.

Regular and Extra Sizes
36 to 46 and 48 to 52
Second Floor—King's Palace.

$1.50 Georgette Crepe, 98c Yd.
Firmly textured, all silk quality, in a complete assortment of Summer colors—Bluebell, France Rose, Ocean Green, Cinder, Mais, Henna, Jade, Imperial Blue, Copen, Brown, Heather, Orchid, Powder Blue, Ceil Blue, Peach, Tan, Pink, Black and White.

$2 Crepe de Chine
$1.59 Yd.
Heavy crepe weave, in splendid quality for Summer dresses and lingerie. Orchid, mais, peach, taragon, green, marine, brown, copen, turquoise, gray, tan, jade, red, black and white.

$2 Satin Duchess
$1.59 Yd.
Permanent black with rich satin face, 35 inches wide. The ideal fabric for dresses and Summer coats. Firm, heavy grade that will give excellent service. A genuine value.
Street Floor—King's Palace.

Dress Trimmings for Summer
New Lace Flouncing, $1.59 Yd.

Lace, that smartest of the new dress fabrics, is shown here in a choice array of dainty patterns. 36 inches wide in white, cream, blonde, gray and black. These were specially purchased otherwise they would be marked $2.98.

Fancy Wash Laces, 15c Yard
Novelty patterns in imitation filet, val and shadow, white, cream and ecru in edges and insertings 1½ to 8 inches wide. Usually 25 to 35c.

Metaline Cloth, 79c Yd.
Rich, glossy fabric for foundations under evening and street frocks. Gold, silver, steel and colors. 36 inches wide.

Baby Ruffling, 49c Yd.
27 inches wide. Fine embroidered Swiss flouncings set on four inch ruffle. Yokes to match in round style with finished neck, 25c.
Street Floor—King's Palace.

Smart Shoes
for Summer Days
$2.95
So that you can select the right style and color to harmonize with your new costume, we have provided generously in assortments of the newest favored colors and combinations to give that finishing touch of smart style, whether it be for street, sport or afternoon wear. Every footwear need can be supplied from this very special group.

Kidskin Patent Satin
Gray Blonde Black
Second Floor—King's Palace

SPECIAL NOTICES

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT ANNA Martone, conducting business at 108 East Capitol street, is selling her store with contents. Creditors, if any, notify JACOB FRIEND, Attorney, Fendall Building.

MISS MARY T. EASTMAN WILL BE ASSOciated with Camp Choptank on the Eastern shore of Maryland, beautifully equipped camp, salt-water bathing. Address 1305 17th st. for catalogue. 2,9,16,23

AT A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE BOARD OF directors of The Corcoran Fire Insurance Company of the District of Columbia, held the 8th day of May, 1926, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted, to-wit:

Whereas, our friend and associate, the late Frank P. Reeside, a member of our board for the past seventeen years, has been called away by Divine Providence; resolved, that in his death the city has lost one, who by his energy and business knowledge has placed his name among its leading citizens and during his long connection with this company, by his application to duty commanded the admiration and respect of all of his associates.

Resolved, that the sympathy of the members of this board be extended to the family of our deceased associate and that a copy of these resolutions be published in the daily papers. LOUIS R. PEAK, Secretary.

Quality Beyond Question

Time Changes One's Vision

The glasses you had prescribed some time ago may not be suited for you TODAY—so a periodical examination of your eyes should be made to halt any defects that may arise on this account.

As you consult your dentist several times a year—so should you visit your oculist.

Let us fill your next prescription. Our charges are moderate.

A. Kahn Inc.

Optometrists Opticians

935 F Street

34 Years at the Same Address

This Same Store

that kept your home warm and comfortable during the past winter can keep your home cool, clean and comfortable during this Spring and Summer.

Refrigerators

We can say no more than "CHALLENGE"—that means highest quality—side and top icers in oak, white and porcelain.

Reed Furniture

For your porch or lawn—built to stand outdoor wear—in single pieces and suites at prices less than you would imagine.

Linoleum

The famous Gold Seal Quality—laid in cement, preventing it from curling . . . all new patterns.

Window Shades

A specialized department that makes all sizes and qualities, whether your demand be for one or a hundred.

Thompson Brothers

Furniture—Stoves
Floor Coverings

1220-26 Good Hope Road
Lincoln 556. Anacostia, D. C.

Special Sale
of Household Effects
At Public Auction
At Sloan's
715 13th Street
Monday
May 10th, 1926
At 10 A. M.

Universal Whirlwind VACUUM CLEANER

$49.50

free

—a complete set of attachments given with each machine sold this month.

The UNIVERSAL WHIRLWIND Vacuum Cleaner leaves no dust to settle again. The dust is imprisoned in the closely-woven bag and removed from your house forever.

C. A. MUDDIMAN & CO.
709 13th St. Main 140

FOREIGN DELEGATES TO SCOUT MEETING WILL VISIT CAPITAL

Girl Representatives From 30 Countries Will Pass Two Days Sightseeing.

WILL BE ENTERTAINED BY PROMINENT WOMEN

Guests Arrive This Morning; Reception at White House Is Planned.

Delegates from 30 foreign countries, who have come to America to attend the international girl scout conference in New York city Tuesday, will be in Washington today and tomorrow for sightseeing.

Extensive entertainment has been planned for the visitors. Arriving at the Union station at 7:30 o'clock this morning, they will be met by their hostesses who will take them to their respective homes for breakfast. The morning has been left free for church, and at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon they will meet at the home of Mrs. Herbert Hoover for a sightseeing trip around the city. Mrs. Hoover will entertain the visitors with a buffet supper at her residence at 7 o'clock this evening.

To Visit Mount Vernon.

Mount Vernon and places of interest in the city will be visited tomorrow morning, and the delegates will be received by the President and Mrs. Coolidge at the White House at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Lunch will be served at the Girl Scout coffee house, and the Capitol and the United States Supreme Court will be visited in the afternoon. Senator and Mrs. Reed will entertain the delegates at tea at 5 o'clock.

A buffet supper will be served by local girl scouts at the Little house at 6:30 o'clock, after which a reception will be held in the Red Cross building, where the delegates will have an opportunity to meet the council members and other scout officers.

Mrs. Juliette Lour, who first started the Girl Scout movement in the United States, and Mrs. Lyman Delano, of New York, will accompany the foreign delegation from New York to Washington.

Those Coming Here.

Names of the foreign delegates coming here and the countries they represent follow:

Austria, Miss Elsie Wimmerer; Belgium, Baroness Myriam de Brogueville, Miss Mathilde Morel-Jamar; Canada, Mrs. Sarah T. Warren and daughter; China, Miss D. St. Clair Mander; Costa Rica, Miss Dorothy Watson; Czechoslovakia, Mrs. Lida Sobotova; Denmark, Mrs. Engholm, Miss Johamn Luud, Miss Anna Peterson; Egypt, Miss Margot Trevor Williams; Serbia, Miss G. Strboya; Liberia, Miss Eugenia Simpson; Palestine, Lady Clayton; Uruguay, Miss Violet E. Burnett; Portugal, Miss Dorothea H. Pheysey; Finland, Miss Heinio Suomalainen Partictyttolutte, Miss Suomen Vapaa Partiorylun, Miss Ingeborg Slopaens-Lindholm, Miss Suoma Raphalme; Poland, Miss Sophie de Callier; France, Mlle. Helene D. Dimesnil, Mlle. Mouchon; Germany, Fraulein Katharina Hertwig; Great Britain, Dame Katharine Furse, Miss Charlotte Noel; Hungary, Miss Antonia Lindenmeyer; Luxembourg, Miss Vichy Schneidev; Italy, Signorina Annamaria Poggi; Switzerland, Mlle. Yvonne Achard; Latvia, Mrs. Wilhelmine Wilks; Netherlands, Mrs. Wynaendts-Francken; Turkey, Mrs. Grizel Catheral; Norway, Miss M. Boe, Miss Vidikko Grimstarat, Miss Agnes Nostvik; Sweden, Miss Mary Lagercrantz, Miss Lydia Lidholm; South Africa, Miss Margaret Worters; Australia, Countess of Stradbroke.

Foreign guests—Great Britain, Miss Lila Clulton Tomas; Czechoslovakia, Miss A. Fleisherova; Poland, Miss Hannah Dydynska.

Catholic international council—Mrs. Housson Crawford, Miss Lila Chilton Thomas, Mrs. Essex Reade, chairman; Mrs. Mark Kerr, vice chairman, and Miss S. V. E. Reade, honorary secretary.

THE WEATHER

TODAY'S SUN AND TIDE TABLE

		A.M.	P.M.
Sun rises	5:02	High tide	5:48 6:17
Sun sets	7:08	Low tide	12:31

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Washington, Saturday, May 8—8 p. m.

Forecast for the District of Columbia—Partly cloudy Sunday; Monday increasing cloudiness, probably followed by showers; not much change in temperature; gentle northwest winds.

For Maryland—Partly cloudy Sunday; Monday increasing cloudiness, followed by showers; not much change in temperature; gentle northwest winds.

For Virginia—Partly cloudy Sunday; Monday increasing cloudiness, followed by showers; not much change in temperature; moderate southwest and west winds.

The disturbance that was over Nebraska Friday night has advanced northward to eastern South Dakota, Huron 29.58 inches, with a trough extending southward to Oklahoma, 29.54 inches. The disturbance that was southeast of Nova Scotia Saturday morning is advancing slowly north-northeastward, being central over Nova Scotia, Eastport, Me., 29.18 inches; Sydney 29.16 inches. Pressure is high in the region of Hudson bay, Cochrane 30.02 inches and on the middle and north Pacific coast, Eureka 30.18 inches. During the last 24 hours scattered showers have occurred in the northern Rocky mountain and plateau regions, and in the plains States and the lower Ohio valley. It has become cooler in the Northeastern States and over Saskatchewan.

The outlook is for showers on Monday in the south Atlantic and east gulf States and the lower lake region, and for showers on Sunday in northern New England and for showers Sunday and Monday in the Ohio valley. Temperature changes will be unimportant.

Storm warnings are displayed on the New England coast from Nantucket to Eastport.

Local Weather Report.

Temperature—Midnight, 66; 2 a. m., 62; 4 a. m., 59; 6 a. m., 58; 8 a. m., 67; 10 a. m., 75; 12 noon, 79; 2 p. m., 84; 4 p. m., 86; 6 p. m., 84; 8 p. m., 78; 10 p. m., 74. Highest, 87; lowest, 58. Temperature same date last year—Highest, 69; lowest, 39. Relative humidity—8 a. m., 44; 2 p. m., 30; 8 p. m., 35. Rainfall (8 p. m. to 8 p. m.), none. Hours of sunshine, 14.1. Per cent of possible sunshine, 100.

DEPARTURES FROM NORMAL.

Accumulated deficiency of temperature since January 1, 1926, 6 degrees.

Excess of temperature since May 1, 1926, 46 degrees.

Accumulated deficiency of precipitation since January 1, 1926, 4.14 inches.

Deficiency of precipitation since May 1, 1926, 8.8 inches.

Temperatures in Other Cities.

Temperatures and precipitation Saturday for 24 hours ended at 8 p. m.:

	Highest Sat.	Lowest night	Fri. 8 p.m.	Sat.	Rainfall
Washington, D. C.	87	58	78
Asheville, N. C.	80	54	66		0.02
Atlanta, Ga.	82	64	78
Atlantic City, N. J.	76	48	68
Baltimore, Md.	86	60	76
Birmingham, Ala.	82	58	74
Bismarck, N. Dak.	62	52	56		0.08
Boston, Mass.	68	50	52
Buffalo, N. Y.	66	48	58
Chicago, Ill.	80	56	72
Cincinnati, Ohio	84	60	76
Cheyenne, Wyo.	52	32	42		0.28
Cleveland, Ohio	74	54	68
Davenport, Iowa	82	62	78
Denver, Coo.	52	46	48		0.10
Des Moines, Iowa	80	60	76
Detroit, Mich.	84	58	62
Duluth, Minn.	60	46	54
El Paso, Tex.	78	56	78
Galveston, Tex.	78	72	74
Helena, Mont.	46	34	40		0.30
Indianapolis, Ind.	82	64	74
Jacksonville, Fla.	90	66	72
Kansas City, Mo.	76	60	68		0.10
Little Rock, Ark.	80	56	78		0.46
Los Angeles, Calif.	68	52	64
Louisville, Ky.	84	64	74
Marquette, Mich.	72	48	58
Memphis, Tenn.	80	62	78
Miami, Fla.	78	74	74		0.42
Mobile, Ala.	80	60	70
New Orleans, La.	80	66	74
New York, N. Y.	70	54	64
Omaha, Nebr.	74	60	72		0.04
Philadelphia, Pa.	78	56	70
Phoenix, Ariz.	80	52	76
Pittsburgh, Pa.	82	54	74
Portland, Me.	62	44	46
Portland, Oreg.	62	46	58		0.10
Salt Lake City, Utah.	52	40	50		0.54
St. Louis, Mo.	78	60	74
St. Paul, Minn.	84	62	70		0.10
San Antonio, Tex.	88	70	84
San Diego, Calif.	66	52	62
San Francisco, Calif.	62	52	60
Santa Fe, N. Mex.	90	38	56
Savannah, Ga.	82	62	72
Seattle, Wash.	56	44	54		0.22
Springfield, Ill.	84	60	74
Tampa, Fla.	78	66	72		0.06
Toledo, Ohio	86	58	76
Vicksburg, Miss.	82	64	78

VITAL STATISTICS

BIRTHS REPORTED.

Walter A. and Lula Clarke, boy.
William H. and Eva M. Gill, girl.
Nick and Bertha Pavlopoulos, girl.
Ralph R. and Mary P. Raynes, girl.
Charles E. and Frances J. Riley, boy.
John E. and Zelda Shull, boy.
John L. and Elizabeth Vandegrift, girl.
Edward A. and Ruth Bland, girl.
Rudolph G. and Grace M. Coldenstroth, girl.
Samuel P. and Carrie L. Miller, boy.
Alvin F. and Grace Heflin, boy.
John H. and Mary C. Nelson, girl.
Charles I. and Vera E. Wood, girl.
Edwin A., jr., and Catherine M. Roper, boy.
William and Mary Davis, boys (twins).
Hugh J. and Anna E. McGrath, boy.
William F. and Mabel Rattenfield, girl.
Samuel and Helen Dyer, boy.
William and Ophelia Shepherd, boy.
Earnest and Ruth Johnson, girl.
Andrew W. and Sarah S. Stanfield, boy.

LICENSED TO MARRY.

Herbert N. Gray, 22, and Flossie E. Curtis, 21, of Warrenton. The Rev. J. E. Briggs.

William E. Wood, jr., 21, of Charlottesville, and Margaret A. Allison, 19, of Clarendon. The Rev. C. P. Ryland.

John F. McPherson, 27, and Myrtle M. Dodd, 25, of Spartanburg, S. C. The Rev. C. S. Coale.

Major Rankins, 33, and Mary J. Driver, 30. The Rev. J. S. Scott.

Erving Lewis, 30, and Alberta Holmes, 29. The Rev. W. B. Hill.

George C. Bowen, 21, of Hyattsville, and Louise Richardson, 21. The Rev. F. B. Harris.

Walter Evans, 42, and Lottie L. Houck, 28. The Rev. S. B. Daugherty.

Turner James, 39, and Anne Blakly, 26. The Rev. A. Sayles.

Charles F. Long, 30, and Mary L. Andrews, 32, both of Richmond. The Rev. W. M. Hoffman.

Samuel H. Connor, 28, of Memphis, Tenn., and Lucille R. Wilson, 24, of Norwalk, Ohio. The Rev. J. W. Briscoe.

DEATHS REPORTED.

Simon Blum, 80 yrs., 1127 Spring rd. nw.
John Foley, 71 yrs., U. S. Soldiers' Home hospital.
Catherine Fishback, 70 yrs., St. Elis. hospl.
Barbara Katharine Herrmann, 68 yrs., 522 8th st. se.
Charles E. Gates, 58 yrs., Garfield hospl.
Elizabeth Young, 65 yrs., Freedmen's hospl.
Harriet Douglas White, 64 yrs., 1406 C se.
Walter L. Pinkett, 53 yrs., Gallinger hospl.
William Neal, 41 yrs., Freedmen's hospl.
William C. Carter, 36 yrs., Gallinger hospl.
Mary Kelly, 34 yrs., 884 Dixon court.
Cornelius Snead, 34 yrs., Freedmen's hospl.
Courtney Brown, 30 yrs., Garfield hospl.
Carrie Torrane, 28 yrs., 924 E st. sw.
James Brown, 20 yrs., Tuberculosis hospl.
Mary Bell Butler, 10 yrs., Children's hospl.

President to Decide On Vacation Plans

(By the Associated Press.)

President Coolidge is expected to be in a position this week to decide on a summer vacation plan, with indications at present pointing to his going to the Lake Champlain region. Reports will be made to him in a few days on two or three estates by friends and advisers who have gone to make inspections at his request.

Although last minute reports may upset earlier views, the belief most generally held here is that the President will be found this summer either in the Adirondacks, less than 100 miles from Burlington, Vt., or close to Lake Champlain, on the Vermont side.

ELABORATE CELEBRATION IS PLANNED FOR JULY 5

Community Chorus, Pageant and Oration to Feature Program at Capitol.

SNYDER COMMITTEE HEAD

The 150th anniversary of America's independence will be celebrated Monday, July 5 next, and plans are being made for an elaborate observance at the east front of the Capitol at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The tentative program includes a huge community chorus, a symbolic pageant showing America's growth, an address by a famous orator, the distribution of prizes to school children for essays on the Declaration of Independence, and music by the marine or the navy band.

United States Marshal Edgar C. Snyder is chairman of the committee on arrangements. The finance committee is headed by Isaac Gans. This committee is charged with the task of raising $3,500 to cover the expenses of the celebration. So far, about $1,300 has been received by Mr. Gans. He announces that another $1,500 is needed before the committee can go ahead with its program.

Among the most recent contributors are the following: Vice President Charles G. Dawes, Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, the Evening Star Newspaper Co., the Potomac Electric Power Co., the National Theater Players, the Wardman Construction Co., the Dulin & Martin Co., King's Palace, Frank R. Jelleff, Inc., Sons of the Revolution, John Hays Hammond, Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, Dr. George Tully Vaughan, William J. Eynon, George T. Beason, C. C. Calhoun, D. N. Walford, S. R. Norman, T. C. Dulin, Myer Cohen, John Dolph, George Thomas Dunlop, Alice C. Driscoll and Samuel J. Prescott.

A city-wide display of flags will be a feature of the day, according to William Knowles Cooper, chairman of the committee on decorations. Other members of this committee are Mrs. A. C. Driscoll, Jesse C. Suter and George Beason.

LINCOLN PARK CITIZENS SEEK B STREET PAVING

Present Condition Renders Repair Out of Question, Association Stand.

CALLED IMPASSABLE NOW

The improvement of B street northeast, from Eighth to Fifteenth streets, declared by residents to have grown virtually impassable, is being sought by the Lincoln Park Citizens association, Guilford Jameson, president, said yesterday.

At the meeting of the association Tuesday night in Bryan school, the exact nature of the request for improvement will be determined. The street within these limits is "beyond repair," Mr. Jameson declared. The association undoubtedly will ask for complete repaving, he said. He added:

"The street is a jumbled mass of asphalt, cinders and brick, and its condition is about the worst I ever saw. It is rapidly growing worse, and every effort to repair it results in the creation of another bad place. The cinders, with which it has been recently repaired, have caused the worst condition."

The association has requested the repaving of a number of other streets in the section. The community is undergoing rapid development, and therefore experiences the same difficulties with streets as other communities in which there is a great deal of building going on.

Schools and playgrounds are another problem with the association. The committee on playgrounds and the committee on education are selecting adequate sites and recommending their purchase while they are still available.

How Do You Spell

the position you are looking for? "J-o-b" or "O-p-p-o-r-t-u-n-i-t-y?" If it's opportunity, you will use The Post's Situations Wanted columns to good advantage.

CIRCUS FANS' CONVENTION MEETS HERE TOMORROW

Unique Organization to Hold First Annual Meeting at Arlington Hotel.

MEMBERS ARE PROMINENT

Washington has witnessed any number of unique conventions and unusual gatherings, but tomorrow morning will bring into session the first annual convention of the Circus Fans Association of America. The meeting will be held at the Hotel Arlington at 10:30 a. m. A banquet will be given at 5 p. m., after which the entire delegation will attend the circus.

The Circus Fans association is composed of circus lovers from all parts of America. The association was formed a year ago under the guidance of the present secretary-treasurer, Karl Kae Knecht, of Evansville, Ind. Any real circus lover who never misses an opportunity to see a circus is eligible for membership. No professional, or any one in the employ of a circus, is allowed to join.

Marshall L. King, 1628 Columbia road, is the president. Robert P. Johnston, of Concord, N. H., is vice president. Among the charter members are H. F. Cary, vice president of the Southern Railway; Senator George H. Moses, of New Hampshire; Senator F. L. Green, of Vermont; Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana; former Gov. Lee Trinkle, of Virginia; Charles H. Consolvo, of Baltimore, and Sam J. Steinberger, of Washington.

About 50 members are expected to attend the convention tomorrow.

Dutch Labor Votes Money Aid.

Amsterdam, Holland, May 8 (By A. P.).—The Netherlands trades union congress today voted £5,000 ($24,250) to assist the British strikers.

Your favorite necktie

IS IT ONE of those costly, moiré-silk imports? A handsome satin-stripe? A light, figured crepe?

No need to discard your favorite because it's soiled. Pour Energine on a soft cloth. Rub the soiled part gently. Watch the color brighten.

Energine cleans perfectly—suits, coats, hats, scarfs, gloves, spats—and the upholstery of your car.

Energine comes in handy cans. Leaves no odor. 35c at drug or department stores.

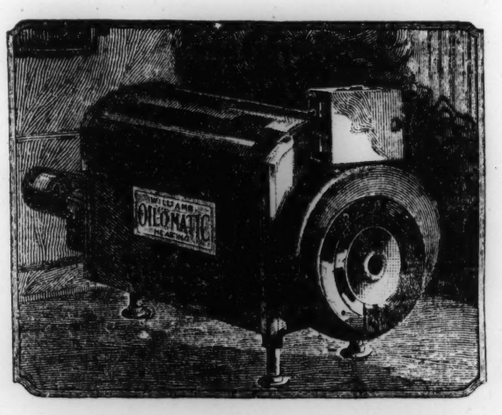

ENERGINE THE PERFECT DRY CLEANER

WM. H. GOTTLIEB, President. H. E. HUNTSBERRY, Vice Pres.

An open letter to every homeowner

By WM. H. GOTTLIEB, H.E.

Seven years ago this oil burner brought an entirely new conception of OIL HEAT to homeowners. Today it is the biggest selling oil burner in the world.

THE problem of heating your home need never concern you again.

You can make a decision today and then forget all the annoyances and inconveniences that your present method of heating has given you.

You can have heat just as you have water and electric light. Just as automatic. Just as free from care. Just as clean. And seldom at any increase in cost!

This promise is not based on hope. But on seven years' experience of the Williams Oil-O-Matic Oil Burner all over the United States and Canada. In homes and buildings of every size and description. And on three years' success right here in Washington.

When we decided to represent the world's fastest-selling oil burner we did so only after observing other methods of heating with oil.

We could have easily had any one of a half dozen other makes. But our reputation was at stake.

In Oil-O-Matic we saw the solution to the oil burning problem. Here was an oil burner that actually operated according to the four natural laws of oil combustion. No part was inside the firebox. And it was designed to use cheaper fuel oil than any other that we might have considered.

We were impressed by the serious purpose of the makers of Oil-O-Matic. They were the first to organize a school for oil burner men.

The Williams Institute of Heat Research is today the largest school of oil burning in the world. Many of our staff are graduates of this nationally known Institute.

You have but to talk to any one of the numerous Oil-O-Matic owners here in Washington to realize the comforts to be had from Oil-O-Matic heat. You will never be content to go through another winter once you compare your present method with that of your neighbor who is enjoying automatic heating service from his Oil-O-Matic.

At our showroom, conveniently located, we will be pleased to demonstrate the Oil-O-Matic to all who may be interested and supply convincing evidence of the real comfort and satisfaction of heating in this modern way.

Or phone us to send out an oil heating expert to examine your heating plant and give you an estimate of the complete cost of a guaranteed installation. Terms may easily be arranged.

A little down and you have OIL HEAT!

Under our extended payment plan you may have your Oil-O-Matic installed now for a small first payment. No more to pay until Sept. 1st—then a year to pay the balance! Why delay longer when a small sum gives you this comfort?

WILLIAMS OIL-O-MATIC HEATING

G. & H. Heating Company

Heating and Plumbing Engineers and Contractors
Authorized distributors for Oil-O-Matic

913-17 H St. N.W. "Found Reliable for Over 30 Years" Main 4886-4887

H. H. Watkins, 1116 King St., Alexandria, Va., Agent

SPORTS
The Washington Post.

M THE WASHINGTON POST: SUNDAY, MAY 9, 1926. 21

NATIONALS DROP TO FOURTH AS WHITE SOX WIN, 11-5

Yale's Crew "Sees Red," Wins

Snatches Victory From Penn as Coxswain Waves Flag.

Columbia Poor Third; Quaker Juniors Triumph.

DERBY, Conn., May 9 (By A. P.).—Pennsylvania challenged Yale's varsity rowing supremacy today and the Elis turned the threat back by a narrow margin only after as thrilling a finish as has ever been witnessed on the historic Housatonic river course.

Coming from behind, Yale won by little more than half a boat length from Penn, with Columbia a badly distanced third in the race that brought the triangular regatta to a climax, but it took a red flag to spur the Eli oarsmen on to their only triumph of the day.

Pounding down through the last quarter-mile of the two-varsity struggle, with Pennsylvania clinging tenaciously to a lead it had held from the start, Yale's coxswain, P. Stewart, of New Orleans, suddenly hauled out a flaming bit of bunting and waved it frantically.

WHATEVER was the psychological influence of literally "seeing red," the Eli sweet singers bent their backs to the task and in the short space of 200 yards snatched victory from seeming defeat.

Pennsylvania administered a sound drubbing to Yale's junior varsity crew in the opening race, winning by three lengths, with Columbia a poor third. Columbia's freshman eight defeated Pennsylvania by a half dozen feet in a sensational battle which found Yale's yearlings in the ruck.

The times for the three races, all at 2 miles:

Varsity—Yale, 10 minutes 12 3-5 seconds; Pennsylvania, 10 minutes 15 seconds; Columbia, 10 minutes 40 seconds.

Junior varsity—Pennsylvania, 10 minutes 25 seconds; Yale, 10 minutes 36 seconds; Columbia, 10 minutes 53 seconds.

Freshmen—Columbia, 10 minutes 26 seconds; Pennsylvania, 10 minutes 27 seconds; Yale, 10 minutes 41 seconds.

Robins Overcome Lead And Defeat Cards, 5-3

St. Louis, May 8 (By A. P.).—After taking a 3-to-1 lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the first three innings of the game here today, the St. Louis Cardinals lost, 5 to 3. The Brooklynites rallied in the sixth, scoring two runs, and registered two more in the seventh.

After the Dodgers saw that they were in for a tough scrap and after Barnes was hit hard they inserted Erhardt into the fray, following him up with McWeeny. Reinhart performed brilliantly for the locals, but weakened and was replaced by H. Bell.

Brooklyn.	AB	H	O	A
Cox,rf.	5	1	0	0
Fewster,2b.	5	2	5	4
Wheat,lf.	4	0	2	0
Herman,1b.	5	3	9	2
Felix,cf.	3	2	2	0
Butler,3b.	3	1	2	2
Maranville's,ss	3	0	2	5
O'Neil,c.	3	0	3	2
Barnes,p.	2	0	0	0
Ehrhardt,p.	0	0	0	0
McWeeny,p.	0	0	2	0
*DeBerry	0	0	0	0
Totals	33	8	27	17

* Batted for Ehrhardt in sixth.
† Batted for Reinhardt in eighth.

St. Louis.	AB	H	O	A
Douthit,cf.	3	0	2	0
Mueller,rf.	4	1	1	0
Hornsby,2b.	3	1	2	6
Bottomley,1b	4	2	10	0
Holm,lf.	4	1	0	0
Blades,lf.	3	0	1	0
L.Bell,3b.	4	2	0	4
H.Bell,c.	4	2	4	0
Thevenow,ss.	4	2	1	4
Reinhart,p.	3	1	0	4
H.Bell,p.	0	0	0	0
†Toporcer	0	0	0	0
Totals	33	11	27	18

Brooklyn	0	1	0	0	0	2	2	0	0	—5
St. Louis	0	1	1	0	1	0	0	0	0	—3

Runs—Fewster, Herman (2), Felix, Butler, Hornsby, L. Bell (2). Error—L. Bell. Two-base hit—L. Bell. Three-base hit—Brewster. Home run—Herman. Stolen base—O'Farrell. Sacrifices—Bottomley, Butler, Holm, Douthit, DeBerry, Wheat. Double play—Maranville to Herman. Left on bases—Brooklyn, 8; St. Louis, 11. First base on balls—Off Barnes, 2; off McWeeny, 2; off Ehrhardt, 2. Struck out—By McWeeney, 2; by Reinhart, 3; by H. Bell, 1. Hits—Off Barnes, 8 in 3 innings (none out in fourth); off McWeeny, 1 in 4 innings; off Reinhart, 8 in 8 innings; off Ehrhardt, 2 in 2 innings; off H. Bell, 0 in 1 inning. Winning pitcher—McWeeney. Losing pitcher—Reinhart.

Kallipolis Grotto Nine In Field for Games

The Kallipolis Grotto team, composed of local Master Masons, are endeavoring to arrange several games with first-class teams previous to the annual game with the Almas Temple nine on June 19.

Manager Joe Leverton seeks Sunday games with the Knickerbocker, Dreadnaught and other fast unlimited teams possessing a field. Challenges should be addressed to J. Leverton, 3651 New Hampshire avenue northwest, or telephone Columbia, 4899, or Main 860.

Grotto players are requested to attend a baseball meeting at the office of the monarch, 470 Louisiana avenue northwest, Tuesday, at 8 o'clock. All last year's players are expected to be present.

WALTER REED PLAYS.

The Walter Reed nine will meet Petworth today on the hospital field at 2 o'clock. Holloman will pitch for the soldiers.

DOWN TWO FLIGHTS

WASHINGTON:	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
McNeely, cf.	5	2	3	2	1	0
S. Harris, 2b.	4	2	2	1	5	2
Rice, rf.	5	0	1	1	0	0
Goslin, lf.	4	0	0	4	0	0
Judge, 1b.	4	1	2	11	0	0
Bluege, 3b.	4	0	0	1	0	1
Peckinpaugh, ss.	2	0	0	0	3	0
Myer, ss.	2	0	1	1	1	0
Ruel, c.	2	0	0	4	1	0
Severeid, c.	1	0	1	1	0	0
Ogden, p.	1	0	0	0	1	0
‡Tobin	1	0	0	0	0	0
Kelley, p.	0	0	0	0	0	0
†Ruether	1	0	0	0	0	0
Thomas, p.	0	0	0	0	0	0
Marberry, p.	0	0	0	0	0	1
§Bush	1	0	0	0	0	0
Morrell, p.	0	0	0	0	1	0
Totals	37	5	10	26	13	4

CHICAGO:	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Mostil, cf.	4	2	2	2	0	0
Sp. Harris, rf., lf.	5	1	0	1	0	0
Collins, 2b.	5	0	0	0	4	0
Sheely, 1b.	6	2	4	11	2	0
Falk, lf.	4	2	2	4	0	0
Gulley, rf.	1	0	0	1	0	0
Hunnefield, 3b.	5	2	3	1	0	0
Schalk, c.	5	2	2	4	0	0
Scott, ss.	4	0	2	2	2	0
Blankenship p.	4	0	2	1	2	0
Totals	43	11	17	27	10	0

*Batted for Ogden in fifth.
†Batted for Kelley in sixth.
‡Batted for Marberry in eighth.
§Falk out, hit by batted ball.

Washington	2	0	0	0	2	1	0	0	0	—5
Hits	2	0	1	0	2	3	1	1	0	—10
Chicago	0	1	2	5	0	0	0	2	1	—11
Hits	0	3	3	3	1	2	0	3	2	—17

Home-run—Hunnefield. Two-base hits—Sheely, Blankenship, Severeid. Three-base hits—Stan. Harris (2), Mostil. Stolen base—Hunnefield. Sacrifice—Spencer Harris. Left on bases—Chicago, 12; Washington, 9. First base on balls—Off Ogden, 3; off Thomas, 2; off Blankenship, 3. Struck out—By Ogden, 1; by Blankenship, 2. Hits—Off Ogden, 10 in 5 innings; off Kelley, 2 in 1 inning; off Thomas, 0 in 0 inning (2 batters); off Marberry, 3 in 2 innings; off Morrell, 3 in 1 inning. Hit by pitched ball—By Ogden (Falk). Losing pitcher—Ogden. Umpires—Messrs. Ormsby, Moriarty and Owens. Time of game—2 hours 10 minutes.

Detroit Winner, 7-5, Despite Ruth's Homer

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—Detroit evened the series by taking the Yankees into camp today, 7 to 5. Although outhit two to one the Tigers took advantage of Jones' wildness coupled with timely hits and got off to a big lead.

Babe Ruth poled his seventh homer in the fifth with two on the bases while Dugan hit for the circuit in the eighth with one on. Tavener, Detroit shortstop, is ill with the grippe and O'Rourke took his place.

Detroit	AB	H	O	A
Neun,1b.	4	1	8	0
Gehringer,2b	4	1	3	2
Wingo,lf.	4	1	1	0
Cobb,cf.	4	1	3	0
Heilmann,rf	3	0	2	1
O'Rourke,ss.	4	1	2	1
Warner,3b.	3	0	0	3
Bassler,c.	3	1	6	3
Whitehill,p.	4	0	0	3
Totals	32	6	27	11

New York	AB	H	O	A
Koenig,ss.	5	1	0	8
Combs,cf.	5	3	2	0
Gehrig,1b.	4	1	17	0
Ruth,rf.	5	2	0	1
Meusel,lf.	4	3	3	0
Lazzeri,2b.	4	1	0	5
Dugan,3b.	3	1	1	1
Collins,c.	4	0	4	0
Jonesp.	1	0	0	0
Braxton,p.	3	0	0	2
Totals	38	12	27	17

Detroit	0	0	5	2	0	0	0	0	0	—7
New York	0	0	0	0	3	0	0	2	0	—5

Runs—Neun (2), Gehringer, Wingo, Cobb, Heilmann, Bassler, Koenig, Combs, Ruth, Lazzeri, Dugan. Error—Collins. Two-base hits—Meusel, O'Rourke, Lazzeri. Three-base hits—Neun, Gehringer. Home runs—Ruth, Dugan. Sacrifice—Cobb. Left on base—New York, 8; Detroit, 5. First base on balls—Off Jones, 4; off Whitehill, 1; off Braxton, 2. Struck out—By Whitehill, 4; by Jones, 2; by Braxton, 2. Hits—Off Jones, 3 in 2 2-3 innings; off Braxton, 3 in 6 1-3 innings. Hit by pitched ball—By Whitehill (Gehrig). Losing pitcher—Jones.

Quinn Blanks Browns; Sixth Straight for A's

Philadelphia, May 8 (By A. P.).—The Athletics ended a week of triumph today by winning their sixth straight game in defeating the St. Louis Browns, 14 to 0. Jack Quinn hung up his fouth straight win of the season and limited the visitors to five scattered singles. The Mackmen scored in every inning but two. Hauser hit his third home run of the season off Vangilder with one on in the fifth inning.

St. Louis	AB	H	O	A
Rice,3b.	2	0	2	3
Lamotte,ss.	4	1	3	2
Sisler,1b.	4	0	7	1
Williams,lf.	4	0	0	0
Jacobson,cf.	4	1	6	0
Rob'tson,2b	4	0	1	0
Durst,rf.	3	1	2	0
Dixon,c.	2	0	4	2
Schang,c.	0	0	0	0
Ballou,p.	1	0	0	1
Vangilder,p.	1	0	0	1
†Hargrave.	1	0	0	0
Davis,p.	0	0	0	1
Totals	31	5	23	10

Philadel.	AB	H	O	A
Bishop,2b.	4	0	2	3
Cochran,c.	2	0	4	0
Lamar,lf.	4	3	5	0
Hauser,1b.	4	2	11	0
Simmons,cf.	4	3	3	1
Dykes,3b.	5	1	1	2
Miller,rf.	5	1	2	0
Quinn,p.	3	0	0	3
Totals	33	14	27	11

*Galloway batted foul on third strike in fourth inning.
†Batted for Vangilder in eighth inning.

St. Louis	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0
Philadelphia	0	1	0	4	1	3	2	0	3	x—14

Runs—Bishop (3), Cochran (2), Lamar (2), Hauser (2), Simmons (2), Dykes, Miller, Quinn. Errors—Rice, Lamotte, Dixon. Two-base hits—Miller, Galloway, Simmons, Hauser, Dykes. Three-base hit—Lamar. Home run—Hauser. Sacrifices—Cochrane, Hauser, Lamar, Quinn. Double plays—Bishop, Galloway, Hauser. Left on bases—St. Louis, 7; Philadelphia, 7. First base on balls—Off Ballou, 3; off Vangilder, 3; off Davis, 1; off Quinn, 3. Struck out—By Vangilder, 2; by Quinn, 3. Hits—Off Ballou, 4 in 8 innings; off Vangilder, 7 in 4 innings; off Davis, 3 in 1 inning. Losing pitcher—Ballou.

Rixey Beats Phils, 2-0; Picinich's Hit Decides

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 8 (By A. P.).—Cincinnati took the third straight game from Philadelphia, 2 to 0, today when Rixey proved better than Carlson in a pitching duel. Each team made five hits, but the Reds bunched three of theirs in the fifth. Walker and Pipp singled, Critz sacrificed, and then Picinich doubled, but was out trying to stretch the hit.

Philadel.	AB	H	O	A
Sand,ss.	4	0	1	3
Nixon,cf.	4	3	2	0
Leach,rf.	3	0	2	0
Mokan,lf.	3	1	2	1
Bentley,1b.	3	0	8	0
Ruber,3b.	3	0	2	1
Wilson,c.	3	1	1	2
Friberg,2b.	3	0	2	3
Carlson,p.	2	0	0	2
*Henline	1	0	0	0
Totals	29	5	24	13

Cincinnati	AB	H	O	A
Emmer,ss.	2	0	3	2
Dressen,3b.	2	0	0	2
Roush,cf.	3	1	1	0
Walker,rf.	3	1	3	0
Bressler,lf.	3	0	3	0
Pipp,1b.	3	2	11	0
Critz,2b.	2	0	2	4
Picinich,c.	3	1	4	2
Rixey,p.	2	0	0	2
Totals	24	5	27	12

*Batted for Carlson in ninth inning.

Philadelphia	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0
Cincinnati	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	x	—2

Runs—Walker, Pipp. Two-base hits—Picinich, Nixon. Sacrifice—Critz. Double plays—Friberg to Sand to Bentley; Critz to Pipp. Left on bases—Philadelphia, 2. First base on balls—Off Carlson, 1. Struck out—By Carlson, 2; by Rixey, 2.

George Voigt Wins Golf Honors

Defeats Pitt, 1 Up, in Indian Spring First Flight Finals.

Several Extra Hole Matches Feature Day's Play.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

WITH a fine 40-yard approach, which laid his ball dead to the cup on the eighteenth green, George J. Voigt, District amateur champion, former public links titleholder and now a member of the Bannockburn club, was enabled yesterday afternoon to win the final round in the Indian Spring club invitation tournament from Harry G. Pitt, Manor, by the narrow margin of 1 up.

Pitt played a fine third shot from the tenth tee, where he had sliced his second shot over the trees from the rough, and also holed out in 4, but as he was 1 down on the eighteenth tee, his phenomenal recovery did not save him from defeat.

Voigt reached the final round by defeating Tom Moore, Indian Spring, 2 and 1, while Pitt, after a close battle with A. L. Houghton, Manor, won out in the semifinal round by 1 up. In the final contest Pitt made Voigt struggle on every hole. He was 1 down at the turn, although he had won two holes, the sixth and the ninth, when Voigt's tee shots landed the ball in traps, but he squared the match on the tenth green, when Voigt took three putts.

HE was 1 up at the twelfth, when he scored a birdie 3 by chipping into the cup from the edge of the green, but lost the thirteenth and fourteenth to a par and a birdie made by Voigt, being again 1 down.

Once more he evened the match by a birdie 4 on the fifteenth, but lost the sixteenth when he took 3 shots from off the green. With a half on each on the last two holes, Voight came through with a victory.

Walter R. McCallum, Washington, was the winner of the consolation flight in the first sixteen, defeating W. C. Evans, Columbia, 2 up, for, although Evans shot 75, McCallum was two strokes better with 73. McCallum won his morning match in the semifinal round against Charles W. Cole, jr., on the nineteenth hole, after being 3 down and 4 to play. Cole sliced his drive on the crucial hole into an unplayable place behind the barn.

The finals were marked by extended struggles, E. J. Gray, Manor, and T. A. Kelleher, jr., going to the twenty-second hole before Gray won by sinking a long putt. J. B. Dulin, Daytona Heights, was victorious in a 20-hole match over J. A. Pratt, unattached, and J. V. Brownell, Indian Spring, and John T. Harris, Bannockburn, each won 19-hole contests.

At the conclusion of the tournament the handsome prizes were presented by Perry B. Hoover, chairman of the golf committee, while both visitors and vanquished united in expressing their appreciation of the admirable manner in which the event had been managed in every detail.

Summaries:

FIRST SIXTEEN.

Semifinal round—Harry G. Pitt (Manor) defeated A. L. Houghton (Manor), 1 up. George J. Voight (Bannockburn) defeated Tom Moore (Indian Spring), 2 and 1.

Final round—Voight defeated Pitt, 1 up.

Defeated eight—Semifinal round, Walter R. McCallum (Washington) defeated Charles W. Cole, jr. (unattached), 1 up, 19 holes. W. C. Evans (Columbia) defeated Paul Y. Anderson (Columbia), 5 and 4.

Final round—McCallum defeated Evans, 2 up.

SECOND SIXTEEN.

Semifinal round—H. King Cornwell (Columbia) defeated Charles N. Agnew, jr. (unattached), 2 and 1. W. L. Pendergast (Bannockburn) defeated W. B. Vogel (unattached), 7 and 6.

Final round—Pendergast defeated Cornwell, 3 and 2.

Defeated eight—R. M. Manly (Indian Spring) defeated P. H. Rogniey (unattached), 6 and 5. Fred H. Wilms (Indian Spring) defeated Ben L. Fuller (Washington), 6 and 5.

Final round—Manly defeated Wilms, 2 and 1.

THIRD SIXTEEN.

Semifinal round—E. L. Bono (Columbia) defeated L. S. Pfauts (Bannockburn), 6 and 5. J. V. Brownell (Indian Spring) defeated Gardner P. Orme (Columbia), 3 and 2.

Final round—Brownell defeated Bono, 1 up, 19 holes.

Defeated eight—Semifinal round. Dr. W. R. McLister (Congressional) defeated George C. Minnigerode (Chevy Chase), 4 and 3. Perry B. Hoover (Indian Spring) defeated W. L.

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 23, COLUMN 4.)

Indian Spring Event Golf Prize Winners

First sixteen—George J. Voigt, Bannockburn, winner; Harry G. Pitt, Manor, runner up; Walter R. McCallum, Washington, winner defeated eight.

Second sixteen—H. L. Fendergast, Bannockburn, winner; H. King Cornwell, Columbia, runner up; B. M. Manly, Indian Spring, winner defeated eight.

Third sixteen—J. V. Brownell, Indian Spring, winner; E. L. Bono, Columbia, runner up; Dr. W. R. McLister, Congressional, winner defeated eight.

Fourth sixteen—E. J. Gray, Manor, winner; T. A. Kelleher, jr., unattached, runner up; J. B. Dulin, Daytona Heights, winner defeated eight.

Fifth sixteen—John T. Harris, Bannockburn, winner; H. P. Cochran, Columbia, runner up; B. L. Smelker, Washington, winner defeated eight.

Qualification prize—Walter R. McCallum, Washington, 75.

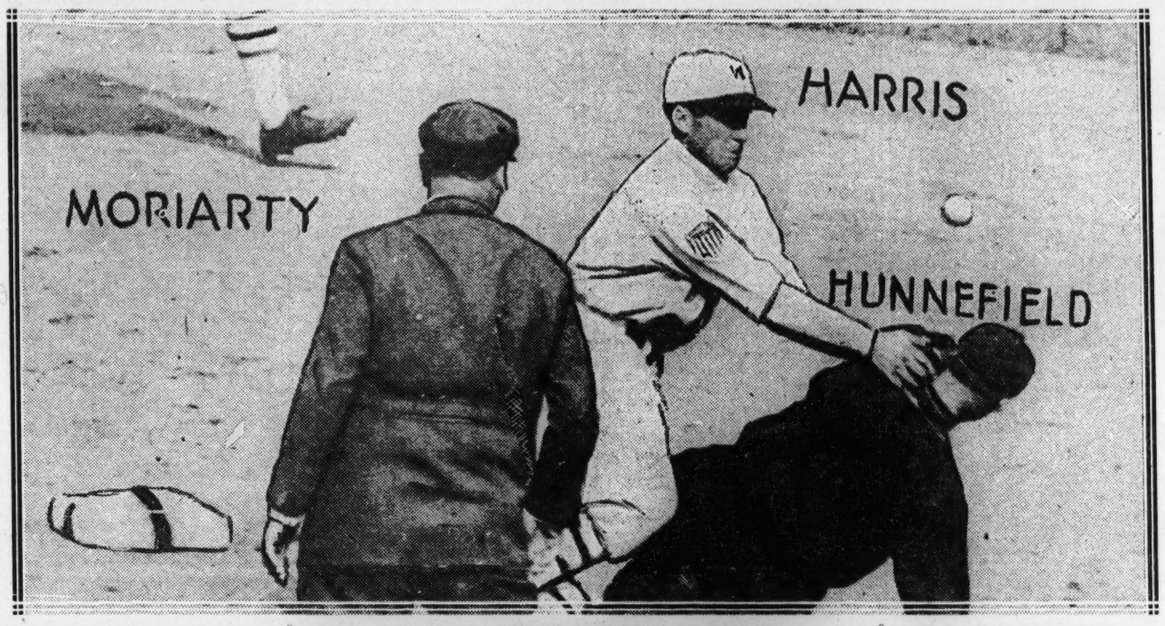

Inside Story of Bout Told by Fitzsimmons

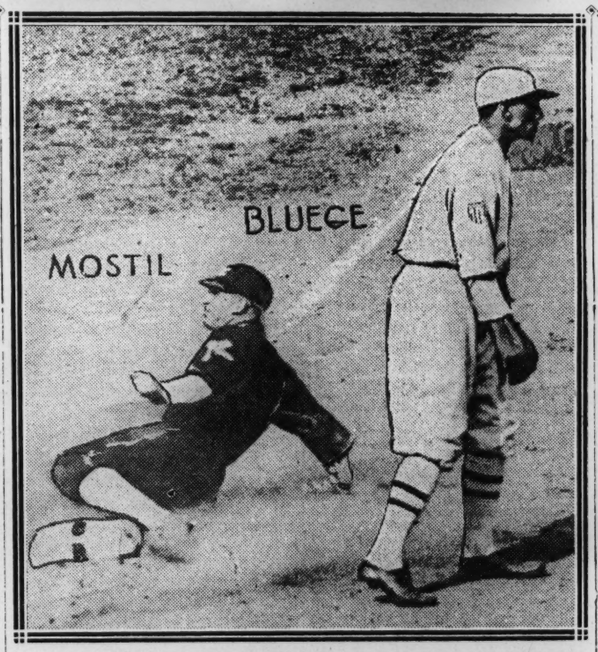

South Bend, Ind., May 8 (By A. P.).—The inside story of how the South Bend fight syndicate lost $50,000 and the Dempsey-Wills battle was told to the South Bend Tribune today by Floyd Fitzsimmons, promoter. The $50,000 was paid over to Wills September 80, 1925, the day after the Niles, Mich., contract was signed, Fitzsimmons said. Dempsey was to have been paid $100,000 on the same day, but according to Fitzsimmons, only $38,000 was available, and this Dempsey refused to accept.

Rather than kill the match, Dempsey called in Ray Cannon, attorney, and a new contract developed in which the South Bend syndicate was allowed six months in which to produce the $100,000.

In meantime, Fitzsimmons claims, the South Bend men tried to sell the bout to Kansas City and Chicago, but were unsuccessful. Finally Dempsey got tired of the "run around" and he called the whole deal off and signed with Rickard.

HUNNEFIELD, CHICAGO THIRD BASEMAN, SUBSTITUTING FOR WILLIE KAMM, WAS CREDITED WITH A cheap stolen base in the third inning. Ruel's throw to Bucky Harris easily had the runner beaten, but Harris fumbled the ball. Only by the leniency of the scorer was Harris saved an error and Hunnefield credited with a theft. The ball is seen in the picture while Hunnefield is far from the bag. Below, Mostil is safe at third on his triple.

Pirate Hurlers Suffer In Boston Game, 9-5

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 8 (By A. P.).—Boston went on a batting rampage today, driving three Pittsburgh pitchers from the box, and won easily, 9 to 5. Graham held the Pirates scoreless for seven innings, when the champions staged a belated batting rally, scoring all their runs in the last two innings. Pittsburgh's nine hits included a home run by Waner and a single, double and triple by Cuyler.

Boston	AB	H	O	A
Nels,cf.	5	2	3	0
J.Smith,rf.	0	0	0	0
Bancroft,ss.	2	1	1	5
Mann,rf,cf.	5	3	1	0
Burrus,1b.	4	1	14	0
Brown,lf.	5	4	4	0
High,2b.	4	1	1	5
E.Taylor,3b	5	2	0	1
Z.Taylor,c.	5	1	3	0
Graham,p.	5	0	0	2
Totals	40	15	27	13

Pittsburgh	AB	H	O	A
Rhyne,2b.	4	0	1	4
Bigbee,lf.	4	0	1	1
Cuyler,lf.	4	3	3	0
Wright,ss.	4	0	3	1
Traynor,3b.	4	0	0	3
Barnhart,rf.	1	0	1	0
Waner,rf.	3	2	2	0
McInnis,1b.	1	0	5	0
Grantham,1b	3	1	4	0
Gooch,c.	3	2	7	0
Yde,p.	0	0	0	0
Sheehan,p.	1	0	0	0
Morrison,p.	1	0	0	1
*E.Smith	1	1	0	0
†Cronin	0	0	0	0
Songer,p.	0	0	0	0
‡Moore	1	0	0	0
Totals	34	9	27	11

*Batted for Morrison in eighth.
†Ran for E. Smith in eighth.
‡Batted for Songer in ninth.

Boston	4	2	0	3	0	0	0	0	0	—9
Pittsburgh	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	3	0	—5

Runs—Mann (3), Nels (2), Bancroft (2), High, Burrus, Waner (2), Cuyler, McInnis, Grantham. Error—Wright. Two-base hits—Mann (2), Z. Taylor, Burrus, Cuyler, Waner, E. Smith, Nels, Grantham. Three-base hits—High, Cuyler. Home run—Waner. Stolen bases—Mann, Nels, Bancroft. Sacrifices—Burrus, Bancroft, Rhyne. Left on bases—Boston, 9; Pittsburgh, 4. First base on balls—Off Yde, 2; off Graham, 1. Struck out—By Sheehan, 3; by Morrison, 2; by Songer, 1. Hits—Off Yde, 2 in 2-3 inning; off Morrison, 6 in 4 2-3 innings; off Sheehan, 7 in 2 2-3 innings; off Songer, 0 in 1 inning. Hit by pitched ball—By Sheehan (Bancroft). Losing pitcher—Yde.

Home of Red Sox Damaged by Fire

Boston, Mass., May 8 (By A. P.).—Fenway park, the home playing grounds of the Boston American league baseball club, was partly burned late today after a grass fire caught a bill board and spread to the third base bleachers. The upper half of that part of the bleachers was destroyed, and flying embers kept firemen fighting blazes all around the grandstand.

The fire started a few hours after the fans had trooped homeward after the game with Cleveland. Three alarms brought a large force of men and equipment to the field. One fireman received bruises when he fell from a ladder and struck the chairs in the main grandstand.

MAJOR LEAGUE STATISTICS

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	New York	Chicago	Cleveland	Washington	Philadelphia	Detroit	Boston	St. Louis	Won.	Lost.	Percentage.
New York				5	3	1	5		14	8	.636
Chicago			5	1		4	2	5	15	9	.625
Cleveland		3			4	2	5	14	9	.609
Washington	2	1			6		6		15	10	.600
Philadelphia	3		3			3	3	12	12	9	.600
Detroit	1	3	1				5	10	12	13	.480
Boston	2			1	1	3			7	16	.304
St. Louis		2	2				3		7	18	.280
Games lost	8	9	9	10	12	12	16	18

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.
Chicago, 11; WASHINGTON, 5.
Philadelphia, 14; St. Louis, 0.
Detroit, 7; New York, 5.
Cleveland, 10; Boston, 4.

TODAY'S GAMES.
Chicago at WASHINGTON.
Detroit at New York.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	Brooklyn	Cincinnati	Chicago	New York	Pittsburgh	St. Louis	Philadelphia	Boston	Won.	Lost.	Percentage.
Brooklyn				3		2	4	5	14	7	.667
Cincinnati			2	1	5	3		3	14	8	.636
Chicago		3		2	1	6		3	13	8	.600
New York	4		1				3	3	11	10	.524
Pittsburgh		3				2		2	10	13	.435
St. Louis		2	3		5				10	14	.417
Philadelphia	3			2				2	9	13	.409
Boston			2	2		3	2		8	15	.348
Games lost	7	8	9	10	13	14	13	15

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.
Brooklyn, 5; St. Louis, 3.
Chicago, 6; New York, 4.
Boston, 9; Pittsburgh, 5.
Cincinnati, 2; Philadelphia, 0.

TODAY'S GAMES.
Brooklyn at St. Louis.
New York at Chicago.
Philadelphia at Cincinnati.

Harvard Oarsmen Win Over Princeton

Princeton, N. J., May 8 (By A. P.).—Harvard's varsity eight defeated Princeton in a mile and three-quarter sweep on Lake Carnegie today by one-quarter of a length in a grueling finish. The Crimson eight negotiated the distance in 9 minutes 19 seconds; Princeton's time was 9 minutes 20 2-5 seconds.

Princeton won the junior varsity race by two lengths, the Tigers covering the mile and three-quarters in 9:27. Harvard was 7 seconds slower.

HOFF SEES MEET FROM STANDS

PASADENA, Calif., May 8 (By A. P.).—Charles Hoff, Norwegian pole vaulter, disregarded the warning of Amateur Athletic Union officials to compete in the Pacific Athletic association track meet at San Francisco today.

Instead, he sat in the grandstand here and watched his friend, Charley Paddock, noted sprinter, perform. Hoff's action brings him under technical suspension, A. A. U. officials said. He had been informed that his license for appearances in the United States would be canceled if he failed to enter the San Francisco meet. Hoff contended, however, that he was not in condition.

He asserted today that he was suffering from a bad ankle that may keep him from competing for several weeks.

He limbered up yesterday while Paddock looked on and was declared by the sprinter to be far from being in good condition.

"Hoff is not a well boy," Paddock declared today.

San Utar Captures Louisville Feature

Louisville, Ky., May 8 (By A. P.).—San Utar, a 5-year-old chestnut horse, by Sunder, out of Yokohama, won the fifty-second Clark Handicap, at Churchill Downs today, defeating a field of thirteen others, including four Kentucky derby nominees. His time for the mile and a sixteenth was 1:46 2-5.

Moonraker, another veteran campaigner, was second, and Roycrofter, derby hope of C. Frank Croissant, Chicago, third. The race was worth $13,350 net to the winner.

Giants Again Lose To Chicago, 6 to 4

Chicago, May 8 (By A. P.).—The Chicago Cubs made it two straight from New York today, winning 6 to 4, behind the smooth pitching of the veteran, Grover Alexander.

Hugh McQuillan was freely hit in the third and was driven from the mound, the Cubs scoring four runs in the inning. The other runs were scored off Davies in the seventh.

Alexander experienced one bad inning, the sixth, when the Giants bunched four hits with a base on balls for their tallies. Wilson, former Giant center fielder for Chicago, tore a ligament sliding to second in the fifth and was carried from the

New York	AB	H	O	A
Lindst'm,3b	4	1	1	5
Frisch,2b.	4	2	2	3
Young,rf.	3	1	1	0
Southw'th,lf	4	2	2	0
Kelly,1b.	3	0	12	0
Tyson,cf.	2	0	3	1
Jackson,ss.	4	1	2	1
McMullen,c.	2	0	0	0
*Curry	1	0	0	0
Hartley,c.	0	0	1	0
‡Ott.	1	0	0	0
McQuillan,p	1	0	0	2
Fitz'mons,p	1	0	0	2
†Groh.	1	0	0	0
Davies,p.	0	0	0	1
§Meusel.	1	0	0	0
Totals	32	8	24	15

Chicago	AB	H	O	A
Adams,2b.	3	2	1	4
H'theote,rf.	3	2	1	0
Munson,lf.	4	1	4	0
Wilson,cf.	3	3	0	0
Brooks,cf.	1	0	1	0
Freigan,3b.	5	2	0	1
Grimm,1b.	2	0	12	1
Cooney,ss.	4	0	2	5
Hartnett,c.	3	0	6	0
Alexander,p	3	2	0	4
Totals	30	12	27	15

*Batted for McMullen in sixth inning.
†Batted for Fitzsimmons in seventh inning.
‡Batted for Hartley in ninth inning.
§Batted for Davies in ninth inning.

New York	0	0	0	0	0	4	0	0	0	—4
Chicago	1	0	4	0	0	0	1	0	x	—6

Runs—Lindstrom, Young, Southworth, Kelly, Adams, Heathcote (2), Munson, Wilson, Alexander. Two-base hits—Wilson (2), Freigau, Alexander, Jackson, Frisch, Adams, Heathcote. Three-base hit—Lindstrom. Home run—Heathcote. Stolen base—Jackson. Sacrifices—Adams, Grimm (2), Tyson. Double plays—Tyson to Lindstrom; Fitzsimmons to Frisch to Kelly; Frisch to Jackson. Left on bases—New York, 5; Chicago, 4. First base on

MARCHE MILITAIRE, IN LIGHT, OUTSPRINTS CANTER

Derby Entry In Strong Finish

Perkiomen Sets New Mark Over Jumps at Pimlico.

Lois Rinehart Scores Surprise Victory Over Juveniles.

Special to The Washington Post.

PIMLICO, Md., May 8.—Canter, Maryland's hope for the Preakness and derby, went down to defeat today in the Rennert handicap, a six-furlong sprint, finishing well behind A. C. Bostwick's Marche Militaire. Flyman was third.

Canter was carrying top weight of 126 pounds and giving away from 16 to 30 pounds to everything in the race. Marche Militaire had an advantage of 17 pounds. Nevertheless he ran the six furlongs in 1:12, the fastest three-quarters of the meeting. It was four-fifths of a second better than the time made by Harry Payne Whitney's Noah in the Jennings handicap early this week.

THERE was considerable delay at the post, but Jim Milton finally got them off to a good start. Marche Militaire went to the front at once and opened a lead of two or three lengths in the first furlong.

Canter was outfooted from the gate, but was rushed up on the outside of the field on the backstretch. He raced into second position on the stretch turn.

As they started for home Marche Militaire showed no signs of distress and went right ahead to win in a common gallop. Canter easily placed but was not extended in the closing strides when Turner saw the task of catching the leader was almost a hopeless one.

Perkiomen was forced to equal the track record of 3:48 3-5, to win the Linstead steeplechase, the first event of today's card. With the winner at the finish was J. R. Macomber's Blue and Red to place while Minata dropped into the third hole.

Barrett Haynes rode a waiting race with Perkiomen. He kept him well behind the pace set by Broom Wrack and then Blue and Red and got on even terms with the latter after clearing the final obstacle. Perkiomen was strongest at the finish and wore down Blue and Red in the final strides.

Minata closed a lot of ground after being a distant trailer in the early stages of the race.

A field of eight started, but only the "money" horses were contenders after the first mile was run. Broom Wrack showed a lot of early speed, but tired badly on the last turn of the field and dropped out of contention.

LOIS RHINEHART surprised by getting home in front of the juveniles that faced the barrier in the Guilford a dash of 4½ furlongs.

Away forwardly, Lois Rinehart, took command when the stretch was reached and easily outstayed the consistent Amy A., who placed. Victrix was third.

Amy A. showed all her speed from the barrier, but the winner, who was just beaten a nod in her maiden effort here, showed vast improvement and raced as if much the best. Victrix was away none too well, but closed an immense gap in the stretch.

There was considerable support in this race for Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's Jennie Dean, who graduated from the maiden ranks at Jamaica. However, she stopped badly in the stretch after being a contender until the final sixteenth.

Gold Rock, however, an outsider, came close to upsetting the form players in the Arlington handicap, a race of a mile and 70 yards. Going to the front at the break Gold Rock opened up a long lead, out faltered right at the end, when challenged by Golden Spire, the favorite. Gold Rock, however, was much the best of the others.

For a while it appeared as though Golden Spire would get no part of the purse. He was carrying top weight of 122 pounds, and was far out of it as the field went up the backstretch.

Finding his stride as they neared the far turn, Golden Spire gradually improved his position and only Gold Rock was in front of him when they straightened out for home.

Little Bourassa kept at work on Gold Rock, but the outsider weakened as Golden Spire came up to match strides with him and lost by a narrow margin.

Canny, a filly racing in the colors of Mrs. Walter Jeffords, of Philadelphia, showed one of the best performances of any juvenile this year in winning the 4½ furlong dash for maiden 2-year-olds, the fourth number on the program.

It was Canny's first since the Miami meeting. She was away from the gate like a flash, took a lead of four or five lengths and finished that far in advance of Long Joe, who placed.

Peter Fiz, a highly regarded colt from the Brookmeade stable, was third. A field of ten started in the race and while most of the public support was with Peter Fiz, Canny was also well backed. She ran the 4½ furlongs in 54 2-5, one of the fastest races of the meeting.

Walter J. Salmon's Display was up in the last jump to win the Govans handicap from A. B. Gordon's Banton. Both are potential starters in the Preakness Monday.

JUAREZ RESULTS.

FIRST RACE—Four-and-a-half furlongs. Old Sinner, 112 (Greenwood), 4.80, 2.80, 2.60; Danie, 103 (Laidley), 3.60, 3.00; Lawrence, 112 (Collins), 4.60. Time, 0:59. Canvas Back, Fagwood, Bulseros, Trippitwa also ran.

SECOND RACE—Three-fourths mile. St. Pierre, 109 (Laidley), 15.80, 4.00, 2.60; Doctor Tubbs, 109 (Hatton), 4.20, 3.20; Felicitous, 109 (Taylor), 2.80. Time, 1:15 1-5. False Alarm, Glenzar, St. Peter, Tom Brooks, Forewarn also ran.

THIRD RACE—Five-eighths mile. Harry M., 103 (Daig), 4.60, 3.40, 3.20; James Neeley, 108 (Neal), 4.40, 4.00; Jake Martin, 111 (Andres), 4.40. Time, 1:02 3-5. Little Reb, Louie Fallon, Jack Collier, Buells Lily, Aggie A., Lillipuntian, Fairy Rose, Fay King also ran.

FOURTH RACE—Five and a half furlongs. Hapsburg Miss, 110 (Donahue), 33.40, 19.20, 6.40; Elennor W., 105 (Yates), 3.80, 3.20; Smart Horse, 112 (Fowler), 4.00. Time, 1:08. Little Hope, C. W. Jackson, Leonard Thomas, Pat Carter, Miss Paige also ran.

FIFTH RACE—Five-and-a-half furlongs. Marse John, 110 (McIntyre), 4.40, 3.60, 2.80; Marjorie Wood, 107 (Beaux), 5.20, 4.60; Dan Hogan, 113 (Taylor), 4.80. Time, 1:06 2-5. Flower of Eden, Cocksure, Sequan, The Nephew also ran.

LATE RESULTS OF FRIDAY.

FIFTH RACE—Five-eighths mile. Chick Up, 101 (Yates), 5.20, 3.00, 2.40; Riviera, 110 (Laidley), 2.40. Time, 0:59 1-5. Lorena Marcella, Nosa Dive, Ere also ran.

SIXTH RACE—Five-and-a-half furlongs. Pollymara, 109 (Donohue), 33.40, 19.20, 7.60; John A. Scott Jr, 112 (Masrid), 4.40, 3.00; Publisher, 116 (Roach), 2.80. Time, 1:08 3-5. Belle Hi Go Boh, Dr. Amy, Sir Stephen also ran.

SEVENTH RACE—Mile and one-eighth. Nan's Fortune, 106 (Wilson), 10.20, 6.40, 3.40; Dustman, 101 (Robertson), 12.20, 3.80; Rapid Traveler, 108 (Laidley), 3.80. Time, 1:55. Lena R. Richard V. Capt. Mac also ran.

JUAREZ ENTRIES.

FIRST RACE—Three-year-olds and upward; claiming; $500; 5 furlongs.

1 Good Time	114	5 Towton's Gem	96
2 Dode Adams	112	6 John D.	114
3 Nick Glein	109	7 Colando	114
4 Pointrey	117

SECOND RACE—Three-year-olds and upward; claiming; $400; 5 furlongs.

1 Brown Dick	119	7 Leonard Thomas	112
2 Baby	98	8 Little Buck	108
3 Miss Emma G.	98	9 Bobbie	105
4 Neg	108	10 Linda Zinfia	106
5 Happy	97	11 Four o' Five	111
6 Shasta Sol	97	12 Jago	107

THIRD RACE—Four-year-olds and upward; claiming; $500; 1⅛ miles.

1 Silex II	111	4 Insurance	106
2 Vibra	106	5 Mrs. Pat	109
3 Plow Steel	106	6 Nan's Fortune	104

FOURTH RACE—Four-year-olds and upward; the First Calvary Division Commanders' Military Handicap; purse, $400; 4 furlongs.

1 Soldier Boy	145	6 Prince Henry	148
2 Poacher	138	7 King Simon	125
3 Lava	145	8 Sacramento	128
4 Gallant Boy	140	9 Over the Top	135
5 Easter Day	140	10 Tequilla	135

FIFTH RACE—Four-year-olds and upward; claiming; $400; 6 furlongs.

1 Chet G.	109	9 Marquesito	107
2 Spice Bush	109	10 Glenzar	104
3 Monopoly	103	11 Bethlehem Steel	106
4 Buck's Smile	105	12 Forewarn	109
5 Hidden Money	102	13 Miss Libesty	108
6 Au Revoir	101	14 Jake Feld	104
7 Win All	104	15 Captain Mac	119
8 Trippaway	107

SIXTH RACE—Three-year-olds and upward; claiming; $500; 6 furlongs.

1 Slippery Smile	113	7 Sir Stephen	101
2 Miss Patton	102	8 Korbly	115
3 Rooters	103	9 Ginger Pyle	114
4 Bee Jay	107	10 Doctor K	107
5 Time's Up	98	11 J. A. Scott Jr.	115
6 Publisher	112

SEVENTH RACE—Three-year-olds and upward; White House Dry Goods Co. Handicap; $800; 1⅛ miles.

1 Reap	110	6 Paddist	110
2 Prince Tii Tii	121	7 Praise	100
3 Jolly Cephas	100	8 Weary Dick	96
4 Latisha	90	9 Marcella Boy	100
5 The Falconer	103

EIGHTH RACE—Three-year-olds and upward; claiming; $500; 1⅛ miles.

1 Richard V.	113	5 Lorena L.	109
2 Dustman	111	6 Whipsaw	111
3 Evelyn Brown	109	7 Boreas	103
4 Hank's Son	111	8 Rapid Traveler	108

AKRON RESULTS.

FIRST RACE—Five and one-half furlongs; purse, $500; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward. Lydia Drew, 106 (Rails), 29.00, 11.20, 6.80; Necklace, 106 (Rausser), 4.40, 4.20; Gulusha, 103 (Morar), 38.60. Time, 1:08 3-5. Fauce, Marat, Pokey Jane, Sancho Pansy, Quota, Move On Seth also ran.

SECOND RACE—Five and one-half furlongs; purse, $500; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward. Shine On, 111 (Dominick), 5.20, 5.00, 3.40; Josie M., 106 (Booker), 6.00, 4.00; Black Air, 100 (Rausser), 3.40. Time, 1:08 2-5. Machiavelli, Helen Major, Trapeze, My Biddy, Helen of Troy, Tomahot, Dora Lutz also ran.

THIRD RACE—Six and one-half furlongs; for 3-year-olds and upward; claiming; purse, $500. Joe Campbell, 108 (Booker), 9.80, 4.80, 3.20; Naughty Nisba, 100 (Epperson), 4.60, 3.60; McKenna, 108 (Pendergrass), 3.40. Time, 1:21 4-5. Cottager, Beretta, Ormzleigh, Collie, Tokalon, Fairy Gift also ran.

FOURTH RACE—One mile and 70 yards; for 3-year-olds and upward; claiming; purse, $500. Zero, 110 (Ralls), 10.40, 5.00, 3.40; Dubinda, 99 (Hewy), 15.20, 7.00; Thor, 101 (Epperson), 8.80. Time, 1:46 1-5. Molinero, Spontaneous, Foster Embry, Eelman, Handful, Blossom House, Boju also ran.

FIFTH RACE—One-half mile; for 2-year-olds; allowances; purse, $500. Seth Hope, 112 (Dominick), 10.60, 3.60, 2.60; Pleasant Smiles, 118 (Booker), 3.20, 2.40; Sweeping Ann, 110 (Gross), 2.60. Time, 0:48 3-5. Charette, Dick, Cuban Flag, Mary Hausman, Apropos also ran.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward. Wee Toddler, 103 (Morar), 36.40, 9.20, 5.60. Crystal Ford, 103 (Rausser), 3.60, 2.60; Seacount, 104 (Smith), 3.40. Time, 1:48 3-5. Little Clair, Colonel Carr, Lord Vargrave also ran.

SEVENTH RACE—Six and one-half furlongs; for 3-year-olds and upward; purse, $1,000; handicap. Randall's Royal, 100 (McGinnis), 11.20, 5.20, 7.20; Johnny Jewell, 105 (Booker), 4.00, 5.00; Columbia II, 104 (Ralls), 5.00. Time, 1:21 3-5. Long Point, Caligula, Golden Mac, Play Lillie, Lady Glasgen also ran.

EIGHTH RACE—One mile; for 4-year-olds and upward; claiming; purse, $500. Herbertus, 102 (Rausser), 7.20, 4.60, 3.80; Lugs, 107 (Dominick), 4.80, 3.60; Frank Fogarty, 110 (Taylor), 4.40. Time, 1:41 3-5. Romping Lad, Donna Santa, Secretary, The Plainsman, Harry B. also ran.

JAMAICA ENTRIES.

(MONDAY.)

FIRST RACE—Claiming; 3-year-olds and upward; 6 furlongs.

1 Thomas Lynn	119	12 Skit	115
2 Vic	105	13 Glorianes	110
3 Gladstone	115	14 Vulcan Park	115
4 *Rosina	100	15 Trevan	115
5 Barnes Bill	110	16 *Belcross	110
6 Spearo	115	17 Marcellus	115
7 Donnetta	110	18 Voshell	115
8 Better Times	115	19 Adieu	100
9 *Circus Rider	105	20 Night March	115
10 Michael B.	115	21 Vallette	115
11 Reprisal	120	22 Libo Libo	110

SECOND RACE—Claiming; 3-year-olds and upward; mile and 70 yards.

1 *Flying Al	115	7 *Futuro	115
2 *Sam Smith	115	8 *Costigan	115
3 Rupee	120	9 *Sabina	100
4 White Wash	115	10 *Foreman	105
5 *Ferrash	105	11 *Yoshihui	115
6 Camilla	100

THIRD RACE—Conditions; the Baisley; 3-year-olds; 6 furlongs.

1 Whirling Stone	105	4 Lachen	119
2 Hang On	110	5 Celidon	119
3 Metzie's Buddy	105	6 Judicial	117

FOURTH RACE—The Rainbow; claiming; 3-year-olds and upward; 6 furlongs.

1 Vespasian	100	4 Superlette	121
2 Pique	110	5 Lachen	105
3 Silver Fox	126

FIFTH RACE—Claiming; 3-year-olds and upward; mile and 70 yards.

1 O'Corra	117	4 Barracks	102
2 *Anaitis	99	5 Gala Night	117
3 Nora Hayes	120	6 Romany	117

SIXTH RACE—The Boulevard handicap; 3-year-olds and upward; 6 furlongs.

1 Brose Hover	108	5 Martha Martin	124
2 Professor	115	6 Titan	126
3 Green Dragon	110	7 Bald Pate	105
4 Basquiase	107

*Apprentice allowance claimed.
Weather, clear; track, fast.

COLUMBUS ENTRIES.

(MONDAY.)

FIRST RACE—$500; claiming; 3-year-olds and upward; 5½ furlongs.

1 Catkiln	105	5 *Oneida	105
2 Francis Simpe	106	6 Herbert	107
3 *John Joseph	107	7 Ciceronian	108
4 Black Top	108	8 Bill Shaffer	108

SECOND RACE—$500; claiming; 3-year-olds and upward; 5½ furlongs.

1 Edith Clifford	101	6 *Tea Cosy	101
2 Little Barbara	101	7 Blue Caddie	105
3 Winnie Davis	106	8 Hialeah	106
4 Billy Welch	108	9 Request	108
5 Kinbarn	111

THIRD RACE—$500; claiming; 3-year-olds and upward; 5½ furlongs.

1 Lady Goodhart	101	6 Oak	103
2 Pinch of Snuff	106	7 Barran	108
3 Matinee Idol	108	8 Coat of Arms	108
4 High Gear	108	9 Huzzas	108
5 Sagamore	112

FOURTH RACE—$600; 3-year-olds and upward; claiming; 5½ furlongs.

1 *Mitzi McGee	104	7 Lottie Lorraine	106
2 Dick's Seth	106	8 *Cobham	106
3 Mandy	106	9 Red Pep	106
4 Reprieve	106	10 Intake	106
5 Sinvona	107	11 Liborio	108
6 Gen. Cadorna	111	12 Banker Brown	114

FIFTH RACE—$800; claiming; 3-year-olds and upward; 6 furlongs.

1 Traproc	102	4 *Sun Brae	107
2 Martha Roos	107	5 Hole Card	108
3 Myrtle Belle	115

SIXTH RACE—$700; claiming; 4-year-olds and upward; mile and 70 yards.

1 Whiz On	104	4 *Wise Cracker	107
2 *Rancocas	106	5 Red Mill	107
3 Betsy Bacon	106	6 Lucky Run	114

SEVENTH RACE—$900; claiming; 4-year-olds and upward; mile and 70 yards.

1 *Hopeful	109	5 My Lorraine	103
2 The Colonel	108	6 Mart Bunch	108
3 Sir Ralph	108	7 Briar Sweet	113
4 Mercutio	114

*Apprentice allowance claimed.

COLLYER'S SELECTIONS

PIMLICO.

First race—Overlord, Starray, Tommy Foster.
Second race—Crafty, Dumpy, Verdi.
Third race—Knight of Mercei II, E. K. Bryson entry, Dream Maker.
Fourth race—Beatrice Noyes, Northland, Sen Moss.
Fifth race—H. P. Whitney entry, Bagenbaggage, Canter.
Sixth race—Billy Mann, Clearview, Fornovo.
Seventh race—C. O. Smithson entry, St. John, Peddler.
Best—H. P. Whitney entry.

LOUISVILLE.

First race—Audley entry, Ortleib, Sun Dance.
Second race—Indianapolis, Smacker, Susan Rebecca.
Third race—My Colonel, Sandy Man, Champ de Mars.
Fourth race—Florence Mills, Teak, Lady Stone.
Fifth race—Malcolm B Jr, American Son, Rhinock.
Sixth race—Thirteen Sixty, Gay Hallie, Edna Mitchell.
Seventh race—My Destiny, Belzini, Fantoche.
Best—Malcomb B Jr.
Most probable winner—H. P. Whitney entry.
Best take a chance—Malcomb B Jr.
Best parlay—H. P. Whitney entry, American Son, Smithson entry to win.

COLUMBUS.

First race—Oneida, Ciceronian, John Joseph.
Second race—Tea Cosy, Edith Clifford, Kinbarn.
Third race—Sagamore, Matinee Idol, Huzzas.
Fourth race—Banker Brown, Cobham, Intake.
Fifth race—Myrtle Belle, Sunbrae, Traproc.
Sixth race—Wise Cracker, Lucky Run, Betsy Bacon.
Seventh race—Mercutio, The Colonel, Briar Sweet.
Best—Wise Cracker.

JAMAICA.

First race—Reprisal, Belcross, Adieu.
Second race—Sabina, Rupee.
Third race—Rancocas entry, Wishing Stone, Judicial.
Fourth race—Rancocas entry, Pique, Vespasian.
Fifth race—Anitis, Romany, Nora Hayes.
Sixth race—Titan, Martha Martin, Professor.
Best—Rancocas entry (fourth race).

JUAREZ.

(SUNDAY.)

First race—Pointex, Dode Adams, Good Times.
Second race—Jago, Linda Zinda, Happy.
Third race—Plow Steel, Mrs. Pat, Vibra.
Fourth race—Easterday, Poncher, Gallant Boy.
Fifth race—Spicebush, Jack Feld, Captain Mac.
Sixth race—Publisher, Korbly, John A. Scott, Jr.
Seventh race—Prince Tii Tii, Marcella Boy, The Falconer.
Eight race—Dustman, Lorena L, Whipsaw.
Best—Prince Tii Tii.

TRACKMAN'S SELECTIONS

JUAREZ.

Good Time, Colanda, John D.
Brown Dick, Little Buck, Neg
Silex II, Vibre, Miss Pat.
Prince Henry, Easterday, Poacher.
Chet, Au Revoir, Spicebush.
Korbly, Publisher, John A. Scott, Jr.
Prince Tii Tii, Reap, Latisha.
Dustman, Whipsaw, Rapid Traveler.
—New York Handicap.

RESULTS AT PIMLICO, MARYLAND, MAY 8, 1926

FIRST RACE—The Linsted steeplechase; handicap; purse, $2,000. Value to winner, $1,400; second, $400; third, $300. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place easily. Went to post at 2:20; off at 2:30. Winner, Louis Starr's ch. g. (a) by Haldeman—Nancy Grater. Trained by M. O'Connor. Time, 3:58.

Starters	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Finish	Jockeys	Straight
Perkiomen	142	3	1	3hd	2hd	2d	1½	R. Haynes	$2.35
Blue and Red	142	2	6	5d	5hd	1h	2d	R. Neander	3.30
Minata	142	1	7	6dis	6dis	2d	3dis	C. Smoot	2.50
Broom Wrack	132	8	4	1h	1½	4dis	4dis	C. Stergles	13.80
Gold Foyle	137	5	5	3hd	3dis	3dis	5dis	W. Keating	214.95
Commodore Ingraham	126	6	8	8	8	6d	6d	A. Williams	134.25
Fleetwood	128	7	3	7d	7d	5d	7	P. Watkins	*
Coningsby	134	4	2	4½	4½	Lost rider.		W. Green	11.60

*Pending entry.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—Perkiomen, $6.70, $3.70, $2.70; Blue and Red, $4.80, $3.90; Minata, $3.00.

Haynes waited with Perkiomen until last turn of the field before making his effort. Moved up steadily going to twelfth fence and, wearing Blue and Red down, outlasted him at end. Blue and Red showed keen speed and fenced well. Weakened when winner challenged and when he pulled up, was very lame. Minata could never keep up with the pace. Broom Wrack tired badly.

SECOND RACE—Four and one-half furlongs. The Guilford purse; $1,500. Value to winner, $950; second, $250; third, $150. For 2-year-olds and upward; claiming. Start good. Won driving; place same. Went to post at 3:07; off at 3:08. Winner, E. H. Faulconer's b. f. by Meridian—Assama. Trained by J. R. Jones. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:48 2-5, 0:55.

Starters	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Finish	Jockeys	Straight
Lois Rinehart	108	6	6	2h	1d	1½	1½	Chalmers	$9.20
Amy A	108	1	1	1h	2h	2d	2d	Munden	1.85
Victrix	108	5	3	3h	3h	3h	3d	Erickson	15.95
Lena Rinehart	107	8	5	5d	5d	4d	4½	Coltiletti	5.60
Jenny Dean	113	3	2	4hd	4d	5d	5h	Johnson	2.50
Fireside Wales	108	7	7	6½	6d	7	6½	Callahan	83.45
Forespun	113	2	4	7d	8	8	7	Crump	38.10
Charlotte Hall	106	4	8	8	7d	6d	8	V. Stott	56.60

Two-dollar mutuels paid—Lois Rinehart, $20.40, $7.40, $5.00; Amy A., $3.60; $2.80; Victrix, $6.30.

Lois Rinehart went around the pacemakers at 3-furlong pole and drew away entering home stretch. Amy A. saved ground all the way. Broke well but lacked her burst of early speed. Victrix began very slowly but finished fast on the outside.

THIRD RACE—Mile and seventy yards. The Arlington handicap; purse, $1,300. Value to winner, $1,000; second, $300; third, $200. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place easily. Went to post at 3:40; off at 3:41. Winner, Sunnyland stable's ch. c. (4) by Golden Brown—Glory Maid. Trained by R. A. Smith. Time, 0:23 3-5, 0:48, 1:13, 1:39 4-5, 1:45.

Starters	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Finish	Jockeys	Straight
Golden Spire	122	5	5	6hk	6d	4½	2½	1nk	Morris	$2.55
Gold Rock	92	4	6	1h	1½	1½	1h	2½	Bourassa	56.80
War Man	98	3	4	2d	2d	2d	2d	3½	Munden	3.15
Arbitration	98	1	1	3½	4d	3nk	4d	4d	Howard	5.00
Pixola	105	7	3	5h	5h	6d	5d	5h	Malbet	9.45
Opportun	116	6	7	4d	3d	5d	6d	6d	Johnson	5.90
Zeebugger	101	2	2	3d	3½	3½	7	7	Callahan	13.35

Two-dollar mutuels paid—Golden Spire, $7.10, $4.90, $3.50; Gold Rock, $38.30, $14.30; War Man, $3.20.

Golden Spire dropped out of it in early stages and Morris waited with him until after passing the half-mile pole before making his effort. Went around on the outside and moving up steadily. Gold Rock got to get up in the final strides. Gold Rock broke fast and showed lot of speed but quit in the final strides. War Man quit badly in the final strides.

FOURTH RACE—Four and one-half furlongs. Purse, $1,300. Value to winner, $900; second, $250; third, $150. For maiden 2-year-olds. Start good. Won easily; place driving. Went to post at 4:14; off at 4:17. Winner, Mrs. W. M. Jeffords' ch. f., by Golden Broom—Discretion. Trained by T. Moran. Time, 0:23, 0:47 2-5, 0:54 2-5.

Starters	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Finish	Jockeys	Straight
Canny	113	9	2	1h	1h	1h	1h	Callahan	$3.80
Long Joe	116	5	9hk	5d	3d	2d	2½	Coltiletti	5.55
Peter Fiz	116	2	3	2h	2d	3d	3½	Schaeffer	3.60
Compensation	116	8	5	3½	4d	4d	4d	Sobeski	18.70
La Morte	116	4	8	6d	6d	5d	5d	P. Martinez	170.00
Merissa	113	10	7	9d	9d	8d	6d	R. Fisher	89.90
Fleetman	116	7	10	10	10	9d	7d	Crump	*
Fair Star	113	3	1	4d	4½	6d	8d	H. Smallwood	5.55
Fred Wood	116	1	6	8d	7d	7d	9d	Chalmers	27.50
Ginna Lee	113	1	4	8h	10	10	10	Turner	19.40

*Redwell entry.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—Canny, $9.70, $5.40, $3.20; Long Joe, $5.20, $3.10; Peter Fiz, $2.90.

Canny sprinted away from her field when break came and, opening up a long lead, held her opposition safe throughout. She was in hand at end. Long Joe went wide most of the trip. He was driving at end to stall off Peter Fiz. Latter was coming at the end and will improve.

FIFTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $5,000. Rennert Handicap. Value to winner, $4,410; second, $1,000; third, $500; fourth, $250. For 3-year-olds. Start good. Won easily; place second. Went to post at 4:49. Off at 4:54. Winner, A. C. Bostwick's b. c. (3), by Light Brigade—Margaret Hampton. Trained by J. W. Healey. Time, 0:22 4-5, 0:46 2-5, 1:12.

Starters	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Finish	Jockeys	Straight
Marche Militaire	107	4	1	1d	1d	1d	1½	Chalmers	$4.30
Canter	126	5	5	4½	2d	2d	2½	Turner	.70
Fly Man	107	1	6	5hk	4d	3d	3d	Schaeffer	14.75
What'll I Do	107	3	4	3d	3d	4d	4d	Callahan	13.05
Applecross	110	2	3	2d	5d	5d	5d	Weiher	8.55
Duration	96	6	2	6h	6h	6hd	6d	Peternell	27.90
Montferrat	108	8	8	7d	7d	7d	7d	Coltiletti	29.05
Gavotte	109	7	7	8	8	8	8	Munden	13.25

Two-dollar mutuels paid—Marche Militaire, $11.80, $3.80, $3.00; Canter, $2.80, $2.60; Fly Man, $6.20.

Marche Militaire outbroke his field, drew away first furlong and, running in hand to stretch turn, increased his advantage. Canter broke slow and worked his way up on the outside. He moved up steadily going to half-mile pole, but was unable to improve his position last half mile. Fly Man disposed of Montferrat entering the homestretch.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,500. Govans Handicap. Value to winner, $1,000; second, $300; third, $200. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place easily. Went to post at 5:24. Off at 5:26. Winner, W. J. Salmon's b. c. by Fair Play—Clenita. Trained by J. Pryce. Time, 0:23 3-5, 0:48, 1:13 2-5, 1:39, 1:45 2-5.

Starters	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Finish	Jockeys	Straight
Display	114	1	4	2nk	2½	2d	1½	Malbet	Straight	$3.70
Banton	106	4	2	1h	1h	1h	2½	Turner		2.45
Goldstick	108	5	3	3d	3d	3d	3d	Callahan		1.30
Wheatstick	106	2	5	4d	4d	4d	4d	R. Fisher		11.60
Goldheater	106	3	1	5	5	5	5	Chalmers		15.75

Two-dollar mutuels paid—Display, $5.50, $3.50, $2.30; Banton, $6.30, $2.90; Goldstick, $2.30.

Malben avoided the pace with Display and took him back after being straightened out on backstretch. Went around on outside when he made his move entering homestretch and finished fast out with Banton all last quarter. Banton had something taken out of him racing the speedy Goldstick into submission. He came again after being headed at furlong pole. Goldstick quit badly.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,300. Value to winner, $900; second, $250; third, $150. For 3-year-olds and upward; claiming. Start good and fast. Won easily; place same. Went to post at 5:58. Off at 5:59. Winner, J. Nechamkin's b. c. (4) by Spanish Prince II—Minuet. Trained by C. F. Tanner. Time, 0:24, 0:49 2-5, 1:14 3-5, 1:41, 1:48.

Starters	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Finish	Jockeys	Straight
Hidalgo	107	1	5	7h	7d	6d	1nk	1d	Leyland	$5.80
Wormwold	102	5	6	6d	6d	5d	2½	2½	Peternell	7.40
Martingale	108	8	3	1h	1h	2½	3nk	3d	Geving	4.75
Green Blazes	92	10	7	5h	5h	3nk	4d	4d	McGonigle	3.15
Lady Bountiful	97	2	2	2h	2h	1h	5d	5h	Howard	5.05
Sixty	103	3	1	3½	3½	4d	6d	6d	J. Taylor	10.10
Dream of the Valley	113	7	10	10	10	10	8½	7h	Brown	20.70
South Breeze	113	6	4	4½	4½	7d	7d	8½	C. Lang	24.00
Star Delight	109	9	9	9d	9d	9d	9½	9½	McCrossen	*
Dontavia	113	4	8	8d	8d	10	10	10	D. Fisher	52.35

*Field.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—Hidalgo, $13.20, $7.30, $4.60; Wormwold, $9.70, $5.30; Martingale, $5.90.

Leyland waited with Hidalgo until well around the far turn before making his effort. Worked his way up on outside after stretch turn and drew away into an easy lead last furlong. Wormwold, outrun in early stages, closed with a rush on outside after making wide turn into homestretch. Martingale, a keen factor from the start, tired in final drive. Lady Bountiful and Green Blazes raced each other into submission.

RESULTS AT CHURCHILL DOWNS, KY., MAY 8, 1926

WEATHER CLEAR; TRACK FAST.

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,300. For 3-year-olds and upward; claiming. Start good. Won driving. Went to post at 2:03; off at 2:06. Winner, W. S. Heaton's ch. g. (6) by Huon—Hazzaza. Trained by R. L. Rogers. Time, 0:22 3-5, 0:46 3-5, 1:12 3-5.

Starters	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Finish	Jockeys	Straight
Banter	109	14	1	2h	2½	1½	1nk	Finnerty	$3.70
Dry Moon	107	12	3	3h	1h	2d	2nk	Steele	15.50
Mom's Boy	102	1	2	1h	3d	3d	3d	Dubois	5.80
Happy Top	112	2	10	9d	8d	4½	4½	Kaiser	17.20
Marvin May	112	4	4	2h	4h	5h	5d	E. Pool	4.80
Seth's Alibi	112	10	12	12d	9d	6d	6d	Barnett	14.30
Dolly Bay	109	2	13	11	12	12	7d	Maguire	*9.60
Robert Maxwell	109	8	8	8h	7d	8d	8d	Neal	6.80
Massillon

NAVY STAGES FIELD DAY AT EXPENSE OF D. C. TEAM

CENTRAL, WESTERN, G. W. AND MARYLAND ATHLETES VICTIMS

District Guardsmen Beaten in Rifle Match; Hatchet Trackmen Overwhelmed; Plebes Win in Baseball and Tennis.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 8.—Athletic teams of the plebe, or freshmen class, held the center of the stage, and teams from Washington furnished the major opposition in a program of eight attractions at the Naval Academy this afternoon.

And the middies swept everything before them. The plebes captured five contests, and the varsity three. A summary of the day's activities follows:

Field and track—Varsity, 114; George Washington university, 21; Plebes, 60; Central of Washington, 57.

Tennis—Varsity, 8; N. Y. university, 1; Plebes, 7; Western High school of Washington, 2.

Rifle shooting—Varsity, 298; District of Columbia National Guard, 2,248; Plebes, 1,328; Western High of Washington, 1,179.

Baseball—Plebes, 13; University of Maryland Freshmen, 4.

Lacrosse—Plebes, 5; Friends School of Baltimore, 4. The Plebes-Central track and Plebes-Friends lacrosse furnished the keenest competitions of all.

In the ball game the Maryland yearlings cracked in the sixth inning against the Naval Plebes. The Plebes had everything their own way in the final frames.

The game was closely contested until the sixth. In the fifth, Maryland scored twice and forged to the front, 4 to 3, a hit batsman followed by B. Kesler's three-base hit and a wild pitch, turning the trick.

In the track meet, Loehler, ace of George Washington, performed in brilliant style, in the face of overwhelming defeat. The former won hurdle ends, and placed second in the shot put, third in the discus and broad jump, thereby amassing 17 of his team's total in points. Aaronson added the other four points for second in the pole vault and third in the 100-yard dash.

The contest between Central High and the Plebes was more than worth the while, and was one of the closest field and track competitions ever staged at the academy. There was ample glory for the visitors in spite of the defeat by a five-point margin, for they garnered five out of seven firsts in the track events and four of the six afield and weights. The result of the meet virtually turned upon the mile race, in which Central had no entries.

The racketers of Western High, however, gave the Plebes the stiffest kind of a fight, although defeated, 7 to 2; the Washington lads registered their two counts in the singles, the most gratifying of which was Mitchell's victory over Farrin, the Plebe pilot, in three hotly contested sets. The High school lads fell down in the doubles.

VARSITY TRACK MEET.

100-yard dash—Won by Kern (Navy); Hetter (Navy), second; Aaronson (George Washington), third. Time, 10 7-10 secs.

220-yard dash—Won by Summers (Navy); Kern (Navy), second; Jaconson (Navy), third. Time, 23 secs.

120-yard hurdles—Won by Loehler (G. W. U.); Boyer (Navy), second; Shapley (Navy), third. Time, 16 1-10 secs.

440-yard dash—Won by Robelam (Navy); June (Navy), second; Caldwell (Navy), third. Time, 51 9-10 secs. George Washington had no entries.

Mile run—Won by Bailey (Navy); Richardsen (Navy), second; Brown (Navy), third. Time, 4m. 39s.

Two-mile run—Won by Thomas (Navy); Rowley (Navy), second; Watson (Navy), third. Time, 9m. 55s.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Loehler (G. W. U.); Shapley (Navy), second; Benjamin (Navy), third. Time, 26 2-10 secs.

High jump—Won by Jack (Navy); Carpenter (Navy), second; Urquaerhart (Navy), third. Time, 2m. 2 5-10 secs.

Shot put—Won by Warren (Navy); Loehler (G. W. U.), second; Cooper (Navy), third. 41 ft.

Discus throw—Won by McGarry (Navy); Warren (Navy), second; Loehler (G. W. U.), third. 122 ft. 11½ in.

Pole vault—Won by Rutledge (Navy); Aaronson (G. W. U.), second; Laff (Navy), third. Height, 11 ft. 6 in.

Javelin throw—Won by McGarry (Navy); Sullivan (Navy), second; Allen (Navy), third. Distance, 162 ft. 8¼ in.

High jump—Won by Bernet (Navy); Adair (Navy), second; Foley (Navy), third. 5 ft. 11¼ in.

Broad jump—Won by Rutledge, Navy; Loehler, George Washington, second; Dawson, Navy, third. Distance, 21 feet 8¼ inches.

Hammer throw—Won by Chappell, Navy; Little, Navy, second; Lewis, Navy, third. 129 feet 1 inch.

Final score—Navy, 114; George Washington, 21.

PLEBE TRACK.

100-yard dash—Won by Smith, Central; Couhig, Navy, second; Lembert, Navy, third. 10 5-10 seconds.

220-yard dash—Won by Smith, Central; Jones, Central, second; Lembert, Navy, third. 23 3-10 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Pennebaker, Central; Johnson, Navy, second; Smoot, Central, third. 18 4-10 seconds.

440-yard dash—Won by Young, Central; Davidson, Navy, second; Barnes, Navy, third. 55 6-10 seconds.

220-yard low hurdle—Won by Pennebaker, Central; Johnson, Navy, second; Bush, Navy, third. 28 1-10 seconds.

Half-mile—Won by Easton, Navy; Nelson, Navy, second; Gates, Navy, third. 2 minutes 13 3-10 seconds.

Mile run—Won by Lippert, Navy; Lynch, Navy, second; McLaughlin, Navy, third. Central had no entries.

Discus throw—Won by Suter, Central; Jones, Central, second; Rigby, Navy, third. 105 feet 9 inches.

Javelin throw—Won by Jones, Central; Kline, Central, second; Suter, Central, third. 156 feet 6 inches.

High jump—By Baldaux, Navy; White, Navy, and Milans, Central, tied for second. Height, 5 feet 6 inches.

Broad jump—Won by Gotlieb, Central; White, Navy, second; Stephens, Navy, third. Distance, 20 feet 2⅝ inches.

Pole vault—Won by Suter, Central; Cone and Johnson, Navy, tied for second. Height, 11 feet.

Shot put—Won by Morse, Navy; Stephens, Navy, second; Jones, Central, third. Distance, 42 feet 6¾ inches.

Final score—Plebes, 60; Central, 57.

PLEBE BASEBALL.

N. Plebes.	AB	H	O	A	Md. Frosh.	AB	H	O	A
Porter,rf...	5	1	2	0	B.Keesler,2b	5	2	1	1
Dennett,ss..	4	1	1	0	Snyder,lf...	4	0	0	0
Hannon,cf..	4	1	1	0	G.Keesler,cf	4	1	1	0
Anderson,cf	0	0	0	0	Simmons,ss.	4	2	2	3
Jackson,lf..	5	4	1	0	Hearne,rf...	2	0	0	0
Wilson,p....	4	2	1	5	Shenk,3b....	4	1	1	2
Farmer,1b..	4	0	5	0	Zalm,1b.....	4	1	9	1
Ray,2b.....	5	0	0	0	Neilsen,c....	3	0	10	1
Foley,3b....	0	0	0	0	Burroughs,p.	2	0	0	2
Dehan,3b...	2	1	0	0	Tew,p.....	0	0	0	0
Ennis,c.....	4	1	14	1
Totals....	37	13	27	7	Totals....	33	6	24	9

Plebes.....	1	0	0	2	0	4	3	3	x	—13
Maryland...	0	1	0	1	2	0	0	0	0	—4

Runs—Porter, Dennett (2), Hannon (3), Jackson (4), Wilson, Ray, Dehan, B. Keesler, G. Kessler, Simmons, Burrough. Errors—Dennet (2), Farmer. (2), B. Kesler, Tawney, Hahn, Neilson, Burroughs. Two-base hit—G. Kessler. Three-base hits—Dehan, B. Keesler. Home run—Wilson. Stolen bases—Dehan, Ennis, Simmons, Hearne, B. Kessler. Sacrifice hits—Dennet, Wilson, Farmer. Bases on balls—Off Wilson, 3; off Burroughs, 2; off Tew, 1. Struck out—By Wilson, 14; by Burroughs, 7; by Tew, 4. Hits—Off Burroughs, 10 in 6 1-3 innings; off Tew, 3 in 2 3 innings. Losing pitcher—Burroughs. Wild pitch—Burroughs, Wilson. Passed balls—Ennie, 2; Neilson, 2. Hit by pitcher—Burroughs and Snyder, by Wilson. Left on bases—Plebes, 6; Maryland, 7. First base on errors—Maryland, 2; Plebes, 3.

VARSITY RIFLE MATCH.

Navy—McDonald, 230; Barrier, 220; Hyne, 230; Davis, 235; Duerfeldt, 251; Coffin, 234; Mumma, 222; Shepard, 231; Knowles, 234; Rekberg, 231. Team total, 2,298.

D. C. Guardsmen—H. Riley, 227; Triny, 231; Everett, 221; McMahon, 230; Votava, 223; Leeds, 193; Schwieker, 224; Andrus, 230; Shields, 237; Barry, 229. Totals, 2,248.

PLEBE RIFLE MATCH.

Navy plebes—Tolley, 214; Hill, 224; Lake, 215; Hood, 217; White, 232; Loomis, 226. Totals, 1328.

Western High—Horner Brook, 186; Morscher, 189; Lenard, 196; Gilbert, 192; Blount 222; McDouglas, 194. Team totals, 1,179.

Eddie Foster Nine Defeats St. Peter's

Coming from behind, the Eddie Foster Insects defeated the St. Peter's Insects yesterday, 8 to 6.

Ed. Foster.	AB	H	O	A	St. Peter's.	AB	H	O	A
Wall,lf.....	2	0	1	0	Ednora,3b...	4	1	2	1
Barker,rf...	4	0	1	1	Hall,lf.....	4	0	2	1
Ellis,ss.....	4	2	3	2	McQuillan,1b	4	2	7	2
Omera,p.....	4	0	4	2	Noonan,2b...	4	1	2	2
Leigh,1b....	4	1	10	1	Connell,p....	4	1	1	2
Rollins,2b..	4	0	1	2	Day,rf.....	4	0	2	1
Barker,3b...	3	1	0	1	Kaller,ss....	4	0	2	2
Compton,cf..	3	0	1	0	McKean,cf...	4	0	2	0
Estes,c.....	4	3	5	2	Duvall,c....	2	0	6	0
Sperber,lf...	2	1	1	0	Kane,p.....	2	0	1	1
					Langley,rf...	2	0	0	1
Totals....	34	8	27	12	Totals....	38	5	27	13

Ed. Foster In's	0	0	0	0	4	2	2	0	0	—8
St. Peter's Ins	0	1	0	3	0	1	1	0	1	—6

Runs—Estes (2), Barker (2), Ellis, Sperber, Compton, Rollins, Ednora (3), Noonan, Kaller, Kane. Errors—D. Barker (2), K. Barker, Kaller, Noonan, Ednora (2), Kane. Two-base hits—Estes, Ellis, Noonan. Sacrifices—Wall, Sperber. Double plays—O'Mera to Leigh (2); Ellis to Leigh; Ednora to McQuillan (2); Kaller to McQuillan. Left on bases—Eddie Foster, 8; St. Peter's, 10. Hits—Off Connell, 3 in 1 inning; off Kane, 5 in 4 innings. Hit by pitched ball—By O'Mera, Connell. Struck out—By O'Mera, 9; by Connell, 3; by Kane, 2. Wild pitch—O'Mera. Passed ball—Estes.

Liberty, 15; Langley, 10.

Liberty.	AB	H	O	A	Langley.	AB	H	O	A
Birkhead,rf.	4	2	1	0	Seyford,c....	4	1	6	0
Arneson,1b.	5	3	6	1	Vignau,3b....	5	1	2	2
Harris,3b...	2	2	4	0	Seyford,ss..	5	1	1	3
Hutchin'n,ss	5	3	2	4	Franklin,1b.	5	4	10	1
Martin,c....	4	3	7	1	Bassin,2b....	4	1	4	2
Brainin,lf..	3	3	2	0	Stewart,cf..	4	1	2	0
Ward,.....	6	4	2	3	Fellner,rf...	4	1	0	0
Rudisell,3b.	4	1	1	2	Voyt,lf.....	4	3	2	0
Lare,p.....	5	3	0	3	Moffet,p....	5	1	0	1
King,cf.....	0	0	0	0
McGuire,cf.	2	1	1	0	Totals....	40	14	27	9

Totals....	39	24	27	14
Liberty A. C..	0	1	2	0	1	0	5	6	0	—15
Langley	0	2	0	2	1	0	0	5	0	0—10

Runs—Hutchinson (2), Burkhead (2), Lare (2), Arneson (2), Martina (3), Brainin (2), Harris (2), Voyt (2), Franklin (2), Seyford (2), Vignau (2), Seyford, Bassin. Errors—Ward, Seyford. Two-base hits—Ward, Arneson. Three-base hit—Ward. Home runs—Martin (2). Stolen bases—Lare, Brainin, Arneson, Ward, Birkhead (2). Sacrifice—Hutchinson. Double play—Hutchinson to Ward to Arneson. Left on bases—Liberty, 8; Langley, 7. Struck out—By Lare, 7; by Moffet, 4.

Shooters Show Form At Benning Traps

Washington shooters were in tip-top shape yesterday at their Benning traps in preparation for their match next Saturday with the Oriole gunners. J. H. Hunter won the first prize offered with 24x25 from 16 yards, while J. F. McCarron turned in a perfect score of 25x25 in the handicap spoon event. Burrows was high gun in the singles with 47x50 and is being counted upon heavily in next week's match against the Baltimoreans.

	Singles	Hdcp.	Dbls.
White	36	.....	..
Stine	46	24-23	..
Hunter	44	.....	..
Brown	39	36	..
Hellen	36	15	..
Blundon	40	21-24	..
Parsons	37	21-24	..
Strowger	40	24-22	..
W. Wilson	32	19-17	..
Williams	22x25	22-22	19
Green	30	17-17	..
Spille	25	.....	..
Wynkoop	43	.....	15
Hogan	43	.....	..
McCarron	42	.....	..
Constantine	39	24-22	13
Burrows	47	24-23	17
Morgan	..	24-21	19
Beckwith	39	.....	..

Howard Wins Open Colored Track Title

Howard university, with 68 points to its credit, easily won the colored national open championships and interscholastic track and field meet on the university campus yesterday.

Lester ("Gus") Moore, of the Sylvester High school, Brooklyn, in the 1-mile run, open, and Ted Gourdin, former Harvard star, representing the 372d infantry, took the individual honors.

Collegiate—Howard, 68; Lincoln, 23.

Interscholastic—Manassas, 27; Bordentown, 17; Storer, 14; Sylvester High, Brooklyn, 10; Dunbar, 5; Hartford, 3; Baltimore Vocational, 3; Morgan, 3.

100-yard dash, open—Won by Williams (Howard); Carter (Howard), second; Lewis (Baltimore), third. Time, 10s. flat.

100-yard dash, interscholastic—Won by Simms (Sylvester High); Coffin (Storer), second; Waddell (Manassas), third. Time, 10 1-5s.

One-mile run, open—Won by Moore (Sylvester); Mitchell (Lincoln), second; Miller (Morgan), third. Time, 4m. 42s.

440-yard dash, open—Won by Strickland (Lincoln); Rogers (Lincoln), second; Jones (Howard), third. Time, 52s. flat.

440-yard dash, interscholastic—Won by Thomas (Manassas); Tillman (Bordentown), second; Phillips (372d Infantry), third. Time, 52 3-5s.

120-yard low hurdles, interscholastic—Won by Wilson (Bordentown); Williams (Storer), second; Larry (Dunbar), third. Time, 15s flat.

220-yard dash, interscholastic—Won by Simms (Sylvester High); Anderson (Manassas), second; Duck (Bordentown), third. Time, 23 2-5s.

880-yard run, open—Won by Bright (Howard); Thompson (Mechanic Arts), second; Robinson (Howard), third. Time, 2m. 6s.

880-yard run, interscholastic—Won by Tillman (Bordentown); Boyd (Morgan), second; Russell (Donglass High, Baltimore), third. Time, 2m. 6s.

Two-mile run, open—Won by Moore (Sylvester High); Carroll (Baltimore Vocational), second; May (Howard), third. Time, 10m. 10 2-5s.

220-yard dash, open—Won by Williams (Howard); Carter (Howard), second; Branch (Howard), third. Time, 32s flat.

220-yard low hurdles, open—Won by Waring (Howard); Petty (unattached), second; Jacobs (Howard), third. Time, 26 4-5s.

One-mile relay, open—Won by Lincoln; Howard, second; Scholastic A. C., third. Time, 3m. 39s.

One-mile relay, interscholastic—Won by Manassas; Bordentown, second; Dunbar, third. Time, 3m. 41s.

Running high jump, open—Won by Goff, Howard; Valentine and Hundrant, Howard, tied for second; Whitted, Howard, and Byrd, 372d Infantry, tied for third. Height, 5 feet 7¼ inches.

Running high jump, interscholastic—Won by Azekewe, Storer; Jackson, Manasses, second; Hunter, Bordentown, third. Height, 5 feet 6 inches.

Running broad jump, open—Won by Gourdin, 372d Infantry; Byrd, 372d Infantry, second; Smith, Howard, third. Distance, 21 feet 11 inches.

Running broad jump, interscholastic—Won by Waddell, Manasses; Robertson, Storer; second; Duck, Bordentown, third. Distance, 19 feet 10¾ inches.

Seven-pound shot put, open—Won by Gourdin, 372d Infantry; Bryan, Lincoln, second; Brown, Howard, third. Distance, 38⅝ feet.

Sixteen-pound shot put, interscholastic—Won by Hunter, Bordentown; Costes, Dunbar, second; L. Jones, Storer, third. Distance, 39 feet 1.5 inches.

Discus throw, open—Won by Gourdin, 372d Infantry; Waring, Howard, second; Brown, Howard, third. Distance, 117 feet 9 inches.

Pole vault—Doakes and Hill, Howard, tied for first; Whitted, Howard, third. Height, 10 feet.

Fifteen-pound hammer throw—Won by Miller, Howard; Martin, Howard, second; Williams, Howard, third. Distance, 115 feet 6 inches.

Javelin throw—Won by Gourdin, 372d Infantry; Garnet, Howard, second; Young, Howard, third. Distance, 167 feet.

Winsalls, 10; Coca Colas, 9.

Winsall	AB	H	O	A	Coco Cola	AB	H	O	A
Sherman,ss.	3	1	3	0	Hall,ss.....	3	1	1	0
Lacey,2b....	3	2	2	0	Fishers,cf..	4	2	1	0
Ryan,p.....	3	2	2	8	Aquilino,lf..	4	1	3	1
Lewis,c.....	2	2	6	0	Lombardi,c..	4	2	1	1
Williams,3b.	3	1	2	0	Murdock,rf..	3	1	2	1
Mindell,lf..	3	2	1	0	Yates,1b....	3	0	10	2
Cohen,1b....	4	2	10	0	Shoop,p.....	4	0	0	2
Abel,cf.....	3	1	1	4	McGee,2b....	2	0	5	2
Newman,rf..	2	1	0	3	Heeter,3b...	3	0	1	0
Totals....	26	14	27	15	Totals....	30	7	24	10

Coca Cola.....	2	0	3	0	0	1	1	2	0—	9
Winsall.....	1	0	3	5	0	1	0	0	x—	10

Runs—Sherman, Lacey, Ryan, Lewis (2), Williams, Mindel, Cohen, Abe, Newman, McGee (3), Heeter (2), Shoop (2), Yates (2). Two-base hits—Lewis, Ryan (2), Mindell, Lacey. Three-base hit—Lombardi. Stolen bases—Everybody. Double plays—Lacey to Cohen to Lewis; Lewis to Cohen. Left on bases—Winsall, 5; Coca Cola, 2. First base on balls—Off Ryan, 5; off Shoop, 8. Hits—Off Shoop, 14 in 8 innings. Struck out—By Ryan, 7; by Shoop, 3.

Takoma, 10; Diamonds, 4.

Takoma	AB	H	O	A	Diamond	AB	H	O	A
Williams,ss	3	0	0	2	Sebastion,ss.	4	1	1	3
Simpson,rf.	2	1	0	0	Bowen,2b....	4	0	3	2
Wilson,3b..	4	3	1	3	T. Widm'r,c.	4	1	3	1
Miller,lf....	4	1	4	0	Cheek,3b....	4	0	2	3
Mullican,2b.	4	2	3	3	Heiss,1b,p..	4	1	2	1
Rosser,c....	4	3	6	2	Couch,cf....	4	1	2	1
Henley,1b..	3	1	9	1	Swift,lf....	3	2	1	1
Fischer,cf..	1	0	1	0	C. Widm'r,rf.	3	1	0	0
Ehlers,p....	4	1	1	2	Murphy,p...	0	0	0	0
					Lasa,1b.....	3	0	10	1
Totals....	29	12	27	15	Totals.....	33	7	24	13

Diamond Jrs..	1	2	0	0	0	0	1	0	0—	4
Takoma Tigers	7	1	0	0	1	0	0	1	x—	10

Runs—Rosser (2), Williams, Simpson (2), Wilson, Miller, Mullican, Henley, Ehlers T. Widmayer, Heiss, Couch, Swift. Errors—Simpson, Fischer. Two-base hits—Wilson, Ehlers, T. Widmayer. Three-base hits—Wilson, Couch. Home run—Miller. Sacrifice—Henley. Double plays—Wilson to Mullican to Henley; Sebastion to Bowen to Lasa; Bowen to Sebastion. First base on balls—Off Murphy, 1; off Heiss, 4. Hits—Off Murphy, 5 in 1 1-3 innings; off Heiss, 7 in 7 2-3 innings. Hit by pitched ball—By Murphy (Simpson) by Heiss (Williams). Struck out—By Ehlers, 4; by Heiss, 3. Wild pitches—Ehlers, Heiss. Losing pitcher—Murphy.

Cool Off!!

IN A LIGHT WEIGHT SUMMER SUIT

SERGES—
FLANNELS—MOHAIRS—TROPICALS—

$35

TAILORED TO ORDER

Your light weight suit should be tailored to order to give you a dressy appearance. We take particular pains in designing and tailoring summer weight clothes so they will hold their shape under any torrid conditions. Call and inspect our large stock of cool summer suitings; you'll find any number of patterns that will strike your fancy at this special price of $35.

WM. WERNER

SUCCESSORS TO NEWCORN & GREEN TAILORS THAT KEEP YOU YOUTHFUL

1002 F ST. N. W. Next to Corner

TROUSERS

To Match Your Odd Coats

EISEMAN'S, 7th & F

HAWKINS

NASH

MOTOR CO.

Conveniently Located.

1333-37 14th St.

Telephone MAIN 5780

HILLTOP GOLF TEAM WINS MATCH

Beats Lafayette, 4-2; Return Match at Easton Thursday.

GEORGETOWN made an impressive debut in golf circles yesterday morning when it defeated Lafayette's team on the course of the Washington Country club, 4 and 2. However, Lafayette will get a chance to revenge the defeat next Thursday when the Hilltoppers journey to Easton, Pa., for a return match.

Johnny Wise, captain of the Georgetown team and No. 1 player, who also is a Washington boy, lost his match to McGuire, 1 up. Richard Kuentz won his match from McKiver, of Lafayette, 1 up; Hubert McManus also won by the same margin, defeating Weissenbow, while Howard Gies won over Engart, of Lafayette, 2 up.

IN the best ball matches, McGuire and McKiver, Lafayette, outscored Wise and Kuentz, which, with McGuire's match win, gave the visitors their 2 points. McManus and Gies had the best ball over Weissenbow and Engart, and this with their wins in match play gave the Hilltoppers their 4 points.

Gies turned in the low medal card of the entire match with an 81.

The Hilltoppers will play again today, sending an eight-man team against the Washington Country club team, and on Sunday, May 23, will meet a team of the Columbia club on the Columbia course.

INDIAN SPRING GOLF MEET WON BY VOIGT

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 21.)

Hilltabiddle (Indian Hill), 2 and 1.

Final round—McLister defeated Hoover, 1 up.

FOURTH SIXTEEN.

Semifinal round—E. J. Gray (Manor) defeated O. L. Veerhoff (Washington), 1 up. T. A. Kelleher, jr. (unattached), defeated Claude S. Watts (Columbia), 4 and 2.

Final round—Gray defeated Kelleher, 1 up, 22 holes.

Defeated eight—Semifinal round, Denise Barkalow (Washington) defeated B. S. Emery (Indian Spring), 4 and 3. J. B. Dulin (Daytona Heights) defeated J. A. Pratt (unattached), 1 up, 20 holes.

Final round—Dulin defeated Barkalow, 2 and 2.

FIFTH SIXTEEN.

Semifinal round—John T. Harris (Bannockburn) defeated Col. H. A. Knox (Indian Spring), 2 up. H. P. Cochran (Columbia) defeated S. B. Hazdwick (Washington), 3 and 2.

Final round—Harris defeated Cochran, 1 up, 19 holes.

Defeated eight—Semifinal round, B. L. Smelker (Washington) defeated William H. Finckel, jr. (Columbia), 5 and 3. H. M. Rozier (Bannockburn) defeated F. L. Smith (Washington), 1 up, 19 holes.

Final round—Smelker defeated Rozier, 1 up.

Flo d P. Waggaman yesterday won the cup offered by the French High commission in the final round played on the course of the Chevy Chase club. He defeated E. M. Porcher, 3 and 2.

One of the semi-final rounds in the morning was marked by an unusual outcome. With E. Porcher paired against Dr. T. M. Foley the first round of eighteen holes ended all even, whereupon it was decided to settle the tie by playing an additional nine holes.

WHEN the ninth hole was reached Porcher squared the match by running down a long putt for a par 3, and so the players continued for another nine holes, Foley being defeated 3 and 2.

When Porcher, therefore, met Waggaman for the final round he had already played 36 holes but he nevertheless carried his opponent to the sixteenth green, the 52d hole he had played since morning, before he finally lost. The summary:

Semifinal round—Floyd P. Waggaman, 12, defeated Maj. Thomas H. Low, 6, 2 and 1; E. M. Porcher, 15, defeated Dr. T. M. Foley, 15, 3 and 2, 36 holes.

Final round—Waggaman defeated Porcher,

A wireless dispatch was yesterday received by Hugh Mackenzie, brother of Albert R. Mackenzie, who is on the Aquitania accompanying Roland Mackenzie and the Walker cup team to England, stating the party were well and enjoying the voyage. The most important part of the dispatch was to the effect that Roland's new $9 hat which he purchased in New York, had blown overboard.

Senators, 11; Raleigh, 5.

Raleigh M.	AB	H	O	A	Senator M.	AB	H	O	A
Garner,2b,c.	4	0	3	2	Cappelli,ss..	4	1	3	3
Wolf,cf.....	3	1	0	0	Weigel,1b....	4	1	7	0
Parrott,ss..	4	0	2	2	Loftus,lf....	4	0	0	0
Gilbert,lf..	4	0	1	0	Beall,c.....	4	0	7	2
Demeo'z,1b	2	0	8	0	Griffith,3b..	2	2	1	1
Dove,3b....	3	1	2	2	Lynch,3b....	3	2	1	1
Graves,c,p..	3	0	5	1	Walter,cf...	3	3	1	0
Feliniss,rf..	3	1	0	0	McGann,cf..	1	1	1	0
Young,p....	3	0	3	1	Raffo,2b,ss..	1	1	3	2
					Cassassa,rf..	4	1	0	0
Totals....	29	3	24	8	Albert,p....	2	0	0	1
					Hampton,3b.	0	0	0	0
					N.McGann,2b	1	1	1	1
					Spencer,1b..	0	0	2	0
					Davison,rf...	1	1	0	0
					Totals.....	33	14	27	11

Raleigh Midgets	0	0	0	2	1	2	0	0	0—	5
Senator Midgets	0	4	2	0	5	0	0	0	x—	11

Runs—Cappelli, Griffith (3), Lynch (2), Walter (2), C. Cassassa, C. Albert (2), Parrott, Gilbert (2), Dove, Young. Errors—Garner, Gilbert, Hampton, Beall, Spencer. Two-base hit—Lynch. Three-base hit—Raffo. Sacrifice—Feliniss. Double play—C. Albert to McGann to Weigel. First base on balls—Off C. Albert, 3; off Young, 3. Hits—Off Young, 12 in 7 innings; off C. Albert, 3 in 9 innings; off Graves, 1 in 2 innings. Struck out—By C. Albert, 5; by Young, 5. Losing pitcher—Young.

Red Sox, 14; Fridays, 10.

F. E. A. C.	AB	H	O	A	Red Sox.	AB	H	O	A
Stuand,cf...	4	2	0	0	Wheeler,lf,p	3	3	0	1
Haims,2b...	4	2	1	2	Nymack,lf,p.	4	2	0	0
Davis,ss....	3	1	2	2	Edelin,ss....	4	2	2	1
Hines,3b...	3	1	1	0	W.Jenkins,c	4	3	2	0
Hustar,1b..	3	1	4	0	Schneider,cf.	4	1	2	0
Hiroc,rf....	3	2	1	0	Cleary,rf....	4	2	1	0
Ztmeal,lf,p.	3	2	0	2	T.Jenkins,1b	3	2	7	1
Porter,c....	3	1	2	0	Groves,3b...	3	0	4	0
Kyle,p,lf...	2	1	1	0	B.Jenkins,2b	2	1	0	2
Totals....	28	13	12	7	Totals....	31	16	15	5

Red Sox	5	2	3	4	x—14
Friday Evening A. C.....	0	2	0	0	2—10

Runs—Wheeler (3), Cleary (3), Hymack (2), Edelin (2), T. Jenkins (2), Davis (2), Schneider, B. Jenkins, Halms, Davis, Hines, Hustar, Hirar, Ztmeal. Errors—B. Jenkins (2), Groves, W. Jenkins, Kyle (2), Hiror, Ztmeal, Halms, Hustar. Two-base hits—W. Jenkins, Cleary, Wheeler, Edelin, Ztmeal, Hines. Three-base hits—W. Jenkins, Wheeler. Home run—W. Jenkins. Stolen base—Cleary. Sacrifices—Schneider, Halms. Left on bases—Red Sox, 5; Friday Evening, 7. First base on balls—Off Wheeler, 3; off Nymack, 1; off Kyle, 2. Hits—Off Wheeler, 3 in 4 2-3 innings; off Nymack, 9 in 1-3 innings; off Kyle, 11 in 3 innings; off Ztmeal, 4 in 1 1-2 innings. Struck out—By Wheeler, 4; by Kyle, 1. Wild pitches—Wheeler, Kyle. Passed balls—Jenkins, Porter (2). Winning pitcher—Wheeler. Losing pitcher—Kyle.

The Sportswoman

By DOROTHY E. GREENE

Hine Jr. High in Front. Poloists to Play Today. Meet Planned May 29. Clerks Top Net League.

GIRLS from the six Washington junior high schools crowded the Sixteenth street reservoir field yesterday where their annual field meet was held. The weather and the enthusiasm of the huge crowd combined to make the event one of the most successful which has ever been held, in spite of the fact that one of the events was postponed leaving the day without a victor.

The meet officials learned too late to make other arrangements that the broad walk, which has been used for dashes in past years, could not be used for that purpose now. It was therefore decided that the schools would gather again on June 22 at either Central or Eastern High schools for the relay which will decide first, second and third places in the meet.

Hine Junior High won the lead in yesterday's events and holds first place with 23 points. Langley and McFarland tied for second with 21; Columbia collected 20 points for third place; Powell was fourth with 13, and Jefferson, with 10 points, was fifth.

JULIA AMAN STEALS HOME.

Of the three baseball and three volley ball games which were in progress simultaneously the McFarland-Jefferson diamond was the scene of the hottest contest if one can judge by the volume of sound issuing from the bleachers. With the score standing 6-6, with two down in the last inning, Julia Aman, McFarland catcher, made a two-base hit and stole home to save the day, amidst thunderous applause.

In the other baseball games Columbia defeated Langley 16-12, and Hine won from Powell 6 to 4. Columbia won two straight volleyball games from Hine by a 21-11, 21-15 score.

The physical training teachers who planned the meet were, Miss Sophie Saunders, Jefferson Junior High; Mrs. Wilkinson, Powell Junior High; Mrs. Stokes, McFarland Junior High; Miss Ramsay Nevitt, Hine Junior High; Miss Elva Mathews, Langley Junior High; Misses Grace Ware and Ruth Brigham, Columbia Junior High.

POLO SEASON STARTS.

Washington Polo

CATHOLIC U. TROUNCES V. M. I. IN SLUGFEST, 11 TO 7

Garvin's Stop in 7th Halts Rally

Cadets Overcome Six-Run Lead of Brooklanders.

Adams Scores Winning Runs With Double in Eighth.

CATHOLIC university closed its 1926 diamond season on its own pasture yesterday afternoon when it twice won its ball game from Virginia Military Institute. The final score was 11 to 7. The Brooklanders made 6 runs in the initial frame, enough to win an ordinary game, but the visitors kept coming away until they tied it up at all in the seventh, and then the local nine had to go out and win the game all over again with a run rally in the eighth.

Battler" Byrnes and Babe Adams shared the hero roles in the triumph. The former went into the game in the seventh with the score tied and held the Cadets helpless the rest of the way, while Babe Adams relinquished himself by clouting in the winning run in the eighth with a vicious single to left.

In the fifth, Babe also made a little more baseball history for comment. Brookland batters to shoot at when he almost clouted the ball to Logan avenue for the longest home run ever made on the Brookland diamond.

CAPT. BAILEY, in left field, and Jimmy Garvin, second sacker, who played their last home games today, both turned in scintillating performances. Bailey took care of no less than seven flies and Garvin played brilliantly around second base. His bareheaded stop in the seventh, which put a halt to the Cadet rally, was easily the fielding feature of the day.

A fluky home run by Ignace with the bases full gave Catholic its winning start. With two runs already across Ignace hit to centerfield and then hopped over the Cadet gardener's head and rolled away, while Adams speeded around the sacks.

Bonomo started the game for Catholic and pitched well until the seventh, when he filled the bases and was jerked. Sheffield relieved Bonomo and had fine success in hitting the Cadets' bats. His first pitch was picked over Bailey's head for a single, which cleared the paths, and after getting one out, Sheffield let one midway up the alley in right center. Exit Mr. Sheffield and enter Byrnes, who, with the game on the line, with the visitors' winning run in scoring position, and with only one out, struck out Schaefer and then retired Kelly on a fly to Garvin.

V. M. I.	AB	H	O	A	Catholic U.	AB	H	O	A
Kelley,2b..	2	0	2	0	Keale,1b....	1	0	9	0
Hay,rf....	5	1	1	0	Bailey,lf....	5	1	7	0
Schaefer,cf..	3	1	1	0	Foley,cf....	4	0	3	0
Cell,c....	4	2	7	1	Adams,ss....	5	3	1	0
Kelley,3b....	4	2	2	3	Garvin,2b....	4	1	4	4
Ellis,1b....	5	2	9	0	Ignace,3b....	3	1	2	4
Combs,lf....	3	0	0	0	Pelosk,3b....	1	0	0	0
Hall,cf....	3	0	1	0	Black,rf....	1	0	1	0
Adams,ss....	3	0	1	0	Doyle,rf....	1	0	0	0
Kelly,p....	1	0	0	0	McMahon,rf..	3	0	1	0
Scott....	1	0	0	0	Bonomo,p....	3	1	0	2
					Sheffield,p..	0	0	0	0
Totals....	35	7	24	8	Byrnes,p....	0	0	0	0
					*Smith.....	0	0	0	0
					†DuFour....	1	0	0	0
					Totals....	34	7	27	11

*Scott hit for Kelly in seventh.
†Batted for Sheffield in seventh.
Batted for Stack in seventh.
Batted for Byrnes in seventh.

V. M. I.	0	0	0	2	0	1	4	0	0	—7
Catholic Univ.	6	0	0	0	1	0	0	4	x	—11

Runs—Kelley (2), Hay, Bailey (2), Foley (2), Adams (2), Garvin, Stack, Ignace, Massey. Errors—Dietrich (2), Caldwell (2), Wolf, Ellis, Garvin, Ignace, Taylor, Barham. Two-base hits—Adams, McCall, Garvin. Three-base hit—Caldwell. Home runs—Adams, Ignace. Sacrifices—Byrnes, Taylor, Keale. Double play—Garvin to Keale. Left on bases—V. M. I., 9; C. U., 7. First base on balls—Off Bonomo, 2; off Byrnes, 1; off Neld, 1. Hits—Off Bonomo, 5 in 6 innings; off Sheffield, 2 in 1-3 inning. Hit by pitched ball—By Bonomo (Cell). Struck out—By Neld, 7. Winning pitcher—Byrnes.

Elliott Seniors Meet Aloysius Nine Today

The Elliott and Aloysius senior nines are due for a battle today on the Rosedale diamond starting at 3:00 o'clock. Both teams have been going good of late and a fine game is anticipated. Elliott playing will report on the field.

SOMERSET INSECTS SCORE.

The Somerset Insects took the measure of the Wisconsin Avenue Insects yesterday, 16 to 15.

Temples Beat Capital Midgets; Brown Stars

O. Brown, hurling for the Temples yesterday, set the Capital Insects down with a single hit while his mates banged out 13 defeats to win the game, 6 to 2. Brown fanned 12 batters. McIntosh and Miller knocked homers.

Modern Woodmen Tackle Oxon Hill

The Modern Woodmen of America are scheduled to battle the strong Oxon Hill baseball nine this afternoon in a game to be played on the Oxon Hill diamond, at 2:30 o'clock.

All Woodmen players are requested to report at Eleventh and Pennsylvania avenue southeast at 12:45 promptly.

Dominion Boat Club Names J. M. Reed

Alexandria, Va., May 8.—J. M. Reed, former president of the Old Dominion Boat Club, was named chairman of the regatta committee at a meeting of the club held here tonight. J. E. Ross was elected chairman of the house committee at the same time, while Carl J. Muller, jr., will direct the activities of the committee in charge of the smoker scheduled for June 14.

Potomac A. C. Plays At Arlington Today

The Potomac A. C. is scheduled to meet the Arlington nine on the Arlington grounds this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Potomacs expect to present a formidable line-up including: Herbie Young, Robby Pollen, Anholdt, Key, Casper, Clark, Rittnour, Taylor, G. Thomson, R. Thomson, Richardson, McGann and Moser. Players are requested to meet in front of the Postoffice building, Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue, at 1:30 o'clock.

Miller Allows 2 Hits As Iowas Triumph

Humphries Miller gave the Happy Hollow Insects but two safeties yesterday, and the Iowa Insects scored an 11-0 victory.

Iowa Ins.	AB	H	O	A	Happy Hol.	AB	H	O	A
Kayser,cf....	4	0	2	0	Stein,2b....	3	0	1	1
Kemp,3b...	3	0	1	3	Ellsberg,p,3b	3	0	2	1
Nau,ss....	2	1	0	2	Schaefer,1b..	3	0	7	0
Miller,p....	4	2	1	5	Kekenes,c...	3	1	3	0
Achterk'n,1b	3	2	11	0	Reds,ss....	3	0	0	0
Rober,2b...	4	2	2	0	Piscitas,cf	3	1	0	1
Thorn,lf....	4	0	2	0	Snyder,lf....	1	0	0	0
White,c....	2	1	1	0	Norls,rf....	3	0	0	0
Kay,rf....	3	2	0	0	Hysan,3b....	2	0	1	0
					Dingler,p....	2	0	1	2
Totals....	27	10	18	11	Totals....	26	2	15	5

Happy Hollow	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0
Iowa Insects	4	2	1	1	2	1	0	0	x	—11

Runs—Nau (2), Miller (2), Kay (2), White, Kayser, Thorne, Achterkerchen, Kemp. Errors—Shaefer (3), Ellsberb (2), Kekenes (3), Stein, Achterkerchen. Two-base hits—Thorne, Kay. Three-base hit—Kayser. Stolen bases—Nau (3), Achterkerchen (4), Reds (2), Muddy, Kemp. Sacrifices—Kemp, Nau, Achterkerchen. Double play—Dingler to Kekener. Left on bases—Happy Hollow, 6; Iowa, 6. First base on balls—Off Miller, 3; off Dingler, 2. Struck out—By Miller, 2. Wild pitch—Ellsberg. Passed balls—Schafer (2).

Alexander Pirates Win From Rosebuds, 15-7

The Alexandria Midget Pirates slammed the ball for seventeen hits and won over the Rosebuds yesterday, 15 to 7. Nugent, Lucas and Mayer led the hitting attack. Alexandria allowed eight scattered hits.

Pirate M.	AB	H	O	A	Rosebuds M.	AB	H	O	A
Lyons,ss....	5	3	3	0	A.Deavers,3b	4	1	0	1
Padgett,2b.	2	0	0	0	Herrick,2b..	4	1	4	2
Nugent,1b,c	4	3	7	0	T.Smith,p,ss	4	0	0	2
Lucas,3b....	4	3	1	2	Aleman,2b..	5	1	10	0
Mayer,rf....	5	3	2	0	Ewald,c,cf..	4	0	5	0
Emerson,lf.	4	0	2	1	Whalen,cf..	2	0	1	0
Poole,lf....	0	0	0	1	Zell,rf.....	2	0	0	0
Ale,cf.....	4	1	1	0	E.Smith,lf..	1	0	0	0
Foltz,1b,rf..	4	2	14	0	Wolfe,c....	3	2	3	0
Alexander,p	5	1	0	3	H.De's,p,c,ss	4	2	3	5
Harrover,c.	2	0	2	0	E.Deavers,p	1	0	1	0
Potter,2b...	3	1	1	1	Swarzman,rf	1	1	0	0
Totals....	46	17	27	10	Totals....	35	8	27	10

Pirates	4	0	4	1	1	1	0	1	3	—15
Rosebuds	0	0	0	0	2	3	0	0	2	—7

Runs—Lyons (2), Potter (2), Nugent (5), Lucas (2), Mayer (2), Ale, Foltz, A. Deavers (2), Aleman, Ewald, Wolfe, E. Deavers (2). Errors—Lyons (2), Potter, Poole (2), Foltz, A. Deavers, T. Smith, E. Deavers. Two-base hits—Foltz (2), Lucas. Three-base hits—Nugent (2), Moyer, H. Deavers. Home run—Nugent. Sacrifices—Lyons, Padgett, Alexander, E. Deavers. Left on bases—Rosebuds, 7; Pirates, 9. Hits—Off Alexander, 8 in 9 innings; off H. Deavers, 5 in 3 innings; off Smith, 6 in 3 innings; off E. Deavers, 6 in 3 innings. Hit by pitched ball—By Alexander (Ewald), by Deavers (Ale). Struck out—By Alexander, 3; by H. Deavers, 3; by E. Deavers, 6. Wild pitches—H. Deavers, E. Deavers. Losing pitcher—H. Deavers.

Addison Nine Plays Mohawk A. C. Today

The Addison A. C. nine, which has been hitting the high spots this year, will test the mettle of the reorganized Mohawks today on the Virginia diamond, starting at 3 o'clock.

SCOUTS SEEK HILLTOP HURLER

Tempting Pro Offers Made to Burch of No-Hit Fame.

IT may be only a yarn, yet there is sufficient foundation for it to be true.

From various and sundry sources a rumor persists that Pete Burch, the star sophomore right-hand curver of the Georgetown team this season, may soon be cutting classes to cut corners in the big show.

And a glance at Pete's record is sufficient evidence to belie the fact that the rumor is mere idle gossip. In six games that he has pitched this year Pete has been returned the victor in all but one, losing to Holy Cross, 1 to 0, while allowing the Worcester nine but four safeties.

YET the real climax to Pete's pitching came last week when he hurled a no-hit and no-run game against West Virginia. And the Mountaineers are not exactly puny hitters, either, as a perusal of their box scores will bear out.

Pete's main stock in trade is a mean curve ball which cuts the corners with a zip. He also has a fair fast one, but its the "hook" that is Pete's main asset. Whether it would get by in the "big time" is problematical. The answer may be had shortly, and again it may not.

Despite the fact that many tempting offers already have been made, both Burch, himself, and athletic authorities at the Hilltop are steadfast that Pete has not so much as even made a contingent promise with a single team that if, and when, he signs, it will be with their team.

The Yankees are the team which have been most presistent in their efforts to land Burch, but several other "ivory combers" also have looked him over and made offers.

Friendship Defeats Colorado Nine, 26 to 2

Friendship encountered little opposition in the Colorado nine yesterday at Friendship and turned in a 26-2 triumph at the expense of C. Chesley, Colorado pitcher.

The Friendship team scored in all but two innings. Five runs were registered in the fourth and the winners climaxed the game with eleven in the eighth. Legg led the attack with a brace of two-baggers. Glover, pitching for Friendship, struck out sixteen. Thirteen bases on balls issued by Chesley, figured greatly in the scoring.

Colorado.	Friendship.
Ely, 3b.	Legg, 2b.
Meade, c.	Carpenter, 3b.
Church, rf.	Brookings, ss.
Smith, ss.	de Sibour, 1b.
Mulvihill, 2b.	Baur, c.
F. Chesley, 1b.	Parker, rf.
Watson, cf.	Allen, lf.
Jimmie, lf.	Thom, cf.
C. Chesley, p.	Glover, p.

Colorado	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	—2
Friendship	1	0	3	5	4	0	2	11	x	—26

Two-base hits—Legg (2), de Sibour, Parker, Allen, Meade. Struck out—By Glover, 16; by Chesley, 6. First base on balls—Off Chesley, 13; off Glover, 4.

Comets, With Bailey Up, Down Colonels

Bailey fanned eleven Colonel Midgets and the Comets scored a 22 to 6 victory. McNey and O'Donnell featured with their stick work. The Comets will meet the Coca Cola Midgets at the Hyattsville High field today at 1 o'clock.

Comets.	AB	H	O	A	Colonels.	AB	H	O	A
O'Donell,1b.	5	3	6	0	Freas,3b....	4	1	1	2
Wilcoxen,2b	2	1	1	2	Floria,2b....	3	2	1	1
Weber,2b....	4	0	2	3	Turner,ss....	5	2	2	0
McNey,p,ss.	6	4	2	3	Penney,c....	5	1	7	0
Bailey,ss,p.	7	4	2	4	Edwards,cf.	4	1	5	0
Meeds,c....	7	3	12	0	Horn,1b.....	4	1	5	0
Lauer,3b....	6	1	1	0	Bowen,rf....	4	1	1	2
Davis,lf....	5	4	2	0	Yateman,rf.	3	0	2	0
O'Hare,cf..	6	2	1	0	Eddy,lf.....	3	0	2	0
B.Bassf'd,rf	4	2	0	0
G.Bassf'd,rf	2	0	0	0	Totals....	34	6	27	8
Totals....	53	24	27	11

Colonels Midg..	1	1	0	1	0	1	0	1	1	—6
Comets	1	0	4	5	1	3	3	5	x	—22

Runs—O'Donell (4), McNey (5), Davis (4), Bailey (3), Laner (2), Weber, B. Barford, Meeds (2), Turner, Fuorin (2), Bowen, Eddy, Penney. Errors—Horn (3), Turner (2), Lauer. Two-base hits—O'Donell (2), Meeds (2), McNey, B. Bassford, Bailey. Three base hits—Lauer. Home runs—Davis (2), Penney. Double plays—Turner, Floria, Horn. Hits—Off McNey, 1 in 3 innings. Struck out—By McNey, 2; by Bailey, 11; by Yateman, 7.

TATE INSECTS WIN.

With Wolf pitching a five-hit game, the Tate Insects revenged an earlier defeat by beating the Peck Insects, 12 to 4. Katznell clouted a homer for the winners. For games call Lincoln 10240.

BILLIARDIST SHOWS WARES ON STAGE

Lyon Village Insects Win 14th Game in Row

The Lyon Village Insects invaded Chevy Chase yesterday and clouted their way to a pair of victories to bring their winning streak to fourteen straight. In the morning they defeated Chevy Chase Yankees, 18 to 0, with Sam Seymore pitching, and then walloped the Hoboes in the afternoon, 21 to 7. Robertson, Wolverton and Bailey hit best for the Lyons. Bailey clouted a homer.

Aztec Jrs. Battle Smithfields Today

The Aztec Juniors will play the Smithfields on diamond No. 4 today at 3 o'clock. All players are requested to report as the contracts will be given out. All junior teams desiring Saturday games with the Aztecs telephone Lincoln 8624.

Freer and Southern In Junior Engagement

The Freers and Southerns will tune up for the Capital City Baseball league race today when they clash on diamond No. 4 at 1 o'clock. The following Freer players will report: Morgan, Swan, Purcell, McGuire, Stevens, Madden, Dean, O'Brien, Garner, Hoffman, Donohue, Marosy, Brown, Colley, Polk and Gaghan.

Local Cardinals Make Debut as Seniors Today

The Cardinals will make their debut in the senior class today when they meet the Clover Seniors on the Fairlawn diamond at 3 o'clock. To date, the Cardinals have participated in two games, and in both were victorious, one of them was against the Commerce team of the Departmental league.

Perkins will probably take the mound against the Clovers today, with Grogan and Ciango sharing the catching duties. Rip Sole, star outfielder of the Cardinals, will be back in center field after being out of the last game. Ray McGarvey is looking for games with senior teams at Adams 3489.

Nationals in Victory Over Lightnings, 15-4

Giles settled down and blanked the Lightning A. C. after a bad first inning and the Nationals ran away with a 15 to 4 victory. At bat Giles clouted a single, a triple and a homer. Sinagel also hit a circuit clout.

WAVERLYS, NOTICE.

Waverly players will meet at McGill building today at 1 o'clock. Every member of the team is requested to be present.

MIDLANDS STOP MERCURY.

Pell's effective hurling against the Midlands yesterday enabled the Mercury Insects to score a 6-to-2 victory. Manager Hyett seeks games at Franklin 6752.

Bankers League

Metropol.	AB	H	O	A	Mt.Vernon	AB	H	O	A
Gore,lf....	3	1	1	0	Dove,ss....	4	2	0	2
Coughlin,ss.	3	1	1	2	McNulty,2b.	4	1	0	3
Winstead,3b	4	3	1	1	Dezendorf,3b	4	1	0	1
Sisson,1b...	4	1	8	0	Hance,1b....	4	0	9	0
Dasher,p....	4	1	0	2	DeBurder,lf.	4	1	0	0
Miller,rf....	4	1	1	0	Mahler,c....	4	1	10	0
Hartsin,c...	3	1	8	1	Brady,cf....	4	1	1	0
Stamper,2b.	3	0	2	1	Tyndoll,rf..	2	0	1	0
Crow,cf....	2	0	0	0	Francis,p....	3	1	0	0
Medler,2b...	0	0	0	0
Totals....	30	10	22	7	Totals....	33	8	21	6

Metropolitan	0	0	1	5	0	0	0	0	—6
Mount Vernon	1	1	0	1	0	0	2	—5

Runs—Dove, Dezendorf, Hance, Mahler, Brady, Moorg, Coughlan, Winstead, Dasher, Harstin, Crow. Errors—Stamper (2), Medler, Dezendorf (2), Brady. Two-base hit—Dove. Three-base hits—Brady, Sisson, Harstin. First base on balls—Off Dasher, 2; off Francis, 3. Struck out—By Dasher, 7; by Francis, 10. Passed ball—Mahler.

W.B.Hibbs	AB	H	O	A	F.H.Smith	AB	H	O	A
Clark,cf....	5	2	1	0	Ourand,1b...	5	2	8	1
Minahan,1b.	5	1	8	2	Busher,rf...	4	1	1	0
Hall,lf.....	5	0	0	0	Haller,3b....	3	1	0	2
Bruen,ss....	3	0	0	1	Adams,c....	5	1	9	1
Allman,3b..	4	1	0	2	Scruggs,ss..	3	2	1	3
Reesch,2b..	5	2	2	2	Brown,lf....	3	0	2	0
Wellens,rf..	1	0	0	0	Collins,2b...	2	0	3	1
Beckert,c...	4	3	16	2	Schulze,cf...	4	0	1	0
McCarth,p..	4	1	0	1	Averill,p....	3	2	1	1
Laufer,p....	0	0	0	0	Brooks,2b...	2	0	1	1
Totals....	36	10	27	10	Totals....	34	9	27	10

W. B. Hibbs	0	1	0	4	3	0	0	0	—8
F. H. Smith	2	0	0	0	0	1	2	0	—5

Runs—Bruen, Allman (2), Reech (2), Reckert (2), McCarthy Busher (2), Scruggs (2). Errors—Minahan, Hall (2), Bruen Allman, Schulze (2. Two-base hits—Beckert, Minahan, Adams, Averill. Three-base hits—Clark, Adams, Ourand, Beckert. Home runs—McCarthy, Beckert. Stolen bases—Averill, Scruggs (2), Clark (2). Sacrifices—Wallens (2), Busher, Minahan. Double plays—Reech to Minahan, Brooks to Scruggs to Ourand. Left on bases—W. B. Hibbs, 6; F. H. Smith, 10. First base on balls—Off McCarthy, 2; off Laufer, 1; off Averill, 3. Hits—Off McCarthy 5 in 7 innings; off Laufer, 4 in 2 innings; off Averill, 10 in 9 innings. Hit by pitched ball—Averill (Allman). Struck out—By McCarthy, 11; by Laufer, 5; by Averill, 8. Winning pitcher—McCarthy.

More Schools Enter In Playground Meet

Five more schools entered the Municiple playground elementary school meet yesterday, bringing the total to date to 18. Two of the schools entering yesterday, Force and Jackson, are from the Georgetown division and, as both have large entries, a struggle is expected for high point honors.

KETCHAM SCHOOL.

85-pound class—Woodrow Beall, dash, relay; Howard Clark, dash; Lem Fugitt, run broad jump; Alfred Stevens, run broad jump; Beverly Davis, hurdle; William Buigley, hurdle; Jack King, relay; Alfred Carter, relay; Cecil Cabell, relay.

100-pound class—Hubert Fletcher, dash, run broad jump; Emerson White, dash, relay; Harry Van Gender, run high jump, relay sub; Stanley Chase, run broad jump, relay; Albert Chase, hurdle; Milton Chase, relay; William Smith, relay.

115-pound class—Garland Bell, dash, relay; George Scott, dash, relay; George Torney, run broad jump, relay; Gordon Darling, relay.

Unlimited class—Fred Curtis, dash, relay; Frank Green, dash, relay; Francis Webb, run high jump, run broad jump; and Roy Easter, relay.

GALES-BLAKE SCHOOL.

85-pound class—Nevin Barber, [illegible] high jump, relay; Joe Grasso, dash, run high jump, relay; Joe Gordon, run broad jump, relay; Carroll Seaton, run broad jump; Fred Smithwick, hurdle; Ernest White, hurdle; Charles Gaskins, relay; Mario Gregorlo, relay sub; Vincent Peruzzi, relay sub; Morris Wolin, dash, run broad jump, relay.

100-pound class—John Grasso, dash, run broad jump, relay sub; Vero Delorenzo, run high jump, relay; William Moss, run high jump, relay; Elbert Bradford, hurdle; Louis Scarlitinos, hurdle; William Burrows, relay; William Gosnell, relay sub.

115-pound class—Francis Madigan, dash, run high jump, relay; William Kelly, dash, run broad jump, relay; Woodrow Watkins, run high jump, relay; Peter Aquilino, run broad jump, relay; Robert Gobler, hurdle; James Inacoe, hurdle.

Unlimited class—Dash, run broad jump, relay; George Shapiro, dash, run high jump, relay; Francis Carroll, run high jump, run broad jump, relay; and Merton Woods, hurdle; Edward Trowert, relay.

EDMONDS SCHOOL.

85-pound class—Teddy Migan, dash, relay; Kenneth Wade, dash, run broad jump, relay; Harry English, run high jump, run broad jump, relay; Kenneth Connor, run high jump, relay; David DuVal, hurdle; Albert Marascio, relay.

100-pound class—Melvin Wade, run high jump, run broad jump, relay; John Pitts, run high jump, relay; Walter Bean, dash, relay; James Price, dash, run broad jump, relay; Richard Rightor, hurdle; Emmett Russell, hurdle.

115-pound class—David Mates, dash, run broad jump, relay; Kenneth Lusby, dash, run high jump, relay; Noble Smith, run high jump, relay; Philip Rubar, hurdle; Louis Reznek, hurdle.

JACKSON SCHOOL.

85-pound class—Clayton Reynolds, dash, relay; Jack Randall, run high jump; Richard Sinclair, relay; Richard Babcock, relay; Ernest Resner, dash, relay; William Maxwell, relay sub.

100-pound class—Earl Boetler, dash; Horace Gingell, dash, relay; Albert Derick, run high jump, relay; Montell Sinclair, run high jump; Wilner Mechlin, run broad jinclair, run relay; Robert Lamasure, relay; William Harris, relay, sub; Tom Matlack, dash, relay.

115-pound class—Hardy Lim, run broad, relay; Calvin Wood, relay; Arthur Campbell, relay; Bertram Angell, dash, broad jump, relay.

Unlimited class—Albert Duryea, dash, run broad jump, relay; Walter Allen, run high, relay; Gordon Boetler, relay.

FORCE-ADAMS SCHOOL.

85-pound class—M. Church, dash, run broad jump, relay; J. Stearns, dash, broad jump, sub relay; Meade, high jump, relay; Hudson, high jump; B. Dabney, hurdle, relay; Gly, relay.

100-pound class—B. White, dash, high jump, relay; I. Schuyler, dash, relay; F. McClearley; P. Torey, broad jump; H. Snell, broad jump, relay; More, relay; F. Chelsey, sub relay.

115-pound class—W. Harrison, dash, high jump, relay; L. Stephen, dash, broad jump, relay; H. Watson, high jump, relay; C. Barholmews, broad jump, relay sub; W. Early, relay.

Unlimited class—L. Gallum, dash, relay; W. Aronson, dash, relay; A. Clephane, high jump, broad jump, relay; R. Chambers, broad jump, sub relay; R. Walter, hurdle, W. Rothcock, relay.

COLLEGE BASEBALL

Catholic U., 11; V. M. I., 7.
Columbia, 6; Virginia, 5.
Providence, 10; William and Mary, 3.
Yale, 17; Brown, 4.
Holy Cross, 4; Fordham, 3.
Boston College, 3; Boston U., 0.
Duke, 8; Davidson, 5.
U. of Georgia, 5; Georgia Tech., 3.
Newberry, 8; Wofford, 6.
Navy, 12; Penn State, 10.
New York U., 16; Army, 6.
Dartmouth, 12; Cornell, 8.
Illinois, 9; Ohio State, 7.
Wash. and Lee, 2; Medical Col. of Va., 1...
Michigan, 5; Minnesota, 3.
Northwestern, 11; Iowa, 7.
Quantico Marines, 18; Guilford, 4.

Westovers Seeking 4th Straight Today

Westover A. C. nine will attempt to add its fourth victory today, meeting the Holy Rosary team on the Ellipse field at 3 o'clock. Warren and Zumbo will be the Westover's battery. Manager Frank Dimisa requests all players to report at Twenty-fifth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest at 1:30 o'clock.

Hess A. C. to Battle Alexandria Cardinals

The Hess A. C. nine will journey to Alexandria today to take a crack at the famous Cardinals. The game is booked to get under way at 3 o'clock. Hess players will report at the manager's home not later than 1:30 o'clock.

Kenilworth to Engage Comforter's Tossers

The Kenilworth A. C. will play the newly organized Comforter nine on the latter's field today at 2:30 o'clock. Adair or Waple will be Kenilworth's moundman. For games write James Mostyn, 1520 Olive street, Kenilworth, D. C.

Mount Rainier Meets Union Printers Again

The Mount Rainier nine, last year's champions of the Prince Georges County league, will be host to the Union Printers aggregation on the Mount Rainier diamond, Sunday, at 3 p. m.

This meeting of these two ancient rivals will mark the resumption of athletic relations between them, which have been temporarily suspended since the final series of 1924, when Mount Rainier defeated the Typos in two straight games to annex the W. B. A. A. unlimited title for that season.

Maryland A. C. Nine To Face Lafayettes

The Maryland A. C. nine and the Lafayettes will hook up in a diamond grudge affair on the former's field today at 3 o'clock. Ermin Main is slated to hurl for the Marylanders, with Miles at the receiving end.

Cortez A. C. Booked To Engage Arrows

The Cortez and Arrow teams have a battle booked for the Union Station Plaza field at 1 o'clock. All Cortez players are requested to report on the field at 12 o'clock.

MD. DEFEATS HOPKINS ON TRACK

Matthews Wins Three Events; State Mark for Supplee.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 8.—The University of Maryland defeated Johns Hopkins, in their annual track and field meet at Homewood field today. The point score was: Maryland, 77; Hopkins, 49.

In the javelin throw, Supple set a new Maryland record and McNeal broke the Hopkins record of 159 feet.

MATTHEWS, of Maryland, was the individual star. He turned in victories in the 100, 220 and the high jump.

Supplee, of Maryland, and Gwinn and Hills, of Hopkins, each scored two victories. Although the point score does not indicate it, most of the events were closely contested.

Summaries:

100-yard dash—Won by Matthews (Maryland); second, Heyn (Hopkins); third, Pugh (Maryland). 10 1-5 seconds.

Mile run—Won by Gwinn (Hopkins); second, Newman (Maryland); third, Shibel (Hopkins). 4 minutes 33 seconds.

440-yard dash—Won by Enslow (Maryland); second, Thomas (Maryland); third, Whiteford (Maryland). 50 4-5 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Fahey (Maryland); second, Sheriff (Maryland); third, Brown (Hopkins). 16 3-5 seconds.

Discus throw—Won by Hills (Hopkins); second, Supplee (Maryland); third, Zulick (Maryland). 118 feet 3¾ inches.

High jump—Won by Matthews (Maryland), and Ashbury (Hopkins), who tied; third, Vicell (Hopkins). 5 feet 7⅛ inches.

Shot-put—Won by Hills (Hopkins); second, Zitman (Maryland); third, Tilden (Hopkins). 40 feet 10½ inches.

220-yard dash—Won by Matthews (Maryland); second, Heyn (Hopkins); third, Pugh (Maryland). 21 2-5 seconds.

Two-mile run—Won by Gwinn (Hopkins); second, Hills (Maryland); third, Day (Hopkins). 10 minutes 2 3-5 seconds.

Broad jump—Won by Heyn (Hopkins); second, Matthews (Maryland); third, Sheriff (Maryland). 21 feet 7 inches.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Sheriff (Maryland); second, Fahey (Maryland); third, Vicell (Hopkins). 25 1-5 seconds.

Pole vault—Won by Supplee (Maryland); second, Anderson (Hopkins); third, Scheidt (Hopkins). 10 feet.

880-yard run—Won by Blanz (Maryland); second, Enslow (Maryland); third, Scow (Hopkins). 2 minutes 5 2-5 seconds.

Javelin throw—Won by Supplee (Maryland); second, McNeal (Hopkins); third, Sheer (Maryland). 173.35 feet.

Tippecanoes Defeat Charleston Players

The Tippecanoe A. C. clouted 21 hits yesterday in defeating the Charlestons, 16 to 6. Seed pitched good ball for the winners. Diggs, Richards, Schuyler and Seeds got three hits each.

Tippecanoe.	AB	H	O	A	Charleston.	AB	H	O	A
Ciffaro,lf....	2	1	0	0	Moore,1b....	4	2	2	2
Diggs,2b,ss.	4	3	2	1	Walford,2b..	4	3	2	3
Cook,3b.....	4	2	1	1	Reed,3b.....	4	3	2	4
Seeds,p,ss..	4	3	1	3	White,c.....	4	3	2	1
Schyler,1b..	4	3	8	2	Burns,lf,p...	4	1	2	3
Richards,cf.	4	3	1	3	Fommoy,rf..	2	1	2	0
Irelan,2b,rf.	4	1	0	0	Carrol,cf....	4	1	0	0
B.Lynch,2b.	4	3	0	2	Hallas.....	4	1	1	0
J.Lynch,c...	4	2	1	1	Stearns,p....	4	2	3	2
*Feigley,lf..	2	0	0	0	†Prather,rf..	4	2	2	1
Totals....	36	21	21	13	Totals....	36	18	18	16

*Batted for Alfaro in fifth.
†Batted for Fommey in third.

Charleston	3	0	1	0	1	1	0	0	—6
Tippecanoe	4	6	0	1	4	x	—16

Runs—Richards (3), Seeds (3), Cook (2), Diggs (3), Schyler (3), J. Lynch, Walford (2), Reed (2), Mo

PENNANT RACES WILL SETTLE SOON, M'GRAW SAYS

Strong Teams to Assume Places

Warmer Weather Will Bring Vets Around, Pilot Predicts.

Nats Still Regarded as Club to Be Beaten in Its League.

By JOHN J. McGRAW,
Manager, New York Giants.

CHICAGO, May, 8.—In this first month of a baseball season with Eastern clubs of the National league in the West and all the American league action in the East, the only attitude I can assume toward solving this jigsaw puzzle is one of watchful waiting. It surely must be the same with all other managers. We've simply got to sit steady until the thing straightens out. It won't be long.

When fans ask me what I think of the race—and they are doing it every day—my only answer is "spring baseball." I have never paid much attention or attempted any analysis of these early scrambles, and this spring seems to have offered one of the most puzzling of all. The clubs starting out in this campaign remind me of a crowd of children rolling about on a lawn looking for Easter eggs. The lucky ones make the best score and there is nothing to indicate form. There has been no science to the egg hunting as yet.

At the end of three weeks we find clubs, generally rated as second-division outfits, going great guns and fighting for top positions. Others, almost known to be surefire contenders, are fighting just as hard to scramble into the first division. And, so far, nothing definite has developed to give us a line on the real strength in either league.

NOW that we are all on the first swing around the circuit we've simply got to watch and wait. Pitchers are busy studying the young batters who have started with surprising brilliance, and the old batters are sizing up the new pitchers. Until we have got down to cases little can be done to straighten out the early scramble.

By the time the intersectional invasions are over, though, I expect the two races to settle down with the contenders challenging each other for the position on the pole.

The one satisfying result to the public is that the big league races are bound to be closer than expected because the early games have given many supposedly weak clubs some margin on which to work.

I have had at least a dozen requests for an explanation of these surprising mixups that always occur in the spring. The situation may not be easy to overcome in a short time, but it is not difficult to explain.

In the first place, weather conditions are always upsetting. Men who for years have reached their top form of efficiency when the weather is warm and the muscles pliable find it impossible to work naturally and smoothly when they are constantly exerting themselves to keep warm. The chill of the concrete dugouts brings on colds and stiffness.

This always affects an older man more quickly than a youngster. In fact, I have just recovered from a heavy cold that kept me indoors for a week. Many of the veteran players have not been in perfect physical condition as a result of these colds but have gone on with their work just the same. As a result the youngsters have come out on top.

YOU'LL see a difference just as soon as the hot weather begins to loosen up the older muscles. Just keep tab on the increasing efficiency of the older pitchers and the older batters in the next two weeks and you will see what I mean. It may surprise you to see how the statistical figures change.

A few veteran players are lucky enough to get through the chilly spell without trouble and they stand out. One, for example, is Rabbit Maranville, now with the Brooklyn club. Always a first-class, quick-thinking ball player, Maranville has jumped out this spring like a youngster. His work is largely responsible for the spurt taken by the Robins. It is not only his own work but the inspiration he gives the rest of the infield.

In the long run I believe the clubs will settle down until the strength will be shown in such teams as the Pirates, the Cardinals, the Giants, the Reds, the Senators, the Browns, the Yanks, and the Athletics.

I was not surprised at the slow start of the Athletics. They seemed to be a slow-moving club when I saw them in Florida. Usually there is something of excellence that shows in a ball club even when it is losing. This spring the Athletics didn't show that something. That, I think, accounts for them getting off to a poor start. They will improve with the weather, but I still hold the opinion that Washington will be the club to beat to win that American league pennant.

((Copyright, 1926, by the Christy Walsh Syndicate.)

NATIONAL LEAGUE PITCHING RECORDS

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Petty, Bklyn.	5	0	1.000	Piercy, Chi...	1	1	.500
Meado's, Pits.	3	0	1.000	Barnes, N.Y..	2	2	.500
McGr'w, Bkn.	3	0	1.000	Grimes, Bkn..	2	2	.500
Wisner, N.Y.	2	0	1.000	Mor'son, Pits.	2	4	.333
Ring, N.Y.	2	0	1.000	Kremer, Pits.	1	2	.333
Jones, Chic'go	2	0	1.000	Luque, Cin...	1	2	.333
Rixey, Cin...	2	0	1.000	Dean, Phil...	1	2	.333
Graham, Bos.	2	0	1.000	Fitzs'us, N.Y.	1	2	.333
Sothe'n, St.L.	1	0	1.000	Mogridge, Bos.	1	2	.333
Baecht, Phil..	1	0	1.000	Kaufm'n, Chi.	1	2	.333
Bush, Chi....	1	0	1.000	Sherdel, St.L..	1	3	.250
Cooper, Chi..	1	0	1.000	Knight, Phil..	1	3	.250
Hearn, Bos...	1	0	1.000	Benton, Bos...	1	4	.200
Lucas, Cin...	4	1	.800	Mays, Cin....	1	3	.250
Rhem, St.L..	4	1	.800	Ulrich, Phil..	0	1	.000
Mitch'l, Phil.	3	1	.750	Pearce, Phil..	0	1	.000
Root, Chicago	3	1	.750	Werts, Bos...	0	1	.000
Keen, St.L...	3	1	.750	Cooney, Bos..	0	1	.000
May, Cin.....	3	1	.750	Yde, Pits....	0	3	.000
Donohue, Cin.	3	1	.750	Hunt'ger, St.L.	0	2	.000
Barnes, Bkn..	2	1	.667	Reinhart, St.L.	0	3	.000
McW'ay, Bkn	2	1	.667	Johnson, St.L.	0	2	.000
Ald'dge, Pits.	3	2	.600	Sheehan, Pits.	0	2	.000
Ales'der, Chi.	3	2	.600	Maun, Phil...	0	2	.000
Carlson, Phil.	3	3	.500	Gr'nfield, N.Y.	0	2	.000
Scott, N.Y....	2	2	.500	Vance, Bkn...	0	3	.000
R.Smith, Bos.	2	2	.500	Blake, Chi....	0	2	.000
Davies, N.Y..	1	1	.500	Ryan, Bos....	0	2	.000
H.Bell, St.L..	1	1	.500	Ge'wich, Bos.	0	3	.000
McQu'n, N.Y.	1	1	.500

Warwicks and Knicks Resume Old Rivalry

Another ancient rivalry will be renewed this afternoon when Bus Freed's Warwick A. C. nine clashes with the Georgetown Knickerbockers, sandlot champs of last year, at the Georgetown Hollow field at 3 o'clock.

The Northeast roster includes several former high school luminaries. Joe Sweeney, star outfielder, will be missing from the Warwick's line-up. He has an injured knee. Juno Kinerk will fill his position.

"Speed" Augustine, former Randell nine strikeout pitcher, now playing in the Shenandoah valley, will probably pitch for the Warwicks. Ross Fisher, "Lefy" Jones or Nace McCormick will draw the mound assignment for the Knicks.

Ku Klux Klan Nine Enters in Local Field

Invisible Empire of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan has organized a baseball team and wishes to book games with local and vicinity unlimited class teams. It is the first Klansmen club to be represented in the District or in the East. Teams or clubs seeking games are requested to telephone C. B. Hines at Adams 7240 or write Risler at 240 Tenth street southeast.

AMERICAN LEAGUE PITCHING RECORDS

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Quinn, Phila.	4	0	1.000	Barfoot, Det..	1	1	.500
Wingard, St.L	1	0	1.000	Edwards, Chi.	1	1	.500
Dauss, Det....	1	0	1.000	Ferg'n, Was.	1	1	.500
Karr, Cleve..	1	0	1.000	Karr, Cleve..	1	1	.500
Pate, Phila...	1	0	1.000	Whitehill, Det.	3	3	.500
B'g'ner, Phil.	1	0	1.000	Zach'y, St.L..	3	4	.433
Miller, Clev..	1	0	1.000	Jones, N.Y....	1	2	.333
Benge, Cle...	1	0	1.000	Smith, Cle...	1	2	.333
Johnson, Was.	5	1	.833	Gaston, St.L..	2	4	.333
B'ken'sp, Chi.	5	1	.833	Ruffing, Bos..	2	4	.333
Hoyt, N.Y....	4	1	.800	Wiltse, Bos...	1	2	.333
Ruether, Was.	4	1	.800	Rommel, Phil..	3	8	.250
Fennock, N.Y.	4	1	.800	Gray, Phil....	1	3	.250
Shocker, N.Y.	3	1	.750	Ehmke, Bos...	1	5	.167
Shaute, Clev.	3	1	.750	Davis, St.L...	0	1	.000
Levsen, Clev.	3	1	.750	Gibson, Det...	0	1	.000
Lyons, Chi ..	4	2	.667	Rob'tson, St.L.	0	1	.000
Uhle, Clev....	4	2	.667	Jonnard, St.L.	0	1	.000
Faber, Chi...	2	1	.667	Thomas, N.Y..	0	1	.000
Holl'an, Det.	2	1	.667	Zahniser, Bos.	0	1	.000
Thomas, Chi..	2	1	.667	Welzer, Bos..	0	1	.000
Johns, Det...	3	2	.600	Thurston, Chi.	0	2	.000
Wingf'd, Bos.	3	2	.600	Buckey, Clev.	0	2	.000
Grove, Phila.	3	2	.600	Glard, St.L..	0	3	.000
Leve'te, Chi.	1	1	.500	V'Gilder, St.L.	0	3	.000
Ballou, St.L..	1	1	.500	Bush, Was....	0	3	.000
Ogden, Was..	2	2	.500	Wells, Det....	0	3	.000
Cv'laro, Was.	2	2	.500	Harriss, Phil.	0	4	.000
Shawkey, N.Y	2	2	.500

COMPLETE MAJOR LEAGUE AVERAGES OF ALL

games played up to and including yesterday. Compiled by W. Charles Quant, The Post's own statistician.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

TEAM BATTING.

Team.	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	SH	Av.
New York	22	765	141	243	43	16	20	19	36	.318
Chicago	24	829	129	251	57	12	4	8	31	.303
Washington	25	874	126	253	39	20	10	21	30	.291
Cleveland	23	815	126	233	57	6	6	19	29	.286
Detroit	22	739	106	206	27	7	5	5	36	.279
St. Louis	25	853	99	226	40	7	15	4	25	.265
Philadelphia	23	750	98	206	39	10	8	15	47	.264
Boston	23	773	79	190	36	13	4	3	23	.245

INDIVIDUAL BATTING.

(Five games or more.)

FIRST BASEMEN.

Player and Club.	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	SH	Av.
Poole, Philadelphia...	7	3	1	2	0	0	0	0	0	.667
Burns, Cleveland.....	23	94	13	35	13	0	0	4	3	.372
Blue, Detroit.....	11	36	4	13	6	0	0	0	1	.361
Neun, Detroit.....	16	53	13	18	3	1	0	0	1	.340
Sheely, Chicago.....	24	90	16	31	7	1	0	4	1	.323
Gehrig, N. Y.....	22	84	23	27	5	6	1	3	2	.321
Sisler, St. Louis.....	25	100	13	32	5	1	2	1	3	.320
Todt, Boston.....	23	91	9	29	2	3	3	0	0	.319
Judge, Washington...	25	100	15	29	2	0	1	2	4	.290
Hauser, Philadelphia..	24	79	11	18	2	0	3	0	4	.228

SECOND BASEMEN.

Player and Club.	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	SH	Av.
Wambsganss, Phila...	7	5	0	2	1	0	0	0	0	.400
Herrera, Boston.....	23	74	6	26	7	0	0	0	6	.351
Spurgeon, Cleveland..	23	102	17	32	10	2	0	1	3	.314
S. Harris, Washington	25	94	22	29	8	4	1	2	4	.309
Collins, Chicago.....	24	95	17	28	8	1	0	2	1	.295
McManus, St. Louis...	19	71	10	20	4	0	2	0	2	.282
O'Rourke, Detroit....	14	55	6	15	6	0	0	0	1	.273
Lazzeri, N. Y.....	22	82	12	21	4	1	2	0	3	.256
Gehringerm, Detroit..	14	47	6	9	2	1	0	1	5	.191
Bishop, Philadelphia..	24	77	15	14	2	0	0	2	3	.182
Stewart, Washington.	5	3	2	0	0	0	0	1	0	.000

THIRD BASEMEN.

Player and Club.	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	SH	Av.
Dugan, N. Y.....	22	82	8	34	5	2	0	1	8	.415
Dykes, Philadelphia...	19	72	9	27	8	1	0	2	1	.375
Bluege, Washington..	25	92	7	30	6	3	1	3	3	.326
Kamm, Chicago.....	21	73	11	23	6	3	0	1	0	.315
Mellio, St. Louis.....	19	65	10	19	5	0	0	1	6	.292
Padgett, Cleveland....	10	35	5	9	0	0	0	1	0	.257
Lutzke, Cleveland....	14	57	6	14	2	0	0	1	1	.246
Hale, Philadelphia....	13	26	2	6	0	0	1	0	3	.231
Warner, Detroit.....	19	66	9	15	5	0	0	0	2	.227
E. Robertson, St. L....	12	42	1	7	1	0	0	0	1	.167
Haney, Boston.....	19	71	6	9	0	1	0	1	4	.127
Mullen, Detroit.....	11	38	2	1	0	0	0	1	1	.077

SHORTSTOPS.

Player and Club.	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	SH	Av.
Hunnefield, Chicago..	9	20	6	10	2	1	1	1	0	.500
J. Sewell, Cleveland..	23	93	17	30	9	1	1	2	2	.323
Tavener, Detroit.....	21	73	8	22	1	0	0	0	5	.301
Rigney, Boston.....	23	77	9	20	0	0	0	0	6	.260
Peck, Washington.....	8	26	4	7	1	1	1	0	0	.269
Scott, Chicago.....	24	87	14	22	5	1	0	1	4	.258
Koenig, N. Y.....	22	102	15	24	4	2	1	2	3	.235
Gerber, St. Louis.....	14	34	3	8	0	0	0	0	0	.235
Lamotte, St. Louis....	20	55	8	11	3	2	0	0	2	.200
Galloway, Phila.....	23	72	4	13	1	0	0	1	4	.181
Myer, Washington.....	22	67	4	12	1	0	0	3	5	.179

CATCHERS.

Player and Club.	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	SH	Av.
Grabowski, Chicago..	6	8	1	4	0	0	1	0	0	.500
Bassler, Detroit.....	19	53	8	20	2	0	0	0	3	.377
Schang, St. Louis....	17	45	6	15	4	1	1	0	3	.333
Severeid, Washington.	13	1	1	4	0	0	0	0	0	.308
L. Sewell, Cleveland.	23	77	7	24	5	0	0	1	2	.291
Collins, New York....	22	68	9	19	4	0	2	1	2	.279
Hargrave, St. Louis..	16	37	3	9	3	0	2	0	0	.243
Bischoff, Boston.....	11	27	2	7	2	1	0	0	0	.259
Schalk, Chicago.....	18	55	3	13	1	0	0	0	2	.236
Gaston, Boston.....	16	53	8	11	1	2	0	0	1	.208
Cochrane, Philadel....	10	37	5	7	1	0	0	0	2	.203
Crouse, Chicago.....	10	26	2	5	0	1	0	0	2	.192
Ruel, Washington.....	22	72	5	13	1	0	0	1	2	.181
Dixon, St. Louis.....	7	20	2	2	1	0	0	0	0	.100
Manion, Detriot.....	8	16	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.063

OUTFIELDERS.

Player and Club.	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	OB	SH	Av.
Barrett, Chicago.....	5	12	0	6	3	0	0	0	0	.500
Goslin, Washington..	25	96	21	41	8	0	4	3	3	.427
Ruth, New York.....	22	80	27	33	7	2	9	3	2	.413
Mostil, Chicago.....	18	73	20	29	5	1	0	2	1	.397
Meusel, New York.....	22	86	17	34	8	0	3	6	6	.395
Bennett, St. Louis....	13	41	10	16	2	0	2	0	2	.390
Simmons, Phila.....	24	89	34	34	10	3	2	4	3	.382
Lamar, Philadelphia..	24	103	14	38	5	3	2	3	2	.369
Paschal, New York....	8	8	2	3	0	0	0	0	0	.375
Cobb, Detroit.....	14	43	11	16	2	1	2	2	4	.372
Falk, Chicago.....	24	90	12	33	7	0	1	0	6	.367
McNeely, Washington	14	40	10	14	0	1	0	1	2	.350
Rice, Washington.....	25	105	15	35	5	3	1	5	5	.333
Fothergill, Detroit...	19	53	8	17	1	0	0	0	3	.321
Summa, Cleveland....	23	74	16	23	1	0	2	3	1	.311
Flagstead, Boston....	23	98	12	31	9	3	0	1	0	.316
J. Harris, Wash.....	16	61	9	18	3	2	1	0	1	.295
Combs, New York....	22	102	13	30	7	2	2	3	1	.294
Wingo, Detroit.....	18	51	7	15	2	0	1	1	2	.294
Williams, St. Louis...	25	92	12	27	3	1	4	0	4	.293
Carlyle, Boston.....	19	75	10	19	3	1	0	0	0	.253
Welch, Philadelphia..	8	17	2	3	0	0	1	0	0	.176
Harris, Chicago.....	21	75	11	19	5	1	1	0	5	.253
Jacobson, St. Louis...	22	81	7	20	7	0	1	1	0	.247
Manush, Detroit.....	17	38	8	9	2	1	2	0	0	.237
French, Philadelphia.	16	47	7	11	1	1	0	1	4	.234
Jamieson, Cleveland..	23	98	15	26	6	0	1	3	4	.265
Heilman, Detroit.....	22	78	13	20	5	2	0	0	4	.256
Bratche, Boston.....	13	42	1	13	3	0	0	0	0	.250
Rice, St. Louis.....	21	69	6	19	1	1	1	1	1	.232
Miller, Phila.....	15	39	6	9	2	0	0	2	3	.231
Gulley, Chicago.....	13	32	5	7	3	1	0	0	2	.219
Speaker, Cleveland...	23	86	14	18	5	1	2	2	7	.209
Durst, St. Louis.....	10	30	3	6	1	0	0	0	0	.200
Rosenthal, Boston....	18	50	6	9	2	1	1	1	1	.180
Jenkins, Boston.....	13	33	2	5	1	1	0	0	3	.152
Tobin, Washington....	8	10	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	.100

PITCHERS.

Player and Club.	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	SH	Av.
Bolen, St. Louis.....	5	4	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	.500
Baumgartner, Phila..	5	2	0	1	1	0	0	0	1	.500
Gray, Philadelphia...	6	8	1	3	1	0	0	0	1	.375
Bush, Washington....	7	14	0	5	0	0	0	0	0	.357
Blankenship, Chicago	6	16	5	6	1	0	0	0	2	.375
Jones, New York.....	6	3	0	1	0	0	0	0	2	.333
Karr, Cleveland.....	5	6	1	2	1	0	0	0	1	.333
Barfoot, Detroit.....	6	3	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	.333
Whitehill, Detroit...	6	18	0	5	0	1	0	0	2	.278
Ruether, Washington.	9	22	2	6	1	0	0	0	0	.273
Pennock, New York..	6	13	2	5	0	0	0	0	2	.385
Hoyt, New York.....	7	18	2	5	0	0	0	0	1	.278
Welzer, Boston.....	6	8	1	2	0	0	0	0	0	.250
Shawkey, New York..	6	12	1	3	0	0	0	0	0	.250
Ogden, Washington..	6	10	1	2	0	0	0	0	0	.200
Johnson, Washington	6	21	1	4	1	0	0	0	0	.190
Coveleskie, Wash.....	5	14	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	.071
Ferguson, Washington	5	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	.000
Marberry, Wash.....	8	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Kelly, Washington.....	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Thomas, Washington.	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Morrell, Washington.	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000

NATIONAL LEAGUE

TEAM BATTING.

Team.	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	SH	Av.
Chicago	21	716	122	206	54	13	9	17	31	.288
Philadelphia	22	774	103	207	33	8	11	7	20	.269
New York	21	695	101	189	42	10	6	15	31	.272
Cincinnati	23	756	106	219	39	13	2	10	33	.288
St. Louis	24	825	99	208	43	12	12	13	25	.252
Brooklyn	21	693	89	174	30	9	8	14	20	.251
Boston	23	795	88	205	38	8	1	12	22	.258
Pittsburgh	23	762	106	188	28	7	7	14	33	.247

INDIVIDUAL BATTING.

(Five games or more.)

FIRST BASEMEN.

Player and Club.	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	SH	Av.
Kelly, New York.....	19	70	9	24	2	1	3	0	3	.343
Herman, Brooklyn....	8	18	5	6	3	1	0	0	2	.333
McInnis, Pittsburgh...	17	53	8	19	3	0	0	1	2	.328
Fournier, Brooklyn...	18	62	13	20	2	1	5	0	0	.323
Bentley, Phila.....	22	87	9	25	4	2	0	0	5	.287
Barrus, Boston.....	23	93	14	25	6	0	0	2	4	.269
Grimm, Chicago.....	21	76	7	19	1	2	1	1	4	.250
Pipp, Cincinnati.....	23	80	10	22	5	1	0	0	4	.275
Grantham, Pittsb.....	15	32	3	8	4	1	0	0	1	.250
Bottomley, St. L.....	24	99	12	24	7	2	4	0	4	.242

SECOND BASEMEN.

Player and Club.	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	SH	Av.
High, Boston.....	11	23	5	10	2	1	0	0	0	.435
Hornsby, St. Louis....	22	88	15	31	8	2	1	0	3	.353
Adams, Chicago.....	21	90	14	29	8	2	0	3	1	.322
Frisch, New York....	21	83	16	25	13	1	0	5	5	.301
Rhyne, Pittsburgh....	18	60	6	16	2	1	0	0	4	.267
Critz, Cincinnati.....	23	87	11	20	2	4	1	0	4	.230
Friberg, Phila.....	21	69	7	15	2	1	0	1	1	.217
Gautreau, Boston.....	19	68	4	13	1	1	0	1	2	.191
Moore, Pittsburgh....	15	45	4	8	2	0	0	2	1	.178
Fewster, Brooklyn....	10	31	2	8	2	1	0	1	1	....
Butler, Brooklyn.....	17	59	8	12	1	1	0	4	2	....

THIRD BASEMEN.

Player and Club.	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	SH	Av.
Kimmick, Philadel...	8	16	0	6	1	1	0	0	0	.375
Standaert, Brooklyn..	5	8	2	3	0	1	0	0	0	.375
Freigau, Chicago.....	21	80	11	25	6	1	1	1	2	.313
Lindstrom, New York	15	52	10	16	1	2	0	0	1	.308
Johnston, Boston.....	18	46	5	14	1	0	1	1	0	.304
Traynor, Pittsburgh..	23	83	14	23	2	1	1	1	6	.277
L. Bell, St. Louis.....	23	85	8	25	4	1	1	1	4	.294
Huber, Philadelphia..	15	53	6	14	2	0	0	1	1	.264
Groh, New York.....	12	35	2	8	2	0	0	0	0	.229
Wrightstone, Phila...	13	31	5	8	2	0	0	1	2	.258
Bissell, Cincinnati...	20	80	9	19	4	1	0	1	2	.238
Marriott, Brooklyn..	12	43	6	9	4	0	0	1	2	.209

SHORTSTOPS.

Player and Club.	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	SH	Av.
Shannon, Chicago....	6	6	2	3	1	0	0	0	0	.500
Sand, Philadelphia...	21	81	14	25	6	0	0	0	2	.309
Jackson, New York..	18	58	10	17	6	2	1	0	3	.293
E. Taylor, Boston....	15	44	6	12	1	0	0	2	0	.273
Wright, Pittsburgh..	21	79	17	21	2	3	3	2	2	.266
Bancroft, Boston.....	22	72	13	19	3	0	0	1	4	.264
Maranville, Brooklyn	20	71	9	18	3	2	0	3	1	.254
Bohne, Cincinnati....	29	49	8	11	0	2	0	1	4	.224
Emmer, Cincinnati...	13	25	3	7	1	0	0	0	0	.200
Toporcer, St. Louis...	8	10	2	2	0	0	0	1	0	.200
Cooney, Chicago.....	21	76	7	14	3	0	0	2	1	.184
Thevenow, St. Louis.	24	86	4	16	2	0	0	2	1	.186
Flowers, St. Louis...	6	6	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	.167
Farrell, New York...	6	15	1	2	1	0	0	1	0	.133

CATCHERS.

Player and Club.	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	SH	Av.
Hargrave, Cincinnati.	7	12	3	4	2	0	0	0	1	.333
Gooch, Pittsburgh....	12	23	1	7	1	0	0	0	0	.304
O'Farrell, St. Louis...	23	83	8	25	6	2	2	2	1	.301
Hartnett, Chicago....	15	44	5	13	5	0	0	0	1	.295
Gibson, Boston.....	11	21

ADVANCE INFORMATION

on

THE 1926 WORLD SERIES

All About Who Will Play and Where They Will Be Played

Information of That Kind Is Not Necessary for Forty-six Fans
Who Will Be Guests of The Washington Post At All World Series Games
Their Reservations Will Be Made On All Trains—At All Hotels—For All Games

Choose Your Class

Class 1

A. The fourteen (14) individuals (men or women regardless of age) living within the District of Columbia, who obtain the greatest number of votes in the period between May 3, 1926, and September 10, 1926 (midnight).

B. The four (4) individuals (men or women regardless of age) living within a radius of 25 miles of the United States Capitol and outside the District of Columbia who obtain the greatest number of votes in the period between May 3, 1926, and September 10, 1926 (midnight).

C. The two (2) individuals (men or women regardless of age) living outside the districts mentioned above who obtain the greatest number of votes between May 3, 1926, and September 10, 1926 (midnight).

Votes may be obtained by securing PAID-IN-ADVANCE subscriptions to The Washington Post. These subscriptions may be turned in by the individual contestants to their own credit, or by their friends to be credited to any designated person in the World Series Contest.

Votes will not be credited until money has been turned in to Contest Dept.

The twenty (20) contestants enumerated above having the largest number of votes to their credit on September 10, 1926 (midnight), when the contest closes, will be taken to all the games of the 1926 World Series, with all expenses paid by The Washington Post.

Class 2

The Nine (9) regular players, three (3) substitutes and manager of any organized amateur or semiprofessional baseball team, located in Washington, or within a radius of twenty-five (25) miles from the United States Capitol, all of whose players are over sixteen (16) years of age, and who are credited with the largest number of votes in the period from May 3, 1926, to September 10, 1926 (midnight).

Votes may be obtained by securing PAID-IN-ADVANCE SUBSCRIPTIONS to THE WASHINGTON POST. These subscriptions may be turned in by individual members of the contesting teams or by their friends to be credited to any designated team in the World's Series Contest.

Votes will not be credited until the money has been turned in to the World's Series Contest Department.

The nine (9) regular players, three (3) substitutes and manager of the team, composed of players all of whom are over 16 years of age, having the largest number of votes to its credit on September 10, 1926 (midnight), when the contest closes, will be taken to all the games of the 1926 World's Series, with all expenses paid by THE WASHINGTON POST.

Class 3

The nine (9) regular players, three (3) substitutes and manager of any organized amateur or semiprofessional baseball team located in Washington or within a radius of twenty-five (25) miles from the United States Capitol, all of whose players are 16 years of age or under, and who are credited with the largest number of votes in the period from May 3, 1926, to September 10, 1926 (midnight).

Votes may be obtained by securing PAID-IN-ADVANCE subscriptions to THE WASHINGTON POST. These subscriptions may be turned in by individual members of the contesting teams, or by their friends to be credited to any designated team in the World's Series Contest.

Votes will not be credited until the money has been turned in to the World's Series Contest Department.

The nine (9) regular players, three (3) substitutes and manager of the team, composed of players all of whom are 16 years of age or under, having the largest number of votes to its credit on September 10, 1926 (midnight), when the contest closes, will be taken to all games of the 1926 World's Series with all expenses paid by THE WASHINGTON POST.

NOTE—In Class 3 there is no restriction on the age of the manager. For the purpose of this contest, boys who have not reached their sixteenth birthday June 1, 1926, will be considered as being sixteen.

For additional information regarding contest see Contest Manager, Room 49, Washington Post Building. Office hours, 9:00 A.M. to 5:30 P.M. All business must be transacted during these hours. Contest closes midnight, September 10. No credit will be allowed on ballots voted after closing hour. All ballots must be voted in sealed ballot box, contest office, or by registered letter.

The Auth Midgets Entire Team Were Our Guests Last Year—Ask Them!

This Year Two Sandlot Teams and 20 Individual Will Make Up the Party

PLAN THIS FOR YOUR VACATION

RULES OF THE CONTEST

1 All subscriptions shall be taken for a period of either six or twelve months. A twelve months subscription will count as two six months subscriptions.
2 New subscribers shall be parties who have not had The Washington Post delivered to any address for a period of thirty days prior to the contest.
3 Contestants failing to win a Post Trip will be entitled to a 5 per cent commission on all subscription money turned in by them, providing the amount be over fifty dollars ($50.00).
4 No employe or agent of The Washington Post or their families will be eligible to enter this contest.
5 No bulk or news stand subscriptions will be given credit.
6 No commissions regularly allowed subscription agencies or agents will be given on any subscription turned in on the World Series Contest.
7 No agreements on promises either written or verbal made by any employe of The Washington Post or any entered contestant other than those published in The Washington Post shall be binding in this contest.
8 The Washington Post reserves the right to disqualify at any time any contestant who has not strictly complied with the rules set forth.
9 The decision of The Contest Manager shall be final in all questions regarding the contest.
10 In the event of a tie for any prize offered a prize identical with that offered will be awarded each tying contestant.
11 VOTES NOT TRANSFERABLE.
12 No refunds will be made on contest subscriptions.

SUBSCRIPTION RATE AND VOTE SCHEDULE

All subscriptions turned in for credit shall be accompanied by Cash Payment for full length of time as shown below.
1,000 votes credited on entrance blank.
Only one entrance blank will be credited each contestant.

Delivered by regular carrier in District of Columbia and Alexandria, Virginia.

	Rates	NEW Vote Schedule.	OLD
6 mo. Daily only	$3.00	3,000	1,500
6 mo. Sunday only	1.20	2,000	1,000
6 mo. Daily and Sunday	4.20	5,000	2,500

Where regular city rates are charged the same will be applicable to this contest.
These points given contestants on application.

6 mo. Daily only	$3.50	3,000	1,500
6 mo. Sunday only	1.50	2,000	1,000
6 mo. Daily and Sunday	5.00	5,000	2,500

Delivered or sent by mail outside District of Columbia.

Both Individuals and Baseball Teams appear to realize the advantage of an early lead by getting their names

Entered in The Washington Post WORLD SERIES CONTEST

Enter your name or the name of your Baseball Team, Now! Don't Delay! Let Your Friends Know that you are out to win one of these wonderful trips. They will be glad to help by giving you a subscription to The Post. That's all there is to it. Then plan for a vacation that you will remember for the rest of your life.

THOSE ALREADY ENTERED ARE LISTED BELOW.

CLASS I (INDIVIDUALS)

Mr. McCabe, 1419 Chapin st. nw.
Mr. Frank A. Allmuth, 3936 Legation st. nw.
Mr. George Pearson, the Cecil Apt.
Mr. M. L. Gallagher, 2416 14th st. nw.
Mr. Haywood Hamilton, Del Ray, Va.
Mr. Doc McKeever, 1020 6th st. ne.
Mr. D. Somerville, 4205 9th st. nw.
Mr. Louis Gabriel, 622 Florence st. ne.
Mr. Wm. Hurley, 1346 Florida ave. ne.
Mr. Leonard Lay, 149 9th st. nw.

CLASS II (TEAMS OVER 16)

INDEPENDENT TEAM.
Lillie Nicholas, mgr., 507 5th st. ne.

DEL RAY JUNIORS.
Robert L. Martin, mgr., Paton ave., Del Ray, Va.

SOUTHERN JUNIORS.
Thos. E. Taylor, mgr., 1[illegible] 4½ st. sw.

CLASS III (TEAMS UNDER 16)

EARL McNEELY'S MIDGETS
Fred Pickett, Mgr., 2043 Park rd. nw.

PIRATE MIDGETS
J. W. Hammond, Mgr., 313 N. Pitt st., Alex., Va.

VIRGINIA AVE. GIRLS TEAM
Miss Smith, Mgr., Eleventh st. and Va. ave. se.

WEBB MIDGETS
William Lowry, Mgr., 1305 Gales st. ne.

PEERLESS A. C.
B. Harty, Mgr., 3430 P st. nw.

SOUTHERN MIDGETS
Thomas E. Taylor, 1117 4½ st. sw.

BLOOMINGDALE TEAM
J. Lovejoy, Mgr., 836 Marietta pl. ne.

LANGDON MIDGETS.
Upton Reed, Mgr., 2912 Bladensburg rd. ne.

CAPITOL PEEWEES
Joe Sullivan, Mgr., 430 First st. se.

REX INSECTS
Ralph Harris, Mgr., 3229 Volta pl. nw.

TRINITY INSECTS
Charles Nichols, Mgr., 3443 P st. nw.

ST. STEPHEN'S INSECTS.
Nult. Warring, mgr., 2512 K st. nw.

WEIGHTMAN INSECTS.
Crity Hodge, mgr., 1905 Pa. ave. nw.

MOON INSECTS.
Angus Girton, mgr., 2406 Pa. ave. nw.

AXTECO MIDGETS.
Byrd Ferneyhough, 2000 H st. nw.

NIGHT HAWKS.
Dan Rice, mgr., 1620 Col. rd. nw.

STANLEY MIDGETS.
D. W. Hessler, mgr., 3004 Park pl. nw.

OLYMPIC MIDGETS.
Ned Tabler, mgr., 7301 Ga. ave. nw.

IOWA PLAYGROUND INSECTS.
Miss Frances Major, mgr., Iowa ave. playground.

Be the first to enter in your club or lodge. Ask their cooperation.

Teams—Get the cooperation of your citizens association.

ACT AT ONCE

Method of Obtaining Credit For Subscriptions Secured

1—Write or call at Contest Manager's Desk, Room 49, Post Building, for supscription books.

2—In taking subscriptions give receipt to party subscribing; receipt furnished in book.

3—Turn in subscription, together with full cash, to Contest Manager.

In case of subscriptions from out-of-town contestants, money orders or certified checks only will be accepted.

All checks must be made payable to The Washington Post Company.

4—Retain stub in book for your record.

5—Ballots for the amount of votes due will be issued upon receipt of subscriptions.

6—Ballots must be voted, at any time during contest, before 12:00 midnight, September 10, in sealed ballot box in Contest Manager's office.

7—When ballots are voted by mail letters must be registered.

Subscription blanks may be obtained from Contest Manager's office, Washington Post Building, Room 49

1,000 Votes Entrance Ballot 1,000 Votes

—Post 1926 World Series Contest—

Mark your Entrance Ballot today and advise your friends that you are trying for one of The Post trips.

Name.....

Address.....Phone.....

Team.....Class .....

Mgr.....Phone.....

In The Post 1926 World Series Contest.

1,000 Votes 1,000 Votes

PRICES REACT SLIGHTLY IN LIGHT TRANSACTIONS

Few Stocks, Notably Specialties, Move Up; Motors Are Irregular.

STEEL SHARES DO LITTLE

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, May 8.—With the stream of speculation almost completely dried up, prices weakened slightly during the week-end short session on the Stock Exchange and the list of stocks figuring in the day's transactions contracted sharply. Scattered and spasmodic selling was the only feature while traders and public alike withheld their pencils from the order pad, pending developments of a decisive trend in the British labor tie-up. The result was a near record for dullness, only 244,700 shares changing hands.

While losses on the day were generally held within a compass of 1½ to 2 points, a few stocks moved up as much as 3 points, notably the Famous Players issues, while National Distillery Product preferred advanced 2½ points. Losses of 2 points occurred in U. S. Smelting common and in South Porto Rico Sugar. Radio Corporation was in demand for a time but held only a small gain. American Ice was firm. United Drug, Woolworth and one or two other specialties were bid up.

Motor stocks were irregular. Traders were somewhat anxiously waiting for the General Motor dividend meeting next week.

Oil corporation reports for last year made excellent reading. The statement of the Standard Oil of New York, revealed a big improvement; so did that of the Pure Oil Co. They have intensified interest in the forthcoming report of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey.

Steel stocks did not vary much. Trade reviews this week were of more optimistic tenor than in some time.

Dun's Review commented that further expansion in trade had taken place. Bank clearings this week were 2.6 per cent smaller than the corresponding week of last year.

Foreign exchange was irregular. The undertone of sterling, as before, was strong, although the international bankers shaded the rate slightly. French frances came up more than 2 points and Swiss and Belgian francs and lire were steady, but pesetas lost 3 points and Norwegian kroner 8 points.

LOCAL STOCK EXCHANGE

Sales—Regular call, 11:15 a. m.
Merch. Tfr. & Stge. pf., 10 at 100.
After call:
Capital Traction Co., 5 at 103¾.
Wash. Ry. & Elec. pf., 10 at 90.

MONEY.

Call loans, 5 and 6 per cent.

BONDS.

PUBLIC UTILITIES.

	Bid	Ask.
Amn. T. & T. coll 4s	97¼
Amn. T. & T. conv. 4½s	99½
Amn. T. & T. col. tr. 5s	102⅝
Ana. & P. R. R. R. 1st 5s	94	96½
Ana. & Pot. Riv. guar. 5s	94	96½
C. & P. Tel. 1st 5s	100
C. & P. Tel. of Va. 5s	99¾
Capital Traction 1st 5s	99¼
City & Sub. Ry. 1st 5s	85	86½
Georgetown Gas Lt. 1st 5s	96	98
Pot. Elec. Pow. 1st 5s	104¼
Pot. Elec. Pow. cons. 5s	104¾
Pot. Elec. Pow. gl.&ref. 6s	106
Pot. Elec. Pow. ref. 7s	105⅞	106¾
Wash. Al. & Mt. V. 1st 5s	12
Wash., Al. & Mt. V. ctf.	6
Wash. Bal. & Anap. 1st 5s	65
Wash. Gas Light gen. 5s	101
Wash. Gas Light Co. 6s	103	104
Wash. R. & E. cons. 4s	82
Wash. R. & E. gl.&ref. 6s	102½	103

MISCELLANEOUS.

D. C. Paper Mfg. 1st 8s	84	86
Pot. Jt. Stk. Ld. Bank 5s	101	102
Southern Bldg. Co. 6½s	101¼	102¼
Wash. Mkt. Cold Stge. 5s	95

STOCKS.

PUBLIC UTILITIES.

Amn. Tel. & Tel.	144¼
Capital Traction	103	104¼
Washington Gas	68½	70
N. & W. Steamboat	275	290
Pot. Elec. Pow. pf.	107½	108½
Pot. Elec. Interim Rcpts.	105
Wash. Ry. & Elec. pf.	180
Wash. Ry. & Elec. pf.	90	91

NATIONAL BANKS.

Capital	200
Columbia	350
Commercial (stamped)	230
District	212
Farmers & Mechanics	300
Federal-American	320	330
Liberty	205	213
Lincoln	280
Metropolitan	400
Riggs	450	460
Second	270	285
Washington	275	300

TRUST COMPANIES.

Amer. Security & Trust	383	400
Continental Trust	95	100
Merch. Bank & Trust	150	158
Nat. Sav. & Trust	406
Union Trust	220
Wash. Loan & Trust	450

SAVINGS BANKS.

Commerce & Savings	205
East Washington	28
Sec. Sav. & Com'l	325
Seventh Street	200
United States	500
Washington Mechanics	50	60

FIRE INSURANCE.

American	200
Corcoran	130
Firemen's	21½
National Union	21

TITLE INSURANCE.

Columbia	9
Real Estate	175
Title & Inv. Co. of Md. com	52	60

MISCELLANEOUS.

D. C. Paper Mfg. Co. pf.	65
Federal Storage Co. pf.	102	108
Lanston Monotype‡	85½	85½
Merch. Tfr. & Stge.	115
Merch. Tfr. & Stge. pf.	99¾	100¼
Merg. Linotype new	106	107½
Nat. Mtge. & Inv. Co. pf.	8½	9
Peoples Drug Stores pf.*	99	102¾
Security Storage	386
Washington Market	52	55

UNLISTED DEPT.

These securities not listed under exchange rules:

BONDS.

Army and Navy Club 5s	83
City Club 7s	75
Cosmos Club 4½s	74
Metropolitan Club 4½s	80

STOCKS.

Anacostia Bank	260
Chapin Sacks	10
Chapin Sacks 7% pf.	60
Chapin-Sacks 8% pfd.	98	102
Connecticut Pie Co.	140
Departmental Bank	6½
District Title Ins. Co.	20½
Franklin National Bank	140
Miller Train Control		1
Munsey Trust Co.	120
North Capital Sav. Bank	14
Northeast Sav. Bank	13
Old Dutch Mkt. of Va. pf.		3½
Park Savings Bank	55
Potomac Sav. Bank	275
Raleigh Hotel Co.	100
Wash. Title Ins. Co.	7½
Wash. Baseball Club	60	90
Wood'ge & Lan'on Sav. Bk	10

*Ex dividend.
‡Ex rights.
‡Books closed.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

SATURDAY, MAY 8, 1926.

Issue.	Sale	High	Low	Last	Chg.	Bid
Abraham & Str. pf.(7)	2	107½	107	107	— ¾	106½
Adv. Rumely	1	10½	10½	10½	—	10⅝
Ahumada Lead (1b)	4	8	8	8	—	8
Air Reduct. (5b)	2	111½	111	111	1 — 1	110½
Ajax Rubber	45	9⅝	9⅛	9⅝	— ⅛	9⅝
Al. Chem. & Dye (4)	19	113¾	112½	113¾	— ½	113½
Allis Chalmers Mfg.(6)	1	80	80	80	—	80
Ameradn Corp. (1.60)	7	25½	25¼	25⅜	—	25⅜
Am. Agri. Chem.	1	16⅝	16⅝	16	—	16
Am. Ag. Chem. pfd.	2	58	57½	57½	— ⅝	57
Am. Bank Note (1.60)	3	41¾	41¾	41¾	— ¼	41½
Am. Bosch Mag.	2	19⅝	19⅝	19⅝	— ⅜	19½
Am. Brake Shoe Fdy.(6)	1	116	116	116	—	115
Am. Brown Bov. El. (2)	1	35½	34⅝	35½	— ½	35
Am. Brown Bov. pf. (7)	2	96	95½	96	— 1	95
Am. Can. new (2)	53	44	43¾	43⅝	— ⅛	43⅝
Am. Car & Fdy. (6)	1	93½	93½	93½	—	93
Am. Chain A (2)	2	24½	24½	24½	—	24
Am. Drug Syn.	1	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝	— ⅛	5⅝
Am. & For. Power	3	17¾	17½	17¾	— ⅛	17⅝
Am. & F. Pow. pf. (7)	1	91½	91½	91½	— 1½	90½
Am. Hide & Leath.	1	7½	7½	7½	—	7
Am. Home Prod. (2.40)	1	25⅞	25⅞	25⅞	—	25⅝
Am. Ice (10b)	3	123¾	123	123	— ¼	123
Am. Internatl. Corp.	2	36	35¾	35¾	— ⅛	35⅝
Am.-La F. Fire Eng.(1)	1	13	13	13	— ¼	13
Am. Linseed	2	30	29½	29⅝	— ⅜	29
Am. Locomotive (8)	4	95½	95	95	— ½	95
Am. Radiator (4)	1	110	110	110	—	109¼
Am. Ship & Commerce	1	9¾	9¾	9¾	—	8⅝
Am. Smelt. & Ref. (7)	9	116⅝	116	116⅝	— ¼	116½
Am. Smelting pfd. (7)	1	117	117	117	— 1¼	116
Am. Snuff (12)	1	138	138	138	—	138
Am. Steel Fdrs. (3)	3	40⅝	40⅜	40⅝	—	40½
Am. Sumatra Tob.	3	10¾	10½	10⅝	— ⅛	10½
Am. Tel. & Tel. (9)	7	144⅞	144½	144⅝	— ¼	144⅜
Am. Tobacco (8)	1	115⅞	115⅝	115⅞	— ¼	115
Am. Tob. B (8)	17	114⅝	114⅜	114¼	— ¾	114¼
Am. Wt. Wks. & E. (1.20a)	11	49⅜	48¾	49⅜	— ½	48½
Am. Woolen	2	22⅝	22¾	22¾	—	21½
Am. Wool. pfd. (7)	2	70⅞	70¾	70⅞	— ⅛	70
Am. Wtg. Paper pfd.	3	3½	3½	3½	— ⅜	3½
Am. Wtg. Pa. pf. ctfs.	3	3	3	3	— ½	2½
Anaconda Copper (3)	15	45½	45	45⅛	—	45⅝
Arm.&Co. of Del., pf. (7)	2	91¼	91	91	— ¾	90
Arm.&Co. of Ill. "A" (2)	20	15⅞	15⅝	15⅝	— ¼	15⅝
Arnold Cons. Corp., new	2	18	18	18	— 1⅛	16
Atchison, T. & S. F. (7)	11	129	128½	129	—	129¼
Atl., Bir. & Atl.	3	1	1	1	—	⅞
Atl. Coast Line (9.50b)	1	196	196	196	— 1	194
Atl. Gulf & W. I.	1	37¼	36½	36½	—	36½
Atl. Refining	4	116⅜	115	116½	—	116½
Baldwin Locomotive (7)	2	103	103	103	— ¾	102
Baltimore & Ohio (5)	4	86⅛	86	86	— ⅛	86⅛
Barnsdall Corp. "A" (2)	3	25⅞	25⅞	25⅞	— ⅛	23
Belding Brothers (3)	3	31	31	31	—	31
Bethlehem Steel	8	39	38¾	39	— ¼	38¾
Beth. Steel 7% pf. (7)	2	100½	100	100	—	100⅜
Booth Fisheries	2	5	5	5	—
Briggs Mfg. Co. (3)	5	26½	26⅜	26½	—	26½
Bklyn.-Manh. Tr. (4)	16	63	62½	63	— ½	62½
Brown Shoe, new (2)	1	31	31	31	— ½	31¼
Brunswick Balke Coll.	1	26⅝	26⅜	26⅝	— ⅛	26½
Burns Bros. "A" (10)	4	135½	135	135	— 1¼	135
Burns Bros. "B" (2)	1	26	26	26	—	25½
Bush Terminal	1	23⅛	23⅛	23⅛	— 1⅛	23
Bush Term. 7% deb. (7)	1	90	90	90	—	88
Butte & Su. Min. (2)	2	12¼	12⅛	12¼	—	12¼
Butterick	1	23	23	23	—	22¾
Calif. Packing (10b)	2	128½	128½	128⅝	— 1¼	127¾
Calif. Pet. (2)	9	22⅜	22½	22⅜	— ⅛	22⅜
Canadian Pacific (10)	2	156	155½	156	— ¾	155¾
Case Threshing pf. (7)	2	103	103	103	—	102
Central Leather	4	8⅝	8½	8⅝	— 1	8
Central Leather pf.	5	45⅜	45	45⅜	—	45⅜
Century Rib Mills	4	13¼	13	13¼	— ⅛	13
Cerro de Pasco (4)	1	62⅞	62⅞	62⅞	— ⅛	62⅝
Certain-teed Prod. (4)	3	40	40	40	—	40
Chandler Cleve. Motor	1	14½	14½	14½	—	14¼
Chandler Cleve. pf. (4)	14	31¾	30⅞	31	—	30⅞
Chesa. & Ohio (12b)	11	121¼	121	121¼	— ¼	121¼
Chicago & Alton	1	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞	—	7⅞
Chicago Gt. Western	1	8½	8½	8½	—	8½
Chi. Gt. Western pf.	7	18⅝	18¾	18¾	— ⅛	18⅝
Chi., Mil. & St. Paul	6	10⅛	10⅛	10⅛	—	10⅛
Chi., Mil. & St. P. ctfs	20	10½	10⅝	10⅝	—	10⅝
Chi., Mil. & St. P. pf.	11	17⅞	17½	17⅝	— ¼	17½
Chi., M. & St.P. pf. ctfs	1	17⅞	17½	17⅝	— ¼	17½
Chi. & North West. (4)	1	69¾	69¼	69¼	— ¾	69¼
C. R. I. & Pac.	3	47¾	47¼	47½	—	47½
Childs Co. (2.40g)	2	48¾	48¼	48¾	—	48⅝
Chrysler Corp. (3)	51	31½	30⅝	30⅝	—	30⅝
Chrysler C. pf. A (8)	3	99¾	99¾	99¾	—	99¾
Cluett Peabody (5)	1	62⅝	62⅝	62⅝	— ⅛	62⅝
Coca Cola (7)	3	142	142	142	—	144½
Colo. Fuel & Iron	5	37½	36⅞	37⅝	— ⅛	37¼
Columbia G. & E. (5)	1	76¼	75¾	76¼	—	76¼
Colum. G. & E. pf. (7)	1	113	113	113	—	112⅝
Colum. Carbon (4)	1	62½	62½	62½	—	62½
Commer. Solv. A (4)	7	139	136½	136½	— 1	138
Commercial Solv. B	2	137	137	137	— 1	137½
Congoleum-Nairn	2	15	14⅞	15	—	14⅝
Consolidated Cigar	4	51½	50½	51½	—	51½
Consol. Distributors	1	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	—	3⅜
Consol. Gas (5)	7	93½	93¼	93¼	—	93¼
Consol. Textile	2	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	—	1⅝
Continental Can (6b)	5	72⅜	72	72⅜	—	72
Continental Mot. (.80)	4	10½	10⅜	10½	—	10⅜
Corn Products (2)	3	38¼	38⅛	38¼	—	38⅛
Coty, Inc. (4)	2	48	48	48	—	47½
Crucible Steel (5)	1	67	67	67	—	67
Cuba Cane Sugar	1	8⅞	8⅞	8⅞	—	8⅝
Cuba Cane Sug. pf.	3	40½	40½	40½	— ½	40
Cuba Co., The (4)	4	47½	47⅜	47½	—	47½
Cuban Am. Sugar (2)	4	24¾	24¼	24¾	—	24
Cuban Dom. Sug.	4	11⅝	11⅝	11⅝	—	11⅝
Cudahy Packing (7)	1	84	84	84	—	83
Davison Chemical	8	35⅜	35	35⅜	+ ⅜	35½
Dela. & Hudson (9)	2	157	157	157	— 1	157
Detroit Edison (8)	2	130½	130	130	—	129¾
Dodge Bros. "A"	30	27¼	26⅝	27	—	26⅞
Dodge Bros. pf. (7)	5	81⅜	81⅛	81⅜	—	81½
Dome Mines (2)	3	14	13⅞	13⅞	— ⅛	13⅞
Dun. Lt. 1st pf. (7)	5	114	114	114	—	114
Eastman Kodak (8b)	1	109	109	109	—	108⅜
Eaton Axle & Spr. (2)	4	25⅝	25⅜	25⅝	— ¼	25⅝
Eisenlohr & Bros.	2	12⅜	12½	12⅜	— ⅛	12⅝
Electric Boat	1	4⅞	4⅞	4⅞	—	4¾
El. Pow. & Lt. ctfs.	2	18⅛	18⅛	18⅛	— ⅛	18⅜
Elec. Refg. (2b)	15	65¼	65	65	— ⅛	64⅞
Elec. Stg. Battery (6b)	7	77	76⅜	76⅝	+ 1⅜	76¼
Endicott Johns. pf. (7)	1	117¾	117¾	117¾	— ¼	117
Equit. Ofs. Bldg. pf. (7)	1	100⅜	100⅜	100⅜	— ⅛	100⅜
Erie R. R.	21	31½	31⅜	31½	—	31¼
Erie 1st pf.	2	38⅝	38¼	38¼	— ¼	38¼
Eureka V. Cl. (4)	2	47⅞	47	47⅞	—	45
Fairb., Mse. & Co. (3)	1	48⅝	48⅜	48⅝	— ⅛	48⅝
Fam. Play.-Lasky (8)	1	120	122⅜	120	— 3	121⅜
Fam. Play. pf. (8)	6	122	121	122	— ⅛	121½
Fed. L2 & Tr. (1.40d)	3	29¾	29½	29½	—	29
Fed. M. & Sm. pf. (7)	1	73	72	72	—	72
Fisher Body (5)	2	85⅞	85	85¼	—	85⅛
Fisk Rubber	6	16	15⅞	15⅞	— ⅛	15⅞
Fleischm. Co. new (2)	10	40¼	40	40¼	—	40
Foundation Co. (8)	6	97	96	96¼	— 1	96¼
Fox Film "A" (4)	3	63⅞	63½	63⅞	—	62¼
Freeport-Texas	234	31⅞	30⅝	30⅝	— ⅛	30⅝
General Asphalt	13	62⅜	61⅞	62⅜	—	62⅜
Gen. Electric (8)	17	314	312¼	314	—	313½
Gen. Elec. spl. (4.60)	2	118⅜	118⅜	118⅜	—
Gen. G. & E. "A" (1.50)	3	36	35⅝	36	— 1	34½
General Motors (12b)	231	130⅜	128⅝	129⅜	— ¼	129
Gen. Motors 7% pfd. (7)	7	115	115	115	+ ½	114½
Gen. Outdoor Ad. A (4)	3	53	53	53	— ½	51½
Gen. Petroleum (2)	25	60¼	59⅝	60	—	60
Gen. Ry. Sig. new (4.25b)	8	69	68¼	69	—	69
Gliddden Co. (2)	2	19¾	19¼	19¾	—	19¾
Gold Dust	7	43	42½	42½	— 1½	42½
Good'h (B.F.) Co. (4)	16	51	50½	50½	— ⅝	50⅝
Good'h (B.F.) Co.pfd.(7)	6	99¾	98½	99¾	— ⅝	98½
Goodyear T.&R. pfd. (7)	1	99⅞	99⅞	99⅞	— 1⅛	99
Gob. Silv. H. 1st pfd (7)	2	98⅝	98	98⅝	— ⅛	98
Gould Coupler A (2)	2	17¼	17	17	—
Granby Min.	1	18½	18½	18½	—	18½
Gt. N. Ir. Ore. ctfs.(1.75)	2	21¾	21	21¾	— ½	21
Gt. Nor. Ry. pfd. (5)	4	72⅝	72	72⅝	—	72
Guantanamo Sugar	2	6½		6½	— ¼	6½
Gulf States Steel (5)	4	67	66	66	— 1	65⅝
Hartman Corp. (2.50)	3	27	26⅞	27	—	26⅞
Hayes Wheel (2.25b)	1	33⅞	33⅞	33⅞	—	33
Homestake Mining (7b)	1	53⅜	53⅜	53⅜	— ¼	53½
Household Prod. (3.50b)	2	41¾	41¼	41¾	— ¾	41
Howe Sound Co. (3)	12	31⅛	30⅝	31⅛	— ¾	31
Hudson & Manh. (2.50)	1	38⅛	38⅛	38⅛	—	38⅛
Hudson Motor Car (3)	113	67¼	66¼	66¾	— ¼	66½
Hupp Motor Car (1)	6	20⅞	20⅜	20⅞	+ ⅛	20½
Indep. Oil & Gas (1)	16	24⅜	23⅞	24	— ⅛	24
Ingersoll Rand, new (3)	1	90	90	90	— 1	89½
Inter. Rapid Trans.	33	41⅛	40⅜	40⅞	— ⅛	41
Intercon. Rubber (1)	1	14¼	14¼	14¼	—	14⅛
Int. Bush. Mach. (3)	2	42½	42½	42½	—	42
Int. Comb. Eng. (2)	53	44	43¼	43⅝	— ⅛	43⅝
Int. Harvester Co. (6)	2	115¼	115¼	115¼	— ½	115¼
Int. Matchpar.pfd.(3.20)	3	59	58⅜	58⅜	— ½	59
Int. Merc. Marine pfd.	12	33½	32⅞	32⅞	— 1¼	33
Int. Nickel (2)	17	33½	33⅛	33⅛	— ⅛	33¼
Int. Paper, new	6	46	45⅞	46	—	46
Int. Tel. & Tel. (6)	3	119	118½	119	—	119
Jordan Motors (3)	44	32	30⅞	31⅝	— ¼	31½

(a) Plus extras. (b) Including extras. (c) Payable in preferred stock. (d) Partly stock. (f) 2½ per cent quarterly, payable in common stock. (g) Extra 4 per cent stock.

Total sales, 296,800, against 832,700 previous day, 537,600 a week ago, and 737,600 a year ago. From January 1 to date, 162,016,300, against 153,216,300 a year ago, and 96,012,200 two years ago.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

BUTTER—Country packed, 25@27.

EGGS—Average receipts, 28@29; candled, 29@30; hennery, 32@33.

POULTRY—Alive: Turkeys, 35; spring chickens, 50@55; winter chickens, 38@45; fowls, 33; leghorns, 27; ducks, 20@25; geese, 15@20; young keats, 85@90. Dressed: Turkeys, 40@45; spring chickens, 55@60; winter chickens, 40@45; fowls, 35@36; leghorns, 30; ducks, 30; geese, 20; keats, 90@1.00.

LIVE STOCK—Calves, top, 12½; medium, 10@11; thin, 7@8; pork, small to medium, 17; heavy, 15@16; spring lambs, 18.

APPLES—Supplies light; demand light; market dull. Barrels: Maryland and Virginia, Winesaps and yellow Newtowns, A 2½ inches, best, 6.00@6.50; fair quality and condition, poorer, as low as 5.00; Winesaps, A 2¼ inches, 4.75. Boxes: Washington, medium to large size, extra fancy Winesaps, 2.75@3.00; fancy Delicious, 3.50; extra fancy Romes, 2.50.

ASPARAGUS—Supplies moderate; demand moderate; market steady. Maryland, Eastern Shore, 2-doz bunch crates, green, very large size, mostly 5.00; large size, mostly 4.00; small to medium size, 3.00@3.50.

CABBAGE—Supplies liberal; demand moderate; market steady. South Carolina, barrel crates, pointed type, 2.50@3.00; mostly around 2.75.

LETTUCE—Supplies moderate; demand light; market steady. Arizona and California, northern district, crates, iceberg type, 4-5 doz., fair quality, 3.50; few California, Salina section, good quality and condition, 5.50. North Carolina, 5-peck hampers and 1½ bushel hampers, Big Boston type, 2.00@2.50; few fancy, 3.00.

ONIONS—Supplies light; demand light; market firm. New stock: Texas, standard crates, yellow Bermudas, U. S. No. 1, 2.50@2.75.

POTATOES—Supplies moderate; demand moderate; market about steady. Old stock, Michigan, 150-lb. sacks, Russet Rurals, U. S., No. 1, 7.50@7.75. New stock, Florida, double head barrels, Spaulding Rose, U. S. No. 1, 11.50@11.75.

STRAWBERRIES—Supplies liberal; demand good; market firm. North Carolina, 32-qt. crates, Missionarys, 5.50@6.50; few high as 7.00; mostly around 6.00.

TOMATOES—Supplies moderate; demand light; market steady. Florida, sixes, ripes and turning, wrapped, best, fancy count, mostly 7.50; choice count, 6.50; 216's, 4.00@4.50; poorer, choice and fancy count, 5.00@6.00.

PEAS—Supplies heavy; demand limited; market weaker. South Carolina, bushel hampers, large pod varieties, 2.00@2.25; few 2.50; small pod varieties, 1.25@1.75; few 2.00; some holdovers, ordinary condition, low as 90c.

BEETS—Supplies light; demand moderate; market steady. Virginia, Norfolk section, crates, hotbed stock, 10c per bunch.

STRING BEANS—Supplies light; demand moderate; market fairly steady. Florida, ⅝ bushel hampers, green, 6.00@7.00; poor to fair quality and condition, 2.50@3.00.

CUCUMBERS—Supplies liberal; demand moderate; market slightly weaker. Florida, square bushel crates and ⅝ bushel hampers, No. 1, mostly 4.00; No. 2, 2.50.

CURB MARKET REVIEW.

New York, May 8 (By the Associated Press.)—In the absence of the selling pressure unsettled quotations in the closing period Friday, the market on the curb exchange held fairly steady today. Little of importance could be adduced in the opening proceedings which gave indications of neglect by both traders and the outside following.

Issues to extend movements beyond the new familiar fractional range were Singer Manufacturing and Consolidated Gas of Baltimore, the former moving up 5 points on small sales, and the latter a point. Stutz Motor recovered 2⅝ points of yesterday's decline and Tubize Artificial Silk gained a fraction, selling to 168. Price changes in the oil division were narrow and without significance.

In the bond department, a new feature appeared in the granting of unlisted trading privileges to the Roman Catholic Church, in Bavaria, $5,000,000 6½ per cent 20-year sinking fund gold bonds, series A, due March 1, 1946.

The week's trading was of a drifting, irregular character, but toward the end pressure appeared from many sources, making the important changes to lower figures. The British strike had a pronounced influence in causing a restriction of trading on both sides of the market and was effective in materially reducing the demand from speculative sources. A disposition to pursue a waiting policy prevailed in many quarters. The changes, however, in most cases were due to special reasons. Oil stocks were firmly held during the greater part of the week, Humble moving up over 2 points and Standard Oil of Nebraska advanced 12 points.

CROP OF WINTER WHEAT EXCEEDS THAT OF 1925

Will Be About 150,000,000 Higher, Is Estimate of Government.

STILL FAR FROM RECORD

(By the Associated Press.)

This year's winter wheat crop will be about 150,000,000 bushels larger than last year's, it was estimated yesterday by the Department of Agriculture, but with the exception of last summer's harvest, it is expected by the department to be the smallest since 1917.

The government's May report placed the indicated total production at 548,908,000 bushels, which is slightly below the average crop of the last ten years.

Rye production was placed at about 4,000,000 bushels less than last year, indications on May 1 pointing to a crop of 44,791,000 bushels.

The late spring has held back the growing crops and hindered farm work in general, spring plowing, planting and sowing being much behind last year. The May 1 condition of winter wheat was below average on account of the late spring in some regions and because of drought in other portions of the belt.

The condition was higher than average in the Southwest, in the leading wheat State, Kansas, and in the West, including the Pacific Coast, and in a large portion of the Southeast. Kansas reported a condition of 83 per cent of normal, with an indicated crop of 141,937,000 bushels, which is 30,000,000 bushels more than the 10-year average for that State.

Abandonment of winter wheat acreage since last fall amounted to 2,216,000 acres, or 4.6 per cent of the area planted, as compared with 13 per cent, the 10-year average abandonment. Unfavorable weather last fall caused a large fraction of the acreage to be late-sown. Owing to the mild winter the abandonment was largely confined to this late-sown acreage.

Cotton Oil Plant Fire Causes $250,000 Loss

Norfolk, Va., May 8 (By A. P.).—Two of the three main buildings comprising the Norfolk Cotton Oil Co., at Money Point, just outside the city, were destroyed by fire last night with a loss estimated at $250,000. The company manufactures fertilizer, cotton oil and cotton oil edible products.

Origin of the fire has not been determined. The flames, because of the distance from the city of the plant, got a big start and firemen were able only to save the third of the main buildings.

NEW YORK PRODUCE.

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—BUTTER—Firm; receipts 10,370. Packing stock, current make No. 2, 29½@30. EGGS—Irregular; receipts, 23,842. Fresh gathered, seconds, 28@29. CHEESE—Steady; receipts 57,053. Prices unchanged. LIVE POULTRY—Steady; prices unchanged. DRESSED POULTRY—Irregular. Chickens, frozen, 30@46. LARD—Steady; midwest, 15.50@15.60. RAW SUGAR—4.24 for Cuban only paid; refined, 5.20@5.60 for fine granulated. COFFEE—Spot, steady; Rio 7s, 19¾; Santos 4s, 22¼@22½.

NEW YORK GRAIN.

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—WHEAT—Spot, steady; No. 1, dark, Northern, spring, c. i. f. New York, all rail, 1.78½; No. 2, hard winter, f. o. b. all rail, 1.76½; No. 2, mixed durum, do., 1.55½; No. 1, Manitoba, lake and rail, last ten days May, in bond, 1.71½.

CORN—Spot, easy; No. 2, yellow, c. i. f. track, New York all rail, 86¼; No. 3, yellow, do., 83¾.

OATS—Spot, steady; No. 2 white, 52.

DAILY COTTON MARKET.

New York, May 8.

PORT MOVEMENT.

	Middling.	Receipts.	Exports.	Stock.
New Orleans	18.20	715	.....	310,683
Galveston	18.50	1,816	.....	391,315
Mobile	17.90	82	846	8,530
Savannah	18.25	2,968	.....	67,218
Charleston		560	.....	31,078
Wilmington		100	.....	24,260
Norfolk	18.25	336	200	102,394
Baltimore		.....	.....	1,262
New York	19.25	.....	.....	25,839
Boston		337	.....	5,800
Houston(pt)		2,450	2,450	.....
Minor ports		.....	114	10,338
Total today		9,464	3,610	978,737
Total week		9,364	3,610	.....
Total season		9,116,124	6,916,049	.....

Sales—New Orleans, 1,628; Galveston, 5,760; Mobile, 34; Savannah, 7; Norfolk, 1,457. Total sales today, 8,806.

INTERIOR MOVEMENT

	Middling.	Receipts.	Shipments.	Stock.
Memphis	18.25	3,047	5,361	253,181
Augusta	18.00	378	285	55,369
St. Louis		1,375

BREAK IN ITALIAN BONDS WEAKENS FOREIGN LIST

Domestic Corporation Issues Continue to Drift Along Narrowly.

SOME RAILS DO WELL

New York, May 8 (By the Associated Press).—The overshadowing developments of today's bond trading was the sharp break in Italian government 7's following the dissolution of the Morgan syndicate which floated the $100,000,000 loan for Italy last November. Other foreign obligations were unsettled by this development, but domestic corporation issues continued to drift along in a narrow rut.

The expiration of the Italian syndicate agreement, which has provided support for the bonds around their original offering price of 94 1/2, opened the way for the first real public appraisal of their value. Slow distribution to investment hands forced two extensions of the syndicate and the unexpected withdrawal of its support brought a flood of offerings into the market. An extreme decline of 6 points carried the bonds down to a low level, at 88 1/2, but they rallied to 89 5/8 at the close. Total trade transactions in the issue exceeded $1,600,000, representing almost a third of the day's entire dealings.

Insignificant price fluctuations of domestic railroad and industrial liens reflected merely the ebb and flow of professional operations. Carrier issues made a relatively better showing than other obligations, with a fair demand developing for Baltimore & Ohio general 5s, Erie convertible 4s D, and Wheeling & Lake Erie 4 1/2s.

Norfolk & Western divisional 4s advanced a point, to a 1926 top price, in anticipation of an additional offering of this issue. Remington Arms 6s reacted more than a point and Dominion Iron and Steel 5s fell 2 5/8, to a new low for the year, at 45.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—The cotton market recovered today a good part of yesterday's reactions, on rebuying or covering inspired by unfavorable weather reports from the southwest. July sold up to 18.58 or 13 points net higher and closed at 18.53, the general market closing steady at net advances of 8 to 13 points.

Renewed selling developed at the opening and first prices were 1 to 4 points lower, active months showing net losses of 2 to 8 points after the call. Failure of early reports to reflect any definite progress toward a settlement of the English labor troubles may have been a factor on the decline but initial offerings soon were absorbed and prices turned upward in the forenoon.

The market acted as if it had been sold yesterday on expectations that this morning's weather map would point to favorable conditions in the belt over Sunday. On the contrary barometric conditions suggested unsettled weather, while the official forecast was for showers in most sections west of the river, and this was evidently a disappointment to shorts. Covering or rebuying became fairly active while there appeared to be some broadening of trade or speculative demand for later deliveries which ruled relatively firm toward noon.

There also was a good deal of covering by May shorts in anticipation of the ending of business in that delivery here at noon Monday, which was supplied at a premium of about 45 points over July, however, and while May on the 4 showed a net gain of only 14 points, December selling up to 17.57 was 25 points net higher. Closing prices were 5 or 6 points off from the best under realizing.

Buying on the advance may have been promoted to some extent by reports of a larger business in cotton cloths in Fall River, sales for the week there being estimated at 100,000 pieces, or the largest business in many weeks. The business, however, was said to be mostly in tobacco cloths or gauzes for the surgical trade which do not consume much raw material.

Futures:

	High.	Low.	Close.
May	19.04	18.82	18.98-19.00
July	18.58	18.38	18.53-18.55
October	17.62	17.42	17.56-17.58
December	17.57	17.39	17.50-17.52
January	17.50	17.29	17.45-17.47

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, May 8 (By the Associated Press).—Wheat prices made a rapid climb here today. Liverpool premiums for July and September deliveries of wheat being the highest in years, compared with Chicago. The wheat market here closed firm, 5/8 to 1 1/8 cent net higher, May (new), 1.61 to 1.61 1/4, and July, 1.39 to 1.39 1/4, with corn unchanged to 3/8 cent lower. Oats 1/8 to 1/4 cent up, and provisions varying from unchanged figures to a rise of 15 cents.

The upward trend of wheat values developed after a wavering start, and became especially pronounced as the day neared an end. It was pointed out that July delivery of wheat was fully 30 cents over Chicago July, and that Liverpool October was also a complete shipping difference over Chicago September. Furthermore, traders were apprehensive of rust and heat Northwest later in the season, owing to the delayed start which the spring wheat crop has had both sides of the Canadian line. Rains reported today in Canada and the American Northwest were generally looked upon as welcome, but insufficient except for the time being.

Additional strength in wheat prices was derived from the likelihood of a fair reduction of the United States visible supply total of Monday and also a reduction of the quantity of wheat on ocean passage. Besides, mills were after wheat here, and were offering 4 1/2 cents a bushel over May for No. 2 hard winter wheat. The government report, issued long after the close of trading here, was regarded as bullish, the official estimate of winter wheat yield being below the latest private estimates.

Corn again went below previous low-price records for the season. Continued fine weather for corn planting was a bearish factor. Oats advanced on account of Texas complaints of rust and lack of sunshine.

Provisions were unsettled, fluctuating more in line with grain than with hog values.

Cash grain:

WHEAT—No. 3, hard, 1.61.

CORN—No. 2, mixed, 70 1/4; No. 2, yellow, 71 1/4@72.

OATS—No. 2, white, 41 3/4@42 1/2; No. 3, white, 41 1/4@41 1/2.

RYE—Not quoted.

BARLEY—63@73.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS FUTURES:

	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat—
May, new	1.61 1/2	1.57 7/8	1.61
May, old	1.60	1.56	1.60
Sept.	1.39 3/8	1.37 3/4	1.39
Sept.	1.36 3/8	1.33 7/8	1.35 1/4
Corn—
May	79 1/4	68 3/4	69
July	74	73 1/4	73 3/4
Sept.	77 3/8	76 5/8	77 1/4
Oats—
May	40 3/4	40 1/2	40 3/4
July	42 3/4	41 1/2	42 1/8
Sept.	43	42	42 7/8
Rye—
May	86 3/4	83 1/2	85 1/2
July	88 1/4	86	88 1/2
Sept.	90 1/2	88 1/2	90 3/4
Lard—
May			15.00
July	16.25	15.10	15.25
Ribs—
May			16.70
July			16.80
Bellies—
May			17.00
July	17.15	17.00	17.15

BOND SALES ON NEW YORK EXCHANGE

SATURDAY, MAY 8, 1926.

(Reported direct from New York Stock Exchange by J. & W. Seligman & Co.)

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT WAR LOANS.

The following sales are given in lots of $1,000. (Quotations in dollars and 32ds of a dollar.)

Sale	Issue.	Open	High	Low	Last
1	Liberty 3 1/2s	100.24	100.24	100.24	100.24
8	Liberty 1st 4 1/4s	102.20	102.20	102.18	102.18
129	Liberty 2d 4 1/4s	100.27	100.28	100.26	100.28
113	Liberty 3d 4 1/4s, r	101.9	101.9	101.8	101.9
10	Lib. 3d 4 1/4s, reg	101.6	101.6	101.5	101.5
111	Liberty 4th 4 1/4s	103.4	103.5	103.4	103.5
40	Lib. 4th 4 1/4s, reg	103.2	103.3	103.2	103.3
2	U. S. G. 4s	104.9	104.9	104.9	104.9

FOREIGN GOVERNMENT BONDS.

Sale	Issue.	Open	High	Low	Last
2	Argentine Govt. 6s w.i	98 1/4	98 1/4	98 1/8	98 1/8
22	Argentine Govt. 6s, A, 1957	98 1/8	99	98 1/8	99
1	Argentine Govt. 6s, B, 1958	98 1/4	98 1/4	98 1/4	98 1/4
45	Argentine Govt. 6s, June, 1959	98 1/4	98 1/4	98 1/4	98 1/4
16	Argentine Govt. 6s, Oct., 1959	98 1/4	98 1/4	98 1/4	98 1/4
13	Argentine Govt. 7s	101 1/4	101 1/4	101 1/4	101 1/4
16	Australia 5s	97 1/8	98	97 1/4	97 1/4
17	Austrian Govt. 7s, 1943	100 1/8	100	100 1/8	100 1/8
20	Belgium, King. of, 6s	84	84 1/2	84	84
13	Belgium, King. of, 6 1/2s	91 3/4	91 3/4	91 1/2	91 1/2
4	Belgium, King. of, 7 1/2s	108 1/8	108 1/8	108	108
13	Belgium, King. of, 7s	94	94 1/8	94	94 1/8
8	Belgium, King. of, 8s	106 3/4	106 3/4	106 1/2	106 1/2
8	Berlin 6 1/2s	87 7/8	88	87 1/2	88
1	Bogota, City of, 8s	100	100	100	100
4	Bolivia 8s	99 3/4	100	99 3/4	100
7	Bordeaux, City of, 6s	85 1/4	85 1/4	85 1/4	85 1/4
4	Brazil, U. S. of, 7s	93 1/2	93 3/4	93 1/2	93 3/4
1	Brazil, U. S. of, 8s	105	105	105	105
9	Bremen, State of, 7s	103 3/4	103 3/4	103 3/4	103 3/4
2	Buenos Aires 6 1/2s	94 3/4	95	94 3/4	95
11	Canada, Dom. of, 5 1/2s, 1929	100 1/2	100 3/4	100 1/2	100 3/4
1	Canada, Dom. of, 5s, 1931	102 3/4	102 3/4	102 3/4	102 3/4
2	Canada, Dom. of, 5s, 1952	101 1/4	101 1/4	101 1/4	101 1/4
3	Chile, Rep. of, 8s, 1926	104 3/4	104 3/4	104 3/4	104 3/4
5	Chile, Rep. of, 8s, 1941	101 1/2	101 1/2	101 1/2	101 1/2
5	Colombia, Rep. of, 6 1/2s	109	109	108 5/8	108 5/8
3	Copen., City of, 5 1/2s	100 3/8	100 3/8	100 1/4	100 1/4
1	Cordoba, Prov. of, 7s, 1942	99 1/8	99 1/8	99	99 1/4
4	Cuba, Rep. of, 5s, 1904	97 1/8	97 1/8	97 1/8	97 1/8
12	Cuba, Rep. of, 5 1/2s	101	101	101	101
5	Czechoslovakia, R. of, 8s, 1951	101 1/2	101 1/2	101 1/2	101 1/2
1	Czechoslovakia, R. of, 8s, 1952	100 7/8	100 7/8	100 7/8	100 7/8
14	Czechoslovakia, R.of, 7 1/2s, 1945	97 1/8	97 1/8	97	97 1/8
1	Denmark, King. of, 6s	103 1/2	103 1/2	103 1/2	103 1/2
5	Danish Mun. 8s, ser. A	110 3/4	110 3/4	110 3/4	110 3/4
2	Dominican Rep. 5 1/2s	98 3/8	98 3/8	98	98
2	Dutch E. India 6s, 1947	104 1/2	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/4
11	Dutch E. India 6s, 1962	104 1/2	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/4
5	Dutch Ea. India 5 1/2s, 1953	102 1/4	102 1/4	102 1/4	102 1/4
5	Finland, Rep. of, 7s	96 3/4	96 3/4	96 1/2	96 1/2
47	French Govt. 7 1/2s	98 1/4	98 3/4	98 1/4	98 1/2
91	French Govt. 7s	90 3/8	90 1/2	90 1/4	90 1/2
15	French Govt. 8s	101	101 1/4	101	101
23	German Govt. 7s	103	103	102 7/8	102 7/8
1	Greek Govt. 7s	85	85	85	85
1	Hungary, King. of, 7 1/2s	96	96	96	96
1447	Italy, King. of, 7s	89	89 3/4	88 1/4	89 3/4
29	Japanese 6 1/2s, r	94 3/4	95	94 3/4	95
4	Marseilles, City of, 6s	85 1/2	85 1/2	85 1/2	85 1/2
2	Mexico, U. S. of, 4s, 1910, small	27 1/2	27 1/2	27 1/2	27 1/2
17	Mexico, U. S. of, 4s, 1910, large	29 3/8	29 3/4	29	29 3/4
6	Mexico, U. S. of, 4s, 1904	28 3/8	28 3/4	28 3/8	28 3/4
10	Netherlands 6s, 1954	103 7/8	103 7/8	103 7/8	103 7/8
3	Netherlands 6s, 1972	107 1/2	107 3/4	107 1/2	107 3/4
10	Norway, King. of, 5 1/2s	96 3/8	96 3/4	96 1/2	96 1/2
9	Norway, King. of, 6s, 1943	100 1/2	100 1/2	100 3/8	100 3/8
2	Norway, King. of, 6s, 1944	100 1/2	100 1/2	100 3/8	100 3/8
2	Norway, King. of, 6s, 1952	100 1/2	100 1/2	100 1/2	100 1/2
7	Oslo, City of, 6s, 1953	100 3/8	100 3/8	100 1/4	100 1/4
2	Peru 8s	103 1/4	103 1/4	103 1/4	103 1/4
11	Peru 7 1/2s	97 3/8	97 3/8	97 1/2	97 5/8
11	Poland 8s	87 3/4	87 3/4	86 3/4	86 3/4
6	Porto Allegre, City of, 8s	100 3/4	100 3/4	100 1/2	100 1/2
1	Queensland, State of, 6s	104 1/8	104 1/8	104 1/8	104 1/8
5	Queensland, State of, 7s	112	112	112	112
7	Rio de J., City of, 8s, 1947	101	101	101	101 1/2
1	Sao Paulo, State of, 8s, 1950	103 3/4	104	103 3/4	104
5	Seine, Dept. of, 7s	87 1/2	87 7/8	87 1/2	87 7/8
1	Serbs, C. & S. King. of, 8s	91	91	91	91
3	Sweden, King. of, 5 1/2s	102 7/8	102 7/8	102 7/8	102 7/8
10	Sweden, King. of, 6s	104 1/4	104 1/4	104 1/4	104 1/4
4	Switzerland, Govt. of, 5 1/2s	104 1/2	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/4
1	Switzerland, Govt. of, 8s	114 1/2	114 1/2	114 1/2	114 1/2
1	U. K. Gt. B. & I. 5 1/2s, 1925	117 1/2	117 1/2	117 1/2	117 1/2
22	U. K. Gt. B. & I. 5 1/2s, 1937	103 7/8	104	103 3/4	103 7/8
3	Uruguay, Rep. of, 8s	109	109	109	109
5	Uruguay, Rep. of, 6s	96 1/2	96 1/2	96 1/2	96 1/2

DOMESTIC BONDS—RAILS AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Sale	Issue.	Open	High	Low	Last
2	Alabama Midland 1st 5s	100 3/8	100 3/8	100 3/8	100 3/8
2	Alpine Montan 7s, 1955	91	91	91	91
1	Amer. Agri. Chem. 7 1/2s	103 3/4	104	103 3/4	104
6	Amer. Beet Sugar 6s	96 3/4	96 3/4	96 3/4	96 3/4
1	Amer. Chain 6s	101 3/8	101 3/8	101 3/8	101 3/8
17	Amer. Smelt. 5s, 1947	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2
40	Amer. Sugar Ref. 6s	104	104	104	104
40	Am. T. & T. col. tr. 4s, 1929	98 3/4	98 3/4	98 3/4	98 3/4
7	Amer. T. & T. col. tr. 5s	103	103	103	103
7	Amer. T. & T. col. 5 1/2s, 1943	106	106 1/2	106	106 1/2
38	Amer. T. & T. 6s, 1960	100 3/4	100 3/4	100 3/4	100 3/4
3	Amer. Water Works 5s	97 1/2	97 1/2	97 1/2	97 1/2
1	Amer. Writ. Paper sf. 7s	47 3/8	47 3/8	47 3/8	47 3/8
35	Anaconda Copper 6s, 1952	103 1/4	103 1/2	103 1/4	103 1/2
5	Anaconda Copper 7s, 1938	105 1/4	105 3/8	105 1/4	105 3/8
10	Andes Copper 7s	99 1/4	99 3/4	98 3/4	99 1/4
10	Anglo-Chilean Nitrate 7s	98 1/4	98 1/4	98	98
3	Ann Arbor 4s	81	81	81	81
16	Armour & Co. 4 1/2s	92 1/2	92 1/2	92 1/2	92 1/2
26	Armour & Co. of Del. 5 1/2s	92	92 1/2	92	92 1/2
1	At. T. & S. F. gen. 4s	92 1/4	92 1/2	92	92
9	At. T. & S.F. adj. 4s	87 1/2	87 1/2	87 1/2	87 1/2
21	At. G.&S.F., Okla. Div. 4s	99 3/8	99 3/8	99 3/8	99 3/8
2	Atlantic Birmingham 4s	94	94	94	94
5	Atlanta & Charlotte 4s	103 3/4	104 3/4	103 3/4	104 3/4
6	Atl. C. Line L. & N. col. 4s	92	92	92	92
1	Atlantic Coast Line 7s	106 3/4	106 3/4	106 3/4	106 3/4
4	Atlantic & Danville 1st 4s	80	80 1/2	80	80 1/2
6	Atlantic & Danville 2d 4s	69 1/2	69 1/2	69 1/2	69 1/2
8	Baldwin Locomotive 5s	104	104	104	104
14	B. & O. 1st 4s	91 3/4	91 3/4	91 3/4	91 3/4
3	B. & O. cvt. 4 1/2s	96 3/4	96 3/4	96 1/2	96 3/4
30	B. & O. 1st g. 5s, 1948	104 3/4	104 3/4	104 3/4	104 3/4
30	B. & O. ref. & gen. 5s, 1995	97 3/8	98 3/8	97 3/8	98 1/8
11	B. & O. ref. 6s, 1995	108	108	108	108
119	B. & O. 6s, 1929	103 3/4	103 3/4	103 1/4	103 3/8
24	B. & O. (S.W. Div.) 5s	101 1/4	101 3/4	101 1/4	101 1/4
8	B. & O. (Tol. & Cinn.) 4s	80	80 1/4	80	80 1/4
29	Barnesdall Corpn. 6s	99 3/4	99 3/4	99 3/4	99 3/4
61	Bell Tel. of Pa. 5s, ser. C	96 1/2	97	96 1/2	97
16	Beth. Steel p. m. 5s, 1936	97 1/2	98	97 1/2	98
7	Beth. Steel 5 1/2s, 1953	92 7/8	93	92 3/8	93
23	Beth. Steel 6s	99	99 1/4	98 7/8	99 1/4
1	Botany Cons. Mills 6 1/2s	91	91	91	91
12	Bklyn. Edison 5s	103 7/8	104	103 7/8	104 7/8
16	Bklyn. Man. Tran. 6s	96 3/4	96 7/8	96 3/4	96 7/8
2	Bklyn. Union Gas 5 1/2s, 1936	132 1/2	133	132 1/2	133
33	Buff., R. & P. 4 1/2s, 1957	90 3/4	91	90 3/4	91
1	Bush Term. Bldg. 5s, 1960	98 1/4	98 1/4	98	98
2	Camaguey Sugar 7s	97 3/4	97 3/4	97 3/4	97 3/4
3	Canadian Nor. deb. 6 1/2s	118	118	117 7/8	117 7/8
2	Canadian Pac. deb. 4s	84 1/2	84 1/2	84 1/2	84 1/2
1	Central of Ga. 5s cons	103 3/4	103 3/4	103 3/4	103 3/4
8	Central of Ga. 6s	103 1/4	103 1/4	103 1/4	103 1/4
4	Central Leather 6s	100 1/2	100 1/2	100	100 1/2
20	Central Pacific ref. 4s	91 3/8	91 3/8	91 3/8	91 3/8
20	Central Pacific 5s, 1960	101 3/4	101 3/4	101 3/4	101 1/2
5	Ches. & O. cvt. 4 1/2s, 1930	99 1/4	99 1/4	99 1/4	99 1/4
1	Chi. & E. Ill. cvt. 5s, 1946	126	126	126	126
1	C. B. & Q. Ill. Div. 3 1/2s	86	86	86	86
6	C. & E. Ill. 1st cons. gr. 6s	77 1/4	77 1/4	77	77
36	Chi. Great West 1st 4s	68 3/4	69	68 1/2	68 7/8
6	C. M. & St. P. g.4 1/2s,C,1989	94	94	94	94
4	C. M. & St. P. 6s, 1934	104 1/4	104 1/4	104 1/4	104 1/4
9	C.M. & St. P. Mo. Riv. Div. 5s	99 3/4	99 7/8	99 3/4	99 7/8
1	Chi & N. W. 1st ref. 5s, 2037	103 1/4	103 1/4	103 1/4	103 1/4
1	Chi. N. & W. sf. 6s, 1929	104	104	104	104
2	Chi. & N. W. 6 1/2s	113 1/2	113 1/2	113 1/2	113 1/2
20	Chi. & N. W. 7s	107 7/8	107 7/8	107 7/8	107 7/8
2	C., R. I. & P. g. 4s, 1988	87 3/8	87 3/4	87 3/8	87 5/8
20	Chi. R. I. & P. ref. 4s, 1934	91	91 1/8	91	91
8	Chi. St. P. Minn. & O. 5s stamp	99 7/8	99 7/8	99 7/8	99 7/8
1	Chi. Union Station 5s, 1944	102 5/8	102 5/8	102 5/8	102 5/8
1	Chi.& West. Ind. 4s, 1952	86 3/8	86 3/8	86 3/8	86 3/8
1	Chi. & W. Ind. 5 1/2s, 1962	104 1/2	104 1/2	104 1/2	104 1/2
10	Chile Cop. col. tr. 6s, 1932	107 7/8	107 7/8	107 7/8	107 7/8
2	C.C.C. & St. L.r.&1.6s,A,1929	103 1/4	103 1/4	103 1/4	103 1/4
1	C.C.C.&St.L. St.L. div. 4s	86 3/4	86 3/4	86 1/2	86 1/2
1	Cleve., Lorain & Wh. 5s, 1933	102 1/2	102 1/2	102 1/2	102 1/2
1	Cleve. U. Term. 5s	103 1/2	103 1/2	103 1/2	103 1/2
2	Cleve. U. Term. 6 1/2s	105 1/2	105 1/2	105 1/2	105 1/2
1	Colo. & Southern ref. 4 1/2s	96 3/4	96 3/4	96 3/4	96 3/4
10	Columbia G. & E. 1st 5s, 1927	100 3/8	100 1/2	100 1/2	100 1/2
1	Consolidated Gas N. Y. 5 1/2s	106	106 1/2	106	106 1/2
2	Corn Prod. of Md. 1st 5s	80	80	79 3/4	79 3/4
2	Crown Cork 8s	92 3/4	92 3/4	92 1/2	92 1/2
1	Cuba. C. S. cvt. deb. 8s, sta	97 1/2	97 1/2	97 1/2	97 1/2
20	Cuba Co. 6s	98 1/4	99	98 1/4	99
4	Cuba Nor. Ry. 6s	97 1/2	97 5/8	97	97 5/8
23	Cuba Dom. Sugar 7 1/2s	98 1/4	98 1/2	98 1/4	98 1/2
1	Cuba Nor. Ry. 7s, 1952	93 3/4	93 3/4	93 3/4	93 3/4
2	Del. & H. 1st & ref. 4s, 1943	93 3/4	93 3/4	93 3/4	93 3/4
3	Dela. & Hudson 5 1/2s	105	105	105	105
1	Denver Gas 5s	96 5/8	96 5/8	96 5/8	96 5/8
10	Denver Gas 5s, sta	96 7/8	97	96 7/8	97
2	Den. & R. Gr. 1st 4s, 1936	89 3/4	89 3/4	89 3/4	89 3/4
2	Den. R. Gr. Imp. 5s, 1928	99 3/4	99 3/4	99 3/4	99 3/4
3	Detroit Ed. 1st 5s, 1933	64 1/4	64 7/8	64 1/2	64 7/8
22	Detroit Ed. ser. B 5s, 1955	102	102	102	102
25	Detroit Ed. 1st & ref. 5s A, 1940	102 1/4	102 3/4	102 1/4	102 3/4
1	Detroit River Tunnel 4 1/2s	96	96	96	96
22	Dodge Bros. 6s	94 1/4	94 1/4	94	94 1/4
2	Dom. Iron & Stl. 5s, 1939	45	45	45	45
4	Duquesne L. & P. 5 1/2s	105 1/2	105 1/2	105 1/4	105 1/4
1	Duquesne L. & P. 1st col. 6s	105 7/8	105 7/8	105 7/8	105 7/8
1	Ea. Tenn., Va. & Ga. divnl. 5s	101	101	101	101
2	Ed. Ry. 7s	83 1/2	83 1/2	83 1/4	83 1/2
3	Empire Gas & Fuel 7 1/2s	101 1/2	102	101 1/2	102
6	Empire Gas & Fuel 6 1/2s	97 1/2	97 1/2	97 1/2	97 1/2
9	Erie 1st cons. 4s (pr.ln.), 1996	78 1/2	78 1/2	78 1/4	78 1/4
8	Erie gold 4s, A	72	72	71 3/4	71 3/4
12	Erie gen. & cvt. 4s, D	79 1/4	79 1/4	79	79
5	Erie R. R. Pa. col. gd. 4s, 1951	97 1/4	97 1/4	97 1/4	97 1/4
5	Erie (Genessee Riv. div.) 6s	108 3/4	108 3/4	108 3/4	108 3/4
1	Erie & Jersey 1st 6s	109 1/2	109 1/2	109 1/2	109 1/2
2	Erie, Jollet & Estn. 1st 5s	103 3/4	103 3/4	103 1/2	103 3/4
2	Fed. Lt. & Tract. 1st 6s, 1942	102	102	102	102
1	French Natl. Steamship Co. 7s	80 1/4	80 1/4	80 1/4	80 1/4
17	Florida E. Coast 1st & ref. 5s	99 3/4	99 3/4	99 1/4	99 1/4
1	Francisco Sugar 7 1/4s	104 3/4	104 3/4	104 3/4	104 3/4
29	General Petroleum 5s	99	99	98 3/4	98 3/4
1	Genl. Refractory 6s	101	101	101	101
3	Georgia & Ala. 5s	97 1/4	97 1/2	97 1/4	97 1/2
3	German Cen. Agri. Bk. 7s	97 3/4	97 3/4	97 3/4	97 3/4
2	German Gen. Elec. 7s	98	98	97 3/4	97 3/4
3	Goodrich 6 1/2s	106 1/4	106 1/4	106 1/4	106 1/4
12	Goodyear T. & R. 8s, 1931	110 1/4	110 1/4	110 1/4	110 1/4
2	Goodyear T. & R. 1st 8s, 1941	121 1/4	121 1/4	121 1/4	121 1/4
4	Grand Rap. of Ind. 4 1/2s	97	97	97	97
3	Grand Trunk of Can. deb. 6s	107 1/4	107 1/4	107 1/4	107 1/4
10	Grand Trunk of Can. deb. 7s	116	116 1/4	116	116
2	Gt. Cons. El. Pow. of Jap. 7s	91 3/4	91 3/4	91 3/4	91 3/4
5	Great Nor. 5 1/2s	106 3/4	106 3/4	106 1/2	106 1/2
5	Great Nor. 7s	113 3/4	113 3/4	113 3/4	113 3/4
10	Heidelberg 7 1/2s	98 1/2	98 1/2	97 3/4	98 1/2
10	Hershey Choc. 5 1/2s	100 1/2	100 7/8	100 1/2	100 7/8
68	Hungarian Municipal 7 1/2s	88 1/2	90	88 1/2	90
17	H. & M. adj. inc. 5s, 1957	80 5/8	80 5/8	80 1/4	80 1/4
1	Ill. Bell Tel. 5s	102 1/4	102 3/4	102 1/4	102 3/4
2	Ill. C. col. tr. g. 4s, 1953	87 3/4	87 3/4	87 1/4	87 1/4
3	Ill. Cent. 5 1/2s, 1934	103	103	103	103
6	Inland Steel 5 1/2s	99 5/8	99 5/8	99 5/8	99 5/8
1	Inspiration Copper 6 1/2s	101 1/2	101 1/2	101 1/2	101 1/2
1	Ill. C., Chi. St. L. & N. O. 5s, '63	102 1/2	102 5/8	102 1/2	102 1/2
1	Indiana Union Ry. 5s	104	104	104	104
1	Indust. Bank of Japan 6s	100	100 1/4	100	100 1/4
18	Interb. R. T. 5s	72 3/4	73 1/4	72 3/4	73
8	Interb. R. T. 5s, sta	72 1/2	72 3/8	72 1/2	72 3/8
3	Interb. R. T. 7s	76 1/2	76 1/4	76 1/2	76 1/4
11	Interl. & Gt. N. adj. ct	94	94	93 1/2	93 1/2
3	Interl. & Gt. N. 6s	67	67 1/4	67	67 1/4
29	Internatl. Mer. Mar. sf. 6s	105	105	105	105
7	Internatl. Paper 5s, 1947	92 1/4	92 1/2	92	92
6	Internatl. Paper 6s, 1955	95 1/4	95 1/4	95 1/4	95 1/4
7	Internatl. Tel. & Tel. 5 1/2s	98 1/2	98 5/8	98 5/8	98 5/8
5	Jurgens, Anton, 6s	111 1/4	111 1/2	111 1/4	111 1/2
1	Kansas City, Ft. S. 4s	105 3/4	105 3/4	105 3/4	105 3/4
10	Kans. City Pow. & Lt. 5s	92 1/2	92 1/2	92 1/2	92 1/2
12	Kans. City S. 1st g. 3s, 1950	102 7/8	103	102 7/8	103
9	Kans. C. S. ref. & imp. 5s, 1950	75 1/2	75 1/2	75 1/4	75 1/4
21	Kans. C. Term. 1st 4s, 1960	98 3/8	98 5/8	98 1/4	98 1/2
3	Kansas Gas 6s	87 1/2	87 3/4	87 1/2	87 3/4
5	Kayser, Julius, 7s	105 5/8	105 5/8	105 1/2	105 1/2
1	Kelly-Springfield Tire 8s	107	107	107	107
8	Lackawanna Steel 5s, 1950	105	105	105	105
3	Laclede Gas 5 1/2s	98 1/4	98 1/4	98	98
1	Lake S. & M. S. deb. 4s, 1928	104	104	103 3/4	103 3/4
1	Lake S. & M. S.

WHEAT PRICE DROPS 5 CENTS PER BUSHEL DURING LAST WEEK

Beneficial Rains in Production Areas and English Strike Cause of Slump.

HIGH PROTEIN GRAINS AGAIN ARE IN DEMAND

Oats Go Down, While Rye Is Lower and Barley Suffers Decline.

The grain market suffered a sharp decline during the week ending May 8 and wheat prices were lowered about five cents per bushel and corn prices were forced to the lowest point on the crop to date, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States Department of Agriculture. Beneficial rains over portions of both the hard winter and spring wheat areas, together with the sharp reduction in export demand, occasioned by the strike in England, were the weakening factors in the wheat market. Prospects of continued large supplies of corn were largely responsible for the decline in the corn future prices, but demand for the cash grain continued active and prices for the current offerings were reduced only 1 to 2 cents per bushel below those of the previous week.

Hard winter wheat crop prospects continued favorable. The drought which was beginning to cause damage in Nebraska and northern Kansas was broken by showers and conditions were becoming more favorable. There were also showers over parts of the spring wheat belt, but western Nebraska and southeastern South Dakota are still badly in need of moisture. The conditions in the spring wheat area of Canada are generally favorable and better than at this time last year, according to the Manitoba Free Press. This report indicates that 75 to 100 per cent of the wheat has been seeded and that 30 to 50 per cent of that seeded is up 1 to 2 inches and is fully 10 days ahead of last year. Subsoil moisture is reported very good, but some damage has been caused by soil drifting in the recent high winds. Rains occurred at a number of points during the week.

Cash Wheat Weak.

The cash wheat market was weak with futures. Mills were buying only for their immediate needs and were delaying purchases as much as possible until the movement of new crop, which is now expected to begin in the Southwest in about 30 days. Receipts of hard winter wheat continue of good volume as good crop prospects are causing farmers to dispose of their limited stocks. This movement, however, is expected to decrease shortly. High protein wheats were again in better demand as stocks of this class of wheat were becoming lower. No. 2 hard winter 12 per cent protein was quoted at the close of the week at Kansas City at 7 cents over the May price; 12½ per cent 7½ cents over and 13 per cent 8 cents over the May. Fairly large sales of new crop wheat were reported to the Northwestern mills, but export inquiry was restricted by the unsettled labor situation in Europe. Export quotations were on the basis of 12½ cents over the Chicago September price f. o. b. Galveston for shipment last half of July.

The demand for spring wheat was also dull. Practically no wheat has been received on the May deliveries at Minneapolis, but if any wheat is delivered it is expected to be of good quality and mills will likely take deliveries as they can use lower protein wheat. The decline in wheat prices at Minneapolis was less than half of the decline at Winnipeg, which reflected the stronger position of the domestic markets. No. 1 dark Northern spring wheat 12 per cent protein was quoted at Minneapolis at 5 to 10 cents over the May price and 13 per cent 8 to 12 cents over. The durum market was quiet but firm because of light receipts. No. 1 amber durum sold at Minneapolis at $1.41 to $1.50 per bushel.

Other Prices Slump.

Soft winter wheat prices also declined, but there was a good demand for the limited receipts. Prices at the principal markets were generally 1c@2c lower than at this time last week. There was a steady demand for both soft and Western white wheats in the Pacific Northwestern markets and exporters were still taking considerable wheat. Country movement continues of good volume as farmers are disposing of their holdings because of the excellent prospects for the new crop. New crop wheat is quoted at $1.31 per bushel for soft and Western white delivered Portland and other terminal points.

Liquidation in the future markets forced corn future prices to new low levels for the crop, but cash grain did not follow the decline in the future markets, as demand continued good and receipts were not burdensome. Stocks have not been increasing recently and are not unusually large for this time of the year. Pacific coast buyers continued to take relatively large amounts of corn from Omaha, and Southwestern buyers were also taking corn at this market and at Kansas City. An increased movement of milo and kafir, however, to Fort Worth and other Southwestern markets restricted the demand for corn in that territory.

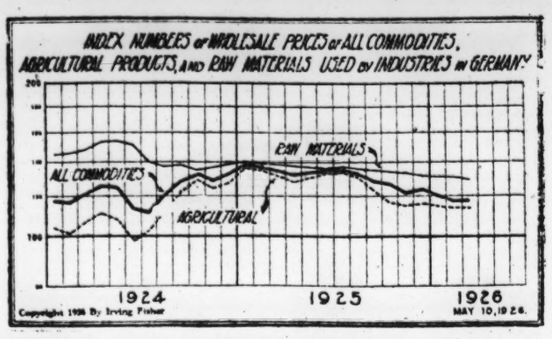

Weather has been generally favorable for field work and planting was active during the week. Corn planting has now extended as far north as north-central Iowa and southern Nebraska. Progress was slower east of the Mississippi river and but little corn has yet been planted north of the Ohio river. Warmer weather is needed quite generally for the crop from the Mississippi valley eastward, while rains are needed in Iowa and Nebraska.

The oats market weakened with other grains but prices were not materially changed from those of the previous week. Receipts were not large and were well taken by shippers and elevators. Oats seeding is practically completed but the germination of the spring oats has been rather uneven. Winter oats are heading in the south Atlantic States and harvesting is expected to begin in Texas and Oklahoma by the last of the month.

The rye market was lower with wheat although the rather poor condition of the new crop has tended to strengthen the market. Prices declined about three cents for the week. The moderate receipts were taken by mills and shippers as there was very little export demand.

The barley market also suffered some decline but there was a better cash demand and the market for this grain was relatively firmer than for other feed grains. Weather conditions in the Northwest have not been favorable for the crop in that area. Pacific coast markets continued dull but demand was slightly improved. Shipping barley was quoted at San Francisco at $1.30 per 100 pounds and feed barley at $1.15. Crop conditions were reported to be excellent. European barley markets have been practically closed by the strike and prices are quoted nominally unchanged.

GERMANY'S "BUYERS STRIKE"

Situation Only Indicates That the Mark, Recently Almost Worthless, Is Now Rising Too Fast.

By IRVING FISHER.
Professor of Economics, Yale University.

THE current "buyers' strike" in Germany indicates that the "stabilization" of the mark, accomplished in 1924, failed to keep it stable in fact. Its purchasing power, prior to that time incredibly low, has now risen, that is prices have fallen, and with the fall in prices has come depression in German business with unemployment—exactly the consequences already observed in the United States, England, Czechoslovakia, Norway, Italy, Denmark and other countries.

It is likely that the so-called "buyers' strike" in this country during 1920 was due to lack of purchasing power, rather than to a desire on the part of consumers to withhold their money from the market. Certainly savings bank deposits did not increase at that time so fast as they had risen in the past three years, while there had been good consumer buying. The rapid inflation of 1920 had carried commodity prices to outstrip the increase of wages and salaries. The volume of sales fell, and prices crashed. The resultant unemployment was made worse by a drastic restriction of credit, with an accelerated rise in the purchasing power of the dollar.

The rising German mark may be accounted for in the same way. The chart shows a drop in German wholesale prices of all commodities from 138.2 in January, 1925, to 118.3, for March, 1926. Unemployment has risen from 195,000 last midsummer to 1,450,000 in December, and further to 2,060,000 during February, 1926. This number of German unemployment is exceeded only by that during the winter of 1923-24, following the reform of the German currency. Yet German productivity is on the increase.

German coal and iron production rose in 1925 above that of 1913, exceeding the latter year in coal produced by over 50 per cent and bringing Germany in iron production once more second to the United States. The German crops were especially good last year. But prices of agricultural products fell from 137.3 in January, 1925, to 113.1 in March of this year, while raw materials used by the industries suffered a decline that was very pronounced though less severe.

Those German industries that make things used for further production are the ones suffering chiefly from unemployment, while those producing things used directly by consumers are not so badly affected. That is a sign that production has risen faster than buying power of consumers. Goods were piled up in the intermediate stages of production. Then bank loans were reduced, and with this reduction the volume of purchasing power that had sustained expanding production began to dwindle. Workers were discharged, and the consequent reduction both in the flow of wages and in profits further diminished the spending power of the German masses.

The prices tumbled. They no longer sufficed to sustain the volume of costs, including a wage scale that had been built up in the rise of prices during 1924-25. Wages were further cut, and with them fell salaries, rent and interest.

Speculators are still unloading their stocks of goods on Germany, while dealers have diminished their orders. The Reichsbank reduced its discount rate from 9 to 8 per cent in January last; monthly loans are around 7½ per cent, and the private discount rate is 5 per cent. Farm mortgages, formerly unobtainable, may be had at 7½ per cent. This all-around fall in interest rates will serve to ease credits and, together with the rising level of German exports (from an average of 1,642,000,000 marks a quarter in 1924 to 2,430,000,000 marks for the fourth quarter in 1925), will tend to check the fall in prices and to bring about a new stabilization of the German mark.

(Copyright, 1926, by Irving Fisher).

BALTIMORE SECURITIES

Baltimore, May 8.

Closing Quotations.

BALTIMORE CITY STOCKS (Reg.)

	Bid.	Ask.
4s '51	98	..
4s '54 Annex Imp	98	..
4s '55 Public Park Imp	98	..
4s '57	98	..
4s '58	98	..
4s '60 Burnt Dist Imp	98	..
4s '61	98	..
4s '62 Conduit	98	..
3½s '80 New Sew Imp	83	85
4s '61 (D L)	98	..

BANK STOCKS.

Citizens National Bank	47¼	47¾
Merchants National Bank	26¾	..
Morris Plan Bk of Balto	12	..
Nati Union Bank of Md	190	205
Old Town National Bank	13	13½
Western National	..	40

TRUST COMPANY STOCKS.

Baltimore Trust	136	137
Colonial Trust	56	..
Commerce Trust	59	61
Continental Trust	..	234
Equity Trust	..	72
Fidelity Trust	135	..
Maryland Trust	..	195
Real Estate Trustee	..	110

INSURANCE COMPANY STOCKS.

Central Fire	26½	..

FIDELITY AND CAS. CO. STOCKS.

Fidelity & Deposit	118	120
Maryland Casualty	95	95⅞
New Amsterdam Cas. Co	50	..
U S. Fidel & Guar Co	196½	197½

FINANCE AND CREDIT CO. STOCKS.

Commercial Credit Co	29	29½
Com. Credit Co. pfd	23	24
Com. Credit Co. B pfd	24	25
Com Credit Co 1st pfd	91	91½
Finance Serv com Class A	20	20¼
Finance Service pfd	10	10½
Hare & Chase	..	25
Mfrs. Finance 2d pfd	22¾	..
Maryland Mortg	19	..
Mortg. & Accept pfd	40	40½

RAILROAD SECURITIES.

East Tenn reorg lien 5s	99¼	..
Fla Cent Pensla 5s '43	100¾	..
Ga South & Florida 1st 5s	100¾	..
Ga Southern & Fla	..	160
Midland gen 5s	101½	..
Northern Central	80¾	81¼
Petersburg 5s Cl A	99⅞	..
Petersburg 6s Cl B	100	..
Seaboard & Roanoke 1st 5s	100	..
W B & A Ry 5s	65	68
W B & A El Ry 1st 5s	..	68
Wilmington & Weld g 5s	102¾	..
W B & A El Ry pfd	..	24

PUBLIC SERVICE SECURITIES.

Bal El Co 1st 5s	102¼	..
Bal Sp Pt & Ches 1st 4½s	81	82
Balto Elec pfd	..	47½
Cen Ry con ext & imp 5s	..	99½
C & P Tel of Va 1st 5s	100¾	..
Col Ry Gas & El 1st 5s	..	94
Con G E L & P 4½s	..	98¼
Con Gas E L & P	48	50½
C G E L & P 8% cu pf A	127	127½
C G E L & P 7% cu pf B	112¾	..
C G E L & P 6½% pfd	110¾	..
Con Gas 1st 5s	102¾	..
Con Gas gen 5½s	86¾	86
C G E L & P 6% pfd	103⅝	..
GGEL&PAlst rf s f gd6s'49	107	..
CGEL&PC 1st rf s f gd 5s	100⅞	..
C G E L & P E 1st rf s f gold 5½s	105½	106½
Dan Trac & Pow 1st 6s	60	63
Fairmt & Clarks Tr 1st 5s	92¼	..
Lake Roland Elv 1st 5s gtd	99	..
Md Elec Ry 1st 5s	95	95½
Monon V Trac Ser A 1st 5s	..	93
NN&HRy G&E Co 1st rfg5s	..	90¾
Norfolk & Atl Ter 1st 5s	99½	100
Norfolk St R R 1st 5s	96¾	..
Pa Water & Power 1st 5s	102	..
Pa Wat & P 1st rfg 5½s	103½	..
Rel Pk El & Wat 1st 5s	98¾	..
Seattle Elec 5s	100	..
Uni Rys & El Co 1st 4s	70½	71
Uni Rys & El Co. 1st 6s '49	94¾	95
Uni Rys & El income 4s	48	49
Uni Rys & El funding 5s	71	..
Mong W P P Serv 7% pfd	21	21½
Pa Water & Power	140	145
Uni Rys & Elec	17¼	17¾

INDUSTRIAL SECURITIES.

American Wholesale pfd	99¼	99½
Arundel (The) Corp	32	..
Baltimore Brick pfd	83	..
Baltimore Tube com	15	15½
Baltimore Tube pfd	49	..
Chas Walton pfd	99	..
Dellon Tire & Rubber	..	6½
Eastern Rolling Mills	51	..
I Benesch & Sons IncAcom	38	39
I Benesch & Sons Inc pfd	26¾	..
Iron City Sand & Gravel 6s	98	101
Mt. Ver-Woodberry Mills	..	11½
Mt Vernon Mills pfd	..	72
Standard Gas Equip	97½	98½
Titusville Iron 7s	100½	..
Western Md Dairy Inc pfd	52½	..
Western Md Dairy Vtc	..	118

OIL SECURITIES.

Autoline Oil	..	4
Autoline Oil pfd	10	12
Houston Oil pfd	82	83½
Lorraine Petroleum	25c	50c

MISCELLANEOUS SECURITIES.

Consol Coal rfg 4½s	92¾	92½
Consol Coal 1st rfg 6s	79½	79⅝
Consolidation Coal	37½	38
Elk Horn Corp 6½s	99¾	100
Fairmont Coal 1st 5s	98¼	..
Greenwald Pack A	..	24½
Mer & Min Transp Co	43	46
Roland Pk-Homeland pfd	99¼	..
Sil Gel	16	..

Chesapeake Beach Voters Ban Taxation

Voters of Chesapeake Beach, Md., have voted against any town taxes at all. The town has enough money from other sources to run and the residents opposed taxation to finance any development plans.

Six town commissioners elected were: E. S. Bentley, Charles Long, Sam Williams, J. E. Donald, H. A. Garren, and Lee Manders. They will select a mayor. Mr. Bentley is present mayor.

Shoots Herself While He Goes for Medicine

Special to The Washington Post.

Grantsville, Md., May 8.—While her husband was gone to obtain medicine, Mrs. Jennie Robinson, of Brownfield, near Uniontown, procured a revolver and shot herself. She is reported dying in a hospital.

Mrs. Robinson, suffering from a nervous breakdown, recently had been discharged from St. Francis hospital, Pittsburgh, and was about to be taken to Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, for treatment.

ZONING COMMISSION WILL HOLD HEARING ON CHANGES MAY 20

Fourteen Alterations in Restrictions and Three Amendments to Be Considered.

HOTELS AND APARTMENTS IN A AREA DISCUSSED

New Fuel Yards May Have to Get Consent of Owners to Locate.

Three amendments to the code and 14 changes in property restriction classifications will be subjects of a hearing before the zoning commission May 20 in the board room of the District building.

Discussion will center on the new draft of the proposed revision of residential property provisions to keep semidetached and community houses out of neighborhoods where residents desire only single-family homes. Two of the amendments are involved. One to make a restricted area available only for residences with two sideyards, and the other forbidding future erection of apartments or hotels in A area.

A third amendment provides that new fuel yards may not be established except with the written consent of owners of 75 per cent of the property within 200 feet.

The most important of the proposed changes in property status is a petition by the Washington Gas Light Co. for permission to erect a gas container in the vicinity of Twelfth and N streets southeast, to a maximum height of 180 feet. The other proposed changes are as follows:

A tract bounded by Ridge and Bowen roads, Forty-second street and Southern avenue southeast; and both sides of Nichols avenue, South Capitol and Atlantic streets and Livingston road southeast, from Fourth street to the District line, from first commercial C to residential A area.

Property between Twelfth and Kearney streets, Michigan avenue and Bunker Hill road, except Twelfth street commercial frontage, from A to A restricted area.

Both sides of Montello avenue northeast, from Florida avenue to Mount Olivet road and the north side of Florida avenue between Montello and West Virginia avenues, from residential B to first commercial C area.

Raise Height Restriction.

North side of Massachusetts avenue northeast, between Second and Third streets, from 60-foot to 90-foot height restriction.

Both sides of Thirteenth street northwest, between M and O streets and both sides of L street northwest from New Hampshire avenue to Twenty-fourth street, from residential to first commercial area.

All second commercial property between Eighth and Ninth streets northwest, north of Barry place and south of lot 868, from B to D area.

The tract bounded by Reno road, Quebec street and Rowland place northwest and property bounded by Klingle and Woodley roads and Connecticut and Cathedral avenues, except that fronting on the last three named thoroughfares, from A restricted, to A area.

Property between Underwood, Peabody, Fifth and Ninth streets northwest, from A restricted, to B restricted area.

Northeast corner of Fourteenth and W streets northwest, from first to second commercial area.

Rear portions of lots at 912 to 918 Seventeenth street northwest, from 90 feet to 110 feet height restriction.

THOUSANDS MORE VISIT MONTICELLO

Garden Club Members Among Crowds Attending Big Flower Show.

Charlottesville, Va., May 8 (By A. P.).—A "bigger" day than yesterday when 2,500 persons visited Monticello, Thomas Jefferson's historic home near here, was indicated today by the crowds that attended the Monticello flower show. Throughout the day, automobile after automobile wound its way up the mountain to leave guests on the lawn of the Jefferson home where more than 400 exhibits comprised the floral display.

As was the case on the opening day, a hot sun looked down from a clear sky upon the beautifully decorated lawn which was crowded with visitors from every part of Virginia, many from nearby Eastern cities, and still others who, as tourists, took the opportunity to stop off for the show.

Thirty garden clubs were represented in the exhibition to raise funds for the restoration of the trees on the grounds of the estate, which has been taken over as a national shrine.

Today many of those here for the show spent the morning in going through celebrated gardens and estates near Charlottesville.

Five Hurt, One Badly, ByHit-and-Run Driver

Clarksburg, W. Va., May 8.—Samuel Folio, 25, of Robinson Run, is dying in a hospital here with a broken neck and internal injuries, received today when an automobile in which he was riding was overturned by another automobile on the Robinson Run road. He was pinned beneath the machine. Three other occupants were also injured. They are John Locke, 26, of Robinson Run, also a hospital patient, and Misses Freda and Lucille Limbers, of Clarksburg.

Police are seeking the driver of the other car, who sped from the scene.

BYRD STARTS FLIGHT TOWARD NORTH POLE

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.)

bergen to Alaska be successful, was expressed here last night by Brig. Gen. Robert Alexander, commander of the camp.

"Camp Leads has the only mooring mast north of San Diego," said Gen. Alexander, "and as far as I know there are no facilities for landing a dirigible at either Point Barrow or Nome. I am puzzled as to where they intend to refuel."

Nome, Alaska, May 8 (By A. P.). Nome residents today completed plans to welcome Capt. Roald Amundsen if his proposed flight in the dirigible Norge, from Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, to Nome, proves successful. A large crowd assembled Monday for a reception following reports Amundsen was en route.

Amundsen plans to travel over the pole to Point Barrow, northernmost tip of Alaska, and then make the 450-mile trip to Nome.

MARYLAND DEMOCRATS IN SPRING GET-TOGETHER

Gov. Ritchie Congratulates Montgomery County on Its Accomplishments.

500 AT SUPPER DANCE

Nearly 500 Montgomery county Democrats, including many of the leading members of the party, attended the spring supper, dance and card party of the United Democratic Women's Clubs of Montgomery county, at the Congressional Country club Friday evening. Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, who was accompanied by David C. Winebrenner, secretary of State, and Maj. E. Brooke Lee, was the guest of honor and only speaker, and among other prominent persons present was Mrs. Menefee, of Cumberland, recently chosen president of the Maryland Federation of Democratic Women.

Preceding the address of Gov. Ritchie, a reception was held with Mrs. Edwin A. Merritt, president of the county federation, at the head of the receiving line. Mrs. Merritt introduced virtually all present to the governor.

As Gov. Ritchie arose to speak, after being introduced by Mrs. Merritt, he was accorded an ovation, and as he concluded his remarks were given an equally cordial demonstration. The governor congratulated the county as one of the best-governed counties in the State and referred to the fact that its tax rate is the lowest of any county in the State. He complimented the Woman's club upon their personnel and effective activities and declared they have a "wonderful background" in the rich and rapidly developing county.

Gov. Ritchie reviewed briefly the accomplishments of his administrations and asserted that in progressive legislation, such as the budget expense system, reorganization of State departments, improved educational system and conservation, the State is away ahead of many of the States. He said that the machinery of government is well-nigh perfect and that if it does not function properly it will be due to improper officials.

About 50 young women, from various parts of the county, acted as pages under the direction of Miss Jean Skinner, of Kensington.

Auto Racer's Goggles Smashed by Sparrow

Charlotte, N. C., May 8 (By A. P.).—A sparrow yesterday sent Ralph Hepburn, famous in the automobile racing world and former motorcycle champion, to a hospital, and probably knocked him out of any chance to participate in the spring classic on the Charlotte speedway next Monday.

While Hepburn was making approximately 125 miles an hour around the bowl in his qualifying tests, the bird collided with the goggle over the driver's left eye and forced him from the track before he qualified for the race. The goggle was smashed and particles of glass were found under his eyelid, after he had made practically a lap in pain so terrific that he was said to be partially unconscious when lifted from the cockpit and rushed to the hospital.

Music Week Festival Ends at Harrisonburg

Special to The Washington Post.

Harrisonburg, Va., May 8.—Ten thousand persons filled the streets here today to witness the big parade which climaxed the celebration of National Music week. The procession, more than a mile long, was one of the biggest in the city's history.

Music was furnished by ten bands and three orchestras, which played on the court square after the parade disbanded. Among the floats were those of the State Teachers' college, the town of Strausburg, the United States forestry service and the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

Judge Is Among 52 Seized in Dry Raids

Birmingham, Ala., May 8 (By A. P.).—County Tax Collector James F. Hawkins and Judge Thomas Lee, of the municipal court, were among 52 persons arrested in a series of dry raids, made last night by Federal agents, recruited from four States. The arrest of the two officials was made when the Federal officers entered the Elks club, it was said. The series of raids was the largest ever staged in Birmingham, S. O. McPherson, deputy administrator for Alabama, said.

Five automobiles and a truck were confiscated by the officers. Approximately 200 gallons of liquor were seized.

BUSINESS SURVEY HELD TO SHOW GOOD OUTLOOK

Earnings of Numerous Corporations for First Quarter Regarded Satisfactory.

BOND ISSUES ON SALE

By F. W. PATTERSON.

Entering the fifth month of the calendar year, a survey of the business horizon reveals no occasion for serious misgivings, such as were believed to have been portended by the heavy decline in securities that was under way about two months ago. Reports on the activities of the nation are sufficiently encouraging to indicate that the recession in the stock market was largely in the nature of a technical adjustment instead of a barometric forecast of a decided slowing down in production and distribution.

As a matter of fact, first quarter earnings of numerous large corporations were gratifyingly large, many of them reaching beyond expectations. Car loadings have continued heavy, reflecting a healthy distribution of goods throughout the country. Money is again in ample supply and there is every evidence of a good credit condition. While there may have been a slowing down in certain lines, the slackening appears to be largely temporary and due to seasonal causes, such as a late spring. The latter reason has been wholly responsible for the slowing down of certain branches of the retail trade in the District. In the major industries, activity of a healthy character and fairly large volume have been the rule.

Turning to our basic industries, the chief surprise of the first four months of 1926 continues to be furnished by construction operations, according to the monthly review of W. J. Wollman & Co., which points out that the apparent paradox of the early part of the present year as well as of last year is featured by the building boom. Economists find it difficult to justify a considerable portion of the enormous additional volume contracted for since the first of the year, but nevertheless the contracts are being made.

Another basic industry that has failed to justify pessism is the iron and steel industry. The first quarter of the year was one of the most satisfactory for this period in the history of the country. Operations were on a recod-breaking scale, prices were stable, and, although unit profits were low, the earnings of the leading producers showed an increase.

Notwithstanding the drawback of extremely unfavorable weather, orders with motor-car manufacturers for the first quarter of 1926 ran considerably ahead of any preceding year for the corresponding period, and from the middle of April improved weather had a pronounced effect on sales, so much so that it is believed that April sales will be found to have established a new peak for all time.

One of the industrial surprises of the year is represented by the pronounced increase in railroad equipment orders. As a result of the sharp gain in buying in the first quarter of the year, manufacturers are said to be better placed than at any time in more than a year.

Unfavorable weather has had its influence on retail trade, with mail order houses alone showing gains comparable to those registered throughout the first four months of 1925. Retail buying thus far has exceeded the total of the corresponding period a year ago by a small margin, but gains have been unevenly distributed. Individual purchasing power is considerably larger than at this time last year. Industrial production has been on a record scale, and industrial employment has been close to maximum. It is admitted by the Wellman reviewer that distribution of household necessities and luxuries have been effected by the backward spring, resulting in a diminished offtake.

Little Interest Shown.

The little interest expressed in the proceedings on the Washington Stock Exchange yesterday centered wholly in three stocks, but the turnover was extremely light in each transaction.

Capital Traction Co. sold unchanged at 103¼, when asked soared to 104¼, and with bid declining to 103 no more of the stock came out. Washington Railway & Electric preferred with ten shares selling at 90 was at previous level. Merchants Transfer & Storage preferred sold to the extent of ten shares par, and closed 100 bid and 100¼ asked.

New Bond Issues.

New bond issues during the last week reached a total of $41,842,000, as compared with $130,002,000 the preceding week and $136,665,000 the corresponding week of 1925, according to Dow, Jones & Co. A $60,000,000 issue for the city of New York was the chief offering at this time last year.

By groups the week's offerings were: Public utility, $14,066,000; industrial, $8,800,000; municipal, $7,536,000; foreign, $6,500,000; territorial possession, $1,540,000, and real estate, $3,400,000.

Golf Tournament Plans.

Charles H. Doing, jr., chairman of the sports committee of the eighth annual convention of the District Bankers association, to be held at Hot Springs, Va., in June, announced yesterday the following golf events: Eighteen holes medal play handicap for the W. B. Hibbs cup. This trophy must be won three times to come into possession of a contestant. Those whose names have already been engraved on the trophy are Herbert Shannon, who won the event in 1924, and Clyde B. Asher, who was the winner last year.

The Herbert T. Shannon cup goes to the winner in Class A, in which class are those with a handicap of 18 or less. This cup was won last year by Robert V. Fleming. The Class B event is contested for by those with a handicap of more than 18 but not to exceed 24, and the cup, which is played for annually, is the gift of Lanier P. McLachlen.

The ladies' event, a putting contest open to the wife or daughter of a representative of any member bank, is planned again, and the cup, which in this case, too, must be won three times for permanent possession, is the gift of John Poole.

These are all fixed events, but it is the hope of the committee that many other sporting events will be added to the program between now and the time of the convention.

MYSTERY IN FINDING OF W. S. WARD'S CAR

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.)

doned by the thieves that had taken it. He would not say when or where the car was stolen.

Ward, son of George S. Ward, was acquitted September 28, 1923, on his thirty-second birthday, of the killing of Clarence Peters, of Haverhill, Mass., whose body was found on a lonely road near the Kensico reservoir in Westchester county, N. Y., on May 20, 1922.

Ward surrendered to the authorities two days after the identification of Peters, and declared he had killed the man in self defense after the former sailor had demanded $75,000 under threat of death. He said that Peters had been in league with a blackmail gang. Ward was indicted on a charge of first degree murder by the Westchester county grand jury, and freed on January 22, 1923, by Supreme Court Justice Seeger, after a legal battle. The case was reopened when Peters' parents appealed to Gov. Smith, who ordered an extraordinary grand jury convened. A second indictment for first degree murder was returned on July 26, 1923. Ward was acquitted at the subsequent trial.

Trenton, N. J., May 8 (By A. P.). Trenton police are attempting to unravel the mystery which surrounds the finding here of the automobile of Walter S. Ward.

Ward's automobile, a large touring car, was found abandoned near the Clinton Street Station of the Pennsylvania railroad here last Thursday night, but the discovery was not made known until this evening. Police said the windshield of the car had been shattered and a large stone was found on the front seat. A traveling bag and a brief case also found in the auto had been searched and the contents were spread about inside the car, police declare.

Today an attorney called at police headquarters here for Ward's effects, but the authorities refused to release them until ordered to do so by the prosecutor's office.

Discovery of the broken windshield and stone in the car led police to the belief that the driver had been the victim of foul play.

Politician Shot Dead; Young Man Is Sought

Hamlin, W. Va., May 8 (By A. P.).—F. M. Priestly, president of the Lincoln county court and prominent politician, was shot and killed in his store at Priestly, near here, late yesterday. Authorities are seeking William Wheeler, 25, for questioning in connection with the slaying.

Reports reaching here said Priestly and Wheeler had argued over an account alleged to have been due Priestly by Wheeler. Wheeler is reported to have leaped into his automobile and driven away after the shooting.

MAIL CLERK ADMITS ROBBERY OF $4,000

Postoffice Inspectors Learn He Paid Off Bills With Some of Loot.

Special to The Washington Post.

Lynchburg, Va., May 7.—J. H. Whitten, Norfolk & Western mail clerk, is held here charged with the theft of a registered package containing $4,000 being sent from the First National Bank, at Coeburn, to the Federal Reserve Bank, at Richmond, the sum of $2,300 was taken from him after his arrest in Appomattox county yesterday, after he had confessed to the robbery. Bail has been fixed at $5,000.

Whitten, police say, threw the wrapper of the package back into the pile of mail. Transfer Clerk Howell found the wrapper and turned it over to Postmaster J. M. B. Lewis. As a result, the arrest was made before the letter was missed from the mails.

Postoffice inspectors are seeking the remainder of the money. The search has disclosed that Whitten paid a number of bills here, having turned several hundred dollars over to a collection agency to settle old accounts against him.

Mrs. Whitten says she has no knowledge of the missing money.

3 ADMIT 15 HOLDUPS AND MURDERS OF 2

Robberies of Tea and Cigar Stores Said to Be Cleared by Arrests.

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, May 8.—Four men, three of whom confessed to the police to implication in the robbery of fifteen stores of the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., and the United Cigar Stores Co., involving the murder of a man and a woman and the shooting of a second man, were arrested this morning when they sped past Amos R. Anderson, a motorcycle policeman on a lonely road outside Darien, Conn.

In addition to the robberies and murders which they admitted to Detectives Joseph A. Daly and John Cordes, of Inspector Coughlin's office, they were being questioned by District Attorney Charles J. Dodd, of Kings county, in connection with the murder of another man who lost his life defending an Atlantic & Pacific Tea store on January 22.

So far as could be learned tonight from checking up on the confession telephoned from Darien to police here, their booty was not extensive in any of the robberies. They were coming from Cambridge, Mass., in a stolen car when apprehended.

RANDALL JUNIOR HIGH OBSERVES HEALTH WEEK

Exercises Are Conducted on Cardozo Field Under Direction of R. E. Contee.

MUSIC HOUR IS GIVEN

The health week program of the Randall Junior High school boys was conducted on Cardozo field Thursday afternoon. An exhibition drill was given by the ninth grade. Batball, jockey tussle, fireman carry and army games were presented by the seventh and eighth grades. This work was directed by R. E. Contee.

The girls' health program, exemplified by field exercises and games Friday afternoon, included folk dances, health facts and calisthenics, directed by Mrs. Harriet E. Marshall.

A music hour, in conjunction with the annual industrial exhibit, will feature glee clubs, community songs, the Randall orchestra and special chorus numbers. The musical program will be held at the Friendship Baptist church, Tuesday, May 11, at 8 o'clock.

Business clubs were addressed Wednesday by G. B. Reid and J. Percy Bond, who presented the story of development of a large music store by a colored mender of violins in a barber shop. Honesty, promptness and reliability were stressed in observance of "better business week."

"Better Homes week" was featured by the Rev. W. L. Washington and Dean Lucy D. Slowe, of Howard university. They discussed the moral and spiritual side of the home, its development of atmosphere through love and sympathy of parents and children, and its social value as the unit of community growth.

A faculty meeting was addressed Tuesday by Mrs. G. S. Johnson and Alonzo Brown. Mrs. Johnson discussed the school in its relation to community social problems. Brown reported results of experimentation in discipline through teacher-preparation for the classrdom.

Whittemore Requests Court Name Counsel

Baltimore, Md., May 8 (By A. P.).—Richard Reese Whittemore pleaded poverty and asked Criminal Court Judge Eugene O'Dunne today to appoint an attorney to defend him in his forthcoming trial for murder of a Maryland penitentiary guard in 1925. The plea was entered through Vincent J. Demarco, whom Whittemore previously had said he expected to engage as his counsel.

The "Candy Kid" is scheduled for arraignment next Monday. Meantime, his wife, Margaret N. Whittemore, and his father, John Rawlings Whittemore, are conferring with Judge O'Dunne and State's Attorney Herbert R. O'Connor.

Suburban

ROCKVILLE.

With approximately 2,200 of the 8,000 public schools boys and girls of Montgomery county participating in the various events, and with 5,000 men, women and children from all parts of the county attending, the annual field day of the public school children of the county was held at the fair grounds yesterday.

The meeting was under the auspices of the county board of education and Prof. Edwin W. Broome, county superintendent of schools, was in charge of the arrangements. Dr. William E. Burdick, of Baltimore, State supervisor of physical instruction, directed the numerous events and he was assisted by 25 experts from Baltimore and a number of well-known citizens of the county.

The events for the boys included dashes, long distance and relay races, standing broad jump, dodgeball throw for distance, baseball throw for distance, running broad jump, shot put, running high jump, dodgeball, speedball, badge contests and hop, step and jump, and the girls fought it out in flag relay, obstacle relay and run and catch relay races, speedball, dodgeball, captainball, volleyball, touchdown passball and badge contests. No records were broken but fine performances and close contests were the rule. About 50 of the 70 schools of the county were represented.

At a meeting of the Montgomery County Council of the American Legion at Silver Spring with the Cissel-Saxon post, of that place, as host, it was decided again to offer bronze trophies to members of the graduating classes of the grammar schools of the county making the best showings in scholarship, leadership, courage, honor and service, one trophy to go to the leader in each class.

It was also decided again to offer bronze trophies for proficiency in athletics, one such trophy to be awarded to the accredited high school and one to the second-class high school scoring the most points at the annual athletic meet here.

The card party and supper given in the Knights of Columbus hall at Silver Spring Friday evening by Court Forest Glen, Catkolic Daughters of America, was attended by 250 persons from various parts of the county, and proved a social and financial success. Mrs. May Cissel, grand regent of the court, headed the committee in charge.

CAPITOL HEIGHTS.

Recently elected town officials will take the oath of office at a meeting to be held in the fire engine house Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. Members of the Peoples party are planning to hold a reception in honor of Mayor-elect Thomas J. Luckett, who it supported, and other successful candidates. It is reported that with the organization of the new mayor and council, a number of changes will be made among town officials.

Father of Ten Is Killed in Mine.

Clarksburg, W. Va., May 8.—George H. Schehl, 44, assistant foreman at the Hutchinson Coal Co.'s mine at Mount Clare, was crushed to death by falling slate while at work yesterday. He leaves a wife and ten children.

CIVIL SERVICE BODY PREPARING EXHIBIT ON EXTENT OF WORK

Commission to Have Display on Activities at the Sesquicentennial.

ECONOMY OF METHODS TO BE DEMONSTRATED

Illuminated Map of United States Will Be Feature at Philadelphia.

An exhibit, showing the work of the civil service commission, will be shown at the Philadelphia sesquicentennial exposition in connection with displays of other branches of the Federal government.

It will be ready for shipment to Philadelphia by Saturday, and is being prepared by Herbert E. Morgan, director of information and recruiting for the commission, who will superintendent its installation at Philadelphia.

The exhibit has been prepared with a view to presenting to the public the economy of the competitive examination system through increased efficiency of employes, the connection of the civil service commission with all parts of the executive branch of the government by furnishing their personnel through the examination system, the extension of the merit system as compared with the whole executive civil force since the passage of the civil service law in 1883, the commission's extensive organization for conducting its business, and the extent to which the merit system has been adopted by States, cities and counties throughout the country.

Illuminated Map.

A large electrically illuminated map of the United States in colors will show the commission's organization for doing business, especially for making it convenient for those who wish to enter examinations to do so.

Another electrically-operated exhibit will be an automatic stereopticon, placed in a booth, which will show representative activities of the various Federal executive bureaus, under the title, "A Few of the Thousand of Important Things Your Federal Civil Service Employes Do For You."

This exhibit will demonstrate the connection of the civil service commission with all the executive bureaus in supplying through its examination system, the workers who perform for the public the variety of services depicted.

Motion-Picture Exhibit.

A third electrically-operated exhibit will be a small-scale motion picture, also in a booth, of scenic Washington. It will include views of public buildings, parks and other places of interest, and here also the commission will point out its function in supplying the working force to operate the executive branches of the government.

Other exhibits in the form of maps, charts, &c., will be hung on the sides of the booths and on the walls. All of these will present in an interesting way, features of the operation of the competitive examination system in public employment.

The attendant in charge of the exhibit will distribute various circulars of general and special information and will have a current file of examination announcements and application blanks for those who wish them.

Priest Lauds Power Of Italian Dictator

"Because of Mussolini's ability and power a thing such as is now happening in England can not happen in Italy," the Rev. Father Henry E. O'Keeffe, of the Paulist Fathers of the Apostolic Mission House, declared at a smoker of the Young Men's Holy Name Society of Holy Rosary Parish, held Tuesday night in St. Mary's hall.

Michael Racioppi, of the census bureau, also spoke, exhorting the members to live up to their noble traditions. Other speakers were Sylvester Aquino, Father De Carlo, and Baldo J. Balducci, president of the society. Entertainment was given by Louis Enselmo, Frank Manarino, Buddy Soldano, Joseph LaScola, Austin Giuffre, Paul DiToto, and Gino Simi. Michael Chiesa was chairman of the committee on arrangements. His assistants were Gino Simi, Angelo Ganna, Joe Marcellino, and Leo Balducci.

Cruelty Is Charged.

Cruelty is charged against Herbert Glassman, automobile dealer, in a petition for limited divorce filed yesterday in equity court by Mrs. Dorothy Glassman through Attorney Ralph E. Cusick. She was married May 18, 1920. According to her petition Glassman recently sold out his interest in a large automobile renting concern for $25,000.

Boy Hit by Auto.

While running across the street near his home, 57 N street southeast, yesterday, John Wilson, colored, 6 years old, was struck by an automobile, driven by Ralph G. Blasey, 643 Ninth street northeast. He suffered cuts and bruises on the head and body, for which he was treated at Providence hospital.

Bryan Memorial Tonight.

A service in memory of William Jennings Bryan will be held tonight in Fifth Baptist church. Senators Thomas J. Heflin, of Alabama, and Walter George, of Georgia, will speak. The Rev. John E. Briggs will preside, and special music will be rendered by the church choir.

Federal Employes Favor Caraway Act

Indorsement of the Caraway measure to repay to bureau of engraving and printing employes summarily dismissed in 1922 and then offered reinstatement, their salaries between time of removal and restoration, was one of the closing acts of the executive council of the National Federation of Federal Employes ending its three-day session

The bill of Senator Caraway's has passed the Senate and the council urged passage by the House.

PROBLEM OF RURAL LIBRARIES IS TOPIC

Joint Conference Tuesday Will Discuss Extension of Local Service.

Developing the service of the small library in rural districts near Washington will be one of the subjects discussed at the joint conference of the Maryland and District of Columbia Library associations, which opens here Tuesday and will continue on Wednesday. Plans for regional organization and cooperation in library service will be made, and there will be an effort to improve the service from Washington to the country as a whole.

Among the speakers will be Dr. Herbert Putnam, Librarian of Congress; Dr. Vernon Kellogg, permanent secretary, National Research Council; Miss Mary L. Titcomb, president of the Maryland Library association; Miss Elva Bascom, of Pittsburgh; Dr. H. H. B. Meyer, and A. P. Tisdel, superintendent of documents.

Others will be Mrs. C. B. Walker, Miss C. H. Clark, Miss M. F. Batchelder, Miss Isabella M. Cooper, J. B. Childs, J. C. Wilkinson, Miss Mary G. Lacy, Dr. George F. Bowerman, Dr. M. L. Raney, Mrs. Caroline Burnite Walker, Miss N. Ethel Bubb, Miss L. P. Latimer, Miss C. W. Herbert, Watson Davis, F. W. Ashley, F. E. Brasch, Dorsey W. Hyde, jr., and Mrs. M. A. Newell.

Lieut. Colonel Commissioned.

Daniel Delehanty Vincent Stuart, jr., 3068 Q street northwest, has been commissioned a lieutenant colonel, medical corps, reserve.

OWNERS OF TRUCKS PROTEST NEW ORDER

Business Firms Would Have Eldridge Change Recent Regulation.

Four business firms using trucks for delivery purposes petitioned the commissioners yesterday for relief from the regulation recently adopted at the instance of Director of Traffic M. O. Eldridge, forbidding horsedrawn vehicles and solid tire auto trucks from using certain boulevard highways.

One of the thoroughfares on which the ban is in existence is Rhode Island avenue northwest from Connecticut avenue to North Capitol street. The request is to amend the regulation to make it read from Connecticut avenue to Iowa circle, so that trucks may use Rhode Island avenue between North Capitol and Thirteenth streets.

The petition was signed by Barber & Ross, Inc., Fries, Beall & Sharp Co., Kane Transfer Co., and Park Transfer Co. The petitioners were advised to appear tomorrow morning at the public hearing on truck regulations in the board room of the District building.

Man Thrown From Wagon.

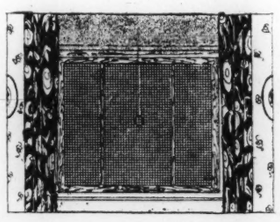

Max W. Rote, 42 years old, 538 Columbia road northwest, suffered a possible fracture of the hip yesterday when the wagon in which he was riding at Third and F streets southwest went over a depression in the street and threw him out. He was taken to Casualty hospital in a police patrol and treated by Dr. Joseph Villipiano.

The Hecht Co. Suggests Many Ways to Keep Your House Cool—Note the Very Moderate Prices Monday

Be the sought-after hostess. It isn't a difficult matter when the home is cool and refreshing—a place where friends always love to foregather.

The simplest way is to keep your home well screened and cool awnings at the windows. Charming ruffled curtains and cool fiber rugs will help, too.

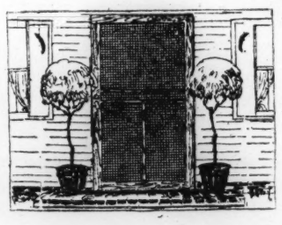

"Continental" Screens

55c

Adjustable window screens of strong wood frames in a light finish. Filled with galvanized wire. Screens extended measure 24x33 inches. An excellent value at this price.

Sixth Floor.

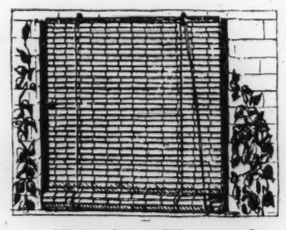

"Continental" Screen Doors

$2.45

Sizes 2.6x6.6 in.; 2.8x6.8 in. Extra strong frames in a light finish with dovetailed joints and mitered mouldings. Filled with a fine mesh galvanized wire. 2.10x6.10 in., and 3x7 ft., $2.95.

Sixth Floor.

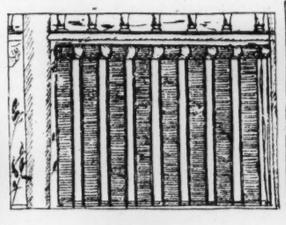

"National" Porch Shades

$2.95

Ventilating 1-inch slats, stained and finished in brown or green. Shades are 4 ft. wide with 6-ft. 8-inch drop. 5-ft. to 12-ft. Shades priced $3.95 to $10.95.

Sixth Floor

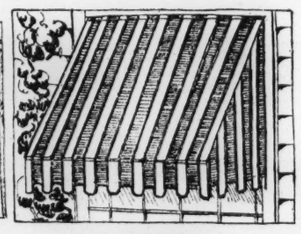

Porch Drop Awnings

$2.95

Roll-up style in heavy grade tan stripe awning duck. Sun and rain proof. Two sizes. 5 ft. wide with 8 ft. drop and 6 ft. with 8-ft. drop. Complete with all needed fixtures.

Sixth Floor

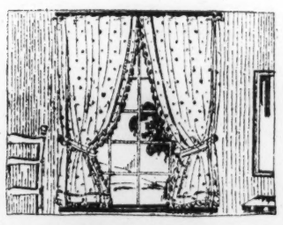

Tan Window Awnings

$1.65

Attractively striped 7-oz. awning duck—a heavy quality. Made in sizes that fit window spaces from 28-in. to 50-in. wide. Awnings have 3-ft. 6-in. drop and 9 in. skirt.

Sixth Floor

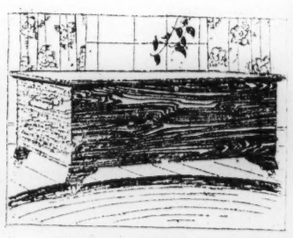

$2.95 "Scranton" Curtains

$1.85

100 pairs in the lot at this reduction. Beautiful ruffled curtains made of rayon marquisette. In soft maize color and finished with ruffled tiebacks.

Sixth Floor.

$17.95 Red Cedar Chests

$13.95

Brass trimmed large size (42 inches long), chest made of genuine Tennessee red cedar from the knotty part of the log, which assures you of its moth proofness.

Sixth Floor.

Wedding Gifts

Silver or Linen

always welcome, always correct!

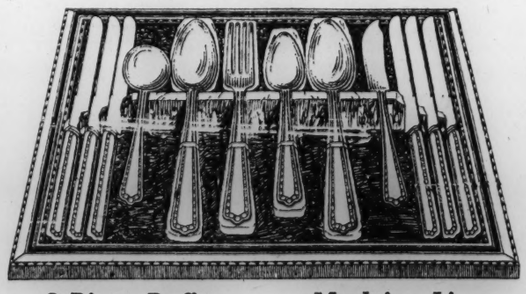

$14.75 Chest of Wm. Rogers & Son Silver Plated Flatware

$11.75

26 pieces in the popular "Mayfair" pattern—with unlimited guarantee.

To gladden the heart and adorn the table of the happy bride, you could find nothing that more perfectly combines beauty and usefulness. The set consists of 6 teaspoons, 6 tablespoons, 6 knives, 6 forks, butter knife and sugar shell.

First Floor

3-Piece Buffet Sets, $1.89

Hand-embroidered Madeira linen of excellent quality. Several designs.

Carry out the old custom of "Hand-made" linens even though the modern age leaves no time for needlework. Set consists of one 12x18 in oval and two 10-inch doilies.

Sixth Floor.

Italian Cut Work Sets, $5.95

Hand-made with real filet lace motifs and edging on the finest of linen.

A three-piece buffet set that will be the "piece de resistance" of the bride's linen closet. Done in that delicate but elaborate manner which marks it at once as unique. A choice of either oval or oblong sets.

Sixth Floor

Madeira Linen Scarfs $4.95 to $5.55

Exquisite examples of hand embroidery.

Made in far-away Madeira these lovely scarfs hold the allure of foreign lands. The sizes are 18 inches wide and 36 inches long to 18 inches wide and 54 inches long. The quality of linen is most excellent.

Sixth Floor.

3-Piece Madeira Sets, $2.95

Very elaborate designs in beautiful handwork on finest linen.

Just the set for the handsome new buffet—one oval, size 12 by 18 inches, and two 10-inch round doilies. Done with that painstaking care which is characteristic of Madeira embroidery.

Sixth Floor

Cool Floors Mean Cool Rooms

These are fiber rugs—not grass rugs. Don't conflict the two. Fiber rugs, through years of effort, have been developed to give all the beauty of pattern and coloring plus cool, cleanly comfort. Have them for summer floor coverings throughout the house.

American Fiber Rugs $9.45

Size, 8.3x10.6. A wide choice of patterned or bordered designs in colors for both indoors and outdoor porches.

Imported Fiber Rugs $18.75

A vast selection in room size, 9x12. The colors are rich and deep and patterns for any room.

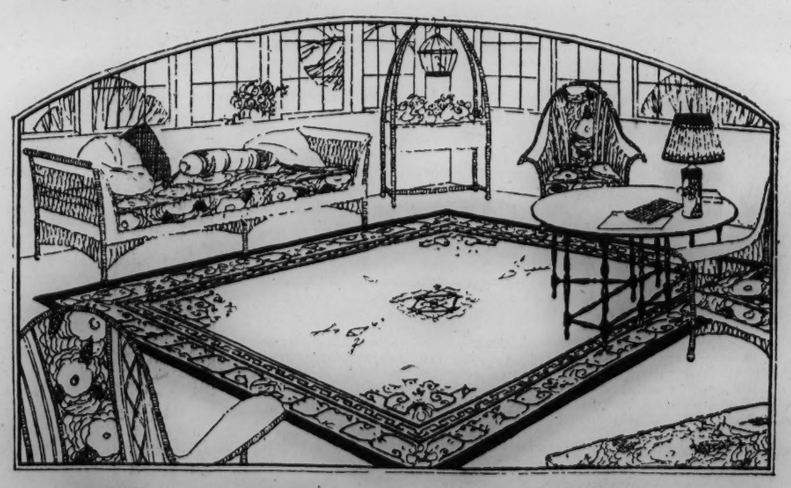

Rattania Rugs $16.50

A very closely woven rug in a herringbone style. In room size, 9x12.

Kimlark Rugs $20

Stunning fiber rugs, the patterns of which are inspired by the finest Orientals. Room size, 9x12. 36x72 are $4.75. 27x54 are $3.

Sixth Floor.

For color harmony in the bedroom

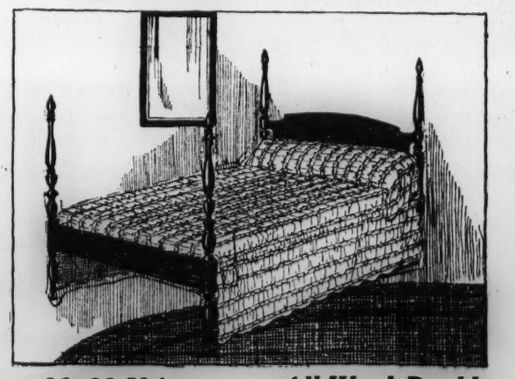

Novelty Rayon Bed Sets

$6.95

Colors that give that cool and refreshing air to the bedroom—rose, blue, gold, orchid or green. For those who prefer to keep to the established white or natural tones, there are sets with stripes only in color. The covers are 80x90, with an extra bolster throw.

Scarfs to match, size 18x54, $1.69

Doilies to match, size 9x14, 39c

81x99 Utica Sheets, $2.25

Superior quality and extra large in size.

Sheets must be large and soft and comfortable to sleep under. Utica brand are nationally known for their splendid laundering qualities. Uniformly woven of long staple cotton.

Large Size Utica Pillow Cases, 45x36, 45c.

Lace Trimmed Pillowcases, 49c

Size 45 x 36—Venise or Cluny Laces.

Made of fine quality muslin with insert medallions of heavy Venise lace. Trimmed with lace to match imitation cluny laces. There are the famous "Defender" brand.

All-Wool Double Blankets, $9.95

Light in weight yet a comfortable warmth.

Always needed on cool nights in spring and summer. These serve the in-between purpose. Size 70x80. Plaid designs. Sateen bound. In any of the staple colors.

3-Piece Suite Slip Covers, $34.75

For living room suite with 5 Cushions.

These covers are made to order to fit any 3-piece living room suite. You may take your choice from Belgian linen or cretonne—a wide selection of patterns.

Sixth Floor

THE HECHT CO.

F STREET

The Washington Post.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Delivered by Carrier in Washington and Alexandria.

Daily, Sunday included, one year	$8.40
Daily, Sunday excepted, one year	6.00
Sunday only, one year	2.40
Daily, Sunday included, one month	.70
Daily, Sunday excepted, one month	.50
Sunday only, one month	.20

BY MAIL, PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.

Outside District of Columbia.

Daily and Sunday	Sunday Only	Daily Only
One year....$10.00	One year.....$3.00	One year.....$7.00
Six months... 5.00	Six months..... 1.50	Six months... 3.50
One month... .85	One month .... .25	One month... .60

District of Columbia.

Daily and Sunday	Sunday Only	Daily Only
One year....$12.00	One year.....$3.00	One year.....$9.00
Six months.. 6.00	Six months.... 1.50	Six months...4.50
One month.. 1.00	One month.... .25	One month... .75

All Subscriptions by Mail Payable in Advance.

New subscriptions for The Post or renewals will not be accepted unless payment accompanies the order. Remittances should be made by drafts, checks, postoffice orders, registered letters or express orders, payable to

THE WASHINGTON POST CO.
Washington, D. C.

EDWARD B. McLEAN, President and Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at Washington, D. C., as second-class mail matter.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Washington Post is a member of the Associated Press, receiving the complete service of the world's greatest news-gathering organization.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

National Advertising Representatives—PAUL BLOCK, Inc., Park-Lexington Building, New York; Century Building, Chicago; Little Building, Boston; General Motors Building, Detroit; Commonwealth Trust Building, Philadelphia.

Sunday, May 9, 1926.

WE'RE WITH YOU, ENGLAND!

The British government insists that the general strike must be called off before it will resume negotiations for the adjustment of the dispute between coal operators and miners. This is the only position the government can take if it is to remain the government. It can not parley with a movement that asserts the right to rule the country.

At all cost the general strike must be broken. It is an assault upon the throne, the government, and the people of Great Britain. If it wins there will be a communist dictatorship in England.

Nothing but a miracle can prevent a collision between the armed forces of the government and the forces of rebellion. The pressure of hunger and desperation is urging fanatical labor elements to violence. The government must put down this violence.

Firmness and thoroughness are necessary on the part of the British government in this crisis. If it palliates violence it will find its assailant growing stronger and itself growing weaker.

The communists of the world are eagerly attempting to bring about civil war in England. No doubt messages of aid and comfort are going from the United States to the British reds. The plotters for the overthrow of governments are hard at work, and while it is evident that their ultimate aim is nothing but an insane dream, it can not be gainsaid that their tactics are most ingenious and dangerous. They have played successfully upon the stupidity of the British workers and have convinced millions of them that there must be a death-struggle with the established order, and that "it might as well come now."

If the British strike should develop into a war of violence, the United States will have a duty to perform. There will be no neutrality in such a war. The United States government should range itself instantly alongside the British government and should lend every possible assistance to it. Communists in this country should be placed under guard or behind the bars. No communication between them and British revolutionists should be permitted. Whatever England needs should be furnished quickly. The attack on popular government in England is an attack upon popular government in the United States. Americans would be dull and deluded if they did not perceive that the triumph of communism in England would involve the United States in war.

Now, when communism strikes, is the time to cut off its head. All power to the sturdy British people and to the government they have chosen!

SAVE THE WILD FLOWERS.

It is gratifying to learn that the appeals of the American Nature association to motorists and hikers to cease the spoliation of the flowers of the forests around the National Capital has met with popular support. The season of the dogwood is at its height, and wherever those lowly trees with their gorgeous white and pink blossoms have been allowed to shed their beauty unmolested they have added to the joys of a trip through the countryside. The president of the nature association notes that fewer automobilists fill their cars with branches of the dogwood, and expresses the opinion that the campaign for the preservation of the blossoms, which had the support of the press as well as of the association, is to be credited in large measure for the falling off in vandalism.

There are still a few days left of the blossoming period of the dogwood and the laurel, while soon the fields will be adorned with scores of other examples of nature's exquisite creations. The tourist and the tripper can well afford to restrain his desire to break down and carry away these quickly fading flowers and blossoms. Let them alone! Enjoy them in their lovely haunts, and leave them alive and unharmed.

THE PRESIDENT'S VIEWS.

A delegation from the House, it is reported, waited upon President Coolidge to ascertain his position on farm relief legislation. The President is represented to have stated that he was hopeful of farm legislation and prepared to sign any measure economically sound. Mr. Coolidge, it is added, looks upon the Tincher credit plan as coming within the definition of "economically sound."

The Tincher bill provides for the establishment of a Federal farm advisory council of three members from each of the Federal land bank districts, to be elected by real farm organizations. It provides for the establishment of a farmers' marketing commission of seven members, including the Secretary of Agriculture, and six members to be appointed by the President, from eighteen nominees recommended by the advisory council.

For the purpose of making loans to cooperative marketing associations, the bill provides for a loan fund of $100,000,000 to be appropriated from the Treasury, and $500,000 for expenses of administration.

The essence of the bill, says Mr. Tincher, is to bring about stabilized prices and the steady flow of farm products into channels of consumption through machinery set up, operated, and managed by the farmers themselves.

If there can be fostered a development of merchandising efficiency in agriculture comparable with modern efficiency in production, the "surplus problem" will no longer exist.

POLAR AND TROPICAL EXPLORATIONS.

Only the sudden upheaval of the labor unions of Britain can be held responsible for the elimination of news of the movements of the arctic explorers from the front pages of the newspapers. News readers are keenly alive to the thrilling reports of the flight of the Norge to Spitzbergen and the disasters which have been encountered by the intrepid flyers from Point Barrow and Fairbanks in Alaska, and such information as may find its way through the ether concerning the future operations of the polar explorers will continue to thrill eager readers.

There is another expedition now in progress through the air about which very little has been made public up to date. The Smithsonian institution, in cooperation with the Dutch government, has undertaken to explore the last great "unknown land," and its pygmy inhabitants. It is four hundred years since the first white man caught the first glimpse of what is now Dutch New Guinea. During the four centuries the mountainous backbone and the coastal jungle have resisted the repeated attempts which Europeans have made to penetrate its secrets. The attempt today would doubtless result in disaster should it have been made by the usual methods of the explorer. But Dr. Matthew W. Stirling, of the Smithsonian, is leading the exploration with an aeroplane and an army of 400 men, who are headed south up the Memberamo river to the junction of that stream with the Rouffar, by which it is hoped that the mountains may be penetrated. Dr. Stirling and his fellow scientists are the pioneers who are at the present time establishing advanced bases from which flights into the unknown regions will be made.

The expedition, if successful, will contribute much valuable knowledge to the science of anthropology. The personnel of the expedition is in itself a rather unique anthropological gathering, as besides the American and Dutch leaders, scientists, photographers and mechanics there are 70 Dyak bearers, recruited from central Borneo, several hundred Javanese and Ambonese soldiers, and many Malayan convicts.

The terrain over and through which the expedition must penetrate into the interior embraces many thousand square miles on which no white man has ever set foot. It is believed to contain, besides the pygmy inhabitants, many species of plant and animal life new to science.

The explorers of the great unknown regions of the North have no greater perils to encounter than those now confronting the expedition under Dr. Stirling. In the first place the question of food supply for so large a party is a serious problem, for practically every pound of food must be carried in. Owing to climatic conditions greater difficulty is found in preserving foods than is encountered by the expeditions to the North. But by far the most difficult problem of all is that which concerns the health of the party. Tropical fevers and dysentery have turned expeditions back in the past and there is the dreaded beriberi always threatening. Pneumonia, resulting from the constant dampness and the always prevailing floods and tropical rains, must also be fought. Altogether the life of the explorer "is not a happy one," whether he be engaged on land or in the air, or in the polar north or Asiatic tropics.

But man is not to be turned back by any danger from tempest, fire, frost or fever.

RELIGION IS ESSENTIAL.

In his address to the Boy Scouts and his address to the board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, President Coolidge emphasized the need of religion in national affairs. In the former address the Chief Executive was thinking of the future value of the Boy Scouts as citizens; in the latter address he was thinking of the present value of leaders in all avenues of activity who have already taken their places in the ranks and are making good.

In his address to the board of bishops Mr. Coolidge said:

> If the nation is to maintain its national existence, it must continue to cherish and foster this spirit of religion which underlies and pervades all enduring achievement.

The President called attention to the fact that the signers of the Declaration of Independence declared their reliance upon the protection of Divine Providence. Founded upon that religion, he said, the government has derived strength and stability from the religious nature of its people.

It is well for the Chief Executive to call public attention to the important part religion has played in national affairs. In these apparently disturbed times, the tendency with many persons is to conclude that religion is futile and good morals and righteous living have departed. This is not true. As a matter of fact, susceptible of demonstration, life and morals are better now than they were a century or even a half century ago. More than ever, there is more good than bad, more love than hate, in the world. The world is growing better every decade. Religion and the religious spirit are the strongest factors in this steady progress.

IN NINETY YEARS.

Joseph Gurney Cannon, better known to everybody as "Uncle Joe," who has lived on this earth only a decade short of a full century, remarked on Thursday last that "everything that ever happened in the world worth happening except the Flood, the Crucifixion and the Revolutionary war happened in my time." Then he instanced that the "corner stone" of the B. & O. railroad was laid only eight years before he was born, and that the first telegraphic message was sent over a wire when he was eight.

In May, 1836, when Joseph Gurney Cannon first saw the light of day, there were only 24 States in the Union. When he was six weeks old Arkansas was admitted, and six months later Michigan came into the galaxy of States. The only sections of the vast territory now known as the "corn belt" which had a voice in Congress were Illinois and Indiana. Iowa, Nebraska, and Kansas were uncreated. Texas was a part of Mexico, as were New Mexico and Arizona. "Uncle Joe" had reached the ripe age of fourteen when California was admitted, and he had reached his majority before Minnesota, Wisconsin and Oregon formed State governments. He was a member of the House which passed the enabling act under which Colorado came in. He was also a member when later the Dakotas, Montana, Idaho, Arizona Oklahoma, Wyoming, Utah and New Mexico had their stars added to the flag. Florida and Nevada also grew into States during the lifetime of "Uncle Joe."

Mr. Cannon ran on the same ticket with Abraham Lincoln in 1860. He served longer in Congress than any other man. His lifetime covers the terms of all but eight of the Presidents. He knew intimately Presidents Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Cleveland, Harrison, McKinley, Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson, Harding and Coolidge. An interminable procession of public officials, military and naval officers, diplomats and politicians fill the galleries of "Uncle Joe's" capacious mind. He took part in the formulation of national policies for many years. If he would tell what he knows, history would be changed. He could "from many a blunder free us, and foolish notion."

"The Life and Times of Joseph Gurney Cannon, an Autobiography" will make an interesting volume if "Uncle Joe" ever "gets 'round to write it," which is a consummation devoutly to be wished.

Graphic Gleanings of the Week.

SOTHERN AND MARLOWE.

Before departing for Europe last week with his wife, Julia Marlowe, E. H. Sothern announced that neither he nor his gifted spouse would again be seen in any Shakespearean drama. This is regrettable news. It had, however, been anticipated, inasmuch as Mr. Sothern not long ago made known that he has given to the new Shakespeare theater at Stratford-on-Avon all the extensive and costly wardrobe and scenery used by him and Miss Marlowe which had accumulated in their many years of presenting Shakespeare's plays. The stage property is said to be the most complete and expensive used in Shakespearean drama ever collected by any producer. It will be not only a valuable but a highly artistic addition to the theater at Stratford.

Mr. Sothern also made the most unwelcome announcement that his wife, Miss Marlowe, will not again appear on any stage. The state of her health, it is said, will not permit her longer to continue the strain of acting emotional or tragic parts. For many years Julia Marlowe has been one of the most successful and artistic exponents of Shakespeare. Her repertoire included every important feminine role portrayed by the bard. She was delightful in the lighter parts of Rosalind and Katherine, and deeply impressive in the tragic roles, such as Lady Macbeth. Julia Marlowe will occupy a lifelong place in the hearts and memories of those who love the theater.

Fortunately for the theater-going public, Mr. Sothern will appear again in other plays than Shakespeare's, but it is safe to say that the public will long regret that it shall not again see him in Shakespeare, in the interpretaion of which he is an acknowledged artist.

Sothern's career in Shakespearean drama is romantic. A son of a famous English comedian, he won his first success in the farce comedy, "The Highest Bidder." A succession of triumphs in comedy followed until he came to be recognized as one of the leading American comedians. What then was the surprise when he essayed the serious role of Heinrich in Hauptman's strange and somber "The Sunken Bell." He was an instant success. Then followed his first attempt in a Shakespearean role, that of Hamlet. It was first shown on September 17, 1900, and at once disclosed the actor's astonishing advance as a tragedian. He was proclaimed by critics as the greatest American Hamlet in more than a score of years. From that time on Sothern was accepted as the foremost American actor of Shakespearean drama. His abandonment of the immortal's plays will be widely regretted.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.

The National Capital is planning an appropriate celebration of Independence day. July 4 of this year is the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, and the occasion calls for special memorial ceremonies which will impress upon American youth the solemn and sublime importance of the act of their forefathers.

Since July 4 this year falls on Sunday, it is proposed that the celebration be held in the evening of the following day. In the vast space in front of the Capitol, whose corner stone was laid by Washington himself, a pageant will be held depicting America, past, present and future. Patriotic music will be rendered by the Marine or Army band. A brief oration will be delivered, and prizes will be awarded to public school children for the best essays on the subject of the Declaration of Independence. Later a display of fireworks at the Washington monument will end the celebration.

This is a simple, appropriate and impressive program. It will fittingly express the sentiments of the people of the District of Columbia in honoring the natal day of the republic. The expenses of the celebration are estimated at $3,500, of which about one-half has been subscribed. The remainder should be in hand soon, in order that there may be no delay in making arrangements. Every citizen of the District should be proud to share in the duty of raising this small fund. Contributions should be sent to Mr. Isaac Gans, who has been designated by the District commissioners to act as treasurer.

GEORGE PEABODY.

Next Wednesday there will be unveiled in the national hall of fame a statue of George Peabody, who is described as "America's forgotten hero."

Fifty-seven years ago, the Peabody organization says, no man in the world was better known than George Peabody. Congress voted him a special medal and Queen Victoria presented him with a beautiful jeweled miniature of herself. Two American towns, a great American college, and museums at Harvard, Yale and Baltimore bear his name.

Peabody was buried with imperial pomp in Westminster Abbey, and when later his body was brought to this country to rest in a hillside of his native town, it was borne on England's finest ship of war, escorted by an American fleet under Admiral Farragut. The Prince of Wales, later King Edward VII, unveiled his statue, and Victor Hugo wrote his eulogy.

The most enduring fame of George Peabody rests upon his philanthrophy. He made the largest gift ever made by any private individual for public school education. This was the Peabody Education Fund, which laid the foundation for the public school system of the United States, at a time when Georgia did not have a public school law and Texas not a schoolhouse.

George Peabody was the leader in the development of the educational system of this country. His influence extended far beyond the gifts he himself made. It is related that after Mr. Peabody had spent an evening with Johns Hopkins telling him of the satisfaction he had from devoting his wealth to public service, the founder of Baltimore's celebrated university made a new will bequeathing a fortune for the establishment of that institution.

Peabody was born at Danvers, now called Peabody, Mass., February 18, 1795. He had been a farmer, a country storekeeper, a traveling salesman and a soldier in the war of 1812 before he was 21 years old. No American ever served his country more faithfully. He is not a "forgotten hero." His fame will endure.

Senator Smoot has had printed in the Congressional Record a table giving the principal, interest and total amount to be received by the Treasury under the several debt settlements so far made. The principal is $11,522,354,000; the interest is $10,621,185,993; the total is $22,143,539,993. This is conditioned on payment in full under the terms of the agreements.

It was well said in the House that whoever votes for the Haugen bill not only votes for a tariff but votes for an embargo. One section of the bill gives the President authority to impose an embargo upon any staple agricultural commodity, if in his judgment imports threaten to place in peril the proposed equalization fund.

TRUE TO HIS SEX.

A certain great musician has brought the snubbing of indiscreet questioners to a fine art.

The other day a very modern, Eton-cropped woman asked him why he wore his hair long. With a disarming smile he replied:

"It is just so that I shall not look effeminate, madam."—Tid-Bits.

OUTLINE OF DISTRICT GOVERNMENT GIVEN SCHOOLS BY GARGES

Historical Background Opens Treatise by Secretary to Commissioners.

MANY DAILY QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY AUTHOR

Pamphlet Is a Complete Description of Civic Affairs and Finances.

What do you know about the form of government here in the District of Columbia? If your knowledge on the subject is sparse, you can hardly be blamed, for the average textbook on civics gives very little space to the District.

To make up for this, school officials have decided to supply pupils in the eighth grade with a copy of a paper prepared by Daniel E. Garges, secretary of the board of commissioners. The paper is entitled "The National Capital—A Brief Outline of Its Government."

The paper is reprinted here:

The Capital of the United States of America is the District of Columbia, in which is located the city of Washington. When the Constitution of the United States was adopted it provided that the seat of government should be located on a tract of land not exceeding ten miles square, which the then thirteen States might give the government. The States of Maryland and Virginia gave such a site located on the Potomac river. This was done in the years 1788 and 1789. President Washington appointed three commissioners to lay out a city on the site, and the seat of government was transferred to the District of Columbia in the year 1800. The first meeting of Congress was held in the Capitol in November of that year. The President arrived in Washington June 4, 1800.

Previous to this time Congress had met in various places, the last being in Philadelphia, from which it moved to Washington.

When the District of Columbia was selected as the Capital, the land therein was owned by a number of people, and they deeded their land to two trustees to lay out the streets, avenues, and public squares, and divided the rest of the land into blocks and lots. The land consisted of about 6,000 acres. In laying out the streets, 3,606 acres were taken, and about 540 acres were bought by the United States as sites for the public buildings and grounds. The lots laid out numbered 20,272. Of these the United States took half and the property owners were given back the remainder. The United States sold its share of the lots and from the proceeds paid for the 540 acres on which it was to put the public buildings. The United States also took a fee simple title to the streets and avenues. The city was laid out by Maj. L'Enfant, a French engineer, and the plan was based on that of the city of Paris in France.

Formerly Had Mayor.

The first government of the city of Washington consisted of a mayor, appointed by the President of the United States, and a city council, elected by the people of the city. This was the year 1802. Later in the year 1812, the city council was permitted to elect the mayor. This continued until the year 1820, when the people were permitted to elect the mayor. This mayor was elected for a term of two years, and this form of government continued until the year 1871.

By an act of Congress of February 21, 1871, a territorial form of government was provided for, consisting of a governor, a board of public works and a legislative assembly. The legislative assembly consisted of eleven members, called a council, and 22 members called a house of delegates. The District also then had a delegate in the House of Representatives of the United States.

The governor and board of public works were appointed by the President of the United States, and the legislative assembly was elected by the people.

This form of government lasted three years, until June 20, 1874, when Congress provided that the District should be governed by three commissioners, appointed by the President. This was known as the temporary form of government, and lasted until July 1, 1878, when the present form of government was adopted. The present form of government was provided by an act of Congress, approved June 11, 1878. This government consists of three commissioners, two selected by the President of the United States from actual residents of the District of Columbia, who have been residents for three years, and one an army officer, detailed by the President. The term of office of the commissioners appointed from civil life is three years, and the army officer is detailed at the pleasure of the President. These form a board of commissioners, and this board has duties corresponding to that of a mayor.

Congress Rules District.

The Constitution of the United States provides that Congress shall exercise exclusive legislation over the District of Columbia, but Congress by various statutes has delegated to the commissioners the power to make police, building, health and other municipal regulations and to enforce them by proper penalties. There are some duties, however, which ordinarily come under the jurisdiction of municipal authorities which the commissioners do not have. This situation arises by reason of the fact that Washington is the Capital of the United States. For instance, the United States authorities have charge of the water supply system, including the bringing of the water from Great Falls to the filtration plant and filtering it. All water mains supplying the inhabitants of the city with water, however, are constructed by the commissioners and all water, whether furnished to the citizens or to the property of the United States, is distributed under the jurisdiction of the commissioners. The United States authorities also have jurisdiction over all public buildings and parks.

The board of education of the District of Columbia is appointed by the judges of the Supreme court of the District of Columbia, and the Board of Charities, the recorder of deeds and the judges of the municipal and juvenile courts are appointed by the President of the United States. The commissioners, however, appoint the heads of all the various municipal departments in the District government, and also the employes of the District government. These employes, with the exception of the police and fire departments, do not come within the provisions of the civil service laws.

One of the duties of the commissioners is to submit annually estimates of funds necessary to support the government of the District of Columbia. These estimates are submitted to the director of the budget in the Treasury Department and as they are approved or changed by the director of the budget and approved by the President of the United States, they are submitted to Congress. In the House of Representatives and the Senate, subcommittees of five members each of the appropriations committees have charge of preparing the District of Columbia appropriation bill.

The bill is first prepared in the House of Representatives, and during its preparation the commissioners are granted hearings, in order to present to Congress the necessity

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 12, COLUMN 2.)

LARGE MURAL PAINTING INSTALLED IN ST. MATTHEW'S CHURCH

"The Calling of St. Matthew," a painting designed by Edwin H. Blashfield, which has recently been added to the mural decorations of St. Matthew's Catholic church. The painting, which is unusually large, was placed on the wall in six sections.

LETTERS TO EDITOR REVEAL READERS' VIEWS ON TOPICS

American Committee, in Report on Mexican Conditions, Says Dr. John A. Ryan, by Silence and Implication, Favored Antireligious Persecution—Missed Opportunity to Uphold Fundamental Rights of Mexican People.

To the Editor The Post, Sir: Six weeks ago you were kind enough to publish a long letter of mine criticizing the indifference of American liberals toward the violation of fundamental civil and religious liberties in Mexico. I pointed out that all the professed liberals who had noticed that situation at all exposed a glaring defect in their liberalism. Since that date, these criticisms have been confirmed by the actions and omissions of many other liberals.

The latest instance is that furnished by a group of American clergymen, editors, and other persons that passed ten days in Mexico City and then issued a report. The chairman was ex-Gov. Sweet, of Colorado. As regards the religious persecution and the denials of liberty, the statements of the committee may be thus summarized: Religious institutions "have stood or are standing in the way of the reconstruction program" now carried on by the Mexican government; "clergymen and churches have been interfering in political affairs"; the antireligious laws "may not prove eminently wise and in some few cases seem to be working a hardship on Mexicans and foreigner alike," and the Mexican government is not "hostile to the Church as such." The average reader who was predisposed to accept this report as authoritative would naturally conclude that the persecution of the Church in Mexico is substantially justified and does not amount to much anyway.

The report misstates or misinterprets the salient facts and tacitly condones violations of fundamental liberty. No proof is given of the assumption that the Mexican Church provoked the present antireligious persecution. To discuss a political policy which denies adequate freedom of worship, of education and of legitimate freedom of expression, without uttering a single word of criticism, is tantamount to approving these actions. Ostensibly, the committee refrained from passing judgment on this phase of the present Mexican situation, but this is shallow pretense. Both by implication and by silence the committee did pass judgment and that judgment is favorable to the antireligious persecution.

Quite properly the committee pleads for a "hands-off policy by the United States government," and for sympathy with what the Mexican government is trying to do for the economic betterment of the country. These things the committee should have done, but it should not have left the other thing undone. The violation of fundamental rights and liberties contained in the articles of the Mexican constitution relating to the church, her ministers and Christian education, are so flagrant, so contrary to American principles, that a group of Americans, particularly American liberals, that deals with these facts and fails to condemn them, has fallen far short of the conduct that should characterize genuine liberals. Such men are only "spotted" liberals.

The committee had a great opportunity in Mexico City, but missed it completely. In addition to assuring the Mexican officials of support for the government's program of economic and social reform, it could have and should have made clear to these men the injustice and wisdom of persecuting the church and denying fundamental rights. This could have been done in a dignified and sympathetic way and it would undoubtedly have exercised a great and beneficent influence upon these officials and upon the whole unpleasant situation.

JOHN A. RYAN.
Catholic University, May 7.

Adolph Lewisohn Believes That More Efficient Police Organization Would Go Far to Prevent Crime—Must Check Escape of Criminals Through Political Pull and Unscrupulous Lawyers.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I have given the matter of the possibility of crime reduction much thought. For immediate relief there seems to be only one way—to establish an efficient system for the detection and prevention of crimes wherever committed, by thoroughly organizing the police and detectives and placing them under the direction of the most efficient leadership. No expense or effort should be spared to bring about the successful establishment of an efficient body, ever watchful, energetic, active, the best talent possible to be procured, politics to be entirely eliminated, and the whole matter to be under the direction of the most reliable, unapproachable and efficient heads from the top down. When the establishment of such a system becomes known it will have a great influence in making many of the underworld or those criminally inclined give up criminality and try to succeed in an honest way. If criminals would exert the same energy and ability to making a success in honest effort, it would in many cases yield as much or more profit.

The possibility of evading punishment for criminal acts through political influence or by engaging sharp and unscrupulous lawyers who have the ability to fight the regular machinery for the arrest and punishment of criminals, must be entirely eliminated and made such an impossibility that no one will even attempt it. That of course is very easy to say, but to accomplish is extremely difficult, and unless a very strong effort is made by the Federal, State and city governments, and the best talent procured, it is not likely to succeed.

There have been administrations which have claimed to be honest, perhaps they have actually been honest in that they have not taken any money from the public Treasury, but who still at times may have been so intent upon succeeding in elections or reelections that they permitted the doubtful element to have indirect influence by closing their eyes to their wrongful acts.

On the other hand, the accused person must also have a fair chance to prove his innocence or his side of the case. The government should have a defense department in addition to a prosecuting department, so that the accused will be protected against being wrongly convicted, but it should not be left to unscrupulous lawyers who employ all kinds of tricks and sharp practices.

It is very difficult to overcome the advantage held by criminals through the automobile. The criminal after the commission of a criminal act is prepared for flight and often gets away at full speed. A typical case occurred a short time ago in Baltimore. A bank clerk with a policeman was depositing a large sum of money. The criminals did not order them to hold up their hands, but simply shot the two, took the money and securities and got away in an automobile.

So far they have not been discovered. Even if in some cases the criminal is finally detected he has always the hope of getting away so quickly that he can not be caught. Besides the opportunity of procuring wealth without being detected, the criminal feels a certain exhilaration in taking the chance to escape, especially by cleverly handling the automobile.

If the government would put its whole strength into the matter it would still be difficult of accomplishment, but when it has to divert such tremendous energy into trying to reduce or stop bootlegging and acts against prohibition it adds greatly to the difficulty. The criminal wave, aided by the use of the automobile, is of such vital importance to the country that it would be well worth while to put the whole force and energy of the government at work to reduce or stop it. ADOLPH LEWISOHN.
New York, May 5.

Methodist Missionaries, Writes the Rev. James H. Ryan, in Mexico in Violation of the Constitution of That Country, Which Can at Any Time Be Invoked Against Them—Surprised at Defense of Calles Government.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I read with great surprise The Post's account of the speech which Bishop Miller made last night to the general meeting of the bishops of the Methodist Church.

It is difficult at times to understand the attitude taken by the foreign missionary bishops of the Methodist Church. A few years ago the European bishops publicly supported the Living Church, negotiated with the soviet government, praised and approved the political, social and religious efforts of Lenin and his followers, and possibly would have gone to greater lengths in their commendation of communism had they not been called sharply to account by an outraged church in the United States. The storm of protest which arose at that time against European Methodism aligning itself with communism put an end to these ill-advised activities.

Today we have Bishop Miller apologizing for the religious persecution inaugurated by the near-communist government of President Calles, in fact, denying publicly that a religious persecution exists, and asking the Methodist Church in the United States to approve the actions of Calles and to support the present Mexican constitution. The Methodist Church in the United States could do nothing more ill advised than follow the counsels of Bishop Miller. While it is true that Protestantism in Mexico is a negligible quantity, we should not forget that the Mexican constitution bars not only Catholicism but Protestanism, Protestant ministers not born in Mexico, Protestant schools, and denies both priests and ministers all civil and political rights, even if they are of Mexican birth. At any hour the Mexican constitution can be invoked against the Protestant Church as it is being invoked today against the Catholic Church. As a matter of fact, the handful of 60 or so Protestant missionaries in Mexico at the present hour, practically all of whom are foreigners, are there against the provision of the constitution. The very existence of mission schools is in violation of the constitution. And Bishop Miller himself can exercise the ministry in Mexico City only if he violates the present constitution.

As a matter of mere caution and prudence, might it not be well for the general assembly of Methodist bishops to examine in detail the present Mexican constitution and to attempt to forecast, should it be rigidly and impartially enforced, its possible effects upon all religion, including the Methodist Church, before they give approval to a set of organic laws which are to any one who has read and studied them the most anti-Christian laws ever promulgated by a modern civilized state? Must the Catholic Church stand alone in its fight against Caesarism in Mexico, or can not we look to a well-informed and genuinely American public opinion for support against the tyrannies of the present government of Mexico? Catholics in the United States will be deeply chagrined, to put it mildly, if the Methodist Church approves the wholly indefensible and un-Christian position which was outlined by Bishop Miller in his address Wednesday evening.

JAMES H. RYAN,
Education department, national Catholic welfare conference.
Washington, May 6.

The Secret of Woman's Attraction

THE trouble with most women, over thirty years of age, is that their health gives out and they wonder why they are no longer attractive to men.

There is a nerve center in every woman's body as delicate as the brain and the entire nervous system is affected by this center.

The United States life tables show that at the age of thirty-one the average woman begins to lose her health. She loses her freshness and charm. The organs distinctly feminine, give her untold trouble. She loses health, beauty and attractiveness.

It is within the reach of every woman to be attractive. Thousands of women thruout the United States, perhaps some of your neighbors, can tell you to what a remarkable degree it is possible to bring about a wonderful change in appearance and in physical condition by taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is a regular physician's prescription, which he used in his active practice years ago and it has never failed to benefit women when taken according to directions on the bottle or through the free advice, given by the Staff of Physicians at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel. Women soon become admired by men, when they regain their rosebud complexion, clear skin, steady nerves, sparkling eyes, and that charm of personality which fairly radiates from a healthy body—after taking a course of treatment with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Why not get this "Prescription" today from your druggist, or write Dr. Pierce, President of the Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice. Enclose 10 cents if you desire a trial package of Favorite Prescription tablets.—Adv.

J. E. Hurley
Machine and Boiler Works
1219 Ohio Ave. N.W.
Power Plant & Printing Press Repairs
Refrigerating Engineers

Yellow Fever Test Hero Gets Job Here

Clyde L. West, Indianian, one of the volunteers who offered his life to Col. Walter Reed while Col. Reed was conducting tests to eradicate yellow fever in Cuba 30 years ago, was employed as a watchman by the office of public buildings and public parks yesterday.

TINY GLAND
MAKES MEN
Get Up Nights

Do you know that a great percentage of all men of mature years are troubled with Urinary Irritations and disorders of a little gland—the Prostate? When this tiny, but very vital gland begins to "slow up," many distressing ailments may arise, such as nervousness, restlessness, frequent night risings, scanty, painful, smarting, difficult Urination—and sometimes lack of control. But now at last, there is a praiseworthy treatment for these annoying symptoms, that according to signed statements has brought sweet relief to many thousands. The treatment is pleasant and perfectly harmless and so seemingly remarkable in action that for a short time a liberal "proof of merit" trial size is being offered absolutely Free to convince people of its amazing efficiency. ABSOLUTELY FREE. Just send your name, address and 10c to help pay postage and packing, and by return mail you will get the liberal trial package. Act at once, as the offer may be made for a short time only. Write today to The Palmo Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Dept. E-310.

STAND BY!

For the GREATEST VALUE Washington has seen in months! A nationally known and tested set at a price that seems almost impossible! Each set is brand new and guaranteed!

Music Master RADIO PRODUCTS

5-TUBE RADIO SET

Much Less Than Half Price

Note the two-side compartments for batteries—

Regular list price of this set alone, $100.00.

$39.75

Without Accessories

$20 Bristol Audiophone Loud Speaker; 5 tubes, and all Batteries included in equipped set at $69.50.

A solid mahogany cabinet, 31 inches long, 13⅛ inches wide and 11½ inches high, with sloping panel, three dial control and countless other features which make the Music Master a real efficient radio set.

You can buy this set complete with all accessories for..... $69.50

On Terms of $2.00 Weekly

1 Model 100 Music Master Set, as illustrated, $100.00.
5 Genuine Cunningham Tubes, $10.00.
1 U. S. L. 100-ampere-hour or Westinghouse storage battery, rubber case, $15.89.
2 Large size 45-volt Beacon "B" Batteries, $5.78.
1 Beacon "C" Battery, 58c.
1 $20 Bristol Audiophone Loud Speaker, $20.00.
1 Aerial Equipment, $1.50.
(Total Regular Cost, $153.75)

LANSBURGH & BRO.
Radio Balcony—Street Floor

DeMOLL PIANO CO.

SALE TOMORROW

USED UPRIGHT PIANOS

$94.50

Many well known makes are represented—and are on sale tomorrow at the astonishing low price of $94.50.

We have recently adopted the policy of taking

Pianos IN TRADE IN OUR NEW FURNITURE DEPARTMENT

—which has brought us many fine instruments.

BABY GRANDS

$350

Special terms arranged during our May Sale.

USED PLAYER PIANOS $200

Fine Cane Porch Chairs $5

100 Phonographs $25.00 to $50.00
Formerly $100 to $150

DeMOLL Piano and Furniture Co.

Twelfth and G Streets

Sole Representative for Steinway and Weber Duo-Art Reproducing Pianos.

Society

By BERTHA R. MARTIN.

THE outstanding social happening at the White House last week was the reception given on Thursday in the blue room for the visiting bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who were in session here for the week. The President and Mrs. Coolidge were present to greet the prelates and their families.

The nearness of the adjournment of Congress sees the prospect of real rest in sight for the President and Mrs. Coolidge, for the town will empty rapidly after the gavels fall in both houses of Congress when the day of recess arrives about June 1.

Already the exodus from the city on the part of congressional folk has begun. The only thing that is holding some official families here is that the young members of the households are enrolled in Washington schools, which do not end until the latter part of May or early in June if they are private schools, and the middle of June if the Congress members in question follow out the democratic principle of sending their little ones to the public schools.

This is election year for Congress and the members are straining at the leash of last-minute legislation, eager to get home and get busy on their fence-repairing tasks. The prospect of important committee hearings and potential investigations may detain some of the important leaders and their families in the city during the summer months except for week-end trips to nearby centers of interest.

* * * *

THE Vice President and Mrs. Dawes and their children will depart shortly after the adjournment of Congress for their beautiful home in Evanston, Ill., which is one of the show places of that city. It is probable that the Vice President's vacation will be somewhat interrupted by the necessity of speech making, which is a natural concomitant of his position as second officer of the land, but at any rate he will be able to get in some days of recreation at Evanston at his favorite golf, and perhaps in composing some more melodies which will become the hit his previous one has proven to be, particularly since his official rank has called attention to his ability as a composer of worth-while music.

No post adjournment plans have been announced for the Speaker of the House and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, and, of course, the all important third member of the household, Baby Paulina Longworth. It is thought, however, that they probably will pass at least some of the recess in the Longworth home in Cincinnati.

As soon as the President and Mrs. Coolidge go to the summer White House, wherever it may be located finally, the cabinet members will seize the opportunity to enjoy a little vacationing in their own behalf. As they represent rather widely separated sections of the country, quite a little journeying will be included on their program.

* * * *

THE state of unrest in England as indicated by the labor strike will have a serious effect, beyond doubt, on the summer plans of Washingtonians, so far as Europe is concerned. The memory of what happened in many countries at the outbreak of the world war is still fresh. The tie-up of transportation and general facilites will discourage many a prospective voyager from completing arrangements. There is every sign that unless the situation clears there materially within the next month or six weeks American watering places, mountain resorts and the "See America First" program will benefit largely by the European troubles, a new proof of the old adage that "it is an ill wind which blows nobody good."

* * * *

BUT if Washingtonians can not go to Europe with the same joyous anticipation this year as at last season, then Europe can come to America in the persons of several very charming representatives of the diminishing royal group of personages "over there."

In the visit of the Crown Prince Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden and the crown princess this world capital adds two interesting names to its roster of royal visitors. These young royalties are very modern in thought, progressive and are said to be eager to get the most of their American visit in the way of getting acquainted with the habits, customs and life of the American people. While in Washington they will be guests of the Minister of Sweden and Mme. Bostrom and many dinners will be given at the legation in their honor.

The crown prince and princess will be accompanied on their American tour by the Minister to Sweden, Mr. Robert Woods Bliss, who has been granted special leave of absence for that purpose. It is expected that the Minister and Mrs. Bliss will entertain for the crown prince and the princess during their stay in Washington at the Oaks, their beautiful new home in Georgetown, which will be formally opened for that purpose. The visit of the crown prince and the princess is for the express purpose of unveiling the memorial to John Ericsson, who designed the famous ironclad "Monitor" of civil war days. After leaving Washington the royal visitors will go to New York and Chicago and great Swedish settlements in the Northwest, and will take a motor tour through New England. On June 14 the prince, who is an eminent student, will receive an LL. D. degree from Yale university. The princess is an Englishwoman and a great-granddaughter of Queen Victoria, her maiden name being Lady Louise Alexandra Marie Irene Mountbatten. Her mother was the oldest daughter of Princess Alice, daughter of Queen Victoria.

* * * *

MOST of the social schedules for the latter part of this week and the beginning of next week are being made with consideration of the time which Washington horse lovers will pass at the National Capital horse show. Already the annual influx of people from other cities has begun and many a dinner or luncheon is of particular intercity interest and are reunions of the great and the near great who have lived or still live in the National Capital.

While the ordinary calendar may place any date, the authorities consider proper on the advent of summer, social Washington knows that it really begins with the horse show and that many of the summer plans are postponed until after the event has taken place.

There will be luncheons nearly every day, followed by box parties at the horse show. Many a gay little party will gather for tea about the tables in the cheerful, cool little tea room adjacent to the grand stands to be waited on by pretty young girls, debutantes of this season and last, and their younger and older sisters.

Among the boxholders are names to be conjured with, beginning with the President of the United States, although, of course, it is not certain if either he or Mrs. Coolidge will attend this year. The light of reflected glory always shines about those who occupy the presidential box, anyway. There is a festive, convivial air about the horse show, the greetings of friends and visiting from one box to another and the laughing little groups scattered here and there on the paths around the paddock.

* * * *

ONE of the most interesting out-of-doors fetes of the spring will be the annual benefit for Neighborhood house in the lovely gardens of Mrs. Charles J. Bell's suburban home, Twin Oaks, on May 20. Each year Mrs. Bell gives the use of her gardens for this charity and some of the most picturesque entertainments have been staged there. The ladies of the diplomatic corps preside over various booths usually displaying some of the arts and crafts of their native land. This year will be the flower fete and another feature will be interpretative dances in the sylvan theater.

The House of Mercy garden party in the Cathedral Close on Tuesday, May 18, will draw a brilliant assemblage from society circles. Mrs. Junius MacMurray is chairman of the committee in charge of the candy. She will have several young girls assisting her.

* * * *

THERE is an element of Washington society to which the out-of-door picnic appeals particularly and this type of informal entertainment has made a bright spot in the social calendar, especially for the younger set, during the last few weeks. Even some of those who own lovely suburban estates like to take their guests into the adjacent woods for a really old-fashioned rural picnic feast brought up-to-date by the automobile and its equipment for this style of entertaining.

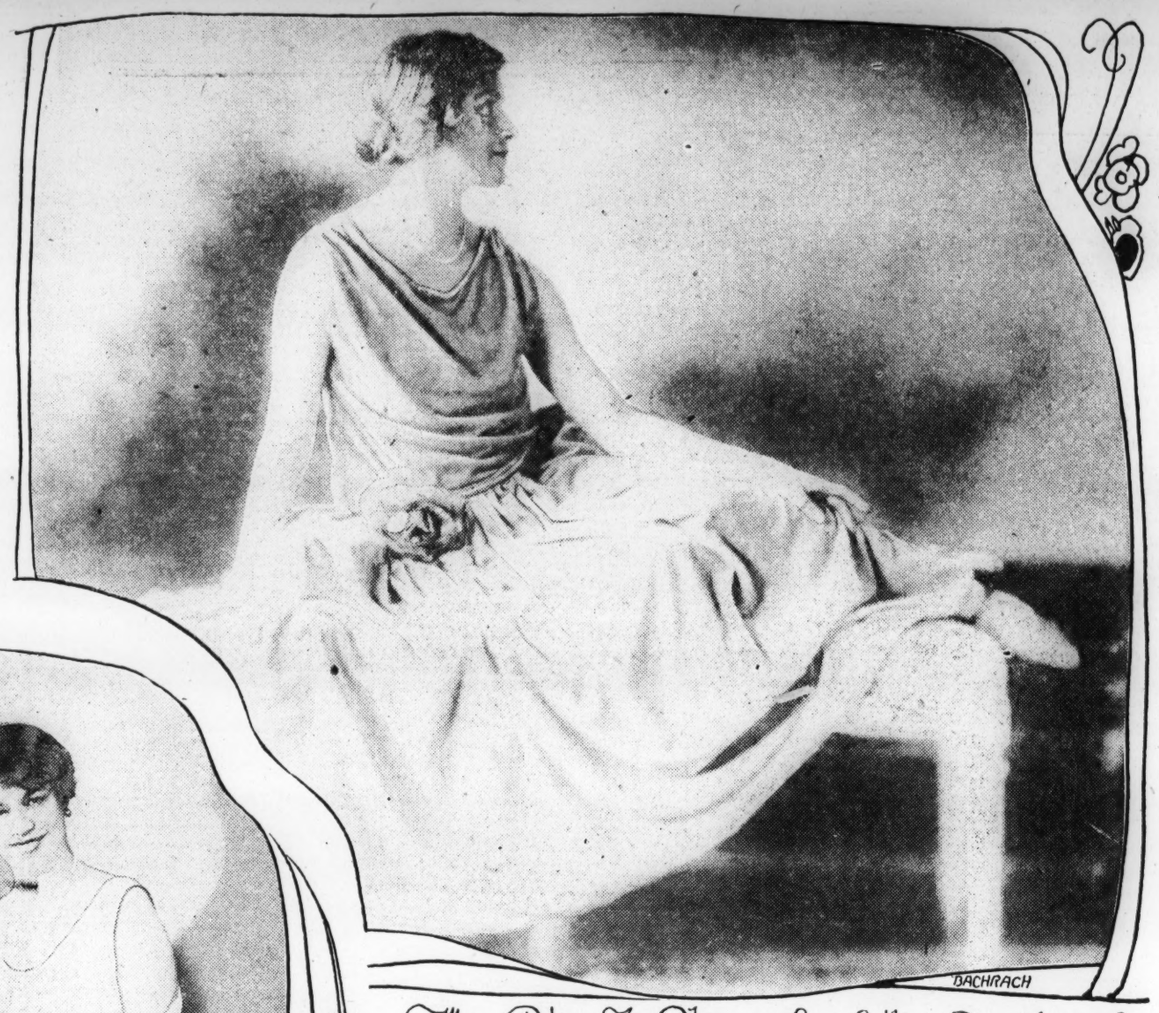

Persons who come from far away to live for a space in this sphere of the seat of government are not quite so blase to the lure of the many historic and picturesque spots about Washington as those who have known them all their life are apt to be. Therefore, many an interesting group of officials or diplomats depart Sunday mornings for journeys to some of the historic spots, stopping in quaint old taverns with which the roads in Maryland and Virginia abound or enjoying real feasts under the lovely dogwood trees.

* * * *

AT the meeting of the Junior league Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Hays Hammond, Mrs. Chauncey Parker, jr., was elected president to succeed Miss Virginia Hunt; Miss Helen Townsley, first vice president; Miss Anne Hight, second vice president; Mrs. Donald McKnew, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Reber Littlehales, treasurer. Tea was served following the meeting. Washington will be represented by two Capital girls at the Junior league conference in Nashville, Tenn. Miss Laura Towne and Miss Frances McKee, who will leave town tomorrow for the conference which will be held Friday.

* * * *

THE noticeable let up in official parties will be evidenced in the calendar of this week. Tomorrow evening the Vice President and Mrs. Dawes will be the guests of honor at a large dinner with Secretary of Interior Work as host. Tuesday evening the British Ambassador and Lady Isabella Howard will entertain at dinner at the embassy, and other dinners of the week will be small and informal.

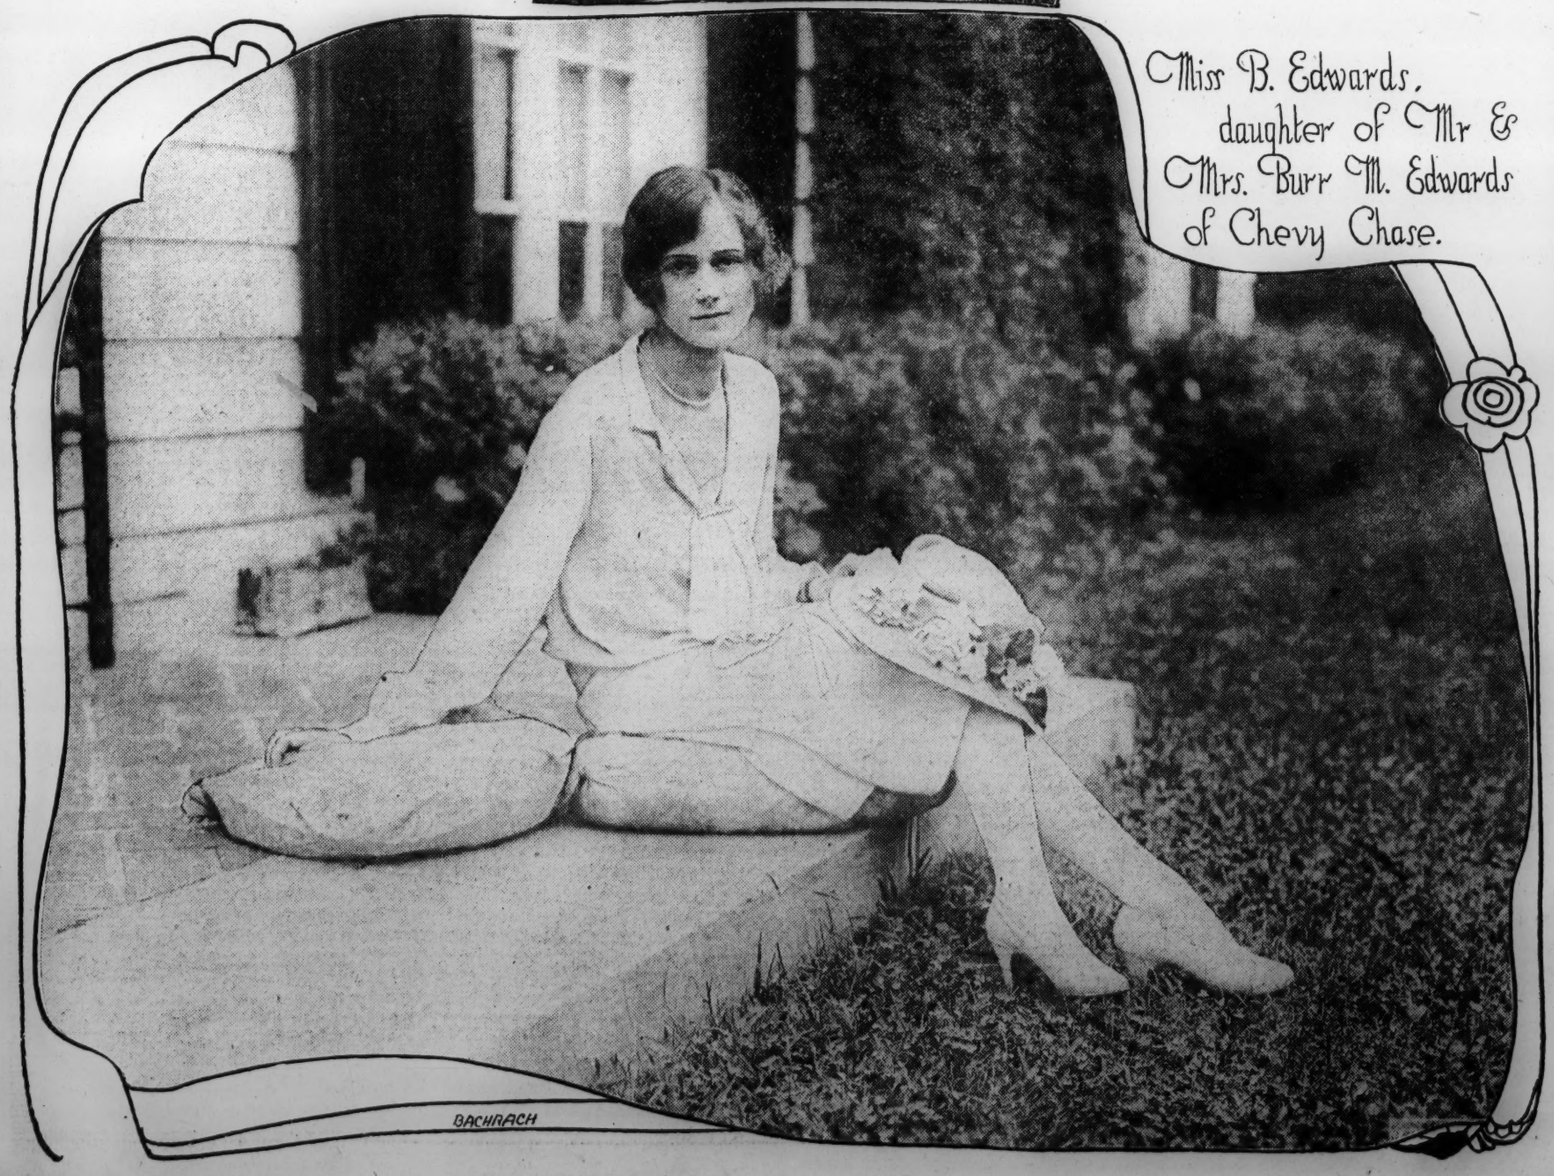

Mme. Peter Z. Olins, wife of the Counselor of the Latvian Legation.

Mme. Alexis H. Lundh, with her son Peter.

Mrs. Joseph Grew, wife of the Under Secretary of State.

Miss B. Edwards, daughter of Mr & Mrs. Burr M. Edwards of Chevy Chase.

Engagements and Weddings of Interest

The President will receive tomorrow at 12:30 at the White House the foreign delegates to the International Girl Scout conference. Mrs. Coolidge will receive them at noon tomorrow. The delegates will arrive in Washington this morning and depart again tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the Secretary of Commerce, will entertain the foreign delegates at a supper this evening, and tomorrow afternoon Mrs. David Aiken Reed, wife of Senator Reed, will give a tea for them at 5 o'clock.

Those who are entertaining delegates as guests in their homes are Mrs. Amos Fries, Mrs. Frederick Brooke, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Miss Katharine Wylie, Mrs. Forde Todd, Mrs. Conrad Young, the Swedish legation, Mrs. Theodore Wilkinson, Mrs. J. White Stinson, the Latvian legation, Mrs. Richard Wilmer, Mrs. Colin Livingston, Mrs. Charles R. Lindsay, Mrs. John Gibbons, Mrs. Edward Sturtevant, Mrs. John W. Morse, Mrs. Anne Archbold, Mrs. John Dryden, Mrs. Eugene Meyer, Mrs. Stanley Rinehart, Miss Catherine Johnson and Mrs. Earl Chaffee.

The foreign delegates are in charge of Mrs. Juliette Lowe, who first started the Girl Scout movement in the United States, and Mrs. Lyman Delano, of New York, both of whom are accompanying the delegates to Washington.

Ambassador Is Guest.

The British Ambassador and Lady Isabella Howard were the guests in whose honor Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Amory Houghton entertained at dinner last evening. The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glover, sr., Capt. and Mrs. John Gibbons, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler P. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. F. Lammot Belin, Mrs. Anne Archbold and Senator Lawrence Phipps.

The German Ambassador and Baroness Maltzan were the guests in whose honor Mr. and Mrs. Houghton entertained at dinner Thursday evening, when their guests were Senator and Mrs. Frederick Gillett, the Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. J. Butler Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Noyes, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rinehart and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Flint.

The Italian Ambassador, Nobile Giacomo de Martino, entertained at luncheon yesterday at the embassy. The guests were the Second Secretary of the French Embassy and Countess de Sieyes, Mr. Jefferson Cassery, Judge John Barton Payne, Maj. and Mrs. Robert Goetz, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Brooke, Miss Helen Patten and the Secretary of the Italian Embassy and Mme. Mascia.

The Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Wilbur departed late yesterday afternoon for an overnight trip on the Sylph down the river, and will return to Washington this evening. They have as their guests Representative and Mrs. Clyde B. Aitchison and their son, Mr. Bruce Aitchison.

Dr. Work Is Host.

The Secretary of the Interior, Dr. Hubert Work, has as his guests in his apartment at Wardman Park hotel Dr. and Mrs. David C. Brown, of Danbury, Conn. Dr. Brown has been attending the sessions of the American Medical association, of which he is a member of the board of directors, at Dallas, Tex. He and Mrs. Brown will attend the dinner which Secretary Work will give in honor of the Vice President and Mrs. Dawes tomorrow evening.

The Minister of the Irish Free State, Dr. Timothy Smiddy, gave an address on "The Economic Conditions and Prospects of the Irish Free State" before the Don Noon club of the Catholic university Thursday evening.

Count Tolstoi was the guest in whose honor Mrs. John B. Henderson entertained at dinner last evening. There were ten guests.

The Minister of Panama and Mme. Alfaro, and the Minister of

MADAME RAMIREZ

Wife of Dr. Juan V. Ramirez, who is Secretary and Charge d'Affaires of the Paraguay legation.

Latvia and Mme. Seya, were the guests in whose honor Dr. and Mrs. Davenport White entertained at dinner last evening at the Chevy Chase club. There were 46 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Mann entertained at dinner last evening in their home on Sixteenth street when their guests were members of the party who are passing the week-end as the guests of Mr. McClellan Ritter. There were sixteen in the company.

Mrs. Horace G. Macfarland entertained at dinner last evening at the Chevy Chase club in compliment to her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Melton Hudgins. The guests were Mrs. Daniel Hand, Representative Clay Stone Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Parsons, Ensign and Mrs. Paul Crosley, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Brand, jr., Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tucker, jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Orme Exnicios, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crain, jr., Miss Eleanor Northrop, Mrs. Agnes Hand, Miss Dorothy Mondell, Miss Laura Bryn, Mrs. James Nolan, Mr. Lee Price, of Virginia, Mrs. Charles Francis Guerin, Mr. Francis Winslow, and Mr. Markeley Bothes.

The table was decorated with silver baskets filled with spring flowers.

Representative Entertains.

Representative and Mrs. Guy U. Hardy entertained a few friends for dinner Saturday night at their home, 4601 Sixteenth street. Their guests included Representative and Mrs. Thomas S. Williams, Representative and Mrs. J. N. Tincher, Representative and Mrs. Elmer O. Leatherwood and Representative and Mrs. Robert G. Simmons.

Mrs. Alexander Mackay-Smith entertained at luncheon yesterday in her home in Sixteenth street in compliment to Mrs. Hamilton Fish, jr., of New York, who is in Washington over the week-end.

Mrs. P. Wilson Russell Wilbur, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will arrive in Washington Tuesday to be the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sanderson Morris, at the Wardman Park hotel for an indefinite stay.

Mrs. James E. Freeman has discontinued her Friday afternoon at homes for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. George E. Ruhl entertained at a luncheon and bridge at her home on Connecticut avenue Tuesday, when there were twelve guests.

Mr. Edwin T. Meredith, former Secretary of Agriculture, arrived in Washington yesterday from Des Moines, Iowa, and is staying at the Mayflower.

The former Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. William C. Redfield, of New York city, are guests at the Mayflower.

Horse Show Holds Interest.

Opening Friday at Arlington Park, Va., the National Capital horse show bids fair to be one of the most interesting and brilliant events in the history of the local horse show association.

The names of the exhibitors are legion. Three hundred local and out-of-town horsemen and women have entered the names of their stables and mounts.

The tearoom, always a feature of the show, is being conducted this year under the auspices of the association. Mrs. J. Maury Dove is chairman of the women's committee in charge.

Among the equestriennes from out-of-town, now arriving in Washington for the meet, are Mrs. Allen Potts Gordonsville, Va.; Mrs. Fred W. Okie, Marshall, Va.; Mrs. Augustus Riggs, Cooksville, Md.; Miss Keziah Strong, Cleveland, Ohio; Miss Virginia Van Brecht, Hollywood, Calif.; Mrs. W. C. Stevenson, Shields, Pa.; Mrs. Helen Buchan Jones, Upperville, and scores of others.

Included on the list of Washington horsewomen are Mrs. Ambrose Preece, Miss Maude Preece, Miss M. M. Steven, Miss Margaret Rowland, Miss Elizabeth Jackson, Miss Georgia Mooser, Miss Madeline Aleshire, Mrs. James Curtiss, Miss Laura Curtis, Mrs. William Donovan, Miss Priscilla Dove, Miss Deborah Dows, Miss Faith Adams, Miss Nancy Hanna, Miss Lydia Archbold, Miss Persis Meyers, Mrs. E. B. McLean, Miss Harriet Kincheloe, Mrs. E. T. Goodman and Miss Elaine Hirschman.

Representative and Mrs. M. A. Michaelson will have as their guests at Wardman Park hotel the coming week Mrs. Michaelson's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gramm, of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kilkenney, who came to Washington to attend the dinner given by Vice President and Mrs. Dawes, and who have spent the week at the Willard, will return to their home in Chicago today.

Visiting in New York.

Mrs. Richard S. Aldrich, Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Bergner, Mrs. Frederic A. Delano, and Maj. Franklin Babcock, also the Count and Countess D. de Benque, are registered at the Ambassador hotel in New York.

Mrs. T. DeWitt Talmage entertained at dinner last evening at the Mayflower, having twelve in her party.

Miss Julia Channing of London is passing several days at the Wardman Park hotel before returning to Boston, where she is visiting relatives. She will leave for England about the middle of June.

Miss Isabel Bacon returned from Paris yesterday, where she has been for several weeks, assisting in the establishment of a school of salesmanship for the French government. Miss Bacon is stopping at the Grace Dodge hotel.

Mrs. C. K. Melrose, of San Francisco, arrived yesterday at the Willard, where she will pass several days.

Mrs. Morris Ernest Locke, wife of Lieut. Col. Locke, who is stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., has arrived in Washington and taken an apartment at Wardman Park hotel for a month. Mrs. Locke has with her her young daughter, Mary Preston Gibson, and she and her daughter will pass the summer at one of the New England resorts while Col. Locke is on duty with his troops at Camp Knox, Ky.

Mrs. Brosseau Visiting Here.

Mrs. A. J. Brosseau, recently elected president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, has returned to Washington after a short stay at her home in Greenwich, Conn., and is at the Willard, where she will remain until the latter part of next week.

Mrs. W. S. Terriberry, wife of Col. Terriberry, assistant surgeon general of the public health service, will depart about the middle of the week for Fishers' island, N. Y., to open their summer home. She will rejoin Col. Terriberry in their apartment at Wardman Park hotel about the middle of June.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Miss Grace Abbot, Miss Mary Lindsey, Miss Charl William, Miss Isabel Bacon, Dr. Louise Stanley, Miss Mary Anderson, Miss Adelaide Baylor, Miss Tracy Cobb, Miss Edith Thomas, and Miss Mabel Campbell will receive from 4 to 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at a tea, which has been arranged by Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, jr., for the mill and factory girls of Raleigh, N. C., who are visiting Washington with Miss Margaret Edwards, head of the bureau of home economics of the State department of education in North Carolina. The tea and reception will be held in the lounge and garden of the Grace Dodge hotel. There will be 150 guests.

Col. George R. Crosfield and Mrs. Crosfield, accompanied by Col. Thomas W. Miller, representing the national commander of the American Legion, and Col. and Mrs. H. Nelson Jackson left Washington yesterday for Pittsburgh, points in Ohio, Chicago, Culver and Indianapolis where the president of the Fidac will be tendered a reception by the national commander and the national executive committee of the American Legion, after which he will leave for New York and sail on the Majestic, May 15, for England.

Chamber Head in City.

Mr. J. W. O'Leary, of Chicago, has taken a suite of rooms at the Willard where he arrived yesterday. Mr. O'Leary, who is president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, plans to pass a week in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. William Travers Davis, of Chicago, sailed yesterday on the Olympic for a stay of several months in Europe. Miss Virginia O'Neil, Mrs. Davis' sister, will join them in Paris next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Martin Savage have returned to their apartment at 2400 Sixteenth street where they will be for a short time before going away for the summer.

Mrs. Karl Hilding Beij, Mrs. Lawrence A. Adams and Miss Elizabeth Boyd will be joint hostesses at a social meeting of alumnae association of Phi Mu sorority Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Beij, 1748 Lamon street northwest.

Entertain at Luncheon.

Miss Emma J. Maloney and Miss Alice Murphy entertained a party of fourteen at luncheon at the Grace Dodge hotel yesterday.

Capt. William C. Asserson, U. S. Navy, and Mrs. Asserson announce the engagement of their daughter, Isabella Howard, to Lieut. James Lawrence Robertson, U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Miller Robertson, of Augusta, Ga.

Dr. and Mrs. B. Rush Rhees announce the engagement of their daughter, Louise, to Mr. James Thomas Berryman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford K. Berryman. No date is given for the marriage.

The announcement was made of the engagement to the intimate friends of Miss Rhees at a bridge luncheon yesterday, which she gave in compliment to her guest, Miss Alice Dickey.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter R. Chamberlin, of Trenton, N. J., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Isabella, to Mr. Robert C. Stanpill, bacteriologist in the United States food inspection station, St. Louis, Mo. Miss Chamberlin is well known in Trenton and surrounding cities as a vocalist. Mr. Stanpill was formerly a Washingtonian and was graduated from George Washington university last June.

Mrs. Hyman Dodek announces the engagement of her daughter, Eva, to Mr. Sidney Simon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Simon, of this city.

Diffenderfer—Wall.

The wedding of Miss Marjorie Alden Wall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Alden Wall, to Mr. Lloyd H. Diffenderfer, son of Mrs. C. E. Diffenderfer, of Long Beach, Calif., took place yesterday afternoon at 4:30 at the Lutheran Memorial church, on Thomas circle. The Rev. George M. Diffenderfer, uncle of the bridegroom performed the ceremony.

Mr. William Taylor, of the Chevy Chase All Saints Episcopal church, played the wedding music, and Mr. Harold King sang "At Dawning."

The ring used for the ceremony was made from the gold of the bride's grandmother's wedding ring. The bride wore a gown of blue georgette crepe, trimmed with handmade lace of the same shade, and a large blue hat trimmed with beige lace. Her bouquet was of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The bride had her sister, Miss Mary Sizer Wall as maid of honor. She wore a gown of gray georgette crepe and a pink hat. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. Charles W. Dey, of Clarendon, Va., was best man for Mr. Diffenderfer, and the ushers were Mr. George Diffenderfer and Mr. George Dagenias. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Diffenderfer departed for a wedding trip to Atlantic City, and upon their return will occupy their summer home, Idling-on-the-Potomac through the season.

Turton—Maher.

The wedding of Miss Mary Margaret Maher, of Trenton, N. J., to Mr. Edward Warren Turton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Turton, of this city, took place Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Stanley A. Czyz. The church was decorated with ferns, palms and calla lilies. Miss Hazel Arth sang, accompanied on the organ by Mr. Harry Wheaton Howard. The bride wore a gown of powder-blue georgette and a pink picture hat. She carried a bonquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Margaret Ryan was maid of honor. She wore a gown of gray georgette crepe and a blue picture hat. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. J. Harry Smith, of St. Paul, acted as best man, and the ushers were Mr. J. Malcolm Turton and Mr. H. Lloyd Turton, cousins of the bridegroom. Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the Hotel Hamilton, and later Mr. and Mrs. Turton departed for Miami, Fla. The bride wore a traveling costume of blue and gray and a hat to match.

The out-of-town guests present were Mrs. Edgar Warren Morton, Mrs. Antony Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell Patten, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maher, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Devine, all of Trenton, N. J.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Briscoe Wall, of Milledgeville, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Olive Bell Wall, to Mr. Sydney Gar-

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 6.)

M. PASTERNAK
1219 CONNECTICUT AVENUE

Special Offering

Spring Coats

Showing a comprehensive variety of smart Spring Coats for Dress and Sports Wear, all taken from our regular stock and of particular interest to those who desire a Coat of the Pasternak character at a very moderate price.

$55.00 $65.00

JULIUS GARFINCKEL & CO.
WASHINGTON
PARIS

These New Showings

of

Summer Apparel

For Women and Misses

Are More Fascinating and Beautiful Than We Have Ever Shown

THEY have just arrived here and possess newness and individuality that is delightfully refreshing for summer days.

THIS very remarkable selection of smart sportswear, unusual street and traveling outfits, and exquisite afternoon and evening apparel is the achievement of the genius of the fashion world.

YOU will choose here with appreciation and delight.

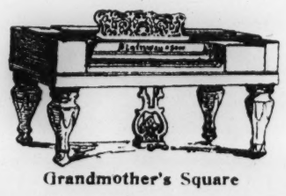

Also Outfits for Children

F STREET CORNER OF 13TH

Mother's Day—May 9, 1926

Founded 1857

New Steinway Uprights $875 Up

Grandmother's Square

Founded 1857

New Steinway Grands $1,425 Up

PROGRESS for almost three-quarters of a century is recorded in Steinways.

Grandmother boasted the possession of a sturdy Rosewood Square that graced the roomy "parlor" and played and sung the beautiful melodies that are "old-fashioned," perhaps, now.

Mother favored the fine "Upright" that harmonized so well with the smaller rooms and apartments.

Mother's Upright

Daughter now possesses a "Grand"—the ideal piano of the period.

It's a

STEINWAY

"THE INSTRUMENT OF THE IMMORTALS"

The Tone is beautiful. Its Responsiveness instantaneous. Its Durability beyond compare. Its Price is always reasonable enough to make it the best "buy" and best Investment to be made in Musical Instruments.

Sold on Easy Terms, if You Wish.

Daughter's Grand

E. F. DROOP & SONS CO., 1300 G ST.

Steinway Pianos—Reproducing Pianos—Victrolas—Music

May Sale

1200 pairs of

Queen Quality

footwear

Reduced to $5.75

Formerly Priced Up to $10.00

In order that we may enormously increase our sales over the great number of pairs we are already selling we make this drastic price concession.

Bear in mind these are the season's newest styles, taken from our regular stock and marked down to this low price for a few days.

Blonde and Gray Kid. Black and Blonde Satin. Patent Leather. Black and Brown Kid. Tan Calf and Combination Leathers. 30 Styles for your selection.

Queentex Silk and Chiffon Hosiery, $1.55. Specially reduced for this sale.

Queen Quality Boot Shop

1219 F Street N. W.

Exclusive Agents in Washington for Queen Quality Shoes

Fashions of Capital Women

By VYLLA POE WILSON.

THE old is riding into the fashionable set on the winds of the new, if the vogue for "heirloom clothes," the quaint and picturesque costumes matron and maid are wearing for formal parties is any indication.

Old costumes, once the pride of grandmother or great-grandmother or a sprightly great-aunt hitherto kept entirely for costume affairs, are being restored or copied for the very best dress. When the costume itself is lacking or it is not practical for it to be worn, bits of the lace or trimming and a careful duplication of the style and general cut often achieve a most becoming and smart costume as successful today as when originally worn by the granddame of yesterday.

Family portraits and deguerreotypes are being used as guides for these heirloom costumes, and jewel cases are being rifled for half-forgotten pieces of old-fashioned jewelry about which an up-to-date costume can be built.

In many a family treasure trove are cherished letters of yesterday written by women describing their gowns on certain occasions. Now their modern descendants are trying to fit in with the events of the twentieth century the essential features of the clothes worn by some of the belles of ante bellum days at soiree, ball or garden fete.

Extremes Are United.

In sharp contrast to these costumes are those which are strictly the product of the age or rather designed along futurist lines, such as perhaps the belles of the 1930s will not consider so very strange.

These moderns like to look as if they had been carefully cut out and put together in a precise mathematical fashion, their shingles and boy bobs, their scarfs and even the flares to their skirts a triumph of the art of employment of the straight line. The nearest approach to such preciseness can be discerned in the pictures of the old Egyptian kings, who had their beards and hair cut straight across as if by a leveling machine and their clothes made without one suggestion of a curve.

A compromise between the two extremes of style is the woman who culls from each one something of what she considers pretty and smart and modifies it so as to be becoming to her individual type. It is this style of costume which makes or unmakes a modiste in the estimation of her patrons or that fixes the reputation of a woman or girl as an authority on clothes.

There is no doubt that, no matter what trend or cult they follow in clothes selection, women like to feel that they really fit into the picture and, no doubt, this is the reason that, at this time of year, there is such a universal demand for simple morning frocks which look well in the garden.

Interest Grows in Gardens.

More and more women, not only those with large lawns and estates, but the woman with just a mere patch of velvety lawn or a back yard with possibilities are taking an interest in horticultural matters. Nothing gives quite the same thrill as the joy of seeing the seeds primly planted in rows develop into green shoots pushing their way into the sunshine.

It is perhaps this love of gardens and gardening which took many women to Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, for the meeting of the Garden Clubs of Virginia, which has undertaken the fascinating task of restoring the gardens according to the plans of Thomas Jefferson as found worked out carefully in some of his papers.

No one has ever enjoyed the White House gardens more thoroughly than Mrs. Coolidge nor have they dressed themselves for a morning at home with such a real idea to the background of the White House grounds as she has this spring.

It is a far cry from the days of Abigail Adams, wife of John Adams, who described the White House as in a wilderness with no fences or boundary lines. Mrs. Adams did direct the very beginning of this work, holding her long and voluminous skirts up as she picked her way amidst the "debris" and "pitfalls," to use her own words.

Improvement of Grounds.

Thomas Jefferson, to whom we owe not only the beauty and plans of Monticello, and the University of Virginia, but the Capitol, and the White House itself, because of his personal and active interest in everything pertaining to plans for the government buildings, did essential work in the very early days of clearing the White House grounds by his valuable suggestions and inspirations.

It was Dolly Madison, however, who passed hours in the grounds directing the men and planting many a tree, shrub or bush practically with her own hand, her bright colored turban, which she wore over her curls, habitually making a brilliant spot against the landscape.

For years the shrubbery and rose bushes or their "descendants" raised from cuttings were carefully preserved in exactly the spot in which the vivacious wife of James Madison decided they should be planted.

As the plans from the White House grounds progressed during the years some of these bushes were not placed at the most advantageous points. It was the first Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, to whom posterity certainly owes a debt for the beautification of the White House grounds, who conceived the idea of a new landscape scheme, carefully transplanting some of the bushes or planting others to bring them into balance.

She really followed out the ideas first inaugurated by Mrs. William McKinley, who, like Mrs. Wilson, was an invalid, during her regime in the White House. She looked out over the grounds from her bedroom windows and discovered many possibilities of improvements. To Mrs. Wilson we are indebted for the lovely gardens which run the length of the wings on each side of the White House and which this year Mrs. Coolidge has had planted with a glorious assortment of pansies which look like little faces bidding the members of visiting delegations welcome as they wait in the long lines for an opportunity to greet President and Mrs. Coolidge.

There is a real sylvan theater in the White House grounds and Mrs. Taft delighted Washington society and their children by having a company of sylvan actors give dramatizations of fairy tales there. This proved a most delightful method of entertainment and the scene was always a pretty one, the brilliant fairy tale costumes of the actors giving a bright spot of color against the cool white and summery costumes of the women guests.

Speaking of clothes for out of doors, one of the points of interest of the National Capital horse show, which will open Friday, will be smart raiment of the social leaders who will attend.

It is safe to venture the opinion that no horse show in the country is as interesting as the Washington show in point of those attending. Official and diplomatic people make it a point to attend, and the smartest coteries not only from Washington but from other large cities patronize the event.

Even the woman who is ultra-conservative in the matter of clothes feels that it is proper to be a little more bold in the selection of her horse show costumes. The real "fans," of course, go early and stay late and watch each event with bated breath, but even they have time for the many luncheons and teas which always are incidental to the horse show, and they must be clad in their very best to keep up with the extra festivities of the week.

Wedding Attire Thoughts.

Washington has had its full quota of interesting May engagement announcements, which give promise of brilliant June weddings. Naturally, the thoughts of the brides-to-be, as well as those young girls who may or may not be in the wedding parties, turn to the consideration of wedding-day attire.

There has been a persistent intrusion into the realm of the all-white wedding gown of silver and gold lace and flesh-colored chiffon for panels and trains all winter, and no doubt these features will be seen on some of the gowns now being discussed.

Twenty years ago a White House bride, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, kept one detail of her wedding gown a secret up to the instant she made her entrance on the arm of her father in the east room. It was the long gold court train, swung from the shoulders and trailing many feet on the ground. Every other detail of material and cut and decoration had "leaked out." But Princess Alice kept secret till the final moment this first step away from the traditional all-white wedding costume, which has since been copied, in some variation, at frequent intervals by other brides.

A touch of color in the bridal bouquet, yellow or lavender orchids, or tiny pink roses amid the traditional all-white ones, is another welcome innovation of the modern bride. One blue-eyed bride of the winter had tiny blue flowers mingled with the sprays of orange blossoms which held on her tulle veil, making her eyes seem even bluer and brighter.

Miss Ailsa Mellon, daughter of the Secretary of the Treasury, who will in all probability be one of the spring or early summer brides, has always had a certain individual and very chic method of dressing. Miss Mellon favors smart simple effects with some new idea of arrangement of some detail which makes her stand out as particularly well dressed. She always has her costumes made of very handsome, and a little "different," materials, making it hard for the ambitious to copy them. She has an apparent fancy for metal cloths and tissues and heavy lustrous chiffon weaves. Every one is speculating on exactly how she might use them for a bridal gown.

Tradition Versus Modernism.

The wavering between tradition and modernism is just as evident in the selection of the wedding gown as in other kinds of costumes. The fashion arbiters have injected themselves into the question and have issued an edict that both are correct.

There is one difficulty about the selection of a wedding gown—it is hard to gauge the final effect. Most women like to have a gown specially designed and made for them, and of course can not see how it will look after it is finished, and many a wakeful hour is spent puzzling just which one of the hundred-and-one methods will be used in arranging the veil.

SENORA GUSTAVO TORROELLA, wife of the naval attache of the Cuban embassy, in an evening gown of white chiffon with shadow brocading of satin. The bodice is surplice shape, outlined with pearl and crystal embroidery. There are deep inset flaring godets in the skirt.

Mrs. George Mesta wore at a luncheon party an ensemble costume of gray crepe romaine trimmed with gray fur. With this she wore a large orchid-colored straw hat.

Mrs. James Montgomery, of Portland, Oreg., who has been the guest of Mrs. Charles Boughton Wood, wore at a dinner given in her honor a gown of filmy black lace made with a draped skirt and cape back effect. This was built over a cloth-of-silver slip.

Miss Frances McKee, daughter of Mrs. Frederick Brooke, is wearing a sport dress of soft gray silk and wool material with a boyish tailored collar and the skirt finished with close front pleats. Her hat is of gray straw.

Mme. Sze, wife of the Chinese Minister, wore at a tea recently a gown of gray lace and chiffon with a large hat to match and a corsage bouquet of orchids.

Mrs. William Howard Taft also has a gray lace and chiffon afternoon gown with which she wears a gray hat trimmed with lavender flowers.

Mrs. Feland Harrison appeared at a dinner recently in a gown of white chiffon made with scarfs floating from the shoulders and with a flared flounce to the skirt.

Mrs. Hayne Ellis is wearing a coat dress of black satin and a black hat with a transparent brim.

Mrs. Jardine's Gown.

Mrs. William M. Jardine, wife of the Secretary of Agriculture, wore at a dinner a gown of white chiffon studded in crystals and outlined in rhinestones.

Mrs. James R. Mann is wearing a gown of bengaline in one of the rosy sand shades. The lower part of the skirt is cut in circular style and joined to the upper part with scallops. The shawl collar and long sleeves also are finished with scallops. Over this Mrs. Mann wears a full-length coat and scarf of black satin lined in sand color. Her hat is of straw, with a grosgrained crown the same shade as the dress.

Mrs. Adolphus Andrews, wife of Capt. Andrews, wore at a dinner party recently a gown of cream lace made with a long bodice and a circular skirt. Mrs. Andrews is wearing a smart coat suit of blue cloth bound with black silk braid.

Mrs. Frances Bennett Poe wore for a stroll on Connecticut avenue recently an ensemble costume of the new shade of green silk and wool cloth. Her hat was of grosgrained ribbon of the same shade.

Miss Natalie Hammond is wearing a boyish suit of black cloth with a white silk waistcoat and a boyish tailored silk blouse. Her hat is small, close-fitting and black.

Mrs. Hugh Gibson, wife of the American Minister to Switzerland, had on at one of the recent teas a gown of black crepe romaine made with smartly flaring sides and a scarf collar. Her hat was close-fitting and black.

Mrs. Jacob Milligan, wife of Representative Milligan, of Missouri, is wearing a gown of white chiffon, made with pleated side portions falling from the knees. She also has a tailored heather-colored suit with a soft straw hat to match.

Gown of Silver Lace.

Mrs. Maurice Thatcher, wife of Representative Thatcher, of Kentucky, has a gown of silver lace made with a deep flounce to the skirt. With this Mrs. Tatcher often wears a black lace shawl.

Mrs. John A. Wagner, wife of Col. Wagner, has a gown of white satin, embroidered in silver, made with a surplice close-fitting bodice in one, with a draped skirt.

The effectiveness of the transparent yoke as a feature of a dance frock for young girls was proven by the costume worn by Miss Elizabeth Sawtelle, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Henry F. Sawtelle, at one of the recent dances. The gown proper was of chiffon, worn over a slip, and the scalloped yoke was of lace.

The evening gown cut along simple, untrimmed lines is very becoming to a certain type of woman, and Viscountess Henri de Sibour looks particularly well in one she wears of satin with a low, square decollete back and front and narrow portions over the shoulders.

Miss Pearl Smiddy, the young daughter of the Minister of the Irish Free State and Mrs. Timothy Smiddy, has a dance frock of silver lace made quite flaring. A deep-hued rose is saucily perched on her left shoulder.

Mrs. Edgar B. Merritt, wife of the assistant commissioner of Indian affairs, has a black chiffon gown heavily encrusted in rhinestones and colored beads in floral designs. This has a conservative round neckline and no sleeves.

Mrs. W. N. Ferris, wife of Senator Ferris, of Michigan, is wearing an evening gown of metal cloth with bead embroidery up each side and around the hem. With this she wears a large white fox scarf.

Mrs. Allmand M. Blow, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Charles S. Deneen, had on at a recent dinner a gown of rich colored Persian brocade made with a square neckline and no sleeves. She wears with this an evening wrap of dark red velvet.

Mrs. David H. Blair, wife of the commissioner of internal revenue, is wearing a coat suit of grained cloth made in tailored style with a small close-fitting hat with a tightly draped crown and turned up brim.

Mrs. Harold Walker who is now at her country place, Mary's Delight, in Maryland, wore a one-piece dress of dark beige silk and wool material with a scarf collar and falling side portions to the skirt. Miss Evelyn Walker is wearing a girlish coat suit of blue cloth with soft silk blouse and becoming little colored felt hat to match her ties.

Chic Ensemble.

Mrs. William W. Corcoran, wife of the member of the United States foreign service, who is paying her first visit to Washington, is being feted by the friends of "Billy" Corcoran, who are anxious to make his French wife welcome.

Mrs. Corcoran wore a very chic ensemble costume of the new silk and wool material at a luncheon. The dress part was made in one-piece effect with an inverted panel in the front, and came scarcely below the knees. The collar was a narrow unstanding loose band about the throat. The coat was made longer than the dress and quite loose fitting. Mrs. Corcoran wore a black satin hat with a very narrow draped brim with a pom pom of black and white on the left side.

Senora Salinas, daughter of Don S. Castrillo, Minister from Nicaragua, who is visiting her father, wore at a luncheon party a coat suit of beige cloth with an overblouse of matching stain and a small bankok hat of the same shade.

Mrs. Perry Miller is wearing an evening gown of black satin made on graceful long lines. Her coat is of black velvet with an ermine collar.

Mrs. Alexander Bentley wore at the theater recently a gown of black lace over cloth of silver with a tulle scarf of peacock blue.

Fur Is Replaced.

Puffings and quiltings replace fur on many of the ensemble costumes worn during the last few weeks in Washington, although fur, especially the lighter kinds, usually designated "summer furs," are by no means passe. It simply means that woman has included in her plans other trimmings besides fur to lend to her costumes, when before her first thought was of fur.

There has been much rummaging in old lace chests recently for the touch of rare lace with which many of the summer evening gowns are finished. On an otherwise untrimmed, shirred or puffed gown of crepe chiffon the introduction of a lace yoke or a narrow line outlining the neckline of rare lace is very charming. The rule is "a little but lovely."

The outstanding feature of most of the formal afternoon gowns worn this week was without doubt the sleeves. When they were among those present they usually were of the large and ornate bishop or balloon variety and more often than not of sheerer material than the gown. But if any one thinks the day of the sleeveless daytime gown is over they should attend one of the smart spring teas in the National Capital, for they would discover than many of the best dressed women have their gowns made for afternoon without sleeves to better show the effect of the chiffon and lace capes and scarfs. Many of the ensemble costumes also have gowns without sleeves.

Sleeves Coming Back.

Turn about is fair play so some of the smartly gowned women are having their gowns made with sleeves but the short coatees and Etons or the long ensemble coat made sleeveless depending upon the gown sleeves for arm covering.

The sleeve has, without doubt, forced an entrance into the realm of evening clothes and one of the favorite ways of wearing it, by the younger set at least, is a combination with the gown of taffeta with long, tight-fitting lace or chiffon sleeves matching the crossed-over fichu and the deep transparent hem about the hem of the long, full skirt.

Even the despised elbow sleeve has its use, it is apparent, for many of the sport frocks and suits have this variety of arm covering, although strictly speaking they should not be called elbow sleeves as they all end somewhere between the shoulder and the elbow.

One of the newest types of sleeves is that which is shirred tightly to the upper arm and is full and large below to be gathered into a tight band at the wrists.

Speaking of sleeves, Mrs. Coolidge insists on the smartness of the sleeve with long hanging scarf-like portions and has had on this type of arm covering at several of the afternoon receptions for visiting delegations to women's organizations.

COSTUMES
for the Field

WHATEVER of beauty there is in a Sports Costume must come from three things: Beauty of line, quality of material, and natural coloring.

Erlebacher's maintain that Costumes for the field should be in the spirit of outdoors.

Erlebacher Field Costumes are sensibly priced.

Sports Frocks, $19.50 and More
Sports Coats, $29.75 Upwards
Sports Hats from $7.50
Accessories

Erlebacher
Feminine Apparel of Individuality
TWELVE-TEN TWELVE-TWELVE F STREET

One trip and one try-on with
The Red Cross Shoe

IF you've been accustomed to traveling all over the shopping district, searching for a shoe that combined fit and fashion, you'll more than welcome The Red Cross Shoe. For no matter how hard-to-fit you may be, one trip and one try-on is enough to give you a perfectly fitting, perfectly styled shoe.

How can we guarantee such unusual fitting qualities with The Red Cross Shoe? Because it is made over the famous "Limit" last—a standard, ideal last, accurately reproducing the contours of the normal foot. Shoes made over it must fit the foot, in action and repose. As for styling, The Red Cross Shoe is a national favorite with discriminating women, because among each season's models they have always found an authoritative interpretation of the newest footwear modes.

We now have a complete line of the new models of The Red Cross Shoe on display. Pay us a visit and see how the "one trip—one try-on" system makes shoe-shopping easy for you.

ARCH-TONE
Red Cross Shoe

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATION OF ARCH-TONE STORES

1116-20 7th St:
BERBERICH'S
813 Penna. Ave.

Dandruff Gone!
Beautiful Hair,
Thick and Wavy

"Danderine" makes your hair fluffy, glossy and beautiful.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff. One application dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stops itching and falling hair.

Furthermore Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow strong and beautiful.

Bobbed hair has made the girls aware of the dangerous effects of unsightly dandruff which is now more apparent than ever since the hair is short.

Danderine is a sure way to get rid of daudruff and immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents and keep that dandruff out of your hair and off your shoulders.—Adv.

WASHINGTON'S MUSICAL DIRECTORY DRAMATIC ART DANCING

FOR SALE
Sophocles T. Papas
GUITAR, MANDOLIN, BANJO, TENOR BANJO, HAWAIIAN GUITAR AND UKULELE.
1221 CONN. AVE. N. W. Franklin 600.
Res. Studio LE MARQUIS. Potomac 270.
no22.8-1f

VOCAL
EDNA BISHOP DANIEL
Teacher of Singing
Teaches Voice Production without interference
ZERFFI PRINCIPLES
Mrs. Wainwright in charge of sight singing, ear training and fundamental harmony.
1342 N. Y. ave. nw. Main 2163.

BANJO
TENOR BANJO
Saxophone, Piano, Mandolin, &c.
In Ten to Twenty Lessons.
Rag-Jazz and popular music a specialty. Free lessons if you buy instrument from us. Come in, write or phone for booklet.
CHRISTENSEN SCHOOL OF MUSIC.
1322 G Street N. W. Main 1278.

For Space and Rates in "Washington's Musical Directory," Phone Main 4205, Branch 42.

Entertainments keep Society Busy

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 4.)

land White, of Waynesboro, Va., the wedding to take place Wednesday, June 16, at the Milledgeville Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Bowling and son, Mr. George Randolph Bowling, jr., of Lafayette, Ala., arrived Thursday to be the guests of Mrs. Bowling's parents, Representative and Mrs. Bowling, for the month.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cullen Dennis and their children, David and Katherine, of Chevy Chase, sailed from Arica, Chile, last Sunday and will arrive in New York May 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fairfax have returned to Washington after an absence of more than three months passed in Panama and southern California. They are now staying at the Wardman Park hotel.

Mr. and Mrs Rees E. McDuffie, who have been passing a few months at Hotel Hamilton, departed this morning for Cincinnati, Ohio.

Hostesses for Musical.

Mrs. Edward A. Keys and Mrs. A. B. Barber are acting as hostesses for the musicale Mrs. William B. N. Brookes will give at the Congressional Country club Friday at 8 o'clock for the benefit of the Maryland State scholarship fund.

The Washington quartet: Mr. Fred East, Mrs. Baker, Mr. Bomberger, Mr. A. Rabon and Mr. Richard Goodman, all well known artists, are included in the program. Dancing will follow the musicale.

Miss Louise Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Richardson, is home from college passing the week-end with her parents. Miss Richardson's engagement to Mr. G. Carville Bowen recently was announced. The wedding will take place in the near future.

The last meeting for the season of the Causerie Francaise will take place on tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. Georgia Berry. Capt. Willue being out of town, Mr. Gripon, assistant French naval attache, will preside.

After the program, games will be made a feature of the evening's entertainment.

The District chapter of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae will give a benefit May 24, when "New Brooms" will be presented by the National Theater Players.

Mrs. J. P. Neligh and Mrs. J. P. Palmer will be the hostesses at the tea of the American Association of University Women tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. At 5 o'clock a program of songs and dances will be given by the children of Neighborhood house.

At the conclusion of the business meeting of the American Association of University Women Friday evening, the honor guest for the event, Miss Mary J. Simpson, journal clerk of the Senate, will give a brief talk. Following the address a reception will be tendered to the newly elected officers and board of the Washington branch.

The newly elected officers are: President, Mrs. J. J. O'Connor; vice president, Dr. Margaret Alltucker; secretary, Mrs. Laurence Staples; treasurer, Miss Leona Clark; committee chairmen, hospitality, Mrs. Karl Fenning; house, Miss Gertrude Van Hoesen; membership, Miss Bertha Swan; program, Mrs. Harris Baldwin, and publicity, Mrs. Basil Manly.

Mrs. Joseph A. Holmes, widow of the first director of the bureau of mines, has been added to the list of patrons and patronesses for the bureau Welfare association benefit at the National theater on May 18. Secretary Hubert Work has been added to the list of boxholders for the benefit.

Patrons and patronesses added to the list recently are Mr. E. W. Libbey, chief clerk Department of Commerce, and Mrs. Libbey, Dr. Clifton P. Clark, assistant chief coast guard, and Mrs. Clark, Capt. George E. Hair, assistant chief inspector Department of the Interior, and Mrs. Hair, and the following officials of the bureau of mines: Mr. F. M. Brewster, assistant chief petroleum engineer, and Mrs. Brewster, Mr. F. G. Tryon, chief in charge of coal and coke section, and Mrs. Tryon, Mr. S. B. Stone, chief publication section, and Mrs. Stone, and Mr. W. M. Weigel, mineral technologist, and Mrs. Weigel.

Benefit Card Party.

The card party for the benefit of the Humane Education society at the Willard hotel Friday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock will be one of the outstanding social events of the spring season. Mrs. Duncan U. Fletcher is chairman of the card party, and Mrs. Jesse Lee Webb, vice chairman.

Mrs. George Arthur Stanley, in charge of patrons and patronesses, assisted by Mrs. Jesse E. Lapham, submits the following distinguished list headed by Mrs. Coolidge, Mrs. Dawes and Mrs. Taft.

Senora de Alfara, Baroness von Below, Princess Cantacuzene, Mrs. Dwight F. Davis, Mrs. John G. Sargent, Mrs. Harry S. New, Mrs. William Jardine, Mrs. James J. Davis, Mrs. J. Butler Wright, Mrs. Joseph C. Grew, Mrs. Leland Harrison, Mrs. Harlan Fiske Stone, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Mrs. William J. Harris, Mrs. William M. Butler, Mrs. Porter H. Dale, Mrs. James Wadsworth, jr., Mrs. Charles S. Deneen, Mrs. A. T. Treadway, Mrs. Joseph J. Mansfield, Mrs. Carl R. Chindblom, Col. J. Franklin Bell, engineer commissioner of the District of Columbia; Mrs Frank B. Noyes, and the Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, bishop of Washington.

Mrs. George H. Gould, of New York; Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske, Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. George Arliss, Mrs. H. U. Kibbe, of New York; Mrs. Geoffrey G. Whitney, of Boston; Mrs. William M. Wright, Mrs. Mahlon Craig, Mrs. Laurence Halstead, Mrs. S. W. Stanley, Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, Admiral and Mrs. E. E. Hayden, Mrs. Edward W. Eberle, Mrs. Chester Wells, Mrs. Hayne Ellis, Mrs. Walter R. Gherardi, Mrs. Breckinridge Long, Mrs. Peter A. Drury, Mrs P. W. Pitt, Mrs. H. R. Young, Mrs. Robert J. Bates, Mrs. Clyde B. Aitcheson.

Mrs. E. G. Boerner, Mrs. W. Edward Hearn, Mrs. William F. Gude, Mrs. E. H. Stellwagen, Mrs. Alexander Britton, Mrs. Wade Ellis, Mrs. Ernest G. Walker, Mrs. Bates Warren, Mrs. Watson E. Coleman, Mrs. F. J. Battle, Mrs. Ruth Kuhlman, Mrs. J. D. Patten, Mrs. John Augustus McKinnon, Mrs. R. S. Pendexter, Mrs. A. P. Matthews, Mrs. Edgar T. Brown, Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins, Mrs. W. Wilson, Mrs. Bynum E. Hinton, Mrs. O. L. Haymire, Mrs. P. J. Hodgson, Mrs. M. B. DeMott.

Miss Carolyn La Mar, Mrs. Charles H. Gaylord, Mrs. Maybelle Connelly, Mrs. David S. Stanley, Mrs. J. E. Brewster, Mrs. C. L. Parsons, Mrs. Clyde B. Parker, Miss Gwendolyn Shaw, Mrs. G. U. Morris, Mrs. H. D. Smith, Mrs. L. L. Dietrich, Mrs. Roman Lawyer, Mrs. William I. Denning, Mrs. Edson W. Briggs, Mrs. Charles Dickson-Hallencreutz, Mrs. A. F. Brewster, Mrs. David N. Houston, Mrs. Charles F. Denley, Mrs. Clarence J. Owens, Mrs. William B. Thomas, Mrs. John D. Patten, Mrs. Lulu S. Fluckey, Mrs. John L. Clem, Mrs. J. B. Dennis.

Mrs. Woolsey Aspinwall, Mrs. Jerome Lightfoot, Mrs. Webb E. Hayes, Mrs. J. P. Wade, Mrs. Charles N. Joyce, Mrs. Theodore Tiller, Mrs. C. F. Norment, Mrs. W. W. McLaine, Mrs. C. V. Riley, Mrs. W. G. Schaufler, Mrs. James J. Jones, Mrs. J. Skinner, Miss Louise Stengle, Mrs. Thomas W. Sidwell, Mrs. Merrill Stanley, Mrs. William S. Minnix, Mrs. Arthur E. Dowell, Mrs. W. W. Bill, Mrs. J. B. Torbert, Mrs. Kenneth J. Frye, Mrs. J. H. Fishback, Miss Agnes Miller, Mrs. Grant S. Barnhart, Mrs. Stanley Merrill, Miss Marie Allen.

Mrs. Thomas Daniel Robertson, Mrs. Henry H. Glassie, Miss Mary Lawrence, Mrs. Townsend Cocks, Mrs. Herbert W. Elmore, Mrs. Frank K. Greene, Mrs. Howard F. Strine, Mrs. Henry Churchill Cook, Mrs. Le Gage Pratt, Mrs. Harold L. George, Mrs. W. W. Spaid, Mrs. C. V. Wheeler, Mrs. Wrisley Brown, Mrs. Alexander Mackay-Smith, Mrs. Godfrey Lowell Cabot, Mrs. Cary Grayson, Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, Mrs. Wilton J. Lambert, Miss Margaret Reynolds, Miss Catherine Reynolds, Mrs. John L. Newbold, Mrs. Milton M. Elliott, Mrs. William L. Radcliffe, Mrs. A. Pembroke Thom, Mrs. McCalla Sands, Miss Mabel Boardman.

Miss Flora Wilson, Mrs. Walter Stilson Hutchins, Mrs. Paul S. Pearsall, Mrs. Charles Boughton Wood, Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins, Mrs. Charles J. Bell, Dr. John B. Fraser, Mrs. M. E. Woodward, Miss M. A. Peet, Mrs. Jessie Oelricks.

Mrs. Robert J. Bates, assisted by Mrs. E. G. Boerner, Miss Suette Trough and Mrs. Charles Cyphers, has charge of the home-made cake and candy.

Miss Louise C. Worden, chairman of prizes, assisted by Mrs. G. A. Stanley, has a very attractive list of prizes which have been donated by merchants, among them being silver, cut glass and linen pieces.

Spring Card Party.

The spring card party for the benefit of Georgetown University hospital will be held May 25 at 2 p. m. at Wardman Park hotel.

The benefit is under the auspices of the ladies' board, the offiers of which, with committees of its members working for the success of the entertainment, are Mrs. Nellie Fealy and Mrs. Isaac Gans, honorary presidents; president, Mrs. Harry V. Haynes; vice president, Mrs. Milton E. Ailes, Mrs. M. E. Donahue, Miss Minnie E. Carroll, Mrs. Frank E. Duehring, Mrs. Andrew J. McIntyre, Mrs. Joseph P. Madigan, Mrs. John O. Donoghue, Mrs. M. J. Ready, Mrs. Henry Sohon, and Mrs. George Tully Vaughan; corresponding secretary, Miss Mary E. Kelliher; recording secretary, Mrs. Howard F. Strine; treasurer, Mrs. George T. Parker; chairman of arrangements for the card party, Miss Carroll; ticket committee, Mrs. Haynes, Mrs. Ailes, Miss Kelliher, and Mrs. T. J. Saffell.

Table committee, Mrs. Isaac Gans, Mrs. John O'Donoghue, Mrs. Jeremiah Donovan; prize committee, Mrs. M. J. Ready, Mrs. Frank Ready, Mrs. Andrew J. McIntyre; tallies committee, Mrs. T. Brown; candy committee, Mrs. J. Madigan, Mrs. William Lally, Mrs. L. Martell, Mrs. H. Sohon, Mrs. F. E. Duehring, Mrs. P. Wilmer, Mrs. G. T. Vaughan; press committee, Mrs. Nellie Fealy, Mrs. H. R. Gower.

MISS MARCELLA PALMER

Daughter of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Bruce Palmer, of 1849 Lamont street northwest. Miss Palmer, who attends Bryn Mawr, spends many of her week-ends here.

MRS. SAM. C. FIELD

Who was Miss Jacqueline Pryor, daughter of Mrs. F. Gerald Pryor, of 2011 Kalorama road northwest, before her marriage Wednesday.

Women's Club Tea.

The tea at the Women's City club this afternoon will be in honor of the newly elected officers and directors.

Mrs. William M. Jardine will be the guest of honor at the dinner of the business and professional section of the Women's City club Wednesday evening, at which Miss Florence Ward, of the Department of Agriculture, will be hostess and Miss Bertha Henderson will be speaker.

Among those wh ohave made reservations are Judge Mary O'Toole, Mrs. Grace Hays Riley, Miss Blanche L. Bowers, Miss Olive Beatty, Mrs. Walter Florence, Miss Jessie G. Lane, Dr. Helen M. Strong, Dr. A. Frances Foye, Mrs. Ada Mills Payne, Miss Barlow, Miss Etta Austin, Mrs. Ella McCristal, Miss Margaret Patch, Miss Florence C. Bell, Miss Harriet Cheney, Miss Louise E. Tomlin, Miss Sallie Turner, Miss Florence Treft, Miss Mary E. Black, Mrs. George King, jr., Mrs. H. C. Thompson, Miss Mae Stevenson, Mrs. M. A. Swift, Miss Lucy Watt, Miss Margaret Bayly, Miss Laura Louise Tracy, Miss Amy C. Leavitt, Miss Gertrude A. Bowdle and Miss Mary E. McKenney.

The friends of Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey will give a dinner Thursday evening at the Women's City club on the occasion of her birthday.

The members of the Maj. L'Enfant chapter, D. A. R., entertained at dinner Friday at the Hotel Grafton. Their guests were Mrs. Brosseau, president general, D. A. R.; Maj. and Mrs. Keough, Capt. Collins, Mr. Holmes, and Mr. Albert Johnson.

Members of the chapter present were: Mrs. Cornelia Potts, regent; Mr. Noble Newport Potts, Mrs. E. G. Wright, Miss H. E. Bliss, Mrs. H. I. Smith, Mrs. N. G. Darnall, Mrs. I. M. Smoot, Mrs. M. I. Fraser, Miss E. Allen, Miss L. E. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. William Imlay, Miss A. O. Tansill, Miss Mae McMichall, Miss M. A. Bloomfield, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Jarvis, Miss M. L. Parker, Mrs. M. W. Garth, Mrs. Higginson, Mrs. B. J. LaRoe, Mrs. Albert N. Baggs, and Mrs. Sterling Bockovin.

Washington Alumnae of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority will meet for tea at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Grace Dodge hotel.

Officers of the Washington Alumnae association for the coming year are Mrs. George W. Lipscomb, president, and Miss Helen Bliss, secretary-treasurer.

Brilliant Social Affair.

One of the brilliant affairs in the National Capital which was attended by many persons prominent in military, political and social circles

West Style Suggestions

The white waistcoat with The Cutaway is considered most correct although it may also be of matching material with the coat. There is no alternative for the wing collar.

Sidney West (Incorporated)

Here Comes the GROOM

And well-groomed he is, too, in his Cutaway selected in this specially appointed

Formalwear Room

The June wedding should be preceded by an inspection of the authoritatively correct apparel displayed here. Fitting with the superb standards apparent in all attire selected here is accomplished without the necessity of repeated try-ons.

The Cutaway Coat and Waistcoat	As Hand-Tailored by Stein-Bloch	Seventy-Five Dollars

Exclusively at

WEST MEN'S WEAR

Sidney West (Incorporated)

14th at G Street N.W.

Philipsborn 606 to 614 ELEVENTH ST.

Use Our Service For Safe Storage and Expert Repair.

A Clearing Collection of the Newest Silk Coats

—the Coat of the summer—in town or away.

Featuring a Group at

$65

One of which is pictured to the left—of Black Crepe; long, flowing cape, trimmed with monkey fur.

Other Silk Coats $15.00 to $125.00

Made up in—

Bengaline, Satin, Crepe, Faille and Senorita Silk.

Trimmed—

Ermine, Squirrel and Monkey Fur—or heavy fringe and embroidery.

The models are straight line, wrap effects—all Cape Coats with long and short sleeves.

THIRD FLOOR.

THE LOUVRE

1115 1117 F STREET

Arrived

—the latest edition of fashion—in

Frocks

—for street, sports and afternoon wear.

Paris inspiration—given expression by America's leading artists—portrayed in Crepe du Jour, Crepe Elizabeth, Crepe Siam, Crepe de Chine, Flowered Chiffon, Frost Faille—in the effective Pastel shades and Navy, Black and White.

Four grades are especially strong in variety and value—

$18.50 $29.50 $39.50 $49.50

Large Droopy Hats

—and small shapes as well, are featured at $10.50 $12.50 $15.00

Other Hats $7.95 to $29.50

Complete

Baby Grand Outfit

Including FREE Floor Lamp and Duet Bench

Terms $3 Per Week

FREE Floor Lamp Duet Bench

Mahogany Case--Colonial Design

$465

FULL VALUE ALLOWED FOR YOUR PRESENT UPRIGHT PIANO

We invite your critical inspection of these beautiful little Grand pianos. Compare them with Baby Grands selling at $150 to $200 more in price. Notice the charming design—play them and hear the sweet, mellow tone quality—try the action and touch which makes your fingers fairly caress the keys!

ARTHUR JORDAN PIANO COMPANY

Hails and Farewells of Society

was the banquet, installation and ball of the American War Veterans club Thursday evening at the Mayflower hotel. It was the initial function of this newly organized club of veterans who have served in the various wars and campaigns in which the United States has participated, and it was attended by several hundred people.

A reception was held in the Chinese room at 7:30 o'clock, and at 8 the guests entered the banquet room, where the entire assemblage joined in singing "America," and Mgr. C. F. Thomas pronounced the invocation. During the banquet selections were played by the United States Army orchestra and vocal solos sung by Miss Mary Frances Glenn, accompanied by Miss Mary E. Garrett.

The newly elected officers were then installed by Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant, United States marine corps. Lieut. Col. Fred Butterfield Ryons was installed as president; Lieut. Ralph A. Cusick, vice president; Lieut. Charles Riemer, secretary; Lieut. Howard S. Fisk, treasurer, who, with Madison L. Hill, Maj. Wallace Streater, Capt. C. C. Lowe, Lieut. Col. Ira F. Fravel and Maj. Roy E. Hughes, comprise the board of governors of the club. President Ryons was presented with a silver loving cup from the membership and a silver-mounted gavel.

Addresses were delivered by Senator Lawrence D. Tyson, of Tennessee, who commanded as major general the Thirtieth division, A. E. F.; the Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, bishop of Washington, and Rabbi Abram Simon. Judge Robert E. Mattingly, in an inspiring address, presented on behalf of the donor, whose name is withheld, a handsome silk American flag and a club flag, bearing a gold plate with the inscription "In loving memory of Call Me Henry Lansburgh." The program concluded with President Ryons introducing the guests of honor and the guests singing the "Star-Spangled Banner," led by Miss Glenn. The program was broadcast by station WRC, including the dance music. At 10:30 o'clock dancing began and continued until 2, with two orchestras alternating.

Those attending were: Senator and Mrs. Lawrence D. Tyson, of Tennessee; Representative and Mrs. Stewart H. Appleby, of New Jersey; Representative and Mrs. Morgan G. Sanders, of Texas; Representative and Mrs. J. J. McSwain, of South Carolina; Representative and Mrs. Clarence J. McLeod, of Michigan; Representative and Mrs. Henry R. Rathbone, of Illinois; Representative Zebulon Weaver, of North Carolina; Representative and Mrs. Arthur M. Free, of California; District Commissioner and Mrs. Cuno H. Rudolph, District Engineer Commissioner Col. J. Franklin Bell, U. S. A.; Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, director U. S. veterans' bureau, and Mrs. Hines; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant U. S. marine corp, and Mrs. Lejeune; Brig. Gen. S. D. Rockenbach, U. S. A., and Mrs. Rockenbach; Brig. Gen. Dumont, military attache French embassy.

Mr. David C. Winebrenner 3d, secretary of State of Maryland; the Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, D. D., bishop of Washington, lieutenant colonel general staff, U. S. A.; Monsignor C. F. Thomas, Rabbi Abram Simon, Mrs. Margaret N. McCluer, national president, American War Mothers; Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau, president general, D. A. R.; Mr. Fred Stover, national commander-in-chief Veterans of Foreign Wars; Judge Robert E. Mattingly and Mrs. Mattingly, Judge Issac R. Hitt, Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent Metropolitan police; Mrs. La Salle Corbell Pickett, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Gans, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Seibold, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lansburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen Spiller, sr., of Boston, Mass.; Maj. and Mrs. Frederic William Wile, Maj. Chauncey O. Howard, national commander Army and Navy union; Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Amos A. Fries, Maj. and Mrs. Kenneth Lord, Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. George D. Trible.

Mrs. Amory Perkins, Mrs. Theodore Douglas Robinson, wife of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and Charles E. Perkins at a recent horse show in Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bernard, Lieut. Walter H. Kilbourne, Miss Mary Frances Glenn, Capt. and Mrs. Kenneth A. McRae, Maj. Chauncey O. Howard, Miss Mary E. Garrett, Mr. Frank J. Albus.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Grove, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pollock, Mr. William F. Albie, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Hunt, Mr. Wilbur Pickett, Miss Musa L. Wilson, Miss Amelia Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Madison L. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen L. De Burr, Gen. and Mrs. A. C. Dalton, Judge and Mrs. Doyle, Mr. and Mrs John J. Buckley.

Lieut. Ralph A. Cusick, Miss Virginia Dyer, Judge and Mrs. Charles V. Meehan, Maj. and Mrs. Wallace Streater, Col. Kyle Rucker, Lieut. Col. John Scott, Capt. James B. Golden.

Dr. and Mrs. George B. Trible, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Melborn, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson, Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. John C. Parham, Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. William L. Mann.

Lieut. and Mrs. Charles Riemer, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lansburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hites, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen Spiller.

Maj. and Mrs. Roy E. Hughes, Miss Pusey, Mr. McCarthy, Miss Cashell, Mr. Pusey.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gassaway, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Linthicum, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beall, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goldsmith, Mr. Frank Abbo, Mr. Isaac Brooks, and Mr. George Garnett.

Lieut. and Mrs. Edward A. Niel, jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. F. Kinsey Metzger, Lieut and Mrs. William Keller, Lieut. and Mrs. Henry W. Heine.

Maj. Charles William Freeman, Dr. and Mrs. Howard F. Strine, Lieut. H. W. Lucas, and Miss Edna Wallace.

Maj. and Mrs. Charles F. Burkhardt, Maj. and Mrs. William L. Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Morganston, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Selby, Mr. F. C. Baggarly, Miss Frances Carter Linfoot, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Ira F. Fravel, Mr. and Mrs. Colin H. Livingstone, Dr. D. P. Penhallow, Mrs. M. H. Penhallow, Miss Livingstone, Commander Wheeler, Mr. Kenneth Livingstone, Miss Hitchcock.

Mrs. La Salle Corbell Pickett, Maj. and Mrs. Gray, Dr. and Mrs. Howard F. Kane, Lieut. and Mrs. George E. Pickett 3d, Maj. and Mrs. Kenneth Lord, Capt. Frederick L. Stephens.

Lieut. and Mrs. Howard S. Fisk, Miss Katherine L. Fisk, Capt. and Mrs. Michael Driscoll, Miss Betty Hart, Judge and Mrs. Robert E. Joyce, Mr. L. B. Singley, Lieut. Carlton van Valkenburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Burleigh Milton, Mr. Charles H. Gerner, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome F. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Henry M. Spillan, Dr. Donald Henry Miller, Miss Cathryn Probey.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Werden, Mr. and Mrs., Thompson, Mr. Napoleon Beausoliel, Miss Campbell, Mrs. Emma Werden, Lieut. and Mrs. Happy Walker Hullinger, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Bradshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kendrick, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton van Valkenburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Grant Caskey, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ridelbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Seitz.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Morrisey, Mr. and Mrs. A. Clyde Connelly, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Callahan, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Edmonds, Mrs. Florence Long, Mr. William Shelton.

Mr. George L. McElroy, Mr. Reeze, Mr. Minish, Mr. Haines, Mr. Russell, Mr. Keefer, Mrs. Shackelford, Mr. Teney.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Dille, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ghiselli, Dr. and Mrs. Edward B. Horan, Mrs. Arthur Grant Cronan, Miss Kathryn Dille, Mr. E. J. Emmerich.

Col. Austin C. Waller, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis W. Handley, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ashbrook, Miss Gladys Wood, Capt. J. A. Langston, Miss Eleanor Waters, Dr. James A. Emery, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Spaid.

Maj. and Mrs. Thomas F. Fawcett, Maj. and Mrs. William H. Kyle, Mr. and Mrs. Nihion, Judge William S. Blackmon.

Capt. and Mrs. C. Theodore Schwegler, Mrs. Arthur W. Brock, Capt. and Mrs. C. Murray Moore, Miss Mabel Hunt, Capt. W. Rawitzer, Mr. Norman A. Deveney, Miss Ossett, Mr. Howard M. Johnson, Miss Nelie Harper, Mr. Rush S. Young, Miss Grace Webb.

Mr. Arthur A. Riemer, Mr. and Mrs. Pfieffer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Pointer.

Capt. James B. Golden, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Schaffer, Mrs. John R. Waller, sr., Capt. John R. Waller, Mrs. John R. Waller, Mrs. Thomas C. Lawler, Capt. Thomas C. Lawler, Maj. Maurice B. Lawler, Capt. Austin C. Waller, Miss Marion Ryder, Miss Isabelle Ryder.

Alabama Dance.

The reception and dance given by the Alabama State society Thursday evening at Meridian mansions proved to be an enjoyable affair.

The guests were received by the president of the society, Maj. John A. Elmore, and Mrs. Elmore, Representative E. B. Almon, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Rowe, Mr. Louis Moneyway, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Carter, Mr. I. Y. Bain, Mr. R. Lee Barnes, Maj. and Mrs. James F. Johnson, Mrs. John King Pickett and Mrs. Frank Conway.

In the absence of Representative William B. Bankhead, who was unavoidably detained, the president of the society, Maj. John A. Elmore, called on several members of the society for impromptu talks. Interstate Commerce Commissioner R. V. Taylor made an extemporaneous speech filled with wit, humor and pathos. Several vocal selections were sung by Mrs. Roland H. Rowe. Delightful refreshments were served.

Chicago Visitors.

Mrs. David Himmelblau and son, of Chicago, are passing two weeks with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mautner, of Adams Mill road.

Miss Sylvia Clark, of Baltimore, is the guest of Miss Jeanette Goldenberg.

Mrs. D. Kaufman has returned to her home in New York after several weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. Rosa Hammerslough.

Mrs. Isadore Grosner and Mrs. Pauline Eiseman have departed for Atlantic City for several weeks' stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kronheimer will be at home, 1764 Lanier place, on May 23 in honor of the confirmation of their son, Milton S. Kronheimer, jr.

Miss Ruth Franc has returned to New York after passing several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Franc.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Behrend have returned from Staunton, Va., where they visited their son, Mr. William Behrend, who attends school there.

The Council of Jewish Juniors will give a mother and daughter banquet at the City club tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kohner have returned from a fornight's stay at the Breakers, Atlantic City.

Mrs. Otto Wolf entertained the Thursday Afternoon Five Hundred club at her home in the Wilmington Thursday.

Mrs. Jerome Saks entertained a company of twelve at luncheon, bridge and mah jong at her home Wednesday.

Miss Esther Sherby, accompanied by Miss Julia Greenfield, of Atlanta, Ga., are here from Goucher college, Baltimore, to pass the week-end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sherby.

Capitol Society, Children of the American Revolution, of which Mrs. Henry Fenno Sawtelle is the sponsor, will entertain with their spring dance May 21 at L'Aiglon salon, from 9 to 1 o'clock.

Circulo Espanol of George Washington university entertained with their annual banquet at the Madrillon last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Revness returned Thursday on the Siboney after passing ten days in Cuba.

May 19 the parents of the members of the confirmation class of the Eighth Street temple will entertain with a dance at the community center for the members of the class.

Confirmation Services.

The confirmation services of the Eighth street temple will be held May 19, at 10 a. m. at the temple. Dr. Abram Simon assisted by Dr. Harry Krohnman will confirm the following: Deborah Mae Liebman, Vera Rieskin, Janette Naiman, Marjorie Hertzberg, Ruth Kohner, Janet Kohner, Hermine Wittgenstein, Vera Bean.

Marjorie Blumfeld, Amalie Frank, Sylvia Altman, Beady Mandell, Ruth Leon, Betty Baum, Rhoda Freedman, and Milton S. Kronheim, jr.

Emmanuel Schloss, Richard Hollander, Leo David, Walter Baum, Harold Levi, jr., Joseph Rosenthal, Arthur Lewis, Edwin Leventhal, Jerald Ullman, and Herbert Pasch.

Mrs. Andrew T. Smith entertained with a children's party from 4 to 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in honor of the seventh birthday anniversary of her son, Blackstone. Games and contests were the diversions of the afternoon.

The committee of Christ church, Washington parish, will give a card party for the Episcopal Home for the Aged Thursday at 8 o'clock at the Northeast Masonic temple.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Levy announce the confirmation of their son, Gilbert, yesterday morning at the Adath Israel Synagogue, at Sixth and I streets. The reception will be this evening from 7 until 10 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levy, at 69 New York avenue northwest.

Miss Jeanette Baer has returned from a ten days' visit with relatives in New York city.

Don't Forget:
that The Post's Classified Ad Pages open to you the resources of a whole city and its environs for the filling of your wants.

Vienna, Va.

Mrs. Cassius Lawrence entertained the members of the Fairfax county chapter D. A. R. at luncheon and for the May meeting Friday from 1 to 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Laurance M. Brown, of Washington, was a dinner guest of Mrs. S. C. Stuntz last Sunday.

Fourteen women formed a moth-

Wanted!
1,000 FUR COATS
FOR STORAGE

Special inducements NOW for immediate storage of your FUR coat. Insured against MOTH, FIRE or THEFT.

Special, $3.00 for the season.

Free Glazing

Drop us a postal or call Main 4530 and our wagon will call.

Bertram Cohn Co.
1235 G Street N.W.
Reliable Furriers Since 1916

KAPLOWITZ BROS.
INCORPORATED
721 NINTH STREET NORTHWEST
FOR TOMORROW ONLY
THREE HUNDRED
$29, $35, $40 BEAUTIFUL DRESSES
$17
EVERY MODEL IS A REPLICA OF THE FRENCH
SPECIALIZED MODELS FOR MADAME AND MADEMOISELLE
FOR SMART DAYTIME WEAR - STREET - SPORTS
SUMMER RESORTS - TRAVEL - COLLEGE - BUSINESS
THE COST OF THE BEAUTIFUL SILKS OR THE COST OF THE TAILORING EXCEEDS BY FAR THE SALE PRICE
A REMARKABLE BARGAIN OFFERING
EXTRA SALESWOMEN TO SERVE YOU

KAPLOWITZ BROS.
INCORPORATED
721 NINTH STREET NORTHWEST
FOR TOMORROW ONLY FIFTY
$89, $79, $69 BEAUTIFUL COATS
$48.00
PRICED, FOR TOMORROW, DECIDEDLY LOWER THAN THE ACTUAL COST TO MAKE LUXURIOUS FABRICS—TRIMMED WITH SUMMER'S SMARTEST FURS
COATS OF GREAT BEAUTY
FOR DRESS - SPORTS - TRAVEL
A REMARKABLE BARGAIN OFFERING
SPECIALIZED MODELS FOR MADAME AND MADEMOISELLE
EXTRA SALESWOMEN TO SERVE YOU
STORE OPENS 8:30 A. M

NISLEY'S
Beautiful Shoes

WHITE

"Senior"

THROUGH the portals of knowledge comes now the "Senior" to match her poise, grace and loveliness with the World. We are speaking of both the girl and the shoe. They were made for each other.

Seventy Styles $5
SIZES 2½ TO 9 AAA TO B
1339 F STREET, N. W.

STEVENS
1113 G STREET
A Noteworthy Sale of Spring Frocks
OF THE BETTER GRADE
Selected From Our Stock of $16.75 and $19.75 Models

And Offered at $14.75

Every type of silk daytime frock is here, either satin, flat crepe, flat prints or georgettes. There are simply-styled straightline types that have much of pleating and tailored trimmings. Others are more elaborately styled and dressier for afternoon occasions. Bright shades and dark shades for the miss or her well-dressed mother.

Attend this big dress sale Monday, if you find a dress or two that suits your fancy it will be our pleasure to open an account with you.

Beginning tomorrow
A "WIZARD" FOOT EXPERT
TO SERVE YOU

And a Greater Service For Mistreated Feet!

Demonstration Week—May 10th to 15th, Inclusive

The "Family's" enlarged
FOOT SERVICE DEPARTMENT
"Where Fashion Meets Comfort"

Opening Tomorrow

For over 53 years, Foot Comfort Department has been a big issue with the "Family." From now on it becomes a greater factor than ever!

We've just installed the "Last Word" in making EXACT fitting an absolute CERTAINTY! And refurnished the entire department, with cozy wicker armchairs, magazines and tables! Add to that, Washington's largest stock of Comfort shoes and Wizard foot appliances—and FOUR licensed Foot Relief experts to fit and advise you. Result—The one restful spot in this busy town where you will find perfect comfort for your feet, and perfect relaxation while being fitted.

Foot X-Ray Machines—

Wizard Foot Expert

To mark the opening of this enlarged department we've arranged to have the "Wizard" Foot Relief expert here to advise, without charge, anyone suffering from foot troubles. If your feet need it he will give you a

Test Fitting

of Wizard Arch builders that will bring you prompt and LASTING relief! There is no inconvenience—and absolutely no obligation! Don't let anything keep you away TOMORROW!

Warm Weather Comfort Oxfords, and Strap Slippers, $3 to $3.50

Family SHOE STORE
310-312 SEVENTH ST. N.W.

Our New X-Ray Machine Takes the "X" Out of Shoe Fitting

Over 50 Years of Satisfactory Service

The "Family's" enlarged
FOOT SERVICE
Department Presents

A "Family Arch Support" model, smartly styled in patent leather, Black Satin or Black kid. AAA to E wide. $6.50

"Slender Foot Arch Fitter" graceful opera pump. Soft Black kidskin, patent or satin. AAAA to E widths. $9.00

"Slender Foot Arch Fitter" model in which we can fit any woman in Washington. Sizes, 2½ to 11, AAAA to EE widths, in 4 materials. $8.50

"Grover Foot Arch" black kid oxfords are as good looking as they are comfortable! Black kid, AAA to EE widths. $9.00

"Grover Foot Arch" 3-strap pump combining beauty with blissful comfort! Patent, black kid or tan calf. AAA to E wide. $10

Family Shoe Store
310-312 7th St.

What is Interesting Your Neighbors

ers' club at the graded school building Friday. A May festival and patrons' day will be celebrated next week.

Mrs. L. V. Schermerhorn entertained the executive board of the Missionary society at the manse Friday afternoon.

Miss Winifred Scott and Miss Helen Scott, of Falls Church, passed the week-end with Miss Anne Stuntz.

Mrs. A. B. Barringer was chairman of a rummage sale Tuesday for the benefit of the Presbyterian aid.

Mrs. Robert McNaught and the Misses McNaught departed Monday for Los Angeles.

Mrs. Alfred Matthews, of Washington, is a guest of her mother, Mrs. Alonzo Commins.

Miss Elsie Keneaster has returned to the city after passing some time with Mrs. John Hunter.

Mr. Charles Babcock will return this week from the Northern and middle Western States, where he accompanied the South American journalists.

Mr. and Mrs. Pettit have taken possession of their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Freeman attended the Shenandoah apple blossom festival last week. Others in their party were Mrs. Alfred Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Lovell Jeffries and Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, of Washington, is visiting friends here before departing for California, where she will make her home with her sister, Mrs. Willis Dixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Chilcott, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Huddleson, Mr. and Mrs. Fink and Mrs. McClellen toured the valley of Virginia last Sunday, going as far as Newmarket.

Arlington County

Miss Frances Chapman, of Clarendon, has as her guest Miss Rose Mason Brannon, of Kentucky.

Miss Frances Chapman, of Clarendon, accompanied by Miss Rose Mason Brannon, were the week-end guests of Miss Chapman's nephew, Ensign T. Chapman Southerland, at Annapolis, Md.

Mrs. Clara L. Nevins returned Tuesday after a ten-day motor trip through Pennsylvania and New York.

Capt. and Mrs. Mechling, McLean, departed last Saturday and passed Sunday at the United States Military Academy, West Point, with their son, Mr. Edward Mechling.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smythe Wallis, of Cherrydale, entertained Sunday at dinner Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wilson and their son, Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas, of Cherrydale, have as their guest Mrs. Thomas' mother, Mrs. L. Schlicting, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. Paul Bischoff, of Cherrydale, was hostess Wednesday to the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist Protestant church.

Mrs. E. E. Naylor, Mrs. Eugene Moreland, and Miss Mary Balster will leave tomorrow for Roanoke, Va., where they will attend the meeting of the grand chapter of the O. E. S.

The Rev. P. E. Gatlin, pastor of the Cherrydale Baptist church, has returned from Birmingham, Ala.

Mrs. George Ricker, of Fort Myer Heights, entertained at luncheon and cards at her home Thursday. Among her guests were Mrs. Harry Angelo, Mrs. Fred Eaton Per Lee, Mrs. A. C. Clements, Mrs. Frederick C. Appleton, Mrs. Luther Smith, Mrs. Samuel G. Warner, Mrs. Leary, Mrs. George Ricker, jr., Mrs. Winter Kenderick, Mrs. Edgar Stanley Shawen, and Mrs. Hutcheon.

Mrs. E. Scrivener, of Ballston, entertained at luncheon Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clifford and family, of Baltimore, were the guests of Mr. Clifford's mother, Mrs. Hannah Clifford, and his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Utterback, of Veitch.

MISS THEODORA CATALANI
Who has been spending the winter in Washington with Mrs. Henry F. Dimock.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Barrett entertained their daughter, Mrs. Annie Alsop; Mrs. Mamie Franks and Mrs. Bertha Johnson Tuesday at their home in Ballston.

Miss H. Pumphrey and Miss Gladis Swecker, of Clarendon, were hosts at a shower given to Mrs. H. L. Maycock May 1 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Frank Snyder. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. S. Shaffer, Mrs. Mannie Harrell, Mrs. J. Maycock, Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. King, Mr. and Mrs. R. Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brennan, Mr. J. Kidwell, Miss Evelyn Johnson, Miss Catherine Kidwell, Miss Edna Ford, Mr. Gilbert Gorman, Mr. Henry Woods, Mrs. Catherine Bracket, Miss Margaret Bracket, Mrs. Charles Grady, Miss Agnes McNee, Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler, Miss Laura Schuyler, Mrs. M. L. Middlesworth, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Samuel Krigbaum, Miss Jane Krigbaum, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Portis and Mr. and Mrs. A. Frank Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Dugan, of Clarendon, entertained Wednesday evening. Among their guests were Mrs. Mary C. Gillen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Batch, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Dolan, jr., and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hendley.

Miss Katherine Parker, of Cherrydale, entertained at a dance on Friday evening.

Mrs. Julia Dunlap, of Cherrydale, has returned from Florida.

Dr. George Waldo, who has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. Lydia Lockling, of Maywood, departed Monday for his home in Winter Haven, Fla.

Mrs. J. Harry Wagner and little daughter, Sarah, of Cherrydale, are the guests of Mrs. Wagner's home in Fairfax, S. C.

Mrs. Elmer Hooper entertained the Afternoon Bridge club Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Cogswell and her daughter, Mrs. Schutts, have returned from Ohio.

The Rev. C. B. Sparks, rector of Epiphany church, left Sunday for a motor trip to Texas, where he will be the guest of his father and brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Waddell, of Cherrydale, entertained the Dominion Heights Five Hundred club Tuesday.

Mrs. Nelson Parker entertained at bridge on Thursday afternoon in Cherrydale.

Mrs. Cleve Topley and Mrs. Lyman Moore will depart tomorrow for a motor trip to Roanoke, Va., where they will attend the grand chapter meeting of the O. E. S.

Mr. Carroll Smith, of Cherrydale, departed for New York Monday to sail to London, England.

Mrs. Amelia Reed, of Arlington, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Charles Munson, departed Monday for Braddock, Md.

Mrs. McCaffray and Miss De Lashmutt departed May 1 for Martinsburg, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Church, of Falls Church, after passing the winter at St. Augustine, Fla., returned Wednesday.

Mrs. J. W. Kerns will represent the Rebekah lodge, No. 44, of Falls Church at the annual meeting to be held at Lynchburg Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Rich, of Fort Myer Heights, had as their dinner guests Sunday Mrs. Carey Hobson, and Mrs. Ada Green, of Washington.

Mrs. Mattie Bause with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kirkpatrick will depart Thursday for Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Martin, of Thrifton, have as their guest Mrs. Martin's brother, M. D. Keller, of Ratoon, N. Mex.

Potomac.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Beck recently celebrated the twelfth anniversary of their marriage with a party and were assisted by Mrs. Beck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wood, and her sister, Mrs. V. H. Eheart, of Alexandria. Other guests from Alexandria were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Leake, Mrs. Mabel Allensworth, Mrs. W. S. Wood, Mrs. H. Hutcherson, Miss Etta Wood, Miss Dorothy Wood, Miss Elizabeth Wood, Miss Beulah Fogg, Miss Lula Bibb, Miss Catherine Whitlock, Miss Dorothy Lyles, Miss Louise Eheart, Miss Dorothy Franklin, Mr. V. H. Eheart, Mr. Everett Wood, Mr. Wilson Davis and Mr. Emmett Purvis; Mr. Richard Catts, of Washington; Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. J. C. Ellis, Miss Nellie Michelbach, Miss Irene Michelbach, Mr. William Chase and Mr. James Chase.

Mrs. R. J. Yates and Mrs. M. B. Hasseltine are the guests of Mrs. William Best at Round Hill, Va.

Miss Mary Bell and Mr. Francis Keys, of Joplin, Va., were the guests last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cato.

Mrs. Jones, of Marshall, Va., and Miss Lula Bohannon, of Criglersville, Va., are the guests of Mrs. Benjamin F. Skinner.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Davison returned from a week's motor trip to Winchester to attend the apple blossom festival and to Roanoke, Va.

Mr. A. J. Kincheloe and his daughter, Miss Lucy Kincheloe, are the guests for an indefinite time of Mr. Kincheloe's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Owen L. Keys.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Wagner, of Washington, were the guests the last week of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McCrehan.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wade have returned from Clearwater, Fla., where they passed the winter.

Battery Park and Edgemoor

Mrs. E. H. Hartnett, wife of Col. Hartnett, entertained at a bridge luncheon last week at her home in Battery Park.

Dr. E. F. Kohman left last week for a trip through the West.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bondy, of Edgemoor, entertained at cards Thursday evening.

Miss Louise Davidson gave a bridge party Friday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bradley Davidson.

Mr. John Leonard, of Harrisburg and Wayne, Pa., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harrison R. Hathaway.

Mrs. J. R. Crutchfield had a table at the Congressional Country club for the Wednesday bridge luncheon. Her guests were Mrs. J. B. Bennet, Mrs. Harrison R. Hathaway, and Mrs. Orville B. Drown.

Mrs. Walter K. Bachrach passed last week in New York.

The guests at Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Morgan's dinner at Dower house were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Adams, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Walcott, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bachrach, Mr. and Mrs. George V. Triplett, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Orville B. Drown, Mr. and Mrs. William Bride, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Crutchfield.

Mr. Denny Wright, of Jacksonville, Fla., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Crutchfield.

Prince Georges County

The Four Square class, Wilson Avenue Baptist church, Colmar Manor, held its regular business meeting at the home of Mrs. Carl Johenning.

Mrs. William Wendell, Cottage City, entertained at cards Thursday evening.

The home department of the Wilson Avenue Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Frank Dare, Colmar Manor, Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Richards and two daughters, Miss Gertrude and Miss Grace Richards, San Diego, Calif., are visiting Mrs. Richards' parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Padgett, Colmar Manor. Mr. Richards is a lieutenant in the navy and has been recently transferred from California to Belleview, Va.

Mrs. H. Craig, Colmar Manor, will entertain in the senior B. Y. P. U. Friday night

The rector's aid of Pinkney Memorial church, Hyattsville, has elected these officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Frank S. Hinrichs, Riverdale; vice president, Mrs. Franklin G. Tingley, Hyattsville; secretary, Mrs. H. B. Mayhew, Hyattsville, and treasurer, Mrs. Edward G. Bucklin, Hyattsville.

The Rev. Henry L. Durrant, recently named rector of St. Matthew's parish, Prince Georges county, will conduct service this morning at Pinkney Memorial church, Hyattsville. This evening Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, bishop of Washington, will confirm a class in Pinkney Memorial.

The Study club of Lanham, Prince Georges county, met with Mrs. Eben Toole. The latter was assisted by Mrs. A. Burch Fitzsimons and Miss Ella Gibbons. Luncheon followed a business session. Mrs. C. G. Woodhouse, domestic economist, Department of Agriculture, talked on budgets. Mrs. H. Stewart, Mrs. L. P. Robertson, and Mrs. C. L. Howser were named delegates to the annual meeting of the Prince Georges County Federation of Women's Clubs.

Town Councilman Louis Rosenfield, Mount Rainier, is on an extended trip through southern Virginia and North Carolina.

Mrs. L. J. Blandy, of Mount Rainier, a daughter of the 1812 society, entertained her friend, Mrs. Ethel McCallam, at the recent reception in the Willard hotel, Washington, upon the occasion of the convention of the National United Daughters of 1812.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Aikin, Mount Rainier, have returned after a trip to Ohio. The trip was taken because of the serious illness of Mrs. Aikin's mother. The latter is recovering.

Mrs. Lillian Hoge, Mount Rainier, entertained a large company of Adah chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, last week.

Mr. J. W. Adams, Mount Rainier, after an extensive trip in the service of the Federal government, has returned.

Mrs. Marie K. Tovey, of Mount Rainier, is receiving congratulations upon having completed her first year's service as grand worthy matron of the Eastern Star of Maryland.

Mr. D. Del Vecchio and family, Washington-Baltimore boulevard, have removed to Washington. Mr. Del Vecchio has traded his Riverdale property for a home in Sixteenth street, Washington.

Mrs. David A. Reed, formerly of Riverdale, now residing at Gap, Pa., visited among old friends during the past week. She was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Gaither, Riverdale.

Mrs. Edwin C. Norris, Riverdale, is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. C. Wolf, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Edgar Long, Hyattsville, entertained at a bridge luncheon Wednesday in honor of her house guest, Miss Minnie Wyman, Boonsboro, Ind. The home was tastefully decorated with spring flowers.

A play for the benefit of St. Barnabas' church, Oxon Hill, will be given in the parish hall at that place Friday night. A dialogue, "Hanging Out the Wash," by Miss Evelyn Thompson and Miss Louise Middleton, will procede the main performance.

A card party for the benefit of St. Jerome's Catholic church, Hyattsville, is scheduled for Wednesday evening in the new church hall.

Mrs. John D. Howard, Hyattsville, has returned from a two months' visit to relatives and friends in New Mexico and Chicago.

Mr. W. D. Morris, Goldsboro, N. C., deputy sheriff of Wayne county, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Anglin, Washington-Baltimore boulevard, Hyattsville.

Mrs. M. B. Stickley and daughter, Kensington, Montgomery county, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Reese Cover, Elkton, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Dawson, Germantown, Md., were guests of the Rev. and Mrs. G. R. Mays, Laurel, during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Caplan and son, Laurel, passed the week-end with friends in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Theodore Sakers, who has been in Baltimore for a few weeks, returned to her home in Laural Saturday.

Tuesday Mrs. Fred W. H. Brandt, Laurel, entertained at luncheon and cards in compliment to Mrs. Frances Hargy, who sails for her home in Panama.

Mrs. Frank G. Addison, Maple Shade, Collington, Prince Georges county, was the guest of Miss Ella Stanley, Laurel, during the last week.

Mr. Thomas Israel, Laurel, who has been absent in Miami, Fla., for the past few months, has returned to his home.

Miss Marian Lynnmyer, Brooklyn, N. Y., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Richard Gough, Laurel.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cutler, Laurel, have returned from a visit to friends and relatives in Salisbury, Md.

Miss Eva DeCourse, formerly of Laurel, and Mr. Thomas L. Ray, Catonsville, Baltimore county, Md., were married Wednesday night by the Rev. George Parker at his home in Laurel.

Rockville

In celebration of her ninth birthday anniversary Miss Helen Elizabeth Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford L. Howard, entertained 24 of her Rockville friends at her home here a few afternoons ago.

Mrs. Cluskey Cromwell, of Chicago, is visiting Mrs. Julian W.

Special Prices

—on REPAIRING and RELINING orders—to keep our expert furriers occupied. It'll pay you to send furs that need such attention to us, now.

Our Dry Cold Storage

—assures your furs 100% protection at a Moderate Charge.

Saks Fur Co.

Furs Exclusively for Over 35 Years

610 Twelfth——Just above F——Phone Main 1647

WASHINGTON'S LEADING FLORIST

Don't Forget Mother—

Today is "Mother's Day." "Say it with Gude's Flowers"—and you have conveyed a message which she will eagerly accept and understand.

GUDE BROS. CO.
Two Stores for Your Convenience
1212 F St. N.W. Main 4278
1102 Conn. Ave. Main 1102
Member of Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association

H. Zirkin & Sons
Incorporated

tomorrow - - - - - - -

Our Entire Stock
of Cloth COATS go on sale at HALF PRICE

Every coat in our store has been included—every conceivable quality fabric that is fashion-favored is in the collection. EVERY WRAP FEATURES ZIRKIN QUALITY TAILORING. Take advantage of this unusual reduction!

two examples of the Reductions
Every $60 COAT is now marked $30
Every $79.50 COAT is marked $39.75

1/2 PRICE
Alterations at Actual COST

Others at the Same Reduction

Special Values in
DRESSES
Every new smart effect, all the loveliest shades and materials. A glorious collection at..... $25
16 to 44

H. ZIRKIN & SONS, Inc., 821 14th Street

GOWNS Breslau HATS
1309 G ST., N.W.

BARGAINS A PLENTY!
IN THIS Sale of DRESSES
$29.50 DRESSES
$24.75 DRESSES
$19.95 DRESSES
$15.00 DRESSES
$11.00

All from our regular stock. The newest light shades in Flat Crepes, Combinations of Georgettes and Printed Crepes. Straightline and two-piece models.
EVERY SIZE, FROM THE SMALLEST TO THE LARGEST SIZE. The values are most extraordinary, and come early for the best selection.

No Exchanges No Refunds

GOWNS Breslau HATS
1309 G ST., N.W.

ASTOUNDING VALUES!
75 NEW AND STYLISH
SPRING COATS
$49.50 COATS
$39.50 COATS
$29.50 COATS
$19.95

Twills, Poretsheen and Mannish Tweeds. Most of the twill coats have collars or edging of FUR. Conservative and novelty styles in Navy, Rose, Tan, Gray, Green and Copen Blue—and plenty of all sizes for the miss and the matron.

GOWNS Breslau HATS
1309 G ST., N.W.

CLOSING OUT OUR
Millinery Dept.
ANY HAT
IN THE STORE
$15, $10 and $5 VALUES
$2

Breslau's Friendly Shop, 1309 G St.

Jelleff's
A FASHION INSTITUTION
Paris Washington New York

These Are NEW Versions In Smartly Youthful
COATS

Silk with Kasha as now being chosen by fashionably correct women on Fifth Avenue.

Sketched—Black faille silk coat designed on straight lines with Kasha lining in either tan or white; collar of beige or natural squirrel. $39.50
Sketched—At Right—Black bengaline silk coat, natural Kasha lined; puffed sleeves, with self insets, corded side and back panels. $49.50

HERE'S a subtle "something" about JELLEFF coats which immediately places them above the ordinary level in the minds of smart women. Their exquisite fabrics, their clever styling, their custom-like tailoring, and their supreme individuality commend them to those who choose only the best. $39.50 to $95.00

JELLEFF'S—WOMEN'S COAT SHOPS—THIRD FLOOR

Keeping in Touch with the Suburbs

Whiting in Rockville. In her honlast evening.

Mrs. Wade Cochran, of Harrisonburg, Va., has been visiting Mrs. J. Somervell Dawson, near Rockville. or Mrs. Whiting entertained at cards

Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Wilson, of Baltimore, are in Rockville for the summer.

Mrs. Gilbert V. Hartley entertained at cards at her home in Rockville Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Eugene Scott, of Rockville, has been visiting her former home in southwest Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bodmer have returned to their home in Poolesville after a stay of several months in Washington.

Mrs. Allan Farquhar was the hostess at a tea at her home at Sandy Spring Wednesday afternoon.

"Why Smith Left Home," a comedy written by the Rev. John S. Cuddy, pastor of St. Martin's Catholic church, Gaithersburg, will be presented by the St. Martin players, of Gaithersburg, in St. Martin's auditorium, Gaithersburg, Tuesday evening.

The Rockville Woman's club was entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Josiah J. Hutton, at her home near Olney. Dr. Edwin S. Smith gave a talk, and Mrs. Edwin Fry, of Rockville, contributed a paper.

Mrs. Eugene B. Van Veen, of Washington, was the recent guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Larcombe, in Rockville, for a few days.

Mrs. William Mattingly and Mrs. James W. Darby, of Remington, Va., and Mrs. J. Dade Darby and son, of Oakland, Md., were recent guests of Mrs. Isaac S. Fyffe, at Poolesville.

Mrs. Elmer Weitzler and little son, of Woodsboro, Md., are visiting Mrs. Weitzler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oland, at Dickerson.

Miss Esther Ward, of Gaithersburg, is visiting Mrs. Edward Etchison at Pocomoke, Md.

Mrs. Estelle Biser, of Relay, Md., is the guest for a few days of Mrs. Margaret Ryan, at Hyattstown.

Mrs. Henry W. Morris, of Chicago, and Mrs. Charles W. Hills, of Washington, were recent visitors in the Sandy Spring neighborhood.

Mr. William R. Woodward, of Georgia, who recently received an appointment to West Point Military Academy, has been visiting his brother, Mr. Charles W. Woodward, at Poolesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Dowell Howard and son, of Winchester, Va., were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howard, at Brookeville.

Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, of Georgia, who recently made a world-wide tour under the auspices of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance union, is scheduled to speak at the Sandy Spring High school Tuesday afternoon and in the Methodist church at Kensington that evening.

Maj. and Mrs. Lewis W. Call recently had as their guest, at their home at Garrett Park, for a few days their daughter, Miss Eleanor Call, of Aberdeen, Md.

Alexandria

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Carlin, their guests, Mrs. Charles Edward Potts, of Richmond; Miss Ella Broders, Miss Sara Bayol and Mr. Charles C. Carlin, jr., motored to Winchester Tuesday.

Among the Alexandrians who motored to Winchester last week were Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Latane, the Rev. Percy L. Vernon, Mrs. Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Burke, Miss Virginia Schofield and Mrs. Harry Priest.

Mrs. R. H. C. Beverley will entertain at tea Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. William Jennings.

Miss Helen Chapman Calvert entertain at cards on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Gordon Asher entertained at bridge on Wednesday afternoon in honor of her house guests, Miss Marie Ansart, of New York, and Miss Alice Fuller, of England.

Miss Nellie Wattles is the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Alexander Lee, after having been in Europe the past eighteen months, part of the time in London with the Naval Attache of the American Embassy and Mrs. Herbert Fairfax Leary.

Miss Susan Leary was the hostess Thursday afternoon at the meeting of the bridge club of which she is a member.

Miss Mary Thomson entertained her bridge club on Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Clarke Dunn motored to Lexington the past week-end to see their son, Cadet Reid Dunn, at the Virginia Military institute, returning by Winchester and Crozet, at the latter place visiting Mrs. James H. Reid.

Mrs. Henry Chiswell, of Cleveland, Ohio, is the guest of her niece, Mrs. Douglas Lindsey.

Mrs. Clarence Chandlee Leadbeater, with her son, Master Milton Leadbeater, has returned from a visit to her mother, Mrs. Milton Alexander, in Lancaster, Pa.

Dr. and Mrs. Martin M. Delaney motored to Lexington the last week-end to visit their son, Martin Delaney, at the Virginia Military institute.

Mrs. William Cabell Trueman, of Richmond, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Sheppe son.

Miss Edith Snowden is spending several weeks at Palm Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Jean Carter Bagby has returned from Richmond, where she visited Mrs. Robert Thomas and Mrs. Julian Keith.

Miss Clara Moore left on Monday for Sandy Spring, Md., for the spring and early summer, going from there to the Catskill mountains for July and August.

Mrs. M. C. C. Peyton is the guest of Mrs. C. B. Spilman at her home in Culpeper.

Miss Emma Stringfellow left on Wednesday for Montgomery, Ala.

Miss Alys Lee Harding entertained at a tea Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Robert Douglas Keyser, of Luray, Va.

Miss Frances L. Barnhouse entertained at tea Sunday afternoon for Miss Helen Jacobs, of Chevy Chase.

Mrs. Oscar Baggett has returned from a six months' trip to Texas, Mexico and California.

Mrs. Edward Hoffner and little Jane Hoffner, of Collongsdale, Pa.,

MISS CECIL SMIDDY
Daughter of the Minister of the Irish Free State and Mrs. Timothy Smiddy.

are the guests of Mrs. W. C. Schoeppe.

Mr. Edward McCormick Green, of Washington, Va., was the guest last week of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. King.

Miss Hannah P. Chandlee, of Sandy Spring, Md., has been the guest the past week of Mrs. John Leadbeater.

Mrs. Nock, of Philadelphia, is the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Dilley, at the George Mason hotel.

Mrs. A. J. Pohl and two of her sons, Lieut. Herman H. Pohl, U. S. A., and Mr. Everett Pohl, are at Annapolis visiting another son, Midshipman Jack Pohl.

Herndon

Dr. Trostle left last week for West Virginia to get his family, whom he will bring with him upon his return in his automobile, and will arrive this week.

Mr. Florence and family have rented the Methodist Episcopal parsonage on Eldon street and will reside there for the present.

Mr. Willard Simonds, Mrs. Simonds and Miss Florence Simonds have removed to Berwyn, Md., to be near the University of Maryland, where Miss Simonds is in the junior class.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kendrick, of Falls Church, and their sons Cameron and Alton were recent guests of their sisters, Miss Mamie Crounse and Mrs. Jennie Bradway, at a dinner in honor of the birthday of Mr. Cameron Kendrick.

Miss Elisabeth Leonhardt, chief nurse in the navy, was a week-end guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Dr. North and Mrs. North, on Center street.

The Rev. J. Phelps Hand, district superintendent, and the Rev. Mr. McClay, the recently appointed minister to the M. E. church in Herndon, were dinner guests of the Rev. Paul C. Filly and Mrs. Filly Sunday.

The Fortnightly club and Library association met with Mrs. Frederick Ball Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Arthur H. Buell in the chair. A report from Mrs. Mary M. North, chairman of the board of trustees, was to the effect that the deed to the lot upon which the building for the library will be erected will be ready the middle of the month and funds for the new building will be solicited at once. The trustees are Mrs. Mary M. North, Mrs. P. Barnum Buell, Mrs. Russell A. Lynn, Miss Estelle Holden and Mrs. Frances G. Mooney.

Mrs. Virginia Chamblin, who is one of the vice presidents for the apple blossom festival in Winchester, attended in company with a number of others from this town.

Mrs. Charles G. Scherer entertained the Small Bridge club at her home this week, the members of which are Miss Matilda Decker, Mrs. George Buell, Mrs. Russell A. Lynn, Mrs. Silas F. Hutchison, Miss Edith Rogers, Mrs. Cassius M. Lawrence and Mrs. Edwin H. Mooney.

Mrs. Addie S. Lawrence was a visitor in Washington this week.

Kensington, Md.

Mrs. Lawrence Lewis, of Birmingham, Ala., arrived Monday to be the guest of her mother, Mrs. A. B. Bowie.

Mrs. Willard Warthen entertained at bridge Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. B. Van de Water, of Hempstead, Long Island, are the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Lamb.

Mr. Cuthbert Harrison has returned to his home in Clarksburg, W. Va., after passing some time with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lohm.

Capt. Leon L. Dye has returned after a trip to Atlanta and Parris Island, S. C.

Among those who attended the May party given at the Congressional Country club Friday night by the Women's Democratic club of Montgomery county were Senator and Mrs. Eugene Jones, Mrs. J. Frank Wilson, Mrs. James H. Adams, Mrs. W. Russell Briscoe, Mrs. William W. Skinner, Mrs. William Darby, Mrs. Frank Dyson, Mrs. Victor Haugaard, Miss Elizabeth Williams, Miss Irene Russell, Miss Barbara Dunlop, Miss Jean Skinner, Miss Emily Russell, Miss Julia Darby, Miss Frances Hickox, Miss Margaret Dunlop, Mr. and Mrs. Porter McKeever, Miss Hadassah Helen, Miss Emma Macgill, Mr. and Mrs. E. Prescott Abbe, Mr. Lloyd Hyatt, Mr. Charles Jones, Mr. Hale Darby, Mrs. Joseph Hellen, Lieut. Kenneth B. Chappell, Mr. Somerville Lohr, Mr. David Warthen, Lieut. Thomas C. Perrin, Mr. Galen McKeever, Mr. Edwin Ronsaville, Mr. Charles Darby, Mr. Alfred Noyes and Mr. William Darby.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Simpson entertained Friday for their daughter, Miss Winifred Simpson, in honor of her seventeenth birthday anniversary.

Miss Annie Wilson, director of art for the Washington schools, was the honor guest at a luncheon given Friday by the Woman's club at the home of the president, Mrs. Lewis Meriam.

Miss Alice Fuller departed for her home in Greenwich, Conn., Friday after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Brown.

Mr. George Graham, of Syracuse, who has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Graham, departed for his home Friday.

Mrs. A. Gilliland and her daughters have moved into their new home on Connecticut avenue, North Chevy Chase.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Rose entertained with a bridge party Friday evening.

Chevy Chase

Miss Marian Webb gave a shower Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Adair, in honor of Miss Clorice Livingston, daughter of Col. Colin Livingston, whose marriage will take place on May 19.

Miss Editor Mitchell entertained the members of her Sunday school class at her home last Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Eugene H. McLachlen will entertain the members of the Chevy Chase Community club at her home Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. White, of Philadelphia, Pa., who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Gruver have returned to their home.

The Chevy Chase circle of the Child Conservation league met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alfred Savage on Military road.

Mrs. Thomas Humes McDannel, of Pittsburgh, Pa., who has been here visiting friends has returned to her home.

Princess Alfred Hohenlohe who has been visiting friends at Charleston, S. C., will return to Chevy Chase today to continue her visit with her father, Mr. Alexander Britton.

Mr. James M. Moser will leave this week for Europe where he will spend several months, returning home in August.

Mrs. C. W. Schofield, of Jenifer street, entertained the members of the Y. W. C. A. at her home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Hulbert Bisselle and her daughter will depart in a couple of weeks for England where they will spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Walsh will return to their home Wednesday after spending a couple of weeks at Atlantic City, N. J.

Mrs. George Gravatt has returned to her home after visiting relatives at Roanoke, Va.

Mrs. Frank P. Wilcox has returned to her home after passing a couple of weeks visiting relatives in Wilmington, Del., and New York city.

Mrs. Ulric Mengert, of Philadelphia, Pa., who has been here visiting her mother, Mrs. M. Dillenback, has returned to her home.

Mrs. Charles Marsh entertained at luncheon followed by bridge at her home Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles E. Gallihar was hostess at a bridge luncheon at her home Wednesday.

Mrs. Harry L. McNulty, of New York city, will arrive this week for a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Burks.

Mrs. Daniel C. Chace will act as hostess at her home May 25 at 7:30 o'clock to the Chevy Chase Democratic club.

Mrs. Edwin A. Merritt and her daughter, Miss Virginia Merritt, are departing the last of next month for Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Colladay entertained at dinner Friday evening at the Congressional Country club.

The community dance was held at the Chevy Chase library Friday evening, the hostesses being Mrs. George W. Morey, Mrs. Eugene H. McLachlen and Mrs. E. R. Mueller.

Mrs. Pauline J. Boyd, who has been spending the winter with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Stemson, departed Monday for her home at Fall River, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bryan Leet entertained the members of their card club at their home Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Louis Griffith, of Philadelphia, Pa., is here visiting her nephew and niece, Judge and Mrs. Alexander R. Mullowny.

Mrs. Katherine Thomas who has been here for several weeks visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Judge and Mrs. Alexander R. Mullowny, has gone to Atlantic City, N. J., and from there will go to her home at Asbury Park, N. J.

The Chevy Chase Community club will hold its monthly meeting tomorrow.

Dr. and Mrs. William D. Tewksbury entertained at dinner at the Congressional Country club the past week.

The United Democratic Law Enforcement Clubs of Montgomery county held a meeting at the Montgomery County clubhouse in Rockville Monday evening at which time the following officers were elected

PERMANENT WAVE
(Eugene Method.)
Expert Operators
15 Curls, $10—Whole Head, $15 up.
Phone for Appointment.
Open 9:30 A. M. to 6 P. M.
MYRTLE PRICE
"Long May She Wave"
1418 Park Road N. W. Col. 927.

Jelleff's
A FASHION INSTITUTION
Paris Washington New York

Now is the Time to Store Your Furs

THE moths are already starting their deadly work—and compared with the cost of storage the loss of a fur or fur trimmed coat seems almost criminal extravagance.

If you will telephone Main 725, we shall be glad to give you full information and to call for your coat at once.

Remodeling and Repairing should be done before the coat is placed in storage. We are pleased to give estimates for this work. Fourth Floor.

Jelleff's
A FASHION INSTITUTION
Paris Washington New York

These Are the Fashionable
Sheer Crepe Gowns
Worn by The Smart Set for All Occasions
For Madame & Mademoiselle

For Madame—Dinner Gown in Roma with silver sash and uneven hem. Sizes 36 to 44. Green or black . . . $59.50

For Madame & Mademoiselle—Daytime Frock of Georgette in grey, tan, navy blue and beige. Grosgrain trimmed . . $39.50

THEIR subtle grace and marked individuality proclaim them inimitably JELLEFF'S. Their fresh newness and many unusual style features endear them to women who demand the best in apparel. A wonderfully large and interesting collection is ready.

$39.50 to $95

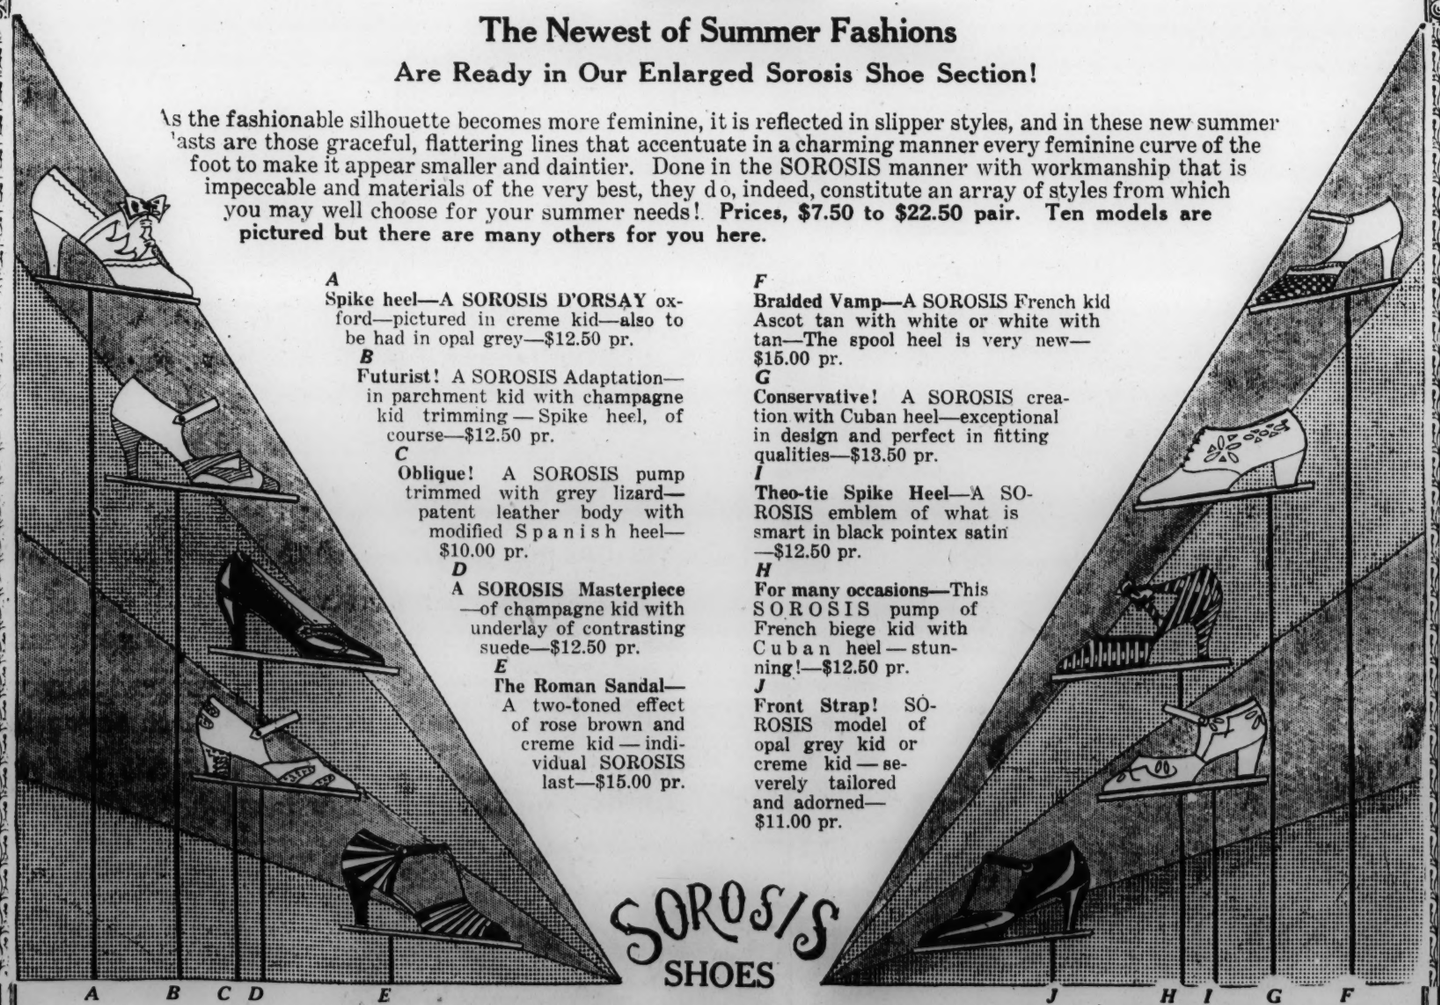

JELLEFF'S—WOMEN'S AND MISSES' DRESS SHOPS.

Cut-Out Styles—Costume Shades—Smart Reptilian Effects

SOROSIS SHOES

The Newest of Summer Fashions
Are Ready in Our Enlarged Sorosis Shoe Section!

As the fashionable silhouette becomes more feminine, it is reflected in slipper styles, and in these new summer lasts are those graceful, flattering lines that accentuate in a charming manner every feminine curve of the foot to make it appear smaller and daintier. Done in the SOROSIS manner with workmanship that is impeccable and materials of the very best, they do, indeed, constitute an array of styles from which you may well choose for your summer needs! Prices, $7.50 to $22.50 pair. Ten models are pictured but there are many others for you here.

A
Spike heel—A SOROSIS D'ORSAY oxford—pictured in creme kid—also to be had in opal grey—$12.50 pr.

B
Futurist! A SOROSIS Adaptation—in parchment kid with champagne kid trimming—Spike heel, of course—$12.50 pr.

C
Oblique! A SOROSIS pump trimmed with grey lizard—patent leather body with modified Spanish heel—$10.00 pr.

D
A SOROSIS Masterpiece—of champagne kid with underlay of contrasting suede—$12.50 pr.

E
The Roman Sandal—A two-toned effect of rose brown and creme kid—individual SOROSIS last—$15.00 pr.

F
Braided Vamp—A SOROSIS French kid Ascot tan with white or white with tan—The spool heel is very new—$15.00 pr.

G
Conservative! A SOROSIS creation with Cuban heel—exceptional in design and perfect in fitting qualities—$13.50 pr.

I
Theo-tie Spike Heel—A SO-ROSIS emblem of what is smart in black pointex satin—$12.50 pr.

H
For many occasions—This SOROSIS pump of French biege kid with Cuban heel—stunning!—$12.50 pr.

J
Front Strap! SOROSIS model of opal grey kid or creme kid—severely tailored and adorned—$11.00 pr.

The superior fitting qualities characteristic of Sorosis Shoes are achieved by the snug-fitting heels and the strong arches developed in the Sorosis factories.

The Sorosis Shop of Washington

Jelleff's
A FASHION INSTITUTION
Paris Washington New York

Visit Our Newly Enlarged Store!

What your Acquaintances are Doing for a year: President, Mrs. Daniel C. Chace; first vice president, Mrs. Frank Stone; second vice president, Miss Rose French; third vice president, Mrs. Betty Gassoway; fourth vice president, Miss Isobel Parr; fifth vice president, Mrs. Smith Hoyle; recording secretary, Mrs. Jessie Hunter; corresponding secretary, Miss Helen Pumphrey; treasurer, Miss Byrd Belt; chairman publicity, Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson; parliamentarian, Mrs. Peyton B. Whalen; auditor, Mrs. Arthur Hess; executive committee, Mrs. L. M. Cleveland, Miss Violet Magruder, Mrs. Morris K. Barroll, Mrs. Grace Huntington, Mrs. Rosie Riley, Miss Frances Ricketts, Mrs. Edson P. Weaver, Miss Daisy Higgins, Mrs. William F. Carter, Mrs. William E. Frederick, Mrs. Thomas R. Hall, Mrs. Arthur Williams, Mrs. Lawrence White, Mrs. John W. Walker, Mrs. Jed Gittings, Mrs. Arthur Myers, Mrs. Sallie B. Bogue, Mrs. R. Lee Pennington, and Miss Daisy Magruder. An advisory committee composed of five was to be named by the chairman, two of which she has already named, George H. Lamar, of Rockville, and Rosell E. Mitchell, of Chevy Chase. The purpose of this organization is the banding together of men and women who believe in the fundamental Democratic principles and in the enforcement of all laws.

Asheville, N. C.

Special to The Washington Post.

Asheville, N. C., May 8.—Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of directors of the Bethlehem Steel Co., and Mrs. Schwab spent the week at Grove Park inn. The steel magnate is a visitor each spring in Asheville and follows golf avidly. He was a daily player at the Asheville and Biltmore Forest County clubs. Mr. Schwab has considered making his home in Asheville during a part of each year.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Amherst Cecil at Biltmore house departed early in the week for the North. Among them were the Count and Countess G. H. Bougelon, of Paris; Senoritas Julie and Racquel Pueyrredon, daughters of the Argentine Ambassador in Washington; Mr. McCormick Goodheart and Mr. Harold Simms, of the British embassy in Washington. Senator and Mrs. Peter Goelet Gerry passed a few days in their recently completed home in Biltmore Forest while attending the second wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil.

Mr. Hudson D. Haynes, of Washington, is the house guest of his mother, Mrs. J. G. Waldrop, in Hendersonville.

The George Vanderbilt hotel is entertaining H. F. Lewis, D. B. Farthing, M. R. Carter and J. P. Henderson, of Washington.

Joining friends at the Langren recently were Mrs. Henry Davies, Mrs. L. D. Walker and Mrs. J. F. Temple, of Washington.

J. Walker Drake, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, returned to Washington early in the week after being the guest of Thomas Dixon, the writer, on a fishing trip near Mount Mitchell.

Annapolis

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., May 8.—Ensign Hammond J. Dugan, U. S. N. has returned to this city after passing several days in Baltimore with his mother, Mrs. Fredinand C. Dugan.

One of the largest and most important social events of a very brilliant week was the reception given Thursday night by Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, and his mother, Mrs. Albert Ritchie, in honor of the delegates to the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs in convention here.

The governor and his mother received in the old senate chamber of the State house. Mr. Joseph Pache and his choral society gave a musical program.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Fell left Annapolis Thursday en route to their summer home, "Sherbourne," Markham, Va. They expect to return to Annapolis in October. They were accompanied to "Sherbourne" by Dr. Fell's niece, Mrs. Dorothy Birtwell, of London, Eng.

Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. John Hale motored to Washington to attend the dinner dance at the Army-Navy club on Friday. Maj. Le Roy Reeves, U. S. A., entertained at dinner in their honor before the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Chattle Hopkins, of South River, announce the birth of a son Tuesday. The infant is a grandchild of Col. and Mrs. Harry J. Hopkins, of this city, and of Mr. and Mrs. Harrie Enoch, of Washington.

The Misses Feldmeyer have as their guest for a week Mrs. Ladd, wife of the late Senator Ladd, of Washington.

The Rt. Rev. John G. Murray, D. D., bishop of Maryland, and presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church, accompanied by Mrs. Murray, visited the Naval Academy Friday. During their stay they were guests of Chaplain Sydney K. Evans, being joined at dinner by Rear Admiral and Mrs. Louis M. Nulton and Capt. and Mrs. Sinclair Gannon.

The officers of the destroyer Humphries entertained at dinner Friday night in honor of Mrs. Clarence Vernon Fowler, Miss Corrinna Rest-Fenner Fowler and their house guest, Miss Margaret Stanborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Bigelow, jr., departed Saturday to pass a month on an automobile tour of the South. During their absence their house will be occupied by Rear Admiral and Mrs. Edward Simpson.

Mrs. Hinds, wife of Capt. Walton Hinds, U. S. N., has returned to Annapolis to remain until after June week. Mrs. Hinds is at the home of Mrs. Stuart Kearney.

Miss Betty Morris, daughter of Col. Morris, of Washington, passed the week-end here.

Capt. William D. Leahy, U. S. N., and Mrs. Leahy motored here from Washington.

Mrs. Sears, mother of Ensign Norman Sears and Midshipman H. E. Sears, has arrived from her home near Boston to pass several days in Annapolis.

Mrs. Jerry L. Smith Tuesday went to Washington. Wednesday Mrs. Smith will be guest of honor at a luncheon given at the Congressional club.

Mrs. Harold Barker, jr., has returned to Washington after passing several weeks here with her mother, Mrs. Elijah Williams.

Commander Frank W. Rockwell has again been assigned to duty in Annapolis. He and Mrs. Rockwell departed about two years ago for the West coast, Commander Rockwell having been ordered to duty on the Pacific.

Miss Julia Valiant and Miss Elizazeth Valiant, of Wardour, departed Tuesday for Washington to attend a party given in their honor by Miss Anne Scott at the Chevy Chase club.

Bring Us Your Old Hats!

Have them cleaned and blocked in the new Spring styles.

Complete Line of
NEW SPRING MATERIALS
For Making Your Own Hats

Ladies' Capital Hat Shop
508 11th St. Main 8322

MISS DOROTHY PATTON
Daughter of Mrs. Francis Mira Patton and the late Mr. Patton, whose wedding to Mr. Lloyd Raymond Sauer, of Chicago, will take place in the chapel of the Naval Academy, June 2.

COMMUNITY CENTERS

Mrs. R. J. Gray, community secretary of the Lovejoy center, has organized many athletic groups for the men and boys of the Northeast section of the city. Although the accommodations at the Lovejoy school do not meet the needs of the athletes of the community, so enthusiastic are the teams practicing under the leadership of Mr. J. Edward Whitaker in the center, that they have won many honors.

Mrs. Gray is also in charge of visual instruction of the schools in the divisions 10 to 13. She received the incentive for this line of work by studying the community center slide library during the several seasons when she arranged visual instruction programs for community centers.

Other activities fostered in the Lovejoy center by her include orchestral work for adults and youths, industrial art work for women and dramatics for children. In her club work she encourages training for good citizenship through splendid business meetings and through rules that the members are required to follow, one of them being that members shall be "of good standing in the community in which they live and of clean, moral character."

COLUMBIA HEIGHTS.

Mrs. I. E. Kebler, community secretary, Eleventh and Harvard streets northwest, in the Wilson Normal school.

Tomorrow, Orchestra practice, 8; first aid class of the Boy Scouts, 8; Dr. Lyman F. Kebler and his assistants will weigh, measure and confer with members of the reducing class, 7 to 9; the gymnasium class for weight reduction, 9; women's gymnasium class, featuring relaxing exercises for office workers, 8.

Thursday, Capital Athletic club, 7; The Washingtonians, 8; Orchestra practice, W. J. Oates, director, 8; French class, 8. Friday, rhythmic expression class, children's gymnasium class, dramatic class, 3:30; Boy Scouts, Troops 40 and 41, 7:30; basketry class, 7:30; Orchestra practice, 8.

Saturday, training class, playground directors, 9 a. m.

EAST WASHINGTON.

Mrs L. W. Hardy, general secretary, executive in charge, assisted by Mrs. E. Scott, in the Eastern High school, Seventeenth and East Capitol streets.

Tuesday, in the Hine Junior High school: The Washington Boys' Independent band, 7; basketry class, 7:30; Pleasure club, 8:30.

Wednesday, in the Eastern High school: Drill corps, Job's Daughters, 7; Drill corps, Bethlehem chapter, O. E. S., 8; Bryan-Buchanan Parent-Teacher association entertainment, 8.

Thursday, in the Eastern High school; Dressmaking and millinery classes, 7:30; Community dance, 8:30; National Capital Players, 7:30; B. B. Girls, 7; Community program, 8; girls' rhythm class, 7.

E. V. BROWN.

Mrs. Virginia P. Kane, community secretary, Connecticut avenue and McKinley street northwest.

Tomorrow—Coaching class in French, 3; beginners' class in French, 3:15; advanced class in French, 3:45; rehearsal for a French play, 3:30; piano classes, 3 and 3:45; violin class, 3.

Tuesday — Children's dramatic instruction, 3:15; library open, 2 to 5 p. m.

Thursday — Coaching class for children in French, 3; beginners' class in French, 3:15; rehearsal for French play, 3:30; advanced class in French, 3:45.

Friday—Library open, 7 to 9:30. The French classes will stage a demonstration of the work of the season and will present a French play. The rhythmic expression classes will cooperate with dance numbers, 3:15.

PARK VIEW.

Miss M. P. Burklin, community secretary, Warder and Newton streets northwest.

Tomorrow — Beginners' rhythm class, 3:15; beginners' violin class, 3:30.

Tuesday—Girl Scouts, 3:15; piano class, 3:15; public speaking class, 8; adults' basketry class, 8; Colonial orchestra practice, 7:30; bridge class, 8; Northern Midgets, 7:30; Departmental Players, 8.

Wednesday — Advanced rhythm class, 3:30; advanced violin class, 4.

Thursday — Girls' Camp Fire group, 3:30.

Friday—Children's game hour, clay modeling class, Boy Scouts, young people's dancing, 7:30.

PETWORTH

Mrs. G. W. Klare, community secretary, Eighth and Shepherd streets northwest.

Tuesday — Rhythmic expression classes, 3:15. Piano classes, advanced and beginners, 3:15 and 4.

Friday—Girls' play group, 7. Dramatic club, basketry class for adults and children, Girl Scout Troop, No. 21, Boy Scout Troop, No. 74, 7:30. Fourth of July celebration committee, 8.

SOUTHEAST

Mrs. M. W. Davis, community secretary, Seventh and C streets southeast, in the Hine Junior High school.

Tomorrow—The Southeast Public Speaking club, 8. Duckpin club, 8. Talk on pigeon raising by Mr. W. F. Dismer, president of the Columbia Heights Pigeon club. All adults and children interested in raising pigeons are invited to attend, 8.

Friday—Rhythm class, No. 1, 7; Rhythm class, No. 2, 7:45. Dramatic class, 8:30. Play group, 8. Pollyanna club, 8:30.

RESERVOIR

Mrs. N. J. Burr, community secretary, Conduit road, near Reservoir.

Tomorrow—Dramatic group, 3:15; basketry class, 3:15.

Wednesday — Story telling hour with industrial work, 3:15.

Thursday—Wood-working classes, slide lecture on Mexico, 3:15.

THOMSON.

Mrs. A. C. Driscoll, community secretary, Twelfth and L streets northwest.

Tomorrow—Beginners' class in French, 6; intermediate class in French, 7; advanced class in French, 8; Washington Choral society, 8.

Tuesday—Gregg dictation class, 7; Washington Opera company, 8; women's drill team, 8; bridge instruction class, 8.

Thursday—Gregg dictation class, 7; beginners' French class, 6:30; intermediate French class, 7:30; advanced French class, 8:30; children's rhythmic expression class, 3:15; slide lecture on the American Indian, 8.

Friday — The children's social dancing and singing class, 7:30; china painting class, 8; Mandolin and Guitar orchestra, 8; women's drill team, 8; Sea Scouts, 8.

Saturday—Classes in instrumental music, including piano, violin, saxophone, drum, cello, flute and clarinet, 9 to 12 a. m.

BIRNEY.

Miss Etta Johnson, community secretary, assisted by Mrs. Blanche Parks, Nichols avenue and Howard street southeast.

Tomorrow — Needlecraft club, 7:30; personal hygiene class, 8; Choral society, 8:30 to 10; Barry Farm Athletic club, 7:30 to 8:30; the Athletes, 8:30 to 10; Rialto Athletic club, 8:30 to 10; Hillsdale Citizens association, 8.

Friday—Industrial art group, 7:30; Boys' Whittling club, 7:30 to 9; Mystic Social club, 9 to 10; Birney Athletic club, 9 to 10; Rialto Athletic club, 9 to 10:15; Girls' Literary club, 7:30; the Athletes, 9 to 10:15; Boys and Girls' Music Study club, 8 to 9; Birney Melody orchestra, 9 to 10:30; Barry Farm Athletic club, 7:30 to 8:45.

BURVILLE.

Mrs. C. J. Knox, community secretary; Division avenue and Corcoran street northeast.

Tuesday—Music class for adults and children, 3:15; rehearsal of the groups for the operetta "Snow White," 3:15 to 5; Industrial Art club, 7:30; rehearsal of "Snow White," 7:30.

Saturday—"Snow White" rehearsal, 10 a. m.

DEANWOOD.

Whittingham and Lane places northeast.

Friday—The athletic carnival, 7:30; rehearsal for the cantata "The Wide World," 8.

CLEVELAND.

Miss Etta Johnson, community secretary; Eighth and T streets northwest.

Tomorrow—The music extension piano and violin classes, 3:15 to 5.

Tuesday—Stitch and Chatter Industrial Art club; lamp-shade making; millinery and dressmaking groups; saxophone orchestra; Amphion Glee club; flower-making instruction class; basketry class; Dramatic club, 7:30; Teachers' sorority, 8.

Wednesday — Music extension piano classes, 3:15 to 5.

Thursday—Stitch and Chatter industrial art group; millinery and dressmaking group; Georgia State club; Dramatic club, 7:30.

Friday—Girls' Friendship club, 4:30 to 6.

Saturday—Music extension piano classes for beginners, 10 a. m. to 12 m.

DUNBAR.

Mrs. C. J. Knox, community secretary; First and B streets northwest.

Thursday—Industrial art group; Simon commandery drill team, 7:30; Columbia lodge of Elks, 8; Camp Fire Girls, 6; Spanish class at 8.

MILITARY ROAD.

Miss Etta Johnson, community secretary. Military road, near Brightwood.

Thursday—Buzzing Bees Industrial Art club, 3:15. Brightwood Activity club; Brightwood Athletic club, 3:15. Social Service Dramatic club, 4:30 to 6:30.

LOVEJOY.

Mrs. R. J. Gray, community secretary. Twelfth and D streets, northeast.

Tomorrow—Art Petite Dramatic club; Arts and Crafts club; visual instruction program, 3:15.

Thursday—Basketry class; Junior Dennison class; game reading group; Manchester Athletic club; Community Athletic club; Togan Athletic club; Togan Junior Athletic club, 7:30.

Saturday—Class in rhythm, 10 to 12 a. m.; visual instruction program; Reg'lar Fellers; community athletics; Manchester Junior Athletic club; La Vida orchestra; Liberty Social club; Work-Play club; game and reading group; Dennison Art class, 8. The Lovejoy Basketball team, each school day, 3:15 to 5.

RANDALL.

Mrs. Gabrielle Pelham, executive in charge. First and I streets southwest.

Tuesday—Industrial Art group; Entre Nous Social club; Black Sox Athletic club; Senior Athletic club, 8. Randall Parent Teachers association, 8.

WEST WASHINGTON.

Mrs. Florence Neal, community secretary, Twenty-seventh and N streets northwest.

Tuesday — Home economics group; Criterion Social club; Dramatic club; Lincoln Athletic club; Georgetown Preps Athletic club; reed and basketry class; Georgetown Football club; Patriarchs Training school; First Brigade band, 8.

Saturday—Reg'lar Fellers Athletic club; Dramatic club; Georgetown Football club; stereopticon pictures; Progressive Girls; story telling group, 7:30. Civics Glee club, 8.

How Do You Spell

the position you are looking for? "J-o-b" or "O-p-p-o-r-t-u-n-i-t-y?" If it's opportunity, you will use The Post's Situations Wanted columns to good advantage.

Y. W. C. A.

The May fete will be held Saturday at the Blue Triangle hut, Twentieth and B streets, at 8 p. m. A stage will be placed at one end of the patio in the rear of the hut, where a program of original stunts will be given by girls from departments of the association.

The terraces will be lighted with Oriental lanterns, decorated with clusters of colored balloons. Exhibits of Vacation lodge and Kamp Kahlert, including an authentic camper's uniform, will be shown inside the building.

Contestants who have entered the poster contest will bring their posters to the fete to be judged. A week at Kamp Kahlert or Vacation lodge will be given as a prize for the best poster advertising either place. Further particulars regarding the contest may be had by calling Franklin 9682.

Mrs. Wallace Radcliffe will be the speaker at the Mothers' day service of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. clubs of Gallaudet college today at 5 p. m. Miss Minnie V. Sandberg, secretary of religious education, is adviser of the Y. M. C. A. club at Gallaudet.

The membership-recreation committee will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry R. Fulton, 1732 Lanier place, tomorrow, 8 p. m.

At the club meeting of the business girls Tuesday night reports of

(CONTINUED ON NEXT PAGE.)

Swiss Watches Repaired

ABSOLUTE GUARANTEE
Backed by 38 years' experience. Established 20 years in Washington.

M. Schnider
Room 203, 527 9th, Cor. F. Elevator Service. Phone M. 8380.

Special Sunday Dinner

BEACON INN

Calvert St.
Bet. 18th and 19th NW.
(Just half block west new Ambassador Theatre)

TODAY
Roast Turkey and Fried Chicken Dinner
$1.00
1 P. M. to 7 P. M.

Service and Food Unsurpassed
Parking on 3 Streets

STORE YOUR FURS NOW

Keep them safe from theft, fire and moths during the Summer months by storing them in our cold storage vaults.

Our moderate storage rates include insurance coverage.

FURS REMODELED

—now in the correct styles that will be in vogue 1927.

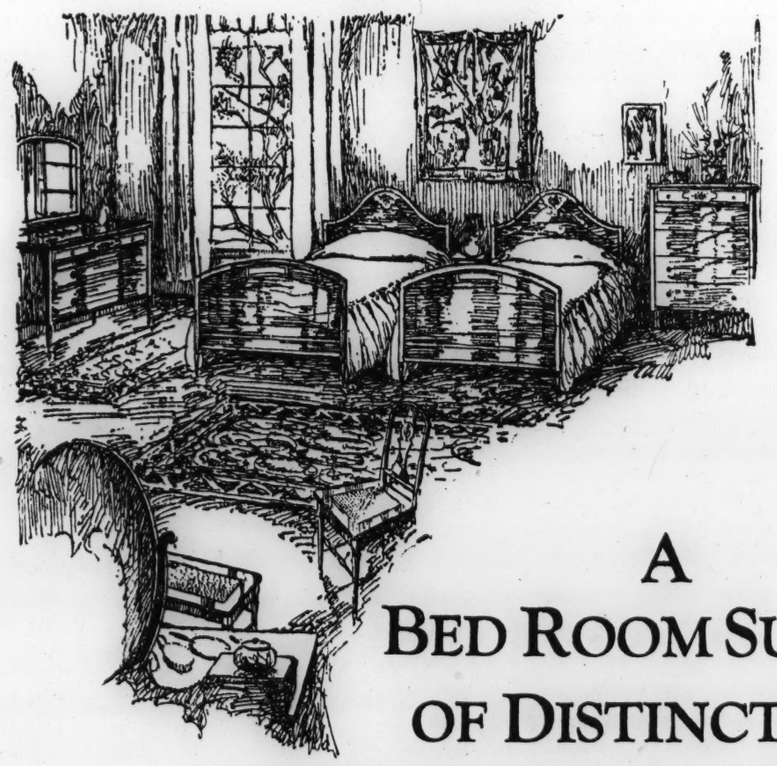

A special discount on all remodeling during the month of May.

William Rosendorf
1215 G St.
Opposite Dulin & Martin

W. & J. SLOANE

709-711-713 TWELFTH ST., N. W. WASHINGTON, D. C.

"The House with the Green Shutters"

A BED ROOM SUITE OF DISTINCTION AT AN EXCEPTIONAL PRICE

THIS charming suite, made at our suggestion, is of selected Mahogany veneer, with Gumwood back posts.

The design, Sheraton in inspiration, is enhanced by an interesting panel of Curly Maple, embellished with a small delicate floral decoration. The tops of the various pieces are cross banded on the edge with Maple.

The construction and cabinet work are of a character generally found in much higher priced examples.

It's atmosphere of refinement makes it a worthy addition to any home where good taste prevails.

It represents unusual value and, as the quantity is limited, an immediate inspection is advisable.

8 PIECES—comprising Twin Beds, Bureau, Chiffonier, Dressing Table, Night Table, Chair and Bench $330.00
Regularly $425.00

7 PIECES—with Full Size Bed $295.00
Regularly $370.00

Charge Accounts Conveniently Arranged

STORE OPEN FROM 9.00 A. M. to 5.30 P. M. DAILY INCLUDING SATURDAY

FREIGHT PAID TO ALL SHIPPING POINTS IN THE UNITED STATES

Sloane Endorsed Merchandise Carries An Assurance of Satisfaction

A Modern Marriage

By IDAH McGLONE GIBSON

SYNOPSIS.

Kathlyn Leonard opens her door on a stormy night to find standing there Elton Foss. An altercation follows. She demands that he leave. He attempts to force an entrance. A revolver cracks, he falls dead. Kathlyn, horrified, closes the door. Then a man slips from the shadow. It is Rodney Evans. An officer finds him beside the body. He calls the police station. Rodney leaves after reassuring Kathlyn and goes straight to his attorney, Dick Starmount. He tells his lawyer the story of Elton Foss' death and that he had killed Foss.

Rodney and Dick Starmount call for Kathlyn to attend the inquest. She is very ill.

As they put Kathlyn into the ambulance Starmount hears a familiar voice in the crowd remark that Kathlyn must have gotten wet the night of the murder. He can not find the owner of the voice. It worries him.

In a casual conversation with Dr. Johnson, called to attend Kathlyn, Starmount learns the doctor left his car where Rodney left his when calling on Kathlyn. The doctor tells of seeing a man walking in the rain near Kathlyn's studio the night of the murder. Starmount is delighted to get the clue.

CHAPTER XI.

The Mysterious Letter.

RICHARD STARMOUNT smiled to himself as he saw Rodney Evans' shoulders straighten up and his jaw become more set than usual. He felt that he would not give in again to his feelings.

The car was driven in silence to the chambers where the inquest was to be held. Each man was engrossed in his own thoughts.

As Rodney and Dick entered the hallway, Dick asked the man at the information desk in what room the inquest was to be held.

"317, third floor. Is either of you Mr. Evans?"

"I'm Rodney Evans."

"Here's a note that was left for you about 20 minutes ago."

Rodney looked a little surprised and with a nod to Dick moved away and opened the envelope. As he read Dick watched him carefully. Curiosity, surprise and, finally, hope showed on his face.

"Here, Dick. Here's something that may interest you," and the hand with which he thrust the paper toward the attorney trembled.

Starmount took it with a swiftly surprising look into his friend's face, and then read: "Mr. Rodney Evans: Dear Sir: I am glad that Elton Foss is dead.

"He deserved to die, damn him.

"There are any number of men that could tell you the same story of Elton Foss.

"Any man who betrays another man's wife gets only what is coming to him when he is shot to death by the wronged husband.

"Elton Foss got his and I am avenged. "A FRIEND."

Without saying a word, Dick took hold of Rodney's arm and took him down the deserted corridor. Here the two men stopped and looked at each other.

"What do you make of it?" Rod asked.

"I don't know. It's got me guessing."

"Do you suppose that Kathlyn didn't—I would never forgive myself if——"

"Don't take it so much to heart, Rod. If this man did the shooting we will surely find it out. Come on! We're late now."

"But, Dick, I wouldn't wrong Kathlyn for the world."

"Of course you wouldn't. Any man who is willing to bear the disgrace that you will probably take upon your shoulders in an hour or two could not be accused of wronging any woman."

"All the while I am in there, Dick, I shall be thinking of her. What if she should die while we are away?"

"Buck up, old man, buck up. She's not going to die." In his own mind, while he berated himself for the thought, Starmount was thinking that that probably would be the easiest way out of it for Kathlyn. He knew better than his friend what was before him.

The first witness called was the policeman who had found the two persons standing beside the body. He told his story stolidly, but in a very definite manner.

There was a ripple of excitement when he came to the place where he said that in examining the body he had found the gun.

"My first thought, when I found the gun in the dead man's pocket, was that he had some enemies and that he was going around armed. The lady——"

"Miss Leonard," put in Dick.

"—Remarked, 'I never knew that Mr. Foss was in the habit of carrying a gun. Did you Rod?' This sounded to me like a 'stall,' especially as I found the gun was wet. In a dry coat pocket it could not have had any moisture on it.

"Although I was afraid that the finger prints on it had been washed off by the rain, I carefully put it in my handkerchief and handed it in at the Central station.

"Do you know if any prints were found on it?" the coroner asked.

"No, sir, but Mr. Ziegler can answer that."

"I will call upon him directly."

"I found out that both Mr. Evans and Miss Leonard had known Mr. Foss intimately."

"Is Miss Leonard here?" asked the coroner.

"She is said to be too ill to come."

"Your honor," said Dick, "I have a note from the physician who says that Miss Leonard is seriously ill at the Presbyterian hospital. At this moment it is not known whether she will live or die."

"Why was I not told of this?"

"I thought you knew it, sir," the attorney answered.

"You say, Mr. Starmount," said the coroner, "that Miss Leonard is seriously ill and I infer that this illness will last a long time even if she recovers? I think we may go on with the testimony."

CHAPTER XII.

A Stronge Marriage Pact.

Richard Starmount was afraid of letting his satisfaction show in his face when the coroner decided to proceed with the inquest without Kathlyn Leonard's testimony.

"In a moment another officer came up," the policeman continued, "and leaving him to guard the body I went into the house to telephone headquarters. I was for bringing both Miss Leonard and Evans over to the station, but Detective Skelton, who had come with the ambulance, said he would answer for the woman. You have all that Evans said when questioned at the station."

"That will do," said the coroner. "Call Officer Ziegler."

"Did you find any finger prints on the gun?"

Starmount leaned forward in his chair.

"Some of them were blurred, but we found a surprising number of thumb prints on the gun. One or two very good ones—evidently a man's. One much smaller might be a woman's. One, on the end of the gun, we identified as Officer Murphy's who picked the weapon up. And one other that was so blurred that it can never be identified. We know only that it is different from all the others." The man placed photographs of the prints in front of the coroner.

"That will do. Call Murphy again."

"Had this gun been fired?"

"Yes, sir."

"How many shells were empty?"

"One. And a bullet of the same caliber was found this morning in the body of Elton Foss at the autopsy."

"That will do. Call Mr. Rodney Evans."

After telling his name and occupation the coroner asked Rodney to tell his story in his own words. This he did, giving it in even more detail than he had told it to either the police or to Starmount, his attorney. He did it with no show of emotion as if he had no thought that any one would connect him with the case.

"You say you were calling on Miss Leonard between half-past 11 and 12 o'clock at night?" suddenly interrupted the coroner.

"Yes."

"Are you in the habit of calling on women at that hour?"

"Miss Kathlyn Leonard is my wife." There was a distinct stir at this assertion.

"How long have you been married?"

"Nearly a year and a half. It was a secret marriage."

"Miss Leonard has gone by her own name all this time?"

"Yes. Not even our most intimate friends or relatives know of the marriage."

"Where were you married?"

"Down in the Great Smoky mountains, by one of the traveling preachers that happened to be at the place where we had stopped, hoping to find a justice of the peace."

Again there was a stir in the courtroom.

"It was his day for wholesale marriages, which is a custom down there, and we were just one couple among the rest."

"Have you your marriage certificate?"

For an instant Rodney's face became purple. It had not until this moment come into his mind that any one would doubt his word about the wedding.

Dick Starmount interrupted softly: "The certificate is usually given to the bride. It is probable that Mrs. Evans has it among her treasures. However, until she is able to recognize any one she will not be able to tell where it may be found."

A look of incredulity passed between the officers.

"Were you a friend of the man who was killed?"

"I have known Elton Foss for many years.'"

"Don't evade the question."

"We were not friends, although we were not open enemies."

"Was Mr. Foss a friend of Mrs. Evans?"

"I do not know."

"Is it possible that husbands do not know whether their wives are friendly to certain men?"

"I did not. The conditions of our marriage, made between ourselves, were that each should have his or her own house, his or her own friends, and live his or her own life."

"That was a queer sort of marriage, was it not?"

"Perhaps. But it suited Miss Leonard and myself. We were satisfied that the only bond should be our love."

"Mr. Evans, have you any theory about this murder?"

"None whatever, but I was handed this letter by your man at the information desk as I came in. It may prove a clue for your detectives." He handed the typewritten sheet to the coroner.

"Why, this was written either by a crank or some one who knows about the murder. Skelton, will you take care of this?" The writer of this says that Elton Foss betrayed the wives of many men and that he got only what was coming to him when he was shot to death at the hand of a wronged husband."

"What do you make of this Evans?"

"Well, you see that last line reads: 'Elton Foss got his and I am avenged!'"

Dick Starmount moved restlessly and put his hand on Rodney's arm.

Policeman Murphy half rose in his seat, but at a significant glance from Skelton sat down again.

Tomorrow—The Mysterious Prowler.

Y. W. C. A.

(CONTINUED FROM PRECEDING PAGE.)

the biennial convention and business women's assembly held in Milwaukee last month will be given by Miss Grace Brame, Miss Lucy Holland, Miss Lois Hendricks, Miss Grace Shannon and Miss Kate Reilley.

The Premiere and Hitika clubs are passing the week-end at Vacation lodge, Cherrydale, Va. Miss Lucy Holland and Miss Grace Brame are hostesses.

Mrs. Thomas Edwin Brown, president of the Y. W. C. A., will return to Washington Wednesday from Independence and Fulton, Mo., after attending the biennial convention in Milwaukee. While in Fulton Mrs. Brown visited Mrs. Herbert E. Day, former president of the local association, whose husband is now president of the school for the deaf at Fulton.

Mrs. Harry E. Hull, chairman of the executive committee of the department of education, is calling a joint meeting for 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at 614 E street of chairmen and representatives of seven organized departments of the association to discuss the education needs for the coming year.

Rizik
Brothers

Tomorrow: Monday

The First Spring

[REDUCTIONS ONE-THIRD OFF]

LOVELY SPRING COATS

A REDUCTION in the Rizik salon effects more than a mere lowering of price. It results, really, in placing before the woman of discrimination exclusive models embodying every touch of authentic smartness—models beyond comparison, at a cost that welcomes comparison.

IN THESE Spring Coats one will find, delightfully, the trends which have achieved greatest popularity with those whose wardrobe is criterion. If there is a drape, a color or a fabric which the mode has sanctioned — it is here, at its best, reduced one-third.

TWELVE THIRTEEN F

INQUIRE ABOUT OUR DEFERRED PAYMENT PLAN

Free Automobile Parking

1861 65th Anniversary W. B. Moses & Sons 1861 65th Anniversary 1926

1926 Furniture Carpets Established 1861 F Street and Eleventh Linens Upholstery

Let the Home Reflect the Joyous Freedom of Nature

With the advent of the playtime months the furnishings of the home should reflect the spirit of the outdoors. Colorful hangings, fiber and reed furniture are necessities for the summer months. Our Summer Garden room is replete with summer furnishings.

Porch and Garden Furniture

Couch Hammock, upholstered sunfast canvas, color gray with wild canary design in colors.

Couch Hammock, upholstered in green sunfast canvas, Spanish Galleon design.....$51.00

Couch Hammock, sunfast canvas, colors are as follows: Gray, green and white stripe; rose, gray and white stripe..$39.00

Metal Hammock Stand, finished in gray enamel.....$12.50

Metal Hammock Stand, gray enamel.....$9.00

Couch Hammock, upholstered in sunfast canvas, choice of following colors: Green, yellow and white stripe; green, gray and white stripe; orange, green and blue stripe, $33.00

Couch Hammock, upholstered in sunfast canvas, khaki color, $24.00

Juvenile Hammock Stand and Canopy Top complete, upholstered blue and white stripe sunfast canvas.....$19.50

Canopy Tops in colors to match hammocks..$12.50 and $13.50
Valance Tops for hammock stand.....$5.50

Square Ruffled Pillow, floss filled, upholstered in sunfast canvas to match materials on hammocks.....$5.00

Natural Color Reclining Steamer Chair, green and white striped canvas.....$7.75

Folding Sport Chair, sunfast canvas back and seat, in colors to match hammocks.....$5.50

Six-foot Beach Umbrellas, each.....$6.00

Unfinished Garden Entrance Arbor.....$37.00

Unfinished Arbor.....$16.00

Unfinished Arbor.....$15.00

Unfinished Lawn Bench.....$16.00

Unfinished Lawn Settee.....$8.00

Unfinished 8-foot Rose Ladder.....$7.50

Unfinished 8-foot Rose Ladder.....$4.50

Sea Grass Extension Chair.....$20.00

Sea Grass Armchair.....$14.00

Sea Grass Arm Rocker.....$15.00

Extra Large and Roomy Maple Porch Rocker.....$9.50

Large Maple Porch Rocker with high back.....$5.25

Low-back Maple Porch Rocker.....$4.75

Maple Porch Rocker without arms.....$3.75

Green and Natural Folding Lawn Bench.....$4.00

Four-piece Suite of Stick Willow, colors green with black decoration; suite comprising settee, armchair, arm rocker and round center table.....$120.00

Fiber Settee, taupe decorated finish, loose spring cushions, $61.00

Armchair or Rocker to match above.....$25.00

Four-piece Suite of Fiber, comprising small settee, armchair and rocker, oval-shaped table, loose spring seat cushions, upholstered in cretonne, finished old ivory.....$59.00

Fiber Settee, titan decorated, upholstered seats and backs in striped denim, loose spring cushions, chair or rocker to match above suite.....$20.00

Oblong Table.....$16.00

Fiber Settee; finish, fawn color; blue and red decoration; loose spring-seat cushions upholstered in stripe tapestry, $57

Comfortable armchair or rocker to match above.....$24

The Linen Shop

Pure linen table cloths and napkins, hemmed ready for use, also laundered.

Cloths, size 71x72 inches, reduced to, each.....$5.00
Cloths, size 71x90 inches, reduced to, each.....$6.25
Cloths, size 71x108 inches, reduced to, each.....$7.50
Napkins, size 22x22 inches, reduced to, dozen.....$7.50

Special, $1.65 Each

Pequot cotton sheets, size 81x99 inches. Reduced to $1.65 each.

Moses' "Elite" cotton pillowcases, size 45x36 inches. Reduced to 39c each.

Regular 35c pure linen crash dish toweling. Reduced to 29c each.

Drapery Department
Cretonne Week

Our Drapery Department on the third floor is filled to overflowing with new, beautiful, gorgeous, colored Cretonnes; to see them will satisfy your desire for Spring and Summer Draperies. Slip Covers, Pillow and Table Covers, etc. Our salespeople will help you select and, if desired, suggest the best treatment for your rooms.

To make it profitable for you to make early selections we offer a choice selection of new patterns and weaves at very special prices, as follows:

35c, 50c and 75c Yard

The 75c quality includes some imported patterns.

Special, 89c Each

Our regular $1.00, $1.10 and $1.25 white and colored bordered bath towels. Reduced to 89c each.

Summer Rugs

Rattania

30x60	$2.75	6x9	$10.75
3x6	$3.25	7.6x10.6	$14.50
4.6x7.6	$7.50	9x12	$16.50
9x15	$21.50

Crex de Luxe

27x54	$3.50	6x9	$13.50
3x6	$4.75	8x10	$18.50
4.6x7.6	$95.00	9x12	$21.50

Kimlark

3x6	$4.75	8x10	$18.00
4.6x7.6	$9.75	9x12	$20.00
6x9	$13.50	9x15	$27.50

Oriental Rug Salon

Scatter Size Mosoul Rugs

Average Size, 3x6 Feet

$41.50 $45.50 $51.50

Purchases Forwarded, Prepaid, to Any Shipping Point in the United States.

INQUIRE ABOUT OUR DEFERRED PAYMENT PLAN

EXPLORERS TO FLY OVER NEW GUINEA'S UNKNWON JUNGLE

Smithsonian Expedition to Seek Pygmies, Who Dwell in Mountains.

DUTCH GOVERNMENT AIDS DR. M. W. STIRLING

New Birds, Plants and Animals Will Be Collected by Party.

Braving a jungle so thick that progress through its 40 miles of mud, tangled undergrowth and poisonous insects, often is limited to a mile in a week, the American-Dutch New Guinea expedition, headed by Dr. Matthew W. Stirling, has begun its exploration of the last great "unknown" land in the world, seeking to find the homeland of the New Guinea pygmies, and, perhaps, to discover a new race in the high reaches of the interior mountains.

Expedition after expedition has sought to penetrate the thick and dangerous jungle that lies between the coast and the mountains and has been turned back without achieving its object. Miles take on a new meaning in the jungle country and no white man has penetrated to the mountains and lived to come back and tell of his adventures and what he found.

To the physical difficulty of hewing a path through the trees and undergrowth there is added the dangers and swamps and mud made by almost continuous downpours of rain, and a veritable network of unexplored rivers, which lead the unwary astray or block progress of the unprepared.

Many Difficulties.

To these difficulties must be added the danger of poisonous insects, of parasites which seem to fill every leaf ready to fasten on man or beast as they brush past; the discomfort, and worse, of the blue bottle fly which lays maggots in blankets and clothes, the stingless honey bee, which is worse than the Alaskan mosquito and the danger of tropical fever, pneumonia, and the dreaded beri-beri, the last named disease apparently born of improper diet—and the country does not supply the white man with a proper diet. He must carry his food with him, turn back, or die.

Against these difficulties the present expedition, comprising 400 men, under the auspices of the Smithsonian institution, proposes to advance by aid of airplane, which will be used to fly over the jungle, study the territory ahead, and map out the line of progress.

For the 400 years since what is now Dutch New Guinea was first seen by Europeans, the mountainous backbone of the country has resisted the attempts of civilized man to penetrate its secrets. The Memberamo river, by which the expedition is entering the unknown land has its mouth on the north coast of Cape d'Urville. The expedition is working south up the river to the junction of the Rouffar, by which it hopes to gain access to the mountains. It is establishing various supply bases, from one of which the Yackey transport plane, which Dr. Stirling took with him from this country, will operate.

Seek Hidden Villages.

The expedition will attempt to find the hidden villages of the pygmy peoples known to dwell in the mountains; it will carry cartographers to make maps of this virgin land, and if possible it will make landings in isolated spots for natural history collections.

When it left San Francisco last fall, the expedition comprised one Yackey transport plane and five men: Dr. Stirling, leader and anthropologist; R. K. Peck, photographer; Hans H. Hoyte, chief pilot; A. E. Hamer, assistant photographer and mechanic, and S. A. Hedberg, historian of the expedition. Today it comprises a total personnel of between 300 and 400 persons and has the official cooperation of the Dutch East Indian government, whose ships transport the expedition and will maintain its communications with civilization.

The bulk of the party are native carriers, soldiers and convicts. Their main function is to transport and protect food supplies for the explorers. A Dutch captain and two lieutenants command the military detachment. A medical officer and two medical assistants are responsible for the health of the expedition.

Since the expedition plans to explore an area of many thousand square miles on which no white man has set foot, and which contains without doubt many species of plant and animal life new to science, it includes specialists in several fields so that as little as possible may be missed.

Most Primitive Races.

Dr. Stirling himself will take care of the collection of data not only on the mountain pygmies which he hopes to find, but on the Papuans who inhabit the coastal plains. Both pygmies and Papuans are among the most primitive races of mankind. A British expedition of 1911 found the Papuans still using stone axes and shell knives, carving their canoes out of solid tree trunks with these primitive instruments. They had no agriculture, living from day to day on sago, fish and occasional treats of wild pig, wallaby and cassowary caught for them by their dogs. Their weapons were clubs, bows and arrows, and bone spears. They made not even the most primitive pottery and their containers were gourds and coconut shells.

The pygmies, who are a distinct race living in the mountainous interior, seem even less developed mentally. They do, however, cultivate tobacco, the sweet potato plant and bananas. The English expedition of 1911 managed to reach the lowest of their villages. From the very few that the English saw, the pygmies appear to be a naturally dwarfed race—not stunted. They average about 4 feet 9 inches in height. They are yellowish-black in color, with short, woolly black hair. They have a good deal of short, downy black hair scattered about the body.

The pygmies go naked, except for a loin covering which is sometimes a shell or a gourd. Their most elaborate possessions are long pouches which every man carries. These are made of fine fibers of different colors, cleverly netted in ornamental patterns. In them the pygmies carry all their portable possessions, principally their stone and shell ornaments, their sleeping mat, tobacco, fire stick and rattan, with which they make fire to light their cigarettes.

Use Sign Language.

To communicate with the pygmies, the Stirling expedition will be reduced practically to signs, since their language is entirely unknown. So far as the English expedition could determine, the pygmies have words for but two numerals—one and two—and it is doubtful whether they can count up to ten.

It is possible that the high mountains harbor peoples whose representatives have never been seen by Europeans, but so far definite knowledge of the existence of such people does not exist. If the Stirling expedition reaches its objective this point will be determined.

Dr. van Leeuwen, director of the botanical gardens at Buitenzorg, accompanies the expedition to make collections of the new Guinea plants.

To make the bird collections, Dr. Stirling expects to take with him a trained native bird preparator, who should be able to prepare an average of three birds a day. Since the expedition will probably remain in the field until December, it ought to bring back an unexampled set of bird specimens. The territory to be covered stretches from sea level to an altitude of 16,000 feet, so that the bird life should be extremely varied. Rare species known to inhabit New Guinea include the crowned pigeon, the king bird of paradise, eclectus parrots, lemon-crested cockatoo, lories and the six-plumed bird of paradise.

The mapping of this vast unknown territory constitutes, of course, one of the chief purposes of the American-Dutch expedition and is an object of particular importance to the Dutch authorities. Mr. Leroux, of the Batavia museum, has charge of the cartography and survey work. He has probably done more of such work than any other man in the East Indies, his experience covering large sections of Borneo and Sumatra. A small crew of trained native cartographers assist him.

DANIEL GARGES OUTLINES GOVERNMENT OF DISTRICT

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 2.)

for appropriations asked. The subcommittee prepares the bill and, after it is approved by the whole committee, it is sent to the House of Representatives. After it is passed by the House, it is referred to the subcommittee of the Senate appropriations committee, and this committee also grants a hearing to the commissioners. It frequently adds by amendment to the amount of the bill allowed by the House. The Senate then passes the bill with the amendments. The bill is then forwarded to a conference committee consisting of three members each of the House and Senate subcommittees. The conference committee makes its report to the House and Senate. The bill is then passed and when signed by the President becomes a law.

Committee Governs.

All legislation for the District of Columbia, other than appropriations, comes under the jurisdiction of a committee on the District of Columbia, of which there is one in the House and one in the Senate. Whenever the commissioners desire to have a law passed they write to the chairmen of these committees recommending the introduction of a bill to accomplish what is desired. These committees consider such requests and if they favor the measure they report it to the House and Senate, and when passed by these houses and signed by the President it becomes a law. All bills relating to the District of Columbia, by whomsoever introduced, are referred to these committees, and are usually referred to the commissioners for report as to their merits before any action is taken on them.

All funds appropriated for the expenses of the government of the District of Columbia are paid from two sources. These sources are:

1. Taxation on real estate and personal property, both tangible and intangible, of the residents of the District, including street railways, gas companies and other utilities, banks, and by certain license taxes imposed by law on various businesses.

2. Money in the United States Treasury belonging to the United States.

When the present form of government was established in 1878, the law provided that one-half of all appropriations made for the expenses of the government of the District of Columbia should be payable from taxes levied on the residents of the District, and the other half from funds in the United States Treasury. This was changed later so as to provide that 60 per cent of such appropriations should be paid from taxes levied in the District of Columbia, and 40 per cent from funds of the United States. For the fiscal year which began July 1, 1924, Congress changed this method of appropriating on a proportionate basis, and provided that the United States should make a lump-sum contribution of $9,000,000 toward a total appropriation of $30,789,284. This provision has been continued since from year to year. It is within the power of Congress to change each year the method of dividing the expenses of the District of Columbia between the citizens of the District and the United States.

Prior to July 1, 1922, taxes on real estate were levied on the basis of a two-thirds valuation, and on personal property at full valuation. Now taxes on both real estate and tangible personal property are based on a full valuation. The rate fixed for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1925, is $1.70 per $100 on both real estate and tangible personal property. For the preceding fiscal year it was $1.40 per $100. On intangible personal property it is five-tenths of 1 per cent. The law provides that the commissioners shall fix the rate of taxation to meet the proportion of the expenses of the District to be paid from this source. Taxes were formerly payable annually, but beginning July 1, 1922, they are payable semiannually on November 1 and May 1 of each year.

Real Estate Value.

The assessed value of real estate and personal property in the District of Columbia June 30, 1925, was:

Land	$355,752,055.00
Improvements	463,873,517.00
Personal property:
Tangible	139,192,412.00
Intangible	410,106,188.00

Real estate is assessed biennially.

For the purpose of providing for the orderly conduct of the business of the District government each member of the board of commissioners is appointed a committee of one to handle certain municipal functions. One commissioner has charge of the assessment of property, the disbursement of appropriations, the licensing of businesses, the collection of taxes, the handling of legal matters, the supervision of playgrounds, the purchase of all materials and supplies and the control of the almshouse, reformatory and workhouse. Another commissioner has charge of the fire and police departments, the insurance department, the health department and the supervision of weights, masures and markets. Another commissioner has charge of all street improvements, the construction of school and other municipal buildings, the removal and disposal of garbage and city refuse, the construction of sewers, the cleaning of streets, the lighting of streets, the laying of water mains, the care of street trees, &c. Twice each week and at other times when necessary the three commissioners meet in board session. Each commissioner brings before the board matters affecting his department, and the board passes such orders and regulations as they deem advisable covering the matters brought to their attention. These orders are signed by the secretary to the board of commissioners, and are issued to the heads of departments for execution.

In addition to the duties which the commissioners of the District of Columbia have as executives of the District government, Congress has placed upon them certain other duties. The three commissioners form a public utilities commission of the District of Columbia which has jurisdiction over street railways, gas and electric companies, telephones, baggage transfer, &c. The commission values the property and fixes the rates which may be charged for all of these commodities, and the public utility companies can not charge more than these rates for services which they render.

Form Zoning Commission.

The commissioners, together with the architect of the Capitol and the director of public buildings and public parks, a Federal officer, in the city of Washington form a zoning commission which divides the city into zones, which can be used only for residence purposes, business purposes and industrial purposes. They also fix the height to which buildings can be erected and the area of ground which can be built upon.

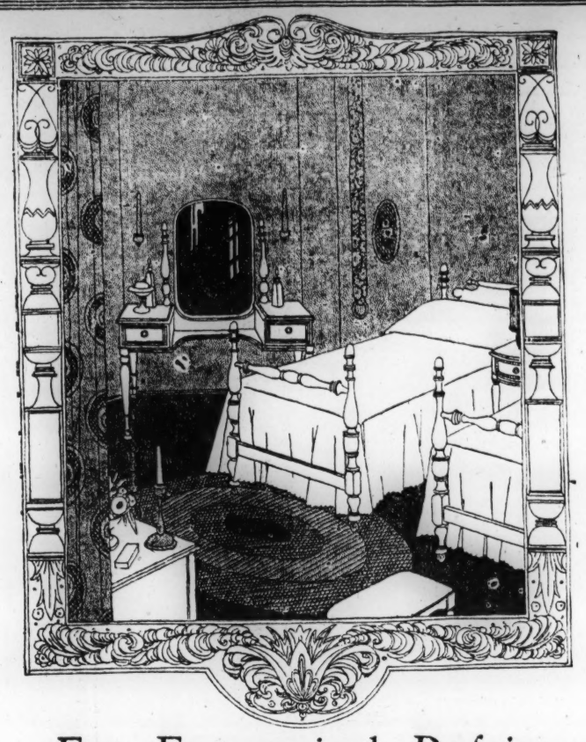

All matters with reference to the public school system, with the exception of the construction and repair of school buildings, are placed by law under a board of education consisting of nine members appointed by the judges of the Supreme court, as heretofore stated. The board of education appoints all the teachers and other employes and makes rules for the operation of the school system. The expense of running the schools is one of the municipal expenses cared for in the District appropriation act.

It may be interesting to note the various taxes and assessments which the property owner in the District of Columbia is called upon to pay. When the city of Washington was laid out into streets, aveaues and alleys, the old boundary of the city was Florida avenue. As the city grew, however, property owners outside this boundary, subdivided their land into lots, and dedicated streets. Those streets, as well as the city streets, were improved at the expense of the District government, and no assessment was made for such improvement. In the year 1893, however, Congress directed the commissioners to prepare a plan for extending the streets and avenues of the city throughout the entire District, in order that when the land was opened for building houses the streets would be run in a systematic manner.

The law provides that if a property owner wished to subdivide his land he must dedicate the streets to the District without any cost. If he did not dedicate and the commissioners desired the streets to be opened, they would institute a proceeding in court to take the land for street purposes, and the property owners were required to pay by benefit assessments the cost of the land taken. After the street was opened, it was necessary to lay sewers, water mains, gas, and electric lights, and also to provide sidewalks and roadways. With the exception of the gas and electric light, the property owner is required to pay for all these improvements. Now he pays $2 per front foot for a water main, and $1.50 for a sewer; one-half of the cost of laying a sidewalk; one-half of the cost of paving alleys, and one-half of the cost of paving the roadway in front of his property. This is in addition to the general taxes he pays each year on the property under the tax rate already referred to.

The District of Columbia has no bonded or floating indebtedness.

This outline has been prepared for the purpose of giving general information only, and specific information on any point will be furnished upon application to the author.

House & Herrmann
"Furniture of Merit"
Seventh and Eye Streets.

Pleasing Furniture

Expensive Furniture is not essential—if your selections are made here they will always be in good taste—and the cost will be agreeably surprising. We guarantee lasting satisfaction with every purchase.

For Economical Refrigeration---Buy a "Challenge"

Side-Icer Style

Ice High.	Wide.	Deep.	Capacity.
40 in.	28 in.	16¼ in.	40 lbs.
Enameled lining				$22.75
43 in.	32 in.	16½ in.	50 lbs.
Enameled lining				$27.50
Other sizes, with Enameled lining, up to				$56.50
And with Porcelain lining, up to				$100.00

Top-Lid Style

Ice High.	Wide.	Deep.	Capacity.
37 in.	20 in.	13½ in.	20 lbs.
Enameled lining				$13.50
40 in.	22 in.	15 in.	40 lbs.
Enameled lining				$17.50
Other sizes, with Enameled lining, up to				$40.00
And with Porcelain lining, up to				$60.00

For the Apartment

Ice High.	Wide.	Deep.	Capacity.
48 in.	20½ in.	16¼ in.	50 lbs.
Enameled lining				$19.50
Other sizes, with Enameled lining, up to				$36.50
And with Porcelain lining, up to				$70.00

The All-Porcelain "Challenge"

Porcelain inside and outside, including the ice compartment. Trimmed with heavy nickel. A masterpiece of construction.

Lining of the ice compartment is protected by heavy wire netted lattice. The upright outside corners are rounded. Varied sizes and styles—

$115 to $200

"Challenge" Special

Side-icer style—one-piece porcelain lining; 42 in. high, 31½ in. wide, 16¼ in. deep; 50 lbs. ice capacity; well finished natural hardwood case with attractive mountings..... $37.50

Globe-Wernicke Bookcases

Designed to grow with the library. Each section has receding, dustproof doors. Three sections, with Top and Base—of Gumwood in Mahogany finish.

Special Price..... $28.90

Charming Ten-Piece Dining Suite—

Made of walnut veneer, combined with gumwood. Carefully and strongly constructed. China Closet with grill on door, Buffet, Serving Table, 6-foot Extension Table, Five Side Chairs and One Armchair with Tapestry-covered seats. A very handsome Suite.

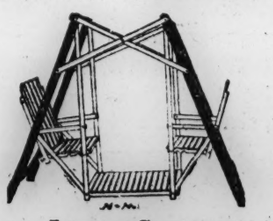

Specially Priced..... $128.50

Pullman Cart

With long pushers and wooden artillery type wheels. It is splendidly finished in Frosted Cafe or Frosted Walnut. A beautiful Cart.

Special Price.... $19.50

Lawn Swing

Four-passenger Lawn Swing—seat and platform of natural finish; supports of red. Strongly built..... $7.50

Lawn Swings, same type as pictured, for children. They are five feet high; seat and platform in natural finish; supports in green $4.95

Telephone Set

Stand has shelf below and rail at back and sides of top; low-back Chair slides between the legs of the stand. Gumwood in Mahogany finish only. SPECIAL $6.50

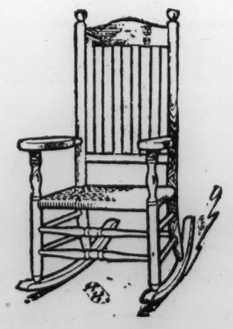

Windsor Chair

An accurate reproduction of the original lines. It is well built of Birch in Mahogany finish. Strongly braced back, wood seat.

Special Price—

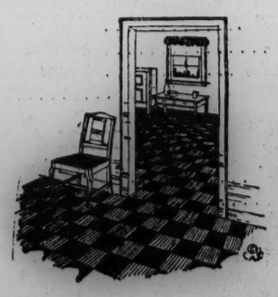

$5.75

Porch Rockers

High, comfortable back and strong Maple frame; nicely finished. Seat is of double weave. SPECIAL..... $5.45

Armstrong Linoleum Withstands the Hardest Wear

Armstrong's Felt-Base Rugs

6x9 feet	$6.75
7.6x9 feet	$8.50
9x10.6 feet	$11.75
9x12 feet	$13.50

By the Yard

Armstrong's Printed Linoleum, per sq. yd..... 95c

Armstrong's Printed Hall and Stair Runner—plain or patterned center with border at side edges, 24 inches wide, per yd..... 70c

Armstrong's Inlaid Linoleums—attractive patterns and durable qualities, per sq. yd., $1.48, $1.75, $2.25

Armstrong's Marble Inlay Linoleum—heavy quality, effective patterns, per sq. yd..... $3.25

GIRLS FRIENDLY

Between 600 and 700 persons attended the dedication of the Eleanor Lewin Memorial chapel at the Holiday house last Sunday. Bishop Rhinelander and six clergymen, including the Rev. C. S. Abbott, the Rev. V. O. Anderson, the Rev. C. E. Buck, the Rev. Edgar Carpenter, the Rev. James Kirkpatrick and the Rev. W. H. Pettus, led the procession, followed by the diocesan officers of the society, members of Miss Lewin's family, the diocesan council of the society, branch presidents and a member delegate from each branch.

In place of a sermon Mrs. H. C. Bolton, for many years president of the Washington diocesan organization, read an account of Miss Lewin's life and work. Bishop Rhinelander later made a short address. Following the ceremony a light supper was served. Those in the dining room were Mrs. W. H. Woodward, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Fulton Lewis and Mrs. A. S. Steuart.

Monday morning at 10 o'clock the annual business meeting of the society was begun with a corporate communion in Epiphany church, Dr. Z. B. Phillips being the celebrant. At noon the G. F. S. hymn was played on the Epiphany chimes, the Rev. Enoch Thompson also reading the prayer for missions. Reports were read from all the branches and departments in the diocese. After luncheon plans were discussed for a rummage sale to be held May 17, 18 and 19 at 1224 F street; a benefit performance at the National theater June 1 and a bridge party at the Holiday house early in June. These affairs are all for the benefit of the new water supply at the Holiday house, which must be put in at once.

At the third diocesan members' conference held April 30 in Epiphany Parish hall by Deaconess Carroll 12 branches were represented by about 90 girls. The conference was opened by the singing of G. F. S. songs, followed by "A Game of Tennis," a pantomime, by the girls from Epiphany church. Mrs. E. B. Meigs, diocesan president of the society, spoke on the growth of the society in the diocese. Mrs. Aspinwall gave a short talk on birds, and Miss Nourse spoke on the Holiday house. An open competition in reciting poetry was held, Miss Ruth Bolen, of Epiphany church branch, being voted the best for her recitation of "The Mourning Veil." She was awarded a copy of James Whitcomb Riley's "Songs of Summer."

An interpretation of "butterflies" was given by the girls from the branch at the Church of the Good Shepherd. The tiny girls in the branch were costumed as pink rosebuds and butterflies. The conference concluded with a discussion on "Books and Reading," led by Mrs. Dorothy Garrett Humphries, of Nativity chapter branch. The next conference will be held in the fall.

The G. F. S. Senior club will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Margaret Burt Snyder, 1636 Kenyon street northwest.

Mrs. Berry and Miss Marian Speare were hostesses at the meeting of the branch at Christ church, Rockville, Monday, when plans were discussed by the girls for a Mothers' day party to be given tomorrow afternoon. The mothers of all the girls in the branch will be their guests.

Miss Catherine Crawford addressed the branch at Epiphany church Monday evening on "Tapestries." The branch will give two plays and a dance May 17.

Twenty girls attended the branch corporate communion last Sunday morning at Epiphany chapel. The branch will have a benefit card party May 17. Mrs. Elsie Cumberland is chairman of the committee in charge.

Nine new members were admitted in the branch at St. John's church, Bradley lane, the last Sunday in April. Mrs. Pariseau is president of this branch.

"The District School" and "Seeking a Servant" were presented by the branch at Christ church, Washington parish, Friday evening. Later there was dancing. More than $100 was cleared by the girls. Today ten members and two associates will receive their badges of membership in the society, the rector, the Rev. Calvert Buck, conducting the service.

Mrs. Arthur Anderton and Mrs. Hoadley headed the committee of girls in the branch at St. Paul's church, Rock Creek, that served and prepared the fathers and sons banquet given by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew of the parish recently when 84 guests were present.

V. F. W. Post to Aid G. A. R. Celebration

Pledge of its support in the celebration of Memorial day by the G. A. R., was voted by the Equality-Walter Reed Post, V. F. W., at its regular meeting last week. The post voted to make a contribution to the G. A. R. Memorial day floral fund and to take part in the procession and exercises in Arlington National cemetery.

A successful sale of "buddy poppies" by post members was predicted by the committee in charge which outlined the relief work among local veterans. A disabled veterans outing is to be held June 6.

The Rare Book Shop

New Address, 822 17th St.
Telephone Main 1291

Is Prepared to Make Unlimited Purchases of Large Libraries, Fine and Rare Books, Early Printed Books, First Editions, Americana, Color Plate Books, Miniatures by Esteemed Masters, Interesting Autographs, Illuminated and other MSS., Engravings, Mezzotints, Colored Prints, Old Oil Portraits by American Painters.

High Prices Paid for Anything Really Choice.

These Extremely Low Money Saving Prices Prevail at the Peoples-Service Drug Store of Alexandria, Va.

Mr. Man! Don't Miss This Important Sale!

5c El Suttero Manila Cigars

8 for 25c

Box of 50, $1.49

We made an unusually large purchase of these cigars, and we are passing the savings on to our customers for their benefit. They are hand made of a superior grade of Manila tobacco grown in the famous Cagayan Valley. Long fillers and beautiful light wrappers. You'll fully agree with us that this is one of the best smokes you ever had at such a ridiculously low price.

Phone
Main 5215
PEOPLES DRUG STORES
TWENTY STORES
—The Better to Serve You

Special Melba Combination Sale!

Here's a special offer that you can not afford to miss—you realize too great a saving. It consists of a specially constructed tooth brush, containing genuine sterilized white bristles and curved to fit the mouth, and a regular size tube of Melba Tooth Paste—the perfect dentifrice. It satisfactorily cleans the teeth in a harmless manner and keeps the gums hard and firm. A regular 75c value—50c for a limited time only.

Melba Tooth Paste and Melba Tooth Brush

Both for 50c

Gigantic Sale of Quality Drug Store Needs!

THROUGHOUT THE 20 BUSY PEOPLES DRUG STORES

15c Peoples Quality Sodium Bicarbonate

One pound, Special, 9c

A high quality Sodium Bicarbonate that is the standard U. S. P. strength. Efficient as a corrective of stomach acids. Special, 9c for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only.

"Big Ben" AlarmClocks

(Luminous)

Special, $3.98

This is the famous "Big Ben" with a new face. The figures and hands are coated with a radium luminous compound that glows in the dark and makes time telling easy. Has a steady and intermittent alarm that is very effective. Fully guaranteed.

Other Guaranteed Alarm Clocks Priced Low

America	$1.29	Blue Bird	$1.69
Big Ben	$3.19	Black Bird	$2.29
Baby Ben	$3.19	Tik Tok	95c
Sleep-Meter	$1.79	Gilbert	95c
Jack O' Lantern	$2.98

An Excellent Remedy for Inflamed Kidneys!

Tyree's Cystodyne

59c and $1.15

In cases of bladder irritation, when the urine is highly acid and there is a constant desire to empty the bladder and micturition affords but little relief, Tyree's Cystodyne, acting as an antiseptic, reduces the inflammation, helps to control the infection, acts as a sedative and affords great relief.

The Old Reliable Household Laundry Soap

Fels-Naptha Soap

Special, 5 cakes, 24c

Do not fail to share in this unusual saving on this popular household laundry soap. Special, 5 cakes 24c for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only.

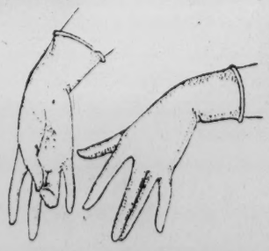

Attractively Designed Pure Gum Rubber Aprons

Special, 69c

An ideal apron to wear while doing housework to protect your good clothes. It is the full length size and has an attractive ruffled edge. Made of an excellent grade of pure gum waterproof rubber. Special, 69c.

Household Rubber Gloves

Special, pair, 79c

These Gloves are made of a heavy grade rubber that wears unusually well and will withstand rough work. They afford great protection for the hands while doing housework—keeps them soft, beautiful and white. A regular $1.00 value. Special, 79c.

50c Manners' Narcissus Cocoa Butter Cold Cream

Special, 27c

A delightful and fragrant cream for thoroughly cleansing the skin and keeping it soft, lovely and smooth. Special, 27c for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only.

Toilet Articles —at Peoples Prices

Tooth Paste

50c Pepsodent	33c
50c Pebeco	42c
30c Kolynos	25c
60c Forhan's	43c
40c Squibb's	38c
50c Chloredixo	39c
Colgate's Dental Cream (Giant size tube)	45c
60c Dentox Tooth paste	39c
50c Iodent	39c
25c Listerine	21c
30c Lyon's	23c

Deodorants

60c Odorono	39c
25c Ever Sweet	21c
50c Mum	45c
50c Non Spi	42c
35c Odorono	28c
25c Immac	21c
35c Silox Powder	30c
30c Spiro Powder	25c

Hair Tonics

60c Wildroot	36c
$1 Liquid Arvon	89c
75c Glover's Mange Remedy	59c
$1 Danderine	79c
50c Herpicide	45c
$1 Wildroot Tonic	89c
$1.75 Pinaud's Eau de Quinine	$1.29

Dental Liquids

$1 Listerine	78c
50c Musoldent	42c
50c Lavoris	42c
Colgate's Liquodent	50c, 75c
60c Glycothymoline	49c
60c Liquid Kolynos	48c

Depilatories

50c Neet	33c
$1 Delatone	89c
60c De Miracle	55c
60c El Rado	49c
75c Odorono	70c

Face Creams

60c D. & R. Cold Cream	39c
50c Woodbury's	42c
35c Pond's Cold or Vanishing	28c
60c Pompeian Day	49c
Ingram's Milkweed	$1.00
50c Golden Peacock Vanishing	42c
25c Black and White Vanishing	21c
50c Nadine	42c
50c Stillman's Freckle	45c

Shampoos

15c Amami	9c
50c Mulsified Cocoanut Oil	38c
50c Glorilox	45c
25c Packer's Tar Soap	21c
50c Barnard's Cocoanut Oil	39c
$1 Blondex	84c
60c Canthrox	49c

Hair Dressings

75c Stacomb	65c
50c Hair Groom	42c
50c Glo-Co	42c
Manners' Hair Trainer	50c
$1 La Creole Hair Dressing	89c
25c Hair Vim	21c

Skin Lotions

35c Frostilla	23c
50c Jergen's Lotion	43c
75c Kaptiv Almond	59c
$1 Hind's Honey and Almond Cream	89c
Queen Anne Lotion	35c, 65c

Talcum Powders

25c Mavis	19c
25c Babcock's Corylopsis	21c
25c Squibbs	21c
25c J. & J. Baby Talc	20c
30c Mary Garden	25c

Face Powders

50c Java Rice	36c
$1.25 Coty's L'Origan	85c
$1 Mary Garden	89c
60c Pompeian	49c
50c Lablache	45c
$1 Floramye	78c
Carmen	50c
25c Black and White	21c
35c Dame Nature	28c
$1 La Trefle	78c

Soaps

25c Woodbury's	21c
25c Dermatone	19c
20c Laco Castile	18c
10c Palmolive	8c; 4 for 30c
25c Pear's Glycerine	18c
20c Sayman's	12c; 3 for 35c
25c Cuticura	20c; 3 for 55c
10c Hard Water Soap	4 cakes, 29c
8c Ivory	6c

For the Nails

50c Glazo Polish	34c
35c Cutex Preparations	29c
35c Mad Nail Polish	29c
50c Ola Nail Polish	42c
Harriet Hubbard Ayers' Nail Enamel	35c

For the Bath

Cappi Bath Salts	$1.00
4711 Bath Salts,	50c, 90c, $1.80
Sea Salt, 5 pounds	19c
Melba Body Powder	$1.50
Amami Bath Powder	50c
Fiancee Dusting Powder	$1.75

Rouges

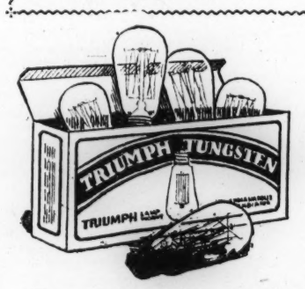

$1.25 Coty's	97c
60c Pompeian	49c
Melba	50c
50c Ashes of Roses	45c
60c Djer-Kiss	50c
50c Dorin	39c

75c Peoples Quality Imported Bay Rum

Special, 38c

Use Bay Rum daily on the hair and scalp—it keeps them in a clean healthy condition. Special, 38c for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only.

Sale of Electric Light Bulbs

Special, 23c

5 for $1

These bulbs are American made of quality materials by expert workmen. They reflect a clear, radiant light. Keep a few on hand—you'll need them.

Sale of Every Day Baby Needs

Nursing Bottles	5c
Thompson's Castile Soap,	18c; 3 for 50c
J. & J. Talc	20c
Graham's Borated Talcum	25c
Hygeia Nursing Bottles	15c
Crib Sheeting, ¾x3¾ yard	69c
Thomas' Rubber Baby Pants	29c
Graham's Catnip and Fennel	25c
Rubbing Alcohol	39c
Merck's Zinc Stearate	19c
J. & J. Baby Talc	20c

35c Peoples Quality Aspirin Tablets

Special, 19c

Aspirin Tablets should be in every medicine cabinet. They quickly relieve headache, neuralgia, toothache and many body aches and pains. Special, bottle of 100—5-gr. tablets 19c for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only.

Housecleaning Specials

Insecticides		Disinfectants, Etc.
Peterman's Discovery,	15c, 25c, 50c	Crude Carbolic Acid, pint,	20c
Dethol	59c, 98c	Lysol	25c, 45c, 89c
Deth-Spray	45c	Platt's Chlorides	35c, 60c
Floyosan	59c, 98c	Kretol	21c, 42c
Soaps		Cleaning Fluids
Ivory	6c	Carbona	18c, 27c, 53c
Lava	6c, 10c	Cleansiline	29c
Fels-Naptha	5 cakes, 24c	Energine	29c

Do You Suffer From Painful Corns?

E-Z Korn Remover

Only 25c

Do not continue to let that torturing corn cause you almost unbearable pain and agony. Just put a few drops of this wonderful corn remover on the corn with the glass applicator and it will immediately relieve the pain and a few days later the corn is easily removed with only the aid of the fingers.

Peoples Quality

Furniture Polish

Only 35c

This polish brightens old furniture and makes it appear as new. Excellent for polishing automobile bodies. Generous sized bottle only 35c.

Reliable Family Remedies —at a Definite Saving

$1.90 S. S. S.	$1.49
$1 Swamp Root	95c
$1.50 Maltine and Combinations	$1.15
$1 Nuxated Iron	79c
$1 Wampole's Cod Liver Oil	75c
$1 Peruna	93c
Nutra-Vin	$1.00
$1 Scott's Emulsion	89c
$1 Graham's Beef, Iron and Wine	89c
$1.25 Hagee's Cordial	98c
$1.25 Gude's Pepto-Mangan	89c
$1.50 Gray's Glycerine Tonic	$1.15
$1.50 Fellow's Syrup of Hypophosphites	$1.21
$1.10 Pinkham's Vegetable Compound	79c
$1 Wine of Cardui	89c
60c Sal Hepatica	39c
50c N. R. Tablets	45c
60c California Syrup of Figs	36c
60c Doan's Kidney Pills	43c
50c Lysol	45c
75c Alcorub	55c
30c Bromo Quinine Tablets	19c
30c Hill's Cascara Quinine	23c
60c Bell's Pine Tar and Honey	36c
$1.25 Creomulsion	86c
25c Laxo-Aspirin	21c
60c King's New Discovery	49c
60c Piso's Cough Remedy	54c
35c Foley's Honey and Tar	29c
65c Pinex	53c
$1.50 Pertussin	$1.35
$1 Creo Terpin	83c
60c Formamint Tablets	49c
60c Fairchild's Essence Pepsin	53c
$1 Stuart's Dyspepsia	98c
25c Requa's Charcoal	19c
Soda Mint Tablets	10c

WAR VETERANS CLUB INSTALLS OFFICERS AT FIRST BANQUET

Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune Officiates at Social Debut of New Organization.

COLORS ARE PRESENTED BY JUDGE MATTINGLY

Bishop Freeman, Rabbi Simon and Senator Tyson Make Short Addresses.

Brilliant uniforms of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps, mingling with the formal black and white of the civilians and the colorful gowns of the ladies, formed a brilliant ensemble at the first annual installation banquet of the American War Veterans' club, held Thursday night in the ball room at the Mayflower hotel.

Hon. David C. Winebrenner 3d secretary of State for Maryland, acted as temporary master of ceremonies and introduced Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps, who installed the recently elected officers of the club in an impressive manner. The officers installed were:

Lieut. Col. Fred B. Ryons, president; Lieut. Ralph A. Cusick, vice president; Lieut. Charles Riemer, secretary; Lieut. Howard S. Fisk, treasurer; and the following as members of the board of governors: Madison L. Hill, Capt. C. C. Lowe, Maj. Wallace Streater, Lieut. Col. Ira F. Farvel and Maj. Roy E. Hughes.

Following the installation ceremonies, president Ryons took charge and introduced the speakers.

The Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, Bishop of Washington, complimented the club on its ambitious program and warned the members that they must be patriotic in times of peace as well as times of war. He referred to the present strike in Great Britain and said that, without discussing the merits of either side, that it was obvious that government must be maintained if the empire is to stand.

Importance of Home.

Rabbi Abram Simon stressed the importance of the home as the foundation of America. He urged the members, while remembering their patriotic duty to their country, to also remember that their most sacred duty is to safeguard the home. He paid an eloquent tribute to the mothers of the land, reminding those present that the coming Sunday (today) is Mothers' day, and urged every one to join in its observance.

Senator Lawrence D. Tyson, of Tennessee, a veteran of many wars, spoke of the need of force at times to protect progress. He declared that while it was generally regarded as a devastating, maiming influence, that at the same time it is the force that has built up every liberty and every concession now held by the people of the world. He declared himself proud to be classed as a veteran soldier.

Colors Presented.

Judge Robert E. Mattingly, on behalf of an unnamed donor and in memory of the late Henry Lansburgh, presented the stand of colors to the club, an American flag and a special American Veterans' club banner. He charged the officers and members with the duty of upholding and protecting these colors against every evil.

Mr. Winebrenner, on behalf of the club, presented President Ryons with a handsome silver loving cup.

Among the guests were delegations from Walter Reed and Mount Alto hospitals, wounded veterans, who were the guests of Frederick Buckholz.

An ovation was tendered Mrs. LaSalle Corbell Pickett, widow of the famous general, when she was introduced from the floor.

The entire program was broadcast over WRC.

Dancing followed, the music being furnished by the U. S. N. orchestra and Happy Walker's band, playing alternately.

At the speakers' table the honor guests were:

Honor Guests

Senator and Mrs. Lawrence D. Tyson, of Tennessee; Representative and Mrs. Stewart H. Appleby, of New Jersey; Representative and Mrs. Morgan G. Sanders, of Texas; Representative and Mrs. J. J. McSwain, of South Carolina; Representative and Mrs. Clarence J. McLeod, of Michigan; Representative and Mrs. Henry R. Rathbone, of Illinois; Representative and Mrs. Arthur M. Free, of California; District Commissioner and Mrs. Cuno H. Rudolph; District Engineer Commissioner Col. J. Franklin Bell, U. S. A.; Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, Director U. S. Veterans' Bureau, and Mrs. Hines; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, Commandant U. S. Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune; Brig. Gen. S. D. Rockenbach, U. S. A., and Mrs. Rockenbach; Le General Dumont, Military Attache French Embassy; Hon. David C. Winebrenner 3d, Secretary of the State of Maryland; Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, D. D., bishop of Washington, Lt. Col. general staff, U. S. A.; Monsignor C. F. Thomas; Rabbi Abram Simon; Mrs. Margaret N. McCluer, national president, American War Mothers; Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau, president general, D. A. R.; Fred Stover, national commander-in-chief Veterans of Foreign Wars; Judge Robert E. Mattingly and Mrs. Mattingly; Judge Isaac R. Hitt; Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent Metropolitan police; Mrs. LaSalle Corbell Pickett; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Gans; Mr. and Mrs. George G. Seibold; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lansburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen Spiller, sr., of Boston, Mass.; Maj. and Mrs. Frederic William Wile; Maj. Chauncey O. Howard, national commander Army and Navy Union; Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Amos A. Fries; Maj. and Mrs. Kenneth Lord; Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. George D. Trible.

Veterans Back Plan For Guard Armory

The old pension office should be turned over to the District National Guard for use as an armory unless there is provided suitable new armory accommodations, the council of administration of the V. F. W. declared in a resolution adopted at its regular monthly meeting last week, a which Francis C. Huhn presided.

Indorsement of the District memorial it is proposed to erect in Potomac park, and of the fund-raising campaign of the Salvation Army was voted by the council. The council indorsed the recommendation of the National Capital post recommending citations for meritorious services for Luther Wilson, Ernest Wickstrand and H. B. Clemens.

LIEUT. COL. D. W. HAND ELIGIBLE FOR COLONELCY

Maj. Donald D. Hay Promoted to Lieutenant Colonel of Infantry.

MAXWELL NAMED MAJOR

During the last week no promotions were made in the army to the grade of colonel, and the next officer awaiting advancement to that grade, on occurrence of a vacancy is Lieut. Col. Daniel W. Hand, field artillery.

Maj. Donald D. Hay, infantry, has been promoted to lieutenant colonel, leaving Maj. George W. Ewell, quartermaster corps, senior in his grade and next due for promotion.

Capt. Alfred J. Maxwell, finance department, has been promoted to major; there is a vacancy in that grade, to which Capt. Orva E. Beezley, field artillery, is entitled; and, upon his promotion, Capt. Frank E. Parker, finance department, will remain as senior in his grade.

No promotions were made during the week to the grades of captain and first lieutenant. The block in advancements to those grades, which has existed for several weeks and arrested advancement of first and second lieutenants, probably will be removed in a few days. There now are 20 vacancies in the grade of captain and 28 in the grade of first lieutenant. When these vacancies are filled, First Lieut. Harry W. Borntraeger, infantry, and Second Lieut. Charles H. Crim, coast artillery, will remain as seniors in their respective grades.

There are now 265 vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant.

MARINE CORPS HEADS TO BE NAMED SOON

Staff Appointments Will Be Taken From List of Eligibles.

The annual board for preparation of a list of those considered eligible for appointment as heads of staff departments in the marine corps will meet at the headquarters of the corps in this city about May 20. Under the law, the board will consist of Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the corps; Brig. Gen. George Richards, paymaster; Brig. Gen. Charles L. McCawley, quartermaster; Brig. Gen. Rufus H. Lane, adjutant and inspector, and two additional members. The additional members will be Brig. Gens. Ben. H. Fuller and Dion Williams, one of whom will serve as a permanent member and the other in place of the respective department heads during consideration of those eligible for their respective departments.

A board to prepare a list of those considered eligible for appointment as brigadier generals in the line of the marine corps will meet early in June, and it will consist of general officers yet to be detailed.

The law provides that any officer of the rank of colonel whose name does not appear on one or the other of the eligible lists and who has reached or does reach during the year, the age of 56 years, shall be transferred to the retired list.

GEN. ALLEN LEAVES FOR TOUR OF SOUTH

Chief of Infantry Will Return to Capital May 24, After Inspection.

Maj. Gen. Robert H. Allen, chief of infantry, left Washington last week on a trip of inspection of infantry activities at Southern posts. He was at Fort Eustis, Va., on Friday and yesterday, today he is at Richmond, Va., and tomorrow he will be at Charleston, S. C. The remainder of his itinerary is as follows: Fort Moultrie, S. C., Tuesday and Wednesday; Fort Screven, Ga., Wednesday, Thursday and Friday; Fort Benning, Ga., May 15 to 23; Fort McPherson, Ga., May 24 and 25, and return to Washington May 26.

Lieut. Col. F. G. Kellond, chief of the finance, equipment and supply section of the office of the chief of infantry, left Washington May 4 for Fort Benning, where he will confer for several days with the commandant of the infantry school concerning fiscal matters.

Col. Wiley Howell, executive officer in the infantry office, will visit the infantry school during commencement week in June.

Army to Aid Exercises.

All requests for troops in Memorial and Independence day exercises have been referred to respective corps area commanders by Secretary of War Davis for action that may be deemed advisable. It is the policy of the department to cooperate, but no funds are available for transportation.

ARMY AUTHORIZES $5,770,000 BUILDING FUND EXPENDITURE

Camp Meade and Fort Humphreys Each Will Have New Barracks.

EDGEWOOD ARSENAL, MD., GET OFFICERS' QUARTERS

Fort Monmouth, N. J., Will Retain Army and Signal School.

The first authorization for expenditure of funds derived from the sale of surplus army reservations has been made in the sum of $5,770,000, which has been apportioned for barracks at Fort Benning, Ga.; barracks and hospital at Fort Monmouth, N. J.; hospital at Camp Lewis, Wash.; barracks at Fort Sam Houston, Tex.; noncommissioned officers' quarters at Selfridge field, Mich.; barracks at Camp Meade, Md.; barracks at Fort Humphreys, Va.; barracks at Fort Bragg, N. C.; barracks at Camp Devens, Mass.; barracks at Erie proving ground, Ohio; officers' quarters at Edgewood arsenal, Md.; hospital at disciplinary barracks, Fort Leavenworth, Kans.; barracks at Mitchell field, N. Y.; officers' and noncommissioned officers' quarters at France field, Panama; noncommissioned officers' quarters at Schofield barracks, Hawaii; barracks at Fort Wadsworth, N. Y.; barracks and noncommissioned officers' quarters at Maxwell field, Ala. In addition, the army appropriation bill authorizes expenditure of $800,000 for barracks at Camp Lewis, Wash., and $450,000 for hospital construction at Schofield barracks, Hawaii.

Difficult Selection.

It was with difficulty that the War Department selected the places for the first expenditures, as practically all army posts are sadly in need of permanent construction.

If Governors island in New York harbor and the Presidio of San Francisco are sold, the estimated value of the former being $25,000,000 and the latter $26,000,000, the army building program would be well on its way to realization.

The principle the War Department followed in selection of posts at which construction should begin was first to include only so much construction as could be paid for out of actual moneys to the credit of the housing fund, and to distribute such moneys through the different corps areas and among the different arms of the service in such a way as to help everybody as much as possible in the interest of morale.

Apportionment of $555,000 for barracks and $100,000 for hospital at Fort Monmouth, N. J., marks the end of the question as to whether that post is to be retained as the principal station of the signal corps and the location of the army signal school. The post is on the site of the old Monmouth Park racetrack, and the signal corps has made use of some of the old buildings that were built at the track in the racing days.

Location Advantageous.

The location is an advantageous one, in view of its proximity to New York city and the opportunities offered for students at the school to visit telegraph and telephone headquarters, laboratories and manufacturing plants, during the school terms. Consideration was given to abandonment of the tract and relocation of the school at some other place, but all proposed new locations were discarded for one reason or another. Aside from the advantages of the places in the center of a highly developed industrial area, it affords room for the field training of signal corps troops, which is not had at some of the places to which it was suggested the school might be moved.

Selection of enlisted men for assignment to the next specialists' courses at the signal school now is being given attention by the chief signal officer of the army. These courses are for radio electricians and telephone electricians for nine months, from September 15 to June 15, and for meteorologists for four and a half months, from September 15 to February 1, and from February 1 to June 15.

Students for the electrician courses will be selected from the first three noncommissioned grades or from sergeants and corporals of the signal corps that are considered suitable for promotion to the grade of staff sergeant. Students for the meteorological course will be from among the noncommissioned officers and from eligibles for those grades that it is considered will be qualified, after proper training, to take charge of signal corps meteorological observing stations.

ACTIVITIES OF LUCE CRITICIZED BY POST

The McGroarty-O'Connel American Legion post, No. 7, held its last monthly meeting in the board room of the District building. A resolution was adopted condemning the actions of Representative Robert Luce, of Massachusetts. A resolution requesting the repeal of the Volstead act also was adopted.

Harlan Wood, Americanization officer of the department, conducted an instruction period on the subject of the Constitution. Herbert Pearson was admitted as a member. Russell Waybright, Harlan Wood and Fred Probst were presented carriage robes having recently become fathers. Tom Murray entertained with songs and reminiscences.

Adjt. Thomas J. Luckett has been elected mayor of Capitol Heights, Md., and Earl J. Cannon, commissioner of Bladensburg, Md. Commander Raymond A. Burke, Vice Commander Neal Lanahan and William Opitz represented the post at the unveiling of the chaplains' memorial at Arlington cemetery.

Retired Service Men Get Increase in Pay

Members of the retired lists of the army, navy, marine corps, coast guard and public health service were benefited last week by the passage of the House of a Senate bill to equalize their retired pay and to put it on a par with that of men retired since the joint service pay act went into effect on July 1, 1922. This act increased the pay of those on the active list and those that were retired after it went into effect, but it left those previously retired with the lower rates of pay prevailing.

The only feature of the desired legislation that was defeated was that the equalization begins with the date the new law is approved by the President, so that retired officers will not receive increase of pay for periods prior to that time.

COL. C. S. HILL TO GO TO BASE AT SAN DIEGO

Col. Snyder, Now on Leave Here, to Go to Philadelphia; Target Work Ordered.

ANTIAIRCRAFT PRACTICE

Col. Charles S. Hill, upon being relieved by Col. Harold C. Snyder, in command of marine barracks, Philadelphia, will go to duty at marine corps base, San Diego, Calif. Col. Snyder recently returned from duty in Haiti, and he is passing two-months' leave in this city, upon expiration of which he will go to Philadelphia.

Maj. Randolph Coyle, as captain of this year's marine corps rifle and pistol teams, will have as his assistants, Capt. Allen H. Tournage, as executive officer; Capt. Joseph Jackson, as coach; Capt. Eugene L. Mullaly, as assistant coach, and another, yet to be designated, as assistant coach for pistols.

The antiaircraft company at marine barracks, Quantico, under command of Capt. DeWitt Peck, will go to Virginia Beach, Va., for target practice, from May 28 to June 28. A detachment of airplanes will be sent from Qanntico to tow targets during the practice.

Qmr. Sergt. Clinton A. Phillips, after arrival at San Francisco from Guam, will be examined for appointment as a pay clerk, in which grade a vacancy exists as a result of retirement of Pay Clerk Herbert H. Wood on March 6.

NAVAL WAR COLLEGE OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN

51 Men of Line, 6 of Staff and 3 Marines Are Made Members.

The next class at the Naval War college to assemble at Newport in August will consist of 51 line officers and 6 staff officers of the navy, and three officers of the marine corps, as follows:

Line—Rear Admiral George R. Marvell, Capts. Frank H. Brumby, Charles M. Toser, Edward C. Kalbfus, Ralph E. Pope, and John W. Timmons; Commanders Wilbur R. Van Auken, William Ancrum, Leo Sahm, Frank H. Sadler, Aubrey K. Shoup, Walter H. Lassing, James S. Woods, William S. McClintic, Royal E. Ingersoll, Turner F. Caldwell, Harvey W. McCormack, Ronan C. Grady, William F. Newton, Hollis M. Cooley, Cortlandt C. Baugman, David A. Scott, Reed M. Fawell, Raymond A. Spruance, John W. Rankin, Thomas H. Taylor, George W. Simpson, and Robert V. Lowe; Lieut. Comdrs. Howard B. Macleary, James M. Doyle, Donald T. Hunter, Ewart G. Haas, Henry G. Cooper, jr., Charles E. Reordan, John F. Meigs, jr., Ernest G. Small, and Hugh C. Frazer, and Lieuts. Peyton Harrison, Forrest P. Sherman, Frederick A. Hardesty, and Harry A. Rochester.

Supply corps—Commanders Edward T. Hoopes and Chester G. Mayo. Medical corps—Capt. William H. Bell and Comdr. Eugene A. Vickery. Construction corps—Comdr. Ernest H. Brownell.

DAVIS INVITES LABOR HEAD TO VISIT CAMP

Wants Green to See Benefit of Military Training for Citizens.

Secretary of War Davis has renewed his invitation of last year to President William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, to visit one of the 47 citizens' military training camps this summer. President Green and members of the executive council will probably attend if they have the opportunity.

In his letter, Secretary Davis said, "In their sixth successful year, these camps have, I believe, proved their value to the youth of the nation and to the nation itself. Over 125,000 young men have been made better citizens by the training received in these camps, and it is planned to train not less than 35,000 this summer.

"The only prerequisites to enrollment are suitable mental and physical attributes and good moral character. The training given is designed to teach respect for proper authority, develop alertness and self-reliance, inculcate habits of discipline and build up bodily strength without which any young man is handicapped in his battle with life."

Argentine Fliers to Be Aided.

Headquarters of the Second corps, U. S. A., has been instructed to afford all possible facilities to Bernardo Duggan and Eduardo Olivero, civilian aviators from Argentina, who will arrive in New York today, for a flight from there to Buenos Aires.

POPPY SALE STARTS MAY 24; PRESIDENT EULOGIZES PROJECT

Reflects Spirit of Service and Is Worthy, He Writes V. F. W. Commander.

EXPECT TO SELL 100,000; PROCEEDS AID DISABLED

Teams Meet Tomorrow; Outing for Veterans in Hospitals Is Planned.

With the indorsement of President Coolidge, the Veterans of Foreign Wars are completing plans for the launching of the annual "buddy" poppy campaign here May 24. The poppies will be sold until May 30. Money derived from the sale is to be devoted to welfare work for former service men.

President Coolidge, for the third time since he has been in office, indorsed the sale of the poppies. The letter of indorsement, which was addressed to the commander-in-chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars, follows:

"The annual sale of poppies, made by disabled ex-service men throughout the country under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, seems to me to reflect a particularly appeaing sentiment of regard for and interest in the disabled ex-service man. It is calculated to perpetuate the fine thoughts which have made the poppy so peculiarly symbolical of the services and the sacrifices of the men who gave so much that freedom might survive in this world.

"It gives me great pleasure to give a hearty indorsement to this worthy enterprise."

Expect to Sell 100,000.

C. H. Bailey, chairman of the annual buddy poppy campaign committee, announced yesterday that it is expected that more than 100,000 "buddy" poppies will be worn in this city on Memorial day. The post teams of the District department, V. F. W., will meet tomorrow night at Mother Steed's cafeteria, 1808 G street northwest, to receive final instructions concerning the sale of the poppies. The V. F. W. have registered the name of "Buddy" in the U. S. patent office, and it will be used in connection with the sale of the poppies as a trade mark.

Members of the District department at the regular meeting of the administration held at the National Guard armory, Fifth and L streets northwest, May 5, went on record to support financially and morally the G. A. R. in its Memorial day exercises. All members of the department were urged to march in the Memorial day parade. The V. F. W. procession will fall in at Fifteenth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest at 9 o'clock, May 31.

Plan Hospital Outing.

Charles Kohen was assigned to conduct the annual automobile outing for the veterans in the local hospitals. Kohen reported that arrangements had been made to transport disabled veterans to the estate of Dr. M. L. Turner at Berwyn Heights, Md., June 6, from the following hospitals: Walter Reed, Mount Alto, Naval, St. Elizabeths, Tubercular and Soldiers' Home. He said that it would require approximately 500 automobiles to transport the veterans, and asked members of the department to volunteer the use of their machines.

CONSIDER RETIRING 3 WAR ADMIRALS

Haris, Grayson and Peoples Come Under Section of Act of March 4, 1925.

It is understood that consideration is being given in the Navy Department to section 29 of an act of March 4, 1925, which reads: "Any staff officer of the navy now on the active list who held the permanent rank of rear admiral during the world war, after serving ten years in that rank, may, in the discretion of the President, be placed upon the retired list with three-fourths of the pay received by him on the active list at the date of retirement."

The officers that now are, or soon will be, subject to this provision, are the following, who have dates of rank as stated: Rear Admiral Frederick R. Haris, civil engineer corps, August 29, 1916; Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, medical corps, August 29, 1916, and Rear Admiral Christian J. Peoples, supply corps, July 1, 1917.

Of the three officers only two are eligible for transfer to the retired list this year under that section. The only reason ascribed for action under the section at this time is that it would create vacancies for promotion of officers of the respective staff corps. The situation is notable as being the only circumstance under which an officer of the navy may be retired by the President, without application, except for physical disability, age in grade, and the compulsory retirement at 64 years. It is understood, however, that Admiral Grayson would not be adverse to being placed on the retired list under that section after he becomes eligible therefor on August 29, 1926.

Davis Praises College Head.

President Walter A. Jessup, of the Iowa State university, has been informed by Secretary of War Davis that his interest in the efficiency of the Reserve Officers' Training corps at his institution is a source of great satisfaction to the War Department.

Camp Knox Bids to Be Opened.

Bids for the surplus area of Camp Knox, Ky., 491 acres, will be opened in the office of Maj. Gen. B. F. Cheatham, quartermaster general, May 27, at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Admiral Laws to Come To Navy Department Post

Rear Admiral G. R. Marvell to Attend War College at Newport—Capt. Steele Gets Leave—Other Officers' Assignments Changed.

Rear Admiral George R. Marvell, who has been ordered detached from command of the fleet base force in the Pacific, will go to the next course of instruction at the Naval War college, Newport, R. I.

Rear Admiral George W. Laws has been ordered, upon detachment as commandant of the Sixteenth naval district and of naval station, Cavite, P. I., to proceed to this city and report to the chief of naval operations for assignment.

Capt. George W. Steele, jr., now in command of the naval air station, Lakehurst, N. J., and of the airship Los Angeles, has been granted three months' leave of absence. This will defer his assumption of command of the cruiser Pittsburgh until after the ship returns home from service as flagship of the European station. Capt. Steele will assume command of the ship before she departs for the Asiatic station, to relieve the cruiser Huron as flagship.

Comdr. Damon E. Cummings, upon completion of the current course at the war college, will go to duty as executive officer of the light cruiser Trenton, relieving Comdr. Reed M. Fawell, who will go to the next war college class.

Comdr. George C. Logan, who has been on leave following duty as executive officer of the Pittsburgh, will be assigned to duty as manager of the navy yard, Charleston, S. C., relieving Comdr. Arthur K. Atkins. The latter will go to London for duty as assistant naval attache, relieving Comdr. Robert A. Burg, who will come home for assignment.

Comdr. Richard S. Edwards, now in command of the destroyer Wood, will go to duty as inspector of ordnance in charge of the naval ammunition depot, Kuahua, Hawaii, relieving Comdr. David A. Scott, who will go to the next war college class.

Lieut. Robert T. Darrow became due for promotion on May 3 to the grade of lieutenant commander.

Comdr. James O. Gawne, construction corps, who has been ordered relieved from duty at the Navy Department in the bureau of construction and repair and assigned to duty as assistant naval attache at London, will relieve Comdr. Jerome C. Hunsaker, of that corps, who will come to Washington for temporary duty in the office of naval intelligence prior to a permanent assignment.

Capt. Homer R. Sanford, civil engineer corps, attached to the bureau of yards and docks, Navy Department, has been ordered to proceed to the Philippines on temporary duty to make an investigation and report with respect to the projected transfer of the dry-dock Dewey from Olongapo to Cavite.

Lieut. William O. Holtabidle, civil engineer corps, has been ordered detached from duty in the bureau of yards and docks and to proceed via August transport from San Francisco to Guam as relief of Lieut. Edwin D. Miller, of that corps.

AMERICAN LEGION

U. S. S. Jacob Jones Post.

The meeting of the U. S. S. Jacob Jones post, No. 2, for May will be held tomorrow evening at the Endion club, 14 Jackson place northwest.

Several members of the post passed last Sunday in furthering the good work of the post by gathering spring flowers for several of the hospitals of the city.

The "Good Will Home Fund Team" of the post is interesting its friends in a theater party at Keith's on Tuesday evening, May 18. All former service women are especially invited.

A rummage sale is being planned for the latter part of May, and all comrades are asked to make donations for the sale. Notify Comrade Ella Chambers, 1400 Chapin street, Columbia 8084.

8 Chapeaux et 40 Dames.

The meeting of the 8 Chapeaux et 40 Dames will be held at the Lee House Wednesday at 8 p. m., followed by a program. Mr. James Lyons, chairman of ushers, has extended an invitation to the partners of this salon to act as ushers in the amphitheater at Arlington on May 30, and those wishing to serve should send their names in immediately to Le Chapeaux Departmental, Mrs. Mary E. Kolhos. Following the exercises, Mrs. Leon Arnold will entertain the 8 and 40 ushers at a Dutch Supper. Mrs. Dorothy B. Harper, associated member of the salon, is attending the national executive committee sessions, in Indianapolis, Ind., as alternate to the delegate from Hawaii, of the American Legion.

DANCERS ENTERTAIN ARMY-NAVY UNION

President's Own Garrison Thanks Committee for Its Share of Work.

A vote of thanks was given Sergt. H. M. Jett and Sergt. T. H. Harris for their work as members of the committees from the President's Own Garrison, No. 104, of the Army and Navy union, in cooperation with the committees of the Auxiliary garrison, No. 16, of the Auxiliary to the Army and Navy union, U. S. A., at the entertainment of Tuesday night in Woodmen of the World hall, 24 Grant place.

The program arranged by Lieut. Jett included a complete revue presented by Miss Margaret Little's Dance Revue Divertissements from the Tivoli Theater Junior Follies of 1926.

Miss Little and Miss Blanch Lehman, "La Java" danseuses ably performed their Charleston specialty. Ken Carroll, Keith entertainer, presented his own act, aided by Erma Calvert and Virginia Phillips. The Hudlow sisters, with acrobatic dance features; Baby Kathleen, Audrey Sadler and Ruth Hudlow were also encored. The garrison meeting in the District board room appropriated funds for Memorial day wreaths.

ADMIRAL TAYLOR NOW AT FLEET PRACTICE

Capt. Lannon Is in Charge of the Office Here During His Absence.

Rear Admiral Montgomery M. Taylor, director of fleet training, and Commander Henry K. Hewitt, attached to his office, left Washington last week for San Pedro, Calif., to witness battle practice of the battle fleet, and they will be absent about a month. In the meantime, Capt. James P. Lannon is acting as director of fleet training. Lieut. Comdr. James C. Byrnes, jr., who went to Guantanamo, Cuba, some time ago to witness target practice of the scouting fleet, has returned to duty in the fleet-training office.

Following is the relative standing of leading vessels of certain classes in engineering performances for the competitive year to March 31:

Light cruisers — Concord, Richmond, Milwaukee, Trenton, Raleigh, Marblehead, Omaha, Memphis, Cincinnati.

Cruisers—Pittsburgh, Galveston, Denver, Rochester, Huron, Cleveland, Seattle.

Submarines—O-6, O-4, O-2, S-43, O-3, S-42, S-29, S-34, O-7, S-1.

SERVICE ORDERS

NAVY ASSIGNMENTS.

COMMANDERS—Hollis M. Cooley to Newport, R. I.; James A. Gawns to London, Eng.; Royal E. Ingersoll to Newport, R. I.; Jonas H. Ingram to Annapolis; Bryon McCandless to U. S. S. Nokomis; David A. Scott to Newport, R. I.; Charles H. Shaw to Dest. Div. 26; John T. Kennedy to Portsmouth, N. H.; Eugene A. Vickery to Newport, R. I.

LIEUTENANT-COMMANDERS — Harold T. Bartlett to Langley Field, Va.; Clarkson J. Bright to Annapolis; Franklin B. Conger to Asiatic station; Roy Dudley to battle fleet; Ewart G. Haas to Newport, R. I.; Leslie L. Jordan to U. S. S. New Mexico; Sherman S. Kennedy to Puget Sound, Wash.; Alan G. Kirk to U. S. S. Arkansas; John F. McCalin to San Diego, Calif.; Thomas S. McCloy to Asiatic station; Charles E. Roordan to Newport, R. I.; Romuald P. Meclowski to Asiatic station; Earl A. McIntyre to Asiatic station; Theodore D. Ruddock to battle fleet; Henry A. Seliller to Washington, D. C.; Earnest G. Small to Newport, R. I.; Robert G. Davis to Washington, D. C.; William L. Irvine to Annapolis; Robert F. Jones to Norfolk, Va.; Eben E. Smith to Washington, D. C.; Harry W. R. Turner to New York; Charles C. Tinsley to Annapolis; Paul A. Clarke to U. S. S. Mississippi.

LIEUTENANTS—John N. Kelty to Washington, D. C.; John B. Lyon to Dayton, Ohio; Andrew DeG. Mayer to Camden, N. J.; Harry W. Need to Asiatic station; Jens Nelson to U. S. S. Chaumont; John J. Patterson 3rd, to Asiatic station; William D. Sullivan to Puget Sound, Wash.; James C. Taylor to U. S. S. Gold Star; Earnest H. Von Heimburg to Asiatic station; Leonard P. Wessell to Asiatic station; Thomas P. Ballenger to Philadelphia; Edwin R. Gallagher to Dest. Div. 31; Roger Brooks to Washington, D. C.; Allen D. Brown to U. S. S. Henderson; Leroy W. Busbey to U. S. S. V-2; Milton O. Carlson to Newport, R. I.; William E. Clayton to Asiatic station; Robert P. Cunningham to Annapolis; Peter K. Fischler to Asiatic station; Raymond W. Holsinger to Washington, D. C.; Russell M. Ihrig to Asiatic station; Malcolm R. Jameson to U. S. S. Colorado.

LIEUTENANTS JUNIOR GRADE—Francis W. Beard to U. S. S. Sands; Harry C. Garrison to U. S. S. Chewink; Charles Wilkes to U. S. S. R-10.

ENSIGNS—Arthur W. Basa to Newport, R. I.; Fred C. Billings to U. S. S. Isherwood; William M. Cole to U. S. S. Mullany; Torrence R. Cowie to U. S. S. Mayer; Richard H. Gingrass to U. S. S. Eagle No. 35; Francis M. Heddons to U. S. S. Milwaukee; John J. Hourihan to Newport, R. I.; Wendell E. Kraft to Annapolis; Richard F. Stout to U. S. S. Gilmer; Dundas P. Tucker to U. S. S. California.

ARMY ASSIGNMENTS.

INFANTRY—Capt. Benjamin M. Crenshaw, to Moscow, Idaho; First Lieut. Lyle M. Shields, to Camp Meade, Md.; Lieut. Col. Robert H. Sillman retires.

ORDNANCE—Capt. Asa H. Skinner, to Aberdeen, Md.; Maj. Gustave Edward Baehr, jr., reserve, to Dover, N. J.; Capt. Claude Kedzie Shedd, reserve, to Rock Island, Ill.; Lieut. Col. Frank J. Stephenson, reserve, to Benicia, Calif.; Capt. Henry Grayson Roberts, reserve, to Metuchen, N. J.; Capts. James Carberry Karnes, Murray Hill Resni Coff, First Lieut. Clarence Colvin Stevens and Second Lieut. Edward Roane Melton, jr., reserve, to Philadelphia; Lieut. Col. Frederick Lewis Miller Masury, Majs. Walter Holbrook Adams, Almon Warren Copley, Albert Adkins Hedge, Oscar Francis Reynolds, James Spiers, Capts. Arthur Naylor Armitage, Joseph William Criglar, Arthur Boquer Domonoske, Dozier Finley, Harry Owen Holt, Harry John McIntyre, Eric Nilan, First Lieuts. Boynton Morris Green, Carroll Delmar Hudson, Second Lieuts. Lawrence Albert Anderson, Frank William Chambers, Earl William Shriber, to Benicia, Calif.

COAST ARTILLERY—First Lieut. Walter H. Carlisle, to Fort Sheridan, Ill.; First Lieut. Walter R. Goodrich, to Fort Monroe, Va.; Capt. Louis H. Thompson, to Chicago; First Lieut. John L. Goff, to Fort Monroe, Va.

ENGINEERS — Capt. Edward S. Pegram, jr., to New York.

CAVALRY — Lieut. Col. Talbot Smith, to Lexington, Ky.; First Lieut. Donald C. Kemp, to Monterey, Calif.

QUARTERMASTER CORPS—Capt. Frank Joseph Boatman, Second Lieut. Frederick William Scharf, reserve, to Wright field, Ohio; Capt. Charles A. Brinkley, to Walter Reed hospital; Capt. John Wyatt Pooler, reserve, to Jeffersonville, Ind.; Capt. John C. Hutcheson, to Fort Slocum, N. Y.; Capt. Richard K. Smith, to Camp Holabird, Md.

6 U. S. MEN O' WAR GOING TO ANNAPOLIS AT COMMENCEMENT

Aircraft Squadrons and Three Tenders Also Are Detailed for Graduation.

MEMPHIS IS FLAGSHIP OF EUROPEAN STATION

Navy Will Take Part in the Dedication Ceremonies at St. Nazaire.

Besides the battleships Wyoming, Utah, and New York, which are to take the midshipmen of the Naval Academy on their annual summer practice cruise, there will be present at Annapolis from May 29 to June 4, during the graduation exercises of the academy the light cruisers Raleigh, Richmond, and Trenton, and the aircraft squadrons of the scouting fleet consisting of the tenders Wright, Sandpiper, and Teal, VS squadron 1 of 12 scouting planes, and VT squadron 1 of 12 torpedo planes. The tenders and planes will remain there during the summer for service in connection with aviation instruction of midshipmen.

The light cruiser Memphis, which has been assigned to relieve the cruiser Pittsburgh as flagship of the European station, and which now is under overhaul at Philadelphia, has been designated to be present at the dedication of the St. Nazaire memorial, at St. Nazaire, France, on June 26. This memorial will be commemorative of the convoy activities of that port during the world war.

The Memphis will leave Philadelphia on June 14, which was the date of the sailing in 1917 of the first convoy of American troops for France. Rear Admiral Albert Gleaves, now retired, who was in command of that convoy, which then took over the first division, and Brig. Gen. Samuel D. Rockenbach, now commander of the District of Washington, who was the first American commander of the base at St. Nazaire, will sail on the Memphis as representatives of the navy and army at the dedication ceremonies. Admiral Gleaves will return on board the Pittsburgh. Gen. Rockenbach may come back at the same time, but he may remain longer in Europe. After taking part in the ceremonies at St. Nazaire, the Memphis will relieve the Pittsburgh as flagship.

Itineraries Announced.

Boats of destroyer division 25, under orders to the European station, will leave Newport on June 17, under command of Capt. William W. Galbraith. The Isherwood, flagship; Lardner, Case, and Sharkey will go to Cherbourg, and the Toucey and Breck to Gibraltar, and they are due to arrive at those ports by June 29. Destroyers division 27, upon relief by these boats, will depart from the European station about July 1, and they are due to arrive at New York about July 12. After two weeks of liberty, they will join the scouting fleet in Narragansett bay.

The following itineraries of movements of boats of division 25, after arrival in European waters, have been approved:

Isherwood and Lardner—Leave Cherbourg, July 13; arrive Gravesend July 14 and leave July 19; arrive Leith July 20 and leave July 27; arrive Aberdeen July 27 and leave July 31; arrive Dublin August 2 and leave August 10; arrive Queenstown August 11 and leave August 16; arrive Lisbon August 19 and leave August 27; arrive Cadiz August 28 and leave September 8; and arrive Gibraltar September 8.

Toucey and Breck—Leave Gibraltar July 6; arrive Marseille July 8 and leave July 19; arrive Cannes July 19 and leave July 22, arrive Malta July 26 and leave August 6; arrive Cattaro August 7 and leave August 12; arrive Sebencio August 13 and leave August 17; arrive Flume August 17 and leave August 21; arrive Pola August 21 and leave August 25; arrive Venice August 25 and leave September 3 for Gibraltar.

All six boats will conduct gunnery exercises about October 28.

Spanish War Camps To Meet This Week

Four camps of the United Spanish War Veterans will meet this week. They are Col. James Pettit, Tuesday; Gen. Nelson A. Miles and Col. James Pettit auxiliary on Thursday, and Admiral George Dewey on Friday.

A class of nine applications will be acted on at the next meeting of the Col. James S. Pettit camp, Commander P. E. Shomette, of Miles camp, and Comrade Orken, of Harden camp, were visitors at the last meeting of the Pettit camp. A turkey dinner will be given by the Dewey Naval camp, No. 7, at Suitland park, Suitland, Md., on Saturday. Buses will leave Seventeenth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast to carry visitors.

Planes to Follow Marine Team.

Three pursuit planes of the U. S. Marine corps will follow the corps baseball team on its trip through New England the week of May 17, playing various college teams.

MARYLAND U. PLANS TO REFORM COLLEGE PARK ALUMNI BODY

Poe and New Mercer Literary Societies Will Meet in Debate.

MILITARY FRATERNITY INVITATIONS RECEIVED

Women's Athletic Association Soon to Have Annual Banquet.

Reorganization of the alumni association of the College Park branch of the University of Maryland has been decided upon. At the recent annual meeting of the association the president was authorized to appoint a committee to go ahead with the reorganization. Officers were re-elected as follows: Hanson Mitchell, president; Charles Summerville, vice president, and W. B. Kemp, secretary-treasurer.

Engagement of Ernest Davis, of New York, famous oratorio and concert artist, for a recital at the annual university festival of music, to be held Wednesday and Thursday, is announced by Dr. Homer C. House, director of the university chorus and the annual festival.

Debaters of the Poe and New Mercer Literary societies at Maryland will meet May 20, in their annual clash for possession of the Dr. H. J. Patterson cup.

The subject of debate will be: Resolved, That fraternities are detrimental to collegiate institutions.

Poe Takes Negative.

Debating the negative side will be these Poe representatives: Alexander Muzzy and Ross Smith, with Frances Freeney and Kenneth Petrie, alternates, and the New Mercer debaters for the affirmative will be Norwood Eaton, Ellwood Nicholas, Olive Edmonds and William Wiley.

Emily Herzog has been elected chairman of the ways and means committee, a new committee, of the Maryland Y. W. C. A. The Y. W. C. A. will be represented at the cabinet training conference at Sherwood Forest by Frances Freeney, Jane Kirk, Roselle Bishopp, Geneva Reich, Anne Hoffman, Emily Herzog, Betty Amos, Mary Stewart York represented the Maryland "Y. W." at the recent National Student Y. W. C. A. assembly in Milwaukee.

Invitations to Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, were recently given to and accepted by the following: Edward S. Thompson, William G. Bewley, Wade H. Elgin, Harry F. Garber, Edward B. Marks, Kenneth F. Spence, Mallory O. Wooster, Robert B. Luckey and Sidney Lanier.

An individual bowling tournament at the College Park alleys will start Monday and continue through the week.

George Edward Melchior represented the Maryland chapter at the fifteenth biennial convention of the National Society of Scabbard and Blade, held at Louisiana State college.

Class to Elect.

Officers are to be elected this week by the junior class following the nominations made last week.

The Women's Athletic association has nominated its officers for next year.

Date of the association's annual banquet has been changed to May 20 at 5 p. m., it is announced by Maxine Heiss, chairman of the arrangements committee.

Clarke Beach of the junior class is the representative of the State in the annual intercollegiate oratorical contest conducted under the auspices of the American Oratorical association. He won the honor as the result of defeating Willard Lee Hawkins of Western Maryland college. Beach will compete in the semifinals to be held soon.

Date of the annual girls' track meet at Maryland has been set tentatively for May 22 at 10 a. m., according to Irene Mead, manager. Those who have been practicing regularly include Lucia Alagia, Alma Essex, Anita Peters, Gertrude Speiden, Margaret Temple, Rebecca Woodward, Irene Zalowski, Mary Stewart York, Ann Matthews and Naomi Morris.

A number of important elections will take place this week. They include president, vice president, secretary and treasurer of the student government; news editor and business manager of the Diamondback, student weekly publication; editor, business manager and girls' editor of the Reveille, the student year book. The editor in chief of the Diamondback is to be appointed by the faculty committee.

Hotel Accountancy Class Is Organized

Clifford Lewis, of the Lewis Hotel Training School, announced yesterday that the new class in hotel accountancy will be organized tomorrow evening. This class, which is the second class in hotel accountancy ever organized in the United States, will consist of four months' practical training in specialized hotel accountancy under the direction of R. D. Toll, a local authority on the subject.

The first class in hotel accountancy ever to be held in the United States was graduated at the Willard hotel on April 8.

Owing to the practical training given in this course, class membership will be limited.

Tomorrow evening the class in tea room and restaurant training will be lectured on cafeteria service by Miss Margaret Evans, instructor of quantity cooking.

Tuesday John E. Jenner will deliver a lecture on the storeroom bookkeeper, while on Friday evening Mary Catherine Lewis will lecture on the steward as a manager.

Catholic University Has Honor Night for Seniors

Dr. Timothy Smiddy, Irish Minister to U. S., Is Chief Speaker—Tells of Present Conditions and Prospects of Free State.

The Dod Noon club of the Catholic university held its fourth annual senior night entertainment in honor of the members of the graduating class Thursday evening in the auditorium of McMahon hall. Dr. Timothy A. Smiddy, Irish Minister to the United States, was the guest of honor, and the principal speaker of the evening. He delivered an interesting and enlightening discourse to the large gathering on "The Present Conditions and Prospects of the Irish Free State."

John F. Nolan, of Bridgeport, Conn., presided.

Other features of the program were a minuet, in which the participants were Edward M. Curran, Bangor, Maine; Paul E. Miller, Cleveland, Ohio, and Daniel Peloski, Ansonia, Conn.; selections from "Tannhauser" and the "Pilgrims' Chorus," by the University orchestra; vocal selections, by the Dod Noon quartet, and a violin solo, "Berceuse," by Roland Rutledge, Hartford, Conn.

Wednesday evening the Catholic University Glee club gave its annual spring concert at the Willard hotel. Dr. Leo Behrendt, director of the Glee club, conducted the affair, and the occasion has gone down as one of the most successful enterprises in the history of the club.

The final formal function on the Catholic university social calendar, the annual senior prom, was held Friday evening in a burst of color and music in the ballroom of the Willard hotel, and provided a proper climax to a week unusually prolific of student activity. Nearly 400 persons enjoyed the evening as the seniors played hosts. The faculty was represented by Dr. and Mrs. Hardee Chambliss and Thomas J. MacKavanagh, professor of engineering, and Mrs. MacKavanagh. The committee in charge was headed by Benjamin J. Collins, of Glens Falls, N. Y.

Edward M. Curran, of Bangor, Maine, a senior law student, won signal honors for himself and for the university Friday evening, April 30, when he was voted the honor of representing the District of Columbia in the semifinals of the national intercollegiate oratorical contest.

The contest was held at Corcoran hall, George Washington university, and the competitors were the representatives of local colleges and universities. John J. Faulkner, jr., who spoke for George Washington university, was named alternate in the case of Curran's inability to continue in the contest. The regional contest, or semifinals, will be held Monday evening, May 17, in the auditorium of McMahon hall, Catholic university.

Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware and the District of Columbia form one of seven "regions," each of which will send one man to the National Oratorical Contest to be held in Los Angeles, Calif., June 25. Curran's victory gives him the task of representing the District in this contest. Each of the seven participants in the final contest will receive a prize, ranging from $2,000 for the first to $300 for the seventh. The topic chosen by the promoters of the contest is "The Constitution of the United States," and each participant is free to write on any aspect of the document he chooses.

The boards of deans of the university, in order to facilitate the registration of students in the fall and to permit the men to give better consideration to the selection of elective courses, has devised the plan of requiring all undergraduate students to submit to it before the end of the current month a tentative schedule of courses to be pursued during the coming academic year. This is a step forward, and will eliminate to a great extent the confusion and hustle of registration in the fall, when only two days are allowed for that purpose.

CENTRAL HIGH CADETS AWARDED FIRST PLACE

Debating Team Defeats Ohioans in Argument Over Air Service.

GERMAN PLAY IS ENACTED

The first battalion, first cadet regiment, representing Central High school, was declared winner of the annual cadet battalion competitive drill held in the Central stadium, April 29. This is the first time a Central High school battalion has been awarded first place.

Maj. Harold Jenkins commanded the winning battalion. The first battalion of Tech High school was awarded second place. The third and second battalions from Central High school, commanded by Majs. Robert Gray and Merillat Moses, were awarded third and fourth place, respectively.

Col. Wallace M. Craigie will present the winning battalion with the Craigie cup at the annual brigade inspection and review to be held in the Central stadium tomorrow.

The Central High school debating team upholding the negative of the question, "Resolved, that the army, navy and air service should be three separate divisions of a department of national defense," were declared victors over the Cleveland Heights High school.

Members of the winning team were Canfield Marsh, Merillat Moses and William Kerby. The Cleveland debaters were Edwin Carpell, Fred Barnes and Roland Gittelsohn. C. A. Drury, faculty member of the Ohio team, accompanied them to Washington.

Before meeting the Central debaters the Cleveland team had won seven out of eight of their matches. Judges of the contest were Daniel A. Chace, instructor of journalism at George Washington university; Dr. Walton C. John, lecturer at American university, and C. D. Shankland, of the National Educational association.

With the entire dialogue in German, the play "Das Gestehlene Kind" was presented in the Central High School chapel recently by the 1-B German class, taught by Miss Emilie White. The play was given to stimulate interest in the study of German.

A design for the certificates to be awarded members of the debating society, drawn by Mrs. Page Kirk, mechanical drawing teacher at Central, completes the designing of the form of these awards, which were inaugurated last year.

Pledges were extended to Marion Myers, Richard Sargeant and Hayden Leon at the last meeting of the Honor Society of the Key. Central's new mechanical drawing honor organization.

Armstrong Teacher Wins Essay Contest

Miss Brenda Moryck, instructor in English at Armstrong High school, it was announced yesterday, has been awarded second prize by the "Opportunity Magazine" for an essay, "A Man I Know."

Nearly 1,000 pupils participated in the Armstrong field day exercises Tuesday. The program consisted of calisthenic drills, folk dances, baseball, wrestling and relay races. The 50-yard dash for girls was won by Arzalia Brazier and Cora Mackell. As a part of the health week program Dr. C. A. Tignor and Dr. C. C. Fry addressed the student body Friday.

A study of chemical compounds was made by students in chemistry classes of Francis Smith, who visited the National Museum Thursday for the purpose.

EXAMINATIONS AT LAW COLLEGE ARE NEARING

Course in Legal Problems by Prof. Mooers to Be Finished Thursday.

SORORITY HAS INITIATION

Examinations are beginning to be in order as the year draws to a close at the Washington College of Law. Dr. Charles W. Needham has completed his lecture course on constitutional law and the examination in constitutional law cases was held Friday. Prof. Vandoren has likewise completed his lectures on equity pleading and an examination in this subject will be given for juniors tomorrow evening.

The course in legal problems now being given by Prof. Mooers will be completed Thursday and will be followed by a series of six lectures by Prof. Moores on the District of Columbia code. This new course may be taken as a special subject by students not wishing to enter for a degree.

An important meeting of the faculty of the Washington College of Law will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the college.

The Phi Delta Delta sorority initiated the following new members May 1: Adelaide Schlaudecker, Emma Schermann, Vera Mankinen, Agnes Quinn and Bessie I. Koehl.

Mrs. Arthur Keith, dean of the Epsilon chapter of the Kappa Beta Phi sorority, will entertain the members at a dinner at the Chevy Chase Country club, May 23. This will celebrate the tenth anniversary of the inception of the chapter and the seventy-sixth birthday anniversary of Ellen Spencer Mussey, who is honorary dean of the college. It will also celebrate the initiation of Esther Rogers into the organization.

High Court of Chancery of the Sigma Nu Phi fraternity of the college held its annual meeting at the Lee house Friday and Saturday, the final session being held today. A visit to Mount Vernon and a ball occupied Friday afternoon and evening and following the business session yesterday, the members attended a banquet at which the lord high chancellor spoke on the needs of the present day in the law profession.

The Washington College of Law chapter of Oliver Wendell Holmes was represented by delegates Wilbur L. Gray and Samuel Robinson.

DOUBLE CAST TRAINS FOR EASTERN PLAY

"The Boomerang," Comedy, Will Be Given May 14-15 in Auditorium.

"The Boomerang," a comedy by Winchell Smith and Victor Mapes, will be given by the Eastern High School Dramatic association May 14 and 15 in the school auditorium.

A double cast is being trained for the play. They are: Julius Radice, Angus Heeke, Lawrence Smallwood, James Madison; Harold Scruggs, Edward Finlaysen; George Roth, Walter Rhine, George Finger, Ruth Apperson, Marvel Douglas, Laura Barrett, Thelma Alexander, Helen Bryan, Marjorie Bartlett, Margaret Hoover, Dorothy Schenken, Hildegarde Cook, and Laura Barrett.

The play with the exception of the directing will be in charge of the students of the Dramatic classes of the school.

G. W. U. DIPLOMAS WILL BE AWARDED STUDENTS JUNE 9

Dr. D. A. Robertson Will Address Graduates in the Auditorium.

WREATH TO BE PLACED ON WASHINGTON TOMB

Dionysians Are Considering Presenting Play in the Sylvan Theater.

Commencement exercises of George Washington university will be held on June 9 in the Washington auditorium at 8 o'clock in the evening, according to an announcement made yesterday by President William Mather Lewis. The commencement speaker is Dr. David A. Robertson, of the American Council of Education.

It is expected that more than 400 candidates for degrees will receive diplomas in the various departments of the university. Final examinations will be started within two weeks.

On Sunday afternoon, June 6, on the university campus, the annual baccalaureate Sunday observances will be held. President Lewis will give the baccalaureate address. Members of the graduating classes and their friends, as well as patrons of the university, will be in attendance.

The full program of activities for commencement call for the annual pilgrimage to Mount Vernon to lay a wreath on the tomb of Washington, the annual senior class night exercises scheduled in Corcoran hall on the evening of June 8, the reception of President and Mrs. Lewis to be held at the Washington club on the afternoon of Wednesday, June 9, and the annual meeting of the alumni association tentatively set for Saturday night, June 5, in the Washington club.

Ten Days for Exercises.

A number of student activities have been arranged for the week preceding graduation, and it is expected that these features, in addition to the official events, will make a full program of university activities over a period of ten days.

On Tuesday, May 11, President Lewis will deliver an address before the annual meeting of the Kenmore association at Fredericksburg, Va. On Saturday following he will be present to represent the university at the inauguration of the president of Boston college.

An unusually enthusiastic group of Washington high school students received a fine evening's entertainment at the university last night at what was called "high school night."

Various university students presented stunts for the high school boys and girls. The gymnasium was turned over for dancing after the "stunts." President Lewis, Henry Grattan Doyle, Coach Crum, and student leaders spoke to the visitors.

The successful presentation of the original musical comedy, "Just a Kiss," the work of students marked a departure from the usual run of events. The production was under the direction of Miss Katherine Brown, dramatic coach, and the dancing under the direction of Virginia Leckie, Jack Hutchins, Joan Collins, Marion Campbell, Larry Parker and Sterry Waterman are responsible for the offering.

The Dionysians recently presented "The Frogs" which was enthusiastically received. There is talk of an outdoors presentation of the tableaux and ensembles for the sylvan theater.

Wins Oration Prize.

Frank Smith, who delivered an oration on "The Recognition of Russia," was declared the winner of the Davis Prize Speaking contest. George E. O'Conner won second prize and Raymond Weber, third. Six students entered the contest which was judged by Robert R. Kern, Samuel Bemis, and Dr. John A. Tilloma.

Justice George Sutherland and Gen. John J. Pershing have recently joined the George Washington university alumni association.

Recent events of importance on the calendar were the annual banquet of the Columbian women held at the Chevy Chase club, the talk in chapel by Capt. Cluverius on the rebuilding of "Old Ironsides;" the award of athletic insignia and other honors to girls at the May Day fete in Rock Creek park; the victor of the men's debating team over the University of Maryland; the women's Glee club dinner, and the Philippinensian organization night held by the Filipino students in the university which was addressed by Elmer Louis Kayser.

Dramatic Carnival For Armstrong High

A dramatic carnival, featuring 20 plays and playlets, many of them by colored pupils and teachers of the public schools, will be presented at the Armstrong high school during the week of May 17, in evening performances. The carnival will represent close correlation of work of the departments of drama, music, physical training, drawing and domestic art in original creative effort in literary and dramatic production of divisions 10-13.

Nathaniel A. Guy, assistant director of dramatics, aided by teachers under special assignment in individual schools, will stage the plays. Each school will furnish its own properties, prepared in joinery shops by boys of elementary grades. Costumes have been made by girls in domestic art classes. Posters and placards have been developed in interclass competition. An elementary school orchestra, drilled by Alston Burleigh, will play.

DAY OF GRADUATION AT GEORGETOWN U. NOW SET FOR JUNE 8

Program Necessitates Change From the Original Date for Exercises.

R. O. T. C. SUSPENDED FOR PRESENT SESSION

Medals and Scholarship Awards Are Made by President.

Commencement at Georgetown university has been advanced to Tuesday, June 8, a day later than originally contemplated, due to necessary changes made in the program, it was announced last night through the office of President Charles W. Lyons. Advancing of the date from Monday to Tuesday of commencement week carries with it a general shifting of the order of events maintained in recent years.

As an indication of the steady growth of the institution the record graduation class of 1925, comprising approximately 500 seniors in all departments, undoubtedly will be exceeded at the forthcoming 137th annual commencement. With increased dormitory accommodations available for students at the college during the 1926-27 term, the department of arts and sciences is looking ahead to a year unprecedented in its long history.

In view of the changes necessitated in the program, commencement week will be ushered in Sunday, June 6, with the baccalaureate sermon that morning in Dahlgren chapel. The Rev. Edward Sweeney, a graduate of the class of 1916, who is now performing parish duties in the Brooklyn, N. Y., diocese, has been invited to deliver the sermon to the graduating classes. That afternoon the trustees of the university will hold their annual session with the rector, followed in the evening by the reunion celebration.

Announcement of the Commencement day speaker and details of the various activities has not yet been made.

R. O. T. C. Ceases.

With the general field day held last Thursday, the R. O. T. C. department of the university has ceased its operations for the year. Cadets who have earned their commissions as lieutenants in the officers reserve corps will receive them at the commencement exercises. The honor cadet of the battalion this year is Lieut. Col. Anthony B. Brennan, of Savannah, Ga., the commander of the unit. As the cadet who is conceded to have done more for the good of the unit during his four years at the college, Brennan was awarded a gold wrist watch, donated each year by Joseph A. McDonough '22, former battalion commander at Georgetown. President Lyons made the presentation at the field day exercises along with other awards.

Another Georgetown student who won an individual honor during the last week was B. F. Sears, winner of the final prize debate at the law school. This is considered the highest scholastic achievement and carries with it a silver cup which will be presented to Mr. Sears by the faculty on commencement day.

Elocution Contest.

Interest centers tonight in the annual elocution contest for the Dixon medal to be held in Gaston hall, which was won last year by William Kalt, '25. The contestants, all college students, are John D. Reilly, jr., '28; Aloysius P. Kane, '28; Louis F. Frick, '29; Francis J. McGarraghy, '29; John E. Loughlin, jr., '27; Thomas G. Haggerty, '26; Henry J. Blommer, '26; William B. Platt, '29; Joseph S. Mullen, '28, and James P. Quinn, jr., '29.

The delegation from the foreign service school that attended the National Foreign Trade convention in Charleston, S. C., last week returned to Washington after a highly successful visit. At the convention they were joined by James A. Farrell, of New York, president of the United States Steel Corporation, who is a trustee of Georgetown university and also was chairman of the convention. Dr. Roy S. MacElwee, commissioner of the port of Charleston and former dean of the school also welcomed the Georgetown delegation which included students as well as members of the faculty.

Early yesterday morning another delegation from the foreign service school, accompanied by a group of government officials and members of the Diplomtic Corps, visited Philadelphia as the guests of mayor Kendrick. They were taken on an inspection tour of the industrial and port facilities of the city, welcomed by the mayor and later they were guests of officials at the Baldwin Locomotive Works and the Cramp shipyards.

Joseph D. Porter, of Elizabeth City, N. C., was the winner of the annual Shakespearean contest at the college, held last Sunday. He passed the highest examination in three plays of Shakespeare, winning, thereby, the Quicksall medal.

Business High Club To Offer Operetta

The Boys and Girls Glee club of Business High school will present "The Maid and the Middy," an operetta, Thursday night at the school. The play will be staged under the direction of Miss Emma Louise Thompson and Miss Esther Galbraith.

Friday an assembly was held to raise funds for "Old Ironsides," at which Harry Yaffy presided. Elsie Mandley, Ethel Laser and Kenneth Harvey made short speeches on "Old Ironsides" and the effect she has had on American history. The students were then entertained by a chorus song by the Boys Glee club, and several xylophone solos by Henry Goldstein.

NATIONAL LAW SCHOOL COEDS

Miss Constance D. Fogle (left), president of the Cy Pres club, and Miss Bertha E. Richardson (right), former president. Both are members of the Kappa Beta Pi legal sorority and Miss Fogle is secretary of the junior class.

WESTERN HIGH NAMES MITCHELL CLASS HEAD

New Paper Will Be Issued by the School Class in Journalism.

TO HOLD HOUSE-WARMING

Warren Mitchell has been elected president of the Western High school February graduating class. Miss Ruth Molyneaux was named vice president and Miss Elaine Graham, secretary-treasurer.

A new paper, the Western Journal, has been started, under the direction of Miss Daniel and the journalism classes. Its purpose is to give the members of these classes practical experience in getting out a publication. The first issue appeared April 23. In order to give every one a chance to write for the paper, its staff will be changed every issue.

The staffs of the two Western publications will celebrate the close of the season with a banquet. Elizabeth Wilson, editor of the Breeze, is the general chairman; Margaret Deming will be the artistic manager, Caroline Sanderson will be the toastmistress; Philip Evans is chairman of the committee choosing the dining place, and other members of the staff will be called upon to make speeches.

The New Western "house warming" party will take place on Wednesday evening at the spring meeting of the Home and School association. The principal features of the evening will be a "Sight Seeing Tour of Western," in which the friends and parents of Western High school students will be personally conducted about the building and will be shown the points of interest with special attention shown to the new rooms and gymnasiums. Exhibitions will be given in the girls' and boys' gyms, and the rifle team will play matches in the range.

An assembly was held Monday to promote the cause of the "Constitution." The program was arranged by Miss Cushing. Ben Connally introduced the subject by giving a general talk on "Old Ironsides." George Bates described the battle between the Constitution and the Guerriere. Claudia Sutton recited Holmes' poem, "Old Ironsides." The program was concluded by an urgent request for contributions by Philip Evans.

A music assembly was held Wednesday in the auditorium. The Mandolin club rendered "Over the Waves" and "La Paloma." The whole school sang several songs under the direction of Dr. Barnes, while Miss Athey accompanied on the piano. Bernice Jones gave a piano solo, Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C Minor." The assembly ended after Eleanor Hulbert played Moskowski's "Caprice Espagnole."

SODALITIES' REUNION WILL BE HELD TODAY

Archbishop Curley to Preside at Services in Immaculate Conception Shrine.

Archbishop Curley will preside at the semi-annual reunion of sodalities in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary, which will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the crypt of the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, located on the grounds of the Catholic university. The deacons of honor will be the Rev. F. X. Cavanaugh and the Rev. Thomas A. Calman. The Rev. George Johnson, of Catholic university, will preach the sermon.

The Rev. B. J. Hanneman will be deacon, the Rev. J. C. Murphy subdeacon, the Rev. Bernard A. McKenna, master of ceremonies, and the benediction will be given by the Rev. William J. Carroll. The Rev. Lee J. Feely, spiritual director of the union, will greet the clergy attending.

The committee assisting is composed of Mrs. J. C. Simpson, Mrs. Thomas F. Finnin, Miss Annie F. Murphy, Mrs. J. Floyd Maley, and Miss Grace Irene Kelly. The ushers will be Miss Katherine Griffin, Miss Margaret Chamberlain, Miss Marguerite Mahoney, Miss Anna May Fitzmaurice, Miss Margaret Ganey, Miss Estelle Odenweller, Miss Margaret Sayre, Miss Helen Behabitz and Miss Agnes McCray.

Current Subjects Given Miner Seniors

A demonstration lesson, arranged for seniors of the Miner Normal school by James I. Miner, was given with grades five and six in the assembly hall at the Lucretia Mott school Friday. The lessons presented an exposition of Chicago's greatness as a city of the central plain, and illustrated probable effects of the coal strike upon the people of England.

HINDUISM PHILOSOPHY EXPLAINED AT HOWARD

V. V. Oaks Is Speaker; George E. C. Hayes Tells of Guide Right Movement.

VESPER SERVICES TODAY

V. V. Oaks, native of India, temporarily filling the professorship of economics at Howard university, made vacant by the resignation of George W. Hines, spoke to faculty and student body of the university at the Wednesday noon-hour assembly on "Christianity and Hinduism." He explained Hinduism as definitely not a caste, but rather a philosophy encouraged by well-established sects in various parts of the country.

The "guide right movement" in the interest of uplift of youth, sponsored by the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity, was the subject of an address by George E. C. Hayes, of the law faculty. He presented a history of the movement and summarized its accomplishment.

The Pestalozzi Froebel forum was addressed Friday by Dean Dwight O. W. Holmes, of the college of education, who spoke in guidance of students who plan to make teaching their life work.

Bishop Wilbur Patterson Thirkield, president of Howard university, 1906-1912, will be the principal speaker at the vesper service in Rankin chapel this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Miss Nannie H. Burroughs will close the May "education week" campaign of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority with an address in Rankin chapel tonight at 8 o'clock.

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY TO HOLD GRADUATION

Commencement Week Program Will Open With Sermon Sunday, May 30.

The commencement week program of the American university will open with a convocation sermon by Chancellor Clark at the Hamline, M. E. church Sunday morning May 30, it was announced yesterday.

A reception will be given all graduates Monday night following a reception by Chancellor and Mrs. Clark at their residence on the college campus. Other features of the program include he convocation exercises on June 1 at which Dean-elect Edward T. Devine, of the graduate school will make an address and the alumni dinner in the women's dormitory the same night.

Mrs. H. Lester Smith, wife of Bishop Smith, of Montana, will speak at the vesper services which will be held tonight in the women's dormitory. The student body was entertained by the faculty yesterday at a picnic at the Miller cabin in Rock Creek park, a baseball game between faculty members and students and other athletic contests following a luncheon served by the wives of the faculty.

K. C. SCHOOL COUNCIL TO ARRANGE OUTING

Commencement Week Social Affairs Also on Program for Meeting.

The student council of the Knights of Columbus Evening school will meet tomorrow night at the school to make arrangements for the social affairs to be held during commencement week and evolve a plan for keeping in touch with all students during the summer months. Arrangements will also be completed for the first outing of the student council, which is expected to be held at Idylwilde during the week of June 6. Mr. Daniell J. Ryan, a student in the law department and an active member of the Thomas Circle Citizens' association, brought the association to the school last Monday night for its regular monthly meeting. A considerable number of students have already enrolled for the summer classes in shorthand, typing and English.

The Girls Glee club practiced Monday night on the musical program for commencement. The program is under the direction of Mrs. J. B. Waters. Those present were the Misses M. Monica Dwyer, Marie Louise Mattingly, Mary A. Eike, Rita C. Grady, Claire F. Kennedy and Agnes E. Cady, sopranos; and the Misses Louise S. Kelly, Ruth I. Reynolds, Mary A. Warren, Harriet M. Mast, Helen M. Pahler, Marie Louise Edmondston and Lillian H. Deavy, altos.

NATIONAL U. 1926 YEARBOOK LARGEST IN SCHOOL HISTORY

Dr. Loy McAfee Compiles the Story of University to Appear in Docket.

ALPHA BETA PHI GROUP WILL HONOR GRADUATES

Degree of Doctor of Civil Law to Be Conferred Next Year.

The Docket, the student publication of National university, will be issued on May 20, larger this year than ever. The large edition is made necessary because of the largest graduating class in the history of the institution and the broader range of student activities during the past academic year. Dr. Loy McAfee, who will be one of the first women in this country to be graduated both in medicine and law, is editor-in-chief; Fred L. Flynn, business manager, and Norman A. Gray, treasurer. They have been assisted by several committees appointed from the senior and postgraduate classes.

Biographies with photographs will appear of all of the members of the graduating classes. The section devoted to the administrative officials and faculties will contain photographs, but will be without biographical sketches. A section will be devoted to the Richard A. Alvey and Samuel F. Miller debating societies, the Masonic, Woodrow Wilson, Theodore Roosevelt and Cy Pres clubs and the chapters of the Greek letter fraternities.

Dr. McAfee has written a history of the university which will appear in The Docket. She has secured for publication in this issue copies of five diplomas signed by the first five chancellors of the university, Ulysses S. Grant, Rutherford B. Hayes, James A. Garfield, Chester A. Arthur and Grover Cleveland.

To Award High Degree.

The Alpha chapter of the Alpha Beta Phi fraternity will give a banquet in honor of its graduates in the June commencement week. The committee in charge is composed of David G. Sherman, Lewis D. Cohen, Nathan B. Needle and Saul G. Lichtenberg. At the last meeting of the chapter, Samuel R. Zetzer and Benjamin Moss were initiated.

Beginning with the next school year, the degree of doctor of civil law will be conferred by the law school only after two years of graduate study. In order that a candidate may be eligible to matriculate for this degree it will be necessary for him to show graduation from some recognized university or college with the degree of bachelor of arts or an equivalent degree, and to have graduated also from some approved law school.

The graduate courses necessary for the doctorate will be along prescribed lines and will be announced when the curriculum for next year is made public. Included in the requirements will be a year of research work under the direction of a member of the faculty and the submission of dissertation which, like doctor dissertations in other accredited universities, must be a distinct contribution to knowledge and evidence of high scholarship.

The doctorate in civil law, which has been conferred but two years at National university, is one of the oldest academic degrees in the world. It is recognized as the highest degree in course which may be conferred by a law school.

An official visit by M. D. Hensey, president, and the other members of the advisory board was paid to the Masonic club at its meeting Friday night. At this time six Masons were made members. R. Sidney Johnson has been appointed chairman of the scholarship committee and is now arranging for funds with which scholarships will be awarded next year to members of the Masonic order for the law course.

Masonic Club Gains.

The Masonic club is closing the school year with the largest membership it has had since it began. John H. Pigg, a member of the junior class, is its president.

Clement T. Robertson and Millard F. West were delegates from the Joseph H. Choate parent chapter of the Sigma Nu Phi chapter to the high court of chancery which has been in session for three days in the Lee house. Other active and alumni members of the chapter attended the sessions. John B. Reynolds, assistant chief clerk of the Department of Justice, and William F. Laulkitis, of Baltimore, Md., have been initiated into chapter membership. Both are seniors.

The Philippine Columbian will hold its last regular meeting Friday night.

Final examinations for the term in the school of business administration and government will be held at the regular class hour in the week of May 17.

Masculine Fashions To Go, Says Designer

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—The trend toward masculinity in women's clothes will not continue, believes Charles Le Maire, the designer, who has just returned from Paris and other fashion centers of Europe.

He is of the opinion, however, that bobbed hair and short skirts are here to stay, milady having experienced the ease of dressing in the former, and the freedom of wearing the latter.

LANGUAGES All modern languages taught by native teachers. Conversational Method. Day and Evening Classes. Individual Instruction. FREE Trial Lesson. Call, write or phone for catalog.
BERLITZ SCHOOL OF LANGUAGES
Est. 47 Years 326 Branches
816 FOURTEENTH ST. N.W.
Telephone Franklin 2620.

"The Busy Corner"

Kann's

Penna. Ave., 8th and D

"MERI-KAN" Frocks

An Ever Changing Always New Collection at

$25

—As summer approaches, the materials and character of the popular line of Meri-Kan frocks change as though a fairy wand had touched them, and the sheer, summery materials appear. But the smartness of style, the high quality of materials, the correctness of proportions, and excellence of finish, remain the same. There are sizes for almost every type from the miss to the woman who wears an extra size.

(At the left, above)—A sheer, fine quality printed chiffon, with long reverse collar edged with scallops; flare flounce, and cuffs also finished with scallops.

(At the right, above)—A pretty gray georgette with rose colored underblouse, and sleeve puffs; tucked bolero and tucked skirt.

Also many pretty "Meri-Kan" Graduation Frocks.

Remember the Name Remember the Price
Remember Where to Buy Them

Kann's—Second Floor

Pictorial Review and Excella Patterns

—Are very satisfactory to follow, as most women who sew will gratefully acknowledge. They are simple, and easy to work out—with clear and explicit directions. If you are going to make a new dress use one of these patterns.

—Kann's—Street Floor.

New Stamped Dresses

For Girls of 4 to 16 Years

—Dresses of lovely quality voile, in white, blue, yellow and rose, ready-made, and stamped with simple but effective designs, easy to embroider. In sizes 4 to 6 yrs. at each 89c

—Dresses for girls of 6, 8 and 10 years, made of a nice quality linen finished material, ready-made, and stamped for lazy-daisy and French knot embroidery, at each $1.00

—12, 14 and 16 year sizes in ready-made frocks of fancy voile, green and peach shades, stamped with attractive and easily worked designs, at each $1.98

—Kann's—Fourth Floor.

Lovely New Shawls

For All Occasions— At Various Prices

—Crepe de Chine Shawls, in beautiful shaded effects, and with deep hand knotted twist fringe. Color combinations are flesh to tomato; flesh to rose; orchid to lavender; maize to orange; nile to jade and sky to copenhagen. Priced at $22.50

—Novelty Crepe de Chine Shawls, with various attractive designs on white, black, orchid, red, maize, old rose and orange grounds. Priced, at $25.00 to $79.50

—Rayon Lace Shawls, in black, white, flesh and gray. Priced at $10.95 to $22.95

—Embroidered Crepe de Chine Shawls, one style with colored and self-embroidery on white, flesh, black and red grounds. Priced, each at $18.50

The New Lace Capes at $13.95

—These are in reversible style and are finished with deep fringe. Just the thing for summer evenings. Combinations are black and white, black and jade and black and gold.

Kann's Street Floor.

Fabrics That Strongly Tempt You to Sew Are These—

Fast Color Striped Tub Rayons

—A material with a marvelously lustrous finish, in a splendid assortment of striped patterns, both novelty and plain stripes. In addition to the striped designs there are many dainty small checked, also novel plaids and a few plain colors. All are fast colors.

48c Yd.

38-Inch Plain Voiles, 29c Yd.

—Fine quality voiles, with a soft chiffon finish, in a complete line of shades for making summer frocks; including both the staple and pastel colors.

Dress Linens and Wash Broadcloths 58c Yd.

—The Linens, a reg. $1.00 quality, shrunk from 46 to 36 in. wide. A beautiful finish and a complete line of shades.

—The Broadcloth, fast color, in plain and fancy stripes, some over stripes of white on patterned grounds. Guaranteed fast color.

—Kann's—Street Floor.

Silk Filled Crepes, 78c Yd.

—Silk and cotton mixed crepes, in small neat patterns, on colored and white grounds, many of the popular polka-dot patterns, and large coin dots. The crepe is 36 inches wide.

54-In. Bordered Crepe de Chine and Georgettes

$2.50 Pure Dye Washable Flat Crepe

$1.89 Yd.

A strong, soft material, 36 inches wide, guaranteed washable, with the guarantee stamped on every yard. Choose from a range of twenty-three different colors, also white, and black.

New $2.00 Striped Tub Silk Broadcloth

$1.69 Yd.

—These are shown in 200 color combinations. Woven stripes in the various widths from the hair line to the wide awning stripe. Light and dark grounds. 33 inches wide.

$3.00 Striped Tub Silk Crepes—All New

$2.69 Yd.

—33 inches wide and sunfast and tubfast. Shown in almost an endless array of new stripe patterns and ombre effects, on light and dark grounds.

A Special Purchase! $5, $6 and $7 Values

$2.50 Yd.

—A sale made possible through the purchase of clearance lots from two well-known silk manufacturers. An unusual opportunity not often equaled. Don't miss it!

The 54-inch Bordered Crepe de Chines, $6 and $7 Values

Are here in a large assortment of new designs and color combinations and in all over and bordered patterns, on light colored and dark grounds. Beautiful lustrous quality.

The 54-inch Bordered Georgettes Are $5 Values

Shown in a wonderful color range, in striking and unusual designs and beautiful combinations. Georgette is unusually popular this season, because of its coolness and serviceableness.

Only 1½ to 2¼ yards required for a dress.

Kann's—Street Floor.

$2 and $2.50 Printed Crepes at

$1.69 Yd.

—Printed crepe de chines and georgettes. Over 150 lovely flowered and conventional designs, also the new polka dots—on light and dark grounds. All 39 inches wide.

$1.95 "Cherry Blossom" Printed Tub Silks

$1.59 Yd.

—An all-silk washable material, ideal for Summer dresses. Beautiful color combinations and 50 different patterns. 36 inches wide.

$1.69 Washable Silk Baby Broadcloth

$1.25 Yd.

—32 inches wide and suitable for dresses, sports clothes, pajamas and slips. Choice of 30 light and dark colors, also black and white.

for the Bride

—Hours and hours of planning for this day of days to create the perfect picture. And if she chooses her attire here, the picture will be an unforgettable one. From the illusive misty veils to the dainty orange blossoms—everything she needs—and at prices that are most reasonable.

Beautiful Bridal Veils $29.50 to $75.00

—Made of fine imported Brussels net with handmade Princess lace design, and finished with narrow Princess lace edge.

Others at $7.50 and $7.95

Bridal Wreaths, Etc.

—Orange Blossom Wreaths at $1.50 to $8.95.
—Orange Blossom Sprays at 50c to $1.95.
—Bridal Illusion for making veils, at $1.50 to $2.50 yard.
—We make Bridal Veils to order, in our Veiling Department.

Street Floor.

Handmade Cluny Lace

Special Monday, 25c Yd.

—This durable, and popular handmade Cluny is shown in several attractive patterns and is much in demand for summer lingerie, doilies, vanity sets, etc. Widths about 1 to 1½ in.

Handmade Venise Medallions

—Motifs in square, round, heart-shape, and corner effects, 18c to 35c values, Monday each— 12c

(Or $1.20 a Dozen.)

—Kann's—Street Floor.

Confirmation and First Communion

Veils and Wreaths

—Veils at $1.95, $3.95 & $4.95

—Wreaths at 50c to $1.75

—Veils made to order, on two days' notice.

Kann's—Street Floor.

Beautiful Trimmings

For the May Ball Costumes

—Rhinestone Trimmings, in various widths, at 48c to $3.50 Yard

—Rhinestone Hair Bands in attractive designs. Priced at $1.75 to $4.25

—Colored and White Marabou, for trimming dresses, etc., at $1.15 Yard

—Ostrich Feather Trimming, in dainty colors, at $1.15 and $1.75 Yard

Kann's—Street Floor.

Chic Hats to Wear Beneath Summer Skies At $10.00

—Every type that will occupy a place in Fashion's sun awaits you here. Hats for play hours, for informal occasions, for tailored wear. New straws, from the Balibuntals and Bangkoks to the lovely Italian Milan large hats so popular this season. Beautiful hair hats and the ever popular Leghorns. Very large hats and very small hats. Some with scarcely any trimmings, others interestingly trimmed.

Black and gay colors, and most inexpensively priced.

Kann's—Second Floor.

Two Pretty New Styles in

Negligees

Very Specially Priced at—

$6.75

—The material is a beautiful brocaded rayon, in lovely colorings and designs. Negligees like these almost any woman will want to tuck into the summer vacation trunk. One style is made with smartly tailored, long Tuxedo collar and the other is very daintily trimmed with lace. Both styles feature the graceful and becoming side tie effect.

Kann's—Second Floor.

Four Special Attractions in

White Goods

—Ten-yard Pieces of White Longcloth; good quality, with a soft finish, a splendid weight, for lingerie purposes, a piece, $1.15

—White Dimity, 27 inches wide, fine sheer quality, in two different size stripe patterns. Special, a yard, 12½c

—White Broadcloth, 36 in. wide, a good firm quality, with a high, lustrous finish; regularly 50c a yard. Monday, a yard, 39c

—Fancy White Voile, 36 inches wide, fine sheer quality, in striped and checked patterns. A yard, Monday, 30c

Kann's—Street Floor.

Metal Beds Must Go!

Floor Samples, Greatly Reduced!

—These Beds are slightly marred from display, though nothing that seriously affects their appearance. There are all sizes and all finishes from which to choose, reduced as follows:

—Regular $24.95 to $29.75 values for $14.95

—Regular $14.95 to $19.95 values for $9.95

—15 Folding Cots, with box pad. Two sizes, 2 ft. 6 in. and 3 ft. Regularly, $13.95 and $15.95. Special, each, $10.75

All-Layer Felt Mattresses

Regular $14.95 Values for $8.95

—These Mattresses are all guaranteed. They are made up of new materials, will not lump or separate, and will give satisfactory wear or be replaced.

Regular $24.95 Values for $14.95

Kann's—Third Floor.

AMUSEMENTS

The Washington Post.

FEATURES

WASHINGTON: SUNDAY, MAY 9, 1926. F

Stage and Screen Presentations

Footlights and Shadows

By JOHN J. DALY

CONSTERNATION is in the theater. Something is happening right before our eyes; and no one—not even experts—seems to know exactly what it's all about; what is taking place. Time, the old vixen, brings its inevitable change; or history is repeating itself.

For some reason theatergoers throughout the land are not satisfied. For them there is no balm in Gilead; no meat of the Caesars; no tintinnabulation; no merry-merry, save where stock companies are abound with well-selected plays. In these places managers are at their wits' ends to keep the ball a-rolling. Selecting plays for the public is not all milk and honey. In the local yard, so far, the pulse-taking has been accurate; the diagnosis correct. Save in one instance, plays offered have been wholesome—clean. That, then, would seem to be one prerequisite for success; at least in the summer season. There comes, with spring, a new outlook; a fairer view. Slush goes with the winter.

While the rest of the land is having its trouble Washington settles down to its stock season with something akin to joy. If there is any worrying about what plays the public would like, of these stock companies in our midst, the management alone is not concerned. Outsiders, those who walk up to box offices and deposit coin of the realm, are making out lists of plays they think should be presented; just as each day in the cool of the early morn myriad members of the racing fraternity make book on horses they hope will canter down the track ahead of the field.

* * * *

IN front of The Post building day in and day out the multitude assembles before the boards. Divided like sheep and goats on that Last Great Day, there are two separate and distinct units—those who watch with dreamy eyes the writing of results in the win, place and show columns; those who, with abated breath, carry on before the scoreboard, watching with disgust or delight the recording of numerals in the chalk-lined squares that tell tales of the Nationals and their opponents.

Just as these faithful follow the horses, or heroes of the diamond, there is another enthusiastic fandom watching and waiting for the listed plays of the stock season. They keep no score, no batting averages or fielding percentages, no dope or form sheets, get no tips, but they do look for inside information—and one of the sources for this, they believe, is their favorite newspaper. Hence, since part of this business is keeping track of what goes on in the Land of Make-Believe, faithful followers of things theatrical turn anxious queries this way in hope of learning a thing or two that does not ordinarily appear in print.

Accompanying some letters are suggestions for revivals of old plays. It seems that an entire city was on edge to get a look once again at an old play, long off the boards, recently revived. An all-star cast had been recruited, played the old favorite with a certain amount of success in New York, and scheduled for the road. Alas and alack, the tour flopped. Why? Since it will eventually come out, like murder, there is probably no reason to hide the half-open secret. The "stars" were not in heavenly mood. There was rampant a certain amount of professional jealousy, so that when Jim learned his road dressing room was not quite so elaborate an affair as that reserved for George; when Mabel discovered she would be put up in the loft while Annabel made up on the stage level, came clash and conflict. The tour was canceled.

Anyway, while the good actors and actresses managed to cut off their noses to spite their well-known and highly advertised faces, thereby losing what might have been a highly successful engagement and going peremptorily back into shadows of a long retirement that eventually awaits them, they did render a certain service to the theater, at least in this sector. The withdrawal awakened an interest in some of the old plays that have not been seen on the banks of this river since Daphne was a kitten.

* * * *

WHEN you trek back to the late eighties in the theater, you are, as collegiates used to say, Going Some. In the eighteen-eighties sentimental comedy was extant. That was about the time many established playwrights in England and America were just finding themselves. They were fiddling and fooling around with a form that was eventually to make some of them famous; taking, as it were, a preliminary and practical course in the high art of stagecraft and playwrighting. Out of that period came some of the best-knit plays of the past century. For technique and construction many of them are hard to beat; though nearly all are of a certain sweetness that stales with the years—like heavy air in a room long locked and barred; the absence of sunshine and fragrance of flowers.

Puissant plays have come to be the order so far as they are modeled and made in craftshops of the moment. Perhaps this is one reason why those who devote time to letter writing, a test of earnestness if ever there was one, clamour for something out of the dear, dead days beyond recall; something not so potent. In this connection it is interesting to note that several lay stress upon revival of an old Pinero play—"Sweet Lavender."

Pinero went out of style some years ago. Excellent craftsman, he probably reached a point of perfection entirely beyond the heads of those paid to take his wares under professional advisement. Therefore his works went dormant until, in search of something worth while, the old Mother Hubbards, finding cupboards bare, sought in attics and came down with hands full of well-known MSS. Just so recently as last year and the year before, Washington witnessed a revival of "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray."

"Lady Bountiful" and "Sweet Lavender" were types of Pinero playwrighting in vogue when English drama of the eighties was at its best. Those who want this latter play revived must have in mind a certain contrast between what we are getting today and what those of 30-some years ago found on their plates. Certainly, aside from a certain fairness of form and matter, the old play has not the virility of other Pinero works. Too, it is no pet of its author. First produced in 1888, the late Edward Terry enacted the leading role in "Sweet Lavender" some seven thousand times. Done continuously, that would hang a wreath of holly round the neck of "Abie's Irish Rose." At the same time records show that other actors and companies were riding high on the wave of the play's popularity; so that, barring other reasons, it might be a fine thing to bring back this old darling, if only to have us see at first hand what interested playgoers of another generation.

* * * *

THIS, of course, is only one play mentioned in numerous letters; but since so many hit upon the same script, it is interesting to pass it along for further consideration.

If managers of theatrical troupes would listen to what I say, which, of course, for good business reasons they might wisely ignore, I'd go back to the days of a dime-novel-reading boyhood and bring out of the closet something with a dash of the old West in it; a native drama of life in the great open spaces, with a real hero and villain and a girl to make red blood course in torrential spurts through the veins of both—say, for instance, Owen Wister's classic of another day, "The Virginian."

With all due respect to our modern playwrights, they are giving us too much drawing room and too little of life in the open. In a day when there was a scarcity of conveyances, folk who never got much farther than the next town reveled in what was going on over the mountains. Now that automobile and airplane have cut into distance, and steamboats travel faster than some of the land-going ships of years ago, a travel-worn populace prefers to have its plays and stage settings suggestive of home; a garden, a bedroom, a sun parlor, evening clothes—pajamas and tux—and cocktails that go with them. 'Tis a strange turnabout. The old folks wanted to see strangers. We, having seen others, come back to see ourselves.

A New Skin Game.

Painting "jewelry" on the skin in water colors is Hollywood's latest device to avoid high rental charges on jewelry used in film productions. Esther Ralston wears several "pieces" in Victor Fleming's new Paramount production, "The Blind Goddess," which comes to Loew's Columbia this afternoon.

Main Street Ungrateful.

Pastors in small towns are notoriously ill-paid; that's no secret; but seldom is injury added to the meager pay-envelope, as it is in "Thank-U," which the National Players offer this week. It requires a fly-talking beauty from Paris to show Main street was an ungrateful thoroughfare it sometimes is.

COMEDIENNE RETURNS TO VAUDEVILLE

Irene Franklin, the American comedienne, long famous in vaudeville and concert, and who has lately completed a successful tour of the antipodes, is back once more taking a short tour in vaudeville, headlining the bill at B. F. Keith's theater this week. She appears with Jerry Jarnagin in "New Songs," all written by Miss Franklin and Mr. Jarnagin who, in private life, is her husband. Her present program contains many new numbers, with several of the old favorites that made her famous.

The big feature of the week will be the novel presentation of Long Tack Sam, the Oriental wonder worker, who has recently returned to America after a tour of the world. He is supported by the Misses Mina and Nee Sa Long. They come direct from Peking, and present a medley of amazing Oriental feats.

Artie Mehlinger and Sam Williams will hold up the comedy end of the bill in a new act, "The Teacher and the Pupil." Mr. Williams for years costarred with his late wife, the inimitable Kate Elinore.

A new act to Washington follows, Naughton and Gold, English comedians, offering their laugh producer, "Funny Ones." They have long been featured in the English music halls and the biggest revues of London.

That ventriloquism has not died out is proven by the work of Marshall Montgomery, who will be supported by Lucile de Haven. Mr. Montgomery is considered to be the world's best ventriloquist, due to the many features never attempted by any other person in this line of entertainment.

Larry Stoutenburgh, the world's pocket billiard expert, will offer something new to vaudeville with his demonstration of the way in which he has become one of the greatest experts of all time. He has defeated every known pocket billiard player of note.

Broadway's newest and brightest lights, the Di Gatanos, Sylvia, Adam and Amelia, will be seen in an exquisite dance production, "The Dance, Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow."

Ted and Al Waldman, harmonica players, will entertain with their novelty act, "Bluology."

Completing the bill will be the screen features, Aesop's Fables, Topics of the Day, and the Pathe News pictorial.

ELIXIR PLAY AT WARDMAN

The Thomas Herbert Stock Co. will open tomorrow night for a week's run of "Some Baby," a farce comedy written by Zeliah Covington and Jules Simonson.

This play deals with the discovery of an elixir of youth by an eccentric old scientist. The application of this elixir to a doddering old general and a doctor's pretty young daughter is followed by such a maze of astonishing results that the scientist seems warranted in his belief that this compound is indeed working wonders.

Parker Fennelly has played the role of the professor doctor with two other companies, Ruth Russell will play his daughter, Sylvia; Mildred Meneau will be seen as her aunt, Mrs. Wellsmiller; Catherine Dean, a visitor, Mrs. Vivvert; Anne French will play the beautiful Spaniard, Marcella; the aged general will be played by John Schelhaas; Sylvia's young lover, by Ranald Savery; Emmett Le Compte will have the role of Judge Sanderson and Thomas Herbert, director, will play Chief Blanchard.

HYMN BOOKS AND SOUTH SEA ISLANDS

Richard Dix, supported by a cast that includes Lois Wilson, "Gunboat" Smith, Edna May Oliver and others, comes to the screen of Loew's Palace theater for the week starting this afternoon in the comedy, "Let's Get Married," a picturization of a story by H. A. Du Souchet. The picture has been supplemented by a group of added features, including Sennett's short-length comedy, "Trimmed in Gold," the Pathe news-reel pictures, Topics of the Day and Mr. Gannon's orchestral embellishment.

The comedy in "Let's Get Married" starts at a mile-a-minute clip from the very outset with Dix in the role of a collegiate youth whose football tendencies in night club resorts cost him a jail sentence at a time when he has just met and been badly smitten by the charms of a beautiful girl whose father is a warden on Blackwell's island, the New York city workhouse.

To explain to the girl his enforced 30-day visit on "the Island," he writes a series of letters purporting to show he is in the South seas, selling hymn books to the natives. A sudden visit to the workhouse of the girl in the case sends the young man scuttling to the laundry chute to liberty and while at liberty, he decides to marry the same young lady.

In the meantime, his escape from prison has been discovered and his efforts to become a benedict are badly cramped by the sudden appearance of a detective who is combing the city for him. In the end, of course, everything turns out happily.

Richard Dix, the star of Paramount's new comedy, "Let's Get Married," just missed being the only actor in Christendom who was born in Hollywood. Dix missed that distinction by a month and a half, his parents moving from Hollywood to St. Paul, Minn., where Dix was born. Curiously enough, all of Dix's pictures have been made in the East.

NOTED PLAY ON SCREEN AT RIALTO

"The Still Alarm," costarring Helene Chadwick and William Russell, is the feature at the Rialto this week. It is a screen version of the play that for years thrilled thousands of theatergoers.

Helene Chadwick plays the character of Lucy Fay, wife of Fireman Dick Fay, struggling between love for her husband and hatred of the drudgery of housework and the desire for fine clothes. She finally succumbs to the lure of the charmer, deserts her husband and is next seen as Madame Celeste, proprietress of a smart modiste shop in which she has been placed by her lover. William Russell is seen as the distraught and heroic husband, without false heroics. Richard C. Travers has the "heavy" role in the character of the boarder in the Fay home, making his real intentions toward Lucy behind his alleged friendship for Dick.

Heading the special presentations on the stage is Guido Ciccolini, the internationally famous tenor. In 1918 he was engaged to appear in the United States as Alfredo in "Traviata," with Galli Curci, and sang with her in all lyric operas. Later he toured the larger cities throughout the country in concerts and in vaudeville.

Richard Gilbert and Ruth Wimp, Columbia recording artists, are also featured in the presentations, singing "blues" and ballad numbers.

Selections from "Maytime" will be played for an overture by the Rialto Concert Orchestra, Mischa Guterson, conducting.

An "Our Gang Comedy" and the International News compose the rest of the program.

LAW COURT STORY IN PHOTOPLAY

With a cast that includes Jack Holt, Esther Ralston, Ernest Torrence and Louise Dresser, directed by Victor Fleming, "The Blind Goddess," from a story of the same name by Arthur Train, is announced as the feature attraction at Loew's Columbia theater for the week starting this afternoon.

Jack Holt appears in the role of a rising young New York attorney, whose engagement to Moira Devens, daughter of "Big Bill" Devens, a political leader, leads to his appointment as an assistant district attorney with the possibility of a brilliant future ahead. Quite suddenly, his prospective father-in-law is shot and suspicion immediately fastens on the wife who had deserted him years before and who was known to have unsuccessfully pleaded with the politician for reinstatement in his home.

Despite the general suspicion against the woman, the young prosecutor believes her innocent and declines to prosecute her. This move alienates the love of the dead man's daughter and also costs him his post as prosecutor, but entering the case as counsel for the defense, the young attorney discovers new evidence which not only acquits the accused woman but which smooths the course of true love and rejoins mother and daughter.

The dramatic force of "The Blind Goddess" will be given appropriate comedy relief through the inclusion of a Mermaid laugh riot, "The Tin Goat," while the International News Reel pictures of World events, a splendid symphonic overture and atmospheric score by the Columbia Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Leon Brusilof, and other supplemental hits will be added.

When "The Last Warning" is offered by the National Players the week of May 17, the audience will have the novel thrill of mingling with the actors. The action takes place all over the theater, on the stage, in the aisleways and in the seats and boxes.

SMALL TOWN LIFE IN PLAY AT NATIONAL

One of the famous John Golden "Komic-Klean" plays, "Thank-U" is the new weeks offering by the National Theater Players commencing tomorrow night. This play, along with "Lightnin'," "Turn to the Right" and others, competed what is probably the most valuable budget of success ever to come out of one producer's office.

"Thank-U" teaches something of a moral but the comedy note is of prime importance. The play becomes a camera of certain phases of small-town life, centering about the town's impoverished and unhappy minister whose force is negated through his necessity of accepting hand-outs from parishioners to supplement the meager salary he receives.

Comes a-visiting him, a niece from Paris, a smart, attractive go-getter who determines to clean house and elevate her uncle above the pitiful level of a "thank you man." The reform wave starts but malicious gossip embroils the pastor in an indelicate situation and the niece is construed as a shameful hussy. The final curtain, of course, finds things resulting happily and the clergymen's self-respect restored.

PHOTOPLAY OPERETTA BY HERBERT

Corinne Griffith will be the pictured star at Crandall's Metropolitan theater this week, beginning this afternoon at 3, in First National's film version of "Mlle. Modiste," the famous operetta by Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom. The extra added attraction will be furnished by Gene Austin, Victor artist, whose engagement is extended a second week. The program will be further augmented by a new O. Henry comedy, "The Social Triangle," a new issue of the Metropolitan World Survey and a musical setting by the Metropolitan Symphony under conductorship of Daniel Breeskin.

"Mlle. Modiste" permits Corinne Griffith to participate in an engaging fashion revue. In this subject she utilizes the services of two leading men—Norman Kerry, as the ardent French lover, and Willard Louis as the middle West American, Hiram Bent. The romantic appeal of the story of a little shop girl who became the toast of Paris is well known.

Gene Austin will be heard this week in an entirely different new group of numbers, two of which comprise a pair of his most popular recordings—"Sweet Child" and "I Never Knew."

The concert overture to be played by the Metropolitan Symphony under Mr. Breeskin'e conductorship will be composed of the melody hits from a considerable group of the major works of Victor Herbert, among which are embraced "Babes in Toyland," "It Happened in Nordland," "The Red Mill," "The Only Girl," 'The Fortune Teller," "Naughty Marietta," "Eileen" and "Mlle. Modiste." The recurrent theme of the orchestral score for the accompaniment of the picture will be "Kiss Me Again" and the exit will be "The Mascot of the Troop," also from "Mlle. Modiste."

STAGE STAR IN PERSON AT EARLE

Clara Kimball Young, star of stage and screen, will appear in person as headline attraction at the Earle theater this week, beginning this afternoon at 3 o'clock, in a playlet, "His Adorable Wife."

The extra added attraction will be contributed by Lee Morse, a daughter of the South, famous for her "blues" and "hot" numbers as recorded for the phonograph companies.

Other inclusions in the vaudeville portion will embrace Riva and Larsen in a comedy ring act; Harry Bentell and Helen Gould, "the dancing xylophonists;" Dorothy Morley and Al Anger in a novelty, "Slapped," and Dave Harris and company in "A Miniature Musical Comedy," with Helen Joyce, Dorothy Donnelly, Frankie Hourigan and Arnold New.

The photoplay feature for the week will be First National's production of "The Girl From Montmartre," the costellar roles played by Lewis S. Stone and the late Barbara La Marr.

The week's entertainment will be completed by the usual house film features, organ recital by Alexander Arons, assisted this week by J. Allen Fusca, tenor, and orchestral overture under the direction of Floyd C. Wheeler.

Notebook and All.

The average newspaper reporter has been so generally maligned in the movies, according to the critics, that Victor Fleming, the Paramount director, decided to give photoplay fans the real thing when he produced "The Blind Goddess," which comes to the Columbia today. So he persuaded Jack Townley, former court reporter on the Kansas City Star and now dramatic editor of the Hollywood News, to play the part of a reporter in the court scenes in "The Blind Goddess."

Chats on Stage and Screen Folk

Echoes of the New York Stage

By ROBERT BELL

From the Andalusian hills to Paris, from obscurity to fame, came Raquel Meller. Probably no person in the theater has had so much written about her in a brief period. Even Duse came heralded with no greater advance publicity and acclaim. Personally, I feel this publicity has been to her a harm as an artist; that the wrong chord has been struck as the overture to her entrance. For she is a singer of folk songs and after such unbounded acclaim as has been hers, it is difficult for an average audience to realize this and not expect something beyond the limits of her art. The story that to the man who asked if she did not object to so many other entertainers singing her Violetera song, she is said to have replied, "Why, no; for nobody sings it as I do." The story of her temperamental fear of the ocean which kept her so long from our shores; the ridiculous story of the number of her trunks and maids and the insistence with which she demanded that her five dogs be allowed to sleep in her stateroom with her, are not the sort to introduce to America the simplicity of this woman's art. It is to her credit that despite this publicity she is able, before the evening is over, to cast her spell, in itself is a remarkable feat and accomplishment!

As a pantomimist, Raquel Meller does not touch Yvette Gilbert, who, as she portrayed her different characters, showed what each was doing down to the minute detail. As an interpreter of character, I doubt if she equals our own Ruth Draper, who can to all extent and purpose completely change from one character to another even to the smallest of mannerisms. Meller is first of all the teller of stories, the modern jongleur of Spain. Only occasionally does she seem to be the character; usually, through all her story-telling, she remains herself. Her personality suggests change but actually remains. We know the people she tells us about because she knows them so well and can tell us about them so clearly.

Meller has glamour, reserve, style. Few artists have had these to such a marked degree. She patterns each number beautifully so that each song seems complete in itself—it has a definite setting and a definite end. One remembers how at the end of reading a love letter which asks the question, "How do you want me to love you?" She punctuates the whole little song by kissing the letter just before the last note is sung. Yet, despite the undoubted mastery of her art, it is her glamour which has placed her on the pedestal of her fame. It is her glamour that set Paris wild a few years ago, and, fickle as Paris is, has kept it wild about her ever since; it is her glamour that here in America nightly draws sensible white-haired gentlemen down the aisle to the stage, to receive from her hands a tiny bunch of violets when she sings (to each one of them alone it seems) "La Violetera."

Dancers at Belasco.

The Tchernikoff-Gardiner dancers will give one performance at the Belasco theater Thursday evening, May 20th. This organization, including over 100 of Washington's best trained dancers, has made a decided reputation for new and novel programs in all its appearances here. Both Mr. Tchernikoff and Miss Gardiner, former members of the Bolm, Fokine and Pavlowa ballets, spent last summer in Paris and Spain gathering new ideas on dancing. They both appear as solo dancers in several ballets and in addition dance in the group of divertissements. Other dancers of the company include Hereford and Lyof and Burr and Densemore, two well-known dancing teams who have often appeared at local theaters, and Ann Breitbarth, who has danced for the Grand Duchess of Russia. New scenery and costumes are being brought from New York especially for this production.

"Gunboat" Smith, the pugilist, has apparently abandoned the squared circle for the Kleig lights. He has a prominent role as a hard-boiled detective in Richard Dix's latest comedy, "Let's Get Married," at the Palace. Mr. Smith is authority for the statement that a dramatic career has all sorts of advantages over a pugilistic one, particularly when a fighter has passed his zenith.

WORTH-WHILE PLAYS

CRADLE SNATCHERS—At the WINTER GARDEN. Funny, risque farce very broadly presented.

DEAREST ENEMY—At the KNICKERBOCKER. A musical comedy delighting thousands.

THE VAGABOND KING. At the CASINO. "If I Were King," with musical numbers. Well sung and acted.

SUNNY—At the NEW AMSTERDAM. Extravaganza headed by Marilyn Miller.

CRAIG'S WIFE—At the MOROSCO. Serious study of a selfish married woman. Winner of the 1925 Pulitzer prize. Crystal Herne exceptionally fine.

YOUNG WOODLEY—At the BELMONT. The comedy of a boy's first love.

THE COCOANUTS—At the LYRIC. The Marx Brothers in one of the season's big hits.

THE GREAT GOD BROWN—At the GARRICK. One of the five plays especially recommended by the New York Drama league.

LOVE 'EM AND LEAVE 'EM—At the SAM HARRIS. A farce of bright, flip and scathing American slang, by John A. Weaver and George Abbott.

BY THE WAY—At the GAYETY. The English revue which has been playing on Broadway all season, completely freshened for spring.

THE BRIDE OF THE LAMB—At the HENRY MILLER. The best of the plays on the influence of religion on the ignorant. Strong but unpleasant.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS—At the BIJOU. Helen Hayes in a revival of Barrie's play.

RAQUEL MELLER—At the EMPIRE. Reviewed this week.

THE PATSY—At the BOOTH. A Comedy featuring Claiborne Foster.

IOLANTHE—At the PLYMOUTH. A revival of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta.

BUNK—At the BROADHURST. Nonsense, but good fun.

CIRCUS DAYS JUST AHEAD

Theatrical entertainment, no matter how alluring, will give way to the circus on Monday and Tuesday. Ringling Brothers & Barnum & Bailey, known far and wide as the Greatest Show on Earth, arrives in Washington today from Philadelphia.

Tents will spread at Camp Meigs this afternoon, and tomorrow and Tuesday afternoon and night the world's biggest circus will settle down to the serious business of giving juvenile Washington—to say nothing of the oldsters—the thrills that come only with a circus.

The annual spring engagement of the big circus has become more or less of an institution with Washingtonians, and it is a foregone conclusion that the "big top"—no matter how big—will be all too small to hold the circus fans.

Reports from Philadelphia, where the circus played the past week, and from New York, where it recently closed a record-breaking engagement, indicate that Washington youngsters are to see absolutely the biggest and finest circus ever toured under the banner of those master showmen, the Ringling Brothers.

Capt. Barbour at Helm.

The work of reconditioning the steamer St. Johns, docked at the Seventh street wharf, prior to the opening of the summer season, is progressing rapidly. The St. Johns will practically be a new boat, so extensive is the repairing, altering and redecorating. After the overhauling, the St. Johns will be a faster steamer for service to and from Colonial Beach, and 40-mile moonlight rides on the Potomac on summer evenings. Due to the accidental death last year of Capt. Reed, the St. Johns will be in charge of Capt. Phil Barbour, formerly first mate. Capt. Barbour has spent the past 20 years on the Potomac. Many innovations and additional pleasure features have been planned for patrons which will be announced at a later date.

FIST FIGHTS FEATURED IN PHOTOPLAY

As Richard Dix, the Paramount star, battles and romps his way from predicament to complication in his new comedy production, "Let's Get Married," which opens a week's engagement at Loew's Palace this afternoon, he is supported by a cast that is largely the result of Dix's own selection.

There is "Gunboat" Smith, an ex-pugilist, who has played in many other films with Dix and exchanged blows with him. "Gunboat" is the detective who dogs Dix's devious detours in "Let's Get Married."

Dix has, as his boon companion in the picture, Nat Pendleton, wrestling champion of Europe. He rose to this eminence after winning the intercollegiate title for Columbia university in 1914. Later, he won a place on the olympic team.

With Dix and Pendleton is Douglas MacPherson, former football star of the Detroit High school, who has the role of Tommy. MacPherson, however, modestly disclaims any particular right to fame as a football player. This is his first picture in several years, having devoted himself recently to the Broadway stage.

The cast of extras is also well sprinkled with exponents of agility and prowess. They include Phil Bloom and Charlie Young.

Richard's tough gang in "Let's Get Married" is not due entirely to his liking of young fellows who are able to argue and back their arguments; but also to the fact that "Let's Get Married" calls for more robust scrapping than any picture he has made lately.

NOW OPEN AS A MOVIE

The Strand theater reopens today with a line of high-grade feature photoplays which will be presented at a low price. The first picture which will be presented for the first four days of the week is the comedy hit, "Monte Carlo," with Lew Cody and Gertrude Olmsted heading the cast. In support are ZaZu Pitts, Trixie Friganza, Harry Myers, Carl Dane and others.

The story concerns the adventures of three small-town girls who win a newspaper popularity contest, giving them a vacation trip to Monte Carlo. A world of thrills, romance and hilarious adventure follow one another in swift succession, with Monte Carlo, the pearl of fashion summer resorts, the setting for this gorgeous spectacle.

Added hits and supplementary features will round out a delightful bill.

MUTUAL NOW IN "MOVIES"

Jack Garrison, who has made quite a name for himself in these parts as manager of one of the snappiest burlesque houses on the Mutual circuit, now comes forward as a motion-picture purveyor.

Beginning this afternoon, the Mutual opens for what the manager hopes to be a long summer run of feature pictures, the first being William Fox's production, "The Johnstown Flood."

Among the outstanding features of the picture is the bursting of the dam that cost the lives of thousands and swept a thriving city off the map; the female Paul Revere stirring the town to action in the path of the raging flood; and industrious American metropolis demolished by a wall of water; homes, churches and stores swept away by a cyclonic torrent, all summing up into the greatest disaster this country has ever known.

George O'Brien is the featured player. The production was directed by Irving Cummings.

Billie Burke Signs.

Billie Burke is to play once more under the Charles Frohman management, according to announcement. Arrangements were made between Florenz Ziegfeld and Gilbert Miller for Miss Burke's appearance in Zoe Akin's new play, "Pardon My Glove," which, with Louis Wolheim in the leading male part, will be one of the first Frohman production next season.

DR. FINEGAN ANNOUNCES NEW STEP IN PRODUCTION OF TEACHING FILMS

Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, chairman of the committee on visual education, of the National Education association, has announced an important move in the production of teaching films.

Dr. Finegan's statement tells of the purpose of the Eastman Kodak Co. to make teaching films for use in the schools. In making the announcement he furnishes two letters, explaining the plan in detail—one from George Eastman, president of the Eastman Kodak Co., to Will H. Hays, outlining the plan, and one from Mr. Hays, transmitting the letter to Mr. Finegan.

Mr. Eastman's letter to Mr. Hays follows:

"Rochester, N. Y.,
February 17, 1926.

"Dear Mr. Hays: For the last three years the Eastman Kodak Co. has been making a survey of the use of motion pictures in teaching as a supplement to textbooks, to find out what has been done and what promise there was of future sound development. Such films were not practicable until an easily operated projector and economical films were available to schools. We believe that these two problems have been solved by the kodascope and our new standard narrow width film.

"The survey led us to the conclusion that very little had been accomplished in producing teaching films suitable for classroom use and that there was little prospect of any organization with the necessary resources attempting to solve the problem. Therefore, after full consideration, the company has decided to approach the solution of this problem in an experimental way. It proposes to make a number of teaching films closely correlated with selected courses and in accordance with a definite educational plan. These films will be prepared with the advice and assistance of competent educators and will be put into a limited number of representative schools in different cities for trial in their classrooms. As the work of production goes on, the company will thus have definite information as to whether the right sort of films are being made.

"In making this announcement the company wants it to be clearly understood that it will have no apparatus or films for sale to schools during this experimental period, which will take about two years. Any future developments will be determined by the success of these experiments. The company leaves itself free to discontinue this undertaking if at any time it feels that there are insurmountable obstacles to its success. Yours very truly.
"GEO. EASTMAN."

Mr. Hays' Letter.

Mr. Hays' letter to Dr. Finegan was as follows:

"February 18, 1926.

"Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, Chairman,
Committee on Visual Education,
National Education Association,
613 North Front Street, Harrisburg, Pa.

"My Dear Dr. Finegan: Referring to the joint interest in the development of teaching films since the passage of the original resolution by the National Education association, I am pleased to hand you herewith copy of letter from the Eastman Kodak Co., a member of our association, expressing their purpose now to proceed with the actual production of the teaching films.

"With personal regards, I am, sincerely yours,
"WILL H. HAYS."

Value of Teaching Film.

It is peculiarly fitting that Mr. Eastman, who with Thomas A. Edison, is chiefly responsible for the motion picture as we know it, should undertake seriously to develop the motion picture to its highest use in the classrooms where, educators agree, the film will be of incalculable value in instruction.

The National Education association has been cooperating with the Motion Picture Producers and Distributers of America, of which the Eastman Kodak Co. is a member, since 1922. The facilities of the association were offered to the educators in a speech by Mr. Hays at their annual meeting in Boston on July 6, 1922, and a resolution was then passed by the National Education association appointing a committee to cooperate with the Producers association in developing teaching films.

This committee, of which Dr. Finegan is chairman, has been continued from year to year by the National Education association and there has been much study and considerable experimentation, so that both the committee and the officers of the association have been convinced of the value of the screen as a pedagogic instrument.

In addition, extensive experiments have been conducted by the Eastman Kodak Co. Their determination actually now to produce teaching films for a complete test in cooperation with educators is considered by all as a tremendous step forward in developing what may become an immeasurable contribution to the cause of education.

Coming Theater Attractions

For the week commencing May 17 the National Theater Players will offer the thriller-comedy, "The Last Warning," a play that made a fortune for two hitherto unknown producers and which thrilled and rocked with laughter audiences from coast to coast.

The action centers mostly backstage in a theater which is believed to be jinxed. One act takes part on a bare stage, and part of the time the actors are out in the audience, supposedly viewing a performance within a performance, which is interrupted by a series of mysterious and menacing happenings that sends the audience into alternating chills and fever.

The play jumps from comedy to burlesque and back into the thrill stage. So cleverly and clearly is the haunted theater idea registered with the audience that when the secondary playlet is offered on the stage, the impression prevails that we are all actually attendants upon a premiere fraught with risk and hazard for all.

A brand new idea gives an original twist to "Watch Your Wife," a domestic comedy, costarring Virginia Valli and Pat O'Malley, which comes to the Rialto next week.

The new twist is one that has never been done before. It presents the novel theme of the rental of wives, on a purely companionable basis, of course, and the complications that ensue from this unique service when a divorced husband tries it out.

This idea is far fetched, but it is well handled, with the result that it is excellent entertainment.

"Old Loves and New" will be the feature of next week's bill at Crandall's Metropolitan theater with Lewis S. Stone heading a cast that also includes Barbara Bedford and Tully Marshall. The story is an adaptation of "The Desert Healer," by E. M. Hull, author of "The Sheik." The extra added attraction will be supplied by Rudy Wiedoeft, famous as "the sultan of the sax." The bill will be completed by added short reels and special music by the Metropolitan Symphony.

Next week's bill at the Earle theater will be headlined by Henry Horton in a condensed version of "The Old Homestead." Other inclusions in the vaudeville portion of the program will be Ed Bloom and sister, Fern and Marie, Etai Look Hoy & Co., Billy Gleason and acts to be announced later. The photoplay feature for the week will be "The Danger Girl," in which Priscilla Dean is star. The program will be completed by short reel film attractions and the customary house features.

The Mutual theater will offer William S. Hart in "Tumbleweeds," as its second feature photoplay opening Sunday, May 16.

Not only is this the first showing of this latest Hart release but it is also the first time in many months that this famed screen star has appeared on a screen in Washington.

Record at Wardman.

Mrs. Mildred Dillon, of Wardman Park, claims the Thomas Herbert Stock company at Wardman theater, has enjoyed the longest run of any company playing in a local theater. Thomasso and his aggregation of professionals are now stepping into their fifth month. "Enter Madame" and "Weak Sisters," two outstanding successes of this company, each ran for two crowded weeks. "Tarnish," "Taming of the Shrew," in modern costume; "Tweedles" and "The Servant in the House" are among the productions already given.

Additional theatrical news will be found on page 5.

NATIONAL BEG. MON. NIGHT $1.10, 75c & 50c | WED. MAT. ALL SEATS 50c SAT. MAT., 75c, 50c
NATIONAL THEATER PLAYERS, DIRECTION CLIFFORD BROOKE OFFER
John Golden's Companion Play to "Lightnin'"
THANK U
One Year in New York. Ten Months in Chicago.
By Winchell Smith and Tom Cushing.
Next Week | The Greatest Mystery Play of All Time "THE LAST WARNING" Originally Staged by Clifford Brooke | Seats Selling

B F Keith's KEITH-ALBEE VAUDEVILLE THE GREAT ARTISTS OF THE WORLD EXCLUSIVELY
BEGINNING SUNDAY MAT., MAY 9 AT THE NEW REDUCED PRICES
Irene FRANKLIN THE BELOVED RED HEAD
With JERRY JARNAGIN Offering Their Own "NEW SONGS"
Special Scream Feature The Famous English Comedians NAUGHTON & GOLD Offering a Hodge Podge of Original Wit and Horse Play
MARSHALL MONTGOMERY Ventriloquist Extraordinary
LARRY STOUTENBURGH World's Pocket Billiard Expert
THE DI GATANOS Darlings of the Dance
TED & AL WALDMAN In "Blu-O-Logy"
AESOP'S FABLES, TOPICS OF THE DAY, PATHE NEWS WEEKLY
Added Attraction Extraordinary LONG TACK SAM Assisted by Mi-Na and Nee Sa Long and Company Including a Bevy of Beautiful Chinese Girls A Medley of Amazing Oriental Feats Star Supporting Features MEHLINGER & WILLIAMS In "The Teacher and The Pupil"
Orchestra Seats Nites, $1; Matinees, 50c Balcony Seats Nites, 35c; Matinees, 25c
Phones: Main 4484, 4485, 6823

Washington, 2 DAYS, Twice Daily CAMP MEIGS SHOW GROUNDS—4th St. and Florida Ave.
TOMORROW and TUESDAY
RINGLING BROS AND BARNUM & BAILEY COMBINED CIRCUS THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH
DOORS OPEN AT 1 and 7 P.M. PERFORMANCES AT 2 and 8 P.M.
PRICES—(ADMITTING TO THE CIRCUS, MENAGERIE AND GENERAL ADMISSION SEATS): ADULTS 75 CENTS; CHILDREN UNDER 12 YEARS, 50 CENTS. GRAND STAND AND COVERED SEATS AT ADVANCE COST ACCORDING TO LOCATION
Downtown Ticket Sale at Lansburgh & Bro., 8th St. entrance, betw. D and E.

LOEW'S COLUMBIA
F STREET AT 12th
WEEK STARTING TODAY---SUNDAY, MAY 9
"THE BLIND GODDESS"
Victor Fleming's production of the novel by Arthur Train in "The Designer."
WITH JACK HOLT ESTHER RALSTON ERNEST TORRENCE LOUISE DRESSER
The thrilling romance of a young district attorney who is forced to choose between an ideal of duty and the girl he loves! A fierce drama of human emotion by a famous novelist.
A PARAMOUNT PICTURE
ADDED HITS
MERMAID COMEDY RIOT---"THE TIN GHOST"
INTERNATIONAL NEWSREEL---SCENIC---OVERTURE

DIRECTION STANLEY COMPANY OF AMERICA
CRANDALL'S METROPOLITAN
F ST. AT 10TH
TODAY—3 TO 11 P. M.
First National Presents
CORINNE GRIFFITH
Norman Kerry and Willard Louis in Robt. Z. Leonard's
MLLE. MODISITE
—EXTRA—
GENE AUSTIN
Favorite Victor Tenor
Today at 3:30, 5:25, 7:25 & 9:30 P. M.
O. HENRY COMEDY
News—Overture, "Herbert Hits"
Washington's Finest Orchestra
Daniel Breeskin, Conductor
Keith Pop. Price Vaudeville | EARLE AMERICA'S PERFECT THEATRE | Stanley First Run Photo Plays
13th St., Below F
TODAY—3 TO 11 P. M.
CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG
And Competent Cast in
"HIS ADORABLE WIFE"
LEE MORSE
The Southern Aristocrat of Song
Four Other Great Acts
ON THE SCREEN
BARBARA LA MARR
And Lewis S. Stone in the "Girl From Montmartre"

STRAND
Ninth at D
SUN. MON. TUES. & WED.
Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Present
The Year's Comedy Hit
MONTE CARLO
With
LEW CODY and GERTRUDE OLMSTED
Supported by ZaZu Pitts, Trixie Friganza, Harry Myers and others
All the thrills, gayety, beauty, wealth of Monte Carlo flash through the fastest, funniest, film you've seen in years!
Added Hits—Supplementary Features
Vaudeville Season Opens First Week in August

WARDMAN THEATER
WARDMAN PARK HOTEL
ENTRANCE THROUGH HOTEL LOBBY
The Thomas Herbert Stock Co.
Closing Week
"SOME BABY"
Hilarious Farce Comedy
Opens Tomorrow Night
Eve., 8:30; Sat. Mat., 2:30
Prices
Evenings, $1 & 75c
Matinee, 75c
Box Office, Phone Col. 2000

BIGGER BRIGHTER BETTER THAN EVER GLEN ECHO
WASHINGTON'S BIG FREE ADMISSION AMUSEMENT PARK
OPENS NEXT SATURDAY MAY 15
PRESENTING
IN ADDITION TO THE OLDER POPULAR FEATURES OF THE PAST SEASONS
A NEW MODERN $65,000 "HUMMING BIRD" ROLLER COASTER
OFFERING 4,000 FT. OF ZIPPY THRILLS "UP HILL AND DOWN DALE"
AND ANOTHER SENSATIONAL RIDE
THE CATERPILLAR
DEVISED TO ADD TO THE JOY OF LIVING
FOR DANCING
YOUR OBLIGING
"PEPPY"---"SNAPPY"---"HAPPY"
WALKER AND HIS NEW
GLEN ECHO ORCHESTRA

RIALTO
Starting Today At 3:00 P. M. Doors Open At 2:30 P. M.
CARL LAEMMLE Presents
Week Days Performances Continuous 11 A.M. to 11 P.M.
"The STILL ALARM"
With William Russell and Helene Chadwick
Here is a picture that I unhesitatingly recommend to you, as one of the best of the year. It has everything—good story—cast and production—plus the greatest fire scenes ever projected on a screen.
FRED J. SARR, Mgr. Rialto
"OUR GANG" COMEDY--"MONKEY BUSINESS"
RIALTO CONCERT ORCHESTRA
Overture, Selection from "Maytime" (Romberg)
International News—Other Divertissements
-ON THE STAGE-
GUIDO CICCOLINI
Internationally Famous Tenor In OPERA GEMS
Richard Ruth
GILBERT & WIMP
The Popular Columbia Recording Balladists

LOEW'S PALACE
F STREET AT 13TH
WEEK STARTING TODAY, SUNDAY, MAY 9
RICHARD DIX in "LET'S GET MARRIED"
WITH LOIS WILSON EDNA MAY OLIVER and "GUNBOAT" SMITH
Gregory La Cava's production of the story, "The Man From Mexico," by H. A. Du Souchet.
Step this way, folks, and see the funniest, fastest film farce ever! Imagine a fellow escaping from 30 days in jail via the laundry chute and trying to marry a pretty girl with a detective on his trail!
ADDED HITS
SENNETT COMEDY
PATHE NEWS
TOM GANNON'S MUSIC
A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

In the Realm of Art and Books

By ADA RAINEY.

THE exhibition of industrial art by members of the Arts club is a showing of the work of the members along the lines of their favorite medium. While not so large as was the similar exhibition last year, there are many things that are interesting and of excellent workmanship.

The Balano studio, of Philadelphia, sends studies for stained glass windows of a "Madonna and Child" and of a "Crucifixion." Charles Connich is represented by three stained glass decorations for windows, circular designs done in excellent color.

There are several small studies for stained glass windows by Mr. Connich of biblical subjects, including a "St. John," for the St. Anne's chapel, a rose window for Arlington and a "St. Agatha" for an aisle window that are original and unusually interesting in design.

William Partridge, a naval architect, has built two models of ships that are of the kind now so popular, and has mounted them on bases made from driftwood taken from the Potomac. He has a pair of candlesticks made from the same material. Last year Mr. Partridge showed a number of most interesting figures made from old driftgood, and a great deal of interest was taken in his work.

Disclaims Credit.

The artist disclaimed credit for his work, giving the honor to Nature as the great artist, and saying that most of the "carving" was already done when he found the wood. However interesting the natural forms may be, the fact remains that the interest in the preparing of the wood and the use made of the forms as well as important modifications and adaptations are the work of Mr. Partridge. He is the first to recognize the possibilities of strange and beautiful forms in driftwood and to use this for artistic work.

Glenn Madison Brown shows a series of wood block prints. There are six plates for the six colors used to make one impression. The process is not generally known to the public and the opportunity to see the six different stages in the production of the block print in color is interesting. Both the wood block and the prints taken from the different stages are shown. Marion Lane's books are works of real beauty and of great artistic worth. There is a little gem of extracts taken from the works of Robert Louis Stevenson. Another book has the motif of a thistle as its decoration. Miss Lane has two illuminated texts, "Pater Noster" and selections from Stevenson. Mrs. C. W. Wilkes has some books also, notably the record of her trip to Alaska, which is well and adequately bound.

Good Batik.

The batik wall decorations by Beverly H. Harris have much decorative value and are exceptionally good batik work. One design is Egyptian and beautifully executed, the other is a dragon used as the motif of the decoration. Robert D. Pearson has a wall decoration of a trumpet flower that is effective. There are interesting color effects obtained by Mrs. Howard Nyman in her scarfs, which are tied and dyed, and of crackle work, too. Mrs. Nyman has been especially successful in her use of color. Emma D. Rice has scarfs which are unique and are dyed in rainbow effect.

Lillian Burke has a leaden box with stones set in, some excellent copper work and a bowl and candlesticks. There are lampshades from the Frank Smith studio, a number of examples of weaving by Maude L. Whitman, from the Whitman looms; cheese tray and knife and ring, by Mary Endicott; silver dish, spoon and tongs, lace work, by Mrs. Wilkes; scarfs, by Maude Whitman; a book plate, by Clara Ford Nesbit. There are fourteen members in the industrial art section who are interested in the present exhibit, on view until Saturday.

"X" Painters' Exhibit.

Beginning next Sunday, the "X" painters, a group of Washington artists, will open their exhibition of water colors in the upper room. The lower room will be given over to water colors by Dorothy Savage, of Baltimore. Miss Savage is a student of the Maryland institute and of Charles W. Hawthorne, of Provincetown, who has just won the first William A. Clark prize at the current exhibition at the Corcoran Gallery.

This evening there will be a chafing dish supper at which Mr. and Mrs. Gideon A. Lyon will be hosts. Mr. Axel Leonnard, Minister from Finland to the United States, and Miss Anita Maris Bogga will be guests of honor. His excellency will give an address on "The Land of Athletes, Forests, Lakes and Music," which will be illustrated with motion pictures. Tuesday Miss Isabell McDougall and Paul Kaufman will be hosts. Prof. and Mrs. David A. Robertson will be guests of honor. Talk by Prof. Robertson on "Modern British Novelists." Thursday evening Mrs. Howard Nyman will be hostess at dinner. After dinner there will be a talk by Miss A. M. Wilson on "Industrial Art and Its Relation to Every Day Life," to be followed by a discussion of others present.

* * * *

Painters' League Show.

The Painters league, whose name was formerly the Women's Landscape club, is holding its annual exhibition in the studio of Lillian Burke. It will continue until May 22. There are 29 members in the club, which was organized last year, and they held their first exhibition with the Men's Landscape club in their clubrooms. This year Miss Burke has put her studio at their disposal. There is an atmosphere of artistic things in the studio, which is a background that makes the paintings appear to advantage. Mrs. A. G. Howland is president of the club, and has a view of the "Wharves at Washington" that is one of the most interesting pictures in the show.

"East Gloucester" and "The Blue Bowl," also by Mrs. Howard, are good in color. "Sugar Cane Fields, Java," by M. Hartley; "Brookland", L. K. Pollock; "The Willows", M. E. Glennan; "Beneath a Tropical Moon," "Bridge at Chester" and "Pikeville, Chester County," all by F. Pyle; "San Diego Bay, from Point Loma," F. C. Newberry; "Dogwood," Emma D. Rice; "Sand Dunes," A. W. Fulton, are among those paintings most noteworthy.

Los Cerros, Santa Barbara, an etching by Roi Partridge, on exhibition at Dunthorne's

Works Are Sincere.

The paintings are sincere and unpretending, but are a worthy effort that should be encouraged, as they prove a love of nature and a desire to express in beauty the things seen and loved. The club is planning to have another exhibition just before Christmas of small paintings suitable for gifts. Emma D. Rice has had her paintings of dogwood, in which she specializes, reproduced in color.

They prove quite delightful reminders of the beauty of the spring blossoms and are opportune when the cry of "save the dogwood" is so important to those who are desirous of doing everything possible to awaken interest in the public to protect one of the most beautiful of the shrubs in the parks and countryside.

* * * *

Crafts Work on Display.

There is an exhibition of crafts work by Ferruccio Pini, a Florentine worker in silver, that merits attention and admiration. It is at Jane Bartlet's, on Connecticut ave. Just now there is some flat silver made by workers near Boston that reproduces the colonial designs that are always charming. Here are chains, carved silver work and crosses of intricate and odd forms and designs that remind one of Florence at its best. There is a silver jewel box, of renaissance design, like one of the old coffers, that is carved and decorated in a way to call forth unstinted praise. All the work is unusually artistic, sincerely done and very carefully thought out.

* * * *

Freer Gallery.

At the Freer gallery there was a glory of spring, especially in evidence in the lovely courtyard that is a delightful prelude to the riches that await one who is interested in Oriental and American art. Around the fountain way was flung a glorious halo of brilliant yellow tulips.

In the Chinese room there are two kakemonos placed recently on exhibition. These paintings are of the Sung period, twelfth to thirteenth centuries, are lovely in the bold design of the painting after the style of Mi Fei and in the subtle shadings of the painting on silk. The first is on paper done in the familiar black ink. Its boldness is evidence of the strength and power of the old Chinese painters whose peer has never been found. The second is vague, subtle and suggestive of infinity that the Chinese painter so delighted to suggest in his works, so that they have been called subjective and are the point of departure for a new appreciation of art today.

In the same room are not only other priceless and wonderful paintings of the same period, but there is some rare pottery. The Han pottery, consisting of jars and vases, that were used to put offerings in for the dead, are of an exquisite iridescent hue, which is the result of the working of the chemicals in the earth on the green glaze used on the jars. This pottery is in the form of bronze jars and the change in color caused by being long buried is its chief beauty.

* * * *

Continue for Week.

The Abbott School of Fine and Commercial Art had its first exhibition last week and will continue during the present week. The exhibition is a most excellent showing for a school that has not been in existence a year. The most interesting things in the exhibition are the etchings of the students under the direction of Beverly H. Harris. This class consists of advanced art students, those who are thoroughly instructed in drawing. The etchings are of a really high standard and many of them beautiful and showing much talent. There are also designs for costumes for the stage and street and pen and ink silhouettes for advertisements. The still life in oils, under the tutelege of the director, Anne Abbott, are well drawn and good in color and composition. The school specializes in commercial work and in training for practical application of art for advertising purposes, and has been unusually successful this first year, as the aim has been to keep up a high standard rather than to compete for members. Next year there will be three new teachers from the New York School of Fine and Applied Art, whose director is Frank Alvah Parsons.

* * * *

An informal exhibition was held in the studio of Mr. and Mrs. Bush-Brown Wednesday when some of the work of the three artists were shown, the third being Miss Lydia Bush-Brown, who is in Washington for a short time from New York, where she is making her home. Mrs. Bush-Brown has recently completed a portrait of Gen. James D. Glennan, who has been in command at Walter Reed. The portrait is a commission from the Army Nurses Alumni association. It will be hung in their future association headquarters. The portrait shows the general in uniform and is an excellent likeness and a sincere example of portrait painting.

A portrait of the late Abdul Baha, Bahaist leader, which Mrs. Bush-Brown painted fifteen years ago, from which she is now making a copy of for the St. Paul Institute of Arts and Letters is also hung. The venerable leader is depicted in his picturesque robes and turban. A portrait of Margaret French Cresson in her smock seated with her modeling tools and a portrait bust near by is an excellent likeness of Mrs. Cresson. In the studio also is the portrait of Mr. Bush-Brown painted at the MacDowell summer colony last summer. Mr. Bush-Brown has recently completed a portrait bust of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the well-known food expert.

Silk Murals Good.

The silk murals of Lydia Bush-Brown have received a great deal of favorable comment in New York in the press and magazines. They are in quite a different vein from the usual silk dyed work. The artist has recently spent some time in Syria, and has used Oriental motifs for her decorations. These murals are really very lovely in color and as wall decorations. "Magic Tree of the Gray Mountain" and "Syrian Fountain" are thoroughly Eastern in feeling. The latter uses the figures of the women water carriers fetching water from the fountain. The tree and the Syrian cupolas in the former are particularly successful. These are in an entirely different manner from her former work, and quite as original. Another mural called "Green Sea Pool" is a delightful blending of the fish and corals of the deep sea.

* * * *

A painting of Stone mountain, near Atlanta, where the famous Confederate memorial was started by Gutson Borglum, and cut in the living rock, has an especial interest to those who would like to know how the mountain looked before Borglum and Lukeman began cutting the faces of Gen. Lee and his soldiers on the side of the mountain. This painting, by James Henry Moser, for many years a resident of Washington and a teacher in the Corcoran school, is on view at the art store of Fred Hays, on G street, shows Stone mountain as it appeared 30 years ago, when the artist lived in Atlanta. The painting has been in the possession of Mrs. Moser, who has been visiting in Washington, and she has placed it on exhibition. It is in oil and has a current interest.

* * * *

Duel on Beach.

Another painting is on exhibition at the Mayflower hotel in the palm garden. It is by N. C. Wyeth, called "The Duel on the Beach." The picture is a very realistic representation of a tense scene from the pirate life of the seventeenth century, and the artist has put all the dash and color that we associate with the Spanish Main of other days. Mr. Wyeth, who was a pupil of the celebrated Howard Pyle, is a well-known mural painter, but he is not at all the conventional artist. His physique alone would make him a unique figure, as he is several inches more than 6 feet tall, and weighs about 300 pounds, all bone and muscle. He does all his painting directly from his imagination without the use of any models.

The "Duel on the Beach" was painted for Mr. Carl G. Fisher, of Montauk Point, Long Island, and Miami Beach, Fla., who has made a detailed study of the pirate lore of three centuries ago in the course of his numerous voyages among the islands of the Caribbean and the ports of the old Spanish Main.

* * * *

Theater Is Gallery.

At the Ambassador theater in the upper lobby the Landscape club of Washington is holding its third annual exhibition. This is an excellent place in which to place these landscapes that show to advantage in the long hall of the theater. Most of the paintings are winter or autumn scenes. A. H. O. Rolle has four paintings all of snow or winter scenes and all of them excellent. Especially strong is "Sunlit Boulder" and "Winter."

"Spring in Virginia," "Beaches in Winter," "Grey Morning," "Folly Cove," and "Day in March," by M. S. Jameson, are varied in interest and treatment. The first mentioned landscape has all the tender green that belongs to a Virginia spring, and is portrayed most convincingly. Garnet Jex has a delightful "Canal in November," soft and hazy, with the charm of an Indian summer. There is a water color by Dr. William H. Holmes that shows his accustomed skill. "Tall Trees," by Charles A. R. Dunn, is excellent, while his "A Valesquez Lady" is representative of that master in features of the lady, but not in color. There are a number of others that merit mention, notably: "Making Port," by A. J. Schram; "Brook in Winter," Benson Moore; "Twin Cypress, Monterey," "The Barn," T. E. Brown. The exhibition will be on view through the summer.

* * * *

Water Colors Viewed.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Gordon Dunthorne the water colors by Frank W. Benson, which were on view at the Dunthorne gallery recently, have been put on exhibition at the Arts club until May 15.

* * * *

Arts Program.

The program of the American Federation of Arts, holding its seventh annual convention at the Mayflower hotel, beginning Wednesday morning, is as follows:

The morning session beginning at 10 o'clock, will be opened with an address of welcome by Charles Moore, followed by the address of the president, Robert de Forest. The secretary, Miss Lelia Mechlin, will read her report, which will be followed by a report of the treasurer and the appointment of committees. Addresses will be given by Alon Bement and Royal B. Farnum followed by a general discussion. "Park Design in Relation to

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 6.)

Current Exhibitions

THE CORCORAN GALLERY—Tenth exhibition of the contemporary American paintings until May 16. Water colors by John S. Sargent and portrait busts by Charles Grafly until May 16.

THE ARTS CLUB—Exhibition of industrial arts by club members until May 15.

PHILLIPS MEMORIAL GALLERY—Old and modern masters. Special exhibition of "Intimate Impressionists" until May 30.

THE SMITHSONIAN BUILDING—Etchings by George T. Plowman until May 31.

THE NATIONAL MUSEUM—Exhibition by the Cleveland Photographic club until July 1.

THE NATIONAL GALLERY OF ART—Permanent collection of paintings and sculpture.

THE FREER GALLERY—Permanent collection of American paintings, Whistler etchings and Oriental art.

DUNTHORNE'S GALLERY—1205 Connecticut avenue. Etchings by Roe Partridge and sixteenth century maps until May 15.

AMBASSADOR THEATER—Exhibition of paintings by the Landscape club.

THE PAINTERS LEAGUE—1355 Connecticut avenue. Until May 15.

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF ARTS CONVENTION—Mayflower hotel, 12-13-14.

BOY'S STORY TOLD WELL BY OLMSTED

"At Top of Tobin" is another book by an author with Washington affiliations who is remembered pleasantly as well in another art, that of music.

"At Top of Tobin" was written by Stanley Olmsted (the Dial Press, New York). It deals with that treasure trove for fiction writers, the primitive folk of the Southern States.

Mr. Olmsted paints a more vivid and realistic picture than usual. He has reconstructed a period which is near the present, yet seems far away because of the rapid advance of the last decade or so in art, literature, science and the mechanics of living.

There is a real story in Mr. Olmsted's book, too. In it one sees the play of passions, emotions, joys and sorrows experienced by his characters.

Dr. Samuel John McApperson, a country physician, who is also an ordained Methodist minister, is a delightful character, a type becoming all too rare in small towns. His wife, Mother Jane McApperson, is also picturesque. Yet the outstanding figure of the book remains Chester, a small boy. The delineation of this character proves beyond a doubt that Mr. Olmsted knows the small boy nature infinitely well.

His diction is very choice and never lapses into carelessness, a fault too common with authors of today. Striking similes and memorable sentences are ornaments to his text and it is not too much to say that this book should have a longer life than the average volume of fiction.

BOOK NOTES

Dean Briggs of Harvard is the subject of a biography by Rollo Walter Brown, just published by Harpers. It is unusual for a man's biography to appear while he is still alive, especially when he is not a statesman but a college professor. The title of the biography is "Dean Briggs." The dean is not only in excellent health, but at this moment, having retired from his duties at Harvard and Radcliffe, is touring Europe. His last letter to Harpers was dated from Rome. As he is an incorrigibly modest man, perhaps he prefers to be 4,000 miles away when his biography is laid before the public.

Thomas Steep's "Chinese Fantastics," is listed by the Shanghai newspapers as a best seller, which is taken by its publishers, the Century Co., as evidence of its authentic flavor. It is unusual for a book on China to be popular in China, because the foreigners there are "fed up" on the subject. Mr. Steep's book makes a fresh appeal by its whimsical treatment of odd and amusing phases of life in the Chinese topsyturvydom—pigtails, rickshaw boys, pidgin-English, coolies, chop suey, (which is unknown in China), junks, dragons, fox-witches and superstitions. Formerly the book trade in the Far East was largely in the hands of British publishers, but the influx of Americans there has created a demand for American books, of which "Chinese Fantastics" now heads the list of best sellers.

Books in Greatest Demand at Public Library in April

NONFICTION.
"Man Nobody Knows" —Barton.
"Jefferson and Hamilton" —Bowers.
"Why We Behave Like Human Beings" —Dorsey.
"Abraham Lincoln" —Sandburg.
"Intimate Papers" —House.
"Royal Road to Romance" —Halliburton.
"Everlasting Man" —Chesterton.
"Soul's Sincere Desire" —Clark.

FICTION.
"Glass Houses" —Gizycka.
"Wild Geese" —Ostenso.
"Thunder on the Left" —Morley.
"Private Life of Helen of Troy" —Erskine.
"Blue Window" —Bailey.
"Black Flemings" —Norris.

ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE, whose newest novel, "Treasure," has just been published by Harper & Bros.

Jacket design from "The Great Valley," Mary Johnston's historical novel of pioneer life in the Shenandoah valley.

Latest Books Tersely Reviewed

RED LYNX. By Capt. Charles Gibson. (George Sully & Co., New York.)

This is an Indian scout story of the old-fashioned type very much on the variety of those written by Cooper. The story of the deeds of Red Lynx, the white trapper, the only scout equal to the deadly Apache on the war path, is thrillingly told. The description of conditions and the country of pioneer days on the western slopes of the Rockies reveals an intimate knowledge by the writer.

The valiant band of pioneers whose scattered settlements were raided by the Indians are graphically pictured in this book. Of course, a beautiful girl had to be captured by the Indians, rescued in time by the hero and his faithful Indian friend. This romance is woven into the story of adventure in a rather unique manner, which makes it less stereotyped than those found in many similar books.

PALMISTRY FOR PLEASURE. By Dean Bryden. (George Sully & Co., New York.)

In this book are contained 10 careful diagrams of hands and lines which serve as sure guides for those who like to study the characteristics of their fellow human beings. There is a fascination in palmistry which is open to the amateur as well as the professional and those who make a careful study of the art have a social asset which will serve them in good stead many times.

The handbook gives a simple and logical treatment of palmistry beginning with the fundamentals and contains much important material which will be useful in a study of the men and women with whom the student comes in contact in the school, the church, the home or the business world.

TOBYTOWN. By Chandler A. Oakes. (George Sully & Co., New York.)

A new type of fairy story is this one with the characters of the imaginary town composed of dogs, birds and other animals. The human traits in the animals we love are cleverly and often humorously told in this little book which will keep small daughter or son busy and quiet for an hour or two. Mother and father will take keen interest in reading it at the story hour. While the publishers state that this book is intended for children from 6 to 10 years of age there is no doubt that older children will also enjoy it.

MIDAS. By C. H. Bretherton. (E. P. Dutton & Co., New York.)

This book on the United States and its future will, as the author himself states, give no satisfaction to those who hate the United States, nor will those who are enthusiastic for the United States be hardly more satisfied.

The gist of his ideas of the United States and the future is that the American people are still developing a material civilization unsurpassed in quantity, if not quality. He declares that they either borrow from Europe or do without intellectual civilization. He, however, is kind enough to hold forth the hope that one day we will turn away from what he terms excessive material prosperity and build up an America which sets much less store on money and possessions and social and commercial success and puts a higher value on beauty, knowledge, leisure and the art of life.

"Assuming," he writes, "that the United States closes the door in the face of European immigrants in the next 25 years, as is inevitable, 100 years from now will find every American with three generations of American born ancestors behind him on both sides. This will mean an America almost entirely divorced from the racial passions and national prejudices which now inflame a large number of American citizens."

AIRCRAFT INSTRUMENTS. By H. N. Eaton, K. Hilding, William G. Brombacher, W. Willard Frymoyer, H. B. Henrickson, C. L. Seward and D. H. Strother, all of the aeronautic instrument section of the United States Bureau of Standards. (The Ronald Press Co., New York.)

This is one of the series of the Ronald Aeronautic Library of which Orde F. Chandler is editor.

In view of the increasing importance of aeronautics in the leading nations of the world, the Ronald Press Co. has undertaken to supply a need for comprehensive literature on the subject. The development of aircraft during recent years has been made possible by the development of a wide variety of instruments for accurate measurements. The authors have described the various aircraft instruments in general use and discussed their merits and errors. While to the layman, this book will be for the most part not quite comprehensible, yet it contains much valuable information not only for those who are engaged in aeronautical pursuits for the government or private concerns but for the ever-increasing groups of people who are taking an interest in aircraft from a practical as well as a theoretical viewpoint.

THE WHIPPER SNAPPER. By Charles E. Parker. (Frederick A. Stokes Co., New York.)

This is a boy's book, and after reading it boys will realize that the entire system of the varsity football coach who had special pets and whose one idea was to win the game regardless of honor or clean sport was a poor beginning for the great game which makes for success and popularity. The boy reader's sympathy will be with the members of the team who rebelled against this method, and they will without doubt join the boy characters in the book in making a hero of McDermott, ex-soldier, and another coach who knew football and the ethics of real sportsmanship from A to Z.

BALLOON AND AIRSHIP GASES. Part 1 by Charles de Forest Chandler and Part 2 by Walter S. Diehl, United States Navy bureau of aeronautics. (The Ronald Press Co., New York.)

Still another volume of the Ronald Aeronautics Library is this book. In it Mr. Chandler, the editor and retired lieutenant commander of the army air service, discusses hydrogen and helium production processes and the compression and storage of gases. Lieut. Diehl writes on the "Physics of Gases."

GROWING UP WITH A CITY. By Louise de Koven Bowen. (The MacMillan Co., New York.)

Interwoven with the story of Chicago before the civil war to the present day, this writer, who is a woman of achievement and distinction in a great Western city, has cleverly told the story of a little girl who later grew into young womanhood and a leader of woman.

Mrs. Bowen's story of her own life is as interesting as that of her native city, and the incidents she relates are all from her own memories of events. She was born before the civil war, in Chicago, and played with Tad Lincoln when President Lincoln went to the city and stayed at the Clifton house.

Just as other cities, especially those in the East, are so proud of their cave dwellers, so is Chicago proud of that little band of pioneers who founded the great city and whose prestige and civic service has endured since the days when the little frontier settlement was constantly menaced by the Indians.

Mrs. Bowen's grandfather and grandmother arrived in Chicago in 1835 and there the family has centered its life ever since. Her grandfather won wealth as a commission merchant. In the early days he and his young bride had to live for protection from the Indians in Fort Dearborn. Mrs. Bowen's mother was born in this fort.

The author of this human interest tale of a city was a girl in her teens when fire swept her native city and she has been part of its rebirth and of its miraculous growth in the last half century. At a very early age she took an interest in the social welfare work of her city and with a group of women and men whose names are well known has been hard at work ever since.

In this book Mrs. Bowen tells many entertaining stories of old Chicago life, which will be profitable reading not only for the people of Chicago but to all others who realize that a city has a personality all its own.

MELBA SAYS WILDE ONCE MADE TOUCH

In "Melodies and Memories," by Nellie Melba (George H. Doran Co., New York), are echoes of a glorious voice and a glowing personality of the operatic stage whose charm and genius once delighted thousands.

There is a note of sadness in the realization that Melba has retired definitely from the sphere which she so adorned. In bygone days Melba was the toast of every town where her radiant visits wrote new chapters in the history of song.

It comes with rather a shock the knowledge that her singing career began in 1884, nearly 42 years ago. The road between for Mme. Melba was not an easy one. Mme. Marchesi, the famous singing teacher and creator of divas, gave her the opportunity to become the prima donna she has been.

Reading between the lines, one searches without avail for traces of the usual volatile temperament of the prima donna. She appears to have been an exception in this regard. An abounding love of her kind, which won her and kept her many friends, sweetened her relations with the mimic world in which she moved and lived.

Her collection of intimate friends as revealed in "Melodies and Memories" was of the most cosmopolitan nature. Kings, queens and princes mingle in the circle with Oscar Wilde and Charlie Chaplin.

She tells a story of Wilde in the book which is not generally known. She met him at Lady de Grey's and like all who knew him was held enthralled by his flow of conversation.

It was years later when walking on a street in Paris a tall shabby man, collar turned up to his neck, a hunted, haunted look in his eyes lurched past her. Seeing her, he stopped. "Mme. Melba," he exclaimed," you don't know who I am? I'm Oscar Wilde."

He continued: "I am going to do a terrible thing. I am going to ask you for money." Mme. Melba writes: "I could hardly bear to look at him, not from hatred but from shame and pity. I took all I had from my purse—about 10 louis—and he quickly took it—almost snatched it, muttered a word of thanks and was gone. I never saw him again."

We catch other glimpses of celebrities in odd moments through the memory glass of Mme. Melba. Caruso is pictured squeezing a rubber doll which squeaked in an odd manner during a big scene in a grand opera; Tamagno, the great tenor, emptying the fruits, nuts and bonbons into a napkin at formal diner parties to take home and an affecting picture is drawn of Melba singing to old Anton Rubinstein in Russia.

There's a BOOK for Every Mood. Make provision for vacation time reading by coming NOW to Brentano's F at 12th

BOOKS Join Our Circulating Library And read the latest fiction at the nominal charge of 3c A Day There are no initiation charges or deposits required. Minimum Charge, 10c In the Downstairs Bookstore at Kann's

A Little Ad of a Big School NATIONAL SCHOOL FINE AND APPLIED ART Color, Interior Decoration, Costume Design, Commercial Drawing. FELIX MAHONY, Director. Main 1700 Conn. Ave. and M

On Exhibition Etchings by Roi Partridge Early American Maps Virginia, Maryland, Etc. Gordon Dunthorne 1205 Connecticut Avenue

Activities of the Women's Clubs

By VYLLA POE WILSON.

NEXT to the annual election of officers, the local clubs are concerning themselves just now as to how to handle the so-called "youth question," from the standpoint of enlisting the youth of the community in the activities of the clubs themselves and also to combat the dangerous tendencies they consider are contained in some of the organized youth movements.

The ever-reaching out of youth and the injection of new ideas and new ideals into the lives of the nations have worried each succeeding generation from earliest history. The women who look on these things with a well-balanced and unprejudiced eye realize that these very traits in the youth of the land can be utilized for progress and a renewed patriotism and loyalty to country if properly directed.

Last week in New York, clubwomen point out, a mass meeting of youth was held at which resolutions were adopted advocating the abolition of military training. Naturally this action constitutes a source of worry for those who realize that preparedness is one of the greatest ways to insure the safety of the nation and that military training for boys and preparation for service and the organization of the woman power is an essential of national preparedness. The offset to this meeting, however, is in the knowledge that all of the citizen military camps for boys are being enrolled to their utmost capacity by eager young American men anxious to learn how, in the event of trouble, to be the protectors of the homes and ideals of this nation. Many of the women's clubs are actively engaged in furthering interest in these camps and it is, at times like this, that classes in Red Cross work and other such subjects are patronized by the women and girls who feel that they want to be in readiness to answer their country's call in peace or war.

Another recollection should give good cheer to the many patriotic women who are concerned over what they regard as misguided movements of the youth. That is that a very high per cent of the young men enrolled and leaders in the pacifist movements in the colleges and universities before the world war were the first to volunteer their services and served with honor overseas as hard-fisted fighters in the United States forces.

So closely is healthful recreation linked with all forward-looking movements for youth and old age alike that it is logical that the women's orgenizations, no matter what may be their objects in banding together, take an interest in the establishment of local and national playgrounds and recreation centers. Therefore, while the business element of the District of Columbia very properly may look on the great impetus which will be given to the commercial atmosphere of the national city if the project for a national park in the Shenandoah valley really succeeds, the clubwomen are basing their interest on the more intangible but quite as valuable social and welfare side of the question. Speakers have been invited to many of the club meetings to tell of the plans for the laying out of this park running south from Front Royal, Va. In proportion Washington women are as eager to raise their quota toward this object as are the Virginia women.

Another matter which is interwoven with youth, recreation and the general subject of preparation for citizenship is that of the probation system of the juvenile and other courts. Judge Sellers, of the juvenile court, is the chairman of the Probation association organized some years ago, which goes into this question in a practical fashion, and leading citizens and club members of the District are to be enrolled even more extensively than formerly in the groups of people who care what becomes of the youth who are given a chance for readjustment through a system of probation. Probation has proved one of the most salient means of encouragement in following the straights paths in the labyrinth of life, all authorities agree.

Another problem facing those who are interested in the encouragement and development of young America is that of the "round peg in a square hole," the boy or girl who is placed in the wrong social or industrial environment to which much of the increase of crime and unrest can be attributed, some of the social and welfare workers declare.

Hundreds of girls and boys in this country are prevented by poverty and other circumstances from developing exceptional talent. This gives wide scope for work of the women of leisure and financial resources to really justify their own existence in finding these out and in a systematic organized manner, which is the only effective one, paving the way of youth to the realization of their ambitions and thus contribute to the human wealth and achievement of the nation.

Dr. Carl C. Brigham, associate professor of psychology at Princeton university, who has conducted psychology tests at Cooper union in New York for the last four years, has made the statement that the economic loss to the nation at the present time is very great because of the failure to train and develop every boy and girl of unusual talents.

As a demonstration of what this latent talent may result in, if given proper training and opportunity, is cited by Dr. Brigham in the case of Miss Margery Stocking, a Brooklyn girl, who works by day to support herself, but studied at night and won the first medal in a contest open to al art schools in the United States.

Of course, in Washington we have a clear example of what opportunity will result in by the hundreds of men and women government employes who serve faithfully for Uncle Sam all day, but study and work hard at night at one of the many centers open for them in art, music and other professions. Many can cite cases of national or world famous people who began life as a government clerk and climbed the ladder of fame through the facilities thrown open to them through our local government and educational centers.

Those who listen to the reports of the large national women's organizations as well as at the meetings of many of the local chapters and clubs can not but be impressed with the really splendid work they are doing in the direction of giving opportunity to those who desire it. Even these efforts fall far short of the demand, and the scholarship lists of most of these organizations have long waiting lists.

It would not be well to mention scholarships in the District of Columbia without a word in praise of Mrs. Joshua Evans, jr., and her efficient committee who have administered so fairly the scholarship opportunities to George Washington university provided for young girls with ability and whom a college education will benefit through the efforts of the Columbian Women. Many a girl who came to Washington to work her way through college has received encouragement and financial aid through this band of women.

The motor corps of the District chapter of the American Red Cross is eagerly awaiting the arrival of the new ambulance which has been ordered for the transportation of veterans about the city on Red Cross work for the service men who are still in the local hospitals. All the $3,000 needed for the ambulance has not been raised as yet and the chapter officials are anxious that it shall be in hand by the time the ambulance is completed.

Gifts for the ambulance fund will be gratefully received, it is announced, from women's clubs and other organizations or from individuals and should be marked "Ambulance fund, District chapter American Red Cross" and sent to 16 Jackson place northwest.

Another feature of the service to the veterans is that of the Ladies of the Blue Veils, the hospital workers under the direction of Mrs. W. S. Spencer, chairman of hospital work of the chapter. Wednesday night this committee gave a card party for service men and women at Mount Alto hospital.

In addition to Mount Alto this group of women frequently give parties and other entertainments for the service men at the United State Naval hospital and St. Elizabeths hospital.

Left—Miss Marie E. Walcott, captain of Troop 5, Girl Scouts of the District of Columbia. Lower right—Mrs. F. T. F. Johnson, of the Women's City Club. Upper right—Mrs. Grace Thompson Seton, newly elected president of the League of American Pen Women.

The Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs will hold its twenty-first annual meeting in the Presbyterian church, Chevy Chase circle, Friday. The Woman's club of Chevy Chase will be the hostess club.

The June luncheon committee will meet with Mrs. Young W. Cordell, 207 East Underwood street, Chevy Chase, Md., Tuesday, at 1:30 o'clock.

Mrs. O. C. Merrill, the president of the club, will entertain at her home Wednesday at 1 o'clock, the members of the executive board. The board members of last year will also be guests of the president at the luncheon.

The social section will give a card party at the home of Mrs. George Wagner, 9 Grafton street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Business Women's council will meet Tuesday evening at the Church of the Covenant. The devotional hour will be led by the Rev. William A. Eisenberger, who is giving a series of talks on "The Life of Christ." A short business meeting and motion pictures will be included in the evening's program.

The International Association of Art and Letters will hold a business meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m., at the clubrooms in the Gordon hotel.

Mrs. Frank Morrison, president of the Mary Taliaferro Thompson Southern Memorial association, C. S. M. A., entertained the members Friday at the April meeting held in her home. Mrs. Wallace Streater presided at the tea table, assisted by Mrs. Florry Barr. Mrs. Morrison gave her report for the year.

The committee chairmen reported. Fifty dollars has been contributed to Stone mountain.; $25 was sent Maj. Ewing to further the work on Manassas battlefield, and $15 added to the $10 already sent to help finance the memorial arch being built in Stafford county. A letter was read from Col. John L. Follin, thanking the association for a check for $25 to assist the Confederate veterans to attend the annual reunion to be held in Birmingham, Ala.

The following were nominated, to be voted on at the next meeting: Mrs. Frank Morrison, president; Mrs. Jesse Lee Webb, first vice president; Mrs. Jeter Pritchard, second vice president; Mrs. E. A. Gathgens, recording secretary; Mrs. Ednah Fairfax Long, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Henry G. Clay, treasurer; Mrs. Nelson Page Webster, historian; Mrs. Daniel G. Fry, registrar; Mrs. Rosa Mulcare, chaplain, Mrs. W. R. Cole, directress of children; Mrs. Norma Hardy Britton, chairman of publicity.

The Zonta club is preparing for entertaining the 1927 confederation, and a delegation from the local club will depart for Rochester during the coming week to present the invitation to the clubs. The following members will make the trip to Rochester to attend the confederation meeting Wednesday and Thursday: Miss Mae Moyers, who is chairman of the convention committee; Jane Bartlett, president-elect of the local club; Nan R. Street, secretary, and Maude Harper, treasurer of the local club; Edith C. Salisbury, Emma T. Hahn, Sarah Wetherall, Mollie B. Weyman, Elizabeth Harris, Anna E. Muddiman, Edith Seville Coale, Alice T. Buchanan, Rose Casey and Julia D. Connor.

The Columbia Heights Art club met at the home of Mrs. E. Tibbetts Fulton Thursday. Assisting were Mrs. James Yeomans and the president, Mrs. Arthur J. Seaton. Miss Dorris and Mrs. Leo Manghum were guests. Mrs. Arthur J. Seaton, Mrs. J. E. Fowler, Mrs. Fred Heisler, Mrs. De Witt C. Croissant, Mrs. William Clark, and the Misses Dorris were among those present. The study topic, led by Mrs. Sara Wolhaupter, was "The Potters Wheel and How It Goes Around." Mrs. Augustus Knight spoke of Longfellow's poem "Keramos" and read by Mrs. Grandfield. Mrs. Fulton and Mrs. Seaton favored the club with several musical selections. A social hour followed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. R. Tracy May 20.

The French club of Washington, Les Precieuses Ridicules, met at the Robert Brookings postgraduate school. Albert C. Clark and John Gilbert Heinberg, students of the school, were hosts.

M. Edmond Becker, president of the club, read a paper, "Le Cafeier en Amerique," describing the bringing of the coffee plant to America in 1720 by Gabriel de Clieu.

Miss Maud Scruggs, pianist, composer and secretary, gave two piano numbers. M. Jean Louis Gachon read a synopsis of Victorien Sardou's drama, "La Tosca." A trio followed of the "Overture" of Puccini's opera "La Tosca," played by Mrs. Duff Lewis, violin; Miss Marie-Leontine Becker, piano, and Mr. Dore Walten, cello. John C. White sang "La Route a Mandalay," by Kipling, with Gorman Freer Speaks at the piano; as encore, "Le Jardin de mon Coeur."

The Columbian Women of George Washington university will hold the last meeting of the club year Tuesday afternoon in the trustees room at Corcoran hall.

There will be a social hour between 4 and 5 o'clock, followed by the regular business meeting.

The results of the annual election will be announced, voting having been by mail, in accordance with the by-laws of the organization, and the new officers will be greeted and congratulated.

Reports from the officers and committees who have served during the last year will be received. Mrs. Henry Gratton Doyle, president, will preside.

The Takoma Park Civic Study club held its regular monthly business meeting in the ballroom over the Takoma theater Tuesday. Mrs. E. Clyde Shade, chairman of music, led the singing, and Mrs. Arthur Gordan read the "Collect." Mrs. G. Albert Scott, the president, was presented with a basket of flowers. Mrs. Otto Veerhoff expressed appreciation of the splendid work done by Mrs. Scott, and especially commended her for the fine club spirit that she has so carefully fostered.

Otto L. Veerhoff spoke on art in the home.

Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Veerhoff, Mrs. Irey, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Councilor, Miss Myers and Mrs. Whittacker attended the Maryland State Federation of Women's Clubs at Annapolis. Mrs. Councilor gave a report of the Wednesday meetings, Miss Winnefred Myers for Thursday and Mrs. Whittacker for Friday.

Mrs. F. W. Pearse announced the annual meeting for Montgomery county on Wednesday at Chevy chase. The club voted $36 for the scholarship fund.

Mrs. White gave an interesting report of the April meeting of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Nellie Taylor read a splendid report of the social service work done in Montgomery county. Mrs. Dana Angier, treasurer, gave a complete report for the year. Mrs. Roy Ferner reported that she had assisted in planting a tree in Memory lane on Arbor day for the club. The club voted to support the Washington Grand Opera Company and the Symphony orchestra. Mrs. E. Clyde Shade to act as chairman.

A letter of appreciation was sent to Atwater Kent for his Sunday evening hours of music. A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Chandler, who was instrumental in securing the services of Angelo Patri for a community lecture; also to Mrs. W. Stuart, Mrs. D. Stuart and Mrs. Shade for arranging the annual club breakfast at which Mrs. Virginia White Speel, Mrs. Small and Mrs. Jamison were honored guests and speakers.

Mrs. Mary Lamond White, was chairman of the nominating committee.

The following officers were elected, Mrs. Katherine McNary, president; Mrs. N. E. McIndoo, first vice president; Mrs. Ethel Lamond, second vice president; Mrs. Roy Ferner, secretary; Mrs. Dana Angier, treasurer, and Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Shade and Mrs. Chandler, directors.

The monthly executive meeting and luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. Azro Cory. The executive committee gave a birthday luncheon on Wednesday at the Hotel Roosevelt in honor of Mrs. Azro Cory, the first president of the club.

The Twentieth Century club, international outlook section, will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of Miss Agnes Miller, Woodlawn, 3155 Highland place, Cleveland Park. This will be the last meeting of the season. Drew Pearson, foreign editor of the United States Daily, will address the members on "The International Outlook." Each member of the section who has "sponsored" a country during the year will speak briefly on her "country" during the hour preceding the talk by Mr. Pearson.

The nature section will meet Wednesday at 10 o'clock at Dupont circle for a trip along the canal.

The annual meeting of the club with election of officers takes place Thursday. Music will be furnished by the music section under the direction of Mrs. Brynes.

Members of the field meetings of the Audubon society for the observation of birds will go to Pawpaw run, Virginia, for their next outing, which will be on Saturday. They will assemble at the station of the Washington & Old Dominion railway at Rosslyn, and go from there to Great Falls on the 8:15 car, getting off at Spring Hill.

At the first meeting two weeks ago 62 persons attended, 29 of whom were school children between the ages of 10 and 17. When at noon the several groups met at the McClellan gate of Arlington it was found that 76 different species of birds had been identified.

Lincoln circle, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James William Doocy on Capitol Hill.

Mrs. Edith Street King, president, presided, and Mrs. Kate Perkins led the circle in the Lord's Prayer. The corresponding secretary, Mrs. Sarah Deeds, gave her report and read a letter from Mrs. W. W. Chalmers, chairman of the "Mothers' day program" to be held today at 3 o'clock in the amphitheater, Arlington cemetery. The entire circle were sent reserve-seat tickets. Five dollars was voted for Decoration day expenses at Arlington.

Thursday in the rotunda of the United States Capitol the circle will hold memorial services at the statue of Abraham Lincoln and place a wreath at its base presented by Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Richard Hoxie.

Miss Nellie Colclazier, treasurer, reported there was $165 in the treasury and no debts.

May 27 the circle will meet at the home of Big. Gen. and Mrs. Hoxie. The meeting adjorned for a social hour.

The Housekeepers alliance met Tuesday afternoon in the home economics building of George Washington university. Mrs. William E. Chamberlin was reelected president; Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, recording secretary; Mrs. Henry C. Brown, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. J. C. Woodrup, treasurer. The alliance also voted indorsement of Mrs. Chamberlin as candidate for second vice president of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs.

Dr. Minna C. Denton, head of the home economics department of the university, was hostess. Sumner Ellis Smith delivered a talk on electric refrigeration for the average home.

The following were delegates to the meetings of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs at the Hotel Roosevelt on Wednesday and Thursday: Mrs. W. Husband, Mrs. C. H. Cross, Mrs. Smith Tassin. The following alternates were named: Miss Macomb, Miss Rugg and Mrs. R. E. Snodgrass.

The weekly luncheon of the Soroptimist club was held at the Hotel Lafayette Wednesday. Mrs. Helena D. Reed presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Mina Van Winkle. Two new members, Miss Viola Sutton and Mrs. Bertha Jones, were introduced. Vocal solos were sung by Miss Grace Biddle.

Mrs. Burnita Shelton Matthews, president of the Women's Bar association of the District of Columbia, spoke on the equal dower and courtesy and inheritance laws.

Mrs. J. B. Bowman, in charge of navy nurses, spoke on "Equal Pay and Equal Recognition for Army and Navy Nurses," particularly as to the retirement bill now before Congress introduced by Representative Reese, of Tennessee. She called attention to the fact that the pay of the army and navy nurse is 20 per cent lower than that of the nurse in private life.

MRS. TALIAFERRO CLARK, of the public health service, who also serves on many committees of the local clubs.

Miss Elizabeth C. Harris, an attorney in the District of Columbia and a member of the Zonta club, spoke on "Jury Service." Miss Harris concluded by saying that the more study she gives to the history of juries the more she is convinced that women should have this representation.

Raymond F. Crist, commissioner of naturalization and immigration, told of the amendments to the cable act affecting citizenship of women married to aliens.

The Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs held its regular meeting Friday at the home of Mrs. Thomas M. Robertson, Chevy Chase. Mrs. Robertson was hostess at the luncheon. The president, Mrs. Archibald Smalley, presided.

The annual meeting of the federation will be held Friday in Chevy Chase at the First Presbyterian church, the Woman's club of Chevy Chase being the host.

Maj. E. Brooke Lee will give an address on "Civic Activities in Montgomery County," and Prof. Edwin W. Brown, superintendent of education, will speak.

Mrs. John L. Alcock, president of the Maryland State Federation, and Mrs. John F. Sippel, director to General Federation, will be present.

Mrs. C. B. Graham, of Kensington, was awarded the prize for writing the music to the words of the State song, "Our Pledge."

The following clubs have contributed to the loan scholarship fund, making a total of $650.50: Woman's club of Dawsonville, Wednesday club of Sandy Spring, the Current Comment club, and As You Like It club, Germantown.

Mrs. Frederick Kepplinger, chairman of education, requests that the questionnaire which was sent out to all the clubs by her committee be returned at once. She announced that the book plate has been registered in the patent office through the courtesy of Harry N. Semmes.

Miss Estell Moore reported for the Social Service league in the absence of Mrs. Lyles Offutt. Miss Irma Mohr, the new social service director, will gladly give any information regarding her work to the clubs upon request. The league will have a drive for funds from May 23 to June 5.

The tea this afternoon at the Women's City club is in honor of the newly elected officers and directors, including Mrs. J. Garfield Riley, president; Miss Marie K. Saunders, first vice president; Miss Myrtle Bunn, second vice president; Mrs. Gratton Kerans, corresponding secretary; Miss Loretta Barnes, recording secretary; Miss May Belle Raymond, treasurer. Dr. A. Frances Foye is the retiring president. Dr. Edith Coale, Miss Adele Heaven, Miss Nell Price, Mrs. Patrick Gallagher, Mrs. Gertrude Lyons, Mrs. Virgil Miller, and Mrs. Peter Drury are the new directors.

The Spanish class will hold its initial semimonthly dinner in the coffee room of the club Tuesday.

The subscription dinner of the business and professional section will have Miss Florence E. Ward as hostess and Mrs. William M. Jardine as guest of honor. Miss Bertha Henderson will speak on "My Experiences in the Division of Land Economics, United States Department of Agriculture." Other women in the Department of Agriculture will speak briefly on their work.

The Susan B. Anthony foundation will meet Tuesday night. "Why Should There Be a Memorial in the Capital City to Susan B. Anthony?" will be the subject of discussion. Among the speakers will be Representative Addison T. Smith, Idaho; Isaac Gans, past president of the Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Harry Atwood Colman, past president of the League of American Pen Women; Mrs. John Allan Dougherty and others. Mrs. Carolyn Norton will have charge of the music and will sing.

A card party was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Allen Adams Friday afternoon and evening.

Friendship brauch of the Sunshine and Community society held its meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Emily H. Fairless, 242 Maple avenue, Tacoma Park. Mrs. Fairless was assisted by Mrs. Sarah Nevins and Mrs. G. J. Grommett.

Reports of the year's work were made. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. William Beahm; first vice president, Mrs. Warren R. Choate; second vice president, Miss Estelle Mayher; recording secretary, Mrs. George A. Ross; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Otis J. Rogers; treasurer, Mrs. G. J. Grommett; auditors, Mrs. J. W. Witten and Mrs. S. W. Morris.

Mrs. Anna E. Hendley, president of the Susan B. Anthony foundation, gave a talk in the interest of the Susan B. Anthony memorial building.

Mrs. L. E. Haislip, of Chicago, was a guest.

The Women's Alliance of All Souls' church, Sixteenth and Harvard streets will hold its meeting in Pierce hall Friday night. A musical program, directed by Mrs. Rowland S. H. Dyer, will follow the meeting, and members and friends of the alliance are invited to hear old-time melodies played by talented musicians in costume.

The executive board of the Voteless District of Columbia League of Women Voters will meet at the Women's Democratic club, 820 Connecticut avenue Friday. This meeting is called for the purpose of reorganization and of "blocking" out plans for the coming year.

The Woman's club of Bethesda, Inc., will hold its meeting at the home of Mrs. William W. Bride in Edgemoor, Md., Tuesday, at 2 o'clock. William Tyler Page, clerk of the House of House of Representatives, will speak on "Reminiscenses of 35 Years in the Capitol."

Candidates for officers for the coming year will be announced at this meeting.

Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. W. B. N. Brooks, Bradley Hills; Mrs. William E. Pearsons, Battery Park, Md.; Mrs. Wallace Craigie, Edgemoor, Md.; Mrs. Walter E. Perry, Bethesda, Md.; Mrs. Harry R. Kenner, Edgemoor; and Mrs. H. J. Wild, Battery Park, Md., chairman.

May 27 is charter day. There will be no "committee day" in May.

The children of Neighborhood house will furnish the program for the tea of the American Association of University Women tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, when they will give a program of songs and dances. Mrs. J. P. Neligh and Mrs. A. W. Palmer will be the hostesses.

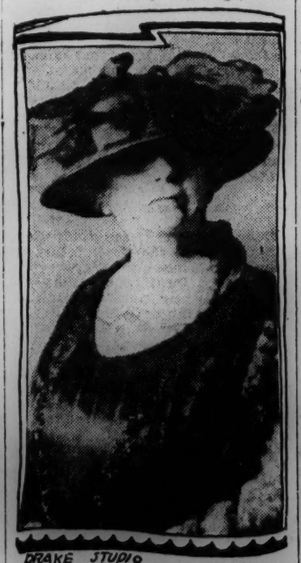

The monthly meeting of the Washington branch will be held at the clubhouse on Friday evening. The honor guest and speaker will be Miss Mary J. Simpson, journal clerk of the United States Senate. Miss Simpson is a former teacher, and before her appointment in Washington was a member of the Vermont State legislature. Following the address a reception will be given to the newly-elected officers of the Washington branch.

MRS. GUY E. SPEARE, leader in education movements in women's clubs.

MISS MAUD HARPER, newly elected president of the Zonta club.

MRS. WILLIAM ERLE, of Chicago, national recording secretary general of the D. A. R.

MRS. MAGGIE BARRY, of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

For Smartness

MISS ROSETTA KAUFMAN

"There's nothing like Black and White Rouge for giving just the right touch of color the mode demands," says chic Miss Rosetta Kaufman, 546 Lafayette Ave., Brooklyn, New York. "This exquisitely textured rouge doesn't need to be ground in so it roughens or irritates my skin. A pat of the puff, with a smoothing around the edges makes the color blend with the tones of my skin and look perfectly smooth and natural."

Black and White Rouge, and the Lipstick and Eyebrow Pencil, too, can be gotten in dainty, gold-dipped vanities for 25c, from more than 80,000 dealers in the country and city alike.

If your dealer doesn't have Black and White Rouge, send his name to Plough, Memphis, Tenn., and you will receive FREE a copy of the Birthday and Dream Book, containing many interesting facts on beauty, dreams and fortune telling.

BLACK AND WHITE Beauty Creations

OVER 12 MILLION USED A YEAR

NEWS OF THE GIRL SCOUTS

When Lady Baden-Powell, chief of Girl Guides in England, arrived at the station May 1 she was greeted by a group of 50 Washington Girl Scouts and Mrs. Charles R. Lindsay, jr., the commissioner of the District scouts, and Mrs. Frederick H. Brooke, of the Girl Scout council of Washington. She later was presented a May basket of flowers at her apartment in the Mayflower hotel by two Girl Scouts. The flowers bore a card from the Girl Scouts of Washington.

She was received at the White House by President and Mrs. Coolidge. Then a luncheon was given in her honor by Mrs. Lindsay and Mrs. Brooke, Mrs. Gerritt S. Miller, jr., Miss Helen Page, and Mrs. Conrad H. Young at the Girl Scout Little house. The luncheon was served by several Girl Scouts. They then attended the Boy Scout rally held on the Ellipse, in honor of Sir Robert Baden-Powell. From there the party went to the child health day festival in the Central High school stadium. They were met by an honor guard of Girl Scouts, with Lucille Weber, Laura Brundage and Effie Wade bearing the colors, who escorted the distinguished guest and her escorts to the flag-decorated pavilion erected for them.

As Lady Baden-Powell marched across the field with her honor guard, the Washington scouts, who were seated in a group at one side of the field, arose and stood at salute until the "chief guider" was seated. During the ceremonies the Girl Scouts, numbering approximately 200, marched on the field and gave an impromptu "snappy" demonstration of their "setting-up" exercises, under the leadership of Miss Ruth Brigham, athletic instructor at Columbia Junior high.

The following officers in uniform were presented to Lady Baden-Powell by Mrs. Lindsay: Misses Margaret Tuckey, Hazel Scanlan, Katherine Wylie, and Vera Lawrence, and Mrs. T. T. Read and Mrs. W. B. Pain.

Following the drill, Lady Baden-Powell spoke to the girls, and among other things urged them to make it a duty to "keep going forward" in their scout work. Her talk was followed by three cheers from the scouts, led by Mrs. Miller.

In the evening Lady Baden-Powell and Mrs. Lindsay, Mrs. Brooke, Miss Evelina Gleaves, local scout director; Miss Betty Adams, field captain, and Miss Katherine Wylie attended the Boy Scout celebration at the Continental Memorial hall.

This morning a group of scout delegates from other countries will arrive in Washington and will be met at Union station and taken to the homes of their respective hostesses, where they will have breakfast and lunch. The hostesses will be several members of the Girl Scout council who have offered the hospitality of their homes for the delegates.

The following program has been arranged for the two days they will be here:

Motors will call at 2:15 p. m. today for the delegates and all will meet at Mrs. Hoover's home, from where they will drive up Sixteenth street, past the embassies, through Rock Creek park to the cathedral, from there to the Pan-American building, which will be opened for them. From there they will pass the Monument and Freer gallery, then back to the Lincoln memorial and around Potomac park, over Long bridge to Arlington, where they will see the grave of the Unknown Soldier, the amphitheater and the house of Robert E. Lee, then will cut through Fort Myer to Mrs. Theodore Wilkinson's home at Park lane for tea. At 7 p. m. buffet supper will be served for them at Mrs. Hoover's.

Tomorrow's program is as follows: A. M. delegates may take any one of a group of trips offered. All will start at 9:45 a. m. except the trip to Mount Vernon which must start at 8:45 sharp. Delegates will be called for. At 12:10, delegates not taking any trip will be called for to go to the White House. At 12:30 the President will receive the delegates at the White House. Mrs. Coolidge will receive them later. At 1:15 p. m. lunch will be served them at the Girl Scout Coffee house. At 2:15 p. m. there will be a trip through the Capitol, seeing the Supreme Court, House of Representatives and Senate, with a short stay at the Senate. If there is time, delegates will be also be shown the rotunda of the Congressional Library. 4:45 p. m. they will have tea at Senator and Mrs. Reed's home. 5:45 the delegates will return to the homes of their hostesses. 6:45 they will be called for to go to a buffet supper at the Girl Scout Little house. This supper will be cooked and served by scouts. 8 p. m. a reception will be held at the Red Cross hall when they will meet the members of the Washington Girl Scout council, officers, and a group of representative scouts from the various troops. 10 p. m. the delegates will be taken to the homes of their hostesses to get their baggage, and then they will be taken to the station to board the train for New York.

If in doubt about any part of the program or if the motor corps fails to call on time, delegates are notified to call Miss Vera Lawrence, Lincoln 1962 any time today or tomorrow.

The following members of the Girl Scout organization of the District of Columbia attended the regional conference held at Richmond, Va., recently: Mrs. Frederick H. Brooke, of the council; Miss Hazel Scanlan, Miss Margaret Tuckey, of the Officers club, and Miss Betty Adams, the local field captain.

Among the troops reporting having held meetings during the week are:

Troops 1 and 2, of Glen Echo, Md. (Miss Julia Palmer, captain, and Marjory Logan and Emily Houghton, scribes.)

Troop 6, of Aurora Hills, Va. (Martha Harris, scribe.)

Troop 7 (Mrs. Cottrell, captain), Agnes Gordon and Inge Von Lewinski were awarded second-class badges.

Troop 10 (Miss Hazel Scanlan, captain; Rena Bernstein, scribe).

Troop 12 (Miss Adah Bagby, captain), invested two members, Jean Rozzelle and Nort Walsh, as tenderfoot scouts. A nature walk to Meridian park was led by the captain and Miss Harriet Kimbel.—Evelyn Walcott, scribe.

Troop 13, of East Falls Church (Miss Hannah Bonell, captain; Betty Harrison, scribe).

Troop 18 (Miss Dorothy Lawrence, captain; Margaret Lum, scribe).

Barton Troop 19 (Miss Jeane Cavanaugh, captain; Margaret Thrift, scribe), inspected rabbits which Clarissa Collier brought to the meeting. Lieut. Brundage took a group of the girls to study trees, others studied signaling with Lieut. Carpenter.

Troop 20 (Miss Caroline Hobbs, acting captain; Betsy Garrett, scribe), had a busy meeting followed by refreshments served by the first patrol.

Troop 21 (Miss Agnes McElroy, captain; Laura Brundage, scribe). Several of the members of this troop formed a part of the group who welcomed Lady Baden-Powell at the station Saturday morning. They later went to Rock Creek park.

Troop 23 (Miss Bonell, captain; Anna Beth Garrett, scribe). Four of the girls, Mary Fall, Virginia Rusk, Mary Pocchione and Catherine Wenchel, and patrol leaders, Ruth Datesman and Anne B. Garrett, received midget tenderfoot pins for good work done.

Troop 24 (Miss Betty Adams, captain) met at Hebrew institute.

Troop 26 (Miss Margaret Tuckey, captain; Dorothy Stubbs, scribe) attended the seventh birthday anniversary celebration of Troop 70, Boy Scouts.

Early May day morning, Mary Mann Kirk, the troop's smallest scout, had about the biggest thrill of her life, when she helped to take a May basket to Mrs. Coolidge. Several girls of the troop formed a part of the group which met Lady Baden-Powell at the station on Saturday.

Troop 33 (Miss Marion Stevens, captain; Julia Curtin, scribe) met at the Bryan school.

Pinecone Troop 34 (Miss Vera Lawrence, captain; Helen Earnshaw, scribe). Three girls studying for the bird hunter badge, Josephine Rankin, Gertrude Roberts and Helen Earnshaw, reported on birds (new arrivals) they had seen. Linda Swain, Gertrude Roberts, Margaret Torney, Evelyn Montgomery, Elizabeth Harmon and Clara Williams passed parts of tests. Gertrude Roberts finished her second class and Margaret Torney and Clara Williams passed their tenderfoot test. Gladys Acton will receive a gold attendance star, and Alice Williams will receive a silver star. Several new members have entered, Katherine Hummer, Mary Yahres, Doris Mead and Kathryn Frazier.

Troop 35 (Mrs. Edward Sturdevant, captain; Ruth Hodge, scribe) met at the captain's home and cooked dinner. The following girls assisted: Julia Lewis, Helen Howes, Mignon Yingling, Adelaide Walker, Dorothy Howes, Margaret Griffen. While dinner was cooking, each girl set a place at the table, and then all had dinner. The captain's small daughter, Mary Alice, joined them. After dinner the girls washed the dishes and made beds, all of which was practice for the home-maker's badge.

Troop 37, of Woodside (Frances Benedict, scribe), went on a hike Saturday, April 24.

Troop 45, of Bradbury Heights (Mrs. Currie, captain), invested two members as tenderfoot scouts—Colleen Hutchison and Leila Ford. The troop recently took a hike to Forestville.

Troop 53 (Mrs. G. S. Miller, jr., captain; Mary Maxon, scribe). Two new members entered, Dorothy Mills and Annie Russell. Jane Cooper was invested as a tenderfoot scout.

Troop 61 invested seven girls as scouts, Margaret Hutchinson, June Smith, Betty Tuttle, Mary Bertha Shure, Annie Hill, Virginia Grove and Bernice Hendrick.

Troop 62, the new Cleveland Park troop (Mrs. Wellbrock, captain; Isabel Ciancarelli, scribe), worked on the tenderfoot test. This troop has chosen the jonquil as its troop flower.

The following report was sent in by Lois Hall, of Troop 26. "On Saturday, April 24, eleven of the girls went on a hike. Marjory and Carol Smith had invited the troop to their summer camp on the Potomac, about 3 miles across Chain bridge. On the way out they saw various birds, among which were a beautiful scarlet tanager and several towhees. Near 12:30 o'clock the girls all arrived safe and happy, but extremely hot, hungry and thirsty. However, the water, like the woods it was in, proved to be so cool and refreshing, after the walk, that the girls were almost glad that they had gotten hot and thirsty. Their hunger also soon was vanished, for from the spring they went back up the hill to where they were having camp headquarters, gathered wood, built a fire to roast 'hot dogs' and marshmallows, and ate their lunch. Thirst again seized them by the time they had cleared up and put out their fire, so they stopped at the spring on their way to the brook, where they went in wading. They started back a little before 3 o'clock, as the girls wished to get home by 4:30. Though the violets they picked on the way back were somewhat wilted before they got home, they revived when put in water."

The monthly meeting of the Girl Scout Officers club was held Tuesday evening at the Girl Scout Coffee house, 1718 F street northwest, at 6 p. m., with Mrs. Gerritt S. Miller, jr., the president, in the chair.

PARENT TEACHERS

All notices for this column must be in the hands of the chairman by noon on the Wednesday preceding the Sunday on which publication is desired. Address: Mrs. J. N. Saunders, 3618 Porter street northwest.

Tuesday night will be a gala one for the Parent-Teacher association members throughout the District, as it will be the Parent-Teacher benefit night in the National theater. Every school association has had its quota of tickets and they are all taking a keen interest in making the undertaking a huge success.

The State convention of the District Congress was held in the Hamilton hotel on Friday, April 30, with the president, Mrs. G. S. Rafter in the chair. The morning session was devoted to business, the concluding event being the election of officers for the next two years, which resulted in the unanimous election of the following: President, Mrs. Giles Scott Rafter; first vice president, Mrs. J. N. Saunders; second vice president, Mrs. Andrew Stewart; third vice president, Mrs. G. H. Leishear; fourth vice president, Henry C. Clark; fifth vice president, Selden M. Ely; recording secretary, Mrs. E. W. Patterson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. James Byler; treasurer, Mrs. Z. D. Blackistone; historian, Mrs. L. H. Brown, and delegates to the Federation of Citizens, Mrs. H. S. Parsons and George Russell.

More than 40 visitors from nearby States attended the luncheon at noon. Col. Fred Cooke, of the staff of the Washington Star, spoke on "The Value of Publicity." During the afternoon sessions several of the active chairmen gave reports on the work accomplished during the past year.

On Friday night the first Parent-Teacher banquet was held in the Frankin Square hotel. Mrs. T. H. Young was the chairman of the committee of arrangements. Capt. Julius Peyser was toastmaster. The speaker was Representative Brooks Fletcher, who gave an address on "Education." Mrs. Brooks Fletcher sang.

The convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers was held in Atlanta, Ga., during the past week. The delegates from the District left for Atlanta on Saturday night, May 1, and traveled in a special car with the delegates from the nearby States. The Atlanta sponsor for the District delegates was Mrs. Joseph Mahoney, who met the delegates when they arrived and drove them to their hotel. Her car had a large blue sign, which read "Welcome District of Columbia."

The Parent-Teacher representatives to the Juvenile Protective association will hold the final meeting of the year at 2 o'clock Wednesday at the headquarters, 1000 Vermont avenue, with the chairman, Mrs. Ben Zebley, presiding. This will be a business meeting and there will be no speaker.

The John Eaton Mothers club held the final meeting of the year Monday afternoon in the Cleveland Park Congregational church. The second grade class of Miss Driscoll gave a program of songs. The fourth grade of Mrs. Shaperio was present and was given a prize of $5 for having sold 400 tickets for the moving picture show recently given by the club. This made the third time that this class has sold the greatest number of tickets for a school benefit. Dr. Charles Detmar of the District Dental society read a paper on "Dental Health." Mrs. Alburtus of the Wilson Normal school gave an illustrated talk on summer camps for children. The attendance prize was won for the fourth time by the first grade class of Miss Alice Kelliher.

The Edmonds Parent-Teacher association, will hold its last monthly meeting of the season, Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. Entertainment will be given by the school.

The annual entertainment of the Peabody-Hilton association will be held Friday, May 14, at 8 p. m. A musical program is arranged, also plans for a reception in honor of Mrs. G. W. Lady, president of the association, and Miss Adelaide Davis, supervising principal of the sixth division.

Mrs. Harry N. Stull, assisted by Mrs. Hammer, Mrs. Gendreau, Mrs. Jerrell, Mrs. Kostre, and Mrs. Clem, have started a census campaign in the interest of having every child in perfect physical condition upon entering the kindergarten and first grades in the fall.

A play given at Bryan school will be repeated by the Bryan school children at the new Eastern High school Wednesday. There will be several added features to the entertainment of the evening.

LIFELIKE ENACTMENT

What is declared to be the most dramatic and realistic portrayal of courtroom conditions ever brought to the screen has been realized, it is said, in one of the climactic features of "The Blind Goddess," a drama of the law, which opens a week's engagement at Loew's Columbia this afternoon.

The story, to begin with, was written by Arthur Train, noted internationally as the author of many dramatic stories centering about the administration of justice and law, and who is also well known as a prominent member of the New York bar.

To avoid the loss of authenticity and realism in the transcription of the story to the screen, Victor Fleming, the director, prevailed upon a prominent Los Angeles judge as well as two of the most notable criminal lawyers in California to assist and advise him in matters concerning the legal end of this picture. In selecting his film "jury" for the picture, Fleming hired twelve citizens who had had court experience but who had never appeared in pictures and who knew nothing about acting.

To Play "Pollyanna."

The St. Gabriel Players will soon make their initial bow to the Washington public. Their first play will be "Pollyanna," with Miss Mary K. Crowley in the leading role and Vincent Howard playing opposite.

Under the direction of Mr. Charles A. Russell, the initial play, which will be produced on May 17 and 18 in St. Paul's auditorium, V street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets northwest. In the production will also be seen Misses Kathleen Baker, Margaret McCarthy, Margaret Frawley, and Rose Grant, Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain, Messrs Daniel McGrath, James Gessford, James Quigley, and Master James Magruder.

CHURCH MUSIC TODAY

Vermont Avenue Christian.

Morning—Chorus, Sweet Mother Mine (Mrs. Iowa Carruthers Lozier) Note: As a special feature of the Mothers' day program, the choir will sing "Sweet Mother Mine," the latest song written by Mrs. Lozier, wife of Hon. Ralph F. Lozier, representative from Missouri. The song, which is dedicated to Mrs. Lozier's mother, has just been published. Male quartet, The Dearest of All Is Mother (Parks).

Evening—The evening will be devoted to a service of story and song on "The Mothers of the Bible," text by S. Trevena Jackson and music by I. H. Meredith and Grant Colfax Tuller. Readings by Dr. Earle Wilfley, pastor; music by quartet and chorus. Program—Chorus, 'Tis Mothers' Day; reading, Our First Mother—Eve; solo, Precious Mother; reading, Our First Mother (continued); chorus, God of Our Mothers, Guide Our Way; reading, The Mother of Moses—Jochebed; chorus, O, Hearken to My Cry; reading, The Mother of Moses (continued); quartet, Beyond Today; reading, The Mother of Israel—Deborah; chorus, Praise Ye the Lord; reading, The Ancestral Mother—Ruth; solo, Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee; reading, Mary—Mother of the Messiah; chorus, My Soul Doth Magnify the Lord; reading, Mary—Mother of the Messiah (continued); song by choir and congregation, O Mother Dear, Jerusalem.

First Baptist.

11 a. m.—Prelude, Fugue in D (Bach); tenor solo, Little Mother of Mine (Burleigh); anthem, Inflammatus (Stabat Mater) (Rossini); contralto solo, Songs My Mother Taught Me (Dvorak); postlude, Allegro (Dubois).

8 p. m.—organ, Prelude (Rachmaninoff); anthem, She Is Calling Me (Fillmore); anthem, Forever With the Lord (Gounod); postlude, Allegro Moderato (Linton Williams).

St. Patrick's.

Vespers will be sung by the sanctuary choir, this evening at 7:30 o'clock, under the direction of C. A. Benson, choirmaster.

The prelude, Pastorale in E by Lemare and postlude, March Pontificale, by Tombellie, will be played by C. Eugene Stewart, organist.

The liturgical vespers of the fifth Sunday after Easter will be sung in Gregorian and False-Bordoni, and Charles B. Wood will be the cantor at the Magnificat.

The outstanding figured numbers will be Regina Caeli, by Lotti and Cantate Domino (motet) adopted from Handel, the incidental solo being sung by Edward Hardy, soprano, and the ensembles by William Croghan, Joseph Kiernan and James Stringer.

Church of the Covenant.

This evening there will be a special musical service appropriate for Mothers' day. Herman Fakler, barytone, will sing Once More to Touch Her Fragile Hand, by Mrs. Elizabeth Collison-Hill.

The Evening choir (100 voices), Claude Robeson, director; Harvey Murray, organist; Mrs. Howard Blandy, pianist, and the solo quartet, composed of Miss Frances Scherger, soprano; Miss Mary Apple, substituting for Miss Thelma Smith, contralto; Ross Farrar, tenor, and Herman Fakler, bass, will sing the following: God Shall Wipe Away All Tears (Marks). All Praise to Thee (Wagner). The solo quartet will sing Abide With Me (Liddle).

Cleveland Park Congregational.

The special musical program for Mothers' day this morning at 11 o'clock will be: Prelude, Adoration (Miller), by Mrs. Page McK. Etchison, director of music and pianist; violin offertory, Mother Machree (Ball), by Mrs. J. L. Brooks; Sweet Mother Mine (Tucker), by Mrs. R. R. Grooms, and quartet, Mother and Home (Lowden), by the quartet, Mrs. Grooms, Mrs. Chaillet, Mr. Grooms and Mr. Hull; postlude, Loyalty (Rice), by Mrs.

Purity

From the Christian Science Monitor.

Properly understood, purity means much; and the process of purification should be carried into every detail of human living. The longing to be pure is the beginning of the purifying process; for desire for purification begins to purge the heart of satisfaction in an impure state. This was evidently the mental condition of the Psalmist when he uttered the prayer to God: "Purge me . . . and I shall be clean: wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow." Men turn to God for help to accomplish the desired improvement; for human will unaided by divine power is incapable of accomplishing spiritual good.

When one begins to give serious thought to the problem of the purifying of himself, it is gradually uncovered to him how many wrong habits of thought and action, which can not be reconciled with spiritual purity, have been indulged in unnoticed. That the crasser forms of impure language are not frequently met with is great cause for gratitude. The average person shrinks from lending himself to expressing any speech of doubtful purity, especially in view of the recent trend of bringing into daily experience a practical Christianity. The spirit of Christianity thus carries with it a purifying breath, before which sin is forced to retire. There remains much which is impure or adulterated that needs to be weeded out of consciousness, however.

Based upon the account of spiritual creation in the first chapter of Genesis, Christian Science teaches that, as the image and likeness of God, man reflects all of God's qualities. We read on page 250 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man is not God, but like a ray of light which comes from the sun, man, the outcome of God, reflects God;" and on page 407, "Man's enslavement to the most relentless masters—passion, selfishness, envy, hatred, and revenge—is conquered only by a mighty struggle." And Mrs. Eddy adds: "Here Christian Science is the sovereign panacea, giving strength to the weakness of mortal mind—strength from the immortal and omnipotent Mind—and lifting humanity above itself into purer desires, even into spiritual power and good-will to man." In view of the fact that when one has consciously begun to purify himself he has set out on a campaign of proving himself daily more Godlike, it is very helpful to remember the revelation that came to the prophet Habakkul regarding God's being. The prophet wrote "Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on iniquity." To become convinced of God's inability even to see evil, much less to be connected with it, will help us in becoming successful in our watch that evil does not make a channel of us for its expression.

Christian Science healing consists of a purification of consciousness; and whereas it would be a hopeless task for one to attempt his own purification unaided, the work may become joyous and fruitful when one realizes his spiritual origin, and turns in confidence to God for help. A well-known hymn expresses this in the following words:—

"Mighty spirit, dwell with me;
I myself would mighty be,
Mighty so as to prevail
Where unaided man must fail;
Ever by a mighty hope
Pressing on and bearing up."

The very act of clinging to God, who Himself is altogether pure and the origin of all purity, raises men above that which is unworthy. On pondering the above-mentioned statement from page 407 of the Christian Science textbook, one perceives that all impurity is included in and covered by the seemingly "relentless masters" — "passion, selfishness, envy, hatred, and revenge," which are wiped out in every individual consciousness that becomes filled with love for God and good-will to men.

These two go hand in hand; and as the individual consciousness is purged, so nations and the world of nations will become purer and less willing to sin. Temptations again to indulge these evil tendencies may indeed be many; but every temptation withstood strengthens right resolution, and even as the onslaught of the temptation lessens, purification increases.

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, teaches in all her works how the human self may be evangelized, and how men may be enabled to prove man's divine origin and the unreality of evil by eliminating evil from consciousness. In giving encouragement to keep up this purifying work, she writes in "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 118): "Be of good cheer; the warfare with one's self is grand; it gives one plenty of employment, and the divine Principle worketh with you—and obedience crowns persistent effort with everlasting victory."

GOT START IN CRADLE

St. Louis was the city and the baby named Irene Lucille Marguerite Franklin. Later, she added Green to the rather sizable list of cognomens. But every one knows her by two—Irene Franklin—who is headlining at B. F. Keith's theater this week.

Soon after her debut into this world, some one noticed the small Irene making faces and announced that she would probably become an actress. "On hearing the mystic words, I burst from my crib and have been traveling ever since," says Irene.

"I made my first stage appearance at the age of 6 months," continues Miss Franklin, "being carried by the heroine through a pretty paper snowstorm into the big scene of James A. Herne's 'Hearts of Oak.' It happened in Chicago. I was redhaired even then and many people in the audience at first thought the heroine was a little out of the picture in showing up with a railroad lantern.

"After my triumph in Chicago I retired for a while to complete my education. I did not return to the stage until I was 3 years and 7 months old, when I hired out as a professional little one with Minnie Palmer. In the meantime I had learned to talk and walk, so I added a song and dance to my repertoire. The song was 'Peek-a-boo.' Having mastered the lighter side of my profession, I determined to bolster up the dramatic end. At the age of 4, I joined the Tom Brown Comedy Company, one of the best piratical 'rep' troupes of its time. With them I played in 'The Banker's Daughter,' 'The Celebrated Case,' 'May Blossom,' and was Bobby Crocket in 'Davy Crockett.' In two weeks I knew all the plays and they made me prompter.

"At 6 I was a star. At least I was playing Editha in 'Editha's Burglar' and spending all my spare time getting up in Julia and Lady MacBeth in case anything happened to Julia Marlowe."

Two Trips a Day.

The steamer Charles Macalester makes two trips every week day to Mount Vernon, leaving the Seventh street wharf at 10 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. Mount Vernon is closed Sundays. Marshall Hall, Washington's favorite summer resort of pleasure on the Potomac will open May 30, Decoration day, and announcement of schedule of sailings of the steamer Charles Macalester will be made a little later.

Leave West Flat.

Jack Holt and Ernest Torrence, chiefly known heretofore as exponents of the drama of the wide open spaces, have discarded all their wild and woolly ways to play the parts of a young attorney and a New York political leader, respectively, in Victor Fleming's production for Paramount of Arthur Train's brilliant legal drama, "The Blind Goddess," which comes to Loew's Columbia this afternoon for a week's engagement.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS

By ELISABETH E. POE.

CONSIDERABLE interest is felt in Washington in the fifth annual festival of music, which will be held in the auditorium of the University of Maryland at College Park, Wednesday and Thursday.

The University chorus, composed of 100 singers, will appear with a string quartet of local musicians. The soloists will be Marcella Craft, well-known through her connection with the San Carlo and Chicago Civic operas.

Another program will be given by the University Glee club, under the direction of Dr. House. The public is invited to attend.

For the musicians of the local choirs vacation time is near at hand and some of the churches already have curtailed their Sunday programs in advance. It has been a very notable year from the choir standpoint and much progress has been made in that important field of music.

The annual meeting of the District of Columbia Federation of Music Clubs will be held Tuesday evening in Miss Goodwin's studio, 1406 H street northwest.

Another new junior club has federated, the Little Peter Pan Troubadours, with Miss R. B. C. Keith leader.

Members are making plans to attend the next biennial convention to be held in Chicago in April, 1927. This is to be called the "Singing Biennial." In the fall all clubs will receive the names of the choral numbers to be used, so that all attending the convention will be able to sing in the huge chorus.

The comic opera, "Patience," by Gilbert and Sullivan, was presented Wednesday, Thursday and Friday by the Trinity Players of Takoma Park. The performances were in the parish house of Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, Piney Branch road and Dahlia street, and were given under the auspices of the ladies' guild of that church.

The performances were under the direction of Mr. Arthur Harris, composer and director. Mrs. C. M. Young was the accompanist.

A Russian musicale was given Friday afternoon under the auspices of the music section of the Chevy Chase Woman's club in the home of Mrs. Samuel L. Jodidi, 23 West Irving street. Following the program tea was served, with Mrs. Jodidi presiding at the tea table, assisted by Mrs. R. S. McBride, Mrs. E. H. Russell and Miss Alice Broas.

Miss Jane Blinn, of the Young Women's Christian association, has invited George Schimmel to present the music week program at 604 E street northwest Tuesday evening. The vocal part of the program will comprise solos and quartets by Dorothy Rieley, soprano; Lillian Chenoweth, contralto; George Schimmel, tenor, and Dr. Wilbur Alderman, bass. Mrs. Zenas W. Alderman will be the accompanist, and Ruth Harris will play a group of piano solos.

Miss Dorothy Rieley, lyric soprano, pupil of George F. Schimmel and whose successful recital occurred last Sunday at 1341 Connecticut avenue, is in New York, where an audition with Oscar Saenger, world renowned singing master, has been arranged by Mr. Schimmel. Miss Rieley is accompanied by her brother, Mr. Jule Rieley.

Edith B. Athey, organist of Hamline M. E. church, Sixteenth and Allison streets northwest, announces a series of three Tuesday evening organ recitals during the month on Tuesdays, May 11, 18 and 25. These recitals are offered as a part of the music program of the church. At each of these May recitals there will be an assisting artist of prominence.

The Church quartet was informally introduced to music lovers at the home of Miss Mary Helen Howe last Sunday with rendition of "The Inflammatus," from Rosini's "Stabat Mater," and "Ti Prego O, Patre," by Nicolao. Those taking part were Miss Howe, soprano; Mrs. Henry Hunt McKee, contralto; Mr. Thomas Quinn, tenor, and Alphonso Young, jr., barytone. Mrs. McKee is director and organist. Other musicians who added their talents to the program on this occasion were Marie Howe Spurr, pianist; Sam Wardell, violinist, and Francis Thorne, pianist.

The Rubinstein club, under the direction of Claude Robeson, will give its fourth and last concert of the season Tuesday night in the Willard hotel ballroom. The club will present as assisting artist Devora Nadworney, contralto of the Chicago Grand Opera Company.

The program will be: The Spring Beauties (Chadwick), by the club; The Captured Eagle (Gretchaninoff), Butterflies (Chanson), In the Corner (Moussergsky) Spring Floods (Rachmaninoff), by Miss Nadworney; On Song's Bright Pinions (Mendelssohn) Greetings (Mendelssohn); Spring Song, (Mendelssohn), by the club; Aria Jeunes Filles, from Pique-Dame (Tchaikowsky, by Miss Nadworney; The Sea-Fairies (Mrs. Beach); by the club; Will Ye Come in Early Spring? (Carpenter), The Last Hour (Kramer), by request, Girometta (Sibella) by request by the club; Thou (Liegling), by Miss Nadworney. Miss Pauline Knoeller, club accompanist, will play.

Elena de Sayn returned from North Carolina and resumed her teaching. Miss de Sayn will appear tonight at the Congressional Country club. She will be accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Coombs.

The Chaminade Glee club, Miss Esther Linkins, director, and Mrs. Helen T. Murray, accompanist, will broadcast from WCAP tomorrow evening from 7:30 to 8 o'clock.

DEVORA NADWORNEY, mezzo soprano, who will sing at the Rubinstein club concert at the new Willard Tuesday.

MARIE C. DEAL, soprano, who has been soloist at the Calvary Methodist church for eight years.

Friday the club will sing at Florence Crittenton home, when they will be assisted by Miss Georgia Hazlett, soprano. Miss Linkins will present bronze medals to the six girls of the home who had perfect papers in the hymn memory contest recently conducted by the D. C. Federation of Music.

Friday, May 21, the Chaminade Glee club and the Toy Symphony of the Vipivoce club, Miss Frances Gutelius, director, will give a joint benefit concert for Friendship house in the Second Baptist church, Fourth and Virginia avenue, southeast. The proceeds will start a music fund for the Settlement house.

The Chaminade Glee club has been engaged for a concert in Eckington Presbyterian church, Wednesday, May 26.

Mr. Thomas N. Leef, young Washington basso, has resigned his position as bass soloist of the Waugh M. E. church to accept a similar position in the Wesley M. E. church, of Chevy Chase.

Anna McGill Keefer sang at a musicale Wednesday afternoon at the Plaza hotel, New York. Mrs. Keefer is coaching in New York with Mr. Frank La Forge.

Among the military band concerts of the week will be a concert by the United States Navy band, Charles Benter, leader; Charles Wise, second leader, Wednesday, at 7:30 p. m., at the band stand, Navy yard.

Program: March, The Gladiator's Farewell (Blankenburg); overture, Sakuntala (Goldmark); alto saxophone solo, selected, Bandmaster G. W. Bruffey; two numbers from "Tristan und Isolde" (Wagner), a, Nachtgesang, b, Isolde's Liebstod; grand scenes from the opera "Faust" (Gounod); rhapsody, Norwegian, No. 1 (Lalo); excerpts from Rose Marie (Friml); reve angelique, Kammenoi-Ostrow (Rubinstein); fox trot, selected; Star-Spangled Banner.

The music week program presented under the direction of George Schimmel at the Y. W. C. A., 614 E street northwest, Tuesday evening, will be repeated Wednesday evening at the City club for the members of Manor House chapter, D. A. R.

Program: Contralto, Summer Rain (Willoughby), One Fleeting Hour (Dorothy Lee); tenor, The Year's at the Spring (Protheroe), Mah Lindy Lou (Strickland); piano, waltz (Brahms), Hungarian Etude (MacDowell); soprano, Call Me No More (Cadman), Trees (Razbach); quartet, I Love You Truly (Bond), Dry Yo' Eyes (Landsberg), Dorothy Rieley, soprano; Lillian Chenoweth, contralto; George Schimmel, tenor; Dr. Wilbur Alderman, bass; Mrs. Zenas W. Alderman, accompanist, and Ruth Harris, pianiste.

The annual concert by the music section of the Woman's club of Chevy Chase, Md., Wednesday evening in the Wesley M. E. church, was attended by a large audience. Henderson Morsell directed the chorus, with Mrs. Frederick A. Hunnewell as accompanist. Miss Alice E. Broos is the section leader. The visiting artists of the evening were William F. Santelmann, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. Santelmann, and Fritz A. Mueller, violoncellist, accompanied by Herbert Erisman.

Officers elected at the meeting Monday of the District of Columbia chapter, American Guild of Organists, were: Adolf Torovsky, A. A. G. O., reelected, dean; Rolla G. G. Onyun, subdean; Miss Mary M. Wilkins, A. A. G. O., secretary; Mrs. Pauline B. Woodruff, reelected, treasurer; Mrs. John M. Sylvester, reelected, registrar; Mrs. George E. Warfield, Miss Lucy H. Paul and Warren Johnson, executive committee; Mrs. Ida Drischler and Percy N. Cox, auditors.

Other business of the evening included the adoption of resolutions on the death of Henry H. Freeman and the departure of Miss Charlotte Klein for St. Augustine, Fla. Tests in the psychology of musical talent were given.

At the April meeting, Adolf Torovsky, dean, was chosen to represent the D. C. chapter at the general convention of the guild to be held in Buffalo the first week in June.

Glen Echo Awaits The Clarion Call

Glen Echo opens on the coming Saturday, May 15.

The brand new roller coaster, the new caterpillar, the new organ in the merry-go-round, the old familiar and much beloved rides are all repainted and looking bright and new, and for those who like to bring their lunch along additional picnicking grounds have been provided.

The street car company, the Washington Railway & Electric, has had its hundreds of open cars all painted up during the winter and the management of the traction company has laid out a schedule for the running time that will assure an adequate service.

Happy Walker has gotten his boys all tuned up, their horns, violins and drums are all set—he's been rehearsing them daily—and those who like to dance will find "Happy" just as obliging as ever.

Beach Opens Soon.

Chesapeake Beach opens its portals for the inauguration of the 1926 season on Saturday, May 29. Many big features are being planned and will be announced within a few days. Bookings for excursions are under way.

A preseason schedule of daily trains has been arranged for convenience of fishermen and early summer commuters. Trains leave District line week days at 9 a. m. and 5:40 p. m., returning from the beach at 6:35 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. Sunday trains leave District line at 10 a. m. and 6:45 p. m., returning at 8 a. m. and 5 p. m.

McHugh & Lawson

1222 G Street N. W.

WASHINGTON HOME OF THE NATIONALLY FAMOUS

SOHMER PIANOS

GRANDS—REPRODUCERS—UPRIGHTS

There is singular appropriateness in the McHugh & Lawson presentation of the incomparable Sohmer Piano.

For many years McHugh & Lawson have joined with invariable integrity of recommendation, standards of musical merchandising that are synonymous with the utmost of quality in all piano offerings and with exemplary fair dealing.

For fifty-four years the Sohmer Piano has been manufactured under the direct supervision of members of the family whose fame and quality this marvelous instrument perpetuates.

For smoothness, richness, clarity, bell-like resonance, the Sohmer stands foremost among the pianos of all time.

We are fortunate—even as we are proud—of the distinction that is ours in offering—for the approval of musical Washington—this instrument of so long and so consistently maintained leadership.

MILTON, MANSFIELD & HAZELTON Pianos, although somewhat lower in price, are exceptional instruments and exceptional values.

News of the Personnel of the Government Departments

AGRICULTURE

Office of Personnel.

Mrs. I. B. Raup and Miss Alma E. Raup recently returned from a motor trip through Pennsylvania.

Miss Lottie McKinley has returned to her desk after an absence of nearly three weeks due to illness.

Friends of P. L. Gladmon, chief personnel officer, regret to learn of the death of his mother, Mrs. Margaret B. Gladmon, on May 5.

Assistant Secretary R. W. Dunlap was the guest at East Gate lodge Wednesday evening, and addressed a large number of the employes of the department, the occasion being agriculture night.

Bureau of Economics.

Mr. Cooper has returned from a trip South, where he attended meetings of cotton exchanges in the Texas cities.

A. W. Palmer, in charge cotton division, has returned from a trip to the cotton markets of the South. He will go to Charleston, S. C., for the third annual convention of the Atlantic Cotton association on May 10 and 11.

Miss Barbara Reynolds, of the tabulating division, resigned last week to accept a position with the civil service commission.

Frank E. Finley, of the Houston, Tex., crop and live stock estimates office, will go to Las Cruces, N. Mex. for about six months to gather material for use in his division.

Miss Margaret Broxton, daughter of William Broxton, of the cold storage report section, was awarded a prize of $10 in a recent poster contest of the National Plant, Flower and Fruit Guild of Washington. She was entertained at luncheon by the Civitan club at the Lafayette hotel Tuesday in recognition of her success.

William A. Devaughan is much improved, following an operation for appendicitis. He has returned from the Alexandria, Va., hospital to his home near Washington.

G. S. Meloy, cotton division, had an exciting time fighting forest fires around his suburban home at Lanham last week.

Carl Nagle, of wool warehousing, is making an extended trip to Idaho, Oregon, Washington and California.

Sidney H. Pearce, cotton division, will be in New York for the next month serving on the board of cotton examiners handling cotton tendered for delivery on further contracts.

Leavern Lackey also has gone to New York to assist on the classification of cotton board.

H. S. Yohe, in charge warehousing division, departed last Sunday for a trip through the Southern and Western States. He probably will be away three weeks.

Roscoe E. Doolittle, chief of the central district, bureau of chemistry, died at his home in Evanston, Ill., April 25. Mr. Doolittle was acting chief of the bureau of chemistry here in 1912.

Daryl B. Cheyne, for several years an employe in the disbursing office, has been appointed chief clerk in the Juneau office of the Alaska game commission. He will arrive in Juneau about the middle of May.

NAVY

Rear Admiral H. H. Rousseau left Wednesday for temporary duty in Los Angeles in connection with naval petroleum reserve No. 1.

Charles Morgan, associate engineer in the bureau of yards and docks, accompanied by his wife and several friends, motored through the Shenandoah valley and attended the apple blossom festival.

Orders have been issued to Lieut. William O. Hiltabidle, civil engineer corps, detaching him from duty in the bureau of yards and docks. He will sail from San Francisco on the August transport for duty in Guam. Lieut. Hiltabidle will relieve Lieut. Edwin D. Miller, civil engineer corps.

Capt. Homer R. Stanford, civil engineer corps, on duty in the bureau of yards and docks, has been ordered to the Philippine islands for temoprary duty to report on the proposed relocation of the floating dry dock Dewey, now at Olongapo.

Mrs. Susan V. Roys, who formerly was attached to the chief clerk's office, bureau of navigation, has been reinstated and appointed to the officer personnel division.

Mrs. Thelma M. Stewart has been appointed to the enlisted personnel division, bureau of navigation.

Mrs. Helen Dalrymple has been appointed to the mail and file division, bureau of navigation.

Miss Mary L. Moore, of officer personnel division, bureau of navigation, has resigned to accept a position in the State Department.

John W. Kean, of transportation division, bureau of navigation, is in Chicago attending a meeting of railroad officials.

Edmund F. Bemis has been transferred from the hydrographic office to the division of foreign and domestic commerce, Department of Commerce.

A. Joseph McGrath, of hydrographic office, has resigned.

James C. McKensie, of hydrographic office, has been reinstated.

Miss Marie Noland, civilian assistant division, and Miss Loretta O'Donnell, purchase division, bureau of supplies and accounts, have returned from a trip to Bermuda.

Mrs. Harriet S. Fairall, Liberty loan division, bureau of supplies and accounts, has resigned.

Miss Frances Cramer, of bureau of medicine and surgery, is on leave and is visiting friends in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Miss Elsie Clark, of medicine and surgery, is leaving for a visit to her home in Knoxville, Tenn.

F. M. Hobson, of construction and repair, is in New York at the navy yard on temporary duty in connection with tests for protective devices.

R. S. Perry, of construction and repair, has gone to Beaufort, N. C., in connection with tests of ships paint.

John Lind, of the navy yard, New York, has been here on official duty in connection with compiling specifications for paints and construction materials.

C. W. Baines, of the Norfolk, Va., navy yard, is on temporary duty in bureau of construction and repair compiling data for the Court of Claims.

Donald C. Paine, of Fordville, N. Dak., has been appointed to the office of naval communications.

Michael Goldberg, of Philapelphia, Pa., has received an appointment as junior engineer in the bureau of ordnance.

POSTOFFICE

Office of Postmaster General.

Harry S. New, Postmaster General, was in Indianapolis Monday, where he attended the funeral of William E. English, former member of Congress.

Dirrelle Chaney, administrative assistant to the Postmaster General, passed last Thursday at Hagerstown, attending a trap shooting tournament.

Thomas J. Howell, chief clerk, has resumed his duties after a trip to Boston and New York on official business.

The condition of Rush Simmons, chief inspector, who has been absent for the last ten days on account of illness necessitating an operation at Emergency hospital, April 29, is reported as improving.

Much enthusiasm is being shown over the benefit to be held by the National Theater Players, at the National theater, May 17, for the Postoffice Department baseball league and the team representing the Postoffice Department in the Departmental league.

Joseph Acton, office of the chief clerk, accompanied by Mrs. Acton, motored to Winchester over the week-end.

Charles H. Jones, of the chief inspectors office, died Tuesday at his late residence, 2121 F street northwest, after a brief illness. Mr. Jones was 64 years old, and had passed the last 40 years in government employ, having first entered the service in the pension bureau in 1887, and transferring from that bureau to the Postoffice Department in 1905.

George W. Smith, manager, division of traffic, will pass the week end on a motor trip to Baltimore.

C. A. Murray, division of traffic, motored to York, Pa., over the week-end.

Mrs. Gladys M. Jeffreys, nurse in charge first aid rooms at the city postoffice building, passed the week-end on a motor trip to Gettysburg.

John H. Fisher, 73 years old, chief clerk's office, died Tuesday at his residence, 134 Bates street. Mr. Fisher was born in Howard county, Md., August 30, 1853, and received his first appointment in the government service on August 30, 1898, in the Washington city postoffice and on May 7, 1907, was transferred to the Postoffice Department. Funeral services were conducted at his late residence and interment was at Rockville, Md.

Office of First Assistant.

Dr. W. E. Corbin, assistant superintendent, division of dead letters and dead parcel post, was away during the week due to illness.

J. W. Sparkman has returned to duty after a vacation of several days.

Frank H. Bushby was absent during the week on account of illness.

Mrs. Kate A. Smith has received notice of her retirement.

Mrs. Alice L. Waesche will return Monday after a week's absence due to illness in her family.

Grover Cleveland McConnell, division of postoffice service, is passing his vacation in New York and New Jersey.

Frank V. Birthright, division of postoffice service, has resumed his duties after a vacation of several days.

Everett Warner, division of postmasters' appointmtnts, was away for a few days' vacation during the week.

Miss Carrie Cook, division of postoffice service, has returned to duty after an extended absence due to illness.

Office of Second Assistant.

W. Irving Glover, Second Assistant Postmaster General, has resumed his duties after a trip through the Northwest on departmental business.

Alvin E. Peterson, assistant superintendent, division of contract air mail service, has returned from a trip to Chicago on official business.

Mrs. Edith Rabinovitz, division of foreign mails, has tendered her resignation, to take effect June 7.

J. R. Jamison, division contract air mail service, motored to Winchester Wednesday to attend the apple blossom carnival.

Division of Railway Adjustments.

Miss Sue Waters attended the Phi Sigma Kappa dance held at Log Cabin Inn, Annapolis, Friday night.

Miss Ernestine Giacchetti is on an extended vacation at Atlantic City.

Miss Genevieve Waters, Mrs. Anna Strunk, and Mr. J. D. Franzoni attended a card party given by the St. Rose school during the week.

Miss Helen Shafel will leave during this week for an extended vacation at her home in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Office of Third Assistant.

E. Errington Lloyd, division of postal savings, has resumed his duties after a business trip to New York during the week.

O. L. Waters has returned to duty after an absence of several days on account of illness.

Gordon Lott sustained serious injuries to his hand, three fingers being badly mangled, in an auto collision Monday.

Mrs. P. M. Hunter has resumed her duties after a vacation of several days, on which she motored to Winchester to attend the apple blossom carnival.

The condition of Milton R. Crandall, division of registered mails, who has been absent for the last three months on account of illness necessitating an operation, is reported as improved and his return to office is expected in the near future.

Miss Dorothy Delakoski, division of registered mails, has returned to duty after a vacation of ten days.

John A. Graham, chief of the typing section, division of registered mails, is back after an extended absence due to illness.

Division of Stamps.

Henry Sunwold, philatelic agency, returned to duty Monday, after a trip to Chicago on official business.

Mrs. Mary J. Fleming will return tomorrow after an extended vacation.

Miss Mercia Baxter is attending the commencement exercises of the Pennsylvania Military college, being held at Chester, Pa.

Miss Grace Armstrong of the philatelic agency and Miss Betty Young of the war savings section, participated in a play held in Cherrydale Tuesday night.

R. T. Underwood has resumed his duties after a week's vacation.

Miss Menica Shaner, philatelic agency, has returned to duty after a vacation of ten days passed in Chicago and vicinity.

Division of Money Orders.

Miss L. M. Andress passed the last week at Neighborhood house in Alexandria, Va.

Carle A. Middlekauff was away during the week on account of illness.

Mrs. L. M. Hulls has resumed her duties after a trip to Clifton, Va., as a delegate to the Women's Missionary Society convention held there.

R. H. Abbott was absent during the week due to illness.

Office of Fourth Assistant.

H. H. Billany, Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, has resumed his duties after an extended absence due to illness.

George L. Wood, superintendent, division of rural mails, has returned to duty after a trip to Salt Lake City and Price, Utah, on official business.

Charles L. Davison, assistant superintendent, division of rural mails, will pass this week-end on a motor trip to Leesburg.

Miss Mildred Coffa, assistant to the clerk in charge, Section E, has returned after an absence of ten days due to illness.

John Devlin Lawrence Keough, John Beck and Miss Irene Morgan motored to Winchester last Wednesday to attend the apple blossom carnival.

Mrs. G. W. Kidd has returned to duty after an absence of several days on acount of illness.

Mrs. Ethel Kirsh, formerly of the division of rural mails, called on her former associates Thursday.

Joseph I. Howe, division of equipment and supplies, passed the week-end on a motor trip to Woodville, Md.

G. L. Shreve, division of equipment and supplies, has returned to duty after a vacation of several days.

CIVIL SERVICE

Mrs. Lucille Fox, of the examining division, who was married recently, was given a surprise luncheon on Monday by several of her associates. Among those present were Miss Rosalee McCaskey, Mrs. Vivian Shorb, Mrs. Xenia Williams, Mrs. Violet Russell, Mrs. Ethel Miller, Miss Louise Patterson, Miss Jessie Crosby and Miss Mabel Seeley.

Miss Louise Hechmer, of the application division, is entertaining her sister, Miss Constance Hechmer, of Grafton, W. Va.

Miss Margaret Ringrose, of the application division, has as her guest her mother, Mrs. Catherine Ringrose, of Nanticoke, Pa.

Miss Ethel Hixson and Miss Louise Hixson and their mother are visiting relatives in Winchester, Va.

Mrs. Etta J. Estep has returned to work after an absence of several months, caused by injuries sustained in an accident.

Miss Rosemond Johnson was the guest of honor at a birthday anniversary luncheon held on Thursday. Miss Johnson was the recipient of many gifts from her associates. Among those present were Miss Rose Evans, Miss Rosalee McCaskey, Miss Mae Beers, Mrs. Xenia Williams, Mrs. Violet Russell, Mrs. Vivian Shorb, Miss Jessie Crosby, Mrs. Thelma DeArroyo, Mrs. Lucille Fox, Miss Mabel Dowell, Miss Ethel Hixson, Miss Louise Patterson, Mrs. Ethel Miller and Miss Lorraine Terrett.

Mrs. Amelia Russell has joined the force of the fourth district office and Miss Barbara Reynolds that of the appointment division.

Frederick M. Clement, of the application division, has resigned to accept a position with a bank in Bar Harbor, Me.

Miss Rose Evans is entertaining her mother from Vandling, Pa.

Miss Cecilia Briody entertained the Bridge club at her home at 1373 Columbia road Tuesday evening. Among those present were Miss Mary Hiett, Miss Myrtle Keyser, Miss Mary Motherwell, Miss Rosemond Johnson, Miss Mabel Dowell, Miss Rosalee McCaskey and Miss Marion Wallace. The following men were special guests: Ralph Boyd, Raymond Florence, Robert Hare, Murray Harllee, Gordon Harsch, Kent Koiner, Frank Poch and Walter Salb.

Miss Belle Bradfield, of the examining division, was married to Alfred Butler in Baltimore May 1. Mr. and Mrs. Butler are now spending several weeks at the latter's home in Needmore, W. Va. Upon their return they will reside at Oakcrest, Va.

MOTHER!

"California Fig Syrup"

Dependable Laxative for Sick Baby or Child

Even if cross, feverish, bilious, constipated or full of cold, children love the pleasant taste of "California Fig Syrup." A teaspoonful never fails to clean the liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

INTERIOR

C. W. McCulloch, chief clerk of the bureau of reclamation, will leave Friday for a two week's vacation. He will drive to his home in Greenville, S. C.

George C. Kreutzer, director of reclamation economics in the bureau of reclamation, left Thursday for a general inspection tour of reclamation projects that will keep him in the field for several months.

Chief Clerk H. M. Gillman, jr., of the Alaskan Railroad, has had his title changed to general agent of the Alaskan Railroad.

Mrs. Eleanor Eaton, of the Alaskan Railroad, went to New York Monday to visit with her son, an ensign in the navy, who has just returned from a cruise in Southern waters.

Bureau of Education.

M. M. Proffitt has returned from a tour of inspection in the South. Mr. Proffitt was investigating the possibilities for the employment in the trades and industries of negroes in the Southern States.

Miss Emeline Whitcomb, specialist in home economics, has returned from New York, where she attended a conference of the American Child Health association, which considered opening a program of health tests for school children. Miss Whitcomb will speak before the Worcester County Home Economics association at Worcester, Mass., tomorrow.

Miss Ella E. Mortimer, of the veterans' bureau; Mrs. Cletus Robinson, Miss Florence Reynolds, Miss Mabel Thawley and Mrs. Julia Frere, all of the bureau of education, are visiting the Luray caverns in Virginia.

Gelogical Survey.

E. O. Ulrich, of the geologic branch, has gone to southern Missouri for a field conference with the members of the State survey on Ozarkian formations.

L. W. Stephenson, of the geologic branch, has returned from the field.

W. W. Rubey, of the geologic branch, has gone to Amarillo, Tex., for field work.

Frank Reeves, of the geologic branch, has been forced to postpone a proposed field trip because of illness.

H. W. Hoots, of the geologic branch, has changed his field address to Bakersfield, Calif.

Glenn S. Smith, of the topographic branch, has returned from his inspection tour of the Pennsylvania and Delaware districts.

C. R. Fisher, of the topographic branch, has gone to West Salem, Wis., for primary traverse work in western Wisconsin.

J. G. Staack, of the topographic branch, has gone to Galesville, Wis., to continue mapping of the Galesville and adjacent areas.

Hersey Munroe, of the topographic branch, has gone to Henniker, N. H.

R. W. Burchard, of the topographic branch, has completed his work in Texas and is en route to Washington.

BUREAU ENGRAVING

Administrative Offices.

Mrs. Mildred Ladson visited the chief accountant's office, where she formerly worked as a clerk, last week, bringing with her some beautiful specimens of the flowers she is raising at their home in Ballston, Va.

Miss Edith Thompson narrowly averted serious consequences in an automobile collision Sunday afternoon near Clarksburg, Md., which resulted in the death of two of the occupants of the car which collided with the one in which she was riding.

Mrs. Hattie F. B. Fenby has recently undergone an operation after an extended illness.

Miss May Beckmyer motored to Baltimore May 1, visiting relatives, and returning the same day.

Miss Pauline Mayer is passing a week's spring vacation at Berwyn, Md.

Mrs. Meta Sullivan has resumed her duties after an absence of several days on account of sickness.

Miss Alena Graves, one of our retired clerks, visited the office Tuesday and had lunch with some of her old friends.

Watch Division.

Capt. Fischer is much elated over the efficiency of his guide force in handling record-breaking crowds, totaling 36,028, during the month of April.

William O. Patterson has been promoted from watchman to lieutenant of the watch, midnight force.

Mrs. Ida V. Diamond, who fainted while conducting a party of visitors through and received first aid from a trained nurse who happened to be in the party, is able to resume her duties after an absence of about ten days.

Millard W. Upperman has just returned from a two-week leave of absence.

William E. Adkins has been called home to North Carolina on account of the death of his father.

John W. Rutledge is making a ten-day visit to his home in Philadelphia.

Lieut. Riordan has purchased a new automobile and intends to put all his spare time in fresh air and salt-water fishing.

Engineering and Machine Division.

Charles Longley, electrician's helper, has announced that he was married last week.

William J. Bowie and Walter F. Meade, helpers in the machine shop, are taking annual leave.

While on his way to work one morning last week Albert Michaud was struck and knocked down by an automobile and was painfully injured about the legs and body. He was taken to Garfield hospital for treatment.

Surface Division.

Mrs. Alma Copenhaver has been granted a month's leave, during which she will visit friends in Pennsylvania and will later take a trip to her home State, Florida.

Warren P. Motzer has returned much improved after an absence of two months on acount of illness.

Examining Division.

Miss Fannie Elgin's girls gave her a glad welcome back after a week's leave.

Miss Lydia F. Schricker has been transferred to the Department of Agriculture.

Mrs. Ella Stork has returned after a ten days' trip much improved.

Mrs. Gertrude Davis who has been on the sick list for several weeks is slowing improving. Mrs. Davis has not been well since the death of her father.

Mrs. Mary Osterman and a party of riends had an enjoyable trip to Winchester, Va.

Mrs. Mary Overton, matron, is back at home in Fort Berry, having spent the winter in Washington.

Miss Mary B. Martin has been elected delegate to represent the Phyllis Wheatley branch of the Y. W. C. A. at the national convention in Milwaukee, Wis.

The Bureau Protective association is still engaged in its drive for new members. There have been nine death benefits paid since January 1.

COMMERCE

Mrs. Joseph Holmes, widow of the first director of the bureau of mines, has been added to the list of patronesses of the Bureau of Welfare association benefit performance of "The Last Warning" at the National theater on May 18.

Five boxes have been sold for the benefit. Secretary Hubert Work, of the Interior Department; Secretary Herbert Hoover and Assistant Secretary J. Walter Drake, of the Department of Commerce; D. A. Lyon, assistant director of the bureau of mines, and Mrs. Margaret Hopkins Worrell, national president of the Wheel of Progress, are the boxholders.

Miss Esther Evans, of the publications section, bureau of mines, designed and made the poster displayed in the Interior building corridor.

James E. Black has left the division of mineral resources and statistics, bureau of mines.

Raymond Kenny has been transferred from the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce to the bureau of mines.

D. A. Lyon Goes West.

D. A. Lyon, assistant director of the bureau of mines, has left Washington for a trip west. He will go to Minneapolis, Minn., and to the bureau station at Salt Lake City, where he expects to have conferences with superintendents of some of the Western stations.

Mrs. Mary E. Holhos, of the bookkeeping section of the bureau of mines, served on the committee in charge of the May dance of the Societe of the S Chapeaux et 40 Femmes on May 4.

Johnny B. Keahy, of Arkansas, has been appointed in the bureau of mines.

Eric T. King, chief of the specialties division, bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, has returned from Charleston, S. C., where he went to interview men interested in both foreign and domestic markets for their products.

W. H. Rastall, chief of the industrial machinery division, bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, has returned from Providence, R. I., and New York city, where he was called to confer with the machinery trades.

Clifford Sellers, of the supplies division, office of the Secretary, was away from the office Friday and Saturday painting his yacht for the summer season, when he plans to take a month's cruise down the river and bay.

Mrs. A. L. Lewis has been appointed in the radio section of the bureau of navigation.

W. E. Downey, of the radio section, bureau of navigation, has been away from the office for the past week due to illness.

I. H. Taylor Returns.

I. H. Taylor, chief of the automotive division, bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, has returned to the office after a short trip to New York city, where he was called by manufacturers of automotive products interested in foreign markets.

J. W. Wizeman, of the chemical division, bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, accompanied by his wife, has returned from Winchester, Va., where he went to attend the apple blossom festival.

Dalton P. Crossman, of the chemical division, bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, has fully recovered and is back at his desk after two weeks absence due to a poisoned foot.

H. R. Colwell, of the division of simplified practice, has returned from Pinehurst, N. C., and Pittsburgh, Pa., where he went at the request of the executive committee of the clearing house section of the American Bankers association in Pinehurst and members of the subcommittee on standardization and simplification of foundry refractories in Pittsburgh.

A. E. Foote, of the division of simplified practice, has returned from Atlanta, Ga., where he went to interview members of the Southern Hardware association. Mr. Foote is leaving Wednesday for Cincinnati, where he will interview members of the sheet steel industry.

Going to Atlantic City.

E. W. Ely, of the division of simplified practice, has returned from New York city, where he went to interview members of the New York chapter of the Society of Industrial Engineers. Mr. Ely is leaving for Atlantic City Monday to interview members of the Radio Manufacturers association on Tuesday.

R. M. Hudson, chief of the division of simplified practice, has returned from New York city, where he went to interview members of the management week committee.

E. L. Priest, of the division of simplified practice, has returned to the office after an absence of about two weeks due to illness.

Harvy Haun, chief of the accounting division of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, has returned to the office after an absence of two weeks due to illness.

B. D. Hill, of the foodstuffs division, bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, has returned from New York city, where he went to interview men in the tobacco exporting trade interested in foreign markets for their goods.

H. H. Tewksbury, manager of the district office of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, at Detroit, and Harvey A. Sweetser, manager of the New England district office, were visitors in the bureau last week.

Wharton Moore, administrative assistant of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, was absent from the office during the past week on a short vacation.

Mrs. August W. Fridericks, of the office of the administrative assistant, bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, has returned after a honeymoon.

VETERANS' BUREAU

Warren Edward Miller, of the committee on recoveries, married Miss Debbye Jean Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lewis Wright, Monday at Calvary Baptist church. They will be at home after June 1 at 126 Webster street northwest.

Medical Service.

Mrs. Lillian Moakley is home from hospital after an operation for appendicitis.

J. E. Emge is on a month's vacation.

Miss Blanche Rotchford is again at her desk after a month's illness.

Miss Julia Coonan is on a six weeks' trip abroad.

Mrs. Mary T. Kane, who is passing some time at Bluemont, Va., for her health, is much improved.

Miss Mary Pastorine attended the apple blossom festival at Winchester, Va.

Miss Clara Hosbaugh passed Sunday at her home, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Haymond Barcalow is on a two weeks' trip to Boston.

Mails and Records Division.

Miss Gertrude Gelfeldt passed last Sunday in Baltimore.

Clyde Jenkins, of Oelwine, Iowa, is visiting his cousin, Mrs. Agnes Casey.

Miss Anne S. Nevitt is passing a week's vacation in the Shenandoah valley and Winchester, Va.

Mrs. Nellie Garges and family visited the apple blossom celebration at Winchester, Va.

Charles J. Painter was suddenly called to his home in Barclay, Kans., on account of the death of his father.

Miss Katherine Yingling is on a two weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Eleanor V. Potter had as her guest for the last ten days her sister-in-law, of New Brunswick, N. J.

A dinner party was given on April 28 at the Women's City club by employes in the personnel record subsection in honor of Miss Irene Houriet, who resigned April 16 to take up residence in New York. The following guests were present: Miss E. F. Hopkins, Mrs. M. R. Leigh, Mrs. M. Holland, Mrs. E. T. Batch, Mrs. M. R. Lineback, Mrs. E. M. Swain, Miss E. Flouke, Miss E. C. Schirmer, Miss A. Easby-Smith, Miss A. Waldner, Miss F. Buechley, Miss Mary Manville and Miss Minnie Holderby.

Accounting Division.

The season for the Ladies' Bowling league finished April 29, with the Transportation team in first place. The members of the winning team are Miss Edith Knoeller, captain; Mrs. Sopha Byrne, Mrs. Florence Redcay and the Misses Mae Kelly and Ethel Wright. About 50, including guests of the league, attended the Monday evening performance at Keith's and later had supper at the Men's City club.

Charles Hughes has successfully passed the civil service examination as cost accountant.

Mr. and Mrs. McLeran, Mrs. Helen Mackey, Mrs. Florence Redcay, the Misses Grace Barrett, Mae Redmond, Ethel Wright, Mabel McCalip and Edith Knoeller attended the apple blossom festival at Winchester, Va.

900,000 Persons Visit Tomb of the Hardings

Marion, Ohio, May 8 (By A. P.).—Nine hundred thousand persons have visited the tomb of the Hardings in Marion cemetery, said Lieut. Walter Lee Sherfey, who has commanded a detachment of troops stationed at the tomb since President Harding's body was placed there.

Corner stone of the Harding memorial will be laid May 30, and the structure completed in another year. The bodies of President Harding and of Mrs. Harding then will be placed in the memorial. The building and its approaches will cost $600,000.

The detachment of regular army troops which numbers 36, will maintain its vigil until the bodies of the Hardings are removed to the permanent tomb from the receiving vault.

City Managers Ruling In 361 Municipalities

Kansas City, May 8 (By A. P.).—Originating less than a score of years ago, the city manager form of government has spread to include 361 cities and towns comprising more than 5,000,000 persons.

These municipalities range in size from Cleveland, Ohio to McCracken, Kans., with 491 population at the last census. Only a few which have adopted the plan have turned back to an old form of municipal government, said Walter Matscheck, director of the Public Service institute of Kansas City, which has just adopted the plan.

In the Realm of Art

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3.)

the Fine Arts," Arthur A. Shurtleff; "Benedetto Groce, Philosopher of Art and Interpreter of Modern Movements in Art," by John M. Warbeke; "Leaders of Modernism," Walter Pach; "Continunity in Modernism," Ralph Pearson; "Tradition of Nobility and Beauty in the Art of Painting," stereopticon slides and discussion.

Evening—Library of Congress program of chamber music by Lenox string quartet.

Thursday the day will be spent in Annapolis with luncheon at the executive mansion, and special session at the State house. Evening—Corcoran gallery of art opened in compliment to the convention.

Friday morning — "Federated Council on Art Education," Royal Bailey Farnum; Metropolitan museum's moving picture films, "Story Telling to Children," M. Rose Collins; "Extension Service for College Art Training," Walter H. Abell. Afternoon—Reports of committees. "Lessons Learned at the Paris Exposition," Richard Bach. Annual dinner at Rauscher's, Frederick P. Keppel, toastmaster.

Visitors to Vote.

The casting of votes by all visitors to the tenth exhibition of contemporary American oil paintings at the Corcoran Gallery of Art, began Monday, and continued throughout the week, terminating this afternoon. The announcement of the award of this popular prize of $200, which is determined by the vote of the visitors to the gallery, will be made in the press as soon as the ballots can be counted. This award is provided by the gallery, and every picture in the exhibition is eligible for it.

The exhibition will continue on view to and including Sunday, May 16. This will afford every one an ample opportunity to pay further visits for the purpose of seeing the picture which won the popular prize award, and to make further study of the collection.

The gallery will be opened informally, and without charge of any admission fee, May 13, between 8:30 and 10:30, in compliment to the delegates attending the several art conventions to be held in Washington.

The hours of opening the gallery, during the period of this exhibition, are week days, from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.; on Sundays, from 1:30 to 5:30 p. m.

"DIAMOND DYES"

COLOR THINGS NEW

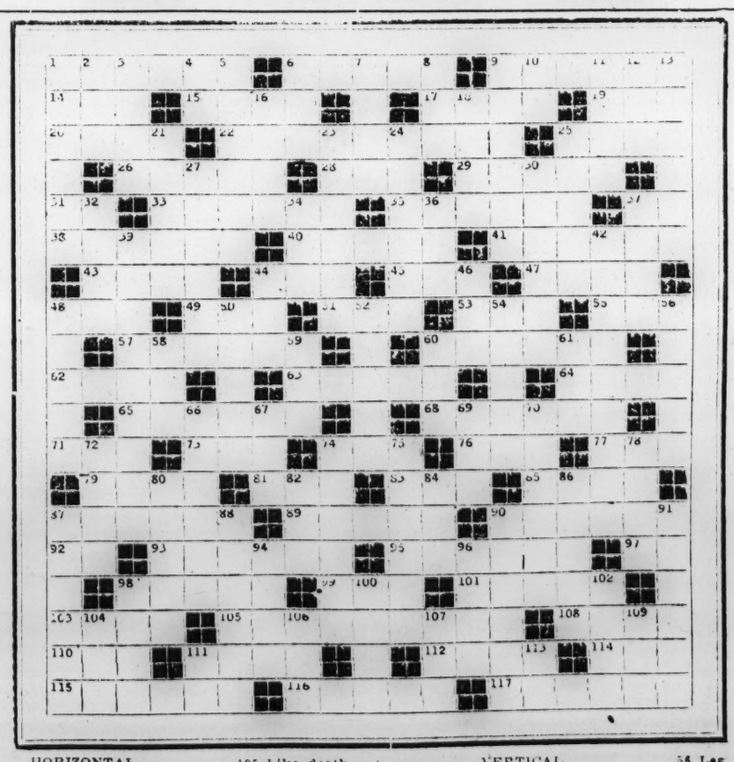

Just Dip to Tint or Boil to Dye

Each 15-cent package contains directions so simple any woman can tint soft, delicate shades or dye rich, permanent colors in lingerie, silks, ribbons, skirts, waists, dresses, coats, stockings, sweaters, draperies, coverings, hangings—everything!

Buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—and tell your druggist whether the material you wish to color is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.

Daily Cross-Word Puzzle

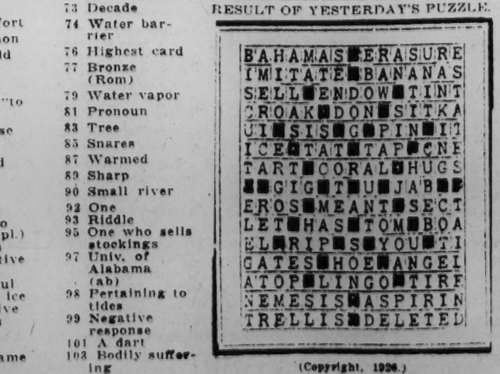

HORIZONTAL.

1 Arrival
6 Short treatise
9 Passageway (pl.)
14 Enemy
15 Verbal
17 Point of compass
19 To consume
20 Loaned
22 With effort
25 Uncommon
26 Threefold
28 Snare
29 Foreign
31 Part of "to be"
33 To inclose
35 Abuse
37 Elevated (ab.)
38 Snarl
40 Toil
41 One who moves (pl.)
43 To miss
44 Affirmative vote (pl.)
45 Sorrowful
47 Mass of ice
48 Possessive pronoun
49 Sailor
51 Still
53 Girl's name
55 Inquire
57 One who tosses
60 Loved
62 Falsifier
63 Flower
64 Small rope
65 Filled with lead
68 Censurer
71 Child's name
73 Decade
74 Water barrier
76 Highest card
77 Bronze (Rom)
79 Water vapor
81 Pronoun
83 Tree
85 Snares
87 Warmed
89 Sharp
90 Small river
92 One
93 Riddle
95 One who sells stockings
97 Univ. of Alabama (ab)
98 Pertaining to tides
99 Negative response
101 A dart
103 Bodily suffering
105 Like death
108 Small brook
110 Before
111 Honey maker (pl)
112 Coin
114 Born
115 To buy back
116 Indoser of check
117 Electric fixture

VERTICAL.

1 Floating
2 Female deer
3 Small aperture
4 Negative
5 Hypnotic condition
6 Obsolete for "old"
7 Foot covering
8 Affirmative
9 Place of refuge
10 Pronoun
11 Not fat
12 Organ of hearing
13 Robs
16 Inclosed space
18 Exclamation of grief
21 Block, skid (pl)
23 Restless
24 Extreme
25 To pass a rope through
27 Small cove (pl)
30 Line designating sea level
32 Used in brewing
34 Cunning
36 Man's name
37 Unit of energy (pl)
39 Homesickness
42 Exterminate
44 Part of "to be"
46 Performed
48 Small isle
50 Apart
52 Prefix "beyond"
54 Type of Greek column
56 Leg joint (pl)
58 Mineral
59 Hurried
60 Part of a circle
61 Jewish priest
66 To wait on
67 Printer's type (pl)
69 Male sheep
70 One who tents
72 So be it
74 Pour off liquid
75 Combinative radical (chem)
78 Bible name
80 Beer mug
82 A meat
84 Lion
86 Mistake
87 Harpist
88 Crown
90 Fog horn (pl)
91 Wooden hammer
94 Joy
96 Contention
98 Bound
100 Sea hail
102 To brink
104 Part of "to be"
106 Small serpent
107 Frozen water
109 Sheltered side
111 Exist
113 Preposition

RESULT OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE.

(Copyright, 1926.)

In Washington

the increasing number of homes installing the Welsbach Automatic Gas Water Heater is so noticeable as to be calling forth universal comment.

This results from two facts. Fewer families are willing to continue with makeshift water-heating devices. The Welsbach name is recognized as a sure guarantee of satisfaction. See your plumber at once about a Welsbach.

WELSBACH COMPANY
439 Seventh Street, N. W.
Washington, D. C.

Welsbach
AUTOMATIC STORAGE GAS WATER HEATERS for sale by all plumbers

SERVICE

YOU will be absolutely elated at the service rendered by our heating systems. Our methods mean a permanent "good-bye" to all heating problems and difficulties.

"The Modern Way"

A. B. Clarke Co.
Plumbing and Heating
Main 5083

PLUMBING HEATING and SHEET METAL WORK
on
PARTIAL PAYMENT PLAN

All installment work under the personal supervision of Mr. W. L. Gary.

W. L. Gary Co.
(Inc.)
3111 14th St. N. W.
Col. 832. Night, Col. 3338
5516 Conn. Ave., Cleve. 3338

Kleen-Heet
NO LABOR · NO COAL · NO ASHES
Automatic
Oil Burner

Installed immediately in any heating plant without interfering with the heat comforts of your home.

—Bosch Electric Ignition
—Positive and Economical
—Quiet Operation
—Backed by Real Service

Kleen-Heet Sales Co.
1013 12th St. N.W.
Main 7886 Franklin 6935

For The Best Service Gas Water Heaters

"Ruud"—"Pittsburg"—"Lovekin"
and Liberal Terms
See Your Plumber—or
Washington Gas Light Co.
419 Tenth Street N. W.

DISTRICT OFFICIAL LISTS "DON'TS" FOR CARE OF PLUMBING

Best of Pipes and Connections Need Proper Attention, Says McGonegal.

CARELESSNESS COURTS ILL HEALTH, HE WARNS

Gives Things It Is Handy to Know When Supply Pipe Bursts.

By A. R. McGONEGAL,
Inspector of Plumbing for the District of Columbia.

Even the very best of plumbing pipes and connections, no matter how well they may have been originally installed, are subject to minor ills and accidents occasionally, and it is well for the householder and his family to know what to do when anything goes wrong.

Of course, there are certain "don'ts" to adhere to so that plumbing will not get indigestion or constipation, that is, cause slow emptying of fixtures or complete stoppage.

Even the finest and most expensive plumbing will fail if carelessly treated, and these suggestions apply to the renter as well as the one who lives in his own house, for faulty service from plumbing causes inconvenience and may be conducive to ill health as well as expensive to repair.

A Few of the "Don'ts."

There are a great many things which should be learned about the care of plumbing, but a few "don'ts" follow:

"Don't" throw burned matches or sharpen pencils into a sink or wash basin.

"Don't" wash plants or cut flowers directly in a sink; use a pan and strain the water off after washing.

"Don't" throw coffee or tea grounds in the sink. Keep a sink strainer. Suitable sink strainers can be had at any 10-cent store.

"Don't" allow small bits of soap to accumulate where they can get down the waste pipe of the wash basin. Soak them up for soft soap to use in general cleaning.

"Don't" use lye to clean a sluggish waste pipe, especially where much grease has been used. Use ordinary washing soda and plenty of boiling hot water.

"Don't" throw any more hot greasy water in the sink than you can help. The pipes cool the water and the grease collects on them, causing a gradual stoppage. Cold greasy water carries the grease right along with it to the sewer.

"Don't" empty a bucket of scrub water into a water closet without seeing that there is no soft bar of soap in it which might lodge in the closet trap and cause stoppage.

Precautions to Be Taken.

In case of bursting of a water supply pipe, or blowing out of a washer on a spigot, one should know just where to find the main shut-off valve and how to operate it, and the best time to look this up is before anything happens. There are hand valves on pipes to most water closet tanks, and some times on wash basin supplies, and in such cases the flow could be stopped at the fixture and the operation of the main valve rendered unnecessary.

One should also know where the gas meter is and how to turn the gas off in case a fixture should accidentally be broken off or a handle come off a valve on the range.

After applying such first aid, send for a licensed, registered plumber, who will know what to do and will do it properly and promptly.

Russian Cities Named For Soviet Leaders

Moscow, May 8 (By A. P.).—More than 60 cities and towns in Russia have been renamed by the bolshevik authorities because the former names were identified in some way with the czar, the nobility or the church.

The commonest change is that of Petrograd (City of Peter the Great), which is now known as Leningrad (City of Lenin). Then there is Tsaritsin, the famous city on the Volga, which has been renamed "Stalingrad," in honor of Joseph Stalin, general secretary of the communist party.

Other cities bearing names of soviet officials are Gatshina, now known as "Trotsk," after Leon Trotsky; Elizabethgrad, now styled "Zinovievsk," as a compliment to Gregory Zinoviev, chairman of the communist international, and Alexandropol, in soviet Armenia, now designated as "Leninkan," after Nicholas Lenin.

CITY INSPECTOR

Harris & Ewing.
A. R. M'GONEGAL,
Inspector of plumbing of the District of Columbia.

CASTLES IN SWEDEN TO GET STEAM HEAT

Former Homes of Royalty to Be Modernized by Big Appropriation.

Steam heat and running water are to be installed in the old royal castles of Sweden. In a special budget just submitted to the Riksdag the government asks for the requisite funds.

For water supply in the 500-year-old Gripsholm castle, located on an island near Stockholm, an appropriation of $12,000 is requested, and $16,000 is asked for a central heating plant in the sixteenth century Halmstad castle on the west coast. Though once inhabited by several of the Swedish kings and their families, the Gripsholm castle is now used as a museum and national picture gallery, one of its priceless treasures being a contemporary portrait of Queen Elizabeth of England.

Among the other castles to be modernized are those of Leckoe on the shores of Lake Vaner, once the headquarters of the influential De La Gardie family, and the heavily fortified Calmar castle on the east coast, which in the middle ages was known as the "key of Sweden."

Regimental Brooches Are Worn on Dresses

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—Regimental brooches, so popular during the great war, are being brought into favor again. Society women are wearing them mostly at sporting functions on dresses and pinned into small felt hats which are very popular at race meetings.

Good Morning, Sir

How was it at your house this morning? Did you enjoy your bath and your shave? Was there plenty of

Good Hot Water

If there was, we congratulate you on beginning the day right. If not, we recommend that you come around and see us some time today and investigate a

HUMPHREY
GUARANTEED
Automatic Gas Water Heater

See Your Plumber or Call Us
HUMPHREY CO.
1207 Eye St. N. W. Main 7528

No Waiting
for Hot Water
After You Install a

Pittsburg
Automatic Gas
Water Heater

All you do is turn the faucet.
Price as Low as $80.00
Convenient Terms
Ask Your Plumber

EDGAR MORRIS SALES CO.
Factory Distributors
1305 G St. N.W.
Main 1032-1033

PLUMBER WELCOMES APPRECIATION OF WORK

Builder Who Asks No More Than Specifications Is Encouraged.

CONFIDENCE IS URGED

By far the greater number of those expecting to build homes are unfamiliar with the information necessary to identify exactly that which they are going to get, in the way of plumbing and heating material. They are equally unfamiliar with the papers and drawings describing it, in connection with the architect's or general contractor's plans. In general, details of blueprints and specifications are things which it is hard for the average layman, outside of the building trades, to understand.

Many public libraries have added to their shelves books and articles on these subjects which will help the prospective home builder, to a great degree, to understand them.

The customer that the plumbing and heating contractor much prefers is the owner who understands and can read plans, who knows how to read his specifications understandingly, and who, thereby, knows exactly what the builder or contractor has agreed to furnish him. In such a case, the plumbing and heating contractor is glad to do work for an owner who will insist on exact fulfillment of these plans and specifications, but who, equally, does not insist on the contractor doing something he has not agreed to do, or that is, in itself, foolish.

Above all, the person who follows every piece of casual advice given him by an acquaintance who has just built or intends to build, is one to be feared by the plumbing and heating contractor. Amateur advice of this sort is almost invariably impractical, or presumes that the contractor will supply something which is not included in the contract, as set forth by plans and specifications. If your architect or general contractor is worth having, his advice is worth following. If your plumbing and heating contractor is selected because you think he knows his business, it is unfair to assume that he is trying to "do" you, because his methods seem to differ from those of the contractor who may be doing work for your friends.

It has been the intention of the District Master Plumbers association to protect the public against sharp practices and ignorance on the part of any contractor or builder. It is their sole purpose to give the very best of service to all those who are not familiar with the necessary preparatory conditions of building a home, including modern sanitary plumbing and hygienic heating. Such information is more than gladly given at all times by any of the reputable firms comprising the membership of this association.

Meet your plumber or heating contractor with confidence and good temper, and he will respond with a special effort to give you not only the value of your money, but a little more for kindness in this direction you can capitalize confidence and courtesy, and you will enjoy doing it.

Soviet Visitors Given Guard by Japanese

Tokyo, May 8 (By A. P.).—Noted Russian writers, labor delegates and other soviet visitors to Japan are deluged with attentions—especially by the police.

Boris Pilyinyak, a writer from Moscow, and his wife recently came to Japan expecting to make a long visit. From the moment they set foot on Japanese soil, the little, smiling uniformed police attendants were on hand. Wherever Pylinyak and his wife went, the police were always with them as "guards of honor." Prominent Russians in Tokyo protested to police officials, but the rigid surveillance was continued.

40 TUBS ARE AVAILABLE TO 60,000 PARISIANS

Le Petit Parisien Appeals for Better Facilities of Sanitation.

SAYS SOAP NEEDS WATER

The ratio of 40 bathtubs to 60,000 persons is the condition responsible for a spirited debate in the council chambers of Paris, according to a dispatch in a recent issue of the Kansas City Star.

Mr. Brunet, municipal councilor, stated that, "in the Epinettes quarter of Paris there are but 40 bathtubs to 60,000 inhabitants!" His remarks called forth a lively article in Le Petit Parisien, a popular Parisian newspaper, part of which follows:

"Landlords have considered bathtubs as foolish, Babylonian luxuries, but the only running water in most of our apartments and dwellings is in the kitchen. It is impossible in most of our homes to make anything like a decent toilet. A bathtub may be used by several persons, but surely one is not sufficient for 1,500 persons!

"Skilled physicians are busy protecting us from every illness and are discovering wonderful remedies. Soap, however, is surely man's first and most essential remedy, and water, without which soap is useless, is an essential and sovereign 'serum'! Cleanliness is the basis for prophylaxis, and one must bathe in order to be clean. And if one would bathe, one must have bathtubs!"

That the lack of adequate modern bathing facilities is disgusting present-day Frenchmen, is neither important nor serious to Americans. However, such a deplorable situation existing in a neighboring country gives us something to be thankful for. It is difficult to believe that health can exist under the circumstances as reported. And it is a matter of fact that the health of Europeans is not nearly as good as that of Americans in general. This is due primarily to the lack of modern sanitation in continental countries.

It is especially important that Americans give thoughtful consideration of their sanitary needs during Good Health week, October 23 to 30, when a national interest will be aroused in better sanitation, ventilation and personal hygiene.

ANCIENT WORDS USED IN KENTUCKY HILLS

Gyarbro, Kiver, Yeth, Yeebin, of Chaucer's Day, Still Survive.

Lexington, Ky., May 8 (By A. P.).—While new words are being added to the dictionary, here are some of the old Anglo-Saxon words of Chaucer's day used by the Kentucky mountain folk today:

Ambeer—Tobacco juice.

Cipherin'—Snooping. If a "furriner" goes "cipherin' about" up in the hills, he is not making mathematical calculations, but snooping perhaps too closely into other persons' business and probably will be taken for a "revenooer."

Ferninst—Opposite.

Gyarbro—Reincarnation of old scratch himself, as "the man is as mean as old Gyarbro himself."

Kiver—Cover.

Yeth—Earth.

Yeebin—If some one is "yeebin at ye," you know you are not only being looked at but laughed at.

A lad is "old man Jones' boy," not his son. When he grows up, he is an "overgrown sturk," and if very slender, "Banjer-Shanks."

A young woman may be some man's "old woman," providing they are not divorced—and to use a common expression, so's the "old man."

At Least 500 People
in Washington, every week, are looking for desirable rooms, either with or without board. A great many of them read The Post. You who have rooms to rent can catch their eye by inserting classified ads in The Post. Phone Main 4205.

Buy Once Buy Wisely Buy Ruud

You can afford the best. It's name is RUUD, the world's pioneer automatic water heater. Sold by plumbers on Monthly Payments.

RUUD
Automatic Water Heaters
713 G St. N. W.
Main 6985

"Our Service Is Best"

Because our organization is enthusiastic and cooperative.

E. G. SCHAFER CO.
EGSCO
WASHINGTON, D.C.

From the cradle to the grave

—the plumber is your friend!

Twenty babies in every hundred die—in homes without domestic sanitation. In homes that have adequate plumbing—only three babies in a hundred die! These figures come from a survey of infant mortality in Johnstown, Pennsylvania, made by the Children's Bureau of the government.

The health-protecting service of the plumber begins at the cradle and ends only at the grave! Both at school and at home, the first line of defense against disease is sanitation. In adult life, sanitary and complete facilities for bathing and toilet continue to be essential to vigorous health.

Finally, age falls more gently on the body that has been kept healthy by the protection afforded by modern, sanitary plumbing.

Yourself, your family, your neighborhood, your city—all depend greatly, indeed, upon the plumber for health protection. Let it begin in your home!

Every member of this association is pledged to high standards of economical service in domestic sanitation.

MASTER PLUMBERS' ASSOCIATION
INCORPORATED
OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

3717 Georgia Ave. Columbia 8424

MEMBERSHIP IN THIS ASSOCIATION IS OPEN TO ALL MASTER PLUMBERS WHO WILL CONFORM TO ITS STANDARDS OF PRACTICE.

This space contributed by the following members of the Master Plumbers' Association, Inc., of the District of Columbia:

JULIUS T. BECKER	1020 18th St. N.W. Frank. 7164
FRANK BENTLEY	3717 Ga. Ave. N.W. Col. 8424
EDGAR W. BROWN	622 8th St. S.W. Main 10486
ANTHONY P. BOVELLO	3330 Ga. Ave. N.W. Col 7237
MAURICE J. COLBERT	621 F St. N.W. Main 3016
WILLIAM CONRADIS CO.	1013 12th St. N.W. Main 6979
R. W. CORRIDON	906 N. Y. Ave. N.W. Main 4016
GEORGE J. CROSS	636 Pa. Ave. S.E. Linc. 672
W. G. CORNELL CO.	19 Patterson St. N.E. Main 3536
THOS. E. CLARK	3831 Kansas Ave. N.W. Col. 6356
EDWIN C. CROUCH	909 14th St. S.E. Linc. 9102
A. B. CLARKE CO.	923 12th St. N.W. Main 5083
JOHN J. DALY	1724 15th St. N.W. North 5249
DETROIT ENGINEERING CO.	513 F St. N.W. Main 5247
GEORGE H. DURITY	1436 Pa. Ave. S.E. Linc. 3372
H. R. EBERLY	1506 N. Capitol St. North 3653
H. C. ESLIN	7635 Georgia Ave. Col. 9366
THE FEDERAL HEATING CO.	310 13th St. N.W. Main 4140
J. C. FLOOD & CO.	1341 W St. N.W. North 6063
THOMAS F. FOLEY	1022 8th St. N.E. Linc. 2453
W. M. FINNACOM	3013 20th St. N.E. North 8384
JAMES F. GAGHAN	815 13th St. N.W. Main 3711
W. L. GARY CO.	3111 14th St. N.W. Col. 832
THE G & H HEATING CO.	917 H St. N.W. Main 4886
GEORGE W. HANES, INC.	1219 Eye St. N.W. Main 6715
RAYMOND H. HILLSINGER	1241 Morse St. N.E. Linc. 7518
WM. B. HAISLIP	1135 5th St. N.W. Frank. 1359
J. MILLARD HALL	936 D St. S.W. Main 9430
JOE HIGH	1215 13th St. N.W. Main 7882
JOSEPH E. HEFFRON	211 12th St. S.W. Main 3571
J. WALTER HUMPHREY	406 R. I. Ave. N.W. North 5681
FRED G. HESS	1619 H St. N.E. Linc. 3528
D. E. JENKINS	7508 Alaska Ave. N.W. Adams 5113
SHERMAN W. JACK CO.	302 Cedar St. N.W. Col. 270
JOSEPH W. KOOB	3114 Warder St. N.W. Col. 1987
DANIEL S. LANAHAN	1216 G St. N.E. Atlantic 217
J. E LEINS	1819 N. Capitol St. North 3223
M. LURIA & CO.	635 Princeton Pl. N.W. Adams 1910
M. J. McCARTHY & SON	3820 Veazey St. N.W. Cleveland 2108
E. J. McGOLRICK	1432 Clifton St. N.W. Col. 5617
MILLER-LACEY & CO.	266 Carroll Ave. N.W. Col. 5451
OWENS & BAUR, INC.	410 K St. N.W. Frank 3903
W. T. POWELL	522 Buchannon St. N.W. Adams 8859
JOS. R. QUINTER & SON	1461 P St. N.W. Main 2501
WM. F. RYAN	1525 17th St. N.W. North 38
EARLE E. STACY	2418 18th St. N.W. Col. 462
ROBERT STROBEL	411 8th St. S.W. Main 7341
RICHARD C. SOWERBUTTS	3917 Ga. Ave. N.W. Col. 1573
D. A. STANSBURY	1630 25th St. S.E. Linc. 10156
ARTHUR SNOWDEN	812 Kentucky Ave. S.E. Linc. 681
CHARLES W. SORRELL	5531 7th St. N.W. Adams 6458
STANDARD ENGINEERING CO.	2129 I St. N.W. West 1343
HARRY A. SCROGGINS	3623 N. H. Ave. N.W. Adams 5246
J. G. SCHLOSSER	900 Rittenhouse St. N.W. Col. 2928
ARTHUR J. THOLL	1708 9th St. N.W. North 241
GEORGE D. WARNER	5408 Ill. Ave. N.W. Adams 2601
JOHN G. WEBSTER	606 D St. N.W. Main 4164
D. H. ALSOP	801 Kentucky Ave. S.E. Linc. 8321
THOS. E. AMERICA	711 E St. S.E. Linc. 1988
ROBERT E. ANDERSON	801 Maryland Ave. N.E. Lincoln 3304
ROBERT J. BARRETT	809 13th St. N.W. Main 9509
MILTON BAIRSTOW	1011 E. Capitol St. Linc. 858
JOHN M. BEANE	1100 5th St. N.E. Linc. 5302
OTTO W. BENSON	5008 Conn. Ave. Clev. 1781
MARYLAND—VIRGINIA.
FRANK E. BERRY	Silver Springs, Md. Woodside 89-J
WM. E. CLEVER	Arlington, Va. Clarendon 655 J 1
DESMOND & WILEY	Alexandria, Va. Alex. 150
THOMPSON-SELBY CO.	329 L St. S.E. Linc. 2155
WILLIAM A. WAGNER	Kensington, Md. Kens. 178

U. S. EXPERT HOLDS RADIO ESTABLISHED FOR EVERYDAY USE

Dr. J. H. Dellinger Declares Period of Rapid Changes Has Been Passed.

ASSERTS PRESENT SETS GOOD FOR 15 YEARS

Installation of Equipment on Farms Is Expected to Go Forward Quickly.

Radio is established definitely as a practical, dependable, permanent utility for everyday use, in the judgment of Dr. J. H. Dellinger, chief of the radio section of the bureau of standards.

The day of rapid changes in radio models, Dr. Dellenger says, has passed. Following the period of experimental development, during which the market was flooded with scores of "sets" of all degrees of receptivity, the industry has now settled down to the production of a relatively few standard, high class sets, expertly designed and substantially built, which may be expected to give as good results 5, 10 or 15 years from now as they do when new.

"There is no longer any more reason for waiting to buy a good radio set," says Dr. Dellinger, "than there is in waiting to buy a good piano. While there doubtless will be occasional refinements in receiving equipment, these are not likely to affect appreciably the comparative value of the standard sets of today. Tubes, of course, will lose their efficiency after from 1,000 to 2,000 hours of use, but most of these can be reactivated at small cost. The set as a whole, however, will retain its efficiency and value indefinitely."

Use on Farms Increases.

Dr. Dellinger's conclusions as to the stability and permanent utility of standard present day sets is regarded as particularly important by the radio authorities of the Department of Agriculture, who are planning a wide extension of departmental radio services as a direct aid to agriculture.

Many farmers, the department finds, have delayed the installation of radio equipment in the belief that sets installed before the industry became stabilized and the science perfected soon would be antiquated and out of date and would either have to be junked or replaced at considerable cost. With assurances from government sources that receiving equipment has been perfected and standardized so as to insure the permanent use and value of their sets, it is believed the installation of radio equipment on farms will be much more rapid.

Synchronization Big Factor.

One great factor that is held to make for stability and longer life is the greater simplification in the new standard models. Typical of this is the new one dial set now being built by A. Atwater Kent, in which the entire operation is confined to the movement of just one dial. The fewer dials and switches the operator has to move, the less likelihood that some delicate mechanism will be thrown out of adjustment. At the same time, the synchronization accomplished mechanically by the one dial is much more exact than the setting of a number of combinations by hand.

"This synchronization," declares Dr. Dellinger, "is accomplished without sacrificing the marvelous sensitivity and selectivity of modern receiving sets."

The perfecting of the one-dial control, substituting mechanical accuracy for the more or less hit-or-miss tuning accomplished by hand, is regarded by Dr. Dellinger as the last refinement needed to provide even the most exacting with a set that can be regarded as a permanent, lasting investment.

RADIO TEST PLANNED BY AIR MAIL FLIERS

Picking Up of the Weather Fore-casts Will Be Attempted.

Expansion of the air mail service between Minneapolis and Chicago will soon be inaugurated, linking up the Northwest with the East and West mail air lines that pass through Chicago.

The first plane will be equipped with an All-American model R radio receiving set for the purpose of making tests with broadcasting station WENR, the All-American Radio Corporation, Chicago, and WCCO, Minneapolis-St. Paul, cooperating to furnish weather reports and other information every fifteen minutes while the planes are in flight.

Billy Brock is pilot, and Norm Souther, of the All-American Radio Corporation, will fly as radio operator. Mr. Souther has had considerable to do with the special feature of design of this set and is now at work on equipment to permit pilots to communicate with radio listeners.

Present "Golden Wedding."

"The Golden Wedding," which is being presented by the "Everday Group" Tuesday evening from WEAF and its affiliated stations, including WCAP, throughout the East and middle West, will be a "jollification" for the artists who will present it. "The Golden Wedding" is a favorite with the Everday artists.

Good Jobs

are not hard to find when you use The Post's Situations Wanted column in searching for them. Some of the best concerns in the city turn invariably to The Post when in need of competent help.

RADIO PROGRAMS

SUNDAY, MAY 9.
LOCAL STATIONS.
All Programs Eastern Standard Time.

NAL—Navy Yard Station, Washington (2,050 Meters Telegraph C. W.)
11:55 a. m. and 10 p. m.—Time signals, ship orders, naval press news (I. C. W. tube).

WCAP—Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. (469)
11 a. m.—Service from Christ Episcopal church of Washington, the Rev. Calvert E. Buck, pastor; commemorating the 131st anniversary of the founding of the church. A new chancel window will be dedicated to the Mothers of the church.
2:30 p. m.—Special exercises for Mothers' day at Arlington cemetery, Arlington, Va., broadcast jointly with Station WEAF New York. Program: Invocation, Rev. James Montgomery, chaplain of the House of Representatives; Mrs. H. H. McClure, national president of the American War Mothers, introduces Mrs. Lindley Hadley, president of the Congressional club; Mrs. Lindley Hadley introduces the master of ceremonies, the Vice President, Gen. Dawes; music, Army band; vocal solo; address, "Our Mothers," by James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor; music, Marine band; address, speaker from the congressional group of World War Veterans; music, Navy band; "Mother o' Mine," sung by Representative Woodrum, accompanied by Army band.
4 p. m.—Service from Bethlehem chapel, Washington cathedral, the Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, bishop of Washington, will preach.
6:20 to 8:15 p. m.—Special musical program from the Capitol theater, New York city, Maj. Edward Bowes, directing.
8:15 to 8:45 p. m.—"Atwater Kent Half-Hour," from New York city.

DISTANT STATIONS.

KDKA—Pittsburgh (309)
10 a. m.—Church service.
3 p. m.—Organ recital by Dr. Charles Heinroth, director of music, Carnegie institute.
3:45 p. m.—Vesper service.
5:10 p. m.—Children's period.
5:30 p. m.—Dinner concert played by the KDKA Little Symphony orchestra.
6:15 p. m.—Baseball scores.
6:20 p. m.—Chimes from the Calvary Episcopal church, Pittsburgh.
6:45 p. m.—Church service of the First United Presbyterian church.

KFI—Los Angeles (467)
10 a. m.—Ensemble.
10:30 p. m.—Trio.
11 p. m.—Organ.
12 p. m.—Orchestra.
1 a. m.—Music.

KFUO—St. Louis (545)
10:15 p. m.—Talk and octet.

KOA—Denver (322)
9:45 p. m.—Church.

KTHS—Hot Springs (375)
10 p. m.—Music.
11 p. m.—Orchestra.

KYW—Chicago (336)
8 p. m.—Evening club, speaker.
9:30 p. m.—Classical.
11 p. m.—Weather.

WBAL—Baltimore (246)
7:30 to 8 p. m.—Orchestra.

WBAP—Fort Worth, Tex. (476)
6 to 7 p. m.—Sacred music.
10:30 p. m.—Dance.

WBBM—Chicago (266)
6 to 7 p. m.—Tea orchestra.
9 to 11 p. m.—Tenor.

WBZ—Springfield, Mass. (333)
6 p. m.—Music.
7 p. m.—Music clubs.

WAIU—Columbus, Ohio (294)
7 to 8 p. m.—Dinner hour.

WCAU—Philadelphia (275)
5 to 10:15 p. m.—Program.

WCX—Detroit (517)
8:15 p. m.—Services.

WEAF—New York (492)
7:20 to 10:15 p. m.—Same as WCAP above.

WQJ—Chicago (448)
9 p. m.—Orchestra.

WENR—Chicago (266)
6 to 7 p. m.—Evening hour.
9:30 p. m.—Popular.

WEMC—Berrin Springs, Mich. (286)
9:15 p. m.—Studio.
9:25 p. m.—Sermon.
9:50 p. m.—Choir.

WFBL—Syracuse (252)
9:15 p. m.—Choir.
10 p. m.—Sermon.

WFBG—Altoona (278)
6 p. m.—Trio.
7:30 p. m.—Church.
10:30 p. m.—Weather.

WFI—Philadelphia (395)
4:30 p. m.—Chapel service.

WOR—Buffalo (319)
7:45 p. m.—Central Presbyterian.
9:15 p. m.—Same as WCAP.

WGBS—New York (316)
9:30 p. m.—Grand opera.
10:30 p. m.—Musicale.

WGY—Schenectady (380)
6:30 p. m.—Chimes.
7 p. m.—Church.
8 p. m.—Orchestra.
9 p. m.—Violin.

WHAM—Rochester (278)
9:30 p. m.—Y. M. C. A.

WHAR—Atlantic City (275)
10:45 a. m.—Services.
2:15 p. m.—Recital.
2:45 p. m.—Sermon.
7:50 p. m.—Baptist.
9 p. m.—Ensemble.

WHO—Des Moines (526)
8:30 p. m.—Band.
12 p. m.—Orchestra.

WHT—Chicago (286)
5:30 to 10:30 p. m.—Concert.

WIP—Philadelphia (508)
4 p. m.—Gospel mission.
7:15 p. m.—Trinity church.
9:30 p. m.—Orchestra.

WJAZ—Chicago (322)
8 to 10 p. m.—Spanish garden.

WJJD—Mooseheart, Ill. (370)
5 to 6 p. m.—Orchestra.

WJZ—New York (455)
6:50 p. m.—Services.
7 p. m.—Bakelite Hour.
8 p. m.—Orchestra.
10 p. m.—Violinist.

WKRC—Cincinnati (326)
7:45 p. m.—Church.
11 p. m.—Classical.
12:15 a. m.—Virginians.

WLIT—Philadelphia (395)
2 p. m.—Music.
6:30 p. m.—Organ.
7 p. m.—Orchestra.
8 p. m.—Music.

WLW—Cincinnati (423)
8:30 p. m.—Presbyterian service.
9:30 p. m.—Concert.

WLWL—New York (288)
7 p. m.—Paulist program.

WMAK—Buffalo, N. Y. (266)
7:30 p. m.—Tabernacle.

WMCA—New York (341)
6 p. m.—Program.
7 p. m.—Orchestra.
8:15 to 9:30 p. m.—Program.

WPG—Atlantic City (300)
3:15 p. m.—Organ recital.
4:15 p. m.—Community vocal and instrumental recital.
8 p. m.—News flashes.
8:15 p. m.—Concert orchestra.
9 p. m.—Organ recital.

WREO—Lansing, Mich. (286)
8 p. m.—Church.

WSAI—Cincinnati (326)
8:45 p. m.—Chimes.
9 p. m.—Sermonette.
9:15 p. m.—Same as WCAP.

WSUI—Iowa City (484)
9:15 p. m.—Hymns.

WSWS—Chicago (276)
7 to 8:30 p. m.—Service.

WTAM—Cleveland (389)
7 p. m.—Orchestra.
8 p. m.—Program.

WWJ—Detroit (353)
7:20 p. m.—Same as WCAP.

WRC WILL BROADCAST COMMERCE DINNER TALKS

Owen D. Young and Julius M. Barnes Among Speakers Tomorrow Night.

SHOP BAND WILL PLAY

Stations WJZ and WRC will broadcast the sixth annual dinner of the American section of the International Chamber of Commerce from the Hotel Mayflower at 10 o'clock tomorrow night. Owen D. Young will preside at the dinner, and two of the most important speakers will be Sir Josiah C. Stamp, the British economist, and Julius M. Barnes, president of the American National Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Young has maintained an active and leading part in international mercantile affairs. As chairman of the board of directors of the General Electric Co. and the Radio Corporation of America, he has been an outstanding figure in American commerce. He participated with Vice President Dawes in the international debt conference.

Julius M. Barnes comes from the wheat-growing belt of the middle West, and for many years was identified with the exportation of wheat and prominent in the fight for inland water ways. During the war he served as president of the United States Food Administration Grain Corporation, and was decorated by foreign governments for his services. He is now president of the American Chamber of Commerce.

Josiah C. Stamp, British economist, is one of the financial leaders of his country.

The Bakelite hour broadcast by station WJZ at 8 o'clock tonight will present Verdi's opera "La Traviata," "The Castaway." The cast will be headed by Piro Paci, the conductor, and will include Lucille Baner, soprano; Julia Oliveri, tenor; Joseph Royer, barytone, and Foster Miller, bass. The chorus will be composed of Marion Ross, Mrs. D. Manley Howard Gilbert and Foster Miller. The opera will be sung in Italian.

A special train equipped with sleeping cars and diners will bring the Reading Shop band to WJZ's studio for their concert to be broadcast at 9 o'clock tomorrow night. The train will await the termination of the concert and return the members of the band to Reading, their home town.

U. S. Delegate Named For Power Conference

President Coolidge has designated O. C. Merrill, executive secretary of the Federal power commission, to attend the special session of the World Power Conference at Basle, Switzerland, as the representative of the United States.

The conference is to be held from August 31 to September 12, simultaneously with the International Exhibition for Inland Navigation. As a representative of the United States, which produces and uses more than 50 per cent of all electrical energy produced in the world, Mr. Merrill will have an important part in the conference. The purpose of this international organization, which was created in London in 1924, is to obtain information and data concerning the industrial and economic source of power, national and international.

LIGHTS AS JAIL GUARDS.

Sheriff Praises New Plan—Adapted to Protect Banks.

Flood lighting of jails and banks for protection purposes is one of the newest methods of utilizing electricity. Following the escape of a prisoner from the Bergen County jail at Hackensack, N. J., recently, Sheriff Nimmo took up the question of flood-lighting the jail with the lighting department of the local electric company, and later was successful in getting an authorization for this lighting from the board of freeholders. Twelve 500-watt flood-lighting projectors were installed on the jail, and the sheriff was so pleased with the result he wrote to the division agent that the new equipment was invaluable.

Banks, too are utilizing the flood-light for protection at night. The Bank of Bogota and the Greenville Bank and Trust Co., have recently had powerful lights of this nature installed.

Sees Housekeeping Revolution.

Electricity in the home gives the modern woman more freedom than half a dozen housemaids, asserts Frances Richmond, a Kansas woman whose experience in directing welfare work in New York, Boston and other cities of the East gives weight to her convictions.

"Electricity," she says, "has revolutionized housekeeping and done away with drudgery in the modest home of ordinary circumstances."

STRICTLY FEMININE

An Article of Interest to Women

By ETHEL FULWOOD

Dear Marie: How I envy you the thrill you must be having, learning to drive your first automobile. But, believe me, Marie Ampere, you can find more things to worry about than a mother with three daughters wanting to go to the movies. There you are, with hard times behind you, and John on friendly terms with Old Man Prosperity, and boasting a better automobile to begin with than we can afford as our third one. You are now worried because if you and John take the kiddies out for long week-end rides, you don't know how you will be able to find time to serve your family good, wholesome meals. Oh, delicatessen, where is thy sting!

Of course, as you say, housekeeping and meal getting are important, but so, too, are fresh air, sunshine and opportunity for play and relaxation. And there you are. But cheer up! Where there is a will, there is a way. Just to save you the trouble of overexercising yours, let me present you with the feminine automobile enthusiast's cooking and housekeeping solution, which is, my dear, to do it electrically.

In fact, I have often thought that these electrical conveniences, particularly the meal-getting ones, should be purchased together with the family's first automobile. So as not to confuse you, let me explain how I manage a Sunday motor trip and still continue to exert a strong tug at the heartstrings of the male contingent of our well-fed family.

What, with the servant question, our income and everything, Ned was bound that I should have as much help from electricity as he could manage to provide for me. That's why we have an electric fireless cooker. I know you are thinking that you can't be always giving John and the children boiled things, but that's where you are a little previous. The fact is, that this cooker of ours not only boils everything boilable, but also roasts, bakes cakes and pies and even broils—and actually makes the most delicious potted foods you ever tasted. Indeed, my dear, it has seemed at times, as I once mentioned to Ned, to possess something akin to human intelligence. He said that the manufactures of the cookers ought to sue me for slander, unless I could prove that I didn't mean the brand of human intelligence that we paid for the last time our car was overhauled.

Last Friday afternoon the Mothers club had a meeting and it was my turn to take the bunch from our block down to the Inn in our car, which also carried with it the responsibility of bringing them back to their respective doorsteps in time to prepare food for their lords and masters. Just to show you what I mean about the cooker, I knew I would be late getting back; so had to plan accordingly. Instead of relying on chops or steak, which is a mighty expensive meat for my "crowd," I bought a shoulder of veal, stuffed it, prepared the vegetables and put everything into the cooker.

Then I switched on the current to full for long enough to brown the roast and heat the cooker. Just before leaving I turned the heat to low and set the automatic switch to turn off the current entirely an hour later. From that time on the food continued to cook slowly in the stored heat until I returned at 5 o'clock.

Do you get my point? I don't know how the other women managed, although one or two mentioned their menus for that evening, and I am sure that they and their families had my sympathy. Think of it, Marie! My dinner was done to a turn, and ready to serve the moment I got home. All I had to do was make the gravy and set the table.

As for the dessert, if I am going to have a rice or some other kind of cooked pudding, I usually cook it in the cooker, together with the meat and vegetables, but in separate pots, you know. If pie is the order of the day, I bake this first, or if the pie is of the kind that can be served hot, I frequently bake it in the cooker after the other food has been taken out and the cooker has been reheated a little. During the warm months we generally made our salad serve as a dessert, or, before we had the electric refrigerator, perhaps have some fresh fruit.

But now since we have had our electric refrigerator, we are just reveling in frozen desserts—biscuit tortoni, nesselrode pudding, a mousse, and so on. What a joy it is not to have to bother about ordering ice—and cleaning up after it has been "dripped" in! Last summer we were all set to motor to the beach one Saturday morning and have a clambake with some friends, and we arrived two hours after the others because we had to sit around fussing and fuming until the ice was delivered.

I think you told me that your refrigerator is built right into the house, but you can easily have an electric refrigerating unit installed, you know. You'll love it. It will be really a small cold storage plant right in your house; and now that you have your car you will be able to cruise around and buy a week's supply of vegetables and things where you can get them cheap.

Meanwhile, tell John about the cooker first—it doesn't cost so much. When he recovers from that, take him to look at an electric refrigerator—a unit for your ice box, I mean. They have such marvelous salesmen that if John can wiggle his way between you and the sales contract, well—he'll be squeezed so thin he won't be able to swallow his resentment at the trick you've played him without it showing.

I intended to tell you about our table electrical appliances, too—how we cook breakfast right in the breakfast nook without once going near the range; but it's time to drive to the station to meet Ned; so must let it go till next time.

Lovingly, LOUISE.

U. S. Kitchen Without Bed Amazes Europe

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—An up-to-date American kitchen on view at the Ideal Home exhibition in London attracted much attention from continental visitors because there was no bed in it.

In Poland, Russia, Denmark, Sweden and other countries, the bed for the cook is a most important adjunct to most kitchens. Visitors from these countries plied numerous questions relative to sleeping arrangements under the circumstances.

ELECTRICITY CALLED BOOSTER OF WAGES

General Electric's President Makes Statement After 11-Year Survey.

Electricity has increased the worker's capacity to earn, according to Gerald Swope, president of the General Electric Co. In recent comment on a survey of the company's largest factory, which is at Schenectady and which employs 21,000, Mr. Swope traced how man first utilized animal power, then mechanical power, and then electrical power. The survey on which Mr. Swope based his remarks covers the twelve years from 1914 to 1925, inclusive.

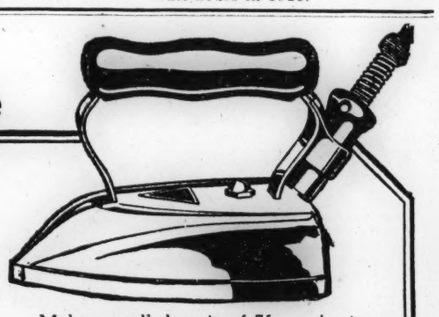

"During this period the cost of living increased about 68 per cent," he said, "while the average earnings of the workers (not the hourly rate, but the actual dollars they received each week) increased 107 per cent—in other words, more than doubled.

"Let us assume that the average earnings in 1914 were $20 per week and the average cost of living was $18 per week, leaving a margin over and above the cost of living of $2 per week, or 11 per cent. In 1925 the average income would be increased 107 per cent, to $41.40 per week, while the cost of living would have increased 68 per cent, to $30.24, laving a margin of $11.16 per week, or 37 per cent over and above the cost of living.

"In this same period the electric power consumed in this plant, much of which is purchased from a public utility company operating hydro-electric plants, has more than doubled—from 45,000,000 kilowatt hours in 1914 to 93,000,000 kilowatt hours in 1925.

Special Offer for a limited time

$1.00 for your old iron!

To introduce this better way of ironing to more women in this vicinity, we will allow a credit of $1.00 for any iron, irrespective of kind or condition, on the purchase of an

"American Beauty" ELECTRIC IRON
The best iron made

Make a small deposit of 75c. and enjoy ironing while paying the balance in small payments of

65c. per month
With your light bill.

Potomac Electric Appliance Company
14th and C Sts., Northwest Phone Main 10,000

MOTHERS' DAY SERVICE WILL BE BROADCAST

Arlington Speeches and Music Honoring Occasion to Be Put on Air.

Mother's day services from the amphitheater at Arlington, Va., will be broadcast this afternoon by stations WCAP, Washington, and WEAF, New York.

Vice President Dawes will preside, Secretary of Labor Davis will be the principal speaker. "Our Mothers" will be his subject. Solos will be sung by Queena Mario of the Metropolitan Opera company and Clifton A. Woodrum. "The singing congressman from Virginia."

The United States Marine band and the Army and Navy bands will play appropriate selections.

The two-hour program starts at 2:30 p. m. eastern standard time. The invocation will be pronounced by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery, chaplain of the House of Representatives. Mrs. H. H. McClure, national president of American war mothers, will introduce Mrs. Lindley Hadley, president of the congressional club, who will present the vice president.

Queena Mario will sing "Songs My Mother Taught Me," accompanied by the Marine band. Representative Woodrum will sing "Mother o' Mine," accompanied by the Army band. There will also be an address by a member of the congressional group of World War veterans.

The first of the Atwater Kent summer radio concerts, directed by Allen McQuhae, popular Irish tenor, and featuring the Atwater Kent radio orchestra under the direction of Nicholas Beresowsky, will be broadcast at 8:15 tonight from Station WEAF, WCAP and seven connected stations.

McQuahe first sang in the Atwater Kent Hour last November, followed by radio concerts in the West, in keeping with Mr. Kent's plan to give all sections opportunity to hear the world's greatest artists.

Electric Locomotive On Remarkable Trip

Recently an oil-electric locomotive journeyed from the shores of Lake Erie across the full length of the Atlantic seaboard, drawing behind it a 400-ton train of freight cars, a total distance of 537 miles.

The locomotive that did this was a 100-ton machine purchased by the Long Island railroad for terminal switching service in New York city. It was recently turned out of the Erie Works of the General Electric Co., after being completely outfitted with motors, generators and other electric equipment of G-E manufacture. The body and running gear had been made by the American Locomotive Co., while its two oil engines, to supply power to the generators, came from the factories of the Ingersoll Rand Co. of Phillipsburg, N. J.

RADIO MANUFACTURERS TO MEET IN CONVENTION

Greatest Gathering in History of Industry to Be Held in Atlantic City.

The greatest gathering of radio interests in the history of the industry will take place at the Ambassador hotel, Atlantic City, N. J., the week beginning May 10, under the auspices of the Radio Manufacturers association and associated radio trades organizations. Among the organizations which will be represented at the conferences extending over the week are: Radio Manufacturers association, National Radio Trade association, National Writers association, National Association of Broadcasters, National Farm Radio council, Broadcast Listeners Association of America, Radio Magazine Publishers association and international radio week committee.

Joint sessions between all of the organizations will take place daily with speakers delivering addresses on subjects vital to the radio industry and to the radio listeners. Among these speakers are Maj. Herbert H. Frost, president of the Radio Manufacturers association; Maj. Gen. C. McK. Saltzman, chief signal officer of the United States army; Powel Crosley, jr., chairman of the international radio week committee; Dr. E. W. White, member of the national committee of the relations of electricity to agriculture, on the "Magnitude of the Radio Farm Market and How to Reach It;" Henry W. Shaw, president of the National Radio Trade association; L. H. D. Weld, research director for Swift & Co., on "Problems and Methods of Distribution;" Paul Klugh, executive chairman of the National Association of Broadcasters; H. H. DeMott, president of the Radio Magazine Publishers association; G. L. Noble, National Farm Radio council; Harry LaMertha, president of the Radio Writers association; Jacob M. Arvey, chairman of the Chicago radio commission, on "The Municipality in Radio," and W. H. Lynas, member of the Grand council of Radio Manufacturers and Merchandisers of Great Britain, on "Radio Conditions in Foreign Fields."

KFWO to Broadcast Insurance Program

A war risk insurance program will be broadcast at 10 p. m., Eastern standard time, over KFWO at Avalon, Santa Catalina island broadcasting station.

This station operates on 250-watt power, wave length 211 meters. Due to the peculiar location of this station, it is easily heard in all parts of the United States. The program will consist partly of topics on government insurance and other matters of interest to former service men, but the greater part of the time will be taken up with a diversified entertaining program.

Radio Broadcast Station WMAL

M. A. Leese Co.
720 11th St. N.W.

A RADIO FOR EVERY PURSE

The old pipe. . . a good book, and a Radio from Leese are great companions these days. We have a Radio Set at the price you want to pay.

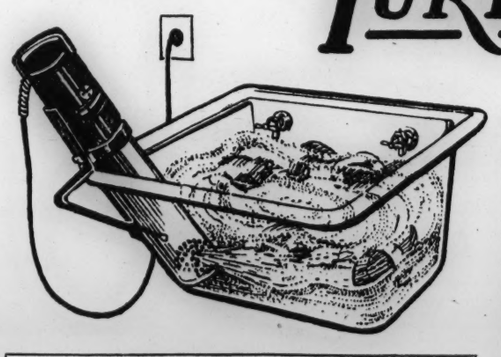

R. C. A., Crosley, Fada, Magnavox, Atwater Kent and other standard sets we carry.

CONVENIENT TERMS

Wash by electricity in any tub with

TURBAX

"Think of the convenience"

Now—wash day becomes a joy.

What a revelation to see your clothes being washed in your own tub, so quickly, so thoroughly, by a machine so utterly simple!

TURBAX is the working unit that makes your tub a washing machine. It drives a cleansing jet of sudsy water through every mesh of fabric. No mechanical part touches the clothes and the most delicate or filmy garments are safe.

Thousands of busy housewives and mothers are turning to TURBAX. Thousands are already enjoying its convenience.

You deserve one too.

Telephone now—
for a demonstration in your own home with your own things. You will not be obligated.

These well-known laboratories endorse TURBAX

Compare these advantages

Cheaper, but more durable.
Costs half as much as most washers, yet lasts a life time.

Smaller, but more powerful.
Weighs only 21 lbs. and takes up no more room than a vacuum cleaner, yet produces twice as much washing action as an ordinary washer.

Simpler, but more versatile.
Has only two bearings, no gears, bolts or drums to get out of order, yet washes every type of fabric and rinses as well.

Easier, but more efficient.
Works right in your own tub without filling, draining and cleaning a separate receptacle. It saves the clothes because no moving part touches them.

Quicker, but more thorough.
Cleans a tub full of clothes in 10 minutes and they come out cleaner.

TURBAX ELECTRIC CLOTHES WASHER REG. U.S. PAT OFF.

NATIONAL ELECTRICAL SUPPLY CO.
1328-1330 New York Ave. N. W.
Phone Main 6800 Washington, D.C.

Fill in This Coupon and Mail Today

National Electrical Supply Co.
1330 N. Y. Ave., Washington, D. C.

Kindly send me full information on the Turbax Electric Clothes Washer.

Name.....

Address.....

JAPAN LEADS WORLD IN ELECTRIC LIGHTING

Water Power in Abundance Supplies Needs of Homes and Factories.

NEW STATION IS ERECTED

Japan, according to electrical authorities, leads all other countries of the world in the proportion of its houses which are equipped with facilities for electric lighting. Practically all of Japan's factories, and especially the large ones, are electrically operated. Japan is turning its water power, of which there is an abundance, into electric energy, which it distributes throughout the populous areas.

The Toho Electric Power Co. is one of the superpower projects of Japan, being an amalgamation of a large number of power producing companies, the individual efficiency of which has been increased by the consolidation. Most of the plants are hydro-electric, but some are steam, which helps to conserve the water supply, a matter of particular importance when a dry season reduces the volume of impounded waters.

The most recent large station to be built is that at the city of Nagoya, which lies in a large manufacturing district. This central station is located about 5 miles outside of the city, on the shore of the Mie bay, where it is conveniently accessible to boats delivering coal and where cooling water is available from the sea. The huge new six-story building is of steel frame and reinforced concrete, especially built to render it safe from earthquakes.

When the station is finally completed it will have a capacity of approximately 140,000 kilowatts. The first turbine generator, which has a capacity of one-fourth of this, has already been installed. It was manufactured at the Schenectady works of the General Electric Co., and is the largest ever to have been shipped from one country to another. After being built in Schenectady and tested, it was taken to pieces, and shipped in parts to Japan, where it was reassembled in its present home. The reassembling occupied approximately three months.

Electric League Briefs

By N. H. BARNES, Assistant Secretary.

A meeting of the membership committee of the Electric league was held at Harvey's Wednesday noon. W. H. Rogers, C. E. Raymond and L. S. Helm were present. Plans were formulated for approaching several electrical people who aren't, but should be, members of the league.

The membership committee has a comparatively easy job, as there are any number of applicants for membership in the league. Electrical people are beginning to realize that it is essential for them "to belong."

Howard P. Foley recently has brought to the attention of the secretary an article from a speech made by an eminent international banker which, in effect, brings out the fact that bankers in granting loans, investigate an applicant's membership and activity in trade associations. Such membership shows the degree of business ability which the man is displaying in the particular industry in which he is engaged.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Electric league is to be held tomorrow in dining room B of the City club. Several reports are to be made which are of importance and deep interest to the electrical field in Washington. President L. T. Souder is happy that at nearly all executive committee meetings the attedance of the representatives of the various groups is around 100 per cent. This is not occasional, but steady, diet, and an indication that the electrical people are actively interested in their trade organization in Washington.

Paul A. Davis, secretary of the league, is erecting several houses in the northeast. Although very busy in the capacity of vice president of O. R. Evans & Bro., Inc., lighting fixture dealers, this officer of the league is finding the business of building homes one of keen interest.

The much-looked-forward-to golf tournament of the league is to be held this wek. The match will be played Tuesday at the Indian Spring Golf club. Play will start promptly at 1 p. m., but prior to that, at noon, luncheon will b served to the members. J. D. Mackessy, R. P. Gibson and A. M. Hyler, the committee, have completed all details of arrangements.

A general meeting of all members of the league will be held Thursday at the Potomac Electric Power Co., Fourteenth and C streets northwest. The meeting will be devoted, as have the last two, to important business matters of the league. Attendance so far this year has been high and there is no reason to believe that there will be anything but an increase at this May meeting, and at the other spring and summer meetings to follow.

A recent visit by this humble writer through the display rooms of the E. H. Catlin Fixture Dealers' establishment is a trip to be long remembered. For those who love things of beauty the time taken for such a trip would be well worth while. A trip of the kind would be educational as well as entertaining. Raymond Catlin, a member of the firm, and also its representative in the Electric league, conducted the tour in a very professional and efficient manner. Other members of the league who enjoyed it were John H. Potts and Carl E. Raymond.

Other Fixture Dealer members, Charles D. Kenney, of the Washington Electric Co., and P. A. Davis, of O. R. Evans & Bro., would also be glad to show the wonders of the latest in electrical design for use in homes, stores, churches and offices.

The Electric league has arranged with the Associated Retail Credit Men of Washington, of which the league is a member, to send to all of its active members each a month's copy of its official publication, The Reporter.

The Colony Theater, Georgia avenue and Farragut street, latest of the Crandall-Stanley picture houses, was opened last night in fine style. The electrical equipment is outstanding. It was installed by L. T. Souder, of the Electric league.

ELECTRICITY AIDS LIVING.

Standards Raised, Says President of Brooklyn Concern.

"Electric service, directly and indirectly, has raised the standard of living in America to a point approached nowhere else in the world," says M. S. Sloan, president of the Brooklyn Edison Co. "Our country uses as much energy through the service of its electrical utilities as all the rest of the world put together, and we can see the results around us wherever we go.

"This service is a tremendous leveller of social lines—a potent agency of democracy. It works for the mechanic in his home just as it works for the millionaire, and at the same price. It lights his lamps; it operates all the labor-saving devices his wife requires, and the cost of this to him in a year is probably no more than he would spend for tobacco or moving pictures. Yet, out of this electric service he gets comfort, convenience, safety and beauty in his home."

ELECTRICITY PREFERRED TO WATER IN THE HOME

Survey of Nearly 500,000 Houses in New York Reveals Interesting Fact.

87 PER CENT AGAINST 75

Results of a recent survey of city homes, conducted by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, has revealed the interesting fact that water is piped into approximately 75 per cent of the nearly half a million homes investigated, and electric service is installed in 87 per cent. The use of gas, natural or artificial, is also widespread in cities. Having finished the investigation of city homes, the federation is about to begin a survey of rural districts.

To an extent little realized by even those who use it most, electricity has come to supplant hand labor and the hired servant in the homes of America. Difficulty in obtaining well-trained household servants, the generally high cost of buying and maintaining a home, the increasing tendency of American women to take on responsibilities outside the home, thus decreasing their time for household work, and the ingenious contrivances furnished by electrical supply companies, all have combined to transform the American home.

Cooking is accomplished by either gas or electricity in the most compact of kitchenettes, where everything is within reach. Dishwashing, sweeping, the family washing and a score of other services are performed by the silent, tireless power that comes from the turbines and dynamos. Housekeeping is reduced to its simplest form by the force of falling water or expanding steam, harnessed for household use.

It is a new world that is emerging out of the shell of the old, as ancient drudgeries are banished and wide vistas of happiness and usefulness for human beings are revealed. Never since the first woman learned to spin and cook have women been so free as now, and the basis of their liberty is the wizardry of science in gas chemistry and electrical engineering.

POINTERS ON PICKING LIGHTING FIXTURES

Task Should Not Be Approached Lightly, but After Thorough Study.

HOUSE DESIGN IMPORTANT

By SUSAN ELLEN DODGE.

Selecting lighting fixtures for a new house or one that is to be renovated is more of a responsibility and less of a pleasure than appears at first, and no one should shoulder it unless acquainted at least with the rudiments of what constitutes a good choice of fixtures.

Because mistakes can so easily be made, I am here giving a few pointers as guideposts, which I hope may prevent errors. An electric lighting fixture should never be chosen as an independent unit, just because it happens to appeal to you, but must be mentally fitted into the house and the room where it is to be placed. So one ought to make a list of the guideposts to insure accuracy.

The first guidepost ought to be the house—its design. The second, the size, shape and height of the room into which the fixture or fixtures are going. Third, the surface of the wall and its color, and fourth the furnishings of the rooms themselves.

Of course, it is relatively simple to chose fixtures for the house adhering to one period of architectural design, for there are loads of beautiful "period" fixtures on the market and one is certain to be right. The rub, however, comes where one is selecting electric lighting fixtures for a house of hybrid design. In this instance, more than in any other, the points given above should be considered. Then, in addition to design, the type of construction of the house must receive attention. That is, whether it is brick, stucco, frame or rubble masonry.

MAN SAYS ELECTRIC HEATER SAVED SIGHT

Doctor Recounts Strange Experience in Opthalmology Journal.

The dry heat of an ordinary electric radiant heater enabled Dr. A. P. Schultz, of Brooklyn, to save himself from blindness that was settling upon him swiftly and painfully. He told the story of this extraordinary service by his copper-reflector bathroom heater in an article printed in the American Journal of Ophthalmology.

After he had been diving in a swimming pool he acquired an eye disease called iridokeratitis, which caused intense pain and inflammation and was robbbing him of his sight. He tells of his various efforts to gain relief with hot compresses, steam treatments and powerful drugs. Nothing remedied the condition, and the only way he could get relief from the intolerable pain was by swallowing astonishing quantities of drugs.

Finally Dr. Schultz thought of his heater in the bathroom. The hot diffused light from it, falling on his forehead, temples and eyelids at a range so short as to cause his hair to scorch, did what three eye surgeons had failed to do. After periodic treatments with this heat for weeks he says he was cured.

ELECTRIC HOME-HEATING TEST COSTING $175,000

Westinghouse Co. Building Whole Residence Development for Experiment.

EMPLOYES AIDED BY PLAN

In the new $175,000 housing development of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. planned for its employes, the homes will have the most complete electrical equipment ever installed as standard design. It will include electricity for heating, as well as for cooking and for use with other appliances. Twenty-five of these homes will be ready for occupation before September.

These homes will serve as test houses and will be sold to engineers of the company, who will conduct experiments to develop data on electric house heating. The tests will be made with the cooperation of the Duquesne Light Co. and the Armstrong Cork Co. of Pittsburgh—the latter to furnish cork insulation, a feature which is said to make a 30 per cent increase in the efficiency of heating equipment in homes, due to the insulation of the inside heat from the outside cold. The insulation works equally well, it is said, in keeping the homes cool in summer, when it is desired to prevent heat entering the buildings.

Five, six and seven rooms, all brick and brick and shingle houses will be built in the new plan, the average cost to employes of the company being about $7,000 each, including the electrical equipment.

This new development marks the latest step in the Westinghouse program, which to date has included the building of 600 homes for its employes, the investment necessary being about $4,000,000.

USE OF KILOWATT HOURS CALLED BUSINESS INDEX

Edison Official Would Have It Adopted as Gauge of Prosperity.

OLD BAROMETERS FAULTY

The use of the kilowatt-hour consumption of electrical energy has been proposed as a new barometer of business conditions. Economists, business executives, investors and others deeply concerned with the future trend of business have become impressed with the inability of any combination of the old barometers to interpret accurately the immediate trend of business, let alone forecast the future trend, says Arthur Williams, vice president of the New York Edison Co.

Pointing out that the electrical energy consumed in industry is directly in proportion to the amount of work being done, that 75 per cent of all the power used in industry is now supplied by the light and power companies, and that even in the home the consumption of electricity reflects variations in the prosperity of the home owner, Mr. Williams predicted that the kilowatt hour would be accepted as one of the most reliable barometers of commercial and industrial activity.

In terms of electrical energy, Mr. Williams says, there has been no let-up during the first quarter of this year in the remarkable prosperity enjoyed during the last year. He presents figures indicating that the increase in the demand for electrical energy in New York during the last year called for a supply of current sufficient to light the homes of several large American cities, and that new building contracts for electrical service increased 75 per cent over the electrical requirements for new buildings during the previous year.

VISITORS IN WASHINGTON

Looking from the heights of the city toward the towering Washington Monument, find in the line of their vision also the sky-pointing smokestacks of one of the many plants that serve to make Washington one of the most efficiently electrically serviced cities in the country.

Many of these visitors, you may be surprised to learn, take care to include the Pepco Power plants, at 14th and C Streets, at Benning and elsewhere, as points of call in their sightseeing itineraries.

Nor will our welcome, be assured, be limited to visitors. We invite the closer acquaintance of all Washington. Come and see, we suggest, as you find convenient opportunity, power in the making—

The power that lights your way for you both in and out of doors, that serves you in a thousand household utilities and that makes easy and comfortable and time-saving your jaunts about town.

The marvel is that electricity, in Washington, can be marketed at such ennviably easy rates.

POTOMAC ELECTRIC POWER CO.

"Matchless Service"

MAIN TEN THOUSAND

"CORONA" ELECTRIC PERCOLATOR

A Landers, Frary & Clark product sold with our guarantee to make good coffee every day. We modestly call your attention to the remarkable terms at which we are offering this excellent percolator during "Percolator Month."

85¢ DOWN

Balance Payable 85c Monthly on Light Bills for Next 10 Months

Good Coffee Is Made Electrically

THESE CHILLY MORNINGS

(When the Furnace Fire Is Out)

Bring forcibly to mind how gratefully warm and cozy you can be as you sip "Corona" made coffee in the balmy glow of a dependable

ELECTRIC RADIATOR

We have them in different sizes and prices, and a phone call will bring one to your home at once.

ELECTRIC APPLIANCES MAKE CHOICE GIFTS

POTOMAC ELECTRIC APPLIANCE CO.,

14th and C Streets N.W. Main Ten Thousand

This Company Stands Behind Every Appliance It Sells

Consider the Part That Fixtures Play

The satisfactory interior decoration of your home—from the points of view of both beauty and utility—is largely dependent upon your wisely discriminating selection of electric lighting fixtures, their well-chosen location and the convenience of outlet distribution.

Go No Farther Than to the Guide List at Your Right

For Competent Counsel, Worthy Workmanship, Fitting Fixtures and Assurance of Economical Expenditure.

Served by any member of the Electric League—each member experienced and expert in the highly specialized requirements of his particular line—your home will be sure to measure up, in electrical fixtures and other equipment, to the exacting expectations of the most critical inspection.

THE ELECTRIC LEAGUE

Of Washington, D. C.

This space contributed by the following members of The Electric League of Washington, D. C.:

CONTRACTORS

ACME ELECTRIC CO. Lincoln 5931. 1155 Neal St. N.E.
EDWARD R. BATEMAN Columbia 3641. 1404 Girard St. N.W.
BIGGS & KIRCHNER Columbia 2061-6472. 1730 Euclid St. N.W.
CHARLES E. BUSEY North 5855 1820 37th St. N.W.
CARROLL P. CARPENTER North 8349. 1313 Lawrence St. N.E.
DELTA ELECTRIC CO. Main 5907. Rear 1217 E St. N.W.
THE HOWARD P. FOLEY CO. West 2064. 2020 I St. N.W.
E. C. GRAMM North 10479. 1909 14th St. N.W.
HEBBARD & MACKESSY North 2933. 170 You St. N.E.
R. L. McDORMAND Adams 1711. 404 Aspen St. N.W.
RICHARD A. MURPHY Lincoln 9404. 1342 B St. S.E.
L. T. SOUDER Lincoln 3771. 839 Florida Ave. N.E.

CONTRACTOR-DEALERS

CAPITAL ELECTRIC CO. North 9502. 1829 14th St. N.W.
CARL W. DAUBER Col. 9714, Adams 1124. 2320 18th St. N.W.
EDWARD C. ERNST North 1355. 1634 14th St. N.W.
CHARLES H. EVANS Lincoln 288. 625 Pa. Ave. S.E.
CLIFFORD E. GASCH Hyattsville 586. Hyattsville, Md.
RALPH P. GIBSON & CO. Potomac 1528 1405 11th St. N.W.
J. C. HARDING & CO., INC. Franklin 7694. 720 12th St. N.W.
L. L. HAYES Franklin 5338. 1204 18th St. N.W.
JOS. S. REPETTI Lincoln 2271. 330 Pa. Ave. S.E.
E. R. SEAL CO. Columbia 10419. 3213 14th St. N.W.
SILVERBERG ELECTRIC CO. Main 7129. 1009 E St. N.W.
THOMAS ELECTRIC CO. Franklin 8379. 1213 9th St. N.W.
WILLS ELECTRIC CO. Main 5884. 1012 10th St. N.W.

DEALERS

FRIGIDAIRE (DELCO LIGHT CO.) Franklin 7157 1313 New York Ave.
POTOMAC ELECTRIC APPLIANCE CO. Main 10000 14th and C Sts. N.W.
WASHINGTON THEATRE SUPPLY CO. Main 8947. 719 9th St. N.W.

LIGHTING FIXTURES

O. R. EVANS & BROTHER, INC. Franklin 6262. 1328 Eye St. N.W.
WASHINGTON ELECTRIC CO. Franklin 584, Main 1071. 928 Eye St. N.W.

POWER INSTALLATIONS

CENTRAL ARMATURE WORKS, INC. Main 3600. 635 D St. N.W.

WHOLESALERS

CARROLL ELECTRIC CO. Main 7320-7321. 714 12th St. N.W.
DOUBLEDAY-HILL ELECTRIC CO. Main 4080-4081-4082. 715 12th St. N.W.
NATIONAL ELECTRICAL SUPPLY CO. Main 6800. 1330 New York Ave. N.W.
H. C. ROBERTS ELECTRIC SUPPLY CO. Main 790-791-9544. 806 12th St. N.W.

MANUFACTURERS

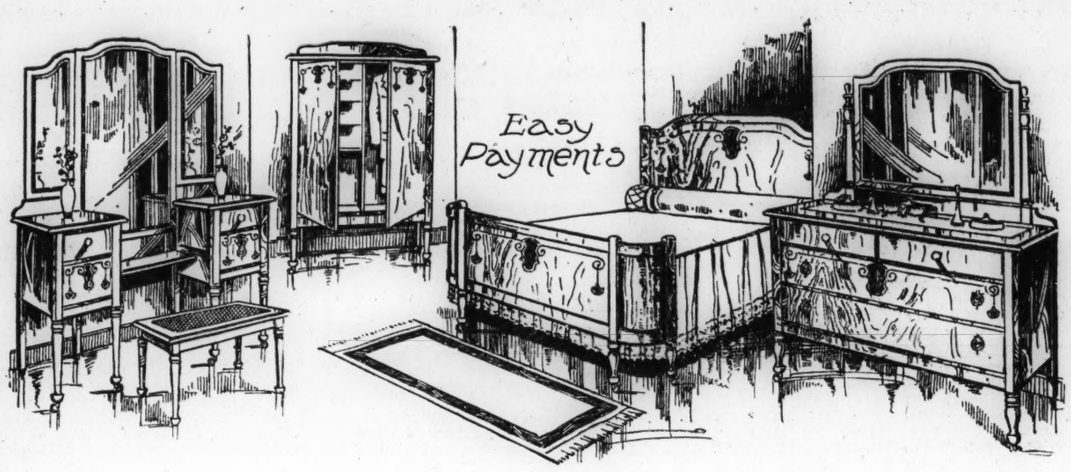

GENERAL ELECTRIC CO. Franklin 3600. 1405 G St. N.W.
THE SHULL CO. West 971. Conduit Road and Eliot St. N.W.
WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC & MFG. CO. Main 8843. 302 Hibbs Building.

ELECTRIC SERVICE

POTOMAC ELECTRIC POWER CO. Main 10000 14th & C Sts. N.W.

The Hub's $125 Suite Sale!

No Added Cost for Credit — On These Advertised Specials

$179 Walnut Bedroom Suite

The style and finish of this charming bedroom group will appeal to the homemaker seeking furniture of distinction at a reasonably low price. Genuine walnut veneer combined with gum—gold line decorated. Two-tone panels.

Bow-foot Bed,
Roomy Chifforobe,
Four-Drawer Vanity Dresser with Mirror

Pay Weekly or Monthly at The Hub

$125

$189 Dining Room Suite

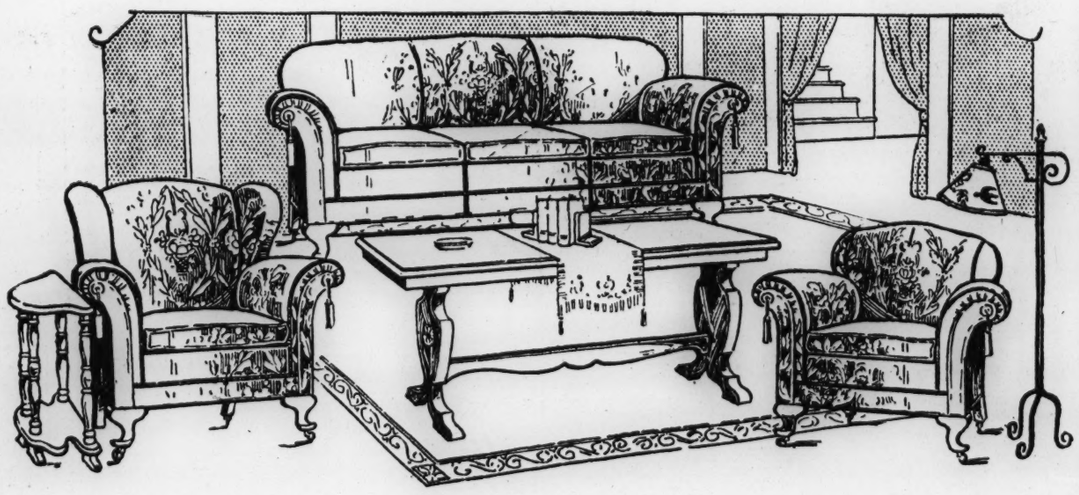

Only great quantity production and big buying power can produce a value like this suite illustrated. A Tudor design suite of ten pieces well constructed and beautifully finished. Of genuine walnut veneer combined with gumwood. Two-tone panels.

Oblong Table,
Buffet, Server,
China Cabinet,
Six Genuine Leather Seat Chairs (five side and one armchair).

Convenient Credit at The Hub

$125

The Hub—These Suites on Easy Credit Terms—$1.50 a Week—The Hub

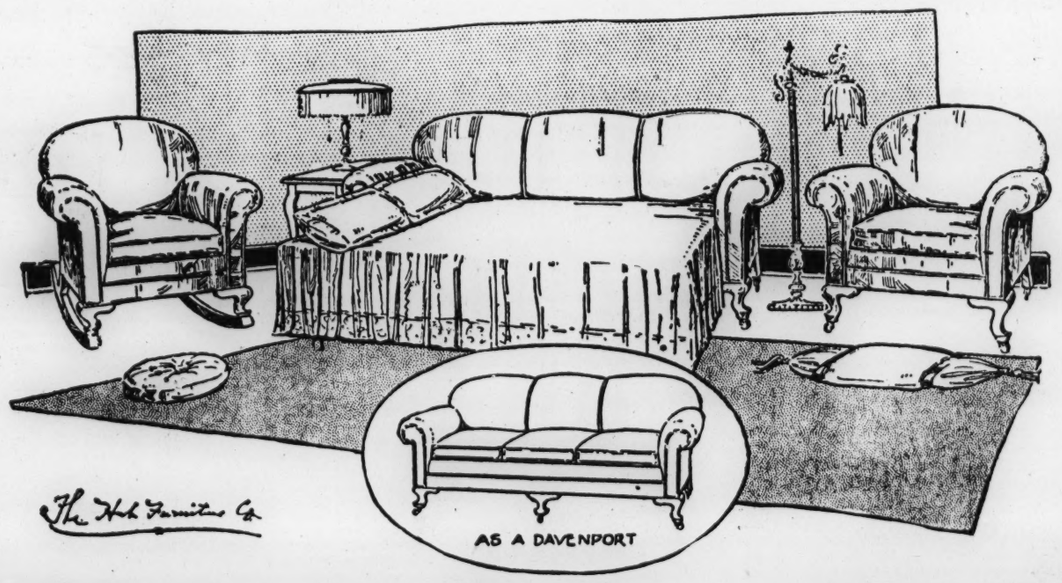

$179 Living Room 10-Pc. Outfit

A complete and pleasing outfit that will make your living room the most "livable" room in the house. The three-piece suite is covered in velour—each piece fitted with loose spring-filled cushions. The other pieces are excellent values.

Three-piece Overstuffed Suite
Mahogany Finish End Table
Mahogany Finish Davenport Table
Metal Bridge Lamp
Room Size Rug
Pair of Book Ends
Table Scarf

Buy at The Hub—Pay As You Earn

$125

$175 Bed-Davenport 3-Pc. Suite

For satisfying comfort and convenience we recommend this splendidly constructed bed-davenport suite as illustrated. Velour upholstery, loose spring-filled cushion seats on chair and rocker—tight seats on bed-davenport.

Luxurious Bed-Davenport,
Fine Big Armchair,
Comfortable Rocker,
A wonderful value

Easy Credit Terms—Pay Later

$125

Three Specially Priced Baby Vehicles

Fiber Reed
Carriage
$18.95

A stylish carriage of fiber, designed with adjustable lined hood, steel gearing and guaranteed rubber tires.

50 Cents
A Week

$4.98

Steel frame folding Cart with rubber-tired wheels.

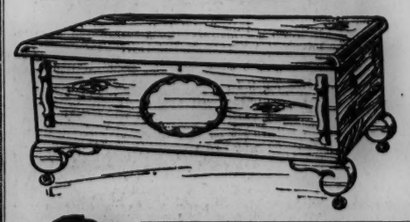

Fiber Reed
Stroller
$11.75

Strongly woven of fiber—hood and body to match, rubber-tired wheels and enameled steel gearing.

To Insure Your Furs and Wool Garments Against Moths

Own a CEDAR CHEST

Prices Begin at $8.95

"Lane" make of aromatic Tennessee Red Cedar, moth-proof, mice-proof and dust-proof.

$1.00 Delivers Any Chest

The HUB.
Seventh & D. sts. N.W.
Washington's Greatest Furniture Store
Cash or Credit

Phonographs—On The Hub's Easy Terms

Cabinet Model

Mahogany finished, with double door—guaranteed motor and improved tone arm.

$39.50

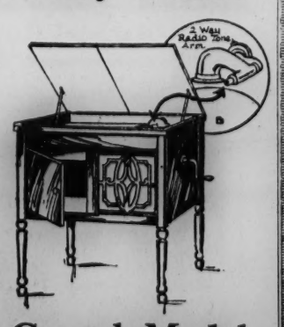

50 Cents
A Week

Genola Talking Machine

$2.98

It's made of metal and plays disc records.

Console Model

A very popular and beautifully made model of imitation mahogany; Radio Cabinet and two-way tone arm.

$49.75

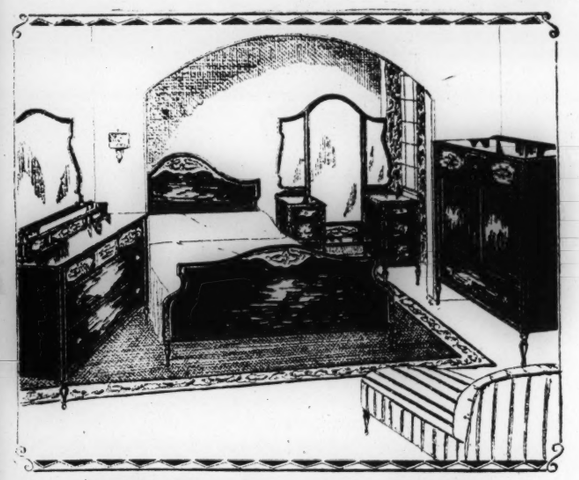

AUTOMOBILES

The Washington Post.

AUTOMOBILES

WASHINGTON: SUNDAY, MAY 9, 1926. A

The HECHT COMPANY'S WASHINGTON AUDITORIUM FURNITURE SALE

$495 Bedroom Suite

Mahogany Veneer $246 and Gumwood

Four-piece suite in a Spanish mahogany finish. Includes big double bed, full-size vanity, large dresser and chifforette. Twin beds, $27.45 extra. Night tables, $14.25. Chairs or benches, $9.38. Exquisite lines and beautiful cabinet work.

Bedroom Suites
1/3 to 1/2 Off

$395—3-piece Suite, Walnut Veneer and Gumwood $229

$289—4-piece Suite, Ivory or green decorated .. $159

$395—4-piece Suite, Walnut Veneer and Gumwood. $236

$388—4-piece Suite, Walnut Veneer and Gumwood. $256

$395—4-piece Suite, Mahogany Veneer and Gumwood..... $273

$395—4-piece Suite, High Lighted effect $246

$269—4-piece Suite, Walnut Veneer and Gumwood. $139

$395—4-piece Suite, Burl Walnut Veneer tops and fronts $221

$298—4-piece Suite, Walnut Veneer and Gumwood. $185

$695—10-piece Suite, Gray Enamel with twin beds $374

$398—3-piece Suite, Walnut Veneer and Gumwood. $229

$596—4-piece Suite, Mahogany Veneer and Gumwood $368

Dining Room Suites
1/3 to 1/2 Off

$449—10-Piece Suite. 72-inch Buffet, Massive lines. Walnut Veneer and Gumwood, $276

$595—10-Piece Suite. English Renaissance. Walnut Veneer and Gumwood, $298

$269—4-Piece Suite. Queen Anne. Walnut Veneer and Gumwood, $159

$149—4-Piece Suite. Walnut Veneer and Gumwood. Shaded effect, $89

$595—10-Piece Suite. Walnut Veneer and Gumwood, $319

$395—10-Piece Suite. Dark Walnut Veneer and Gumwood, $189

$149—6-Piece Breakfast Suite. Of Venetian Oak, $78

$20 Baby Strollers
$9.85

Fiber reed strollers that will keep baby happy and smiling. Adjustable backs and rubber-tired wheels. In choice of 3 colors.

$20 Fiber Reed Strollers $10.45
$24 Fiber Reed Strollers, 2 colors .. $11.65
$35 Fiber Reed Carriages, 4 colors ... $17.80
$39.60 Fiber Reed Carriages $18.80
$46.50 Fiber Reed Carriages $23.20
$60 English Perambulators, leather hoods $28.90
$63 English Perambulators, leather hoods $31.50

$1 Crowfoot Rag Rugs, 69c

250 of them. Size 25x50. Imported rag rugs in hit and miss designs. Blue, rose, tan or green with contrasting borders.

$5.50 Scatter Size Orientals, $2.95

100 Anatolian rugs. Hand woven and vegetable dyed. Brilliant little rugs for any corner of any room in the house.

To get to the Washington Auditorium, take or transfer to cars marked Potomac Park. Or, if more convenient, Washington Railway and Electric Co. bus will take you there, without charge, from our store, F Street Entrance, from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M. Bus makes trips every hour on the hour.

Tomorrow is the LAST DAY!

Doors Open at 8:15 Tomorrow Morning for the Grand Finale!

As you probably heard, The Washington Auditorium has been a busy place. For the past six days we have been selling furniture (at savings of one-half to one-third) almost as fast as we could get it from our warehouses to the Auditorium. . . . As near as we can tell we have about $100,000 worth of furniture left for Tomorrow's Selling. This page lists some of the savings, but there are hundreds of other items of furniture on sale which you will find in the Auditorium that you won't find in this advertisement. . . . This unique sale, as per schedule, will end tomorrow at 6 P. M. We hope before then you will have been one of the many thousand Washingtonians that have shared in its savings.

Furniture Bought Tomorrow at the Washington Auditorium may be bought on The Hecht Co. Furniture Budget Plan.

Living Room Suites
1/3 to 1/2 Off

$179—3-piece Living Room Suite in either Jacquard or cut velour $109

$295 — 2-piece Suite with walnut frame, covered in mohair. $173

$395 — 2-piece Mohair suite with reversible cushions and carved frame. $258

$895—2-piece mulberry mohair suite. Solid walnut frame and down-filled cushions. $589

$595—3-piece living room suite in unique design. Carved frame, $319

$425—2-piece suite—semi-kidney shape with henna tapestry seats in hand brocade effect. $276

$495—3-piece living room suite upholstered with blue linen frieze, moss edging. $298

$419—3-piece suite in massive design. Carved frame, beautifully upholstered $319

$219—3-piece living room suite upholstered in three tone Jacquard velour $143

$295—3-piece mohair suites, dark walnut mohair. Reversible cushions. $200

$249 Bed Davenport Suites

3-Piece Suites $166 Jacquard or Cut Velour

You have never seen a better looking or more comfortable living room suite for such a price. A bed davenport that opens with one easy motion—fitted with high-grade coil springs and complete with pad. Two handsome chairs which you may choose in either cut or Jacquard velour complete the suite.

Separate Bedroom Pieces
1/3 to 1/2 Off

Dressers, vanities, chifforobes, beds—everything to "match up" a new set or complete your old one.

$59.75 Walnut veneer and gumwood dressers, $32.30

$59.75 Walnut veneer and gumwood vanities, $26.40

$47.50 Gray enameled chifforobes, $24.70

$44.50 Gray enameled 42-in. dressers, $24.70

$47.50 Gray enameled chifforobes, $23.65

$65 Gray enameled 50-in. dressers, $39.60

$39.75 Gray enameled 38-in. dressers, $19.60

$59 Walnut veneer and gumwood 40-in. dressers, $29.95

$29.75 Walnut veneer and gumwood semi-vanities, $16.20

$47.50 Walnut veneer and gumwood 38-in. dressers, $23.85

$46.50 Walnut veneer and gumwood chifforettes, $29.95

$56.50 Walnut veneer and gumwood 42-in. dressers, $28.90

$49.75 Fireside Chairs $26.50

Those cozy overstuffed wing chairs with deep spring seats and back that invite you to sit down and enjoy life. Covered in tapestry, cut velours and Jacquard.

Card tables with green leatherette tops and sturdy, dark-finish frames. One to a customer. No C. O. D. or phone or mail orders, $1.39

Convenient folding metal chairs that can be easily carried from place to place, $1.49

Metal camp stools, finished in durable black tone; take up scarcely any room when folded, 69c

23-piece luster tea sets—six cups, six saucers, six plates, tea pot, sugar and creamer, $3.95

Attractive wrought-iron fernery with copper bowl. In natural finish, $1.95

Decorative radio tables in dark finish, very useful and most attractive also, $4.95

New Player Pianos

It is a real achievement to be able to sell fine Player Pianos at such a low price. And payment of $20 cash secures immediate delivery. $298

These Player Pianos are equipped with the latest expression devices. In fine grained mahogany case of Colonial design. Fully guaranteed.

Special Values in This Sale

$16.98 Console Mirrors. Many Styles, $10.95

$72 Fiber Settee. Cretonne Covered, $36

$26 Long Fiber Table. To match settee, $13

$19.75 Junior or Bridge Lamps. Metal base, $11.40

$19.75 Wood finish Metal Beds. Paneled, $9.85

$69.75 Mahogany Veneer Top Gateleg Tables, $29.80

$12.95 Walnut Veneer and Gumwood Night Tables. Shaded, $7.95

$7.95 Decorated End Tables, $5.19

"Sani-Cold" Refrigerator, $16.85

Three-door type in oak case with nickel-plated trimmings. Scientific circulation and sanitary shelves. White enamel lined.

$131 Bohn Refrigerators Slightly Imperfect
$87.50

Porcelain inside and outside, with 11 insulating walls between. Highest type of circulating system.

THE HECHT CO. Washington Auditorium Sale

NEWS OF FRATERNAL ORGANIZATIONS

MASONIC

LODGES.

Monday—Dawson, No. 16, F. C.; Stansbury, No. 24; Joppa, No. 35; Trinity, No. 41.
Tuesday—Federal, No. 1; Acacia, No. 18; Takoma, No. 29.
Wednesday—Stated communication of grand lodge. Communications of all lodges calendared to meet on this date called off.
Thursday—The New Jerusalem, No. 9; George C. Whiting, No. 22.
Friday—St. John's, No. 11, M. M.; Hope, No. 20.
Saturday—Grand lodge school of instruction.

ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS.

Monday—Mount Vernon, No. 3; Hiram, No. 10; Anacostia, No. 12.
Tuesday—Mount Horeb, No. 7; Potomac, No. 8; Woodridge, No. 15.
Wednesday—Washington-Naval, No. 6.
Thursday—Washington, No. 2, Mark; William R. Singleton, No. 14.
Friday—Eureka, No. 4; Capitol, No. 11; Mount Pleasant, No. 13.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR COMMANDERIES.

Monday—Grand commandery.
Tuesday—De Molay, No. 4.
Wednesday—Washington, No. 1.
Thursday—Ascension day services. First Congregational church.

SCOTTISH RITE.

Tuesday—Regular meeting of Evangelist chapter of Rose Croix, 7:30 p. m.; twenty-fourth degree, 8 p. m.

ST. JOHN'S MITE ASSOCIATION.

Wednesday—Regular meeting.

MASONIC AND EASTERN STAR HOME.

This afternoon—Religious services under the auspices of Good Will chapter, No. 36, O. E. S.

EASTERN STAR CHAPTER.

Monday—Temple, No. 13; Columbia, No. 15; Miriam, No. 23.
Tuesday—Electa, No. 2; Bethlehem, No. 7; Friendship, No. 17; Fidelity, No. 19; Lebanon, No. 25.
Wednesday—Naomi, No. 3; Brookland, No. 11; Cathedral, No. 14; Hope, No. 20.
Thursday—William F. Hunt, No. 16; Warren G. Harding, No. 31.
Friday—Takoma, No. 12; Unity, No. 22; Good Will, No. 36.

MASONIC NOTES.

A stated communication of the grand lodge of the District will be held Wednesday evening. Meetings of all lodges calendared for that evening have been called off.

The Masonic field day, conducted for the benefit of the Masonic and Eastern Star home, will be held at the American League baseball park Saturday afternoon, June 19. The proceeds of the field day will be devoted to the construction of the dormitory for children, 45 of whom are now in the home. The general committee of arrangements have prepared an interesting program, which will include a baseball game between the Shrine and the Grotto, as well as a number of other events.

Master Stuart M. Angelo, of St. John's lodge, No. 11, announces the master Mason degree for the communication of that lodge Friday evening, with Senior Warden William B. Milans in the East. The lecture will be given by Past Master Robert A. Daniel, of Scottish Rite fame. Saturday evening St. John's lodge will return the visit of Columbia lodge at Clarendon, Va.

Deputy Grand Master Harry Green, of Virginia, will be the speaker at the communication of the New Jerusalem lodge, No. 9, Thursday evening.

About 150 members and friends of Congress lodge, No. 37, will attend in a body the performance at Keith's Tuesday evening. Milton D. Smith, junior warden of the lodge, is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. The proceeds from the affair will be used to defray the expenses incurred by the lodge for its annual birthday party to be held May 28.

ROYAL ARCH.

High Priest John W. Roth, of Washington chapter, No. 2, announces that the Mark Masters degree will be conferred at the meeting of the chapter Thursday evening with the king, Russell M. Brown, presiding.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

Divine services for the observance of Ascension day will be held under the auspices of the grand commandery, Knights Templar, of the District at First Congregational church, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, D. D., will deliver the sermon. The line of march will move promptly at 7:30 o'clock over the following route: Thirteenth street south to Pennsylvania avenue, east to Tenth street and north to the church. Past Grand Commander William E. Miller, chairman of the committee on arrangements, has promises of more than 800 knights in line. The music will be supplied by the band of Orient commandery, No. 6, and the Grotto band.

The grand commandery will meet in annual conclave tomorrow evening to transact its business and will have as its guest Past Grand Commander Sir Daniel J. Emich, of Maryland, as a representative of the most eminent grand master of Knights Templar of the United States.

SCOTTISH RITE.

The twenty-fourth degree, Prince of the Tabernacle, will be given Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock by the following: Allen L. Colton, John S. Tassin, Melville D. Hensey, Frank E. Koch, Frank M. Roller, William J. Hope, Robert A. Daniel, Charles P. Barrett, Herbert H. Street, Joseph Salomon, Carlton Schenken, Oscar Felker, Q. P. Eddins, R. M. Plake, W. W. Champayne, Roger L. Main, August B. Grant, Harry G. Beach and Ira Shantz.

The twentieth degree, master of all symbolic lodges, was conferred Tuesday evening by Grand Chaplain John C. Palmer and the following past grand masters: Cyrus C. Coombs, Joseph H. Milans, Charles E. Baldwin, J. Claude Keiper, Mark F. Finley, James A. Wetmore, Lem Towers, jr., Augustus B. Coolidge and William G. Henderson.

THE SHRINE.

Illustrious Potentate Charles D. Shackelford announces that events are so shaping themselves that success is assured for the annual field day, June 19, at the Clark Griffith stadium, for the benefit of the Masonic and Eastern Star home. Two teams will contend for supremacy on this occasion. The Shrine team will be under the management of George E. King, assisted by Jack Frye, as team captain, and the Grotto team will be led by Joe Leverton, manager; John T. Skinner, president of the Masters Association of 1926, has been appointed as general chairman of the field day committee. He has obtained the consent of Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune to act as field marshal. Capt. A. J. Brooke will have members of the Sojourners club, comprising Masons who served in the world war, in a uniformed parade. It is expected to have representatives from the cabinet and many men of national distinction present. The program of drills and stunts, it is said, will excel anything hitherto attempted along a fraternal line.

A ceremonial session has been announced by Potentate Shackelford to be held in the auditorium of the Masonic temple, Thirteenth street and New York avenue, Thursday evening, May 27, at 7:30 o'clock. This session has been called in order that a number of eligibles may qualify and participate in the pilgrimage to Philadelphia on June 1, 2, 3, on which dates the imperial council holds its annual session. It is probable that several hundred members of Almas temple will avail themselves of the opportunity to visit the sesquicentennial and be guests of Lu Lu temple, of Philadelphia. A special train has been provided which will leave Washington at midnight, May 31. Returning the train will leave Philadelphia on Thursday night, June 3, at 9 o'clock. Convenient parking space has been arranged for the Pullmans, so that hotel resevations are unnecessary.

Almas temple held a special session Tuesday evening in the new Masonic temple for the purpose of selecting a representative to the Imperial council session at Philadelphia next month. Potentate Shackelford was unanimously elected. He will be accompanied to the Imperial council session by the following representatives: Leonard P. Steuart, F. Lawrence Walker and Arthur E. Cook.

Because of the great influx of visitors en route to and from Philadelphia June 1, Potentate Shackelford is using every effort to make the work of the automobile committee effective. Hoover Zock, who is the chairman, plans to so coordinate the material at his command that the thousands of visiting Shriners will be satisfactorily entertained.

Albert W. Harned, who has been identified for many years with leading musicial activities in Washington musical activities in Washington and fine musical organizations in joint concert with soloists at the Masonic auditorium the evening of May 25, the first big spring recital of the Almas Chanters in conjunction with the choir of the Church of the Ascension, 70 voices in all. Leading the soloists will be Jessie Masters, the contralto, who has not been heard here in public recital for several years. Others will be Mamie Rouse, soprano, and W. Madison Taylor, who is tenor soloist of Yale University Chapel choir. Harry Wheaton Howard will play the organ, and R. L. Feuerstein will be at the piano. Each group will sing selections interspersed with solo numbers, and the finale will be a combining of the 70 voices in Schubert's "Greatest Jehovah of the Lord." In making this initial announcement Mr. Harned stated that it was his hope that still bigger choral things might grow out of the combining of these two fine vocal ensembles.

KALLIPOLIS GROTTO.

Kallipolis grotto entertained Arminius lodge Tuesday evening, when its units, the band, drill corps and drum and bugle corps in full uniform made it a colorful affair. During the evening the band and drum and bugle corps played a number of selections. The available space would not permit of a drill by the drill corps, but they stood at attention, and in their natty uniform made a splendid appearance. Addresses were made by the grand master of Masons, Sydney R. Jacobs; monarch, L. Whiting Estes; Dr. Worth Landon, George P. Plitt, Joseph W. Leverton, Stephen H. Talkes and Arthur M. Poynton, chief justice and master of ceremonies, respectively, of the grotto, and others. "Judge" William H. Burton entertained with some dialect stories, and J. W. Mullings, of Stansbury lodge, gave one of his inimitable negro monologues.

Tuesday evening a large delegation from Kallipolis grotto will visit Yedz grotto, Baltimore.

MASONIC CLUBS.

The April meeting of the Level club, held at grotto headquarters, was largely attended and highly interesting. An illustrated lecture on Peru by Arthur E. Cook, assistant to the Secretary of Labor, was the principal feature. Mr. Cook, who has traveled extensively, has favored the club on several occasions with lectures on foreign countries and promises another at an early date. Short addresses were also made by President Jesse C. Watts and Past Presidents Samuel J. Gompers, Morris J. Hole and James W. McGuire.

The Fellowcraft club of Federal lodge, No. 1, will meet Tuesday evening at the Franklin Square hotel. Following a short business meeting a lecture will be given by George B. Wheelock, of Hiram lodge, No. 10. All Masons are invited. Refreshments will be served.

The ladies' auxiliary of the Lambskin club will hold a short business meeting Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, followed by a card party.

ORDER OF THE EASTERN STAR.

Good Will chapter, No. 36, will have charge of the religious services at the Masonic and Eastern Star home this afternoon at 3 o'clock, with the grand chaplain, the Rev. John C. Palmer, officiating.

Good Will chapter will hold a 500 and bridge card party Tuesday evening at 101 U street northwest.

Hope chapter, No. 1, will have a short business session Wednesday evening, after which the chapter will be closed and a play entitled "O'Keefe's Circuit" will be presented by the dramatic club of Job's Daughters. Friends, as well as members of the order, are invited to this entertainment.

Federal chapter, No. 38, conferred the degrees at its last meeting. Mrs. David Ella Middleton, who has been acting secretary during the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Lizzie Bassett, was elected and installed as treasurer to succeed Mrs. Alice Graul, resigned. Mrs. Mary DeMott was appointed marshal by Matron Ruth Furr, to succeed Mrs. Mary Colquitt, resigned. Patron C. W. Elliot was presented with a fishing outfit. Past Grand Patron George Mobray was among the visitors. The degrees will be conferred at the meeting of the chapter, Wednesday evening. The home board will meet at the residence of Mrs. Hichew, 26 Seventh street southeast, Tuesday.

The degrees were conferred on several candidates at the meeting of Martha chapter, No. 4, Friday evening. Mu Chi, the girls' club of the chapter, will hold its monthly meeting Wednesday of this week at the home of Mrs. Emma Louise Adams, 823 Madison street northwest. In addition to Mrs. Adams the hostesses for the evening are Matron Jean D. Brown and Mrs. Emma Burns. The dormitory committee will give a theater party Monday, May 17, at the National theater.

The dormitory committee of St. John's lodge, chapter No. 18, is planning a card party to be held at the home of Mrs. Ida G. Angelo, 457 Luray place northwest, Wednesday evening, May 18, at 8 o'clock.

Naomi chaper, No. 3, will confer the degrees Wednesday evening. The grand matron, Mrs. Gertrude B. Milans, is expected to be present. There will be a short program.

Washington Centennial chapter, No. 26, will entertain Friday at the Masonic and Eastern Star home, the program being in charge of Mrs. Mary Bean. Automobiles will be in waiting at Georgia avenue and Rittenhouse street northwest to provide necessary transportation to the home. All members of the order are invited to be present. The dormitory committee will hold a meeting at the home of Florence Greenfield, 1205 Crittenden street northwest, Tuesday evening.

Cathedral chapter, No. 14, at its meeting Wednesday evening, will hold a short business session and confer the degree. As a special feature a unique program is being arranged by Miss Gertrude Smallwood, organist of the chapter. Radio stars will be presented in person, as they appear before the michrophone and George Ross, announcer, will show members and their families a few of the inside workings of a broadcasting studio. The guest of honor on this occasion will be Mrs. Minnie Evans Keyes, right worthy grand secretary of the general grand chapter. The meeting, following the conferring of the degrees, will be an open one and all members of the order and friends of the chapter are invited.

Mizpah chapter, No. 8, following its business meeting Tuesday evening, was entertained with an illustrated talk on "Spring and Birds," by Mrs. Susan Albertus. May 18 will be endowment night in the chapter, and an unusual entertainment is scheduled for that evening, it is announced.

Temple chapter, No. 13, will confer the degrees on a large class tomorrow evening. The grand matron and grand patron will pay a fraternal visit to the chapter at this meeting.

Harmony chapter was granted its charter at the meeting of the grand chapter Monday evening. Harmony chapter, at a special meeting held on April 29 conferred the degrees on a class of eight candidates. Associate Grand Matron Lena Stephenson and Associate Grand Patron J. Ernest Dulin made addresses and a fashion review, given by the choir of Bethel, No. 1, Job's Daughters, personally supervised by Norma Barnard, was a great success. Mrs. Sallie Wilson, matron of Harmony chapter, is the director of the choir. A theater party given recenly by the ways and means committee, of which Mrs. Henrietta Vance is chairman, proved most successful. Harmony chapter will continue to meet, it is announced, every second and fourth Thursday at Joppa lodge hall.

La Fayette chapter, No. 37, conferred the degrees on two candidates last evening at its regular meeting. Mrs. Margaret Joyce, of Ruth chapter, rendered vocal selections. Mrs. Laura M. Dyre is holding a "Laundry Touring Party" Wednesday afternoon, May 19. Thiryt members will be shown through a laundry plant. Mrs. Bertha M. Koch, junior past matron, has arranged for a chicken dinner on May 18, at Northeast temple, Eighth and F streets northeast. The proceeds will be divided between the standing committees.

Mount Pleasant chapter, No. 34, celebrated its second birthday Friday evening. Tuesday evening the chapter will offer a cabaret entertainment and dance in the rooms at Fourteenth and Kenyon streets. For the benefit of those who do not care to dance, there will also be a few tables of cards. Several exceptional entertainment numbers are on the program for the cabaret.

Unity chapter, No. 22, at its meeting will be entertained by the men of the chapter in a comedy sketch entitled "The Tunerville Tooners." An evening full of surprises is promised all who attend. Thomas Dobson, chairman of the ways and means committee, announces a card party for tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the Burlington hotel. Mrs. Anna Reeves, chairman of the auxiliary home board, announces a meeting on Wednesday at the residence of Mrs. Margaret G. Kennerly, 612 M street northeast.

The meeting of Esther chapter Thursday was devoted to entertainment. Under the direction of Past Grand Patron James A. West, a skit was presented entitled "Trials and Tribulations of a Traffic Tender." In addition to Mr. West the cast included Past Grand Matrons Julia N. Streater and Bertha G. Hudson, Past Matrons Flora M. Gibson, Charlotte M. Pine, Harriet B. Crump, Alice R. Bradley, Effie A. Roberts, Nellie West, Katherine S. Merill, Ella M. McCord, Mabel K. Botsch, Bessie M. Bush and Etta W. Davis. Past Matron Theodora Cunningham was the musical director. Grand Matron Gertrude B. Milans and Grand Patron George Plitt and Mrs. Plitt, Past Grand Matron Nellie E. Fletcher and Past Grand Patron Charles S. Shreve were guests. The Grand Patron and Mrs. Plitt have been elected honorary members of the chapter. The grand matron has been an honorary member since 1917. The degrees will be conferred at the meeting on May 20. Mrs. Katherine S. Meritt, chairman of the auxiliary home board, announces that the next meeting of the board will be held at the home of Mrs. Emilie R. Botsch, 1510 Allison street northwest.

MODERN WOODMEN OF AMERICA

A. R. Talbot camp celebrated the termination of a 60-day drive for new members at its meeting Thursday evening. A class of 26 candidates was adopted as the result of a campaign. A band of 20 pieces was present from Laytonsville camp, Indiana, and a large number of visitors from other camps in this and the surrounding territory witnessed the degree work. A uniformed degree team composed of members from the Army Medical school gave several exhibition drills. Supreme Organizer Ralph E. Johnson, of Lincoln, Nebr., made the presentation speech awarding the prize banner to A. R. Talbot camp in recognition of its having made the greatest gain during the year 1925. This banner has been held by the camp for eighteen years, consecutively. Following the awarding of the banner, the State medical director, Dr. Thomas Linville, on behalf of his loyal admirers in the District of Columbia, presented to the supreme organizer a solid gold watch as a token of their regard for the twenty-eight years of his service as the head of the field forces of the society. A buffet luncheon was served at the close of the meeting.

The 60-day drive culminated in Georgetown camp with a class adoption held in its hall in the Potomac Savings Bank building on Friday evening. Twenty-two candidates were conducted through the mysteries of Woodcraft by the degree staff of the camp. Supreme Organizer Ralph E. Johnson expressed his appreciation of the splendid work of the camp in its campaign for new members, and offered a prize of a gold watch to the member who secured the greatest number of new members during the year. Visitors were present from Middleburg, Va., and camps in the District.

Central camp entertained the supreme organizer last evening, at which time a delegation of about twenty members from Maryland camp of Baltimore were present. District Deputy J. J. Fitzsimmons, of Baltimore, and District Deputy J. R. Ryan, of Frederick, attended the meeting. The supreme organizer addressed the meeting and stated that the quota for the District for the year 1926 had been fixed at one-half of a million dollars. District Deputy H. H. Millard reported that he was ahead of his quota for the time which had elapsed. State Deputy William McCaffney welcomed the visitors from Baltimore. District Deputy Fitzsimmons responded.

WOMAN'S BENEFIT ASSOCIATION

Mothers' day will be observed by the order this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Methodist church, 307 D street northwest. A suitable program has been prepared, the special feature of which will be the presentation of flowers to the mothers present who are over 70 years old by the Girls club. Miss Lucie Murray will sing "Mother o' Mine," and Miss Maybelle Godfrey will give a violin solo. The Rev. C. W. Oyer, pastor of the church, will give the invocation.

Rally day and class presentation will be held by the order Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Odd Fellows hall. The full initiatory work will be put on and a class of about 50 members will be received. An interesting program will follow the initiation. Mrs. N. Vale Henson, deputy supreme commander, of Port Huron, Mich., will have charge of the program and a full guard team, under Mrs. Hattie Palmer, captain, will present the candidates for the degree.

THE AHEPA

Washington chapter, No. 31, at its last meeting, was addressed by Supreme Secretary Andrew Nickas and the president of Socrates chapter, No. 6, of Jacksonville, Fla. It was decided to hold the annual excursion at Chesapeake Beach on July 22. Peter L. Dounis, Harry Mandis and Victor K. Kissal were appointed welfare committee. The excursion committee is as follows: A. Panagopoulos, G. Devakos, William Christopher, Gus Poulos, V. K. Kissal, P. Dounis, E. Nicholas, P. Kokalis. The following were elected to receive the first degree of the order: John Kreticos, Nick D. Papavaselopoulos, Bill Maofis, George Zorlou, James Kokinos, Elias Gotsopoulos and Louis P. Demas. The application of Panos C. Bellas was accepted. At the meeting of the chapter Tuesday evening the iniation ceremonies will be held.

NATIONAL UNION

Government printing office council met at Typographical hall with President John J. Pepper presiding. Delegates to the assembly to be held in June were elected as follows: Daniel I. Leane, Stanley S. Ridings and Castleman Boss; alternates, H. J. Frank, John J. Pepper and W. A. Jenkins. The council voted to enter the contest for membership which began May 1 and ends November 30. J. A. Williams and J. Harry Jones explained the contest.

Jack Marshall, field representative of the order for the Eastern jurisdiction, with headquarters in Washington, has just returned from an inspection trip through the West. He visited Nashville, Tenn.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Toledo, Ohio, and one or two other points.

The junior degree team met at headquarters recently with President Everett M. Pershing presiding. The degree team committee, consisting of Charles F. Haden and J. Harry Jones, was present. The meeting was for the purpose of mapping out a program whereby the team will visit the councils at stated intervals durnig the summer and fall months. The matter was discussed by the members of the team and the committee and it was decided that the team would confer the degrees about every three months as laid down by a schedule to be arranged. C. F. Haden was selected to prepare full instructions.

The executive board will meet on Wednesday at headquarters office, Washington Loan and Trust building.

DAUGHTERS OF ISABELLA

St. Charles circle, 247, held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. Oliver Frank. The next social meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Tierney, at Cherrydale, Va., Tuesday evening, May 18.

IMPROVED ORDER OF RED MEN

On May 28, in the hall of Mineola tribe the annual memorial service for all members who have passed away since the service of last year will be held. All chiefs of records of the several tribes are requested to notify the great chief of records of the names of the brothers deceased during the year.

The general campaign committee has obtained, in addition to several other speakers of prominence for their open meeting of next Wednesday, the great incohonee, Charles E. Pass.

The Knights of Mem Der have purchased a block of tickets for the theater party to be given by the Pocahontas degree on May 17. All members wishing tickets are requested to notify Paul Brashears before noon tomorrow.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD

CALENDAR.

Monday—Fraser camp anniversary.
Wednesday—Maple camp.
Thursday—Mount Vernon camp.
Friday—Elm camp.
Saturday—Banquet.

The tenth anniversary of W. A. Fraser camp will be celebrated at the temple tomorrow evening. This is to be an open meeting and all sovereigns and their families and friends are invited. An excellent array of professional vaudeville talent will present the program of entertainment. Frank di Marzo is chairman of the anniversary committee. Consul Comdr. William Helgesen, assisted by Maj. Green, Past Consul English, Lieut. Godschalk, Clerk Dalkin, Drum Major McGee and Manager P. P. di Marzo will receive the guests.

Among the visitors to the monthly council of the staff officers of the 103d regiment, uniform rank, Monday evening, were Maj. Raymon J. Hofen, of Pennsylvania; Capt. Surg. Lawrence Wheeler, of Maryland; Capt. Wilson S. Kosman, of Baltimore, and State Manager Sol O'Briant, of West Virginia. Nearly all the officers announced their intention of attending the encampment in August. If a desirable site can not be secured in Philadelphia, this event may be held at York, it is announced.

All Woodmen, Ladies of the Circle and friends of the society are invited to the banquet Saturday evening at Grace Dodge hotel. Mrs. Tupper is in charge of the program. The banquet will be supported by the W. O. W. Boosters club and the women's organizations.

Morris Sheppard grove met at the temple Saturday evening, and Willow grove held a session at Sovereign Polen's home Monday evening. The prospective class of instruction for ritualistic work was indorsed and arrangements made to receive large visiting delegations from other cities for the memorial ceremonies on Sunday, June 6.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

The ladies committee of Spaulding council were hostesses at an entertainment for the members of the council Thursday evening in honor of the twenty-seventh anniversary of its organization. A short business meeting was held early in the evening and was followed by an entertaining program provided by Lecturer Thomas K. Gallaher and his committee. The members of the ladies committee are: Mrs. John A. Overholt, chairman; Mrs. James A. Sullivan, Mrs. Maurice J. McAuliffe, Mrs. Thomas J. Trodden, Mrs. Fred S. Martin, Mrs. Frank P. Hanrahan, Mrs. William McGillivary, Miss Marguerite Stanton, Mrs. Thomas J. Gallagher, Misses Catherine and Lillian Gallagher, Miss C. Smith, Mrs. R. J. Werner, Mrs. Tippett, Mrs. J. E. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Emmett Carr and Mrs. A. Price.

Keane council will meet in the K. of C. home Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, Grand Knight John E. Burns presiding. Keane council's Five Hundred club will hold its last card party of the 1925-26 season in the K. of C. home Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock, with Mrs. Mary C. Adamson in charge. Keane's Boosters club is receiving reservations for its eighth annual outing to Atlantic City the week of July 26 to August 1, inclusive. Reservations for this outing close July 15, it is stated.

Carroll council Tuesday evening held its first meeting of May, with Deputy Grand Knight Thomas E. Pettit occupying the grand knight's station. James E. Ryan, reporting for the Washington chapter, announced that the annual communion service and memorial mass of the local Knights of Columbus would be held at St. Matthew's church, near the corner of Rhode Island and Connecticut avenues northwest, on Sunday morning, May 30. The mass will be followed by a breakfast at one of the local hotels. The council was visited by District Deputy Thomas J. Fitzgerald, who addressed the members, congratulating them on their spirit. Sir Knight P. J. Haltigan addressed the council on the work of the Knights of Columbus in Washington. Joseph E. Colton also spoke to the council, giving an interesting and edifying talk on the work of the St. Vincent de Paul society in the District. The next meeting of Carroll council will be held on Tuesday evening, May 18.

Jr. O. U. A. M.

A fraternal visit was paid by State Councilor Harry A. Beck and his staff of officers Monday evening to Central council, No. 64, of Capitol Heights, Md. The State officers under escort of Acting State Council Marshal A. C. Columbus, were received at 8:30 o'clock by Councilor William L. Davis. The meeting was opened with the singing of "America," accompanied by the Junior Order band of the District, followed by the invocation by State Chaplain George L. Myers. All past State councilors were given an address of welcome by State Councilor Harry L. Beck, who then welcomed the large gathering of visiting members. Thomas F. Jones, chairman of the baseball committee, made an encouraging report. Addresses of interest to the order were made by State Vice Councilor John E. France, of Washington council, No. 13, of Hagerstown, Md.; State Council Deputy James S. Vawter, of American Star council, No. 32, of Savage, Md.; W. M. LeRoche, of No. 6; Oscar T. Harlowe, of No. 1; William M. Earnest, of No. 1, all from the District; Past State Councilor Samuel M. Moore, of Antulan council, No. 38, of Hagerstown, Md.; National Deputy Frank L. Bennett, of No. 13, of Maryland, and State Vice Councilor John D. Simpson, of the District. G. P. Barnes, of No. 8, and F. F. Newton, of No. 2, were the lucky ones in the final drawing of $2.50 gold pieces. During the evening selections were rendered by the Junior band of the District.

Capital council, No. 25, met Monday evening, with Councilor H. M. Wood presiding. A. T. Marlowe, the representative of this council, was instructed to attend the funeral benefit association convention, to be held in Philadelphia in June. J. M. Simpson, who represents this council on the Pen Mar reunion committee, reported a successful entertainment held Thursday and Friday. The chairman of the initiatory committee reported his team as progressing rapidly.

Liberty council, No. 55, was called to order by Councilor Thomas R. Hamel at its last meeting. The Pen Mar and baseball committees presented reports. The degree team, under Capt. Frank C. Mangum, will confer all three degree on candidates on the second and fourth Saturdays of each month. Addresses were made by Charles H. Hild, William McClung, George W. Ackerman, A. L. Dahler, State Council Deputy A. C. Columbus, Grand Orient Elmer H. Bailey, Past Grand Orient A. C. Collins and Vice Councilor Frank Bruckenshen, of Benning council, No. 21.

Star Spangled Banner council, No. 8, met Friday evening. Councilor Philip J. Engelhardt presided. A committee of seven was appointed to consider the purchase of a home for the council. Two applications for membership were received and referred to the investigating committees. The council adjourned early to permit the princes of Eagle court, No. 2, to confer the oriental degree on a class of 13 candidates.

ODD FELLOWS

Grand Conductor Elmer Cummings, who has been appointed by the grand master as chairman of the coming I. O. O. F. home excursion, has called for the appointment of representatives from the various subordinate and Rebekah lodges of the jurisdiction for the first meeting relative to making preparations and arrangements for the annual event, which will be held at Chesapeake Beach on Thursday, July 15.

Memorial services will be held on Sunday evening, June 13, it is announced by Grand Guardian Walter S. Norway, who has been appointed by the grand master to take charge of the services. Representatives from the various branches have been appointed to meet with Mr. Norway at a date to be selected by him in the near future. It is expected that the services will be held in the Calvary Baptist church.

Central lodge will have the first degree Friday evening and all members of the order are invited to attend the meeting. A social evening was held by the committee in charge of Central lodge at the last meeting. There will be degree work every Friday evening for some time to come, it is stated.

A conference was held by the secretaries of the jurisdiction Monday evening in the grand secretary's office. Important matters were discussed.

The grand master and other grand officers attended the annual session of the Rebekah assembly Tuesday evening. The grand master paid tribute to the retiring president, Edna Rankin, upon her successful administration and work, and presented her, on behalf of the grand officers, with a bouquet.

The grand master urges all financial secretaries who have not yet called at the office of the grand secretary to do so this week.

Eastern lodge, No. 7, is planning an open meeting for its last meeting night of this month. A revival of the activities of the degree are also being planned, it is stated, and Past Grand Master Lawson, degree director, expects to issue a call for practice to all former members of the team. Chaplain Evans gave a recitation at the last meeting of the lodge and a committee composed of Noble Grand Potter and Past Grands Johnston and Whiteside were appointed a committee to arrange for the participation of Eastern lodge in the parade and entertainment to be held in September in honor of Grand Sire Bradford.

Headquarters for all Fraternal Jewelry

A complete stock of Rings, Charms, Buttons, Pins, &c., for every fraternal organization. Special prices on quantity orders.

D. ALPHER
907 G St. N.W.
Open a Charge Account

A visiting member from Virginia spoke.

THE REBEKAHS

Brightwood lodge has a number of candidates to receive the degree. The recording secretary, Elsie C. Wilson, is spending a few months in Kansas with relatives. This lodge participated in the entertainment at the I. O. O. F. home Thursday evening.

The Rebekah assembly of the District of Columbia met in annual session Tuesday. At the conclusion of the morning session luncheon was served in the dining room of I. O. O. F. temple, which was artistically decorated in pink and green. Mrs. Ella Thornton, chairman, and her committee received much praise for the luncheon and arrangements.

At the conclusion of the afternoon session dinner was served at the City club. At the evening session the officers were formally seated by an escort team from Dorcas lodge, No. 4. Addresses were made by Grand Master Henry W. Tippett, Grand Representatives W. W. Millan and John H. Wood and others. A large delegation from the jurisdiction of Maryland was present. Retiring President Edna R. Rankin received many handsome gifts and flowers. The officers elected for the ensuing term are: Linnie A. Keiser, president; Nettie R. Metler, vice president; Edna Ohlander, secretary; Emma T. Strobel, treasurer; Margaret Royston, warden; Caroline Schippert, marshal; Anne Blalock, conductor; E. Pearl Windsor, chaplain; Jeannette Griffith, inside guardian; Belle C. Thompson, outside guardian; Annie E. Grigsby, representative; Vesta Pollock, musician.

SHEPHERDS OF BETHLEHEM

National lodge, No. 2, met recently, with Lady Jessie Richards presiding as commander. Two applications for membership were received and four candidates obligated. Lady Fraser was elected past commander; Lady Cleada Horne, vice commander; Lady Marilla Smith, chaplain; Lady Lillian Jost, inside sentinel, and Lady Julia Bromley, outside sentinel. Lady Maggie Strong was appointed aid to the commander. A gratifying report of the auditing committee was read and remarks made by Ladies Hester Burke and Eva Raba, Sirs John Tidler and Fraser and each of the newly elected officers.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA

The Pleasure Seekers club, the second club to originate in Golden Rule council, has been organized by the members of the enlarged mixed drill, with Richard E. Tydings as president and Harry Ray Bryant as corresponding secretary. The club, which was organized especially for the benefit of Golden Rule's drill and initiatory teams, held a meeting last Monday evening in the Northeast Masonic temple. Members of the club are invited to attend its meeting and drill practice.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Grand Chancellor Lee B. Emory and his associate grand lodge officers paid Hermione lodge, No. 12, a fraternal visit at the last convention of the lodge.

Home lodge, No. 31, will receive a fraternal visit from Excelsior lodge tomorrow evening. Chancellor Commander Hayden, of Home lodge, requests a large attendance.

Excelsior lodge, No. 14, was visited Tuesday evening by Grand Chancellor Emory, Grand Vice Chancellor Emil F. Jaehnke and Grand Keeper of Records and Seal W. A. Kemmel and the officers and members of Hermione lodge. Addresses were made by the grand chancellor, the grand vice chancellor, the grand keeper of records and seal and William S. Poole, the latter of Hermione lodge.

Century-Decatur lodge, No. 30, was entertained at its last meeting by Past Chancellor J. T. Wilson, of Sterling lodge, Nova Scotia, who told of the progress of the order in the maritime provinces.

Friendship temple, No. 9, Pythian Sisters, will give a 500 card party Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Pythian temple. Mrs. Elsie E. Vandervert is chairman of the committee in charge. The temple will be visited on May 19 by Grand Chief Mollie Claibourne and Grand Chancellor Emory and other officers of the Pythian grand lodge.

Rathbone lodge, No. 8, Pythian Sisters, will celebrate the thirty-fourth anniversary of its institution on May 21. Distinguished guests present on that occasion will include Grand Chief Mollie Claibourne and Grand Chancellor Emory and his associate officers of the grand lodge.

Amaranth lodge, No. 28, conferred the esquire rank at its last meeting. Grand Lecturer Ralph B. Ford acted as chancellor commander; Past Chancellor Thornton, of Syracusians lodge, acted as vice chancellor, and W. H. Holland, of Norfolk, Va., acted as master at arms. Dr. Charles H. Gage, of Denver lodge, No. 44, Denver, Colo., also took part in the work. Among the visitors present were Past Grand Chancellors George F. Day, E. W. Heiss, George Heisley and Albert Kahlert. Past Chancellor Freeman, supervisor of work, announced the page rank for the meeting of the lodge on May 17.

Webster lodge, No. 7, conferred the page rank on two candidates Tuesday evening. Arrangements were also made for the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the lodge in August. The esquire rank will be conferred at the convention of the lodge Tuesday evening.

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY

Two candidates received the degrees of fidelity, integrity and patriotism at the meeting of Hope council, No. 1, Tuesday evening. A surprise party is announced to follow the meeting of the council on Tuesday evening of the current week. Friends and relatives of members are invited.

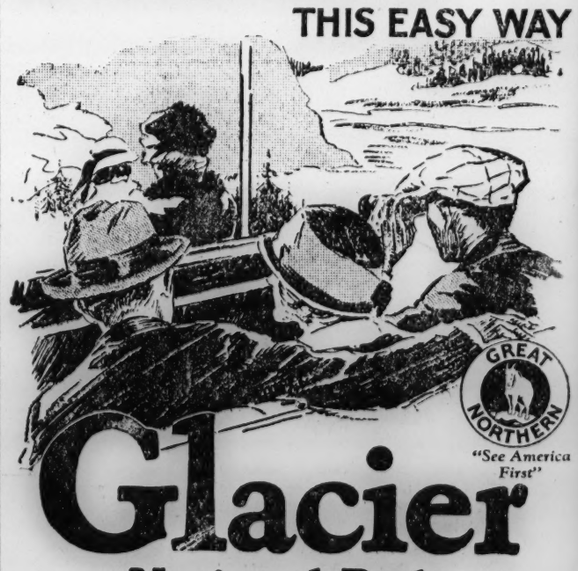

F. O. EAGLES

The Ladies' club of Washington aerie, No. 125, will hold a card party in the Eagles' club, 902 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The next regular meeting of the club will be held on May 21.

Woman's Find Worth Fabulous Fortune

"I wouldn't take a million dollars for the good MAYR'S has done for me. I have finished the course and can say I am entirely cured of very severe indigestion, bloating and colic attacks I suffered from for many years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Peoples Drug Stores and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

SEE ADVENTURE LAND THIS EASY WAY

GREAT NORTHERN

"See America First"

Glacier National Park

Open June 15 to Sept. 15

Some people think of Glacier National Park as a vacation place for the hardy and the daring. The scenic wonders of this Rocky Mountain million acres can be enjoyed in solid comfort. Motor coaches take you into the heart of Glacier. Motor launches cruise its mountain lakes. Panoramic beauty, unsurpassed in all the world, spreads out from hotel and chalet verandas.

Come out for a real mountain vacation this Summer.

Low Round Trip Summer Fares

See the Pacific Northwest as well. Low Round Trip Summer Fares make this possible at moderate cost. Go in de luxe style at no extra fare on transportation's thoroughbred, The ENTIRELY NEW Oriental Limited, aristocrat of Northwest trains. Inquire now for accommodations.

GREAT NORTHERN

a dependable railway

Mail coupon

Edmund H. Whitlock, District Passenger Agent,
401 Finance Bldg., Philadelphia, Pa.

Let me have cost and other information on a trip to Glacier National Park this Summer. I am interested in:
☐ General Tour of Park ☐ Burlington Escorted Tours

Name .....

Address .....

DRIVE NO CAR WITH DEFECTIVE BRAKES

AUTOMOTIVE NEWS AND GOSSIP

RESPECT THE RIGHTS OF THE PEDESTRIAN

NEW CHRYSLER "60" MODEL INTRODUCED IN CAPITAL TODAY

Sells for Lowest Price Ever Made for Six by That Manufacturer.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS ARE BUILT ON CHASSIS

High Speed Is Feature of Car That Has Grown Popular in Three Years.

Coincident with the public statement of its policy of standardized quality, the Chrysler Corporation, through H. B. Leary, Jr., & Bros., local distributers, today announces the addition of a new six-cylinder car, the Chrysler 60, at the lowest price at which a Chrysler six-cylinder car ever has been sold.

The five models are priced as follows: Touring, $1,075; roadster, two passenger, $1,145; coupe, $1,-165; coach, $1,195; sedan, $1,295. All prices f. o. b. Detroit.

This new entry into the field is the fourth to bear the Chrysler name; a name which during the last three years has become recognized as a guarantee of superlative quality, advanced engineering and ideal performance in a motor car. Following closely along the lines that have made the Chrysler 70 and the Chrysler Imperial 80 supreme in their respective fields, it completes Chrysler dominance of the six-cylinder field and, with the four-cylinder model, represents the Chrysler line-up in the four major markets.

The 60 is not designed to replace some other model in the line, but is a wholly new creation, built to supply a definite need in the motor car field—the need of a six of exceptional quality and performance that could be sold at a low price and occupy a place between the Chrysler four-cylinder car and the Chrysler 70.

New Features Used.

That this new Chrysler "60" does provide such quality and performance is clearly indicated by a combination of features which are entirely new to the field in which the car will sell and which, Chrysler executives believe, make it stand apart from other cars in anywhere near the same price group. As the model number indicates, the car has a speed of 60 miles and more per hour. Some other features that are calculated to make it a notable addition to the Chrysler line and to the field of quality motor cars are:

Advanced six-cylinder, L-head engine, perfectly balanced, with shimless bearings and seven-bearing crankshaft, insuring smoothness, steady pull at low speeds and economy in its consumption of gasoline and oil. As in other Chrysler models, the crankshaft is balanced both statically and dynamically.

Fuel economy—easily 22 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

Rapid, efficient development of full power through the science of thermodynamics — an engineering achievement of the first rank.

Absolutely vibrationless power at all speeds.

Attainment of 54 horsepower and a speed of 60 or more miles per hour by an engine of only 180 cubic inches displacement.

Four-Wheel Brakes.

Chrysler hydraulic four-wheel brakes.

Full pressure oiling to all bearings.

Impulse neutralizer—not a balancer, but a device that absorbs the natural impulse reactions common to all internal combustion engines.

Manifold heat control.

Complete water jacketing of each cylinder and valve.

Levelizers, front and rear, to eliminate all road shocks.

Silent timing chain.

Elimination of practically all friction at the junction of moving parts.

Filters through which both oil and air must pass, removing the impurities from both.

Semiautomatic plus manual spark control.

Light weight combined with the road comfort of a far heavier car.

Easy Drive Control.

Driving convenience and ease that will appeal to men and women alike.

Easy parking and balanced construction to insure easy riding at high speeds.

Plenty of room for five grown persons—wide doors, deep seats and plenty of leg room.

Utmost simplicity and accessibility of parts, insuring adjustments easy if required.

Full balloon tires.

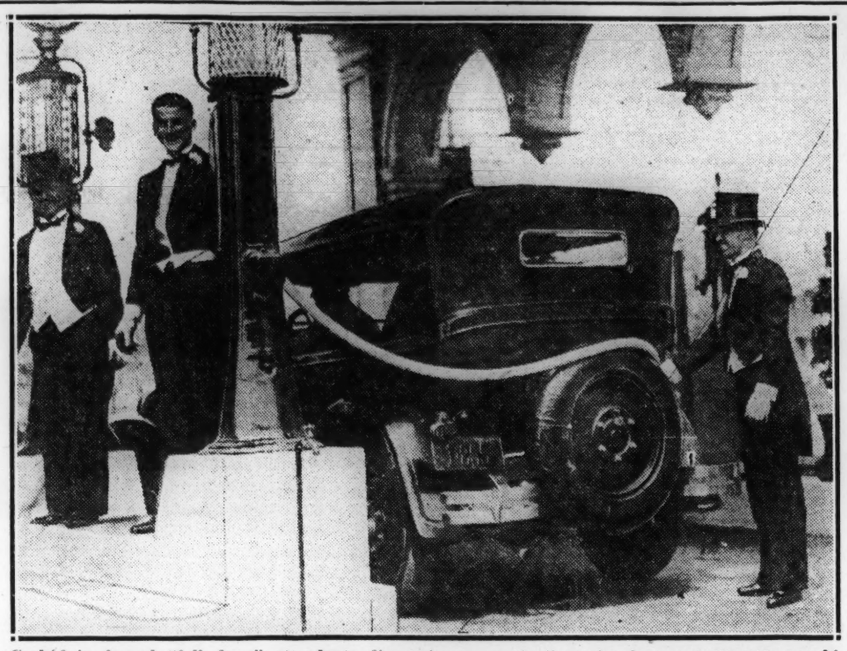

Duco finish in striking color combinations.

Beauty of appearance and symmetry of line characteristically Chrysler, plus Chrysler compactness.

Standardized quality of manufacture as fine and as high grade as in the larger cars that bear the same name.

The new Chrysler is built in five body styles, all typically Chrysler in appearance; roadster, phaeton, coupe, coach and four-door sedan. It is designed and built by the same engineers and manufacturing executives who, in other Chrysler models, have revolutionized motor car design and construction. Automobile experts who have seen and tested it consider it equally as notable an achievement in its class as are its famous six-cylinder companion cars—the Chrysler "70" and the Chrysler imperial "80" and predict for it a reception on the part of the public which will be even more enthusiastic than those which welcomed these earlier models.

GAS SERVERS ASTONISH TOURISTS

Garbed in formal "full dress" attendants dispensing gas and oil at the decorated Wayside service station, 4900 Wisconsin avenue northwest, last Sunday attracted much attention. Left to right, they are W. K. Herring, Earle Stanley and Edward Fitzpatrick.

CHEVROLET CONCERN PLANS ITS GREATEST ADVERTISING DRIVE

More Than $6,500,000 Will Be Spent This Year by Company.

4,000 NEWSPAPERS REPORTED INVOLVED

Sales and Production Marks Expected to Be Set Anew in 1926.

Throughout 1926 the Chevrolet Motor Co. is to conduct the greatest newspaper advertising campaign that has ever been planned in the entire history of the motor car industry, according to David M. Barry, of Barry-Pate Motor Co., who has just returned from Detroit, where he attended a conference of dealers and Chevrolet executives during which details of the Chevrolet advertising program were brought out.

He states that more than 4,000 American newspapers are now regularly carrying Chevrolet advertising, and the cooperative advertising schedule, which is being run in addition to the regular national campaign, has made a consistent newspaper advertiser out of every Chevrolet dealer, large and small, located in every city, town, village and hamlet throughout the United States. This cooperative advertising carries the message of Chevrolet, "quality at low cost," to the millions of readers of those 4,000 newspaper practically every week, and Mr. Barry reports that Chevrolet officials and dealers alike say that outside of the product itself, no other one thing has done as much to put Chevrolet in the enviable position it now occupies as this great cooperative newspaper advertising campaign.

"With the circulation of these 4,000 newspapers overlapping and interlacing, Chevrolet is able to get the most complete coverage that any automotive product has ever been able to obtain," says Mr. Barry.

Advertising Bill Jumps.

"Some idea of the great growth of the Chevrolet organization may be had from a study of the development of that company's advertising activities over a period of a very few years. In 1923, the entire advertising appropriation of the Chevrolet Motor Co. was but $331,-000 and at that time that amount was considered a large expenditure. This year, the Chevrolet advertising appropriation was set at $6,-500,000 at the beginning of the 12 month period; but it now looks as if that amount would be greatly increased during the season because sales are now far ahead of the projected production schedules and all of the 12 Chevrolet manufacting plants in the United States are working at capacity in an effort to keep up with the unprecedented demand."

The convention at the general offices of the company, in the General Motors building in Detroit, covered a period of two days. Dealers were present from all sections of the country and every phase of advertising was covered, including national publications, trade journals, outdoor advertising, direct mail and newspaper display.

When Mr. Barry was in Detroit he also learned that Chevrolet sales and production records are due to be broken again this year. Last year was Chevrolet's greatest year. A total of more than 500,000 cars and trucks were sold during the 12 months, but the months of January, February and March of 1926 give Chevrolet an icrease of more than 70 per cent over the same period of last year. March was Chevrolet's greatest retail month and the figures for the first half of April indicate that this month will set a record that will be far ahead of March.

HUDSON-ESSEX SALES INCREASE 53 PER CENT

First Three Months of 1926 Show Big Gain Over Same Period Last Year.

WINTER DEMAND IS GOOD

A gain in Hudson and Essex buyers of 53 per cent in the first three months of 1926, as compared with a similar period of 1925, has been announced by Roy D. Chapin, chairman of the board of the Hudson Motor Car Co.

These figures, just compiled, show that 55,000 Hudson and Essex cars were sold to owners in this period, as compared with 36,000 in 1925, a gain which is considered all the more gratifying because the 1925 period was itself one of unprecedented success. March was the biggest month in Hudson and Essex history in all respects.

"This high record," said Mr. Chapin, "proves that the utility and comfort of the inclosed motor car at a low price mean a big business even in the winter time. Spring, of course, is by far the most active season, but the winter months of 1926 certainly showed a strong and healthy demand. Our deliveries to owners each month have run far ahead of last year.

"The particularly significant thing to us has been the growing recognition by the public of the Essex six. When we pioneered the small six-cylinder field we knew the tremendous possibilities in it. Our desire was to produce not only the smoothness of the larger sixes but also an inclosed car to sell for less than $800. Today our sales demonstrate we have arrived at our goal. Close observers tell us that the Essex has created an entirely new place in the automobile field. It has seasoned itself into a highly developed model and the public seem more convinced than ever of the quality of the service it offers among low-priced cars.

"Few people realize how hard our engineers and factory organization work to perfect a new car every year after its introduction and how much the cost of operation of any vehicle is dependent on this. Just as Hudson has ranked as a highly developed model for many years the Essex with its large number of cars running and the benefit of three years' experience on the highways is now reaping the reward of an established model, both in volume of business and the low price at which we are enabled to turn it out."

At Least 500 People

in Washington, every week, are looking for desirable rooms, either with or without board. A great many of them read The Post. You who have rooms to rent can catch their eye by inserting classified ads in The Post. Phone Main 4205.

It Costs Less • to Own • a Better Buick

FUEL—less than most cars

Gasoline, lubrication, water and fair treatment are all the Better Buick needs to deliver its mileage at astonishingly low cost.

The Valve-in-Head engine, as Buick builds it, develops more power from a given quantity of gasoline. Buick Automatic Heat Control, an integral part of the Buick carburetor, still further aids fuel economy, by super-efficient carburetion.

WATER—less than most cars

In no other car, regardless of price, will you find the completeness of protection for performance afforded by the Buick "Sealed Chassis" and "Triple-Sealed Engine." Dirt cannot get in, anywhere, to cause wear, looseness and vibration.

OIL—less than most cars

To know what motor car economy really is, for finer transportation at lower cost, own a Better Buick.

BUICK MOTOR CO., FLINT, MICH.
Division of General Motors Corporation

The Better BUICK

C-40-15

STANLEY H. HORNER
1015-1017 14th St. N.W.
1220 19th St. N.W.
Main 5800

EMERSON & ORME
1620 M St. N.W.
1016 Conn. Ave.
Franklin 3860

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

Smooth— and Stays Smooth

Long after you would have traded in an ordinary car, you will be driving this Hupmobile Six with all the pleasure and satisfaction of the first few months. Like the highest priced sixes, it retains through the years its velvety quiet and magnificent power, its wonderful smoothness and dashing performance.

Hupmobile's High-Priced Features

Remarkably Easy Steering
Upholstery in Latest Mode
Clear Vision Bodies
Special One-piece Vision-Ventilating Windshield
Dash Gasoline Gauge
Strong, Rigid Frame
Heavy, Rigid Crankshaft
Special Vibration Damper
Machined Combustion Chambers

Hupmobile Six

Sedan, five-passenger, four-door, $1385. Touring, five-passenger, $1325. Equipment includes 30 x 5.25 balloon tires, four-wheel brakes, choice of two colors. All prices f. o. b. Detroit, plus revenue tax.

Hupmobile Eight

Sedan, five-passenger, $2345. Sedan, Berline, $2445. Coupe, two-passenger, with rumble seat, $2345. Touring, five-passenger, $1945. Touring, seven-passenger, $2045. All prices f. o. b. Detroit, plus revenue tax.

Our used cars represent the biggest dollar-for-dollar value in this territory. Come in; look over the various makes and models; let us demonstrate those that interest you.

HUPMOBILE SIX

1584

STERRETT & FLEMING, Inc.
Home of the Certified Gold Seal Used Cars
Champlain St. at Kalorama Road Columbia 5050
Note—New Showroom, Connecticut at S

RADICAL CHANGES BEING DEVELOPED FOR SMALL AUTOS

New Type Car Being Sought to Meet Traffic and Road Demands.

FOUR-CYLINDER MOTOR OF LONG STROKE TESTED

Lower Chassis, Greater Power, Shorter Base Are Requirements.

Legislation such as that recently passed in Wisconsin placing the maximum speed of cars on the highways at 40 miles an hour and the minimum at 25 miles an hour is placing a severe handicap on light cars. The new agitation for a great nation-wide speed law allowing 45 miles an hour on specially-laid-out main line arteries or on highways where stop limitations are placed at all entering streets will add to this and many light cars will be unable to maintain the desirable averages for any length of time.

These laws are apparently aimed to offset the long, tedious parades, especially on Sundays, where great lines of cars, stretching for miles, are moving at an average speed of 10 to 15 miles an hour.

In a measure, they indicate an approximation of the European idea of speed on the highways where much higher average rates are maintained than is the case here, despite the far greater general use of motor cars in this country than in the European countries. It is not unlikely that they will result in a new type of small car on the European pattern.

Lighter Cars Developed.

It is the contention of highway engineers, as well as of motor car engineers, that something besides highway legislation will be necessary before an approach can be made to the average speed at which European traffic moves.

During the past two years there has been a pronounced tendency on the part of American builders of motor cars to lighten the weight of their products, to speed up the motors and to develop greater powers of acceleration.

Most of this work has been done on cars which represent only about 40 per cent of the total number of cars in use. The great 50 per cent which is formed by the small cars has shown little advance along these lines.

According to engineers, the next great step will be taken by manufacturers of this type of vehicle.

It is generally known that certain of the larger manufacturers are already at work upon advanced types of small, light cars, fashioned somewhat along the lines which have been adopted by the better known English and French builders —and radical changes are anticipated during the balance of the year.

A small car, of what may be termed short wheelbase, with the speed and endurance of the larger cars, short turning radius, and quick acceleration ability, able to negotiate hills on high gear may be looked forward to as a real factor in the solution of road congestion.

Such a car, with ability to accelerate as rapidly as the larger and higher powered cars, with a speed range up to 60 miles an hour and with room to carry five passengers in a touring or sedan model would find ready acceptance among hundreds of thousands of buyers.

Were it to be built upon the highly efficient plans of European engineers, it might, at first glance, strike the average American user as small, but such an impression would quickly vanish as its power and performance capacity became recognized.

One experimental car of this nature on a 270-mile trip through Michigan, Indiana and Illinois maintained a road average of better than 35 miles an hour despite the fact that several populous cities were traversed and the drive was made on a Saturday afternoon when the road traffic was heavy.

This car was driven at 60 miles an hour with all the feeling of stability and security sensed in large cars.

It was driven up steep hills that would have meant second gear to many cars, and yet it made the climb without falter in high gear.

Free From Vibration.

Quick stopping tests showed a remarkably high factor of safety at all ranges of speed.

It was equipped with a four-cylinder motor of small bore and long stroke, turning over at high speed. Yet it was as free from vibration as the majority of six-cylinder cars and at ranges of from 30 to 40 miles an hour was as smooth a running power plant as any one would want to ride behind. At its maximum speed it showed no indication of stress or strain.

The pulling power of the engine under heavy load was rather remarkable, the result of greater torque than has been obtained before in American built cars of this type. This torque development means in service an ability to climb steep grades on high gear.

It showed 28 miles to the gallon of gasoline even under the high speed at which it was driven and the oil consumption was at the rate of about 250 miles to the quart which was a very interesting performance.

The riding was a distinct revelation for the first impression was that the road action would be jumpy. Instead, the car rambled over the road as smoothly and easily as through the wheelbase were 125 inches rather than an exact 100 inches.

That the steering mechanism had been highly developed was proved by the ease with which the car was controlled over several rough and rutted roads which were covered at from 40 to 45 miles an hour.

The 4-wheel brakes, with unusually large surfaces, brought the car to amazingly short stops without a quiver and without the slightest tendency to sway or throw itself off the road.

Has Plenty of Room.

This car had been developed after an exhaustive study of the finer types of European cars and incorporated many of their features while being essentially adapted to American requirements.

The first impression, on looking at the car was that it was rather smaller than would be comfortable. This impression was quickly changed after getting into the seats and sensing the great amount of leg and head room.

It came more as a result of the low lines than anything else. Yet the low lines had been achieved without any sacrifice in the amount of road clearance necessary to meet all conditions of travel.

Actual measurement of the width and depth of the seats, the general width of the body, the depth of the front and rear compartments, and the head room, showed even larger dimensions than those which have been general among American small cars.

The body lines on the experimental body were exceptionally easy and graceful and were close to a perfect streamline effect. The radiator was relatively high and narrow after the fashion of many of the rather costly European small cars.

Can Look Over Top.

Altogether, it was as individual a piece of handicraft as could be developed. It marked a new and radical change in the general appearance of the small car. It was much larger than the European small car, so far as body dimensions were concerned, and five people could easily ride in it all day long without discomfort. Yet alongside the curb, a man of average height could easily look over the top.

In city traffic it attracted general and favorable attention. It is a question if any other car on the streets could have kept up with it during a test covering fifteen blocks. A parking test showed that it could fit into a hole along the curb that would have been impossible with any of the average size cars.

It must be borne in mind that this car is not as yet ready for the American market, but it presages an interest from which real developments are likely to result.

How About Your Headlights?

There is no need for any one to have improperly adjusted headlights in Washington. The traffic bureau is maintaining a headlight testing station on E street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth, where, every night, except Sunday, from dark until midnight, there is an expert in charge who will test your lights free of charge.

A check up recently of the lights tested during one week showed that more than 90 per cent of them needed adjusting of some kind. Because you have had your lights examined once does not mean that they will remain in adjustment indefinitely. It takes but little to throw them out. For your own protection as well as that of your fellow motorists, to say nothing of complying with the traffic regulations, have your lights adjusted.

STEAM COOLING SYSTEM IS LATEST FOR AUTOS

Superheated Vapor Injected Into Intake Manifold in New Process.

ADVANTAGES ARE CITED

Injection of superheated steam into the intake manifold is the most novel feature of a new vapor cooling system that was described and illustrated at a recent meeting of the Buffalo section of the Society of Automotive Engineers by C. H. Kenneweg, of Pittsburgh. Advantages of this action are that it aids carburetion, overcomes the increased tendency of the engine to knock at the higher operating temperature and practically eliminates the formation of carbon.

An average engine should operate at least 100,000 miles at a very low service cost before an extensive overhauling becomes necessary if such a combination cooling and injection system is used, declared Mr. Kenneweg, who based his assertion on experience and tests with a car operated more than 20,000 miles in the last eighteen months under all possible conditions.

A steam cooling system functions primarily by using the water jacket exactly as a steam boiler is used in generating steam at atmospheric pressure, he said. No cooling action occurs until the water in the engine block reaches the boiling point, after which the varying amount of heat generated between low-load and full-load conditions is carried in the form of steam or vapor into the condenser section and the resulting water is pumped back into the water section.

Major advantages of steam cooling were summarized as the attainment by the engine of its highest thermal and mechanical efficiency within a few minutes after starting, after which an ideal operating temperature is maintained regardless of climatic or road conditions, speed or load. The results are the positive elimination of crankcase oil dilution, an increase of 20 or 25 per cent in efficiency, absolute prevention of overheating or hot spots under heavy loads, lower maintenance costs and much longer engine life.

Social Work Sessions To Cover Many Lines

Cleveland, Ohio, May 8 (By A. P.).—The national conference of social work will bring upwards of 5,000 persons here the week of May 26-June 2.

All phases of social problems will be discussed. There will be 12 division sessions on child welfare, delinquents and correction, health, the family, industrial and economic problems, mental hygiene, organization of social forces, public officials and administrations, immigrants, professional standards, and education and educational publicity.

Leaders in social work from all parts of the United States and from many foreign countries will attend.

Don't Throw It Away.

Advertise that used article that you are about to discard in the Miscellaneous For Sale column of The Post. Buyers of used furniture and the like—at fair prices, too—are more plentiful than you may think.

MANY TOURISTS TAKE OWN MOTORS ABROAD

Number of Cars Carried on Ships Increased 50 Per Cent in 1924.

Large numbers of American motorists will tour Europe this year in their own cars, advance bookings by steamship lines indicate. Since the transatlantic liners were equipped to take cars aboard uncrated as baggage, travel of American motor tourists abroad has increased greatly.

Records of the French Line show that during 1925 the number of cars carried as baggage increased more than 50 per cent over 1924. Packard cars led, as they did in 1924. There were 25 per cent more Packards carried during the year than the next nearest of the othr 40 maks of both European and American cars transported.

June has been the month of heaviest travel in this service, records of the steamship lines show, and preparations are now being made by all the lines for a big increase in traffic during June of this year.

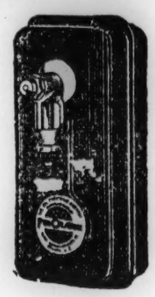

Six Double Eggs Laid By Hen in Six Layings

Tifton, Ga., May 8 (By A. P.).—Byron Southwell, manager of the agricultural and mechanical hatchery, has a hen that, in six "layings" produces the equivalent of one dozen eggs. Each egg contains two yolks, and measures 7½ to 7¾ inches in oval circumference. Southwell is endeavoring to evolve a breed of fowl that will produce similar eggs.

Why?

Is PUROLATOR on These Leading Cars

Buick
Cadillac
Chrysler
Diana
Flint
Lexington
Luxor Cab
Nash
Oakland
Peerless
Studebaker
Yellow Coach

Because

PUROLATOR removes from the crank-case oil all abrasive material, such as road dust and carbon—and thus reduces maintenance by holding down wear on every moving, lubricated motor part.

PUROLATOR keeps the oil clean. Clean oil saves repair bills.

Let us explain to you when it is necessary to change the cartridge on your Purolator equipped car.

Let Us Put One On Your Car

Available for all cars with a force feed oiling system.

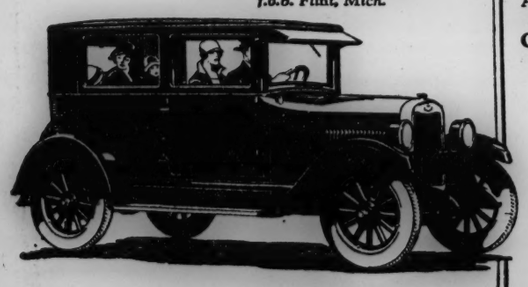

Gabriel Snubber Sales & Service, Inc.
L. S. JULLIEN, President
1443-1445 P St. Main 7841

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

Only Chevrolet offers you this for $645

f.o.b. Flint, Mich.

Prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich.

Touring	$510	Sedan	$735
Roadster	510	Landau	765
Coupe	645	½ Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	395
Coach	645	1 Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	550

Powerful valve-in-head motor, famous for smoothness and economy.

Modern 3-speed transmission to assure easy, flexible handling.

Fisher Body, of superior beauty and ruggedness.

Duco finish, lustrous, lasting and attractive.

Semi-reversible steering gear, positive, easy to handle and safe.

Rugged rear axle, with heavy spiral bevel driving-gears and one-piece banjo housing.

Completely enclosed dry-plate disc-clutch with light pedal action.

Remy electric starting, lighting and ignition.

Full balloon tires, demountable rims with spare rim.

Alemite lubrication system for moving chassis parts.

Complete instrument panel, including speedometer.

Ask for a Demonstration

Take one ride in the Improved Chevrolet and you will know more about how much automobile you can buy for little money than you could possibly learn in any other way. So smooth and so powerful is its performance that this car is a revelation in low-priced transportation. Come in! Arrange for a ride today!

so Smooth— so Powerful

DIRECT DEALERS

BARRY-PATE MOTOR CO.
1218 Connecticut Avenue

AERO AUTO CO.
1101 King St., Alexandria, Va.

OURISMAN CHEVROLET SALES CO.
625 H Street N.E.

R. L. TAYLOR MOTOR COMPANY, Inc.
14th and T Streets N.W.

ASSOCIATE DEALERS

LUSTINE-NICHOLSON MOTOR CO.
Hyattsville, Md.

OWENS MOTOR CO.
6223 Georgia Ave.

QUALITY AT LOW COST

4 Vital Advantages combined- in this New-Type Six

POWER

1 Is 55 miles an hour fast enough? Is 5 to 40 miles an hour in 21 seconds the kind of pick-up you want? This is the only closed car that ever took the Sierra Grade on high.

COMFORT

2 Here is a car of exceptional comfort. The seats are wider, the windows larger, the doors much broader. With more cubic feet of inside space than the average car of this price.

BEAUTY

3 Frankly, we took the 18 best cars of America and Europe and combined their salient features in this new-type Overland Six. Every line is the result of an artist's careful study.

VALUE

4 Under ordinary production standards this car could not be sold within $400 of its price. Yet because of Willys-Overland's tremendous manufacturing facilities it now lists for only $935.

IMAGINE, if you can, a car that will give you thrilling performance of 55 miles an hour, whenever you want it.

That will pick up in high gear from 5 to 40 miles an hour in 21 seconds.

That is the only closed car that ever took the famous Sierra Grade at San Jose, Calif. on high.

This is the average performance of the Overland Six in the hands of average owners . . . the kind you can expect when you drive this car.

Such a car produced under ordinary manufacturing conditions would usually cost between $1300 and $1400.

Yet today, due to the tremendous buying power and manufacturing resources of the great Willys-Overland organization, this world-famous Six now sells for only $935.

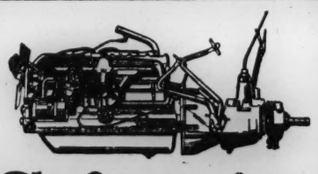

What to expect from this new-type car

Be prepared for a surprise when you take your first ride in an Overland Six . . . It's sound to change your whole idea of motor car values.

The thrilling, dashing performance of this Overland Six is something you'll never forget.

Full 40-brake horsepower is delivered in a straight line from its low swung engine through to the rear-axle shaft. The result is a speed capacity that is positively amazing.

It took two years to design the Overland Six. And in addition 12 months to test it. We doubt if any car ever received more careful study from the engineering standpoint.

The Secret of its tremendous power

A full 40-brake horsepower engine is the reason for this amazing performance. The Overland Six is offered on the basis that it will out-run, out-pull and out-perform anything else of its size, or weight or price-class.

It embodies the major advantages of 18 of Europe and America's finest motor cars. Plus many others our own engineering experts developed.

The Overland Six will turn in a forty foot circle. Rear springs are underslung and 52" long. 141 square inches of braking surface provide an ample safety margin.

It has more inside space. More cubic feet than the average car of this price.

The result is ample comfort for 5 full-size passengers . . . with plenty of room to step in or out . . . room to stretch your legs with the utmost ease.

The seats are wider, the windows larger, the doors much broader. All features you'll certainly appreciate when you inspect rival cars of this price. The world affords no finer quality.

See this remarkable Six

Come in today and let us show you the Overland Six.

There is no car built today that offers greater value . . . no car made in which finer quality of material is used or better workmanship employed.

Get the utmost for your money. Ride in this car . . . Test it in comparison to the value others offer. In fairness to yourself buy no car until you do.

* * * *

OVERLAND SIX SEDAN

$935

The new Willys Finance Plan means less money down, smaller monthly payments and the lowest credit-cost in the industry.

F. O. B. Factory. We reserve the right to change prices and specifications without notice.

Branch Salesroom
10th and H Sts. N.E.

WARDMAN MOTORS, Inc.
Maintenance Department
NEW BUILDING—1526 14th St. N.W.—NOW OPEN
Franklin 4001
England Motor Co., 3110 M St. N.W.

Sales
1515 14th St. N.W.

Mar-Dis Motor Car Co.
Mt. Rainier, Md.

OVERLAND SIX

Stearns Knight

Luxurious Motor Cars

Your Lifetime Car

This "Lifetime Car" has never been built on a volume production basis.

It is the policy of the Stearns-Knight organization to build only a limited number of cars each year—but build them well. To build only cars of the finest quality. To build cars for Lifetime service.

This policy has been in force for 27 years—and it will be perpetuated by the newly associated industrial interests that have added great strength and financial stability to The F. B. Stearns Company . . . one of the very few organizations building "America's finest motor cars."

Represented in Washington by

GEORGE C. RICE

Trading as Stearns-Knight Motor Co.

1601 14th St. N.W. North 5273

Supremacy in Fine Steel

In the percentage of Costly Chrome Vanadium Steel used, Dodge Brothers Motor Car outranks any other automobile in the World, regardless of cost.

It is everywhere conceded that Chrome Vanadium Steel is the toughest and most enduring metal ever created for use in the vital parts of a motor car.

It may not be so well known, however, that Dodge Brothers Motor Car ranks first in the world in the use of this costly and fatigue-proof material.

Dodge Brothers power assembly is almost entirely Chrome Vanadium—motor, connecting rods, crankshaft, transmission, universal joint, drive shaft, differential and rear axle.

Even the front axle is Chrome Vanadium — the entire steering unit—and every leaf of the springs.

In fact, wherever any manufacturer uses alloy steels, Dodge Brothers use costly Chrome Vanadium. And in numerous instances Dodge Brothers employ it where plain carbon steel, even in the costliest cars, is commonly thought sufficient.

This has been true from the day Dodge Brothers built their first motor car.

This explains why the words Long Life, Safety and Dependability are habitually associated with the name Dodge Brothers wherever motor cars are serving mankind.

Touring Car	$795	Coupe	$845
Roadster	795	Sedan	895

F. O. B. Factory

See the Dodge Steel Body on Display in Our Showroom

SEMMES MOTOR COMPANY

RAPHAEL SEMMES, President

Phone Main 6660

1707 14th St. N.W. 613 G St. N.W.

8 Dupont Circle 2819 M St. N.W. 1424 Florida Ave. N.E.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CARS

AMERICAN OIL CO. BUYS PITTSBURGH DISTRICT BUSINESS

Acquires Transcontinental Plants and Service Stations Valued at $1,000,000.

PURCHASER HAS MADE STRIDES IN INDUSTRY

Indian Refining Company's Business in North Carolina Recently Taken Over.

The American Oil Co., of this city, and with general offices in Baltimore, Md., has purchased the properties and the business in the Pittsburgh district of Transcontinental Oil Co. This includes not only the two bulk plants and the large chain of retail service stations within Pittsburgh proper and vicinity, but also includes like properties in other towns such as Charleston, W. Va., Follansbee, W. Va., Mars, Pa., Greenville, Pa., and Steubenville, Ohio.

It is understood that $1,000,000 worth of property is involved in the transaction.

Transcontinental Oil Co. has operated in this Pittsburgh district for a number of years, but recently decided to withdraw from the tank wagon and retail business in the Pittsburgh district and to concentrate such marketing efforts to points closer to their Oklahoma refineries.

In addition to the Transcontinental properties, the American Oil Co. takes over all the rest of the Transcontinental equipment in the territory.

About two years ago the American Oil Co. purchased the properties and business of the Y-Co Motor Fuel Co. of Pittsburgh, and since that time the American Oil Co. has been actively marketing its products in Pittsburgh. It has also established branches in other towns in the Pittsburgh area.

Increases Facilities.

The purchase of the Transcontinental properties will largely augment the American Oil Co.'s facilities in Pittsburgh and surrounding towns, and will place the American Oil Co. in an excellent marketing position. In Pittsburgh alone the American will now have three bulk plants and 25 retail service stations.

The taking over of the branch at Steubenville, Ohio, is the first step by the American Oil Co. in invading the Ohio territory with its own stations.

About two and one-half years ago the largest deal in the history of the Baltimore oil industry was closed, when the Pan-American Petroleum & Transport Co. and its subsidiary, Mexican Petroleum Corporation, acquired a half interest in the American Oil Co. The Pan-American Petroleum & Transport Co is one of the largest oil units in the world.

Even before this affiliation the American Oil Co intensively covered a good area with necessary ocean terminals and branches and service stations and equipment.

Since then the American Oil Co. has made particularly rapid strides. During such period the American Oil Co has purchased several dozen oil companies in different sections and has established many new branches.

Buys Southern Plant.

Recently they purchased the bulk station and service stations of the Indian Refining Co. in Charlotte, N. C.

For some time past this company has been selling its products in tank cars within North Carolina, but the Charlotte, N. C., purchase was the first move whereby the American Oil Co. began distribution through its own stations within the State.

It is also locating an ocean terminal in Wilmington, N. C., to which point its products will be brought by tankers, and from which they will be shipped in tank cars to the various bulk stations to be located throughout North Carolina.

Agreements were also signed a few days ago whereby the American Oil Co. will, within the next few weeks, take over the properties and business of the Nonpareil Oil Co. Atlantic City, N. J. This, in addition to a bulk station, includes eight retail service stations well located. Distribution in Atlantic City will enable motorists using American Oil products in any of the other States where they can now be obtained, to also purchase the same products when visiting Atlantic City.

Actress Finds Clean Drama Is Not Paying

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—Madge Titheradge, who has long been associated with Shakespearian drama, has finally consented to become leading woman in a new shiek play, "Prince Fazil," which Henry Ainley is to produce in an effort to recoup losses in Shakespearian productions.

"Ever since the wave of advanced plays began I have refused to act in them. But I am convinced now that all London wants is sex plays, so I have accepted the inevitable," Miss Titheradge admitted. "It is distasteful to me, but wholesome drama is not successful."

Park Avenue Must Borrow Its Spring

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—Park avenue, often called the most fashionable street and undoubtedly the most expensive residential street in the world, gleans its touch of spring from "the other half of the world."

Without trees or natural decoration, the wide brick promenade which bisects the street is used as an airing place by thousands of children and grownups from the congested districts, inhabited principally by immigrants, only two blocks away.

PREFERENCE

Of all the cars you see on the streets, two-thirds are equipped with Champions. This outstanding preference is very definite evidence that Champion is the better spark plug.

Champion X—exclusively for Fords—packed in the Red Box 60c

Champion—for cars other than Fords—packed in the Blue Box 75c

CHAMPION

Dependable for Every Engine

Toledo, Ohio

Desire to Own Automobile Declared Aid to Wealth

Cadillac Co. Vice President Says Early Prophecies as to Extent People Could Buy Motor Cars Have Been Greatly Outgrown.

A market for motor cars limited only by the effective will of a people to possess individual transportation is the upsetting fact of the automotive industry which has confounded the theories of a large and important school of economists, according to Lynn McNaughton, Cadillac vice president.

"Early prophecies as to the extent to which people could buy motor cars were based upon visible wealth, visible resources and the natural growth of wealth and population," is Mr. McNaughton's statement. He continues, "the big dynamic fact behind the motor car—the desire to own and use it—never entered into the calculations. So great is the contribution of the motor car to the economic and social life of the nation that there is an economically sound and universal desire to own one. So effective has this desire become, in fact, that it has stimulated the wealth-producing power of the nation.

"When any one really wants a car, he seldom makes a real sacrifice to buy it. Instead he usually finds some way to earn the additional money. This is one reason why the motor car contributes to the wealth of the nation all that it costs and much more.

"In common language American people are often called the greatest gamblers on earth. The fact is that Americans have an abiding faith in the future and are willing to stake their all on their belief in continued progress. In the case of the motor car, the extent to which it contributes to individual efficiency in business and the broader social phases of life has been so thoroughly demonstrated to the American people that the purchases of a car is no longer considered an expense. In the same way as buying a home, the great majority of motor cars are today bought on time, the buyer realizing that the car will return future dividends.

"While economists have from time to time established saturation points for the motor car, these points have all been passed and the industry is still growing. So long as the motor car continues, like the telephone, to contribute more than it costs to the economical and social welfare of the nation, its use will continue to grow.

"The American nation is keenly alive to this fact and is today not only buying cars in larger volume than ever, but it is also buying them upon its promise to pay in the future.

"Foreign nations, with their great populations, their great undeveloped natural resources and resources in the unawakened desire of possession, have a basis upon which an expanding market for motor cars will be logically and inevitably developed."

"I have Gabriel Snubbers put on all my personal cars.

"I can recommend Gabriels for more comfort in riding. They prevent road shocks, save the frame, hold the motor more steady and in all respects add to the enjoyment of the car and lengthens its term of service."

L. C. PATE

Vice President

Barry-Pate Motor Co., Inc.

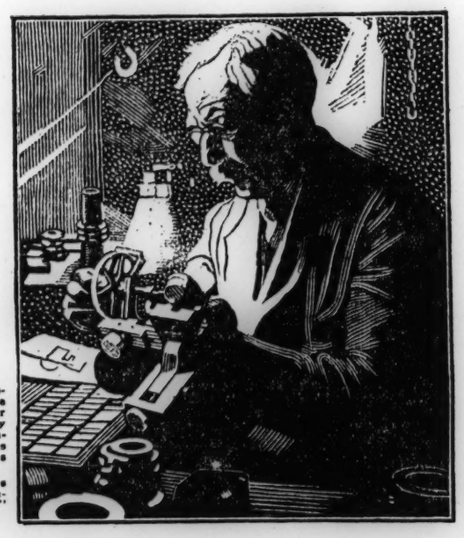

1218 Connecticut Ave. N. W.

Distributors of Chevrolet Cars

Gabriel Snubber Sales and Service Co., Inc.

L. S. JULLIEN, President.

1443-1445 P St. N.W.

"The Gauge Room where the precision-measuring instruments are checked and tested by master gauges. This room is the very heart of the factory—here the accuracy of manufacturing operations is governed. The picture was drawn from life."

From the General Motors Institutional Advertisement entitled "Accuracy."

FULL ASSURANCE OF ENDURANCE-

The car illustrated is the De Luxe Coach, priced $1040, at Lansing.

The high standards of engineering maintained throughout Oldsmobile Six; the precision and care with which each part is made; the rigid inspection that governs every manufacturing process—all combine to assure a quality that endures.

As the months and miles roll by, this quality maintains the brilliant performance that so impresses you on first acquaintance with Oldsmobile.

Buy Oldsmobile with the full assurance of endurance that owner satisfaction proves.

COACH $950

F. O. B. LANSING

OLDS MOTOR WORKS

Washington Branch

1625 L St. N.W. Phone Main 4287

Division of General Motors Corporation

DAVID S. HENDRICK, 1012 14th St. N.W. | POHANKA SERVICE, 1126 20th St. N.W.

WISCONSIN MOTOR CO., 2107 Pa. Ave. N.W. | DE NEANE MOTOR CO., Inc., 1742 Conn. Ave.

OLDSMOBILE SIX

PRODUCT of GENERAL MOTORS

NEW LIGHT TRUCK MADE BY GRAHAM BROTHERS

Rapid Acceleration and More Power Provided in "G-Boy" Type.

CHASSIS HELD STURDIER

Announcement is made of a new Graham Brothers one-ton truck, known as the G-Boy.

The G-Boy is said to embody entirely new ideas in design and construction. Among the advantages attributed to it are rapid acceleration, an excess of pulling power, new heavy type transmission, sturdy frame and axles, comfortable riding qualities, light weight and attractive appearance. Dodge Brothers engine supplies the power.

Severe tests made under unusual conditions have demonstrated that it is a truck of exceptional sturdiness, according to Raphael Semmes, president of Semmes Motor Co.

"This truck was designed with a view to greater ease in handling and for loading and unloading, especially where loading docks are not available," he said. "This has been accomplished at no sacrifice of the generous body capacity. The truck is gracefully low, with steel spoke wheels, cream finished, with demountable rims and equipped with 30x5 cord tires.

"Standard production of G-Boy trucks will include panel, canopy, screen canopy, carry-all, express and stake bodies.

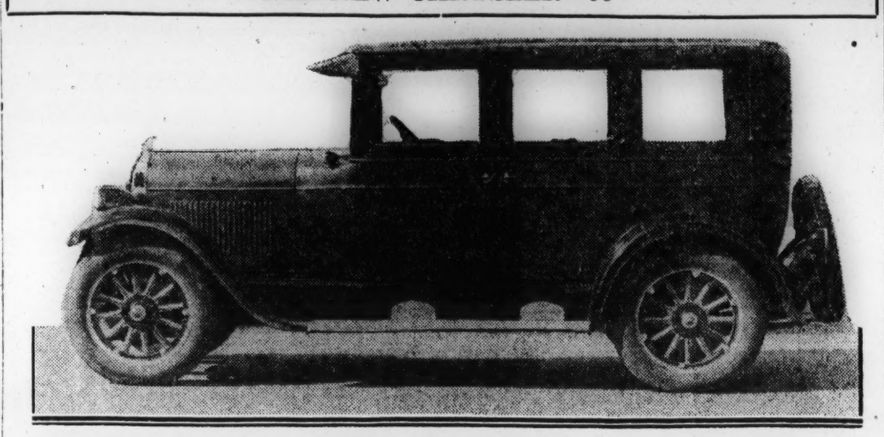

"The designers of the G-Boy were alive to the need for such a truck in light delivery operations as well as for capacity duty. It is well adapted for all forms of delivery work, having a turning radius of 25 feet. This enables the operator to handle his truck with ease in the business as well as in the residential thoroughfares."

Equipment includes all-steel flat back shroud with standard instrument board, crowned steel fenders, front and rear; full-length running boards with splash shields; front bumper, tire carrier under rear of frame; spare rim, electrical horn, two headlights with dimmer; tail light, instrument board light, license brackets, jack, grease gun, hand tire pump and full set of tools. Dodge Bros. electrical starting system rounds out a fully equipped chassis.

Coal-Dust Confetti At London Wedding

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—Of hundreds of spring weddings in England the oddest was that of a coal truck driver and his bride, whose friends showered them with coal dust instead of confetti as the couple left St. Pancras registry office. The bride's gown of flaming orange material suffered considerably.

THE NEW CHRYSLER "60"

Announcement is made today of an addition to the Chrysler line. It is a six-cylinder model. Above is shown a picture of the sedan.

GRAMMAR OF NAVAJO LANGUAGE PREPARED

Santa Fe, N. Mex., May 8 (By A. P.).—A manual of the Navajo Indian grammar has been prepared by Father Bernard Haile, O. F. M., of the Cincinnati province of St. John the Baptist, and which has just been published.

The work contains 320 pages, and is the first comprehensive study that has been made of the language of the Navajo Indians, nomads of the desert of northern Arizona and New Mexico. They closely resemble in many ways the Mongolians of Asia, but their language, the manual shows, is far more difficult than even the Chinese.

The value of the work also is of interest to students of ethnology and languages. Its sponsors believe that it may some day furnish the key to the suspected racial bond between the peoples of Asia and the aborigines of America.

To the layman the Navajo language presents little but an avalanche of consonants, digraphs, glottal and aspirated stops, nasalized vowels, and other difficulties.

PAIGE OFFICIAL URGES HABIT OF LOCKING CARS

Says Week of Thought Will Establish Practice on Driver.

TELLS OF NEW DEVICE

"Is your car locked?

"No? Then you can take some of the blame for keeping theft insurance rates where they are.

"If there were no thieves, there would be no thefts—and insurance rates would drop abruptly."

These were some of the thoughts incorporated in a letter received here by P. T. Mott, manager of Washington-Virginia Motors Co., from C. Clark Mather, chief engineer of the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Co.

Mr. Mather continued in his communication to Mr. Mott:

"Neither would there be thefts if every owner made his car theft-proof—and the lower rates would follow just the same.

"The automobile owner who fails to utilize the safeguards provided by the manufacturer of his car thus shares with the automobile thief the responsibility for maintaining high insurance rates.

"Owners have but little excuse for leaving their cars unlocked. Strict attention to locking the car, maintained resolutely for just one week, will form a habit, so that it will become second nature/to safeguard it at every stop. It's a good habit to cultivate.

"On both Paige and Jewett cars we have adopted the coincidental style of lock in an effort to offset the owner's carelessness and forgetfulness. This lock is so arranged that when the switch key is turned to shut off the engine ignition it also locks the steering wheel. Then the thief can neither start the engine nor steer the car if he should try to have it towed away.

"But already we have found that no mechanical device can adequately cope with human nature. Despite the facilities we have given the owner for safeguarding his car, we have been notified of the theft of a car whose owner, compelled to lock it to stop his engine, left the key in the lock."

Hair-Net Hosiery Shown in London

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—With hair nets no longer needed on Eve's bobbed head, the gossamer nets of grandmother's days are to be used as stockings.

Hair-net hosiery was a feature of the drapers' exhibition. It is merely a leg-shaped net, like a fine fish net, worn over the bare skin. For the more modest it is worn over a flesh-colored stocking. The stocking style-makers of England, who are men, say all the reddish tints in flesh-colored hosiery are to be eliminated for the coming season. The popular shades are to be "fresh green," "flesh mauve," "dollar shade," "Bacchus," "Chartreuse," and "Manon."

CADILLAC

The One Car You Know

NO fine car in the world has ever sold in such numbers as this new, 90-degree, eight-cylinder Cadillac.

It has filled the old loyal Cadillac market to overflowing and so increased this market that new volume requirements confront the great Cadillac works.

If you are looking for an explanation of this apparently sudden extension of Cadillac appreciation, you have not far to seek; for the answer is in your own mind and in the car itself.

You know that Cadillac is the one car with whose manufacturing soundness and excellence you do not need to concern yourself for a moment.

Instinctively you take it for granted that you do not even need to inquire into one single mechanical or operative phase of Cadillac construction.

That comforting conviction—and where else will you find it?—is enough in itself to discourage in your mind and in the minds of thousands of others any thought of experiment elsewhere.

Then—like thousands of others—you drive the new, 90-degree, eight-cylinder Cadillac and find verified in a brilliancy of performance beyond compare, all of your confidence and all of your convictions.

That is why so many new thousands are turning to the new 90-degree Cadillac.

Priced from $2995 upward, f. o. b. Detroit

THE WASHINGTON CADILLAC COMPANY

RUDOLPH JOSE, President

1138-1140 Connecticut Ave. Frank. 3900, 3901, 3902

DIVISION OF GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION

Body by Fisher

PHILCO

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

DIAMOND ◈ GRID BATTERIES

Unsurpassed In

PRICE - QUALITY - SERVICE

$12.50

A Full-Powered Battery With the Famous Diamond Grid Plates

Definitely Guaranteed for 12 Months Service

Its Quality and Construction Insure Service Far Beyond Its Guaranteed Life

PHILCO SALES AND SERVICE STATIONS

Absher's Garage, 1311 E St. S.E.
Carty Battery & Electric Service, 1608 14th St. N.W.
Central Tire & Accessory Co., 1222 14th St. N.W.
Deases's Battery Service, 500 11th St. S.E.
Downey's Auto Supply Co., 2100 Vermont Ave. N.W.
Dupont Battery Co., 2007 M St. N.W.
E. K. Battery Service, 1783 Florida Ave. N.W.
H. W. Highnm, jr., 105 B St. S.E.
Highway Auto Supply Co., 2250 R. I. Ave. N.W.
Hill Top Auto Supply Co., 4532 Wisconsin Ave. N.W.
Jack's Battery Service, 910 6th St. N.W.
H. B. Leary, jr., 1612 U St. N.W.
H. O. Loch & Co., 2214 14th St. N.W.
M. T. Maloney, S. E. Cor. R. I. & 6th St. N.W.
Old Reliable Battery Service, 21 H St. N.W.
Parkview Service Co., 200½ Florida Ave. N.W.
Ristig's Philco Battery Service, 1352 H St. N.E.
Sheridan Garage, 2516 Q St. N.W.
Snyder & Mattingly, 652 Penna. Ave. S.E.
United Service Station, 2014 Florida Ave. N.W.
York Auto Supply Co., 3701 Ga. Ave. N.W.
Burdette Motor Garage, Gaithersburg, Md.
Calloway's Garage, Great Mills, Md.
Harry S. Green, Laurel, Md.
Kelchner's Garage, Rockville, Md.
Silver Spring Garage, Silver Spring, Md.
Whitehouse Garage, Hyattsville, Md.
Sansbury's Garage, Forestville, Md.
Alexandria Service Station, Alexandria, Va.
Clarendon Philco Battery Service, Clarendon, Va.
Greenwood Garage, Cherrydale, Va.
Loudoun Garage, Leesburg, Va.
G. A. Phillips & Co., Purcellville, Va.

WHOLESALE DISTRIBUTORS

NATIONAL ELECTRICAL SUPPLY COMPANY

1328-1330 New York Ave. N.W.
Main 6800

I Have Made My Last Compromise!

I am through with compromise cars . . . . . next automobile I buy will be a one hundred per cent proposition . . . . . have every last feature I desire in my car.

I want a Rickenbacker . . . . . and nothing less will satisfy me. And that's that.

Time and again in years past I have let myself be sold cars that were not the last word . . . . . in either quality or performance . . . . . Let a few dollars less in price . . . . . or a few dollars more trade-in allowance on my old car . . . . . turn the balance of my decision . . . . . and drove away a compromise car . . . . . a second best . . . . . instead of the car which was my first choice of all cars.

There is no pleasure in the possession of such a car . . . . . no keen edge of satisfaction . . . . . no pride of ownership.

This time I am going to buy the car that is my ideal of all an automobile should be.

Power a'plenty . . . . . and then some . . . . . performance, so superior to any other . . . . . there are no grounds for comparison.

I want the smartest body ever designed . . . . . one made to the custom-built idea . . . . . I can't help it . . . . . I don't want to be put in a pigeon-hole . . . . . I derive no joy from a mass-production car.

I want an exclusive car . . . . . one that is driven only by the elect . . . . socially and financially . . . . . people of faultless taste . . . . . I like to herd with that crowd . . . . . I concur in their tastes in motor cars . . . . . furniture, houses, and other things.

My next car must be upholstered in the best materials known or obtainable for that purpose . . . . . springs and other unseen things, also of the best . . . . . and I am going to examine and know that they are of that quality . . . . . I want an instrument board that looks like a jeweler's display.

Temperature gauge . . . . . electric clock . . . . . gasoline gauge, oil pressure gauge . . . . . cigar lighter . . . . . speedometer, ampere meter, and all the usual things . . . . . of course.

Every kind of indicator right there before me . . . . . artistically arranged . . . . . conveniently grouped . . . . . rich but not gaudy.

My next car will represent no compromise with price or value . . . . . it will be a one hundred per cent automobile.

It must have every latest device and refinement that the most advanced engineering can specify . . . . . an air cleaner . . . . . a dilution eliminator—not an attachment either . . . . . but built into the very design of the engine. It must have a vibrationless motor . . . . . that means two fly wheels . . . . . it must have the best springs ever invented . . . . . cradle springs . . . . . and it must have the best . . . . . safest . . . . . most uniform . . . . . and smoothest . . . . . 4-wheel brakes.

No more 2-wheel brake cars for me . . . . . nor any that depend on liquid in a tube for safety. I want full mechanical brakes, internal-expanding . . . . . enclosed and fully protected from water, sand, mud and ice.

It is because it has all these things and many more I never have seen in any other car that . . . . . I crave the distinction of owning a Rickenbacker!

There's a car into which no compromise . . . . . with price or expediency . . . . . has been permitted to enter!

I have made my last compromise.

My next automobile is going to be a Rickenbacker.

Only question I have not decided yet is . . . . . will it be a Six or a Vertical-8?

Going to decide that by driving both types . . . . . do my own driving too . . . . . no salesman along . . . . . no sleight-of-hand man at the wheel.

I have been kidded by experts in automobile demonstrations . . . . . going to do my own demonstrating this time . . . . . She can go along . . . . . but no one else.

Right now . . . . . while I am in the mood . . . . . I am going to phone the dealer to have a car . . . . . with a tank full of gas . . . . . ready for me to drive. Going to drive that car 100 miles at least .. . . . on roads that I know . . . . . at all speeds . . . . . ask it to do everything that will test its mettle.

I have made my last compromise. If, as I believe, this car will measure up to my highest ideals . . . . . and give me the thrill that only a thing of super-superiority can give . . . . . then a Rickenbacker for mine.

Let's see . . . (Insert dealer's name here in same type face and size as rest of Ad.) . . . handles the Rickenbacker line here. Address is . . . . . (address here) . . . . And phone is . . . . (phone number here).

Let's see . . . De Neane Motor Co. . . . handles the Rickenbacker line here. Address is . . . 1742 Conn. Ave. and 1507 14th St. . . . And phone is . . . Main 520.

Rickenbackers are made in "Sixes" and "Vertical Eights"—all popular body types—prices range from $1695 to $2595—f. o. b. Detroit, plus tax

PLACING OF BEST TIRES ON REAR WHEELS URGED

Spare Shoe Also Should Have Its Turn of Duty, Experts Declare.

SAME PRESSURE NEEDED

A question that is asked very often by motorists has to do with the placing of tires to receive the greatest mileage and service from them. There is some little difference of opinion among tire users as to whether the two best tires should be placed on the front wheels or on the rear. One group claims that the best tires should be on the front, to eliminate or minimize the danger of losing control of the car in case of a blowout while traveling at a high rate of speed.

Experience, gained by driving millions of tire miles under observation by Miller tire men, proves that the danger from this source is negligible and is in every case the fault of the driver in losing his head.

Efficient operation of a car requires good traction, and for this reason the best tires should be on the rear wheels. The tires that are more worn should be on the front wheels.

In the case of a new or practically new spare tire, this should be used in the following manner: At the end of several thousand miles of driving examine the rear tires and select the one that shows the most wear and remove it, replacing it with the spare. Repeat this operation.

On new cars where usually there are five new tires, they may remain in their original positions until several thousand miles have elapsed, then the front tires should be put on the rear wheels and vice versa. The fifth new tire should have its regular turn on the car.

In changing tires around on the car, the motorist should be certain that the air pressure in one tire corresponds with that in the same tire on the other wheel.

DOUBLES SPACE.

Gabriel Snubber Sales and Service Find Need for More Room.

Increase in business has necessitated the doubling of the service space of the Gabriel Snubber Sales & Service Co., of which L. S. Julien is president. Where formerly they were able to render service to both new and old customers with the use of two pits, four are now in service in addition to more parking space for those cars that have been left by owners for snubber equipment or adjustment of the same.

In addition a branch has been opened in Baltimore, the building which was built specially for this business having been opened on May 1.

DOUBLES THEIR FLOOR SPACE

Increased business has necessitated the Wallace Motor Co., 1709 L street, Nash distributors, taking over the adjoining building, which will be devoted entirely to service with an entrance to the service department direct from L street. This addition gives them one of the biggest automobile establishments in the city.

"GASOLINE ALLEYS" HUM WITH SPRING ACTIVITY

Owners Are Putting Automobiles in Shape for Season of Touring.

LUBRICATION IMPORTANT

With the arrival of spring the "gasoline alleys" of the country have awakened into humming, hammering activity. Grease guns have come out of their winter hiding places and active metal parts of most of the country's motor cars are receiving the life-saving grease for which they have been squeaking and squealing all winter.

The women folks of "gasoline alley" are beginning to look askance on mounting laundry bills. Getting out and getting under never was conducive to cleanliness of personal linen and then, too, opening of gasoline alley has caused the reappearance of the long black streak on the tablecloth along the edge on that side where "Gus" sits.

It is this time of year when the value of adequate lubrication is appreciated, for wear in steering knuckles, spring shackle bolts and other parts is beginning to make itself known forcibly to the car owner. From now on through the summer chassis parts may possibly receive more attention. However, wielding grease gun or oil can will be no less disagreeable. Because of these things attention is centering more than ever on the chassis lubricating system of Packard motor cars.

The Packard owner pulls a knob of a plunger conveniently located on the dash and as he releases it oil is forced through the system built into the car, twice strained through felt and metered in exactly the right quantity for each individual point. The chassis lubrication system used on Packard cars has ended the get out and get under days for Packard owners. By making lubrication of chassis parts no more disagreeable or arduous than the winding of a watch, it also has become a most important insurance against depreciation through wear of unlubricated moving parts.

Singing Cocoanut Is Rival of the Ukelele

Honolulu, May 8 (By A. P.).—A thousand Hawaiian ukeleles a month are being sent to the Mainland, in addition to the dozens carried aboard ships by visiting tourists.

The niu kani, or singing cocoanut, a new type of ukelele, also is gaining favor. Incidentally, the name of the most popular Hawaiian instrument is "oo-kay-lay-lay" not "you-ka-ley-lee" as often mispronounced.

7 Seas Contribute To One Dinner Menu

Seattle, May 8 (By A. P.).—Preparing the menu for a full course dinner for faculty members and friends, consisting exclusively of sea foods from all parts of the globe, is the chef's job Dean John T. Cobb, of the University of Washington college of fisheries, has given himself.

It will be many months before the dinner is served, but the dishes will come from so many distant places that it was necessary to start planning the bill of fare a long time ahead. It will include octopus soup, squid broth, candied seaweed, porpoise steak, puree of shark, salmon caviar, planked swordfish, sea lettuce salad, Irish moss, shrimp butter, whale paste and dulce.

What can the seas supply for a beverage? This is one of the puzzling problems Dean Cobb still has to solve.

More Miles More Pep More Power

LIGHTNING MOTOR FUEL

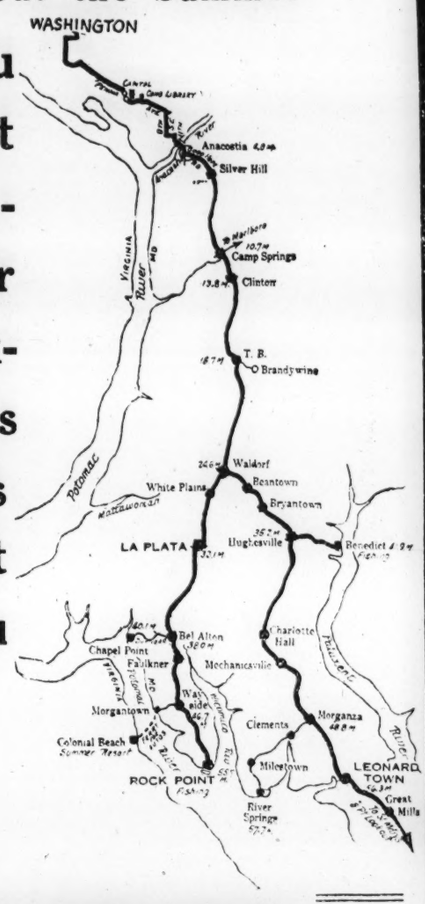

PENN OIL CO. Rosslyn, Virginia

Fishing Is Good

Southern Maryland Resorts Offer You Most Enjoyable Outings at This Time and Throughout the Summer

Whether You Fish or Not You Will Enjoy a Trip Over Maryland's Excellent Roads or Any Roads

In Fact If You Use

More Miles More Pep More Power

LIGHTNING MOTOR FUEL

PENN OIL CO. Rosslyn, Virginia

Consider the Seven-Fold Guarantee of USED CAR Satisfaction

That Attends Your Purchase of a Used Car From Any Member of the Washington Automotive Trade Association. . . . . .

1 Your purchase of a Used Car can not be on other than an invariable basis of absolute security.

2 You will find the condition of the Used Car as you see it and buy it exactly in accordance with the condition of the car as advertised.

3 You will find lower prices and higher values obtainable by reason of the fact that the Used Car stocks of these dealers represent the cream and preference of the Used Car field.

4 Terms of payment will be to your convenience and advantage to an extent outside the ability of outside dealers of less favored financial status and resources.

5 Your convenience and accommodation will be the sole consideration in adjusting all credit courtesies and payment privileges.

6 Insurance that fully insures—positive and truly protective—is yours to command through the insurance members of the association.

7 The moral responsibility of every member is a definite asset of unquestionable reliability.

ADAMS MOTOR CO., 2015 14th St.
AUTOCAR SALES AND SERVICE CO., 13th St. and Pa. Ave. N.W.
T. W. BARRETT, 918 14th St.
BARTRAM MOTORS CO., 613 Mass. Ave. N.W.
BARRY-PATE MOTOR CO. 1218 Connecticut Ave.
BUICK MOTOR CO., 14th and L Sts.
COMMERCIAL GARAGE, 608 6th St. N.W.
DeNEANE MOTOR CO., 1507 14th St. 1742 Conn. Ave.
DISTRICT MOTOR CO., 932 14th St.
EMERSON & ORME, 1620 M St. 1218 Conn. Ave.
FOSS-HUGHES CO., 1141 Connecticut Ave.
FRANKLIN MOTOR CAR CO. 1814 E St. 1503 Conn. Ave.
GENERAL AUTO TRUCK CO., 21st and Virginia Ave.
HAWKINS NASH MOTOR CO., 1333-1337 14th St.
HILL & TIBBITTS, 14th St. and Ohio Ave.
STANLEY HORNER, 1015 14th St. 1220 19th St.
HOUGH MOTOR CO., 1028 Connecticut Ave.
LAMBERT HUDSON MOTORS CO., 1100 Conn. Ave. 1722 L St.
H. B. LEARY, JR., & BROS., 1652 You St. 1321 14th St.
THE LUTTRELL CO., Rhode Island Ave. and 14th St.
MARMON WASHINGTON CO., 1636 Connecticut Ave.
JOS. McREYNOLDS, 14th and R Sts. 1711 14th St.
DICK MURPHY, Inc., 1335 14th St.
NEUMEYER MOTOR CO., 1623 14th St.
OURISMAN CHEVROLET SALES CO., 625 H St. N.E.
PEERLESS MOTOR CO., 14th and P Sts.
JOHN R. PENDLETON 3342 M St.
PACKARD WASHINGTON MOTOR CAR CO., Connecticut at S. 1707 Kalorama Rd.
SEMMES MOTOR CO., 613 G St. 8 Dupont Circle 1707 14th St. 1424 Florida Ave. 2819 M St.
STERRETT & FLEMING, Inc., Champlain St. and Kalorama Rd. Connecticut at S.
STEARNS KNIGHT MOTOR CO., 1601 14th St.
TREW MOTOR CO., 1509 14th St.
R. L. TAYLOR MOTOR CO., 14th and T Sts.
WALLACE MOTOR CO., 1709 L St.
WARDMAN MOTOR CO., 1515 14th St.
WARFIELD MOTOR CO., 1132 Connecticut Ave.
WARRINGTON MOTOR CAR CO., 1727 14th St.
WASHINGTON CADILLAC CO., 1138-1140 Connecticut Ave.
WASHINGTON FLINT CO., 1005 14th St.
WASHINGTON VIRGINIA MOTOR CO., 1522 14th St.
WASHINGTON VELIE CO., 1134 Connecticut Ave.
WHITE CO., 21st and Virginia Ave.
WITT WILL CO., 52 N St. N.E.

INSURANCE.

DISTRICT AGENCY CO., 710 14th St.
RALPH W. LEE & CO., Colorado Bldg.
HOWARD W. PHILLIPS 1 Thomas Circle
W. M. WARD, Maryland Bldg.

Don't Take a Chance Take the Road That's Safe

You Must Get Value When You Buy a Used Car

From a Member of the

WASHINGTON AUTOMOTIVE TRADE ASSOCIATION

VON TIRPITZ TOLD HE IS REASON U. S. ENTERED INTO WAR

Insisting on Getting Reply From Houghton, Envoy Answers Clearly.

RED TAPE KEEPS BODY DAYS ON BORDER LINE

Split by Politics, Hindenburg and Ludendorff Still Are Friendly.

Berlin, May 8 (By A. P.).—One of Admiral Von Tirpitz's friends tells of a lively encounter the admiral had with Ambassador Alanson B. Houghton at a luncheon shortly before the Ambassador's transfer to London.

"I wonder why the United States ever come into the war," remarked Von Tirpitz, who was sitting next to Houghton.

The Ambassador was silent.

"I do not think you should ever have come in," added the admiral. "Why did you?"

Other conversation at that part of the table was suspended.

"One man brought the United States into the war," replied Houghton in even tones. "Just one man, and he was the minister who advised his sovereign to engage in unlimited submarine warfare."

Von Tirpitz's expression darkened and he exclaimed:

"Well, you had no business in the war because——."

"I am not arguing," interpolated the Ambassador mildly. "I have replied because you asked me. I must tell you that we came into the war for the reason that the emperor acted upon the advice of an eminent councilor who urged submarine warfare without distinction."

The subject was left there and the Ambassador and admiral talked amiably on other topics.

* * * *

When Erich Mueller, a public accountant, of Berlin, froze to death while he was alone on a hiking trip in the giant mountains in southeastern Germany, and his body was found to be partly in Germany and partly in Czechoslovakia, there arose a problem involving international red tape that prevented removal of the body for nine days.

The Czech authorities refused to issue a permit for the removal of the body because the greater portion of it was on German soil. German authorities likewise refused to authorize its removal, as the head, considered the main part of the body, lay in Czechoslovakia. After nine days friends obtained permits from provincial officials on both sides of the border and returned to Berlin with the body for burial.

* * * *

Although a rift because of political differences separates them, making their present situations contrast sharply with their close friendship during the war, there apparently remains a personal attachment between President von Hindenburg and Quartermaster General Ludendorff.

What friend and foe declared was the real heart of the seemingly stolid, unmovable Hindenburg was revealed recently when the old German generals of the world war gathered at a banquet table in the executive palace for the private celebration of the sixtieth soldier anniversary of the president. Field Marshal Ludendorf was not among the 80 generals present in war-time uniforms to honor the chief of the Germany army.

Nevertheless, President von Hindenburg alluded to the quartermaster general's absence in words reported as follows:

"I regret to say that among those whom we miss tonight is my former comrade-in-arms, Gen. Ludendorff. Unfortunately politics drove us apart."

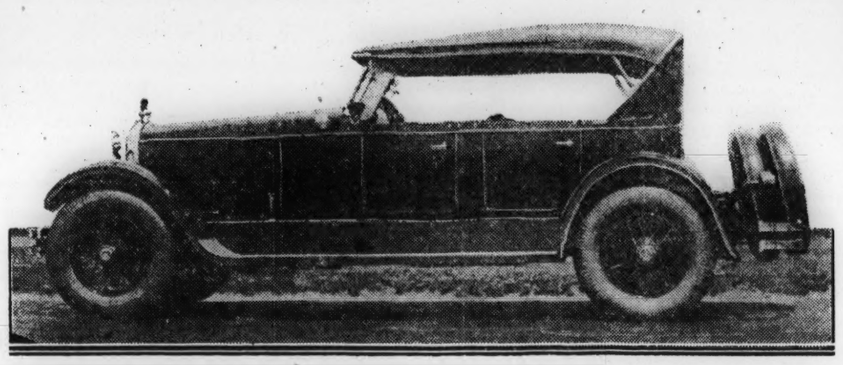

Gen. Ludendorff ranks himself among the extreme nationalists, who are as disappointed with Von Hindenburg's administration as the republicans are surprised and pleased.

* * * *

Compulsory instruction in swimming, ordered in an edict of May, 1924, is making thousands of German school children into potential Gertrude Ederles and Johnny Weismullers. Six thousand children have graduated as diploma swimmers from the schools of the Friedrichshafen quarter alone since the edict was issued. Similar reports are being received by the ministry of education from other schools, both city and provincial.

In the tests for diplomas in the Friedrichshafen quarter about a third of the students swam from 45 to 60 minutes without undue exhaustion, while 504 boys and 51 girls received certificates as life savers.

AN ADDITION TO THE MARMON LINE

Four-passenger speedster, which has been built to meet the demand for a four-passenger close-coupled open car.

OWNER OF A HOTEL IN LONDON MUST TIP HIS OWN EMPLOYES

Their Attitude Would Be "Terrible" if He Failed, It Is Asserted.

BONNET OF SALVATION LASSIE IS FASHIONABLE

Queen Maud of Norway Has Written Modern Novel Not Yet Published.

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—American hotel men who visited England on their way to an international convention in Paris were a week's sources of wonder to their English colleagues.

For instance, H. E. Maiwaring, of San Francisco, former manager of the famous old Grand hotel in Yokohama, told English reporters how he had to tip in his own hostelry.

"Why I never have a meal in my own hotel without tipping the waiters," he said. "No, sir. One hundred dollars a month, that's what it costs me in tips to my own staff. What can I do about it? Nothing. Just nothing."

"Suppose you didn't tip?" ventured an Englishman.

"Oh, the waiters would keep right on with their work all right; but their attitude, their attitude! It would be terrible!"

* * * *

The familiar semipoke bonnet of the Salvation Army lassie has entered the rank of fashion. With the coming of summer, milliners have chosen the style for general feminine wear. Trimmed with velvet ribbon, the hats have an old-fashioned appearance remindful of the crinoline days.

In straw and light-weight felt, the fashionable "poke" effect is accentuated by a droop over the eyes, while at the back, there is a large turn-up, instead of the cutaway appearance that in Salvation Army hats left a place for the "bun" of hair. In the extreme styles, the wearer's face will scarcely be visible because of the drooped front of the hat. In many cases the hats are made of the same material as the frock or coat worn with them.

* * * *

Queen Maud of Norway has added her name to the list of royal authoresses. She has written a modern novel, but it has not yet been published. Her friends explain that this is due to her shyness.

Princess Marie Louise, cousin of King George, is one of the few English royal personages to publish a book. Her letters from the West African coast have been read with avidity by those who enjoy notes on travel.

On the continent there are several royal literary personages, including the Infanta Eulalia of Spain and Queen Marie of Roumania. The latter has followed the example of her mother-in-law, "Carmen Sylva," in the use of the pen.

* * * *

"Artists' bow" ties are the latest for women's wear in fashionable circles. Made of mats to match the wearer's dress, they are tied under the chin with moderate-sized loops, but the ends of the ties reach to the edge of the dress. For street wear, the ends are made of thick material and held midway by a sash or belt of the same stuff, while for afternoon wear the tie usually is of 6-inch width made of velvet ribbon. Soft georgette is the material generally chosen to wear with a dinner gown.

Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, during his defense of the economy bill in the house of commons recently, gave statistics on the number of harsh epithets used by the opposition during their fight against passage of the bill.

He said he observed that "robbery" was used 67 times; "steal," 3 times; "plunder," 10 times; "theft," twice, and "grab" once. References which were made to him, he said, included "villain of the piece," "robber," "marauder," "cat-burglar" and "artful dodger."

Mr. Churchill is congratulating himself that he has graduated from the designation of "murderer," sometimes applied to him in the past, and that he is now no worse than a "robber."

PARIS EXECUTIONER REFUSES TO REMAIN ON PIECEWORK PAY

Manager of the Guillotine Has Too Few Subjects to Reap Profit.

FRENCH HONOR LEGION BIG AS ARMY OF U. S.

Attempt to Tax Anglers Is Quickly Put Down by the Senate.

Paris, May 4 (By A. P.).—Executioner Diebler, who supervises the beheading of French criminals with the great knife of the guillotine on receiving 1,000 francs for each execution, has given notice that he will not work any more on that basis, because the income it nets him is not enough.

The executioner's attitude, savoring of a "one-man strike," became known at a cabinet meeting recently, when Premier Briand, seeing that Minister of Justice Laval seemed downcast, asked the reason.

"As if there were not enough other functionaries heckling us with demands for money here," answered Minister Laval, "Diebler is now refusing to work piecework any more."

The premier replied that the minister's department was supposed to keep the executioner busy enough to keep him satisfied.

* * * *

The holders of French Legion of Honor medals, if mobilized, would constitute an army just about equivalent to the number of men in America's peace time military establishment, it is shown by figures just furnished by the government.

On December 1, 1925, there were 131,334 legionnaires on the roll of the grand chancellory, and more have been elevated since that date. There are 58 "chief grand crosses" of the order now living, including chiefs of staff, eminent soldiers, both French and foreign. Former presidents of the republic and others are included. The grand officers number 374. The commanders alone form a regiment with a strength of 2,652, while there are 7,745 officers of the Legion of Honor entitled to wear the little red rosette. The chevalier, or knights, numbered no fewer than 110,505 last December.

Fees for possession of the legion's diploma have been doubled by a recent decree. It now costs 50 francs for a chevalier to obtain his parchment, 100 francs for an officer, 200 for a commander, 300 for a grand commander and 500 for a grand cross. Only privates and noncommissioned officers in the French army who have won the chevalier's cross in service are exempt from the new dues.

* * * *

The wine growers of France are engaging in modern advertising campaigns to secure the prestige of their vintages through poetry and poster contests. The modern vintners seem to have lost faith in the old adage: "Good wine needs no bush," a saying that may have originated in France, where a bush hung over the doorway is often the only sign the village retailer uses.

Rheims, the home of champagne wine, offered a prize for the best song in praise of its product. Then the leading vineyard owners of central France combined to institute a prize of 10,000 francs for the best work praising the soil that yields such a precious crop.

Now the Fine Arts association of Beziers is organizing a competition for posters in a campaign for the "propagation of the blood of the vine." Beziers is down in the southeast corner of France.

A prize of 10,000 francs is offered for the winning poster and several "in kind" prizes, ranging from barrels to single bottles of wine, will be given for posters propagating the truth about wine, showing its food, hygienic and curative value, and how it is a means to "combat tuberculosis, alcoholism, lunacy, typhoid and other diseases," and above all to enlighten the public regarding the error of charging up to wine the ill-effects of alcohol.

* * * *

Although the average French angler never catches any fish, as any observer of the banks of the Seine can readily observe, the sport of Isaak Walton is sacred in France. With great indignation the senate had just turned down a suggestion that, in order to bolster up the franc, fishing permits be issued, like hunting permits, for the sum of 100 francs.

"Hunting is a pleasure only for those who have certain means," declared Senator Brenier, socialist. "The sport of fishing is the sport of the most humble. To impose a tax upon them would risk depriving them of a modest pleasure and a day in the open air."

The senate agreed with him, and the fishing license proposal was promptly thrown out.

* * * *

Auguste Brenet, a veteran of the world war and sufferer from an incurable disease contracted in the war, wrote a note bequeathing his body to the Academy of Medicine, and then made a diary of his dying sensations, as he committed suicide by coal gas from a stove in his room, and by opening the veins of a wrist with a knife. Among the last words he wrote, were:

"I leave the world with a smile."

Two entries in the diary written during his dying moments were:

"Ten o'clock—I have lit the stove, crammed it full of coal and stopped the pipe.

"Ten-thirty—the effects of the carbonic acid can be felt. My heart has begun to beat very strongly. I am placing a knife within easy reach to plunge into my heart if any one comes to disturb me. Shall I have ceased to live before my poor Martha arrives? I ask her pardon."

300,000 Essex Owners Know

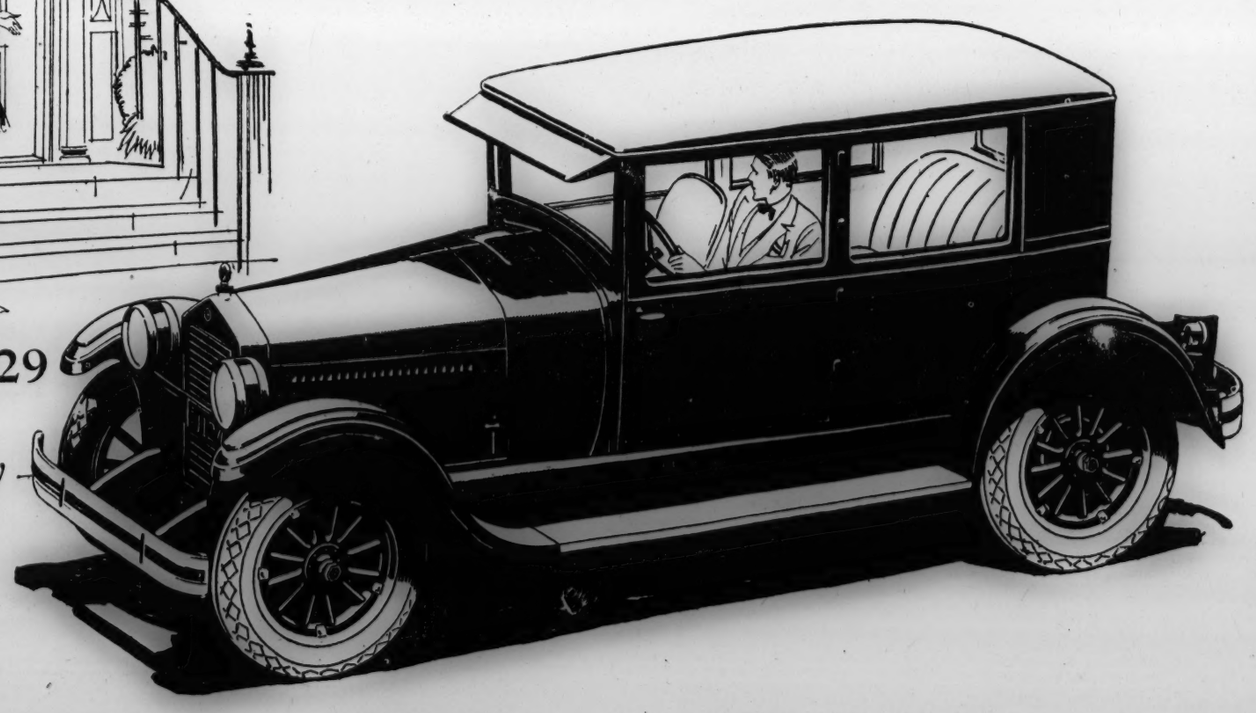

These Time Proven Qualities Turning New Thousands of Buyers to Essex

This is a year of "Sixes". The trend is more irresistible than ever. Through the world's largest production of "Sixes" Essex now holds the greatest price advantage with the finest quality Essex ever offered.

There are 300,000 Essex owners. They tell you today's Essex is the best ever built. It is easy to steer, easy riding and has the running smoothness that is exclusive to the famous Super-Six motor. It is economical, sturdy and requires little service attention.

No wonder Essex is so popular, no wonder it has turned the trend to "Sixes"— no wonder it is the preferred "Six" with thousands of new buyers ever increasing its outstanding sales leadership.

ESSEX COACH $829

At Your Door—

Nothing Else to Pay

Price Includes Freight, Tax and the Following Equipment:

Front and Rear Bumpers; Automatic Windshield Cleaner; Rear View Mirror; Transmission Lock (built-in); Radiator Shutters; Moto-Meter; Combination Stop and Tail Light.

DISTRIBUTOR

LAMBERT-HUDSON MOTORS CO.

1100 CONNECTICUT AVENUE — PHONE WEST 1134

METROPOLITAN DEALERS

NEUMEYER MOTOR COMPANY
1823 14th St. N.W.—Phone North 7522

SAUNDERS MOTOR COMPANY
1078 Wisconsin Ave.—West 144

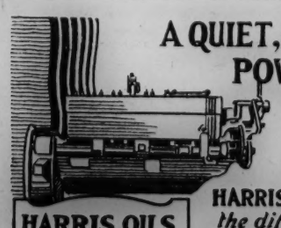

PERRY BOSWELL
34th and R. I. Ave. N.E.—Phone Hyattsville 617

W. H. BAYNES
5501 Wisconsin Ave., Bethesda, Md.

SCHULTZE'S MOTOR COMPANY
1496 H St. N.E.

HOLLAND MOTOR COMPANY
Connecticut Avenue at R Street—Pot. 5197

I. C. BARBER MOTOR COMPANY
3101 14th St. N.W.—Col. 18

A QUIET, SMOOTH-RUNNING POWERFUL MOTOR!

If you can't say that of yours, drain your crankcase today, and fill up with the proper grade of HARRIS OIL

HARRIS OIL alone will make all the difference in the world!

HARRIS OILS ARE A PRODUCT OF PURE PENNSYLVANIA CRUDE

There's a grade of HARRIS OIL to meet every lubricating need

HARRIS

TRADE MARK—REGD. U.S. PAT. OFF.

OILS AND GREASES

"America's Leading Lubricants"

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

A. W. HARRIS Oil Co.
Providence, R.I.

Boy Scout Notes

Wednesday evening, April 28, the Northeast Citizens association celebrated the turning on of the new lights along H street with a parade. The Boy Scouts of that section were asked to participate, which they did. Each boy carried a red torch and they were led by Troop 99's drum and bugle corps. More than 200 scouts were in line.

Scouts of Troop 20 participated in the opening exercises of Crandall's new theater, the Colony, on Georgia avenue Friday evening. The boys took part in a pageant similar to the ones put on on Children's day at Crandall's Tivoli theater.

It has been announced definitely that Camp Roosevelt will open June 28 and close August 16. Registration must be limited to 150 scouts a week. Registration blanks can be secured at scout headquarters. A deposit fee of $2 must be paid for each week registered.

The American War Mothers and the Congressional club are holding memorial services in the amphitheater and by the Unknown Soldier tomb at Arlington cemetery this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Twenty scouts have been asked to act as ushers and will be supplied by Troops 52 and 57.

Scouts have been asked to act as aids at the Northern Baptist convention to be held in this city from May 25 to 30.

Troop 70, with Ellis Middleton scoutmaster, held its annual parents' night Friday. Mr. Middleton could not be present at the meeting, but the boys put on a very creditable entertainment, being conducted by the older scouts. Dr. Paul Bartsch gave a talk on "Scouting and Scouts" and Col. E. L. Mattice, deputy commissioner of the fourth division, presented the scouts with some special awards. The entertainment consisted of a first-aid demonstration, tableaux illustrating the shooting of Dan Mcgrew, a campfire scene, saxophone duet and a minstrel show.

The third division will hold its field meet at Burnt Mills May 15. The contest will take the form of a project worked out like a story, with places left blank that the scouts will fill out by performing the activity called for it. It is planned to have the contest begin Saturday morning and continue until Sunday morning.

Fourth division field meet will be held June 5. The actual form of the contest has not been announced, but it may assume the same form as that of the third division, as this will be the type of the intercity contest to be held in Philadelphia July 2 and 3, and so will be the form of the interdivisional meet to be held June 12.

Troop 57 held its annual parents' night Friday evening.

Troop 100 held its annual dinner Friday evening in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. After the dinner the troop was presented with the silver "Washington Post" cup, awarded for winning the advancement contest and which may be held for one year, also the plaque for winning the third division swimming meet.

Mouth Health

Published Under the Auspices of the District of Columbia Dental Society.

(Copyright.)

The purpose of this department established by The Washington Post in cooperation with the District of Columbia Dental society, is to give information in regard to dental health, to arouse necessary interest in this important field. Advice or information on these questions may be obtained by writing to the Mouth Health Department, Washington Post, inclosing stamped, addressed envelope. Your question will be gladly answered.

HOW DIET BRINGS ON PYORRHEA.

Airedale pups and crooked teeth and pyorrhea—through work with animals, we are beginning to know how diet effects our health and how it brings on many of the troubles of the teeth.

Airedale pups have been used in some experiments. Sleek, healthy, active puppies were fed on foods lacking the calcium and vitamine ingredients needed for good growth of the bones and teeth. By this feeding, it was found by the experimenter that such a diet produced irregular teeth and beginning pyorrhea.

Dr. Kurt Thoma, of Harvard, tells of a young patient who came to him because of inflamed and bleeding gums for which he received treatment for nearly a year.

He wanted to find out if it was possible to do anything more than scaling by the dentist and brushing the teeth and gums at home. His mouth was carefully examined and it was found that the teeth were clean and well cared for.

When questioned as to his diet, he said that he ate a great deal of meat at all meals, including breakfast; he was very fond of sugar and candy in large amounts.

He was advised to change his diet, to eat meat not more than twice a week and to eat freely of vegetables, especially the uncooked ones.

He was to deny himself candy and sugar except as used in the preparation of foods. As a substitute, fresh fruits, especially oranges, were recommended. He followed these directions carefully and within two months his gums became normal and this incipient pyorrhea had left him.

While correcting the diet will not always remove the cause of pyorrhea, it is important enough to consider as one of the things that brings on this condition. By regulating the diet, it has been shown that lesions and irregularities of the teeth and supporting tissues, very much like pyorrhea, take place.

Animals were fed on a diet lacking in such protective foods as leafy vegetables, milk, egg yolk and cod liver oil so that the vitamine elements were left out of their foods. It was found that after three days, their teeth became loose while the gums were red and spongy. The molars were elongated and in an abnormal position and all the signs of pyorrhea were present.

It is interesting to note that the few animals which received the same diet, but with the addition of orange juice which contains an abundant supply of the antiscurvy vitamine, had none of the symptoms described above.

Based on these experiments, we now consider one form of pyorrhea to be a milder type of scurvy and that it can be prevented or cured by regulating the diet. It has been shown that a diet lacking the necessary vitamines will cause disease of the bony socket of the tooth. The disease here begins not at the margin of the gums, but on the roots.

Then, too, there are certain diseases which affect the whole body, such as scurvy, lead poisoning and mercury poisoning, and these may be reflected in disorders of the teeth and gums.

Of course, none of these suggestions means that the cleanliness of the teeth should be neglected.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Objections to Toothpicks.

Q.—Why do dentists advise against toothpicks?—F. K.

A.—The end of a toothpick might break off and leave a splinter between the gums, which is very irritating.

Replacing Extracted Teeth.

Q.—Is it necessary to replace one or two missing teeth right after they are extracted?—Mrs. J.

A.—It is best to replace the missing teeth as soon as the gums have entirely healed.

Q.—My little son is past 2½ years old and has only four teeth behind. Could he be helped any by going to a dentist?—A. N.

A.—About all you can do is to consult your dentist and have X-rays taken of the child's mouth. This may determine what is keeping the teeth back, and if it does, he can possibly remove the cause.

Few Secrets Told Under "Gas."

Q.—Does one always tell one's secrets while under "gas?"

A.—Most patients do not talk while under the influence of the anesthetic.

When to Need a Plate.

Q.—Is it necessary to make a new plate every five years if the old one I have is still pretty good?—M. L. K.

A.—No. It all depends on the absorption of the tissue under the plate. If the tissue is all right, no new plate is necessary.

Isn't a partial place an extravagance?—L. A.

Very often a partial plate is the best means of restoring a mouth to its normal condition.

No Sore Throat From Crown.

Q.—I have had a sore throat for about four weeks. Could this be due to a new crown I had put in about a month ago?—M. G.

A.—No.

Straightening the Teeth.

Q.—I am 20 years old. My front teeth on top are large and stick out. Could they be straightened or filed down?—F. B. N.

A.—Consult your dentist who will refer you to a specialist in straightening of the teeth. As a general rule, it is a poor policy to file the teeth to any extent.

Grandmother's Teeth.

Q.—My grandmother is 65 years old but in very good health. Could she wear false teeth?—B. B. C.

A.—Yes.

Zulu Prince Studies His Race in Dixie

Lexington, Ky., May 8 (By A. P.). Prince Ballamo of Zululand is in Dixie studying the American negro.

"My purpose is to study my people here along educational and vocational lines," he said. "When I return I will establish the same line of work among my people."

The Zulus, most warlike tribe in the whole of South Africa, at the same time are the most refined and Christianized, the prince declared. He is the son of the war chief Catewayo of Zululand, who raised the insurrection against England in 1897. Catewayo died, a prisoner of war, after two years' imprisonment in England. Since his death there have been no chiefs.

Bullamo said "there is no class of people that will assimilate education and Christianity more quickly than those semibarbarians in the wilds of Zululand."

HONEYMOONERS VISIT HEAD HUNTERS' LAND

Dr. Dickey and His Bride Are Soon to Emerge From Jungle at Para.

New York, May 8 (By A. P.).—The honeymoon expedition of Dr. Herbert Spencer Dickey and his bride into the jungles of eastern Ecuador, home of the Head Hunter Indians, soon will come to an end at Para, Brazil.

The trip was made to obtain accurate knowledge of the geography of the country surrounding the Morona, Pastaza, Tigre and Curarar rivers and to gather important scientific data. Expert cameramen and equipment to record photographic history of the expedition was provided by Fox Films.

Dr. Dickey, fellow of the Royal Geographic society and a major in the U. S. medical corps in the world war, has passed 22 years in tropical South America. Previous to this last journey he married Miss Elizabeth Parker, of Tippecanoe, Ohio, who decided to accompany him as one of the few white women ever to essay a jungle trip.

The last part of the trip from Guayaquil to Mera was through Jiveros, the stronghold of one of the fiercest of the Head Hunter tribes. They were engaged in war at the time, and while the Dickey party was in the territory an orgy of shrinking and curing human heads was begun.

SMITH AUTO LAUNDRY

Auto polished (best grade).....50c
Auto washed $1.25
Auto oiled and greased.....$1.00
Spark Plugs cleaned.....25c

REAR 1514 K STREET N.W.

D. A. R.

The April meeting of the Janet Montgomery chapter was held at the home of Mrs. Ann Turner Cunningham in Georgetown. The regent, Mrs. E. P. Weaver, presided. A prayer was said by the chaplain, Mrs. Wells, of Rockville. Mrs. Gittings contributed $8 toward the sesquicentennial at Philadelphia this summer. An invitation was sent to Mrs. Adam Denmead, of Baltimore, to attend the May meeting to tell about the work of the Daughters of the American Revolution at Valley Forge.

The Judge Lynn chapter met at the home of Mrs. E. A. Cobey, 3201 Thirty-third place northwest, Tuesday evening.

Officers elected were Mrs. Charles S. Schermerhorn, regent; Miss Louise Carman, vice regent; Mrs. Enoch J. Vann, recording secretary; Miss Ruth D. Sutton, corresponding secretary; Miss Rebecca Reily, treasurer; Miss Laura J. Silsby, registrar; Mrs. Clarence Exley, jr., historian, and Mrs. E. A. Cobey, chaplain. The retiring regent, Mrs. Harry B. Gauss, was made delegate.

A brief report of the D. A. R. congress held in April was made by Miss Virginia W. Price, State recording secretary. It was announced that the pledge of $25 made at the Continental congress last year toward the new building has been paid. This pledge was made in honor of the founder and honorary regent of the chapter, Mrs. Bertha M. Robbins.

Mrs. Charles C. Haig, State chairman of children of the republic committee, read a report on training along patriotic lines of the boys and girls comprising the two clubs at Peck's chapel had been continued, and that the two clubs recently organized at Friendship house were progressing satisfactorily.

At the conclusion of the business meeting the new officers were installed and the gavel turned over to Mrs. Schermerhorn. A supper was served by Mrs. Cobey and the assisting hostesses, Mrs. W. J. Lightfoot, Miss Corite E. Hunter and Mrs. Herbert P. Leeman.

The Frances Scott chapter met at the Calverton Tuesday. Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Bright were the hostesses. Contributions to the auditorium chair fund were received from Mrs. A. O. White, of Fremont, Mich., an honorary member of the Frances Scott chapter, and Mrs. Frank Bell, chaplain of the chapter.

The registrar reported the following new members: Mrs. Arthur Stevenson, Mrs. Harvey Sargent, Mrs. E. F. Cassel and Mrs. Josephine Lane.

The annual luncheon of the chapter will be held at the Lafayette hotel Tuesday, May 25.

The Continental hall and revolutionary relics committee asked for contributions of old china to be placed on the shelves of the antique secretary in the District room at Continental hall. Mrs. Garges offered to lend a cake dish and nutmeg grater which belonged to Mary Ann Deal, whose husband fought in the revolutionary war. Mrs. Uhler offered some wine glasses belonging to the Uhler family.

The following officers were elected: Regent, Mrs. L. Percy Daniel; vice regent, Mrs. George A. Frazer; recording secretary, Mrs. John C. Eckhardt; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Walker S. Martin; historian, Mrs. Alfred Ball Garges; registrar, Mrs. Warren E. Emley, and chaplain, Mrs. Frank Bell. Mrs. Uhler was appointed chairman of the program committee.

Dorothy Hancock chapter held its last meeting of the year Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Buchannon at Beltsville, Md. Mrs. Coldflesh was associate hostess.

The chapter's annual picnic will be held at Mount Vernon. Mrs. Lucille Harlow was appointed chairman.

The Political Study club will meet Saturday at 2:30 o'clock at the Franklin Square hotel. Mrs. Clyde B. Aitchison, president, will preside. Annual elections will take place at this meeting.

Mrs. William J. Monro is chairman of the entertainment committee. Ross Farrer, tenor; Thomas Pyne, barytone; Clyde Bruce Aitchison, base; Mrs. John C. Leighty, accompanist, are on the program.

Mrs. William H. King and Mrs. John W. Summers will preside at the tea tables, assisted by Mrs. H. R. Perry, Mrs. Frank Ballou, Mrs. C. C. Calhoun, Miss Emma Nourse and Mrs. McCarl. Mrs. Herbert M. Lord will be guest of honor.

Tomorrow the annual May breakfast will be held. The Secretary of Labor, James F. Davis, will be the principal speaker. Mrs. Davis will be the guest of honor. Miss Beatrice Henderson and Conrad Young will sing a duet. Mrs. Aitchison will have as her guests Mrs. C. L. McNary and Mrs. Robert Stanfield.

The breakfast will be in the Franklin Square hotel and is in charge of Mrs. Frank Morrison, first vice president, assisted by Mrs. Charles Cecil, chairman of place.

The Richard Arnold chapter will hold its May meeting Wednesday at the Mayflower hotel. Mrs. Randolph D. Hopkins, regent, will preside and the newly elected State officers will be honor guests. A program will follow the meeting, at which Mrs. James Marshall Willey, the new State regent, will speak. Mrs. David D. Caldwell, State chairman of the Constitution hall committee, will make a report of the part taken by the District daughters.

Mrs. Redwood Vandegrift, regent of Margaret Whetten chapter, entertained at the Women's City club last Sunday afternoon in honor of Mrs. John M. Beavers, vice president general, N. S. D. A. R., from the District. Mrs. Vandegrift was assisted by Miss Alice Heavens, of the City club; Miss Gertrude Lyons, who sang a group of songs; Miss Marion Smith, cellist, and Mrs. Webster, contralto.

Among the guests were Mrs. S. R. Dickerson, state regent of the D. A. R. in China; Miss Helen Bodine, of Philadelphia, who attended the D. A. R. congress here, en route home from a trip to Europe, during which she visited the D. A. R. chapters in Rome, Paris and London; Mrs. W. W. Botts, state regent of Missouri, and her Washington hostess, Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins; Mrs. James M. Willey, new State regent of the District of Columbia.

Mrs. Jessie Porter Wood, the heraldic artist who presented the Washington coat-of-arms to the D. A. R. congress, to be hung in the District of Columbia room, is a resident of Washington and member of the Lucy Holcomb chapter, D. C. The presentation was made through Mrs. John M. Beavers, retiring State regent, in the absence of Mrs. Frank Cunningham, regent of the chapter. This Washington arms differs slightly from the original Washington arms in that the crest of the latter is supplanted by the "raging" eagle in the arms used by Gen. Washington and first adapted by him for use on his family coach.

The Livingston Manor chapter was entertained Tuesday at the home of Mrs. C. E. Browne, 2301 Connecticut avenue. The regent, Mrs. A. Y. Casanova, presided. Mrs. Howie, president of the Harvard Woman's club, and representing the Boston Tea Party chapter, D. A. R., of Boston, Mass., gave an account of her chapter.

Mrs. Ingraham, another D. A. R. from Boston, regent of the Old Belfry chapter, talked on the preservation of forests, impressing her listeners to use every means to preserve the old trees.

Judge Mary O'Toole, of the municipal court in the District, spoke on "What Women Should Know About the Courts." Retta D. Morris, the first justice of the peace appointed in Maryland; Mrs. Edward L. Hillyer and Mrs. Camilla Diggs were guests. Mrs. Barrick, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Hoyt and Mrs. McPherson presided at the refreshment table.

The April meeting of Federal City chapter was held at the home of the vice regent, Mrs. Royal L. Shuman, Miss Nette Herrick and Mrs. Charles C. Schmidt were assistant hostesses. The regent, Mrs. Mahlon A. Winter presided.

The following officers were elected: Regent, Mrs. Royal L. Shuman; vice regent, Mrs. George E. Chadsey; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles C. Schmidt; corresponding secretary, Miss Nettie Herrick; treasurer, Miss Estelle Price; historian, Miss Lula Comstock; registrar, Mrs. Eula K. Woodward; chaplain, Mrs. Harry G. Tolson.

The regent, Mrs. Winter, organized Federal City chapter and in declining to again be a candidate for the office thanked the chapter for the cooperation and support she had always received at the hands of the members and asked that the newly elected regent receive the same loyal support from the chapter. A rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Winter for the work she has done for the chapter from its birth on October 30, 1916.

The Independence Bell chapter was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Frederick Kroeber Sparrow, vice regent, at 106 East Capitol street. The regent, Mrs. Henry Churchill Cook, presided. A program was given with several original poems pertaining to the Revolution read by John Claggett Proctor. Miss Audrey M. Witcomb, daughter of the Marine band soloist, Arthur S. Witcomb, a student of the Washington College of Music, played a group of piano selections. Miss Marjorie Costello, of Rochester, N. Y., a student of the Miss Webster school, gave several dramatic readings.

Abigail Hartman Rice chapter met at the home of Katherine and Elizabeth Caldwell, 3342 Mount Pleasant street northwest, Tuesday. The regent, Mrs. Jaspar M. Beall, read a report on work for the year. Miss Kathryne Junkin, chairman of membership, submitted the names of Miss Virginia Britton, Mrs. Joseph Koob, and Miss Henrietta Starr, and they were admitted as members.

Newly elected officers are: Mrs. Alice S. Morrison, regent; Mrs. Madalen Dingley Leetch, vice regent; Miss Virginia Mason Nicholls, recording secretary; Miss Theodora Adams, corresponding secretary; Miss Kathryne V. Iokes Junkin, treasurer; Miss Katherine Hawley, registrar; Miss Helen Belt, historian, and Miss Edwardina Warren, chaplain.

Mrs. Beall, retiring regent, was given a rising vote of thanks. Mrs. Edward William Digges, formerly Miss Olive Prescott, bride of the chapter, has invited the members of the chapter to be her guests at her summer home at Herald Harbor. Mrs. Digges will give a reception at her present home, Wakefield hall, New Hampshire avenue and V street northwest, this afternoon.

House Paint Is Used In "Boy Blue" Canvas

Hilo, Island of Hawaii, May 8 (By A. P.).—When "Officer 666" was to be presented by students of Hilo High school, the faculty found itself in need of a "Blue Boy" which could be stolen in the course of the plot.

Katsumi Tsuji, a senior, volunteered to supply the missing "prop." When he had finished, although he had used mostly house paint, Gainsborough's famous masterpiece had been reproduced so effectively that the faculty play committee termed it "almost perfect." Tsuji worked six weeks on his picture, a full size reproduction.

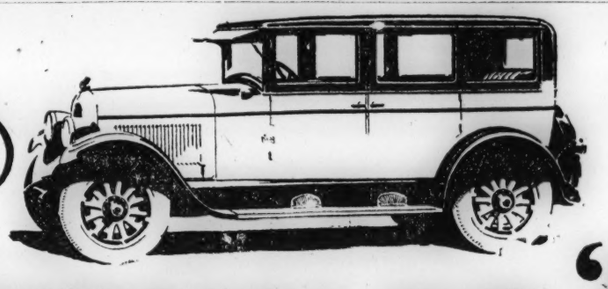

Shark Steak Appears On Capetown's Menu

Capetown, (By A. P.).—Shark steak, like whale meat, which became popular on the Western Coast of the United States some years ago, has been placed on the South African market as a side issue of a scheme to gain cheap supplies of shark leather. The tail is considered the best cut for steaks.

Fins have long been eaten in China, the Archipelago, the Gold Coast, New Zealand and Japan. The chief drawback to shark meat is its oiliness, but dealers here say a process has been found to extract much of the oil without much expense.

Painters and Paperhangers

are using the classified ad pages of The Post to highly profitable, business-getting results. There's room for more. Phone Main 4205 for details.

The New CHRYSLER '60'

Again Chrysler Quality and Performance—New Lower-Priced Six

Standardized Quality—The Foundation of Chrysler Superiority

The consummation of a policy of Standardized Quality—uniformly high—in all sizes and classifications of Chrysler products is announced to the American public.

This corporation has studied for years the car requirements of the American people and, as a result of that study, has long recognized the different needs of varying conditions and applications of motor transportation.

Four great classes comprehend the complete car requirement of the public the world over.

Heretofore those four markets have been served by a diversity of manufacturers who have produced many cars of widely different design and quality.

The Chrysler Corporation has accepted the task of changing this uneconomic condition.

Its ideal has been to serve the public with equally fine quality in each of the great motor markets.

To Chrysler, it has never been clear why the purchaser of a car in the $1000.00 class should receive less quality and fine workmanship, in proportion to size and performance, than a purchaser in the $3000.00 class.

It is with utmost gratification, therefore, that I now announce Standardized Quality in all Chrysler products. Chrysler cars are built in a number of chassis sizes, in a variety of performance abilities, in body types to satisfy the public demand.

Size and performance regulate price. But Quality is Standard.

We invite you to fit any Chrysler car to your motoring needs and to your pocketbook with complete assurance that Standardized Quality applies to all.

W. P. CHRYSLER

A High Quality Six of Extraordinary Interest to Buyers of the Lower-Priced Sixes—

A Sensational Value

Walter P. Chrysler, manufacturer of the famous Chrysler "70", the superfine Imperial "80" and the preferred four, Chrysler "58", now presents the new Chrysler "60"—the latest sensational product of Chrysler engineering—the first Chrysler Six at so low a price.

At last, all of the supreme value and performance you naturally expect from Chrysler, in a size and at a price that revolutionize values and quality among lower-priced sixes.

Chrysler Quality—without an equal in the whole industry—in the new "60" now completes Chrysler domination of the three great fields in which sixes are pre-eminent.

Chrysler Performance—always sensational, always superior—measured by the Chrysler model numbers—"58"-"60"-"70"-Imperial "80".

And in this newest Chrysler—the six-cylinder "60"—all of the Chrysler superiorities, features and new results combined in a quality six which upsets all previous standards in the lower-priced field.

Never before such a six at such a price as the Chrysler "60".

60 miles—and more—per hour. Lightning acceleration. Extraordinary gas mileage—22 miles per gallon. The beauty of Chrysler dynamic symmetry. Genuine Chrysler quality and Chrysler long life. Riding ease which only Chrysler gives. The supreme safety of Chrysler Four-wheel Hydraulic Brakes. Oil-filter and air-cleaner. Seven-bearing crankshaft. Full pressure lubrication. Extraordinary strength. Roomy luxurious bodies.

The lowest priced six ever built which combines all these fine car features—plus unapproached Chrysler quality and craftsmanship.

See the new Chrysler "60". Drive it. Don't be satisfied with anything less than Chrysler "60" value, quality and performance.

Touring Car $1075
Roadster $1145
Sedan $1295
Coach $1195
Coupe $1165

All prices f. o. b. Detr. , subject to current Federal excise tax

Chrysler "60" Quality Features

1 6-Cylinder Chrysler Motor.
2 54 brake horse-power.
3 60 miles per hour and more.
4 5 to 25 miles in 7¾ seconds.
5 Easily 22 miles to the gallon.
6 7-bearing crankshaft.
7 Aluminum alloy pistons balanced to sixteen one-hundredths of an ounce.
8 Impulse Neutralizer—Not a balancer, but a device that absorbs the natural impulse re-actions common to all internal combustion engines.
9 Purolator—filters all crankcase oil.
10 Centrifugal air cleaner—protects cylinders and pistons from road dust and grit.
11 Full pressure oiling system—a film of oil for all bearings, insuring long life.
12 Semi-automatic plus manual spark control.
13 Manifold heat control.
14 Chrysler roadability—easy to steer, easy to handle at all speeds, always safe.
15 Chrysler hydraulic four-wheel brakes.
16 Levelizers, which eliminate road shocks, at both front and rear.
17 Chrysler dynamic symmetry of body design.
18 Great roominess combined with Chrysler compactness for easy parking.
19 Duco finish in striking color combinations.
20 Full balloon 30 x 5.25 tires.

We are eager to demonstrate the above features in the new Chrysler "60". Arrange to drive this sensational car yourself.

Model 60 On Display Only at 1612 You St.

H. B. LEARY, JR. & BROS.

1612 You St. North 4296

Branch Sales Room—Connecticut Ave. and Q St.

E. R. KEENAN, 10th and Eye Sts. N.W.

THIRD in the World
-and Sales still mounting

During the first three months of 1926 Dodge Brothers, Inc., built and sold more motor vehicles than any other manufacturer in the world, except Ford and Chevrolet.

71,189 retail deliveries were made by Dodge Brothers Dealers in the United States and Canada between January second and April third. This represents a gain of 37 per cent over the same period last year and 69 per cent over the first quarter of 1924!

Third largest in the world! And sales CONTINUING to mount week after week to new record breaking levels.

In fact, during the week ending April 24th retail sales reached the remarkable total of 9,566—the greatest single week in Dodge Brothers history!

These figures are all the more significant when you realize that the gain of the industry as a whole over last year is only 12 per cent.

There could be no more convincing evidence that today's product is regarded as better than ever before and that the present prices make it the most impressive value Dodge Brothers have ever offered.

Touring Car - - - -	$795	Coupe - - - - - - - -	$845
Roadster - - - - - -	$795	Sedan - - - - - - - - -	$895

f. o. b. Detroit

SEMMES MOTOR COMPANY

RAPHAEL SEMMES, President

613 G Street N. W. — 8 Dupont Circle
2819 M St. N. W. — 1424 Florida Ave. N. E.
1707 14th St. N. W.

Main 6660

DODGE BROTHERS
MOTOR CARS

The Washington Post

POST: SUNDA

MAGAZINE SECTION

Washington, D. C., Sunday, May 9, 1926.

America's First Birthday Party

By Catherine Copeland

President Coolidge to Visit Next Saturday the Scene of the First Demonstration for Independence at Williamsburg, Va., and to Hear the Tones of the "Virginia Liberty Bell" —Romance and History Enshroud Beautiful Little City Which Was First Capitol of the United States.

WHEN President Coolidge arrives in Williamsburg next Saturday, he will visit the scene of America's first birthday party.

When he hears the old Bruton church bell peal forth its welcome, he will hear the same bell that rang out American independence in May, 1776—six weeks before the ringing of the Liberty bell in Philadelphia—and this one didn't crack!

Williamsburg, Virginia, "the cradle of the Republic," is one of the "first" towns of our country.

Here was the first Capitol in the United States; the first free school; the first theater; the oldest college buildings (William and Mary, second in actual operation to Harvard); Bruton parish church, the oldest in constant use in America.

And here on May 15, 1776, the students and citizens of Williamsburg declared for independence, hauled down the British flag, paraded the troops on the green and rang the old church bell—the first to speak for liberty!

But let a charming Williamsburg lady tell it in her charming way. We were sitting together by an open fire in the most delightful old colonial house that ever rambled around a box bordered walk! Outside a chilly spring day, raining, hailing a little, too, snapping against the window and pelting the cowslips and jonquils. Inside a low-ceiled room, swept with friendly open bookshelves, the air sweet with white narcissus which filled the crystal bowl on the mahogany table.

The lady reached for her darning basket in a low chair by the fire. "Now just what is it," she smiled, "that you want to know?"

"Everything!" we burst out—"everything about Williamsburg—its story—not the brick and mortar history, but the soul of it—the spirit, you know!"

"Yes, I do know," the lady smiled again, "history is really written in yellowed letters, faded photographs, a pressed flower, perhaps—this sort of thing"—she got up and going to the mantel took down a small picture (we thought it was a daguerreotype)—"do you know what this is?"

"No-o," we answered, eyes fascinated by the delicate tracery, like white lace mounted on black velvet—"it looks like frost flowers!"

"It is a watch paper," my hostess explained. "In the old days when photographs were not to be had milady gave her fiance one of these for his watch—some of them were hand painted and others exquisitely cut out, like this. Here are his initials, you see, and here hers, and do notice the tiny love birds hovering over the true lovers' knot."

"It is lovely," we murmured, "and who was the lady?"

* * * *

"SHE was a very charming widow. And one day when she and her little son were at church—old Bruton church, over there—a gentleman saw her and immediately after service asked to be presented.

"Love at first sight!" we thrilled.

"Yes, I suppose so, for they were soon married. The lady was Frances Randolph and the little boy whose hand she was holding in hers was John Randolph, of Roanoke."

"Oh, yes," we examined the watch paper again, "the initials are 'F. R.'"

"Yes, and the gentleman's 'St. G. T.,' St. George Tucker. This is his room you are sitting in, and it was here that John Randolph spent his boyhood days—this is the Tucker house, you see."

"Why, of course," we put in. "It's so lovely—and doesn't it ramble?"

"It does," my hostess agreed, "and did! We are always running into old foundations when we dig in the garden. On one of these, at the back, there stood the first theater in America."

"Oh, really? The old Levingston theater built in—in——" we paused hopefully.

"In 1716; yes—and the records show that it was here that the first performance of 'The Merchant of Venice' was given in this country."

"How interesting," we murmured, "and now do tell us about the celebration that President Coolidge will attend."

"Well, you know that Williamsburg was the old colonial capitol, and that the house of burgesses met here. That made it a political center, of course, and with the students here, too, feeling ran high. On May 15, 1776, they declared this a free and independent State, paraded the troops on the green, hauled down the Union Jack, ran up the Continental flag in its place, and rang the Bruton church bell. This was six weeks before the Liberty bell rang in Philadelphia, and—" the lady's eyes were shining, "this one didn't crack!"

"Good!" we cried (we longed to wave something, too!) "And it has been ringing ever since?"

"Yes, every day. It is the most historic bell in the South. It rang out the news of the repeal of the stamp act in 1766; it rang in 1781 to celebrate the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown, and in 1783 it rang to celebrate peace with Great Britain."

* * * *

AS we finally tore ourselves away from the charming lady and her fireside, we cut across the palace green toward Bruton church.

We looked up at the old bell, and we wanted to bow—anyway our spirit did! The bell that had summoned to worship and to war; that had spoken for freedom and sounded for peace; that had called to the spirit of America for nearly 200 years!

And then we looked down at the old stone steps—gray, where they weren't yellowed with sun and rain, and we thought of the feet that had worn them away; Washington, Jefferson, Monroe, Tyler, Marshall, Randolph, Henry, Wythe.

Inside the church there are pews with these names on the door, and a throne-like dais for his excellency the governor, canopied in crimson velvet, with his name gleaming in letters of gold.

In the old days the vestry ordered: "That ye men sit on the north side of the church, and ye women on the left," and also that "Ye gallery be assigned for use of 'college youth.'" "College youth" used it, and beguiled the moments by carving their names on the back of the pew—and so did Thomas Jefferson.

Many interesting gifts have been presented to Bruton church. The lectern was given by Theodore Roosevelt, and the Holy Bible by King Edward VII.

* * * *

LEAVING the church and wandering down the Duke of Gloucester street (just a mile long, and reaching from the capitol to the college of William and Mary) we arrive at the site of the old capitol. This was the first capitol, so called, in the United States. From the painting the old building with its white columns is reminiscent of the Capitol of today and another famous mile which Washington and all our Presidents since have traveled from the Capitol to the White House.

And here, on a May day of 1765, when the burgesses were meeting, Patrick Henry was making his impassioned speech against the stamp act. "Tarquin and Caesar had each his Brutus, Charles I his Cromwell, and George III—" here he was interrupted by a cry from the speaker, "Treason!" and the house took it up—"treason, treason!") Patrick Henry fixed his eye on the speaker and gloriously he flung his challenge—"If this be treason, make the most of it!"

"This is the way" (so it was said), "the fire began; Virginia rang the alarm bell for the continent."

Just off the Duke of Gloucester street is the old Powder Horn, built for a powder magazine, by Gov. Spottswood in 1714. An octagonal building, brick, mellowed by time and hung with ivy, it is as peaceful and picturesque an affair as one could imagine.

The six chimney lot where dwelt Mrs. Martha Custis, is adorned now only by the old brick kitchen, all that is left of the imposing Custis mansion.

Here Mrs. Custis sought seclusion in her widowhood and retired from the world, but not from Washington! The gallant general came and saw and conquered, and that right speedily. In this lovely old spot the courtship began and progressed, which was to take Mrs. Custis far from quiet Williamsburg.

* * * *

DILIGENTLY we inquired for the house (of which we'd heard) of one Blackbeard the pirate. But alas, had he come to Williamsburg, we were told his only home would have been the jail! For after terrorizing shipping in Virginia and Carolina waters, Blackbeard was killed in a hand-to-hand fight, and died with his knife in his teeth, as all good pirates should! Some of his followers did find residence in Williamsburg, however. They were lodged in the jail, tried in the courthouse and hanged on the Gallows road.

The brick courthouse, built in 1772, has a picturesque white cupola and is beautiful in line and proportion. It was court day when we were there, and leaning against the doorway were the accustomed loungers — mud-spattered boots, blue overalls, red bandannas, were all in evidence, but the horses standing in the old street were all bred in Henry Ford's stable.

The first free school in America was in Williamsburg and stood on the road leading to Queen's creek. It was founded by Mrs. Mary Whaley, and consisted of a schoolhouse, the master's house and a stable. It was named for Mrs. Whaley's little son, Matthew, who died in infancy.

The Audrey house, made famous as the home of Mary Johnston's heroine of that name, is a many-dormered, homey, white and green residence, flanked by enormous box bushes. It is a typical eighteenth century house, and many stories cluster about it. One of these, which had never been told, is inscribed on the window pane—"S. B. 1796—O Fatal Day."

Just across the street is the most delightful and to me the most intriguing house in Williamsburg: the Wythe house. Here lived the chancellor, George Wythe, designer of Virginia's coat of arms, friend and teacher of Thomas Jefferson and John Marshall. And here in 1781 George Washington had his headquarters.

It is quite deserted now, so we wandered around and sat down on the old crumbly brick steps overlooking the garden—tangled vines sweeping to the top of the trees, jonquils and periwinkles marching by in continental colors, buff and blue.

A climbing rose was snapping at the window pane, and then we heard—a step? But, of course, for——

* * * *

ONCE upon a time, when this house was a-rustle with silk and this garden gay with belles and beaux, there came here to live my Lady Skipwith. A vivacious and spirited "baggage," she always lived up to her mischievous name of "Nancy." And one night at the ball when everything was not to her liking, she ran away—losing her slipper as she went. Did she return for it? Not she! She hopped home across the palace green in her stocking foot, one high heel of her satin slipper tapping the walk as she came. And sometimes now, on windy days, if you listen carefully, you can hear her looking for the lost slipper—she comes down the steps, one heel tapping, tapping.

Slowly we strolled up the elm-bordered walk of the campus of William and Mary. As we went up the steps of the old building, we half expected to meet a bewigged gentleman in doublet and hose, who would sweep us a bow with his three-cornered hat, and bid us enter.

The door opened and a rainbow poured out. Slickers—red, yellow, green, purple—every color under heaven, they flapped and flopped around the boys and girls who swarmed down the steps. We smiled at the bobbed heads bobbing under the old gray arch, then burst out laughing at the blare of jazz that swept out from the corner drug store.

The old main building of William and Mary was designed by Sir Christopher Wren, the only one in this country. The college was chartered February 8, 1863, by King William and Queen Mary. The royal proclamation follows:

WILLIAM R.

Trusty and welbeloved, Wee Greet you well. Whereas wee have thought fitt that all due Encouragement be given ye College of Wm. and Mary lately founded in our Town of Williamsburgh in Virginia, for promoting Religion & Learning in those parts: wee do therefore hereby recomend ye same to you willing and requiring you to doe whatever lyes in you for ye due encouraging ye so College, and in particular yt call upon ye psons yt have promised to contribute towards ye maintenance of ye so College, to pay in full their severall Contributions to the end so Good and pious a work may be carryed on for ye General benefit & good of that Country. And soe wee bid you farewell. Given at our Court at Hampton Court the 30th day of December, 1700, in the twelfth yeare of our Reigne.

By his majesties Command,
F. A. VERNON.

In "priorities" given on a tablet in the hall of the main building it is stated that this is the "First college in the United States in its antecedents, which go back to the college proposed at Henrico (1619)." This was that first American university laid out by Sir Thomas Dale at Henricopolis. The college buildings of William and Mary are the oldest on American soil—in actual operation the college is second to Harvard.

* * * *

IN one of the walls of the main building there hangs the most delightful picture of William of Orange—rampant, we'd call him, surmounted by a much plumbed bonnet. The picture is by William Smith—Printseller, 33 South Sixth street, Philadelphia. The battle is fought in verse, and this is how it goes:

"July the first in Oldbridge town
There was a grievous battle
Where many a man lay on the ground,
By cannons that did rattle.
King James he pitched his tents between
The lines for to retire
But King William threw his bomb balls in
And set them all on fire."

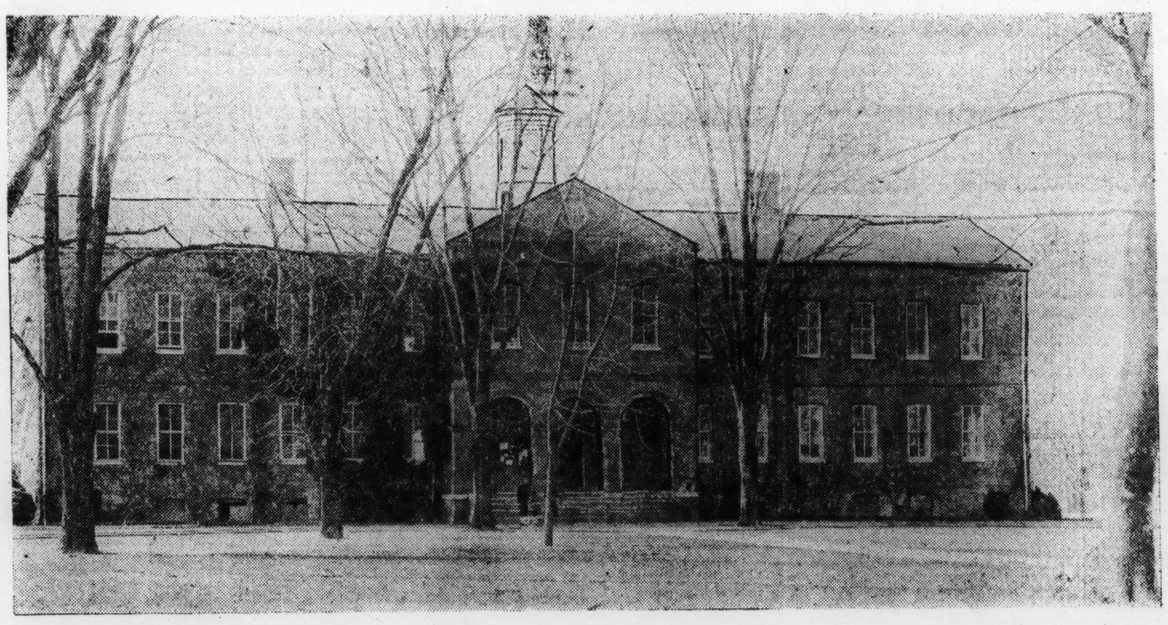

We went into a class room, deserted for the moment, and stood in the deep embrasure of the window—the walls are 2 feet thick—and looked out on the ancient quadrangle. On one side is the old Brafferton buildings, the Indian school, originally; on the other side is the president's house.

Standing there, eyes dreaming over the shadowy campus, an old story came back to us.

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 3.)

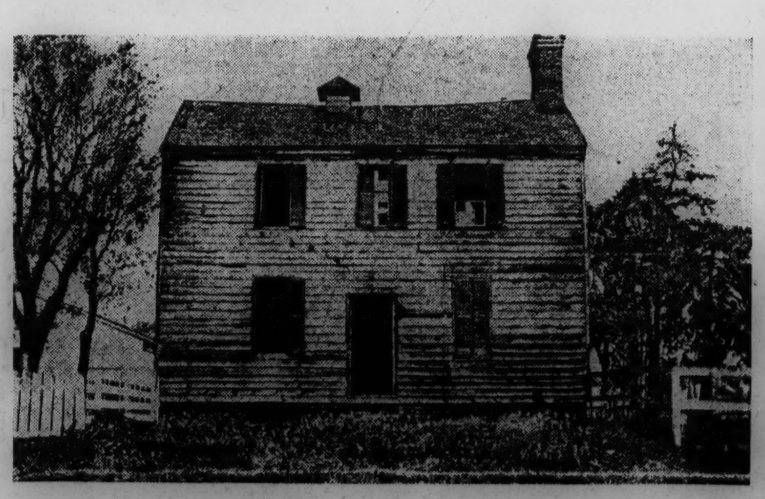

The Old Bruton church at Williamsburg, Va., as it appeared in the days of Washington. From a painting now in the Metropolitan museum, New York.

William and Mary college. This building was designed by Sir Christopher Wren and is said to be the only one of its kind in America.

The old powder house which still stands at Williamsburg.

Old Masonic hall at Williamsburg, where the first grand lodge in America was organized.

Rogers and His Rope In The Temple of Art

By Will Rogers

ALL I know is just what I read in the Papers or what I horn into as I tour this great American Commonwealth. Well, we have just been everywhere this year. Had the greatest and most enjoyable year I have ever experienced in all my little Theatrical career. I have been out all over the country and met some of the greatest people, and I sure did enjoy playing to them. They are a great bunch. They don't come to a show to criticize it. They come in with the idea of having a good time, and they give you the benefit of the doubt every time. And read? Say, the audiences in the smaller towns make a monkey out of the big Cities for knowing what is going on in the world. They know and read everything.

But the old New Yorkers are still on the job when it comes to something that has happened around their own town. Well, my New York Manager wired me while out on the road, "Have you booked for Carnegie Hall, N. Y., for Sunday Night, April 11th." My goodness! I commenced getting scared. I wired him, "Don't take a chance on New York. We been doing pretty good and we better let good enough alone."

But he would have his way, and he went ahead and stuck us in there. As the time got nearer and nearer the more leary I got. Now a lot of my old friends out of N. Y. don't know what this Carnegie Hall thing is. And lots of them in New York City don't know what it is. I myself used to think it was one of those things that "Uncle Andy" Carnegie imposed on every good-natured town. So I thought maybe New York to be different calls their "Carnegie Hall" instead of Library, because if it gets out in New York that it is a Library and nothing but books in there, it would be boycotted. But by calling it a "Hall" New Yorkers might think maybe there was some dancing, or something worth while in there, and they would go in. Now, that is the way I had it figured out. But in the last few years I had found out what Carnegie Hall was. It is a tremendous building with three or four rows of Boxes all around it like the pictures of a Spanish Bull Ring. It is laid out kinder like the Metropolitan Opera House, the place that Mary Lewis and Marion Talley made famous. Although I myself am not any too familiar with that place either.

* * * *

WELL, this Carnegie Hall is where they have all the "Big" Concerts. If a foreign Fiddler comes here, as soon as he is fumigated they throw him down and get a Musician's dress suit on him, and put him in Carnegie Hall for a "Recital." Foreign singers, as soon as they have lived long enough to learn enough songs for what they call an Evening's entertainment, go there and give a "Recital." Piano players are one of the principal commodities that haunt the central portion of the stage. It seems to kinder be the New York test. Men who have been let out of regular jobs in Theater orchestras form themselves into a gang and add the word "Symphony" and go in there and play "William Tell" for two hours. It sponsors every form of artistic graft in the World. You show in there, and you either go to work after at some useful employment or remain on the fringes of Art.

Well, this Art thing kinder worried me. I had never by any stretch of imagination been associated with it. So I thought we ought to be playing the Columbia Theater on 47th st. instead of Carnegie Hall. I was explaining my predicament to Walter C. Kelly, the Virginia Judge, whom you all know as absolutely America's premier story teller. Walter says, "Well, Will, you have one novelty to recommend you up in that Hall. You will be the only short-haired Guy that ever played that joint." I used that remark up there that night with due credit to Walter, and it got just about the biggest laugh I got. He told me the next day, "You could have even gone further than that Will; you could have told them that you were about the only American that had ever played in there." I know one thing; I am the only one that didn't attempt to try to have on a Dress Suit. I have seen a lot of Artists' dress suits and I knew I couldn't compete with them, so I didn't rent one. I just stuck to the old Blue Serge with the mirror effect in the seat and knees. If it was good enough for Ponca City and Muskogee it was good enough for Uncle Andy's Temple of Art.

"Then throw him down and get a dress suit on him."

You see, here is where I figured I had the edge. The front as well as the back of the house was dedicated to art, and I knew that I would be no more out of place than the people that I drew in there. We were both looking it over for the first time. Of course, the Boys, the De Reske Singers, were with me, and they had drawn in a lot of people that were kinder on a nodding acquaintance with the Arts, but they just kinder snuggled down among all these Rough Necks and nobody noticed them at all.

Ziegfeld didn't get there. He was still in Palm Beach. But he would not have understood that type of entertainment, any way. It was of a very high class order. He would have been looking for jokes about Ann Pennington's knees or something like that. Well, we had a great Gang that night. We had an awful lot of notables. So I knew when I commenced to get pretty tiresome that I would pick out a Notable in the audience and they would all be glad to see them. Mr. Abraham Erlanger, the greatest and most famous Theatrical Manager our game has ever produced, was there, and I certainly did feel swelled up because he never goes to the Theater. He was interested with Mr. Ziegfeld in the Follies, and yet he never saw the show after it left Atlantic City to come to New York. Well, he was wonderful. I got him up and, say, he made a real speech. The house had lots of Actors who had never seen him before in their lives. I certainly did appreciate his coming, and everybody was tickled to see him.

YOUNG Teddy Roosevelt and Kermit were both there. The audience was glad to welcome them back to America and a Barber again. That must have been a wonderful trip, and they have some of the funniest stories about it! Great Boys, those, real sons of a great Father. Mary Garden's mother was there, and Lord! no wonder that Mary looks so young! She has to, to keep ahead of that Mother. I am going to Nice to see Mary on this trip.

Mrs. Fiske, that wonderful actress, was another the audience was tickled to see, and I want to thank her, for they say she never stands up in public for any one. She looks great, and Alice Nielson was another, bless her smiling soul, and Fannie Hurst, the Writer. And when I say Writer I mean writer. She sold one story for 50 thousand dollars. Fanny said she had never seen Rope throwing in Carnegie Hall before. Burns Mantle, a Critic and a real fellow. Few had even seen a Critic out of print and in Person. Brandon Tynan, the best Actor that ever left Ireland. He and his wife, Lillian Cahill. Madge Kennedy, who I used to be associated with at the same Studio in Culver City. The stage harbors no sweeter character than Madge Kennedy. Oh!, we had a great time! Oh, the show? Well, that wasn't much. It didn't need to be, when the audience could see all those people. I have tried 'em all here now. I started out in Madison Square Garden roping at a horse, and there is just where I wish I was tonight as the circus is there, and that is just about where I will land up.

(Copyright, 1926, the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Half-Forgotten Romances of American History

Emily Donelson and Andrew Jackson Donelson

By ELISABETH ELLICOTT POE.

AT frequent intervals in the history of the White House this historic mansion has been presided over by ladies not the wives of the chief executives, but their daughters, or daughters-in-law, sisters or nieces.

Standing out in prominence as the notable nieces of Presidents who acted as hostesses for them are Mrs. Harriet Lane Johnston, the vivacious relative of President James Buchanan, who had the distinction of presiding there when the then Prince of Wales, afterward King Edward the Seventh, was visiting in America, and Mrs. Andrew J. Donelson, niece of President Andrew Jackson, and wife of his favorite nephew and confidential adviser, Maj. Andrew Jackson Donelson.

Emily Donelson, through her charm and beauty, was one of the most fascinating of the White House ladies. Tradition clothes her with the same legendary magnetic sway over the hearts and imagination of the people as it does piquant Dolly Madison, whose home on Lafayette square, now the Cosmos club of Washington, was a rendezvous of smart society many years after the sprightly Dolly had ceased to be first lady of the land.

Emily Donelson also has gone down in history as being one of the few persons who dared defy that old fire-eater, Andrew Jackson, to his face. The incident arose during the Peggy O'Neill controversy, which tore official Washington apart. President Jackson sided with lovely Peggy O'Neill Eaton. Mrs. Donelson, then mistress of the White House, greeted Mrs. Eaton with courtesy at the official levees and public receptions held there, but when President Jackson asked his niece to call upon the lady whose reputation was reputed slightly tarnished, she answered him spiritedly:

"Uncle, I will do anything on earth for you, consistent with my dignity as a lady, but I can not, and will not, visit any one of Mrs. Eaton's reputation." She carried her point and the President is said never to have alluded to the distasteful subject again in her presence.

The "lovely Emily," as the press of that day loved to call her, usually won her point. Her life training had been one that was to fit her for the high position she was finally to hold.

The youngest child of Capt. Donelson, of Davidson county, Tenn., little Emily early exhibited a disposition for learning and culture. In the old blue-backed spelling books of the period she achieved a knowledge of words and what they mean, and she is reputed to have been able to "spell down" any competitors in the weekly bees of the old plantation schoolhouse where the neighboring planters had secured a "Northern lady" as teacher for their young hopefuls.

MODERN eyes might have viewed the community in which Emily Donelson was raised as "backwoods." "But the pleasures were not absent from this garden spot of nature, and the young people managed to get much joy out of mere living."

True, they had no shows and theaters to attend, but they had candy-pulling, spelling bees, country dances, corn-shuckings, log-rollings and house-raisings. There were no chocolates and other expensive sweetmeats fixed up in fancy boxes and bedizened with all sorts of multicolored ribbons, no champagne with which to wash them down, no English walnuts or other new-fangled nuts, but they had an abundance of molasses candy, ginger cakes, doughnuts, maple sugar, black walnuts, hickory nuts, hazel nuts, cider, both sweet and hard, together with home-made wines, also persimmon beer. Yet, there were no bananas, but the young people feasted on its double first cousin, the luscious pawpaw.

The beaux of the community might have been of the genus "clodhopper" to prejudiced eyes, but their sweethearts were fair to look upon in their simple calicoes, ginghams and linsey-woolsey instead of the silks, satins and velvets of a more effete day.

Although they lived in the backwoods, the Donelsons were by no means insignificant folk. They were related to many great families, including the hero of the hour, Gen. Andrew Jackson, Gens. Smith, Coffee and Haynes.

When 14 years old little Emily went to Nashville to attend the Old Academy there. She became prominent in the social life of the little city and a host of suitors contended for her hand, including Gen. Sam Houston, Col. Ephraim H. Foster and Maj. Gustavus A. Henry. These military lights of the day were jealous rivals for the little maiden's hand. They delighted in expatiating on the charms of her mind and person. But fate was not to accord them the high privilege of calling her "wife."

Emily Donelson has been described at the age of 16 as being of medium height, with dark auburn hair, dark brown eyes, fair complexion, lips and brow exquisitely molded, slender, symmetrical figure and hands and feet tiny as a child's. Her portrait bears a striking resemblance to the pictures of Mary, Queen of Scots. Her taste in dress was exquisite and her toilette was the envy and admiration of fashionable Washington.

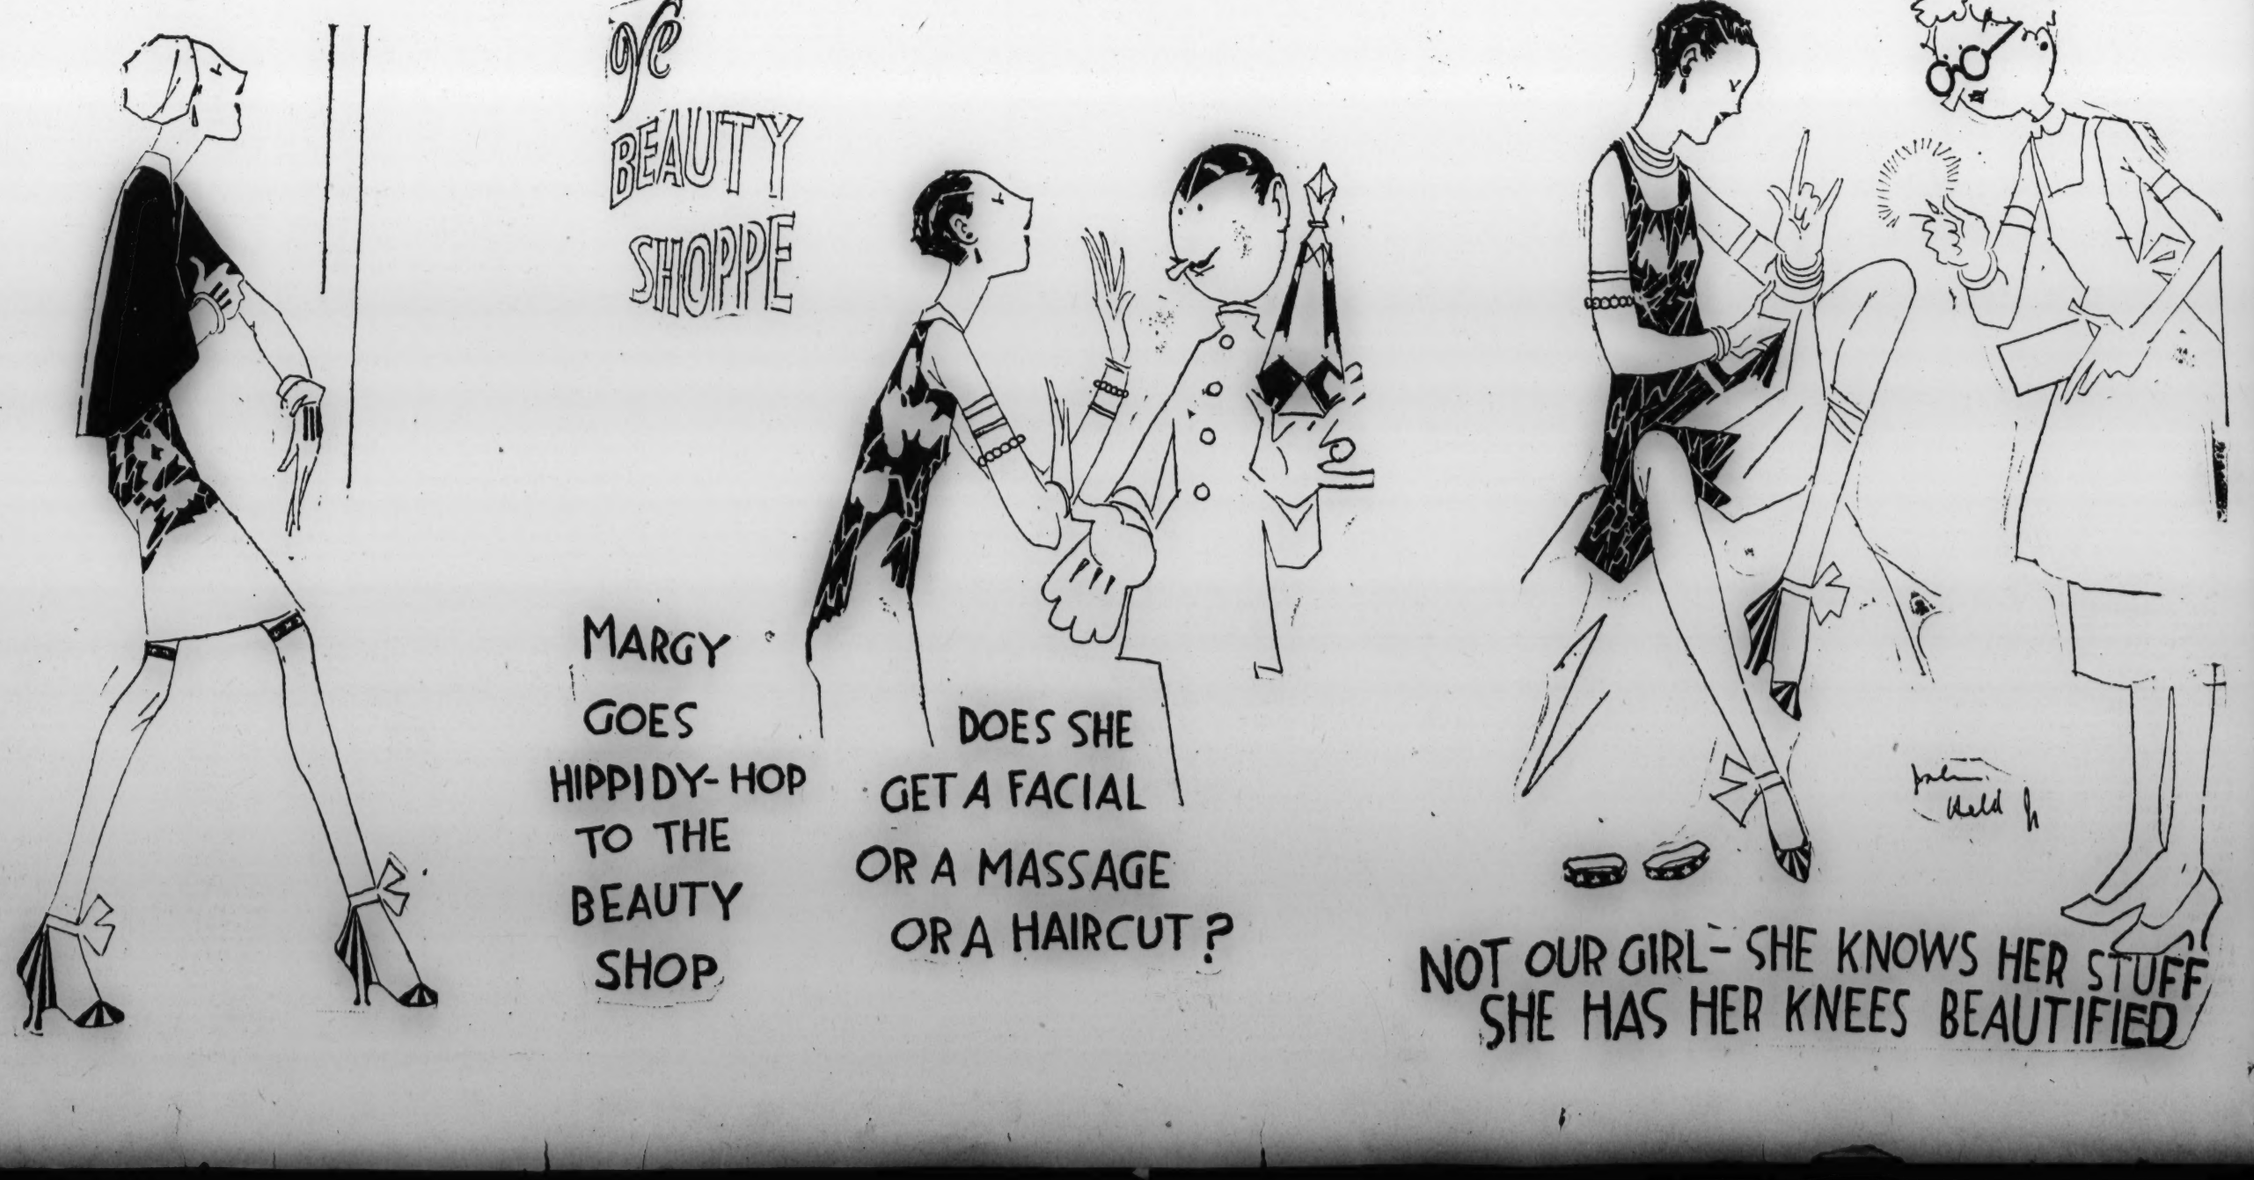

The dress she wore at her first inauguration reception was an amber-colored satin, brocaded with bouquets of rosebuds and violets, and richly trimmed with white lace and pearls, presented to her by President Jackson. Every paper in the Union described it minutely at the time.

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 8.)

OH! MARGY!

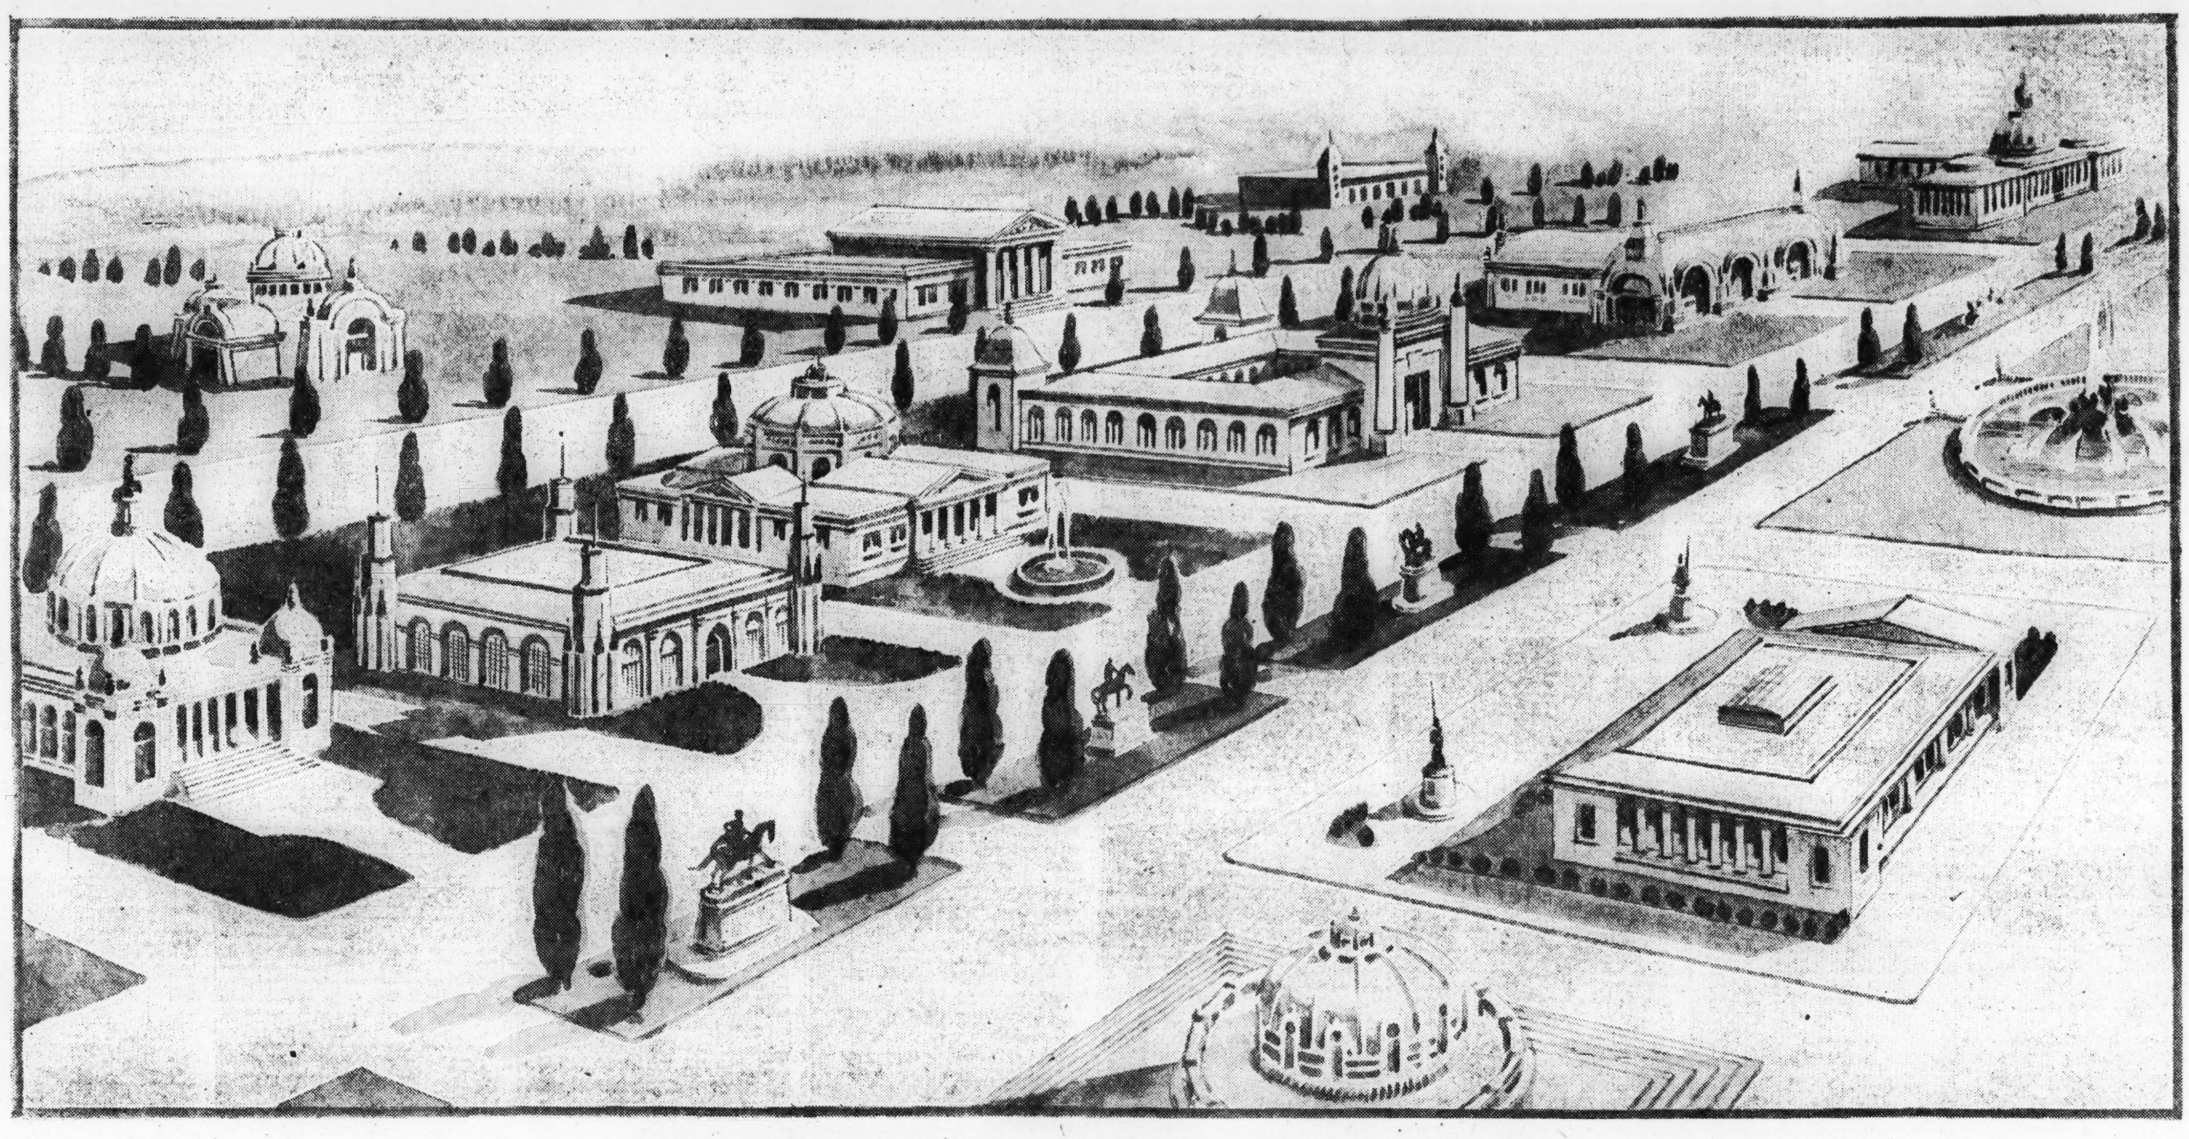

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Copyright by United Features Syndicate, Inc.

By John Held, Jr.

Permanent States' Buildings for Washington

By Col. Robert N. Harper

Artist's conception of a section of the proposed "city of permanent States' buildings" as described by Col. Harper.

IN the year 1907 I began to give serious thought to the subject of permanent States' buildings for the National Capital, as by personal observation, especially at the St. Louis exposition, I saw there were expended to an apparent wasteful degree both energy and money with limited opportunity of beneficial and lasting results by the erection of temporary buildings by the States at the national exposition, only to be demolished, sold as junk and within a short time forgotten. I therefore began to advocate the building of permanent States' buildings at some appropriate time to be determined upon. My conclusions have been now centered upon the exposition to be held in Washing in 1932 under the auspices of the Federal government in commemoration of the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

My conclusions as to the results of erecting States' buildings in or near the District of Columbia and thereby establish at the seat of government a permanent exhibit of the natural resources, as well as the manufacturing, agricultural, educational and scientific developments of each State and Territory, are that it would be of inestimable value to each as a State, and also to the Federal government as a whole by increasing, through possible rivalry, the productive power of the States and thereby the taxable value of both State and Federal lands.

The proposition is to erect a separate building for each of the several States and Territories, designed by authority of the State and upon lines which would localize and present most strikingly the State's individuality.

In my judgment, the Federal government should contribute the ground upon which these buildings are to be erected. To insure proper and adequate surroundings for each building would require approximately 300 acres to include necessary streets, avenues, parks, &c.

* * * *

TO insure proper and lasting results and to avoid conflict of tastes and ideas by persons of inexerience and possibly of many minds, the details should be left to the judgment of a special commission. Each building, however, should follow, architecturally, the dictations of the State, but conform to a general plan acceptable to this commission. The buildings should be built of material well known and recognized as a special product of its State. For example, Vermont will probably erect its building of Vermont granite, with interior trimmings of various Vermont marble, while Indiana would lean, no doubt, with favor to the Indiana limestone, carved in its most attractive style. Tennessee, doubtless, would have its building beautified by its various assortments of marble, interior and exterior; the same with Georgia, Alabama, Colorado and others. California has its native redwood, which could be used with great advantage in trimming the interior of its building; and so on throughout the different States, where there is a wealth of building material already marketed or which the State desires to market, as indigenous to the State and worthy of State pride and consideration.

These buildings should be especially designed to properly exhibit the resources of the State as provided by nature, or by the genius of man through agricultural and manufacturing developments, strikingly portrayed from the time the State came into the Union, its educational progress, its climatic advantages, giving a general display of the indigenous plants, flowers, fruits, vegetation, &c., checked with seasonal changes throughout the year, and then ornamentally displayed to present the greatest possibilities in each of these lines.

To kindle and rekindle State pride on the part of the people from the various States, an assembly hall of proper size should be a part of each building, where State conventions—nonpolitical—could be held; there should be the State's own headquarters, where a book for registering visitors can be kept, and a suitable suite for the governor of the State whenever he or his family temporarily visits the National Capital.

As the streets, avenues and parkings, which would be for the general use of all the States, would beautify and exemplify the program, they should be cared for at the expense of the Federal government and remain its property.

For the purpose of protecting and displaying during the winter the plants, flowers and shrubbery indigenous to the Southern States, it would be most appropriate to erect suitable greenhouses on the grounds.

Located in the Nation's Capital where people from all the States and from the whole world at some time visit, there would thus be presented in an attractive manner for visitors practically everything from each State of a substantial nature and progressive character worthy of practical exploitation. Surely no one can doubt the inestimable financial advantage to the States and no less to the Federal government such a display would be. It would present in a practical way how many of the Western States have moved forward, step by step, from a barren prairie or desert to wealth and most fertile and productive agricultural land. There could be practically demonstrated how, by irrigation, this has been accomplished. The Federal government could show the valuable work done in the forestry service, both in development and protection, and how its theory and practice are carried out in various States in the national park development and maintenance.

* * * *

TO make such a proposition of still greater educational advantage, each building should be a place where the historical progress of the State could be recorded as well as the records of men and women who have contributed to the history of the world and of the republic; also that the achievements of men of science, of inestimable value, can be kept alive in the minds of generations to come by tablets erected to their memory, setting forth the essential data.

It is not my purpose at this time to present more than the theory in view, as it will require action by Congress for the donation of ground, and by the various State legislatures for appropriations to erect the buildings.

As delays in either large or small matters are dangerous and not infrequently subject to adverse criticism by people of destructive and not constructive minds, it is proposed to bring this plan, in the very near future, to the direct attention of both Congress and State officials. The object of such a conference is to induce the governors to recommend the plan to their respective State legislatures. The advisability that a special committee from the Senate and House be appointed to confer with a committee from the States, to discuss details and formulate a practical and workable plan would no doubt develop.

It would be impossible to give the entire proposition now as to how this great movement should best be started, as there are many ramifications which are sure to develop and can not be foreseen in all of their various intricate phases. When the combined wisdom of national and State legislators is brought in conference to discuss a question of such magnitude and importance, details will naturally develop and be met on lines broad enough for the purpose of drafting a bill for Congress and the legislatures, upon which the foundation may be laid and the work begun.

Other cities and some States might naturally want these buildings erected within their territory, but by what argument can they maintain such a desire? It must be admitted there is no place where these buildings can be located with the same neutrality as in the city of us all, and the one city which everybody within this country and abroad desires, at some time, to visit. I will not discuss location nor the architectural designs of the buildings at this time. Let us indorse the broad principle of States buildings for permanent exhibition at the Nation's Capital through a concerted movement of Congress and the State officials. When this is successfully accomplished, a committee, representing all interests, can be appointed to work out the practical details. The site for each State building should be donated only for a specific purpose.

The Federal government should retain ownership to the ground so that it can be used only by the State for its exhibits, and if not taken for that purpose within a specified time, or if it should not be maintained at a fixed standard by the State, it should revert to the Federal government.

I am not a promoter but my services are always subject to the command of my people if they think I can be of assistance. I believe the community in which we live is entitled to the best service there is in us, and that we all owe something to our country; hence, the contribution of this subject, on my part, for what it may be worth, believing it a most worthy proposition of inestimable value to the Federal government, the State and the individual. I hope it will receive prompt and serious consideration by public officials, as I think it justly deserves and what I truly believe it will mean to the people generally. From a monetary standpoint, it will be more expensive to both nation and State to neglect it than to make it a reality. The consummation of the project will be a permanent investment of great value.

MOTHERS' DAY OBSERVANCE INTERNATIONAL IN SCOPE

By HARRY HITES.

O LITTLE MOTHER OF MINE.

Sometimes in the hush of the evening hour,
When the shadows creep from the west,
I think of the twilight song you sang
And the boy you lulled to rest;
The wee little boy with the tousled head,
That long, long ago was thine;
I wonder if sometimes you long for that boy,
O little mother of mine!

And now he has come to man's estate,
Grown stalwart in body and strong,
And you'd hardly know that he was the lad
Whom you lulled with your slumber song.
The years have altered the form and the life,
But his heart is unchanged by time,
And still he is only the boy as of old,
O little mother of mine!

WALTER H. BROWN.

* * * *

TODAY is Mothers' day, the one day in the year when every real man or woman, boy or girl, should pay tribute to the "best mother in the whole world."

This is the day when every living mother with a son or daughter worthy of the name will receive a personal message from her child, and every mother who has passed beyond will be honored by the wearing of a flower or a Mothers' day button by the child left behind.

Millions of people in America, Europe, Asia and Africa are today observing the day set apart by a Pennsylvania woman, Miss Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia whose idea has grown into an international demonstration for "Mother."

Following the civil war, every day was "Mothers' day" for Mrs. Anna Jarvis, the founder of the day of observance. Mrs. Jarvis was the daughter of a minister and in her efforts to alleviate the suffering caused by the war, she toiled almost day and night in the interest of widows and orphans, left bereaved by the holocaust of strife which had swept over the land, and dependent upon the bounty of more fortunate neighbors for sustenance.

In later years, Miss Anna Jarvis, following the work of her mother, conceived the idea that the heart of every mother would be gladdened if, on some particular day, she could be assured of receiving a personal message, or flower, or some other little token of love from her loved children.

* * * *

THE result was the founding of "Mothers' day" and as the late spring is one of the most beautiful seasons of the year, Miss Jarvis arbitrarily fixed the second Sunday in May as the official date for this observance.

Tentatively launched as a purely local event, the idea spread to other sections of Miss Jarvis' home State, Pennsylvania, and from there became an interstate affair; eventually becoming a nationally observed date. From America it spread to South America, across the borders into Canada and Mexico and thence across the seas to Europe, Asia and Africa. And today the teachings for the observance of this day dedicated to "the best mother in the world—your mother," are being disseminated in every continent on the globe.

Miss Anna Jarvis, the founder, was in Washington a few days ago on business connected with the celebration. Asked for an interview on the founding of this day, she submitted the following, taken from the Congressional Record, in which it was printed by unanimous consent:

It is doubtful if any movement of the times, in the way of a celebration, has such a strong and lasting appeal to persons of all races, creeds and classes as has the mothers' day celebration.

It is the most universal of all of our celebrations, for all of our religious and patriotic observances are not without prejudice of some class, race or creed.

The word "mother" is the most potent of all words, wherever the foot of civilization has left its imprint.

This Mothers' day is not an idle sentiment. It is a great constructive movement of international interest. It is now celebrated annually around the globe.

The people on the boardwalks of Honolulu and Atlantic City, and Australia on the other side of the globe, are just as enthusiastic for Mothers' day as any places one might mention.

IN the American army and navy Mothers' day is celebrated with tender enthusiasm by officers and men alike. Indeed, this celebration is thought to be of great benefit to the morale of our enlisted men. Certainly it is a cherished occasion. Nothing but good can come from the observance of any special occasion that gets a man closer to the heart of a good mother through his letter, or visit, or other remembrance of home.

Nothing but good can come from setting apart one day of the year in the army and navy, in our homes, in our official and business life, and in the life of the whole nation to pay tribute to the memory of the beloved mothers and fathers who have gone before or to show grateful affection to the loving.

Our American homes are the glory of our nation. Our mothers who gave to the nation lives they loved more than their own—the lives of their beloved sons, husbands, brothers, or other dear ones—are our inspiration.

One day of the year for remembrance of their sacrifices, their fidelity, their deeds, is not indeed a day lost.

Any movement that deepens home ties, that inspires better national life, that makes better sons and daughters is indeed constructive. Far be it from any thought of maudlin sentiment. And yet "sentiment" is part of the best and most gracious and ennobling things of life, especially that sentiment which clings to the words "mother" and "home."

One of the Mothers' day celebration features is "home going" and "writing home." Not any person is too poor or busy at least to write a message home.

* * * *

IT will ever be to the glory of America that the first legislation for the general display of the American flag as a custom was a resolution that Miss Jarvis succeeded some years ago in getting Congress to pass.

Through this resolution it is now the custom for Old Glory to be displayed annually on Mothers' day (Sunday) from all public buildings, schools, homes, and other suitable places.

Is it not an inspiring thought that the mothers of the founders of our country, the mothers of our patriots, are thus honored by sons and daughters?

It hardly seems possible Miss Jarvis would undertake more work, but she is planning the erection of a tribute to the mothers and homes of America in this city. This monument will be one that will remind you and me of the "mothers of our hearts," and it should be a tribute that will make the stranger of foreign lands who may visit this Capital city think that American homes and mothers are the nation's idol. Every son and daughter should aid Miss Jarvis in this new tribute to their mothers.

This monument will not be for what some persons may call "great mothers," nor for women seeking greatness through some ancestral line, but for your mother and mine.

America's First Birthday Party

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.)

It is an October day in 1881. Early in the morning an old man drives in from the country, gets out of his dilapidated buggy and hitching his horse to the "palings," comes slowly up the walk.

He glances at the president's house, closed and shuttered—at the old Indian school, quiet and empty, then comes through the door of the main building. His footsteps echo through the halls, for the college is deserted; he is the only living soul in the place.

But in fancy he sees the students of other days: Washington, the chancellor, carrying his mace; the tall, red-haired Jefferson striding in; John Marshall coming to attend the law classes of George Wythe; John Monroe, John Tyler, and Benjamin Franklin as he arrives to receive the honorary degree of master of arts.

At last the old man lifts his hand to [illegible] bell rope, to announce [illegible] came [illegible] replied, "[illegible] opening In the session. [illegible] came to th[illegible]s, but is sion that h[illegible] winsome and cha[illegible] answered only by the echoes of the past. There is no present for the college of William and Mary—save only in the indomitable spirit of one man.

For seven years Col. Benjamin S. Ewell rang the bell and kept the charter alive. For seven years the call went out and was answered only by the wind in the elms. But it went out in faith—and today it is answered by nearly 1,000 students!

And so the spirit marches on. The old college lives "A link among the days, to knit the generations each to each."

William and Mary will welcome President Coolidge and his distinguished party on Saturday, as it welcomed President Harding, at the inauguration of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler.

And Virginia—the Virginia of yesterday, the Virginia of today, will extend to her President the warmest greeting of her heart:

"Trusty and welbeloved, Wee Greet you well."

An Easy Way to Get Thin.

A new way to get thin, discovered by Dr. G. Leven, of the Therapeutic Society of Paris, will interest stout people who dread the summer. It involves no medicine nor strenuous exercise, says Popular Science Monthly. In fact, the treatment may be taken in bed.

All that is necessary besides following an easy, nonfattening diet, it is reported, is to inhale very little air and to breathe out hard. The usual dose is five exhalations every half hour, fifteen to twenty times a day.

No Rest for the Potato.

From now on potatoes will work overtime if science has anything to do about it. Potatoes just dug from the ground have been insisting upon two months' rest before going to work and sprouting new vines. But now Dr. Frank E. Denny, of the Boyce Thompson institute, Yonkers, N. Y., tells us in Popular Science Monthly that dousing them in a certain chemical bath will open their eyes wide and start the shoots at once, lessening the time between crops.

CAUGHT NOT BOUGHT.

Mrs. Gayfellow: Are you sure you caught this fish?

Gayfellow: Of course.

It smells very strong.

Strong? I should say it was. It nearly pulled me overboard.—The Progressive Grocer.

ON ANOTHER ERRAND.

Mrs. Backpay—God morning, sir. Will you take a chair?

Installment collector—No, thank you, ma'am. I've come to take the piano.

How to Keep Paint Brushes.

A paint brush can be kept in perfect condition by placing it, when not in use, in a covered oil-tight tin containing enough raw linseed oil to cover the bristles. A slot is cut in the lid with a chisel to take the handle of the brush, and a nail inserted in a hole bored through the brush handle holds the brush suspended in the oil.—Popular Science Monthly.

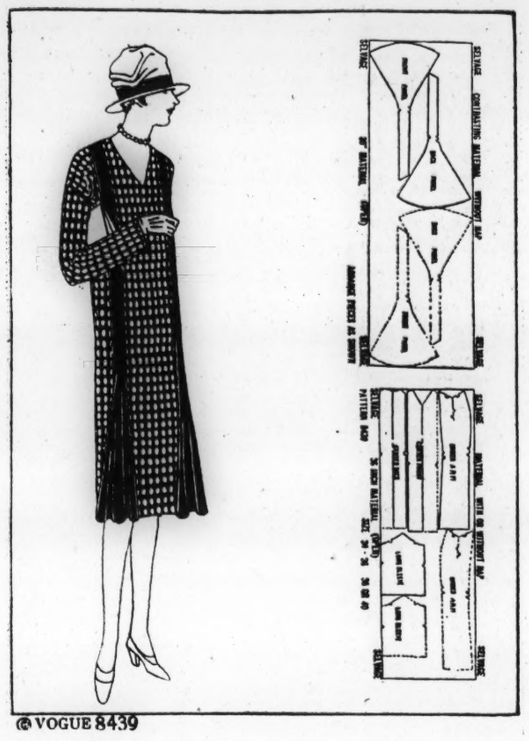

THE SOLE JUDGE.

Out at the Country club there is a sporty golf course. To make the first hole one has to drive over the lake in front of the clubhouse and past a grove of trees, so really good scores are few and far between. Two caddies were waiting at the caddy house one day.

"What kind of score did that guy make this morning?" asked the first caddy, "the one that you were carrying for?"

The second replied belligerently: "That guy gave me two bucks an' his score is whatever he says it is."—From Everybody's Magazine for May.

Style Ideas from Fashion Authorities

Sewing Made Easy—"Make It Over."

Here's a smart little frock—navy blue and white polka dots, chic at the moment—navy blue crepe de chine panels to give it that swing and movement that the mode favors.

But wait! Doesn't it say something else to you, this clever little sketch? If you're an economical soul with a last year's straight-line printed frock—the sketch says "Make it over!" For all you have to do is buy enough material in a plain color to cut out the four funnel-shaped panels, and you're as up to date is if your frock were new.

If you had short sleeves last year and a bit of the print left over, you can even make the new smart coat sleeves for your frock, since this has extensions that fit into the drop-shoulder armhole.

Then, to make yourself entirely of the moment, wear a gray hat, gray shoes and stockings and gray gloves, if your color scheme is in the blue, the gray or the black and white range. If it's in the beige-brown scale, choose a beige hat with all the accessories to match. The hat sketched is the Paris, ever so smart at the moment both in Paris and in New York.

(Copyright, 1926, by Vogue)

The Conversations of Claribel.

Dear Eve: Yes, please go ahead and buy me lots and lots of things in Paris. I feel in a wild spring mood, with flowers in my hair and jazz in my toes. Income taxes are all paid, and I've just got to celebrate!

My sketches are designed to show the chic of black and white, this week, though I got lazy and didn't ink them all in. But you've a black imagination, I believe, and you can use it.

The lady at the right, for example, has a white kasha suit that you may have seen, for it came from Lanvin's sports shop. It shows that typical Lanvin yoke and her beloved pleats. White hat, brown and white shoes, sunburn color stockings, white chamois pull-on gloves. She was so beautifully restrained she made me ache all over.

In the middle is a most adorable thing—a hand-tucked white lingerie blouse with a black satin bolero and skirt. I liked this black and white even better than the all-black. And observe, my dear, that the blouse goes in under the skirt. It's a long time since we saw that effect.

Lastly, we've got the almost-all-white ensemble in shantung-Lanvin,—the rim of black you see at the neck is the top of a black set-on-blouse—a most stunning ensemble, my dear, and stunningly expensive to keep up, with cleaners in the state of mind that they are. But she was one of these cool, tall blondes who always seem to keep neat and clean more easily than most of us.

Yours,
CLARIBEL.

(Copyright, 1926, by Vogue)

Right and Wrong for the Bride's Mother.

Weddings are trying times—and often when the bridegroom's mother tries the bride's mother she doesn't approve of her. This time you can see she doesn't; and neither do we. For the bride's mother is the large lady at the right, and she'd look worse than she does if you could see her in full color.

She wears a dress of rose crepe, elaborately embroidered in blue and gold, and a hat that has committed two cardinal sins apart from its shape—its flowers and its lace veil. The smartest hats of the season wear no flowers. And no hat of this or many seasons past has smartly worn a veil.

The bride's mother's shoes are too elaborate for her rather elaborate feet—see how they overflow their banks? Her gloves are those mistaken creatures with embroidered cuffs. Her dress makes the most of her just where there's too much to make.

The bridegroom's mother wears a well-cut frock of beige lace, with long lines flattering to the older woman and formality sufficient for the occasion. Her hat of soft straw to match is trimmed with beige velvet ribbon. Her simple pumps are of beige kid. Her gloves are beige suede, and her beloved beads are the really truly amber that the bridegroom himself, dear boy, brought back from the East. "Heavens!" thinks the bridegroom's mother, "how glad I am that Caroline is like her dad."

(Copyright, 1926, by Vogue)

Circus Children Have Real Home Life

Attend School and Church Services, Learn the Arts and Sciences of Showdom and Have the Finest Playground in the World—Noted Performers Act as Teachers.

By EDWIN P. NORWOOD.

(Editor's Note: Mr. Norwood, who has written the following article expressly for The Washington Post, is, besides being an executive of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, the author of the "Diggeldy Dog" books for children.)

WHAT of Spangleland's children?

They who travel along with the circus? Do they love the clowns? Do their eyes dance, too, when the pretty ladies go by on their snowy white horses? Do they wave to Cinderella when she drives past them in her coach, bound for the billowing big-top to be greeted by those "other children" that await her inside?

Or, are they blase? Or sometimes forgetful of all the wonderful things that surround them—just because they are near them, day after day?

Rolling all these questions into a ball, I think all can be answered in exactly ten words.

"The children of the circus are just like other children."

Only as you may well guess, they have a far more marvelous adventure. Every little girl who travels with the circus is an "Alice in Wonderland;" every boy a "Toby Tyler," with Toby's sadder experiences left out of the story. Theirs is the finest playground in all the world. It is filled with more "uncles and aunts" than you can imagine; uncles and aunts who are clowns, or riders, or tumblers, and who, arrayed in pink and white costumes, wing from trapezes high in the air.

Needless to tell you, the most of them are merely make-believe uncles and pretend-to-be aunts. But mother and father are sure to be near.

As, for example, little 'Lizabeth Clarke's. 'Lizabeth's father is Ernest Clarke, the greatest of all men on the flying trapeze. Her mother is Elizabeth Hannaford Clarke, sister of the famous riding comedian, George Hannaford, and herself an equestrienne of note.

* * * *

IN 'Lizabeth, aged three, is blended the blood of two of the world's oldest circus families—families whose arenic achievements date back six generations. There is every reason to suppose that 'Lizabeth will grow up to be a great circus artist. But just now, she prefers to listen to the stories that her "Uncle Jules" knows so well how to read and to tell. "Uncle Jules" is Jules Turnover, 70 years her senior, and dean of the Big Show's 99 clowns.

Jules loves the children, and the children adore Jules. Often, while waiting to go into the big-top, this veteran among "Joeys" will find a seat on an elephant-tub and there, surrounded by 'Lizabeth, and Judy Jahn, and Glenn Graves, and Paul Nelson, recite strange tales of the days when he trouped through Spain. Or, he may read them a page from some favorite story book.

Kiddies with the circus: Upper left—Little Elizabeth Clarke, with her father and uncle, Ernest and Charles Clarke, the famous trapeze performers. Lower left—Lillian Leitzel, the aerial queen, is the school teacher during the morning hours. Center—Jules Turnour, dean of the clowns, is a great favorite with all the children. His tales of the "good old days" when circuses traveled in wagons interest the youngsters of today. Right—Judy Jahn, like other circus children, has special pets. Lion and tiger cubs and whelps are her favorites.

And when he is done, along will come "Uncle Buck," perhaps, to take them for a bit of a ride in his trick, jiggling, "shimmy" Ford—you know, the one that wobbles and sways and sometimes goes almost straight in the air!

Glenn Graves is the son of "Boss" Graves who, with his hundred men, takes all the "properties" in and out of the biggest of tents.

"My papa makes rings," Glenn will tell you with pride. "He makes five at a time." By which he means, not circles of smoke but the round, wooden enclosures in which the trained horses prance or the five herds of elephants perform no end of stunts.

* * * *

GLENN has a passion for being "made up." Some days he is a Prince, and it is then that he rides on one of the floats in the opening pageant. Again, nothing will do but that he be an Indian—head dress, striped face, fringed trousers and all. His "Uncle Spader" Johnson, another of the clowns, is the one to whom he goes "for to have his face fixed up brown."

Judy Jahn is the daughter of that famous performer who holds a tall perch-pole aloft. She, too, likes the clowns, and nothing pleases her more than to be set astride "Beauty," one of May Mirth's handsomest mounts. But most of all, Judy finds fun in the menagerie tent. It is there one may find her during the mid-afternoon, talking with her "Uncle Pat" (he's John Paterson, who bosses the menagerie), or her "Uncle Denny" (that's George Denman, who has charge of the elephants), or, even more likely, listening to Old Andrew's version of just how the twelve baby elephants came to be with the show.

Andrew is the keeper of the mile-high giraffes. Of all things he is fondest of the "spotted girls," as he calls his elongated charges. Next, I think, comes his pipe; and thirdly, Judy Jahn.

* * * *

Andrew never tires of telling the story of the twelve elephants and Judy never wearies of listening to it. The tale always ends in exactly the same way. It is too long to be repeated here, but the substance of it is that "Mary Elephant came first." But she left her other eleven little friends "way, way back there in the deep, deep forest."

Now they wanted to come, too. So what do you suppose they did?

"What did they do?" demands Judy, though she knows well enough.

"Why, they cried, and they cried, and they cried," drones Andrew. "Until at last Mr. Charlie and Mr. John (that's Charles and John Ringling, you know) said, 'All right, you can come, too.' And so they packed their trunks and did."

* * * *

BUT you must not suppose that all is play with the children of Spangleland. On the contrary, they go to school each day. Lillian Leitzel, the pretty lady who twirls, pinwheel-like, in the dome of the big-top is their teacher, and her private dressing tent is the classroom. Here, for an hour, "Aunty Leitzel's" pupils work with slates, paper and books. Spelling is taught by the object method and fancy bred by having each in the class "make up" a story about a lion, or a horse, or a monkey or two.

And since this is a story about the "children" of the circus, you may be interested in learning that even some of the menagerie "youngsters" must have their faces washed every single day.

Those who undergo this ordeal are the twelve baby elephants. And while the operation is in progress, these wee fellows act precisely like so many children. Some squeal, some protest, some shut their eyes and make the most outrageous faces. Others, though they are few, enjoy the sponging.

For the washing is always done with a sponge. One of "Boss" Denman's men provides himself with two buckets of warm water in each of which he puts a pinch of salt. Then he starts down Elephant Row, scouring first one face and then the next until all look like—well, not exactly like red apples, for the pachyderm's skin isn't of the kind that brings such glowing results. But, anyway, they are made to shine; and the elephant babies are that much better off for the cleansing.

And why must they have their faces washed? First, so they will not develop sore eyes; and, secondly, so they won't have chafed cheeks. You see, it is the dust that is likely to give trouble. Dust gets in their eyes. It gets there because, not yet having acquired the "aim" for which the older elephants are famed, your infant pachyderm flings dust in his own eyes when he merely means to toss it to the ridge of his back or the top of his head!

[illegible] that the sho[illegible]
o, too.
rtunately for Rit[illegible] of her less
in the [illegible]

"DOLLY" is the youngest of the twelve babies. She is 18 months old and was born in India. Her parents are still in the jungle, so while on tour she is placed under the special care of "Old John," a bachelor elephant of some 65 summers. "Dolly" is always at John's feet or squeezing in and out between his post-like legs. The two stand together in the menagerie, sleep together aboard the circus train and, side by side, march together to and from the circus lot. Should you be at the railroad yards when the big show comes to Washington you will see these two—the "big and little of it"—striding away at the head of the great gray battalion. Only Dolly doesn't stride; Dolly trots. She has to, to keep up with John.

Dolly, and another midget elephant named "Little Mary," are not among the performing elephants, nor will they be taught tricks until they have passed their second birthday. For, though even a very young elephant is strong and rugged, its spine might be injured were it asked to stand upon its front or its hind legs in performance. So these two lead a life of idleness.

When the troupes of older babies and the troupes of giant "Gray Ears" file out of the menagerie to go into the big-top to do their many tricks, "Little Mary" always trumpets mournfully. She misses her companions of Elephant Row.

But Dolly doesn't mind. She has Old John by her side. For neither is John a performer. As she is too young, he is too old. Yet in his day he was a great actor.

Away back in the decade when John L. Sullivan was champion among men, there was a certain elephant owned by Adam Forepaugh. I think the elephant's name was "Will." Or it may have been "Emir." It doesn't matter. For one winter he was fitted out with boxing gloves and taught to spar with another elephant. His name—whatever it may have been—was changed to "John L. Sullivan." He was advertised as the "world's great boxing elephant."

That elephant was "Old John." As the years went by, more agile of his fellows took his place in the ring. He was relegated to the menagerie. His nom de plume was cut in half. He became merely "Old John." There he stands today—munching at his hay, a nurse-maid to a baby! But you should not smile at this—at least, not thoughtlessly.

For John, though he is doubtless wholly unconscious of the fact, is doing what many old-time human performers are doing. He is, in a way, a dumb counterpart of those arenic stars who were famous in their prime but who are now, as grandfathers and grandmothers, "bringing up" the next generation of circus performers. For not all of the children of the circus travel with it. The great majority are back on the farm, or living in the winter "home-towns," going to school, under the watchful eyes of their grandparents. That is the way the business is kept up. For every parent of the white-tops looks forward to the time when his child will grow up to become a greater performer than himself. There is an ever-present crop of potential artists—the children of today's circus are but the stars of its tomorrow.

Cupid's Heartless Joke On Pretty Mrs. Fraser

The English Society Girl's Unfortunate Experience in Trying to Love Her Soldier Husband and the London Sheriff With Equally Great Ardor

Major Cyril Butler-Fraser, who would have forgiven his wife had she promised to give up her lover, but refused to share half of her love.

LONDON.

CUPID has had his cruel sport with Mrs. Rita Fraser and now has turned cold the hearts of the two men she loved, as she declared, with equal affection at the same time. She tried to keep them both and now she has neither of them. Both men have declared that she has wrecked their lives.

One of the men, her husband, a major in the British army, says she has ruined his army career and made life as ashes in his mouth, while the other, a knight, and once sheriff of London, blames the beautiful Mrs. Fraser with having ruined his chances to win the coveted distinction of being Lord Mayor of London.

And though pretty Rita had written and whispered time and again to each of these men that she could not live without him, she now finds that she has to, for her husband has divorced her and her lover couldn't marry her if he wanted to—for he has a wife who doesn't seem to have any idea of divorcing him.

That is the scathing reward she reaps for trying to play fast and loose with the love of her husband, a splendid soldier called by duty to foreign shores for long absences, and for foolishly thinking herself capable of so much affection that she could love two men at once.

The marriage of Rita to Maj. Cyril Butler-Fraser has its tragic aspects. When he fell in love with and wooed the young society girl, the belle of the season, he had no idea that he would be ordered away on active service and that his bride would have to stay home alone. Indeed, when the wedding took place at the fashionable St. George's church, in Hanover square, the smart set of London was quite moved by the romance of the young couple and it was generally thought that they would live an ideal life together.

They had been married only a few weeks, however, when Maj. Butler-Fraser was ordered to Russia, their charming Mayfair home broken up and the newlyweds parted.

Rita was distressed at the separation and from the Woman's club in Dover street, where she had taken up her lonesome residence, she wrote some of the most loving letters ever penned by a woman to a man. She had two pet names for the major, "Chig" and "Curly," which figure in practically all of the correspondence that so stirred the spectators in court. She used these constantly both before and after she had met Sir Samuel, who, she declares, won "half her love!"

The army husband was taken prisoner by the bolsheviks and was still incarcerated in one of their prisons when the handsome knight was introduced to her by his daughter, an old school friend of Rita's.

Twenty-five years older than she, with hair graying slightly at the temples, strong, clean-cut features and an unusual forcefulness of personality, he made a deep impression on her. His age and relationship with her erstwhile school fellow made him seem "safe," and so when he showed interest in her and invited her to go with him to the gay and fashionable restaurants and theaters, she accepted with delight.

After this comradeship between the two had continued for some little time, Maj. Butler-Fraser managed to get away from the bolsheviks and return to England. He felt that Rita was not quite the same girl that he had left, but he had no idea as to the reason for such changes as he noticed. He was secretly disappointed, however, at her "sensible" attitude when he was offered a post abroad. He had expected, and no doubt hoped, for protests, even a little scene. No such demonstration of regret at his departure was forthcoming.

But he was soothed by the fact that when he asked her to join him in Egypt, she came and to all appearances gladly. The major believed that at last he was to enjoy uninterruptedly the society of his adored wife. But once again fate intervened. He had taken Rita to Constantinople when political distubances brought an order from the British government that the wives of officers were to be sent home. Thus again her husband was compelled to part from her.

Sir Samuel was sympathy itself when she returned to London. Save for the official functions he was forced to attend he spent all his evenings with her, showered little kindnesses upon her that broke the monotony of her solitary existence and frequently invited her to house parties at his country seat for week-ends.

Gradually she learned of his unhappy marriage with a wife from whom he had separated some fifteen years previously and, lonesome herself, she felt intensely sorry for the man who had known loneliness, too.

As time went on, the inevitable happened! The wealthy magnate and busy society man craved Rita's love. He had become intensely devoted to the alluring grass widow. No circumstance, no sense of duty was strong enough to stem the tide of overwhelming emotion. The two became lovers.

Once more the major was urging his wife to join him in Egypt, but now she did not wish to leave Sir Samuel. From the hotel at which both were staying, she wrote:

"My darling Chig: If you have definitely decided to come home in the spring, which I decide for you, is it worth my while to come out for the winter? Of course, I'd love to come to you. Please do not think I don't want to. I do. 'Darl,' because I could never stop loving my Chig. Millions and millions of hugs and kisses and all my love. Your ever loving, Mrs. Chig!"

Meanwhile Rita was being seen everywhere with Sir Samuel.

At the new Ambassador's club, where the theater world congregates, at the Embassy, where millionaires meet; at the stylish Cafe de Paris, where the Prince of Wales and his friends frequently sup and dance; at Victor's, where the younger and more dashing members of the "Four Hundred" collect; at the Kit-Kat, the rendezvous of the exclusive men and women of Belgravia and Mayfair, the two became familiar figures, and so much discussed was their association that folks no sooner saw the one than they immediately looked for the other.

But this gay and carefree life could not continue indefinitely. While it lasted it was, from Rita's point of view, ideal with "Chig" to be loved at a distance and Sir Samuel close at hand offering continual proof of his devotion. The husband's demands became imperative. Rita could no longer refuse to go to him. After a tearful farewell to her sorrow-stricken lover, the alluring Rita journeyed to Alexandria.

The major was eagerly waiting to welcome his wife. As she greeted him, with characteristic warmth and affection, he thought her a vision of loveliness, of inspiring womanhood.

He gazed at her beautiful face, at her firm white throat and eventually his eyes fell on her slim hands resting on her knee. What was it that made her left hand so strange, so altered?

The major seized that shapely hand with its long fingers and pink, pointed nails. Then he received a shock.

Rita no longer wore the gold wedding ring he had placed on her finger! It was now encircled by a thin platinum band—a new wedding ring given to his wife by another man!

This dramatic discovery revealed the truth and led to a scene between the heartbroken husband and the faithless wife. But even at this poignant moment, so intensely did the magnetic quality of the girl draw him to her that he offered to forgive her if she would promise never to see Sir Samuel again.

But this was precisely what the amazing young wife refused to do!

Protesting that, regardless of all that had happened, she passionately loved her husband, she proclaimed at the same time her unaltered devotion to his rival!

Among all the perplexing marriage tangles that have ever found their way to the courts has there ever been so extraordinary a situation, or one in which a woman's emotions were so strangely complex?

Maj. Butler-Fraser was not only shocked and bewildered, but almost overcome with resentment when he realized his wife's extraordinary attitude. But he refused either to share her viewpoint or to regard her as a wife.

She forthwith cabled to Sir Samuel that she had been "forced to confess to Curly," adding, "Forgive me, my love for you overwhelmed everything!"

To this, Sir Samuel cabled the reply, "Come to me. Your happiness is my first and only consideration. I will protect you in every way!"

She sent various other cables and messages of love to Sir Samuel, most of these signed with the pet name he had given her, "Bundle!"

Rita's husband, in despair, went to the length of writing to Sir Samuel, saying:

"Knowing that I was an officer detained on active service, doing my best for dear old England, you simply stole her from me! So I am absolutely ruined. Of course, I would forgive Rita everything and take her back under any conditions if this would make her happy. I am interested only in her happiness and her future. My life is ended, wrecked, but what matter?"

Sir Samuel answered this letter with a frankness and a note of powerful emotionalism rare in Englishmen. In his reply he said:

"I am deeply and passionately devoted to Rita. * * * I have never known such happiness as with her * * * is entirely mine, the fault of being devotedly in love with another man's wife, with a love that must ever remain!"

It seemed as though this might be the end of the story. Many a disillusioned husband divorces his wife or lets his wife divorce him and that is all that is ever known about it.

But Maj. Fraser, distraught and heart broken, felt an irresistible desire to inflict punishment on the man who had robbed him of the woman he worshiped. And perhaps, too, he had a subconscious longing to vent his bitterness on the girl who had hurt him so cruelly.

Whatever the motive, the betrayed husband planned a startling and sensational revenge. He sued his wife's titled lover for damages and put the price of her heart at $50,000!

That the major was willing, as she saw it, to sell her for a sum of money wounded Rita far more than the fact that he was divorcing her. So mortified was she that she determined to come to court, give evidence in the case and fight what she termed "the sale" of her love!

The court put a different construction on her attitude in this matter.

"You are giving evidence," the opposing attorney suggested, "in order to save the co-respondent's pocketbook."

"I am giving evidence," Rita replied with some spirit, "so that my husband shall not benefit by my misconduct."

But when her husband's counsel, Sir Henry Maddocks, K. C., put the question to her, "Are you willing to say that you are perfectly worthless to anybody?" her woman's vanity came uppermost and she replied, "No!"

In the end, the jury came to the conclusion that however winsome and charming and affectionate Rita might be, she had never given $50,000 worth of love to her husband! Some careful mathematicians worked it out at about $15,000 instead! Just how they estimated her affection and the compound interest on it with a possible deduction for amusement tax, is a secret locked in the breasts of "twelve good men and true."

But secret or no secret, the fact remains that Sir Samuel must pay the injured husband for the balance of such love as he has taken away from him — although even at this price the noble knight does not possess all of Rita's heart, for according to her own version the husband still retains a considerable part!

Mrs. Rita Fraser, who insisted that she loved both her handsome soldier husband, Major Fraser, and her fascinating gray-haired lover, Sir Samuel Shead, but now finds herself without either of them.

Sir Samuel Shead, at one time Sheriff of London, to whom Mrs. Fraser gave half of her love, but who couldn't marry her if he wanted to.

Rita's declaration of such big-heartedness did not meet with the approval of the jury and Maj. Fraser was given his divorce decree. Thus Rita loved and lost him.

Although the gallant sheriff had sworn to Rita and to the jury that he would marry her as soon as it was possible, the possibility seems very remote, and as the case now stands, Rita has loved and lost him, too.

The sum of money he had to pay for his share of her love may not have daunted him, but he had to pay a much bigger price that would have embittered the heart of any man. The publicity and scandal connected with the amazing case simply precluded any chance of his becoming the Lord Mayor of London—a distinction he seemed slated to attain and which he naturally prized very highly.

Therefore, it is whispered about that Sir Samuel is not altogether eager for his wife to sue him for divorce—a proceeding she has so far ignored. The prospect of marrying a woman who gave him but half a love has lost its appeal, anyway, being very much dampened by remarks made publicly and privately during the court proceedings.

If Rita can love two as easily as one, why not three or four, the gossips figured.

And the perturbed aristocracy to which the curious trio belong are openly wondering if, in case the sheriff should wed Rita and then discover that she still insisted on sharing her affections, he would place a higher valuation on her affections than did Maj. Fraser. With such innuendoes going the rounds, it is no wonder that the sheriff wants to be well out of the trio, too.

And so unfortunately for Rita, neither her handsome soldier husband nor her fascinating gray-haired lover wish to share her affections.

Thus pretty little Mrs. Fraser tried to prove to the world and to the two men in her life that it was entirely possible for one woman to have two great loves simultaneously, but if she proved anything at all, it was that no happiness could come of such a relationship. The men in the case just wouldn't stand for it. Like the dog in the fable, she tried to grasp two bones and lost them both in the water.

That is Cupid's last laugh at now lonesome Rita for threatening to upset his long-established traditions of love. And if she was madly in love with both her husband and the sheriff as she wanted them both to believe, then Cupid's joke must seem all the more heartless to her.

Twice bereft and the recipient of much unpleasant notoriety, and with the knowledge that her polyandrous desires have wrecked the promising lives of the two men she loved, Rita now has plenty of time to appreciate Cupid's little joke on her.

(Copyright, 1926, Johnson Features, Inc.)

Beauty for Office Workers

By GLORIA GRAY.

Ten minutes in the morning, as regularly as you get up, patting your face skin, molding it, five minutes to stimulate your scalp, twenty minutes at night patting the face into an active circulation, feeding it with tissue cream, muscle oil, brushing the scalp vigorously into activity for ten glorious moments—these things done as regularly as you go to bed and get up, will give you a certain discipline which will make you, as a personality, decidedly more definite and will put a fascinating something into your newly freshened face that smiles back at you from the mirror.

Of course, you have your jar of cold cream at the office to use instead of water as a face cleanser. And you will be interested in the new cold-cream removers. If you have an outside job and can't get to the office to clean up, you can tuck a few of these tiny sheets in your bag, together with the tiniest metal box of an excellent beauty cream! With these you are armed against any emergency.

If you stay in the office until noon, you can add to the cold-cream jar a cooling, refreshing ice astringent, very inexpensive, which will freshen your face marvelously after its cold cream bath. It comes in a jar that can be tucked away easily in your desk drawer.

Perhaps there is nothing so important in the question of business grooming—funny, though, isn't it, that it's so often the most neglected—as hand grooming. And there is nothing more fascinating on this beauty earth than a list of the different hand lotions which will help build hand refinement.

And the observing Eve will have her face rouge boxed in the new "gold" metal boxes, ornamental, and yet filled with the best rouge modern experimentation has evolved. And she will learn how to put this rouge on so that it will blend with her natural coloring.—From the Designer Magazine for May.

Designs All-Metal Dirigible.

A new type of dirigible, to be built of duralumin and capable of carrying 200 passengers and a crew of 40, has been designed by Claude H. Freese, of Los Angeles. Instead of the ordinary gas bag, says Popular Science Monthly, it will consist of fifteen separate drums forming a cigar-shaped envelope. It will have nine propellers and will be able to land on water.

HER METHOD.

"And what did your wife say?"

"She answered mechanically."

"What do you mean?"

"She hit me on the head with a hammer."—Good Hardware.

MENACE OF STORMS AND BERGS ATTACKED

Less spectacular, perhaps, than the stampede of birdmen to cross the pole by air, yet equally abounding in possibilities for enriching the world, are the expeditions of scientists into the far North this summer. Their goal is to solve the riddle of the weather, to fathom mysteries of the earth's magnetism, to plumb uncharted seas—in short, to stake the claims of science to new wonders wherever they may be found.

Knowledge of inestimable value for the safety of lives at sea, for example, writes Edgar C. Wheeler in Popular Science Monthly for June, undoubtedly will result from the Greenland expedition of the University of Michigan, led by Dr. William Herbert Hobbs, professor of geology. With a party of twenty scientists, Dr. Hobbs journeys by boat to the coldest and most desolate land on earth, there to study at their source the twin perils of the North Atlantic—the terrific storms which during the last winter have swept down with unequaled fury on ships at sea, and the icebergs which are a constant menace to navigation.

He believes that the source of both these is to be found in the great dome of perpetual ice which caps almost the entire continent of Greenland. Here, he tells us, is the refrigerator of the earth, the "North Wind Pole," where high currents of warm air from the equator are sucked down, as if through a gigantic ventilating shaft, cooled and hurled back again toward the equator in the form of hurricanes that hold ocean vessels at their mercy.

Taking two amphibian planes to transport supplies, Dr. Hobbs will establish four wireless equipped weather stations, one of them in the heart of the ice cap. At the latter station, braving intense cold and terrific winds, two of the party will remain throughout next winter, when it is expected they will be able to send out warnings of severe storms at least a day in advance of their arrival in the shipping lanes.

In like manner the birth of icebergs will be observed, and experiments will be made to find some method of lessening their menace.

Homes Made of Steel.

In England modest houses all of steel are meeting the needs of workmen of small means. And now, in recent months, steel barns and steel bungalows have been making their appearance in increasing numbers in the United States, according to Popular Science Monthly. In Tarrytown, N. Y., for example, there has just been completed a novel dwelling in which the entire framework is formed of "metal lumber" riveted in the shop, transported to the site, and there bolted together. The builders declare that any person who knows how to use a monkey wrench, plumb line and carpenter's square can easily erect the frame for the house by following the plans.

EXCUSE IT, PLEASE!

Bookkeeper—I never knew the shipping clerk had triplets.

Stenographer—Yah! He married a telephone girl and she gave him the wrong number.—Good Hardware.

STRIVING TO PLEASE.

He—What's wrong with the piecrust? It doesn't half cover the pie.

Bride—Why, dearest, I asked your mother how to make them to suit you and she said make the crust very short.—The Progressive Grocer.

The Married Life of Helen and Warren

By Mabel Herbert Urner

An Enchanted Quest for Old-World Treasures in London's Famous Rag Market.

THE Caledonia Rag Market!

Always Helen's Friday morning dissipation when in London.

Off the bus at Market road. Past the meat-packing house with its shuddery odors. The "tripe factory," the dingy corner "pub" and on to the great iron-fenced inclosure.

Rag market on Friday. Cattle market the rest of the week.

Now half-past 9 by the tower clock in the center.

The buzz of preparation. Getting the stalls ready for the day.

Unloading carts and wagons. Spreading out on the cobblestones pathetic stocks of old clothes, shoes, crockery and rusty iron.

Helen paused to pet a shaggy donkey. However poor the coster, the donkey that drew his cart was always fat.

"Thieves' market" it might be—but good to their animals. She loved them for that.

The better "antique" stalls farther on. Around the clock.

That old woman with bits of lace and jewelry. Would she still be there?

Stalls of new things, too. But the new so cheap and tawdry. Sleazy near-silk stockings, job lots of handbags, ribbons, buttons, hectic colored soaps.

"'Ere you are, pick 'em out! Your own price!"

A man emptying burlap bags. Bed and table linen! The stamp of a famous steamship company.

"'Ere's your chance, miss. Sheets! Pillow cases! 'Ow many? Lot of wear in 'em yet. Better'n you get in the shops."

Helen smiled, shook her head and passed on. The discarded linen of a great steamship line. The curious traffic of the Rag market!

An odoriferous refreshment stand. Winkles! Ugh! How could they eat them? A dozen on a dubious saucer for "thru'pence." A dash from a smeary bottle of pepper-sauce thrown in.

Nearing the clock now. Better stalls. Old bric-a-brac. A few antiques. Enough to lure collectors and West End dealers. Several private cars outside.

* * * *

LONG tables of rough boards. But mostly spread-on-the-ground stalls.

Yes, that was the one—third from the end. But now a man with china.

"Where's the little old lady?" asked Helen. "Stooped—with a black bonnet?"

"And a red nose? That was old Mrs. Perch. Died in the alms-'ouse."

The alms house! And she had really known lace. From her Helen had learned much. She could still see the shaky hands holding a bit of real Limerick—telling how it was made. Usually a torn bit—good only for a scrap-book collection.

Curious how these rough venders knew and loved old things. And the class distinction of the market! New job lots disdained by the dealers of "old bits."

Helen paused before a spread-on-a-sheet display of old jewelry.

"Pick 'em up, miss. Don't cost nothin' to look at 'em."

"How much is this?" pointing to a quaint garnet locket.

"Ah, miss, you picked the best bit of the lot. Fifteen, bob. 'Ere, what's it worth to you?" as Helen turned away. "Ain't 'ad a sale yet—want to start the day. Twelve? Take it for ten then."

At the next stall—a sampler! Every year a greater rarity in the Rag market.

As always, when wanting something very much Helen approached it circuitously. She examined a candlestick and pewter plate before most casually pricing the sampler.

* * * *

"THREE pounds," shrewdly discounting her indifference. "Not a ha'penny less."

Only the alphabet and a verse. And late—1824. But that was the Rag market. Something too plainly coveted was more than at the shops. Yet one could pick up real treasures for almost nothing!

A paper-weight! A snow scene in a crystal ball. A really old one. But no, too many cheap reproductions.

The whirr of an airplane! A jarring modern note over this primitive, Old World market. Intent on their bargaining, few looked up.

A satinwood tea caddy. Tiny ivory keyhole. Two compartments—and perfect!

"Only 30 bob, miss. You'd pay 3 quid in a West End shop."

Helen looked at it wistfully. No, she had promised Warren not to buy anything bulky.

Virtuously denying herself the tea caddy, she bought from the same stand a tiny tortoise-shell box, absurdly cheap at 5 shillings; an old ruby-glass salt cellar at 2 and 6, and Carnelian earrings for Carrie at 7 and 6.

A skeleton! A gruesome, grinning skeleton, minus an arm and several ribs.

"Six bob," bargained a prospective purchaser.

"Ten's the lowest. The rest of 'im's 'ere," rattling some bones in a box.

A stall of second-hand records. A phonograph grating a strident tune.

"Pick 'em out. Only thru'pence each."

Farther on an old man crouched on a soap box, back of his pitiful stock.

A door knob, bits of rusty iron, glass stoppers, the top of a slop jar, tin spoons, old bell wire, an umbrella frame.

All of it hardly worth a shilling. Spread on the gunny sack, carried on his shoulder—perhaps miles.

Patiently he sat there, waiting for a customer. No one stopped.

His pathetic, dazed gratitude at the sixpence Helen slipped into his hand.

* * * *

THE cloying sweetish smell of licorice. A medicinal mixture at an oilcloth stand. The vender shouting its cure-all merits as he stirred the nauseous mess.

A splash on her glove. The misty sun clouding over. A sudden London shower.

A general scurry. Old quilts and newspapers thrown over wares. But no resentment, no grumbling. A shower part of the market day.

No shelter. But in their inevitable mackintoshes, immune to rain.

A covered stall in the next lane. Now crowded, but they made room for Helen.

Another pathetic stock. Moth-eaten furs, bedraggled feather boas, old opera cloaks, blouses, and a rusty black shawl.

The rain over, with only a nod of thanks the others hurri d on. As there was nothing she could buy, Helen forced some coppers upon the old man.

"No, no, miss," surprised. "Why, you don't 'ave to pay for standin' 'ere."

The kindliness of these simple people. Their honesty, too.

Haggling over prices was part of the game—an enjoyable part. But the damage of any article they never tried to conceal.

Helen had grown to hate the supercilious bargain-hunters who beat down prices. Not with friendly good-nature, but scornful disparagement.

Such a woman was belittling, through a haughty lorgnette, a string of old amber.

* * * *

"NO, ma'am, forty-five bob. Take it or leave it. Cost me two quid."

As the woman with withering depreciation flung it down, Helen picked it up.

She could never resist old amber. And this the color brandy. Hand cut—catching the light in every uneven facet. And warm—real amber never cold!

"I'll take it for forty-five shillings," Helen drew out a five-pound note.

"Why, such insolence! That is mine! I just bought it."

"No, you 'adn't. This young lady gets it," wrapping it in newspaper.

Beratingly the woman stepped forward—crushing a Crown Derby plate!

"It was way out in the road," at the old man's outburst. "Where do you expect people to walk? You needn't get excited—I'll pay for it."

"Ten bob. Marked 'ere on the bottom," holding up a fragment.

"Ten! Here's three—not worth that. You can be thankful I broke it."

"Why, she was horrid!" sympathized Helen, as the woman lorgnette-ed off.

"A West End dealer, miss. 'Ere every Friday. That plate cost me five bob!"

It was not until she made her next purchase far across the Market, that Helen found she was minus two pounds!

He had returned only the fifteen shillings from her five-pound note.

Flamingly indignant, she hurried back. He would deny it, of crouse.

It would spoil her day! And weaken her faith in these people. She had loved their kindliness, their droll humor, and as she thought, their honesty.

Back through a labyrinth of aisles, railed off for the Cattle Market.

* * * *

MIDDAY now. Most of the dealers crowding the dubious refreshment stands.

At last the stall she sought. The man opening his greasy newspapered lunch.

"I bought these amber beads here," she began. "I——"

"Yes, miss, you went off without your two pounds," pulling out the notes.

"Oh, thank you, that's very kind. I was afraid you mightn't remember."

"No danger of that, miss. Don't get so many fivers out here."

Her day not spoiled! Her faith in the Rag Market restored.

Tired, hungry, but again purringly happy, Helen strolled on.

The stout paper bag, bought for "tuppence," bulged with her purchases. She should start back now. But so hard to leave. Their last Friday in London!

The soft, rain-washed air, the misty sunlight. And the stalls beyond the clock still to be explored. The lure too strong—she could not leave yet.

Bananas! At least they were clean.

With "two for thru'pence," Helen sat down on a box near a dozing donkey, who shared her "snack."

The Wagstaffs! If they should see her now! To their Savoy luncheon she had pleaded an "engagement." But Warren had blurted out,

"Friday? Her date's with the Rag Market! She'll roust me out for an early breakfast—to get the pick of the junk. Comes back loaded with rubbish."

A moist plush nose against her hand.

"More? You've had both skins. Greedy!" sharing the second banana. "Lots nicer than lunch at the Savoy, isn't it?"

An assenting twitch of the humorous ears.

"Oh, I'm sorry," starting up. "Do you want this box?"

"No, miss, just after Billy's feed," unhooking the bulging bag from under the cart. "You sit right there long as you want. Bit tirin' walkin' 'round."

"But I love it," glowed Helen, watching him slip the bag over the long ears.

Good just to sit there. To pet the munching, friendly donkey, and look out over the sea of stalls still unexplored.

The drone of voices, the shuffle of feet over cobblestones, the soft hazy air. The seductive lure of it all!

Rested and refreshed, with a good-bye pat on the furry neck, Helen started off.

Another rapturous hour wandering through the treasure-trove lanes of her beloved London Rag Market!

(Copyright, 1926, Wheeler Nicholson, Inc.)

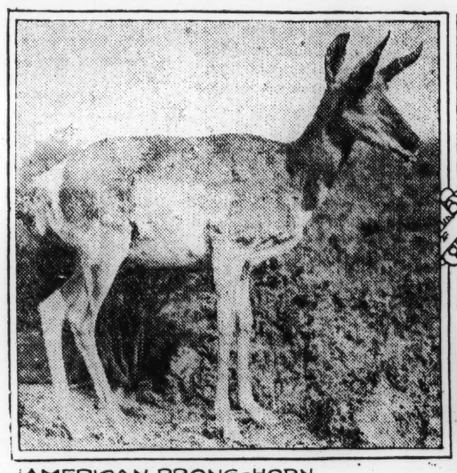

NEXT WEEK "OUT OF THE FOG!"

Burgess Radio Nature League

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

To preserve and conserve all desirable American wild life, including birds, animals, flowers, trees and other living things; also the natural beauty spots and scenic wonders of all America.

Meetings every Wednesday night through Station WBZ at 7:30 Eastern Standard Time

AMERICAN PRONG-HORN ANTELOPE
PHOTO BY W. L. FINLEY

BALD EAGLE AT FOUR YEARS OF AGE

SPADEFOOT TOAD
PHOTO BY CLYDE FISHER

ARE YOU A FIREBUG?

THIS is a personal question and I mean it to be. Recently we celebrated American forest week. It should be a perpetual celebration instead of just a one-week affair. We are rapidly approaching the season of the "Red Terror," with all the destructiveness that follows in its wake; and nine times out of ten the "Red Terror" is set free by the "I-didn't-mean-to" man. It is a fact that the majority of forest fires are due to carelessness and heedlessness. The man who throws a cigarette or a cigar stub away while tramping in the woods, or motoring through the woods, and does not first make sure that it is extinguished, is a firebug. So is the one who does not extinguish a camp fire. He is only one degree less reprehensible than the firebug who deliberately sets a fire.

The need of ceaseless watchfulness while in the woods is being constantly preached, but somehow a majority of people appear to have a way of reading things and hearing things stated without in the least grasping what it is all about. At times the human mind is the hardest thing in the world in which to make a dent. I have heard men decry the terrible annual fire loss to our forests and seen those same men toss a cigarette away without looking to see where it might fall.

The oldest living thing in the world is a tree. The mightiest living creation of nature is a tree. Man's debt to trees is beyond computation and human comprehension. That America is what it is today is in large measure due to its one-time forests. The very physical condition of fertile valleys throughout this great land of ours is due to trees and their control of the waterflow.

I have the utmost respect for a tree. Have you ever stopped to think what a marvelous thing a great tree is? Out of the earth and the air it is built, for growth after all is merely a form of building. In miscroscopic quantities from earth and air are drawn the elements to build up cell by cell this living thing—man's friend, protector, benefactor and servant.

When I see an ax driven into a tree it gives me a feeling of physical pain. When I see thoughtless boys and careless men wantonly breaking branches from trees, disfiguring trees by slashing with ax and knife, stripping the white outer coat from the glorious birch, tearing branches to pieces in the flowering season for the sake of a few hours of possible enjoyment, which must be at the cost of years of disfigurement—it positively hurts. And when I see the wanton waste by fire through some one's carelessness, I confess to seeing red. The forest is the nurse of the river, the mother of the life-giving brooks. Its destruction brings in its wake fire, flood, and ultimately famine.

A Full Laundry Bag.

It always delights me when other people discover my homely friend, old Mrs. Toad. Here is a league member, Mrs. Walter L. Corbin, who has discovered him and enjoyed the discovery.

"One summer," said she, "an unusual number of toads appeared in the yard after sunset. Where they spent the day was a mystery until a small piece of board chanced to be lifted, revealing eleven toads. We offered them a choice assortment of beetles and bugs, both to learn their tastes and to see the bugs disappear. When a bug got within range of one of those tongues it was a case of 'Now you see it, now you don't.' We were still trying to get a glimpse of a tongue when a plump, healthy-looking toad actually refused a tasty beetle. Then he shrugged a bit uncomfortably and clawed nervously at his mouth with his hands. We assumed that the last beetle eaten was making trouble inside.

"That toad certainly acted uncomfortable. He began to puff up—and up— and up. We really were sorry for the poor little fellow, when suddenly his coat split open right down the middle of the back, showing a nice new coat underneath. With his forefeet he began pushing the skin off one hindleg and then the other, just as if it were his underwear.

"He was shedding his old skin! What a wonderful souvenir we would have—a toad skin! Imagine our amazement when Mr. Toad rolled the loose skin up between his forelegs and began stuffing it in his mouth with his hands. He was swallowing it! We had heard people threatening to eat their shirts, but we never, never expected to see it done. Evidently those first movements had been to loosen the skin at the mouth. He certainly was a handsome toad as toads go when he finally got his soiled laundry removed and packed in his inside laundry bag. Then he hopped away, leaving us nothing but a memory for a souvenir."

Old Mr. Toad goes through this performance three or four times a year, yet comparatively few people have ever witnessed it. I am constantly amazed to find how few who have been familiar with this homely little friend of the garden all their lives really know anything about him.

I wonder how many know the Spadefoot toad. Although widely distributed, this member of the toad family manages to keep out of sight most of the time. It is almost wholly nocturnal in habit. The only time these toads are seen in numbers is in the spring, when they resort to the water to deposit eggs. This usually is during a heavy rainstorm or long drizzling continued rains, and these toads may appear by hundreds at that time. Unlike his cousin—common Mr. Hoptoad—the Spadefoot does not remain in the water for any length of time. Usually it is only one night; occasionally two. But while there he makes his presence known to all the world. The female makes a low grunting sound, but the call of the male is loud and has great carrying power. By the way, the eyes of this toad are even more beautifully golden than those of the common toad. After the laying of the eggs the toads disappear and there is much mystery about it. Except during the breeding season a Spadefoot is found only by accident. It gets the name of Spadefoot because of its ability to dig in.

Our Living Emblem.

We are a strange people. We adopt a bird as a living emblem of the nation, and then we allow a territory to offer a bounty for the destruction of this same living emblem. This is what has been done in Alaska, on the alleged grounds that bald eagles interfere with the salmon fisheries. Inasmuch as this bird is seldom a fisherman, if the fish can be found dead, and inasmuch as wherever salmon run they can be found dead in great quantities along the shore, the charge that the eagle is a menace to an industry which is notorious for its reckless disregard of its own future seems rather far-fetched, to say the least. But even if it were not, what right has any man to turn his gun upon the nation's emblem.

The splendid picture of a bald eagle that accompanies this article shows the bird at its best. This bird was 4 years old at the time the picture was taken and shows to advantage the snowy head. Why any bird with such a splendid covering for his head as is here apparent should be called "bald," is beyond my understanding. I occasionally hear criticism of the eagle as the national emblem because of certain undesirable qualities, as, for instance, playing the part of tyrant by robbing the fishhawk or osprey of its plunder. But over against such undesirable habits as it may have is the fact that much of its existence centers around the home. Bald eagles mate for life, and the nest is used year after year, being added to each season. Because the young remain in the nest for many weeks the activities of the parent birds necessarily center around the home.

Is the Antelope Doomed?

The very spirit of the Western plains is embodied in the prong horn antelope, the only antelope in America and one having no near relatives in the world. Once upon a time antelopes existed in millions. They were in even greater numbers than the bison or buffalo. Today but a few thousands remain. They can not be kept in captivity. Their only hope lies in complete protection on such free range as is left to them. This animal has true horns, but, unlike other horn-bearing animals, drops them annually, as the antlers of the deer family are dropped. Antlers, you know, are not true horns.

A Naturalist's Question Box.

"What are purple grackles good for? Have they been imported into this country within the last ten or twelve years? I do not remember having seen or heard of them when I was a youngster," says Allison Viles, of Dover, N. H.

Purple grackles are native born Americans. When I was a boy they were commonly called "crow blackbirds." They are rather noisy birds, and they are sometimes guilty of pulling corn which is sprouting. They also are accused of destroying eggs and young of other birds. However, probably it is a few individuals who are guilty of these things, and not the great body of the birds. Forbush says the grackles are indispensable on account of the number of insects they destroy.

"We have a bird near our home that has been drilling little holes in a birch tree, which appears to be entirely sound. This bird looks like a woodpecker, but is not like any we have seen. It is difficult to believe that that birch can be infested with insects to warrant the extensive boring on the part of the bird. Can you explain this?" writes A. E. Jenkins.

It is a yellow-bellied sapsucker, and the bird is drilling for sap, and perhaps the inner bark, rather than for insects.

Mrs. A. E. Boyden wants to know how to account for the fact that, despite the killing of many striped or garden snakes, the supply seems to be equally large each spring in her vicinity.

Mrs. Garter Snake does not believe in race suicide. She has been known to have over 50 in a single family. Twenty to 30 at a time is not unusual. But why kill any of them, Mrs. Boyden? Those little snakes are wholly harmless. They should not be killed.

TALES OF REAL DOGS

By Albert Payson Terhune

ABDUL HAMID: "THE DOG THAT WAS NOT."

IT was in 1893. I was in Damascus, and just starting with my small caravan southward through Syria toward the Dead sea and the Land of Moab. On my way to camp, to begin the journey, I rounded a corner and came upon a wholesale dogfight.

A bone-thin little gray and white dog was crouched in an angle of a wall, trying to fight off a dozen larger curs. A group of native Syrian boys were laughing and egging on the assailants. The poor little chap was bleeding and panting. He had not a chance to survive. Yet he was battling right pluckily against terrible odds.

My dragoman explained to me afterward how the fight must have started. In those days, in Damascus, as in Constantinople and in many another Near East city, the dogs were the principal scavengers. Nobody owned these dogs, for to the Mohammedans a dog is an unclean animal whose mere touch is a defilement.

But they were allowed to live because of their value as scavengers. Thus, each ward of the city had its own pack of scavenger dogs that kept alive by eating offal and garbage.

Each pack of dogs kept closely to its own district or quarter. If a dog from one ward should happen to stray over to another ward, then every cur in the second ward would pitch onto him and kill and eat him. It was a real case of "dog eat dog" with no mercy asked or expected.

So some of the street boys used to amuse themselves by catching a dog of one ward and chasing him over into the next ward, for the fun of seeing the latter ward's dogs pile onto him and kill him. They had a pretty sense of humor, hadn't they?

This young dog I am telling you about was such a victim. Had my dragoman and myself arrived two minutes later, the onrushing curs must have gotten him down and torn his throat out. As it was, the little fellow's desperate courage appealed to me.

It was an insanely foolish thing, in those days, for a foreigner to interfere with the sport or the other activities of natives. Had I been older I should have realized that and I should have gone on, paying no heed to the impending slaughter. But I was not quite 21 years old, and I was fond of dogs.

So I jumped in among the pack of curs, laying about me with my riding whip, till I cleared a way to the bravely battling little dog. I picked him up and carried him away. The street boys raised an out-cry. My dragoman averted the danger of a crowd collecting by pitching a handful of small copper coins to the lads.

As soon as we were clear of the streets I set the dog down and walked on. He had snuggled quietly in my arms and had made no effort to escape. As I set him down, he followed me. My dragoman tried to drive him back. It was no use. He followed me to camp. There, to the disgust of the native servants, I fed him. He ate ravenously.

When we set off on our long horseback journey southward, he elected himself my chum and guard. All day long, in sun or rain, he would jog alongside my horse. All night he would lie in the doorway of my tent. Under the new influence of all the food he wanted, he lost his wolflike gauntness and became a good-looking enough animal.

I undertook to teach him a few simple tricks, at such times as we were resting. To my surprise, I found he was more quick to learn them than any other dog I have seen. The natives would stand in wondering and muttering groups, watching him shake hands or lie down or roll over or "speak," at command. To them, it must have seemed miraculous. Perhaps never before had any of them heard of a trick dog.

"He was battling against terrible odds."

He would let nobody enter my tent or come within six feet of me, unless first I told him it was all right. He was a good little pal and a mighty good little watch dog. Both these traits were the more peculiar since none of his ancestors for centuries had served either as guard or as comrade for mankind.

Then one day, just a few miles north of the garrison town of Nablous, I made a fool of myself at his expense. It happened in this way. I was sitting in the doorway of my tent at sunset, the dog at my feet. I called across to my dragoman:

"I'm going to name this puppy 'Abdul Hamid,' in honor of your illustrious sultan. By tomorrow I'll have taught him to answer to his new name."

The dragoman did not accord to my silly remark the polite native smile which was his wont. Indeed, he seemed not to hear me. I glanced about. Every groom and muleteer was staring wide-eyed at me. To impress them, I made the puppy go through some more of his tricks.

Next morning, when I woke, the little dog was not lying at the tent door, where he belonged. I called to one of the muleteers and asked him where the dog was. He blinked owlishly and asked:

"What dog, Howaji? I have seen no dog."

I made the same inquiry of the camp cook and of my groom. Both stared in the same uncomprehending way and declared they had never seen any dog around our camp. This sort of thing was beginning to get on my nerves. I sent for my dragoman, and took him out of earshot of the others.

Then, crossly, I demanded what every one meant by saying there was no camp dog. My dragoman was a wise man, and I think he had grown to like me during our long months of riding together across country. He glanced about him, then said:

"There was no dog. We are all prepared to swear there has never been any dog. Perhaps you would care to heart a short story, Howaji? Once on a time there was a very young and very foolish man. He adopted a stray dog. This was bad enough. But later he boasted loudly that he had named the unclean beast after his sacred majesty, the sultan—on whom be Peace!

"Today we enter the garrison city of Nablous. There are men among us, perhaps, who would gladly earn money by reporting to the commandant the story I have just told you. If they did, that foolish young foreigner might spend much time in a prison, before his government could hear of him. So also might his dragoman and others of his party.

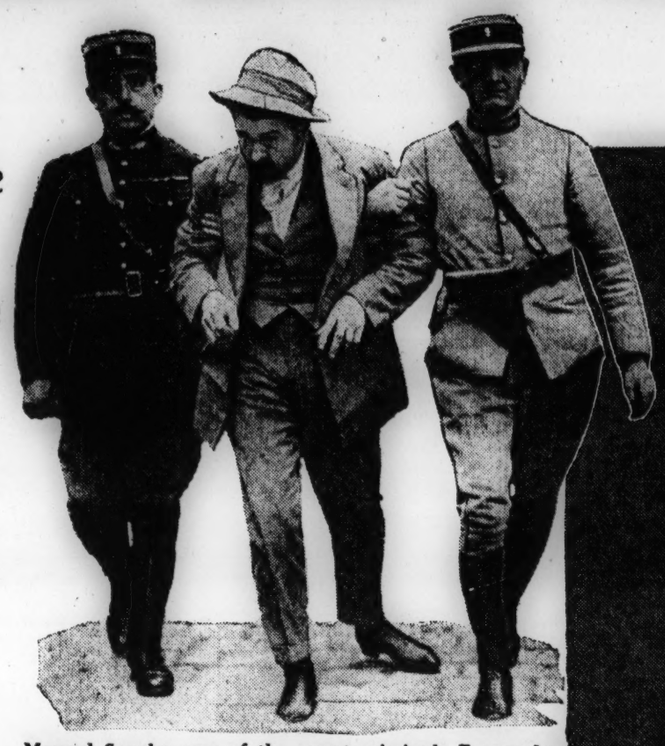

"But if there is no dog, and if the best of us are ready to take oath that there has never been any dog—then that foolish young American will be safe. Therefore, there is no dog. I have seen to that."

My silly speech had cost the life of a loyal little chum.

(Copyright, 1925, the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

How Princess Fatme Outwitted the Robber's Hypnotic Eyes

Desperate Manuel Sancho's "Burning Gaze," Always Before So Irresistible, at Last Encounters a Woman It Is Quite Powerless to Deceive

Manuel Sancho, one of the worst criminals France has known in recent years, pretending insanity as officers lead him from the courtroom where he was sentenced to Devil's Island.

Below—Princess Fatme and the beautiful eyes which successfully withstood Manuel Sancho's celebrated hypnotic gaze and were not in the least deceived about his true wickedness.

PARIS.

MANUEL SANCHO, alias the Marquis de Champaubert, one of the most desperate robbers and murderers that have preyed on France in a long time, is on his way to Devil's island—and all because he found in Princess Fatme, a charming young Persian beauty, one woman whom he could not hypnotize into thinking him anything but the criminal he is.

Not only did the princess' beautiful eyes successfully withstand Sancho's hypnotic gaze but they seem to have exerted such a disturbing influence on him that for once in his long bloodstained career of crime his phenomenal shrewdness deserted him and he became an easy prey for the police.

For years Manuel Sancho has been celebrated in the underworld as the man whose hypnotic eyes were able to make any woman his slave. Although of extremely uncouth appearance there was a mysterious something about the burning gaze from his glittering gray green eyes that made them forget this. Also they forgot duty and honor and everything except the desire to believe what Sancho told them and to do as he commanded.

To his extraordinary influence over women of all classes he owed his success as a criminal. Many of his most profitable robberies were carried out by making confederates of servants, stenographers and other working girls who had previously led honest lives. On several occasions women of wealth and social position whom he had robbed are said to have refused to appear in court against him after they felt the compelling force of his mysterious eyes.

But in Princess Fatme those eyes, long regarded by the underworld as quite irresistible, met more than their match. They could not deceive her about Sancho's villany and she had started the police on his trail even before he robbed her father's home.

Germaine Lesage, a pretty servant girl, was the last of many women whom Sancho is known to have dragged down to shame. She was arrested with him and is now beginning an eight months' prison term for her share in one of his robberies. At her trial she swore that she was hypnotized by Sancho into doing what she did.

"When he looked at me," the girl testified, "it felt as if hot irons were piercing every part of my body. Although I knew it was wrong, I could not help loving and obeying him."

About a year ago Germaine Lesage entered the service of Prince Nasserul Mulk of Persia, at 31 Rue Spontini, not far from the Bois de Boulogne. With the prince in this luxurious apartment lived his wife, his son, Moussin, and his daughter, the Princess Fatme. A younger son of the Persian prince, Hassin Ali Khan, is pursuing his studies at college in England.

Excellent references had been given Germaine by her former employers and in a very short time the entire princely household became sincerely attached to the pleasant French maid. She was always in good humor and always doing her work well. Then came her evil day.

It was three months ago at Vittel, the famous watering place, where the family were just making ready for their return to Paris. One night Germaine returned to the princely villa rather late and was met by Princess Fatme at the door of her chamber. She had been out without her mistress' permission and Princess Fatme had been looking for her. Her flushed face caused Princess Fatme to ask her where she had been. Germaine tried to lie out of it, but, under the searching scrutiny of the princess' beautiful eyes she broke down and told the truth.

She had met a fascinating man from South America or Spain, she didn't know which, and had been unable to resist him. His name was Manuel Sancho, she said, and he had the most wonderful eyes in the world.

Germaine begged her young mistress not to say anything to her parents, who would dismiss her if they knew. To this the young princess agreed. She had learned to esteem Germaine very highly and was ready to help her. But she wanted to see that marvelous man and form her own judgment of him.

A meeting was arranged by Germaine. But Princess Fatme was disillusioned and suspicious when she saw the fellow. He was ugly and vicious looking, the worst kind of a Don Juan she had ever seen. Even in his eyes she could see nothing wonderful.

"How can you love a man like that?" the princess asked her maid after the man had gone. "Why, I think the fellow is positively hideous."

But Germaine insisted Manuel was the handsomest thing in existence. She told her mistress that when Manuel looked at her she felt a hot glow run right through her body.

"Did you see his eyes, madame?" she added. "Did you see the fire in them and the soul and the love?"

Princess Fatme, a young girl herself, shrugged her shoulders and said she could not agree with Germaine. Still she consented to keep the matter from her parents, even after Germaine began to stay out all night, meeting her lover in his handsome flat.

"I don't seem to love him so madly when I am away from him," she confided to her young mistress one day, "but when he is with me and holds me in his wiry arms, then I can not resist him. His eyes burn holes into me and he can make me do what he pleases."

But although Princess Fatme said nothing to her parents she could not quiet her suspicions about Manuel Sancho and his influence over Germaine. His appearance had impressed her most unfavorably. As for the eyes about which Germaine raved, after the first glance they had become strangely shifty and reluctant to meet her steady gaze.

After a week of worrying over the matter she paid a secret visit to a friend of her father's who is a high official in the Paris police. He promised to have detectives investigate Sancho and see if there was any ground for her suspicions.

The very next day Germaine disappeared. With her went the family jewels of the Prince Nasserul Mulk, worth a round million francs. The police went looking for Sancho, but he also had vanished. There was no longer any doubt that Princess Fatme's suspicions were fully justified.

The police did excellent work in running down the fugitives. Within 48 hours Germaine and Sancho were arrested on the Spanish frontier whither they had fled in an automobile.

The arrests were the result of efficiency of two detectives, Piquet and Poulain, who traced the fugitives from the prince's house to an automobile stand in the Rue Meyerbeer. The sleuths learned that the couple had hired a car to take them to Bordeaux where "a parent was dying." It was not difficult to establish the identity of the chauffeur and the number of the automobile, 3,125-U-3, and three hours later every police post between Paris and Bordeaux was notified by wire.

Still the fugitives managed to reach Bordeaux. From there they made their way toward Spain. They had paid the chauffeur $150 for the trip from Paris to Bordeaux and were proceeding in another car. Before them were the lofty mountains of the Pyrenees and beyond lay the land of their hope. They had love and riches, so the deluded Germaine thought, and now for their castles in Spain. It was the dream of Germaine to have a quiet little household of her own at the side of her Manuel.

On leaving the apartment of the prince she had placed the jewels into a small yellow handbag. But when they neared the Spanish line Manuel Sancho had insisted that it would be dangerous for her to carry the loot. He volunteered to hide it on his own person. To this the girl willingly agreed.

When about a stone's throw from Behobie, the last village on French soil, Manual Sancho suddenly ordered their chauffeur to stop. He had seen something on the road ahead that worried him.

"I'll climb that hill," he said to his companion, "and see if the coast is clear."

Germaine saw her lover disappear up the hill. She waited for him ten minutes. When she saw him again he was accompanied by Detectives Piguet and Poulain who had watched the approach of the automobile with field glasses and had seen Manuel sneak away.

When they picked him up he was running at full speed toward the Spanish line. It had been his plan, evidently, to leave his companion behind and enjoy the fruits of her theft alone.

Upon returning to Paris in the custody of

Germaine Lesage, the latest of many women to be hypnotized into doing Sancho's evil bidding and now beginning an eight months' prison term for aiding him in a bold jewel robbery.

the French sleuths Manuel Sancho was identified as the pseudo Marquis de Champaubert, all-around crook and inventor of a most diabolical trap into which he intended to lure Lucien Peret, a jeweler of the Avenue Victor Hugo, and rob him of diamond necklaces worth more than $150,000.

It was less than a year ago, according to the police, that Manuel Sancho drove up in a handsome limousine to a little chateau called Le Prieure near Dinard. He had rented the place for three months and paid the rental in advance. With him was a stunning young woman who posed as his wife.

A week after their arrival at the chateau Manuel Sancho, who had given his name as the Marquis de Champaubert, sent word to the Paris jeweler that he wished to see some diamond necklaces and would expect the jeweler's commissioner at the chateau with some of his best to choose from.

The Parisian jeweler took the precaution to consult the Nobility Almanach of France in regard to the Marquis de Champaubert's family. To his amazement he found no such name registered there. He immediately notified the police who decided to send a detective to the chateau to impersonate the jeweler's commissioner.

This detective, Henri Bouyssou, was met on the steps of the chateau by the "marquis" himself and escorted into a small parlor on the ground floor. He carried a black leather case under his arm and said he would be glad to show the marquis a selection of diamond necklaces, but that he must first ascertain exactly what his standing was in the financial and social world of France.

"Oh, that will be quite easy," said the pseudo nobleman with a fine smile. "I shall be with you in a moment."

With that he left the little salon and shut the door behind him. A few minutes later the detective heard the rumbling of a motor car into the court yard. He rushed to the window, but found that it was hermetically sealed with strips of felt and locked with steel shutters.

The door, too, was locked, and it was only half an hour later that the prisoner succeeded in freeing himself by demolishing the lock in the door with six bullets from his revolver. Upon investigation he found that the "marquis" had gone without leaving a forwarding address.

The detective looked through every room of the chateau and finally came upon a small closet situated immediately above the little salon where he had been imprisoned. There he found one of the most fiendish installations ever conceived by a criminal to trap and perhaps kill his victim.

In the middle of the floor stood a spraying machine such as are used in France to sulphurize the vineyards. The big can was filled with chloroform and on a table near the machine stood another gallon jar filled with ether. From the machine two tubes ran through the floor into the room below.

It was evident that Manuel Sancho intended to look at the jewels brought by the commissioner and then lock him in to chloroform him.

It was for this crime, attempted murder and grand larceny, that Sancho was tried and convicted. Evidence was introduced at the trial to show that he had perpetrated many robberies by luring jewel-laden men and women to the chateau and chloroforming them.

Soon after his arrest Sancho began to feign insanity with a skill that for a time deceived the authorities. He raved so violently in his cell that he had to be confined in a straitjacket. But this ruse could not save him from a richly deserved punishment. Alienists pronounced him sane and sentenced him to twenty years on Devil's island.

(Copyright, 1926, Johnson Features, Inc.)

RATS IN UNITED STATES NUMEROUS AS PEOPLE

Man, proud and arrogant, has long looked upon himself as a great huntsman. Wild beasts have been his comparatively easy victims. But where lions and tigers have succumbed, one far less heroic, the rat, grows stronger, bolder and more numerous despite the unceasing attacks of the great huntsman.

The rat, declare those who have made a study of him, is an organized enemy of mankind, disciplined like a soldier, fierce, clever and warlike. According to Prof. Henry H. Donaldson, of the Wistar institute, the rat population of the United States is equal to its human population. This makes nearly 120,000,000 rats, an extraordinary figure. And the United States is less troubled by these pests than are most other nations.

There are people today, and probably always will be, who believe that the rat problem is easily solved; that all you have to do to get rid of rats is to invite a lusty tomcat to share your premises with you.

In this connection, a classic tale among the huntsmen of rats is recalled by Peter Vischer in Popular Science Monthly for June. The skipper of the British freighter Ethelhilda had this idea. When he brought his craft from the west coast of Africa into New Orleans not long ago, government officials, suspecting there were rats on board, announced they intended to fumigate with poison gas.

"It's totally unnecessary," protested the skipper, quite incensed. "I have a tomcat with me, an exceptionally fine tomcat. A rat couldn't live on the same boat with him!"

Nevertheless, the Ethelhilda was fumigated. And through the irony of fate, Tom was left on board in the excitement. But he was found again, dead—completely surrounded by rats. Twenty-four of them lay within 5 feet of their traditional enemy.

The problem of rat extermination is not one easily solved. Scientists have been working on it for years and, though progress has been made, there is yet no absolute solution. Traps, simplest and most primitive weapons, are still the most effective.

Power From the Sea?

The world's industrial power of the future possibly may be drawn from the heat of warm sea water, says Popular Science Monthly. Already German scientists believe they have found a way to use this latent energy. The warm sea water will, they assert, evaporate carbon dioxide or ammonia, and the pressure thus obtained can be used in steam turbines to produce tremendous electric power.

GETTING SQUARE.

Butcher—This pound of butter you sent me is 3 ounces short.

Grocer—Well, I mislaid the pound weight so I weighed it by the pound of chops you sent me yesterday.—The Progressive Grocer.

FILE, AX AND GUN CREATE "ANTIQUES"

Professional fakers of antiques employ skillful tricks to give new furniture the appearance of age and wear.

"We get brand-new reproductions of ancient furniture direct from the factory," says a maker of "genuine antiques" in Popular Science Monthly for June. "First we go over every square inch of a piece, wearing it down with a rasp or half-round file to give it the look of a well worn article. Wherever there naturally would have been wear, we dig the spots out first with a small hand ax and then with different sizes of files until there are little hollows such as hands or feet would have made. Edges and corners of drawers we make round, but a bit uneven, as they would have been if pulled in and out for centuries.

"Then furniture that must have seen extraordinary rough usage must be thoroughly scarred. For impressive scars there's nothing better than a short piece of good, heavy chain for beating the piece again and again. The dents it makes are rounded and uneven. A stone tied on a piece of canvas makes realistic scars, too.

"And, of course, an antique would not be an antique if it didn't have its quota of wormholes. So we put them in. There are many ways to do this. My favorite is a block of wood with heads of fine nails imbedded in it. From the outside the worms themselves couldn't tell the difference between their work and mine. The other day the boss sprang a new one on me. He brought in a B-B gun.

"'Try this on the French secretary,' he said to me.

"A man had told him that in the last place he worked they got fine wormholes with buckshot, so he decided to try it out. So I set the secretary against the wall, took the gun and fired. But it was a poor idea. The holes wouldn't have convinced a child. We had to scrap the secretary."

EFFICIENCY.

Bystander, looking at live chicks in window—I suppose you hatch all those chickens yourself?

Store Clerk—No. We keep an incubator for that purpose.—Good Hardware.

ANOTHER SUBSTITUTE

Clarence (finding a piece of rubber tire in his hash)—There's no doubt about it, the motor is displacing the horse everywhere.—Good Hardware.

LOOSE ENDS — by Royce Brier

Sooner or later every lawbreaker learns that truth is the one thing which can not be counterfeited. A plot may spread itself with infinite ramifications, each seemingly perfect in each detail; but it lacks the one essential—truth—and consequently it fails.

PATROLMAN WOLFE, sometimes known as Black Wolfe, was standing in the alley at the rear of Hink's cigar store about nightfall, covertly smoking a saffron-hued Philippine cigarette, when he first encountered Butch Crogan.

Crogan was running obliquely down a sinuous and narrow street directly following a terrific crash of shattered glass in some nearby side street. The policeman gave chase in a spirited manner, but the beat was unfamiliar to Wolfe, and the boy soon eluded him.

By failure to catch young Crogan, together with a painful and undignified fall to the pavement while turning into a side street, enraged Wolfe beyond measure and implanted in his heart a fathomless hatred of the fleeing boy. As he had not been near enough to Crogan to see anything but the boy's coattails, the personal hatred seemed more or less unreasonable. It was like the feeling that vindictive people may bear for an inanimate object over which they have stumbled in the darkness.

The day following Wolfe met Butch Crogan, recognized him—from his coattails, perhaps—and marched him to the Seventh street station, acquiring therewithal an eye of royal shade and a severely lacerated lip. Young Crogan was a rollicking lad with red hair, brown freckles and eyes like a lake in a gale. He fought the officer with a violent and impersonal anger, which vanished completely, dissolved in a broad smile, when the probation officer proved lenient.

Crogan was incapable of understanding the pent-up hatred of Wolfe. For months thereafter he annoyed the patrolman upon every occasion, little dreaming that he was like a frisky young mongoose jumping about a deadly cobra.

That was ten years ago. Wolfe was then 30 years of age, and Crogan was half of that.

The ten years brought marked changes to Wolfe. They brought him from the humble blue uniform to civilian attire and to no inconsiderable reputation as a sleuth. They brought him age, and a sprinking of gray in the heavy, drooping mustache which had earned him the appellation of Black Wolfe. They brought bleakness to his eyes and an almost imperceptible stoop to his shoulders.

Through those ten years Wolfe watched Butch Crogan, to whom there came no marked changes. From breaking windows out of an overflow of spirits, Crogan had come to jimmying them—out of a dearth of moral rectitude, shall we say? At any rate, in the exceedingly select circle in which Crogan moved, this was the accepted method of acquiring a living and of laying away a surplus for a rainy or an unlucky day. In short, Crogan was a warehouse burglar, specializing in silks, and a member of a gang—you may remember it; it is now disrupted—known, in the free and off-hand mode of the smart reporters, as the Yellow Spiders.

Of course, Crogan no longer shied tomatoes at Wolfe and any luckless companion from the gloomy abyss of an alley at twilight. The young mongoose, grown, was playful no more, and he recognized the cobra as a cobra; but the self-confidence of the mongoose before his natural enemy is boundless. Wolfe awaited Crogan's first mistake; Crogan knew it, and Wolfe knew that he knew it.

Indeed, the officer made no effort to conceal his singleness of purpose from either the eyes or the ears of Crogan. With that anomalous fraternity prevailing between the man-hunters and the hunted, he utilized every occasion to warn the burglar that he, Crogan, would eventually be got, and that he, Wolfe, would do the getting. Among these occasions were those upon which Crogan was brought to the Central station for a grilling, as the newspaper headlines have it; such grilling invariably resulted in the release of the suspect for lack of a good and sufficient tale with which to regale the grand jury.

Crogan was still a rollicking lad, and upon these occasions he replied flippantly to the premonishments of Wolfe—as well he might, having just left a conference which strongly hinted that Wolfe might be counting unhatched chickens. It was following the last of these sessions that Wolfe, who had not chanced to be assigned to Crogan's case, stopped him in the marble corridor of the hall of justice.

"Well, Butch," he said, "I see they couldn't hang it on you."

Crogan's smile reached from the lobe of one ear to the lobe of the other.

"Since when they been hangin' it on you," he inquired, as he lighted a long cigar, "when you're 8 miles from the job that was knocked over, right at the second the harness bulls is givin' the rush down the alley to the birds that was on the lay? Out to the Fifty-eighth street station I reports my taxi hooked by some kids. Personally I reports it, at that very time. I was there, pardner—cap'ns, lootenants, every body but the commissioners, seen me come in."

Crogan gazed up quizzically through the serpentine smoke of his cigar at the taller man. Wolfe smiled a twisted smile.

"Butch," he said, "you're not bad as a plug prowler, but let me slip you the word—the big boy just told me; he says: 'Wolfe, we had to spring Butch Crogan again fer a alibi that holds air like a tungsten globe. You get his next job!' You're due to stub your toe, Butch. Yer work ain't bad, but there's some loose ends about every job. Next time you walk the plank!'"

"Nice, if true," said Crogan. "S'posing I go straight—d'you come out and bring me down every time Mrs. Murphy misses a couple of 'er hens?"

"Butch, when you go straight I'll voluntarily resign from the pawn shop detail an' hire out to the juvenile court fer a hooky-bob!"

Crogan gazed at Wolfe through wide and innocent blue eyes.

"That's no kid, Wolfe. I'm goin' to work."

"On another taxi line?"

The wide and innocent blue eyes shone with a smile.

"All right—kid yerself," he said, and thus departed.

Which brings us to a certain summer's day not too long ago, and to an event most complicating. Arrived to sell cigars at Navin's, 1 block from the central station, a girl. Five minutes after she began to work Wolfe saw her, and 5 seconds later he told himself that she should be his.

He had lost a wife 3 years before. She had been discovered floating on the surface of the leaden river with a smile of relief and contentment upon her dead countenance. Wolfe was weary of his drab room in a boarding house. He liked the girl's hair. It was of the saffron hue of his Philippine cigarettes. He liked, too, the color of her cheek, like the cream-tinted brick building down the street. Certain ones less stolid than Wolfe likened her voice to the tinkle of a glass chandelier, her eyes to a winter sky.

Yet her coldness was a varnish. Granting the premise that she was on the level, as the saying runs, her occupation demanded some what of the tinkle in her voice, the winter sky in her eyes. In other words, chilliness was perforce her professional pose, just as some screen vampires doubtless are privately lovely ladies. Anyway, when she gazed into the eyes of a certain man——

Her name was Sona.

Wolfe liked her name, but there was one thing about her that he disliked exceedingly. Each night, when her shift was ended, she was escorted home by Butch Crogan. This fact was borne in abruptly on the detective following his first glimpse of the girl.

Now Wolfe was a student of neither diplomacy nor eitquette; but a plain, outspoken man, as ofttimes detectives are.

"Didn't I see you out with a bird named Crogan last night?" was his opening remark to the girl as he draped himself gracelessly over the cigar counter.

The look the girl bent upon Wolfe was inscrutable. None the less, it was not one indicative of any auspicious beginning of the romance between them which was Wolfe's hope.

"What will you have?" she finally asked coldly.

Wolfe was not taken aback; he might be pleased, angered, but not nonplused.

"Crogan's a crook," Wolfe declared, letting a twisted smile play about the right corner of his mouth.

"A lie!" said Sona briefly, her eyes blue flames.

Wolfe smothered his rage with difficulty.

"Ask Crogan where he spent the winter of '18 an' '19!'"

Somewhere, at some time, Sona had known policemen.

"What are you—some special?" she inquired.

"No, I ain't a special," Wolfe croaked hoarsely. "I'm a detective sergeant from the Central Bureau, and I'm givin' you the low-down on Crogan. If you don't want no advice——"

The girl smiled. Impalpably in that smile Wolfe recognized danger, and more; he realized that he had said too much.

"Gimme a package of those Philippines—the color of yer hair," he said.

For a month Wolfe paid homage to Sona, meeting rebuff, subtle and otherwise, with apparent unconsciousness of it in his bleak gray eyes. And then—the disaster.

Wolfe was in a high humor. He had just been complimented by Fogarty, chief of detectives, for the apprehension of a troublesome prowler. With eyes like a gray sea whipped by a playful gale, he sauntered to Navin's cigar counter.

"Gimme a package of those Philippines—the color of yer hair," he said. "I always buy Philippines here now. They ain't got loose ends, like those I used to get over to Hink's. I'm that way—don't like loose ends in my smokes or in my work. Today the chief said to me: 'Wolfe, there ain't many loose ends left when I send you out to clean up a case.'"

"Your change," said Sona.

"Thanks! That's the whole difference, girly, is loose ends—the difference between pavement-pounders an' detectives—bein' particular. I'm like that in everything—women, for instance. The first day I ever seen you you made a hit with me. I ain't seen Butch around much lately."

The girl looked at him with contempt, in which was a dash of pity.

"Butch is my husband."

"Huh?"

"My husband," repeated Sona; "and he's gone straight. You want to leave him alone!"

Her words fell from her lips like chips of steel from a lathe.

"What you tryin' to hand me?" gasped Wolfe.

Always Sona had flown to cover when predatory hawks were up and about. Always she had shielded herself in an armor of icy reserve; but here was a conflict of another color. She leaned across the counter. Her eyes narrowed, and in them burned strange and sinister fires.

"I'm handing you some good advice," she replied.

Like a raging black torrent, unspeakable fury surged through the being of Wolfe.

"Where the hell do you get that stuff?" he snarled. "Married a crook—a dirty, low-lived warehouse prowler! Straight? Why, I'll send him over for a 30-year jolt if it's the last thing I ever do!"

"It would be the last thing you ever did, all right," said the girl in a low voice.

Black Wolfe went to his boarding house, climbed a narrow and Stygian flight of stairs and entered a shoddy and disorderly room. He sat upon the edge of his bed, which creaked mournfully, and gazed out upon the lilac dusk. He lighted a Philippine cigarette.

Sona married!

If he knew his own mind, Black Wolfe knew one thing—he and Butch Crogan could breathe the same free air no longer. The postulate that a crooked man may forsake his crooked ways Wolfe had never conceded; yet there was something in the blue eyes of Sona for which any man—even Crogan—might go straight. And now if Crogan went straight?

Then and there the thought that Crogan might go straight swelled to panic, persisted amazingly, obsessed Wolfe. His mind, stolid in some matters but nimble here, began to swirl with designs. He slept at dawn.

A month saw Wolfe's scheme rounding into maturity.

He had pondered for hours on the presence of Crogan in the shop of the Tenth Street Motor Storage corporation, a lowly mechanic, while Sona worked in the billing office of the firm. Wolfe alternated his pondering with strange rites. Now he would write toilsomely with a hard pencil, stringing single words or phrases upon a sheet of paper. Again he would stuff the crack under his door with bedclothes, to sit for an hour talking to himself in a high-pitched voice not unlike the whine of a bullet. The words he spoke were always the same—a jargon having to do with police officers, or some such things. They rolled from his tongue so easily that the voice might well have been his own.

Ofttimes Wolfe smiled as he sat in his room through the long autumn nights.

Darkness had slipped in beneath an impenetrable sky. Wolfe stepped into an alley, and with catlike stealth scaled a fire escape and entered a window.

The first thing his hand encountered was the fender of an automobile stored in the warehouse of the Tenth Street Motor corporation. Noiselessly he made his way down a long avenue flanked with cars, ghostly under huge canvas hoods. A feeble light glowed in the office of the third floor. Wolfe was not at pains to turn it off. Unadorned audacity was one of the chiefest virtues of his scheme.

It matters little how or when or where Wolfe learned to open a safe door by its combination. It is a difficult matter, and chance and patience play as large a part as the knowledge; but the knowledge and patience Wolfe possessed, and in 70 minutes chance succumbed to the other two.

Within the safe Wolfe discovered $2,230 in currency. It was rather more than he had expected to find, and quite adequate to his needs.

Leaving the safe door ajar, he reached the street and hailed a taxicab. A mile and a half from the scene of his burglary, Wolfe entered a public telephone booth. He called the number of Butch Crogan. Then came the whine of Rat Foster, yellowest of the Yellow Spiders, who had whined many times under the lash of Wolfe's questions—the whine of Foster from the tongue of Wolfe:

"Butch, I got in a brush with the harness bulls. It ain't a pinch, but I gotta have some help. A peterman shot a box on Riverside, an' two headquarters dicks is dusting me. You know I ain't a peterman, Butch! Honest to Gawd, all I wanta do is blow the town. I'm up to Tenth an' Cayuga. Honest to Gawd——"

Wolfe reentered his taxicab, and was driven to Eleventh and Cayuga, where he dismissed the cab. He concealed himself in the angle of a building.

Presently Crogan appeared and stood on the curb half a block from Wolfe. The detective watched his victim with the peculiar intentness with which a cat watches its prey. The right corner of his mouth was upturned in what might have been a smile.

The veriest good fortune attended Wolfe. Crogan soon started toward his home along Cayuga street. Wolfe trailed him at a distance of one block. At Seventh street, not far from the Seventh street station, Crogan passed a patrolman, as Wolfe had hoped he would.

Wolfe stopped the uniformed officer.

"Seen Butch Crogan, Dougherty?" he asked.

"Just blew the corner. Wanted?

"Not yet," said Wolfe, and passed on.

His luck was uncanny. He had provided against every exigency; he had banked his every turn; but he found himself traveling easily and surely over his highway of intrigue to triumph.

In the morning the theft was discovered. Wolfe broke a rule of his career when he went to Chief Fogarty at the opening of a case. As Wolfe had once told Crogan, and truthfully, the chief had promised him the next Crogan case. To the chief, who did the thinking while he let his men do the learning, this was no Crogan case, for he did not know that Crogan worked at the looted warehouse; but Wolfe soon made it a Crogan case. Fogarty listened.

Fogarty was plump and bald. His voice was high-pitched and of a flutelike quality, but he did not use it overmuch. He might have been a salesman for hook-on neckties. Instead he was hated and feared by every malefactor from Bangor to San Diego.

"Go to the garage and look about," said Fogarty.

"You're covered!" The detective's voice cracked like another shot from the dark

Wolfe went to the garage and looked about. He looked at the window he had entered the night before, and he questioned open-mouthed assistant managers. He called the finger-print expert at the Central Bureau, and he went his way. He stood on the curb outside the warehouse while he lighted a Philippine cigarette. He smiled a twisted smile.

If you have been down on Cayuga street you will recall that between Fifth and Sixth streets there is a long string of flats. Behind the string of flats runs a high board fence, each family on the ground floor being favored with a gate, a garbage can and a diminutive back yard. In one of these flats, not distant from Fifth street, lived the Crogans.

Night, and the skies wept gently. Through the mist, which looked like softly falling silver filings at each lighted street corner, trudged Black Wolfe with $2,230 in his coat pocket. Heedless of any loitering onlooker, he entered the alley at the rear of the Crogan flat and slipped through the gate in the high board fence.

The next two scenes of Wolfe's drama were simple and to the point. In a basement stairway which, as Wolfe had noted many days before, dropped directly beneath Crogan's kitchen window, Wolfe tossed the money stolen from the garage.

Then he stepped to a point near the fence and took from his pocket two weapons. One was a revolver of .32 caliber, the other a new automatic, a .38. The automatic he returned to his hip pocket.

Holding his overcoat out from his body at the side, Wolfe fired through it with the revolver, the bullet passing through the fence with an echoing crash. Then he lunged for the rear porch corner of the Crogan flat.

A light flashed on in the Crogan hallway, and in the flat overhead. A window was raised.

Wolfe flattened against the porch column. He heard the dull sound of slippered feet in the building. A door flew open. Dimly Crogan's form was etched against the gloom of the kitchen, faintly illumined by the hallway globe.

"You're covered!"

The detective's voice cracked like another shot from the dark.

Crogan held a revolver in his hand.

"You got me, pardner," he said. "I can't see you. I'll lay the rod on the step in front of me."

Crogan felt the chill clasp of handcuffs. Sona, her eyes closed, clung to his arm, while her lips uttered a soft, clucking sound, as if she were kissing his sleeve just below the shoulder. A woman from the flat overhead had her arm about the shoulder of the girl.

In a moment the kitchen was jammed with people. A youth was about to pick up Crogan's revolver.

"Get yer mitts off that gat!" roared Wolfe.

Dougherty and another police officer from an adjoining beat arrived and began clearing the kitchen. Dougherty inspected Crogan's revolver.

"Chambers full," he said, "breaking" the weapon.

"Sure — he's a wise bird!" announced Wolfe. "We'll find the empty shell when we frisk this kitchen, all right—if he ain't swallowed it. Look around, boys!"

Dougherty it was who discovered the money in the basement stairway.

Later, in a room characterized by an oppressively low ceiling and yard square pillars, Butch Crogan was booked for burglary, assault with a deadly weapon, and assault with intent to commit murder.

Wolfe, with Dougherty beside him, was talking to the police reporters of the morning papers.

"Get Dougherty's name in there," he said shrewdly. "I might have lost him without Dougherty. We seen him hot off the job the other night, Dougherty and me. Huh? Yeah, he plugged at me—bullet went through my coat. By God, I left it down in the wagon. You see the hole, didn't you, Dougherty? Went through the fence an' glanced off the pavement in the alley. Sure, we got his rod—a .32. He'd filled the chamber again, but we couldn't find no empty shell. Found the money, though—$2,230. Dougherty found it in the basement stairway. Get Dougherty's name in. Huh? No, we ain't holding the dame. It ain't her fault she married Crogan. She didn't know nothing about the cash up there to the garage. Oh, I know who done the shooting, all right! Got it straight now, boys? Get Dougherty's name in there. Huh? Don't mention it—and say, an 'e' on the end of 'Wolfe,' you know."

Wolfe lighted a Philippine cigarette and walked from the station. As he crossed the bridge to reach his boarding house he dropped his old revolver into the velvet black river.

Upon reaching his room he built a fire in the old-fashioned marble fireplace and burned the overcoat through which he had fired the shot. Dougherty had seen it only in the half light of the Crogan back yard—Wolfe had seen to that. Early in the morning he purposed to purchase another revolver of like caliber and to journey to the country with an overcoat of like nondescript gray. He would shoot a hole through this coat at a range of 20 feet, thus eliminating powder burns. He would then turn the coat over to the police property clerk as evidence, and throw this second revolver away.

Wolfe smiled as he lay looking up into the darkness. He slept well.

The feel of dawn was in the air when Wolfe came from a profound sleep. Somewhere there was tumult, as of the arousing of a city. The man was still partially in the grasp, it seemed, of a troublous dream. Mixed with the vague thought of an awakening city was the intangible feeling that he was on a surf beaten shore. Now and again stupendous breakers crashed in with monotonous regularity.

The scene changed, and there was a raging mob. Its members were pointing at him, as in the famed painting of "Napoleon in Hell." They were muttering, incoherently but insistently.

The muttering voices and the pounding waves seemed to merge. They became appalling, battering through the confusion that gripped him, tearing it asunder, as sunlight tears asunder enshrouding fogs. Roaring breakers—muttering voices——

God! Men were pounding at his door—commanding entrance!

With a bound Wolfe was in the middle of the floor. Ghostlike, he stood there in the faint light of the early dawn, a spare figure in a gray bathrobe.

The flutelike voice of Fogarty, chief of detectives, came with terrific steadiness.

"Open the door, Wolfe—open it up," ordered the chief in cool, flutelike tones.

It seemed to Wolfe that he had always stood so, while the voice of Fogarty ran on with deadly unvaryingness:

"Open the door, Wolfe—open it up."

Wolfe opened the door and stood there stupidly. On every side, seemingly without number and without end, were drab forms, sinister in the half-light of the young morning. Dimly Wolfe became aware that Crogan was among these forms—Crogan, free!

Wolfe was suddenly awake. The sight of Crogan had done it. Here was the cobra cornered. Well, they had better be wary, these cobra-hunters!

"Sit down—we want to talk to you," said the chief.

Wolfe sat down.

"Well," he said slowly, "what the hell's the idea?"

"Wolfe, you gummed the deck," said Fogarty.

A smile curled at the corner of the detective's mouth.

"Go on," he said confidently.

"You forgot this dame Sona," said the chief. "Never forget a dame, Wolfe! This one's a smart girl. She went home in a cab last night. Funny thing! Light burning in the flat above. Gas from the cab left a blue smoke, and a shaft of light, light a searchlight, shone through the hole in the fence right on the spot where your bullet glanced on the pavement outside. Notice, I said your bullet, Wolfe. You stood too close to the fence. The bullet couldn't have been fired from a first-story window!"

Wolfe's face was a mask.

"Chief," he said, "you been in the department 31 years. Ever hear of a line of fire bein' diverted? Has any man in the department ever seen me with a .32? That's a .32 gunshot hole, ain't it?"

"You've got it memorized pretty well, Wolfe. I'm not going to search your room for a .32. You aren't stupid. But did you turn that coat over to the property clerk? You placed two charges of assault. The coat's evidence. Of course, you had some plan about the coat. I don't know what it was, but I don't need to know."

Wolfe shot a venomous look at Crogan.

"What's the difference? You sprung him," he snarled.

"We won't quibble," said the chief, and his voice harbored the same innocuous flutelike quality. "Now that phone call—not a bad idea, and safe, because you and I know, Wolfe, how you have the fear of God thrown into Rat Fisher. Not a bad idea from your end of the wire; but Mrs. Butch Crogan was on the other end. She got a neighbor up to witness Butch's going and coming. Hard on the neighbor, but good for the victim of a frame-up. Butch was only gone twelve minutes."

Tiny beads of perspiration started on Wolfe's forehead, and the palms of his hands grew wet. Dawn was coming. He turned his face away from the growing light. With a stupendous effort he swallowed, half-choking. With another stupendous effort he spoke.

"Frame-up is right. You believe a bunch of bums in a Cayuga street flat. Frisk 'em right now! Frisk that Crogan flat, I tell you, and you can find ten thousand in silk. I can uncover enough right now to——"

The chief rose, stepped to a small table near Wolfe's bed, and took in his hand a package of Wolfe's Philippine cigarettes.

"Wolfe, come through," he said quietly. "You used gloves on the safe. Whipped 'em from your pocket, didn't you?"

The chief gazed quizzically at a cigarette he had extracted from the package, then at a white packet he held, which contained a few flakes of tobacco.

"These cigarettes have loose ends, Wolfe—just like your whole job. The dame found some of this Philippine tobacco stuck on the hinge, and more under the safe."

The chief shook Black Wolfe.

"Damn me if he hasn't fainted dead away!" he exclaimed.

(Copyright by Public Ledger)

HALF-FORGOTTEN ROMANCES OF HISTORY

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 2)

AMONG Emily's suitors, while at the academy, was one lad who could hardly be called such, for he was her own cousin, Maj. Andrew Jackson Donelson, the favorite nephew of Gen. Jackson, her uncle, as well. Andy Donelson was a dashing youth, had achieved military fame while still in his twenties with his distinguished relative in the Indian wars, and was a beau ideal to the girls.

At first Emily looked on him only as "cousin," content to see him pay court to her friends, pleased with his success, but with no deeper feelings animating her actions.

One day she looked still closer into the sparkling blue eyes of her hero cousin. A flash leaped from eye to eye and the deed was done. He was no more to be cousin merely, but lover as well.

In those days the theory of consanguinity had not been so highly developed as at present. First cousins married frequently as in the royal families of Europe, especially in the South, and when Cousin Andrew approached good Capt. John Donelson and asked for little Emily he got a hearty blessing "and take her, my boy, and be good to her." There were not so many old maids, beg pardon, spinsters in that halcyon period and every father was anxious to get his daughters nicely settled in the world.

Little did Emily Donelson dream that marriage to her splendid cousin was the direct route to the White House and the post of mistress thereof. But such it proved.

History has recorded the sad day of how Mrs. Andrew Jackson succumbed to the malignant slanders circulated about her during the bitter political fight that made her husband President. Her gentle spirit could not survive the attacks. A contemporary writing of the incident said, "She felt, indeed, the injustice of the warfare. Her compassionate heart was wrung with sorrow. Her tears flowed, but there was no malevolence in her bosom."

But the nervous strain of it all was too much. Too late, after her death the councils of the nation, the States, the cities poured tributes of grief unto her memory. She could not know, and Gen. Jackson sat with his empty honors, empty without her, in the White House, a lonely desolate man.

Across this gloom came a gleam of sunshine with the appearance of Emily Donelson, with her happy young husband, Maj. Andrew Jackson Donelson, who was to be his private secretary. So Jackson invited Emily to preside as mistress of the house, placing another niece with the position of mistress of his family home, The Hermitage, in Tennessee.

Beloved as a daughter by Mrs. Jackson, and intimately associated with her for years, Mrs. Donelson had been beside that dear friend and relative at her death, and her tenderness and sympathy did much to mitigate the poignancy of the general's bereavement.

He always called her "my daughter" and often, when wearied with the cares of office, would seek relaxation in her family circle. Arbiter in politics, he deferred all matters of etiquette to her; and when she would appeal to him to settle any knotty social point, he would reply: "You know best, my dear. Do as you please." Of lively imagination, she was quick of repartee, and had that gift possessed by so few talkers, of listening gracefully. Thrown in contact with the brightest and most cultivated intellects of the day, she sustained her part; and her favor was eagerly sought by the learned and the polished. A foreign minister is quoted as having once said to her:

"Madam, you dance with the grace of a Parisian; I can hardly realize you were educated in Tennessee."

"Count, you forget," was the spirited reply, "that grace is a cosmopolite, and, like a wild flower, is much oftener found in the woods than in the streets of a city."

Mrs. Donelson's four children, two girls and two boys, were all born in the White House, and President Jackson made their christenings occasions of great ceremony. He was godfather to two of them, President Van Buren, of a third one, and Gen. Polk, another President, of the fourth.

* * * *

PRESIDENT JACKSON was an ideal grandfather, and the little ones ruled the White House.

Yet a cloud was upon the bright skies. Mrs. Donelson's health began to fail and in the spring of 1836 she went to her Tennessee home, Tulip Grove, hoping to regain strength.

Alas! it soon became apparent that consumption had marked her for its victim.

The desolate husband in vain brought in all available medical aid. It was too late.

Within six months she was on her deathbed surrounded by her children and husband. She clung to them all with a pathetic tenderness that told all too plainly of the separation that was to come.

As she lay there one evening, a little bird entered her room. One of the children tried to catch it. "Don't disturb it, darling," said the mother, "it comes to bid me prepare my flight to another world."

"Don't forget mama; love her always, and try to live so that we may all meet again in heaven." Ere the week closed, her gentle spirit had departed and Maj. Andrew Jackson Donelson sat amidst the ruins of his romance—alone.

SEES CRIME ORGANIZED

Criminals throughout the country are highly organized under able leaders, according to Burdette G. Lewis, formerly commissioner of criminal institutions and agencies in New Jersey. Mr. Lewis expresses this belief in a letter to Adolph Lewisohn, national authority on crime, which will be published in the May issue of the World's Work, as part of a survey of the existing crime situation.

"I am not sure, but it seems that it may be advisable to have a number of articles such as this World's Work effort brought to the attention of the public," Mr. Lewis says. "They can not have brought before them too strongly the fact that there is a highly organized criminal syndicate under very clever leaders. You and I know these are a small percentage, but it is the percentage that causes the problem to be what it is.

"Most of the prisoners are victims of these leaders or of conditions; nevertheless we won't have the right laws or get improvements in administration unless we clearly differentiate between these few and the many. You and your various statements emphasize the many; the newspapers and the public are featuring the few and have no appreciation of the problem of the many."

Another letter to appear in the same magazine is from Dr. Spencer R. Stone, of Georgia, who asserts that agitation for abolishing pistols is useless.

"If the manufacture and sale of guns were stopped today," Dr. Stone declares, "shooting would go on for a generation or two. Local laws are of little avail.

"Police officers should be authorized and instructed to stop and search a given number of men every day. It would require but a few seconds, and the law-abiding citizen, realizing its good purpose, would not object; while the person carrying a gun is guilty and would be arrested. The penalty should be so severe that few would have the temerity to venture forth upon the street with one, realizing that the first officer might stop him. If there is a better plan let it be put into operation, but let's do something effectual."

EXPERIENCED.

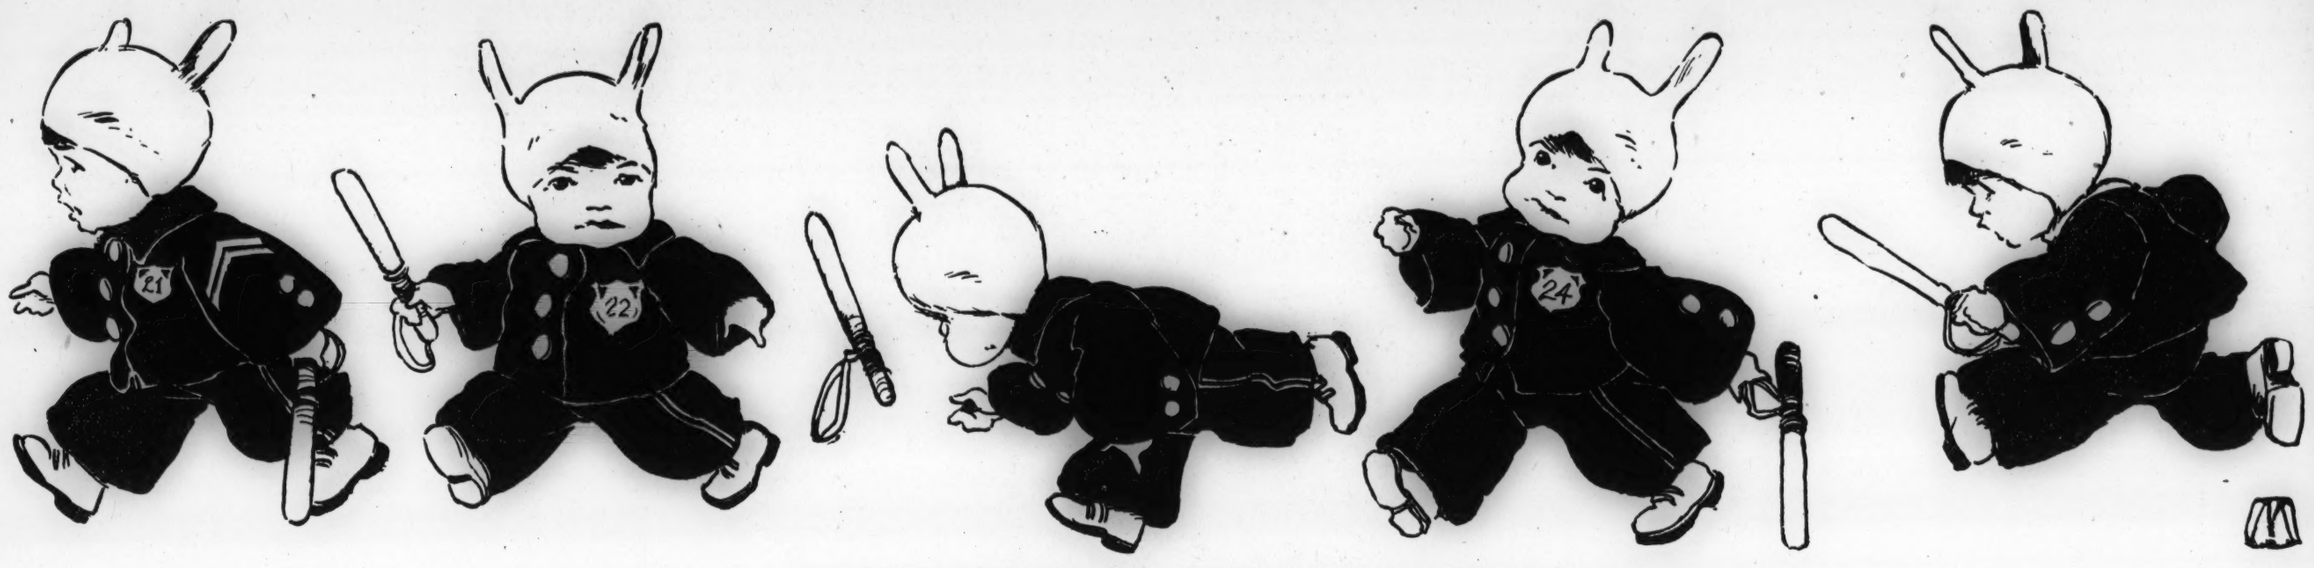

Grocer, to applicant for job as a clerk: Have you ever done any clerking?

Applicant: Yes, sir, I used to be a draft clerk.

Grocer: What's that?

Applicant: I opened and shut the windows.—The Progressive Grocer.

THE "POST'S" PAGE FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

THE BUNNY TOTS

WHAT HAPPENED ON THE WHARF

Written and Illustrated by Edward McCandlish.

If you remember, in our last "Window Adventure" story, the good policeman had just pulled the old fisherwoman out of the water, after she had tumbled off of the wharf.

The Bunny Tots stopped to see it all. They saw the policeman haul the old woman up on the wharf, drippnig wet, and spitting and sputtering from the water that ran from her eyes, ears, mouth, and nose. Every time the old woman took a step her shoes made a squshy sound like a wheezy pipe organ. And as soon as she was able to talk she began saying a number of things, the sort of things which, I believe, "fish-wives" are famous.

And—oh, yes, that was when the old woman did the very funny and unexpected thing that we promised to tell about.

It was this.

You see, the good policeman had gone to some trouble in fishing the old woman out. He had to pull her up out of the water with a rope, and the old woman wasn't very light. No indeed. Quite the reverse.

So the good policeman hauled on the rope, and tugged and pulled, and finally got the old fisherwoman on dry land again; and, just as soon as the water was out of her eyes so that she could see again—what did that old fisherwoman do but give the good policeman the most awful box on the jaws—BANG!

Wasn't that terrible?

And would you believe it? That policeman was so SCARED that he ran, and ran, and ran—all the way home again, and jumped into bed and pulled the covers up over his head—he was so scared!

The Bunny Tots laughed so hard at this that THEY almost fell off of the wharf, too. It was so funny to see that bow-legged policeman run that way. The policeman was fat, of course. ALL policemen are fat, you know, and they all have big feet. Oh, yes! ANY-body can tell you that! The reason why they are always fat is because a policeman doesn't have anything to do except just to "walk a beat," or else to direct light traffic, or perhaps to get on a motorcycle and catch up with somebody who wants to subscribe to the Police Fund.

And they get big feet from walking a beat. Or, from walking a beat they get big feet. You can say it either way.

But, at any rate, THIS policeman who was fat and had big feet—ran all the way home and his large family (policemen always have large families), well this policeman's large family tried and tried to get him out of bed; but they couldn't get him out for the longest time, he was so scared. Every time they pulled the covers off of him he had a chill.

But they finally DID get him out of bed in the curiousest way you can imagine.

It was this way.

This policeman was AWFULLY fond of buttered parsnips. ALL policemen are fond of buttered parsnips, as a matter of fact. But it was after the policeman's Mamma—or maybe it was his wife—after she had cooked some nice buttered parsnips, that they managed finally to get the policeman out of bed.

But, all the time that this was going on, the Bunny Tots were going through various other windows, and having various other interesting adventures which we shall tell about in our next "Window" story.

(Copyright, 1926, by Edward McCandlish.)

Lillian Baier.

CONTINUED.

The Boy Who Did His Best.

(Winner of $1 Prize.)

There was once a little boy named William. He lived in a little hut with his mother. His father died when he was very young so little William learned at a very early age that he must rely on himself.

Being an only child his mother taught him how to do many things about the house. William would arise very early and help his mother with the work before going to school.

He always obeyed his mother and was also very kind to his playmates; he was a great pet at school.

One day the teacher said she had a surprise for the fourth grade arithmetic class in the form of an examination.

There were only two in this class, William and a little boy named Tom. Tom turned to William and said, "I can't take this examination because I know I will not pass." William said, "Oh! Tom, please don't say you can't do anything. Always say, I will do my best and you will get along all right. I always do my best toward everything."

Both the little boys took the examination and just imagine their delight when the teacher told them they made fine marks. Tom then told the teacher what William had told him about doing his best. She said, "That is the best way to get through life." Never say, "I can't;" say "I will do my best," and God will reward you.

MYRTLE RUBY SNELLINGS (age 15).
Falmouth, Va.

Bunnyville Events

Edited by Malcolm D. Lamborne, jr., age 11, Clarendon, Va.

(Winner of $1 Prize.)

BIG CARNIVAL IN BUNNYVILLE.

The annual carnival in Bunnyville will soon be given under the direction of the wealthy Uncle Wiggly. There will be a carrot stand, lettuce stand, ice cream and candy booths and many other attractions including a May Pole dance by ten bunny tots. All are invited. Don't forget the date, May 1 to 5.

SOCIETY NOTES!

Bunnyville's Old Mother Magpie has gotten into trouble again. She stole a freshly baked carrot pie from Billy Bunny.

Bunnyville is the prideful owner of a real fire department with two big engines. Water lines will be put through the town with plugs at every corner.

LOST AND FOUND!

Lost—On Carrot avenue, a green airship with purple stripes. Finder please return to Mr. Jack Blue-jay and receive reward.

Found—On Pineapple street and Applesauce avenue, a red, white and blue poodle which sings in its sleep. See Mr. Jack Bird on Bolony street.

DEATHS!

Mrs. Cock Robin died April 17 at the ripe old age of 5 years.

Mr. John Rabbit died of carrot fever on April 18. Notice of funeral in a later edition of the Bunnyville Events.

MARRIAGES!

Miss Dora Dumbunny was united in marriage to Mr. Jack, son of Uncle Wiggly, last Monday at the Little Church on the Other Side of Sunshine Meadow.

Parson Parsley performed the ceremony which was attended by all the townfolk.

BIRTHS!

Mrs. Blue-jay is the happy mother of five little Blue-jays—eggs hatched last Saturday. Everybody doing nicely, thank you.

Mr. and Mrs. Dumbunny have twins—Annia and Marjorie are their names—of course, they're girls.

ROBBED!

Mrs. Bluebird was robbed of three of her prettiest eggs. Reward for the arrest of the thief. Black Snake is accused of the theft. He is sure to be arrested soon by the town marshal, John Porcupine.

The new 1 and 2-cent store was recently robbed of 200 carrots and some fine lettuce leaves. The thief also took soda water, ice cream and some sweet chocolate. A footprint of a dog was seen in the store. Bad Bull is thought to have been the thief. One hundred cents worth of carrot tops for the arrest of the bad dog.

SPECIAL NOTICE!

Two hunters with big guns were recently seen in the Sunshine Woods. All Bunnyville children are warned to stay out of the woods for a few days.

Prof. Frog of the Bunnyville Public School, and his entire class were scared almost into a panic the other morning when Reddy Fox, the outlaw, jumped through an open window into the room. The class was dismissed after that—the children were too frightened to continue their lessons.

Dewey's Coming.

(Honorable Mention.)

They say that Dewey's comin',
That's the word from lips to lips!
I'm talkin' 'bout the fellow that sunk all the Spanish ships
In the far Manila harbor!
An' good folks, when Dewey comes,
There'll be blowin' of the bugles,
There'll be beatin' of the drums!

ELLEN TRUMAN (age 13).
668 B street southeast.

The Hero of Manila.

(Winner of $5 Grand Prize for May.)

Old Jim, the crippled sailor, was sitting on a bench in front of his hut. The children came running up begging for one of his stories and as he was always ready to talk about his adventures he said he would tell them one.

"As you know, I was with Dewey on his victorious battle against the Spanish fleet. On the day of May 1, 1898, we decided to bear down on the Spanish battleships and capture them in Philippine waters. That night we started and before dawn the next morning we had taken every ship without loss of man or vessel. Dewey was magnificent, never in all my years at sea have I seen a man as calm as he was with the chance of being a nation-wide hero. It would have driven me wild as I watched the fight and saw our men apparently losing now and gaining then.

"Sometimes the commodore would tell us of his life. It was very interesting and I will tell you now if you will listen closely.

"He was born in 1837 and was of English descent. From early boyhood he had been the terror of his teacher until he was whipped by one of them. 'That,' he said, 'was what made a man of him.'

He went to Annapolis and after his examinations his father who had accompanied him bade him good-by with the words, "George, I have done all I can for you. The rest you must do for yourself."

This made a lasting impression on him and when he graduated at the end of four years, he was the fifth in standing. He was afterward made a commodore and sent to the port of Hongkong, China, during the Spanish-American war. It was here that he received the message to capture the boats.

"He died in 1917 honored, praised and triumphant. He was 80 years old and had attained the rank of admiral, the highest rank that can be bestowed upon a man. He had won a battle that marked the emergence of the United States as a world power."

As he finished the delighted children uttered a cheer and with many "thanks" to the old man ran off to reenact the famous battle of Manila.

ELIZABETH HEISER (age 13).
453 Park road northwest.

Honor Roll.

Of Essays Awarded Honorable Mention in the Dewey Contest.

The following boys and girls wrote essays in the Dewey contest which were awarded honorable mention by the judges:

William Doyle Johnson, age 14, 206 Raymond street, Chevy Chase, Md.

George E. Halfpap, age 13, Seat Pleasant, Md.

Helen R. Baker, age 15, 1026 D street northeast.

Kathleen Carter, age 14, 115 K street northwest.

Charles Joseph Hayden, age 13, St. Joseph's Asylum.

John Anthony Lynch, age 13, St. Joseph's Asylum.

Alicia Mooney, age 10, 2550 University place northwest.

Doris Estelle Eibel, age 12, 17 Williams lane, Chevy Chase, Md.

Betty Hill, age 11, 3100 Connecticut avenue northwest.

Dorothy Mae Lynch, age 11, Holy Cross academy.

Halvor Anthony Thompson, age 14, St. Joseph's asylum.

Elizabeth White, age 14, 1507 M street northwest.

Anita Merchant, age 13, 1801 Wyoming avenue northwest.

Edith Hopkins, age 13, 1205 Fern street northwest.

Robert Blair Posey, age 14, La Plata, Md.

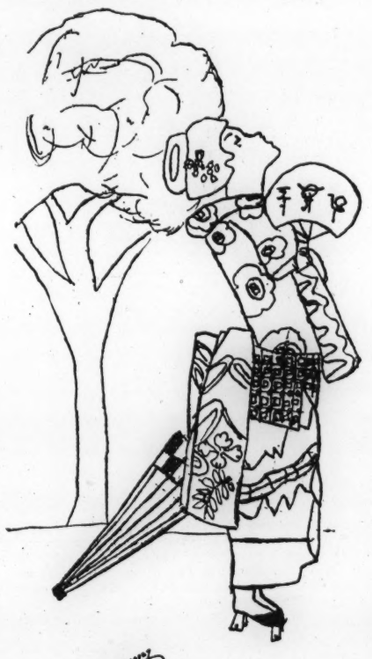

Caroline Bosworth, age 12, Bethesda, Md.

Alice Lee Martin, age 15, 1339 Fourteenth street northwest.

Theodore Tiller 2d, age 13, 3409 Mount Pleasant street.

The Miser Forecloses.

A Japanese Vamp.

POST BOYS AND GIRLS AID "OLD IRONSIDES"

Dear Post Boys and Girls:

Hurrah for Old Ironsides!

I understand that the response of Washington boys and girls to the appeal to save this famous battleship was most generous and general. I am proud of this fact. We need to conserve our historic sites, landmarks, ships and memories so they may teach their lessons of patriotism, national and civic service for generations to come.

One of the most inspiring sights I have ever witnessed was that of the Boy Scouts' rally on the White House lot back of the executive mansion last Saturday. This is a splendid organization for boys and I am glad of the new plans which will permit membership for boys from 8 to 12 years of age. I saw Dan Beard, the chief scout, at close range. Despite his great age he is still active and useful and an inspiration to the boys of America. The Girl Scouts are also a most useful body and I would like to see every girl possible enrolled in some troop.

You will read the winning essay on the Admiral Dewey contest on this page today. It was most successful and the entries reached a total of more than 200. On another part of this page you will see the list of those who won honorable mention for their work in this contest.

Last Monday night I took the boys and girls who have radios on "A Little Journey to the Washington Monument during The Washington Post hour over WCAP. For the benefit of those who were not able to listen in I will repeat here some of my talk.

The National Capital has the greatest piece of masonry in the world in the Washington monument, which is a tribute of the nation to the great George Washington, the chief founder of this republic.

Now that the pleasant spring days are come, a little journey to the Washington monument is an ideal way to spend a Saturday afternoon. Ask your parents or adult friends to go with you, because the monument officials think it best not to take young children unaccompanied by older persons on the elevator, which takes seven minutes to reach the chamber at the top of the monument.

Of course, if you care to walk up the monument staircase you may. There are 900 steps to the top, and that is a long walk. Many, however, walk down the monument stairs because they wish to inspect the tablets placed on the walls at the various landings.

The Washington monument is a majestic, tapering pyramid of white against the sky and rises 555 feet into the air and can be seen for miles around the National Capital.

The history of the Washington monument dates back to a short period after his death, when Congress passed a law providing for the erection of a marble monument to the Father of his Country. This resolution also asked that his family permit his body to be buried underneath this monument. Mrs. Martha Washington consented, but after her death other relatives of Gen. Washington refused permission for his removal from Mount Vernon. In 1832, the proposal was again made to John Augustine Washington, but he also refused.

Patriotic citizens decided to build the monument and the Washington National Monument society was organized and a popular subscription was started to raise the money to build the memorial. Boys and girls gave their pennies just as you gave yours today to help save "Old Ironsides," the historic battleship Constitution, which has been threatened with destruction.

The corner stone of the monument was laid on July 4, 1848, but when the shaft reached the height of 150 feet the funds gave out, and not until 1876—the centennial year—did Congress again undertake to finish the work. The monument was completed on December 6, 1884, at a cost, in round numbers, of $1,800,000. The design was by Robert Mills.

Let us continue on our little journey of the monument as it appears today. As we enter its interior we find it lighted by electricity and a group of persons waiting to take the ride in the elevator.

Up, up we go, it seems very slowly, and as we slowly rise up the elevator shaft we catch glimpses through the cage of a series of stones—on the landings of the stairway—dedicated to the memory of Washington.

In all there are 170 of these stones, notable many of them for their beautiful and elaborate carving. At the height of 504 feet the elevator stops and we leave it and step out on a platform. Here the walls are pierced with eight port openings or windows, two on each side. Looking through them, one after another, you can see the great parkway of the presidential grounds, with the Treasury, the State, War and Navy Departments, the White House and the beautiful monument to President Lincoln in the distance; through intervening tree tops can be seen the Smithsonian institution, the National museum, the dome of the Capitol; south of us flow the waters of the Potomac and to the west is Arlington, where sleep the nation's brave.

The plan of Washington is very noticeable from the monument, with the avenues radiating from the Capitol and the executive mansion, north and south and east and west, in straight, broad lines like the spokes of a great wheel, and here and there, where they cross the streets, they are dotted with circles or squares of little parks.

On the stone in the Washington monument sent by China to honor America's greatest hero, part of the inscription reads: "Can any man in ancient or modern times fail to pronounce Washington peerless?" No just man or woman could fail because this American was one of the great ones of earth.

EDITOR POST BOYS' AND GIRLS' PAGE.

My Favorite Outdoor Sport.

(Winner of $1 Cash Prize.)

My favorite outdoor sport is horseback riding, and I think it an ideal sport for every boy and girl.

My pony is black and white with a white star on its forehead. I call him "Sweetness" ("Sweety" for short). "Sweety" and I are great pals.

One day I decided to go to Front Royal, Va.; our summer home is 6 miles from there. So I bridled and saddled "Sweety" and off we went. When we came near to the town we raced an old work horse and its master and other people.

I went to the drug store and bought 10 cents worth of gumdrops which comprise "Sweety's" favorite dish. I had a soda and then we started for home again.

I have been riding ever since I was 3 years old. I hope some day to bring "Sweety" to the District of Columbia if we can find a nice place for him where he will be happy and well cared for.

ANN WEAVER (age 12).
1346 Ingraham street northwest.

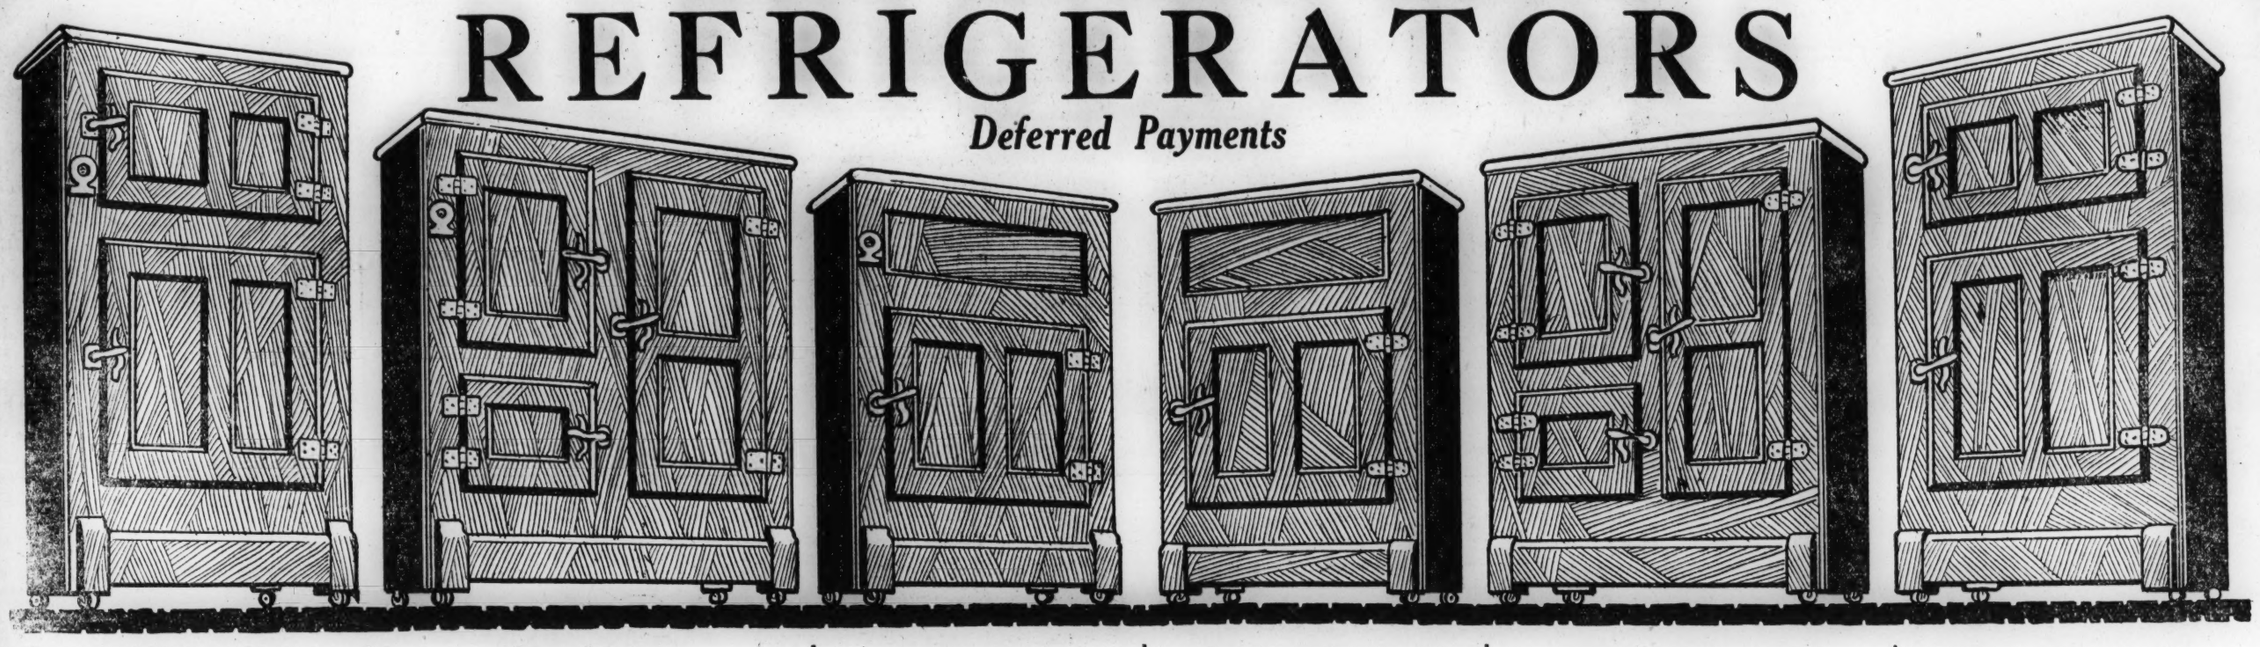

Quality That Endures

A Sale That Receives a Hearty Welcome From Those Interested in Better Homes and Deferred Payments

"ALASKA" AND "GIBSON" MAKES OF

REFRIGERATORS

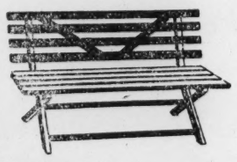

Deferred Payments

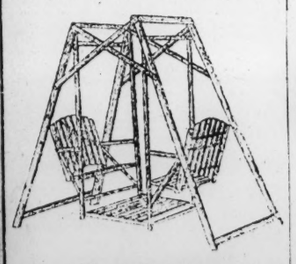

"Alaska" Apartment Style Refrigerator	"Alaska" 3-Door Refrigerator	"Alaska" Top-Icer Refrigerator	"Northpole" Top-Icer Refrigerator	"Northpole" 3-Door Refrigerator	"Northpole" Apartment Style Refrigerator
$29.75	$26.75	$16.75	$10.95	$19.75	$24.75

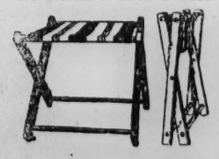

Porch Rocker
Made of Solid Maple
$1.95
No Phone or Mail Orders

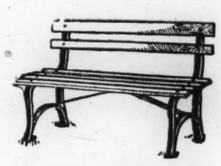

Folding Hardwood
Lawn Bench
$1.29
No Phone or Mail Orders

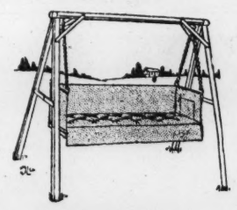

Four-Passenger Hardwood
Lawn Swing
$6.95
No Phone or Mail Orders

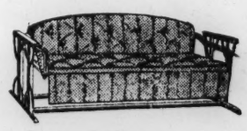

Camp Stool
Hardwood Frame
49c
No Phone or Mail Orders

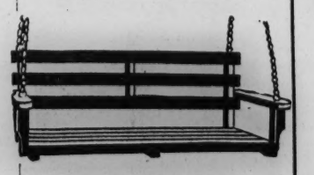

Lawn Bench
$3.95
No Phone or Mail Orders

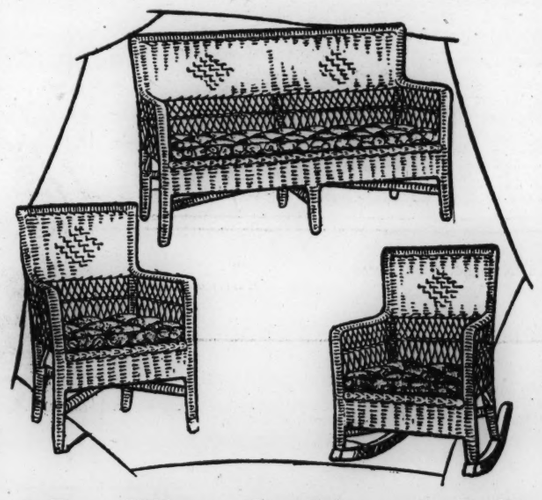

Swinging Hammock
Hammock . . . $9.95
Stand $3.95
No Phone or Mail Orders

Gliding Hammock
Heavy Striped Duck
$19.95
Deferred Payments
No phone or mail orders

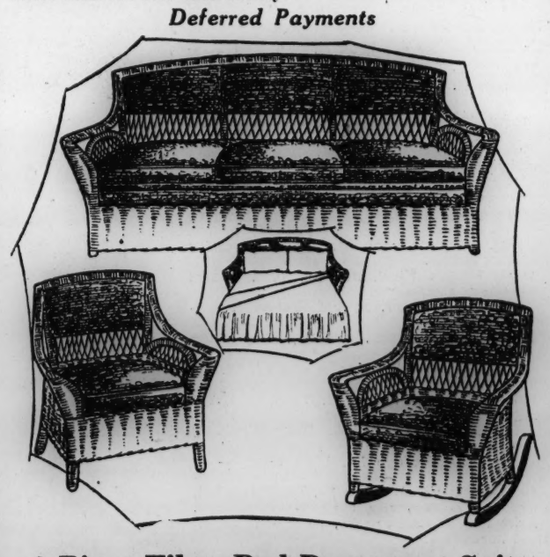

Porch Swing
Hardwood Slat Frame
$2.95
No Phone or Mail Orders

3-Pc. Fiber Cushioned Suite
$32.50

A sturdy, artistically designed suite, appropriate for porch or indoors the year round. Consisting of Settee, Armchair and Rocker. Cretonne cushion seats add to their comfort and desirability.

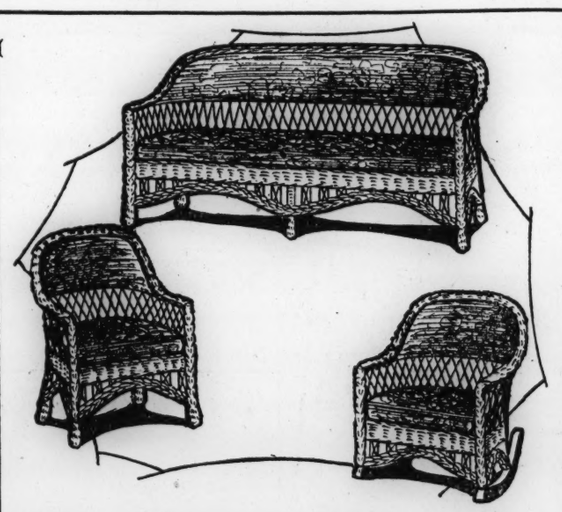

Deferred Payments

3-Piece Fiber Bed-Davenport Suite
$159

Beauty and charm by day—comfort and complete rest by night! This unusually fine Suite is well constructed of tough fiber and exceedingly practical as a Living Room Suite by day or convert the Davenport into a comfortable bed if needed at night. Bed-Davenport, Armchair and Rocker, upholstered in high-grade Tapestry.

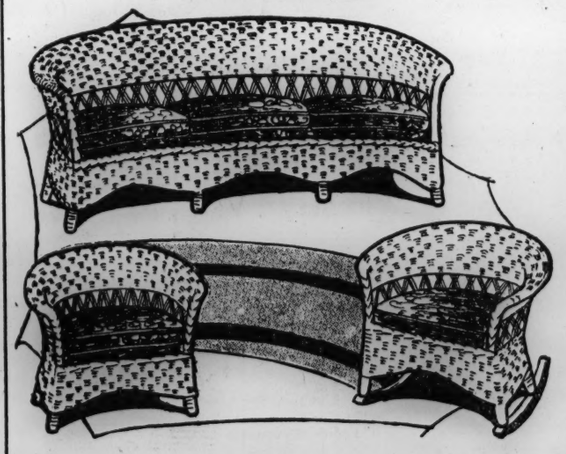

Deferred Payments

3-Pc. Upholstered Reed Suite
$39

While planning the furnishings for your living room, bear in mind a suite of this type. Just as pictured, a large Settee, Armchair and Rocker, with cretonne-covered pad seats and upholstered back. Ideal for the living room or summer porch.

Deferred Payments

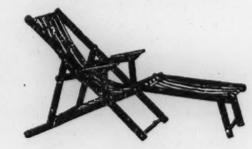

3-Piece Kidney-Shaped Fiber Suite
$98

Consists of a comfortable kidney-shaped Settee, Armchair and Rocker, strongly constructed and very attractively finished. Cretonne covered cushion seats. A rare value in a splendid suite for the Living Room or Porch.

Deferred Payments

Guaranteed
Lawn Mower
Easy to push; has wide blades.
$4.95
No Phone or Mail Orders

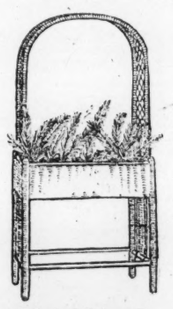

Steamer Chair
$1.95
Hardwood frame, canvas stretcher.
No Phone or Mail Orders

Decorated Reed Waste Basket
79c
No Phone or Mail Orders

Willow Tables
$4.95
No Phone or Mail Orders

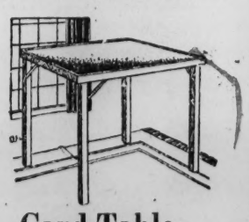

Metal Lined
Fiber Fernery
With Trellis
$8.95
No Phone or Mail Orders

Willow Chair
$2.95
No Phone or Mail Orders

Tabourette
98c
No Phone or Mail Orders

Card Table
$1.69
No Phone or Mail Orders

The Julius Lansburgh Furniture Co.

Entrance 909 F Street—at Ninth

REAL ESTATE

The Washington Post.

CLASSIFIED ADS

WASHINGTON: SUNDAY, MAY 9, 1926. R

1926 CONSTRUCTION CONTRACTS EXCEED ANY FIRST QUARTER

Volume of Commitments in April, However, Declines From March Figure.

RESIDENTIAL BUILDING 46 PER CENT OF TOTAL

Awards For Last Month in 37 Eastern States Are Put at $570,000,000.

The volume of construction commitments had a slight drop in April, according to F. W. Dodge Corporation. Contracts awarded last month in the thirty-seven States east of the Rocky mountains (which include about 91 per cent of the total construction volume of the country) amounted to $570,613,600. There was a decrease of nearly 5 per cent from the preceding month, and the increase over April of last year was less than 1 per cent. The spring peak of contracts usually falls in April, but apparently was reached in March this year.

Included in last month's records were the following important items: $265,331,000, or 46 per cent of all construction, for residential buildings; $89,333,000, or 16 per cent, for commercial buildings; $79,227,400, or 14 per cent, for public works and utilities (mainly civil engineering projects); $45,652,800, or 8 per cent, for industrial buildings, and $38,480,200, or 7 per cent, for educational buildings.

Total buildings and engineering contracts awarded during the first four months of 1926 have amounted to $2,015,551,300, the largest amount yet recorded for the first four months of any year. The increase over the first four months of 1925 has been 20 per cent. At the end of March this year was 30 per cent ahead of 1925. Outside of New York city (which is now 95 per cent ahead of last year) the increase to the end of April was 8 per cent.

In Eastern States.

Contemplated new work reported for the 37 Eastern States last month amounted to $912,982,100, which was a decrease of 11 per cent from the amount reported in March and an increase of 16 per cent over the amount reported in April of last year.

April construction contracts in New York State and northern New Jersey amounted to $170,992,700. This was a 9 per cent increase over March of this year and a 30 per cent increase over April of last year. Included in last month's record were: $95,314,400, or 56 per cent of all construction, for residential buildings; $39,045,800, or 23 per cent for commercial buildings; $12,479,900, or 7 per cent, for educational buildings; $8,327,500, or 5 per cent, for industrial building, and $5,226,200, or 3 per cent, for social and recreational projects.

Building and engineering work started in the district during the first four months of 1926 amounted to $628,965,400, being an increase of 61 per cent above the figure for the corresponding period of last year.

Contemplated new work reported in April amounted to $233,051,400, which was 3 per cent less than the amount reported in March, but 39 per cent more than the amount reported in April of last year.

New England Contracts.

Building and engineering contracts awarded in New England during April amounted to $44,266,000. There were increases of 28 per cent over March, 1926, and of 11 per cent over April, 1925. Analysis of last month's record shows the following important items: $20,795,300, or 47 per cent of all construction, for residential buildings; $6,309,200, or 14 per cent, for industrial buildings; $2,972,900, or 7 per cent, for public works and utilities; $2,607,000, or 6 per cent, for educational buildings, and $2,409,000, or 5 per cent, for social and recreational projects.

New construction started in New England during the first four months of this year reached a total of $124,118,900, as compared with $123,201,900 for the first four months of 1925.

Contemplated construction planned for this district, as reported in April, amounted to $5,355,500, which exceeded March by 35 per cent, and April, 1925, by 11 per cent.

The total volume of construction contracts let in the middle Atlantic States (eastern Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, District of Columbia and Virginia) during April amounted to $56,713,600. This figure shows decreases of 18 per cent from March, 1926, and of 5 per cent from April of last year. The more important items in the April record were, $28,352,300, or 50 per cent, of all construction, for residential buildings; $8,308,700, or 15 per cent, for public works and utilities; $7,727,800, or 14 per cent, for commercial buildings; $3,944,700, or 7 per cent, for educational buildings; $3,224,300, or 6 per cent, for social and recreational projects, and $2,412,900, or 4 per cent, for industrial buildings.

The first four months' construction total for the middle Atlantic States was $187,355,200, being an increase of 4 per cent over the corresponding four months of last year.

Contemplated construction projects were reported for the district in April to the amount of $91,230,600, a decrease of 24 per cent from March, and of 1 per cent from April, 1925.

Pittsburgh District Building.

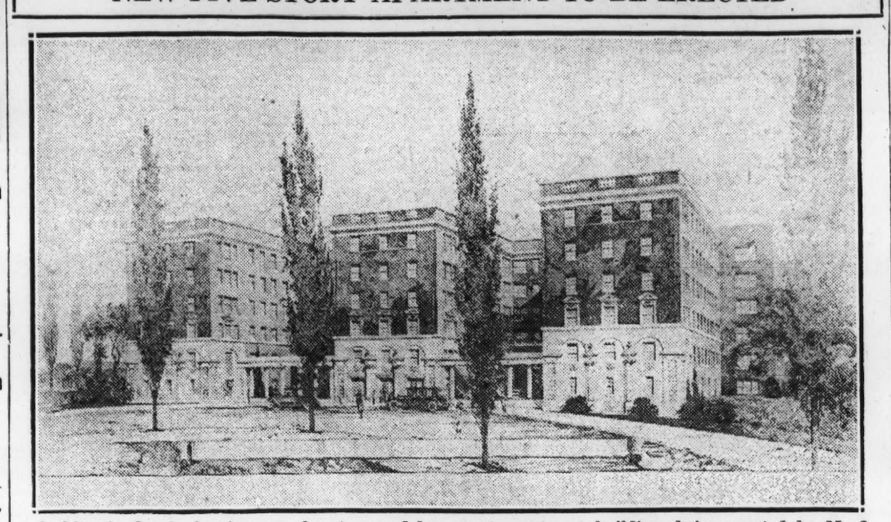

Construction started last month in the Pittsburgh district (western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky) amounted to $61,853,600. The decrease from March was 19 per cent; from April, of last year, 37 per cent. Included in the April record were: $25,660,800, or 41 per cent of all construction, for residential buildings; $13,013,000, or 21 per cent, for public works and utilities; $6,495,700, or 11 per cent, for commercial buildings; $4,140,500, or 7 per cent, for industrial buildings, and $4,000,000, or 6 per cent, for military and naval buildings.

During the first four months of 1926 there has been $233,818,300 worth of new construction started in the Pittsburgh district, compared with $289,446,800 in the first four months of 1925, the decrease being 19 per cent.

Contemplated new work reported for this district in April amounted to $83,331,600, being a decrease of 32 per cent from the amount reported in March, and of 11 per

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 9, COLUMN 4.)

NEW FIVE-STORY APARTMENT TO BE ERECTED

Architect's sketch showing new five-story and basement apartment building, being erected by M. & R. B. Warren, to be located at and to be known as 1661 Crescent place northwest, to be completed about September 1, and to be offered for sale on the cooperative ownership plan. The project will cost approximately $1,000,000.

CONSTRUCTION PROGRESS IS MADE ON APARTMENT

Crescent Place Building Will Be Sold on Cooperative Plan.

TO BE ENTIRELY MODERN

Construction work is well under way on a new five-story and basement apartment building to be located at and known as 1661 Crescent place northwest by M. & R. B. Warren. The building will be offered for sale on the cooperative ownership plan.

The structure will be located in the heart of the embassy section and is opposite the beautiful home of the Hon. Henry White, for many years Ambassador to France.

The building will occupy a site of approximately one acre and will contain 50 apartments of from four rooms and bath to ten rooms and three baths. It will be of strictly fireproof construction and will have three elevators. There will be a spacious lobby, and rooms for accommodation of maids in the basement. The apartments will be exceptionally well arranged for light and air. There will also be two large courts with beautiful English gardens. Arrangements are also being made for a roof garden which will give a view over Washington and surrounding territory of Maryland and Virginia.

The project will represent an investment of approximately $1,000,000 and is expected to be completed shortly after September 1. It is understood that several reservations have already been made for apartments.

National Association Elects Detroit Man

John N. Stalker, vice president of the Union Trust Co., of Detroit, was elected a vice president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards by action of the board of directors. The election fills the vacancy caused by the recent death of Frank Lincoln Johnson, of Chicago.

Mr. Stalker is vice chairman and acting chairman of the association's mortgage and finance division, of which Mr. Johnson was chairman.

Rare Offering of Fine Old

New England Colonial

Home in Chevy Chase

Number 9 Grafton Street

Half a Square West of Chevy Chase Circle

SELDOM do we have the privilege of presenting one of the stately old mansions in the heart of Chevy Chase, and almost never a home that so well combines the picturesque beauty of Colonial New England with the utmost in modern comfort and refinement as does the residence shown above. Within the dwelling you find spacious living room and library, each with its great open fireplace, a handsome dining salon, inclosed side porch, large kitchen and two pantries. Seven bed chambers, three baths and two storerooms comprise the upper floors, while the basement includes laundry room, lavatory, automatic storage water heater and another storage room. The roomy two-car garage and magnificent landscaped grounds with a hundred feet frontage complete the picture.

You Are Invited to Visit This Home Sunday

BOSS AND PHELPS
THE HOME OF HOMES

1417 K Street Main 9300

Member of Washington Real Estate Board

IDEAL
HOME SITES
On the Boundary of Rock Creek Park
Near Pierce Mill
Large trees; high elevation; wonderful view of 16th st. and Columbia rd.
J. Walter O'Boyle
Investment Building Main 203

Suburban Homes
Takoma, Blair, Silver Spring and Manor Park
We sell for practically all the builders. Consult Sunday Star "Suburban for Sale" for a partial list.

Inspect today. 9-room colonial, 2 baths, 1 acre or less, 7401 Blair Road. This is not a speculative house, in the ordinary sense, but is of the best construction throughout, and is priced almost one-third less than such houses ordinarily bring in D. C. suburbs.

Lillie & Hendrick
Laurel and Carroll Aves.
Takoma Park Col. 8826

33 Acres
Boyds, Maryland
Part in woods, with excellent stream. Main house contains 10 rooms and bath, surrounded by shade trees, and has beautiful lawn.
Over 1,000 thoroughbred leghorn chickens; chicken houses of modern construction. Two good farm horses and cow. Barn.
Good tenant house.
This property is complete for truck farming, having access to Baltimore and Washington markets.
Immediate Possession Can Be Given
Price $12,000
Thomas J. Fisher & Co., Inc.
738 15th Street N.W.
Main 6830

THE BEST BUILT HOUSE IN WASHINGTON

5433 and 5435 Forty-First N. W.

Between Legation and Livingston Streets

One of the Highest Elevations in the City

Fine Paved Street Exclusive Section

Constructed by Day Labor. Perfectly Finished.

PRICE $17,500 Terms to Suit

PRICE $17,500 Terms to Suit

8 Large Rooms 2 Complete Baths

Roomy Kitchen
Open Fireplace in Living Room
Extra Large Lot
Finest Standard Plumbing Fixtures
Light, Airy Cellar
Thermostat-Controlled Hot-Water System
Artistic Electric Fixtures
Clear Oak Floors Throughout House
Open Front Porch

Open All Day Sunday. Your Inspection Invited.

J. E. WHITE & CO.

931 15th Street N.W. Main 9451

THE HOME BUYERS
of Washington Have Placed
THE STAMP OF APPROVAL
on These Shapiro-Katz Homes
18 BUILT—6 SOLD
Splendidly Constructed and Moderately Priced

SEVEN BEAUTIFUL ROOMS—BUILT-IN GARAGE

6232 GEORGIA AVENUE

Is the Sample House

OPEN EVERY DAY UNTIL 9:30 P.M.

DESCRIPTION

These homes are carefully planned and built of the best materials obtainable. They are 20 feet wide by 32 feet deep. Large concrete front porches with ornamental iron railings. There are 4 bedrooms. The baths are tiled and equipped with BUILT-IN PEMBROKE TUBS, showers and pedestal stands. Plenty of closet space, floor plugs in all rooms, OPEN FIREPLACES in living rooms, very attractive and expensive lighting fixtures; hot-water heating plant. HARDWOOD FLOORS THROUGHOUT. EQUIPPED WITH WELSBACH HOTZONE AUTOMATIC STORAGE WATER HEATERS, that once experienced will never be relinquished at any price. This guarantees a continuous supply of hot water at all times.

DO NOT FAIL TO SEE THESE HOMES SUNDAY

SHAPIRO-KATZ REALTY CO.
REALTORS — BUILDERS

Main 9111 1416 K St. N.W.

1202-1204 Eye Street S.E.

Near Navy Yard

These new six-room homes are complete in every detail and are ready for immediate occupancy.

Price, $7,500

$1,000 Cash—$65 Monthly

OPEN ALL DAY SUNDAY

WALTER CASE

INCORPORATED

305 Investment Bldg. Franklin 6242

An Entire Square Of New Homes in

CHEVY CHASE

SEVERAL are sold; all are unusually desirable. Think of paying only $10,500 for a new, two-story modern Colonial type residence, with 75 feet frontage, a built-in garage reached by private drive, six large rooms, full tiled bath, double French doors, open fireplace, hardwood floors and every convenience and comfort the city can afford. The homes are splendidly constructed of the best materials and have full hollow-tile foundations. Convenient payment terms may be arranged!

Drive out Connecticut Avenue to Leland Street and West to Curtis Road—or out Wisconsin Avenue to Leland Street and East to Curtis Road.

BOSS AND PHELPS

THE HOME OF HOMES

1417 K Street Main 9300

Member of Washington Real Estate Board

OPEN SUNDAY

1 to 6 P. M.

CLEVELAND PARK

Semi-Detached Brick Homes Exceptionally Well Constructed Attractively Priced

3515 QUEBEC STREET N.W.

Brand-new, semi-detached brick with southern exposure; 8 rooms (including 2 inclosed porches), tiled bath with built-in tub and shower; selected oak floors up and down; distinctive decorations; highest grade automatic oil burner for American Radiator, hot-water plant; automatic instantaneous heater for Summer; outside pantry with built-in refrigerator; garage, etc. A complete home underpriced.

3710 34TH STREET N.W.

Exceptionally Easy Terms.

Semi-detached brick dwelling, nearly new; well located with eastern exposure; 6 large rooms, tiled bath with built-in tub and shower; double rear porches 10 feet deep, screened, cement front porch, outside pantry with built-in refrigerator; No. 1 oak floors up and down; best of hot-water heating plant; instantaneous heater for Summer; first-class electrical equipment; garage on alley; owner must sell.

Wm. H. Saunders Co., Inc.

Realtors—Established 1887

1433 K Street N.W. Main 1016-7

BUSINESS METHODS ADAPT THEMSELVES TO CHANGING NEEDS

Real Estate Firms Now Have Corps of Experts on Properties.

CONCRETE EXAMPLE IS GIVEN BY WEBSTER

Specialization Now Is Part of Every Modern Concern and Profession.

By BEN T. WEBSTER, Secretary Washington Board of Trade and Member of the Firm of Boss & Phelps.

Methods of transacting business inevitably adapt themselves to changing needs. Formerly the sale and purchase of shops, stores, apartment buildings, rows of houses and other business or investment properties was handled in the same manner and usually by the same men as were the residential properties.

The last few years, however, have witnessed important changes in this particular field, until now practically every large real estate organization has its corps of business properties experts who devote their entire time to this phase of the business. And the justification for this is seen in the widely increased efficiency and celerity with which transactions in business properties are consummated.

Let us suppose, for example, that a visitor to the National Capital wishes to locate a small sectional business in a desirable center of a growing residential community. He consults the business properties department of one of the leading realty concerns, explains his requirements, and finds that one member of that department has made a special study of the best business sites in all of the more important districts.

He is asked the nature of the business he proposes to establish, whether he prefers to locate in a moderate class section or in the more exclusive districts, and if he wishes a new store building or would rather remodel one previously occupied. When his case is thus analyzed the business properties expert consults his lists, perhaps confers with one or two associates, and is then enabled to present the one property that is best suited to the out-of-town man's needs—a property that under the old generalized methods would probably not have been discovered, if at all, except after weeks of search.

This hypothetical incident serves to illustrate practically every phase of business properties work. The inquiry may be for unimproved land, for a small or large apartment building to meet certain requirements, for a number of income-producing houses in a certain section or for any one of a dozen similar solutions to specific needs. In each case the man best qualified to handle that particular query does so with thoroughness and dispatch.

Business properties specialization is but one of many concrete proofs that the field of real estate, in common with other professions, is successfully meeting the modern demand for service.

TEN-STORY GARAGE PLANNED

Architect's sketch showing new 10-story parking garage to be erected by the Capital Garage Co. on the site known as the Hall of the Ancients on New York avenue between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets northwest. Arthur B. Heaton is the architect. The first mortgage bond issue was underwritten by Shannon & Luchs, Inc.; B. F. Saul Co. and H. L. Rust Co.

Yellow Flowers Liked By Men and Sparrows

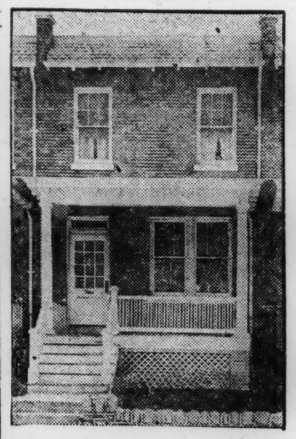

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—Men and sparrows both favor yellow flowers it was declared by exhibitors at the royal horticultural society's show. Members were discussing the revival of the "Button-hole" posy habit, and it was agreed the favorite colors for men were scarlet, cerise and yellow.

"Yellow particularly," said one exhibitor. "We can't explain why, any more than we can explain why sparrows have a passion for yellow crocuses and tear them up in the spring. Both men and sparrows must have the same instinct."

Women were said to favor pale shades such as salmon pink, pale heliotrope and mauve. The business woman preferred dark-colored flowers, the dressy woman pale tones, and the artistic woman a blend of two or three colors.

THE SUNDAY POST, By Mail, $3.00 Per Year.

JAMESON-BUILT HOMES!

1800 to 1850 Potomac Ave. S.E. Over 100 Sold

Priced at Less Than $7,000 and up

Easy Terms

Here is a home within the reach of any purse. Moderately priced—yet complete in every detail. Located in Washington's newest subdivision—

EASTERN TERRACE

Tapestry brick; 6 rooms and bath; hot-water heat; electric lights and fixtures; built-in refrigerator; extra large front and double rear porches; laundry tubs; large rear yard to wide alley. An excellent home that is complete.

Selling Fast

Four blocks from the new Eastern High School. See these ideal homes now.

Ask the Man Who Owns One

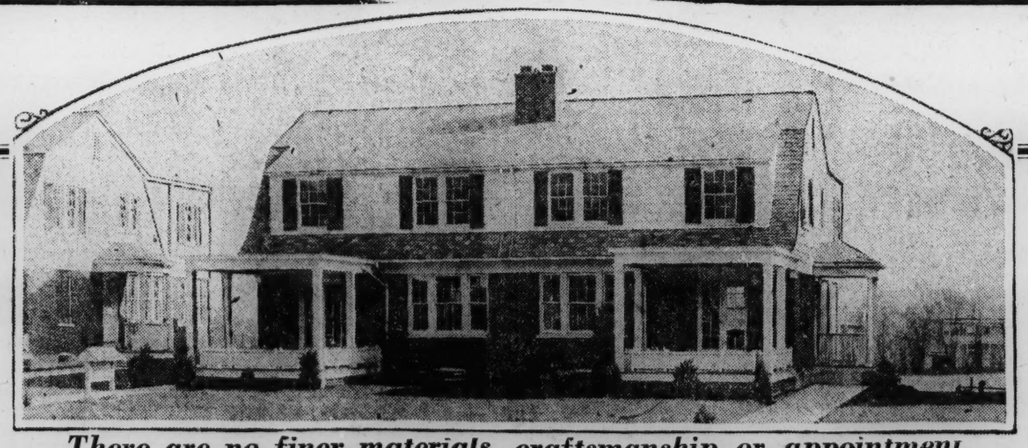

Built, Owned and For Sale by

THOMAS A. JAMESON CO.

Owners and Builders

906 N. Y. Ave. N.W.

Phone Main 5526

There are no finer materials, craftsmanship or appointment in any home—at any price—in Washington

Each of these homes has eight rooms, a centered reception hall, a large living room with open fireplace, dining room, a man's room, and a modernly-equipped kitchen. On the second floor are four bedrooms and two baths (one with shower). A large partitioned basement provides a sunny laundry, a fruit closet, a lavatory and room for maid's quarters, as well as a room housing the hot-water heating plant and the automatic hot-water storage heater. A living porch and double rear porches (one a sleeping porch) complete this most livable home.

Located one-half square from Fourteenth Street, with its splendid car service and situated on unusually large and beautiful landscaped lots, these dwellings have proven most livable.

Always Open for Your Inspection

1334 Ingraham Street N.W.

(Sample House)

SHANNON & LUCHS INC.

Members of the Operative Builders Ass'n of the D. of C.

Handsome

HOMES

Likably Located

On Rodman Street—Just West of Connecticut Avenue

Shrubbery-surrounded homes with exterior equaled only by nicety of interior arrangement. Carefully constructed and coolingly elevated in a neighborhood known as one of Washington's finest. Eight beautifully arranged rooms with built-in bath and garage on paved alley. Cheery open fireplace in living room; electric fixtures that fit in with the most elaborate scheme of decoration; outside-serviced refrigerator built-in; hot-water heat and automatic storage system. Utilities stamped with the approval of the most critical eyes.

Drive out Connecticut Avenue and turn West on Rodman Street to

3102-3118 Rodman Street

Homes of similar construction with street-level frontage at:

3521-3523 35th St. N.W. (Corner 35th and Porter in Cleveland Park)

4103-4111 Legation St. (In Chevy Chase—2 Blocks West of Conn. Ave.)

$14,950 Timely Terms

J. DALLAS GRADY

Main 6181 Realtor 904 14th St. N.W.

A N N O U N C I N G

Let's put aside the sameness of Everyday. Let's turn to the love that you cherish, the love your ambitions cling to . . . the love of Home, beautiful in a setting of beauty.

TO the people of Washington we announce the formal opening of Rock Creek Park Estates. In placing before you this new, naturally exquisite home tract we feel that we are offering you the opportunity to realize your fondest dreams of Home.

No other home site in all Washington can present the balanced perfection of Rock Creek Park Estates, nestled in Rock Creek Park. Luxuriant with the finest of trees, enchanting with its ever-changing roll of hill and dale, silver-ribboned with the happiest of bubbling brooks, Rock Creek Park Estates is in every sense "a part of the Park" . . . the idyllic setting for your Home.

ROCK CREEK PARK ESTATES

Directly on the boulevard excellence of Sixteenth Street, planned for the finest of the Capital's residential parks, Rock Creek Park Estates goes forward safeguarded by the protective restrictions which will perpetuate it as a community of refinement. Yet, to the man who desires true beauty, true loveliness in the home site of his ambition—Rock Creek Park Estates is entirely attainable.

Ask for the Beautiful Descriptive Brochure

Telephone Main 5974 for an Inspection Appointment

EDSON W. BRIGGS CO.

Owners

ONE-THOUSAND-ONE FIFTEENTH STREET AT K

A Real Buy, $8,850

601 Girard Street N.E.

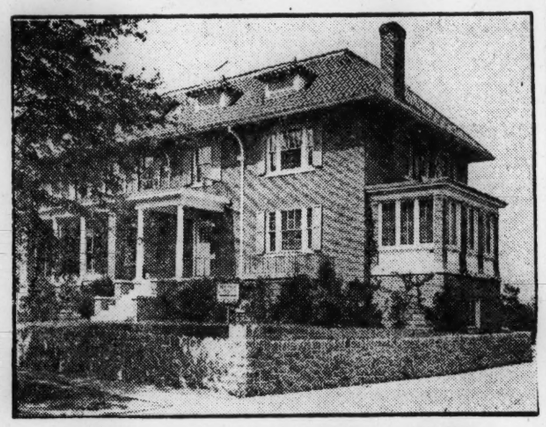

This good new corner house is 18 feet wide, with all modern improvements. You can not find its equal in value in Washington.

Think of it well: A corner house on large lot to an alley, three porches, oak floors, hot-water heat, for only $8,850. A real buy. Come and see it.

Open All Day Sunday

1516 K St. N.W. — DOUGLASS & PHILLIPS Inc. — Franklin 5678

Open Today, 2 to 6 P. M.

2328 Ashmeade Place N.W.

Washington Heights — Near Connecticut Avenue Bridge

Owner, now in Europe, must dispose of this beautiful home at once.

Semi-detached brick residence, having a wide frontage and unusually well adapted for entertaining.

On the first floor are wide reception hall, spacious living room with fireplace, large conservatory, dining room, glass-inclosed breakfast porch, and kitchen. Upstairs are four splendid bedrooms and two well-appointed baths. The floors are hardwood throughout. There is a roomy, built-in garage.

N. L. Sansbury Co., Inc.

1418 Eye St. N.W. — Main 5904-5

MEANING OF WORD 'REALTOR' OUTLINED TO PROTECT PUBLIC

Term Coined for the Use of Members of Boards Under National Body.

MEMBERS GOVERNED BY CODE OF ETHICS

Stricter Regulation Planned to Insure Highest Type Service for Clients.

By JAMES P. SCHICK, Executive Secretary of Washington Real Estate Board.

It is indicated that the general public is not familiar with the fact that the term realtor has a real significance, and it is reported that at the trial of a case before a high legal tribunal an attorney of standing who used the words "realtor" and "real estate man" interchangeably admitted to the court upon inquiry that he did not know that there was any difference in these terms.

The term "realtor" is a coined word, and in 1916 it was adopted by the National Associaton of Real Estate Boards to designate real estate brokers who were members of the local real estate boards which were affiliated with the National Association of Real Estate Boards. The members of local real estate boards who are affiliated with the national body have therefore the exclusive right to use this term, as it is a designation of their membership.

The newer editions of the large dictionaries contain a definition of the term realtor, and the following definition is from Webster's new edition: "A real estate broker who is a member of a local board having a membership in the National Association of Real Estate Boards, an organization incorporated in 1908 for the advancement of the interest of real estate brokers and the protection of the public from unprincipled agents or brokers."

Code Governs Ethics.

The National Association of Real Estate Boards is a body composed of real estate boards located in the different cities throughout the United States. It requires that its members admit to membership only those brokers who will agree to conduct their businesses in accordance with the code of ethics adopted by the national association. This code governs the manner in which the broker shall conduct his busines in his professional relations with his fellow brokers, with his clients and also with the general public, and when followed assures the conduct of the broker's business upon a high standard and plane. The local boards as well as the national association insist upon a strict observance of this code of ethics and will not sanction a breach of any of its provisions on the part of its members.

The United States Chamber of Commerce will devote a large part of its next meeting, which will be held during the coming week, to a discussion of "Self-government in Business" and as an example of what can be accomplished in this particular the chamber of commerce points to the National Association of Real Estate Boards and what it has accomplished in governing the members of real estate boards in the conduct of their businesses. The president of the national association, Mr. Robrt Jemison, jr., of Birmingham, Ala., will be one of the principal speakers at this meeting.

Heretofore it has been the practice to require brokers upon becoming members of the board to agree to comply with the code of ethics. However, a proposed amendment to the constitution and by-laws of the national association will be considered at the coming convention in Tulsa to be held next month which, if adopted, will require that any broker becoming a member of a local real estate board shall sign a written pledge that will observe the rulings of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and its code of ethics in the conduct of his business.

Best Service Assured.

The effect of the adoption of this code and the requirement that members of real estate boards conduct their businesses upon this high plane has been to assure the public that in dealing with a member of a real estate board it will receive the highest type of service from a broker and that it is protected from the unprincipled agent or broker and that it is dealing with a business man who carries the stamp of approval of others who are engaged in the same business.

A broker, therefore, using the term realtor is indicated thereby to be a member of a real estate board which is affiliated with the National Association of Real Estate Boards, and which, in the District of Columbia, means a member of the Washington Real Estate Board. Only members of this board in the city of Washington are entitled to use this term. It means also that in his endeavor to render the highest service to his clients he has the advantages and facilities of the board at his command which enable him the better to render an efficient, intelligent and honest service in his field.

The members of the real estate boards are very jealous of the use of this term and the right to the exclusive use to it has been upheld by the courts in many of the States, injunctions having been issued in a considerable number of cases preventing brokers who are not affiliated with local boards from using the term.

REALTY BOARD PLANS MEETING THURSDAY

William A. Herren Will Be the Speaker and Guest of Honor.

The Washington Real Estate board will hold its monthly meeting at the Wardman Park hotel Thursday evening. William E. Herren, extension director of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, will be the guest of honor and the principal speaker at the meeting.

The local board has been extremely active during the last two years in educational matters pertaining to the real estate profession and it is expected that Mr. Herren will give the Washington realtors a number of interesting suggestions which will be developed in the educational program to be carried out by the board in the National Capital next fall. Last year's educational programs were conducted at the local Y. M. C. A., and also forums for the local realtors were held at Wardman Park hotel. A number of matters pertaining to the civic development of Washington and the real estate field will also be brought before the board for action. Several hundred members of the board are expected to attend this meeting, following which there will be an entertainment and buffet supper.

VISIT OF OKLAHOMA BUSINESS MEN GIVES REALTORS IMPETUS

Boosters for Tulsa Aid in Getting More Men to the Convention.

PARTY LEAVES CAPITAL ON EVENING OF JUNE 5

Special Train Will Carry the Washington Men to Big Meeting.

Considerable impetus has been given to the activities of the local convention committee which is making arrangements for the Washington realtors who are to attend the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards to be held in Tulsa, June 7 to 11, by the visit here last Thursday of the special delegation of 150 of Tulsa's business men. This delegation which is touring the East and middle West in interest of Tulsa contained several members of the Tulsa Real Estate board who were active in furthering the cause of the convention in that city.

This gathering is annually attended by about 5,000 realtors from all parts of the country and is the largest annual gathering of business men in the United States. More than 100 local realtors have already signified their intention of taking this trip. The party will leave by special train.

Will Depart on June 5.

Under the chairmanship of H. Clifford Bangs, of the convention committee, the Washington realtors will leave on the evening of June 5 and will return the following Saturday. Bangs joined with the committee of the Washington Chamber of Commerce in welcoming the Tulsa delegation and entertained them during their brief stay of seven hours in the National Capital.

The following members of the Real Estate board have signfied their intention of attending the convention at Tulsa: John F. Maury, John L. Weaver, Earl MacIntosh, Charles B. Caywood, John P. Garrett, J. Francis Moore, H. Clifford Bangs, James P. Schick, William S. Phillips, H. Latane Lewis, Percy H. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carr, Clarence F. Donohue, James A. Donohoe, Monroe Warren, Bates Warren, H. L. Rust, jr., Mr. and Mrs. Claud Livingston, W. W. Taylor, John A. Petty, Harry B. Pitts, W. C. Miller, Charles H. Hillegeist, William K. Hartung, J. F. M. Bowie, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Goss, Thomas L. Phillips, R. C. Zantzinger, O. B. Zantzinger, jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Jarrell, Lloyd F. Gaines, Edward Kyle, James Salkeld, Charles H. Galliher, J. Dallas Grady, Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Schladt, R. P. Whitty, M. P. Canby, and Edward L. Hillyer.

6806 Meadow Lane

CHEVY CHASE, MD.

This handsomely built, new colonial home of stone construction is situated on a natural knoll of about 100 feet frontage with several stately trees and dogwood. There are seven rooms, two attractive baths, sleeping porch, copper spoutings, built-in garage and all the finest and latest improvements.

Do not fail to see this property, for neither picture nor words can portray its subtle charm. Nature and man have here combined in creating a truly beautiful home.

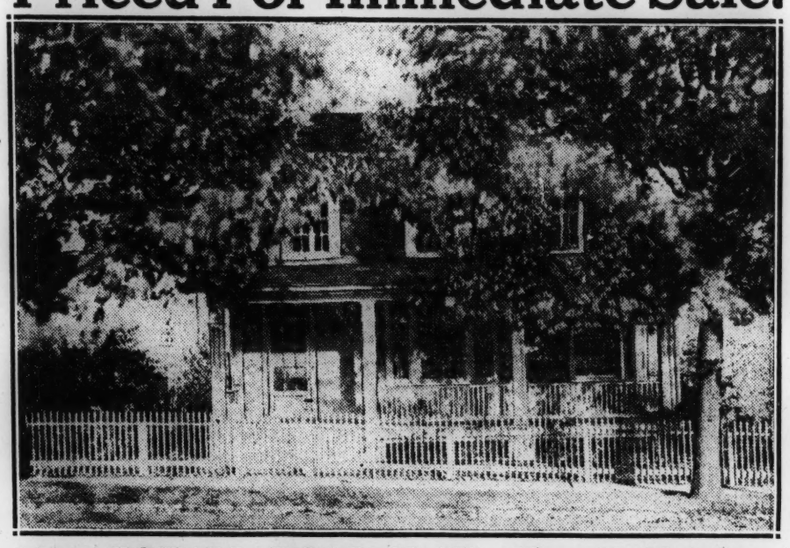

Open Today 10 Until 7

Drive Out Connecticut Ave. to Woodbine Street. Turn West Into Meadow Lane.

MOORE & HILL, Inc.,

730 17th St. N.W. — REALTORS — Main 1174

Priced For Immediate Sale!

1401 FOXALL ROAD N. W.—Foxall Heights

This desirable detached home commands a most beautiful view of Potomac River, Virginia Hills, Georgetown University grounds and Foundry Branch Valley.

Only 20 Minutes by Electric Line (200 Feet Away) to Treasury

Large living room, dining room, pantry and kitchen on first floor, all having oak floors; 4 bedrooms and bath, second floor; daylight basement under entire house, hot-water heat; gas range, electricity with numerous lamp connections; front porch, 8x26 ft.; rear porch screened; large yard with various kinds of shrubbery and rosebushes, grape arbor. Everything best condition inside and outside.

An Exceptional Home Offered on Attractive Terms

OPEN FOR INSPECTION ALL DAY SUNDAY

Drive over "Q" Street Bridge, past Western High School on Reservoir Road to Foxall Road, to property. Or take Chain Bridge, Glen Echo or Cabin John cars to Foxall Heights.

C. C. LACEY

710 14th Street N.W. — Main 7787

TODAY'S BEST SUBURBAN VALUES!

Each of these offerings represent a thoughtfully planned home—the best material used, by experienced, careful workmen.

We say without hesitation that the first serious buyer seeing any of these evident bargains will purchase.

Enjoy the atmosphere of a suburban home, yet be within a few minutes of downtown—near schools, churches, stores, etc.

6524 8th St. N.W.

Corner Eighth and Van Buren Streets, one square east of Piney Branch Road. You must see this home to appreciate it.

Price, $13,950 Liberal Terms

Center Hall Entrance type—seven spacious rooms—four bedrooms—complete tiled bath—large living room with open fireplace—oak floors throughout—bright kitchen with built-in ice chest—one-piece sink—pantry. Very latest hot-water heating system and automatic hot-water storage boiler.

BUILT-IN GARAGE

THESE HOMES OPEN SUNDAY

9 A.M. to 9 P.M.

Also Daily

2:30 to 9 P. M.

"THE BRIDE'S" BUNGALOW

$9,250

Easy Terms

849 Venable Street N.W.

Overlooking beautiful Piney Branch Road, on Venable Street, the most complete, hot-water-heated bungalows in the city. Pleasing environment—close to schools, churches, car lines, etc.

Large living room with open fireplace, ample dining room; large, daylight kitchen, with one-piece porcelain sink, pantry, cabinet, built-in refrigerator; large porch, latest electric fixtures, instantaneous hot-water heater, oak flooring, tile bath with built-in fixtures.

William S. Phillips & Co.

Incorporated
Realtors

1432 K St. N.W. — Main 4600

Corner Brick Residence

Price, $14,950 Liberal Terms

Seven spacious rooms, complete tiled bath with built-in shower, glass-inclosed sleeping porch, breakfast porch, oak floors, mahogany and white finish, large, bright kitchen with one-piece sink and other attractive features, extra large pantry; attractive lawns.

Built-in Fireproof Garage

7300 Blair Rd. N. W.

See These Homes Today!

After all is said and done

—you can get out of a house only what the builder puts into it! Honest workmanship and painstaking attention to every detail has been the watchword of the builders of these homes—and that means that you will get dollar for dollar value out of them.

Features

Homes are semi-detached brick, with living room, fireplace, dining room, modern kitchen, equipped with pantry and built-in ice box; covered front porch, coat closet with mirrored door, three bedrooms, with roomy closets, tiled bath, with shower, and inclosed rear porch.

Exhibit House

1822 Newton St. N. E.

Price, $8,950

Easy Terms

To Inspect: Go out Rhode Island Avenue to 17th Street Northeast, north on 17th to Newton, one block east to houses—or go past Catholic University to Newton Street and straight to 18th.

Open for Inspection Daily and Sunday

PRESTON E. WIRE CO.

636-644 Investment Building
Main 9877

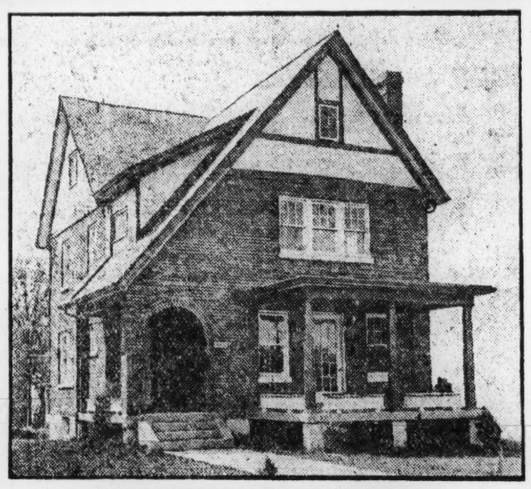

FOR SALE BY OWNER

1033 Newton Street, Brookland

$16,500

16 rooms, 2 baths, newly papered and painted frame dwelling; complete new hot-water heating system; electric lights; hardwood floors; lot 50x150; screened porches; fruit trees; garage. Phone North 5556.

Wire Built Well Built

3512 Runnymede Place

Attractive, well-built home containing seven rooms and three baths; built-in garage; wide lot; paved alley and street.

"Inspect This Home Today"

CHAS. E. WIRE & SONS

Owners and Builders

3521 Rittenhouse Street Cleveland 3629

NOTE—Runnymede Place is one block north of Rittenhouse Street and two blocks northeast of Chevy Chase Circle.

Well Built Wire Built

TARIFF LACK SEEN AS SERIOUS MENACE TO BRICK INDUSTRY

Belgian Manufacturers Said to Be Underselling Domestic Makers.

NO ADVANTAGE HELD TO AMERICAN BUILDERS

Imports of Clay Products Show Great Increase Since 1923.

Imagine a city, supported by a single industry, employing 113,000 people with a weekly pay roll of $2,800,000, which, with the families of the wage earners plus tradesmen and public service employes, makes a city of a million inhabitants, being wiped off the map of the United States.

Such a catastrophe is actually threatened in America today, according to the Monthly Digest just issued by the Common Brick Manufacturers Association of America. If all of the clay products plants in the United States were consolidated into a single factory surrounded by the stores, schools, churches and amusement places and public buildings necessary for such a community, you would have just such a city as is suggested here.

Due to the fact that the heavy clay products are on the free list and that their manfuacturers have no tariff protection against cheap foreign products, this great industry is menaced to an extent that suggests its complete annihilation. With the labor in European clay plants receiving approximately one-quarter the wages paid for similar work in the United States, the American manufacturer is confronted with a handicap he can not overcome even by the highly efficient and labor saving methods employed here. The destruction of this industry would be far reaching and affect many other basic industries. For example:

No Benefit Is Seen.

The clay plants in the country use every day 450 cars of coal of 60 tons each, or an annual supply of 9,740,000 tons. No less than 100 plants throughout the country are engaged today in manufacturing machinery alone for the clay products plants and great quantities of supplies and equipment of their kinds are consumed. The railroad tonnage shipped by these clay plants is approximately 34,000,000 tons, requiring 2,330 40-ton cars to handle every day in the year.

The first importations of Belgian brick were in 1923 when about 2,500,000 common brick were received. In 1924 the quantity had grown to more than 18,000,000, and in 1925 it was approximately 50,000,000. If this ratio of increase of foreign brick is maintained, it is a matter of a few years until the importations will have completely displaced the American product. The building public is not the benefiter, but the American clay plant employes, although depending upon it, are the losers. The foreign brick is sold at only a point below the price of the American brick, the importers naturally demanding as high a price as they can get, and sell it just under the lowest possible price at which the American manufacturer can sell for. The importation of these large quantities of brick has not lowered construction costs in America, nor reduced rents. All the benefits are accruing to the foreign manufacturer and his selling agents.

The importation of brick constitutes the most serious difficulty confronting the American brick manufacturer at the present time. Since 80 per cent of the brick consumed in the United States is within the territory accessible to ocean-going ships, the menace becomes a real one. In this connection it is important to know that existing clay plants in America are capable of producing, without a dollar of added investment in equipment, twice the quantity of brick consumed today. It is important also to consider that of every dollar paid by the consumer for brick, 50 cents goes to the labor which produced it, and an amount of money equal to the total expenditure for brick goes to the mechanic who places it in the wall.

Only the seaboard plants, up to this time, have been seriously affected, and the general condition throughout the industry continues to be prosperous.

Timbers May Be Stained.

Shingle stains can be used for other kinds of unplained lumber, including that used on cottages of the English type.

RESIDENCE IN WYNNEWOOD PARK

Residence in Wynnewood Park, Md., erected by the Stambaugh Construction Co., and purchased by Benjamin A. Harlan. It contains eight rooms, two baths, and built-in garage. The transaction was negotiated through the office of Thomas E. Jarrell Co.

FINANCE PROBLEMS TO BE TOPIC AT TULSA

Matters in Regard to Industrial Real Estate to Be Taken Up.

The problem of financing is admittedly a great central problem in regard to industrial real estate. It will be a central topic before industrial real estate specialists who will meet in Tulsa, Okla., June 8 to 11 in connection with the annual convention there of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

David L. Wickens, of the University of Chicago, who has been working with the research committee of the association's industrial property division in collecting facts as to what are the practices most frequently in use in regard to the financing of industrial and real estate development, will give the results of this study before the division at its closing session. Mr. Wickens is at present making a survey of the financing of the industrial real estate in the Chicago district.

J. H. Van Vlissingen, of Chicago, chairman of research committee of the division, will also speak at this session. Harrison S. Colburn, of New York, former chairman of the livision, will address the division on advertising industrial real estate offerings. Irving D. Chandler, of Chicago, will speak on the use of data equipment by the industrial real estate specialist in the building up of his business.

Double Nailing Needed.

Wood lath should be applied with two nails at every stud to which they are attached.

NEAR BUREAU OF STANDARDS

Miller Built — Miller Designed

Devonshire Downs

Better Homes — Better Values

Just North of Cleveland Park

At Van Ness Street and Wisconsin Avenue

Van Ness Street is now open from Connecticut avenue to Wisconsin avenue

English Architecture

Semi-Detached and Detached

Brick and Stucco—$12,950 to $14,500—Tile and Slate Roofs

Attractive Prices Convenient Terms

Exhibit House 3809 Van Ness Street

Six and Eight Rooms—Side and Center Hall. Rooms of Unusual Size and Charming Arrangement—Every Closet Lined With Cedar.

Open for Inspection Every Afternoon, Evening, and All Day Sunday.

To Inspect Means to Purchase

W. C. AND A. N. MILLER

Builders —— Realtors

1119 17th St. N.W. Main 1790

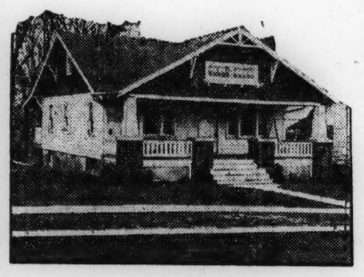

Don't Buy Until You've Seen These Homes

In Town and Suburban Properties

North Woodside, Md.

Come out and see this wonderful community—with its sensible restrictions and its cozy Bungalows and Cottages. There's nothing like it around Washington for the price at which these Homes are offered.

$7,950 and terms less than rent

Every Home is a picture, of modern design and finish. Five rooms and bath—with separate garage. Open fireplace, hardwood floors; built-in bath fixtures.

Water, sewer, electricity, sidewalks and street are all ready laid.

There's no "pioneering" to be done. Every utility is installed.

Open all day Sunday and week day afternoons. Or phone our office up to 9 P. M.

How to Reach North Woodside

Come to the District Line at Georgia avenue—and go north under the new viaduct 1.3 miles—'til you see our sign on the left of the road. That's at North Woodside.

Buses run on frequent schedules. Or, motor out to this attractive group.

FOR RENT

In Fashionable

Chevy Chase, D. C.

A NEW 8-ROOM AND 2-BATH HOME

2-Car Brick Garage

5107 Connecticut Ave.

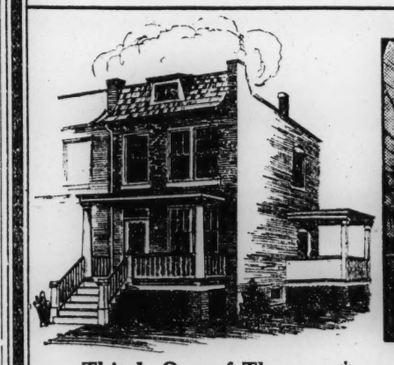

This charming English type home has never been occupied. It is semi-detached, finished in stucco, terraced lawn, open fireplace in living room, master bedrooms, all white kitchen and a host of appointments one finds in the most expensive type of homes.

Agent on Premises.

KAY-SCHNIDER-KAY CO. INC.

Realtors INVESTMENT BLDG. Franklin 513

Night Phone, Cleveland 4150

This Is One of Those

Rock Creek Ford Road Homes

Look this region west of Georgia avenue over—and you'll not find anything like them—and their superb location.

Six rooms, bath and garage—built with one idea—hominess; equipped with one aim—easy housekeeping.

There are three porches—and planted terrace.

$8,450

—and that's an astoundingly low price. Terms—to your liking.

Rock Creek Ford Road runs west into the Park from the Brightwood postoffice. Handy to the cars—and stores, schools, churches, etc.

Open for Inspection Today From Noon to Dark, or Call Our Office Up to 9 P. M.

A Very Select Home

1619 Decatur Street

It has all the advantage of the Sixteenth street environment; less its annoyance of noisy traffic, etc.

Price and Terms—On Request

Beautiful Colonial design—with center hall, salon living room, with colonial marble mantel and open fireplace. Butler's pantry, superb kitchen, with electric refrigerator. Four bedrooms, two baths and sun parlor on second floor; four bedrooms and bath on third floor. In the basement laundry, with automatic drying machine, Maid's toilet, heating plant, etc.

Screens and awnings and big double garage.

Very elaborate specimen planting on the spacious lawns.

You can purchase to a very decided advantage if negotiated at once.

Open Sunday from noon to dark—or call our office up to 9 P. M.

One of the Few Homes Now Available in the Old Section of

CLEVELAND PARK

3311 Newark St. N.W.

Open All Day Sunday

An opportunity to purchase in the old section of Cleveland Park, and especially on Newark Street, is rarely presented, and you should take advantage of this offering. The house is individual in type and the grounds are among the most attractive to be found in this section. There are nine rooms and three complete baths. We will not attempt, in this limited space, to enumerate its interior appointments or arrangement. You will be impressed with its spacious rooms. Your inspection is cordially invited Sunday.

Hedges & Middleton, Inc.

REALTORS

1412 Eye St. N.W. Franklin 9503

Had YOU Built This House

You Could Have Chosen No Better Fittings

Hot-water Heat.
Atlantic Oil Burner.
American Radiator Company Boiler.
Minneapolis Heat Regulator.
Pittsburg Automatic Hot-water Heater.
Fenestra Steel Casement Windows.
Copper Screening.
Seeger Electric Refrigerator.

The large and delightfully proportioned living room opens through an archway into a bright and cheery sun room. A dressing room with two closets adjoins the main master bedroom. In all there are four bedrooms, two baths, maid's room and bath, lavatory on the first floor, a full floored attic and cedar closet. The walls are charmingly finished in rough plaster of a soft tone, and the woodwork has five coats of paint. There is a two-car garage.

SEE THIS HOUSE IF ONLY TO SEE HOW A HOME SHOULD BE EQUIPPED

4010 Eighteenth Street

(Drive out 16th to Varnum, west on Varnum to Eighteenth, then south to house.)

OPEN OPEN

Gantt and Kenyon

816 15th Street N.W. Main 7928

Best Example of English Homes

Semi-detached—in a location that is unsurpassed in Washington—directly overlooking Rock Creek Park—

1635-41 Madison St.

West of Sixteenth—beyond the Reservoir—most attractive construction—brick and stone; eight rooms, two baths with built-in fixtures, enclosed sleeping porch — hardwood floors; wrought iron fixtures; plate glass windows, set in steel frames; separate garage. You haven't seen anything like them.

Price and Terms That Will Interest You—

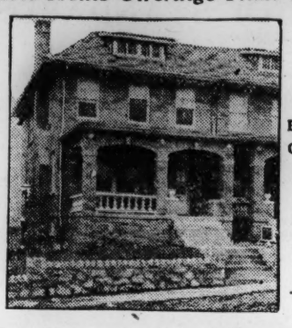

Open every afternoon and evening and all day Sunday—or call our office up to 9 P. M.

1415 K St. Maximum McKEEVER and GOSS Service Main 4752

Deal With a Realtor

The Entire Northwest Washington Holds No More Desirable Home Offerings Than These

Overlooking the Beautiful National Cathedral Grounds. Downtown in 12 Minutes Via Mass. Ave. Washington's Closest Restricted Neighborhood

8 Rooms
2 Baths
Built-in Garage
Open Fireplace
Every Possible Modern Convenience

The Most Reasonably Priced Homes in the Northwest. Terms Less Than Rent

Located at the Intersection of Massachusetts Ave. and Cathedral Ave., between 38th and 39th Sts.

Call our office for representative to take you by auto to inspect the property, or take Wesley Heights bus to 38th Street, or motor out Massachusetts Ave. to Cathedral Ave.

Open Daily and Sunday

CHAS. D. SAGER

Owner and Builder

924 14th Street N. W.

Phone Main 36 Until 9 p. m. or Main 38 Any Time

COOPERATIVE PLAN APARTMENT OFFERS PAYING INVESTMENT

Suite Early May Be Rented for More Than Payment Requires.

TENANTS WOULD BUY EQUITY FOR OWNERS

Renters Find Many Attractions and Are Certain of Good Service.

The cooperative apartment as an investment, quite aside from its desirability to the individual owner as a place of residence, is a phase of this type of real estate ownership that has won wide recognition in Washington, according to Edmund J. Flynn, authority on cooperative apartments, representing the Wardman Construction Co., Inc.

"While we have purposely neglected to emphasize this angle of the cooperative ownership plan," Flynn said yesterday, "the fact that an opportunity to rent in a cooperative building has always brought scores of applicants could not fail to impress owners themselves and their friends. In many cooperative buildings there is a long 'waiting list' containing the names of persons eager to occupy the apartments and pay a rental that is well in excess of the amount the buyer must apply to principal, interest and operating cost.

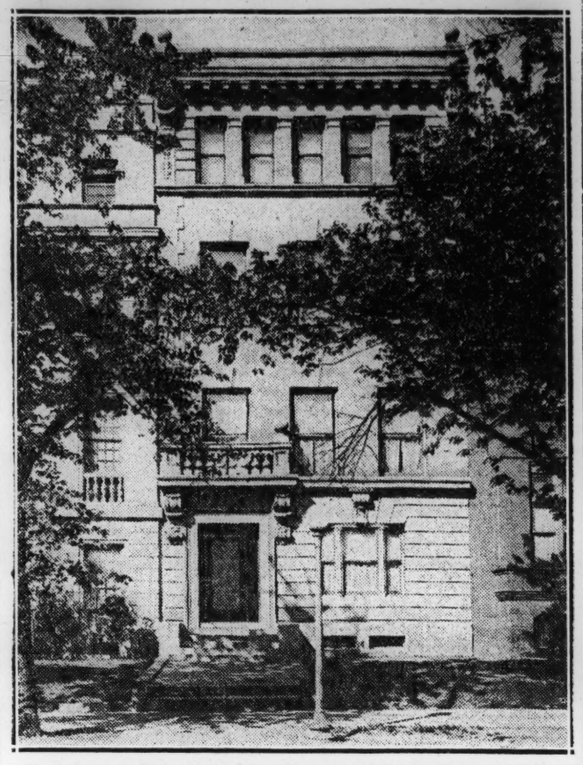

Money Will Yield.

"The owner, therefore, though he may never have occasion to employ it in that way, knows that the money he has invested in his apartment can be made to yield a remarkable return. An apartment, for instance, that is priced at $7,100 can be purchased with an initial payment of $1,420. The monthly payments thereafter to principal and interest total $56.80, and the operating cost $14.20. A very conservative rental figure for the apartment would be $80, or $9 a month more than the net cost to the buyer—a cash return of $108, or more than 8 per cent on the original investment of $1,420.

"In addition, the monthly payments of the rental tenant during his occupancy of the apartment are buying equity for the owner, 75 per cent being the average amount applying to principal, or $42.60. The owner's return, therefore, is $108 in cash and $511.20 in equity annually on an investment of $1,420.

"From the renter's point of view there are many attractions. He is anxious to occupy a cooperative apartment chiefly because he knows the tenantry of the building will always be kept at the highest standard and because he is certain to get good service. The first assurance he gets from the fact that the board of directors of the building, themselves owner-occupants, passes on the desirability of all other occupants; the second is due to the system of management whereby the janitor and other help are directly in the employ of the owners and directly accountable to them."

RESIDENCE SOLD TO ART DEALER

Four-story English basement residence, 1640 Connecticut avenue northwest, which has been sold for William A. Hill Co., to Howard P. Okie, proprietor of the Okie galleries, who will remove his establishment to this address after remodeling. The transaction was negotiated through the office of Moore & Hill, Inc.

H. P. OKIE ACQUIRES SENATOR'S RESIDENCE

The four-story English-basement residence 1640 Connecticut avenue has been sold for the William A. Hill Co., owner of the property, to Howard P. Okie, dealer in antiques, proprietor of the Okie galleries, who will occupy the same as his establishment after it is remodeled.

The residence contains fifteen rooms and four bathrooms and has been leased for the last five years to Mrs. Mary Speer Denny, formerly of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Denny has sublet the house to Senator William Cabell Bruce, of Maryland, as his winter home during her stay in Augusta, Ga. The work of reconstruction will be begun at an early date.

The sale was made through the office of Moore & Hill, Inc.

YOU CAN BUY THIS

VILLA SITE

Situated Right in Town

Commanding a Beautiful View of Rock Creek Valley. Facing Rock Creek Park. Wooded with Immense Oaks, Poplars and Beautiful Dogwoods.

At a Very Low Price

PHONE OWNER, ADAMS 7398

Or Adress Box 615 The Washington Post

Have You Seen the Interior Of Our New Homes On Chevy Chase Boulevard, Md.?

You will agree that the arrangement of the eight beautiful rooms with two tiled baths, the materials, workmanship, finish, decorations and fixtures are such as you would only expect to find in a house at twice the price.

Of tapestry brick and stucco construction, the houses are equipped with hot-water heat, electric lights, instantaneous water heater, two fireplaces, oak floors throughout, two-car garage.

Lots 50x130

On Chevy Chase Boulevard, just west of Wisconsin Ave. in Chevy Chase Terrace, Maryland, overlooking the Chevy Chase Club grounds.

Open Sunday for Your Inspection

Priced Extremely Low—Terms Arranged

J. BENSON THOMAS COMPANY

819 15th Street N.W. Main 8416

Or Your Broker

Drive out Wisconsin Ave. to houses, or drive out Conn. Ave. and through Bradley Lane to Wisconsin Ave., turn left to our sign

AT A BIG SACRIFICE

This Beautiful Corner Home in Michigan Park, Brookland, D. C.

Owner leaving city this week must sell this fine home today. No reasonable offer will be refused.

Six delightful rooms on two floors, two additional rooms on third floor, tiled bath, hot-water heat, electricity; finest condition throughout; big open fireplace; large porches.

Lawn beautifully developed, with hedges, shrubbery; two-car garage. On fine corner. Both streets and alley concrete-paved and paid for.

Northwest corner 12th and Shepherd Streets N.E. A Middaugh & Shannon built home in Michigan park, overlooking large park.

To inspect*—Drive out Rhode Island Avenue to 12th Street, thence north to Shepherd Street.

Open All Day Sunday for Inspection

ALLAN E. WALKER & CO., Inc.

813 15th Street N.W. Main 2690

INSPECT

1800 VARNUM STREET N. W.

(A Corner Home West of 16th St.)

Detached Brick
Lot 55 ft. by 115 ft.
Built-in Garage
Shrubbery

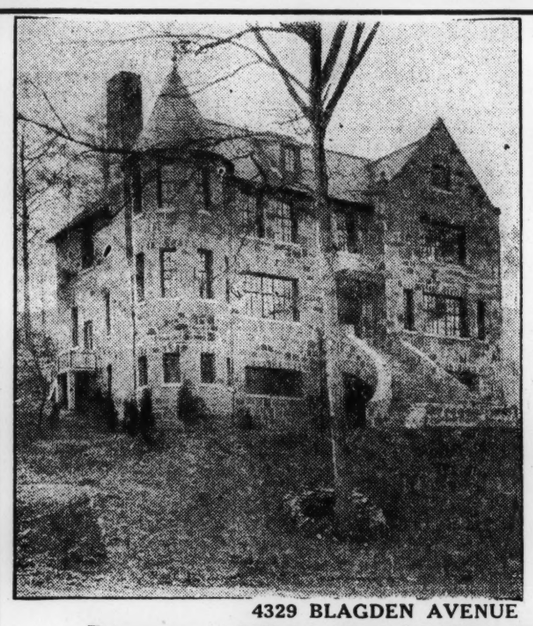

Brand New
4 Bedrooms
2 Baths
Hardwood Floors Throughout

OPEN ALL DAY SUNDAY

GARDINER & DENT, INC.

Realtors

Main 4884 1409 L St. N. W.

"A Bit of Old France"

Right at the back door of the Capital—a castle that well might be located in France—and with a charming interior—thoroughly modern.

A home for those who appreciate the finer things in life.

Open All Day Sunday

4329 BLAGDEN AVENUE

Inspect This Parkside Property!

Overlooking Rock Creek Park. First floor boasts of such features as a carved hand-rail to the main stairway, two sculptured fireplaces, beautiful blue tinted ceiling, conservatory, etc.

Four master bedrooms on the second floor, served by two marble-floored bathrooms. Billiard room, library, etc. Three-car garage, laundry, electric refrigeration plant; oil burner and automatic electric hot-water heating system.

Drive Out 16th Street N.W., to Blagden Ave., West on Blagden

Jos. A. Herbert & Sons

Exclusive Agents

1013 15th St. N.W. Main 4590

OVERLOOKING THE PALISADES OF THE POTOMAC

And Yet Within Ten Minutes of the White House

Built Amid a Woodland Setting of Incomparable Beauty IN VIRGINIA

Grounds 2½ Acres in Extent

This delightful, modern home of eight rooms and bath and garage is situated on the crest of a hill that rises gradually from the water's edge, where there is a wharf and boathouse. The view from the front porch is really wonderful, there being vistas showing the city, the river, the Key bridge, etc.

NO EXPENSE HAS BEEN SPARED BY THE OWNER to make the grounds surrounding this property as artistic and unique as the most discriminating tastes could desire. ITS LOCATION IS PRIVATE and yet within EASY ACCESS OF THE CITY on good roads.

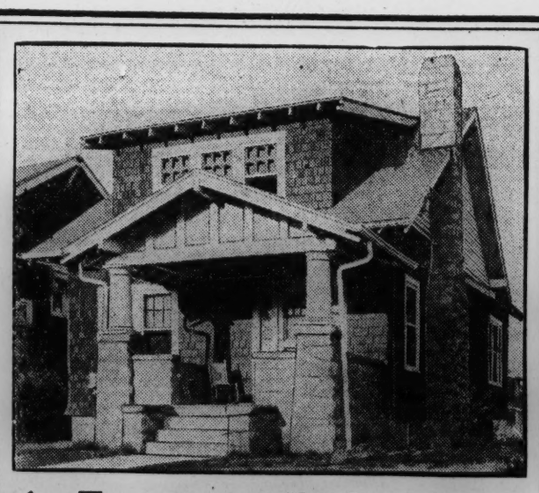

Must Be Seen to Be Appreciated

Inspection by appointment only, or Sunday inspection can be arranged by calling Cleveland 470.

JOHN F. MAURY

Realtors

1009 Connecticut Avenue N.W. Main 4080

An Exceptionally Good Buy

In 14th Street Terrace

5111 13th Street N.W.

On the first floor of this Shannon & Luchs Built Home is a living room with open stone fireplace, a large dining room, kitchen and lavatory. Hardwood floors and trim. On the second floor are three well proportioned bedrooms and white tiled bath.

It is of shingle construction, with slate roof, and is located on a large lot.

Price Reduced for Quick Sale

Open Sunday for Your Inspection

SHANNON & LUCHS INC.

Exclusive Agents

713 14th St. Main 2345

Don't Say You Cannot Find Your Ideal Home

Don't say it until you see these homes! When you have inspected them leisurely, but carefully, you will admit that they measure up to your greatest expectations. We have tried to anticipate every convenience demanded by the buyer—and many who have already bought tell us that we have succeeded.

5700-5720 8th St. N. W.

Corner Madison

Six rooms of ample proportions; splendid tiled-bath with the latest built-in tub and other fixtures. Metal weather stripped and fully screened throughout. Roomy garage.

These homes are priced low, and the terms are within the means of the average family. SAMPLE HOUSE open daily for inspection.

N. L. SANSBURY CO. INC.

1418 Eye Street N.W. Main 5903-4-5

Takoma Park, D. C., Bungalow Priced For Quick Sale

510 ASPEN STREET

This attractive bungalow, containing eight rooms and two baths, on large beautiful lot, with garage, can be sold on very reasonable terms.

Open Today—10 A. M. to 7 P. M.

Agent for Owner Will Be on Premises

REALTY SOCIETIES ASKED TO CENTER "REALTOR" ACTION

Urged to Use National Body as Clearing House in Protecting Rights.

DECISION IS RECENTLY REACHED BY DIRECTORS

Feel That Much Valuable Effort Is Wasted by Separate Action of Boards.

Because of the grave possibilities of loss that may occur in regard to the exclusive right of the National Association of Real Estate Boards to the use of the term realtor in case local action should be undertaken without the full advantage of available counsel as to the legal points involved, the board of directors of the association is calling upon member boards to employ the national body as a clearing house whenever action to protect this right is to be taken.

Decision to make this request was reached by the directors at their regular quarterly meeting just concluded at Chicago. At the same time, because of the possibility of setback to the national movement for real estate license legislation that may unwittingly be incurred through untoward action which might have been avoided if full information had been available, the board likewise voted to request member boards and State real estate associations to coordinate license action also through the national organization.

Realizing that experience, notably in connection with income tax legislation, has shown the serious loss of effectiveness which is caused when requests for Federal legislation to meet real estate needs are presented in varying forms from separate real estate boards in such a way that congressional committees are made to feel that there is no unanimity of opinion among realtors as to what is needed, the directors of the association have made a further formal request that member boards refrain from taking individual action for such legislation except in coordination with the general national body.

Rephrasing Approved.

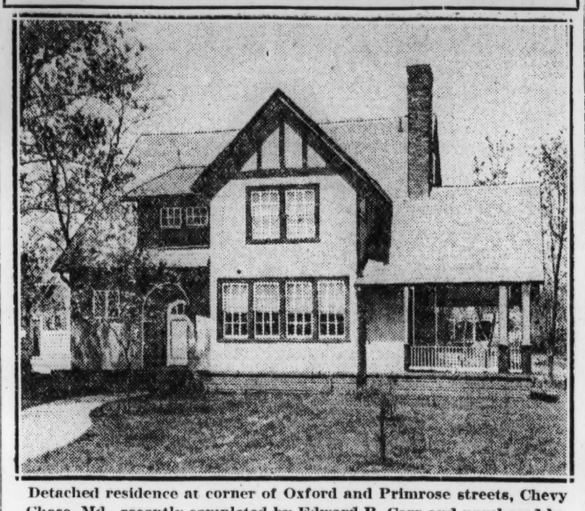

Rephrasing of section 9, article VII, of the constitution of the association to iron out inconsistencies was approved by the directors and will be brought before the delegate body of the association for final action at the coming annual convention to be held at Tulsa, Okla., in June.

The phrases are those referring to the order of succession in the list of vice presidents. The change is needed in order that when a vacancy occurs among the fifteen vice presidents a vice president who holds office by virtue of being head of a division of the association may be succeeded only by some one from the membership of that division.

An invitation was extended to the association from the Houston, Tex., real estate board to hold its annual business meeting in Houston in 1928, and to give serious consideration to holding the 1927 annual meeting in that city.

The advisory board of past presidents, and officers of the national association met with the directors.

ONE OF CHEVY CHASE'S NEW HOMES

Detached residence at corner of Oxford and Primrose streets, Chevy Chase, Md., recently completed by Edward R. Carr and purchased by Mrs. Elizabeth R. F. Tabler. The transaction was negotiated through the office of Boss & Phelps.

Elimination of Details Is Secret of Economizing

"How to economize" often can be answered by careful study of where to economize. In this homebuilding is like buying clothes: big essentials must come first and details and accessories must wait, if the budget isn't large enough to cover both.

Once the lot is bought, there are five elements that make up cost—design, materials including light and heating equipment, labor, supervision and accessories, by which is meant the innumerable "comforts and conveniences" that attract the housewife.

"Design does not mean mere beautification. The properly designed home is one that is adapted exactly to the needs and habits of its occupants. A good house plan is cheapest to build from because it provides for every detail. If one tries to skimp on design, the contractor may complain, for instance, that the drain pipes from the second-story plumbing run down in front of the living-room window—which would necessitate costly changes.

So design is essential, and this means you must have the services of an architect or of an organization which can render architectural service competently.

Labor and supervision are practically one problem. You want your home built by skillful, conscientious workmen who can add the touch of good craftsmanship to their work. You will find that the well-established contractor or architect knows such mechanics better than you do.

So the simplest, and in the long run the cheapest, answer to the labor problem is to engage a contractor of reputation, or a good architect. But this does not mean to accept the lowest bid. You must give your contractor or architect enough money to work with. If you do so, they will save you time, trouble and expense. They know workmen; the know materials; they know construction. They will take pride in doing your job finely and economically.

But questions of materials need not be left entirely to them. Your tastes should be expressed. And upon your decision in the matter of materials will depend the structural soundness, the permanence, the fire safety, and the insulation of your home. Cutting corners here will open up a long, hard row of repairs and replacements. Just as you depend on the reputation of architect or contractor, you may take into consideration the standing of the manufacturers who stand behind the materials you choose.

After you have bought the best you can afford in design, labor, supervision and structural materials, then consider the built-in devices, mechanical appliances, decorative accessories and other comforts and conveniences.

Of course, you won't have to go without either if you are willing to wait. But if, in building your house, you give first attention to the essentials, you will have a good basis on which to apply desirable details later. It won't work the other way 'round.

(Copyright, 1926, by Better Homes Service Bureau.)

THERE are still two or three splendid suites available in this magnificent cooperative building adjoining the palatial Stokes mansion on upper Massachusetts avenue, near the edge of Rock Creek Park valley. All the other apartments are now owned by people of prominence in social and business Washington, and property values are steadily enhancing in the immediate vicinity of

2540 Massachusetts Avenue

Should you prefer a location at the crest of Sixteenth, we have a very select building on Lanier place, near its junction with the Harvard street entrance to Rock Creek park. The two suites not already purchased have three frontages, exceptionally large rooms, two luxurious tiled baths (each), enclosed sun porches overlooking the park and separate maid's quarters in the basement. Visit—

1623 Lanier Place

There is yet another imposing edifice now being completed on Crescent Place, adjoining 2400 Sixteenth street. Several large suites in this new structure have been sold before completion; perhaps you, too, will find just what you want in 1661 Crescent place.

YOUR INSPECTION INVITED

Open Sunday — Open Sunday

McR·B· WARREN

Pioneer Builders of Co-operative Apartments

925 15th Street—Main 9770

Sunday Phone Adams 3290

$500 CASH

BUY A HOME IN

BEAUTIFUL FAIRLAWN

PLUS

Health for your children in a new Government recreation park less than a block away.

Don't fail to inspect these "Ward-Built Homes" today. They contain large rooms, concrete front porch, 2 rear porches, tiled bath, built-in tub, hot-water heat, electric lights, oak floors, enamel sink and sunshine basements.

Built-in Garage

Just $6,950. Terms Arranged

Main Exhibit House
1745 13th St. S.E.

1516 K St. N. W. — DOUGLASS & PHILLIPS INC. — Franklin 5678

2228 Kearney Street Northeast

DETACHED

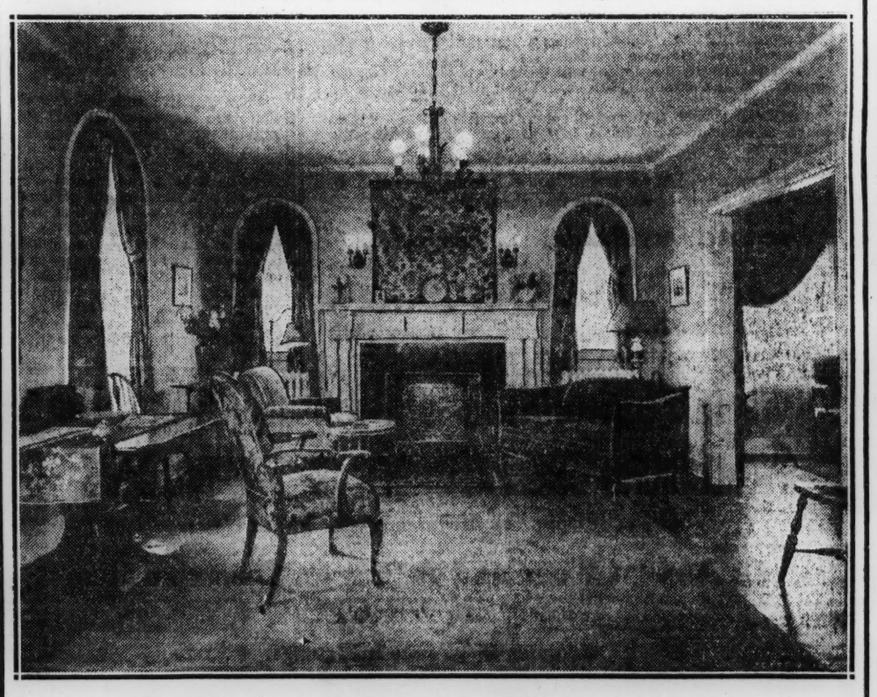

Larger Rooms (7 of them).
A Larger Kitchen.
A Larger Lot

For $10,500

OPEN TODAY ONLY

GANTT AND KENYON

816 15th Street — Main 7928

A Furnished Pleasure

2945 Cathedral Avenue N.W.

Ten Rooms, Four Baths

(Furnished by Dulin & Martin)

Leaders of our social, official and business life reside in Woodley Park, which is the City's most delightful home section. Its realty value is secure; no ambitious building schemes or commercial intrusion can force the borders of its pre-established exclusiveness.

Homes occupied by families of worth and breeding indicate unerringly the structural comforts of its dwellings and the high character of social fellowship in this beautiful section of better Washington.

2945 Cathedral Ave. Is $28,500. Terms Reasonable

Open Daily and Sunday Until 9 P. M.

Other Homes in Woodley Park, $16,500 to $30,000

WARDMAN

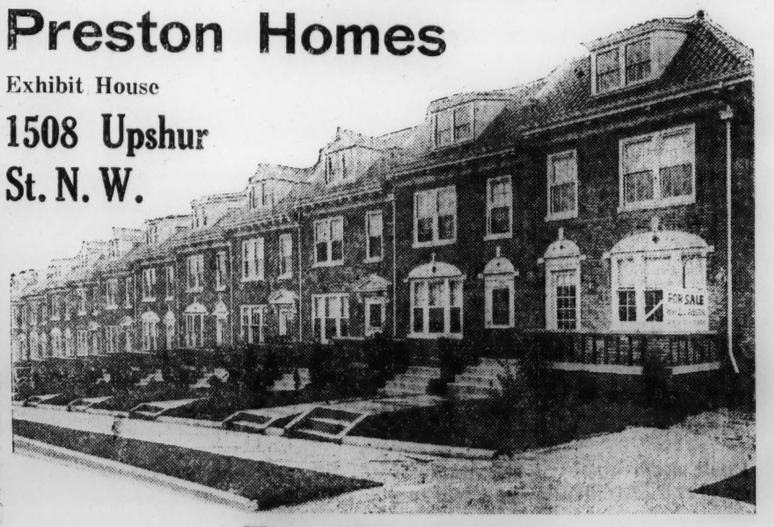

1430 K Street N.W. — Main 3830

Members Washington Real Estate Board.

Preston Homes

Exhibit House

1508 Upshur St. N. W.

Fine Homes in a Smart Residential Section

THE picture tells a story of their beauty—and the clean-cut appearance of the neighborhood. Located in the 1500 block on Upshur street northwest.

They are 20 by 36 feet, and contain six wonderful rooms, built-in garage, and all other necessary conveniences.

Reached by the 16th Street Bus and 14th Street Car Line

Open Daily and Sunday for Your Inspection.

Built, Owned and For Sale by

WINFIELD PRESTON

Denrike Building, 1010 Vermont Ave. — Main 6307

"The Colonial Period"

aptly describes this home—and four others like it—of fine workmanship and materials.

Exhibit House, 2621 17th N.E.

Open Daily and Sunday Until 9 P. M.

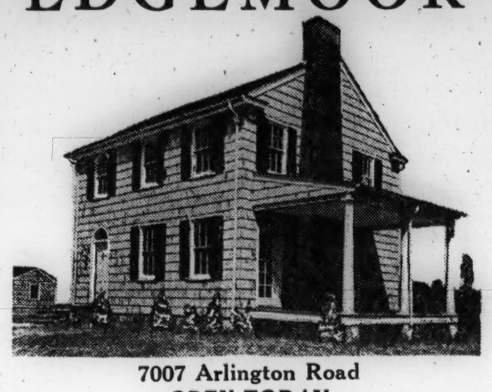

Large lot, six rooms, living room with open fireplace, three bedrooms, bath with built-in tub and shower. Colonial decorations, mahogany and white trim throughout, inclosed sleeping and breakfast porches.

Located two blocks from Main Northeast thoroughfare in Woodridge.

Drive out R. I. Ave. to 16th Pl. N. E. (17th St. is under construction), and turn right at Evarts.

Jos. A. Herbert & Sons
1013 15th Street N.W.
Main 4590

EDGEMOOR

7007 Arlington Road

OPEN TODAY

One of several unusual offerings of beautiful colonial homes in the heart of Edgemoor proper. 7 spacious rooms with bath, oak floors, cheery open fireplace, instant hot water and every possible modern convenience. Lot 60 feet by 142½ feet. Well financed on good terms.

Another opportunity in Edgemoor—6 romos and bath—the owner's bedroom is especially desirable, being over and the same size as the living room, with the bath immediately adjacent. This charming home is of the center hall; gambrel roof type which is so desirable. Well financed on good terms. Call at sample house, 7007 Arlington road for information.

V·T·H· BIEN INC·

3118 11th St. N.W. Phones: Columbia 9636; Adams 6140

OR YOUR OWN BROKER

FREE

One Month's Rent Free in

THE SHARON

2148 O Street N.W.

New Building

Ready for Occupancy—Select Your Apartment Now

Near Dupont Circle, Walking Distance Downtown, All Outside Apartments

1-2-3

Rooms and Bath

Some with Dining Alcoves
Elevator Service
Many Other Attractive Features

Hardwood Floors Throughout

Built-in Bath Tubs and Fixtures

VERY REASONABLE RENTALS

Resident Manager on Premises, or Call Main 9111-9112

Shapiro-Katz Realty Co.

Realtors—Builders

Main 9111 1416 K Street N.W.

Deal with a Realtor

GARDINER & DENT REPORT PROPERTY DEALS OF $640,000

Active Real Estate Market Is Indicated by Sales and Transfers.

GRAY ROCKS ESTATE BOUGHT BY ATTORNEY

Northwest Corner of Thirteenth and M Streets Changes Hands Twice.

An active real estate market is indicated by the list of recent sales reported yesterday by the office of Gardiner & Dent, Inc., including transfers of residential, business, investment, unimproved and country properties, aggregating in value approximately $640,000.

The two-story fireproof garage building at 1834 L street northwest, was sold for Harry L. Black to the Mayflower Taxicab & Sightseeing Service, Inc., who now occupy the building.

"Gray Rocks," a beautiful country estate on the Colesville pike, one-half mile east of Sligo, Md., has been sold for Mrs. Blanche H. Armstrong to George R. Shields, local attorney.

The firm reports the double sale of the building site at the northeast corner of Thirteenth and M streets northwest. This property, having a frontage of about 50 feet on M street by 120 feet frontage on Thirteenth street, was sold for the Charles G. Thorn estate to Louis T. Rouleau, local architect, and others. The property was immediately resold to a local builder.

Thirteen-House Group Sold.

A modern three-story dwelling at 1308 Fairmont street northwest, was sold for Josephine Dally to Eppa L. Norris. This property contains six rooms and two baths.

A group of thirteen houses on the west side of Fifth street southeast, between H and I streets, was sold for Mrs. Frank Altemus to a local investor.

Claude E. Branner purchased an attractive row of brick houses, eleven in number, situated in the 100 block of H street southeast, from James J. O'Donnell.

Owen R. Edmonston, who recently completed the four-story apartment house located at 5435 Connecticut avenue northwest, took in exchange a semifireproof building owned by Fred S. Lincoln, located at 822 Thirteenth street northwest. This trade was negotiated with William H. Spignul Real Estate Co.

An attractive detached brick dwelling owned by Joseph E. Smith and situated at 1606 Michigan avenue northeast, was given as part payment for the 98 acre farm owned by James F. Adams near Clinton, Prince Georges county, Md.

Virginia Property Exchanged.

Another important exchange was negotiated between Edward M. Dulin, owner of 941 New York avenue northwest, and the Brunswick Shop, Inc., of 3116 Fourteenth street northwest.

Ruby Lee Minar took in exchange for two new houses at 137 and 140 Sheppard street, Lee Heights, Va., a group of thirteen building lots and a dwelling at Oakview, Va.

A beautiful waterfront property, containing about eight acres of ground with attractive improvements, near River Springs, St. Mary's county, Md., was purchased by a local attorney from F. K. West.

Toreador Hat Urged On Women of London

London, May 8 (By A. P.).—Jampot hats have palled on the millinery trade and London designers are trying to find some kind of larger hat which women will accept.

The toreador hat has been selected by many makers as the most likely successor. It is a mannish type suited to the mannish way in which some women wear their hair. The brim may be turned up a bit more than a real toreador and it may be decorated with a few flowers and trimmed with bright-colored silk in Spanish colors. The trimming is mostly underneath the brim.

SERPENT FASCINATES WOMEN AS OF OLD

Reptile House Keeper Says Fair Visitors Stare for Hours at Snakes.

Philadelphia, May 8 (By A. P.). That the serpent has lost nothing of its primeval fascination, is the conviction of Robert Hess, for twenty-seven years keeper of the reptile house of the Fairmount Park Zoological gardens.

Mr. Hess believes that the lure which snakes appear to exercise over women is something deep-rooted and long inbred.

"Women are fascinated by our snakes," Mr. Hess said. "They come again and again and stay for hours; some of them standing perfectly absorbed without moving, just watching the movements of the big reptiles."

The huge boa constrictors and anacondas seem especially attractive to the women visitors to the zoo, the keeper said. He attributes the strange lure of reptiles for women partly to the slight element of danger and to the stealthiness of their movements.

Snakes have his indorsement as household pets, but he stipulates that the owner must banish all fear or hatred for them before attempting to keep one.

At Least 500 People

in Washington, every week, are looking for desirable rooms, either with or without board. A great many of them read The Post. You who have rooms to rent can catch their eye by inserting classified ads in The Post. Phone Main 4205.

INSPECT TODAY

3517 16th St. N. W.

New, 9 Rooms, 2 Baths; Large Yard

Open for Inspection

WINFIELD PRESTON

1010 Vermont Ave. N.W. Main 6307

You Buy a Real Bargain—When You Buy a Cafritz "Life-time" Home

EVERY one of the more than 1,000 "Life-time" Homes we have built has been sold hundreds of dollars below the cost to duplicate by any other builder—individual or corporation. Because buying unusual quantities we are in a position to command concessions in cost of the very highest grade materials. Because we bought the land upon which they are built in hundreds of acres. All of which cuts a tremendous saving in cost—a saving we invariably share generously with the purchaser.

A Guarantee

I want to underwrite your complete satisfaction with any one of our "Life-time" Homes in which you may be interested—and my personal assurance that down to the minutest detail of labor, construction and finish you're getting the very best money can buy.

Morris Cafritz

YOU have only to inspect carefully and compare critically to be convinced that in character of plan and design—in quality of construction and finish—a "Life-time" Home outclasses every other in practical livable comforts and investment value. It's this manifest excellence that has made Cafritz famous as the outstandingly big Home-builder of Washington—and the prices at which they are offered and the terms upon which they are sold are the marvel of the real estate market.

Inspect these Homes today, Sure!

36 Built Only 1 Left of these most attractive Homes in the

5100 Block 8th St. N.W. Petworth

The big rooms and their practical arrangement; the 3 large covered porches; the beautiful tiled bath; the select hardwood floors; the artistic polychrome lighting fixtures and beautiful decorations; the practically appointed kitchen; the very large wardrobe closets—and the splendid heating system are matchless for the money.

$6,950

$500 Cash—$65 a month

We will help you finance

It's your only chance to get one of these remarkable Homes at this price.

Open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Take 14th st. cars to Kennedy st.; 9th st. cars to Gallatin st. Or, we will send our auto.

Prettiest Part of Petworth

8 Built—3 Sold Before Completion

Homes With Extra Large, Screened Porches

That tells you what exceptional Homes they must be.

Exhibit Home, 5007 7th N.W.

Six big rooms, tiled bath—master bedroom across entire front of house. French doors to the unusually large Breakfast and Sleeping Porches, which are completely screened—with covered front porch; separate garage.

$8,950 Financed the Cafritz Easy Way

Open from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M.

Take 9th St. cars to Georgia Ave. and Farragut St.—a short walk east to these Homes.

A Brand-New Group—

—just finished—and ready for inspection.

800 Block Hamilton St.

They are planned on those big, generous "Life-time" lines—which means 6 big rooms and 3 wide porches; master bedroom across the entire front; built-in tub and shower; wardrobe closets; planted terrace and deep back yards.

$8,950 Financed the Cafritz Easy Way

Open from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M.

Take 9th St. cars to Georgia Ave. and Hamilton St., or 14th St. to 8th and Kennedy Sts., walking south to Homes. Or, we will send auto.

The Last 2 Left

Of That Popular Group

4800 Block 7th St. N.W.

Just Around the Corner From Sherman Circle and Overlooking Sixteenth Street.

Six large rooms and 3 covered porches, of unusual width; tiled bath; hardwood floors; porcelain kitchen equipment; wardrobe closets; servant's toilet and laundry; instantaneous heater for hot water.

$8,950 $500 Cash $75 a month

Open from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M.

9th St. cars to Decatur St. and walk east to Homes—or we will send our auto.

Just 2 Left Handsomest Homes on Varnum St.

in that exclusive neighborhood—between 14th and 16th streets—

They are extremely attractive Homes—planned with judgment, equipped with experience, and decorated in excellent taste.

Seven very big rooms; with extraordinarily large porches; 2 elegantly appointed baths, with built-in fixtures; highest grade of oak floors; lighting fixtures of new and unique design; wall decorations in perfect taste; large, light and airy kitchen; fully equipped; servant's toilet and laundry in basement; hot-water heating plant, and an instantaneous hot-water heater. Great big built-in garage; planted terraces and deep sodded yards.

$14,250

Financed the Cafritz Easy Way

Open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Take either 16th st. bus or 14th st. cars to Varnum St. Or phone for our auto.

Most Prominent Corner

Illinois Ave. and Hamilton St.

If built singly would sell from $1,000 to $2,000 more—but through Cafritz specializing the price is

Only $13,950

Financed the Cafritz Easy Way

Center hall, with 8 large rooms; handsomely paneled walls; French door to English porch; built-in tub and shower; servant's toilet in basement; built-in garage.

Open 9 A.M. to 9 P.M.

Take 14th St. car to Kennedy St.; 9th St. car to Hamilton St., or we will send auto.

2 Beautiful Corner Homes in Northwest at a Bargain Price

Large Detached Home

4808 7th St. N.W.

Overlooking Sherman Circle and 16th Street

Only $13,950

Financed the Cafritz Easy Way

Center hall plan—8 big rooms, with wonderful porch; built-in tub and shower; instantaneous heater and a large storage tank giving a continuous supply of hot water; very high and dry basement; built-in garage. Open 9 A.M. to 9 P.M.

9th street car to Decatur st.—or we will send auto.

14th & K

Owner and Builder of Communities

CAFRITZ

Owner and Builder of Communities

M. 9080

OPEN SUNDAY

West of Connecticut Avenue

Washington's Most Exclusive Residential Section

2118 Wyoming Avenue N. W.

We cordially invite you to inspect this splendid detached residence, which is the outstanding value offered today.

It contains ten commodious rooms, three baths, inclosed sleeping porch and front porch, double garage with chauffeur's quarters above. Only an inspection can convince you of its home value.

Open for Inspection Sunday

The McLean Company

REALTORS

1515 K Street N.W. Franklin 1121

5233 Connecticut Avenue

Open Today, 2 to 6

23-foot Brick Residence of 8 Rooms and 2 Baths, With 2-Car Garage

MUST BE SOLD
and is —PRICED RIGHT—

N. L. Sansbury Co., Inc.
1418 Eye St. N.W. Main 5904-5

1788 Lanier Place N.W.

One Block From 18th and Columbia Road

WILL BE OPEN
For Inspection Sunday, 2 to 6

Owner has purchased suburban property and this home must be sold quickly.
10 large rooms, 3 baths. Every modern feature. 2-car brick garage—and construction second to none in the city.

N. L. Sansbury Co., Inc.
1418 Eye St. N.W. Main 5904

$15,750

No. 4 Williams Lane
Chevy Chase, Md.
OPEN SUNDAY

If You Are Looking For a Well-Finished Interior This Is the House

NEW
Seven Rooms, Bath, Garage, Large Lot

Louis P. Shoemaker
1407 New York Ave. N. W. Main 1166

Fifty years of service to the people of Washington and a staff of salesmen, each a specialist in the various fields of real estate activity, will assure the finest real estate advice and service.

NEW DEVELOPMENT OPENED TO PUBLIC BY BRIGGS CONCERN

Rock Creek Park Estates Have Been Kept in Their Natural Beauty.

PORTAL TO WASHINGTON WILL BE IMPOSING

Protective Restrictions Have Been Imposed Regarding Building.

Development for home sites of a tract containing over 100 acres, lying between Sixteenth street and Rock Creek park has been announced by the Edson W. Briggs Co., the owners. This property adjoins the proposed northern portal to the city at the head of Sixteenth street. Plans for this portal, which will be the first welcome to the Capital from the north, will be impressively beautiful, according to plans which are now being worked out and elaborated by the Fine Arts commission in conjunction with the National City park and planning commission.

The officers of the Edson W. Briggs Co., feeling strongly that leveling by grading too often destroys the natural beauty of residential neighborhoods, resolved to preserve in their development not only the trees, but the brooks, hills and dales throughout the property. Nearly a year ago advice and suggestions to this end were first sought from the Fine Arts commission and the National City Park commission, and meeting with the hearty cooperation of these commissions and the District engineers, a plan of curving driveways along the streams and following the natural contours has been worked out and adopted, which it is believed accomplishes the ideal in mind.

Name Is Selected.

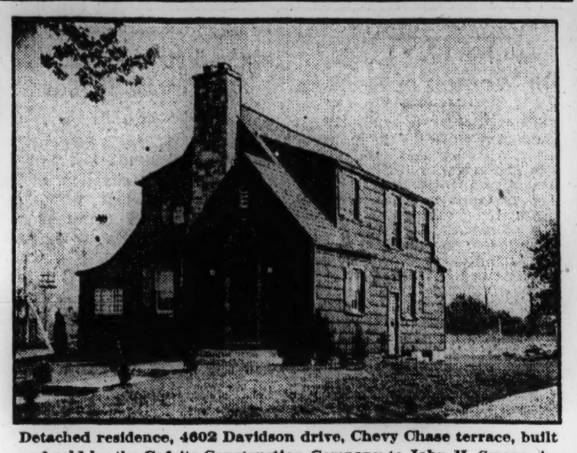

The name for this new development, "Rock Creek Park Estates," was chosen because this property, having approximately a mile and a half frontage on Rock Creek park and its proposed extension to the northern portals and dove-tailing with the park, matching it in beauty and its ever-changing contour and color, suggested appropriately the title of "Rock Creek Park," and the addition of the word "Estates" because of the unusual size of the building sites.

To assure the highest type of homes in Rock Creek Park Estates consulting specialists must first approve all plans in which design, quality, color scheme and entire effect will be given careful consideration.

To further promote and safeguard the attractiveness and desirability of the neighborhood, necessary protective restrictions have been imposed. In determining upon these, the owners made a careful study of the restrictions prevailing in the most beautiful and successful developments in other parts of the country which have stood the test of time. Taking advantage of the best which has been accomplished elsewhere, coupled with advice and suggestions from the authorities in Washington who are working for the beautification of the Capital, and giving due consideration to special conditions of topography and climate here, it is believed that the protective restrictions adopted for Rock Creek Park Estates are the best that can be devised for our Capital City.

From the inception of the project and throughout all of the planning the aim has been to make sure that this section can never be spoiled, but will always remain a most pleasing addition to beautiful Rock Creek Park, with which it is so intimately connected, and a credit to the Capital of the nation.

NEW DETACHED RESIDENCE

Detached residence, 4602 Davidson drive, Chevy Chase terrace, built and sold by the Cafritz Construction Company to John H. Swope, jr. The house contains six rooms and bath, with garage to match

THE PROBLEM SOLVER

Question: Can you tell me where the hot and cold air pipes in a warm-air heating plant should be placed?

Write to the experiment station of the University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill., for literature on this subject.

Question: We are considering building our home of gypsum concrete. Can the foundation be of the same material?

No; the foundation should be of some other masonry construction carried 18 inches above grade line, and its top surface should be covered with a waterproofing compound or a waterproofing felt.

Question: I need more closet space in my bedrooms and wonder if they could be constructed of rock wallboard across a corner of each room?

The material you mention has been used in such construction many times, and we see no reason why it should not be satisfactory.

Question: How should I cover the walls of a breakfast room so that they will not be too difficult to keep clean?

By applying an outer coat of good grade varnish size to flat wall paint or to a heavy-bodied paint of the type that gives both texture and color tone, the walls may be made washable with soap and water.

Question: How thick a concrete foundation will we need for a frame house?

The standard is 10 inches, but unusual soil or drainage conditions or local building requirements may alter it in your case.

This charming new English Home is ready for immediate occupancy. Living room with open fireplace, dining room, breakfast nook, kitchen, three bedrooms, tiled bath, sleeping porch. Built-in garage. Spacious lawn.

Wynnewood Park

Washington's Most Beautiful Suburb

A garden spot of restfulness and harmony, where homes are all that the name implies. Here you will find houses distinctive in architecture and design, surrounded by fine shrubbery and rare trees.

The location is convenient to schools, churches, country clubs, stores and bus lines. Best of all, you will have neighbors you will be happy to know—and your children will find health and joy safe from the dangers of city streets.

Popular prices and reasonable terms.

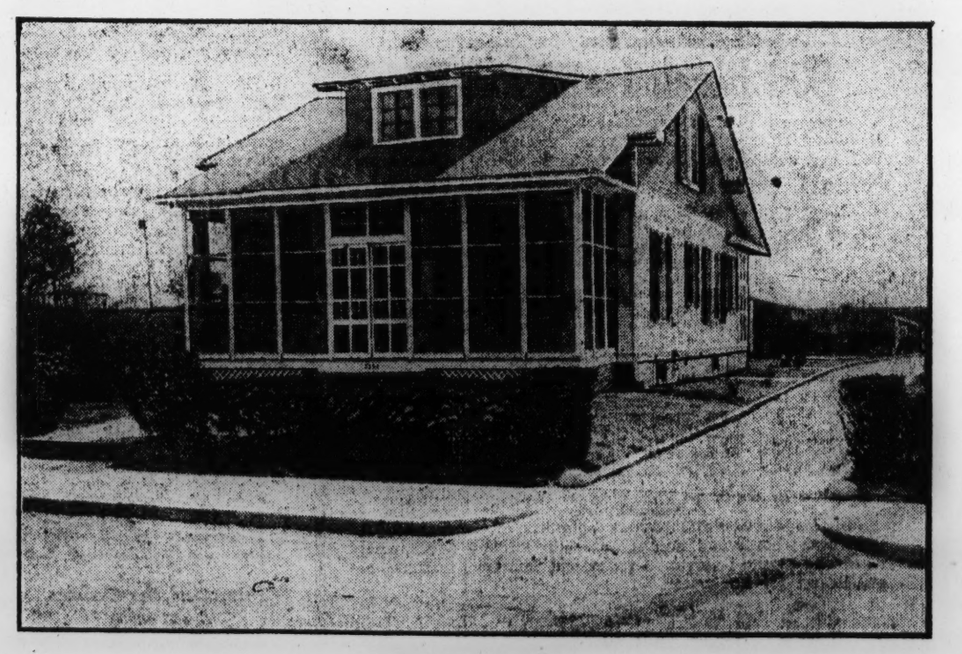

TO INSPECT
Washington Rapid Transit Bus Marked "Four Corners" Takes You Direct to This Park.

Motor out through Silver Spring to Sligo, turn right on Colesville pike at Sligo and drive about ½ mile to WYNNEWOOD PARK OFFICE.

Invest Only in Greater Washington Real Estate

THOS. E. JARRELL CO.
REALTORS
Washington Savings Bank Building Main 766
DEAL WITH A REALTOR

Beautiful Home Overlooking Washington

Ideally Situated in

George Washington Park, Virginia

ON CREST OF HIGH RIDGE WITHIN TWO BLOCKS OF FOUR MILLION DOLLAR WASHINGTON MASONIC MEMORIAL

Completely Electrically Equipped
With white enamel electric cabinet range, electrical hot-water heater, beautiful electric fixtures, 28 convenience outlets and underground electric service.

Fully Screened
Full length in every room, including sun parlor with western and southern exposure and both front and rear porches; rear porch likewise glassed in for winter.

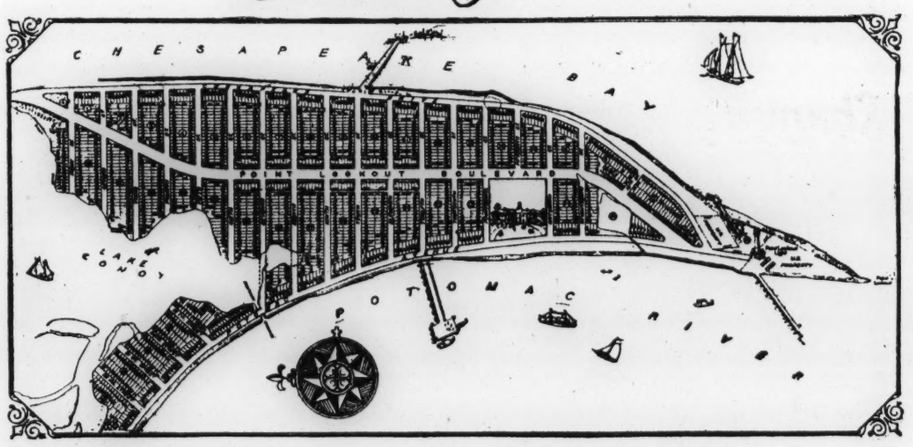

OWNER HAS BEEN TRANSFERRED TO FLORIDA AND MUST LEAVE IMMEDIATELY, SACRIFICING THIS BEAUTIFUL EIGHT-ROOM HOME

Priced for Quick Sale

With or Without Handsome Furnishings Less Than Two Years Old

GRAHAM & OGDEN
Realtors and Insurance
Phone Main 3689 or Alexandria 1300-1301
Or Your Own Broker

Announcing POINT LOOKOUT Maryland

Washington's Logical Playground

A handsome booklet with route map will be mailed upon request—or call at our office, 913 15th St. N.W.

THERE is a quiet enthusiasm in every one's nature at this time of the year when thoughts are being tuned to Summer activity.

The Point Lookout Company has met a growing need of the citizens of Washington. Far-sighted vision has resulted in the creation of a resort, fully developed, where the advantages of seashore and country are combined. No better place can be found to enjoy relief from the incessant heat of hot city pavements. Wide, hard surface State highway offers an inviting trail away from the monotony of sameness. It is located at the tip of Southern Maryland where the blue waters of the Potomac and Chesapeake Bay merge—eighty-four miles from the city, but three hours drive from the humdrum of every-day affairs. Truly a revelation to the people of the Nation's Capital.

Natural beauty has been converted into a place of ideal locations for Summer homes. Paved streets—miles of sidewalks—electricity and modern water supply are but a few of the advantages. Social life will center around a new two-hundred-room Colonial Hotel. Boulevards run north and south, down the Bay side—around the Point and up the River drive. Avenues extending east and west across the Point from Bay to River give a constant view of beautiful stretches of water where crystal cool breezes drive Summer's heat away. Canoeing on beautiful Lake Conoy's shimmering clear waters is an attraction worthy of any desire by itself.

Accessible by water, bus line or automobile, it is near enough for the family to spend the Summer and still be near enough the city. The professional man can spend his week ends without fatigue in traveling between business and pleasure.

Restriction is guaranteed. The development will cater to only those who desire a place to Summer away from the bedlam of the city where refined quietness will lend refreshment.

POINT LOOKOUT COMPANY
OWNERS AND DEVELOPERS
913 15th St. N.W. Phone Main 6147

SURF BATHING · BOATING · GOLF · TENNIS · RIDING · FISHING

Open For Inspection

$250 CASH

$59.50 Total Monthly Payment

207 Douglas St. N.E.

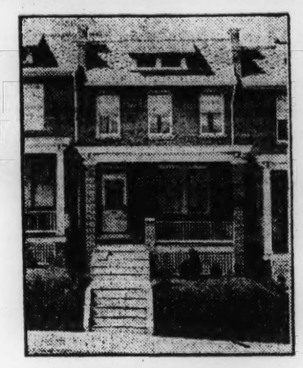

Beautiful brick home of six large rooms, colonial front porch, double rear porches, French doors from dining room to breakfast porch, daylight kitchen, three nice bedrooms, tile bath, lots of closets; full cellar, hot-water heat, electricity, gas, etc.; laundry trays and built-in garage. Condition same as new.

To reach property—Drive north on Fourth St. N.E. from Rhode Island Ave., three blocks to Douglas and then west on Douglas.

Open All Day Sunday

919 15th St. N.W. — The Joseph Shapiro Co. Inc. REALTORS — Franklin 1140

Homes You'd Just Love to Live in

Inspect Today

ONLY 2 LEFT

Price, $8,950

$500 Cash

MONTHLY PAYMENTS LESS THAN RENT

See These Real Features

Six Large Rooms	Built-in Ice Box
Covered Front Porch with Brick Columns	Sanitas on Kitchen and Bathroom Walls
Wide Entrance Hall	Bath with Built-in Tub and Tiled Shower
Outside Pantry

Sample House, 5019 7th Pl. N.W.

Also Inspect

Brand-New Corner Home
Corner of 7th and Gallatin Sts.
It's a Real Buy

Take 14th St. or Ga. Ave. car to Farragut St. and walk east to property.

Open Every Day 9 A.M. to 9 P.M.

919 15th St. N.W. — The Joseph Shapiro Co. Inc. REALTORS — Franklin 1140

DETAILS OF FINANCING SMALL HOME ARE GIVEN

National Association of Real Estate Boards Issues Pamphlet on Subject.

IT IS BY C. T. MOFFETT

Details of how the man who earns between $1,500 and $5,000 a year may finance the purchase of a home are given in a 23-page pamphlet recently issued by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

The pamphlet, a reprint from the association's Annals of Real Estate Practice, 1925, volume 12, is "The Cost of Owning and Operating a Medium-Priced Home," and is by Charles T. Moffett, of Minneapolis.

Other pamphlets recently issued by the national association are:

"Small House Construction," by Henry Brigham, Boston.

"Analysis of Community Industrial Advantages," Charles P. Wood, of New York city.

"Presenting Industrial Advantages of a City," by Robert M. Yeomans, Toronto.

"Real Estate Mortgage Bonds," by S. W. Straus, New York city.

"Financing Above the First Mortgage, by Samuel N. Reep, Minneapolis.

"Summary of Real Estate License Legislation," by Joseph K. Brittain, Chicago.

"The Farm Land Dealer and the Mortgage Banker," by F. C. Waples, Cedar Rapids.

"Preparation of Copy for Newspapers," by John M. Steele, Denver.

"Civic Control of Metropolitan Areas," by Irenaeus Shuler, Omaha.

"Real Estate Board Appraisals," being a report of the appraisal committee of 1925 and including in appendix 2 a valuable bibliography.

"Real Estate Board Activities, Education and Finance," by H. U. Nelson, Chicago.

"Special Services to Board Members," by Richard Endicott, jr., of St. Petersburg, Fla.

"Real Estate Education," by H. U. Nelson, Chicago.

Ebbitt Hotel Bonds Offered by Broker

Announcement of the first mortgage financing of the new Ebbitt hotel, Tenth and H streets northwest, was made yesterday from the Washington offices of the American Bond & Mortgage Co. The company is offering $387,500 6½ per cent first mortgage serial gold bonds secured by the property, and the bonds are unconditionally guaranteed as to prompt payment of principal and interest by Howard M. Etchison, president of the Mount Vernon Realty Corporation, owners of the property.

The Ebbitt hotel, which has just been completed, is eleven stories in height and of modern fireproof construction. The building contains 150 rooms, 146 having baths, either tub or shower, and some rooms with both. The hotel is constructed in the most modern way, and contains the finest equipment as well as the latest improvements and automatic devices of the most exclusive hostelries.

BUNGALOW HILLS BUNGALOW

Bungalow located in Hyattsville Hills, Md., erected and sold by O. B. Zantzinger to Robert B. Morse, chief engineer of the Washington Suburban Sanitary commission.

1926 CONSTRUCTION CONTRACTS EXCEED ANY FIRST QUARTER

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.)

cent from the amount reported in April of last year.

Construction contracts, awarded during April in the Central West (Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska) amounted to $126,448,000. There were decreases of 3 per cent from March, 1926, and 20 per cent from April, 1925.

The more important items of the April building record for the Central West were: $50,095,100, or 40 per cent of all construction, for residential buildings; $29,256,900, or 23 per cent, for public works and utilities; $15,496,800, or 12 per cent, for commercial buildings; $10,106,300, or 8 per cent, for industrial buildings; $9,555,600, or 8 per cent, for educational buildings, and $7,063,600, or 6 per cent, for social and recreational projects.

Construction started in the district during the past four months, amounting to $420,969,200, has decreased 1 per cent below the corresponding period of 1925.

Contemplated new work reported for the district in April amounted to $270,425,600, which was a decrease of 1 per cent from the amount reported in March, 1926, but was an increase of 42 per cent over the amount reported in April of last year.

In Southeastern States.

Construction started last month in the Southeastern States (the Carolinas, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana) reached a total of $80,593,500. The decrease from March was 7 per cent, but there was an increase of 59 per cent over April of last year. Included in the April record were: $33,083,200, or 41 per cent of all construction, for residential buildings; $16,902,200, or 21 per cent, for public works and utilities; $11,700,900, or 15 per cent, for commercial buildings; $9,261,200, or 11 per cent, for industrial buildings, and $4,662,600, or 6 per cent, for educational buildings.

Construction started in the Southeastern States during the past four months has totaled $318,150,100, being an increase of 68 per cent over the figure for the corresponding four months of 1925.

Contemplated new work reported for the district last month amounted to $123,366,800, being a decrease of 25 per cent from the amount reported in March, 1925, as well as a decrease of 13 per cent from the amount reported in April of last year.

Building and engineering contracts were awarded last month to the amount of $11,385,700 in the Northwest (Minnesota, the Dakotas and Northern Michigan). This was a decrease of 6 per cent from March 1926, but an increase of 25 per cent over April of last year. Last month's record included: $4,663,600, or 41 per cent of all construction, for residential buildings; $1,847,000, or 16 per cent, for public works and utilities; $1,670,600, or 15 per cent, for commercial buildings; $1,132,100, or 10 per cent for educational buildings; and $966,500, or 8 per cent, for industrial buildings.

New construction started in the district during the first four months of this year reached a total of $32,772,100, being an increase of 26 per cent over the figure for the corresponding period of 1925.

Contemplated new work reported for the Northwest in April amounted to $17,871,800, being an increase of 8 per cent over the amount reported in March and of 16 per cent over the amount reported in April of last year.

Texas had $18,360,500 in contracts for new building and engineering work last month. This was a decrease of 13 per cent from the total of March contracts and also a decrease of 11 per cent from the amount reported in April of last year. Last month's record included: $7,366,300, or 40 per cent of all construction, for residential buildings; $4,128,700, or 22 per cent, for industrial buildings; $2,287,900, or 12 per cent, for public works and utilities; $1,438,400, or 8 per cent, for commercial buildings; and $1,235,100, or 7 per cent, for educational buildings.

Construction started in Texas during the first four months of 1926 has amounted to $69,402,100, being an increase of 25 per cent over the corresponding period of 1925.

Contemplated construction projects were reported for Texas in April to the amount of $28,348,800, being a 35 per cent decrease from the amount reported in March, and a 7 per cent increase over the amount reported in April of last year.

$2 Down Monthly

No Interest!! For a Lot in

COME OUT SUNDAY AND SEE—

CARMODY HILLS

Lots, $50.00 to $250.00

ITS GROWTH has been steady and sure—its FUTURE IS BRIGHT. Carmody Hills appeals to the man or woman who wishes to invest money wisely, as much as it appeals to the prospective home owner. Carmody Hills is close to the city, reached by fast car lines, yet is high and healthy. Carmody Hills has over 4½ miles of improved streets and 4,000 feet of electric lights. Water mains being laid along Carmody road.

NO LOTS RESERVED—BRING YOUR DEPOSIT—they are selling fast. TO INSPECT: Drive out Benning Road to Central Ave., to 61st St. N.E., left on 61st street to trolley line. Then follow Carmody Hills arrows or take H Street car to District Line, N.E. Our autos at 61st and Dix Streets will take you to property. Salesman on grounds daily. Phone Lincoln 6771—or mail coupon to me.

O. B. Zantzinger

Owner and Developer

10th and K Sts. N. W. Main 5371 — 61st and Dix Sts. N. E. Lincoln 6771

MEMBER OF WASHINGTON REAL ESTATE BOARD

O. B. Zantzinger, (P) Owner and Developer, 10th and K Sts. N.W.

Without obligation please send folder and plat of Carmody Hills.

Name .....

Address .....

We're Ready Now

with the most picturesque Homes in this section

ChevyChase Terrace

—and we want you to inspect—today—with an eye to their splendid setting—as well as consideration of the effective designs and practical planning.

There's nothing to compare—either with the Homes themselves or their location.

Detached Homes—Center Hall and Cottage types—on very wide and deep lots—50 to 75 feet wide and over 130 feet deep—one and two baths—artistic fireplaces; cozy porches; thoroughly equipped kitchens—and with separate garage to match.

Each home is on a large lot, prettily landscaped—and all utilities are installed.

$12,950 to $15,950

With Conveniently Adjusted Terms.

Open All Day and Evening Sundays
Noon to Nine Week Days

Chevy Chase Terrace is but 20 minutes' motor ride from the heart of the city. Motor out Connecticut Avenue, through Bradley Lane, turn South on Wisconsin Avenue, or straight out the new Wisconsin Avenue Boulevard—and directly opposite the Golf Course of the Chevy Chase Club is the entrance to Chevy Chase Terrace.

Or we will send one of our Autos.

CAFRITZ

Owner and Builder of Communities

14 & K Sts. — M. 9080

Eventually You will Want to Own a Home and Live Somewhere in the

CHEVY CHASE SECTION

Our offices are located in the heart of the development, we handle properties in this general direction only, and can and do render as good service as any other broker. Drive out to handle properties in this general direction only, and have one of our salesmen show you around. These men know the Section, know values, and know general conditions as to covenants, restrictions, regulations and zoning. THESE ARE ALL IMPORTANT ITEMS.

Make Your Selection NOW

Edw. H. Jones & Co.,
Incorporated
CHEVY CHASE ARCADE BUILDING
5520-22 Connecticut Ave.

Real Estate Values Are Increasing at Ocean City, Maryland. For Sale

Two new modern houses in the most exclusive ocean block of Ocean City, Md., now being completed. Picturesque white clapboard-green roofs.

Main floor—Large living room with fireplace, sun parlor, guest room with toilet, dining room, kitchen, storeroom.

Sleeping floor—Three double rooms, two baths, ample closets.

Basement—Garage, maid's room and toilet; pipeless heater, shower bath.

Price, $15,000.

For Further Particulars, Apply

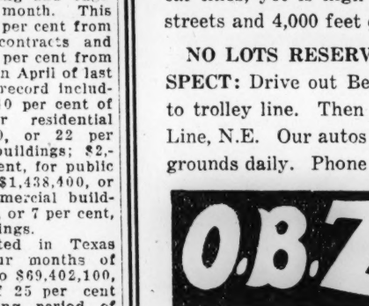

Maryland Seashore Corporation
321 N. 3d St., Philadelphia, Pa., or W. W. McCabe, Ocean City, Md., or Your Own Broker.

Give the Kiddies a Chance!

Let them enjoy healthful outdoor games, away from the dangers of congested traffic, where their little lungs will be filled with fresh air—where there is an abundance of shade trees, flowers and shrubbery—where children THRIVE—where country advantages and city conveniences are combined—

GARRETT PARK

A Sylvan Garden Spot in Nearby Maryland

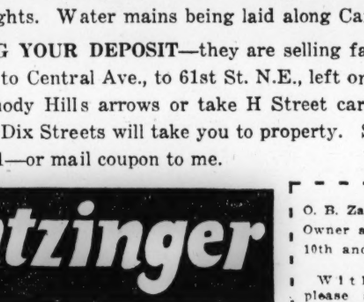

Typical Bungalow Home

Only 25 Minutes Away By Auto or Rail

Excellent Roads

Nearby Trolley Rapid Train Service

Select Yours NOW

You will be surprised to learn how easily you can acquire a real bungalow home, equipped with long-distance radio.

A garage and fine new auto will be included in the same purchase if desired.

INSPECT TODAY

Proceed north on Connecticut Ave. to Kensington, thence half mile west to Garrett Park

—OR—

North on Wisconsin Ave. and Rockville Pike to Georgetown Preparatory School, thence east one-quarter mile.

Maddux, Marshall, Moss & Mallory INC.

923 FIFTEENTH STREET

Main 10134 — Washington, D. C.

DEAL WITH. — A REALTOR

For Further Information—Mail This Coupon Today

Maddux, Marshall, Moss & Mallory, Inc., (T) 923 Fifteenth Street, Washington, D. C.

Gentleman: Without cost or obligation to me, please mail a copy of your illustrated brochure regarding GARRETT PARK.

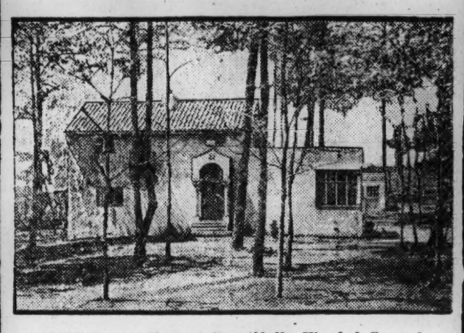

Name .....

Address .....

BATTERY PARK · EDGEMOOR · GARRETT PARK

PICTURESQUE DWELLING
Surrounded by Towering Trees

6900 Glenbrook Road

43,000 Square Feet of Beautifully Wooded Ground
Well-Kept Garden
Stucco Over Hollow Tile
Tile Roof
8 Rooms; 3 Baths
Appealing Living Room With Black Tile Floor and Fine Fireplace
Bright Dining Room With Eight Steel Windows
Cozy Den With Rough Red Tile Floor
Attractive Inlaid Concrete Porch
Exceptionally Large Bedroom With Large Tile Bath (shower over tub), on First Floor
Well-Equipped Kitchen With Inlaid Linoleum Floor
Maid's Room and Bath
2-Car Garage

Here is a place that will appeal to those who not only require the utmost in comfort and convenience, but who demand good taste in physical surroundings and in their casual acquaintances as well as closer friendships.

Inspect Today

MADDUX, MARSHALL, MOSS & MALLORY, INC.
REALTORS
923 FIFTEENTH STREET···MAIN 10134
CALL SUBURBAN OFFICE, BETHESDA 174, FROM 5 TO 9 P.M. & HOLIDAYS

WARM WEATHER AIDS RURAL REALTY DEMAND

Maddux, Marshall, Moss & Mallory Report Wide Calls for Homes.

STEADY GROWTH IS SEEN

Arrival of spring weather has brought the "own-your-own-home" idea sharply to the forefront in Washington, according to officials of Maddux, Marshall, Moss & Mallory, realtors. The demand for homes, especially of the suburban type, is growing by leaps and bounds, they declare.

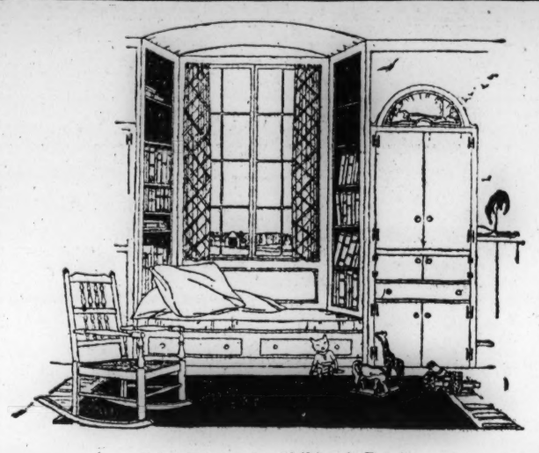

"The average layman would be astonished to learn the number of people who visit Edgemoor, Battery Park and Garrett Park every day," said Maj. Maddux, president of the company, yesterday. "We have inquiries for everything from a modest home for the salaried man to an estate for the independently wealthy citizen who seeks rural quietude with city conveniences, and thanks to our diversified holdings we are able to accommodate all classes of inquirers.

"These three sections, as you can see, give us an opportunity to observe the demand for homes in all price ranges and the demand for homes is steadily growing.

"Understand me, there is no so-called 'boom' in the National Capital. Greater Washington, I have always believed, is destined to have a population of a million or more and it is the steady growth toward this goal that is creating the demand for homes, combined, of course, with the demand of the families who, tired of living in apartments, are seeking homes of their own.

"I look for record-breaking business in real estate lines this summer."

QUICK LESSONS IN DECORATING

Color Scheme for Children's Rooms.

Children's rooms should be crisp and fresh in appearance, simple in their furnishings and, above all, colorful. Below are color schemes that are easy to work out and result in unusually effective rooms.

In a room for a very young child the walls and woodwork might be shell pink and the furniture painted a soft cream, decorated with bunches of pastel colored flowers or lined in blue and pink. Glazed chintz, a charming material for a nursery because of its crisp appearance, with a white ground and a design of small prim pink roses, should be used for curtains. They may have knife-pleated ruffles or be bound with blue chintz. One chair to be done in this material and one in pink linen piped in blue. A blue rug with enough pattern in it to keep every footprint from showing, white muslin bedspreads over pink sateen and lamps painted blue with pink organdie shades would make a charming child's room.

Yellow walls are good in children's rooms because of their cheerful, light-giving quality. In a dark room one might have pale yellow walls and curtains of yellow organdie made with knife-pleated ruffles about two inches wide, and furniture painted blue with yellow lines. A flowered chintz in rose, blue and yellow might be used to cover one chair. Another chair can have a covering of pink and white striped linen or yellow sateen and the bedspreads should be of blue sateen or poplin—the color of the bed. A few colored prints on the walls of appropriate subjects should have narrow blue frames and the lamps might be made of colorful Italian pottery urns with yellow pleated glazed chintz shades bound in blue.

There are many delightful wall papers suitable to children's rooms. With a flowered paper, one should use plain hangings. A paper with a graceful flower design that has rose, blue and yellow in it might be combined with cream woodwork and blue linen or organdie curtains scalloped and bound in yellow. Here it would be interesting to cover the furniture in a striped blue and cream fabric, with one chair done in yellow sateen. The bedspreads should be yellow sateen scalloped and bound in blue and the furniture can be either walnut, mahogany or painted cream color.

(Copyright by House and Garden.)

REALTORS WOULD SWEAR TO OBEY ETHICS CODE

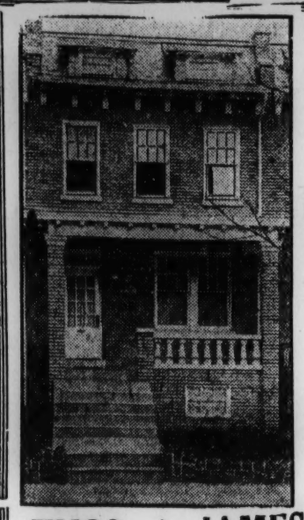

Term Could Be Applied Only After Affidavit Had Been Made.

WILL COME UP AT TULSA

A signed affirmation to abide by the realtors' code of ethics would be required of all persons who become qualified to use the title realtor, according to a proposed amendment to the by-laws of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, which was approved by the board of directors of the association at a quarterly meeting just concluded at headquarters of the association, Chicago. It is proposed that the affirmations be filed at the association's headquarters.

While all active members of a constituent board of the association are, under the present wording of the constitution, pledged to conform to the code of ethics of the national body, a regulation such as

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 11, COLUMN 3.)

Jameson-Built Homes
920 to 924 Quincy St. N.W.
Only 2 squares from 14th St. car line.
Inspect at Once

Six large rooms, tiled bath, h.-w.h., electric lights, hardwood floors and trim, one-piece sink, built-in ice box, instantaneous water heater, and other extras. Double rear porches, cement front porch. With or without built-in garage.

"Ask the man who owns one"

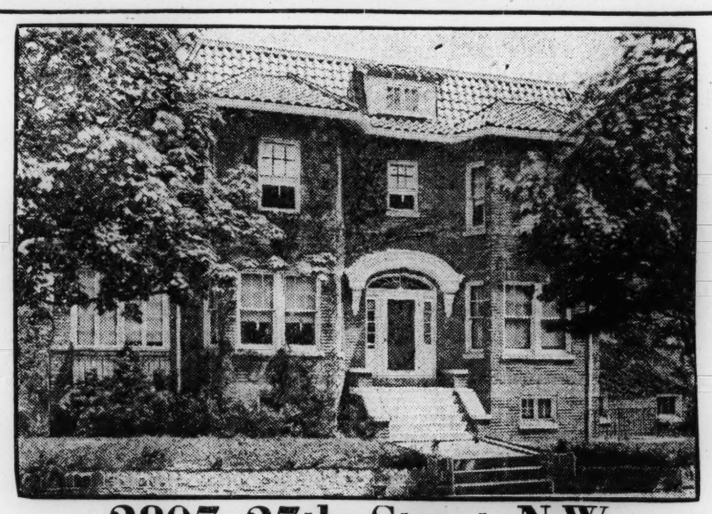

For Sale by
THOS. A. JAMESON COMPANY
906 New York Ave. N.W. Main 5526

Banker Purchases Lee Heights Estate

An interesting real estate transaction of the last week was the purchase of the Hyzer estate in the Lee Heights section of Arlington county by Charles D. Boyer, cashier of the Federal American National Bank. The sale was made by the office of Ruby Lee Minar.

The property contains more than three acres and is improved by a seven-room dwelling of English type, designed by Upman & Adams, of Washington. It was owned by the late Judge Edward M. Hyzer and is situated on the Glebe road near its intersection with Lee highway, one of the highest points around Washington. The estate was represented in the negotiations by Leland Hyzer, of Godard & Hyzer, attorneys, Miami, Fla.

Good Jobs
are not hard to find when you use The Post's Situations Wanted column in searching for them. Some of the best concerns in the city turn invariably to The Post when in need of competent help.

2807 27th Street N.W.
A Corner Home overlooking grounds of The Wardman Park Hotel

One square west of Connecticut Avenue is this beautiful center-hall, eight-room residence with two white tiled baths. The large living room has an open fireplace, and from it entrance is gained to a glassed-in sun porch.

It is thoroughly modern in every appointment, with hardwood floors throughout, and is in beautiful condition.

Light tapestry brick construction, with tile mansard roof, balance metal.

This Home Is a Splendid Buy
Price, $22,500
Open All Day Sunday for Your Inspection

SHANNON & LUCHS INC.
713 14th St. N.W. EXCLUSIVE AGENTS Main 2345

Here Is Your Opportunity To Secure
A New Modern Home
at a low price of $6,950
Very Easy Terms
Open For Inspection All Day Sunday
Representative On Premises
SAMPLE HOUSE
811 20th St. N.E.

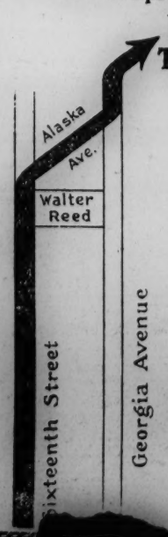

Six rooms and bath, hot-water heat, electric lights, hardwood floors and modern in every respect.
Long lot to alley. Room for garage.

J. DALLAS GRADY
904 14th St. N.W.
Main 6181

BLAIR-TAKOMA
Section Three $6,500 HOMES

$300 Cash—$58 Monthly
Silver Spring

Other Bungalows
$8,500—$400 Cash
$65 Monthly
$9,900—$800 Cash
$90 Monthly

Near Schools, Churches and business section
Water, sewer, macadam roads, cement sidewalks
Built-in garages

Colonial Homes
$10,900—$12,500

North Washington Realty Co.
Incorporated
E. Brooke Lee P. Blair Lee
Owner—Builder—Agent
Columbia 9824 Realtors Woodside 200

NOW IS THE TIME
to acquire
Your Summer Home Site at HERALD HARBOR
on-the-Severn
Unlike Any Other---27 Miles from D. C. via fine new roads

Herald Harbor is the most talked about Home Summer Colony in the East.

3,000 owners are united in making it, in 10 years, Maryland's second city.

Shaded beach and boardwalk—salt water—good fishing—boating—dancing—camping.

We have our own sawmill, electric light and water company, Club House, bus line.

Club plan of payment makes land ownership within the reach of everyone—400 homes built.

We assist in financing your building — many attractive plans to choose from.

Ask for our free illustrated booklets explaining our Club Plan.

A rare investment opportunity—values increased 300 per cent first year—1926 will be our biggest year.

$110 Will buy a bungalow building lot.—Easy terms.

BUS Leaves 1321 N. Y. Ave. Sunday 10 A. M. Meals at Clubhouse.

HERALD HARBOR, INC.
1321 N. Y. Ave. N. W. M—2621-2622-2066

MAIL COUPON TODAY
Wilson L. Baker, jr., Gen. Mgr.
Herald Harbor, Inc.
1321 New York Ave. N. W.
Washington, D. C.
Please send illustrated booklet and copy of the HERALD HARBOR BEACON explaining more about Washington's largest and most popular home summer colony.
NAME .....
ADDRESS .....
PHONE .....

An Assortment of Beautiful New Homes

YOU would travel far and wide to find homes that could surpass these — from any standpoint. Of brick construction, and unusually artistic.

823 Sheridan Street N. W.

Each home has six attractive rooms and bath, with built-in tub. Hardwood floors throughout. The heating plant is hot-water system, with automatic hot-water storage tank. The front porch is large, and of concrete. Double rear porches and Built-in Garage.

These Homes Are Built by Samuel R. Harris Co., Inc., "Builders of Good Homes"

Only $8,975—Easy Terms

5029 41st St. N. W. (41st and Garrison)

Particularly appealing, brand-new, detached homes of 6 beautiful rooms and tiled bath. All modern improvements. Hardwood floors, open fireplace, spacious porches, generous lot, etc. Conveniently located; high elevation.

Only $11,000
On Most Accommodating Terms

N. W. Cor. 32d and McKinley Sts.
Chevy Chase, D. C.

New, Distinctive, Corner Residence Just Completed, First Showing

Eight beautiful large rooms and two complete tiled baths, with shower. Open fireplace, breakfast room, conservatory, enormous living room, opening out to spacious porch, extra large cedar lined storage closets, cold storage room. Garage to match the house. A beautiful corner lot with shade trees.

Priced Remarkably Low Agreeable Terms

3911 Livingston Street
Chevy Chase, D. C.

In a setting of beautiful trees, this unusual center-hall type home, with its stone terraced lawn, offers an amazing value.

9 large rooms and 3 baths. A commodious living room, open fireplace and many other unusual features make up this home.

2-Car Garage
Attractively Priced—Liberal Terms

3179 PORTER Street N. W.

Eight splendid rooms, masterfully arranged; two baths, with latest fixtures; conservatory, breakfast room, garage and many other delightful features you will appreciate. Priced comfortably.

$16,500—12 Shepherd St., Chevy Chase, Md.

A beautiful new house of eight large rooms and two baths on a lot 60 feet by 120. A two car garage to match the house.

This house, just completed, is one of the prettiest properties in exclusive Chevy Chase.

The charming exterior design is in keeping with such interior refinements as hardwood floors throughout, large open fireplace; four large bed rooms and two pretty tiled baths.

Closet space in abundance and a wide back porch, as well as a high, light, dry cellar complete a brief description of this property.

Drive out Connecticut Ave. to Shepherd St. Turn East a few steps to house.

Open Sunday for Inspection

WILLIAM K. HARTUNG & CO.
Realtors
1108 16th Street N.W. Main 371

Think

—of this house before you buy. Eight large rooms, bath, electricity, and other modern improvements.

Ready for occupancy at once. Open for inspection, Sunday 10:30 A.M. to 6 P.M. Our salesman on premises.

604 A Street N.E.

REASONABLE PRICE AT EASY TERMS

HARRY A. KITE INC

1514 K ST., N.W.

MAIN 4846

One of the Most Attractive Brick Houses in

Chevy Chase, D. C.

3909 Jocelyn Street

It has nine rooms, three baths; it is a center-hall Colonial-type house, with slate roof, built-in garage; large living room, with fireplace; concrete living porch; hardwood floors throughout; in fact, every fine, modern appointment. Beautiful lot, 70 by 205 feet.

The price is far less than you would expect to pay. The terms are most interesting.

OPEN ALL DAY SUNDAY

Connecticut Ave. by car or auto to Jocelyn St.—thence west to No. 3909

ALLAN E. WALKER & CO., Inc.

Owners and Builders

813 15th St. N.W. Main 2690

A thought for today BY GEO. H. RUCKER CO.'S THINKER

DON'T BE A RENT DRIFTER. MAKE A START TOWARD YOUR OWN HOME.

The only dividends that rent ever pays is anxiety. Start paying for your own home, and stop worrying about the future. We'll show you how the rent you are paying will do it.

REAL ESTATE INSURANCE Geo. H. Rucker Co. TEL. CLARENDON 197 EVENINGS & SUNDAY 758 or 42 CLARENDON, VA.

Two new 5-room bungalows near Ballston, situated on Wilson boulevard. Each bungalow has all conveniences except gas. Plenty of shade.

Price, $5,600. Easy Terms

Five-room bungalow with all modern improvements, on large corner lot; garage of construction to match house; wonderfully constructed home with three large porches and beautiful shade trees.

Reasonable Price.

Five-room bungalow with all modern improvements; large lawn with beautiful shade trees. Price—

$7,950.

Six-room semibungalow, stone-block construction, finished with marble; centrally located on lot 50x175; contains all improvements, including gas, electricity, sewerage and water. Price—

$9,800—Small Cash Payment.

Seven-room home with every convenience and improvements; hot-water heat; large living room with fireplace, 3 bedrooms with large closets, tile bath, excellent fixtures throughout and complete cellar; large lot attractively landscaped; 2-car garage. Price—

$11,500—Terms.

Five-room bungalow with all conveniences except gas; 6 lots and lots of fruit. This property is located at Ballston and can be bought for $5,500, quick sale.

Five-room bungalow with all conveniences, situated in Clarendon, and is well worth the money at $5,250; $500 cash and $55 per month.

OPEN ALL DAY SUNDAY

3 BUILT 2 SOLD

6316 Meadow Lane

A Beauty Spot of

Chevy Chase, Md.

A true colonial new brick home with center-hall plan, and open fireplace in a picturesque location where trees abound, surrounded by many beautiful homes, giving an atmosphere of quietness with convenience to cars and schools.

This home has 8 rooms and 2 baths, 4 bedrooms and beautifully planned, affording every possible convenience. A true home worthy of your immediate inspection.

With Garage on Large Lot

1516 K St. DOUGLASS & PHILLIPS Fr. 5678

INC.

Owners and Builders.

POST WANT ADS PAY

CELLARS MADE LIGHTER BY STEEL CASEMENTS

Once Dark Part of House Is Attractive With Metal Windows.

NOW USED AS PLAYROOM

By JOHN K. BLITZ.

"Mother, may I go out to play?" Only mother knows how many times this plea must be denied because of disagreeable weather.

To many a woman, the basement has proved a heaven-sent solution of the play problem. No longer damp and cold and dark, this long-neglected portion of the house has blossomed forth into a room, or rooms, as bright and cheerful as those upstairs. Waterproofing of concrete walls has played its part; so has the efficient, compact "heating unit" which replaces the bulky old-style furnace; so have steel basement windows, with glass areas from 40 to 80 per cent greater than were possible in the wood frames and sash of an earlier day.

The average steel basement window, occupying no more wall space than a wood one, gives nearly half as much light as the average window used in the upper parts of the house—even when these are steel casements, which also give more light than double-hung wood windows. Therefore, with two steel basement windows providing as much daylight as one upstairs window, plus 100 per cent ventilation, it has become not only possible but usual to partition the modern basement into separate rooms, each adequately lighted by the sun.

This means not only an individual playroom for the children, where their toys and games are free from grown-up interference, but also a fruit cellar, a laundry and den or workshop, in addition to the furnace room—each as bright and airy as any room above. A basement today is really another floor added to the home.

Not the least of the virtues of the steel basement window is its combination of appearance with utility. The frame and sash are fashioned of slender rolled steel bars. Substantial hinges are riveted in place. A wedge locking device, attached to the sash with a steel chain, locks the window against intruders, or, hooked on a nail, holds the sash wide open. Double contact between frame and sash excludes moisture.

REALTORS SWEAR TO OBEY ETHICS CODE

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 10.)

is proposed, would put that pledge formally on file, both with the local board and the national association, under each new member's signature. Formal signing of a pledge to abide by the code of ethics is already required by a number of member boards.

The proposed regulation will come before the entire delegate body of the association for final action at its coming annual convention, to be held in Tulsa, Okla., June 8 to 11.

The text of the proposed amendment is as follows:

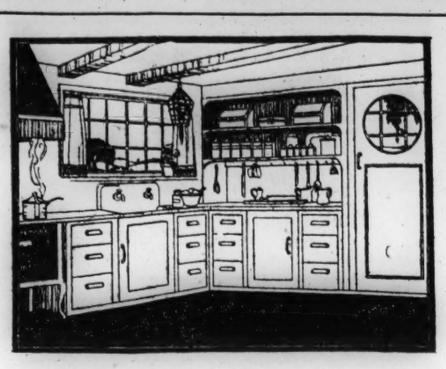

As a condition of election of new active members who will, under the regulations of the national association, be entitled to use the term realtor in connection with their business, member boards shall require each applicant for such active membership to sign a statement affirming that he has read the code of ethics of the national association, and agreeing to be governed by it in all of his business transactions.

Such statement shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the board of directors of the national association, and shall be in duplicate, one copy to be retained by the member board, and the other to be sent to the national association, and recorded.

Don't Throw It Away.

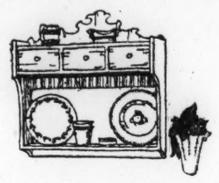

Advertise that used article that you are about to discard in the Miscellaneous For Sale column of The Post. Buyers of used furniture and the like—at fair prices, too—are more plentiful than you may think.

COLOR IN THE KITCHEN

As kitchens become more and more convenient to the hand, more and more laboratory-like, we are apt to lose sight of the old charms and overstress shining white porcelain and metallic efficiency. There is, of necessity, so much shining metal and enamel that such colors as we bring into the kitchen may be strong ones. There is a certain amount of color always established, the white of the tiles or enamel, the black of the stove and heavier pots and pans, the glitter of bright aluminum and nickel, the occasional strong crude spot of copper, and the terra cotta of brick and earthenware. The most successful colors to add to these are fresh, pure ones.

Trying to make a kitchen too pretty may easily become a silly performance, but if decoration meets the requirements of cleanliness and has a certain relation to the crude shapes of pots and pans and such, there is no reason why we should not indulge our taste for art here.

A house built in the Italian style might have a floor of linoleum blocks, huge black squares separated by gray lines, the walls and ceiling washed with lemon yellow, and the trim stained a dark Italian walnut. A pair of old Venetian kitchen cupboards, yellow glazed to a faded tone, painted with baskets spilling over with turnips and carrots and such, could be used, and a working table of a slab of yellow marble placed under the window, supported by a pair of wrought iron brackets. This kitchen console is quite as useful as a white enamel table, and very decorative as well. Curtains of a heavy washable orange linen, and a set of cloths and napkins of the same line for intimate breakfasts make a thoroughly delightful spot.

The average American kitchen is small, and therefore must be compact and shipshape. A small kitchen must have washable walls, but a large room, with plenty of windows, may have its walls papered. In Falls Village, Conn., there is a refreshing kitchen in a remodeled farmhouse. Several doors and windows supply adequate air, so the walls, which are covered with a large green and white lattice paper, are immaculate after several years' use. The doors and shelves and tables are painted bright green, and the floor is covered with a plain dark green linoleum. The doors here have long full curtains of black mosquito netting, which keep flies out and give the coolest effect.

(Copyright by House and Garden.)

North Dakota Society Committees Named

Charles Hamel, president of the North Dakota society, has announced the appointment of committees for the organization during the ensuing year. The committee on membership includes: Lorin C. Nelson, chairman; Mrs. Percy S. Crewe, Mrs. William R. Nielson, J. H. Sinclair and Mrs. Elizabeth H. Knudtsen.

The committee on entertainment is Charles E. Boyle, chairman; David Shorb and Miss Ida Serumgard. For the committee on publicity, Miss Grace Hudson, chairman, and Miss Emma P. Lincoln, and the committee on bylaws, M. B. Hildreth and Allan E. Gray.

Your Children Will Thank You

If You Select a Home Site in

Rock Creek Hills

Washington's Home Area Beautiful

Fronting on Sixteenth Street and Surrounded by Park

The prices are surprisingly reasonable.

The location—on 16th street running back to and surrounded by Rock Creek Park—is ideal.

Sites are immediately available for building—water, sewer, other public services and paved streets provided for.

An excellent place for a home site.

A splendid investment.

For entrance—pending grading of 16th Street—drive out 16th to Alaska Ave., thence to Holly St., West on Holly St. to 16th. Or phone for an appointment Sunday—Columbia 6433.

R. E. Latimer LAND Company

Evans Building Phone on Property

Main 2195 Columbia 6433

Springtime

At this most fascinating season of the year every lover of nature in and around our glorious city yields to an irresistible desire to venture forth and enjoy the marvelous beauties which have been provided so generously for us.

Your complete gratification cannot be attained until you have visited

Wesley Heights

Miller Designed Miller Built

"The Garden Spot of Washington"

Here, as in no other section of Washington, you will find a complete harmony of nature's handiwork and the ingenuity of man, making available for you a community of distinctively designed homes in a setting of sacredly preserved trees and contours of the land.

OPEN DAILY, 2 P. M. to 9 P. M. OPEN SUNDAY, 10 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Exhibit House

4530 Klingle Street N.W.

Ten minutes from your office with Massachusetts avenue as its approach.

Motor out Massachusetts avenue, across Wisconsin avenue, into Cathedral avenue. Or take the Wesley Heights bus at Twentieth and P streets.

W. C. AND A. N. MILLER

Builders—Realtors

Eleven Nineteen Seventeenth Main One Seven Nine Two

ALASKA TRAIN CREW FORMED OF BANKERS

President of First National, of Anchorage, Conductor; Engineer Director.

Anchorage, Alaska, May 8 (By A. P.).—Uncle Sam's Alaska railroad is one where the principal members of the passenger crew are bankers.

The regular passenger train between Seward and Curry has the president of the First National Bank of Anchorage as its conductor; a director in the same bank sits on the right side of the cab, while a heavy stockholder in the same institution is fireman. A lesser stockholder places the step for passengers to alight from the coaches.

The bank to which these railroaders are attached is controlled and financed almost exclusively by railroad employes, ranging from section men to high officials of the operating staff. Frank Knight, the president, is a veteran conductor who came to Alaska with the building of the railroad. Charles Matheson, director and heavy stockholder, is an old-time engineer. He also came North with the railroad.

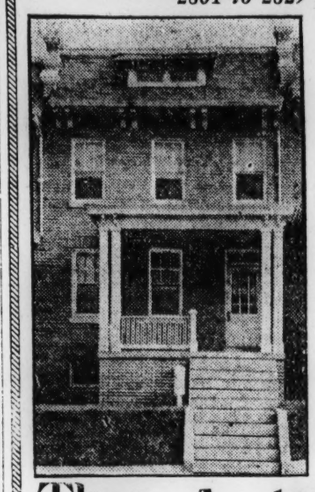

There are more than 1,500 depositors in the bank which has a capital stock of $50,000 and approximately $600,000 in deposits.

Painters and Paperhangers are using the classified ad pages of The Post to highly profitable, business-getting results. There's room for more. Phone Main 4205 for details.

First Time Offered

Jameson-Built Homes

2801 to 2829 5th N.E.

Priced Under $7,000

Inspect at Once

Easy Terms

Here is a home within the reach of any purse. Moderately priced, yet complete in every detail. Located in Washington's newest subdivision—

"Metropolis View"

Tapestry brick, 6 large rooms and bath, hot-water heat, electric lights and beautiful fixtures; built-in refrigerator; large front and double rear porches; laundry tubs; large rear yard to wide alley. An excellent home that is complete.

To reach property, go out Rhode Island Ave. N.E. to Fourth St., and go north on Fourth St. to Franklin St., and then go east one square to property. For sale by Thos. A. Jameson Co.

Owner and Builder

906 New York Ave. N.W.

Main 5526—Ask the Man Who Owns One

CHEVY CHASE

A NEW SUB-DIVISION

Now Being Platted for Record

20% Discount to Early Buyers

Pending Completion of Street Improvements

UNDER our special arrangement for financing you can build a house according to your own plans at a location which you select—and, if in CHEVY CHASE, the best location possible to select in the District of Columbia—pay for it monthly like rent and save 20% of the total cost. Only a small amount of cash is required in advance. Let us explain the proposition to you.

CHEVY CHASE is located due northwest from Washington. When you buy a lot in CHEVY CHASE you buy more than a lot—you buy the result of thirty years' continuous successful development by the Chevy Chase Land Company, embracing all the modern improvements known in suburban development. From now on values will likely advance much faster than before, owing to greatly reduced available properties to offer.

We Are Exclusive Agents for the Chevy Chase Land Co.

IF you desire a home in CHEVY CHASE, let us know of it.

Thomas J. Fisher & Co., Inc.

Agents

738 15th Street N. W. Main 6830

New Chevy Chase Homes

Eight Rooms and Two Baths

Visit Sample House—5105 Conn. Ave.

COMPLETELY FURNISHED BY COURTESY OF NELSON FURNITURE CO.

5101-5123 Conn. Avenue
5201-5205 Chevy Chase Parkway

Day by day the attractions of this locality accumulate. To live in one of these homes is to experience genuine happiness indeed.

These charming homes have the utmost in comfort and convenience—radiating life of color and charm of art—homes that you could live in all your life and cherish all your days.

$17,950 To $18,750 Attractively Financed

Open Daily and Sunday From 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Here are some of the host of features one commonly associates with homes costing around $22,000 and $25,000:

Terraced lawn, beautifully landscaped. Concrete floored front porch. Roman travetined walls. Fireplace in living room. All-white kitchen, with built-in refrigerator. Master bedrooms, ample in size. Double flooring. Oak floors.

KAY-SCHNIDER-KAY CO.

Realtors INVESTMENT BUILDING Franklin 513

Night Phone, Cleveland 4150

THE WASHINGTON POST
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
Word Rate
3 CENTS A WORD

Per day in agate type for ads running one or two days or nonconsecutive insertions. No ad accepted for less than 10 words or 30c. One line of 10-point type equals two agate lines.

House, Apartment or Rooms Wanted.
Furniture for Sale, Except From Dealers
Situations Wanted.
Business Opportunities
Ads Must Be Paid for at Time Ad Is Inserted.

Cash receipts must be presented when requesting refund.

The Post reserves the right to edit and classify all advertisements. Also the right to reject ads that it deems objectionable.

Notify The Post IMMEDIATELY if your ad is incorrect. Not responsible for errors after the first insertion.

Advertisers may use a "blind" address if desired, and The Post Box Numbers are at their disposal at no additional cost.

The Post does everything within its power to censor the classified ads and keep them perfectly clean and honest, and would appreciate it if any reader will call its attention to any ad that they know to be misleading, fraudulent or misclassified.

CLOSING TIME FOR ADS
Is 9 p. m. for the daily edition and 6 p. m., Saturday, for the Sunday edition.

TELEPHONE YOUR AD TO
MAIN 4205
And ask for "Classified Department."

An Accommodation Charge Account will be extended to those having a telephone listed in their own name. A bill will be mailed after the first insertion.

Discontinuance Orders Will Not Be Received by Telephone. Must Be Made in Writing.

LOST

COAT—Gray, lost from automobile, between Clifton and T on 14th, Friday; reward. 1470 Clifton st. Columbia 10384. 10

BOSTON BAG, containing flashlight powder and apparatus for taking flashlight photographs. Call Franklin 7261. 9

SMALL box, containing brass navy buttons; Thursday p. m., in Palace theater. Reward. Cleveland 3820. 10

POLICE DOG—Female; light tan color; no collar; vicinity of 11th and G sts. nw.; liberal reward. Return 222 C st. nw. 9

WALLET—On Sunday, April 24, containing bills, receipts and operator's, auto license; liberal reward. Harry F. Smith, 1000 E st. nw. 9

KEYRING—About week ago; 6 keys; one No. 489, and button hook. Write to Box 570, Washington Post. 9

POODLE—White, female; pink nose, pink eyes. Reward. 303 N. Y. ave. nw. 9

CLAIRVOYANTS

LICENSED BY DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

MADAME DE LAINE
Always consult the best. Most gifted clairvoyant and psychic card reader; has no equal.
725 11TH ST. N.W. 9,12

21 YEARS' SUCCESSFUL PRACTICE IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

Martha Spencer
ONE OF THE WORLD'S MOST DISTINGUISHED PSYCHOLOGISTS AND SCIENTIFIC LIFE READERS.
Studio, 924 14th St. N. W.

Have an interview with this wonderful woman and be convinced personally of the honesty and sincerity of her work.

WITHOUT ASKING A QUESTION, SHE WILL TELL YOU THE OBJECT OF YOUR CALL AND ACTUAL FACTS CONCERNING YOUR LIFE AND CIRCUMSTANCES WHICH YOU KNOW TO BE ABSOLUTELY TRUE.

My methods are different from all others. Call today and be convinced. PERFECT SATISFACTION OR NO FEE.

HOURS—10 to 6 P. M. 9

MRS. RIZPAH ELDON
2721 14th St. N.W.
Gifted with the power to foresee coming events in your life. Reading, 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. 12

MADAME LENORA.
Reliable advice on business, health, love, marriage or divorce. Tells full name, who you will marry and when. 637 F st. nw. 12

PROF. BELMONT
Noted psychologist and palmist, gives reliable advice on all affairs of life. Satisfaction guaranteed. 1223 New York ave. nw. 11

Expert Card Reader
10 A. M. MME. ZARA. 10 P. M.
Full reading, $1 only. When in trouble call on me. 701 6th st. nw. Franklin 998-J. 9

MME. SELIA.
Settles and explains love affairs, business and family troubles. Tells who and when you will marry. 831 7th st. nw., cor. 7th and Eye. 9

MRS. J. E. MALTBY,
1627 R st. nw. Spiritual readings daily. Phone North 4910. 30

PERSONALS

COME to the Mabelle Honour School for your hair cuts, marcels, facials, &c.; try our graduate students' work; all work done from 15c to 50c. 817 14th st. nw.

SUMMER IN PARIS.
Miss Elena de Sayn and Miss Alice Eversman chaperoning party of ladies for summer in their beautiful villa facing Bois de Boulogne; vacancies few more; references required. Particulars Main 9125. 5,7,9

TOUR IN FRANCE.
A Parisian lady returning to Paris for three months desires to accompany as companion or guide lady or family going abroad; references. Phone Potomac 1896-J, before 9:30 or after 6 p. m. 7,9,13

E. H. ELLIS—Call at 311 F st. ne. C. B. Speer. 9

OSTEOPATHY for colored; all hours. 1914 7th st. nw., Phone North 6881. 12

SWEDISH MASSAGE—Colored operator; rheumatism; white clients. Lincoln 5485. 14

HELP WANTED MALE

ALL or part time; no selling experience necessary; good income assured honest efforts; paid daily. Call Room 303, 1343 H st., cor. 14th st.

ARCHITECTURAL DRAFTSMEN — Several high-class senior draftsmen able to prepare general working drawings, large scale and full size details from preliminary sketches. Send specimen with first letter. Also state experience, age, salary expected to start, with full particulars. Ritcher & Eller, Archts., 147 N. Fifth st., Reading, Pa. 10

ASSISTANT BUYERS

We want to engage at once capable young man or woman as assistant buyer for our shoe department. Also, young man to act as assistant to our men's furnishings, hosiery and underwear buyer. Department store experience essential; only applications giving full details as to experience, age and salary wanted will be considered. Confidential.

BRAGER, OF BALTIMORE
Baltimore, Md.

AUTO WASHER.
Must be experienced, drive any car, know the city. Must have operator's permit. Apply at once with reference. Liberty Garage, Florida ave. and 18th. st. nw. 9

BARBER—First class; steady job; guarantee and commission. Apply 1311 E st. nw., Miller Barber Shops. 9

BARBER—Raleigh hotel, 12th st. and Pa. ave. nw. M. E. Myers. 11

BARBER wanted (colored), guarantee. 1794 Columbia rd. nw. 15

BARBER—To start work Monday; $25 guarantee, over $35 commission. Evans Bldg., 1420 New York ave. 9

BARBER—At once (colored), white trade, must be experienced; guarantee and commission. 4559 Wis. ave., Tenleytown, D. C. 10

BARBER (colored), white trade; $20 guarantee. 1123 14th st. nw. 10

BOOTBLACKS (3), experienced, in barber shop. 812 14th st. nw. 10

BOYS wanted to deliver The Washington Post; regular employment; will not interfere with school hours. Call Circulation Manager, Washington Post: Main 4205. tf

BRICK MASONS—Two; nonunion. The Toilers of America. 612 F st. nw., Room 207.

BUSBOYS—Colored. Apply rear entrance, Hotel Washington, 15th st. and Pa. ave.

BUSBOYS (4), dishwashers (4), colored cooks (2). Sunday, 9 a. m. Commercial Emp. Bureau, 819 18th nw., 2d floor.

CHAUFFEURS, with identification cards and references, day or night work; also extra men. Wardmen Park Taxi Office, Wardman Park hotel.

HELP WANTED MALE

CHAUFFEURS
New cabs arrived. Reliable men with identification cards can make big money with us this Spring and Summer. Apply at once, Black and White Taxi Co., 1220 22nd St. N.W. tf

CIGAR SALESMAN
Who knows and is known by retail dealers, to represent factory making well-known brands. State your age and experience; negotiation confidential. Address Box 600, Washington Post. 10

ERRAND BOY for drug stores; bicycles furnished. Apply R. A. McConnell, 77 P st ne., North 348.

EXPERIENCED ice cream maker. The Nunally Co., 1223 F st. nw.

FARM HAND—Experienced; white; for general farming. Call Woodside 170.

GARDENER'S ASSISTANT—Hours 8 to 6; $15 week; references required. Phone Clev. 3246 after 7 p. m.

GOVERNMENT CLERKS call at Room 303, 1343 H st., cor. 14th; investigate plan for part time efforts; clean, dignified and good returns.

HANDY MAN, plumber, inside or country work; good home, easy hours. Linc. 3337.

IF YOU are a college student preparing for medicine, dentistry, law or engineering and you want to learn to sell your services, summer position offers exceptional opportunity in educational sales work; $273 for 78 days, and bonus. Box 745, Washington Post.

LAUNDRY DRIVER; salary $25 week to start; 10 per cent after 2 weeks. Apply Mr. Gates before 5 p. m. Home Laundry, 1120 Queen ne. 9

LEARN BARBER TRADE QUICK.
Big steady demand. World's largest chain of schools and shops. Jobs guaranteed. Write Tri-City Barber Schools, 817 E. Baltimore st., Baltimore, Md. 8.mh28-tf

MAN in each town to plate auto parts, reflectors, bath fixtures, silver mirrors, refinish beds, chandeliers by new method; $10 daily; no capital or experience required; outfits furnished; write today. Gunmetal Co., 31, 9th Decatur, Ill.

MECHANICS wanted at once; must be good on all cars. Brill Rent-A-Car Co., 908 20th st. nw. 11

MECHANICS — Chevrolet, 5 at once, good salary. LUSTINE-NICHOLSON, 458 Virginia Ave. S.W.

MEN (3) of neat appearance for pleasant outside position with manager; can earn $27.50 per week to start. Apply 1317 F st., Room 900. 11

MEN WANTED—Periodical Publishers Service Bureau have openings for 3 good men on their new high bonus, 2-year proposition on Cosmopolitan and Good Housekeeping Magazines; also can use 2 men and field manager to travel; here is your chance to make real money. Call Room 41, 618 F st. nw. 11

MEN wanted prepare as firemen, brakemen, colored train or sleeping car porters; transportation and uniforms provided for; write for application blank; experience unnecessary; first-class road; no strike; name post. Indianapolis, Ind. 9,12

MEN wanted (4) as train news agents; cash; security and blue suit required; permanent work to right parties. The Union News Co., office No. 3, east basement, Union station. 14

PORTERS for work in drug stores, apply R. A. McConnell, 77 P st. ne., between 9 and 12 a. m. North 348.

PROOFREADER—Permanent position for thoroughly experienced and reliable man. Box 613, Washington Post. 11

REAL ESTATE SALESMAN
An excellent opportunity to triple your commission in addition to your regular work by selling an attractive 8% stock issue of local building and real estate improvement corporation; highly indorsed and active growing concern. Call or write F. H. RIORDAN, Room 103 Otis Bldg., 810 18th st. 10

RELIABLE man in every town and city to distribute free samples, advertising matter, &c.; no selling; experience unnecessary; outdoor work; $5 to $6 daily; write quickly for contract. Supervisor Colombe, 5133 North Clark st., Chicago, Ill.

REPLACEMENT PARTS SALESMAN—We want an experienced salesman familiar with automobile parts owning small auto to make calls among garages and service stations in city; hard worker will meet with success. Box 611, Washington Post.

SALESMEN "TAILORING" SALESMEN.
Write for free sales outfit enabling you to sell America's lowest priced made to measure all wool men's suits direct to consumer, $20.85; Genuine Palm Beach suits, $15.50. Hudson, Inc., 42 East 14th st., New York

SALESMEN to sell direct or open up an office, employ subagents and do all the things necessary to introduce and sell Wash-All, a small washing machine, operated by waterpower, that washes, rinses, blues and dries without the operator having to touch the clothes. It will operate on any stationary tub, bath tub or sink. A perfect machine for the small home or apartment. Endorsed by the New York Tribune and Good Housekeeping Institute. A revelation for families with small children. $10 to $17.50 profit on every sale. Write General Device Co., 112 West 42nd st., N. Y.

SALESMEN—Large New York concern has opening in local branch for two ambitious men desirous of learning salesmanship and banking permanent connections. Must be satisfied with $25 per week to start. Apply from 9 a. m. to 11:30 a. m., suite 210 and 215 Bond Bldg. 10

SALESMAN—High grade men's furnishings. Meyer's Shop, 1331 F st.

SALESMEN (2)—Can earn $35 weekly to start with old reliable concern; rapid promotion. See Mgr., 900 Federal-American Bk. Bldg. 11

SALESMEN:

The Pioneer, internationally known, and most successful manufacturer of Electric Refrigeration offers opportunities for first-class men in its Washington, D. C., factory branch.

Permanent and profitable connections open to those who can qualify as to character, credentials and past business success.

You will receive thorough training by factory instructors.

Compensation is liberal in every respect.

We want those who are leaders of men as well as those who can operate under supervision and become executives.

Telephone for appointment, Main 2278.

TO E. S. LAPE, C. S. I.
741 Eleventh St. N.W.
Washington, D. C.
10

Secretary-Stenographer.
Young man, age 25; must be experienced; prefer one with newspaper exp.; permanent; good salary. Apply 9 a. m. Monday, 316 Bond bldg.
NATIONAL PERSONNEL BUREAU.

SERVICE MAN.
Young man, age 21-22, for service dept.; lifetime position; prefer one mechanically inclined; permanent position with adv. Apply early Monday morning, 316 Bond bldg.
NATIONAL PERSONNEL BUREAU.

SODA DISPENSER.
RELIABLE, STEADY, EXPERIENCED MEN; GOOD SALARY AND ADVANCEMENT. APPLY R. A. McCONNELL, 77 P ST. N.E., BET. 9 AND 12 A. M. NORTH 348.

STEAM ENGINEER—Licensed; one familiar with operation of clam shell bucket preferred. Apply 3020 K st. nw.

HELP WANTED MALE

STOCK SALESMEN (2), experienced; unusual remuneration. See manager, room 309, Lenox building, after 10 a. m. 9

UNIVERSITY COURSE
In life insurance principles, functions and salesmanship available to three men with the proper moral, social, educational and physical qualifications for entrance into the field of life insurance on a professional basis. Married men between the ages of 25 and 40 who are or have been leaders in their respective lines of endeavor or in outdoor sports receive preference. Phone Main 9910 for appointment.

N. E. ELLSWORTH,
General Agent,
AETNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
801-6 WOODWARD BLDG.

WANTED—First-class marker and bushelman, men's clothing; state experience. Apply Shulman Co., Norfolk, Va. 9

WANTED—Selling distributor, who will be given exclusive territory; must be a hustler, with best of references; must have an auto; in selling "Fly-Fix," the most efficient insecticide, direct to consuming stores, dairies, markets and institutional trade; splendid remuneration. Write Valentine Chemical Co., 215 Endicott st., Boston, Mass.

WANTED—Security salesmen for a million dollar issue of preferred and common stock in local financial institution now actively operating and paying dividends. An exceptional opportunity for men who have sold successfully mortgage and financial stocks. Full cooperation. Apply 634, Investment Bldg. 10

YOUNG MEN (3) to learn salesmanship; can start at $22.50 per week; guaranteed steady position; must be neat appearing. Apply Room 905, 1317 F st. 11

YOUNG MAN between the ages of 18 and 22 for junior salesman for one of Washington's oldest financial institutions; salary small to start, with wonderful opportunity to become an executive. Box 610, Washington Post. 11

200 COLORED laborers; fare paid New York; brick yard, Monday, 9 a. m. 1029 V st. nw. 10

AGENTS AND SOLICITORS

AGENTS, both sexes, assured comfortable life income handling our superior family product; constant repeater; big profit; exclusive territory. Joseph Koehler, East Orange, N. J. 9

AGENTS—$11.80 daily in advance (sworn proof); introducing new insured hosiery for men, women, children; 57 styles, 40 colors; guaranteed 7 months; summer line now ready; no capital or experience required; you simply take orders, we deliver and collect (or you can deliver, furnish yourself); credit given; your pay daily; monthly bonus besides. We furnish samples; spare time will do. Mac-O-Chee Textile Co., B43-619, Cincinnati, Ohio.

AGENTS—Bottle Life Tonic Free. Wonderful medicine. Big repeater. Big profits. Lacassia Co., Dept. 47, St. Louis, Mo.

AGENTS—EZ Red Devil polish removes rain spots; our franchise means big, quick money; enormous sales, autos, household, factories; $2.50 dozen; retails, $1; free samples; write today. EZ Polishes Co., 190 Water st., Brooklyn, N. Y.

AGENTS—WRITE FOR FREE SAMPLES. Sell Madison "Better-Made" Shirts for large Manufacturer direct to wearer. No capital or experience required. Many earn $100 weekly and bonus. MADISON MILLS, 500 Broadway, New York. oc11.8tf

BANKRUPT and Rummage Sales. Make $50 daily. We start you, furnishing everything. Wholesalers, Desk 283, 609 Division, Chicago.

EVER-STRATE sells fast to colored people and repeats; attractive proposition. Free Eston Co., 2500 2d ave., Birmingham, Ala. 9,16

IF you are not making $100 a week, I will see that you do selling new auto valve cap; free sample. Airlox, 420½ N. Homan, Chicago.

LADIES, NO MORE DISCOMFORT.
Our new invention prevents lingerie straps from slipping. Comfort at last. Every woman adores them. Sells on sight. Representatives wanted every locality. Wonderful moneymaking opportunity. Write for particulars. Mrs. B. W. Burton, manager, Willimantic, Conn.

NOTICE—The Washington Post desires to call the reader's attention to the fact that the majority of amounts quoted in ads in this classification are possible commissions only and not salaries. jy12-8-tf

SALES MANAGER.
This is a $15,000 per year opportunity for an executive of vision, energy and proven ability in developing large numbers of salesmen. What is probably the fastest growing manufacturer in one of the oldest staple industries of the country is now ready to open the Washington territory in a big scale manner. The executive to be intrusted with this responsibility will open the mill's local office, assume complete charge of operations and carry through the recruiting, training and handling of the permanent selling unit, of sixty men, which will be required. The work involves about ten hours per day of the most intense effort, and willingness absolutely to subordinate personal ideas to the detailed execution of headquarters' campaign. Applications, which will be treated in confidence, must cover experience in full to receive consideration. Address Thos. D. Haskett, vice pres. and gen. sales manager, 208 West Monroe st., Chicago.

SALESMEN—$150 month and expense selling citizens; experience not necessary; send self-addressed envelope for information. National Cigar Co., High Point, N. C.

SALESMEN—Selling Supreme Shirts means big business; big repeats, big commissions. Write today for free kit. Supreme Shirt Co., 276 5th ave., New York. 9,23

$10 DAILY easy; we start you in auto accessory business; no investment, no experience necessary; exclusive territory. Motor Products Co., 1758 Lunt ave., Chicago.

HELP—MALE & FEMALE

SALESMEN AND SALESWOMEN
An excellent opportunity to make liberal commission by selling an attrative 8% stock issue of local building and real estate improvement corporation; highly indorsed and active growing concern; first class reference required. Call or write F. H. RIORDAN, Room 703-4, Otis Bldg., 810 18th st. 10

HELP WANTED FEMALE

ADDRESSING ENVELOPES—Experience unnecessary. Earn $15.00-$45.00 weekly during spare time at home. Dignified work for honest, sincere persons. Franklyn Products, 1062 Van Buren, Chicago.

ALL or part time; no selling experience necessary; good income assured honest efforts; paid daily. Call Room 303, 1343 H st., cor. 14th st.

COLORED girl; immediately; intelligement; cook for two and care for baby; $10 week. 1322 L st. nw.

ELEVATOR GIRL—Light colored; good hours. Apply R. A. McConnell, 77 P st. ne. North 348.

GENERAL operators for beauty parlor. Apply 8-9 a. m., Monday. Emile, 1221 Conn. ave.

GOVERNMENT CLERKS call at Room 303, 1342 H st., cor. 14th; investigate plan for part time efforts; clean, dignified and good returns.

LADIES—We pay $6.00 hundred to gild greeting cards; pleasant, easy work. For particulars, write Fischer Card Co., 147 West 42nd st., N. Y.

MARCEL WAVER; expert only. Ruth's Beauty Shop, 908 14th st. nw.

PRESSERS — Experienced on fancy and pleated dresses; steady work; good salary. Sunshine Cleaners, 713 Lamont st. nw. 10

Stenogs, typists, bookkprs., clerical help, &c. Free registry. Main 2876, Br. 4. 1338 G st.
City Employment Service
mh31-tf

TEACHER—Capable, ambitious and not afraid of work for interesting vacation position; apply only if you answer these requirements. Box 733, Washington Post. 9,18,25

WHY NOT sell us your spare time; $2 an hour; $19-70 daily easy for full time; introducing new style guaranteed hosiery for men, women, children; 57 styles, 40 colors; including silks, lisles, chiffons; no capital or experience required; just write orders; we deliver and collect; your pay daily; also monthly bonus; free auto offer besides; we supply samples. Mac-O-Chee Textile Co., W43-619, Cincinnati, Ohio.

YOUNG colored girl, light work; also butler who can drive car, or man and wife. 1408 New Hampshire ave.

HELP WANTED FEMALE

WOMEN TEACHERS
WANTED TO TRAVEL
In Northern Lake Region and New England during summer. Interesting work, congenial teacher companions, and at least $60.00 per week. Salary to start and railroad fare paid. Give age, education and details of experience. Address S. J. Griffilan, 1090 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

WOMAN of refinement and good appearance wanted to travel and appoint local representatives for established house. Permanent position. Good pay. State age and tel. Sales Manager, Box 11, Philadelphia.

YOUNG WOMEN
FOR TELEPHONE OPERATING
GOOD SALARY DURING SHORT TRAINING PERIOD
REGULAR AND FREQUENT INCREASES THEREAFTER
PERMANENT POSITIONS
PLEASANT WORK
AN IDEAL OCCUPATION
FOR YOUNG WOMEN
APPLY
ROOM 1
722 12TH ST.NW.
THE CHESAPEAKE AND POTOMAC
TELEPHONE COMPANY
no29-tf

WANTED—Security salesmen for a million dollar issue of preferred and common stock in local financial institution now actively operating and paying dividends. An exceptional opportunity for men who have sold successfully mortgage and financial stocks. Full cooperation. Apply 634, Investment Bldg. 10

INSTRUCTION COURSES

ANOTHER former student says: "I was in your school less than 30 days, after which I was placed in stenographic position in a patent attorney's office at $22.50 per week to start." New classes forming. Est. 6 yrs. Pos. guar. Boyd School, 1338 G st. mh31-tf

BEAUTY CULTURE.
The Mabelle Honour School is giving reduced rates for nine summer months to students graduating from high school. Day and evening classes. Suite 302, 817 14th st. nw

COLUMBIA, 1024 8th st. nw. High school. Elocution, violin, piano; piano furnished.

EASY, short, fascinating, intensely interesting course to learn telephone switchboard operating. Telephone School, Oxford Bldg., cor. 14th st. and N. Y. ave. ap25,8.tu.th.tf

LEARN barber trade at the Carl Barber School, Room 403, 817 14th st. nw. 15

LEARN TO DRIVE—We teach you. $1.50 per lesson with your car; $2.50 with our. BRILL RENT-A-CAR CO., 908 20th st. nw. Phone West 102. 15

LEARN barber trade, at the Carl Barber School, Room 403, 817 14th st. nw. 9

PIANO lessons; experienced teacher; studio. Apt. 110, 2316 F st. nw. Phone West 1088-W. 10

PRIVATE lessons in mathematics, sciences, languages; Cornell graduate; $1, $1.50. Albert Jonas, 1406 Hopkins st. nw., near 59th and P sts. 15

EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES

COOKS, maids, waiters, busboys, laborers can be furnished at short notice. Woodland Agency, 1336 U st.; Potomac 5836 J. ap26-14t

FIRST-CLASS HELP. U St. Agency, 1334 U st. nw. North 6579. 10

FULLER'S HOUSEHELP EXCHANGE—Couples, general housework, laundresses, dishwashers, porters. Acme Service, 2005 9th st. Potomac 5788. Night Atlantic 1577.

SITUATIONS—MALE

CARPENTER—Work, any kind; reasonable. Box 595, Washington Post. 13

CHEF (colored)—18 years' experience; cafeteria, roadhouse or hotel. 132 W st. nw. Potomac 3281-W 9,12

COOK, experienced, with references, desires position. Phone Lincoln 4264-W. 10

WANTED by a carpenter, repair work and painting. Phone Franklin 1708.

WANTED—Position in warehouse or shipping department by young man of good character and good references. John W. Harris, r.f.d. 2, Box 60, Bartow, Fla. 9

SITUATIONS—FEMALE

SEWING by day; chair covers made. North 7366-M.

Male and Female

HELP FREE—North 9234; 500 day house cleaners, cooks, dishwashers, truck drivers, waitresses gardeners farm laborers. 1029 V st. nw.

PHONE Eureka Exchange for recommended help in any capacity; this city or anywhere in United States. Main 2808. 10

WE furnish experienced help. Bell's Exchange, 1749 Pa. ave. Phone Fr. 7955. 12

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

FLORIDA opportunities, hotels, cafes, restaurants, rooming houses; for all kinds business enterprises; bank references exchanged. Write Business Brokers, 16 W. Ashley st., Jacksonville, Fla.

$20 WILL START you in business; unlimited money making possibilities. White Secretary, 113 S. Fifth ave., Trenton, N. J.

RESPONSIBLE manufacturer wants competent men to manage office and salesmen; $300 or upward necessary; will allow expenses to Trenton if you qualify. Address Manager, 113 S. Stockton st., Trenton, N. J.

NEW correspondence school in process of organization can use services of experienced office man as secretary; salary and interest; man qualified must make nominal investment. Box 589, Washington Post.

BAKERY Excellent business; $800; illness reason for selling; good opportunity for right party. Phone Alinac 204-W. 11

FREE, FREE for a slogan; $5,000 home, the cash or royalty interest in commercial patents; for particulars write Box 598, Washington Post. 15

ADVERTISE in 300 country newspapers, 28 words, $10. Keator, Hartford Bldg., Chicago.

CONFECTIONERY, CIGARS, SODA FOUNTAIN—Located 2006 18th st. nw.; doing good business; low rent; long lease; must be sold; $1,000 to equip; asking $2,200. Call immediately and make offer. 9
STEWART BUILDING,
6TH AND D STREETS N. W.
Opposite Police Court, near City Hall and Judiciary Square. Attractive rooms available on 2d and 3d floors; elevator and excellent service; $15 and up.
CAPRITZ COMPANY,
14TH AND K STS. MAIN 9080.
ap6-8-tf

RAISE CAPITAL, best methods: corporations organized and promoted everywhere. Est. 1903. U. S. Legal Corp., 510 Bond bldg. 8-tf

LIFE-TIME opportunity, cottage on the Severn at $900 for immediate sale. Can arrange terms to suit. For quick sale telephone Hines, Main 4596, or call 304 Bond Building.

ACTIVE partner wanted to run tourist hotel; 20 bedrooms; best traffic. Apply 509 F nw., bookstore. 9

COLLECTIONS anywhere. No collection, no charge. P. O. Box 820, Washington. 10

BARBER SHOP for sale; leaving the city. 1114 N. Y. ave. nw. 9

PAPERING AND PAINTING

PAPERHANGING, 5 rooms and hall, $55 and up; good work; painting reasonable. Send card to L. Taylor, 816½ 7th st. nw

HOUSE PAINTING—This is the time of the year to have your house painted; we can do it for you very reasonable; nobody can beat our prices; we have a special price for bungalows and frame houses. Just call Cleveland 2614-W. 5,9

MISCELLANEOUS SALE

DIAMONDS LEFT ON SALE

MUST BE SOLD AT ONCE

DIAMONDS LEFT ON SALE

ONE CARAT, ABSOLUTELY PERFECT SOLITAIRE DIAMOND RING; VERY FINE CUT AND BRILLIANT GEM. HANDSOME LADY'S MOUNTING. PARTY MUST SACRIFICE.
$275

$625 ABSOLUTELY PERFECT SOLITAIRE DIAMOND ENGAGEMENT RING, EXTRAORDINARILY FINE GEM. BEAUTIFUL LADY'S DIAMOND MOUNTING. A REAL BARGAIN.
PRICE, $450

SOLID PLATINUM DIAMOND BAR PIN. FINEST QUALITY AND WORKMANSHIP. EXCLUSIVE DESIGN. COST ORIGINALLY $350.
PRICE, $210

SOLID PLATINUM FLEXIBLE DIAMOND BRACELET. 42 LARGE BLUE WHITE DIAMONDS. EXTRA FINE QUALITY AND WORKMANSHIP. MUST BE SOLD AT ONCE.
$475

SEE US BEFORE BUYING DIAMONDS
KAHN OPTICAL CO.,
617 7TH ST. N.W.

MISCELLANEOUS SALE

FLOOR CASES
Oak or Mahogany Finish
Immediate Delivery—All Sizes
Easy Terms
THE STERN CO.
631 La. Ave. N.W. 15

BUENA GRANITE COMPANY STOCK—My shares at low price. L. M. Bowman, 714 Southern Bldg. 14

PLAYER-PIANO, Schaff, and 100 rolls of music; must go. Call at 921 G st. se. 9

LEAVING CITY will sell 12-room furnishings at big reduction for cash; dining, living; 4 bedrooms complete, including drapes, Kelvinator Mangle, gas dryer, 14x11 Sarouk rug. Call 1071 Madison st. nw. 9

THOS. F. BURCH CO., INC.
Built-Rite electro mechanically refrigerated soda fountains, carbonators, soda fountain syrups, confectioner's equipment and general supplies.
480 Pennsylvania Ave. N.W.
30 Years in Business.
Main 910.
my29

HOUSEHOLD goods, feathers, &c. 806 Pa. ave. nw.

EXHAUST fan 24 in., one 24-in. Lehigh blower, one 6-ft. exhaust fan, all D. C. current motors, direct current; 14, 13, 12, ½ 10-h. p.; 140 feet iron fence; mantles, wood and marble; steam boilers. Store 825 11th nw.

MIRRORS, any size, beveled or plain, furnished upon short notice. Resilvering.
THE STERN CO.
Factory, 318 Maine Ave. S.W.
Main 250. 15

GROCERY store fixtures; complete. Call 1714 E st. se. 9

WINDOW SHADES
BEST QUALITY OF OPAQUE SHADES
Hung free, $1.15. Good quality opaque fitted to your windows, 85c. We will call with samples. Ph. Linc. 879.
Kleeblatt's, 11th & H Sts. N.E.
au6-tf

CREDIT FURNITURE CASH
SPECIAL DISCOUNT FOR CASH
SAVE MONEY—BUY AT
HOPWOOD'S EIGHTH & K STS. NW.
ap16-tf

UPRIGHT piano, $85; Simmons bed, springs; baby carriage. Main 7660.

BUILDING MATERIALS—Wrecking government frame buildings at Water Reed hospital; for sale cheap for quick buyers; lumber, 2x4, 2x6, 2x8, 2x10; sheathing, flooring, siding, wall board, plaster board, doors and windows complete; radiators, pipe, toilets and sinks. Apply on job—turn into Walter Reed at Dahlia st. from either Georgia ave. or Sixteenth st. extended to Alaska ave. Act quick. Salesman on job. Hechinger Housewrecking Co. my2-tf

WILL SELL A FEW shares of Buena Granite Co. stock at low price. Box 406, Washington Post. 13

WINDSHIELDS AND SEDAN GLASSES
Replaced Instantly—Prices Reasonable.
Glass Department of
THE STERN CO.
818 Maine Ave. S.W. 15

FOR SALE—1 handsome solid silver tea service, 5 pieces, with large tray to match; made by Tiffany & Co.; price, $1,250. 8
L. Kaufman, Fredericksburg, Va. 9,16

MOTORBOAT—30x7; good condition; price reasonable. See Morgan, at Cumberland Boat House, or call Woodside 315.

TWO ladies' riding habits, complete. 1426 N st. nw. 9,12

CAMPING EQUIPMENT for sale. Phone Columbia 4630., Apt. 802.

VIOLINS (3), with accessories; fine condition; low prices. Lincoln 4004-R.

CHINESE CROSS STITCH—Exquisite handworked luncheon sets, scarfs, &c.; on famous grass linen and pongee at 50% less than retail prices. Phone Columbia 7656-W.

TRIPOD—Folding Eastman Crown No. 2; six-inch head; like new; price, $4.50. 720 Flower ave., Takoma Park.

ANTIQUE walnut bedroom suite, couch and miscellaneous. 637 Quebec place.

CHINESE MANDARIN ROBE—Genuine imperial court; gorgeous cloth of gold brocaded silk; complete outfit with ceremonial hat, boots, aigrette plume, jade beads and girdle; sacrifice price. Phone Columbia 7656-W.

UNDERWOOD TYPEWRITER—Splendid condition; davenport table. Call North 935 mornings.

SODA FOUNTAINS
New and Second Hand.
Complete Fountain Equipment
Easy Terms.
THE STERN CO.
631 La. Ave. N.W. 15

Books

BOOKS bought; all kinds; large and small lots. "Bring them in," or phone Frank. 5416. Pearlman's Book Shop, 933 G st. nw. je7

Farm and Garden

ROSE BUSHES
Two and three years old, $3.95 PER DOZ.; $27.00 PER 100. Postpaid Insured Delivery. Silver Columbia, Templar, Commonwealth, Ophelia, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Columbia, Madam Butterfly, Premier, Crusader, Double White Killarney, Mme. Caroline Testout, Annie Laurie. Bloom from these bushes won first prize at the INTERNATIONAL FLOWER SHOW, NEW YORK CITY, FOUR YEARS IN SUCCESSION—1923, 1924, 1925, 1926.
HARDY CHRYSANTHEMUM plants, all colors, $1.25 PER DOZ.; $10.00 PER 100. Postpaid Insured Delivery.
LILY-OF-THE-VALLEY, the sweetest flower that grows, 2-year old pips, 25 FOR $1.00; 100 FOR $3.00. Postpaid Insured Delivery.
Order now for planting time. Circular on request. Honorable treatment guaranteed.
Reynolds Farms, So. Norwalk, Conn.
mh7,14,21,28-ap4.11,18,25-my2,9

Furniture

LEATHER davenport and 2 chairs to match; also dining table and bureaus, 2 rugs. 1432 R st. nw., Apt. 1. 11

WARDROBE, rolltop desk, hall rack, cot, hair mattress, tables, &c. 1719 Willard st. nw.

Live Stock

BROWN seal gelding, 4 years old, 15.1½, thoroughly broken, good jumper, good park saddle horse; has the making of a good polo pony. Apply H. W. Brady, Laurens & Monroe sts., Baltimore, Md. 10

Pets

COLLIE pups, females, 8 weeks old; well marked; make affectionate pets; $5. 3114 10th st. ne. Potomac 2914-W.

WIRE-HAIRED FOX TERRIER puppies; finest pedigreed registered stock. Columbia 8533.

TREATMENT of pet animals. Dr. E. E. Ruebush, Veterinary hospital, 3622 Georgia ave. nw. Col. 4364. mh7-812t

PEKINGESE PUPS—Beautiful specimens. Adams 1244, 4 to 6 p. m. 10

POLICE dog pup, 8 weeks old, for sale; excellent registered stock and pick of litter. A. G. Lambert. Call Franklin 626. 9

GERMAN POLICE DOGS, puppies for sale; pedigreed stock; also dogs taken to board. R. Franz, 530 25th st nw. Phone West 393-J. my12

MISCELLANEOUS WANTS

BOOKS bought; all kinds, large or small lots. "Bring them in," or phone Frank. 5416. Pearlman's Book Shop, 933 G st. nw. je7

VIOLINS wanted; any condition; will call; write. 334 Pa. ave. se.

CLOTHING (men's cast-off); convert them into cash when spring cleaning. We pay the best price of any one. Auto calls. Main 4145. Jasth's Old Stand, 619 D st. nw 14

I BUY ladies', men's, children's, clothing; also furniture. Phone Main 9978. my19

CLOTHING—Will call in my unlettered automobile, city or suburbs, and pay highest prices for ladies', gentlemen's, children's discarded clothing of all descriptions. Address postal or phone. I will call. W. Rice, 1332 7th st. nw. North 1755. 11

DESIRABLE household and office furniture, store fixtures, &c. For best results call D. Notes, M. 3006, or drop postal 633 La. ave. mh5-tf

Gold, Silver, Watches, Diamonds
And old jewelry needed in our mfg. dept.
SELINGER'S Full cash value paid
818 F STREET.

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

BUICK 6-41, 1924, 4-door, 5-passenger sedan; 5 practically brand-new Goodyear cord tires; seat covers that have been on since delivery of car, therefore upholstery is equal to new; the mechanical condition of this car is exceptionally good; motor is very quiet; the attractive price of $790 is very low considering the condition of this car; year to pay. Wardman Motors, Inc., 1515 14th st. nw.

BUICK LIGHT SIX touring, model K; $125; terms. Rob Roy Mackey, 513 10th st. se. 14

BUICK, 1926 coupe, mileage 2,300; Buick 1926, 2-door sedan, mileage 3,000; Buick 1925 Standard touring, mileage 8,000; Buick 1925, Standard coupe, mileage 8,000. 1016 Connecticut ave. 10

BUICKS—NEW AND USED
On Display at Emerson & Orme
Connecticut Ave. Showroom
Liberal Terms. Your Car in Trade
Fr. 3860, T. S. Gaddess, 1016 Conn. Ave. my5tf

CADILLAC PHAETON, 1919, 5-passenger, model 57; years of good service still to be had out of this car; a real bargain at $285; year to pay. Wardman Motors, Inc., 1515 14th st. nw.

CADILLACS (2), 4-pass. sport touring and 4-pass. coupe; come up and try to find some fault with these two cars; they have new tires, Duco finish and are in splendid mechanical condition; you shall be the judge as to whether they are real bargains, as the prices are really right; terms, with your car as first payment. Lincoln Salesroom, 1132 Conn. ave. nw. Main 2080.

CADILLAC—Seven-pass. sedan, 1923; also 7-pass. Imperial, inclosed-drive limousine; these two 61's are priced to move quickly; quick action is necessary; terms, with your car as first payment. Lincoln Salesroom, 1132 Conn. ave. Main 2080.

CHANDLER TOURING, 1925; 5 practically new balloon tires; completely overhauled recently

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

1924 DODGE TOURING—Excellent condition, and 5 good tires; any demonstration; $400; your car in trade. See Mr. Barrell, 1617 L st. nw. Main 10099.

1925 FORD ROADSTER—Balloon tires, finished like new; lock wheel and parking light; good car, has not been abused, and is in excellent condition. See Mr. Barrell, 1617 L st. nw. Main 10099.

SLIGHTLY USED CARS
Of Late Production.
Excellent Condition and Appearance.
Moderately Priced. Convenient Terms.

1925 Hudson Brougham.
1925 Stearns-Knight Brougham Sedan.
1924 Rickenbacker Eight Sedan.
1924 Packard Coupe.
1924 Buick Seven Sedan.
1924 Buick Five Sedan.
1924 Hudson Coach.

CADILLACS.
OPEN—CLOSED.
THE WASHINGTON-CADILLAC CO.
1138 Conn. Ave. Fr. 3902

Nash! Ajax! Nash!
The cleanest and best selection of Used Cars in the City.

Fords—Coupes—Sedans—Tourings.
1925 Chevrolet Coupe.
1923 Lincoln Phaeton.
1923 Jordan Touring.
1923 Nash Carriole.
1924 Oldsmobile Sedan.
1924 Maxwell Coupe.
1924 Cleveland Sedan.
1923 Oakland Coupe.
1922 Nash Roadster.
1924 Velie Touring.
1924 Maxwell Sport.
1924 Willys-Knight Touring.
1924 Chevrolet Touring.
1923 Oakland Touring.
1925 Hupmobile Touring.
1925 Flint Touring.
1923 Nash Sport.
1925 Nash Advanced Six Rdstr.

12 Months to Pay.

HAWKINS NASH MOTOR COMPANY, INC.
Conveniently Located.
1333-1337 14th St. N. W.
Main 5780.

"COME ON OVER!"
TO 1709 L St.

Hup 25, Touring.....$750
Jordan "Blue Boy"..... 650
Buick 24, Touring..... 760
Olds 43, Sedan..... 450
Dodge '25, Spec. A Sedan. 790
Nash '25, Tour. Special.. 825
Hup '25, Club Sedan.... 950
Chev. '23, Coupe..... 75
Nash, red sport tour.... 650
Nash '24, sport tour..... 750
Chevrolet '25, Touring... 350
Studebaker '24, Touring.. 475
Studebaker Spec. '24, Sed. 900
Dodge cars; several.
Ford '26, Tudor, run only 835 miles, is like new and priced right 600
Hudson Coach 325
Hudson Sedan 650

25 others including Willys-Knights.
24 Chandler Sedan; another Jordan; all priced right.

Open Evenings Until NINE

WALLACE MOTOR CO.
"Remember the Address"
1709 L St. N. W.

EMERSON & ORME
"BUICK DEALERS"
YOUR SATISFACTION IS OUR FIRST CONSIDERATION
You take no chance when you select a used car from our stock. We insist you must be satisfied.

Buick 1924 5-pass. 6-cyl. Sedan
Buick 1924 2-pass. 6-cyl. Coupe
Buick 1921-22 5 & 7 pass. Tour.
Buick 1925 Master Coach
Buick 1925 5-pass. Stand. Sed.
Dodge 1922 Touring
Hupp 1922 Touring
Essex 1924 Coach
Studebaker 1923 Coupe
Studebaker 1922 Light 6 Coach
Ford 1924 Touring
Ford 1924 Tudor and Fordor Sedans.

OPEN EVENINGS
1620 M St. N. W.
Frank. 3860

WARDMAN MOTOR CO.
USED CAR DEPT.
NOW LOCATED AT
1515 14th ST.
75 USED CARS.
VARIOUS MAKES AND BODY STYLES TO SELECT FROM

FLINT
FLINT
FLINT

YOU SHOULD BUY YOUR USED CAR HERE

Hudson coach $450
Flint touring 750
Flint touring 550
Jewett coupe 475
Ford touring 175
Maxwell 4-pass. coupe... 350
Paige touring, new paint. 250
Overland tourings (two), each 75
Packard Touring (twin six) 450
Hudson Speedster 295
Ford coupe $275
Gardner sedan 550
Durant sedan 375
Ford Fordor sedan..... 375
Dodge touring 225
Willys-Knight, 3-door club sedan 695

These cars can be bought as low as 20% down, balance monthly. Come in and see them.

WASHINGTON FLINT CO.
1605 14th St. and 17th and V Sts. N. W.
Phone Potomac 1673

REAL BUYS

Reo sedan, 1923; run less than 6,000 miles; equipped with extra tire, bumpers, spring covers, motometer; in excellent condition; $1,050.

Hudson sedan, 1925, 7-pass.; in exceptional condition; bumpers, motometer, extra tire; $975.

Marmon phaeton 5-pass., 1924; A1 condition; equipped with extra tire, bumpers, motometer, winter panels; $1,300.

Stearns-Knight, 1924, 5-pass. coupe victoria; newly painted; slip covers; in good condition; $900.

Stearns-Knight, 1923, 6-cylinder, 7-pass. touring; in good condition; $1,000.

Studebaker, 1924, 5-pass sedan special 6; extra tire; $750.

Marmon touring, 1922, 7-pass.; slip covers; motometer, bumper, extra tire; $950.

Terms If Desired.

Marmon Washington Co.
1636 Conn. Ave. 10

BIG CLEARANCE SALE OF USED CARS. ALSO 2 CADILLAC DEMONSTRATORS.
T. W. BARRETT,
Associate Cadillac Dealer
918 14th St. N.W.
Main 5567.

1925 CHEVROLET touring, 8,000 miles, excellent tires, car looks and runs like new, a beauty, come early, $350. See Mr. Barrell, 1617 L St. Main 10099.

SALE OF REPOSSESSED CARS
All of these cars are to be sold for unpaid balances.

5 Ford Tudor Sedans.
All in A-1 mechanical condition; good tires; paint and upholstery very good; 1925 models; $350 each.

3 Ford Coupes, 1925 Models.
First-class mechanical condition; good tires; plenty of accessories; looks fine. Price, $350 each.

Durant Sedan.
Just recently overhauled; newly painted. Drive it home; tell them you bought a new car. They can't tell the difference.

Chevrolet Roadster, 1924 Model
Has balloon tires; hard to tell from a new car; this car is mechanically perfect; guaranteed. Price, $276.

Buick Six.
Four-passenger coupe; first-class mechanical condition guaranteed; must be seen to be appreciated; hard to tell from a new car. Price, $700.

3 Dodge Tourings.
Good tires and good mechanical condition; $350 each.

3 Chevrolet Sedans, 1924 Models
Guaranteed; $325 each.

Studebaker Special Six Sedan.
Sport model, disc wheels, plenty of accessories; good paint. This car is mechanically perfect; formerly owned by careful motorists. Has not been abused in any way. Here is a real bargain for some one. Price, $750.

Dodge Sedan, 1923 Model.
Let's go; has to be seen to be appreciated; $450.

Cadillac Touring Car 59.
Will demonstrate; has to be seen to be appreciated; five good cord tires and mechanically perfect; $600.

Terms: One-fifth Cash. Balance in Twelve Months.

GLASSMAN'S SALES AND FINANCE CO.
1321 L Street N.W.
10

NASH AJAX
—PAINT SHOP!—
Come in today and make arrangements to see the following cars when refinished.

Studebaker, '24—Cost over $2,000; run about 8,000 miles; interior perfect; every fender perfect; motor excellent; a wonderful looking car; hood shaped like "Packard." Priced at $900.

Jordan "Blue Boy" motor chassis—Upholstery and top perfect; refinished in standard color. $650.

Chandler '24 sedan—A good automobile; a lacquer-built paint job; 4 new Hood tires and spare; motor just overhauled; any demonstration.

Nash '24 touring—Perfect and guaranteed; tires like new; just run 10,000 miles. Price, $650.

Ask about our other cars.

"WALLACE"
NASH DISTRIBUTOR.
1709 L St. M. 7612.

CHEVROLET

BUY BARRY-PATE USED CARS —MINUS THE RATTLE AND MOST OF THE JARS

Low Terms—Batteries Guaranteed
90 Days—Good Used Cars

Chevrolet touring, 1925 .....$375
Chevrolet coupe, 1923 250
Chevrolet sedan, 1923 250
Ford touring, 1924 175
Ford roadster, 1924 235
Ford coupe, 1924 265
Ford sedan tudor, 1923 200

Large assortment of other cars to select from at bargain prices and terms

BARRY-PATE MOTOR CO., INC.
2525 Sherman Ave. N. W.
Adams 6000 and Main 880

YOUR OPPORTUNITY
BUY WITH CONFIDENCE.

Peerless coupe, demonstrator $1,950
Peerless 7-pass. tour. 495
Essex coach, 1924 385
1925 Ford tudor sedan .. 445
1924 Buick 5-pass sedan.. 795
Cleveland roadster 200
Ford 4-door sedan 250
Studebaker 1925 big six. 7-pass. sedan 1,495
Maxwell touring, '23 250
Ford sedan, '23 100
Peerless roadster-coupe .1,095
Ford coupe, 1925 350
Hudson 7-pass. sedan, 1925 995
Buick 5-pass. sedan, 1923. 625
Peerless touring, 1923 ... 795
Willys-Knight, 4-pass. coupe, 1923 450
Buick 7-pass. sedan, '24 .1,050
Haynes 7-pass. sedan, '22 350

Easy Terms.

PEERLESS MOTOR CO.
14th and P Sts. Main 9850
Open Evenings and Sundays.

SELECTED USED CARS

The following cars have recently been traded in to us at prices that permit us to sell any car listed below for less than $300, and some as low as $50:

1922 Chevrolet Sedan.
1922 Durant Sedan.
1923 Chevrolet Sedan.
1923 Essex Cabrolet.
1924 Ford Sedan.
1924 Chevrolet 4-passenger Coupe.
1924 Essex Coach.
1922 Dodge Touring.
1924 Chevrolet Sedan.
1923 Chevrolet Touring.
1924 Ford Coupe.
1923 Buick Touring.

Terms.

Holland Motor Co.
1019 17th St. N. W.
(Bet. K & L)
Main 9059

Open Evenings and Sundays.

STUTZ

Marmon Sedan, rebuilt and repainted.
Peerless "8" Sedan, rebuilt.
Marmon 4-pass. Touring; rebuilt.
Dodge Sedan; very cheap.
Velie Sedan.
Ford Coupe.

Hough Motor Co.
1028 Conn. Ave.

FORDS—FORDS
Roadsters, Coupes, Tourings, Sedans, Chassis
Trucks
$25 Up

BARTRAM MOTOR CO.
635 Mass. Ave. N.W.
Open Evenings and Sundays

PACKARD

Our friends have complimented us on the unusual appearance and remarkable price of each used car we show. They are worth your attention also.

Packard 8 Sedan Limousine
Peerless 8 Sedan
Packard 6, 7-pass. Touring
Cadillac Sedan
Apperson Sedan
Studebaker Sedan
Auburn Sedan
Chrysler Sedan
Packard 6 Sedan Limousine
Buick Sedans and Coupe
Hupmobile Touring

Prices begin at $350. Easy terms.

Packard Washington
1707 Kalorama Rd., Just Off 16th

HILL & TIBBITTS FEATURED CARS

Touring ('23), completely rebuilt; an exceptionally good bargain $125

Coupe ('23), reliable transportation at a low price... 150

Sedan ('23), motor, rubber and upholstery make this car worth much more than we are asking for it.....$160

Touring (late '24), thoroughly overhauled and an excellent buy 165

Roadster (late '25), appearance and performance make this car extremely cheap at 175

Touring (late '25), new paint; a sweet motor; fine tires and many extras. You can't lose any time if you want this because the low price means a quick sale..... 225

Sedan, Tudor (late '24); everything about this car shows its quality..... 300

Coupe (late '25), balloon tires. This car is practically new and has only been run about 8,000 miles 350

Demonstrator, 1926, Touring, balloon tires, double bumpers, natural wood wheels, parking light, stop light, lock wheel, top boot and sport curtains, windshield wiper. Only run a very short time 375

Exceptionally easy terms of payment can be arranged on any of these cars.

HILL & TIBBITTS
301 14th Street N.W.
Main 9970.

OUR USED CAR SALE IS GOING STRONG
20% CASH;
12 MONTHS TO PAY
YOUR CAR IN TRADE
For Instance

1924 Hudson coach.....$495
$151 cash; $38 monthly, 12 months.
1923 Ford sedan, 4-door.$275
$95 cash; $18 monthly, 12 months.
1922 Ford coupe.....$135
$47 cash; $18 monthly, 6 months.
1923 Ford sedan.....$165
$61 cash; $22 monthly, 6 months.
1921 Ford coupe.....$115
$57 cash; $13 monthly, 6 months.
1923 Essex coach.....$350
$114 cash; $23 monthly, 12 months.
1924 Chevrolet sedan....$325
$113 cash; $21 monthly, 12 months.
1919 Buick sport touring; California top and covered with alligator skin pantisote $150
$56 cash; $20 monthly, 6 months.
1924 Ford sedan.....$325
$113 cash; $21 monthly, 12 months.
1924 Ford coupe.....$325
$113 cash; $21 monthly, 12 months.
1923 Durant touring....$225
$78 cash; $15 monthly, 12 months.
1923 Ford coupe $245
$86 cash; $16 monthly, 12 months.
1923 Ford coupe.....$220
$85 cash; $14 monthly, 12 months.
1923 Ford sedan.....$140
$52 cash; $10 monthly, 6 months.

Sterrett & Fleming, Inc.
Home of Certified Gold Seal Used Cars.
Champlain at Kalorama Rd.
Phone Col. 5050.

TRUCKS AND TRACTORS

FORD TON TRUCK—First-class mechanical order; express body; easy terms. Strobel Motor Co., 1425 Irving st. nw. Columbia 6487. See Mr. Moore. Open Sunday.

AUTOMOBILES FOR HIRE

FOR HIRE—Dump truck dirt, ashes, sand. 2015½ 4th st. ne.

AUTOMOBILES WANTED

HIGHEST prices paid for good, used cars; late models preferred. Glassman's Sales & Finance Co., 1321 L st. nw. 12

CASH for your used car in 5 minutes; I will pay more, as I want the cars. Don't fail to see Mr. Barnes, 1020 Conn. ave. Fr. 7068. Open 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. for business myl-tf

I SELL automobiles by auction every Wednesday and Saturday, 10 a. m.; a quick and satisfactory method; no sale, no charge; cars listed in time advertised free. Weschler's, 920 Pa. ave. nw. Main 1282. M. 9589. del1-tf

AUTO PAINTING

We Skin Cars, Not Customers
Finest paint shop in city; no obligations; just come and see our $40 and $50 complete paint jobs. 7-11 New York ave. ne. M. 10058. ma30-tf

GARAGES

GARAGE—For rent; 1316 Harrard st. nw.; few feet from street in wide alley.

FURNISHED ROOMS

HOME APT., APT. 40, 7th and K sts. nw.—Desirable room; $20 per month.

116 4TH ST. NE.—Large furnished front room; also 2 h. k. rooms; call Monday.

2000 H ST. NW., APT. 6—Large bright front room for 1 or 2; with small Jewish family; adjoining bath; conveniences; reasonable.

1321 HOLLY ST. NW.—Delightful front room next to modern bath in new detached home of owner. Continuous hot water, unlimited phone; rent $20. Gentleman preferred or lady employed. Adams 5188.

ATTRACTIVE parlor and connecting bedroom overlooking 18th st.; suitable for employed lady; $30 or large double room for two gentlemen or two ladies in the same apt., $30. Apt. 8, 1538 Monroe nw.

1408 RHODE ISLAND AVE. NW.—Large front room; second floor. 11

112 3D ST. NE.—3d fl. front rooms; 2 blocks from Capitol and Library. 15

LARGE FRONT ROOM, near bath; l. h. k.; $10 week. Potomac 5331-W.

THE PLYMOUTH, Apt. 42.—Parlor bedroom; free phone. Frank. 8452.

FURNISHED ROOMS

TO SUBLET—In Wardman Park hotel; 2 beautiful furnished rooms, grand piano, radio and Victrola; beautiful view; for 3 or 4 months. Address Box 601, Washington Post. 11

1725 EUCLID ST. NW.—Room with porch; also other room; modern improvements; $5 weekly. Columbia 9229.

930 16TH ST. NW., Cor. K—Beautiful second story room; 5 windows; only quiet people desired; all buses convenient.

1616 16TH ST. NW., Apt. 201—Room in high class apartment; private bath, shower; kitchen privileges; very desirable; $45; lady. 10

1847 MINTWOOD PLACE, near 18th st. and Columbia rd.—Front room; southern exposure; suitably furnished for two. Columbia 7182. 15

204 9TH ST. NE.—2 rooms, $7 per week.

1216 16TH ST. N.W.—Large front room, furnished; balcony; private bath; phone in room free; convenient neighborhood; garage; references. 10

CAPITOL HILL, 127 4th st. se.—Two rooms, kitchenette, bath; entire second floor; furniture, gas, electricity; employed couple preferred; $45 month. 9

702 N. C. AVE. SE.—Large room, next to bath; elec. lights, h.-w. h. Linc. 3564. 9

ROOM and kitchenette; $7 weekly; electricity, gas. 618 3d st. nw. 9

CHEVY CHASE, D. C.—Half block from Conn. ave.; beautifully furnished room, adjoining bath and shower; southern and eastern exposures; unlimited phone; garage if desired. Phone Cleve. 3521. 9

LARGE room and kitchenette; $7 weekly. Two rooms, $7; electricity, gas; no children. 310 E st. nw. 10

LARGE furnished housekeeping room; $6 weekly; electricity, gas. 420 6th st. nw. 9

DUPONT CIRCLE—Very large room with bay window and dressing room, on 2d floor, for refined couple. North 1523. 11

1214 K ST. NW.—Very desirable room; suitable for 1 or 2 gentlemen; private family. 12

LARGE front rm., 1st floor; continuous h. w., phone, elec.; can be seen any time; also rm., 3d floor, next bath; porch. 1618 19th st. nw.; Pot. 3201. 12

SCOTT CIRCLE (1521 Rhode Island)—Lovely room, kitchenette, every convenience. 10

PAULSEN-RALEIGH HOTEL, 1005 13th st. nw.—Single and double rooms, use of club, music and large lounge rooms; 3 minutes' walking distance from the heart of Washington; $4.50 to $8.00 per week; special summer rates. All this for your convenience in this beautiful building. Transients accommodated. 10

ARIZONA HOTEL, 310 C ST. NW.—Neatly fur. rooms, $5 week and up; transients, $1. mh28-tf

1625 NEWTON ST. NW.—Comfortable room; a. m. l.; in owner's quiet home. Col. 5720. my27

THE PLYMOUTH—Apt. 72; parlor bedroom. Main 5486. 14

NEAR Wardman Park Hotel, for gentleman, adjoining bath; all conveniences; $25. Columbia 6746. ap16-tf

1863 CALIFORNIA ST. NW.—Very attractively furnished room; large sleeping porch; all modern conveniences; running water in room; privileges. North 8810. 15

1347 L ST.—1 or 2 persons can obtain large room and kitchen; second floor front; newly renovated; sweet and clean; completely furnished; only $42.50 monthly. Franklin 157. 15

912 EAST CAPITOL—2 rooms, sink, bath, porch, $30 month.

COLORED MAN—Free room rent (downtown), for an hour's service daily. 1322 L st. nw.

BIG, airy room, twin beds, running water, electricity, clean, reasonable. 1322 L st. nw.

LARGE room; neatly furnished; in modern apt.; private family; gentlemen only; $20 mo. Columbia 3742.

NEW BERNE, Apt. 72, 12th & Mass. ave.—Room for gentleman; reference. 9

702 N. C. AVE. SE.—Large room, next to bath; electric lights, h.-w. h. Linc. 3564. 9

606 I ST. NW.—Four communicating rooms, first floor, private entrance, for housekeeping. 10

1731 K ST. NW.—Double room, large closet; separate entrance; unlimited phone; second floor. 9

SEVERAL furnished rooms. 1006 K st. nw.

LARGE room, single or double; next to bath; h.-w. h., electric lights. 702 North Carolina ave. se.; phone Linc. 3564. 9

2761 WOODLEY PL.—Cool comfortable and home surroundings; private house; garage. 10

INVESTIGATED ROOMS-APTS.—(No charge for locating). Pope Service, 605 Dist. National Bank bldg. Main 2133. my7-tf

1837 16TH ST. N.W.—Beautiful rooms; double and single. Potomac 1815. 9

THE PORTNER, Apt. 150—Very desirable room; suitable for gentleman. North 1421. 13

UNFURNISHED ROOMS

1406 HOPKINS ST. NW., near 20th and P sts.—Two communicating; second floor front; $37; or singly, $20-$17. 15

723 EMERSON ST. NW.—Entire second floor; 8 rooms, large porch, sink, range, tile bath, laundry trays, gas, electricity; $45; new house in Petworth.

2013 KALORAMA RD.—Four rooms for housekeeping; private bath, electricity, gas; reasonable. North 3130-J. 10

ROOMS FOR RENT

Furnished or Unfurnished

903 23D ST. NW.—Three rooms, bath, hall; 3d floor; l. h. k.; also 2 large rooms, bath, 2d floor; l. h. k. 14

ROOMS WANTED

Furnished

NEATLY furnished room; walking distance of Treasury; middle aged man; very early riser. Address Box 612, Washington Post. 10

YOUNG lady of discriminating taste desires cool, single room (reasonable price) in private home located in Northwest residential section. Box 585, Washington Post. 11

Unfurnished

ONE unfur. room wanted by elderly lady; l. h. k.; near bath; with porch preferred; state terms. Address Box 616, Washington Post.

TABLE BOARD

Wanted

HOME wanted for bright, well-behaved boy of 7 in small, cultured, Protestant family, preferably with a mother who has had college work or taught school; in replying kindly state composition of family and give full particulars. Address Box 599, Washington Post.

ROOMS WITH BOARD

1808 MASS. AVE. NW.—Desirable rooms, every convenience; southern exposure; transients accommodated; rates reasonable. 10

1408 NEW HAMPSHIRE—Girls, cool spacious room; unexcelled meals; $8 weekly.

GIRLS' CLUB, 1315 15th st., southeast corner Rhode Island ave.—Newly furnished; baby grand piano; every convenience; $42.50 and $45.50 per month; walking distance downtown.

1102 9TH ST. NW.—Eight men wanted; nice double rooms and good board. 9

IN a real home on Conduit road, for two gentlemen; must be sober; $9 week. For particulars phone West 1181-W. 10

GIRLS' CLUB, 1515 Mass. ave.—Beautiful single and double rooms, with excellent board; laundry privileges; $38 up, month. 9

MT. PLEASANT (overlooking park)—Two attractive rooms for party of adults; excellent table board. Adams 5673. 9

1644 ARGONNE TERRACE—Beautifully furnished front room, with porch; also small room. Phone Adams 9092. 9

DUPONT CIRCLE (1416 21st st. nw.)—Bright, cool rooms; a. m.; walking distance; excellent home cooking. 12

TERRACE INN, 1500 Vermont ave. nw.—Desirable single and double rooms; good table. 12

909 13TH ST. NW.—Newly painted room and convenient downtown; excellent home-cooked meals; a. m. l.; reasonable rates. 11

3100 16TH ST. NW.—Large, lovely, sunny room, second-floor front, in beautiful corner home; twin beds; every convenience; excellent board; ideal for two; references. 9

WHERE TO STOP

COLONIAL HOTEL
15TH AND M STS. NW.
AMERICAN PLAN.
A residential hotel, modern in every respect, where those away from home can enjoy real home comforts. Running water in all rooms. SHOWER AND TUB BATHS.
Transient rates. American plan, $3.00 up; European plan, $2.50 up.
ATTRACTIVE MONTHLY RATES.
Dinners, 75c; special Sunday dinners, $1.00. Special attention given dinner parties. 16

APARTMENTS FOR RENT

Furnished or Unfurnished

STONELEIGH COURT
CONN. AVE. AND L ST.
Washington's most exclusive apartments. Housekeeping and nonhousekeeping; furnished or unfurnished; for rent by the year or for shorter periods. Complete hotel service if desired. Restaurant with a la carte or table d'hote service. Attractive rates. my8eod 15t

APARTMENTS FOR RENT

Furnished or Unfurnished

PARTLY furnished or unfurnished six all outside rooms. The Sherman, apt. 501, 15th and L nw. $100 monthly. Franklin 8882. 11

THE HIGHLANDS
CONNECTICUT AVE. & CALIFORNIA ST.
Furnished and unfurnished housekeeping and nonhousekeeping apartments by the year, month or day; transients accommodated. ap18-30t

Furnished

215 E ST. N.W.—2 bedrooms, dining room, kitchen, bath; neatly furnished; telephone; janitor; $15 weekly; 2d floor. 9

534 20TH ST., Apt. 1—Downtown, beautifully furnished, two large rooms, bath, front apartment, 11 screened windows, 3 exposures, hot water. 14

TWO large, well-furnished housekeeping rooms, $10 weekly; room and kitchenette, $8.50; one room with porch, $5. 616 3d st. nw. 10

JUNE 1—2 rooms, kitchen and bath; $56 per month. Woodworth, 10th and M sts. nw. Phone Frank 1495-J after 7 p. m. 10

"THE BACHELOR"
1737 H ST. N.W.
Two apts., 2 rooms and bath; well furnished, centrally located; hotel service; $80 to $100 a month; well heated and well lighted; for gentlemen who want comfort and privacy. Phone Main 1572.
UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT.
Transients accommodated. fe21-tf

1950 CALVERT ST. NW.—Three large, bright rooms, tile bath; furnished complete for discriminating couple; ideal summer location. 17

1415 CHAPIN ST. NW.—Front corner, 3r., k. and b.; also 2r., k. and b., reas. Main 5486. 11

TWO blocks from White House. Nicely furnished apartment of three rooms, kitchen and bath. Instantaneous hot water. Convenient location between Hotel Powhatan and Metropolitan Club. Albert J. Osgood. Franklin 1925-J. 9

ROYALTON, 918 M ST.—Beautiful front apartment; accommodate 5 or 6 people. Adams 5874. 9

CHATEAU THIERRY, 1920 S ST.—2 rooms, bath, kitchenette, sleeping porch to Oct. 1. Call North 9604, apt. 307, evenings. 9

NORTHUMBERLAND—Living room, kitchen, bath, shower, hall, $60. Franklin 816. 13

AVONDALE, 1734 P ST.—Two rooms, kitchen, bath, $75. Franklin 816. 13

1732 EYE ST. NW.—One and two room apts., elegantly furnished; scrupulously clean; reference required. 13

INVESTIGATED APTS.—(Summer or permanent). Pope Service, 605 Dist. Nat. Bank bldg. Main 2133. my7-tf

2141 WYOMING AVE.
Six rooms, 2 baths, porch; rent reasonable. Phone North 6292. 9

VERY desirable 16th st. apt.; completely furnished, 2 rooms, reception hall, kitchen and bath; for rent for June, July and August. Phone North 576, Apt. 601. 4-6-9

AS GOOD as the best hotel in service, cuisine and furnishings, with the privacy of a well-appointed home; suites of one or more rooms. 1017 and 1215 16th st. nw. 7-9-11

THE ARGONNE, APT. 116—Two large, bright rooms, kitchen, bath, balcony, reception hall; completely and handsomely furnished for housekeeping; by the month. Columbia 4630. 13

1009 11TH ST. NW., APT. 107—Beautifully furnished apartment; suitable for two ladies; complete, $80 month. Call Sunday afternoon.

124 E ST. NW.—3 rooms; housekeeping apt. 10

TO CAREFUL, responsible tenants; lady's well furnished, centrally located apt., 4 rooms, tiled bath and porch at $65 month; all conveniences; airy, cool, attractive; permanent. Gardiner & Dent, or telephone Potomac 4694-J. References.

127 4TH ST. SE.—Capitol Hill; 2 rooms, kitchenette, bath; entire second floor; furniture, gas, electricity, h.-w. h.; employed couple preferred; $45. 10

3110 MOUNT PLEASANT ST. NW.—Beautiful, airy, 2 rooms, second-floor front. 10

1620 R ST. NW.—2 rooms, reception hall, kitchen and bath, completely furnished; will sublet until October 1 at price of apt. unfurnished to desirable people. See resident manager or phone Potomac 1900. 15

WELL FURNISHED APT.—1 room and bath, until October 1; low rent; south exposure. Somerset House. Apply Box 602, Washington Post.

58 BRYANT ST. NW.—Nicely furnished 2 room apartment; 2d floor; adults only. North 2749.

FALKSTONE COURTS, 1401 FAIRMONT ST.—Sublet furnished 2 rooms, kitchenette, bath and porch; May to Oct. 15; $60. Apt. 505.

THE ONTARIO, APT. 110—From June 1 to Oct. 21; living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bath. Phone Columbia 800.

520 3D ST. NW.—Nicely furnished room with kitchenette; electricity, gas; $8 weekly.

THE SHERMAN, APT. 404—One room, kitchen and bath; suitable two ladies; Franklin 1877-W. 15th and L sts. nw.

1906 N ST. NW.—3 rooms, bath; very unusually attractive in arrangement, furnishing, location; excellent kitchen; rent to October or longer; telephone for appointment. Franklin 972. 9-12

3508 16TH ST. NW.—2 rooms, kitchenette, sleeping porch and bath; available May 15; reasonable.

OPPOSITE Mayflower; cool, quiet, complete 2-r., b. apt.; house exceptional merit. 1717 De Sales.

DOWNTOWN—Most desirable, attractive 5-r., b. apt.; completely furnished; immediately available. 1812 G.

1438 MERIDIAN PL. NW., Apt. 45.—Cool, well-furnished room, use of kitchenette. Phone Adams 2675-J, after 6 p. m.

1024 8TH ST. NW.—Basement, l. h. k.; nonhousekeeping, 2 rooms; a. m. l.; reasonable.

Unfurnished

HARRY A. KITE, Inc.,
Main 4846 1514 K St. N.W.

17th AND E. CAPITOL STS.
3 rooms, dining alcove and bath; rents, $42.50 to $45 per month.
DUPONT 1717 20TH ST.
5 rooms, hall and bath, $110.
CORONADO AURORA
1840 and 1846
Vernon or You St. N.W.
3 and 5 rooms and bath $50 and $65 month.

The above apartments are modern. Heat, janitor service and hot water furnished. Inspection invited.
HARRY A. KITE, Inc.,
Main 4846. 1514 K St. N.W.
9-12,16,19-23,26,30-je2,6

WHY PAY RENT, WHEN LESS THAN YOU ARE PAYING NOW WILL BUY YOUR OWN APARTMENT FOR YOU IN ONE OF OUR WONDERFUL BUILDINGS?

THE AVONDALE,
1734 P Street N. W.
Very desirable apartment of 5 rooms and bath. Price only $7,500. Cash payment and $79.62 per month, covering all charges and payment on principal.

THE CAVANAUGH COURTS,
1526 17th Street N.W.
Well equipped apartment 1, one large room, kitchen and bath. Price reduced to $2,500. Cash payment of $500 and moderate monthly payment.

THE RUTLAND COURTS,
1725 17th Street N.W.
Excellent apartment of 2 very large rooms, large reception hall, kitchen and bath; two exposures. Price $5,250.00. Cash payment and $52.50 per month.
Delightful apartment 1, one large room, kitchen and bath. Price $3,600. Cash payment and $45.90 per month.

THE STAFFORD,
1789 Lanier Place N.W.
Owner leaving city has placed a sacrifice price on his apartment. It has 6 very large and well arranged rooms, large tile bath, delightful large porch and many other features. Price only $7,500. Cash payment and $63.00 per month.

Ask Any Cooperative Owner.

ALLAN E. WALKER & CO., INC.,
813 15th Street N.W. Main 2690
10

116 8D ST. NE.—Attractive 3 room and bath apt.; 2d floor; porch, continuous hot water, electricity; adults only.

1826 COLUMBIA RD.—Two rooms, kitchen and bath; price, $45.

PARTY buying home will sublet beautiful 2-room apt. in modern apt. bldg.; $65 per mo.; elevator and switchboard service. Phone Columbia 5877. 10

1042 CALVERT ST. NW.—3 large rooms and bath; telephone service; garage if desired.

MAYCROFT APARTMENT, Columbia rd. and 15th st. nw.—3 rooms and bath; $65-$70. 15

FRONT APT.—3 rooms, kitchen and bath, porch, first floor. Apply 1416 R st. nw. See janitor. 11

APARTMENTS FOR RENT

Unfurnished

MORE TIME
FOR PLAY

From the golf course to your apartment in less than five minutes gives you more time for play. Tennis, baseball and all the opportunities for outdoor sport which only Potomac Park can offer are right at your door when you live at

CORCORAN COURTS
23D AND D STREETS N.W.
Overlooking the Lincoln Memorial and Arlington Hills

LOWEST RENTS IN TOWN, $42.50 UP

ULTRA-MODERN HOUSEKEEPING APARTMENT SUITES OF 1 TO 4 ROOMS, RECEPTION HALL, BATH AND LARGE SCREENED PORCH, WITH EVERY DESIRED CONVENIENCE.

$42.50
A well-located apartment with southern exposure, facing Potomac Park, consisting of spacious living room with large wardrobe closet, dressing room and all-white full-tiled bath with built-in tub and shower.

$87.50
A splendid apartment of unusual size, overlooking the Naval Medical School grounds, consisting of a large reception hall, living room with Murphy bed and dressing room, attractive combination dinet and kitchenette, spacious bedroom with large closet, and full-tiled bath with built-in tub and shower.

ALL-WHITE FULL TILED BATH WITH BUILT-IN TUB AND SHOWER, HARDWOOD FLOORS, MIRRORED DOORS, MURPHY BEDS, DRESSING ROOMS, ATTRACTIVE POLYCHROME LIGHTING FIXTURES AND TASTEFUL DECORATIONS, WALNUT TRIM; COMPLETE KITCHEN. THE APARTMENTS HAVE SCREENS AND AWNINGS.

Resident Manager, Main 10031

CAFRITZ
14th and K Main 9080
RENTAL AGENTS. 10

FOR RENT.
Two, three and four room and bath apartments in new building.
Most delightful view in Washington.
Building situated on eminence, with vista across lovely valley of Rock Creek Park.
EVERY ROOM FACES STREET.
Garage.
Elevator.
Radio.
Excellent Service.
Within two blocks of 18th St. and Columbia Rd.
2801 Adams Mill Road.
WARDMAN.
Columbia 217. Main 8516.

1820 MASS. AVE.
One half square from Dupont circle; excellent apts. of two rooms, kitchen, breakfast room, bath and porch; newly decorated; mirrored doors; tiled bath; elevator; $75 month.

732 PARK RD.
Apts. of two rooms, kitchen, bath and porch, $52.50; also apts. of living room, breakfast room, Murphy bed with dressing room, kitchen and bath, $45 month.

3624 CONN. AVE.
Two rooms, kitchen, reception hall and bath, $50 and $55; three rooms, kitchen, reception hall and bath, $77.50 and $75 month.

1703 KILBOURNE PL.
Three rooms and bath; porch; new building; $60 month.

3220 WISCONSIN AVE.
Apt. of two rooms, kitchen and bath, $50 month; one room, kitchen and bath, $35 month.

1661 PARK RD.
New building; two large rooms, kitchen, bath and reception hall; $52 and $57 month.

2219 35TH PL.
Two rooms, kitchen and bath, sleeping porch; h.-w. h., elec.; $32.50; apts. newly decorated throughout.

THE ASHLEY
2038 18TH ST.
Apts. of five and six rooms and bath; $85 and $75 month; elevator service; now being decorated.

7TH AND VARNUM STS.
Three rooms, kitchen and bath; $60 month; corner apt. with shower.

DORSTAN HALL
4800 GEORGIA AVE.
New building; Saul's addition; apts. of three rooms, kitchen, bath and porch, $67.70 to $75.50 month; two rooms, kitchen, dining alcove and porch, $60.50 to $70.50 month; cedar closets, double bracket side lights, tiled shower baths; extra large rooms; corner apartments.

2426 19TH ST.
First floor apt. of four large rooms, reception hall and bath; southern exposure; all outside rooms; corner apt.; exceptionally large closets.

N. L. SANSBURY CO., INC.
1418 EYE ST. N.W. PHONE MAIN 5904

FOR COLORED.
684½ O ST. NE.
4 rooms and bath; elec.; newly papered and painted. Rent, $42.50 per month.
WM. P. NORMOYLE,
810 F St. NW. Main 2255. 11

1655 CRESCENT PL. N.W.
(One block west of 2400 16th st.)
CHEAPEST RENTALS IN TOWN.
Wonderful summer location; overlooking best part of city; apartments containing 1 room, kitchen, dining alcove and bath, and 2 rooms, kitchen, dining alcove and bath. Representatives on premises Sunday or see
ALLAN E. WALKER & CO., INC.,
813 15TH ST. NW. MAIN 2690

1205 15TH ST. NW., Apt. 305—Southeast exposure; 7 windows; 3 r., k. and b.; cool; reasonable. 9-12

THREE rooms, screened, inclosed porch, built-in garage, $42.50 per month; excellent condition and location. 831 Fla. ave. ne.; vacant. Open Sunday afternoon. Mr. Stiles, owner, 837 Md. ave. ne. Lincoln 5636.

1317 CORCORAN ST. NW.—Large front rooms with kitchen; $20; colored. North 8608.

TO OCTOBER and thereafter, 4 rooms, bath and kitchen; no more attractive in Washington. Tel. Potomac 284. 9

2012 O ST. N.W.
"THE LELAND."
Apt. 3—2 rooms, kitchen and bath....$50.00
Apt. 45—2 rooms, elec. grills, bath.... 40.00
AMERIC

APARTMENTS FOR RENT

Unfurnished

3800 14TH ST. NW.—Three rooms, kitchen and bath; large inclosed screened porch; southern exposure. Apply resident manager. 9

1600 16TH ST. NW.—Corner Q; 2d floor; 1 b. k. Phone North 6266. 11

1630 19TH ST. NW.—Two large rooms, kitchenette, sleeping porch, large closets. Potomac 4976.

1816 HARVARD ST. NW.—2d floor; 6 large outside rooms and bath; newly papered and painted; large porch; $65; garage available. Columbia 2062.

ON SHERMAN CIRCLE
Splendid New Apartment
640 Buchanan Street
One apartment available in this new, modern building, containing living room, bedroom, dining alcove, kitchen and bath $59.50.
CAFRITZ
14TH & K M. 9080. 10

CARLISLE COURTS,
1401 Col. Rd.
Two 3-room, kitchen, porch and bath apts. $60 and $62.50
Apply Randall H. Hagner & Co., 1321 Conn. Ave. Main 9700. 12

WM. H. SAUNDERS CO., Inc.

1625 16th St. N.W.
Front apartment, 7 r. and 2 baths; very reasonable rent.

1614 17th N.W.
Apartments from 1 r. and bath to 5 r. and bath. Rent from $30 to $75 month.

1740 Euclid N.W.
Apartment, 1 r., kitchenette and bath.....$42
Apartment, 2 r., kitchenette and bath.....$55

2316 F St. N.W.
Apartment, 1 r., kitchenette and bath.....$35
Apartment, 3 r., kitchenette and bath.....$50

758 6th St. S.E.
Convenient to Navy Yard and Marine Barracks.
Apartments, 4 r. and bath.....$42 and $52.50

2514 Q St. N.W.
Apartment, 1 r., kitchenette and bath, with built-in dresser and in-a-door bed.....$45

WM. H. SAUNDERS CO., Inc.
Realtors—Established 1887.
1433 K St. N.W. M. 1016-7
10

COLORED
1512 22D NW.—4 rooms, bath, large porches; nice condition; electricity; door open.
1543 9TH ST. NW.—4 rooms, bath; fine condition; electricity; door open. North 9129. 13

THE NOTTINGHAM
2124 P St. NW.
Attractive apartment of 4 outside rooms, bath and porch; $60.
UNIVERSAL REAL ESTATE CORP.
1329 N St. NW. Franк. 9010. 9

TAKOMA PARK.
Apt., 5 rooms and bath, h.-w. h., a. m. i., large porches, end of 14th st. car line. Rent, $60; garage if desired, $5 extra.
J. W. SHALLE, OWNER,
24 Carroll Ave. Phone Col. 3059 9

MAYCROFT
1474 COLUMBIA ROAD, CORNER FIFTEENTH STREET.
2 rooms and bath.
3 rooms and bath.
5 rooms and bath.
One block from 14th st. and Mount Pleasant car lines and 16th st buses.
See Resident Manager.

1818 RIGGS PLACE
Several desirable apartments of two rooms and bath, $42.50 to $45.00.

2300 18TH ST. N.W.
Five rooms and bath, $60.00.

NORFOLK
201-3-5 D STREET NORTHEAST.
Six rooms and bath, $55.00.

WORCESTER
327 SECOND STREET NORTHEAST.
Five rooms and bath, $50.00.

HIGBIE & RICHARDSON, Inc.
816 15th St. N.W. Main 7600. 13

FREE
One Month's Rent Free in
THE SHARON,
2148 O ST. N.W.
NEAR DUPONT CIRCLE
WALKING DISTANCE DOWNTOWN.
New building; elevator service; 1, 2 and 3 room apartments; some with dining alcove; rooms, $45.50 to $69.50 per month.
MANAGER ON PREMISES OR CALL
SHAPIRO-KATZ COMPANY,
REALTORS—BUILDERS.
2426 K ST. NW. Main 9111. mh24-tf

THE DRAKE, 2119 H ST. N.W.
One room, kitchen and bath, $47.50; front; 2 exposures; new building; 24-hour elevator service. See resident manager or
HIGBIE & RICHARDSON
816 15th st. nw. 13

129 WEBSTER ST. N.W.
NEW APARTMENT.
Two rooms, kitchen and tile bath, from $52.50 to $57.50; tiled halls and tile and marble lobby. One block from Soldiers' Home park. Convenient to cars and bus line.
J. C. WEEDON CO.,
1507 K ST. NW. MAIN 10288. 15

3100 WARDER ST.
NEW BUILDING. One square from Soldiers Home. Very desirable apartments of three rooms and bath; four rooms and bath. Corner apartments delightfully located. Oil burner. Representative on premises all day Sunday.
N. L. SANSBURY CO., INC.
1418 Eye St. N.W.
Phone Main 5904.

A FEW UNUSUAL APARTMENTS.
900 19TH ST. N.W.
19TH AND I STS.
1 rm., kit. and bath, $40.00.
2 rms., kit. and bath, $75.00.
(Southeast exposure, awnings and screens. Delightfully cool apartment; 24-hour switchboard service. RESIDENT MANAGER.)

2807 CONN. AVE.
1 rm., dressing closet (Murphy bed), breakfast room, kit., bath, $37.50.
Newly decorated. RESIDENT MANAGER. RADIO.

6921-23 GEORGIA AVE.
THE BORDEAUX.
New building, facing the entrance to Walter Reed hospital.
2 rms., kit. and bath, $60.50.
2 rms., kit. and bath, $50.00.
RESIDENT MANAGER.

1810 CALIFORNIA ST.
1 rm., kit. and bath, $45.00.
2 rms., kit. and bath, $65.00.
All apts. have Murphy beds.
NEWLY DECORATED.

2109 F ST. N.W.
2 rms. (Murphy bed), kit. and bath, $52.50.
1 rm. (Murphy bed), kit. and bath, $32.50.

THE PRINCETON
[illegible] 14TH ST. N.W.
3 rms., [illegible]tte and bath, $50.00.

1305 30TH ST.
THE COLONIAL.
3 rms., kit. and bath, $50.00.

SHANNON & LUCHS, INC.
733 14TH ST. MAIN 2345.

The Tiffany, 1925 16th St.
6 rms., kit., breakfast ph. & bath, rent.....$85.00 mo.
The Newport, 2104 Fla. Ave.
2 rms., kit. & bath, rent.....$47.50 mo.
6 rms., kit. & bath, rent.....$65.00 mo.
The St. Claire, 1717 Tea St. N.W.
5 rms., kit., rear porch, good condition, rent.....$72.50 mo.
1450 Girard St. N.W.
6 rms., b., modern, rent.....$70.00 mo.
1781 S St. N.W.
6 rms., 2 baths, good condition, rent.$90.00 mo.
6 rms., shower bath, rent.....$37.50 mo.
1513 Meridian Place.
6 rms. & bath, rent.....$55.00 mo.
2 rms., kit. & bath, rent.....$50.00 mo.
McKEEVER & GOSS, Inc.
REALTORS. Main 4752
2415 K St. 9

APARTMENTS FOR RENT

Unfurnished

2310 CONN. AVE.
One room, kitchen, bath and balcony; newly decorated, including electric lights; $33.50. 13

THE BRIGHT, 950 Longfellow st.—Two rooms, complete kitchen, with large gas stove, white cabinet; new bldg.; $42.50; convenient to Ga. ave. cars, 14th st. cars and 16th st. bus. Dinowitz Realty Co., Colorado Bldg.; Main 1761. 10

THREE rooms, electricity, gas and heat. Apply after 5:30 p. m. Lincoln 2502. 9

719 6TH ST. NW.—Front apt., 2 rooms, k. and b.; also 3 rooms, k. and b. Apply janitor or office in basement. 11

BERKELEY HALL,
1440 COLUMBIA ROAD N.W.
Delightful 2-rm., kitchen, recept. hall and bath apartment, 2d floor, southern and eastern exposure; rent, $60 monthly.
A. C. HOUGHTON & CO., REALTORS.
1516 H St. N.W. Phone Main 7536-7537. 9

3100 WARDER ST. N.W.
Three and four room apartments. Beautiful location, near Soldiers Home Park. Representative on premises all day. $52.50 and $65.

COLUMBIA CONSTRUCTION COMPANY
521 Irving St. N.W.
Col. 7979.
5,7,9

3126 16TH STREET—THREE LARGE ROOMS & BATH. $55. APPLY TO JANITOR.
5,7,9

REASONABLE RENTS DESIRABLE ENVIRONMENT
A few choice apartments left of two rooms and bath to six rooms and two baths.
Modern building in quiet, refined residential neighborhood.
2229 BANCROFT PL.
(West from Conn. Ave., on S St. to 23d St. and half block north.)
Phone for auto to inspect.
STONE & FAIRFAX, INC.
804 17th Street N.W.
Main 2424.
ap11,S-tf

635 Virginia ave. se.—New, modern apartment house; janitor service; low rent.
(For colored), 2461 P st. nw.—Excellent modern 4-room and bath apartment; $35.
3482 Nichols ave. se.—Excellent flat; modern; low rent.
McNEY REALTY CO., INC.
726 14th St. NW. Main 3920.

DORSTAN HALL
4800 GEORGIA AVE. N.W.
NEW BUILDING. A few apartments left in this desirable building. Saul's Addition. Apts. of three rooms, kitchen, bath and porch, $67.50 to $75.50 month. Apts. of two rooms, kitchen, dining alcove and porch, $60.50 to $70.50 month. Cedar closets, double-bracket side lights, tiled shower baths; extra large rooms; corner apartments.
N. L. SANSBURY CO., INC.
1418 Eye St. N.W.
Phone Main 5904.

HOUSES FOR RENT

Unfurnished

7-ROOM, modern house, newly decorated; reasonable. 1507 Mass. ave. se. 9

123 YUMA ST. SE.—Five-room bungalow; $25 month; electricity, water; three lots; end of Congress Heights car line called Washington Highlands. See Jesse L. Heiskell, 1150 I st. nw. Linc. 10316. 9

Furnished

OFFICER'S FAMILY will rent attractively furnished house, cool, comfortable, garage. Phone North 7527. 11

Very attractive home Col. Hghts; 7 rms., 2 baths, gas, elec., front ph., sl. and breakfast ph.; modern in every detail; in A-1 condition; open for inspection all day Sunday; 4712 15th st.; rent, $115 mo.
McKEEVER & GOSS, INC.
REALTORS.
1415 K St. Main 4752

16TH ST., NEAR SCOTT CIRCLE
9 rooms and bath; garage.
THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.,
738 15th St. Main 6830. 9

1520 NEWTON ST.—6 rms., b., slpg. porch; desirable; nr. 16th st.; reasonable.....$100
NEWARK ST., Clev. Pk.—Det.; 8 rms., 2 b.; garage. Available any time.....$150
EDGEMOOR, MD.—Modern house; 11 rms.; spacious grounds; ample shade.....$275
MADDUX, MARSHALL, MOSS & MALLORY, INC.
923 13TH ST. N. W. MAIN 10134. 1,2,3,8,9,10

BUNGALOW—Well furnished, on river; 4 rooms; lawn with beautiful roses and shrubs; garage; $20 per mo. Write B. W. Howe, Cabin John, Md. 9

Unfurnished

Attractive home Chevy Chase; 6 r., b., h.-w. h., a.m.i.; rent, $90 mo.
1107 Kenyon st. nw.; 7 rms., b.; newly decorated; 2-car g.; rent, $80 mo.
501 Allison st. nw.; 6 rms. b. b.-i. gar., sl. and breakfast front ph.
Newly decorated home Col. Hghts.; 6 rms., b., gas, elec., front ph., sl. and breakfast ph., b.-i. gar.; rent, $110 mo.
McKEEVER & GOSS, INC.
REALTORS.
1415 K St. Main 4752

1353 HARVARD ST. N.W.
Nine rooms and two baths; h.-w. h., elec., built-in garage; $110 month.
N. L. SANSBURY CO., INC.,
1418 Eye st. nw. Phone Main 5904.

641 B st. se.; 6-room house; just reconditioned; rent, $45.
2307 18th st. nw.; large, modern home; suitable for rooming and boarding; rent reasonable.
1309 Park rd. nw.; 14-room, 2-bath, modern detached home; completely remodeled; excellent for roomers and boarders; rent reasonable.
McNEY REALTY CO., INC.,
726 14th St. NW. Main 3920.

209 A st. ne.—8 r. & b., electricity.
704 A st. ne.—7 r. & b.; a. m. i.
214 9th st. ne.—6 r. & b.; $45 per month.
404 E. Cap. st.—10 r. & b.
JOS. A. HERBERT & SONS,
1013 15th st. nw. 9

1716 N. CAPITOL
House unfurnished; 6 rooms, reception hall and bath in excellent condition; $65.50; available May 15.
AMERICAN SECURITY & TRUST CO.
15th and Pa. Ave. NW. M. 4815. 9

2210 Eye St. N.W.
8 rooms and bath.....$55.00

1619 21st St. N.W.
9 rooms and bath; newly decorated; rent reasonable.

2107 O St. N.W.
9 rooms and 2 baths; rent reasonable.

210 Taylor St. N.W.
6 rooms, bath; garage.....$70.00

1404 L St. N.W.
11 rooms and bath; will remodel to suit tenant; at reasonable rental.

WM. H. SAUNDERS CO., Inc.
Realtors—Established 1887.
1433 K St. N.W. M. 1016-7
10

KENYON ST., NEAR 18TH
8 rooms and bath; garage.

NEWTON ST., NEAR 14TH
6 rooms and bath; garage.

NICHOLS AVE., ANACOSTIA
6 rooms and bath; garage and grounds.

21ST ST., NEAR Q N.W.
9 rooms and bath.

GEORGIA AVE., NEAR HARVARD
5 rooms and bath.

FOR COLORED
L ST., NEAR 21ST N.W.
9 rooms and bath.

THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.,
738 15th St. Main 6830. 9

1020 SPRING RD. NW.—6 large rooms and bath; h.-w. h.; elec.; front and rear porches; garage; large yard. Rent, $65.00 month.
MAURICE FITZGERALD.
[illegible] G St. N. W. Main 8386.

HOUSES FOR RENT

Unfurnished

NEAR SCOTT CIRCLE ON MASS. AVE.—DETACHED HOME SUITABLE FOR DOCTOR, 12 rooms, 2 baths, also 5-car garage; in good condition.
WM. H. SAUNDERS CO., INC.
Realtors—Established 1887
1433 K St. NW. Main 1016-7 10

1619 21ST ST, NW.—Nine rooms and bath, $90. 13

SUBURBAN FOR RENT

6 rooms and bath; all conveniences; beautiful location.
THOS. E. HAMPTON.
Bethesda, Md. Bethesda 244. 9

For Sale or Rent

IN NEARBY Virginia; six-room house and seven-room house; a. m. i. Phone Clarendon 847-F-4. 9,16,23

WATERFRONT PROPERTY

For Rent

Sherwood Forest
On the Severn River
FURNISHED BUNGALOWS FOR RENT
Two Golf Courses
Excellent Bathing
Via Bladensburg and Defense Highway, 28 miles.
1206 18th St. N.W.
Main 7523
Or, when downtown.
"Ask Mr. Foster."

OFFICES FOR RENT

THE EDMONDS BUILDING
917 15th St. N.W.
A modern building with all improvements in the heart of the financial district. Large and well lighted suites. Reasonable rentals.
SHANNON & LUCHS, INC.
713 14th St. Main 2345
my2-8,w,f,13t

STORES FOR RENT

819 Upshur st. nw.—Good store, suitable for any business; rent, $60.
524 8th st. se.—Store with rooms above; can be used for almost any business; rent reasonable.
749 8th st. se.—3-story building; large, desirable, modern store and dwelling rooms above; entire building at reasonable rent to responsible party.
McNEY REALTY CO., INC.
726 14th St. NW. Main 3920.

COTTAGES FOR RENT

Furnished

FOR RENT—Furnished cottage, a.m.i., open fireplace, large lawn, porches. Nimrod Mercer, Bluemont, Va. 9, 16

REAL ESTATE WANTED

BUYERS everywhere: My successful system sells your property. Send description and best price and realize results. Tulloch, 238 Speedway ave., Irvington, N. J.

HOUSES FOR SALE

MAKE OFFER, cash or terms, on my modern home, 2801 25th st. ne.; leaving city; hurry. 9

ATTRACTIVE 8-room brick house; opposite Smithsonian Institution; close to Dept. of Agriculture and Bureau of Engraving and Printing; arranged in apartments; open for inspection. 1110 Virginia ave. sw. 9

$500 CASH AND $65 A MONTH
New 6-Room Brick Home
Near Lincoln Park—Only $7,450.
This new 6-room and tiled bath tapestry brick home with colonial front porch, located near beautiful Lincoln Park, is one of the best values in the Southeast today. Its rooms are large and cheery and its features are many, including electricity, hot-water heat, hardwood floors, wardrobe closets, double laundry trays, concrete cellar. This house can be bought for a very small cash payment and monthly payments less than rent.
Phone Service Until 9 P. M.
CAFRITZ
14TH & K M. 9080 10

FOR IMMEDIATE SALE

Attractive
Old Georgetown House.
Built 1840.
Lovely garden—Room for garage.
Apply
Horace H. Westcott & Co.
816 17th St. 9

Apt., 533 21st st.; Flats, 3138 O, 650 Newton, 1633 Newton; residences, 1721 Euclid, 1211 Girard, 1414 Euclid; investments, 1524 B ne., 1241 Duncan ne., 121 N se.; colored, 425 17th se., 755 and 759 Hobart, 722 and 775 Harvard and many other properties at low prices; on terms. Consider trading or renting a number of the above.
N. E. RYON CO., INC.
Main 4597.....1423 F St.
Columbia 1577.....3418 14th St. 10

EXCEPTIONAL VALUE.
15 MINUTES FROM CITY.
We have just listed for sale an 8-room, 2-bath semibungalow-type home, situated on a corner lot 100 feet front by 132 feet deep, with garage. We consider this a. m. i. bungalow by far the best buy in our office. Do not fail to inspect at once.
JOS. A. HERBERT & SONS,
REALTORS.
MAIN 4500. 9

NEAR GRANT CIRCLE.
Owners leaving the city, have reduced the price to $8,950—on terms of $1,000 cash. Balance monthly, on their very attractive tapestry brick home, containing 6 spacious rooms, attic, tile bath, hot-water heat, elec., sleeping and breakfast porch; large front porch. Property in excellent condition. Very desirable section of Petworth, about three squares north of beautiful Grant circle.
WILLIAM S. PHILLIPS & CO.
INCORPORATED.
Phone Service Until 9 P. M.
1432 K St. Main 4600. 10

$750 FIRST PAYMENT WILL SECURE FINE modern brick residence; Dupont circle; 9 large light rooms, 2 baths, 2 kitchens, electricity, steam heat; all conveniences; excellent for rooming house; from owner. North 108. 9

CLEVELAND PARK, 3618 Ordway st.—For sale by owner; detached Dutch colonial Home on lot, 50x100; 7 rooms and tile bath, hardwood floor; all modern conveniences; detached garage; open today for inspection. 9

PRICE $6,300.
Just off of Massachusetts ave. ne.; a six-room and bath brick house; in good condition; convenient to the Union station and within easy walking distance of the downtown section. Terms $500 cash, balance monthly, to include interest and principal.

PRICE $4,200.
In the Southeast section, opposite the Marine barracks; a six-room and bath brick house; hot-air heat. The owner of this property is leaving the city and will make the easiest kind of terms.
JOHN F. DONOHOE & SONS,
314 Pennsylvania Avenue S.E.
REALTORS. 9

HOUSES FOR SALE — HOUSES FOR SALE

OPEN SUNDAY
SOUND VALUES

NEAR SHERIDAN CIRCLE
An imposing house of finest old brick, containing nine exceptionally large rooms and two baths; every modern convenience. The plan is ideal. The lot is deep and has a garage. The new Rock Creek Drive will run immediately in the rear of the house. The price, location and construction are such that if you are interested in buying a real home, you will inspect this before acting.
2232 Que Street.

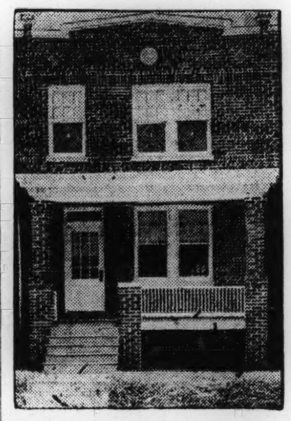

"THE IDEAL HOME."
A colonial porch house, attractive in appearance and built to last several lifetimes; arranged with eight rooms and two baths on two floors; spare room first floor; lot 20x145 with double brick garage. The location, just around the corner from the business and recreational center of the Heights on the one hand, and the "Embassy" section of 16th Street on the other, is most desirable. Price reduced for quick sale.
1461 Harvard Street.

OPPOSITE CHEVY CHASE CLUB.
NEW BRICK HOMES.
Two distinctive new residences of nine rooms and three baths. Every detail of arrangement and finish has been effected to please the most discriminating taste. Lot 65x140; garage. We invite inspection at any time. Phone Main 2424.

9 AND 11 OXFORD STREET.
(Six blocks north of Circle and a few steps East of Conn. Avenue.)
STONE & FAIRFAX,
804 17th Street. Main 2424
"OVER FORTY YEARS OF REAL SERVICE." 9

3532 QUEBEC STREET N.W.
CLEVELAND PARK
OPEN UNTIL 8 P. M.
(One Block West of Porter St.)
Built As Houses Should Be Built.
A new semi-detached brick house of eight rooms; excellent floor plan; fireplace, oak floors, beautiful kitchen, four large bedrooms, large airy basement, separate brick garage. Priced right and terms to suit.
To inspect, drive out Connecticut Ave. to Porter St., turn right on 35th St. to Quebec St.; or drive out Wisconsin Ave. to Idaho Ave., right on Quebec street to house.
DOUGLASS & PHILLIPS, INC.,
Realtors
1516 K St. N.W. Franklin 5678 9

To Hesitate Is to Lose This Chance!

30 Have Been Built
Only 2 Are Left
Sample House
629 Franklin Street N.E.
SIX ROOMS AND BATH
Modern in Every Detail
$500 Cash
$65 Per Month
Price, $7,850
Drive out Michigan avenue and Monroe street to 7th street northeast, and south to Franklin, or take Brookland car, or phone Main 36 daily or Main 38 Sunday for representative.
CHAS. D. SAGER
924 14th St. N.W. Main 36 9

ROSE CREST
Over the Highway Bridge, follow the upper road toward the Masonic Temple, Alexandria, on the way about 4½ miles from Washington you will find Rose Crest, the place to own a suburban home with all city conveniences. We have just completed the following homes, which are open for inspection:

Five-room and tile bath frame bungalow, electricity, water, sewer, hot-air heat, concrete cellar with laundry tubs, nice front and back porches, attractive fireplace, and within one block of electric car line. A real bargain at $6,250; $500 cash and $55 a month.

Dutch colonial, six rooms and tile bath, reception hall, hot-water heat, electricity, water, sewer, concrete cellar with laundry tubs, side and back porches, fireplace in large living room, hardwood floors, breakfast nook with table and benches built in. You must see this home to appreciate the real bargain you will get for $8,250, on easy terms.

Brick bungalow, 5 rooms and tile bath, electricity, hot-water heat, sewer, water, concrete sidewalks, full concrete cellar with laundry tubs, lovely front porch—well, it has just everything that will make you want to call it home. The price is $8,750, and on easy terms.

In this beautiful suburb we also have wonderful building sites, on which we will build and finance you the home of your choice.

With this opportunity, can you afford to pay rent?

For your evening or Sunday afternoon drive choose Rose Crest as your destination, look these homes over and then get in touch with

GRAHAM AND OGDEN, REALTORS,
530 King St., Alexandria, Va.
313 Woodward Bldg., Washington, D. C.
Phones Alex. 1300-1301 or Main 3689. 9

CHEVY CHASE
3615 Quesada Street—Detached
1½ blocks east of circle.
8 rooms, including 4 sleeping rooms. Tile bath with shower. Lavatory first floor. Large kitchen. Instantaneous hot water heater. Two screened porches. Garage. Many splendid oak trees. Convenient to churches, schools, shops and theater. Probably the best buy in Chevy Chase today at $17,000. Open for inspection Sunday 12 to 6 p. m. No signs on premises.
FRED T. NESBIT
Investment Bldg. Main 9392 9

PETWORTH, $8,950.00 DETACHED
Undoubtedly one of the biggest bargains we have had in this desirable section; bungalow containing 6 rooms and bath; hot-water heat, instantaneous heater and electricity; extra storage rooms on second floor; deep lot with garage; will soon be zoned for business.
WOODRIDGE, $10,750 TERMS
Only a short distance away from the new John Burroughs public school; practically new detached home; just off Rhode Island ave.; built by master builder; containing six rooms and bath; hot-water heat, electricity; deep lot to alley; owner has purchased larger home and will sell on reasonable terms.
KAY-SCHNIDER-KAY CO., INC.
212 Investment Bldg. Franklin 518. 9,11,12,13,15

1220 G ST. S.E.
Price Reduced to $8,750.
Detached home, 8 rooms and bath; hot-water heat; electricity; newly papered and painted.
Terms, $500 Cash and $75 Monthly.
IMMEDIATE POSSESSION.
WM. P. NORMOYLE,
REALTORS.
810 F St. N.W. Main 2255 9

2-FAMILY APT.
1345 MASS. AVE. SE.
Each apt. contains 5 r. and b.; will rent for $110 per month. Selling price, $10,000.
JOS. A. HERBERT & SONS,
1013 15th St. NW. 9

EVERY COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE
8-Room Detached Corner Home With Built-in Garage, $13,950.
This splendid tapestry brick corner home with colonial front porch overlooking Sherman circle appeals immediately to those desiring a well-arranged and well-appointed residence. It has a reception hall, hospitable living room, library with French doors, dining room and well planned kitchen with service porch. There are four large and cheery bedrooms and all-white tiled bath with built-in tub and shower. The many desirable features include a BUILT-IN GARAGE, paved alley, hot-water heat, instantaneous hot-water heater, electricity, hardwood floors, artistic lighting fixtures and tasteful decoration. This is one of the best values in the Northwest section—an exceptionally fine home on very reasonable terms.
Phone Service Until 9 P. M.
CAFRITZ
14TH & K M. 9080 10

FOR COLORED
Nine rooms and bath, semidetached, electricity, newly decorated. Can be used by two or three families. Owner has purchased larger home and will sell on small cash payment. Box 304, Washington Post. 9

SEMIDETACHED, corner property, in beautiful Brookland; face brick throughout; oak floors, upstairs and down, laid over ¼-inch tongue-and-groove subfloors; 6 rooms; tile bath; floored attic; bricked-in coal bin; screened rear porch; large lot to paved alley. Phone Main 3174 or North 7471. 9

5308 COLORADO AVE. N.W.
Detached home, containing 9 rooms, 2 baths; built-in garage; lot 50x200. Priced right.
JOS. A. HERBERT & SONS,
1013 15th St. NW. 9

THERE IS NO VALUE IN WASH. THAT COMPARES WITH THESE Beautiful New Homes
2912 18th St. N.W.
Open for inspection every day until 9 p. m.
Adjoining Rock Creek Park. The health of the country combined with the convenience of the city. Four bedrooms, garage, large attic; street and alley paved; all modern appointments. Take Columbia road between 16th and 17th to Ontario road, then north one square to Ontario apartments, and on right you will see our sign.
CARL H. SMITH
INSURANCE BLDG., 15TH AND I STS. NW.
MAIN 1046 OR SEE YOUR BROKER.
ap21-eod-tf

MANOR PARK
14th street car line extended. An inspection will convince you of the worth of the attractive detached home, located on a corner lot 55x140, where property is rapidly increasing in value. It contains 8 bright cheery rooms and bath, open fireplace, modern improvements, front, side, inclosed sleeping and breakfast porches and a garage. Underpriced at $11,500.
L. T. GRAVATTE
MAIN 753. REALTOR. COL. 6500.
927 15TH STREET NW. 9

HOUSES FOR SALE

1245 Shepherd St. N.W.
Price, $9,500
A colonial brick house of 6 rooms and bath, h.-w. h., gas and electricity, front porch, double back porch. House in excellent condition. Room for garage. Immediate possession. Terms can be arranged.
DAVID E. BARRY
1807 H ST. NW. MAIN 1801.
Open Sunday From 3 to 6. 9

SEVEN-ROOM house, residential section, A1 location, two baths, attic and cellar, furnace, a.m.i., garage, shop, chicken house and brooder, fruit; good condition; garden planted. Apply 52 Wine ave., Hyattsville, Md. Phone Hy. 64-R. 11

Just Below Central High
2212 11TH ST. N. W.
2-story frame; 2-car garage; first trust and int., $207.80; second trust, $1,000 with 2 yrs. int.; terms, all cash; will be sold at auction May 13 at 4:30. Trustee's sale. 9,11,13

10-ROOM HOUSE
Garage
NEAR WARDMAN PARK
Offered today for the first time.
GANTT & KENYON,
816 15th St. Main 7928

ONLY 2 LEFT.
BEFORE YOU BUY NORTHEAST
INSPECT NEW HOMES
CORNER 17th & A STS. N.E.
PAVED STREETS.
OVERLOOKING
NEW EASTERN HIGH SCHOOL.
PRICED BELOW $7,500.
SMALL CASH PAYMENT.
TERMS ARRANGED AS LOW AS
$50 A MONTH.
HOWENSTEIN BROS.,
7th and H Sts. N.E. Linc. 897. 9

3925 and 3927 McKINLEY ST.
Half block from Connecticut Avenue and Chevy Chase school; detached brick, 9 rooms and 2 baths, with all modern improvements, at a very reasonable price. Open all day Sunday.
N. F. BAESSELL, OWNER.
POTOMAC 4967. 9

A BARGAIN.
Will entertain any reasonable offer; 10 r. and b.; electricity; garage; newly painted and papered throughout. 110 4th st. ne. Open from 3 to 9 p. m.
JOS. A. HERBERT & SONS,
1013 15th St. NW. 9

DETACHED BRICK.
An unusual opportunity to purchase an excellent property showing return of $150 monthly; splendidly located. Five squares from bureau of engraving and printing, containing twelve rooms, hot-water heat, electricity. Arranged as four apartments; four-car brick garage. Priced at $13,000. On terms.
WILLIAM S. PHILLIPS & CO.
INCORPORATED.
Phone Service Until 9 P. M.
1432 K St. Main 4600. 10

2-FAMILY APT., 506 E St. N.E.
Each apt. contains 5 r. and b.; now renting for $90 per month. Selling price, $8,500.
JOS. A. HERBERT & SONS,
1013 15th St. NW. 9

PRICE, $3,250—FRAME HOME.
Newly papered and painted throughout. Reasonable terms. 707 I st. se.
JOS. A. HERBERT & SONS,
1013 15th St. NW. 9

MAKE OFFER, cash or terms, on my modern home, 2801 25th st. ne.; leaving city; hurry; home all day today. 9

A TRIP TO EUROPE
If you are renting a 4-room apartment in the hot city, buy this charming little bungalow in Takoma Park for $5,250 and save the cost of a trip to Europe out of your present rent in 2 years. I will show you how with $250 cash and terms that satisfy.
Near 14th st. car.....A. M. I.
Concrete street.....Garden
Shade trees.....Garage
Direct from owner. Call Adams 7137.

SUPERFINE
NEW BRICK HOMES
7100 BLOCK GEORGIA AVE.
Seven large rooms, six closets, tile bath with shower and built-in Pembroke tub, artistic lighting fixtures, floor plugs in every room, built-in breakfast porch entered through French doors from dining room, white kitchen with enamel range and built-in cabinets, pantry with built-in refrigerator iced outside, concrete front porch, sleeping porch across entire house, oak floors, ivory finished woodwork. Some of the houses have open fireplaces, 2 baths and built-in fireproof garages.
Price, $11,250.
Small cash payment and balance like rent.
120 Adams St. N.W.
$750 cash and small monthly payments buys this modern 6-room brick house. Inclosed sleeping and breakfast porches, 2-car garage, lot 140 feet deep to paved alley. Price, $8,950.
ONTARIO RD. N.W.
Colored.
Six rooms, bath, brick, all modern improvements; best northwest location. Price, $8,600, on easy terms.
YOUNG & COMPANY,
1022 Vermont Ave. Main 3217 9

WHITE stone front house, beautiful and modern; marble-tiled front porch; six large rooms; screened back porches; two bathrooms, one with shower; two white-enameled gas ranges; three toilets; garage. 708 G st. ne. 9

FIRST TIME OFFERED
SEMI-DETACHED BRICK HOMES
They're beauties; 7 large rooms, concrete front porch, hardwood floors, open fireplace, bath, with built-in fixtures, large attic; double rear porches; hot-water heat, electricity, &c.; nice lot with space for garage. Inspect today. The price is right and the terms can't be beat.
2028 HAMLIN ST. N.E.
OPEN ALL DAY.
DRIVE OUT RHODE ISLAND AVENUE TO HAMLIN ST. AND THEN EAST ONE BLOCK TO PROPERTY.
THE JOSEPH SHAPIRO CO.,
910 15TH ST. NW. FRANKLIN 1140. 10

COLORED, $350 CASH.
Move in the day of deposit. Monthly terms less than rent. This is a plan on which you can buy the following: 13th st. nw., 7 rooms, h.-w. h., garage space; $7,500.
7th and S sts. nw., 6 rooms, brick, good condition; $6,500.
4 rooms and bath, elec., gas, alley, colonial porch; $4,950.
Near 14th and R, 8 rooms, bath, concrete cellar, good condition; $9,500.
T st., between 15th and 16th, 9 rooms, h.-w. h., electricity, gas, concrete cellar; good cash payment; easy terms.
12th st., near Iowa circle, 10 rooms, 2 baths, electricity, furnace, good condition; $12,000; easy terms.
CALL ALL DAY SUNDAY. NORTH 4897 11

BUSINESS PROPERTY

For Sale

Eye street, west of 17th street; splendid brick house containing 8 rooms and 3 baths on three floors; 20 feet wide; ideal for professional building; easily remodeled for business and priced for quick sale at an extremely low figure.
ALLAN E. WALKER & CO., INC.,
813 15th Street N.W. Main 2690 10

FINE GAS STATION SITE.
Located on splendid corner in Northwest, on main artery; 100-foot frontage; permit for gas station already secured. This is one of the best sites available today at a price that insures enhancements in values.
ALLAN E. WALKER & CO., INC.,
813 15th Street N.W. Main 2690 10

SUBURBAN FOR SALE

CHERRYDALE, VA.—Modern four-room and bath bungalow; all improvements; quick transportation; near schools, stores; bargain. Clarendon 1072. 9

OLD COLONIAL HOME
Large shady grounds, city water, &c.; District sub.; suitable for home or private club, hospital, &c. Lincoln 9284-J. my9,12,14,16,19,21,23,26,28 30,je2,4

SPRING IS HERE!
Now is the time to select your choice camp site, at Brookmont, overlooking the Potomac River. Lots $100 and up; easy terms.
A. J. WATKINS REALTY CORP.
1407 N. Y. Ave. N.W.
Main 4799. 9,11

RIVERDALE, MD.—4 large rooms, bath; modern bungalow; garden, lawn, large lot; only $4,100, on small monthly payments. Berwyn Investment Co., Berwyn, Md. Berwyn 46.

WOODRIDGE, D. C.—By owner; attractive, 5 large room, modern bath bungalow, h.-w. h., floored attic, large cellar, laundry tubs, screens, metal weather stripped; lot 50x135; paved alley; two blocks from school and cars; $8,500; small cash payment; $65 month. 1805 Kearney st. 9

6-room dwelling, chicken house, other buildings, several bearing fruit trees; hard surface road; 6 miles D. C.; 4 miles Alexandria; school and church nearby; bus line convenient; $5,000; $1,000 cash, $50 per month.
8-room brick dwelling, modern conveniences; one acre bearing orchard; hard surface road; well situated; $16,500; $2,500 cash, $100 per mo.; will trade for nearby improved Maryland property.
Well set in timber, near railroad; close to D. C. and Alexandria; excellent furure for acre-lot subdivision; near hard road; $17,500; $5,000 cash, balance 1, 2 and 3 years.
Fully equipped; 100 acres; close in to D. C.; priced low for quick sale.
Appointments made for Sunday inspection.
J. P. QUARLES,
108 S. Washington St. Alexandria, Va.
Phone 767. 9

OWNER anxious to sell 5-r., bath bung.; garage, two cars; large cor. lot; $9,250; make offer. Office, Ft. Strong Villa, Lee Highway, Va. 9

Have Your Maryland Titles examined and guaranteed by the Maryland Home Title Insurance Co.
Established 1910.
PROMPT AND RELIABLE.
Upper Marlboro, Md. Marlboro 3-W.
945 K St. NW. Main 5371.
my2-30t

Laurel, Maryland
Beautiful home, 8 rooms, corner lot, 100 x150; completely furnished; furnace heat; beautiful shade trees, double garage. Because of recent death in family, must be sold quickly. Price, $8,500; terms to suit buyer. Address J. H. Fetty, Laurel, Md. 9

FIVE acres; nearby Va.; fee simple; spring water. Henry McConvey, 639 F. Fr. 5820-J. 9

TAKOMA PARK HOMES
8 rooms and bath, a. m. i.; lot 65 by 155. Easy terms. Shade trees. 1 block from R. R. station. 2 car lines and stores. Located in first commercial zone. The lot on which this house stands will soon be worth the price asked for house and lot. $13,500. Very easy terms.
7 rooms and tile bath. Built only 3 years and as good as new. Fireplace; chestnut trim; oak floors throughout; a. m. i.; 1 block from North street car line. This beautiful home is being sold at a sacrifice, as owner must leave Takoma. $11,750. $2,000 down; balance like rent.
New 6-room house with tile bath, built-in tub, hot-water heat, Pittsburg instantaneous heater, fireplace; lot 50 by 175 ft. Large shade trees; concrete street. Price only $10,950. Inspect this bargain before it is gone

COUNTRY HOMES—SALE

Direct From Owner
A Virginia Country Home With Ten Acres of Land

Situated in the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains, among the most elegant estates in Albermarle county, Virginia. Here is a combination of advantages in climate, picturesqueness, good roads and good neighbors.

Dwelling is an attractive, conveniently-planned modern frame house in excellent condition. Hardwood floors throughout. Will sell furnished or unfurnished. Seven main rooms, wide halls, bath, pantries, closets, sleeping porch, five other porches. Large grove of 200 trees and other shrubbery. Good outbuildings. Possession within 20 days.

Information and illustrated folder on request. E. D. Hundley, Afton, Va. 9

APARTMENTS FOR SALE

APARTMENT HOUSE

On a wide avenue in Northwest; new brick and limestone building; near bus and car lines; in a section where apartment space is in constant demand. Property is well financed at a low interest rate and may be bought to show a return of 30 per cent on the money invested. THIS IS A REAL OPPORTUNITY to secure a new building at a price and on terms you are glad to pay for old buildings. Think what that means in additional dollars saved. Get more information from

ALLAN E. WALKER & CO., INC.,
813 15th Street N.W. Main 2690
10

REAL ESTATE LOANS

MONEY TO LOAN
5½%
3, 5 and 10 YEARS

Secured by First Trust on Improved District and nearby Maryland property.

RANDALL H. HAGNER & CO.
1321 Conn. Ave. Main 9700
se15-tf

MONEY TO LOAN IN ANY AMOUNT FOR 3 or 5 years, to be secured upon first mortgages in the District of Columbia.

Installment loans made in Washington and nearby sections of Maryland and Virginia on the 10-year monthly installment plan, providing for cancellation of the mortgage in case of death of the borrower.

E. QUINCY SMITH, INC.
909 15TH ST. N.W. fe2-tf

QUICK SERVICE—Second trust notes bought on D. C. and nearby Va. and Md. Improved real estate; also 1st trust notes bought on acreage, building lots and farms; also builder and subdivision operators financed. Cash enables you to make additional profit. It will pay you to talk your financial problems over with FULTON R. GORDON, MAIN 5231.

Continental Trust Co. Bldg., 14th and H. fe26-tf

WE WILL LOAN AT 5½%
ON BEST TERMS TO BORROWER
TYLER & RUTHERFORD
1018 VERMONT AVE. M.475
fe4-tf

MONEY TO LOAN
AT 5½%
On Improved Northwest Property

We also have special funds to loan on small property in all sections of D. C. at current interest rates.

WM. H. SAUNDERS CO., INC.
1433 K ST. N.W. MAIN 1016
de18-tf

MONEY TO LOAN

WE will loan money on your automobile. Bring bill of sale. 643 Md. ave. ne. Linc. 178. 31

PLENTY of money to loan on autos and trucks; you keep car; no delays; confidential. Monk, 933 N. Y. ave. nw. M. 2148. my26

INCORPORATIONS

INCORPORATE your business under Delaware's liberal law; powers broad; fees small; forms; 18 years' experience. Chas. G. Guyer, 901 Orange st., Wilmington, Del. je15.52t

MONEY WANTED

Member of a Masonic Lodge
(F. O. B. B.)

A German brother Mason (B'nai B'rith) seeks a mortgage from $10,000 to $15,000 for his villa on 5-6 year. I am head of a great business in a large German town. Without risk, which human being can lend a hand to me? An answer is requested to Box 593 This Office.

STEAMSHIPS

SPRING TRIPS To VIRGINIA BEACH
Delightful—
Week-End Outings
SPECIAL—Including Stateroom and Hotel Accommodations
Friday to Monday / Saturday to Tuesday | $17.60
New York-Boston by Sea
City Ticket Office
Woodward Building, 731 15th St.
NORFOLK & WASHINGTON STEAMBOAT CO.

The Call of
SOUTH AMERICA

Respond to the call of a continent whose scenic grandeur and urban splendor intrigue and captivate the traveler.

The steamers of the "V" Fleet provide the means of South American East Coast travel. You will find restful beds and berths; only outside staterooms; appetizing meals, and willing steward service. Regular Sailings from New York to ports on East Coast of South America

by the ships of the FAMOUS V FLEET

BARBADOS - RIO DE JANEIRO
MONTEVIDEO - BUENOS AIRES
Calling northbound at Santos & Trinidad

Next Sailing
S. S. Vandyck, May 15
Future Sailings
*S. S. Vestris, May 29
S. S. Voltaire, June 12
*S. S. Vauban, June 26
*Omit Barbados

STUDENT TOUR—2 months leaving June 26 by S. S. Vauban $600 including all expenses aboard & ashore.

For reservations, rate, etc., apply R. M. Hicks, D. P. A., 1208 F St. N. W., or your local Travel Agent.

LAMPORT & HOLT LINE
"Established 80 Years"

STEAMSHIPS

Fascinating
SPAIN
Special 32-Day Sight-Seeing Cruise

To the most romantic and historically interesting sections of Old Spain, via the picturesque Guadalquivir River, to Seville.

R. M. S. "Manuel Arnus"
Sails from New York
June 12, 1926

To SEVILLE, GRANADA, CORDOBA, TOLEDO, MADRID, ESCORIAL.

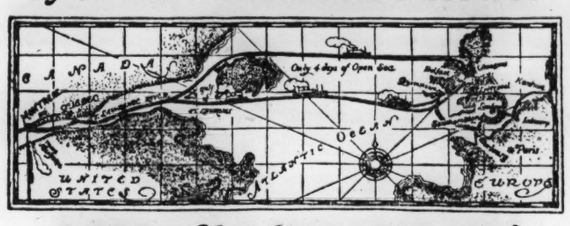

A wonderful vacation trip; principally outside staterooms. Spanish Service, Cuisine, Entertainments, etc.; special trains; accommodations at first-class hotels; all expenses included. Party Strictly Limited. Book Early.

Rates for round trip from $425 up

A few single fares accepted
For Complete Information, Address

SPANISH ROYAL MAIL LINE
Luis Llanso, Agent Pier 8, E. R., N. Y. City
Telephone Bowling Green 5150

Sail to EUROPE
by the* St. Lawrence Route

1,000 miles less open sea!

EMPRESS Express Liners and "CABIN CLASS" Ships—Canadian Pacific Service—a Famous Fleet; a Famous Management! Overnight connecting train—10 hours to Montreal—breakfast on steamer. Or through to ship at Quebec—baggage checked aboard without examination.

An Empress Fleet to the ORIENT
Japan in 10 days, then China and Manila—by 4 magnificent Empress Liners—largest and fastest across Pacific—fortnightly from Vancouver. Same Service and Management.

COMFORT with unique diversion this way—new scenes, new travel thrills—along the River that flows ⅓ the way—then across the sheltered Gulf with only about 4 days open sea. Several sailings a week from Montreal and Quebec, in old French Canada—to Liverpool, Glasgow, Belfast, Southampton, Cherbourg, Antwerp, Hamburg. Accommodations and rates to suit.

Ask for descriptive program Tourists III Cabin and Collegiate Tours
For complete information and reservations, your local agent or
Canadian Pacific
C. E. PHELPS, City Pass. Agt., 905 15th st. nw., Washington, D. C.
E. T. STEBBING, Gen. Agent, 344 Madison Ave., New York City

VISIT 25 WONDER-PORTS ON THIS GREAT World Cruise

Next winter, follow summer round the world! Sail Dec. 2d from New York on the Empress of Scotland, 25,000 gross tons, to Algiers, Naples, and the Far East. Christmas in the Holy Land—New Year's Eve in Cairo. India and Malaysia in the cool season. China and Japan. Fascinating excursions at all ports included in fare. 4 days in Peking. Home for Easter. Always, afloat and ashore, the comfort of Canadian Pacific management...Reserve now. Helpful, informative literature from your local agent, or C. E. Phelps, Canadian Pacific, 905 15th St. N.W., Washington, D. C. Personal service if desired.

"See this world before the next!"

Canadian Pacific
One management, Ship & Shore
WORLD'S GREATEST Travel SYSTEM

Now!

You Can Sail Direct from Baltimore or Philadelphia to FRANCE ENGLAND

GERMANY

By the Splendid Cabin Liner's
"YORCK"
From Baltimore, May 27
From Phila., May 28
"DERFFLINGER"
From Baltimore, June 30
From Phila., July 1
RATES
Cabin $130 and up 3d Class $82.50 and up

For full information, apply Company's Offices, N. E. Cor. Charles & Redwood Sts., Baltimore, or your nearest S. S. Agent.

NORTH GERMAN LLOYD

OCEAN TRIPS For Spring Days

Florida-Delightful voyage over Southern waters. See the famous beaches, tropical palms and gorgeous foliage. Two sailings weekly from Baltimore to Jacksonville, via Savannah. Fare, including rail to Baltimore, and meals and berth on steamer, $31.31

Boston-Weekly sailings from Baltimore. Fare, $22.59. All-expense tours $67.85 up.

Miami-from Philadelphia, via S. S. Berkshire, every ten days. Fare, $51.38. All-expense tour, including hotel and sightseeing, $104.46.

New S. S. Chatham in service May 18

Largest passenger ship out of Baltimore. Accomodates 300. Luxurious appointments. Three promenade decks. Sun parlor; dancing pavilion; music.

Sails from Baltimore to Jacksonville on maiden voyage. Tuesday, May 18. Reservations now.

Automobiles carried. Call Main 4812 for new illustrated folder.

MERCHANTS & MINERS Transportation Co.
1338 H. Street, N. W.
Washington

CAMPS

Exclusive boys' and girls' camp in Adirondacks; near Saratoga; separate, but allied; large private acreage; altitude, 1,700 feet; climate ideal; our counselors are carefully selected for their experience and ability. Information, Phone Columbia 811, Apt. 205. 12

STEAMSHIPS

NORTHERN CRUISE to HALIFAX
NOVA SCOTIA
and ST. JOHN'S NEWFOUNDLAND
12 DAYS ALL EXPENSES
$120.00 UP

Spend your vacation seeing foreign America. Novel, delightful and healthful trip

RED CROSS LINE
S.S. "NERISSA" (New)
S.S. "SILVIA" and S.S. "ROSALIND"

The ship is your home during the entire trip. Sailings from New York every Saturday and every other Wednesday. No Passports needed. For full particulars apply to BOWRING & CO. 17 Battery Pl., N.Y.

BERMUDA
Ideal Summer Vacations
Only 2 Days from New York
8 Days $97. and up
Effective June 1st. Including All Expenses For Steamer, Hotel & Side Trips
Average Summer Temperature 77°
Frequent Sailings via Steamers
"Fort Victoria" & "Fort St. George"
For Illustrated Booklets Write
FURNESS BERMUDA LINE
34 Whitehall Street, New York City or Any Local Tourist Agent

NEW YORK CITY HOTELS

The Hotel WEYLIN
PRESENTS
a unique combination of exquisite appointments, superb cuisine and faultless service. In heart of fashionable social life and but short walk to centers of business and theater districts.
[For Guests of Discrimination]
MADISON AVENUE at 54th Street NEW YORK

Where Southerners Will Find Excellent Accommodations at LEADING New York City Hotels

HOTEL HARGRAVE
102 West 72d St., near Central Park. In the center of New York. Rates $2.50 per day up.

HOTEL FLANDERS
137 West 47th
134 West 48th
400 Rooms at $2.50 up.

SHERMAN SQUARE HOTEL
Broadway at 70th St.
Special rates by the week, month or year.

HOTEL MARIE ANTOINETTE
66th St., Broadway and 67th St. Rooms with bath, $3.50 per day up.

HOTEL MONTEREY B'way and 94th.
Rooms, bath, $3 up; double, $5 up.

44TH ST. HOTEL East of Broadway
New Fireproof Hotel.
300 Rooms. 300 Baths—$3.-$4-$5.

GEO. WASHINGTON HOTEL
112 West 72d.
15 stories of old-fashioned comfort and refinement. Rooms $4 to $12 per day.

HOTEL EMERSON
75th St., Just East of Broadway.
American Plan, $5; European, $3.

RESORTS
New York

IN THE MOUNTAINS
Lakewood Farm Inn
ROSCOE, N. Y.
ESTABLISHED 1836
Open May 28 to October
120 miles from New York City
2500 feet above sea level
No mosquitoes. No black flies.
Selected clientele

At Free Disposal of Guests:
GOLF
Sporty Nine-Hole Course on Premises
TENNIS
Two Fine Clay Courts
HANDBALL
Outdoor and Indoor BOWLING
Four Alleys
BILLIARDS
Six Tables

Other Features:
RIDING LIBRARY
TRAPSHOOTING
ORCHESTRA DANCING
WATER SPORTS (Private Lake)
CHILDREN'S PLAYROOM
FIREPROOF GARAGE
FOREST PRESERVE
MODEL DAIRY FARM
VEGETABLE GARDENS
Famous Trout Streams Nearby

H. F. BASSETT, Manager
NEW YORK BOOKING OFFICE
THE SPUR, 425 FIFTH AVENUE
(At 38th St.) Tel. Caledonia 0280

Massachusetts.
OVERLOOKING THE OCEAN
TERRACE GABLES
Falmouth Heights
Cape Cod, Mass.
Warm Bathing
Thirty-fourth consecutive year under same management. WEBSTER L. DRAPER.

NEW YORK HOTELS

Delightful Vacation Days in the Adirondacks
Summer Cottages For Rent
SARANAC INN
SUMMER HOME OF WEAF BRIDGE EXPERT

18-HOLE CHAMPIONSHIP GOLF

A generously conducted modern summer resort beautifully located on a point of land on the shores of the Upper Saranac Lake with a desirable environment, a superb 18-hole championship golf course at the door and every possible water and land activity to insure you a delightful stay. Open June 1st to November 1st.

CERTIFIED MILK POST & FLAGG'S BROKERAGE OFFICE

Cottages fully furnished and cared for with meals at the hotel $600 and upward for the season.

ALBERTO MARTENS PORTUGUESE TRIO, of Washington, AUGMENTED TO SIX
MRS. PREECE OF WASHINGTON WITH HER SADDLE HORSES

Saranac Inn entertains no one suffering with tubercular trouble.

Address: HARRINGTON MILLS, Manager, UPPER SARANAC, N. Y.
R. R. Station, Saranac Inn Station

RESORTS
Newport, R. I.

NEWPORT Capital of Vacationland

A Wealth of ATTRACTIONS
World famous Cliff Walk
Beaches safe for children
Interesting Colonial landmarks
Sporty golf courses
Yachting in Narragansett Bay
Cottages at Newport and Jamestown
Fresh sea food in variety
Delightful sea breezes
Scenic views unexcelled
New Hotel Viking open June 1st

You've Read About NEWPORT

You've read about Newport everywhere. Why not spend the summer there and enjoy its delights? New hotel accomm dations. Safe surf bathing. Average temperature of ocean from June to September 70°. Summer homes for rent, furnished, at reasonable rates. Make reservations now.

Send for free illustrated booklet in colors
NEWPORT CHAMBER of COMMERCE
NEWPORT, R. I.

RESORTS
West Virginia

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS

QUEEN of American resorts, combining all health and pleasure advantages for Spring vacation or family Summer sojourn.

Mountain bridle trails, three ideal golf courses, famous golf casino and tennis courts, swimming pool, White Sulphur health-giving waters and bath establishment.

Cool nights—2,000 feet altitude—no insects. Golf, riding and swimming instructors.

Write for Summer rates.

The GREENBRIER
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS · W. VA.
Conveniently reached by sleeper from South and North—East and West
AND ITS COLONY OF COTTAGES

Thornton Lewis, President
Fred Sterry, Managing Director
Harry Tait, Manager

Famous for its hospitality—noted social center for repose, rest and recreation.

W. S. S. WATER—First thing in the morning. Never fails.

RESORTS
Pennsylvania

South Mountain Manor
In-the-Mountains
WERNERSVILLE PA.
Open May 29 to October
Under the management of David F. Tuttle
Modern Appointments—Private Baths—Newly Furnished
200-Acre Estate—Elevation 1,500 Feet—18-Hole Golf Course
Tennis—Saddle Horses—Daily Concerts.
New York Office: THE SPUR, 425 Fifth Avenue.
Winter: Kenilworth Lodge, Sebring, Fla.

RESORTS
New Hampshire

Bretton Woods
White Mountains
NEW HAMPSHIRE
FAMOUS FOR GOLF
2 Courses
THE MOUNT PLEASANT
Open June 24th
The Mt. Washington
Open July 8th
C. J. ROOT, Manager
New York Booking Office:
2 WEST 45th ST., Room 508

RESORTS
Florida

MIAMI Hotels—$3 to $5 single; $2.50 up person double.
Rail and Steamship Excursion Rates
THIS SUMMER

RESORTS
Vermont

Announcing New Equinox Golf Links
18 Holes—Under Construction
EQUINOX HOUSE
Manchester-in-the-Mountains
VERMONT
74th Season, June 17th to Nov. 1.
Saddle Horses, Tennis, Boating, Bathing
MRS. GEORGE ORVIS, Owner
A. E. MARTIN, Manager
New York Office: Hotel Lorraine
Fifth Avenue at 45th Street
EKWANOK COUNTRY CLUB
Famous for Golf

ATLANTIC CITY HOTELS

HOTEL CHELSEA
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.
Directly on the Beach, in the Chelsea Section.
IMPROVED and RE-DECORATED with addition of 200-Room Class A Fireproof Building.
Usual exclusive features maintained.
Send for Booklet.
J. B. THOMPSON CO.

BRICK, STEEL & STONE CONSTRUCTION
PRINCESS OCEAN END SO. CAR. AVE. $3.00 UP E. PLAN $3.00 UP AM. PLAN. SPECIAL WEEKLY RATES. BOOKLET & AUTO ROAD MAP. FRANZ C. MASSCHOPS

RESORTS
Massachusetts.

ON CAPE COD
MASSACHUSETTS

Where you may enjoy salt or fresh water fishing, sailing, canoeing, bathing in the ocean or inland bays.

Eighteen and Nine Hole Golf Courses
Wonderful roads for motoring and horseback riding along the coast, then inland through pine woods, giving one both country and seashore.

Good fall hunting — wild Geese and Ducks. Superior Camps for Boys and Girls and Hotels to suit everybody.

For booklets and literature address Cape Cod Chamber of Commerce, Hyannis, or Cape Cod, Martha's Vineyard & Nantucket Hotel Association, Osterville, Mass.

There's Always a Cool Breeze ON CAPE COD

Kollock—Boston

RESORTS
Ocean City

OCEAN CITY NEW JERSEY
America's Greatest Family Resort

And the World's Fastest Growing Seaside City

To those who know the distinctive charm and atmosphere of Ocean City, plans for the Springtime trip or Summer vacation present no problem.

Eight miles of the Finest and Safest Bathing Beach in the World

The Boardwalk with its many shops and theaters, pavilions and piers, affords a varied source of amusements and interest. The best of Seashore Hotels are open and at your service.

Tennis, Golf, Fishing, Dancing, Baseball, Bathing, Boating and Sailing. Nothing that Town, Country or Seashore affords is missing here.

Director of Publicity—Chamber of Commerce
CITY HALL OCEAN CITY, N. J.

ATLANTIC CITY HOTELS

ATLANTIC CITY
Spring, Health and Atlantic City

NO greater opportunity is ever offered for the health of both young and old than a Spring vacation about the Boardwalk.

All the requisites of good health are above par, the climate itself is a natural health builder. Tinted skies, bright sunshine, and restful surroundings lend peace and comfort to the busy or discontented mind.

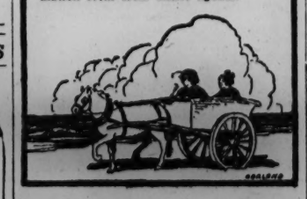

The roller chair, the Boardwalk and comfortable hotels soothe the nerves, while golf, horseback riding, tennis and numerous other attractions provide mild exercise and delightful entertainment.

THE LEADING HOUSES are always open and comprise the finest in the world. Phone, Wire, or Write any of the following for Information, Booklet, Rates, Reservations, etc.

A -Hotel Brighton	A-Hotel Strand
AE-Hotel Knickerbocker	E-The Shelburne
A -Hotel St. Charles	A-Hotel Chelsea
A -The Holmhurst	A-Hotel Morton
A -Chalfonte-Haddon Hall	A-Galen Hall
E -The Ambassador	A-Seaside Hotel
AE-Hotel Traymore	A-The Pennhurst
AE-The Breakers	A-Hotel Dennis
AE-Marlborough-Blenheim

A-American plan E-European plan AE-Both plans

Through Pullman—4½ hours by rail from Washington via Penna. R. R.; or via Baltimore & Ohio R. R., with good connections at Phila. Full information from local ticket agents.

ATLANTIC CITY HOTELS

Royal Palace
on the Beachfront
ATLANTIC CITY
A Representative Boardwalk Establishment
SPECIAL SPRING RATES
AMERICAN PLAN
Double Rooms Weekly
Without Bath, $32.50 to $40 a week each person.
With Bath (Sea Water), $40 to $60 a week each person.
Double Rooms Daily:
Without Bath, $6 to $7 a day each person.
With Bath (Sea Water), $7 to $10 a day each person.
Single Rates on request.
Write for Illustrated Folder. Cuisine and Service that need no Commendation.
STITZER HOTEL CO

RESORTS
New Jersey

THE ESSEX & SUSSEX
SPRING LAKE NEW JERSEY
DIRECTLY ON THE OCEAN
Open June 19th
A resort hotel of distinctive superiority. Two 18 hole golf courses. Hot and cold salt water in all baths. Furnished cottages with hotel service
C. S. Krom Manager
Booklet, Floor Plan and Rates on application

Headquarters for Washingtonians
MALVERN
ROOMS ONLY
1610 Pacific Ave., opp. New Bell Telephone Bldg. "Heart of the City." $1.50 up daily. J. W. Bindor, formerly prop. Strath-Haven Hotel.
a.16,23

Horologists to Hear Waltham Engineer

An address by Olaf Ohlson, horological engineer of the Waltham Watch Co., will be one of the outstanding features of the annual meeting of the Horological Institute of America, which will be held at the home of the National Academy of Sciences and the National Research council, Twenty-first and B streets northwest, Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. Ohlson will speak on "Motive Power for Time Pieces" on Wednesday at 11 o'clock. Capt. E. T. Pollock, superintendent of the U. S. naval observatory, will speak on horology as related to maritime pursuits. "The clock that is almost human" will be demonstrated by its inventor.

Maj. Paul Chamberlain, of Chicago, will also speak. One of the chief matters for consideration will be the third certification examination of the institute, a higher examination than that of "Certified Watchmaker."

Girls to Use Military Camp.

The request of Mrs. Herbert Hoover for permission for the Girl Scouts to maintain their annual camp at Fort Hoyle, Md., has been acted on favorably by Secretary of War Davis.

Gen. Drum to Return.

Brig. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, U. S. A., will return to this city from Army and Navy General hospital, Hot Springs, Ark., about May 15, for temporary duty with the chief of staff, prior to assuming command of the First infantry brigade at Fort Wadsworth, N. Y.

Store Hours: 8 to 6

WHEN you buy Furniture at "The National" every purchase carries with it title to lasting satisfaction. Both down payment and terms are arranged to suit your convenience.

$5 Delivers Any Suite

THE NATIONAL

N. E. Corner 7th and H Sts. N. W.

Bring Your Home Furnishing Problems to "The National"

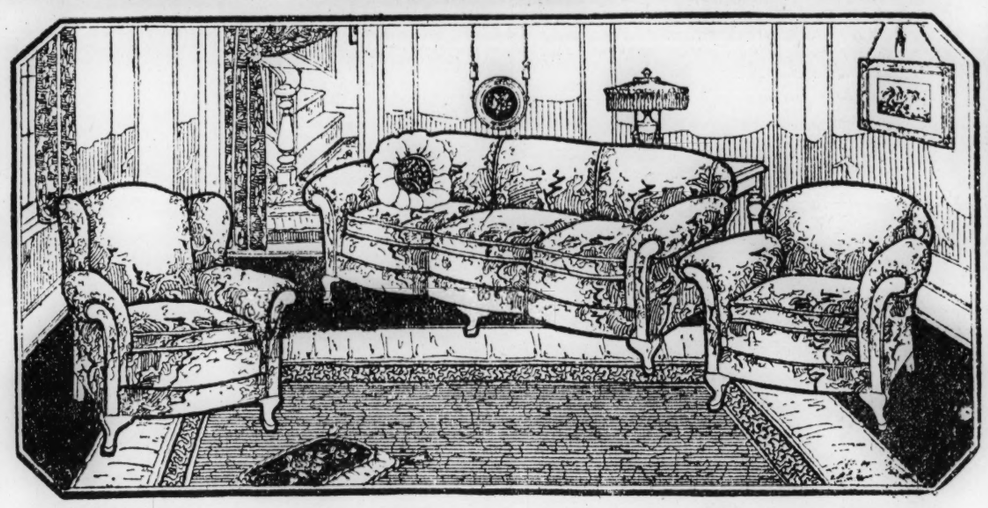

FREE PREMIUMS

With a Purchase of $25 Pretty Glassware Water Set, consisting of pitcher and six tumblers.

With a Purchase of $50 Enameled Canister Set, consisting of coffee, sugar, flour, tea and spice containers.

With a Purchase of $75 A Columbia Electric Iron, complete with cord and plug. Fully guaranteed.

With a Purchase of $100 A 42-piece decorated Dinner Set—complete service for six persons.

$169 Serpentine Front Living Room Suite

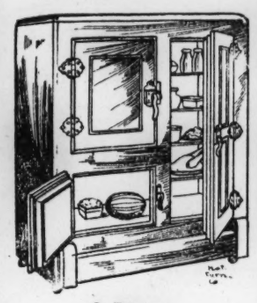

You will have every reason for liking this very attractive suite — the workmanship is especially good and the price is exceptionally low. Just as pictured.

$119

$5.00 Delivers It

Three pieces—a large Settee, Armchair and Fireside Chair; in the popular Serpentine Front; all pieces are upholstered in handsome Baker Cut Velour. Reversible cushions.

$1.00 Delivers Any Refrigerator

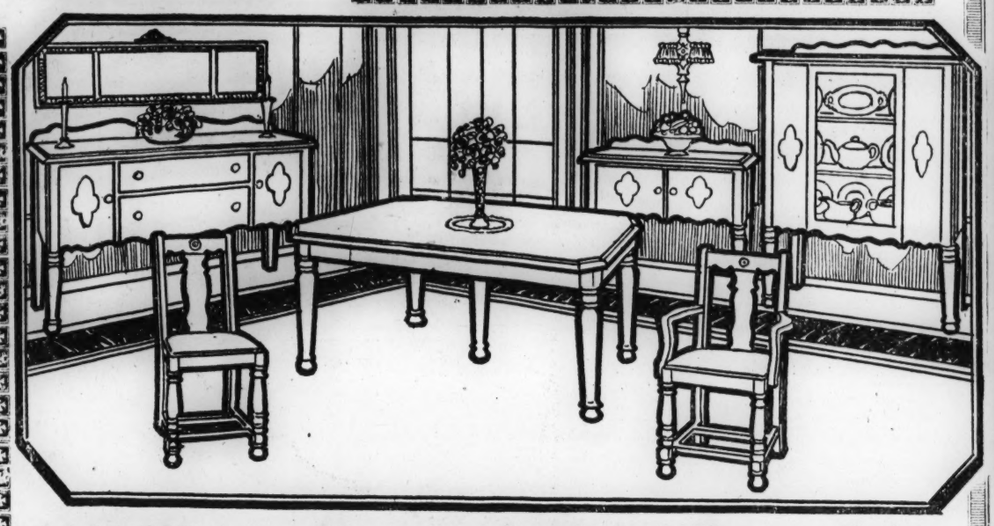

3-Door

Refrigerator

$17.95

Trade In Your Old Refrigerator Will make you a liberal

$5 Allowance

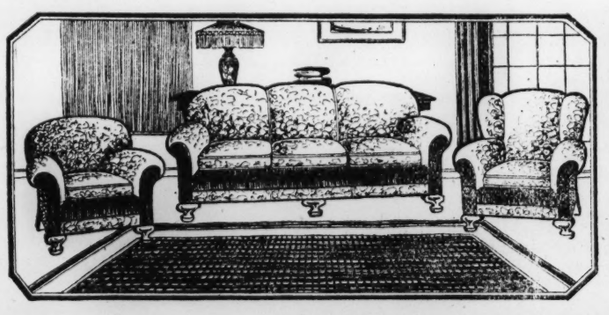

$169 Walnut-Veneered Dining Room Suite

A complete ten-piece set of genuine Walnut Veneer and Gumwood. A suite well worth more than the low price at which it is now offered.

$119

$5.00 Delivers It

As pictured, a Buffet, Oblong Extension Table, Server, China Cabinet, and six sturdy genuine leather seat Chairs. On EASY CREDIT TERMS.

$135 3-Piece Overstuffed Velour-Covered Living Room Suite

Another example of why "The National" excels in "Values!" Just as pictured, a large Settee, Armchair and Fireside Chair, constructed in a splendid manner.

$89

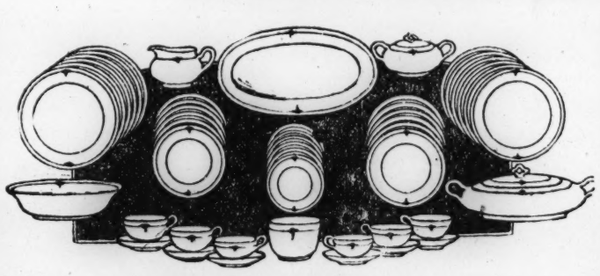

$5.00 Delivers This Suite

Beautifully designed and upholstered with a good grade of velour. Loose spring cushion seats. Buy this suite on our new $5.00 payment plan.

Hardwood Porch Rocker With Woven Cane Seat

$1.75

$1.00 Down

Will Deliver This

100-Piece Dinner Set

Think of it! A Complete Dinnerware Service for twelve people; good quality, with Gold Band Decoration. $1.00 delivers it, and the price is only..... $11.95

Window Screens

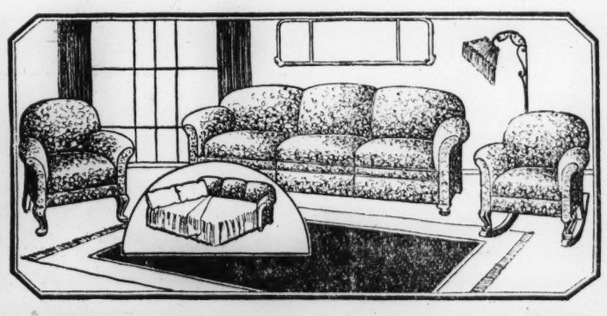

You may select your window screens at "The National" and have them added to your bill for convenient payment later.

All Sizes.

15x33 inches 39c

18x33 inches 49c

24x33 inches 69c

$175 Overstuffed 3-Pc. Bed-Davenport Suite

A splendid outfit—a "living room suite by day and a bedroom at night." A miracle of convenience and comfort.

$125

$5.00 Delivers This Suite

Consists of a Bed-davenport, Wing Chair and Armchair, upholstered in a good quality of velour.

This $195 Complete 12-Piece Bedroom Suite

A suite that supplies practically every needed piece for a properly furnished bedroom, in American Walnut finish on Gumwood. Thrifty buyers will appreciate this offer.

$145

$5.00 Delivers It

Just as pictured, a Bow-end Bed, Dresser, Full Vanity, Chifferobe, Chair, Bench, Rocker and two Pillows. Also comfortable Mattress, Sagless Spring and a 6x9 Grass Rug.

Special Display and Sale of Gas and Oil Stoves

When the need arises—Remember that "The National" offers exceptional values in gas ranges and guaranteed Oil Cook Stoves.

$1 DELIVERS ANY STOVE PICTURED

This $79 Reed 3-Piece Living Room Suite

This genuine Reed Suite is designed to provide many months of comfort and pleasure and is suitable for the porch or living room.

$58

$5.00 Delivers This Suite

It comprises large Reed Settee, Armchair and Rocker in a very artistic design, as pictured. Complete with cretonne-covered cushions and backs.

4-Passenger Hardwood

Lawn Swing

$6.95

Easy Terms

Guaranteed "New Process" 2-Burner

Oil Cook Stove

Odorless and economical to use the year round.

$16.75

Top Extra.

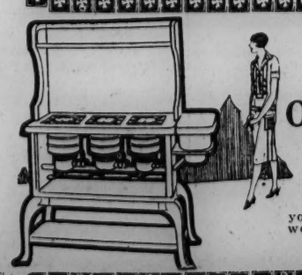

This Splendid

Cabinet Gas Range

With Oven

$28.00

Easy Credit Terms

Guaranteed "New Process" 3-Burner

Oil Cook Stove

$24.75

Use one this summer—you'll be surprised at the wonderful results.

Top Extra.

Porch Shades

"Ideal" Make

Strongly made. Green color.

3x6 ft. $1.98

6x6 ft. $3.98

THE NATIONAL - - N. E. Corner 7th and H Sts. N. W.

PICTORIAL SECTION

The Washington Post.

SUNDAY
May 9, 1926

HER SON DIDN'T FORGET.

Harris and Ewing.

MISS ANNA JARVIS, of Philadelphia, founder of "Mothers' Day."

Apple Blossom Festival Opens at Winchester, Va.

SCHOOL CHILDREN PARADE, with branches of the blossoms.
Joe Jamieson, Post Staff Photographer.

THE CAUSE OF THE FESTIVAL. A gorgeous specimen of apple tree in the Shenandoah Valley, Va.
Joe Jamieson, Post Staff Photographer

ANOTHER GROUP OF CHIDREN, in fancy costumes, bearing blossom-laden branches.
Joe Jamieson, Post Staff Photographer.

HUMAN APPLE BLOSSOMS. Children in the parade with headdresses made to resemble blossoms.
Joe Jamieson, Post Staff Photographer.

REAL MOTHERS WHO WILL REALLY ENJOY "MOTHERS' DAY"

All Photos by Bachrach.

MRS. EDGAR ALLAN POE, of 2141 Wyoming Ave. N.W., with Edgar Allan Poe III.

GERTRUDE MASON GARVER, author of "Jupiter Moons" and other poems, with her children on the lawn of her home at St. Davids.

MRS. EASTERBROOK B. FRAZIER, of 811 Maryland Ave. N. E., with her baby.

MRS. HARRY L. MERRING with her presidential possibility.

MRS. JOHN JOYCE BRODERICK, wife of the Commercial Counselor of the British embassy, with her two children.

HELEN CLARK HARMON hopes her dolly will remember to wear a carnation today. She is the daughter of Major and Mrs. M. L. Harmon, 4330 Argyle Terrace N. W.

C. R. Wood.

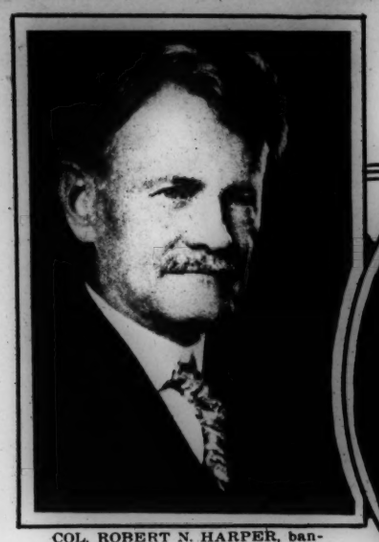

MRS. SHANNON D. CRAMER, 1437 Belmont St. N. W., with her two sons.

MRS. WILLIAM SWEET, of 1757 Lamont St. N. W., and her baby.

MRS. EDWARD S. LEGGETT, of 2304 Fourteenth St. N. W., with her little son.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS OF MOVEMENT TO ESTABLISH STATES' BUILDINGS IN WASHINGTON.

COL. ROBERT N. HARPER, banker, president Washington Auditorium corporation, and former president Chamber of Commerce, chairman. Harris and Ewing

BRECKINRIDGE LONG, St. Louis, former Assistant Secretary of State, director. Strauss.

A. E. BERRY, president C. & P. Telephone Company, director. Harris and Ewing.

GEN. ANTON STEPHAN, Brig. Gen. National Guard of D. C., director. Harris and Ewing.

WILLIAM F. HAM, president W. R. E. Co. and P. E. P. Co., director. Harris and Ewing.

J. HARRY CUNNINGHAM, president Board of Trade and president Rotary club, director. Harris and Ewing.

IRA E. BENNETT, editor Washington Post, director. Harris and Ewing.

JOSEPH P. TUMULTY, secretary to the late President Wilson, director. Harris and Ewing.

CHARLES W. DARR, vice president Chamber of Commerce, director.

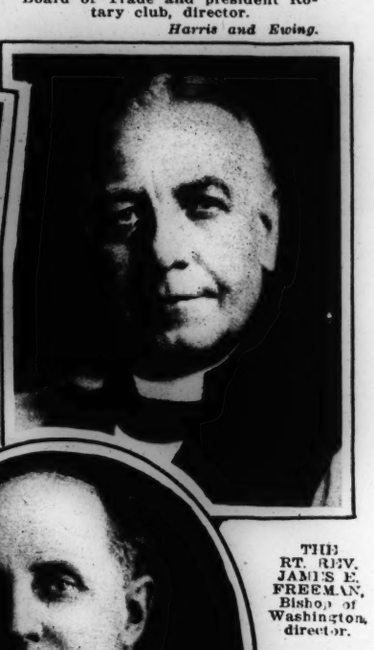

H. K. BUSH-BROWN, sculptor, former president Arts club, director

FREDERIC A. DELANO, past chairman Federal Reserve Board, director.

THE RT. REV. JAMES E. FREEMAN, Bishop of Washington, director.

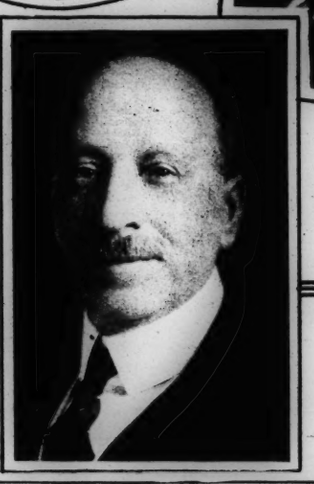

M. A. LEESE, president Washington Chamber of Commerce, director.

EDWIN C. BRANDENBURG, former president Board of Trade, director. Harris and Ewing.

THOMAS P. LITTLEPAGE, director Chamber of Commerce, director. Harris and Ewing.

FRANK M. LOW, president Parker-Bridget Company, director. Harris and Ewing

A. C. MOSES, real estate, director. Harris and Ewing

THEODORE W. NOYES, editor Evening Star, director. Harris and Ewing.

RT. REV. CORNELIUS F. THOMAS, pastor St. Patrick's church, director. Markiewicz.

P. P. CAMPBELL, former member of Congress from Kansas, director.

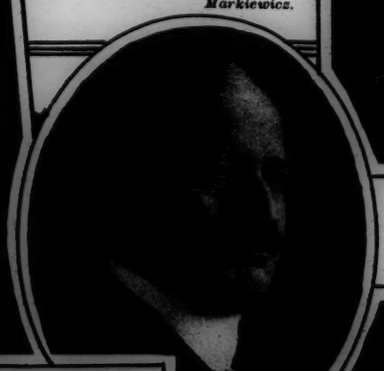

ROSS P. ANDREWS, president Merchants and Manufacturers' association, director. Harris and Ewing

J. H. HIMES, former member of Congress from Ohio, director.

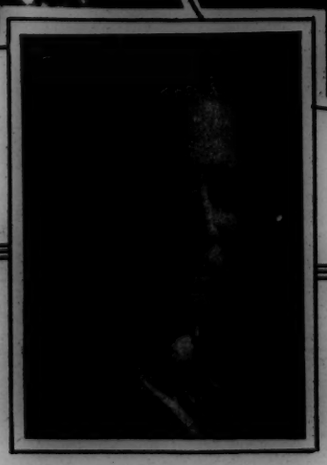

EDWARD F. COLLADAY, former president Board of Trade, director.

JOHN H. HANNA, former president Capital Traction Co., director. Underwood and Underwood.

JOHN H. SMALL, former member of Congress from North Carolina, director. Harris and Ewing.

G. LOGAN PAYNE, director. Edmonston.

FRANK W. MONDELL, former member Congress from Wyoming, director.

E. C. GRAHAM, director Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Va., director. Harris and Ewing

JESSE C. SUTER, president Federation Citizens' Associations, director. Underwood and Underwood

LES POUDRES
COTY

Perfumed with the loveliest fragrances in the world — the odeurs of COTY — incomparably soft and fine — the COTY Powders delight the sense of luxury in women. The Talcum, the Face Powder — one supremely exquisite for the body, the other for the complexion — together effect a delicate personal perfection — radiantly fresh and fragrant

PARIS
CHYPRE
L'ORIGAN
EMERAUDE
LA ROSE JACQUEMINOT
JASMIN DE CORSE
STYX MUGUET

EACH ONE DOLLAR

"ROUGE"
A booklet illustrated by CHARLES DANA GIBSON mailed upon request

COTY INC.
714 Fifth Avenue, New York.
CANADA — 55 McGill College Ave., Montreal

For Results!
Advertise in the
PHOTOGRAPHIC
Section of
The Washington Post

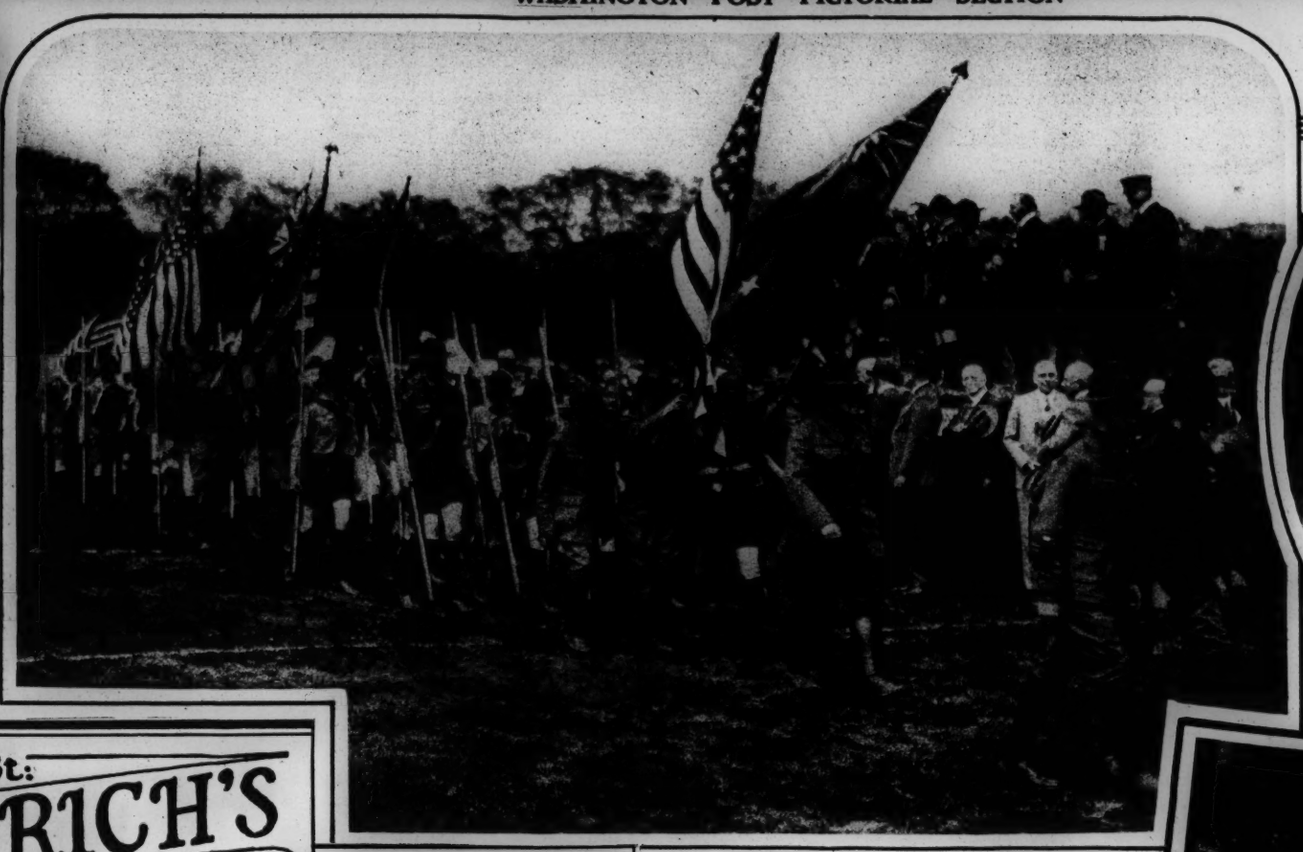

CHARIS

A wonderful new garment that takes the place of corsets and costs less than a corset of like quality, though really priceless in comfort and body freedom.

Demonstration cheerfully given in your own home. Write or phone.

Room 34, 1110 F St. N.W.
Tel. Franklin 3591

FIRST CEIVES
CRUSA
dren
May da day ta
Mrs.
Whi
Har

1116-20 7th St.
BERBERICH'S
813 Penna. Ave.

Note the Comfortable "Balloon" Toe

Patent Strap Pump, with reptilian trim and patent spike heel. This model developed also in Cream Parchment Kid. $5.85

THE BERBERICH RECOMMENDATION IS YOUR DOUBLE GUARANTEE OF SATISFACTION

MARMON
SALES INCREASING DAILY
?
"It's a Great Automobile"!!
MARMON
WASHINGTON CO.
1636 CONN. AVE. N 2601

BOY SCOUTS IN GREAT DEMONSTRATION HERE marching in review before Sir Robert Baden-Powell, Dan Beard and Army and Navy officers.
Harris and Ewing.

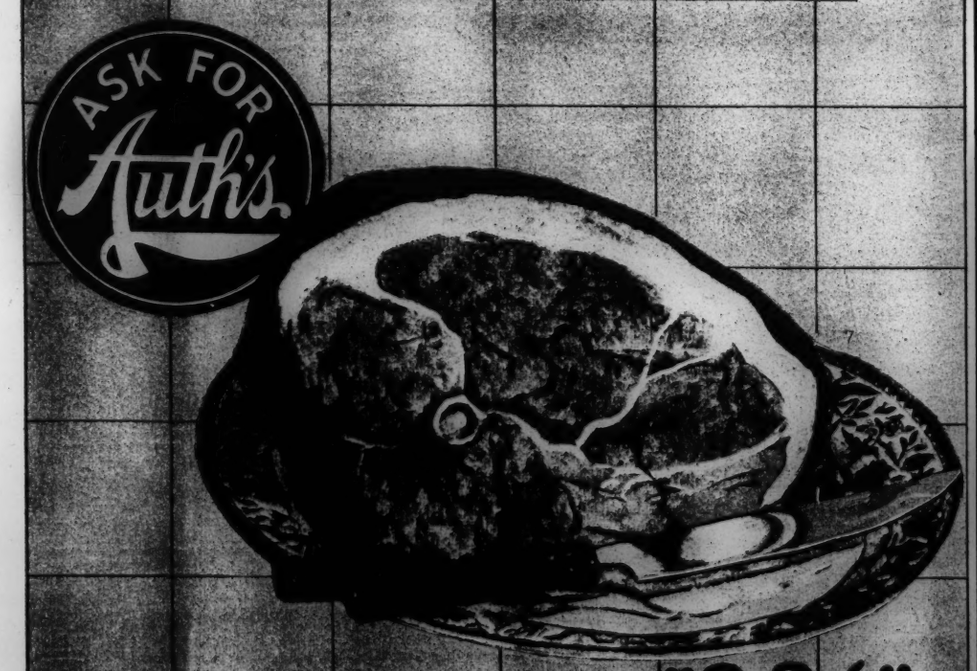

DANIEL BEARD, NATIONAL SCOUT COMMANDER, poses with J. Loren Adams who has the greatest number of Scout merits of any boy in the District.
Harris and Ewing.

SCOUTS STAGE SPECTACULAR DEMONSTRATION on White House Lawn, where President Coolidge, with national scout officials, receives them.
Henry Miller Service.

WINS HEINZ PRIZE. W. W. Bazzle, manager of the Piggly Wiggly store, 3878 Mount Pleasant street, won the prize offered for the best Heinz Rice Flakes window.

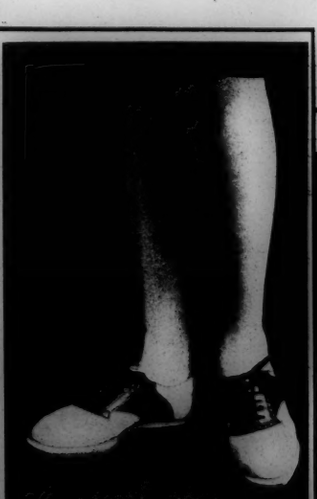

For HAMS of Mouthwatering Succulency and Delicious Flavor

"336"
INSPECTED AND PASSED FOR PURITY

NOT THE CHEAPEST BUT THE BEST

Golf Oxfords

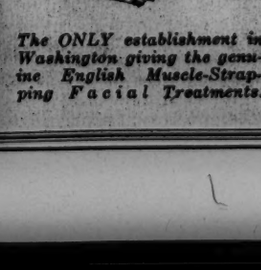

Leon Co.

For Results!
Advertise in the
PHOTOGRAPHIC
Section of
The Washington Post

Sunday Chicken Dinner $1
11 A.M. to 9 P.M.
Soup, celery or olives, 2 vegetables, half spring chicken, fried or broiled; salad, ice cream or pie, coffee, tea or milk.
Also a la Carte Service
Sargeants Restaurant
500 14th, Opposite Willard Hotel
Established 1903

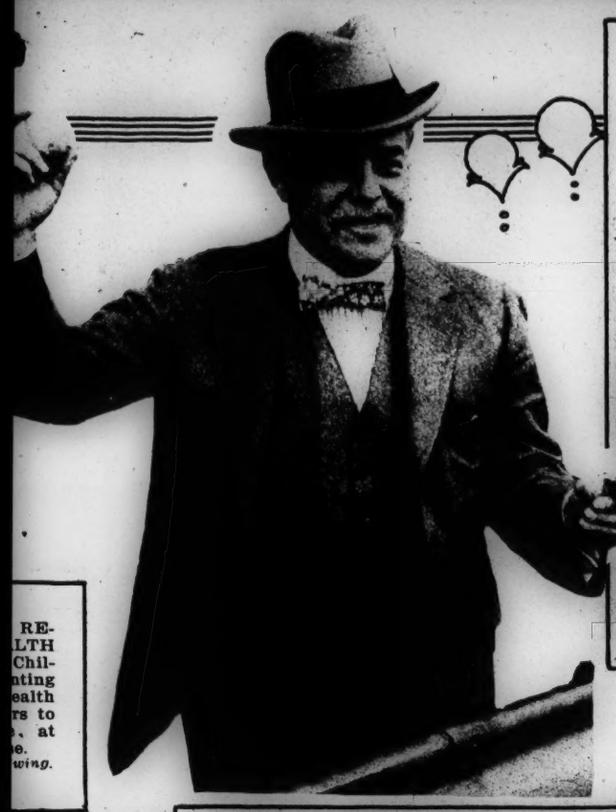

APPEAR AT CONGRESSIONAL COUNTRY CLUB FRIDAY. The Wa quartet, (above), Richard Goodman, pianist, and Arsenio Ralon, Spanish below, will take part in entertainment under auspices of Bradley Hills Co league.

To Be Beautiful
Is a Woman's Heritage
It Depends Upon:
Well-dressed Hair—A Clear Skin
Immaculate Finger Nails
—all of which are most satisfactorialy acquired at the Salon of
The ONLY establishment in Washington giving the genuine English Muscle-Stripping Facial Treatments.
Louey Venn of London
Salon 1224 Conn. Ave.

HURLS FIRST BALL. Speaker Longworth officiating in game between House Democrats and Republicans, which Democrats won. (Henry Miller Service). THE DONKEY AND THE ELEPHANT created much amusement at the Congressional ball game.

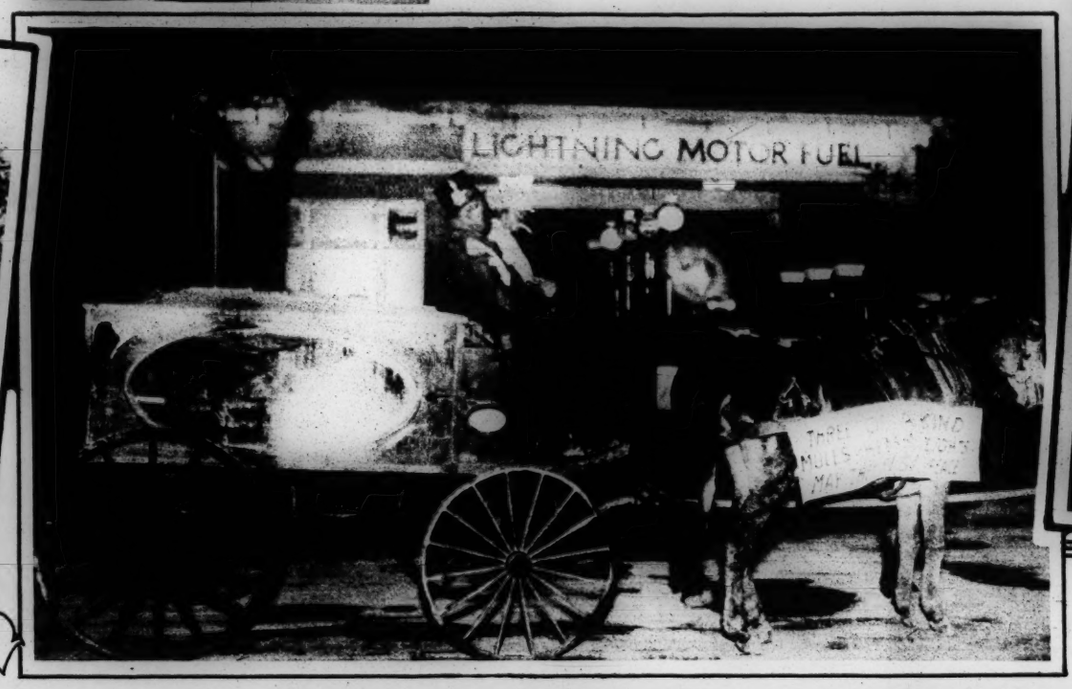

Harris and Ewing.

MAY QUEEN AT HOLLINS COLLEGE; Hollins, Va. Miss Mary Monroe Penick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Penick, of Lexington, Va.

Aufenger.

THE BURIAL OF THE OLD LIGHTS (left) at the recent Northeast White Light celebration, and (above) Andy Gump in person, not a picture, on the Washington Post truck in the Northeast parade.

Fred Miller, Post Staff Photographer.

It seems that pianos and paintings require an even temperature and moderate light, so the Security Storage Company has separate sections for them in its depository at 1140 Fifteenth street, where many valuable collections are placed for security from time to time.

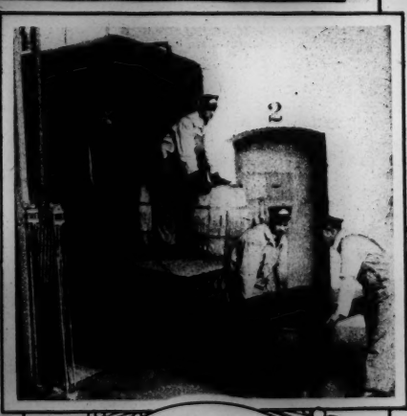

To provide security for furs, rugs, etc. requires more than fire and burglar proof vaults. Light, heat moisture, dust—all must be guarded against. The Security Storage Company provides guaranteed protection—and the guarantee of this company means something—at moderate cost.

Family silverware, wedding presents, jewelry and other valuables for two generations of Washingtonians have been safely kept in the big silver vaults of the Security Storage Company at 1140 Fifteenth street.

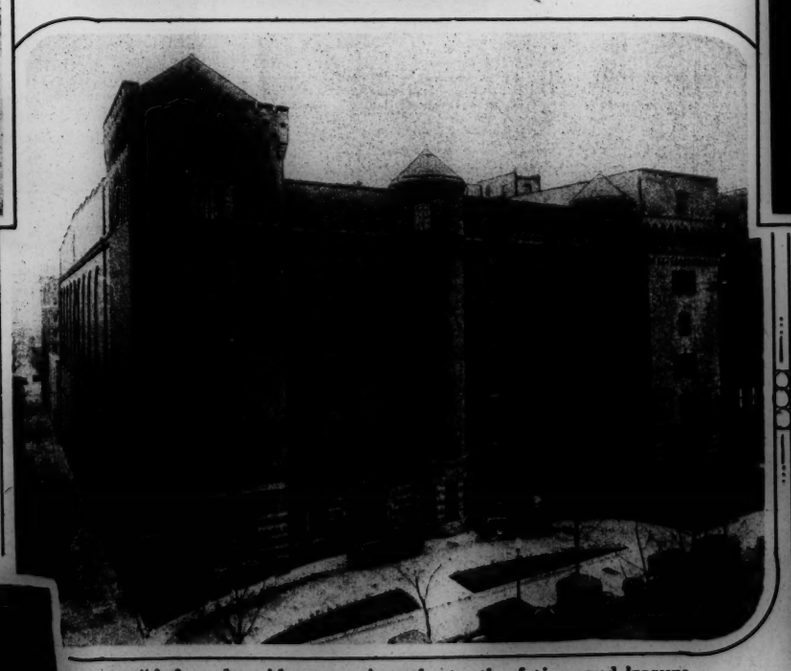

A fumigation room using the process indorsed by the United States Bureau of Entomology has recently been installed at the Security Storage Company, where furniture, etc., may be rid of all insect pests.

For greater security only electric vans are used by the Security Storage Company and vans and contents are hoisted to floor of storage, saving rehandling.

"A forted residence against the tooth of time and 'rasure of oblivion" is the huge warehouse of the Security Storage Company at 1140 Fifteenth street. Founded in 1890, it is perhaps the best known depository in the world. The household and personal effects of famous men and women from every country and all walks of life have been stored, packed or moved by this company. A complete price list is issued.

Storage for motor cars when not in use is provided at the Security Storage Company in its depository at 1140 Fifteenth street. Day and night watchmen guard all entrances to prevent unauthorized entrance.

An Elizabeth Arden Treatment

WRINKLES, flabbiness, a settled contour, a double chin, all come from relaxed muscles. An important part of every Elizabeth Arden Treatment is the patting and lifting of these flaccid tissues to revive their firmness and elasticity and to restore a keen smooth contour.

A course of Treatments at the Elizabeth Arden Salon, supplemented by correct care of your skin at home for a few minutes each morning and night, will soon make your skin exquisitely clear and fine, your contour firm and smooth. Ask at the Elizabeth Arden Salon for a Demonstration Treatment. You will be instructed in the choice and use of those Preparations especially suited to your individual requirements and in the method of patting to erase every wrinkle or other blemish.

Telephone Franklin 4334

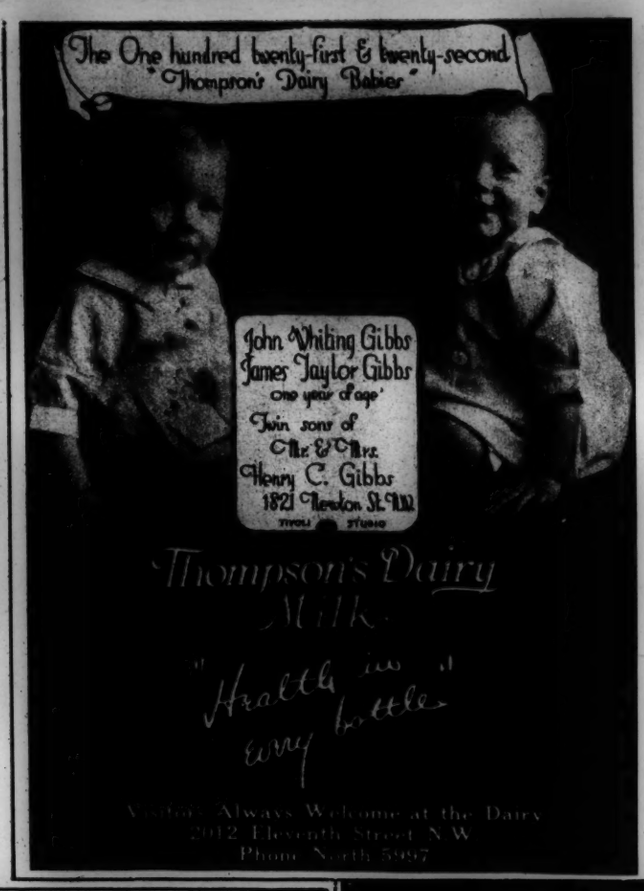

ELIZABETH ARDEN

1147 Connecticut Avenue, Washington

WAITING TO ENTER LAND OF LIBERTY. Russians gather at Riga, on the Baltic sea, to leave for the United States.

Henry Miller Service.

SUITS PRESSED
Hats Cleaned and Blocked
WHILE YOU WAIT
6 Private Dressing Booths—6
OPEN SUNDAY
Grand Palace Parlors
710½ 14th St.—Bet. G & N.Y. Ave.

Buckingham's
Pictures and
Picture Framing
We specialize in copying old portraits of every description.
Work Called For and Delivered
810 13th Street N.W.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF MT. VERNON PLACE M. E. CHURCH, held recently at the Lee house.

Capitol Photo Service.

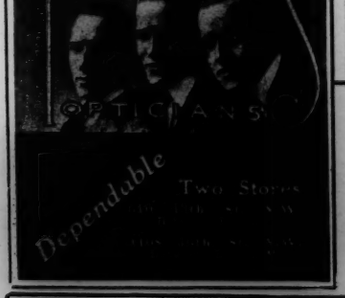

Stunning, Indeed!

A new and clever slipper of white kid, with patent leather trimming and patent leather heel, at $13.50.

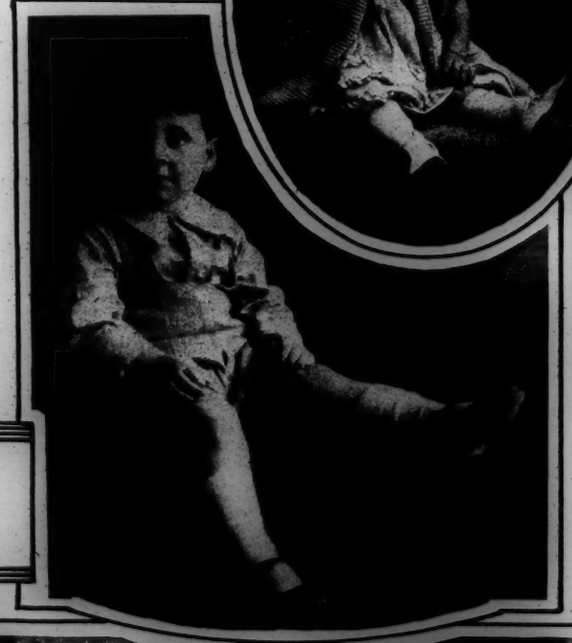

Also shown in patent leather, with blonde kid trimming, $12.50.

Beautiful silk hosiery, $1.95 and $1.45.

RICH'S
Proper Footwear
F Street at Tenth

C. NORWOOD
For Polished Floors
New Floors Installed
17 Years' Practical Experience
1428 B Street S. E.
Old Floors Made New
Phone Lincoln 2031

MARION, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Perry, 717 Sixth street southeast.

ENTERTAINED D. A. R. Miss Audrey M. Whitcomb and Miss Marjorie Costello, who assisted Mrs. Frederick K. Sparrow, chapter vice regent, in a recent program.

Tenschert and Flack.

BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE MOTHER'S PORTRAIT
by Bachrach
ESTABLISHED 1868
PHOTOGRAPHS OF DISTINCTION
1327 F St. N.W. MAIN 5676
SITTINGS MAY BE MADE IN YOUR HOME OR AT OUR STUDIO. TELEPHONE FOR AN APPOINTMENT.

Copenhaver
SOCIETY
ENGRAVERS AND STATIONERS
1521 Connecticut Avenue Washington, D.C.

Only $1
or two brings you this gorgeous silverplate

Today, you may own that chest of exquisite silverware you've always coveted.

Today, you can join the Pin-Money Club and take advantage of this novel silverware offer.

For as little as $1, a complete set of famous 1847 Rogers Bros. silverplate is yours.

You pay for it a little each week—a few cents a day—with the spare nickels and dimes of the household budget.

Look For The Big Clock
Selinger's
818 F Street

COLUMBIA FEDERATION, B. Y. P. U. executive board, from a recent photograph.

Capitol Photo Service.

FRECKLES

Othine Will Remove These Ugly Spots Surely and Safely

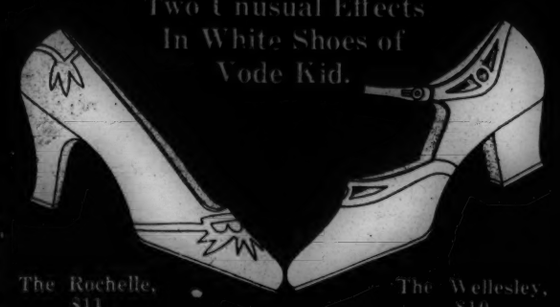

This preparation is so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by all drug and department stores with a guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't try to hide your freckles or waste time on lemon juice or cucumbers; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask for Othine—double strength; it is this that is sold on money-back guarantee.

Distinction and Wear for People Who Care.

Two Unusual Effects In White Shoes of Vode Kid.

The Rochelle, $11

The Wellesley, $10

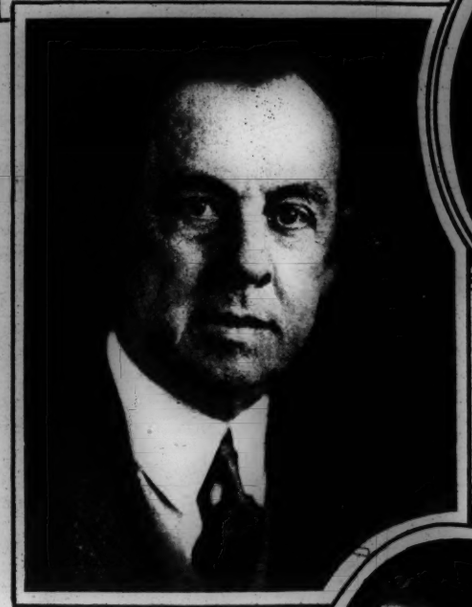

SOROSIS

Jelleff

1216 F St. N.W.

NEW OFFICERS OF THE ROTARY CLUB

Photos by Harris and Ewing.

J. HARRY CUNNINGHAM
President.

W. W. EVERETT,
Vice President.

ROLAND WHITEHURST,
elected to the Board of Governors.

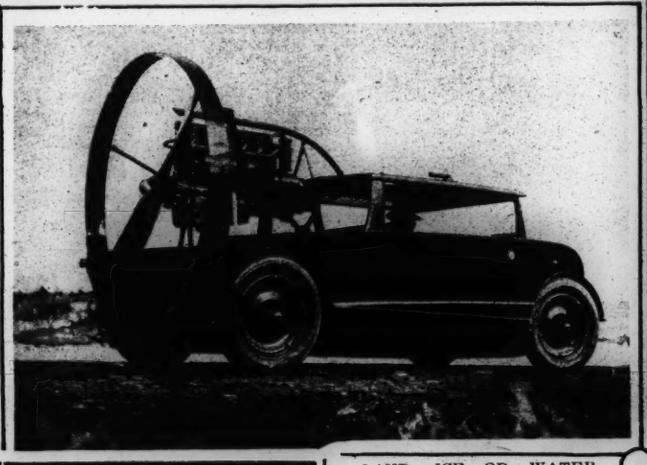

WILLIAM E. RUSSELL,
elected to the Board of Governors.

A New Process of
PERMANENT WAVING
Which Combines Science and Art. Adaptable to Every Head of Hair.

Whether your hair be coarse or fine, white, bleached or dyed, whether you want a tight, medium or loose wave, we can unfailingly produce it. Know your hair before you have it waved. It costs you nothing. The deposit of $1.00 to cover cost of testing is deducted from the cost of your permanent wave.

We Specialize in the Popular Flat Marcel Effects
All Bob Permanents Personally Contoured by
M. COULON Artist Designer of Modish Bobs
Experts All Branches Beauty Culture
MARGARET E. SCHEETZE
Washington's Original Nestle Waver. Established 22 Years
1145 Conn. Ave. Phones, Fr. 2741-9763

LAND, ICE OR WATER AUTO. This car, invented by a Bangor, Me., garage man, travels on land, ice or water, and can attain a speed of 80 miles an hour on land. It steers by the front wheels and has no rudder.
Underwood and Underwood.

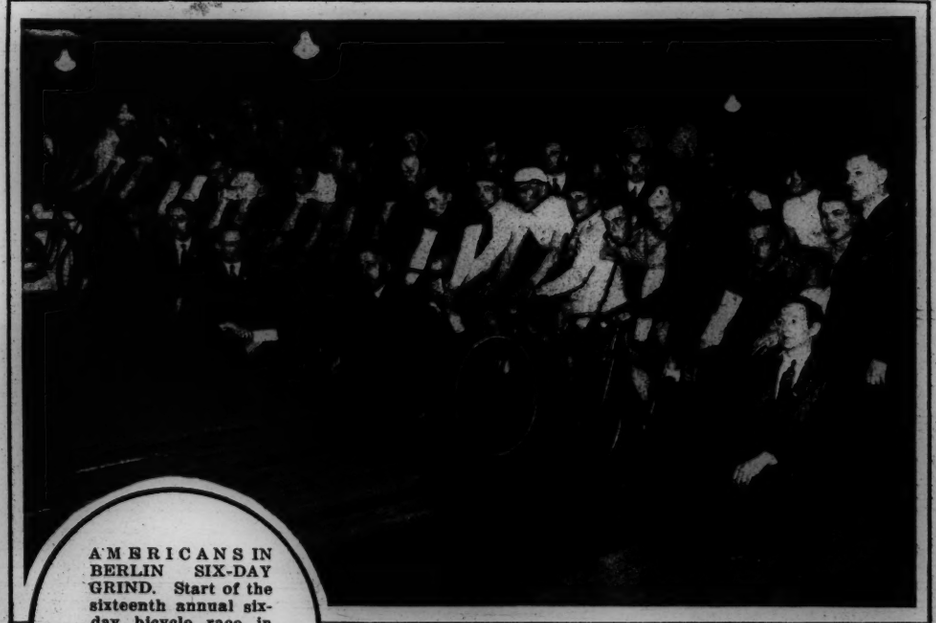

The Original
W. R. SPEARE Co.
Established 1872
Undertakers
Now Located
1623 Conn. Ave.
Phone Potomac 4600
Branch 4209 9th St. N.W.
(Petworth)
Almus R. Speare, Clyde J. Nichols

Papering and Painting
Very Reasonable Prices
No inconvenience. Experienced workmen. The store of reliability. Established 1910.
Phones Main 7422 and 3713
EDWIN S. RUCKER
1210 H Street N.W.

Weddings

Engraved Invitations and Announcements
—Visiting Cards
Correct in form—perfect in execution. Moderate prices. Samples on request.
We invite you to review our selection of EXQUISITE GIFTS.
HAUSLER & COMPANY
Stationers and Engravers
1320 F Street Phone Main 2087

AMERICANS IN BERLIN SIX-DAY GRIND. Start of the sixteenth annual six-day bicycle race in Berlin in which several Americans are competing.
Henry Miller Service.

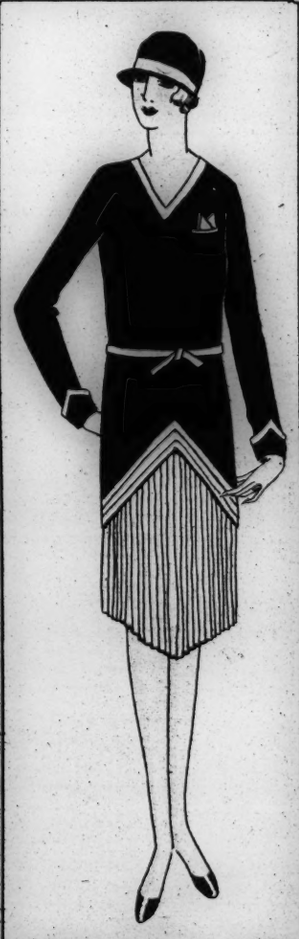

A New Conception Favored by Fashion—
Gray Alligator Suede, with Trimming of Lizard
13.50
Hose to Match, 3.00
Arthur Burt Co., 1343 F Street

Ladies' Turkish Baths

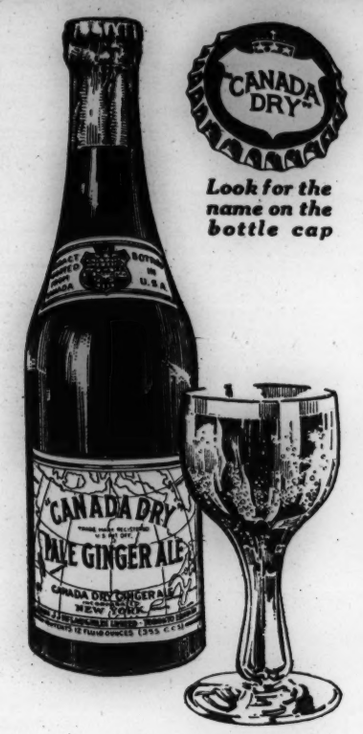

For High Blood Pressure, Insomnia, Obesity, Rheumatism, Etc. Hydrotherapy and Electrotherapy.
Emile
1221 Conn. Ave. Main 7792-3-4

Two-piece Black Crepe Frock trimmed in Rose. Shown at Pasternak's, 1219 Connecticut Avenue.

Originator and Creator of Individual Styles in Permanent Waving & Bobbing
Marcel's Permanent Waves Excel
Because of his long experience only the latest Parisian methods used. Assisted by trained operators.
Front and Sides, $15
Bobbed Hair, whole head, $25
Real French Bobbing Our Specialty
Marcel
Expert Operators in All Branches of Beauty Culture
1504 Conn. Ave. Pot. 3080
At Dupont Circle

"CANADA DRY"
Look for the name on the bottle cap

A royal drink for entertaining

THE formal dinner! Spotless, rare linen, rich old mahogany, shimmering silver, candelabra casting pools of mellow light, the charm of low-voiced conversation.

Then "Canada Dry" to crown it all. Truly, there is no drink so distinguished or as supremely fine as this. Its delicate, intriguing flavor is a memory you will not soon forget. Its very presence adds a gracious distinction to any occasion.

For it is real ginger ale—made from real Jamaica ginger—"the finest ginger ale ever sold in this country."

Formerly served in only the most exclusive clubs, but now sold by grocers, druggists, delicatessens and confectioners throughout the city. Try it soon! You have a real treat coming!

SPECIAL HOSTESS PACKAGE

A new way of packing "Canada Dry." Ideal for home use. Twelve bottles in a substantial carton. You will be especially glad to have it handy when friends drop in unexpectedly, for dinner, for the bedtime snack. This Special Hostess Package is sold by all "Canada Dry" dealers.

"CANADA DRY" © 1926
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Extract imported from Canada and bottled in the U. S. A. by Canada Dry Ginger Ale, Incorporated, 25 West 43rd Street, New York, N. Y. In Canada, J. J. McLaughlin Limited. Established 1890.
Sold by Frank Hume, Inc.; M. E. Horton, Inc.; B. B. Earnshaw & Bro., Washington Wholesale Drug Exchange, Beitzel & Co.

FIFTY-SECOND ANNUAL BANQUET OF MASTER PLUMBERS ASSOCIATION, held recently at Wardman Park Hotel.
Capitol Photo Service.

When there's singing and dancing on the lawn—and the gay crowds swing to music under the lanterns and the canopy of trees
—have a Camel!

WHEN it's a balmy evening with merry dancing on the lantern-studded lawn. And the sound of soft music and laughter bears along on the friendly breeze. When the world is young with youth and gay with age—have a Camel!

For no other cigarette made was ever so joyous on carefree evenings. Camel is fair companion to busy days and glamourous, restful nights. You just can't smoke enough Camels to tire the taste. Camels never leave a cigaretty after-taste. The choicest tobaccos that nature grows, blended to bring you their purest enjoyment, are rolled into Camels. Camels are the tried and found-true friend of millions of experienced smokers.

So as you make merry with friends on this most enjoyable of nights. As you join the gay party outdoors when the work is done—taste then the kindliest smoke that ever came from a cigarette. Know the smoke enjoyment that becomes fuller and finer every hour, every year.

Have a Camel!

No other cigarette in the world is like Camels. Camels contain the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. The Camel blend is the triumph of expert blenders. Even the Camel cigarette paper is the finest, made especially in France. Into this one brand of cigarettes go all of the experience, all of the skill of the largest tobacco organization in the world.

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know and enjoy Camel quality, is that you may try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.
Winston-Salem, N. C.

© 1926

PRINTED IN WASHINGTON BY LANMAN ENGRAVING CO.

The Washington Post

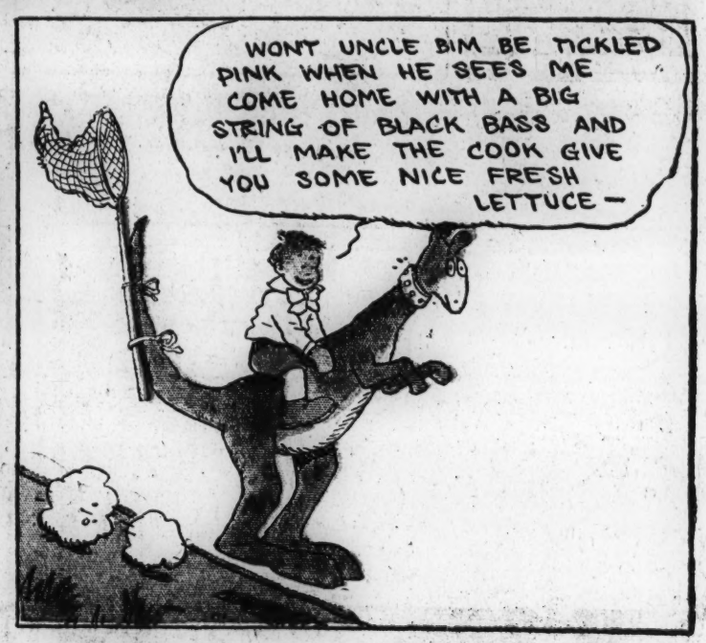

EIGHT PAGES OF COMICS.

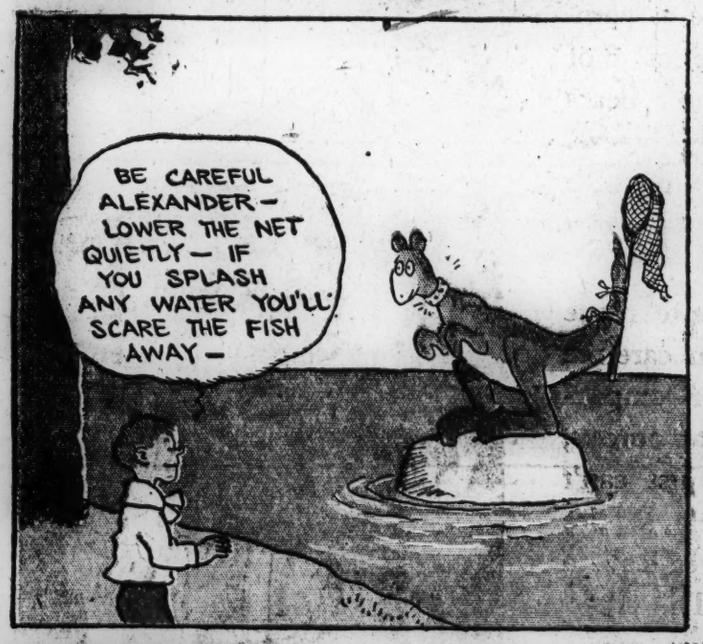

May 9, 1926

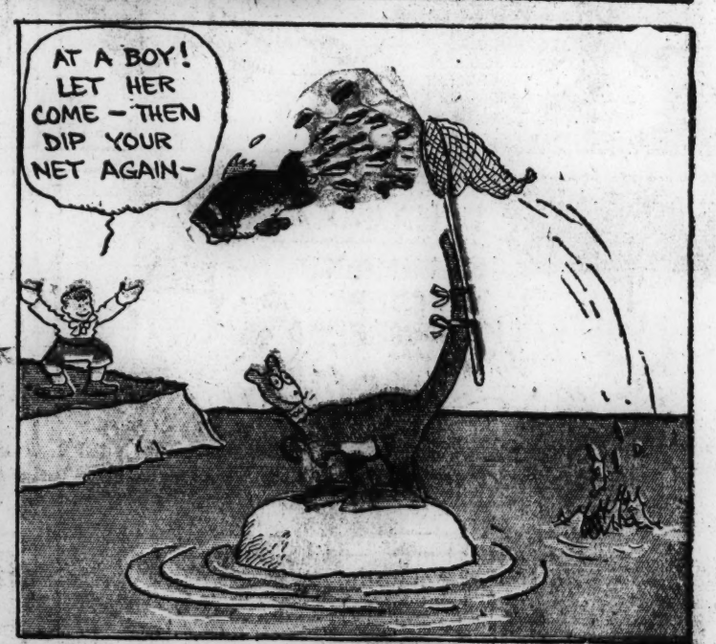

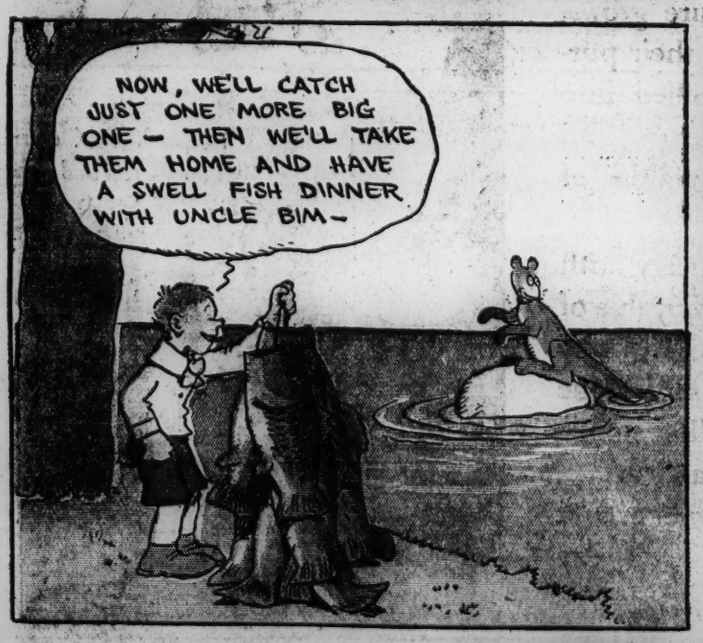

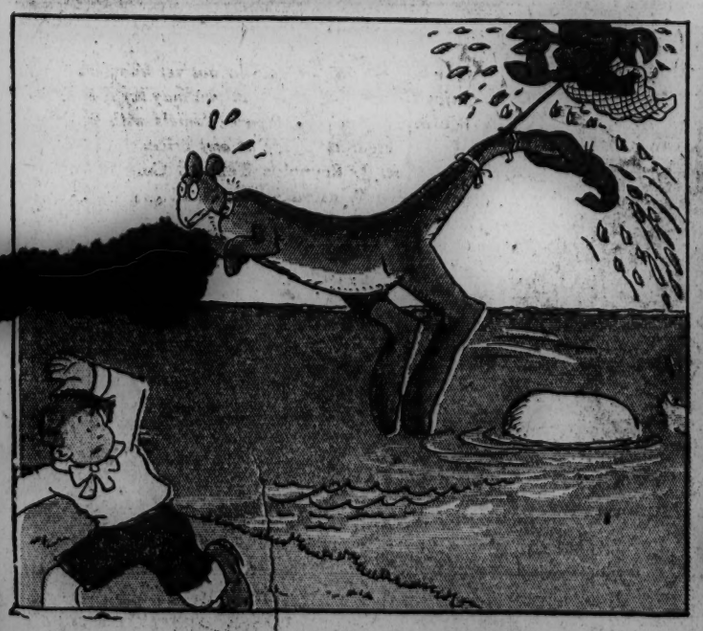

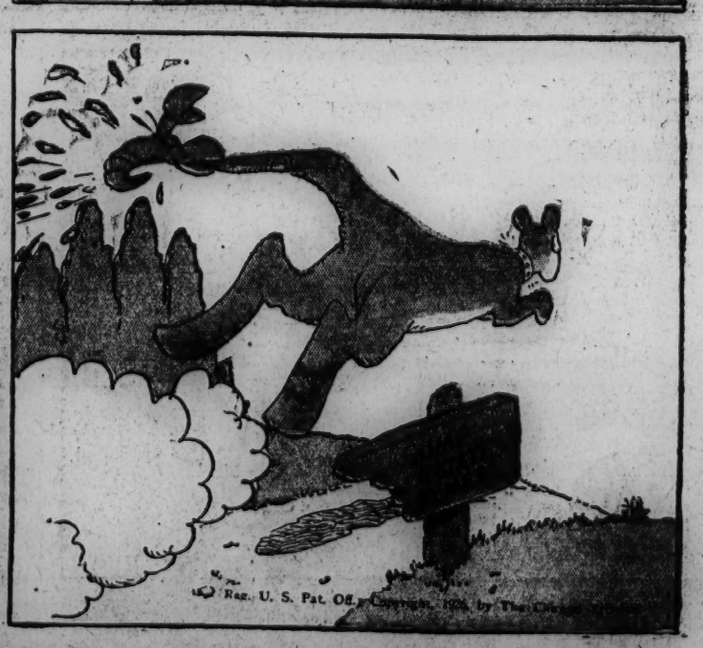

Laugh with the Gumps Every Day in The Post

THE CAPTAIN AND THE KIDS

Trade Mark, 1926, Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

By R. Dirks Originator of the Katzenjammer Kids

Read the Post Every Day for the Best Comic Features

9 MAY 9

WONT YOU COME IN AND DINE WITH US, MISS LAMB?

HAIRBREADTH HARRY

THE DINNER PARTY

by C.W. KAHLES

LISSEN, FOLKS! I WANNA BURY THE HATCHET AND BE AT PEACE WITH THE WORLD. TO PROVE MY GOOD INTENTIONS I WANT YOU AND BELINDA TO COME TO MY HOUSE FOR DINNER—A SORT OF A LITTLE LOVE FEAST

WE'LL COME ON ONE CONDITION: THAT YOU TASTE EVERYTHING YOU GIVE US YOURSELF FIRST

HE'S VERY SUSPICIOUS BUT MY PLOT TO POISON HIM AND WED BELINDA IS DEEP AND WELL LAID. YOU SEE, THE TOP OF THAT TABLE REVOLVES AND THE LEVER IS IN THE CELLAR

I GET THE IDEA, BOSS!

WHEN I GIVE THREE TAPS ON THE FLOOR YOU GIVE THE TABLE HALF A TURN WITH THIS HANDLE, AND THAT WILL PUT MY SOUP, WHICH I HAVE PREVIOUSLY POISONED, IN FRONT OF HIM, SEE?

IT'S A SLICK TRAP, AWRIGHT

HE SOITNLY LOOKS SAVAGE

THEN WHEN HE IS DISPOSED OF AND BELINDA STILL REFUSES TO BE MINE I'LL FEED HER TO THIS HUNGRY BEAR

THAT'S FAIR ENOUGH!

AFTER THAT WE CAN TRUST YOU

YOU SEE, I'M PERFECTLY ON THE LEVEL WITH YOU. I'VE EATEN SEVERAL SPOONFULS OF YOUR SOUP - MYSELF BEFORE GIVING IT TO YOU

WHERE?

I DON'T SEE ANY FLY

WELL, AS I LIVE! THAT LOOKS LIKE A FLY UP THERE!

TAP TAP TAP

TAP TAP TAP TAP

THERE'S THE SIGNAL. NOW FOR THE BIG VENGEANCE!

SNAP

OWK! HE'S LOOSE!!

LOOKS LIKE SOMETHING PHONEY

HEY YOU, DOWN THERE! I SAID HALF A TURN, NOT A MERRY-GO-ROUND!!!

ZIP

I SEE IT ALL NOW!

YOU BIG STIFF! TRYIN' TO GET ME ALONG WITH THEM, HUH?

CRASH

COURAGE, LITTLE ONE! WE'RE SAFE AS LONG AS THIS CHANDELIER HOLDS OUT!

AWRK

CURSES! I'VE FALLEN INTO MY OWN DEEP LAID TRAP!

SOIVES HIM RIGHT

WE HAVE MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPED HIS DIABOLICAL PLOT!

SAME OLD CROOK!

C.W. KAHLES '11

WINNIE WINKLE

THE BREADWINNER.

FLORIST

I GUESS THEM THREE TOUGH GUYS WON'T STOP ME FROM BUYING FLOWERS FOR MY MOTHER NOW !!!

WE CANT MEET IN OUR CLUB-HOUSE WITHOUT THEM THREE ROUGHNECKS BUTTIN' IN AN' RUNNIN' THINGS! WE GOTTA GET AWAY FROM THEM SOME WAY!!

YEAH, BUT HOW?

THAT'S WHAT I SAY??

WHY NOT BUILD A NEW CLUB HOUSE? THERE'S LOTS OF LUMBER OVER IN CASEY'S LUMBER YARD!!

WHEN WE GET THIS CLUB BUILT WE CAN HOLD NICE QUIET MEETIN'S AN THEM THREE GORILLAS WONT KNOW NOTHIN' ABOUT IT!!

SURE! IF WE JES' TRIED KICK 'EM OUT'A TH' RINKEYDINKS WE'RE LIABLE TO GET A BUST IN TH' NOSE!

YEAH! THEY'RE TOUGH GUYS

NOW WHERE'LL WE START BUILDIN' TH NEW SHACK??

HOW ABOUT OVER AGAINST THAT FENCE?

WELL WE BEEN LOOKIN' ALL OVER FOR DEM KIDS! Y'DON'T TINK THEY'RE TRYIN' TO DUCK OUT ON US, DO YA?

DON'T WORRY CHUCK!! WE'LL FIND 'EM!!

G'WAN DEM KIDS IS TOO DUMB TO HIDE ON US!!

EVERYTIME WE SEE DEM (KIDS WE ALWAYS RUN INTO A FEW BUCKS!

WE MIGHT PICK UP SOME LOOSE CHANGE IF WE FIND 'EM!

HEY CHUCK - JIGGERS, HERE DEY ARE!! I FOUND 'EM

GOOD NIGHT!

HULLO THERE FELLER RINKEY-DINKERS!

H'ARE YA?

OH GOSH!

AW!

?

BUILDIN' A NEW CLUB-HOUSE HUH? WE'LL HELP YOUSE!

SURE TING! WE'RE MEMBERS OF DE RINKEY-DINKS AIN'T WE???

? ? ? ?

WHAT'S DE IDEAR OF PICKIN' UP ONE AT A TIME? WE'LL NEVER GIT IT DONE DAT WAY!!

W-WELL THEY'RE K-KIND'A H-HEAVY!!

COME ON THERE FAT - NONE OF YER LIP! H'IST UP DAT BOARD AN' QUIT STALLIN'!

GIT A MOVE ON - AN' SET DEM BOARDS OVER BY DAT FENCE!

HAMMER DEM NAILS IN GOOD AN' TIGHT!

COME ON! COME ON! KEEP SAWIN' WOOD KID!

WATCH 'EM JIGGERS I'M GONNA GIT SOME HINGES AN' TINGS

THERE! NOW NO ONE CAN GET IN TILL WE UNLOCK IT!!

S'LONG FELLER. MEMBERS! DON'T FORGET TO BE AT DE NEX' MEETIN' OF DE RINKEYDINKS!

S'LONG

? ? ? ?

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Copyright, 1936, by The Chicago Tribune.

BRANNER.

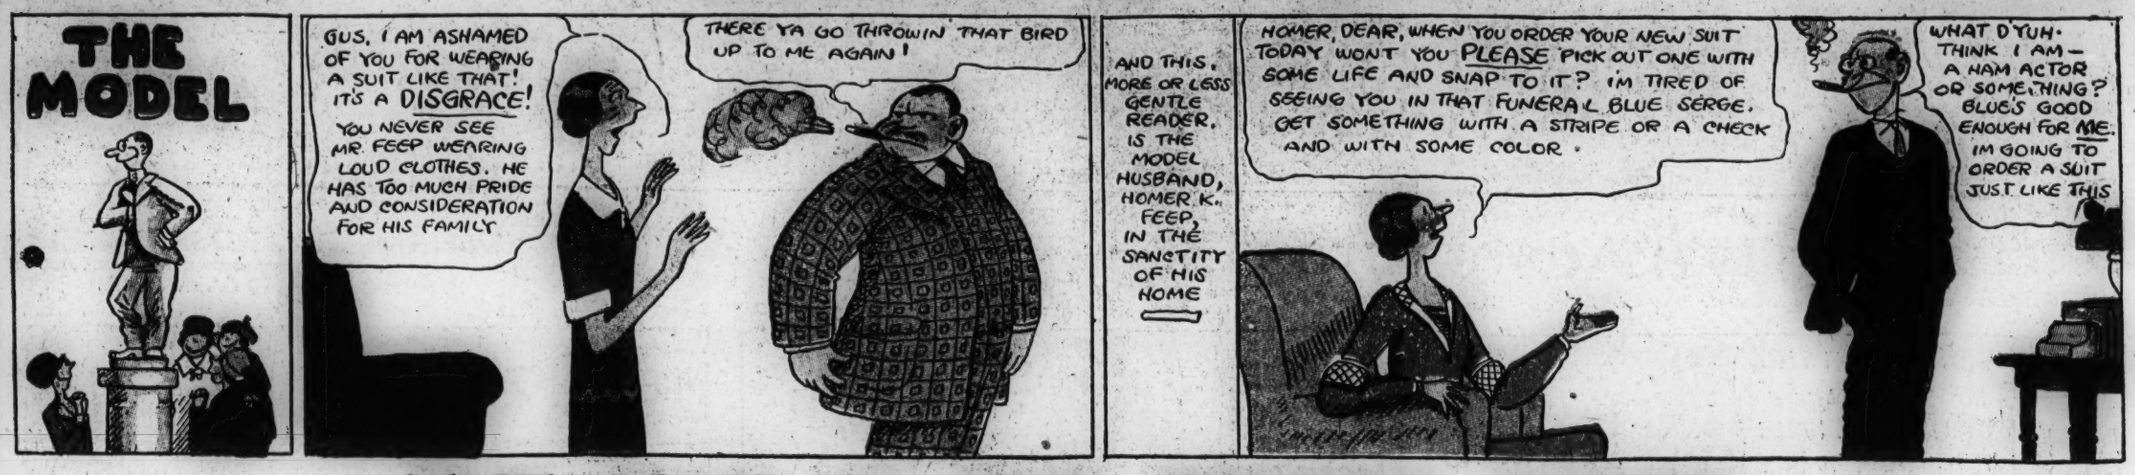

9 MAY 9

8 PAGES OF COMICS

The Washington Post.

Sunday, May 9, 1926

8 PAGES OF COMICS

THE MAN IN THE BROWN DERBY

Trade Mark, 1926, Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

By H. T. Webster

Uncle Wiggily's Adventures

Copyright, 1926, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate. Trade-Mark Registered.

Text by HOWARD R. GARIS
Author of the Famous UNCLE WIGGILY BEDTIME STORIES
Pictured by LANG CAMPBELL

Sunday, May 9, 1926

SCHOOL DAYS - 3. BY DWIG

Cheer Up! If Things Aint Coming Your Way, You Wont Get Hit With 'em.

Copyright, 1926, by The Nature Newspaper Syndicate.

GASOLINE ALLEY

-King

I WISH YOU COULDN'T SEE DIRT ON ME LIKE YOU CAN'T ON ANTHACITE!

MY, SKEEZIX, BUT YOU'RE DIRTY! WAIT TILL RACHEL SEES YOU.

BEEN WORKIN!

LAN' O' LIVIN' CHILE! YOU IS ALMOST SOILED BEYOND RECO'NITION.

I JES' WANT YOU TO SEE ANTHACITE HERE. HE AIN'T GETTIN' HIS CLO'ES ALL MUSSED UP.

NO, I DON'T HAVE NO TROUBLE WITH ANTHACITE.

AW I CAN BE AS CLEAN AS ANTHACITE IF I WANT TO!

WELL SEE THAT YOU IS NEXT TIME, THA'S ALL!

COME ON ANTHACITE, WE GO PLAY.

WE DIG SOME CANALS AN' THINGS.

YEH, WE MAKE RIVVAS WITH WATTA IN 'EM.

THA'S RIGHT ANTHACITE. YOU BRING ANUDDA STOVEPIPE AN WE MAKE TWO BRIDGES.

I C'N FIND SOME MO'

YOU GREASE IT ALL UP AN' I JUST THE CARB'RATOR.

SURE, I KNOW HOW. MY UNCA'S A CHOFFER.

NOW WE PLAY COAL MAN. LOAD 'EM UP FULL AN' I'LL BE THE MOTOR O' THE TRUCK.

NEN WE GO D'LIVAH IT TO SOMEBODY.

WHEE!

GRACIOUS GOODNESS— WHAT YOU KIDS BEEN INTO?

ANTHACITE TEACHIN' ME A NEW GAME.

COME YOU LIL, JOE!

YOU BOTH JES' AS DIRTY AN' FILTHY AS YOU CAN BE!

LOOK! NOW I'M AS CLEAN AS ANTHACITE. RACHEL!

Gasoline Alley Runs Daily in The Post

9 MAY 9